MURROW COLLECTION - MURROW ROOM

ENGAGEMENTS ACCEPTED - * With Script: 1956

SPEAKER - HONORED GUEST - SPOT ANNOUNCEMENTS RECORDED

Folder #	1956
	Jan	5		Delta Phi Epsilon - Dinner Speaker on tape
	Jan	16	*	Executives Club of Charlotte, N. Car. - Dinner Speaker
	Jan	30		NATO, Paris - Narrator 3rd reel "Alliance for Peace," revised (See 3/21/52 and 4/10/54)
	Apr	2	*	Boys' Club of America - Spot announcement for National Boys' Clubs Week
	Apr	26		Edgar Bergen Luncheon
	May	12		Gridiron Dinner - Guest
	May	26		Ambassador's Ball, The Ambassador of Israel and Mrs. Eban, Committee
	June	6		The Buckley School, N.Y. Junior Closing Exercises - Speaker
	June	28		United Jewish Appeal Luncheon - Speaker
	June	29		United Nations - Narrator of film "Miracle in Java" for Solo Rehabilitation Center
	July	9		Overseas Press Club - International Press Conference
	Aug	17	*	Republican National Convention
	Sept	17		American Automobile Assoc. 54th Annual Meeting - Speaker
	Oct	7		Freedom House Anniversary Dinner - Toastmaster
	Oct	11		American Life Convention - Speaker
	Oct	12		Cerebral Palsy Telethon - Spot announcement
	Oct	29		Bob Trout 25th Anniversary Luncheon - Host
	Oct	-		Sports Broadcasters Dinner - Toastmaster
	Nov	21		Royal Society of the Knights of the Carrousel, Charlotte, North Carolina, 5th Annual Ball - Dubbed into Society's Dukedom

MURROW COLLECTION - MURROW ROOM

ENGAGEMENTS ACCEPTED - * With Script: 1956

SPEAKER - HONORED GUEST - SPOT ANNOUNCEMENTS RECORDED

Folder #	1956
	Jan	5		Delta Phi Epsilon - Dinner Speaker on tape
	Jan	16	*	Executives Club of Charlotte, N. Car. - Dinner Speaker
	Jan	30		NATO, Paris - Narrator 3rd reel "Alliance for Peace," revised (See 3/21/52 and 4/10/54)
	Apr	2	*	Boys' Club of America - Spot announcement for National Boys' Clubs Week
	Apr	26		Edgar Bergen Luncheon
	May	12		Gridiron Dinner - Guest
	May	26		Ambassador's Ball, The Ambassador of Israel and Mrs. Eban, Committee
	June	6		The Buckley School, N.Y. Junior Closing Exercises - Speaker
	June	28		United Jewish Appeal Luncheon - Speaker
	June	29		United Nations - Narrator of film "Miracle in Java" for Solo Rehabilitation Center
	July	9		Overseas Press Club - International Press Conference
	Aug	17	*	Republican National Convention
	Sept	17		American Automobile Assoc. 54th Annual Meeting - Speaker
	Oct	7		Freedom House Anniversary Dinner - Toastmaster
	Oct	11		American Life Convention - Speaker
	Oct	12		Cerebral Palsy Telethon - Spot announcement
	Oct	29		Bob Trout 25th Anniversary Luncheon - Host
	Oct	-		Sports Broadcasters Dinner - Toastmaster
	Nov	21		Royal Society of the Knights of the Carrousel, Charlotte, North Carolina, 5th Annual Ball - Dubbed into Society's Dukedom

Eng. Part

DELTA PHI EPSILON

55 WEST 42ND STREET NEW YORK 36, N. Y.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

January 5, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N.Y.

My dear Mr. Murrow:

On behalf of the Sorority and all the Convention delegates and guests, I should like to thank you for a most challenging and timely message. As you can well imagine, all of us were thrilled to have such a distinguihsed after-dinner speaker with us, even on "tape".

I might add, off-hand, that my only regret was that I had to share the speakers' platform with you!

You might be interested to know that when we visited the Israeli Embassy in Washington we were shown a film on Israel and we were addressed by the Under-Secretary of the Embassy as the Ambassador was in Atlanta. Those of us who had been in your office, remembering the brief discussion we had had concerning that country, were indeed upset as it certainly shows "great promise on film".

Again our thanks and best wishes for the New Year.

Cordially yours,

Rita E. Rossner

Rita E. Rossner (Mrs. Howard G.)
International President

RER:yg

Eng Past

January 16, 1956

RICHARD E. THIGPEN
525 NORTH TRYON STREET
CHARLOTTE 6, NORTH CAROLINA

November 11, 1955

My dear Mr. Murrow:

Your telegram confirming the engagement for Monday, January 16, was received last night after the dispatch of my letter of November 10. We are very happy that you are coming to Charlotte.

I am sure that Mr. Crutchfield and all of us interested in the Executives Club will endeavor to make your visit with us a happy one. If there are any suggestions as to arrangements please let me know.

With cordial good wishes, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Richard E. Thigpen

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

cc: Mr. Charles Crutchfield
Mr. T. A. Aldridge
Col. J. Norman Pease

Eng Pass

J. NORMAN PEASE
119½ EAST FIFTH STREET
CHARLOTTE, N. C.

January 17, 1956

My dear Mr. Murrow:

The Executives Club of Charlotte has never had such a rewarding evening. It was most gracious of you to be with us and as president of the Executives Club I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for being with us.

Sincerely yours,

J. Norman Pease

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

JNP:ej

Eng Past

RICHARD E. THIGPEN
525 NORTH TRYON STREET
CHARLOTTE 6, NORTH CAROLINA

January 18, 1956

4

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

My dear Mr. Murrow:

Since your appearance before the Executives Club the comments have been profuse in appreciation of your interpretation of the news and more particularly of your informative discussion at our meeting. I just wanted to give you one further word of thanks for coming to Charlotte.

With all good wishes for your health and happiness, I am

Cordially yours,

Richard E. Thigpen

?

RICHARD E. THIGPEN
525 NORTH TRYON STREET
CHARLOTTE 6, NORTH CAROLINA

November 10, 1955

My dear Mr. Murrow:

After some telephone conversations I understand from Mr. Crutchfield that you will come to Charlotte on Monday, January 16, to address the Executives Club. I will appreciate a confirmation directly from you so that we might make the necessary arrangements.

We are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to having you in Charlotte and I sincerely hope that the date of January 16, 1956, is fixed.

With cordial good wishes, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Richard E. Thigpen

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

cc: Mr. Charles Crutchfield
Mr. T. A. Aldridge
Col. J. Norman Pease

~~Thigpen~~ RE
Eng. Post
a PC

September 14, 1955

Dear Mr. Thigpen:

Thank you for your cordial letter of September 12.

I regret to say that it is not yet possible for me to say when I might be able to come to Charlotte in order to make an appearance before the Executives Club.

The opening of the new season finds me still very closely tied to New York by my radio and television schedule, and I therefore hesitate to make commitments which I might eventually find impossible to fulfill.

If, as the season progresses, I find that my schedule eases up to the point where I can accept pleasant invitations such as yours, I will certainly let you know without delay.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Richard E. Thigpen
525 North Tryon Street
Charlotte 6, North Carolina

fc

RICHARD E. THIGPEN
525 NORTH TRYON STREET
CHARLOTTE 6, NORTH CAROLINA

September 12, 1955

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

My dear Mr. Murrow:

You will recall our correspondence last spring regarding your appearance before the Executives Club of Charlotte. We are now making plans for our winter meetings and would like very much to have you as one of our speakers.

As Charlie Crutchfield has written you, arrangements could be made for your broadcast from Charlotte. If you can get away from New York for one evening, I am quite sure that arrangements for suitable transportation can be made. Any date after October could be arranged.

I trust that you will give this matter further and favorable consideration.

With cordial good wishes, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Richard E. Thigpen

cc: Mr. Charles Crutchfield
Mr. T. A. Aldridge
Col. J. N. Pease

Crutchfield, Chas

July 7, 1955

(Dictated July 5)

Dear Charlie:

Many thanks for your very nice letter.

It is impossible to tell at this point just what the prospects are for my getting down to Charlotte in the fall or winter, or even in the spring; but you may be sure that if an opportunity does occur, I shall be more than happy to take it.

Best regards,

Sincerely,

Mr. Charles H. Crutchfield,
Executive Vice-President and General Manager
Jefferson Standard Broadcasting Company
One Jefferson Place
Charlotte 8, North Carolina

fc

JEFFERSON STANDARD BROADCASTING COMPANY

CHARLES H. CRUTCHFIELD
EXECUTIVE VICE-PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

ONE JEFFERSON PLACE
CHARLOTTE 8, NORTH CAROLINA

June 3, 1955

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York City

Dear Ed:

Dick Thigpen has told me of his correspondence with you in connection with his interest in getting you down here next fall or winter for the Charlotte Executives Club. — attached

I know how terribly busy you are; but if you do find it possible to get away for a day in the fall - - or during the winter - - I just want you to know that North Carolina and Charlotte will roll out the red carpet! And as far as your radio show is concerned, we of course will be delighted to take care of any and all of your requirements.

Another thing we'd like to do if this deal works out is send a plane for you and deliver you back to your doorsteps, at your convenience - - if you find the regular commercial air lines don't fit your particular timetable.

Frankly, Ed, having you down here would be the greatest thing that has happened in North Carolina since the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence was signed where Trade and Tryon Streets cross!

Kindest personal regards.

Sincerely,

Charlie Crutchfield

chc/g

RICHARD E. THIGPEN
525 NORTH TRYON STREET
CHARLOTTE 6, NORTH CAROLINA

January 16, 1956

October 12, 1955

Call Oct 26

My dear Mr. Murrow:

Our mutual friend, Tom Aldridge, tells me that you have indicated a willingness to appear before the Charlotte Executives Club sometime in November or December. I hasten to suggest any one of the following dates:

November 11, 14, 18, 21, or 25; or December 5 or 12

The Charlotte Executives Club meets at the Hotel Charlotte for dinner and the program immediately follows. Charlie Crutchfield has assured me that WBT would take care of your broadcasting requirements for that date. Just as soon as you fix the date, I will get behind Crutchfield to see that he takes care of the necessary arrangements for your broadcast that day.

We look forward with a great deal of pleasure to having you with us and I hope that you can find one of the above dates that would be convenient for your appearance at Charlotte.

With cordial good wishes, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Richard E. Thigpen

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Eng. Dec
Pas

May 13, 1955

Dear Mr. Thiggen:

Bob Swan of the Joseph E. Katz Agency was good enough to advise me of your very cordial invitation for me to come and address your group at some time this spring.

I delayed writing to you because I had hoped there might be some way in which this could be worked out despite my present very heavy schedule. However, I have found that the presentation and production of five quarter hours of radio and two half hours of television each week occupy almost all of my time and there have, during these past many weeks, been a number of extra-curricular duties which have complicated the situation.

It is with the greatest regret, therefore, that I must tell you that it will be impossible for me to come to North Carolina at any time during the remainder of the season. It is, of course, impossible to predict at this point just how crowded a schedule I shall have starting in the fall, but when I get back from vacation, let us at least hope that we can consider the possibility of my coming to visit you.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Richard E. Thiggen
Charlotte, North Carolina

fe

cc: Mr. G.M. Glazier, Advertising Manager
American Oil Company
555 Fifth Avenue
New York, New York

Bob Swan
The Joseph Katz Company
10 West Chase Street
Baltimore, Maryland

Thigpen

RICHARD E. THIGPEN
525 NORTH TRYON STREET
CHARLOTTE 6, NORTH CAROLINA

KC

May 16, 1955

My dear Mr. Murrow:

Your good letter of May 13 is appreciated and I trust that it will be possible for you to speak to the Executives Club of Charlotte sometime between September 1955 and May 1956. The current spring schedule has been completed and we are now thinking and planning for the next season. This far in advance, perhaps you can look at your schedule and find a probable date that would suit your convenience.

Tom Aldridge of the American Oil Company discussed the possibility of getting you to come to Charlotte and I am sure that the local CBS station would collaborate in making a broadcast from Charlotte at the time of your appearance before the Executives Club.

We would like very much to have you come to Charlotte as you have a host of followers and admirers here. I am sure that you would find the attendance and the interest worthwhile. The Club, of course, would provide a suitable honorarium.

I trust that we can have you with us next year.

With cordial good wishes, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Richard E. Thigpen

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Eng Post

WILLIAM H. BARNHARDT
P. O. BOX 748
CHARLOTTE 1, N.C.

PRESIDENT
BARNHARDT BROTHERS COMPANY
SOUTHERN WEBBING MILLS, INC.
TRYON PROCESSING COMPANY
BARNHARDT ELASTIC CORPORATION
AMERICAN TEXTILE CORPORATION
MOSS FOY TEXTILE COMPANY, INC.
COTSWOLD SHOPPING CENTER, INC.
JACKSON ENGINEERING COMPANY
BARNHARDT FOUNDATION, INC.

January 21, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York-22, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Enclosed you will find the notes you used, when making your excellent talk before the Charlotte Executive Club. These notes were left on the speaker's stand, and I gathered them up, along with the other papers, after the meeting, not realizing that your notes were included.

You made a wonderful hit with the people in Charlotte, in all that you did and said. It was a real treat to have you with us. Thanks very much for taking time from your busy schedule to visit our city.

Enclosed you will find a few pair of elastic shoelaces which I hope you will enjoy wearing. If you get them in properly - not too tight or not too loose - you will find that you can remove your shoes without untying. Furthermore, the laces are very comfortable when properly adjusted. These laces are made up for us to be passed out to our friends instead of cigars, matches, etc.

Do not take time to acknowledge receipt of this letter as I know you are overburdened with correspondence.

Thanks again for coming down to Charlotte.

Sincerely,

William H. Barnhardt

William H. Barnhardt

WHB:dac

Encls-

HOME...BEST GREETING... FATHERS DESCRIPTION OF JOB..LOUD VOICE..

DIFFICULT TO START...DELICATESSEN.. VINTAGE PROFANITY...

NEED TO TAKE LONG VIEW...POSITION THIRTY NINE.....END OF WAR...

UNDERESTIMATE OF DAMAGE...IMMINENT COLLAPSE IN FORTY SEVEN....

MARSHALL PLAN...KOREA....NATO.. GERMANY....

PRESENT POSITION....NEW RUSSIAN TACTICS..NOT NEW..FIFTY TWO...

RUSSIAN ASSURANCE AND CONFIDENCE.. MEANING OF GENEVA...

GERMANY IS THE KEY...

IN ASIA IT IS INDIA....COMPETITION BETWEEN NEHRU AND MAO...

MAYBE THREE GREAT POWERS.....RECOGNISE CHINA...

WHAT MUST WE DO ...EXAMPLE...COLONIALISM...ASIA AND AFRICA...

STOP BEING PACT HAPPY...NEUTRALISM NO CRIME...NEHRU..STOP SHOUTING.

THE LONG HAUL...WILLINGMESS TO SACRAFICE...FAITH IN OURSELVES...

CHERISH ALLIES OR BE ISOLATED....HITLER QUOTE...TWO MEMORIES OF WAR....

Eng Past

RECEIVED
1956 JAN 10 PM 1:14
C. B. S. TRAFFIC DEPT. N. Y.

195

WBTV JAN 10, 1956

EDWARD R MURROW, CBS NY

JUST FOUND OUT THE AFFAIR MONDAY NIGHT IS BLACK TIE. PLS ADVIZE MR ALDRIDGE. REGARDS.

CHARLES CRUTCHFIELD, WBTV

Have told Bob Swan, who will advise Aldridge.

K.C.

END END

Eng Pass

DECEMBER 12, 1955

MR. CHARLES CRUTCHFIELD
JEFFERSON STANDARD BROADCASTING COMPANY
CHARLOTTE, NORTH CAROLINA

THE UNSEEN AUDIENCE IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN THE ONE THAT IS SEEN, AND WITH YOUR PERMISSION I WOULD LIKE TO DO THE RADIO SHOW FROM YOUR STUDIOS.

THANKS AND REGARDS

ED MURROW

414-43

RECEIVED
1955 DEC 12 PM 12:32
C.B.S. TRAFFIC DEPT. N.Y.

169

WBT DEC 12, 1955

EDWARD R. MURROW, CBS, NYC

U R G E N T U R G E N T

RE YOUR APPEARANCE HERE JAN 16. THE EXECUTIVES" CLUB HAS REQUESTED THAT I CONTACT YOU REGARDING POSSIBILITY OF DOING YOUR AMOCO PGM FROM BALLROOM OF HOTEL CHARLOTTE. ACOUSTICALLY & TECHNICALLY IT IS OK AS FAR AS WE ARE CONCERNED. PLS ADVZ.

CHARLIE CRUTCHFIELD

File cy for
a P C.
when arrive?
O.K.

CBS

RECEIVED
DEC 30 PM 3:31
TRAFFIC DEPT. N.Y.

266

WBT DEC 30, 1955

EDWARD R. MURROW, CBS NYC

UNDERSTAND U ARE ARRIVING ON AMERICAN OIL PLANE JAN 16. AT UR EARLIEST CONVENIENCE PLS LET ME KNOW APPROX TIME OF ARRIVAL. WITH UR PERMISSION WD LIKE TO SET UP PRESS CONFERENCE WITH LEADING NORTH & SOUTH CAROLINA PAPERS PRIOR TO THE TIME U BGN PREPARING UR 745 SHOW. HV INVITED GOV HODGES AND CARL SANDBURG TO OFFICIALLY WELCOME U HOME & WD LIKE TO DO THIS DURING PRESS CONFERENCE.

ALSO, IF U ARE NOT VIOLENTLY OPPOSED, I WD LIKE TO HV QUIET RECEPTION

FOR U FLWG UR SPEECH EITHER AT THE HOTEL OR CHARLOTTE CITY CLUB. I REALIZE OF COURSE THAT U ARE COMING HERE TO MAKE A SPEECH AT THE EXECUTIVES CLUB AND THAT THESE SUGGESTED EXTRAS MIGHT WELL BE MORE THAN U WANT TO FOOL WITH. I MEAN BY THIS THAT IF U SAY NO TO ANY OR ALL OF THESE SUGGESTIONS I WILL CERTAINLY UNDERSTAND. AM HOPEFUL, HOWEVER, THAT U WILL FIND A WAY TO GO ALONG WITH AT LEAST SOME OF THESE PROPOSALS.

REGARDS.

CHARLES H. CRUTCHFIELD

JANUARY 6, 1956

MR. CHARLES CRUTCHFIELD
JEFFERSON STANDARD BROADCASTING
CHARLOTTE, NORTH CAROLINA

WILL ARRIVE ON THE 16th ~~XXXXXX~~ SHORTLY

AFTER LUNCH. PRESS CONFERENCE AND RECEPTION

OKAY WITH ME.

ED MURROW

444-43

Eng Post

NOVEMBER 10, 1955

MR. CHARLES CRUTCHFIELD
JEFFERSON STANDARD BROADCASTING COMPANY
CHARLOTTE, NORTH CAROLINA

HAVE TODAY WIRED RICHARD THIGPEN CONFIRMATION OF MY ACCEPTANCE FOR JANUARY 16TH STOP WILL CONTACT YOU LATER CONCERNING REQUIREMENTS FOR MY RADIO BROADCAST THAT NIGHT. REGARDS.

ED MURROW

kkkk 411-43 fe

NOVEMBER 10, 1955

MR. RICHARD E. THIGPEN
525 NORTH TRYON STREET
CHARLOTTE 6, NORTH CAROLINA

HAPPY TO CONFIRM ACCEPTANCE OF YOUR KIND INVITATION FOR JANUARY 16th.

REGARDS.

ED MURROW

444-43 fe

NOVEMBER 1, 1955

MR. RICHARD E. THIGPEN
525 NORTH TRYON STREET
CHARLOTTE 6, NORTH CAROLINA

GREATLY REGRET HAVE NOT BEEN ABLE TO FREE ANY OF THE NOVEMBER AND DECEMBER DATES YOU SO KINDLY SUGGESTED FOR OUR MEETING STOP CAN YOU OFFER ME CHOICE OF DATES DURING JANUARY? REGARDS,

ED MURROW

~~[illegible]~~

41L-43
fc

Eng Part
FEB 1 1956
NATO

FRENCH CABLE CO.
10 ROCKEFELLER PLAZA
TEL. PLaza 7-8157

DS 85 6001 PARIS 9 1 1635

EDWARD MURROW CBSINC NY

NATO RECORDING GRATEFULLY RECEIVED

POOLEY

EDWARD MURROW CARE OF CBS INC 485 MADISON AVE

FRENCH CABLE COMPANY
25 BROAD STREET, NEW YORK, TEL. HA 2-7934
VIA FRENCH

FRENCH CABLE COMPANY
25 BROAD STREET, NEW YORK, TEL. HA 2-7934
VIA FRENCH

Eng. Past

JANUARY 30, 1956

PARSONS
NATO
PALAIS DE CHAILLOT
PARIS

MURROW RECORDING AIRMAILED TO YOU.

R. HOLDER
SECRETARY

444-43

FRENCH CABLE CO.
10 ROCKEFELLER PLAZA
TEL PLaza 7-8157

Eng Part

JAN 21 1956

FRENCH CABLE COMPANY
25 BROAD STREET, NEW YORK, TEL. HA 2-7934
VIA FRENCH

DS68/ORD8083 - PARIS 14 21 1320 - VIAFRENCH -

EDWARD MURROW CBSINC NEWYORK -

MOST GRATEFUL YOUR HELP STOP DEADLINE BEFORE ISRAEL

REGARDS

PARSONS

(485 MADISON AV)

FRENCH CABLE COMPANY
25 BROAD STREET, NEW YORK, TEL. HA 2-7934
VIA FRENCH

Eng. Part

JANUARY 20, 1956

MR. GEOFFREY PARSONS
NORTH ATLANTIC TREATY ORGANIZATION
PALAIS DE CHAILLOT
PARIS

WILL DO SOMEHOW STOP WHAT'S DEADLINE STOP

INFORMATIVELY I ISRAEL WIDING END NEXT WEEK

FOR FORTNIGHT STOP UNFORTUNATELY OVER-FLYING

PARIS STOP REGARDS YOU PUG.

EDWARD R. MURROW

414-43

ORGANISATION DU TRAITÉ DE L'ATLANTIQUE NORD
NORTH ATLANTIC TREATY ORGANIZATION

PALAIS DE CHAILLOT
PARIS-XVI
Tél. : KLEber 50-20

GP/bjd

18th January, 1956.

Dear Ed,

We were very sorry to get your cable yesterday advising us that your commitments prevent you from taking on another chore for the Atlantic Alliance. I don't see how you get through your own work, so I was not surprised to get your cable and we sympathize with you so much that I hesitate even to write asking you to try to reconsider your decision.

As Peter Pooley wrote you on December 21st, we are revising the third reel of "Alliance for Peace", to take into account the accession of Germany to the North Atlantic Treaty last May. This film has had a very successful distribution and to the English version, your commentary and name contribute greatly to its authority. Other versions exist in at least seven of the other NATO languages, but none comes off quite as successfully as does the English language version with the Murrow commentary.

We can, of course, start out fresh with a new voice, remake our titles, and remix all three reels with a new and, almost certainly, less effective voice than yours.

So, abusing friendship and your own generosity, I am writing to ask if you cannot find the 10 or 15 minutes to record a third reel commentary for us. Just cable - yes or no.

You have already contributed more time and effort to NATO than we have any right to ask, and you are certainly entitled to say "no" to us. It may well be, also, that you feel that your name has been associated long enough with this film - useful though it continues to prove itself.

Forgive me, Ed, for putting you on the spot again and don't hesitate to turn us down if we are asking too much. Pug Ismay sends you his very best and says for us to leave you alone to do your own work with no nonsense from us!

The best, as ever to Janet and yourself.

George Parsons

Edward R. Murrow, Esq.,
Columbia Broadcasting System,
Madison Avenue,
New York City,
N.Y. U.S.A.

P.S. My dear Ed,
Kindest regards. Why not have us a visit? I'd enjoy doing a piece with you again.
Ever Pug

JANUARY 16, 1956

MR. PARSONS POOLEY NATO
PARIS

MOST REGRETFUL BUT SCHEDULE DOES NOT PERMIT

MY RECORDING PIECE FOR YOU STOP REGARDS.

EDWARD R. MURROW

414-43

ORGANISATION DU TRAITÉ DE L'ATLANTIQUE NORD
NORTH ATLANTIC TREATY ORGANIZATION

PALAIS DE CHAILLOT
PARIS-XVI
Tél. : KLEber 50-20

21st December, 1955

Dear Ed Murrow,

We are in the process of revising the third reel of the now famous ALLIANCE FOR PEACE, to include the accession of Western Germany and to bring it generally up to date. I am wondering if you could possibly spare the time to record for us the necessary commentary, a script of which is enclosed.

I know you are impossibly busy until at least the end of the year, but perhaps you could find a moment some time in the first week of January. Any form of recording would do, but preferably on magnetic tape. The pace should roughly correspond to the two previous reels, a copy of which you have somewhere in your office. There is only one point that needs special attention - the list of towns in the last paragraph. These should be at the normal pace, but the safest thing might be to read the sentence more than once at varying speeds.

The film is in very wide distribution and in most NATO member languages. Needless to say, we are grateful to you for the part that you play in it and hope that you will forgive this out of the blue request.

Wishing you a successful New Year.

Yours sincerely,

Peter Pooley

Peter Pooley

Edward R. Murrow, Esq.,
Columbia Broadcasting System,
NEW YORK.

P.S. Geoff Parsons is on leave at the moment but here is his address

Avg Post

COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM

Office Communication

File Avg

to: Mr. Murrow

from: Ed Scott

October 14, 1957

Liberty 5-6700

General Clifton at the Pentagon has asked me to pass the following on to you:

Sometime ago, you narrated for them, "Alliance for Peace". The film has been re-worked and brought up to date and, as it stands now, you and a second voice do the narration. SHAPE has requested that the second voice be dropped and requests that you favor them by re-doing what they need.

Would you contact Major Cranston at the Pentagon, Extension 76655 and let him know whether it would be possible for you to cooperate with them.

Done
Tuesday April 15

ES

hlt

V.C. Tell them Eric do if can record Wild track

ALLIANCE FOR PEACE - REEL THREE

Edward R. Murrow

NATO's headquarters, like that of SHAPE, is in Paris. It's international staff is headed by the Secretary-General, Lord Ismay.

ISMAY SPEAKS:

[To be reshot and to be rewritten. The closing words will be "Their job and the job of the Council which they serve is to preserve the peace."]

MURROW:

The North Atlantic Council is the body that directs the affairs of NATO. This Council is in permanent session in Paris, meeting regularly to take day to day decisions. But two or three times a year the Foreign, Defence, and Finance Ministers of the member nations come together to decide policy.

It was at one of these Ministerial meetings, in the Spring of 1955, that press and delegates welcomed the chief representative of a new member nation - Doctor Konrad Adenauer, Chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany. With this nation taking her place, the fourteen became fifteen and western unity was immeasurably strengthened.

The defence of Western Europe is now the responsibility of four NATO Commanders-in-Chief. The Central Command, with headquarters at Fontainebleau, covers the area from Northern Italy to the southern borders of Denmark. The Northern Command covers the area from Denmark north with headquarters at Oslo. The Southern Command, with headquarters at Naples, includes the area from Northern Italy through Greece to the eastern borders of Turkey. The Mediterranean Command, with headquarters at Malta, is responsible for the naval, maritime and air defences of the southern sealanes.

These commands are directed from SHAPE - from the office of the Supreme Allied Commander Europe - with a Deputy Supreme Commander - and deputies for Air - and for Navy.

For the Atlantic Ocean, NATO has created a separate command under the Supreme Allied Commander Atlantic - SACLANT - with headquarters at Norfolk, Virginia. His task is to co-ordinate the defence of the vital Atlantic supply routes - though he does not directly control any national forces in peacetime. NATO has also the Channel Commands which cover the naval and maritime air defence of the English Channel and the southern North Sea.

Steadily the clouds of fear that have hung over Europe have been lifting. Vigilance and readiness - these are paying off. Surprise - disunity amongst his victims - the strongest weapons in any aggressor's arsenal, are no longer available to him. Each day finds NATO stronger - more prepared - more self-assured and more confident. Day by day the strength mounts - and though not yet what NATO would like, already any would-be aggressor must count the cost. And when in 1955, the Big Four meetings in Geneva failed to achieve all that they promised, the very vigilance and readiness of NATO was a guarantee that West met East on equal terms.

For now, should attack come, the Atlantic Allies could call, not only upon conventional weapons, but also upon a whole new arsenal - guided missiles - the Nike .... the rocket ... and the fire-raiser .... long range bombers that could carry nuclear destruction to the very heart of an enemy's war potential. Yes, now to a would-be enemy, the cost of aggression looms large indeed.

But it is not the job of NATO either to threaten or intimidate. For the aims of this Alliance of the North Atlantic are the reverse. Its very existence is an assurance that each new dawn breaks over a western world at peace - over the countryside, villages, towns and homes of a community of peace-loving peoples - over London and Liverpool, Paris and Marseilles, New York and San Francisco, Montreal and Vancouver - over Athens, Istanbul, Rome, Lisbon and Reykjavik - over Antwerp, Bonn and Luxembourg, Amsterdam and The Hague, Copenhagen and Oslo. A bond welding the Old World and the New - an assurance that a family of four hundred and thirty million people remain free - free to make, from the best of past and present, a decent and prosperous future - free to live their lives as they wish to live them. To protect and preserve - by vigilance and readiness - these are the aims of the Atlantic Alliance - an alliance for peace.

END

RCA/TWXA9/ZB

RDF1244/GE/183 PARIS 90 13 1515

LT - EDWARD MURROW CBSINC NEWYORK

PLEASE BE KING ENOUGH TO RECORD TWO ADDITIONAL SENTENCES

AS FOLLOWS TO SERVE AS ALTERNATIVE LEAD IN OUT ISMAY QUOTE

THE COUNCIL IS SERVED BY AN INTERNATIONAL STAFF DRAWN FROM ALL FIFTEEN COUNTRIES AT ITS HEAD IS THE SECRETARY GENERAL

LORD ISMAY UNQUOTE QUOTE THE

HEADQUARTERS OF NATO ARE IN PARIS AND THE BODY THAT DIRECTS

ITS AFFAIRS IS THE NORTH ATLANTIC COUNCIL THIS COUNCIL IS IN

PERMANENT SESSION MEETING REGULARLY TO TAKE DAY TO DAY

DECISIONS UNQUOTE BEST NEW YEAR REGARDS

PARSONS POOLEY NATO

Nato Rifle
Program Material?
NATO?

WEEI

CBS Radio—A Division of Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.

182 TREMONT STREET, BOSTON 11, MASSACHUSETTS · HUBBARD 2-2323

CHARLES ASHLEY
Director of News

Dear Ed,

With Chadwell Price

Here are some suggested questions to ask Defense Department about so-called Nato rifle.

Best regards,

Charlie

1. Why is it that American infantrymen carry rifles which are obsolete in comparison to those of England, France, Belgium, Canada, Australia and Russia?

2. Is it true that the regulation M-1 is much inferior in fire power to that of the infantrymen of the countries listed above?

3. How long ago were the new lightweight rifles tested?

4. What happened to the plan for U.S. soldiers to carry the same new lightweight rifles as those of the NATO countries, after the United States was instrumental in causing the other countries of NATO to change their ammunition to the .30 caliber as the United States had specified?

5. Are rifles being forgotten in the highly publicized race for guided missile superiority?

6. How many "hot line" or "ready" plants are there equipped to turn out the new lightweight rifle in large quantities in case of a sudden emergency?

7. Is the balancing of the budget of more importance than adequate arming of U.S. soldiers?

8. What is a U.S. infantrymen's division's fire power when armed with the standard M-1 in comparison to a Russian division with the new automatic rifles their men carry?

9. How many M-1s are there on hand for the armed forces now?

10. What plans are there for the purchase of a new lightweight rifle?

P. Th Jun can for

Chase Co

Ques / st x

Mitgat
Vocilites

Shadel

To Ed Murrow
from B. Shadel

Subject: NATO Standardization, Rifles

A tentative deadline has been set for Army Field Forces and Marine Corps to face decision on the T-48 rifle, by around the 30th of June...but this is not a hard-and-fast ruling or order. One of my closer friends suggested cynically, however, that perhaps this is one reason the subject is called to my attention (actually your resume) There is some belief that more than military pressure is being put on the U. S....that there are some economic angles (and I haven't been able to check this)... while that/Fabrique Nationale of Belgium offers the T-48 to the United States without royalties, the same offer does not apply elsewhere. The immense prestige for the T-48 with full U. S. approval and adoption, would make this a premium item for sale by Fabrique Nationale among other nations, giving it, in effect, a monopoly on military rifles. This applies, apparently, to other than NATO countries.

This aside...(and it certainly has nothing to do with the relative merits of the various rifles nor of the causes for delaying standardization)....the actual reluctance to accept the T-48 stems from two or three major factors, the best I can learn.

In Arctic tests, a year or so ago (still classified) the rifle froze up... tolerances in a comparatively hand-made weapon of European manufacturing methods, did not allow for such temperature changes. There is some doubt, also, whether the European manufacture methods can be applied to the mass production of this country. My Pentagon sources say there are still "bugs" in the T-48, while they admit the M-1 Garand had many for years...still has. An Army Ordance officer tries to tell me that U. S. standards for a rifle are much higher than European. And to illustrate this point, he refers to the British Commonwealth use of the Enfield for so long, and through World War II. Ordnance claims the decision, however, is entirely with Army Field Forces. Within this outfit, there is still the basic argument, irrespective of rifles.

Should U. S. Infantry still go in for individual fire, or should it be mass fire without individual aim or target. The high command has been leaning toward the area-fire theory, to hell with an individual marksman. General Ridgeway, in stating his hope for standardization on the T-48 is considered of this school. The T-48, I am told, does not have the windage, elevation adjustments....but it's admitted it probably could have, altho the aimed-fire experts feel it would never be the accurate rifle, as much so as the M-1

My Marine friend, who went into this subject for me (incidentally, he's the guy who wrote the Commandant's report on Parris Island, and master-minded that strategy)...he points out more reasons, however, for delaying a decision, than the technical comparisons of T-48, T-44 or others. The Marine Corps doesn't want to be mentioned in this whole broad argument, but it definitely feels priority is being put in the wrong place. There's wide approval of the standardization on the new cartridge. But to make best use of this cartridge, the greatest need is for a new light machine gun, a replacement for the B. A. R. (not necessarily the same thing) for a new heavier machine gun...none of these replaced for decades. And until a new machine gun series is developed...they argue the rifle should wait. U. S. is satisfied with its M-1. In the case of Britain, however, she jumped at the acceptance of a new rifle, because of the acute need of replacing the Enfield, or chance being caught in another war without a semi-automatic. While the cost of re-placing the Garands is called only a minor argument, the re-placement of the M-2 ammunition is much more important. Small arms manufacture is a steady, year-by-year process, and the stocks on hand are said to be tremendous, a most valuable back-log. While the new standardized cartridge has its advantages, it is best realized in the machine guns...and therefore, until the new family to come along someday can employ this feature, only then would the cost of re-placing the M-2 ammo be justified.

I have stressed these Marine Corps arguments, for I don't feel they're influenced to any marked degree by the Army Ordnance "pride of authorship"...or the Ordnance Association's industry representatives. As far as the previously-neutral source....the dear old N. R. A. is concerned..I was annoyed and/or amused, to find its technical division, bristling even more than Ordnance at any suggestion of U. S. delays because we didn't invent the T-48. I was really told off over there/by (NRA) retired Ordnance officers who said I couldn't expect to get information when I worded my questions as I did, obviously prejudiced, needling, implying un-pure motives on the part of the U. S. Army. I recalled to them the time when the NRA had the guts to criticize the Garand, when that rifle needed some bugsx removed. The Marines tell me the T-44 is an improved version of the Garand. One technical fault of the T-48 they say,is that the plunger in the gas chamber is not directly hooked up with the bolt but depends on some kind of a relay mechanism to open and close. AndI assure you, sir, I am not including this stuff for any use in your public dissertations, but only because I understand you are a technical expert with guns, although a lousy marksman. Very truly and respectively yours.....

Resume of NATO Ammunition and Combat Rifle

Standardization Program

In the mid-1940's (1944, I believe) a NATO Committee was created to study the problem of having a standard infantry rifle and ammunition for all the NATO countries. Each country represented on the committee was invited to submit prototypes of both items so that from the study the best possible infantry weapon and ammunition would evolve.

The desirability for such standardization was brought out by World War II when the Allied Nations were using several different types of infantry rifles and ammunition, and although fighting side by side were unable to help each other when supplies of rifles and ammunition ran low.

Various countries in the NATO developed a new cartridge. Britain had its caliber .280, Canada its caliber 7 mm, United States its caliber .300. After considerable study and testing the United States T-65 cartridge caliber .300 was adopted on December 15, 1953. This new cartridge is one-half inch shorter and ten percent lighter than the caliber .30 M2 cartridge used in the Garand Rifle. However, because of new methods developed for producing the propellant or powder it propels the bullet, which is equal in weight to the Garand cartridge bullet, at the same muzzle energy, or speed.

Following the adoption of the T-65 cartridge (now known as the M-60) prototypes of new light weight combat rifles were submitted by the various countries. Standardization was not the only objective. The new rifle must also have greater fire power. (The Garand has an eight shot clip and is semi-automatic. The rifle used by Britain, Canada and the British Commonwealth nations in World War II was the Lee-Enfield which was bolt action and slow firing). In addition it was desired to have this new weapon be capable of replacing the carbine, the sub-machine gun, the light machine gun, and the Browning Automatic Rifle with minor conversion from the basic infantry combat weapon.

Development of new light weight rifles was also carried on during the development of the new cartridge. The United Kingdom developed, adopted, and actually mass produced a caliber .280 weapon. Canada brought forth a new rifle (C.A.L. EX-1) using its new ammunition. Belgium submitted the FN (now known as the T-48). The United States offered its version (presently designated as the T-44).

From the start it was evident that the FN (from now on I will call it the T-48) met with the greatest favor.

Belgium of course readily adopted it since it was developed by a Belgian gun company -- Fabrique Nationale of Liege, Herstal, Belgium. In January 1954 Britain announced it had abandoned its .280 light weight rifle and adopted the T-48, after aggressively trying for nearly two years to have its gun adopted by NATO.*

Shortly after Britain's announcement the United States released information that it had ordered 3,000 T-48's from Belgium for test purposes.

In an article entitled "The Belgian Rifle Case" appearing in the February 4, 1954 issue of THE NEW YORK TIMES, written by the famous Hanson W. Baldwin, the military writer, the whole subject of the light weight rifle is thoroughly discussed. Baldwin said:

> "...There appears to have been some sort of informal agreement, or unwritten understanding, that seems to have coupled standardization of the United States-designed T65 .30-caliber cartridge with standardization of the Belgian rifle.
>
> "The source of this agreement is hard to trace. In any case the British have now officially adopted the Belgian weapon and there is heavy pressure to have the United States follow suit.

- - -

*Sir Winston Churchill himself was primarily responsible for Britain's prompt action. He appeared in person before the House of Commons and debated the subject successfully after having tried out the gun personally.

"But the Pentagon and Capitol Hill are divided.

"Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army Chief of Staff and formerly Supreme Commander, Allied Powers in Europe, apparently favors the Belgian rifle and has praised it before Congress. About 3,000 have been ordered for field tests. The Infantry School in Fort Benning, Ga., has tried out the FN and likes it.

Ordnance Favors U. S. Rifle

"But Army Ordnance, which has developed several types of automatic rifles, tends to favor its own."

Baldwin's final comment in this same article is worthy of note. He said:

"There are earnest convictions on both sides of the controversy and the world "standardization" has a magic spell in Washington as well as Paris. But it looks as if Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of Defense, will have to emulate Sir Winston and take up rifle shooting as a hobby in his spare time."

General Ridgway is not alone in his position of favoring the T-48. In the Worcester SUNDAY TELEGRAM of July 25, 1954, Edward R. Sheehan in a "Special to The Telegram" from Belgium quotes Colonel James E. Foxx then Chief of Ordnance Procurement in Belgium for the U. S. Army as saying,

"...'Although a changeover to a new rifle as standard for the U. S. would involve a lot of money,' explained Col. James E. Foxx, U.S.A., Chief of U. S. Ordnance Procurement in Belgium, 'It would not mean a loss in the long-run. Our present models have become old and outmoded and there has not been any appreciable manufacture of new rifles for the Army in some time. New arms have to be made soon anyway, and they might as well be of the best design.' "

Following Britain's adoption of the T-48, other countries followed suit. Canada made its announcement in June, 1955 and at about the same time Australia and New Zealand joined the group. Although I have not seen an official statement, it is generally understood that Holland and France have also adopted the gun (T-48). So now, even though the United Kingdom, Belgium, France, Holland, New Zealand, Australia, and Canada have done their part in standardizing, the United States has not yet kept its obligation to NATO after seven years of controversy on the light weight rifle.

There are several reasons contributing to the delay. One is the competition of the Ordnance Corps' own T-44 Rifle developed over the past six or seven years at Springfield Armory. It used the same new standardized M-60 ammunition but it would not be the same rifle as the standard NATO weapon.

A second delaying action is the attitude of the American Ordnance Association. At its February 5, 1954 meeting the Rifles and Carbine Committee of this association voted to have the President of the association send a letter to Major General B. L. Cummings, Chief of Ordnance expressing its opposition to the adoption of any new rifle without giving American industry an opportunity to develop and submit prototype rifles for tests along with the T-44 and T-48.

On March 5, 1954 such a letter and a copy of the Minutes of the February 5th meeting were sent to General Cummings and Secretary of Defense Wilson.

Replies of appreciation for the Association's interest were received from General Cummings and Assistant Secretary of Defense Frank A. Newbury dated May 11th and May 17th respectively. Cummings said, "Unfortunately time will not permit undertaking a complete new development cycle through contract with industry as you suggest."

The action of the American Ordnance Association was the result of vigorous speeches by representatives of Winchester (Olin Industries) and Remington (Dupont Corporation) who were members of the Committee.

On May 6, 1954 the foregoing action was discussed by Hanson W. Baldwin of THE NEW YORK TIMES. He said:

> "...Suggestions from various quarters, including the American Ordnance Association, that comparative studies of all rifle projects be undertaken from the technical, tactical, and particularly the design, production and cost points of view have received considerable encouragement from the office of the Secretary of Defense.
>
> "It is probable that such studies will be made and, at the same time, industry may be asked to compete in designing entirely new rifles, instead of limiting the competition to the three present competitors -- the M-1, T-44 and FN.
>
> "The standardization of a new rifle, therefore seems some distance off."

Great Britain, Belgium and Canada have already embarked on T-48 Production Programs. Britain or Canada will supply the other British Commonwealth nations and Belgium will probably supply France and Holland for at least the time being.

The program at Harrington & Richardson on the T-48 since the contract started in June of 1954 would indicate the desire of the United States for a standard NATO Rifle. Under the guidance and instruction of Boston Ordnance District in accordance with orders from the Chief of Ordnance there was maximum cooperation between the United Kingdom, Belgium, Canada, Springfield Armory and H & R. Any and all changes in the T-48 or its specifications suggested by any of these groups had to be mutually agreed upon in advance, and said changes incorporated in the standardized drawings. Innumerable meetings of personnel from all these groups were held in Worcester, Springfield, Boston, Canada, London and Belgium! Why would this costly procedure be followed if standardization were not the objective?

As stated above, the light weight rifle controversy is now in its seventh year! The T-48 meets the requirements for greater fire power. It can be made to fire full automatic or semi-automatic with a change lever. It can be made as a universal weapon, that with slight conversion can replace the carbine, the sub-machine gun, the light machine gun and the Browning Automatic Rifle. All other major NATO countries have standardized on it. Why does the United States lag back?

It took Sir Winston Churchill to break the ice in Britain. Perhaps only the Secretary of Defense, or the President himself can break the ice in the United States.

What will we do with the M-1 Garand Rifles we have in stock? Do the same as we did with the inventory of Springfield rifles when we adopted the Garand. An inventory of rifles did not deter our NATO allies in making their decisions. Why should the United States use this as an excuse for failing to fulfill its part of the almost complete standardization program?

Eng Post

April 2, 1956

BOYS' CLUBS OF AMERICA

381 FOURTH AVENUE · NEW YORK 16, N. Y.

OFFICERS

HERBERT HOOVER	Chairman of Board
WILLIAM EDWIN HALL	Honorary President
ALBERT L. COLE	President
STANLEY RESOR	Vice President
WILLIAM ZIEGLER, JR.	Secretary
JEREMIAH MILBANK	Treasurer
DAVID W. ARMSTRONG	Executive Director

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

HOYT AMMIDON	NEW YORK
WENDELL W. ANDERSON	DETROIT
SEWELL L. AVERY	CHICAGO
RICHARD E. BERLIN	NEW YORK
ARTHUR T. BURGER	BOSTON
HENDRY S. M. BURNS	NEW YORK
JOHN L. BURNS	NEW YORK
PETER CAPRA	NEW YORK
JAMES B. CAREY	WASHINGTON
COLBY M. CHESTER	NEW YORK
FREDERIC CAMERON CHURCH	BOSTON
ALBERT L. COLE	PLEASANTVILLE
CARLE C. CONWAY	NEW YORK
JOSEPH J. CUSIMANO	JAMESTOWN
DONALD K. DAVID	BOSTON
MORSE G. DIAL	NEW YORK
ROBERT W. DOWLING	NEW YORK
KEMPTON DUNN	NEW YORK
GILBERT D. EATON	OAKLAND
JAMES A. FARLEY	NEW YORK
HORACE C. FLANIGAN	NEW YORK
E. E. FOGELSON	DALLAS
M. PRESTON GOODFELLOW	WASHINGTON
J. PETER GRACE, JR.	NEW YORK
JOHN S. GRISWOLD	NEW YORK
POWELL C. GRONER	KANSAS CITY
EDGAR A. GUEST	DETROIT
WILLIAM EDWIN HALL	NEW YORK
ROBERT B. HEPPENSTALL	PITTSBURGH
WILLIAM EDWIN HILL	NEW YORK
ALLAN HOOVER	NEW YORK
HERBERT HOOVER	PALO ALTO
J. EDGAR HOOVER	WASHINGTON
ARTHUR HUCK	NEW YORK
AUSTIN S. IGLEHEART	NEW YORK
EDWARD INGRAHAM	BRISTOL
FRANK R. JELLEFF	WASHINGTON
GRANT KEEHN	NEW YORK
JAMES S. KEMPER	CHICAGO
PHILIP LE BOUTILLIER,	NEW YORK
PHILIP LE BOUTILLIER, JR.	TOLEDO
JAMES A. LINEN	NEW YORK
JOHN D. LOCKTON	NEW YORK
JOHN C. MACFARLAND	LOS ANGELES
DAVID I. McCAHILL	PITTSBURGH
CHARLES P. McCORMICK	BALTIMORE
EVERETT McCULLOUGH	WICHITA FALLS
CHARLES R. MESSIER	NEWARK
JEREMIAH MILBANK	NEW YORK
J. W. MITCHELL	LITTLE ROCK
THEODORE G. MONTAGUE	NEW YORK
W. R. NICHOLSON, JR.	PHILADELPHIA
NICHOLAS H. NOYES	INDIANAPOLIS
HARRY L. OLDEN	CINCINNATI
FRANK PACE, JR.	NEW YORK
AUGUST K. PAESCHKE	MILWAUKEE
H. BRUCE PALMER	NEWARK
RICHARD S. PERKINS	NEW YORK
SAMUEL F. PRYOR	NEW YORK
STANLEY RESOR	NEW YORK
CAPT. E. V. RICKENBACKER	NEW YORK
VICTOR F. RIDDER	NEW YORK
IRVING RUDOLPH	CHICAGO
FREDRIC E. SCHLUTER	TRENTON
GEORGE A. SCOTT	SAN DIEGO
IRVING J. SEHER	MILWAUKEE
GRANT G. SIMMONS	NEW YORK
P. C. SPENCER	NEW YORK
EDWARD K. STRAUS	NEW YORK
LEWIS L. STRAUSS	WASHINGTON
KENNETH C. TOWE	NEW YORK
MAXWELL M. UPSON	NEW YORK
VIRGIL P. WARREN	ATLANTA
ALBERT C. WEDEMEYER	NEW YORK
MORGAN D. WHEELOCK	NEW YORK
J. DUGALD WHITE	NEW YORK
MYRON A. WICK, JR.	STAMFORD
ALFRED G. WILSON	DETROIT
WILLIAM S. WILSON	NEW YORK
MATTHEW WOLL	NEW YORK
GEN. ROBERT E. WOOD	CHICAGO
E. A. WRIGHT	DETROIT
C. K. XANDER	WILMINGTON
WILLIAM ZIEGLER, JR.	NEW YORK

February 14, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting Company
57 East 52nd Street
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

We have learned through Mr. Don Fallon, of our office, that you are favorable toward doing a taped recording for us that will aired over 2400 radio stations during National Boys' Clubs Week, April 2 through 8. As Mr. Fallon mentioned to you, this is not a fund-raising drive, as each club is maintained by local civic groups.

Among the prominent men in business who have generously agreed to make the taped recordings for us this year are Herbert Hoover, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, Albert L. Cole, and Alfred Wallenstein.

We have attached a suggested script, one minute in length, which you may vary in any way you like, of course. Mr. Fallon will call you tomorrow; we will certainly be appreciative of whatever you can do for us.

Sincerely,

Frank Corwin

Frank Corwin, Director
Public Information

FC/dee

Boys Club of America
Feb. 195

BOYS' CLUBS OF AMERICA

Suggested Script for Edward R. Murrow
1 minute

THIS IS EDWARD R. MURROW REPORTING about ALMOST A HALF MILLION BOYS -- AGES 7 TO 20. CURRENTLY, THESE AVAILABLE AMERICAN YOUNGSTERS ARE SERVING AS BACKGROUND FOR THE OBSERVANCE OF NATIONAL BOYS' CLUBS WEEK, OTHERWISE KNOWN AS OPERATION: JUVENILE DECENCY -- DECENCY, NOT DELINQUENCY, FOR A CHANGE. IN ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY MEMBERS OF THE 435 BOYS' CLUBS OF AMERICA ARE BEING POINTED OUT AS THE END RESULT OF A WORKABLE FORMULA FOR CREATING GOOD CITIZENS. FIRST TESTED SOME 90 YEARS AGO, THIS FORMULA IS A SUCCESSFUL AND SIMPLE ONE. IT MEANS GIVING A BOY SOMETHING CONSTRUCTIVE TO DO -- MUSIC, ARTS, ATHLETICS, CRAFTS, HOBBIES -- AND A PLACE TO DO IT IN. IT MEANS ADULT LEADERS TO GUIDE, TO ADVISE, TO TEACH, AND LOW DUES -- LITERALLY, JUST PENNIES A YEAR. BOYS' CLUBS OF AMERICA, ~~MAX~~ A NATIONAL ORGANIZATION WITH A HISTORY, A PHILOSOPHY, AND A TRADITION IS NOW CELEBRATING ITS 50TH ANNIVERSARY. THIS MIGHT BE AN IDEAL TIME FOR ANY COMMUNITY WITHOUT A BOYS' CLUB TO CHECK ON THE POSSIBILITY OF STARTING ONE.

######

2/15
9-7:45

February 1956

Reader's Digest

ARTICLES OF LASTING INTEREST • 35th YEAR OF PUBLICATION

The Rising Cost of Veteran Aid . . Saturday Evening Post 17
Abe Lincoln's First Big Fee . . . . . Mitchell Wilson 21
How to Retire on $20 a Week . . . . William S. Dutton 26
Wizard With a Million Voices . . . . American Magazine 31
The Test That Tells How Fast We Live . . Today's Health 35
Bay City Beats the Teach[illegible]ortage . . . . Collier's 38
Let's Say Something G[illegible] Ourselves Herbert Hoover 41
The On[illegible] "Ro[illegible]nchley" 49
Import[illegible]panion 53
The M[illegible]e Sea" 57
The C[illegible]agazine 62
H[illegible] 67
[illegible]
C[illegible] 9
Fi[illegible] 5
T[illegible] 9
[illegible]
M[illegible]
[illegible] 127
[illegible] 130
[illegible] 133
[illegible] 138
2000 G[illegible] . . . Recrea[illegible] 141
Biggest D[illegible] in [illegible] . O. K. Armstrong 144
What to Do About the [illegible] Party [illegible]co . . Newsweek 154
G. E.'s New Kentucky Home Advertising Agency Magazine 169
Best Advice I Ever Had . . . . . Rosalind Russell 173
The Washed Window . . . . . American Heritage 175
Case of the Wandering Freight Car . . . . Town Journal 181
The Movies Go to School . . . . . Ira Wolfert 183
Private Life of Adolf Hitler . . . . Philadelphia Bulletin 190
The Happy Bus . . . . . New York Herald Tribune 202
The Man Who Brought Nature Into Art . Malcolm Vaughan 204

BOOK SECTION: I Was a Slave Laborer . John H. Noble 43

Medical Detectives, 78—Life in These United States, 87—It Pays to Increase Your Word Power, 93—Quotable Quotes, 116—My Most Unforgettable Character, 149—Picturesque Speech, 180

400,000 Boys Are Members of the Club

By William L. White

400,000 Boys Are Members of the Club

By William L. White

Why is a boy bad? The Boys' Clubs know the answer—and are winning a shining victory over delinquency

SEVEN YEARS ago "Red" was statistically an average 14-year-old boy. Like other average boys, outside the time he spent sleeping, eating and in school he had at least 3650 free hours per year in which to get into trouble. And like a lot of other boys he got into it.

Red had a particular skill with which to win the praise of his fellows. Carefully he would pick out a rock and station himself under a street light where he could see a patrolman coming down the street. When the cop appeared, Red would send the rock crashing into the street light. His skill lay in waiting until the cop was close enough to see the light shatter and give chase—but not close enough to catch up.

Red was a member of San Francisco's Mission Street Mob, which consisted of himself, Joe, Jimmy and Eddy, the leader. One evening Eddy proposed that they "knock over" an old woman who lived alone and was reputedly wealthy. Red, however, held back; if the old woman got badly hurt there could be trouble. They compromised on going down to the Syrian market to steal fruit.

Suddenly Jimmy, the lookout, shouted, "Scram—the cops!" The boys scattered.

Up to this point the story of Red was that of any "bad" boy destined to move steadily downward, from breaking street lamps to thievery, ultimately to a life of petty or major crime broken only by jail sentences of increasing length. Now, suddenly, his course changed.

Knowing his red hair would be easy to spot on the street, he ducked into a doorway. There was a man standing there and Red sort of stood behind him. The cops came by, but they didn't see Red.

A few minutes later the man introduced himself. He said that he was Harold Meyer, and he told Red that this doorway was the entrance to the Boys' Club. When he asked Red to come inside and play basketball, Red said yes. That, he figured, would give him a chance to hide out longer. When Meyer, the club's leader, then a volunteer worker, asked him at the end of the evening to join the club, Red said yes again. He had seen the shower room and locker setup. It would be easy to get the Mission Street Mob in, and they could get some cash by frisking the clothes in the lockers.

But it didn't quite work out that way. Not long ago Red, now 21, turned up at the clubhouse. He was wearing a brand-new policeman's uniform.

"I have always wondered," he said to Harold Meyer, "how you failed to spot me as a young crook that first day."

"I spotted you," said Meyer. "I just thought we might be able to do something for you."

"Maybe you were right," said Red. "By the way, have you ever heard what happened to the rest of the Mission Street Mob? Jimmy died in San Quentin prison. Joe was killed in a stickup. Eddy is up on burglary charges. Me—I hope they put me on the Youth Patrol. That's something I know about."

Successful salvage jobs on problem boys like Red are taking place each day among the more than 425 Boys' Clubs in the United States. But boys who are "bad" or on the way to becoming bad form only a minute percentage of the more than 400,000 average youngsters, from every background, whom the Boys' Clubs keep busy, happy and out of mischief. Though in some areas the majority are products of underprivileged homes, in others—as at Mount Kisco, N. Y.—80 percent or more of all the boys in the community may be members.

On a local level, Boys' Clubs were launched in New England nearly 100 years ago. The national organization, the Boys' Clubs of America, formed in 1906, celebrates its 50th anniversary this year.

Boys of all races and creeds are members. Even if they cannot afford the fees of other groups they can belong to this one. But though they may pay as little as 25 cents a year, depending on their age, they must pay something. "Otherwise," explains Herbert Hoover, national chairman, "they wouldn't feel it was their own club."

The dues of course do not begin to cover costs. Operating funds are contributed locally, often through Community Chests, sometimes during a separate fund drive. Each individual Boys' Club is run by a board of directors made up of leading citizens, including educators, clergy, businessmen and labor leaders. In a typical situation at Dayton, Ohio, the CIO and AFL recently joined hands with business groups to raise $527,000 for a new club building.

"We give a kid something better to throw than a rock," says Arthur Burger, executive director of the Boys' Clubs of Boston. "We give him a basketball. His reward is the yell of his pals as he makes a basket. Sooner or later he finds it's more fun than busting a street light. Character is something that is caught, not taught. If a boy doesn't catch it from his parents, it rubs off on him from other boys and club leaders."

One of the Boys' Club's most vital tasks is to substitute for bad or missing parents. One boy has never heard his father's name; every night he must pull his mother out of a bar. He is able to get straight A's and play on his high-school basketball team through the stability and comradeship he gets from his club director.

The mother of another fatherless 15-year-old is a whining hypochondriac who nags at him to quit school and learn a trade so that when he is 18 and she no longer gets Government money for his keep he can support her. He is a brilliant student and should go to college. The conflict was making an old man out of him; now he talks it out with his Boys' Club director as he would with a wise father.

Again and again, the root of a child's trouble lies in a broken or unhappy home. In Pasadena, Calif., two boys caught stealing bikes from the Boys' Club were brought to the director's office. As they entered, one said to the other, "Don't tell 'em nothing, not even your name." Finally one blurted out, "You couldn't take us home—not even if you knew where we live." Why not? "Because Pop works and Ma works. The house is locked and we're not supposed to be home until supper." The stepfather, informed of their theft, was unconcerned; the kids, their mother and the marriage, he said, were no good anyway. The mother was upset, but there was nothing, she said, that she could do. Charles Thompson, club director, had the answer.

"We started them in our craft shop," Thompson recalls. Before long they found that if they wanted something they didn't have to steal it, they could make it. Day after day they came in. Their mother began picking them up on her way home from work. Finally she came into the director's office with tears of gratitude in her eyes. "A miracle," she said, "has happened in the lives of our boys."

The supervisors learn to look beyond the boy until they can see the problem which is warping his character. Once Arthur Burger, standing in the game room of the Boston Boys' Club, saw a boy deliberately abusing a pool table, "with one eye on me, waiting for me to crack down." Burger knew the boy's father came home drunk three times a week and that he would beat the first kid he could catch, while the others hid. "This boy was challenging not me but his father. It would be wiser to let him win—he had lost so often! So instead of cracking down I only said, 'It's your table; do what you want with it.'

"Next day I heard the kid shouting at another boy who was abusing the table: 'Go easy, will you? We got to take care of this stuff.' "

A Boys' Club branch in Pasadena serves the trailer camps of factory workers and migratory fruit workers, as well as the swank San Marino district. Club members may arrive either barefoot or in Cadillacs, and the rich kids are often the worst problems. Joe, son of a movie writer, expected club members to wait on him like servants. It took a beating by a trailer-camp boy to convince him that he was no better than the rest. Now he is inviting his trailer-camp friends to share his swimming pool.

Throughout the country, boys and girls between 10 and 17 last year committed 57 percent of all auto thefts and 49 percent of all burglaries. Eighty percent of these delinquents were boys. The record shows that few of them were members of any church or character-building organization. The record also shows that in localities where there are Boys' Clubs the crime statistics are measurably better.

The New York City Youth Board reports that the delinquency rate for all Manhattan is 48 cases per thousand children. But in the area of the Avenue A branch of the New York Boys' Club the rate is down to 27 per thousand. In the tough area served by the Kips Bay Club the rate is 25 per thousand; just outside that area it is 44 per thousand.

Board chairman Herbert Hoover recalls that in Chicago's old "Hinky Dink" district magistrates estimated that 80 percent of the boys were in the hands of the police at least once a year. But after the Union League Club of Chicago opened a Boys' Club in this district juvenile offenses dropped to 12 percent of the former average. The big booster for Boys' Clubs in Chicago is General Robert E. Wood of Sears, Roebuck. Chicago is now raising five million dollars for a string of clubs, one of which will be a living tribute to him.

In Los Angeles, the All Nations Boys' Club was formed in a section afflicted with poverty and disease. Parents would get their children out of bed at three o'clock in the morning, give them sacks and send them out to steal from a big local market. Such theft was costing the market $30,000 a year. Three years after the founding of the Boys' Club, juvenile arrests had dropped 65 percent in a four-mile radius, and the market had few thefts to report.

One Louisville area had formerly had 327 arrests in one year. In seven years the Boys' Club in Louisville had helped to pull the figure down to 54. In South Boston, Mass., cops once went in pairs in a neighborhood which for three generations had been dominated by the Augustine gang. After the South Boston Boys' Club opened, the police were amazed to see delinquency drop 70 percent. Today this area has fewer cases than any other in greater Boston.

The nearby Charlestown district is a square mile, bounded by two rivers and a harbor, noted for its tough characters. Many broken families live here, and it has the fourth highest adult crime rate in the state. Yet because it also has a Boys' Club it is third from the bottom in juvenile crime, which last year dropped another seven percent while its adult crime rate rose.

All Boys' Clubs are anxious to get their boys young. "If we get a boy of nine or ten," says Arthur Burger, "he presents no later teen-age problem. But a new boy at 14 can be a headache. Usually the 'bad' boy is behind in school; his dread of failure keeps him out of athletics; he has lost so often that he cannot bear to lose again. The Boys' Club offers a variety of activities so that any boy can find at least one field—woodworking, checkers, drawing, ping-pong, basketball, stamp collecting, boxing or whatever—in which he can win the praise for which he is starved."

In the Lincoln Boys' Club, Chicago, director Malcolm Shanower had 12 boys who were heading for trouble: six were not in school regularly; only one had a job; all had been hauled in by the police at one time or another. Their only interest? Cars. They loved "peeling": starting off in second gear, you gun the engine so that the wheels spin and scream. Also "drag racing": from a dead stop you try (in two blocks through city traffic) to get up to 75 miles an hour.

"This interest in cars," says Shanower, "turned out to be our opening. We found a garage owner who loved kids but had none of his own. Once a week he showed these boys how to fix their jalopies. He also showed them what 'peeling' and 'drag racing' do to tires and engines. After that, those kids handled their wrecks like 21-jewel watches."

Where are these boys now? "Six are in the Army with good records. Three are working at good jobs which the garage owner helped them find. Two are back in school. One is in college."

The Pasadena Boys' Club found that many of the town's juvenile-delinquency cases also involved cars—speeding or stealing. The reason appeared to be that the boys just plain loved cars and the feeling of power they provided. The Boys' Club latched onto this by establishing a "Road Hawk Car Club," supervised by a skilled mechanic. Under his guidance, boys have built up some beautiful dreamboats, and take elaborate care of them.

On week-ends the Road Hawks patrol the county. If they find a stalled Sunday driver they raise his hood, adjust the mixture, drain water from the carburetor, tighten a battery terminal, or whatever they find necessary. If they can't locate the trouble they attach a towline. They refuse money, but always give a printed card: "You have been helped by the Pasadena Road Hawks." Juvenile car cases are now a rarity in Pasadena.

Boys' Clubs do more than just keep their members out of trouble. They lay the groundwork for healthy, law-abiding lives—and often for remarkable accomplishment. Boys' Club alumni include Edmund Brown, Attorney General of California; Joe DiMaggio; George Gobel; George Burns; mayors, Congressmen, ministers, doctors, writers.

Writes Congressman Albert P. Morano of Connecticut: "It was the Boys' Club that gave me my first supervised playing, my orientation in competitive sports and sportsmanship. Through it I absorbed dedication to high principles and respect for my community. It was a privilege the other day to designate for appointment to West Point a member of the Bridgeport Boys' Club."

But far more rewarding to club directors than the cases of outstanding achievement are the scores of men who today are leading useful lives based on principles instilled in them by the Boys' Club. David W. Armstrong, executive director of the national organization, recalls a 14-year-old boy who broke a kneecap by getting in the way of a man running from the cops. Asked if he knew who the man was he replied, "Yes, but I won't tell you. I'll get him myself someday."

The Boys' Club took Jimmy over. When he was out of the hospital he became an active member. Recently he came to see Armstrong, reported he owned his own home, showed a picture of the "finest girl in the world." Asked what he did, he replied, "I haven't risen very high, Mr. Armstrong—but I'm the best damn truck driver in Worcester, Mass."

A city Boys' Club needs a minimum staff of three: a director wise in the ways of youth; under him a director of athletics and one for program activities. But around these three are gathered many part-time workers who lead little clubs within the club: a carpenter who will teach boys to handle tools; a photographer who gives an evening each week to teach them to develop film.

The directors know that physical activity, resulting in sound, strong bodies, is necessary not only to hold the boys' interest but to develop wholesome habit patterns. Boys' Clubs therefore offer a complete physical program ranging from darts to football. Nearly every club has a gym; the largest ones have pools. Some operate summer camps.

Typically, each club has a library, game room and craft shop. The library is an essential feature. Boys often do their homework there (when a big family lives in a few rooms you can't study much at night), with reference books to help. Arthur Burger reports that educators are stunned by the job the Boston clubs do in "remedial reading" without calling it that. Instead of giving the boy books which someone else thinks he should have, they supply what he really wants—Wild West thrillers. Entranced by these stories, the boy learns to read in spite of himself.

There is also music. The Boston Boys' Clubs' 105-piece orchestra has placed graduates in the Boston Symphony, the Pops Orchestra and the Army Band. Herbert Hoover remembers a fine performance by a 140-piece boys' orchestra led by a 13-year-old conductor, in a club in Chicago's old Italian district.

Every director knows that boys have unlimited enthusiasm, if you can catch it and channel it. Albert Hines, the late director of New York's Madison Square Boys' Club, was struggling one day with an unusually tough group and striving to find for them some club interest short of manslaughter. Finally he said in desperation, "All right, what do you want to do?"

"Oh, Mr. Hines," said the toughest, affecting a lisp, "what we want is a class in cooking!"

All roared with laughter. But that night Hines gave them spoons, bowls, some cake mix, and aprons. It was a howling success! At the year's end, Oscar of the Waldorf was invited to judge the cakes. Each year since, the three winners have received a dinner at the Waldorf.

Why is a boy bad? Mostly to win attention. The "bad" boy is usually a neglected boy who is eagerly looking for someone, something, he can admire and copy. The Boys' Clubs of America provide him with just that.

The other day a young man out West spoke for thousands of others. A sullen, bitter truant in his early life, he had become a newsboy in Los Angeles. He was just about to sign up as a professional boxer when he was drawn into the All Nations Boys' Club. Slowly, Charles Thompson, then the club's director, persuaded him that it was senseless to hate the world. More, Thompson and his wife tutored the boy through high school and then into college. Today he is a high-school teacher.

"I've a good idea," he says, "where I'd be if it weren't for the Boys' Club!"

When tough kids jeer that Boys' Clubs are strictly for sissies, Boston gives them this to chew on: In World War II, servicemen from Boston's Boys' Clubs won medals for bravery at a rate 500 percent higher than the national average. How much tougher can you get?

Reprints of this article are available. Prices, postpaid to one address: 10—30 cents, 50—$1.35, 100—$2.50, 500—$10, 1000—$17. Address Reprint Editor, The Reader's Digest, Pleasantville, New York.

 Copyright 1956 by The Reader's Digest Association, Inc. Pleasantville, N. Y. Printed in U. S. A.

BOYS' CLUBS OF AMERICA

381 Fourth Ave., New York 16, N.Y.

1906 GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY 1956

HISTORY

The first Boys' Clubs were established in New England in the late 1860's by community groups which felt the need of a non-sectarian organization providing after school and evening activities and leadership for the less privileged boys. Today Boys' Clubs are located in the poor and crowded areas of many cities and also in many small communities where they serve all boys.

Boys' Clubs of America was founded in 1906 by the then existing Boys' Clubs for their mutual benefit and the promotion of the movement. It was incorporated as a non-profit organization in Massachusetts in the same year.

PURPOSE

To promote the health, social, educational, vocational and character development of boys throughout the United States of America.

EXTENT

Boys' Clubs of America include approximately 425 Boys' Clubs in operation coast to coast with more than 400,000 boy members ranging in age from 7 to 20, and with assets of over $100,000,000. These Clubs meet minimum standards established by the national organization.

ORGANIZATION

The policy-making body is the National Council, made up of a lay and a professional representative of each Boys' Club. The National Council elects the officers and members of the Board of Directors.

The organization is managed by an outstanding board of directors, headed by Herbert Hoover. A professional staff under David W. Armstrong, executive director, is employed.

NATIONAL SERVICES

Boys' Clubs of America maintains national offices in New York and regional offices in New York, Washington, Atlanta, Chicago, Dallas, Los Angeles and San Francisco. A national staff of experts in Boys' Club operation works in and out of these offices.

Several national committees and a professional staff establish standards of personnel and operation, originate and develop programs, and plan personnel training, institutes and conferences.

The professional staff furnishes information, recruits, trains and furnishes personnel; carries on training courses, institutes and conferences; conducts national programs and projects; plans buildings, camps, equipment and furnishings; publishes periodicals, bulletins and pamphlets concerning programs, personnel, operations and the problems of boys; advises and assists Boys' Clubs in their problems and plans; and generally publicizes and promotes the Boys' Club movement throughout the United States.

A field staff, working out of regional offices, meets with Boys' Club boards of directors and professional staffs to advise and help them. It also guides and assists local groups in the organization of Boys' Clubs.

SUPPORT OF SERVICES

The principal income of Boys' Clubs of America comes from contributions by corporations, foundations, and individuals, chiefly raised by prominent men throughout the country called National Associates. The Boys' Clubs pay small membership dues and a small amount is realized from income on investments.

The Boys' Clubs

Each Boys' Club is an autonomous, non-profit organization managed by a volunteer board of directors and supported by Community Chests and United Funds, or by direct contributions.

A Boys' Club usually has games rooms, a gymnasium, a library, and rooms for arts and crafts, and rooms for meetings and groups. Some have swimming pools. Some have athletic fields. A large proportion have camps.

Besides the executive or director, the Boys' Clubs have staffs of full-time, part-time and volunteer workers in proportion to the number of boy members.

They carry on recreational, physical training and arts and crafts activities. They have organized groups of various kinds under leadership. Their activities often include music and dramatics. Those that have facilities conduct resident, day and overnight camps. Some make medical examinations of their members and follow up to correct handicaps.

They are concerned with individual boys, their needs, the development of their skills and ambitions, their behavior and attitudes. A definitely planned and organized individual service and guidance program is conducted. This program is effective because it is a continuous one carried on everyday in a friendly and informal atmosphere.

The Unique Characteristics of a Boys' Club

A CLUB FOR BOYS

It satisfies the age-old desire of boys to have a club of their own. It attracts and can serve large numbers of boys because its facilities are reserved for them. Its leaders are wholly concerned with understanding boys and their problems. Special activities, such as dances and other social affairs, meet the desires of older boys for association with girls.

LESS-PRIVILEGED BOYS OF SPECIAL CONCERN

In cities, the Boys' Club members are from crowded areas. In towns where other similar opportunities are not available, its members are of all economic levels. In either case, the poorest boy can afford to belong on an equal basis with his fellows.

LOW COSTS

Its membership fees and other costs are low, not only so that the poorest boy in any community can afford to belong, but also so that boys with little original interest in constructive activity are not kept from joining by the costs.

FULL-TIME OPERATION

Most Boys' Clubs are open every weekday. There is always "something to do at the Club."

OPEN ACTIVITIES

While much of the Boys' Club program is conducted in classes, teams, and other groups, there are open activities at other times and for the boys who do not belong to a group.

VARIED PROGRAM

The program is varied to attract boys of differing inclinations and to meet their varying needs.

GUIDANCE PROGRAM

The guidance of the staff and its influence are exerted with individuals and groups through a friendly, informal, everyday relationship. The ultimate purpose is the development of character and the building of good citizens.

NON-SECTARIAN

A Boys' Club is completely non-sectarian in its management and staff as well as in its membership.

Preventing Delinquency

The Boys' Clubs' program for preventing juvenile delinquency is a positive one called, "Design for Juvenile Decency," of which the "Behavior and Attitude Guidance Program" is a part.

Its purpose is to develop character and good citizenship in the boys who participate in club activities.

In an atmosphere of decency the Clubs' leaders guide the boys toward right thinking and good behavior.

Vocational and Hobby Skills

The Boys' Clubs' arts and crafts classes, their musical groups, their dramatics and other similar activities are designed to give boys, who are willing to use their free time for self-improvement, the opportunity to develop vocational and hobby skills. In these classes and groups boys discuss aptitudes and ambitions which often lead to choice of vocations and successful, happy lives.

Camping Program

In day, overnight and residence camps the boys live in the woods near lakes and streams. They eat good food regularly. The relationship between them and the leaders becomes very close.

Building Physical Fitness

The Boys' Clubs health and physical training programs are designed to build healthy, strong bodies. Physical examinations by doctors discover physical handicaps which are corrected. Health instruction is provided for groups as well as individuals.

Competitive athletic games are conducted for various ages. The boys, and especially the weaker and less skillful boys, are encouraged to develop strength and skills through a non-competitive "Standards of Accomplishment Program." Each boy strives to attain carefully established goals of physical performance. Over 40,000 boys were tested in determining these goals.

Boys' Club Week

Each spring Boys' Clubs of America conducts a national Boys' Club Week to call attention to its work and objectives through a concentrated press, radio and television campaign.

A special feature of Boys' Club Week is the selection of the annual winner of the Junior Citizenship Award. The Junior Citizen, known as the "Boy of the Year," is chosen by a national judging committee from among nominees submitted by Boys' Clubs over the nation.

The Junior Citizenship Award program is an important part of Boys' Clubs of America's overall program for teaching boys the responsibilities of citizenship. The award is based on service to the family, church, school, club and community. It is designed to stimulate such service.

MEMBERS OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS

HERBERT HOOVER . . . . . Chairman of the Board
WILLIAM EDWIN HALL . . . . . Honorary President
ALBERT L. COLE . . . . . President
STANLEY RESOR . . . . . Vice-President
WILLIAM ZIEGLER, JR. . . . . Secretary
JEREMIAH MILBANK . . . . . Treasurer
DAVID W. ARMSTRONG . . . . . Executive Director

HOYT AMMIDON — New York
Trustee, Vincent Astor Foundation
WENDELL W. ANDERSON — Detroit
President, Bundy Tubing Co.
SEWELL L. AVERY — Chicago
Director, Montgomery Ward & Co.
ARTHUR T. BURGER — Boston
Executive Director, Boys' Clubs of Boston
HENDRY S. M. BURNS — New York
President, Shell Oil Co.
JOHN L. BURNS — New York
Partner, Booz, Allen and Hamilton
PETER CAPRA — New York
Executive Director, Boys' Club of New York
JAMES B. CAREY — Washington, D. C.
Secretary-Treasurer
Congress of Industrial Organizations
COLBY M. CHESTER — New York
Honorary Chairman, General Foods Corp.
FREDERIC C. CHURCH — Boston
Senior Member, Boit, Dalton & Church, Insurance
ALBERT L. COLE — Pleasantville
General Business Manager, The Reader's Digest
CARLE C. CONWAY — New York
Chairman of the Executive Committee
Continental Can Co.
JOSEPH J. CUSIMANO — Jamestown
Vice President
Jamestown Veneer and Plywood Corp.
DONALD K. DAVID — Osterville, Mass.
Former Dean
Harvard School of Business Administration
MORSE G. DIAL — New York
President, Union Carbide & Carbon Corp.
ROBERT W. DOWLING — New York
President, City Investing Co.
KEMPTON DUNN — New York
President, American Brake Shoe Co.
GILBERT D. EATON — Oakland
Exec. Director, Oakland Boys' Clubs
JAMES A. FARLEY — New York
Chairman of the Board, Coca-Cola Export Corp.
HORACE C. FLANIGAN — New York
President, Manufacturers Trust Co.
E. E. FOGELSON — Dallas
M. PRESTON GOODFELLOW — Washington, D. C.
President, Overseas Reconstruction Corp.
J. PETER GRACE, JR. — New York
President, W. R. Grace & Co.
JOHN S. GRISWOLD — New York
John S. Griswold Associates
POWELL C. GRONER — Kansas City, Mo.
President, Kansas City Public Service
EDGAR A. GUEST — Detroit
Detroit Free Press
WILLIAM EDWIN HALL — New York
President, Trojan Powder Co.
ROBERT B. HEPPENSTALL — Pittsburgh
President, Heppenstall Co.
WILLIAM EDWIN HILL — New York
William E. Hill Co.
ALLAN HOOVER — New York
HERBERT HOOVER — New York
Former President of the United States
J. EDGAR HOOVER — Washington, D. C.
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation
ARTHUR HUCK — New York
Executive Director, Children's Aid Society
AUSTIN S. IGLEHEART — New York
Director, General Foods Corp.
EDWARD INGRAHAM — Bristol
President, E. Ingraham Co.
FRANK R. JELLEFF — Washington, D. C.
President, Frank R. Jelleff, Inc.
GRANT KEEHN — New York
Executive Vice President
First National City Bank of New York
JAMES S. KEMPER — Chicago
Chairman of the Board
Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Co.
PHILIP LE BOUTILLIER — New York
Chairman of Board, Best & Co.
PHILIP LE BOUTILLIER, JR. — Toledo
President, The Ottawa River Paper Co.
JAMES A. LINEN — New York
Publisher, Time, Inc.
JOHN D. LOCKTON — New York
Treasurer, General Electric Corp.
DAVID I. MC CAHILL — Pittsburgh
President
Harmony Short Line Motor Trans. Co.
CHARLES P. MC CORMICK — Baltimore
President, McCormick & Co.
EVERETT MC CULLOUGH — Wichita Falls
President, Industrial Supply Co.
CHARLES R. MESSIER — Newark
Executive Director, Boys' Club of Newark
JEREMIAH MILBANK — New York
J. W. MITCHELL — Little Rock
Executive Director, Little Rock Boys' Club
THEODORE G. MONTAGUE — New York
President, The Borden Co.
W. R. NICHOLSON, JR. — Philadelphia
Realtor
NICHOLAS H. NOYES — Indianapolis
Eli Lilly & Co.
HARRY L. OLDEN — Cincinnati
President, Cincinnati Sheet Metal & Roofing Co.
FRANK PACE, JR. — New York
Executive Vice President
General Dynamics Corp.
AUGUST K. PAESCHKE — Milwaukee
Chairman of the Board
Geuder, Paeschke & Frey Co.
H. BRUCE PALMER — Newark
President, Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co.
RICHARD S. PERKINS — New York
Vice Chairman
First National City Bank of New York
SAMUEL F. PRYOR — New York
Vice President
Pan American World Airways System
STANLEY RESOR — New York
Chairman of the Board, J. Walter Thompson Co.
CAPT. E. V. RICKENBACKER — New York
Chairman of the Board, Eastern Air Lines
VICTOR F. RIDDER — New York
Vice President, Journal of Commerce Corp.
IRVING RUDOLPH — Chicago
Executive Director, Chicago Boys Clubs
FREDRIC E. SCHLUTER — Princeton
GEORGE A. SCOTT — San Diego
President, Walker-Scott Co.
IRVING J. SEHER — Milwaukee
Executive Director, Milwaukee Boys' Club
GRANT G. SIMMONS — New York
President, Simmons Co.
P. C. SPENCER — New York
President, Sinclair Oil Corp.
EDWARD K. STRAUS — New York
President, Garden State Plaza Corp.
LEWIS L. STRAUSS — Washington, D.C.
Chairman, U.S. Atomic Energy Commission
KENNETH C. TOWE — New York
President, American Cyanamid Co.
MAXWELL M. UPSON — New York
Chairman of Board
Raymond Concrete Pile Co.
VIRGIL P. WARREN — Atlanta
President, Warren Co.
GEN. ALBERT C. WEDEMEYER — New York
Vice President, Rheem Manufacturing Co.
MORGAN D. WHEELOCK — New York
Vice President, Braislin, Porter & Wheelock, Inc.
J. DUGALD WHITE — New York
President, J. G. White & Co.
MYRON A. WICK, JR. — Stamford
President, Plastics Manufacturers, Inc.
ALFRED G. WILSON — Detroit
President, Wilson Lumber Co.
WILLIAM S. WILSON — New York
Partner, Montgomery, Scott & Co.
MATTHEW WOLL — New York
Vice President, American Federation of Labor
(Union Labor Life Insurance Co.)
GEN. ROBERT E. WOOD — Chicago
Former Chairman, Sears, Roebuck & Co.
E. A. WRIGHT — Detroit
Vice President, Boys' Clubs of Detroit
C. K. XANDER — Wilmington, Del.
Executive Director, Boys' Club of Wilmington
WILLIAM ZIEGLER, JR. — New York
Chairman of the Board
American Maize Products Co.

What They Say About Boys' Clubs

HERBERT HOOVER

From an address made in San Francisco, California at corner stone laying of Columbia Park Boys' Club
August 28, 1955

The Clubs have become one of the great character building institutions of our country. They turn out every year thousands of assured, loyal and patriotic citizens. And every Club is a voluntary institution supported by the generosity of the citizens of their city. There is no governmental hand in them.

These Clubs are the greatest cure for delinquency in our country. I could prove it to you by the statistics from 300 cities. In one Chicago district alone, the number of boys in the hands of the police every year decreased from 80 percent to only 12 percent.

J. EDGAR HOOVER

Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, D. C.
March 20, 1955

The theme of this year's Boys' Club Week, "Operation Juvenile Decency," is extremely appropriate. It brings out, most clearly, the very heart of the problem of juvenile delinquency in the Nation today; the need to encourage the concept of decency among our boys and girls.

The Boys' Clubs of America have made a notable contribution, over the years, to the building of decency among our youth. The faithful work of these Clubs in community after community has shown that juvenile delinquency can be defeated.

SENATOR ESTES KEFAUVER

Letter received from Washington, D. C.
March 25, 1955

Your theme for this week—"Operation Juvenile Decency"—is particularly well chosen. By stressing this positive aspect of the problem, you have taken one further step towards the eradication of juvenile delinquency from our vocabulary. I venture to say that if organizations like yours were to spring up in every city of this country, then the rate of juvenile delinquency would take a decided downward turn.

IRA L. HARBISON

Judge, The Justice Court, San Diego, California
February 17, 1954

". . . I feel that now, due to our having a Boys' Club, we, for the first time, have the equipment to do a real job for the boys, and that there can only be one answer—less juvenile trouble.

I have been a judge here for more than twenty-five years and for my book the National City Boys' Club is the greatest single movement for boys' work that National City has ever had."

EDITORIAL

The Hamilton Journal, Ohio
January 25, 1955

It is the most effective, most valuable and most highly regarded organization in the sphere of youth services that this city has ever known.

EDITORIAL

Everett, Washington, Labor Journal
October 8, 1954

. . . the fifth anniversary of the Boys' Club observed, and during this five years of operation, only one boy holding membership in the Boys' Club has been a visitor of Tom Warnock in his office in the County Court House.

Prior to 1947 over 1,000 juvenile complaints were being handled by the sheriff's office each year; this figure has decreased year by year . . . one of the lowest delinquency rates in the state.

JOSEPH C. McNEIL

Attorney, Burlington, Vermont
March 24, 1955

I know that the Burlington Boys' Club has been waging an excellent fight, despite unfortunately, limited facilities, personnel, and resources, against this cause of juvenile delinquency. It provides for boys a facility for healthy, wholesome activity, under proper supervision during their leisure hours.

From their experiences as members of the Boys' Club, juveniles can learn the necessity and importance of fair play and democratic procedures. From their participation in organized activities, they can come to understand the need for cooperation and mutual understanding—which knowledge will prove valuable when, in but a few short years, they enter into the competition of community life.

WENDELL H. HOWES

Chief of Police, Nantucket, Mass.
March 4, 1954

Since the erection and establishment of the Nantucket Boys' Club in 1950, the Boys' Club program and its influence on boys is proving to be a determining factor in reducing our juvenile delinquency here on Nantucket.

Not only have arrests been reduced, but complaints for undue acts of vandalism have been very negligible. I highly endorse the Boys' Club movement as an effective organization in dealing with juvenile delinquency.

BOYS' CLUBS OF AMERICA

381 Fourth Ave., New York 16, N.Y.

1906 GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY 1956

EDITORIAL

Herald Leader, Menominee, Michigan
March 19, 1955

The DAR Boys' Club has been an influence on Menominee youth for more than 30 years. Juvenile Judge Katherine Stiles Laughton said: "My father before me commented on the good influence of the Boys' Club in reducing juvenile crime in Menominee and so have I on several occasions. We seldom get a DAR boy in Juvenile Court. That is also true of Boy Scouts."

W. F. PEACH

Chief of Police, Newport News, Virginia
October 27, 1954

In 1946 our Boys' Club was established here in Newport News. We immediately noted a decrease in our juvenile delinquency. Later on Mr. Harry Shoff was appointed as an Executive Director and under his able guidance our juvenile delinquency continued on a decrease until we have done away with our Juvenile Department, which was part of our Police Department. I am sure it was a result of the Boys' Club in our City and the work that they are doing that has reduced our juvenile delinquency to almost nothing so that we were able to eliminate the Juvenile Department.

I know of no other organization that has been as helpful in preventing juvenile delinquency in the City of Newport News as our Boys' Club.

HARRY SMITH

Chief, National City, Calif., Police Department
July 25, 1955

A few years ago, we had been confronted with a rampage of juvenile delinquency, but immediately after the Boys' Club opened, juvenile cases dropped from 25 to 30 percent. The Club is keeping many boys occupied who might otherwise get into trouble and come into contact with authorities in the enforcement agencies.

W. W. WOLFOLK

Judge, Fulton County Juvenile Court, Atlanta, Georgia
May 19, 1955

Youngsters join street gangs because of deep-rooted desires to belong to something and because they need friendship. The Atlanta Boys' Club satisfies both needs for several thousand youngsters who might otherwise get into trouble.

FRED NAHAS

Station KXYZ, Houston, Texas
March 21, 1955

To understand what has happened—let's examine the facts. Probation Department studies in 1952 showed the area of the Variety Boys' Club to be filled with juvenile gangs with a high incidence of delinquency. The area of Montie Beach Park was feared by the good citizens as being a hangout for the hoodlums.

Today—little children play in Montie Beach Park without fear of being robbed of their nickels. The juvenile gangs are conspicuous by their absence, the delinquency figures for the area are sharply lower.

PONTIAC PRESS

Pontiac, Michigan
March 10, 1954

Since the completion of the Club on Pontiac's East Side, authorities report that juvenile delinquency has been negligible in that area. Sgt. Henry Hoyt, Pontiac Police Juvenile Officer, said, "The rate of juvenile delinquency in the Boys' Club vicinity has fallen from the highest number to the lowest in Pontiac."

WILLIAM A. GOLD

Judge, Supreme Court, Niagara County, N. Y.
August 31, 1955

". . . Presiding over both the County and Children's Courts, I found from my case histories that the background of the boys as delinquent under the age of 16 was practically identical with the background of the boys over 16 charged with a felony. It was my desire to salvage, so to speak, the ones under 16 so that they never would get into the crime classification after they reached their sixteenth birthday. I had to have a full time Juvenile Probation Officer prior to the organization of the Boys' Club in Niagara Falls, but that has since been dispensed with because there is not a sufficient number of cases to justify a full time Juvenile Probation Officer. I have every reason to believe that it has worked out the same in other cities in the country."

EDITORIAL

The Record-Pilot, Glen Cove, New York
March 24, 1955

. . . We all realize that there is no ready-made, miraculous answer to the widening problem of juvenile delinquency.

. . . The records of the Nassau County Police Department show that juvenile delinquency in Locust Valley has decreased to a point where it is practically non-existent since the Grenville Baker Boys' Club was formed.

EDITORIAL

The Times Union, Albany, New York
April 11, 1955

Our greatest profit in America is achieved when young minds center upon the achievement of skills and talents capable of building constructive lives and of doing the useful work of the country.

. . . There are at least two splendid organizations in the country doing a great deal about it.

One is the magnificent organization of Boys' Clubs of America, consisting of more than 400 local groups and having a membership of more than a third of a million youngsters.

. . . The Boys' Clubs of America are channeling young lives into the activities of good citizenship and fruitful careers in a manner that reflects great credit upon the organization and augurs well for the happy future of the country.

EDITORIAL

Raleigh Register, Beckley, W. Virginia
March 18, 1955

. . . Beckley and the tri-county area should engage in some soul-searching thought with reference to organizing such Clubs for boys.

We grown-ups are often prone to believe that juvenile delinquency is somehow not a problem of ours, that it's the exclusive headache of the police and the courts.

Of course, that isn't so . . . and parents can frequently do a great deal toward nipping delinquency in the bud and contributing to good citizenship by learning about the Boys' Clubs of America.

ELIZABETH B. HAMILTON

Chief Probation Officer of Juvenile Court, Augusta, Georgia
March 25, 1955

I am more than happy to endorse the theme of Boys' Club Week—"Operation Juvenile Decency." As probation officer of the Juvenile Court I have seen thousands of our youth over the years and I am still convinced that they have a sense of decency no matter how far astray they have gone. . . . Our own Boys' Club has reduced the incidence of Juvenile Delinquency in its area by 90 percent in the past two and a half years.

FEATURE STORY

Cheboygan, Michigan, Tribune
October 26, 1954

The Boys' Club is helping the Police Department by helping boys to stay good, according to Chief James Demaray. "I am much in favor of the Boys' Club," he declared and he told why. "The Police Department has less complaints about trouble by juveniles when the Club is operating," he explained.

EDITORIAL

Fresno, California, Bee
March 20, 1955

". . . Juvenile delinquency in West Fresno dropped immediately after the Club was started," said Police Detective Sergeant Ralph Moon, the organizer of the Club. "A busy boy does not have time to get into trouble."

FEATURE STORY

Christian Science Monitor, Boston, Mass.
March 24, 1955

. . . Delinquency is hard to measure. Waltham has had its share of it, like other cities and towns. But its chief of police, Asa McKenna, is convinced that if it were not for the Boys' Club, the delinquency rate would soar.

"All you have to do is stand around the streets and watch those youngsters flock into the Club for swimming and athletic events," Chief McKenna says. "It's a wonderful thing. It keeps thousands of kids off the streets and out of trouble. There's no doubt about it."

BURLINGTON, VERMONT, FREE PRESS

March 26, 1955

Police Chief Donald P. Russell yesterday gave the Burlington Boys' Club a pat on the back and said he hoped their work could be expanded.

"Millions of words have been said and written regarding the cause of juvenile delinquency. . . .

"This problem was recognized in Burlington some 13 years ago with the creation of the Burlington Boys' Club, by a group of civic minded persons who were and are interested in the welfare of the youth of Burlington.

"From my position as Chief of Police, I fully realize the splendid work the Boys' Club has accomplished in this city by their assistance to youth."

MRS. THEODORE S. CHAPMAN

President, General Federation of Women's Clubs Washington, D C.
January 26, 1955

. . . "The clubwomen of the General Federation of Women's Clubs have repeatedly, from coast to coast, interested themselves in the Boys' Club movement. They know it is constructive for the boys themselves, particularly when the nation has so great a need to combat juvenile delinquency. They know the country must have the enthusiastic interest of the people behind the Boys' Clubs—and of their supporters—if the movement is to be enabled to do the really big job which today's juvenile situation calls for. The Boys' Clubs have the Federation's cordial interest. I believe I can add that the 15,000 member clubs will be happy to be asked to look after specific tasks in behalf of your movement.

NATIONAL SHERIFFS' ASSOCIATION

Resolution Adopted in Convention Miami, Florida
June 21, 1955

Whereas, the record and accomplishments of the Boys' Clubs of America in preventing juvenile delinquency by the moulding of good character and the building of good citizens have been nationally recognized and acclaimed, be it

Resolved, that the National Sheriffs' Association commends and endorses the Boys' Clubs of America for their accomplishments and urges its membership to assist and support existing Boys' Clubs and, wherever possible, assist in the establishment of additional Boys' Clubs.

WILLIAM McCRAW

Judge, Special Criminal District Court
Executive Director of Variety Clubs International
Dallas, Texas
February 4, 1955

. . . "We know that Boys' Clubs offer constructive activities and guidance to all boys at a cost which all boys can afford; that they conduct their programs on an every-day, every-boy basis.

Perhaps never before in history has the challenge of citizenship been so significant. We feel that Boys' Clubs are making a substantial contribution to the real wealth of our community and our nation by the guiding hand they offer to the citizen of tomorrow.

We wish to commend the continued good work of Boys' Clubs of America."

GEORGE MEANY

President, American Federation of Labor
Washington, D. C.
March 11, 1955

"The Boys' Clubs of America, through their program of physical training and vocational guidance, are working for the welfare of boys of all nationalities, races and creeds throughout the nation. In carrying out their program, the Boys' Clubs of America seek to encourage character building and to safeguard the boys of the nation against delinquency and subversive influences.

I wholeheartedly endorse the work of the Boys' Clubs of America and urge the continued cooperation and support of the American Federation of Labor affiliates in the efforts these clubs are making to safeguard the boys of the country."

SEABORN P. COLLINS

Past National Commander, The American Legion
Indianapolis, Indiana
February 7, 1955

. . . "The theme which has been selected for this year's "Week," "Operation Juvenile Decency," is particularly appealing since it emphasizes the fact that the great majority of American boys are essentially decent. The choice of this theme is typical of the philosophy which permeates every aspect of the Boys' Club program."

E. LAMAR BUCKNER

President, United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, Tulsa, Oklahoma
February 8, 1955

. . . "Jaycees throughout the nation are well aware of the successful accomplishments of the Boys' Clubs of America. Certainly, the very future of America rests with our nation's youth—who will tomorrow be accepting the responsibilities and demands of leadership—on local, state and national levels.

"I know that the Boys' Clubs of America will continue its fine work with the nation's youth, and I sincerely hope that Jaycees will continue to work in close harmony with your organization."

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY ISSUE

FEBRUARY 1956

Chairman of the Board
HERBERT HOOVER

"I have been on this team for only twenty years as Chairman of the National Board. In my time alone I have witnessed the number of clubs double.... The clubs have become one of the great character building institutions of our country. They turn out every year thousands of loyal and patriotic citizens."

Honorary President
WILLIAM EDWIN HALL

"When in 1954 I resigned as President and was elected Hon. President and a member of the Executive Committee, after more than thirty-eight years in office, I did so that I might help my capable successor. The welfare of boys remains still next to my heart. I take great satisfaction in the growth from 63 Clubs when I became President to the present 435. The credit in growth, however, must go to our matchless leader, David W. Armstrong, his devoted staff, and Herbert Hoover."

President
ALBERT L. COLE

"The effect of Boys' Club atmosphere on boys who have time to spare seems almost magical. If 'the devil finds work for idle hands' it is equally true that good things result when boys are kept busy doing things they enjoy, in places they like to be, with people they admire. Almost invariably a Boys' Club boy grows up to be a pretty substantial citizen."

Executive Director
DAVID W. ARMSTRONG

"There is a growing awareness that a Boys' Club fills a gap in a community's efforts to provide free-time activity and guidance for its boys. It reaches many boys who would otherwise be unreached either because of costs or lack of interest. As a result, the number of Boys' Clubs, their facilities, and staffs of leaders are being rapidly expanded."

Old Tompkins Square Building of the Boys' Club of New York, Avenue A and 10th Street.

Boys' Clubs of America Fifty Years Old

THIS year Boys' Clubs of America celebrates its fifty years as a national organization. When it was formed in 1906, there were some fifty Boys' Clubs in operation. These clubs banded together to establish a national organization. A number of these clubs had been started in the 1860's when organizations and groups of people in various New England communities opened rooms to give boys a place for safe recreation during afternoon and evening hours.

How Boys' Clubs Started

The men and women who opened these rooms had watched restless, adventurous boys roaming the streets with nothing to do and getting into trouble because of it, and they had been determined to do something about the situation.

Various independent organizations were formed under different names, but they all came to be known as boys' clubs. In 1876, the words, "Boys' Club" were used as part of the name of one of the organizations—the Boys' Club of New York. Today "Boys' Clubs" have come to mean a national organization whose member clubs serve boys from seven to eighteen in towns and cities throughout the United States.

The Movement Grew

Although there was little publicity and promotion until recent years, the movement grew and spread across the country. Today there are 435 Boys' Clubs with a membership of more than 400,000. These clubs have buildings and other assets valued at over $100,000,000. A new Boys' Club is being added every ten days.

There are Boys' Clubs not only in the crowded and poor areas of cities, but also in small communities where boys have needs and problems as well as the boys in cities.

Guiding Fundamentals

From the beginning, Boys' Clubs have been guided by certain fundamentals: Low costs so no boy need be barred or deterred from joining because of them. The Open Door to safe recreation and constructive activity usually any weekday afternoon and evening. Varied program so that any boy may find an interest. Non-sectarian control, leadership and membership. They are clubs for boys—the Boys' Club, a separate and unique organization with its own attraction for boys, its own methods, and filling a special need in the community.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Purposes and Activities

These fundamentals have not changed, although the emphasis is no longer simply on taking boys off the streets and on recreation. The programs are planned to "promote the health, social, educational, vocational and character development of boys." This is the purpose for which the Boys' Clubs of America was organized.

Programs include a wide range of activities in physical training and athletics, arts and crafts, and groups of various kinds, organized around the different interests or the already established friendships of boys. A quiet place for reading and study is usually provided. At the older age levels, boy-and-girl activities are carried on. Many Boys' Clubs have camps for day, overnight, and resident camping. An important part of the program is training in citizenship and community service. The extent and variety of programs depend upon facilities, staff and the support given the club by the community.

While the Boys' Club is not a religious organization in any sectarian sense, its teachings are rooted in religious principles. The greatest emphasis is on leadership and guidance. In the day-to-day association with boys both in groups and informal contact, Boys' Club leaders have unparalleled opportunity for guidance of boys in behavior, attitude, as well as their general development.

The administration of Boys' Clubs and the guidance of boys is a profession. Men who enter the field not only have basic qualifications, but they are also especially trained for the work. Instructors and leaders are selected for their ability to guide and influence boys in addition to their teaching and organizing skills.

Boys' Clubs of America

Each Boys' Club belonging to Boys' Clubs of America is an autonomous organization. It is managed by a board of public-spirited citizens and supported by Community Chests or United Funds or by contributions made directly to the club.

Boys' Clubs of America, composed of member clubs banded together in a national organization, establishes standards and methods; develops programs and program materials; plans buildings and equipment; recruits, trains and places club workers; publishes periodicals, booklets and bulletins; carries on a national interpretation and publicity program and furnishes guidance, plans and materials for the use of the Boys' Clubs themselves, and, in general, promotes the development of the whole movement throughout the country.

There are seven regional offices with field staffs who visit Boys' Clubs and communities to give guidance and assistance to Boys' Clubs in their plans and problems, and to aid communities in the organization and establishment of additional Boys' Clubs.

The Delinquency Problem

Boys' Clubs attack the delinquency problem where it begins in barren and broken homes, and by building juvenile decency among boys. Police and court figures in many places show conclusively that where there is a Boys' Club there is less delinquency and that providing boys with constructive activity and guidance in an atmosphere of decency results in boys who are decent.

Here are a few recent examples of the testimony which bears out what has been found true of Boys' Clubs from their earliest beginnings in the 1860's—they are one of the most effective agencies in the prevention of delinquency:

W. F. Peach, Chief of Police, Newport News, Virginia, stated: "In 1946 our Boys' Club was established. We immediately noted a decrease in our juvenile delinquency . . . our juvenile delinquency continued on a decrease until we have done away with our Juvenile Department, which was part of our Police Department. I am sure it was a result of the Boys' Club in our city and the work that they are doing that has reduced our juvenile delinquency to almost nothing."

From an editorial in the Everett, Washington, Labor Journal: ". . . the fifth anniversary of the Boys' Club observed, and during this five years of operation, only one boy holding membership in the Boys' Club has been a visitor of Tom Warnock in his office in the County Court House. Prior to 1947 over 1,000 juvenile complaints were being handled by the sheriff's office each year; this figure has decreased year by year . . . one of the lowest delinquency rates in the state."

From Fred Nahan of Station KXYZ, Houston, Texas: "Probation Department studies in 1952 showed the area of the Variety Boys' Club to be filled with juvenile gangs with a high incidence of delinquency. The area of Montie Beach Park was feared by the good citizens as being a hangout for the hoodlums. Today little children play in Montie Beach Park without fear of being robbed of their nickels. The juvenile gangs are conspicuous by their absence, the delinquency figures for the area are sharply lower."

An editorial in The Times Union, Albany, New York, stated: "Our greatest profit in America is achieved when young minds center upon the achievement of skills and talents capable of building constructive lives and of doing the useful work of the country.

"...There are at least two splendid organizations in the country doing a great deal about it.

"One is the magnificent organization of Boys' Clubs of America, consisting of more than 400 local groups and having a membership of more than a third of a million youngsters.

"...the Boys' Clubs of America are channeling young lives into the activities of good citizenship and fruitful careers in a manner that reflects great credit upon the organization and argues well for the happy future of the country."

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

As J. Edgar Hoover, Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, D. C., sums it up: "The theme of Operation Juvenile Decency, is extremely appropriate. It brings out most clearly, the very heart of the problem of juvenile delinquency in the nation today; the need to encourage the concept of decency among our boys and girls.

"The Boys' Clubs of America have made a notable contribution, over the years, to the building of decency among our youth. The faithful work of these clubs in community after community has shown that juvenile delinquency can be defeated."

(continued on page 8)

. . . Hobbies like radio open occupational fields for the future

. . . Or developing a talent—perhaps in music

. . . Body skills acquired

. . . Creative experiences enrich lives

. . . Exploring vocations helps to choose life-work

. . . Learning to make things grows into a lifelong enjoyment

. . . In club camps boys have close companionship with fine leaders

IN AN ATMOSPHERE of fun and companionship boys in Boys' Clubs all over the country have daily opportunity to take part in a wide variety of activities.

A Boys' Club boy always has a place to go and something to do.

Competitive sports provide a constructive outlet for boy energy.

There is quiet in the club library for reading and studying.

Older boys and girls enjoy companionship in special activities in pleasant, wholesome surroundings.

Groups of boys under leadership find common interests and close friendships grow.

Day, overnight and residence camps provide never-forgotten experiences in the out-of-doors with grass, trees and a pond, where fresh air and good food help to build healthy bodies.

Trained leaders help boys with their problems and guide them daily in behavior and attitudes.

And any boy can afford to have them.

. . . Physical activities develop vigor, stamina and general good health

. . . Boys get an early start in learning a trade or skill

(continued from page 5)

The Physical Fitness Problem

Another of the serious problems of youth and the nation is physical fitness. Recent figures show that 50% of those examined for service in the armed forces since 1948 were rejected. Figures from Boys' Clubs indicate far less rejections of their members and graduates than of the general population. Boys' Clubs carry on an effective health and physical training program. The physical handicaps of boys in many clubs are discovered and corrected.

In addition to their athletic programs, the clubs use the "Standards of Accomplishment" program, developed by Boys' Clubs of America to stimulate physical training on a non-competitive basis. This program is especially designed for boys who lack the strength and skill for successful competition. Each boy strives to attain certain goals for which he receives recognition. In order to establish these goals, Boys' Clubs of America tested more than 40,000 boys. So far as is known, Boys' Clubs of America is the only youth organization which has made such tests and carries on such a non-competitive program.

Graduates of Boys' Clubs

Graduates of Boys' Clubs are in high places and low, in business, industry, government, the professions, sports and entertainment. Most of the graduates of these clubs are law-abiding and good citizens in every sense of the word.

According to their own testimony, some of them were saved from missteps that might have ruined

The history of Boys' Clubs of America is highlighted throughout by outstanding contributions of funds, equipment, and service through the generosity of many national organizations and their local units. But the story is not alone one of the millions of dollars in funds and equipment. Nor in the thousands of hours in free labor and service. The real story is a thousand stories — repeated daily in communities all over America.

It is a story of sponsoring Boys' Clubs in communities badly in need of service; of providing increased facilities to serve more of the many boys who need the Boys' Club guidance and leadership; of being there with a helping hand to solve the problems and the immediate needs. It is a story of service to boys, to the community, and to the nation.

In looking to the future, there is every indication that these great national organizations will continue and increase the vital support and cooperation so necessary to the operation of the Boys' Club and the Boys' Club movement.

American Federation of Labor—Congress of Industrial Organizations
The American Legion
AMVETS
Association of the Junior Leagues of America
Benevolent & Protective Order of Elks Civitan International Fraternal Order of Eagles
General Federation of Women's Clubs
Improved Order of Red Men
Kiwanis International Lions International Loyal Order of Moose
National Exchange Clubs
National Federation of Business & Professional Women's Clubs
National Federation of Music Clubs
Optimist International Rotary International
Sertoma International Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America
United States Junior Chamber of Commerce Variety Clubs International Veterans of Foreign Wars

their whole lives, through right guidance by the right man at the right time.

Many of these Boys' Club graduates say that they received their start toward success in the club's arts and crafts classes and through the guidance they received. Many of them spent the happiest hours of their lives in a Boys' Club.

Those who devote their time and energies to the management and operation of Boys' Clubs and support the clubs say there is no greater satisfaction than the helping of boys in the often upward struggle toward success and happiness.

Need for More Boys' Clubs

While the Boys' Club movement has spread across the country and its value is constantly demonstrated in hundreds of communities, there still remain countless numbers of boys in many communities, who have no chance for wholesome activities or the development of physical and vocational skills, and lack the leadership and guidance of friendly men. Much of their growing of necessity takes place in the streets under the wrong leadership.

It costs money to establish and operate a Boys' Club, but it is still far cheaper than the cost of delinquency and crime. Building the health, skills and character of boys is the sure way of building men for our industries and businesses, for service to the people, and for participation in our government.

Boys' Clubs are organized by civic organizations and other groups of individuals. Boys' Clubs of America is always glad to answer inquiries and to provide without cost the services of trained men who will advise such groups on how to start and operate a Boys' Club.

[redacted]

1860's Leisure time activities for boys provided in Hartford, Providence, Salem, and other places, which developed into the Boys' Clubs now in operation.

1871 Boys' Club rooms opened in New Haven, Conn.

1876 First organization with "Boys' Club" in its title was Boys' Club of New York.

1896 First Boys' Club to have building especially designed as a Clubhouse was the Boys' Club of Fall River, Mass.

1906 Federated Boys' Clubs (now Boys' Clubs of America) organized. Jacob A. Riis first President.

1907 First Annual Conference, Pittsfield, Mass.

1914 First permanent Executive Director, C. J. Atkinson, appointed. Office opened in New York City.

1915 William Edwin Hall of New York elected Treasurer.

1916 William Edwin Hall became President.

1919 First Field Secretary, Alexander Campbell, employed.

1931 Name changed to Boys' Clubs of America.

1936 Herbert Hoover became Chairman of the Board.

1937 Sanford Bates appointed Executive Director.

1940 David W. Armstrong became Acting Executive Director on leave from Worcester, Mass., Boys' Club.

1941 David W. Armstrong became Executive Director. Victory Volunteers organized among boys to aid in the war effort.

1944 New constitution and requirements for member Boys' Clubs adopted, establishing Boys' Clubs of America as an all-Boys'-Club organization.
National Council representative of Boys' Clubs created.

1945 Regional Offices established.

1954 William Edwin Hall retired as President after nearly 40 years of service.
Albert L. Cole of Pleasantville elected President.

1956 Golden Anniversary Boys' Clubs of America celebrated by 435 Boys' Clubs and more than 400,000 boy members.

The new $350,000 clubhouse of the Boys' Club of Knoxville, Tennessee.

Recent developments across

DURING 1955 thirty-five additional Boys' Clubs qualified and became part of Boys' Clubs of America—a new club about every ten days. Building operations reached an all-time high. Reports for the year have indicated almost seven million dollars worth of Boys' Club construction which has either been completed or is underway.

Areas of development were not limited to any one section but were evenly distributed across the country. Not only were new clubhouses being built, but dozens of clubs were engaged in new construction—a new gymnasium in California, a new wing for arts and crafts in a North Carolina club, interior remodeling in a Wisconsin club. Building Service of Boys' Clubs of America rendered valuable assistance to the clubs, architects and contractors.

The Boys' Club of Queens, New York, completed a $750,000 building. Chicago Boys Clubs have a million dollar memorial to General Robert E. Wood under construction. In Knoxville, Tennessee, the Boys' Club completed a building costing $350,000, which could not be duplicated now for much more.

All buildings are not in the high price bracket. Many projects range between $100,000 and $200,000, and some erected for less than $100,000.

Six of the building projects which have been completed have swimming pools, and three new pools are under construction. The new water level deck design with concrete trench covers, conceived by Building Service, helped make many possible.

More and more clubs are receiving help from building trade unions, service clubs, contractors and building supply houses.

At present the Field Staff of Boys' Clubs of America is assisting groups in 170 cities.

Through national contests and projects, Boys' Clubs of America keeps its program dynamic and makes boy members aware of their close relationships with thousands of other boys in the nation.

The annual Junior Citizenship Award calls national attention to Boys' Clubs of America's planned program of developing interest in service as part of the responsibility of citizenship.

"Questions Boys Ask," written by David W. Armstrong, Executive Director of Boys' Clubs of America, published by E. P. Dutton in 1955, is designed to answer questions troubling boys and their parents.

Through the Steven David Epstein Memorial Foundation, Boys' Clubs of America continues to give assistance to Boys' Club members talented in the arts and crafts. So far close to sixty boys have been receiving the necessary help to develop their unusual talents. One of the most outstanding of the boys who are being helped is Earl Carlyss, 15-year-old member of the Boys' Club of Pasadena, California. The violinist made his debut last year with the Pasadena Civic Symphony Orchestra. He is now studying in France and is the youngest person to be accepted in the Superior Class of the Paris Conservatory of Music—a remarkable achievement.

Looking Forward

With the advice and guidance of the Field Staff, Area Councils are extending even further the network of clubs. Spearheading the establishment of new Boys' Clubs, in many cases, are laymen already the country...

Recently completed $750,000 building of the Boys' Club of Queens, New York.

associated with one of the clubs. Extension and expansion committees have been created and many more are being formed.

Recent examples of such committees are in Indiana and in Ohio. The Ohio State Committee meeting was attended by lay representatives from Boys' Clubs in the state and representatives of fraternal and service organizations as well as executive directors of each Boys' Club. In Indiana, the Northern Indiana Extension and Expansion Committee meeting was attended by laymen and executive directors from every club in Northern Indiana.

In the Midwest as a result of the participation of laymen, in encouraging the establishment of Boys' Clubs, nine clubs have come into being.

The growth of the Boys' Club movement is not only physical. Through frequent in-service training institutes, Boys' Club workers are kept abreast of the best and newest techniques in work with boys.

In groups like this boys learn good citizenship.

Older boys and girls enjoy social activities.

There is quiet in the library for reading.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

BOYS' CLUBS OF AMERICA
381 FOURTH AVENUE
NEW YORK 16, N. Y.

Return Postage Guaranteed

Sec. 34.65(e), P. L. & R.
U. S. POSTAGE PAID
New York, N. Y.
Permit No. 10351

The Boys' Club Code

I believe in God and the Right to worship according to my own faith and religion.

I believe in America and the American Way of Life . . . in the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

I believe in fair play, honesty and sportsmanship.

I believe in my Boys' Club which stands for these things.

The Boys' Club Bulletin
Published by
BOYS' CLUBS OF AMERICA, INC.
381 Fourth Avenue, New York 16, N. Y.
HERBERT HOOVER....Chairman of Board
WILLIAM EDWIN HALL...Hon. President
ALBERT L. COLE.....President
STANLEY RESOR.....Vice President
WILLIAM ZIEGLER, JR.....Secretary
JEREMIAH MILBANK.....Treasurer
DAVID W. ARMSTRONG....Exec. Director
IRIS VINTON.....Editor

THE Boys' Club BULLETIN

VOLUME 28 NOVEMBER, 1955 NUMBER 3

Boys' Clubs "are the greatest cure for juvenile delinquency in our country." Ex-President Herbert Hoover told his audience at the cornerstone laying for the new Columbia Park Boys' Club. Shown are John D. Costello, President, Board of Directors; two members of the Boys' Club; Herbert Hoover; A. J. Shragge and Benjamin H. Swig, co-chairmen of the New Building Committee.

HERBERT HOOVER ON DELINQUENCY

IN SPEAKING AT the laying of the cornerstone of the new building of the Columbia Park Boys' Club, San Francisco, Calif., Mr. Hoover said that the Boys' Clubs are "the greatest cure for delinquency in our country."

"I have been on this team (Boys' Clubs of America) for only twenty years as Chairman of the National Board," he continued. "In my time alone I have witnessed the number of clubs double—from 200 to about 400. I have seen them established in 300 towns and cities. This is no paper organization. To build and equip a club like this costs from $300,000 to $500,000. We have in this twenty years had the satisfaction of the growth of nation-wide investment in these clubs from $20,000,000 to over $120,000,000.

"The clubs have become one of the great character building institutions of our country. They turn out every year thousands of assured loyal and patriotic citizens. And every club is a voluntary institution supported by the generosity of the citizens of their city. There is no governmental hand in them.

"Our country is greatly agitated over the growth of teen-age delinquency. There are a multitude of proposed remedies. Most of them gyrate around ideas of how mothers and fathers and teachers can do a better job. Most of these remedies ignore four primary forces insofar as our congested districts are concerned.

"First. These boys are endowed with dynamic energy. The world is new and must be fully explored. They have an impelling desire for adventure, discovery and great undertakings. They have competition and combat in their bones. Their primary instinct is to hunt in a pack in search for adventure and joy.

"Second. We have laid pavements and cement over most of their out-of-door space in our congested city districts.

"Third. These boys can no longer find outlets for their energies in the woods or on the streams and the animals to be captured.

"Fourth. We send these youngsters to school for six or eight hours during the day and we leave them to the paved streets for the evenings, and Saturdays and Sundays.

"Do you wonder that with these innate qualities and the surroundings that these boys conspire by gangs to engage in destructive joy and the excitement of battle?

"This is where the Boys' Clubs come in. Here we provide a place where gang spirit and competition expend themselves in organized games. If the youngsters need to do combat, they are given the gloves and operate under rules of sportsmanship. Here in these clubs they expand their creative spirits through the mysteries of wood working, machine tools, books, and musical instruments. Here they find their bent for future life. Here they conduct their own government and their own discipline. Here they receive constant sympathetic friendliness and guidance from a trained staff of devoted men and women. When they are in these rooms, mother has no anxieties and father broods over no home-coming chastisement. (continued on following page)

(continued from page 1)

"These clubs are the greatest cure for delinquency in our country. I could prove it to you by the statistics from 300 cities. In one Chicago district alone, the number of boys in the hands of the police every year decreased from 80 percent to only 12 percent.

"These are facts which cannot be ignored. The boy members of these clubs cannot afford street car or bus fares. Their walking distance is about one mile. Thus the clubs become a bright spot of decency within a two-mile radius or a little more. And there are 3,000,000 pavement boys in the United States. The nation needs, and San Francisco needs, more of these clubs."

Mr. Hoover paid tribute to Major Sidney Peixotto, who founded the Columbia Park Boys' Club 61 years ago; and complimented John Costello, President of the club, and Julian Hargrove, Executive Director; A. J. Shragge and Benjamin H. Swig, co-chairmen of the committee which raised the funds; as well as members of the Board of Directors. Both Mr. Costello and Mr. Shragge were members of the Boys' Club when they were boys.

The Columbia Park Boys' Club building will cost about $500,000. Mr. Hoover praised the generous citizens for their contributions, the labor unions for free labor they supplied, the manufacturers and contractors for the many gifts of materials.

Mr. Hoover finished by saying, "The club needs more support to complete its new building and its operation. That support costs less than police, the courts and the reformatories, for here is a white spot in delinquency, a stimulant and a training and creation of good citizens. This will be a better city because of it.

"My admiration goes out to all who have a part in it."

L to R: Phil Magner, Sr., Wabash; Ira McGuire, Muncie; Howard Whitcomb, Noblesville; Mac Nowak, Gary; H. G. Miller, Wabash; Frank W. Campbell, Noblesville; Jessie Newkirk, Kendallville; C. P. Miller, Kendallville; Raymond E. Bogden, Boys' Clubs of America; Catlin Whitehead, Anderson; Robert Patton, Kendallville; Tom Werbe, Anderson; George Berg, Hubert Oswalt, Dudley Lavengood, Jim Beers, all of Wabash; Clyde Cory, Muncie; and Pete Thorn, Warsaw.

Zone Meeting of Northern Indiana Extension and Expansion Committee

THE NORTHERN INDIANA EXTENSION and Expansion Committee held a dinner meeting at the Honeywell Memorial Center in Wabash, Indiana. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss how each Boys' Club board, through its representatives, could help in expanding the Boys' Club Movement in Indiana.

Laymen and executive directors from every Boys' Club in Northern Indiana attended the meeting. A plan involving the establishment of Extension and Expansion Committees on each Boys' Club board was adopted.

The many local Extension and Expansion Committees will cooperate with the Field Staff of Boys' Clubs of America in promoting new Boys' Clubs in the State.

Clubs Give Aid in Disaster Areas

BOYS' CLUBS located in or near areas struck by Hurricanes Connie or Diane or suffering flood damage gave a good account of themselves in aiding their community, in spite of sustaining damage and in some cases losses to their own property.

In New England, five clubs reported a total damage of $24,900. Reports of aid given communities during the emergencies came in from four clubs in that area and are illustrative of the kind and extent of service made available.

In Ludlow, Mass., the executive director of the Stevens Memorial Boys' Club worked with the police, Civil Defense director, Selectmen, and the Red Cross from early one morning until past noon of the following day, helping to shelter families in the Boys' Clubs.

The force of the Naugatuck River in Connecticut, reinforced by excessive rainfall, caused great devastation along the whole Naugatuck Valley. On the afternoon of the flood, the Boys' Club of Dixwell Community House, New Haven, Conn., took two station wagons, a trailer truck, four boats and 25 young men to Ansonia, which is located in the lowlands of the valley. The group worked throughout the night and brought to safety 60 men, women and Left—Principals in Ohio State Committee and Ohio Area Council joint project expanding Boys' Clubs in the State. L to R (seated): Harry L. Olden, Chairman, Ohio Area Council; Jack Stoehr, Regional Director, Loyal Order of Moose; (standing) J. William Pettit, Executive Secretary, Ohio Area Council; Paul Lemmon, Assistant Regional Director, Boys' Clubs of America and coordinator of project; Gordon Jeffery, President, Ohio State Committee and Chairman of State Area Council Expansion Committee. Right—Chairmen of the local Boys' Clubs Expansion Committee. L to R (front row): A. L. Baker, Toledo; E. J. Henry, Columbus; George E. Sheer, Dayton; (standing) John E. Young, Massillon; H. S. Leyman, Jr., Cincinnati; Gordon Jeffery. Toledo; C. Wesley Newkirk, Hamilton.

Ohio State Committee and Ohio Area Council launch expansion plan

AT A JOINT luncheon meeting of the Ohio State Committee and the Ohio Area Council of Boys' Clubs of America, which was held at the Deshler-Hilton Hotel, Columbus, Ohio, a plan for the expansion and development of the Boys' Club Movement in Ohio was launched.

Attending the meeting were lay representatives from Boys' Clubs in Ohio and the executive directors of each Boys' Club in the State. Also in attendance were representatives from the Buckeye Sheriff's Association, Ohio Elks Association, Glen Echo Child Welfare League, Kiwanis, Loyal Order of Moose, Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, Lions Clubs, Optimists, Ohio Veterans of Foreign Wars, Order of Pythagorans, and Joseph Scalon, the Executive Secretary to Governor Lausche of Ohio.

The plan provides that each Boys' Club in Ohio create an Extension and Expansion Committee to work with the Regional Staff of Boys' Clubs of America in the promotion of new Boys' Clubs. As of this date, such committees have been established by every Boys' Club in the State and the plan is now in operation.

The Loyal Order of Moose served as hosts at the luncheon in Columbus when the plan was launched.

FOUR-WEEK TRAINING COURSE AT NEW YORK UNIVERSITY. Boys' Club of America held its 33rd training course at New York University from September 12 to October 7. Thirty-nine men were enrolled in the course. They came from twelve states, with nine men coming from Canada.

Included in the group of graduates shown above, are the four men who have been accepted in the one-year professional training course—Duane A. Valine, Danbury, Conn.; Paul Staudenmaier, Chicago; John J. Bullaro, Los Angeles; and James Nolin, Staten Island, New York.

William E. Hall, Honorary President, and David W. Armstrong, Executive Director, Boys' Clubs of America, are shown in the front row of the photograph with (on left) Alex A. Maleski and William J. Lavery, Assistant Directors, and (on right) Edward W. Pastore, Director, and Howard G. Gibbs, Associate Director, all of Program and Personnel Service, Boys' Clubs of America.

children. The club reported that it had $800 damage done its summer camp.

The Stamford, Conn., Boys' Club workers were able to secure two cottages by means of cables and prevent their loss. In addition, they moved furniture, hauled boats out of the river, provided and delivered food to the feeding stations which had been set up.

The Boys' Club of Waterbury, Conn., was kept busy feeding those in the club's charge and in taking care of transportation problems.

Reports from other disaster areas are not complete, but two examples from North Carolina and Pennsylvania indicate various aid given.

When Hurricane Diane hit Wilmington, N.C., the Disaster Committee of the Wilmington Chapter, American Red Cross, set up active centers for evacuees. One of the five such centers was the Brigade Boys' Club, where food was available and people were sheltered. Cots and blankets were provided by the Army from Fort Bragg. Red Cross workers were in charge, with the Boys' Club cooperating in various ways.

Boys' Club-Big Brother Organization, Scranton, Pa., used its station wagon to shuttle victims, food and supplies to the South Scranton High School. The executive director and a number of his camp staff worked in the kitchen at one of the Red Cross Food centers. The club also provided a tape machine to furnish recorded music to flood victims, a power mike, and PA system for use at the public meeting held at the center.

Float used to promote fund raising campaign for the Grandview Park Boys' Club, Oak Lawn, Ill.

Developments across the country

Locust Valley, Long Island, N.Y. Grenville Baker Boys' Club broke ground for its new $142,000 gymnasium wing addition in June. Most of the funds were acquired in a quiet campaign which was climaxed by a "One Day Campaign" door-to-door canvass, to bring the building fund up to $149,000. Another quiet campaign is underway for funds to equip the building.

Gadsden, Ala. Local plumbers and electricians, members of the A F of L, are contributing labor to remodel a building in East Gadsden for Boys' Club use. The Junior Chamber of Commerce and the people of East Gadsden are all behind the project.

Chicago, Ill. Ground was broken in June for the new $750,000 General Robert E. Wood Memorial Boys' Club. Local A F of L building unions, several contractors and suppliers are contributing labor and materials.

Orlando, Fla. Boys' Club dedicated its remodeled building September 11. Building remodeling was sponsored by the City of Orlando, civic clubs of Orlando, trade unions, businesses and individual citizens. Estimated value of the building and equipment is $100,000. Amount of cash expended was $25,000. The remainder was in donated labor and materials.

Winston-Salem, N.C. Construction of a $100,000 swimming pool addition to the Red Shield Boys' Club is underway. Money was raised in a capital funds drive which lasted only two weeks.

Hollywood, Calif. Boys' Club fund raising campaign for a swimming pool and gymnasium was successful. Construction has started on these $200,000 additions.

Bethlehem, Pa. A $100,000 renovation to the Boys' Club building has been completed. The club now has improved crafts facilities and adequate dressing and shower areas.

Louisville, Ky. The Red Shield Boys' Club has just purchased a 175-acre site for a camp.

Bedford, Ind. A new $150,000 Boys' Club building is under construction.

Shell Blanscet, executive director and the members of the Boys' Club of Hilo, Hawaii, are welcomed by Boys' Clubs of America Southern Pacific Regional Director, Aaron H. Fahringer, as they arrive in Los Angeles, Calif.

Hawaiian Boys' Club Members Visit California Clubs

NINETEEN members of the Boys' Club of Hilo, Hawaii, aged 10 to 15 years, recently visited Boys' Clubs in California. It was the first time that any of the boys had been to the mainland.

The newspaper, Pittsburg Post-Dispatch, cooperated with the Pittsburg, Calif., Boys' Club in a hospitality program for the Hawaiians. The Optimists, Rotarians, Lions, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Cerrito City Club were among the organizations which planned entertainment for the boys.

Headquarters for the group in Southern California was the Hollywood Boys' Club. The Los Angeles Times Boys' Club furnished sleeping bags and other equipment for the boys' stay at the Hollywood club and made available a bus with a driver for two days, to take the visitors on sightseeing tours to Disneyland and other points of interest as well as to other Boys' Clubs in the area.

The boys attended TV shows and baseball games, and were guests at various other affairs, among them a visit to movie studios, Cinerama, a tour of movie stars homes.

The trip was a combination award for the club's championship Little League baseball team and an educational junket. Accompanying the boys was Shell Blanscet, executive director, Boys' Club of Hilo, which is the first Boys' Club to be organized in Hawaii and a member of Boys' Clubs of America.

Meriden Campaign for new building tops goal by $153,000

THE $250,000 minimum goal of the Meriden, Conn., Boys' Club Building Fund was exceeded by more than $153,000. Total amount subscribed was $403,247.52.

The middle of April, the campaign got off to a $50,000 start with advance individual and corporate gifts. The city-wide appeal for funds got underway a month later. At the opening of this phase of the campaign Charles M. Gearing, II, the general chairman, told the public:

"Everybody has a stake in the new Boys' Club, and it will take a large number of subscriptions from people in ordinary circumstances, investing generously in proportion to their means, to complete this capital fund for community purposes."

More than 2,000 subscribers, made up of several thousand families and small business establishments in the city, contributed over $70,000 to this part of the campaign alone.

The memorial plan, which offered the people of Meriden an opportunity to dedicate a section of the new clubhouse in the names of their families and loved ones, brought in well over $115,000. Through this plan, a subscription served to establish a specific room, shop or section. The unit is marked by a suitably inscribed bronze tablet and stands as lasting evidence of the donor's concern for the welfare of the youth of the community.

The largest of the memorial gifts, $50,000, was made by Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Cuno, for the erection of the gymnasium in memory of Mr. Cuno's parents. In 1923, Charles F. Cuno, the father of Charles H., donated land and funds for the operation of Camp Cuno, the Boys' Club's first summer camp.

President of the Meriden Boys' Club, Carl A. Schultz, emphasized the responsibility of corporations in supporting the building fund as an investment in the community.

"To put it as plainly as possible," Mr. Schultz said, "the corporation has a very real dollar-and-cents stake in seeing the new Boys' Club completed as soon as possible, as an additional guarantee of the stability of the population of this area and consequently of the corporations themselves.

"I think that every far-sighted business in this community will recognize the logic of this statement," he declared.

Various corporation subscriptions brought in over $109,000. The largest contribution from an industrial firm, however, came at the end of the campaign when, in July, the New Departure Division of General Motors Corporation pledged $45,000 towards the new clubhouse.

In presenting the $45,000 pledge, Harry T. Burgess, the GM Division's Meriden plant manager, said, "New Departure, like all other divisions of General Motors, is deeply interested in any movement designed for the guidance of young Americans.

"We are pleased to cooperate with other industrial and business firms of Meriden, along with the thousands of citizens who are filled with community spirit, and want to provide the best possible recreational and educational facilities for the youth of this city.

"New Departure is well aware of the great work our Boys' Club is accomplishing year after year and is most pleased to help in achieving a long-awaited goal—bigger and better facilities in this particular program."

This division of GM is very well acquainted with the work of the Boys' Club, for a great number of the parents of club members work in the New Departure plant.

Other large corporation gifts included one for $35,000 from a large national firm, and several for $15,000.

A most unusual gift was that of the Professional Nurses' Club of Meriden and Wallingford, which contributed $100 to the building fund for the purchase of a first-aid cabinet and supplies. Once the new building is erected the Nurses' Club will keep the cabinet stocked.

The new Meriden Boys' Club will be located on a high bluff, overlooking the Post Office just below and the rest of the town. The lights, shining high on the hill, will stand out like a beacon. The new building will stand as a tribute to the people who believed that "Kids don't wait—they grow," and did something about it.

At this time, the new clubhouse is in the working drawings stage. Typical plans, furnished by Building Service of Boys' Clubs of America, have been adapted by the architects. After a great many years in an old, outworn, gloomy building, the Boys' Club of Meriden will be moving out into a new, modern, well-equipped clubhouse with plenty of light and sunshine, and trees and grass around.

The Grand Army of the Republic of Meriden plans to erect and maintain a flag pole and to furnish flags. The GAR members plan to contribute $1,000 for this project. When the club is ready, they will be on hand to hoist the first flag above the club grounds.

Gifts and Bequests

Boys' Club of Asbury Park, N.J., received $5,000 from the estate of Maria Mihas. The club now has $22,000 in its gymnasium fund.

Boys' Club of Ypsilanti, Mich., was given $1,500 by the Ford Motor Company, toward the first year's operating budget of this new Club.

Worcester, Mass., Boys' Club. Sterling Health Camp officially passed out of being recently with the transfer of the camp property deed to the Worcester Boys' Club. The deed to the camp was given by the Southern Worcester County Health Association which had operated the camp for 30 years. Established as a camp to prevent tuberculosis, it was given to the Boys' Club by the health association, following the finding that such camps have no effect on incidence of the disease. Club directors plan to use facilities for full camp purposes next summer.

Boys' Club of Redford Township, Detroit, Mich., was given an $18,000 frame building by the Detroit Bank, and immediately announced plans to move the structure to a vacant lot, which would be a better site for the Club. The building was a former branch office of the bank.

Shadyside Boys' Club, Pittsburgh, Pa. The Hillman Foundation contributed a 50-acre tract of land for the Day Camp and material for the erection of a dining shelter. The 125-ft. well was made possible by the Layne-New York Company, an industrial water treatment firm. Bulldozing of the athletic field and service roads was made possible by the Bechwith Machinery Company, Burrell Construction Company and an Operating Engineers' Union #66. Other contributions to the camp were a tepee and Indian hogan from East End Junior Women's Club; $250 from the Shadyside Presbyterian Church; and $125 from the Women's Auxiliary of the Boys' Club. The Hillman Foundation also supplied many of the tools with which to develop the camp site.

Syracuse, N.Y., Boys' Club received a legacy of $100,000 from the late Carl Amos. Mr. Amos had been a member of the Board of Directors of the club for 41 years. This gift will enable the old clubhouse to be torn down and the completion of the Shonnard Street branch after the new $100,000 gymnasium is finished. The new gym was made possible through sale of playground property at the Main Club and Community Chest assistance.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Boys' Club contributed seven new boats for Camp Zerbe, at a cost of $1,100; and gave $1,250 for camperships and the camp improvement program.

Boys' Club of St. Louis, Mo., was left a camp personally owned by the late Father Maxwell, former executive director of the club.

Milwaukee, Wisc., Boys' Club. Executives of the Allen Bradley Company contributed $4,500 for a camp council ring as a memorial to their president, Fred Loock, who is also president of the Boys' Club. The gift was in honor of Mr. Loock's birthday and also his 45 years with the company.

Don and two pals take blankets and thermos real early to the front door of the Boys' Club.

It's Great to Be a Boys' Club Boy

When it came time to re-new memberships this year in the National City Boys' Club, National City, Calif., getting Membership Card 1 wasn't easy. But Don, aged 10, got it.

He took his blankets and thermos to the front door of the Boys' Club early and waited until the doors opened. Later he was joined by Billy and his brother Dicky.

After hours of waiting, Don was first in line and the Boys' Club director gave him his hard-earned card. The line for cards stretched way down and around the block. Practically every boy in National City thinks it's great to be a Boys' Club boy. This past year the club reached an all-time high in membership with 1,496 members, at least 90 percent of the eligible boy population of the city.

The National City Boys' Club was the first club to be assisted by the Anderson trusts. The club is now about five years old and every year at membership renewal time, the place has been swamped by old members who want to be the first to get their new cards and newcomers who want to be sure to be on hand to get their first membership cards.

The Anderson trusts which have aided a considerable number of communities in California with their Boys' Clubs were established by the late Mrs. Arthur C. Anderson of San Diego. One trust was created for the purpose of "assisting the Boys' Club Movement in San Diego and Orange Counties." The other trust, established in the names of Gertrude H. and Arthur C. Anderson, was created for the purpose of assisting underprivileged children to become better and more useful citizens. Its money has been applied for that purpose in the two counties, including assistance to the Boys' Club Movement.

When the director opened the doors, the line went clear around the block, but Don and his friends were right up in front.

Richard Greene, star of new CBS-TV series "The Adventures of Robin Hood," filmed in England, is inspiration for this fall's Robin Hood events supporting United Community Campaigns.

Robin Hood Events Aid United Community Campaigns

THIS FALL between Hallowe'en and mid-November, Boys' Clubs in 25 major cities from Portland, Maine, to San Diego, California, are staging a series of special events in support of their local United Community Campaigns.

In each city a contingent of 50 to 100 Boys' Club members, dressed in Robin Hood costumes complete with forest green jerkin and befeathered headgear, is participating in a parade, a rally, a meeting with city fathers, or other similar public event to dramatize the local Community Chest or United Fund drive. In cities where the appeal has been concluded, the Robin Hood event is being conducted as a means of publicly thanking contributors to the campaign on behalf of all the health, welfare and community services which the "united way" makes possible.

In the different communities, the type and time of the events are planned locally by Boys' Clubs in cooperation with CBS television stations and the Community Chest or United Fund organizations.

The idea of using the legendary folk hero of England as a theme for community service was inspired by the new television series, "The Adventures of Robin Hood," currently being aired weekly over the CBS network. The show, filmed in England and starring Richard Greene in the title role with Bernadette O'Farrell as Maid Marian, is also being telecast in Canada and England.

Robin Hood costumes worn by Boys' Club members are of the "do-it-yourself" kind made from discarded clothing and inexpensive materials to resemble the garb of the Merry Men of Sherwood.

Local CBS stations are cooperating in the program by arranging for guest appearances by Boys' Club members, spot announcements, news, and other coverage.

As a special feature, boys participating in the Robin Hood events are eligible to enter a "community service contest" by submitting six suggestions on a simple form, headed, "If I were Robin Hood, I would do these things for my community."

Prizes for the best suggestions will be awarded later in the fall to each of the 25 winners and one national winner, as well as to the participating Boys' Clubs. Johnson & Johnson and Wildroot, the show's alternate sponsors, Raleigh Industries and Official Films, distributor of the series, are providing the prizes.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

A MOTHER in Troy, New York, wrote recently to the editor of The Times Record newspaper, the following letter, after her son had joined the Boys' Club:

"I have just put a very glowing six-year-old to bed. It was one of the happiest days of his very few years. His birthday, you ask? No. Better than that. Why, he became a member of the Boys' Club today. You might ask, 'Is that all?'

"I answer that it opened up a new world to him. He's one of the fellows now. Kind of young? I thought so, too. But then I realized he had to go about his business—his business of growing up, of learning how to be a man. With the help of the Boys' Club I know he will learn his lesson well and will be a good man. He'll be a good sport, know how to get along with others and racial prejudice will be minimized.

"So may I, the mother of one small boy who has a long road to travel, say thank you to all those kind, generous people who are giving him a lift by supporting the Troy Boys' Club. Also those wonderful men who work with the boys day after day. I'm sure God is smiling on these grand people in a special way."

— "MRS. D. B."

Joint Project with Jaycees and Life Magazine

THE OBSERVANCE of National Olympic Day on October 22 was of special interest to Boys' Clubs. This year's observance was under the sponsorship of Life Magazine and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the United States Olympic Committee.

October 22 was the kick-off for a drive that lasts until the Olympic Games in Melbourne. This National Olympic Day had real importance because it alerted the American people to the lasting human values of amateurism in sports, and in this, the Boys' Clubs have a stake.

The emphasis that Boys' Clubs put upon amateur sports made their cooperation with this Olympic Fund Drive extremely logical. National Olympic Day was a rededication of America's belief in the ideals of sportsmanship.

Boys' Clubs cooperated by joining with other local groups in their communities in planning a National Olympic Day event. They planned programs within the Boys' Clubs which tied in with the day, such as Junior Olympic Programs, Olympic Ball for teenagers, dramatics programs with sports, an aquatics show, special showings of a color movie (prepared by Life Magazine in cooperation with the U.S. Olympic Committee, titled "The Pan American Games") to which parents and neighbors as well as boys were invited, and displays of posters in the clubs as well as outside.

Any proceeds which were derived from activities such as the Junior Olympic Program, Olympic Ball, the movie, or the aquatics show were turned over to the U.S. Olympic Committee as the Club's demonstration of its support of the program.

50TH ANNIVERSARY

Boys' Clubs of America, which was founded in 1906 by the then existing Boys' Clubs, will commemorate its 50th Anniversary during 1956. Plans for celebrating the Golden Anniversary are being made.

National Boys' Club Week
April 2-8, 1956

BOYS' CLUBS OF AMERICA
381 FOURTH AVENUE
NEW YORK 16, N. Y.

Return Postage Guaranteed

Sec. 34.65 (e), P. L. & R.
U. S. POSTAGE PAID
New York, N. Y.
Permit No. 10351

World's Heavy Weight Champ Rocky Marciano accepts Man and Boy Award from Alex Groppe, executive director of the Boys' Club of Asbury Park, N. J.

World Champion Wins Man and Boy Award

BECAUSE of his "constant example of sportsmanship and fair play which serves as an inspiration for all the young people of our country," Rocky Marciano has been presented with the Man and Boy Award by Boys' Clubs of America.

Presentation was made on behalf of the national organization by Alex Groppe, executive director of the Boys' Club of Asbury Park, N.J., at a recent ceremony attended by the World's Heavy Weight Champion.

The Brockton, Mass., world champion, who is interested in the Boys' Club movement, made a tour of the Asbury Park club about a week after his successful defense of his title against Archie Moore, on September 21.

His visit to the club was one of a series of events planned in connection with an appeal for funds to build a new gymnasium.

The Boys' Club Bulletin
Published by
BOYS' CLUBS OF AMERICA, INC.
381 Fourth Avenue, New York 16, N. Y.
HERBERT HOOVER....Chairman of Board
WILLIAM EDWIN HALL...Hon. President
ALBERT L. COLE.....President
STANLEY RESOR.....Vice President
WILLIAM ZIEGLER, JR.....Secretary
JEREMIAH MILBANK.....Treasurer
DAVID W. ARMSTRONG....Exec. Director
Editor.....IRIS VINTON

J. Willard Hayden

J. WILLARD HAYDEN, 81, president of the $70,000,000 Charles Hayden Foundation, died June 15, of injuries suffered in an automobile collision.

Since incorporation in 1937, Hayden devoted all his time to the presidency of the Foundation, established by his brother Charles, who was deeply interested in boys and was a member of the board of directors of Boys' Clubs of America for many years.

During this time the Foundation made generous grants to Boys' Clubs of America for its projects, including the training program, assistance in the construction of several fine Boys' Club buildings in the metropolitan New York and Boston area, and financed camp costs for thousands of boys. He had a personal and sincere interest in boys.

Eng Pas accepted
Thomas, Lowell

March 7, 1956

Dear Tommy:

Just a note to tell you that we are reserving the evening of April 10th and look forward to seeing the Premiere of SEVEN WONDERS.

As ever yours,

Mr. Lowell Thomas
Pawling
New York

rh

LOWELL THOMAS

ROCKEFELLER CENTER · NEW YORK

February 14, 1956

Dear Ed:

Many thanks to you and your Person-to-Person associates for the ashtray. It will be a constant reminder of your superb show.

Hope to see you when you get back from the Near East. I'll be particularly interested in hearing Janet's version.

Yours,

Tommy

I wonder premiere has been set for Tues. Apr. 10th. How will that be for Janet, and you and Casey too?

Like to go to Premiere

Eng Past Accep

CBS RADIO

Edgar Bergen Lunch

Office Communication

to: Mr. Edward R. Murrow

from: George Crandall

April 25, 1956

Bob Burton, president of the Radio and Television Executives Society, has requested that you assemble with other dais guests for the Edgar Bergen luncheon tomorrow, April 26th, at the:

Madison Room, (off mezzanine),
Hotel Roosevelt

at 12 Noon, sharp.

AC

693

NEWS FROM
CBS RADIO
485 Madison Ave., New York 22, N.Y.

2

April 11, 1956

EDGAR BERGEN CELEBRATES 20TH ANNIVERSARY
AS RADIO STAR WITH SPECIAL PROGRAM

Radio-Television Executives Society of New York, Northwestern University to Honor CBS Radio Star

Edgar Bergen will celebrate his 20th anniversary as a radio star in early May, with a threefold celebration which will include:

A luncheon celebration in his honor, given by the Radio-Television Executives Society of New York at the Roosevelt Hotel in New York, Thursday, April 26, to be attended by top stars and executives of show business;

A luncheon and a dinner given in his honor by Northwestern University, his alma mater, in Chicago Wednesday, May 2;

A special gala anniversary broadcast of his CBS Radio "Edgar Bergen Hour" Sunday, May 6 in the program's regular time, 7:05-8:00 PM, EDT, recreating some of the greatest comedy in the history of radio, gleaned from the ventriloquist's finest presentations over the years.

The Radio-Television Executives luncheon will pay homage to Mr. Bergen for his substantial role in making radio entertainment of high quality an intergral part of the American household.

(More)

The events at Northwestern University will be not only in recognition of his status as a distinguished alumnus but a tribute to his unflagging interest in his alma mater, at which he maintains 12 speech scholarships.

The 20 year broadcast will recreate some of the greatest comedy passages in radio history, selected from the hundreds of Bergen-McCarthy performances which have made America laugh through years of war and peace.

Mr. Bergen first emerged as a radio star in his own right on May 9, 1937 in the "Chase and Sanborn Hour." Earlier he had undergone his baptism in radio as guest on the "Rudy Vallee Hour" on Dec. 17, 1936, and quickly established a following of his own as a regular weekly guest on the Vallee series.

In the succeeding years Bergen, Charlie McCarthy and Mortimer Snerd not only became household names by their own merit but their radio broadcasts gained added luster from the visits of the most glamorous names in show business who came as performing guests. These included Fred Allen, Jack Benny, Tallulah Bankhead, John Barrymore, Robert Benchley, James Cagney, Claudette Colbert, Ronold Colman, Marlene Dietrich, W. C. Fields, Clark Gable, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Al Jolson, Charles Laughton, Groucho Marx, Marilyn Monroe, Sir Laurence Olivier, James Stewart, Mae West and dozens of others.

From such memorable material producer-director Sam Pierce is constructing the retrospective broadcast of Sunday, May 6.

Other events and activities in connection with the observance of Mr. Bergen's 20th year in radio are to be announced.

* * *

FYI
For Your Information
CBS RADIO NETWORK · 485 MADISON AVENUE, NEW YORK 22, NEW YORK

EDGAR BERGEN AND CHARLIE McCARTHY, 1937-1956

Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy were working the night club circuit in 1936, a moderately successful comedy team. Elsa Maxwell spotted them at the Waldorf-Astoria's Rainbow Room and asked Bergen to perform at a party for Noel Coward. She admired Bergen's panning of his night club audience and wanted him to give Coward the same treatment. At the party, Rudy Vallee's agent, Tony Stanford, saw Bergen, liked the brash, noisy McCarthy and invited Bergen to do a guest spot on Vallee's radio series, then one of the top network programs.

It was a daring experiment. Could a ventriloquist and his dummy get through to the unseeing audience? Bergen and McCarthy got through. Their first performance on Dec. 17 was an instant triumph. Bergen was signed as a regular. On May 6, 1937, he launched his own network program, sponsored by Chase and Sanborn. In the 19 years that followed Bergen made radio history.

It was slam-bang, rough-and-tumble humor that put Bergen across. Charlie's challenging, raspy-voiced opener set the pace. Every Sunday night millions of Americans turned their radio dials for that famous line:

"I'll clip you. So help me, Bergen, I'LL MOW YOU DOWN!"

Now, at 53, Bergen still stands at the top of the radio comedy heap. Bergen's position is a comfortable one. He has hedged his future with a television venture, the weekly "Do You Trust Your Wife" quiz-giveaway that's already a favorite. Bergen is one of the few in the business who's eating his cake and having it too. Radio is his dish but television's a tempting dessert.

RADIO AND MOVIES SPLIT THE ENTERTAINMENT DOLLAR

In the late 1930's and '40's radio and the movies cut the big entertainment dollar between them. It was a family affair for some performers who crossed the lines from radio to movies or from movies to radio.

(More)

Bergen himself crossed several times for spot appearances in movies(*) but he was never trapped into thinking that film drama was the best medium for a ventriloquist's act. It wasn't, and Bergen knew it. But he was showman enough to recognize one of the great Hollywood potentials for radio -- the "guest star" routine

Today, that first Edgar Bergen series is remembered for the brilliant, week-by-week duels between McCarthy and Bergen and the endless stream of comedy routines and situations. It's remembered for the brilliant performances of the "Farm Forum" where Mortimer Snerd came alive as the foolish, bumbling idiot who fed America's inferiority complexes. And for its "End Table" discussions where Bergen, McCarthy, Snerd, Jack Kirkwood, Ray Noble and others kidded a hundred serious topics.

But even more clearly Bergen is remembered for developing the fine art of what he calls "humanizing Hollywood." It was a simple process. Take a big Hollywood star, mix him with equal parts of Charlie McCarthy's incisive wit, pan him for five minutes, needle him while he is still warm and then roast him over some rapid-fire jibes and you have a well-done program.

The public loved it. Hollywood ate it up, and the listeners mounted weekly by the thousands.

BIG STARS STOOD IN LINE TO GET ON THE SHOW

A roster of the stars who have been heard on Bergen's radio shows is a roster of big time Hollywood.

"It's easier to make up a list of the stars who DIDN'T appear," Bergen said. "They stood in line to get on the show. We took our pick, and paid them well."

The list included Fred Allen, June Allyson, Don Ameche, Edward Arnold, Gene Autry, Lucille Ball, Tallulah Bankhead, John Barrymore, Wallace Beery, Jack Benny, Joan Blondell, Robert Benchley, Humphrey Bogart, Billie Burke.

James Cagney, Madeleine Carroll, Rosemary Clooney, Irwin S. Cobb, Claudette Colbert, Ronald Coleman, Dan Dailey, Linda Darnell, Marlene Dietrich, Irene Dunne, Nelson Eddy, Alice Faye, W. C. Fields, Errol Flynn, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Clark Gable, Paulette Goddard, Rita Hayworth, Susan Hayward, Edward Everett Horton.

(*) "Goldwyn Follies," "Look Who's Laughing," "Here We Go Again," "Song of the Open Road," "Fun and Fancy Free," "Pirate," "Captain China" and "I Remember Mama."

(More)

Al Jolson, Bert Lahr, Hedy Lamarr, Dorothy Lamour, Charles Laughton, Carole Lombard, Ida Lupino, Groucho Marx, Jeanette MacDonald, Maureen O'Hara, Marilyn Monroe, Sir Laurence Olivier, Dick Powell, Ginger Rogers, Charles Ruggles, Rosalind Russell, Shirley Temple and Spencer Tracy.

There were guest celebrities from other professions: former California governor, now Chief Justice Earl Warren, baseball's Lou Gehrig, Louis Bromfield, Louella Parsons, Elsa Maxwell, Lee de Forest, Tony Galento, Jose Iturbi and Rose Bampton.

Many returned again and again to joust with McCarthy and Bergen, and America rocked with laughter when Charlie let the hot air out of a stuffed shirt with a shaft or two in the right place.

THE McCARTHY-W. C. FIELDS CLASSICS

The McCarthy-W. C. Fields clashes stand as classics of the comedy art.(*)

"Fields made half-a-dozen appearances on the show," Bergen recalls. "He was like a fighter on the program. He came prepared to take some punches and give some in return.

"We worked from a script but this was really only a guide line. One ad lib was enough to start Fields off, and we'd throw the script away."

This is a sample of the McCarthy-Fields feuding:

CHARLIE: "What makes your nose so red?"
FIELDS: "That's a very good question, Charles. My scarlet proboscis is a result of an unfortunate accident in my youth."
CHARLIE: "What did you do, fall off a wagon?"
FIELDS: "Very funny. Tell me Charles, is it true your father was a gate-leg table?"
CHARLIE: "If it is your father was under it."

McCarthy's wooden head and Fields' love of the cup that cheers were the catalysts for comedy.

"Why you little stunted spruce," Fields would rasp, I'll throw a Japanese beetle on you."

(*) Bergen's own rating of his best shows: (1) The W. C. Fields-McCarthy clashes in 1938-41-44; (2) the Marilyn Monroe-Charlie McCarthy engagement and wedding skits in November 1952; (3) the Don Ameche shows in 1942-51; (4) the Mortimer Snerd-Jimmy Stewart "Farm Forum" skits; (5) the "End Table" discussions from Washington D.C. in 1954-55, featuring the nation's political brass.

(More)

"Why, you barfly! I'll stick a wick in your mouth and use you for an alcohol lamp."

Bergen said McCarthy's favorite gibes dealt with Fields' huge red nose.

"Is that you or are you eating a tomato?" Charlie would ask innocently. And Fields would retort, "Quiet, wormwood, or I'll whittle you down to a coat hanger."

CLAUDETTE COLBERT WAS CARRIED AWAY

None of the other regular or occasional guests stood up to McCarthy as Fields did.

"Some were completely swept away by Charlie," Bergen said. "They played directly to him, not to me, and often confessed later their foolishness. Claudette Colbert was one of his greatest foils. She was completely carried away and always played to Charlie. Irene Dunne did the same thing. Once she complained that Charlie didn't get fresh with her as he did with others. She wanted him to take a swing at her too."

John Barrymore was on the program on Sept. 22, 1940. Even then the great tragedy of his lost career and approaching death was evident in the lines and in the way Barrymore delivered them.

Bergen and Barrymore were next-door neighbors on Tower Road in Beverly Hills and were friends. Bergen today has much of Barrymore's film and the sword he used in "Hamlet."

Bergen's admiration for Barrymore's genius showed up in Charlie's gentle ribbing and use of "mister," a form of address normally foreign to the acid-tongued dummy.

"Chee, the great profile," said Charlie. "You know, Mr. Barrymore, your profile is so fine it looks like you've been chiseled."

Slowly, from the depths of his sickness and suffering but from a great comedian and actor too, came the answer:

"I have, my lad, many times."

CHARLIE McCARTHY FOUND THE SOFT SPOTS

Other victims didn't get off so easily. McCarthy's slashing wit probed for the soft spots and usually found them. He worked them over like a puppy dog does an old shoe, and didn't let go when he sank his wit into a vulnerable ego.

But only a McCarthy, a dummy, could have gotten away with it. The victims stood still for their ribbing, and came back for more, because "after all -- he IS just a dummy, you know." And because McCarthy was only a lifeless stick of wood he could say preposterous, insulting things, things Bergen or any other human never would have dared to say.

(More)

At a White House dinner Charlie McCarthy turned to Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt when the entree came on and said: "What a delightful surprise! I expected New England Boiled Republican."

To Admiral Halsey he cracked: "Hi ya, sailor! You don't have a dirty little spare yacht, do you?"

Of a Hollywood columnist, he remarked, "That old blabbermouth! Everything'll be all over town tomorrow."

A heckler at the austere Waldorf-Astoria hotel one night caught a savage "It takes one jerk to turn a nice place into a saloon," and to Emily Post he said, "It's been charming. Incidentally you don't have a toothpick on you, do you?"

FIRST COMEDY PROGRAM ORIGINATING AT MILITARY BASE

The "Edgar Bergen-Charlie McCarthy Show" was the first major comedy radio program to originate at a military base in World War II. The programs came from March Field at Riverside, Calif., San Diego, Camp Roberts and Camp Pendleton.

Bergen did one-man overseas junkets in Alaska, Greenland, Newfoundland and Iceland.

"They were always sending me up to the ice," he said. "Maybe they thought because I was Swedish I could take that cold better." In Alaska he did 13 shows in one day, shuttling back and forth between two halls and a couple of Navy ships anchored in the bay.

When the Korean War came along Bergen was ready with another project, "Operation Santa Claus." In 1951 he appealed to his radio audience and through the newspapers for Christmas gifts for hospitalized veterans. In the first appeal he received 32,000 gifts. He visited 23 hospitals in 23 cities, distributing food, clothing and gifts and putting on shows. Secreatry of the Air Force Thomas K. Finletter and Air Force General Hoyt Vandenberg awarded him the "Citation of Merit" for the campaign.

Next year he repeated the project. Florida sent four carloads of oranges and grapefruit, the public contributed 45,000 pounds of gifts and the Air Force again flew him on a Santa Claus tour of hospitals. He visited 27 hospitals and did 540 shows in 12 days.

Bergen has never allowed publicity around his philanthropies or charities. One of them is his foundation for nurses, founded in 1939 when Bergen was a patient at St. Vincent's Hospital in Los Angeles. A student nurse there said she was quitting school to help her sick mother. Bergen made her a loan and later decided to establish a fund for student nurses. Some 500 girls have received loans under the program. The fund also has made 16 mm color movies on training procedures. The film was adopted by the Army for use of its Medical Corps.

(More)

"GREATEST LISTENING AUDIENCE IN RADIO HISTORY"

In its years on the air Bergen's show has always been among the first ten top-rated comedy and variety shows. Between 1939 and 1943 he held the No. 1 Hooper rating every year except 1941, when he dropped to No. 2. His was the first program to hold the No. 1 rating for two years in a row on both Crossley and Hooper. He received the Crossley citation for the variety program "with the greatest listening audience in radio history."(*)

Today he still reaches out to a vast Sunday night audience, holding old listeners and picking up new ones. Basically his program formula is the same -- more diversified perhaps, faster moving, but with the same major ingredients: McCarthy ribbing Bergen, a guest or a member of the cast; McCarthy in a comedy situation; Mortimer Snerd in a farm bit or up against the city slickers in an "End Table" discussion; Effie Klinker with her beauty hints, advice for the lovelorn and hilarious accounts of her attempts to snag a man.

Bergen thinks his programs today are even better than those in the late thirties and pre-war forties. "They move faster. The jokes are sharper and better. There is more variety," he says.

His writers, Zeno Klinker and Si Rose, agree. Zeno has been with Bergen for 18 years and helped shape the personalities of Mortimer Snerd and Effie Klinker. Charlie McCarthy's brilliant ego is the product of Edgar Bergen and a long, long grind on the Chautauqua circuit in 1922-25, the Lyceum circuit and vaudeville and night clubs in the thirties.

Zeno writes the McCarthy, Snerd and Klinker bits; Rose does the "End Table" discussions, guest spots and Jack Kirkwood's "Do It Yourself" and "Poet Laureate" pieces.

Zeno Klinker and Bergen have remarkably parallel lives, interests and personalities. Bergen was born Feb. 16, 1903, the second son of John and Nellie Bergren, in Chicago; Klinker was born two days later. Both are pilots and amateur photographers; both were bachelors for several years; both married late (Bergen married Powers model Frances Westerman in 1945). They are of the same shy, retiring temperament, soft-spoken, and don't make snap decisions.

In the complicated and delicate job of building a script they read each other's minds with uncanny sureness, quickly driving to the heart of a comedy situation with unerring skill. Their story conferences are swift, smoothly-flowing and never marred by disagreement.

(*) Bergen was sponsored 1937-1948 by Chase and Sanborn coffee; 1949-1952 by Coca Cola; by Richard Hudnut, 1952-53, Lanolin and Chicken of the Sea, 1953-54; and Kraft Foods, 1954-55.

(More)

Their personal relationship has the same felicitous qualities.

"In 18 years we have never talked salary," Bergen said, "and in that time Zeno's paycheck has fluctuated from $35 to $1000 a week, depending on the state of our sponsorship."

Dozens of assistant writers have drifted in and out, but Klinker has remained. Rose and Klinker also share the writing chores for Bergen's television show.

RAY NOBLE'S HIDDEN DEPTHS OF PIXIE HUMOR

The steady, almost routine-like quality of Bergen's personal and professional life is reflected in other relationships. Ray Noble, composer, conductor and arranger of music on the program, joined the party in 1941. His bright British voice and lighthearted humor have never been dulled or blunted in hundreds of encounters with the rough-tongued McCarthy.

Noble too is of the same mold as Bergen and Klinker; more mercurial perhaps, but he is basically a shy, retiring personality with hidden depths of pixie humor that bubble up before the friendly informality of a microphone.

The Bergens and Nobles are repelled by crowds. They'd rather curl up with a good book or hobby of an evening than go out on the town. Bergen has projected his personality through the "alter ego" likeness of Charlie McCarthy, and millions of Americans went along for the ride, cheering on their hero, McCarthy, laughing and loving Mortimer Snerd because they are glad they are not so dumb, and identifying themselves with Effie Klinker, whose search for Love everyone understands.

In recent years Bergen has experimented with the program formula in two ways. In the 1954-55 season he broadcast from Washington, D.C. In the present series he has almost entirely eliminated the "big name" guest.

The Washington experiment was not a complete success. Charlie McCarthy had a great time ribbing Washington stuffed shirts and government red tape, but many of the politician guests were flops.

"We were non-partisan," Bergen said. "We took cracks at both the Democrats and Republicans. The Democrats, by and large, were better guests. Republicans were conservative, more careful in what they said."

At Washington dinners and state affairs Bergen and McCarthy often were guests but the audience never knew when to laugh.

"They were too wound up in themselves," Bergen recalled. "When Rosemary Clooney sang a new song they applauded politely, but when an unknown concert singer warbled an ancient ballad they brought down the house. They knew it was safe to clap for that one."

(More)

At a big Republican affair Charlie McCarthy kidded Defense Secretary Charles Wilson, who had just sold his General Motors stock after Democratic complaints. Martin Durkin, AFL Plumber's union official, then was Secretary of Labor, and Charlie wondered out loud if Durkin perhaps shouldn't "sell his plumber's friend."

A NEW THEORY -- "INFORMATION CAN BE FUN"

Broadcasting again this year (1956) from Hollywood, Bergen is relying on off beat program guests. The list has included a woman who runs a sea weed factory, an entomologist, earthquake expert, traffic engineer, food faddists, humorist Richard Armour, a government farm advisor and the President of the Audubon Society.

The guests still are kidded, but for the most part interviews are informative.

"We're operating on the theory that information can be fun -- but doesn't have to be funny," Bergen says.

The Bergen-McCarthy specialty still is heckling stuffy institutions or stuffy individuals. Recently McCarthy presented his annual "Cavalcade of Flops," a takeoff on Hollywood's Academy Awards. Charlie's "Flops" won Mickeys instead of Oscars, and were produced by Putrid Pictures. His three entries this year were "The Kentucky Sun Shines Bright on My Old Kentucky Home in Old Kentucky Far Away," a story which takes place in Georgia, of course. The second was "A Few Cotton-Picking Seconds!" patterned after Hollywood's "The Desperate Hours." His last was "How Green Was My Face," or "Who Stole the Dramamine from Davy Jones' Locker."

Effie Klinker tells about the woman who had her face lifted so often "that now every time she blinks it raises her kneecaps," and Jack Kirkwood, the poverty stricken poet, reports there were 15 children in his family and "I was nine years old before it was my turn to get into the bathroom."

Almost invariably the program opens with Bergen and McCarthy dueling about something. Charlie's been in trouble at home, or he's in the pest extermination business ("We Guarantee to Make Your Ants Say 'Uncle'."), or the candy business (with health authorities requiring that the product be labeled "For external use only"), or dodging Uncle Sam's tax agents. Bergen is the patient butt of Charlie's gibes, as he has been through the years, and other members of the cast step up for their drubbing.

CHARLIE WAS CARVED AFTER CHICAGO NEWSBOY

Charlie McCarthy came alive 35 years ago while Bergen was still a student at Lake View High School in Chicago. Bergen sketched an impudent Irish newsboy, took the drawing to wood-carver Theodore Mack and described the boy. Mack produced Charlie for $35. His name was compounded from the newsboy's first name and the wood-carver's last name, converted from Mack to McCarthy. Charlie was Bergen's second dummy. His first had been a papier mache Negro, but Bergen's flat Midwestern voice couldn't be converted to a Southern dialect, and Bergen gave the Negro up.

(More)

Bergen had been interested in ventriloquism since he was 11 years old, when he discovered he could do tricks with his voice. He was born in Chicago, where his father operated a dairy store, but the family moved to Decatur, Mich. when he was five. Bergen's father bought a farm where Bergen lived until he was 16, returning then to Chicago. A 25-cent booklet called "Hermann's Wizard's Manual" taught him ventriloquism and some magic tricks. Bergen still works at his magician's trade, for parties and amateur theatricals.

Young Edgar practiced his black arts secretly and one day sent his mother to the door to answer a call from the outside. When she opened the door no one was there. Edgar explained his voice trick and from then on annoyed his friends, relatives and teachers with unexpected demonstrations.

Bergen made his debut as a professional entertainer when he was only 19 in Chicago's New Mabel Theatre in 1922. It was a one-man show encompassing ventriloquism, magic tricks and cartooning.

For the next three summers he toured the Chautauqua circuit with the same act, going to Northwestern University in the off-season. There he studied voice and took pre-medical school training.(*) His act with Charlie helped pay the way and when he was graduated in 1927 he had already decided on a career in show business.

Bergen hit the two-a-day vaudeville circuits, the Lyceum and others, and with the approaching death of stage entertainment he put Charlie into his famous top hat and tails. The Bergen-McCarthy act wasn't a sensation in those days. The manager of one theatre summed up Bergen with this notation for future reference:

"Interesting novelty. Bergen doesn't look like much, but excellent voice thrower. Good performance, if too much strength is not expected."

Bookings were hard to come by in an entertainment world hit by the Great Depression.

(*) Bergen maintains 12 scholarships in speech at Northwestern, which has conferred honorary degrees on both him and Charlie. The little guy got an MI and DSC -- Master of Innuendoes and Doctor of Snappy Comebacks.

(More)

CHARLIE GETS FRESH -- AND A STAR IS BORN

One night, around 1934, Bergen got a week's tryout at Chicago's Chez Paree night club. At 2:00 AM on the last day of the job a few yawning spectators were blearily watching the act when Charlie suddenly reared back and snapped at Bergen: "Who ever told you you were a ventriloquist?"

Bergen appeared flustered, clapped a hand over Charlie's mouth, but McCarthy squawked: "Don't shush me! You'd better go back to the farm and leave me alone. I'll get by, but you're all through, brother -- all through!"

The audience laughed and the new, emancipated Charlie McCarthy was born. The more impertinent Charlie grew, the better the audience liked it. Bergen was rebooked by the club and Charlie's personality has never changed since.

Bergen's dependence on Charlie and McCarthy's dependence on Bergen have been the source of endless jokes over the years.

"What would you be without me," Bergen once asked.

"Speechless," snapped Charlie.

Advised that Bergen has a girl friend who loves to run her fingers through his hair, Charlie heckled "Or pat the roots."

At Bergen's birthday this year Charlie said his boss' cake "had so many candles on it Liberace was picketing."

"I think Father Time has been very kind to me," Bergen said.

"Then you better keep your eye on Mother Nature. Someone's been giving you a heck of a kicking around," Charlie cracked.

The illusion of Charlie's reality has gripped many people. Ex-President Herbert Hoover, the King of Sweden, Winston Churchill, the Premier of France and Louis B. Mayer all have extended a hand on being introduced to Charlie, expecting him to pump it.

CHARLIE OWNS 45 SUITS AND 50 HATS

Charlie owns 45 suits and costumes that cost $150 each, 50 hats of various descriptions and a set of plastic bodies for quick changes. He travels in a fancy velvet-lined case and at home is locked up in a fireproof vault. Before Bergen was married McCarthy had his own room and desk, but when Bergen's daughter Candice was born May 9, 1946, Charlie's room was commandeered as a nursery.

He has a checking account at the Farmers and Merchants National Bank of Los Angeles with specially-printed checks bearing an imprint of his silhouette. Through the years there has been a long parade of Charlie comic books, T-shirts, hats, toy dummies and toys. He has received scores of police and fire badges from cities all over the country, badges, pins, medals, citations, clothes and tons of gifts. Most of the fan mail is addressed to Charlie McCarthy, not Edgar Bergen.

(More)

Charlie, Effie Klinker and Mortimer Snerd are insured for $25,000 each. Charlie was lost once and kidnapped another time. He disappeared after a flight from New York to Los Angeles and was discovered in San Francisco. A baggage handler had forgotten to take him off the plane at Los Angeles.

Columnist Frank Farrell of the New York World-Telegram and Sun kidnapped Charlie at New York's Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. Bergen had a corps of police and private detectives working before Farrell's gag was discovered.

Bergen is careful to preserve McCarthy's illusion of being a real person. Once a careless stagehand opened the theatre curtain after the act and Bergen was discovered packing McCarthy in his case. He received dozens of letters protesting the "cruel treatment."

At the Biltmore Bowl night club in Los Angeles, a substitute prop man dragged Charlie out by one arm. Charlie was sputtering angrily as Bergen brushed him off.

"That was the damnedest entrance I ever made," Charlie snapped. The audience cheered him.

Charlie has shared the limelight with Mortimer since November 1939, when he made his first radio appearance. Effie Klinker joined the cast in 1944. Bergen has experimented with other dummies from time to time. A "Gloria Gilbert" started out as "a gold-plated wow," Bergen recalls, but "she was over-animated and too full of pep; just gushed herself right out of show business."

Podine Puffington is another gold-plated wow -- a tall, blonde dummy with quavering eyelashes an inch long, and pie make-up. She is Bergen's night club and party entertainer.

A character who's never been fully developed is Lars Lindquist, a Swedish, snuff-chewing fisherman with a heavy accent. In the experimental stages is still another dummy, a hobo philosopher. Bergen has made tape recordings and photos of bums on Skid Row in Los Angeles and San Francisco, beachcombers, wanderers of the highways and loiterers in town squares, developing material for this new character, but he may never really come to life.

Bergen's fabulous success as a ventriloquist came in the development of the McCarthy, Snerd and Klinker personalities and in the use of good material, not as a great technician of the art.(*)

(*) Bergen is listed in the 1956 Encyclopaedia Britannica as a contributor of an article on ventriloquism. It describes the physical trick of projecting the voice and gives a history of the art. Bergen's private, unscientific definition: "A cultivated groan."

(More)

When he made his first trip to England, home of some of the world's greatest ventriloquists, Bergen said he was frightened. But the critics were kind, fascinated with the obnoxious little bounder, Charlie McCarthy.

BERGEN HAS LIVED ON THE SAME HILL FOR 17 YEARS

Bergen has lived in the same hilltop home in Beverly Hills for 17 years. It is a ten-room Spanish stucco with an enclosed patio, a huge rumpus room and a complete "little theatre." The latter two rooms are recent additions. Bergen and his friends put on dramas in the theatre, or Bergen shows his own movies.

His daughter, Candy, already has the show business bug. She picked up ventriloquism by watching her father. One day, on the way to the airport, Candy, then only about six years old, blossomed forth in conversation with a friend, "Joe." Bergen almost jumped out of his skin at her ventriloquism.

Candy will be ten this year (1956). She is not being discouraged in developing her talent, nor is she being pushed in that direction. Her mother, Frances, was appalled at Candy's precociousness but agreed to let her play half-a-dozen engagements on her father's radio program.

"Right now," Bergen reports, "we're having a little trouble with our arithmetic, and there hasn't been much time for dramatics."

Each summer Bergen and Candy take at least one week's vacation together.

FRANCES WORKS AT SINGING AND ACTING CAREER

Frances Bergen is wife and mother first, but she has been working at a career too. She studies singing and dramatics and recently completed an album for Columbia Records. In 1953 she played Mrs. Astor in 20th Century's "Titanic." This summer (1956) she will go to Germany for a film with her friend June Allyson (Mrs. Dick Powell)

She received a 1956 Fashion Academy gold medal as one of America's 15 best-dressed women.

Bergen taught her to fly, and all three take long weekend flying junkets to their home in Palm Desert (near Palm Springs) or to the mountains for skiing. Bergen has been flying for 17 years, has owned six planes, each bearing a huge silhouette of Charlie on the fuselage. This is one of Bergen's few concessions to publicity, but he regards it as a good luck symbol.

At home Bergen plies half-a-dozen hobbies. He has a big woodworking and metal shop and makes periodic dives into photography. Only recently he converted his bar in a corner of a den into a dark room, an act that changed the visiting habits of his friends.

(More)

"They bring their own liquor now," Bergen laughs.

His interest in photography dates back to his boyhood days in Decatur, Mich., when the busy boy Bergen was, for a time, the town's only photographer. Edgar picked up pocket money by taking school class pictures and occasional portraits with a $2.50 Brownie. Now he has motion picture equipment worth thousands of dollars.

Engines fascinate him and he loves to tinker with old cars. His pride and joy is a 1908 White Steamer. On his San Fernando Valley ranch he has an ancient Case threshing machine with a 20 horsepower engine. He is a member of the "Steam Fiends," a steam car club, and is a frequent visitor at Walt Disney's home where he can operate Disney's miniature steam railroad engine.

Four years ago on Easter Sunday, he, Frances, Candy and neighbor James Melton drove the Bergen White Steamer to Disney's. The car broke down on Sunset Blvd. in the middle of Hollywood.

"Oh, those Hollywood characters had a good laugh on us," Bergen said. Another time his Stanley Steamer (he traded it for the White) broke down at a fancy movie premiere in the parking lot of Grauman's Chinese Theatre. The old Stanley had to be towed away, and the Bergens went home in a taxi.

Bergen is not one for violent physical exercise. He favors sedentary leisure-time projects but keeps physically fit with golf (he shoots in the mid-nineties and has never tried to improve), horseback riding, swimming and, occasionally, skiing. Until recently he kept horses at his Beverly Hills home, but complains "Now there's no place to ride."

He is fond of pets and shares the delights of dogs, cats, turtles and other small beasts with Candy. For a while he kept bees, and charged around the property with flowing white coveralls, a huge mask and heavy gloves.

"We couldn't use the swimming pool for months," Frances recalls.

CHARLIE MAY BE HOLLYWOOD TYPE BUT BERGEN ISN'T

If Charlie has the posture of a Hollywood star Bergen does not. His life has been serene, carefully planned and unmarked by emotional upheavals or radical changes in direction or purpose.

"I'm very happy," he told a close friend recently. "I have no regrets and I feel that I have made no mistakes. And if I've made any, I think I'd make the same ones again today -- and start earlier!"

(More)

He waited until he was 42 before he married, and watched television for five years before deciding how he would make his debut in the new medium. His investments have been conservative, long-range projects. He made one fling with money, investing in some oil property in New Brunswick, Canada.

"There's just enough oil in that hole to keep the drill from sticking," he smiles.

Friends say it'll probably make a fortune.

* * *

Eng Post Accepted
May 12, 1956
Drummond, Roscoe

NEW YORK
Herald Tribune
A European Edition is Published Daily in Paris

WALTER KERR Bureau Chief

WASHINGTON BUREAU
National Press Building
Washington 4, D. C.

April 30, 1956

Dear Ed:

No reply needed to the enclosed invitation, I am delighted you are coming.

Cordially,

Roscoe

Roscoe Drummond

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Gridiron dinner

April 17, 1956

Dear Roscoe:

Just a note to let you know that I'll be down for the Gridiron Dinner.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Roscoe Drummond
New York Herald Tribune
1285 National Press Building
Washington 4, D.C.

rh

ROSCOE DRUMMOND
NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE
1285 NATIONAL PRESS BUILDING
WASHINGTON 4, D. C.

THE PRESIDENT OF
THE GRIDIRON CLUB
WASHINGTON, D. C.

April 11, 1956

Dear Ed:

We have had to make a change in the Gridiron Dinner. It has been moved from April 14 to May 12 in order to make it possible for President Eisenhower to attend. I certainly hope that this is an open date for you and that you can still be with us as planned. I would appreciate it if, just for the record, you would let me know.

Cordially,

Roscoe

Roscoe Drummond

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

yes ~~black~~ white tie

Eng Part

MARCH 7, 1956

MR. ROSCOE DRUMMOND
NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE
1285 NATIONAL PRESS BUILDING
WASHINGTON 4, D.C.

I AM PLEASURED AND HONORED TO ACCEPT YOUR

XXXXX

INVITATION FOR THE FOURTEENTH.

ED MURROW

414-43

ROSCOE DRUMMOND
NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE
1285 NATIONAL PRESS BUILDING
WASHINGTON 4, D. C.

THE PRESIDENT OF
THE GRIDIRON CLUB
WASHINGTON, D. C.

February 16, 1956

Dear Ed:

I am writing to you in behalf of the entire membership of the Gridiron Club to extend to you a very cordial invitation to be our guest at the Annual Gridiron Dinner in honor of the President. The date is Saturday evening, April 14. We are all very much hoping that you will find it possible to be present.

Sincerely,

Roscoe

Roscoe Drummond

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Eng Part accepted
J McKeldin
Gov. Theodore
May 26th

April 30, 1956

Dear Governor McKeldin:

Many thanks for your letter of April 5th. This is merely a note to tell you that I would be happy to join you on the Honorary Committee for the Ambassador's Ball in honor of His Excellency the Ambassador of Israel and Mrs. Eban.

Sincerely yours,

Governor Theodore R. McKeldin
Annapolis
Maryland

rh

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

ANNAPOLIS, MARYLAND

THEODORE R. McKELDIN
GOVERNOR

April 5, 1956

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York City, New York

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Murrow:

In honor of His Excellency The Ambassador of Israel and Mrs. Eban, an Ambassador's Ball has been announced for the evening of Saturday, May 26th, at the Sheraton-Park Hotel in Washington, D. C.

I have agreed to serve on the Honorary Committee for this event because I believe that the Ambassador and Mrs. Eban richly deserve the honor which the Washington community is bestowing upon them, and because embattled Israel, our staunchest friend in the Middle East, will benefit materially from the Israel Bond subscriptions which the Ambassador's Ball is designed to promote.

The Honorable James MacDonald, the first Ambassador to the State of Israel, and I are inviting a small group of distinguished citizens to join us on the Honorary Committee and would be very pleased to have permission to list your name. We feel that the inclusion of your name on the Committee would contribute greatly to the success of this affair.

The Ambassador's Ball will be attended by over one thousand people and will serve as a clear expression of the esteem in which the State of Israel is held in our nation's capital. Many government officials, as well as other notables, will be present--including the diplomatic corps.

I would deeply appreciate your advising me as soon as it is convenient, as to your readiness to be listed on the Committee. You understand, of course, that no obligation of any kind is entailed by your joining the Committee.

On behalf of the Israel Bond Organization, allow me to thank you most warmly for your earnest consideration of this request.

Sincerely,

Theodore R. McKeldin

Theodore R. McKeldin

yes

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION
TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL=Day Letter

NL=Night Letter

LT=International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

1956 APR 20 PM 5 02

WA016 LONG NL PD=WASHINGTON DC 19=
MR AND MRS EDWARD R MURROW, COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM=
485 MADISON AVE NYK=
AWAITING PERMISSION TO INCLUDE YOUR NAMES ON HONORARY COMMITTEE FOR BALL HONORING HIS EXCELLENCY THE AMBASSADOR OF ISRAEL AND MRS. EBAN MAY 26 SHERATON PARK HOTEL WASHINGTON DC AS REQUESTED IN EARLIER COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR MCKELDIN AND MYSELF SINCERELY FEEL PRIVILEGE OF USING YOUR NAME WOULD ADD TO SUCCESS OF THIS IMPORTANT FUNCTION INVITATIONS GOING TO PRESS WOULD GREATLY APPRECIATE YOUR RESPONSE BY WIRE COLLECT TO ADDRESS BELOW WARM REGARDS= AMBASSADOR JAMES G MCDONALD HONORARY CHMN BALL COMMITTEE SUITE 303 EVANS BLDG WASHINGTON DC=.

Eng Part

June 6th

THE BUCKLEY SCHOOL
120 EAST 74TH STREET
NEW YORK 21, N. Y.

May 15th, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

We are absolutely delighted that you will come to us on June 6th and I appreciate very much your willingness to be the speaker of that occasion.

While the temptation to try to ally Casey to our cause was very strong, I assure you I did not say anything to him about it before receiving your acceptance, so I am particularly glad that Casey gave you assurance.

I hope very sincerely that you will feel completely free to speak on any topic you wish. I would think that Casey's suggestion about school conditions in foreign countries, particularly in totalitarian states, could be a very good one. I know that adults are more frightened at the prospect of talking to the young than is necessary. If I may make a suggestion it is to talk about whatever subject or aspect of it makes you most comfortable.

If there is any specific information you would like about arrangements on the sixth please do not hesitate to let me know.

Again with appreciation and thanks, I am

Very sincerely,

James M. Hubball

James M. Hubball
Headmaster

Eng Post

THE BUCKLEY SCHOOL
120 EAST 74TH STREET
NEW YORK 21, N. Y.

June 12th, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

There is always the possibility that a letter of thanks may be considered by the recipient only as perfunctory, standard good manners. This is certainly far from the case as I write to try to express in some measure our thanks to you for speaking at our Junior Closing Exercises. All of us who were present are very much indebted to you for a delightful experience and for a talk which was good for all ages of your listeners. My own boy has an unfortunately skeptical attitude about public speakers - heightened, no doubt, by the fact that he has to hear his father both here and abroad - and he told his mother on the way home that he had expected to find the Exercises dull but Mr. Murrow was absolutely terrific. As a matter of fact, I can't ever remember having had as many delighted comments about a speaker on any other preceding occasion! Thank you very much.

As I am a kind of remote, dirt farmer near Fairfield, Conn., Casey and I have occasionally exchanged agricultural information usually limited to the operation of tractors. I hope you are all in the country and enjoying it and that you all have a very pleasant summer.

With best wishes and sincere appreciation,

Very sincerely,

James M. Hubball

James M. Hubball
Headmaster

May 8, 1956

Dear Mr. Hubball:

I have consulted with Casey who thinks I might be able to fill the assignment on June 6th; for my own part, I am not so sure. Casey thinks I ought to try to talk about conditions under which his contemporaries live and go to school in foreign countries, particularly in totalitarian states. What do you think?

Sincerely yours,

Mr. James M. Hubball
Headmaster
The Buckley School
120 East 74 Street
New York 21, New York

rh

THE BUCKLEY SCHOOL
120 EAST 74TH STREET
NEW YORK 21, N. Y.

May 3rd, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

As you probably know, we have two Closing Exercises at the end of the School year. The Junior Exercises are held on Wednesday, June 6th, at 9:45 o'clock in the morning and this occasion marks the end of a boy's period in the Junior Department and his graduation into the Senior Classes of next year. Casey is in the class which moves on next year.

At the Junior Closing Exercises we follow the general form of our Assembly periods with the usual opening exercises, followed by scholarship and the various achievement awards of the year. The program ends with a brief talk of from ten to fifteen minutes to the boys of the class which moves on next year. We like very much to have the speaker a father of one of the boys in Junior III and I am writing to ask if you would be kind enough to come to us on closing day. It would give all of us a great deal of pleasure if you would come and I am sure it would also please Casey.

I really do think I have some realization of how busy you are and how many varied commitments you must have to manage so I do not want to urge you unduly but I do very much hope you could be with us on the sixth. We always plan to close the Assembly by eleven o'clock.

With kind regards and with best wishes, I am

Very sincerely,

James M. Hubball

James M. Hubball
Headmaster

THE BUCKLEY SCHOOL
120 EAST 74TH STREET
NEW YORK 21, N. Y.

GEORGE LANE NICHOLS AWARD GIVEN TO

CASEY MURROW

AT THE JUNIOR CLOSING EXERCISES BY VOTE OF
THE FACULTY, JUNE 6,1956.

In 1927 Mrs. Acosta Nichols instituted the awarding of a medal each year to the boy in Junior III who, in the opinion of the faculty, most clearly demonstrated courage, loyalty, helpfulness, reliability.

Mrs. Nichols had the medals designed and struck by Tiffany and this is considered the most important award in the Junior Department. All faculty members who have been associated with Junior III's meet and vote after careful discussion of all candidates.

The winner is given a medal and his name is inscribed on the plaque on the Junior III floor.

Eng Past Accep
Warburg, Edward M.M.

ROOM 800 270 MADISON AVENUE LEXINGTON 2-5200

May 8, 1956

Dear Ed:

I understand that Henry Bernstein of the New York UJA office has been in touch with you and that you have settled for the June 28th luncheon at the Plaza.

I can't tell you how much that means to the setup and our mutual interest to see that everything is done to help our friends over there in Israel.

Best regards.

Most sincerely,

Eddie
Edward M. M. Warburg

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Yes

Cable Address: "UJAYORK NEWYORK"

UNITED JEWISH APPEAL OF GREATER NEW YORK, INC.

220 West 58 Street, New York 19, N. Y. • COlumbus 5-2200 Joint Distribution Committee • United Israel Appeal • New York Association for New Americans

President
MONROE GOLDWATER

Vice-Presidents
EMANUEL GREENBERG
IRVING MILLER
THEODORE R. RACOOSIN
JACOB SINCOFF
JEROME I. UDELL
JACK D. WEILER

Chairman, Executive Committee
EDWIN ROSENBERG

Treasurers
SAMUEL D. LEIDESDORF
ABRAHAM L. LIEBOVITZ

Secretary
WILLIAM ROSENWALD

Honorary Chairmen of the Board
HERBERT H. LEHMAN
NATHAN STRAUS
JONAH B. WISE

Chairman of the Board
SYLVAN GOTSHAL

Vice-Chairmen of the Board
BARNEY BALABAN
LOUIS BROIDO
SAMUEL HAUSMAN
BENJAMIN LAZRUS
MRS. DAVID M. LEVY
EDWARD M. M. WARBURG

Executive Vice-Presidents
HENRY C. BERNSTEIN
SAMUEL BLITZ

Assistant Secretary
HERBERT M. PARKER

Eng Pact

June 20, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I write to outline for you some of the details of the United Jewish Appeal luncheon meeting which you have so kindly agreed to address on Thursday, June 28th.

Eddie Warburg will be presiding at the meeting and will introduce you to our guests. The meeting will be attended by men and women who constitute the leadership of our campaign. For several months now these people have been working in their own trades, professions and communities to elicit maximum support for the United Jewish Appeal.

It would be tremendously helpful to our cause if you would take fifteen or twenty minutes to describe your reactions to your recent trip to Israel and North Africa, and indicate how you feel about the situation of the Jews of those areas. We shall be glad to provide any material about our campaign which you would like to have. If you will let me know what your requirements are, we shall be more than pleased to cooperate in every way we can.

As you know, our meeting has been called for 12:15 at the Hotel Plaza. We hope you will be able to be with us by 12:30 so that Mr. Warburg may have an opportunity to introduce you to some of his colleagues. We would be glad to have one of our staff call for you and drive you to the meeting if you wish.

We are all tremendously grateful for your acceptance of Mr. Warburg's invitation for the 28th, and I look forward to the privilege of meeting you then.

Sincerely,

Henry C. Bernstein
Executive Vice-President

HCB:mh

Cable Address: "UJAYORK NEWYORK"

UNITED JEWISH APPEAL OF GREATER NEW YORK, INC.

220 West 58 Street, New York 19, N. Y. • COlumbus 5-2200 Joint Distribution Committee • United Israel Appeal • New York Association for New Americans

President
MONROE GOLDWATER

Vice-Presidents
EMANUEL GREENBERG
IRVING MILLER
THEODORE R. RACOOSIN
JACOB SINCOFF
JEROME I. UDELL
JACK D. WEILER

Chairman, Executive Committee
EDWIN ROSENBERG

Treasurers
SAMUEL D. LEIDESDORF
ABRAHAM L. LIEBOVITZ

Secretary
WILLIAM ROSENWALD

Honorary Chairmen of the Board
HERBERT H. LEHMAN
NATHAN STRAUS
JONAH B. WISE

Chairman of the Board
SYLVAN GOTSHAL

Vice-Chairmen of the Board
BARNEY BALABAN
LOUIS BROIDO
SAMUEL HAUSMAN
BENJAMIN LAZRUS
MRS. DAVID M. LEVY
EDWARD M. M. WARBURG

Executive Vice-Presidents
HENRY C. BERNSTEIN
SAMUEL BLITZ

Assistant Secretary
HERBERT M. PARKER

Eng Post

May 9, 1956

Miss Rebecca Holder,
Secretary to Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System Inc.
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N.Y.

Dear Miss Holder:

I write to confirm the engagement we worked out over the telephone yesterday for Mr. Murrow.

The lunch on Thursday, June 28th will take place at the Plaza Hotel, 59th Street and Fifth Avenue, at 12:30 P.M. We will be in touch with you long before to work out the agenda and other details.

Many thanks for your cooperation.

Sincerely,

Henry C. Bernstein
Executive Vice-President

HCB:bb

Eng. Post

VETERANS FUND, INC. / SUPPORTING THE WORLD VETERANS FEDERATION

CARNEGIE ENDOWMENT BUILDING, 345 E. 46th ST., NEW YORK 17, N. Y. OXFORD 7-1746

ALFRED GWYNNE VANDERBILT, PRESIDENT
HAROLD RUSSELL, VICE PRESIDENT
MARSHALL E. MILLER, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

June 29, 1956.

7

Dear Ed:

Word has just come via the United Nations that you have agreed to narrate our film on the Solo Rehabilitation Center -- "Miracle in Java." I am delighted.

The other morning at the screening, I think I mentioned that this film is our first major attempt to actually show Americans how the money they give the World Veterans Fund, and hence the Federation, is spent to help the unfairly handicapped. As you know, so often in a young democracy like Indonesia a physical handicap starts a tragic chain reaction which cripples an individual socially and economically as well. If people here in our country see for themselves what the Solo Center means, then we're off to a head start raising funds to help Southeast Asia's other democracies build their own rehab projects.

From the beginning I've been struck by the strangely inappropriate name the Center inherited from the town it's in -- Solo. Although the Center started as the dream of one man, Dr. Soeharso, it is becoming the medical success story of Asia only because it has (and must continue to hold) the interest and support of all the people belonging to the World Veterans Federation and the United Nations.

Your own contribution now as narrator of the Center's filmed story means a lot more to us than just the icing on the cake. I think it means a guaranteed audience in the English speaking nations of the world. Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

A. G. Vanderbilt

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N.Y.

AGV:ed

Eng Part

UNITED NATIONS NATIONS UNIES

NEW YORK

CABLE ADDRESS · UNATIONS NEWYORK · ADRESSE TELEGRAPHIQUE

FILE NO.:

29 June 1956

Dear Mr. Murrow,

Enclosed are:

(1) Narration of the film "Miracle in Java";

(2) List of names appearing in the narration and their phonetic pronunciation;

(3) A full script and continuity.

We are most appreciative of your generous gesture in voicing the commentary for the film and we look forward to meeting you again on Monday for the recording session at noon.

Sincerely yours,

Maxwell Dunn
External Productions Officer
Films and Television Section

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
"See It Now"
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N/Y/

Eng Pass

UNITED NATIONS NATIONS UNIES

NEW YORK

CABLE ADDRESS • UNATIONS NEWYORK • ADRESSE TELEGRAPHIQUE

FILE NO.:

15 January 1957

Dear Ed,

The release prints of the film "Miracle in Java" which you were good enough to narrate for us have now come to hand. I think you might like to have one of these for your collection so I am sending it along to you under separate cover. Please expect to receive it. Thank you very much for all your help. The film has turned out well and everyone appears satisfied. I think it will do a good job.

Yours sincerely,

Tom

Thomas Baird
Deputy Chief
Central Operations and Facilities Service
Radio and Visual Services Division

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N.Y.

Please address all communications to: Sidney Gross, 200 West 20th St. New York 11, N.Y.
CH 3-1603 - CH 4-8850

OPC

American Broadcasting Company
7 WEST 66TH STREET · NEW YORK 23, N.Y.
SUSQUEHANNA 7-5000

June 26, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Ave.
New York 22, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I am enclosing copies of the letters I sent to Fred Friendly and John Horne in connection with the International Press Conference to be held at the Overseas Press Club, on July 9th at 3 P.M.

Louis Armstrong and Dizzy Gillespie are to be honored guests at this special press reception. The enclosed letters will give you the details about the reception, which I'm sure will be of interest.

I shall be sending you a formal invitation in a few days.

Very sincerely yours,

Sidney Gross

Sidney Gross
Producer, Connecticut Jazz Festival

SG/el
Enc.

June 25, 1956

Mr. John Horne
Person-to-Person
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Ave.
New York 22, N. Y.

Dear John:

In connection with our telephone conversation today, regarding Dizzy Gillespie's appearance on "PERSON-TO-PERSON", here are some advance details about the International Press Reception which will be held at the Overseas Press Club, on July 9th at 3 P.M.

The artists who are appearing at the Connecticut Jazz Festival, plus many famous jazz musicians, representing all of the eras of jazz, will meet in forum with members of the national and international press, and radio and television representatives, to give for the first time, at any specifically convened jazz press conference, a clear and concise picture of the jazz scene as it has been created by the musicians themselves

As a climax to this unique gathering, the International Rescue Committee feel that the occasion would be fitting for Ambassador Biddle Duke, President of that organization, to bestow honorary memberships upon certain jazz musicians for their outstanding contributions to international relations through the medium of jazz.

As producer of the Connecticut Jazz Festival, I have suggested that Louis Armstrong, Dizzy Gillespie, Lionel Hampton, and Stan Kenton be the recipients of such an honor on behalf of all jazz musicians.

At a time when jazz is becoming frontpage news, and is being accepted and respected by so many peoples outside of the United States, an announcement by Dizzy Gillespie, concerning this honor to be given him, will be of tremendous national interest and create much good-will at a very appropriate time.

I hope that this suggestion will add to the interest of the telecast, and if there are any other details concerning the press reception and forum that you should care to have, I would be very happy to pass them on to you.

With best wishes,

Sidney Gross

SG/el

Address all communications to Sidney Gross, 200 West 20th St., New York 11, N. Y.
CH 3-1603 - CH 4-8850

June 25, 1956

Mr. Fred Friendly
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Ave.
New York 22, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Friendly:

I am writing to give you the details about the International Press Reception, to be held at the Overseas Press Club on July 9 at 3 P.M., which I discussed with Miss Foster on the telephone today. Because [redacted] Louis Armstrong movie that you are producing, I think you will be very interested to know that Louis Armstrong will be an honored guest at this event.

The artists who are appearing at the Connecticut Jazz Festival, plus many famous jazz musicians, representing all of the eras of jazz, will meet in forum with members of the national and international press, and radio and television representatives, to give for the first time, at any specifically convened jazz press conference, a clear and concise picture of the jazz scene as it has been created by the musicians themselves.

As a climax to this unique gathering, the International Rescue Committee feel that the occasion would be fitting for Ambassador Biddle Duke, President of that organization, to bestow honorary memberships upon certain jazz musicians for their outstanding contributions to international relations through the medium of jazz.

As producer of the Connecticut Jazz Festival, I have suggested that Louis Armstrong, Dizzy Gillespie, Lionel Hampton, and Stan Kenton be the recipients of such an honor on behalf of all jazz musicians.

At a time when jazz is becoming frontpage news, I think that the moment is right for the press and communication services to have a better understanding of this happy, and almost indefineable, wholly American cultural art form, which is being accepted and respected by so many peoples outside of the United States.

I should be very happy if you could let me know, [redacted] as possible, if you can attend the press reception, and if its coverage would be of interest to yourself and Mr. Murrow.

Very sincerely yours,

Sidney Gross

SG/el

Connecticut Symphony Orchestra

JONEL PERLEA, Musical Director

991 BROAD STREET, BRIDGEPORT, CONNECTICUT

HERMAN W. STEINKRAUS
President
HERBERT L. COHEN
Chairman of Board
MRS. GEORGE P. HUGHES
Executive Vice President
VICE PRESIDENTS
Edward G. Burstein
Harold B. Dow
Mrs. George J. Kish
Mrs. Lyman F. Rogers
Wickliffe Shreve
Mrs. Roy C. Witmer

Mrs. Doris Gott
Secretary
Elliott C. Logan
Treasurer
Alexander Howley
Assistant Treasurer

Contact: Sidney Gross
200 West 20th Street
New York 11, New York

CH 3-1603 - CH 4-8850

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CONNECTICUT'S FIRST JAZZ FESTIVAL UNDER THE STARS

The first major jazz festival ever to be presented in Connecticut will take place on the night of July 28, at the Fairfield University Field in a special benefit performance of "Jazz Under the Stars", in aid of the Connecticut Symphony Orchestra, was announced today by Mrs. Roy Witmer, Vice President of the Connecticut Symphony Society, and Chairman of the Benefit.

Duke Ellington's orchestra and the Chico Hamilton Quintet, one of the most highly rated contemporary jazz groups now on their first Eastern tour from the west coast, are the first of many celebrated jazz artists who have already been signed for this date.

Emceeing the festival with Ellington will be Sidney Gross, the international disc jockey, currently heard over the ABC network and WNYC. Mr. Gross, who conducted Columbia University's first complete jazz appreciation course, heads the jazz division for Artists and Repertoire at Urania Records.

An innovation of this jazz festival, and of extreme interest to all students and lovers of jazz, will be an original presentation, written and directed by Mr. Gross, featuring all the participating artists. This presentation will authentically cover many of the historic milestones of jazz with Duke Ellington's band as the focal point.

CONNECTICUT'S FIRST JAZZ FESTIVAL UNDER THE STARS (cont.)

Fairfield, Connecticut, 3 miles off the Merritt Parkway and only a cool 50 miles from New York City (via buslines and the New Haven RR-$3.54 fare round-trip) is adjacent to Westport, the summer colony on Long Island Sound. For many jazz devotees, this will be the most conveniently accessible summer jazz festival to be staged up to this time in the New York City environs.

Price of admission (tax free for this benefit concert): Reserved seats - $5.00 and $2.50; unreserved seats $1.50. For illustrated brochure, ticket information, and further details, write to Sidney Gross, Jazz Festival, Connecticut Symphony Orchestra, 991 Broad Street, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

July 6, 1956

Dear Mr. Gross:

Many thanks for your note of June 26th and your kind invitation to attend the International Press Conference to be held at the Overseas Press Club on July 9th.

I regret very much that I cannot be present since I shall be on my way to the West Coast at that time.

Sincerely,

Mr. Sidney Gross
200 West 20th Street
New York 11, New York

fc

Eng Past
Republican Convention
August 1956

May 11, 1956

Dear Jules Dundes:

Thanks very much for making the Convention reservations. There is a rare possibility that I may come out for a few days early in August before going back to Chicago for the Democratic Convention. I will make you a signal as soon as I know.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Jules Dundes
General Manager
Station KCBS
Sheraton Palace
San Francisco 5, California

rh

KCBS

CBS RADIO—Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.

SHERATON-PALACE, SAN FRANCISCO 5, CALIFORNIA · YUKON 2-7000

April 30, 1956

JULES DUNDES
General Manager

Dear Mr. Murrow:

At Mr. Al Bryant's request I have reserved a suite for you and Mrs. Murrow at Rickey's Studio Inn during the period of the Republican Convention here in August.

I am sure you'll be interested to know that I also have reserved suites for Mr. and Mrs. Paley and Mr. and Mrs. Stanton at Rickey's. I don't know for sure that they plan to attend the Convention, but it seemed like a wise thing to tie the space down at an early date.

The reservations start possibly a day or two before you would arrive in San Francisco -- they have been made for the period August 17 through August 24 -- to insure the suite being available at whatever time you do arrive.

I am attaching a photo copy of the confirming letter from Rickey's. I am sure there will be no difficulty about their honoring this reservation.

Please let me know if there are any other advance preparations we may make for you.

Cordially,

Jules Dundes

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

bp copies: Mr. Frank Stanton
Mr. Al Bryant

Rickey's

FOUR FAMOUS RESTAURANTS AND BEAUTIFUL GARDEN HOTEL

Studio Inn · Town House · Red Chimney · Rendezvous Room

MAIN OFFICE: 4219 EL CAMINO REAL • PALO ALTO, CALIFORNIA

APRIL 11, 1956

MR. JULES DUNDES, GENERAL MANAGER
RADIO STATION K.C.B.S.
SHERATON-PALACE
SAN FRANCISCO 5, CALIFORNIA

DEAR MR. DUNDES:

THANK YOU FOR YOUR LETTER OF APRIL 7, 1956.

WE ARE PLEASED TO CONFIRM THE FOLLOWING RESERVATIONS AT OUR STUDIO INN HOTEL BEGINNING AUGUST 17 FOR ONE WEEK:

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM S. PALEY
MR. AND MRS. FRANK STANTON
MR. AND MRS. EDWARD R. MURROW

THE RATE OF TWO OF THE COUPLES IS $24 AND ONE IS $32.

WE SHALL LOOK FORWARD TO WELCOMING THESE GUESTS TO THE STUDIO INN AND HOPE THEIR STAY WILL BE VERY ENJOYABLE IN EVERY WAY.

YOURS VERY TRULY,

RICKEY'S STUDIO INN HOTEL

Harris Baldwin
MANAGER

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL=Day Letter

NL=Night Letter

LT=International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

.= PK 082 PD EL MONTE CALIF AUG 24 1011 AMP 1956=

EDWARD R NORROW= RICKEYS PALO ALTO CALIF=

CONGRATULATIONS WONDERFUL JOB FEWER DOCTORS AND MORE MEN LIKE YOU AND FRIENDLY AND THE ILLS OF OUR WORLD COULD BE CURED= FLORENCE RUDE=

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL = Day Letter

NL = Night Letter

LT = International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

PK14 NL PD TDA SMYRNA GA 22 VIA CONV DESK SANFRANCISCO CALIF 23=

ED MURRELL (MURROW)= CARE C B S TV RICKEYS PALOALTO CALIF=

WE SEE THAT THE GOP CONVENTION IS RUN LIKE THE SUPREME COURT IN WASHINGTON BY CRAMMING DOWN PEOPLES THROATS THINKGS THAT THEY DO NOT DESIRE WE NOTED THAT THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION WAS NOT RUN IN SUCH A MANNER BY THIS WE MEAN THE STANDS WOULD NOT RECOGNIZE THEIR DELEGATES WHEN THEY WISH TO SPEAK= T E BURSON

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL=Day Letter

NL=Night Letter

LT=International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

:PK133 PD GENEVA NY 21 551P 1956.

EDWARD R MURROW CARE RICKEYS.= CBS TELEVISION
PALO ALTO CALIF.

=CONGRATULATIONS TO YOU AND YOUR ASSOCIATES ON A GOOD JOB% IT IS INTERESTING AND GRATIYING TO HEAR YOUR NON-PARTISAN ANALYSIS OF THE POLITICAL PLATFORM GOOD LUCK.=

A C TAIT JR GENEVA NY.=

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL=Day Letter

NL=Night Letter

LT=International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

PK 028 NL P TAMPA FLO RELAY VIA CONV DESK SFRAN

AUG 21 1956=

CBS CORRESPONDENT EDWARD R MURROW= RICKEYS PALO ALTO CALIF=

AM NOT CONCERNED ABOUT OPEN OR CLOSED CONVENTION PAPER

HEADLINES SPEAK OF ANOTHER REPUBLICAN TAX CUT DONT THINK I CAN AFFORD ANOTHER REPUBLICAN TAX CUT AM STILL SUFFERING

FROM THE LAST ONE NOW I KNOW WHY THE REPUBLICANS ARE HOLDING THEIR CONVENTION IN THE COW PALACE= YALE WHIDDEN

TAMPA FLORIDA

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL=Day Letter

NL=Night Letter

LT=International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

PK 029 NL PD MEMPHIS TENN VIA CONV DESK SFRAN AUG 21 1956=

EDW R MURROW CBS REP NATL CONV

CARE RICKEYS PALO ALTO CALIF= WE REPUBLICANS ARE NO CINCH TO WIN STOP WHY CANT WE HAVE A NON CONTROVERSAL VICE PRESIDENTAL CANDIDATE THERE ARE MILLIONS OF REPUBLICANS WHO WONT VOTE FOR NIXON STOP GIVE US A MAN WE CAN ALL VOTE FOR PERSONALLY I WOULD LIKE MILTON EISHENHOWER OR HENRY CABOT LODGE= HERBERT S KAHN

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL = Day Letter

NL = Night Letter

LT = International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

=PK64 PD CH LINCOLN NEVR 20 AUG 249PME=

EDWARD R MURROW OR ERICK SEVERIOD=RICKEYS PALOALTOCALIF=

THE COUNTRYS FIFTEEN OR TWENTY MILLION INDEPENDENT VOTORS WOULD LIKE TO KNOW WHAT LANGUAGE THEY¶RE USING SO FAR WOULD VOTE FOR BETTY FURNSS'S RIGHT LEG FOR PRESIDENT AND LEFT LEG VICE PESIDENT AND WOULD GET HER NEDLE POINT INSOME PLACE IN OTHER WORDS FOR WHOM IS THE WAKE=. HARRY BAILEY

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL=Day Letter

NL=Night Letter

LT=International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

.=PK5 RX PD UJ NEW YORK NY 18 AUG 915AME.

.=EDWARD R MURROW=RICKEYS STUIO INN PALO ALTO CALIF=

SORRY TO HAVE MISSED YOU IN MY EFFORTS TO DISCUSS SUBJECT OF OUR BRIEF CONVERASATION THURSDAY MY PLANS NOW CHANGED AND WILL NOT DEPART NEW YORK UNTIL LATE TONIGHT MAKING IT IMPOSSIBLE TO VISIT TODD LOS ANGELES IF HE OR HIS REPRESENTATIVE WISHES TO DISCUSS MATTTER IN SAN FRANCISCO ANY TIME NEXT WEEK SAVE FRIDAY EVENING I WILL BE GLAD TO SEE HIM ON OTHER

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL = Day Letter

NL = Night Letter

LT = International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

HAND IF HE WISHES TO DISCUSS PROPOSAL IN NEW YORK SUGGEST HE TALK WITH ROVINSON WHOM I WILL BRIEF S

SEE YOU SUNDA=

FRANK STANTON 1// 710A

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL = Day Letter

NL = Night Letter

LT = International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

PK042 NL PD=LOSANGELES CALIF AUG 20 1956

EDWARD R MURROW=BXS TV PALO ALTO CALIF=

SUGGEST A LABEL YOU MAY THINK APPROPRIATE REGARDING STASSENS MOVE NAMELY "STASSENATION" AND OR STASSENATE"

CONGRATULATION ON YOUR EXCELLENT COMMENTARY=

C T HORD=

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL=Day Letter

NL=Night Letter

LT=International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

PK041 NL PD= TDN KEW GARDENS NY AUG 20 1956=

ED MURROW=CBS RICKEYS PALO ALTO CALIF=

AS AN OLD TIME NEWSPAPER WOMAN DATING BACK TO THE OLD WORLD YOURE DISGUSTING NONSENSE OF A SURVEY OF AMERICAN PEOPLE AND THEIR VIEWS ON CBS TONIGHT FROM COW PALACE AFTER CLOSE OF THE SECOND SESSION REQUIRES AN INVESTIGATION INTO YOUR PAST TO FIND OUT WHETHER YOU ARE TRULY AN AMERICAN=

MRS DANIEL G BOLMER=

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL = Day Letter

NL = Night Letter

LT = International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

PK025 NLPD TDL SANTA MONICA CALIF 20=

EDWARD R MURROW=PALO ALTO CALIF=

ED WE HAVE ADMIRED YOU FOR A NUMBER OF YEARS AND WE ARE ENJOYING YOU SO MUCH ON TELEVISION WITHOUT A DOUBT MY HUSBAND THINKS THERE IS NO ONE GREATER THAN YOU% IF EVER YOU ARE IN CALIFORNIA AGAIN PLEASE MAKE IT A POINT TO MEET MY HUSBAND DR ROBERT C DE WEESE INCIDENTALLY HE WOULD MAKE A FINE INTERVIEW FOR YOUR NEXT YEARS PROGRAMS HE HAS A TERRIFIC WAR RECORD WITH OSS SINCERELY=MRS ROBERT C DE WEESE 521 12TH ST SANTA MONICA CALIF=

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCI

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL=Day Letter

NL=Night Letter

LT=International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

PK026 NLPD DALLAS TEX 20=

EDWARD R MORROW =CBS COW PALACE

RICKEYS PALO ALTO CALIF=

:I HAVE LISTENED TO YOUR BROADCAST TONIGHT AND IT HAS BEEN THE MOST BIASED AND WEISLING THAT I HAVE EVER HEARD ON THE AIR=

:W G OBRIEN=(

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL = Day Letter

NL = Night Letter

LT = International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

PK024 NLPD LOS ANGELES CALIF 20=

:EDWARD R MURROW=CBS TV PALO ALTO CALIF=

SUGGEST A LABEL YOU MAY THINK APPROPRIATE REGARDING STASSENS MOVE NAMELY "STASSENATION" AND OR "STASSENATE" CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR EXCELLENT COMMENTARY=

:C T HORD=

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL = Day Letter

NL = Night Letter

LT = International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

.=.=PK152 PD HOUSTON TEX 20 819PMC 1956.

EDWARD JXXX MURROW CARE RICKYS.=

CBS TV PALO ALTO CALIF.=

FEATHER BEDDING STATEMENT ETC SHOWS YOUR PARTISANSHIP% IF YOU MUST COMMENTATE BE FAIR WITH THE FCXXX FACTS.

= JOAN MCKAY 917 REDWOOD.=

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL=Day Letter

NL=Night Letter

LT=International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

.=.=.=PK153 RX PD DULUTH MINN 20 826PMC 1956.

EDWARD R MURROW.=

PALO ALTO CALIF.

=AS INDEPENDENT VOTERS VOTING FOR THE MAN WE DONT SUBSCRIBE TO STASSEN BUT AGREE ABOUT VICE PRESIDENT WONT VOTE FOR NIXON AS POSSIBLE FUTURE PRESIDENT WOULD PREFER TO TAKE DEMOCRATIC SIDE IF HE IS NOMINATED WOULD LIKE TO VOICE OUR POSITION AS WE LIKE IKE THE DEMOCRATS KNOW OUR POSITION AND HAVE REASON TO BE CONFIDENT.=

MRS LYLE CHRISTIANSON 6326 LEXINGTON STREET.=

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

Eng Past

October 2, 1956

Dear Russell:

I am delighted to learn that I did not outrage your membership. No one could have asked for a better audience.

If you feel disposed to make a modest contribution you might send it to the Buckley School Retirement Fund, 120 East 74 Street, New York, New York.

As ever yours,

Mr. Russell E. Singer
Executive Vice President
American Automobile Association
1712 G Street, N.W.
Washington 6, D.C.

rh

HARRY I. KIRK
PRESIDENT
CHICAGO, ILL.

DANIEL W. BELL
TREASURER
WASHINGTON, D. C.

WILLIAM B. SPENCER
SECRETARY
PROVIDENCE, R. I.

AMERICAN AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION

ORGANIZED 1902
HEADQUARTERS
1712 G STREET, N. W.
WASHINGTON 6, D.C.

RUSSELL E. SINGER
EXECUTIVE VICE-PRESIDENT
WASHINGTON, D. C.

MERRITT L. SMITH
ASS'T SECRETARY
WASHINGTON, D. C.

TELEPHONE
METROPOLITAN 8-4000

CABLE ADDRESS
AMERAUTO
WASHINGTON, D. C.

September 25, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
New York, N.Y.

My dear Ed:

I speak for the entire membership of the American Automobile Association when I tell you how grateful we are for the outstanding contribution that you made to the success of our 54th Annual Convention through your very informative and stirring address on the Middle East situation.

The very forthright manner in which you spoke about this very complex problem challenged the interest of all our people who had the opportunity of hearing you, and from all sides I heard nothing but commendation and gratitude for your straightforward message. We all know that you made the trip to Pittsburgh at considerable sacrifice, and that makes us feel all the more grateful to you for taking time out of your busy schedule to speak to our people.

I recall that last time you honored us as a speaker at our Annual Meeting you suggested that in lieu of an honorarium you would like to have a contribution made to a charity - or some institution - in which Mrs. Murrow was interested. If you will let me know how you wish the matter handled this year I shall comply with your wishes.

Again let me assure you of our very deep gratitude to you for your very constructive and timely message.

Sincerely yours,

Russell

Executive Vice-President

RES:Mc

Over Fifty years of Service to the Motorist and the Nation

Eng Part
September 18

September 17, 1956

GENERAL LACEY MURROW
PENN-SHERATON HOTEL
PITTSBURGH, PENNSYLVANIA

EDWARD R. MURROW ARRIVING ON AMERICAN FLIGHT

ONE FOUR ONE LEAVING LA GUARDIA, NEW YORK AT 8:55 am ARRIVING PITTSBURGH 10:30 am.

REBECCA HOLDER
SECRETARY TO MR. MURROW

414-43

LACEY V. MURROW
SUITE 617 STONELEIGH COURT
1025 CONNECTICUT AVENUE
WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

13 September 1956

Dear Miss Holder:

General Murrow will arrive at the Penn-Sheraton Hotel in Pittsburgh this coming Monday, 17 September.

He will appreciate it if you will wire him there the information on his brother's flight number and expected time of arrival in Pittsburgh Tuesday so that he can arrange to meet him at the airport.

Sincerely,

Gwen Robertson

Gwen Robertson
Secretary

Miss Rebecca Holder
Secretary to E. R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

September 18

ANDREW J. SORDONI
PRESIDENT
WILKES-BARRE, PA.

DANIEL W. BELL
TREASURER
WASHINGTON, D. C.

W. A. STINCHCOMB
SECRETARY
CLEVELAND, OHIO

AMERICAN AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION

ORGANIZED 1902
HEADQUARTERS
1712 G STREET, N. W.
WASHINGTON 6, D.C.

RUSSELL E. SINGER
EXECUTIVE VICE-PRESIDENT
WASHINGTON, D. C.

MERRITT L. SMITH
ASS'T SECRETARY
WASHINGTON, D. C.

TELEPHONE
METROPOLITAN 8-4000

CABLE ADDRESS
AMERAUTO
WASHINGTON, D. C.

August 8, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Pawling
New York

Dear Ed:

Lacey has spoken to you about our 54th Annual Meeting, to be held in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, September 17 to 20, and our cordial invitation to you to speak at the first luncheon session on Tuesday, September 18.

It is my understanding that you have indicated your acceptance of our invitation, conditioned upon your being in the United States on that date, and if you are not here we could count on one of your CBS associates. We all hope that nothing will interfere with your being with us because your presence will be one of the highlights of our meeting, not only because of what you say, but because of the respect and admiration which all our people have for you and what you are doing.

We will have close to 1,000 delegates at this particular session and they will represent a good cross-section of America. They will come from cities and towns from every state in the union. They are good substantial citizens. Many of them give of their time and talents to the work of automobile clubs as civic organizations concerned with problems in the motor transport field, -- for better highways, the promotion of street and highway safety, better laws and their reasonable and impartial enforcement, the development of travel, both domestically and on a world scale, and in general, contributing toward making their respective communities a better place to live and work.

As you probably know, since the War the AAA has moved into the international travel field in a big way, serving travelers the world over, and for that reason our people will be interested in your observations covering the world scene.

We will have accommodations for you at the Penn-Sheraton, and if you will let me know your transportation requirements we will be glad to see that you are met at the station or the airport.

If you would like to make this a little trip for yourself and your family, let us know and we will provide all the accommodations.

I am speaking on behalf of our entire organization, Ed, when I tell you that we are looking forward with keen anticipation to having a chance to see you again and hearing your inspiring message.

Cordially yours,

Russell

Executive Vice-President

RES/meh

cc-Gen. Lacey V. Murrow

Eng Pass

WBRC Radio

the voice of CBS
1727½ NORTH SECOND AVE. in busy BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA

Democratic Convention

August 29, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS Radio Network
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

Please accept our grateful thanks for your appearance on the WBRC broadcast from the Democratic Convention.

This was a very expensive undertaking for us and the final broadcast with you and John Sparkman was a fitting climax. It more than justified the trouble we went to in these originations.

Also, our thanks to you, Bob Trout and the CBS Staff for the excellent coverage provided us network-wise. As usual, CBS led the way. Even Chairman Butler underscored CBS dominance in singling us out for special mention.

"Bull" Connor sends you his regards. He deeply regretted not seeing you at the Convention.

Thanks again Ed. Your friendship is a valued one. Give Jesse my best.

Cordially,

WBRC Radio

Lionel

Lionel F. Baxter
Managing Director

LFB:sd

Eng Part

FREEDOM HOUSE

WILLKIE MEMORIAL BUILDING
20 WEST 40 STREET, NEW YORK 18, N. Y.
LONGACRE 5-3344

Board of Trustees

WHITNEY NORTH SEYMOUR
Chairman of the Board

HERBERT BAYARD SWOPE
Chairman, Exec. Committee

HARRY D. GIDEONSE
President

RALPH J. BUNCHE
LEO CHERNE
GEORGE B. FORD
Vice-Presidents

CASS CANFIELD
Treasurer

MRS. HENRY GALE
Assistant Treasurer

GEORGE FIELD
Executive Secretary

Herbert Agar
Lyman Bryson
Harry J. Carman
George S. Counts
Norman Cousins
Christopher T. Emmet
Thomas K. Finletter
Arthur J. Goldsmith
Nathaniel L. Goldstein
Harold K. Guinzburg
Helen Hayes
Henry Townley Heald
Mrs. Elinore M. Herrick
Henry W. Hobson
Mrs. Andrew Jackson
Jacob K. Javits
J. M. Kaplan
Maxwell A. Kriendler
Chester J. LaRoche
David E. Lilienthal
Goodhue Livingston Jr.
Elsa Maxwell
Edgar Ansel Mowrer
Ferdinand Pecora
Elizabeth M. Riley
Francis E. Rivers
Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt
Elmo Roper
George N. Shuster
Nathaniel Singer
Spyros P. Skouras
Rex Stout
Louis Stulberg
Channing H. Tobias
J. Waties Waring
W. W. Waymack
Robert M. Weitman
Roy Wilkins

Edward Corsi
Leave of absence

October 8, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Ed:

One of the greatest worries in arranging a dinner program that cannot be timed in advance is resolved when the chairman has an exact sense of time and a real understanding of what is appropriate for the occasion.

As the chief worrier of the evening, I feel I owe you more thanks than words can express for the perfect score on both those counts.

Many have told me that if it were not for a brief lapse during the musical portion of the program, which is the first time it happened and we could not anticipate it, they all were greatly pleased and inspired by the occasion, and a large measure of this results from your part in the program.

Again my thanks and best regards.

Yours,

George

George Field

GF: JM

Eng Part

FREEDOM HOUSE 15TH ANNIVERSARY DINNER

APPROXIMATE TIME SCHEDULE FOR DINNER PROGRAM

Sheraton Astor Hotel - October 7th.

Edward R. Murrow, Chairman

6:30 p.m.: Reception in North Columbia Room on mezzanine floor.

7:30 p.m.: Dinner will be served in the Grand Ballroom.

9:00 p.m.: National anthem sung by David Atkinson, baritone, accompanied at the piano by Elliot Jacoby.

9:03 p.m.: Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman of the Executive Committee of Freedom House; keynote remarks.

9:10 p.m.: Swope will introduce Edward R. Murrow, who will preside. Opening remarks by Mr. Murrow.

9:15 p.m.: Mr. Murrow will introduce Whitney North Seymour, chairman of the Board of Freedom House and past President of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York.

9:25 p.m.: Mr. Seymour, having presented the Award to Ambassador Romulo, the Ambassador will follow immediately with his acceptance speech on behalf of President Magsaysay.

9:40 p.m.: Mr. Murrow will introduce a musical interlude: Marion Morell, soprano, and popular nightclub entertainer. She will be followed by David Atkinson, baritone, and star of several Broadway musicals. Both will be accompanied at the piano by Mr. Elliot Jacoby.

9:55 p.m.: Murrow will introduce Walter Lippmann, the first winner of the annual Freedom Award in 1943, who will make the presentation to Governor Munoz Marin.

10:05 p.m.: The address by Governor Munoz Marin will follow immediately upon his receiving the Award from Mr. Lippmann.

10:20 p.m.: Murrow to introduce Dr. Harry D. Gideonse, president of Brooklyn College and president of Freedom House to conclude the evening's program. Dr. Gideonse' remarks will be the prelude to a brief recorded message from President Magsaysay, which will conclude the program.

FREEDOM HOUSE

WILLKIE MEMORIAL BUILDING
20 WEST 40 STREET, NEW YORK 18, N. Y.
LONGACRE 5-3344

Board of Trustees

WHITNEY NORTH SEYMOUR
Chairman of the Board

HERBERT BAYARD SWOPE
Chairman, Exec. Committee

HARRY D. GIDEONSE
President

RALPH J. BUNCHE
LEO CHERNE
GEORGE B. FORD
Vice-Presidents

CASS CANFIELD
Treasurer

MRS. HENRY GALE
Assistant Treasurer

GEORGE FIELD
Executive Secretary

Herbert Agar
Lyman Bryson
Harry J. Carman
George S. Counts
Norman Cousins
Christopher T. Emmet
Thomas K. Finletter
Arthur J. Goldsmith
Nathaniel L. Goldstein
Harold K. Guinzburg
Helen Hayes
Henry Townley Heald
Mrs. Elinore M. Herrick
Henry W. Hobson
Mrs. Andrew Jackson
Jacob K. Javits
J. M. Kaplan
Maxwell A. Kriendler
Chester J. LaRoche
David E. Lilienthal
Goodhue Livingston Jr.
Elsa Maxwell
Edgar Ansel Mowrer
Ferdinand Pecora
Elizabeth M. Riley
Francis E. Rivers
Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt
Elmo Roper
George N. Shuster
Nathaniel Singer
Spyros P. Skouras
Rex Stout
Louis Stulberg
Channing H. Tobias
J. Waties Waring
W. W. Waymack
Robert M. Weitman
Roy Wilkins

Edward Corsi
Leave of absence

September 12, 1956

Mr.Edward R. Murrow
C B S
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

As you are to preside at our anniversary dinner on Sunday evening, October 7th, I thought it a good time to outline the elements of our program in connection with your introductions.

1. Herbert Bayard Swope will represent the officers and directors of Freedom House with some keynote remarks immediately following the singing of the National Anthem.

2. At the conclusion of his brief address, Swope will introduce you as chairman for the evening.

3. Your opening remarks should relate to the manner in which the selections were made for the Freedom House awards and the statement that by the vote of all the previous recipients the annual Freedom Award for 1956 will be presented to President Magsaysay and a special fifteenth anniversary award will be presented to Governor Munoz Marin.

4. You will then introduce Whitney North Seymour, a past president of the Bar Association of the City of New York and of the American Arbitration Association, who is now serving a second term as chairman of the Board of Freedom House. He will make the address of presentation to the personal representative of President Magsaysay, Ambassador Carlos P. Romulo. Romulo will then follow with his speech of acceptance of the Freedom Award.

5. There will be a musical interlude at this point, still to be arranged, and you will introduce the artists.

6. You will next introduce the co-chairman for the fifteenth anniversary Freedom House celebration, Walter Lippmann, who will make a speech of presentation of our award to Governor Munoz Marin. The Governor will follow immediately after the presentation with his acceptance speech.

Romulo advises me that we may expect a three-minute recording of remarks from Magsaysay. We propose to close the program with the voice of Magsaysay, but preliminary to it you will introduce, for very brief concluding remarks, Dr. Harry D. Gideonse, president of Brooklyn College and president of Freedom House, who will have an announcement, pay his respects to those seated at the dais and our other guests and then announce that the program will be concluded with the words of President Magsaysay.

We will have a cue sheet on Magsaysay's closing words so that when he has concluded, rather than let the matter hang in the air you will rise to say that with these remarks we close the fifteenth anniversary program of Freedom House and bid our guests good night.

I will have as carefully worked out time sheet as I can the night of the dinner in the event it is any help to you in keeping the proceedings moving along on schedule.

Any further information you require, please let me know.

Many thanks and regards,

Yours,

George

George Field

GF:ws

P.S. May we expect Mrs. Murrow? Yes We meet at 6:30 P.M. in the North Columbia Room for the reception and proceed to the dais at 7:30 P.M. in the grand ballroom of the Sheraton-Astor.

Eng Past

FREEDOM HOUSE

WILLKIE MEMORIAL BUILDING
20 WEST 40 STREET, NEW YORK 18, N. Y.
LONGACRE 5-3344

Board of Trustees

WHITNEY NORTH SEYMOUR
Chairman of the Board

HERBERT BAYARD SWOPE
Chairman, Exec. Committee

HARRY D. GIDEONSE
President

RALPH J. BUNCHE
LEO CHERNE
GEORGE B. FORD
Vice-Presidents

CASS CANFIELD
Treasurer

MRS. HENRY GALE
Assistant Treasurer

GEORGE FIELD
Executive Secretary

Herbert Agar
Harry J. Carman
Edward Corsi
George S. Counts
Norman Cousins
Christopher T. Emmet
Thomas K. Finletter
Arthur J. Goldsmith
Nathaniel L. Goldstein
Ernest A. Gross
Harold K. Guinzburg
Helen Hayes
Henry Townley Heald
Mrs. Elinore M. Herrick
Henry W. Hobson
Mrs. Andrew Jackson
J. M. Kaplan
Maxwell A. Kriendler
Chester J. LaRoche
David E. Lilienthal
Elsa Maxwell
Edgar Ansel Mowrer
Ferdinand Pecora
Elizabeth M. Riley
Francis E. Rivers
Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt
Elmo Roper
M. Lincoln Schuster
George N. Shuster
Nathaniel Singer
Spyros P. Skouras
Rex Stout
Frederick F. Umhey
J. Waties Waring
W. W. Waymack
Robert M. Weitman
Sumner Welles
Walter White
Roy Wilkins

Late Thursday —

To Edward R. Murrow:

Dear Ed:

Have allowed a little air space for speakers who go beyond their time so this schedule should work out pretty well.

Only other information you might use is the musical numbers, as follows:

Marion Morell, soprano will sing "I Want You To Be My Baby" and "Autumn Leaves."

David Atkinson baritone, from "Kiss Me Kate" — has selected: "Where's the Life that Late I Led." — and selections from his starring role in "Carousel."

Elliot Jacoby will be at the piano.

Yours

George

FREEDOM HOUSE 15TH ANNIVERSARY DINNER

APPROXIMATE TIME SCHEDULE FOR DINNER PROGRAM

Sheraton Astor Hotel - October 7th.

Edward R. Murrow, Presiding

6:30 p.m.: Reception for guests of honor in North Columbia Room on mezzanine floor.

7:30 p.m.: Dinner will be served in the Grand Ballroom.

9:00 p.m.: National anthem sung by David Atkinson, baritone, accompanied at the piano by Elliot Jacoby.

9:03 p.m.: Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman of the Executive Committee of Freedom House; keynote remarks.

9:10 p.m.: Mr. Swope will introduce Edward R. Murrow, who will preside. Opening remarks by Mr. Murrow.

9:15 p.m.: Mr. Murrow will introduce Whitney North Seymour, chairman of the Board of Freedom House and past President of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York.

9:25 p.m.: Mr. Seymour, having presented the Award to Ambassador Romulo, the Ambassador will follow immediately with his acceptance speech on behalf of President Magsaysay.

9:40 p.m.: Mr. Murrow will introduce a musical interlude: Miss Marion Morell, soprano and popular nightclub entertainer. She will be followed by David Atkinson, baritone and star of several Broadway musicals. Both will be accompanied at the piano by Mr. Elliot Jacoby.

9:55 p.m.: Mr. Murrow will introduce Walter Lippmann, the first winner of the annual Freedom Award in 1943, who will make the presentation to Governor Munoz Marin.

10:05 p.m.: The address by Governor Munoz Marin will follow immediately upon his receiving the Award from Mr. Lippmann.

10:20 p.m.: Mr. Murrow to introduce Dr. Harry D. Gideonse, president of Brooklyn College and president of Freedom House to conclude the evening's program. Dr. Gideonse' brief remarks will be the prelude to a recorded message from President Magsaysay.

#

FREEDOM HOUSE

WILLKIE MEMORIAL BUILDING
20 WEST 40 STREET, NEW YORK 18, N. Y.
LONGACRE 5-3344

Board of Trustees

WHITNEY NORTH SEYMOUR
Chairman of the Board

HERBERT BAYARD SWOPE
Chairman, Exec. Committee

HARRY D. GIDEONSE
President

RALPH J. BUNCHE
LEO CHERNE
GEORGE B. FORD
Vice-Presidents

CASS CANFIELD
Treasurer

MRS. HENRY GALE
Assistant Treasurer

GEORGE FIELD
Executive Secretary

Herbert Agar
Lyman Bryson
Harry J. Carman
George S. Counts
Norman Cousins
Christopher T. Emmet
Thomas K. Finletter
Arthur J. Goldsmith
Nathaniel L. Goldstein
Harold K. Guinzburg
Helen Hayes
Henry Townley Heald
Mrs. Elinore M. Herrick
Henry W. Hobson
Mrs. Andrew Jackson
Jacob K. Javits
J. M. Kaplan
Maxwell A. Kriendler
Chester J. LaRoche
David E. Lilienthal
Goodhue Livingston Jr.
Elsa Maxwell
Edgar Ansel Mowrer
Ferdinand Pecora
Elizabeth M. Riley
Francis E. Rivers
Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt
Elmo Roper
George N. Shuster
Nathaniel Singer
Spyros P. Skouras
Rex Stout
Louis Stulberg
Channing H. Tobias
J. Waties Waring
W. W. Waymack
Robert M. Weitman
Roy Wilkins

Edward Corsi
Leave of absence

October 3, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Ed:

I am rushing to you the tentative time sheet for our dinner program Sunday night. This should give you a fairly clear picture of the proceedings and your part in it.

Any last-minute refinements and additional information or changes if necessary will be brought to the dinner, and I am sure they will not upset things in any way.

I look forward to our evening together on Sunday.

Thanks and regards.

Yours,

George Field

GF:JM

Eng Fact

FREEDOM HOUSE

WILLKIE MEMORIAL BUILDING
20 WEST 40 STREET, NEW YORK 18, N. Y.
LONGACRE 5-3344

Board of Trustees

WHITNEY NORTH SEYMOUR
Chairman of the Board

HERBERT BAYARD SWOPE
Chairman, Exec. Committee

HARRY D. GIDEONSE
President

RALPH J. BUNCHE
LEO CHERNE
GEORGE B. FORD
Vice-Presidents

CASS CANFIELD
Treasurer

MRS. HENRY GALE
Assistant Treasurer

GEORGE FIELD
Executive Secretary

Herbert Agar
Lyman Bryson
Harry J. Carman
George S. Counts
Norman Cousins
Christopher T. Emmet
Thomas K. Finletter
Arthur J. Goldsmith
Nathaniel L. Goldstein
Harold K. Guinzburg
Helen Hayes
Henry Townley Heald
Mrs. Elinore M. Herrick
Henry W. Hobson
Mrs. Andrew Jackson
Jacob K. Javits
J. M. Kaplan
Maxwell A. Kriendler
Chester J. LaRoche
David E. Lilienthal
Goodhue Livingston Jr.
Elsa Maxwell
Edgar Ansel Mowrer
Ferdinand Pecora
Elizabeth M. Riley
Francis E. Rivers
Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt
Elmo Roper
George N. Shuster
Nathaniel Singer
Spyros P. Skouras
Rex Stout
Louis Stulberg
Channing H. Tobias
J. Waties Waring
W. W. Waymack
Robert M. Weitman
Roy Wilkins

Edward Corsi
Leave of absence

February 29, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Ed:

I was very happy to receive word from Harry Gideonse that our proposal for the Freedom House 15th anniversary celebration and your part in it was acceptable to you. We have had a similar response from Walter Lippmann.

We are planning to hold our dinner this year on Sunday evening, October 7th. There will be no further steps taken at this time, as we are so far ahead of the date of our dinner.

I will communicate with you again in a month or so, when we will get under way in implementing our plans.

Many thanks, and regards.

Yours,

George

George Field

GF: JM

Eng Fact

Brooklyn College
Bedford Avenue & Avenue H, Brooklyn 10, N. Y.

Harry D. Gideonse, President

February 28, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
580 Park Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Ed:

I am delighted you will be able to do the Annual Dinner job on October 7. I enclose George Field's outline of the "formula" and of the assignment it involves for you personally. I am letting him know of your acceptance and he will get in touch with you directly.

Thanks.

Sincerely yours,

Harry

Harry D. Gideonse

HDG:C
Enc.

FREEDOM HOUSE

WILLKIE MEMORIAL BUILDING
20 WEST 40 STREET, NEW YORK 18, N. Y.
LONGACRE 5-3344

Board of Trustees

WHITNEY NORTH SEYMOUR
Chairman of the Board

HERBERT BAYARD SWOPE
Chairman, Exec. Committee

HARRY D. GIDEONSE
President

RALPH J. BUNCHE
LEO CHERNE
GEORGE B. FORD
Vice-Presidents

CASS CANFIELD
Treasurer

MRS. HENRY GALE
Assistant Treasurer

GEORGE FIELD
Executive Secretary

Herbert Agar
Lyman Bryson
Harry J. Carman
George S. Counts
Norman Cousins
Christopher T. Emmet
Thomas K. Finletter
Arthur J. Goldsmith
Nathaniel L. Goldstein
Harold K. Guinzburg
Helen Hayes
Henry Townley Heald
Mrs. Elinore M. Herrick
Henry W. Hobson
Mrs. Andrew Jackson
Jacob K. Javits
J. M. Kaplan
Maxwell A. Kriendler
Chester J. LaRoche
David E. Lilienthal
Goodhue Livingston Jr.
Elsa Maxwell
Edgar Ansel Mowrer
Ferdinand Pecora
Elizabeth M. Riley
Francis E. Rivers
Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt
Elmo Roper
George N. Shuster
Nathaniel Singer
Spyros P. Skouras
Rex Stout
Louis Stulberg
Channing H. Tobias
J. Waties Waring
W. W. Waymack
Robert M. Weitman
Roy Wilkins

Edward Corsi
Leave of absence

February 20, 1956

MEMORANDUM TO: Mr. Edward R. Murrow

The Board of Directors of Freedom House has agreed to the necessity of planning ahead to assure the best possible arrangements for the Freedom House 15th anniversary celebration next October. The tentative date is Sunday evening, October 7th, in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria.

The 15th anniversary of Freedom House, as was the case on the 10th anniversary, can provide a special program opportunity of wide public appeal. It should also be borne in mind that next October will be the high point of a major national election campaign, and therefore, every effort must be made to insure a bi-partisan selection of the winner of the Freedom Award, and avoid even the remotest suggestion that our choice is politically motivated.

The Board of Directors of Freedom House believes that the following proposal will meet these requirements and add special significance to the program arrangements. It is proposed that the first and last Americans to receive our Award be named as co-chairmen of our 15th anniversary celebration; they would be Walter Lippmann, the recipient in 1942 and Edward R. Murrow, the recipient in 1954. One would be asked to preside at the dinner and the other to make the presentation of the Award. Herbert Swope would represent all our officers with an opening address in which our plans are explained to the guests, acknowledgments are made on our behalf, and the co-chairmen are introduced.

The Board of Directors of Freedom House would act as a nominating committee and select a number of possible recipients, but the final choice would be left this year to all the living previous recipients in this country. At least two of them would be invited to appear in person, and the others to appear on film with brief statements about the anniversary and the Award this year.

The careful screening of possible candidates for this Award by the Board will provide the necessary assurance that the ultimate selection will meet our own standards and requirements. The fact that the previous recipients will be responsible for the final selection will give it the necessary bi-partisan stamp of approval and added prestige.

As examples of the type of nominees who would meet our tests for this year, we could offhand mention Jean Monnet, the principal sponsor of European unity, so essential to the strengthening of the free world; and in this country, Henry Ford II, for his imaginative use of philanthropy for the advancement of education and our traditions of freedom. Of course, there is ample time between now and the summer to arrive at a conclusion about prospective choices.

There is the likelihood that the previous recipients may not wish to disclose how their votes are cast, except in the strictest confidence. If that should be so, we can reassure them that their votes will be a confidential matter with the co-chairmen, to whom the ballots will be mailed. However, the nature of each vote will not be disclosed and only the final tally will be revealed to the Board.

As a first step in implementing this plan, it is our hope that our first recipient, Mr. Lippmann, will agree to make the presentation address and that Mr. Murrow will agree to preside at the anniversary dinner.

Eng Past

PILOT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

GREENSBORO, N. C.

JOSEPH M. BRYAN
CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

October 26, 1956

Dear Ed Murrow:

You gave the membership attending the annual meeting of the American Life Convention a lot to think about two weeks ago Thursday. I shone in reflected glory - a result for which I am very grateful.

I know it was no easy task for you to add this trip to your busy schedule. I doubt if you ever had a more appreciative audience, and this may have been some compensation for the long and hurried trip. They hung on every word you said - and so did I.

From the headquarters office a medallion will shortly be mailed to you commemorating the occasion. I hope it will serve as a constant reminder of my personal appreciation and also that of the membership of the American Life Convention for your excellent contribution to the 1956 meeting.

Cordially yours,

Joe Bryan

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Eng Post

OCTOBER 9, 1956

MR. JOSEPH M. BRYAN
PILOT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
JEFFERSON STANDARD BUILDING
GREENSBORO, NORTH CAROLINA

MR. MURROW ARRIVING CHICAGO OCTOBER 11 ON

AMERICAN AIRLINE FLIGHT 215 LEAVING NEW YORK

8:00 AM ARRIVING CHICAGO 10:15 AM CENTRAL TIME.

REBECCA HOLDER
SECRETARY TO EDWARD R. MURROW

444-43

AMERICAN LIFE CONVENTION
EXECUTIVE OFFICES
230 NORTH MICHIGAN AVENUE
CHICAGO 1, ILLINOIS

OFFICE OF
LEE N. PARKER
ADMINISTRATIVE VICE PRESIDENT

September 20, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

It is with much pleasure that we have your acceptance of the invitation to be with us during our American Life Convention meeting and to address our group on the morning of October 11th. You will have a warm reception from a large and most interested group who look forward to your message, as do we of the staff of the American Life Convention.

The place of meeting on Thursday morning will be the Ballroom of the Edgewater Beach Hotel. We want to make proper room accommodations for your comfort during your visit with us and we will appreciate knowing your arrival time as soon as you can find it possible to advise us.

Please command us in any matter in which we may be helpful prior to, or during your meeting with us.

Sincerely,

Lee N. Parker

Administrative Vice President

LNP B

AMERICAN LIFE CONVENTION 1906 1956 50 Years of Service

CLASS OF SERVICE
This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION
TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1220 (R 11-54)

SYMBO
DL=Day Lette
NL=Night Lett
LT=Internationa Letter Telegr

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at poi

(27)

NA103 DL PD=GREENSBORO NCAR 15 229PME= 1956 SEP 15 PM 3 46

EDWARD R MURROW, DLR=
485 MADISON AVE=

IN COMPANY WITH MANY VERY PLEASED TO LEARN FROM FRANK STANTON THAT YOU WILL BE ABLE TO ADDRESS ANNUAL MEETING OF AMERICAN LIFE CONVENTION AT EDGEWATER BEACH HOTEL CHICAGO ON THURSDAY OCT 11. MORNING OR AFTERNOON TIME AVAILABLE. DO YOU HAVE PREFERENCE? FURTHER DETAILS AS TO THE ORGANIZATION AND OTHER SPEAKERS WILL BE MAILED TO YOU ON MONDAY. YOUR WILLINGNESSTO FIT OUR PROGRAM IN YOUR HEAVY SCHEDULE I APPRECIATE VERY MUCH. INCIDENTALLY YOUR OLD HOME COUNTY OF GUILFORD WILL HAVE A LARGE REPRESENTATION ON HAND FOR THE OCCASION AND WILL WITH THE REST OF THE MEMBERSHIP BE EAGERLY LOOKING FORWARD TO HEARING YOUR ADDRESS CORDIALLY YOURS=

JOSEPH M BRYAN PRESIDENT AMERICAN LIFE CONVENTION=

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

AMERICAN LIFE CONVENTION

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

PRESIDENT
JOSEPH M. BRYAN
CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD
PILOT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
JEFFERSON STANDARD BUILDING
GREENSBORO, NORTH CAROLINA

September 17, 1956

Dear Ed Murrow:

When Frank Stanton gave me the news of your acceptance of the invitation to appear on the American Life Convention program on October 11th, I was more than delighted.

The memo enclosed will give you some of the background of our organization. You may want more. If so, of course I will see that it will be provided.

As I wired you, I would like to know your preference of time of day for your address. The morning session will start at 9:45 a.m., and the afternoon at 2:00 p.m. I suggest as to time around 40 minutes, but that is, of course, a matter for your determination.

Phoned & told him morn. you will have to be there at 10:15 am RH

I hate, at this stage of the proceedings, to harrass you with a lot of details, but the printed program usually has some sort of subject, although that is not necessary if you prefer it otherwise.

We will, of course, make arrangements for your stay at the Edgewater Beach Hotel as soon as your office gives us word as to your time of arrival.

Again, we are all very pleased and happy that you are going to be with us. Incidentally, when I was giving my telegram over the phone last Saturday I spelled your name to the girl, who said in great disgust, "Why everyone knows him". She volunteered that she thought the "Person to Person" program the previous night was swell, and one of the best ever - and so did I.

My kindest regards.

Sincerely yours,

Joe Bryan

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
New York, New York

INFORMATION ON THE AMERICAN LIFE CONVENTION

The American Life Convention membership comprises over 250 legal reserve life insurance companies, who represent over 98% of the business as measured by the amount of life insurance in force. An annual meeting of the Convention is held regularly each year, and in 1956 this is scheduled for the week of October 8th at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago. These meetings always provide an unusual opportunity for the interchange of ideas and information through the mingling of executives from a large number of companies and a wide geographical area. It is customary for the chief executive officers of member companies to attend these meetings, and will include men whom I know you know such as

Frederick W. Ecker, President of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.
Devereux C. Josephs, Chairman of the New York Life Insurance Co.
Paul Clark, President of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co.
Carroll Shanks, President of the Prudential Insurance Co. of America

In addition to the life insurance officers who participate in the programs, these meetings have always been successful in attracting speakers of national prominence in various fields of endeavor. To name a few who have addressed the Convention since 1952:

Charles Allen Thomas, President, Monsanto Chemical Company
Earle P. Stevenson, President, Arthur D. Little, Inc.
Senator Prescott Bush of Connecticut
Robert G. Storey, President, American Bar Association (1953)
General Benjamin W. Chidlaw, Commander, Air Defense Command
C. Hamilton Moses, Chairman, Arkansas Power and Light
W. Randolph Burgess, Deputy to the Secretary of the Treasury
Rhys M. Sale, President, Ford Motor Company of Canada
Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, Secretary of Health, Education & Welfare
John J. McCloy, Chairman, Chase-Manhattan National Bank
C. M. White, President, Republic Steel Corp.
E. Smythe Gambrell, President, American Bar Association (1955)
Dr. Virgil M. Hancher, President, State University of Iowa
Robert E. Gross, President, Lockheed Aircraft
Senator Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois
Eugene R. Black, President, International Bank
G. Keith Funston, President, New York Stock Exchange

Some of the speakers this year for the general program will include:

D. W. Ambridge, President, Abitibi Power & Paper Co., Ltd., Toronto
Henry S. Beers, President, Aetna Life Insurance Company
Dr. Robert E. Wilson, Chairman, Standard Oil of Indiana
Marriner S. Eccles, Chairman, First Security Corporation

Walter Voecks, President, Lutheran Mutual Life Ins. Co.
General Lucius Clay, Chairman, Continental Can Co., Inc.

On the following day, the speakers will be:

Devereux C. Josephs, Chairman, New York Life Ins. Co.
A. E. Grauer, President, British Columbia Electric Co., Ltd., Vancouver
David Rockefeller, Director, Chase National Bank
Charles N. Kimball, President, Midwest Research Institute
G. D. Brooks, Vice President and Treasurer, National Life & Accident

The meetings are fully reported, and these reports constitute substantial contributions to the literature of life insurance. They also have wide press coverage both in insurance trade journals and the national newspapers.

Eng Post
Accepted
Cowles, Gardner

RECEIVED
1956 SEP 28 PM 7:50
C.B.S. TRAFFIC DEPT. N.Y.

WUA063 PD

FAX NEW YORK NY SEP 28 436P

EDWARD R MURROW

CBS

JACK CORNELIUS IS WORKING HIS HEART OUT HEADING THE AMERICAN HERITAGE FOUNDATION NON-PARTISAN "GET OUT THE VOTE" CAMPAIGN. I THINK HE DESERVES ENCOURAGEMENT FROM EVERYONE. COULD YOU BE MY GUEST AT A SMALL LUNCHEON IN HIS HONOR IN SUITE FOUR YOU OF WALDORF-ASTORIA TUESDAY OCTOBER NINTH AT TWELVE FIFTEEN. PLEASE PHONE REPLY TO MURRAY HILL EIGHT OH THREE HUNDRED. REGARDS

GARDNER COWLES

524P..

F.51-11/54

COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM, INC.

Eng Pac

Private Wire

PLEASE READ INSTRUCTIONS BELOW BEFORE SENDING YOUR MESSAGE. Accepted Murrow

Before sending this message please be sure a letter by REGULAR OR AIR MAIL would not suffice. Then be brief and indicate the account number to which th message is to be charged. A letter via REGULAR MAIL addressed to points in Maryland, Michigan, New Jersey, New York; the New England states, Nor Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, Washington, D. C., Montreal and Toronto, and via AIR MAIL to points in other states, will normal reach the addressee within a minimum of 12 hours and a maximum of 48 hours after it has been mailed from New York City.

Messages for WBBM and KNX are normally sent within an hour after receipt in the Communications Room on Mondays through Fridays; messages to oth stations are normally transmitted so as to reach the addressee not later than NOON LOCAL TIME on the first business day following their receipt in th Communications Room, providing the teletype equipment at the receiving point is attended. Mark your message "Today" ONLY if faster service to these oth stations is vital.

DATE OCTOBER 16, 19 56

NIGHT LETTER

CHARGE TO ACCOUNT NO.

Div.	Dept.
001	58	07

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO ATTEND A LUNCHEON FOR BOB TROUT IN THE HUNT ROOM OF CLUB TWENTY-ONE AT 12:15 ON MONDAY, OCTOBER 29. BOB IS COMPLETING THIS MONTH HIS TWENTY-FIFTH YEAR AS A RADIO NEWS BROADCASTER. HOPE YOU ARE ABLE TO MAKE IT. RSVP, PLAZA 1-2345, EXT. 221.

ED MURROW

(Please send above wire to names on attached list.)

BOB TROUT LUNCHEON LIST

(Invitations sent by Mr. Murrow)

MR. JOHN DALY
American Broadcasting Co.,Inc.
7 West 66th St.
New York, N.Y.

MR. BOB CONSIDINE
203 Allen Ave.
Allenhurst, N. J.

MR. H. V. KALTENBORN
167 East 64th St.
New York, N. Y.

-oOo-

Eng Past

M C A ARTISTS, LTD. Agency

Address Reply to
598 MADISON AVENUE
NEW YORK
PHONE PLAZA 9-7500

October 22, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed,

The Cerebral Palsy Telethon is over, and I know you will be glad to learn that the needed quota was raised and that it was generally considered to have been the best show to date.

Without your help, neither of these results would have been possible. I would like to extend to you for myself, the committee, and for the recipients of this help, our warmest appreciation of your wonderful cooperation.

Sincerely,

HERBERT I. ROSENTHAL

HIR:ann

17-18 DOVER STREET LONDON PHONE REGENT 4622 | 598 MADISON AVENUE NEW YORK PHONE PLAZA 9-7500 | 430 N. MICHIGAN AVE. CHICAGO PHONE DELAWARE 7-1100 | 9370 SANTA MONICA BLVD. BEVERLY HILLS PHONE CRESTVIEW 6-2001 | 105 MONTGOMERY ST. SAN FRANCISCO PHONE EXBROOK 2-8922 | UNION COMMERCE BLDG. CLEVELAND PHONE CHERRY 6010 | 2102 N. AKARD ST. DALLAS PHONE CENTRAL 1448 | 1612 BOOK TOWER DETROIT PHONE WOODWARD 2-2604 | 1044 LITTLE BLDG. BOSTON PHONE LIBERTY 2-4823 | NORTHWESTERN BANK BLDG MINNEAPOLIS PHONE LINCOLN 7863

Eng Past

From: NORMAN KIMBALL

October 12, 1956

TO: Mrs. Crissin -

Enclosed is suggested copy to be used by Mr. Murrow for the Cerebral Palsy kine after this evening's "Person to Person" show.

I will be up at the studio at that time in the event Mr. Murrow has any questions.

Thank you.

Norman Kimball

P.S. If Mr. Murrow has a moment, may I suggest that he read the excerpt from "My Left Foot" contained in the enclosed brochure. I feel it might be helpful as an example of the world of the cerebral palsied.

NK

October 1956
Eng Post

SPORTS BROADCASTERS DINNER SCHEDULE

A. National Anthem

B. Invocation - Bishop Boynton (Introduced by Len Dillon)

C. Dinner

D. Introduction of some floor guests by Len Dillon before desert & coffee

E. Welcoming remarks by SBA President, Len Dillon

✓ F. Introduction of toastmaster Edward R. Murrow by Mel Allen —

✓ G. Mr. Murrow's remarks (You are on your own) ... and then

H. Introduction of dais guests:

1. BILLY TALBERT - (Wishes to be introduced as follows because he has a story that ties in with the idea: "Billy Talbert, the non-playing captain of the U. S. Davis Cup Team".

2. LOU LITTLE - retiring head football coach at Columbia. Previously honored by Sports Broadcasters.

3. Introduction of non-speaking members of dais - (Ask that they remain standing and ask audience to withhold applause until end of introductions.)

Walter O'Malley - President, Brooklyn Dodgers

Dan Topping - President, New York Yankees

Leonard Goldensen - President, American Broadcasting Co.

Gen. John Reed Kilpatrick - Board Chairman, Madison Square Garden

Clarence Campbell - President, National Hockey League

Julius Helfand - Chairman, NY State Athletic Commission

Bryan Field - SBA member representing turf. Vice President & General Manager Delaware Park

James Farley

George Monagham - Commissioner of Harness Racing, State of New York

4. SPORTS BROADCASTERS AWARDS OF PLAQUES OF MERIT - An annual highlight, citing stars of sports world for brilliant achievement. (Members give awards. You introduce them by name only.)

a. Frank Litsky . . . Tom Courtney

b. Jack Dillon . . . Floyd Patterson

c. Chris Schenkel . . Frank Gifford

d. Howard Cosell . . Sal Maglie

e. Jim Gordon . . . . Mickey Mantle

(MAIN SPEAKERS FOLLOW)

5. THE RIGHT REVEREND CHARLES F. BOYNTON, Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of New York of the Episcopal Church.

(BIOGRAPHY ATTACHED. Note bottom of page sports activities.)

6. GENERAL EMMETT O'DONNELL ("ROSY"), Lt. Gen. USAF, Deputy Chief of Staff, Personnel, Pentagon.

(BIOGRAPHY COMING)

7. DR. JOSEPH KAPLAN, Chairman U. S. National Committee for International Geophysical Year. Faculty athletic advisor UCLA.

(STORY ATTACHED)

8. PRINCE WAN WAITHAYAKON, Thailand, President, UN General Assembly.

(BIOGRAPHY ATTACHED)

9. RALPH "BABE" PINELLI

Retired National League umpire and player...was back of the plate in the past World Series...his last time calling balls and strikes...when Don Larsen pitched perfect game...he called third strike on pinch-hitter, Dale Mitchell, for final out of the historic game... First no-hitter in a World Series...first Major League perfect game since Charley Robertson pitched one against Detroit in 1922...34 years ago. Came from San Francisco just for this dinner...and by train...won't fly.

10. DON ADAMS, rising TV comedian

Will do impersonation of umpire conducting umpire's school for aspiring arbiters...you might want to withhold identity until after he has done this bit, introducing him as a look into the future of Babe Pinelli if he decides to train future major league umpires...at your discretion.

11. MEL ALLEN, Dinner Chairman. Will announce creation of Ted Husing Award. Allen will ask Herbert Bayard Swope to present it to Jim Graham of Oklahoma A&M for extraordinary achievement in sportsmanship.

12. MAYOR ROBERT F. WAGNER

(Will say a few words about Husing and native of New York)

13. INTRODUCE SEVERAL PREVIOUS GRAHAM MC NAMEE AWARD WINNERS

a. WALTER ALSTON - Brooklyn Dodger Manager

b. ROCKY MARCIANO - Retired heavyweight champion of the world

c. Herman Hickman - Former All-American and former head coach at Yale

14. GEN. GARRISON "GAR" DAVIDSON, Superintendent, US Military Academy

(BIOGRAPHY ATTACHED)

15. GRAHAM MC NAMEE MEMORIAL AWARD TO TED HUSING

Introduce Sports Broadcasters President, Len Dillon.

16. MURROW FINAL REMARKS

17. LEN DILLON THANKS MR. MURROW.

Diocese of New York
Synod House, Cathedral Heights
New York 25, New York

The Right Reverend Charles Francis Boynton, D.D., S.T.D.
Suffragan Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of New York

Born in Geneseo, New York, on April 19, 1906. Son of the Reverend Dr. Charles Homer Boynton and Frances (Cogswell).

He attended the public schools in Englewood, New Jersey; Trinity Episcopal School in New York City; Williams College, where he received his B.A. in 1928; General Theological Seminary, where he received his S.T.B. in 1932 and S.T.D. in 1945. Received his D.D. from Williams College in 1950.

Was ordained Deacon in May 1932, and priested in April 1933.

Married Helen Beecher Fowler on April 4, 1934. They have two children, Carol and Frederic.

Was Chaplain of Christ School, Arden, North Carolina, 1933-1939; Student Chaplain at University of Wisconsin 1939-1941; Priest-in-Charge of St. Andrew's Church in Mayaguez, Puerto Rico 1941-1943. Was consecrated Bishop Coadjutor of Puerto Rico January 2, 1944, and became Diocesan Bishop in 1947. He was elected Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of New York in January 1951.

- -

SPORTS ACTIVITIES

At Williams College Bishop Boynton was Captain of the Football Team in 1927 and one of the few men in the history of the college to earn nine letters, three each in football, swimming and track.

Swimming - specialized in 200-yard breast-stroke & leadoff man in the relay.

Track - best in high hurdles.

Football - halfback.

BILL TALBERT

age 38...married and a father...captain of U.S. Davis Cup tennis team last four years...soft-spoken and popular...great tennis brain...won many titles in long playing career but never won national singles at Forest Hills...[redacted]

New York Yankees

OFFICE MEMORANDUM DATE.....

To.....

LOU LITTLE

Star tackle at Penn. - graduated in 1920

Saw service in Army as Infantry Captain in World War I in France.

Played some Pro-football

Spent 6 seasons as Head Coach at Georgetown University - 1924-2129.

1924 - Athletic Director and Head Coach at Georgetown
1930 - Head Coach at Columbia University

Two of greatest coaching moments - 1934 Rose Bowl win over Stanford with famous KF-79 play. Al Barabas scored only touchdown and Cliff Montgomery called and played great game. The other was in 1947 - upset win over fine Army team with Swiacki starring.

Some of his greatest players were T-Quarterbacks - Luckman, Governali, Rossides, Price and Benham.

Other honors:

1. Chairman of the Football Coaches Association Rules Committee since it was originated in 1932.

2. President of Football Coaches Association in 1939.

3. 1955 - Scripps Howard Newspapers gave him "Coach of the Era" award. The only other coach to receive it was Pop Warner.

New York Yankees

OFFICE MEMORANDUM DATE.....

To.....

"GAR" DAVIDSON - ADDITIONAL MATERIAL

Starting Right End in senior year.

Won three letters in football - 1924, 1925, 1926

Played with All-Americans - Chris Cagle, Harry Wilson, Bud Sprague, among others.

Highlight of his career - in first year on varsity (1924) he scored first touchdown in Michie Stadium (pronounced Mikie) which was opened in 1924.

Head football coach at West Point 1932. Believed to be 1st football coach at West Point to become head of a military Academy and 1st Head Coach of any major school to become head of an institution. (Will check last point with Davidson before dinner) age 23...home is Livingston, N.J...1955 Fordham graduate and Fordham's 1st Olympic champion...6'2"...180 pounds...Army PFC...due for discharge in September...may take graduate course in business administration at Harvard...won Olympic 800-meter title in perhaps most thrilling of all races in Melbourne...won second gold medal by anchoring U.S. to victory in 1600-meter relay...world record-holder for 800 meters (1:45.8)... presently national AAU 400-meter champion...has won countless national AAU, NCAA and IC4A titles from 400-meters to 1000 yards...played high school baseball and basketball...modest and shy.

TOM COURTNEY

FLOYD PATTERSON

22 years old this month...knocked out Archie Moore in fifth round Nov. 30 in Chicago to become youngest heavyweight champion ever...first child, a daughter, born four hours before fight...born in Gastonia, N.C...lives in Brooklyn...has 9 brothers and 2 sisters...managed as amateur and pro by Cus (correct) D'Amato...1952 Olympic middleweight champion...quiet and modest...only loss as pro was to Joey Maxim, former light-heavyweight champion, and that was questionable.

FRANK GIFFORD

age 26...weight 205...versatile halfback for New York Football Giants... led them to pro football title last season...chosen pro football player of the year in UP and players' polls...married to a campus beauty queen who later became a Varga calendar girl...father of 2 sons...sports editor of high school paper and now writes 2 columns a week for a California paper...one-time Hollywood stunt man and feature player and may return there full-time...All-America triple-threat halfback at University of Southern California...five years in pro football...probably most versatile back in the game...1956 overall offense champion and only man ever to rank in top five in rushing and pass-receiving in one year.

SAL MAGLIE

40 next April...6'2"...180 pounds...called "The Barber" because he "shaves" batter with brushoff pitches (close to head)...never shaves day of game so he can look tougher...home is Niagara Falls, N.Y...has spent 19 years in baseball...jumped to Mexican League during baseball boom there...Dodger nemesis for many years while pitching for Giants...sold to Cleveland on waivers in mid-1955 and appeared washed up...Dodgers got him from Cleveland on waivers in May, 1956...made comeback of the year with Dodgers, winning 13 games while losing five...pitched no-hitter against Philadelphia Phils 4 days before end of season...won first game of world series...had misfortune to pitch against Don Larsen in fifth game when Larsen pitched a perfect game.

MICKEY MANTLE

Mickey is his real name...age 25...home is Commerce, Okla...[redacted] 5'11"...190 pounds...father (who died in 1952) taught him baseball... joined Yankees at 19 with tremendous buildup...replaced Joe Di Maggio eventually in center field...switch-hitter with power from both sides of plate...good at everything: hitting, fielding, exceptionally fast... shortstop in minor leagues...made strong bid in 1956 to break Babe Ruth's 1927 record of 60 home runs in one season...became fifth player in baseball history to win major-league triple-crown of batting (batting average, home runs and runs batted in championships) in one year...also won slugging title...voted unanimously as most valuable player in American League...awarded $10,000 Hickok belt (diamond studded, gold-buckled) last week as pro athlete of the year...also chosen athlete of the year by AP, Sport Magazine...suffered osteomyelitis in early years with Yankees and always has had tender knees...shy, easy-going.

RALPH (BABE) PINELLI

born and lives in San Francisco...age 61...in baseball as player and umpire 40 years...married 41 years...has two sons...8 years as major-league infielder with Chicago White Sox, Detroit Tigers and Cincinnati Redlegs...umpired two years in minors, then 22 years in National League... just retired after working 3400 major-league games without missing one... last game behind plate was Don Larsen's perfect game in 1956 world series...now a scout for Cincinnati Redlegs in California.

A distinguished American scientist, Dr. Joseph Kaplan, professor of physics at U.C.L.A., is also faculty representative of athletics (see Behind the Scenes*).*

The case for BIG-TIME FOOTBALL

Over 100,000 spectators fill the Los Angeles Coliseum for Southern California-U.C.LA. game, an intense intracity rivalry that typifies major college football.

By DR. JOSEPH KAPLAN

THE ROOTS of college football's troubles today are twisted in evasion and hypocrisy.

I never have been able to understand how anyone can deny that the sport, as conducted at most big schools, involves elements of something less than strict amateurism. Yet, some people do try to deny it. This attitude accounts for most of the serious problems that regularly beset the conduct of the sport on what we familiarly term the "big-time" level.

We have more than our share of these problems in the Pacific Coast Conference. The Western Conference also is having its headaches, though perhaps not so throbbing as ours. The situation has received intense national as well as local publicity. Much of the diagnosis and commentary has been superficial, some of it provincial, juvenile and bitter, little of it constructive.

I feel it is time to speak out in favor of the sport.

In all the codes that colleges have written for the conduct of football, I have not detected any general movement to eliminate gate receipts. I use the word "general," because there are isolated cases of schools which charge no admission.

Once a college charges admission, it is in a form of the entertainment business. It is concerned, in most cases, with the quality of the entertainment it is selling. To establish and sustain quality, it searches high schools and prep schools for the boy with the strength, skill and

continued

Scientific work for the Government keeps Dr. Kaplan shuttling from U.C.L.A. to Washington and back. But he gets to see the football team in action fairly often. He visits at practice (right) with novelist Paul Wellman, a Bruin fan, and Coach Henry (Red) Sanders.

"The principle of aid to a student for a specific talent is salutary."

temperament to play football well. In return for such ability, in part at least, the college provides the boy with an education.

There is nothing wrong with this, although some people apparently think there is.

Their notion traces, consciously or otherwise, to the British concept of amateurism, which holds that only he is an amateur who plays for fun. This is the same as saying that only he is an amateur who can afford the money and the leisure to play for fun.

If this concept were applied to our college football, the game would be available only to superior students and to the sons of the rich—or, as a young coaching friend of mine likes to put it, to "the sons of noblemen and earls."

This rubs against the grain of traditional American philosophy. The average American prefers to accept the following definition of a collegiate amateur:

One who is a bona fide student and receives what aid he needs, possibly including a job, to meet his cost of living, but does not make a profit.

Almost every other major college conference has applied this principle to its athletics, and I am convinced we on the Pacific Coast ultimately must do the same.

The principle of aid to a student because of a specific talent is salutary. Aptitude for mathematics, physics and chemistry gave me the opportunity to be graduated from Johns Hopkins University and later to earn other degrees. I feel it is just as fitting that an athlete, through his particular aptitude, should be given the chance to go through school that he wouldn't get otherwise.

Once the boy has been given a chance for an education, primarily because of his athletic ability, he should make good on the chance primarily as a student. That is to say, he should be dropped from school only for academic or disciplinary failure and not for failure to produce as an athlete. Colleges which withdraw aid from a boy because he has not lived up to expectation as an athlete are providing a legitimate target for hard-hitting criticism.

From the point of view of the university, I cannot distinguish between the need and fittingness of scientific activity on one hand and athletic activity on the other. Our nation seriously needs both. The Red nations are ahead of us in mass numbers and will stay ahead of us. If we are to maintain or gain superiority over them in any given essential category, in peace or war, we must do it by concentrating on the development of specialists.

Just as we need all the best scientists we can get, so do we need those who specialize in health, bodily skills and direct, tough body contact. That was demonstrated forcibly by our training programs in World War II, and it would be true again in the event of a future war. Despite its highly developed scientific aspect, war will always include the directly competitive physical side and demand tough-fibered men. The hard core of these would have to come from our athletes developed through the colleges.

If certain necessary restrictions are enforced to as great an extent as possible, the highly developed recruiting and specializing in college football, rather than being discouraged, should serve as a model for activity in other fields. In fact, science, whether consciously or not, is following that model. For example, competition is keen between Massachusetts Institute of Technology and other colleges for good science students. Industry constantly seeks promising scientists.

The value of translating the competitive aspect of sports to the classroom in developing specialists was pointed out recently by Dr. James B. Conant, United States ambassador to West Germany and former president of Harvard. He said:

"The spirit of competition . . . is a healthy aspect of our American emphasis on sports. There is no reason why the same type of motivation could not be utilized in the study of mathematics and foreign languages, provided, as in athletics, selection of the naturally talented is accepted as a matter of course."

The function of a university is not confined to research and scholarly output. Its role in our society also takes other forms, through athletic teams, glee clubs, dramatic clubs, debating societies. All aim at the development of student skills.

That football should become the "big-time" operation in this program traces to our national personality and the intrinsic nature of the game itself. In any well-rounded collegiate program, it emerges naturally. We are the most competitive of nations. Football is the most competitive of sports. Its teamwork, its ruggedness, its Spartan spirit, a throwback to our pioneering ancestry, all have tremendous appeal to our basic American characteristics. The public's response traces also to college football's unique fanfare and panoply.

People from all brackets of life will spend money and go to a great deal of trouble to get to a game. The public interest and the spirit of competition impel colleges to build the best teams and biggest stadiums possible. Since competition fosters growth, it is logical for highly competitive football to grow big—and sometimes rapidly.

Another natural reason why football tends to dominate a college's projections to the public is that the skills of the player develop much earlier on the average and, therefore, have a greater immediacy of appeal than those, say, of the scientist or musician. As an example, and far from an isolated one, Alan Ameche, All America fullback from Wisconsin, now of the Baltimore Colts, was ready upon graduation to meet the standards the public expects of a professional player. In contrast, a violinist from a college orchestra would seldom be able to move into a professional symphony orchestra. As for science, while it is true that Newton went straight from Cambridge to the discovery of the law of gravity, he was an exception. It is at least five years after an average young scientist has earned his Ph.D. before he gets his sense of direction toward Nobel Prize work.

continued

"The game stirs interest in a school."

Nobody would criticize a university—provided it was not neglecting its other functions—for trying to develop more Nobel Prize winners than any other university, or for trying to turn out an orchestra or dramatic society of professional skills. So what can be the logical criticism of building a skillful football team on the same terms?

It is undeniable that football brings a school many substantial benefits. Not only does it frequently underwrite an entire athletic program, but the income it brings is often channeled into the improvement of the physical plant and the caliber of the instructional personnel on the academic side. Its appeal serves to interest the public in other phases of school activity. As a rallying point and a welding force of undergraduates and alumni, it is unexcelled; in fact, it is almost indispensable. Chicago, Fordham and other colleges which dropped football soon discovered a void in campus life and a drop-off in general enthusiasm and activity among alumni and friends.

I never have heard of a case of football success retarding the academic growth of a school. No school has been so consistently successful in football over the years as Notre Dame, and its academic direction has been concurrently upward. In fact, monies from football unquestionably contributed to this upward curve. U.C.L.A.'s recent football ascendancy also has been paralleled by a steady academic growth. The same is true of such relatively recent powers as Oklahoma, Michigan State and Maryland. In fact, I am sure you will find the proposition quite general.

Players Are Watched More Closely

This is my 29th year at U.C.L.A. Although my work has been primarily as a physicist, I have had the good fortune also to serve on academic committees which permitted me to note that students who are behind in their work do not include any disproportionate number of football players. At the same time, we are a little more conscious of a player who is behind, when one does show up, precisely because we are placing emphasis on not discriminating in favor of one.

Such a case was Al Sparlis, standout guard on the 1942 U.C.L.A. team, our first to play in the Rose Bowl. Later, as an Air Force pilot, Sparlis flew 70 bombing missions in World War II and 65 in the Korean War. Today, he is a pilot for an oil-well equipment firm, with a good future in the company's sales department.

When Sparlis was five years old, his parents separated; at eight, he was placed in an orphanage. When he was 10, he was a juvenile delinquent and spent three and a half years in a reformatory. After he left the reformatory, he went to live with relatives in Los Angeles, where he worked his way through Polytechnic High School by odd jobs after school, week ends and holidays. He was graduated from high school as valedictorian of his class.

He did not begin playing football until he was a high-school senior, but he soon attracted college scouts and chose U.C.L.A. Sparlis had a full schedule. He practiced and played football. He had jobs in the campus bookstore, as a janitor in the Student Union and as a rigger in a motion-picture studio. He carried a heavy scholastic load in the sciences. At one point, his schedule got so overloaded he flunked second-semester calculus.

Sparlis' case came before the reinstatement committee, of which I was chairman. One of the members suggested the trouble with Sparlis was that he had come to U.C.L.A. only to play football. But I pointed out that anybody who came to school just to play football would not be taking calculus even for one semester and that Al should be permitted to make up his deficiency in summer school. The committee agreed and never regretted its decision.

continued

"Players average well academically."

A boy frequently will be steered toward an interest in study, college, solid citizenship and leadership through the compulsion of football, where possibly nothing else could have succeeded. Terry Debay, who played quarterback, and Bob Heydenfeldt, end, on our 1954 national-championship team, came from broken homes and were running with gangs until football at Canoga Park High got them reoriented and interested in college. Both are now lieutenants in the Air Force.

Another member of that team who had come from a broken home was Bob Davenport, the All America fullback. Bob always was a well-behaved, clean-cut boy, but he was showing little interest in studies at Long Beach Jordan High until football success resulted in his meeting the girl he was later to marry. She influenced him into thinking about going to college and improving his grades. He went to work and raised his average from "C" as a junior to "A" as a senior. Davenport today is playing professional football in Canada. (An average of a little more than three of our football squad, not an unreasonable number, go into the pro game annually.) Bob may subsequently enter the ministry or social service. Like Debay, Heydenfeldt and other players, Davenport has been prominent in the Campus Crusade for Christ movement, which began at U.C.L.A. in 1951 and has spread to 50 colleges.

I have known for a long time that football players stack up favorably in academic work, compared with the rest of the student body, and was pleased when statistical substantiation was provided recently. A U.C.L.A. faculty committee, appointed by the legislative assembly of the Academic Senate, conducted a summer-long study of athletics at the school. The summation of its 115-page report said:

"The U.C.L.A. athlete is a bona fide student meeting entrance requirements imposed on all students. He is taking a normal study load program, widely diversified in major subject. His scholastic achievement is slightly above the university average for undergraduate male students. He is moving with more than normal progress toward a degree, his rate of persistence is high in relation to the general university average, and he is more likely to carry through to graduation than is the average male student."

It should not be surprising that the average football player does

continued

"Football teaches a boy many lessons."

adequate academic work. Football, as played today, requires a player who can think—and think under pressure. A football player, as we have seen, must be a competitor. So must a good student. In a football game, the players compete with each other. In class, students compete with each other also, but more directly with the subject. In science, they compete with the problems presented by nature.

As a course of instruction, football teaches a boy far more than playing techniques. He learns from it the values of competition, teamwork and sacrifice, and how to accept defeat and victory.

The game at the end of the week presents the stiffest kind of final examinations. The preliminary exams, often as exacting as the finals, the lectures, the study, the laboratory work come in the daily practice sessions. Many of my U.C.L.A. faculty confreres share my enthusiasm for watching our practices conducted by Coach Red Sanders and his staff. For here, we see the degree of planned order and seriousness that we like to see in a classroom.

As faculty representative of athletics to the Pacific Coast Conference, I voted against the abolition of spring practice, which the P.C.C. was considering a few years back. I would have voted to abolish it if I could have seen that it involved any misdirection of the students' time; I also would have done so if the coaches had told me it was contributing nothing to the improvement of the skills of the players. By the same reasoning, I would cut down laboratory work in a scientific course only if it could be shown it was not helping.

In conclusion, I would like to reiterate that college football gets into trouble mainly because we fail to apply a realistic definition of a collegiate amateur. I consider the definition so important that I would like to repeat it:

One who is a bona fide student and receives what aid he needs, possibly including a job, to meet his cost of living, but does not make a profit.

Once we apply this definition, everybody concerned can do a better job of policing the players who do make a profit. You can't police an abuse properly if you are diverting part of your effort to policing what is not an abuse. Football is worth policing properly. Intercollegiate sports promote many positive virtues—none of them more so than football.

END

UNITED NATIONS
Department of Public Information
Press and Publications Division
United Nations, N. Y.

(For use of information media--not an official record)

Press Release PM/3237
12 November 1956

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE ON PRINCE WAN WAITHAYAKON (THAILAND), PRESIDENT OF THE ELEVENTH SESSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Prince Wan Waithayakon, President of the eleventh session of the General Assembly, is Thailand's Minister for Foreign Affairs. He has served as his country's ambassador to the United States and permanent representative to the United Nations since 1947.

Born in Bangkok, Thailand in 1891, Prince Wan was educated at Oxford and at the Ecole Libre des Sciences Politiques in Paris.

He was Secretary of Thailand's legation in Paris in 1917 and later served as Chief of Cabinet, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs and as Minister of Thailand in London, Brussels and The Hague.

Prince Wan was professor of history at the Chulalankarana University in 1931 and acting dean of the Faculty of Law in 1933.

He was chairman of Thailand's delegation to the League of Nations Assembly, and a delegate to a number of international conferences from 1928 to 1930. For six years he served as a member of the Permanent Court of Arbitration at The Hague and in 1946 was head of the Thai delegation for the regulation of territorial differences between France and Thailand.

At the United Nations, Prince Wan was vice-chairman of the Sixth Committee during the third session of the General Assembly, vice-chairman of the Fourth Committee during the fourth session, chairman of the Fourth Committee during the fifth session, chairman of the Second Committee during the sixth session, chairman of the Sixth Committee during the seventh session, chairman of Thailand's delegation to the eighth and ninth sessions and chairman of the Ad Hoc Political Committee during the tenth session.

Prince Wan was co-chairman during the Korean phase of the Geneva Conference in April 1954.

* *** *

BEHIND THE SCENES

Physicist Kaplan demonstrates models of satellite and its launching rocket.

When it comes to the "scientific" selection of football winners, no gridiron fan has an edge on U.C.L.A.'s Dr. Joseph Kaplan, author of The Case for Big-Time Football. Dr. Joe, faculty representative of athletics, knows a lot more than his football. One of the nation's leading scientists, he is currently chairman of the U. S. National Committee for the International Geophysical Year. During the "year"—scheduled to last from July 1, 1957, through December 31, 1958—50 nations, including Russia, will make an unprecedented joint study of man's physical environment. Probably the most spectacular phase of the program will be the launching of a man-made satellite (see model above) that will circle the earth at a speed of 18,000 mph. Physicist Kaplan also teaches at U.C.L.A., serves on a local smog-control committee and is a top research adviser to the Air Force. Usually a calm pipe-smoker, Kaplan disclosed another side of his nature recently when he admitted: "I am a five-cigar man at a football game."

PUBLIC INFORMATION OFFICE
UNITED STATES MILITARY ACADEMY
WEST POINT, NEW YORK

3 October 1956

MAJOR GENERAL GARRISON ("GAR") HOLT DAVIDSON, U. S. A.
Superintendent, U S Military Academy
West Point, New York

Garrison H Davidson was born in the Fordham section of New York City on April 24, 1904, and was graduated from the United States Military Academy on June 14, 1927, with a Bachelor of Science degree, and commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Corps of Engineers.

His initial assignment was as Assistant Football Boach at the Academy in September 1927. Until the fall of 1930, he alternated between coaching at the Academy each fall and service as a platoon leader with the 1st Engineers at Fort Dupont, Delaware, and Camp Dix, New Jersey. After 1930, he remained at the Academy as an instructor in the Department of Natural and Experimental Philosophy, doubling as assistant football coach each fall.

When still a second lieutenant, in October 1932, he was chosen as Head Football Coach at the United States Military Academy and remained until June 1938. He is the youngest to have held that position. An Associated Press survey made in December 1937 of football records ranked Army sixteenth among the leading football teams of the nation for the five seasons, 1933 to 1937 inclusive.

In July 1938, he was transferred to Hawaii for duty. He initially commanded a company of the 3d Engineers at Schofield Barracks and later served as Asst G-4 of the Hawaiian Division. In July 1940 he was detailed as Air Base Engineer, Hamilton Field, California.

He was ordered to duty in Washington, DC, in January 1941 with the Construction Division of the Office of the Chief of Engineers and was assigned staff supervision over the near-billion dollar program of the United States in preparation for World War II. He served until September 1942 when he was named Executive Officer to the Engineer of the Western Task Force, which under General Patton invaded North Africa two months later. In November 1942 he became General Patton's Engineer in the First Armored Corps, in the North African Theater of Operations, and served in that capacity in North Africa and later when the Corps became the Seventh Army on D-Day in Sicily.

Commenting on the performance of the Engineer troops in Sicily, (then) General Eisenhower stated, "Only through the Engineers has the end of the campaign come so quickly." At the close of the Sicilian campaign, General Patton pinned the stars of a brigadier general on him at 39, making him one of the youngest general officers in the Ground Forces.

During the month following General Patton's departure from the Seventh Army and prior to General Patch's arrival, he "commanded" the Seventh Army, then a planning headquarters. In this capacity he was called on during this period to recommend the area of Southern France into which the assault from the south should be launched. He named the area between Cavalaire and Agay on the Cote d'Azur, which was not changed during the months of further study and planning that followed, and where the assault was made some four or five months later. He continued as army engineer under General Patch throughout the campaigns in France and Germany.

(MORE)

Of the performance of the Engineer troops in the landing in Southern France and the pursuit of the German forces up the Rhone Valley to the Vosges, General Patch commented: "The engineer support of the operation of the Seventh Army was the highlight performance of the Army."

In July 1945, General Davidson became president of the first German War Crimes Commission and conducted the first mass trial of German war criminals at Darmstadt, Germany, preceding the Nurnberg trials. In August 1945 he was appointed Engineer of the Theater Board, ETO, commanded by General Patton.

Back in the United States, in March 1946, he was assigned to Headquarters, Sixth Army, as Engineer. In September 1947 General Mark Clark, commanding the Sixth Army, appointed him as his Chief of Staff. He continued in that capacity after General Wedemeyer took command, in mid-1950.

In August 1950 he was assigned to the Eighth Army in Korea and was appointed Assistant Division Commander of the 24th Division. He commanded several task forces, notably one which eliminated the last North Korean penetration of the Pusan perimeter just prior to the Inchon Landing and one which held the bridgehead North of Anju, against which the first Chinese intervention was stopped in the first week of November 1950. In February 1951 he was assigned to Headquarters Eighth Army and designated to supervise the construction of several defense lines, including the line North of Seoul, against which the Chinese operation of April 1951 piled up and was stopped. In May 1951 he was appointed Acting Chief of the Korean Military Advisory Group where he served until July 10, when he returned to the United States.

He served as senior ground force advisor in the Weapons Systems Evaluation Group of the Office of the Secretary of Defense until he assumed command of the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, on July 3, 1954.

In July 1956, General Davidson succeeded Lieut General B M Bryan as Superintendent of the United States Military Academy, West Point, New York.

DECORATIONS

General Davidson holds the following decorations: Distinguished Service Medal, (with Oak Leaf Cluster); Silver Star; Legion of Merit; Bronze Star; Army Commendation Ribbon, (with Oak Leaf Cluster); Presidential Unit Citation, Legion of Honor (French); Croix de Guerre (French); Commander, Order of the British Empire; Korean Presidential Unit Citation; Korean Military Order of Merit, Taeguk.

Battle Stars - 13 (7 World War II), (6 Korean)

Bronze Arrowhead - (Fedala, French Morocco - Gela, Sicily - St Tropes, Southern France).

FAMILY

General Davidson and his wife, the former Miss Verone Gruenther, have six children: Garrison Holt, (12 December 1935); Thomas Marshall, (19 June 1937); Alan Richard, (6 March 1942), Linda Lee, (24 May 1952); and twins, Bonnie Elaine and Gail Marie, (1 September 1955).

(END)

October 24, 1956

Dear Mr. Barnhardt:

Thank you for your letter of October 15th. It gives me great pleasure to tell you that I have reserved the evening of November 21st, and will be honored to attend the Fifth Annual Ball of the Royal Society of the Knights of the Carrousel.

Thank you again.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. William H. Barnhardt
P.O. Box 748
Charlotte 1, North Carolina

rh

WILLIAM H. BARNHARDT
P. O. BOX 748
CHARLOTTE 1, N. C.

PRESIDENT
BARNHARDT BROTHERS COMPANY
SOUTHERN WEBBING MILLS, INC.
TRYON PROCESSING COMPANY
BARNHARDT ELASTIC CORPORATION
AMERICAN TEXTILE CORPORATION
MOSS FOY TEXTILE COMPANY, INC.
COTSWOLD SHOPPING CENTER, INC.
JACKSON ENGINEERING COMPANY
BARNHARDT FOUNDATION, INC.

October 15, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York-22, N. Y.

Yes

Re: Fifth Annual Ball of the Royal Society of the Knights of the Carrousel - to be held Nov. 21, 1956 - Ten o'clock p. m. - -

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Further regarding our letter to you of February 18, and your kind reply of March 7. I hope that you now have your time scheduled for November and that you have reserved the evening of November 21 for the Carrousel Ball.

You have been selected as the outstanding North Carolinian to be honored by being dubbed into the Society's Dukedom. Last year, Governor Luther Hodges was the only North Carolinian selected for this honor.

The Carolinas' Carrousel Ball is held in Charlotte's new four million dollar Coliseum, and is an outstanding event of this area. Last year approximately 500,000 people witnessed the parade which is held the day following the Ball. In attendance at the Ball are Princesses from approximately forty towns in North and South Carolina. For the past two years Miss America has attended the Carrousel Ball and has been dubbed a "Dutchess" in the Royal Society.

We hope that it will be our privilege to honor you at the coming Ball, and we shall appreciate a word from you, at your convenience, so proper arrangements can be made.

Thank you, and with every good wish -

Sincerely,

William H. Barnhardt

William H. Barnhardt

WHB:dac

Eng Past

RECEIVED
1956 NOV 16 PM 1:38
C.B.S. TRAFFIC DEPT. N.Y.

WU004 PD

CHARLOTTE NCAR NOV 16 959AME

EDWARD R MURROW

COLUMBIA BROADCASTING CO

GLAD YOU ARE BACK IN THIS COUNTRY SAFE AND VERY HAPPY THAT YOU ARE ARRIVING WEDNESDAY AT 518PM I CERTAINLY WILL MEET YOU AND SEE THAT YOU ARE TAKEN CARE OF AND GET YOU TO THE RADIO STATION AND THE BALL ON TIME HAVE RESERVATIONS FOR A SUITE OF ROOMS AT THE HOTEL CHARLOTTE WOULD APPRECIATE ADVISING IF ANYONE WILL BE WITH YOU THE DRESS WILL BE WHITE TIE AND TAILS AND IF MRS MURROW CAN COME WHITE EVENING DRESSES ARE WORN FOR THE OCCASION UNLESS I HEAR TO THE CONTRARY I WILL MEET THE DELTA FLIGHT 415 ON WEDNESDAY BEST WISHES

C N WITMER

1122A..

NOVEMBER 15, 1956

MR. CHARLES N. WITMER
ROSS & WITMER, INC.
CHARLOTTE 6, NORTH CAROLINA

HAVE JUST RETURNED FROM ISRAEL THUS THE DELAY IN REPLYING YOUR LETTER STOP MANY THANKS INVITATION TO STAY WITH MAUDIE AND YOU BUT HAVE DECIDED TO STAY AT HOTEL STOP WOULD BE MOST GRATEFUL IF YOU COULD RESERVE A ROOM FOR ME AT ONE OF THE HOTELS FOR NIGHT OF NOVEMBER 21st STOP WILL ARRIVE VIA DELTA AIRLINES FLIGHT NO. 415 AT 5:18 PM ON THE 21st AND WILL HAVE TO BROADCAST MY 7:45 PM RADIO NEWS SHOW FROM CHARLOTTE STOP LOOK FORWARD TO SEEING YOU.

ED MURROW

414-710-43

ROSS & WITMER, INC.
CHARLOTTE 6, N. C.

CHARLES N. WITMER
PRESIDENT

October 30, 1956

SPECIAL DELIVERY

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
385 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

I have been trying to call you for two days, but I have been out of the office a lot and so have you.

I have a copy of Mr. Barnhardt's letter to you regarding your staying with him while you are here for the Knights of the Carrousel party. Knowing Bill Barnhardt, and knowing he does not drink or approve of it, I believe you will be much happier to stay with Maudie and me while you are here; also, Mrs. Murrow, if she decides to come with you.

I called Bill Barnhardt and told him I talked to you about this while I was in New York and he says it is perfectly alright if you want to stay with us.

I know you will enjoy this occasion, Ed, and we are certainly grateful to you for honoring us with your presence.

Please advise me as soon as possible regarding your arrival, if you go along with my thinking on the above.

Sincerely,

Charlie

C. N. Witmer

CNW/hs

NOVEMBER 15, 1956

MR. WILLIAM H. BARNHARDT
P. O. BOX 748
CHARLOTTE 1, NORTH CAROLINA

HAVE JUST RETURNED FROM ISRAEL THUS THE DELAY IN REPLYING YOUR LETTER STOP MANY THANKS FOR INVITATION TO STAY AT YOUR HOME BUT DUE TO BROADCASTING MY REGULAR RADIO SHOW WOULD BE BETTER IF I STAYED AT HOTEL STOP WILL ARRIVE ON THE 21st VIA DELTA AIRLINE FLIGHT NO. 415 DUE TO ARRIVE CHARLOTTE 5:18 PM STOP THANKS AGAIN.

EDWARD R. MURROW

414-710-43

WILLIAM H. BARNHARDT
P. O. BOX 748
CHARLOTTE 1, N. C.

PRESIDENT
BARNHARDT BROTHERS COMPANY
SOUTHERN WEBBING MILLS, INC.
TRYON PROCESSING COMPANY
BARNHARDT ELASTIC CORPORATION
AMERICAN TEXTILE CORPORATION
MOSS FOY TEXTILE COMPANY, INC.
COTSWOLD SHOPPING CENTER, INC.
JACKSON ENGINEERING COMPANY
BARNHARDT FOUNDATION, INC.

October 27, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York-22, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Thanks for your kind letter of October 24. We are happy to know that you will be able to attend the Fifth Annual Ball of the Royal Society of the Knights of the Carrousel.

Mrs. Barnhardt and I would be very pleased to have you and Mrs. Murrow, if she can accompany you, to stay at our home while you are in Charlotte. We have ample room for your comfort and convenience, and since the hotels will be quite crowded during the Carrousel activities, I believe you will be more comfortable in our home than if you stayed down town.

When your plans are made, I shall appreciate your advising me as to the time of your arrival, so I can meet you.

Looking forward to the pleasure of seeing you again, and with every good wish, I am

Sincerely,

William H. Barnhardt

William H. Barnhardt

WHB:dac

ROSS & WITMER, INC.
CHARLOTTE 6, N. C.

CHARLES N. WITMER
PRESIDENT

October 8, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
Madison Avenue
New York City, New York

Dear Ed:

I know that you have been running all around the country but I'm certainly glad to see that you have made it back safe again and will be back on the air tonight.

The purpose of this letter is to let you know that we are certainly expecting you down here the night of November 21st to be dubbed a Duke in the Knights of the Carrousel and receive the distinguished service award for a North Carolinian that we think is very outstanding.

As I told you when I was in New York, the people that have been dubbed before you, so that you will know that this is not just a fly-by-night organization, has been both the governor of our own state, Governor Hodges, and the governor of South Carolina, and you are the one that has been picked for this year, as you already know.

For your information, Ed, I understand that you will not have to be at the Coliseum until around 9:30 the night of the big Ball and I am sincerely hoping that you can arrange to have your broadcast from here in Charlotte that evening and be with us.

Naturally, we would like to have a definite committment from you as soon as possible, but we just can't take no for an answer.

I'm certainly sorry that I didn't get back from my golf game in time to come by and have a drink with you, while I was in New York, but I did leave you a note on some rough paper Saturday morning but I knew that you would be out at your home, however, I wanted you to know that I dropped by.

Please let us hear from you, Ed, and I know that both Bill Barnhardt, who is president and Grant Whitney, who really runs the show, is expecting you to be here. We'll be hoping to hear from you real soon. My best wishes to you and on the side you might be pulling for Georgia-Tech to win the National Championship this year. I certainly think we have a possibility but I don't know whether we play a tough enough schedule

Maude joins me in best wishes to you.

Sincerely, your friend,

Charlie

C. N. Witmer

CNWab

Eng Dec
Post

March 7, 1956

Dear Mr. Barnhardt:

Many thanks for your cordial letter of February 18th.

I am flattered and honored by your invitation to come to the Carrousel Ball on November 21st and to be dubbed a Duke.

Unfortunately it is impossible for me to predict at this point where I shall be on November 21st so I cannot make a commitment.

Many thanks again.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. William H. Barnhardt
P.O. Box 748
Charlotte 1, North Carolina

fc

WILLIAM H. BARNHARDT
P. O. BOX 748
CHARLOTTE 1, N. C.

PRESIDENT
BARNHARDT BROTHERS COMPANY
SOUTHERN WEBBING MILLS, INC.
TRYON PROCESSING COMPANY
BARNHARDT ELASTIC CORPORATION
AMERICAN TEXTILE CORPORATION
MOSS FOY TEXTILE COMPANY, INC.
COTSWOLD SHOPPING CENTER, INC.
JACKSON ENGINEERING COMPANY
BARNHARDT FOUNDATION, INC.

February 18, 1956

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York-22, N. Y.

Re: Fifth Annual Ball of the Royal Society
Knights of the Carrousel - to be held
November 21, 1956

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Referring further to the conversation between you and Charlie Crutchfield when you were in Charlotte last month. You have been selected as the outstanding North Carolinian to be honored by being dubbed into the Society's Dukedom. The Ball will be held on the twenty-first of November in Charlotte's new four million dollar Coliseum. We hope that you will be able to accept this invitation.

Last year, Governor Luther Hodges was the North Carolinian selected for this honor. The enclosed newspaper clippings show a picture of Governor Hodges being dubbed a "Duke". At the 1953 Carrousel Ball, Mr. Gordon Gray, former Secretary of the Army, and President of the University of North Carolina, was dubbed a Duke. In 1952, the Honorable Robert L. Doughton, at that time Chairman of the powerful Ways and Means Committee, was dubbed a Duke.

The Carrousel Ball begins at ten o'clock p. m., so you would have plenty of time to deliver your seven forty-five p. m. news broadcast from WBTV.

The Carolinas Carrousel has grown to be a great event in our city. Last year it was estimated that approximately 500,000 people witnessed the parade, which is held the day following the ball. Princesses are selected from some thirty or forty towns in North and South Carolina, and these beautiful girls adorn attractive floats in the parade.

For the past two years, Miss America has attended the Carrousel Ball and has been dubbed a "Dutchess" in the Royal Society.

To further illustrate this event in our city, I am enclosing other pictures taken at the ball and at the parade.

We hope that your schedule will permit your presence and acceptance of this honor, and we shall appreciate very much your advice regarding the matter, as soon as possible, so that proper arrangements can be made.

Again, let me tell you how much the Charlotte people enjoyed your wonderful talk before the Executives Club last month. We are looking forward to the pleasure of having you with us again for the Carrousel B

Sincerely,
William H. Barnhardt
William H. Barnhardt

WHB:dac

Parade-Like

THE CAROLINAS—Clearing and cooler today. Increasing cloudiness, cold Friday.

CHARLOTTE AREA — Fair and cooler. Expected high 58, low tonight 30.

Temperatures High 63; Low 51
Year Ago High 46; Low 40

The Charlotte Observer

Foremost Newspaper Of The Carolinas

Vol. 87, No. 229 THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1955 58 Pages 5 Cents

1,811,300
People Live in the CHARLOTTE
36-County Market Area

The Observer is served by the Associated Press, Chicago News World Service, Washington, Raleigh and Columbia Bureaus.

(Observer Photo—Kelly)

Gov. Hodges Is Dubbed A 'Duke' By 'King' Barnhardt
Looking On Are 'Friar' Lawrence Stell (far left) And 'Baron' Grant Whitney

It'll Be Dry And Brisk For Carrousel Parade

Thousands Expected To Attend

Police, Firemen Called To Duty For Annual Event

By DON OBERDORFER
Observer Staff Writer

You'll need your overcoat for the Carrousel Parade at 3 p. m. today, but the weatherman gleefully says you can leave raincoat, galoshes and umbrella at home.

Fair to partly cloudy is the forecast for this afternoon, with temperatures in the chilly 50's.

It was rainy and miserable Wednesday but this didn't dampen the high spirts of the political leaders, movie stars, local and national glamor gals and their Charlotte hosts who began the dazzling whirlwind of Carrousel activity on that drizzly, foreboding day.

See Full Page Of Pictures On 14-A

Today the 9th annual Carolinas Carrousel spins to its gaudy, brassy climax with the big parade in downtown Charlotte.

Hundreds of thousands of Charlotte's neighbors throughout the two Carolinas are expected to pour into the city from every direction, with a heart full of anticipation for the fun, a story Thanksgiving ta

The motoring thousands will arrive here via highways carefully policed by nearly 50 State Highway Patrolmen, more than 20 of them "loaned" to Charlotte for the occasion from posts at Salisbury, Concord, Kannapolis and Winston-Salem.

LEAVE EARLY

State Highway Patrol advice is leave early, drive carefully and take your time.

In the city itself, 275 policemen

See FAIR, Page 2, Col. 8

(Observer Photo—Kelly)

'I Must Go . . . . . Ze Plane Was Leaving . . . . . Oh, I Run'

Ike To See Hall Monday On Politics

GETTYSBURG, Pa. — (AP) — President Eisenhower set up today his first full-fledged political conference since his Sept. 24 heart attack—a meeting Monday with Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall.

Whether the two top men in the GOP will get into the intriguing topic of a second term for Eisenhower is an open question.

Presidential press secretary, James C. Hagerty said only that, "I wouldn't think so." But that by no means slammed the door on an exploration of the President's 1956 intentions.

In any event, Eisenhower is on his way back to a decisive role in Republican party affairs. And soon will be doing business again at the White House in Washington.

On Thanksgiving eve, the President had reason to be doubly grateful:

Members of the family—Mrs. Eisenhower, son John, daughter-in-law Barbara, and the three lively grandchildren — David, Barbara Anne and Susan—were gathering for a turkey-with-trimmings holiday at the big white brick home on the chief executive's country estate.

Barnhardt Named King Of Carrousel

By KAYS GARY
Observer Staff Writer

Industrialist William H. Barnhardt on Friday was crowned King of the Carolinas Carrousel as Charlotte's Four Hundred looked on with 36 princesses.

And King Barnhardt, succeeding J. Norman Pease, in turn placed a smaller, glittering crown upon the brunette head of Ada Katherine Brigman, Queens College student from Lancaster, S. C., selected last year to reign over the 1955 festivities.

This was the fourth annual ball of the Royal Society, Knights of the Carrousel, pulsating with pomp and pageantry in the medieval court setting created in the Coliseum.

Sharing the honors on a floodlighted dais beneath the throne were North Carolina's Governor Luther H. Hodges and South Carolina's Lieutenant-Governor Ernest Hollings, dubbed into the Society's Dukedom; the new Miss America, Sharon Kay Ritchie; Raleigh's Faye Arnold, Miss North Carolina; Conway's Martha Dean Chestnut, Miss South Carolina; and Ruth Reynolds, Miss Charlotte.

And finally, there was the vivacious blonde film actress, Denise Darcel, who had flown from Paris for the occasion and will return to the French capital Saturday.

The ceremony was climaxed when 22 new Knights were tapped into the Society.

But for some 350 spectators, first to be admitted to witness the Society's doings, stars of it all

See BARNHARDT, Page 2, Col. 2

Wrong Reply For $32,000 Wins Anyway

A Czech-born naturalized citizen gave the wrong answer in part of his reply to "The $64,000 Question" television radio show Tuesday night, but he won the $32,000 anyway because the producer made an error.

Steven Frolich, 39, a Princeton, N. J., seed dealer, was asked the name, the year of enactment and the subject of the last seven amendments to the Constitution.

When he came to the 19th he gave the subject—women's vote—correctly and started guessing about the year, stating 1920 and 1921. Finally he settled on 1921 and the producer accepted it as correct. Records show it became law in 1920.

"This is our error," a spokesman for the producer said Wednesday, "and if ever any error is made by us we have to rule in favor of the contestant."

Hold Ze Plane; Denise Ees Late

By SAM McKEEL
Observer Staff Writer

"Ze zings started whirling and ze wheels started rolling and I cried, 'M'sieur, M'sieur, M'sieur, M'sieur!'"

And Denise Darcel almost didn't keep her date with waiting Carolinas Carrousel officials, newspaper reporters and photographers and television cameras Wednesday at Municipal Airport.

As it was the Parisan beauty stepped off the Eastern Airlines Constellation in the raw and chilly rain some 30 minutes late.

She must have created quite a scene as she bustled across the Richmond, Va., airport screaming for the "M'sieur who drove the plane" to wait for her.

But let the blonde movie queen tell the story that was prompted by this question:

"Miss Darcel, I understand that the plane almost left you in Richmond?"

"Oh, I hoped zat you would know nothing about zat (the tip came from a stewardess).

"Well, I saw zis friend at Richmond and we started talking about Paris and I got so excited zat I did not even hear ze man talking about ze plane and it didn't have zis zip (up with the hand for portable stairway) and ze zings started whirling (vigorous circular hand motions) and ze wheels started turning and I cried 'M'sieur, M'sieur, M'sieur, M'sieur.

"Zey stopped and got me and I said zat I would 'ave chartered a private plane if zey hadn't stopped 'cause zey were expecting me at Charlotte and I had to be here."

Notes, impossible as the ex-

See HOLD, Page 2, Col. 6.

Bonn Names Anti-Nazis To Lead Army

BONN, Germany —(AP)— The West German government reorganized its defense ministry Wednesday and named two anti-Nazi generals to top posts in building up the nation's new 500,000-man armed forces.

Lt. Gen. Adolf Heusinger, 58, who was arrested in the 1944 bomb plot against Hitler, was appointed chairman of a new supreme military council and will be the chief military planner.

Under him will be Lt. Gen. Hans Speidel, also 58 and who also was arrested as a suspect in the bomb plot, as chief of a newly created armed forces department.

In the ministry's reorganization new departments were set up for the army, navy and air force. With the armed forces departments, these departments will make up the supreme military council over which Heusinger will preside.

By 1959, the Bonn government plans to have 500,000 men under arms in a 12-division army, a 1,300-plane tactical air force and a coastal defense navy. These forces are to be integrated into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

CARROUSEL SCHEDULE

8:30 a. m.—Vice president's breakfast, Hotel Charlotte.

9:30 a. m.—Princesses to attend Thanksgiving church services.

12:00 — Executive vice president's luncheon at Barringer Hotel.

12:00 — Governors' luncheon at City Club.

3 p. m.—Carolinas Carrousel parade.

6 p. m.—President's dinner at Hotel Charlotte where 1956 queen will be announced.

WHERE TO FIND THE FEATURES

Bridge	13C	Puzzle	13C
Cl's'fied	6-11C	Radio-TV	12C
Columns	2-3C	Sports	8-10B
Comics	12-13C	Star Gazer	13C
Editorials	2C	Theaters	6-7B
Financial	4-5C	Wiggam	13C
Hopper	7B	Winchell	13C
Obituaries	15A	Women	1-5B

(Observer Phone—ED 2-7121)

IKE QUITS IF HE DOES

Worst Farm Crisis Is Over – Benson

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson, confident of a "bright future" for farmers, said Wednesday he believes nobody should make a political football out of the farm problem.

"The worst part of our adjustment is behind us," Benson said.

He made two speeches here in quick succession—one to the National Grange convention and the other to the Chamber of Commerce's Farmers' Club.

The grangemen applauded Benson when he declared he would "never knowingly advocate or support any policy or program which I believe is not in the best interests of our farmers and fair to all of our people—regardless of political pressure."

Between speeches, Benson told a reporter he had advised President Eisenhower he would be "greatly relieved" to leave his post after two years' service. He said the President replied, "Ezra, if you quit, I do too."

"I wouldn't remain in this hot spot for 24 hours," Benson told the businessmen, "if I didn't believe that farmers want to produce for a free market, not for government warehouses. I can't imagine any man in his right mind wanting to be secretary of agriculture.

2 'Hunters' Enter Bank, Bag $13,103

HAMMOND, Ind. —(AP)— Two young men bundled up in hunting togs waved pistols at 10 persons in a branch bank in a busy shopping center Wednesday and escaped with $13,103 from the cash drawers.

An alarm immediately was spread in Indiana and Illinois to pick up the gunmen in a flashy red and white 1954 Oldsmobile "98."

The loot included $5,000 in $100 bills.

No one was hurt, but the four employes and six customers were forced to lie face down on the floor.

One of the women customers, who had been carrying a 2-year-old baby, said she hid the child under her as she lay on the floor, and the crying child became ill from fright.

GIs To Attack Turkey Today —Bird, That Is

HEIDELBERG, Germany —(AP)— A quarter of a million combat-trained U. S. soldiers will launch a major attack today on 250,000 pounds of Thanksgiving Day turkey.

This army of GIs will storm hundreds of mess halls throughout Europe-and at other far-flung bases—for the traditional American meal, with all the trimmin's The European Command promises there will be enough roast turkey to provide each soldier with at least one pound.

TRIMMIN'S

With it will go: shrimp cocktail, giblet gravy, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, glazed sweet potatoes, fresh peas, Waldorf salad, celery, olives, sweet pickles, hot rolls and butter, mince and pumpkin pie, coffee, fruit, candy and nuts.

Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, commander in chief of the U. S. Army in Europe said in a Thanksgiving message:

"We have much to be thankful for. We are thankful for our many material benefits. We are thankful for the liberty and freedom which we enjoy as Americans and we are thankful for the privilege of serving our country."

Lt. Gen. William H. Turner, commander in chief of the U.S. Air Force in Europe, said in a statement:

UN Deadlock Delays Meeting

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)— The U. N. Wednesday canceled a meeting of the General Assembly scheduled for Friday for a further attempt to break the deadlock over a Security Council seat.

"On this Thanksgiving Day 1955, let us especially include thanks for our friends and allies and for our joint strength, courage and determination to protect the God-given rights of free men."

German Women Seek Free Help

BERLIN —(AP)— Working wives in Communist East Germany complained Wednesday that the state should provide some "peoples owned" servants so they can get their housework done.

East German newspapers in Chemnitz and Plauen reported that in "discusion groups" working wives said they couldn't get around to doing their jobs in factory, mill or office and also keep a home together. They asked for establishment of state employment ofices with part-time maids—on call.

Indians Put Aside Strife To Fete Reds

BOMBAY, India —(AP)— Political factions battling over the partition of Bombay State laid aside their differences Wednesday to give visiting Soviet leaders Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Krushchev a massive welcome to India's most modern city.

There was no hint of violence as vast crowds lining the 12-mile route from the airport to the Bombay governor's palace waved Communist and Indian flags and shouted slogans as their cars passed.

The bitter dispute over Nehru's Congress party proposal to create an independent state from the city of Bombay which cost 12 lives in rioting Monday was no longer apparent.

Political leaders said leftists including Communists — who used stones, bricks and fire to show their displeasure at the proposal have agreed on a truce until the Soviet visitors are gone.

Today's Chuckle

They say you can't take it with you, but will you have enough to get there?

What's It Like To Try For Queen?

See front of Woman's Section, Page 1B, for a report in pictures and text. Thirty-nine Carolinas beauties are vying today for the "Queen Carrousel" title.

AEC REPORTS GREATEST ONE YET

Russia Sets Off Huge Nuclear Blast

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission reported Wednesday the Russians have set off their greatest nuclear explosion yet. It was described as in the range of millions of tons of TNT.

The size of the blast would indicate it was a hydrogen bomb burst.

The AEC announcement said the current Russian tests indicate "an increasingly intensive effort by the Soviet government to develop their nuclear weapons potential."

The text of the AEC statement:

"Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, announced today that another explosion had taken place in the current Soviet test series.

"Following the policy of reporting to the American people information of significance concerning Soviet weapons tests, Mr. Strauss said that this explosion was the largest thus far in the U.S.S.R. and was in the range of megatons (a megaton represents the explosive equivalent of one million tons of TNT).

"The Russian tests indicate an increasingly intensive effort by the Soviet government to develop their nuclear weapons potenial."

Ordinary fission-type atomic blasts normally are measured in kilotons, i.e., thousands of tons of TNT, while fusions blasts have been measured in megatons.

The most recent previous AEC announcement of a Russian nuclear explosion came Nov. 10, part of the 1955 series being conducted by the Soviets.

The first United States announcement of a Russian atomic explosion came Sept. 23, 1949, and others have followed from time to time.

France Proposes Ban On A-Tests

UNITED NATONS, N. Y.—(AP) —Jules Moch of France Wednesday proposed a ban on the use of atomic weapons and prohibition of nuclear weapons tests as part of a compromise plan leading to world disarmament.

Speaking to the first meeting of the U.N. Disarmament Commission after the Big Four foreign ministers' deadlock in Geneva, Moch appeared to take two key points from the Soviet disarmament platform.

But he balanced those with demands for effective disarmament controls and full use of the Eisenhower, Eden and Faure plans.

President Eisenhower proposed at the Geneva conference last summer an aerial inspection program and an exchange of military blueprints with Russia. Prime Minister Eden suggested limited arms reduction with a demilitarized zone along the Iron Curtain border. Premier Faure proposed disarmament control through national budgets.

After Moch spoke. American sources said the United States still insists any disarmament program must be preceded by adoption of President Eisenhower's plan.

Moscow has advocated a ban on atomic bombs since 1946. The United States has said it would accept such a ban only when a comprehensive disarmament plan is in full operation.

It's Carrousel Time—With King, Queen, Princesses, Dukes, Knights

A Peak Around The Corner

Dick Hancock and Miss N. C., Faye Arnold (center), and Miss S. C., Martha Dean Chestnut, watch festivities from behind the scenes.

A New Carrousel King Is Crowned

Last year's king, Col. J. Norman Pease, crowns the 1955 monarch of the Carrousel, William H. Barnhardt, as George Ivey (left), a former King, Grant Whitney, and Dr. Lawrence Stell (top) watch the proceedings.

Doorman Admits Guests To The Coronation Ball

Being admitted to the Coliseum by the doorman are, from left, Russell A. Crump, Mrs. D. M. McSpadden, and Mrs. Russell A. Crump.

Queen Ada Katherine Brigman

Their Majesties Hold Forth Over Royal Court

King And Queen Survey Their Domain

Everybody Wants A Princess And She's Got Them

Mrs. H. L. Thacker, chairman of the princesses committee, confers with some of the prince consorts at the ball.

And Here They Are, Pretty Princesses

Some of the Carrousel Lovelies from Carolinas cities line up awaiting their turn for dancing and fun.

(Observer Photos—Dumbell, Kelly)

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS

★★★★★ FINAL

Largest Evening Newspaper In The Two Carolinas

Established Dec. 8, 1888 — Charlotte, North Carolina, Thursday, November 24, 1955 — 64 Pages—Price Five Cents

Funny Costumes At Carrousel Carnival Club Party

Festival Reaches Climax

Thousands Crowd City For Carrousel Parade

Charlotte Is Host To Celebrities

Hundreds of thousands of persons jammed Charlotte this afternoon for the climax of the 1955 Carolinas Carrousel — a 150-unit parade through the central business district.

The parade, well over a mile in length, starts at 3 p.m. at the intersection of South and East Blvds. The line of march extends down South Blvd. to Morehead St., along Morehead to Tryon and down Tryon to the intersection of 11th St.

Scheduled to ride in the parade were Gov. Luther Hodges and South Carolina Lt. Gov. E. F. Hollings.

DASH OF GLAMOUR

And to lend a dash of glamour is Miss America, Miss Sharon Kay Ritchie; French film star Denise Darcel, Water Follies star Buster Crabbe, Miss North Carolina, Miss South Carolina, 35 princesses representing communities of the Piedmont Carolinas, and other celebrities.

Also riding in the parade will be William H. Barnhardt, named Carrousel king at the Knights of the Carrousel Ball, and the queen, Ada Katherine Brigman of Lancaster.

On hand for the big parade are 50 floats, as well as 29 bands and many other marching and riding units, expert horsemen, clowns and novelty acts.

PRINCESSES TOUR CITY

The Carrousel started yesterday afternoon with the arrival of princesses. The princesses toured the city then were guests at a dinner given by Mayor Phil Van Every at Hotel Charlotte.

Following this the princesses were honor guests at the annual ball of the Knights of the Carrousel held last night in the city's new Coliseum. Climax of the ball was an elaborate buffet supper served just after midnight.

First event this morning was a breakfast for the princesses at Hotel Charlotte. Later in the morning they attended Thanksgiving services at Charlotte churches.

OTHER EVENTS

They were feted at dinner at the Barringer Hotel at noon, host being Carrousel executive vice president F. Earl Crawford.

After the parade tonight, princesses and Carrousel officials will attend Carrousel President Irwin Belk's supper at Hotel Charlotte.

There one of the princesses will be elected queen of the 1956 Carrousel to reign over the event with a king to be named next Thanksgiving.

Officials and princesses will be guests of the opening performance of Water Follies at the Coliseum.

Queen Ada Katherine Brigman And King William H. Barnhardt

Thanksgiving Day Of Activity For City's Citizens, Guests

By HARRY SHUFORD
Charlotte News Staff Writer

The toothpick brigade was out in full force today as thousands of turkeys disappeared from dinner plates in Charlotte and Mecklenburg County.

But the annual day of prayer and festivities saw much more going on here than a traditional turkey dinner. Schools, offices and stores are closed for the day to permit everyone possible a part in the celebration.

Even prisoners in the Mecklenburg County Jail were served a turkey dinner with all the regular trimmings.

CHURCHES PLAY ROLE

During the day, and particularly this morning, churches are playing an important role in the community celebration. Many held joint services, with the congregations of two or more churches gathering for a single service. Choral programs were held in some instances last night and others are planned tonight.

Public schools of both the city and county are closed today and tomorrow, giving students a long four-day weekend.

Nearly all stores, except for some drug and grocery stores, are closed today, as are office buildings and some industries. City, county, state and federal employes are also enjoying the day off.

PARADE HIGHLIGHT

One of the highlights of Thanksgiving in Charlotte, the annual Carolinas Carrousel parade, was to get under way at 3 p.m. This event draws thousands and thousands of spectators from the surrounding areas as well as the city itself.

Many groups yesterday began the celebration of Thanksgiving by doing their part to see that as many people would be able to enjoy a real Thanksgiving dinner.

Schools held chapel programs yesterday, and many clubs and civic organizations have been working for some days, to gather food baskets to be given to needy families for today.

TRAFFIC WATCHED

During all these festivities, police officials are keeeping an anxious eye on traffic hazards presented by the large numbers of people traveling today.

Police Traffic Capt. Lloyd Henkel said that he expected as much traffic on city streets today as on any day in the year as the thousands of people move in to see the parade.

He said the entire police force is on duty as well as the police reserves today, and added that the Highway Patrol is lending its services to direct traffic.

Highway patrolmen are also out in force today, using all the men and speed detecting equipment available.

Miss South Carolina (Left) And Miss North Carolina

Weather Man Helps Parade

The weather man is doing his bit to help Charlotte's Carrousel parade.

He started off the day with a fine prediction that skies will be only partly cloudy and the mercury will glide upward to the low sixties.

But cold weather is not far off. Already cold air is rushing in, and only the sun is keeping temperature up. A low of 34 is predicted tomorrow.

BARNHARDT KING OF THE BALL

By EMERY WISTER
Charlotte News Staff Writer

There was pomp and ceremony with all the trimmings of a medieval court.

And in the flashbulbs' bright glare, William H. Barnhardt, Charlotte industrialist, was crowned king of the 1955 Carolinas' Carrousel.

And King William, taking the crown from his predecessor, King J. Norman Pease, quickly crowned Ada Katherine Brigman of Lancaster as his queen. He tapped North Carolina Gov. Luther H. Hodges and South Carolina Lt. Gov. F. Ernest Hollings into Dukedom and made 19 Charlotte business men knights.

As hundreds looked the new king welcomed Miss America, Sharon Kay Ritchie; Miss North Carolina, Faye Arnold; Miss South Carolina, Martha Jean Chestnut; Miss Charlotte, Ruth Reynolds; and movie star Denise Darcel and 36 princesses to the throne.

COLORFUL COLISEUM

All this happened last night as the Royal Society of the Knights of the Carrousel held its annual ball in the Coliseum.

And hundreds of knights, their ladies, guests, and members of royalty mixed with beefeaters and heralds on the coliseum floor where ice skaters had glided and basketball players had run before.

The ball opened with dancing and fellowship about 9 p.m. and ended after midnight after a colorful ceremony and a bit of comedy by Miss Darcel and a spectacular performance by Carolyn Willis, world champion baton twirler of Chesterfield, S. C.

A BIG FEAST

Then royalty mixed with celebrities and subjects to stand in line at food tables where a bountiful Thanksgiving feast had been served.

The ceremony started promptly at 10 o'clock when orange-clad beefeaters clomped onto the floor to form a guard of honor.

They were quickly followed by the Heralds, dressed in their costumes of blue and white. Soon after came Grant Whitney, baron of the Royal Society, who ordered that proceedings begin.

"Heralds, sound the alarm," ordered the baron.

And the heralds raised their trumpets to their lips and blew till their cheeks were round and ripe as cherries.

Thence cometh the new king, new queen, princesses, celebrities and later the dukes and knights to the throne.

SOME OLD KINGS

Sharing the dais with new King William were ex-King George M. Ivey Sr., the first to walk to the handsomely decorated throne, and King Norman Pease.

The ceremony lasted until well past 11. Then Miss Darcel sang several songs, climaxing her act by kissing Lt. Gov. Hollings and Gov. Hodges.

Hit of the show was Carolyn Willis, who twirled fire-tipped batons in a darkened coliseum to provide a breathtaking wind-up to the program.

The new knights who were inducted into the society are James Y. Rogers Jr., Newton D. Angier, Edward V. Austin, G. R. Babcock, J. Chadbourn Bolles, James R. Bryant Jr., Paul Buck, Marion W. Crosland, Charles H. Crutchfield, Crawford J. Ferguson, W. D. Flintom, Charles M. Grier, Howard W. Halberstadt, James J. Harris, H. F. Kincey, J. G. Murchison, Edward M. O'Herron Jr., F. N. Thompson and H. M. Wade.

(For more news and pictures of Carrousel activities, see second front page.)

(All Carrousel Photos by Tom Franklin Studios)

Gov. Hodges And S. C. Lt. Gov. Hollings

2 Men Die In Drag Race

MONROE — Two young Union County men died today after their car turned over in a "drag-race" and rolled into a pasture five miles north of Monroe.

Carroll Dean Tarleton, 18, a bridegroom of two weeks, died at 3:30 a.m. in a Monroe hospital. Zander Medlin, 21, died at 5:10 a.m.

Roy Nelson Helms, Monroe, driver of the car with which police said the two were racing, was charged with speeding and racing. He will be charged with manslaughter today, Highway Patrol Cpl. A. C. Bovender said.

Young Tarleton was married this month to the former Barbara Strawn. Medlin's wife is the former Bobby Jean Edwards.

The automobile left the road on a curve on N. C. Highway 200 at about 9 o'clock last night, Cpl. Bovender said.

Tarleton was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Tarleton of Rt. 2, Marshville. Medlin's parents were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Medlin, Rt. 3, Monroe.

Our Weather

Considerable cloudiness and cool today. Partly cloudy tonight and tomorrow. Colder tomorrow.

High yesterday—63.
High today—63.
High tomorrow—59.
Low this morning—54.
Low tonight—34.

Sunrise 7:06 a.m.; sunset 5:13 p.m.

More Weather Data on Page 2-A Committee Will Look For Smoke Engineer

By DICK YOUNG
Charlotte News Staff Writer

Citizen aid will be given in the City government's efforts to find a competent smoke abatement engineer.

A committee of citizens, appointed at yesterday afternoon's session of the City Council, will work with City Manager Henry A. Yancey to assist him in finding a qualified combustion engineer for the local municipal job that has gone begging.

The committee:

Mrs. Raymond Wheeler, of the League of Women Voters, Mrs. W. E. Rixon, of the Charlotte Junior Woman's Club, Councilman James S. Smith, Councilman Claude L. Albea, B. O. Vannort, and Walter Klein.

Appointment of the committee came upon the motion and nomination of Councilwoman Martha Evans after appearance of a large delegation of women before the Council.

The feminine delegation was present to urge immediate initiation of a fullfledged smoke abatement program under the leadership of a qualified combustion engineer.

LONG BATTLE

At the outset Mrs. M. W. Peterson reviewed the interest of the League of Women Voters in smoke elimination.

Organized in the spring of 1947, the League, she said, undertook the eradication of smoke and air pollution as its No. 1 project and it has been a continuing responsibility.

Mrs. Wheeler took the position that the community should get what it is asking for — a qualified combustion engineer.

"A qualified man with experience in this field can save individuals and industries money in the long run, as well as make Charlotte a cleaner and healthier place in which to live," Mrs. Wheeler said.

Mrs. Rixon said she came more for information and asked questions regarding the efforts to obtain a smoke abatement expert.

Mr. Yancey said that advertisements had been inserted in professional magazines of national circulation and that suggestions on prospective appointees had been obtained from the smoke abatement committee of Coal Producers, Inc. at Cincinnati.

KLEIN SOUGHT ADVICE

Mr. Klein said that as a citizen he had recently interested himself in Charlotte's air pollution conditions and had communicated with Arthur Stern, director of the U. S. Public Health Service's program against air pollution.

He quoted Mr. Stern as saying that air pollution was to be blamed more for lung cancer than cigarette smoking.

Mrs. Patsey Harry Goodwin, recalling that the Woman's Club

See CITIZENS on page 2-A

What's Inside

Business	19A
Classified	15-19B
Comics	13B
Editorials	10A
Helen W. Erskine	6A
Features	9B
Obituaries	8A
Radio-TV	18A
Serial	11A
Sports	10-12B
Theaters	14B
Women	2- 8B

Eisenhowers Celebrating

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Like millions of other American families, the Eisenhowers were together today for a traditional Thanksgiving celebration.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower had their son, Maj. John Eisenhower, their daughter-in-law and their three grandchildren with them at their big white farm home for a turkey dinner and some pleasant family talk.

This tranquility may not last long.

Beginning Monday, the chief executive moves closer to full resumption of his official duties and Republican party leadership.

A meeting scheduled that day with GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall could have a bearing on how soon Eisenhower will announce whether he plans to seek a second term. This will be Eisenhower's first meeting with Hall since the President's heart attack two months ago.

Soviet Blast Quickens Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia's mightiest nuclear test blast—probably involving a hydrogen bomb—sharpened the atomic arms race today.

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) announced last night that the Soviets had set off another explosion in their current test series.

He described this blast as "the largest thus far in the U.S.S.R." He said it was "in the range of megatons."

The AEC chairman didn't call it a hydrogen explosion, but only such a thermonuclear blast could produce an energy yield measures in megatons, or an explosive equivalent of millions of tons of TNT. Less powerful fission-type atomic bombs produce yields up to about 100 kilotons—that is, the equivalent of 100,000 tons of TNT. The atomic bomb that levelled Hiroshima 10 years ago was rated in strength at 20,000 tons of TNT.

Strauss' statement left open the question of whether the newest Russian blast was smaller or bigger than the greatest American nuclear explosion on March 1, 1954, at Bikini Atoll in the Pacific. That test blast was estimated unofficially to have had the force of between 15 and 17 million tons of TNT.

"The Russian tests indicate an increasingly intensive effort by the Soviet government to develop their nuclear weapons potential," Strauss said.

Want Husband, Girls? Take Up The Trombone!

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Miss Ivy Benson, who waves the stick for a leading British girl band, says the ladies who play the slide trombone somehow have more sex appeal than their musical sisters.

"I should know," Ivy explained. "Five girl trombonists have left my band this year to get married."

Miss Benson says this, and other factors, have driven her to the conclusion that there must be something about a trombone that drives a man crazy.

"It makes him forget his natural caution," she told newsmen. "It makes him propose."

This strange connection between the trombone and sex makes things tough for Miss Benson in her efforts to keep a sweet band together.

Playing the slide trombone is not an accomplishment that the average young female considers a necessary part of her development—which goes to show how wrong the average young female can be.

Miss Benson's trombonists earn anything from 12 pounds ($23.60) to 25 pounds ($70) a week—a lot of cash in Britain—but she can't keep them because of those would be husbands.

"When I engaged Dorothy England," said Miss Benson, "I thought I was set for a while. Remember I'd lost four before her in the last 12 months.

"Dorothy had a beautiful tone. Her melodic figures were perfect. She was a sensible girl. She could play by ear or read music."

One day, said Miss Benson, she noticed her first trombonist studying what was on her music rack with unusual attention as she blew and pushed.

"But she wasn't studying music. She was reading a furniture catalogue. She'd driven a young man crazy with her trombone, he'd proposed and she was getting ready to fit up a flat. She's leaving us any day now."

Asked if the same thing didn't happen to other pretty instrumentalists, she replied: "Men don't fall over themselves for saxophonists. They don't swoon over viola players. It's trombones."

Baby Boy Is Born To Kirk Douglases

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's a boy for actor Kirk Douglas and his wife, the former Anne Buydens.

The baby, born yesterday, was named Peter.

Evening Prayer

O Lord, deepen in us the longing for communion and fellowship with Thee. Help us by mediation, devotion, worship, and acts of Christian love to keep open the channel Thou has promised, through Christ our Redeemer. Amen.

HARROWING 30 MINUTES came for Pfc. Lee W. Smith, 19, (left) during maneuvers in Louisiana. He dangled for that long under a C119 troop carrier when his release strap tangled during a jump of 82nd Airborne Division forces. With Smith is Col. Marvin McNickle, commander of the paratroopers' planes. (AP Wirephoto)

Reds Making Big Trade Bid At New Delhi Fair

By EUGENE LEVIN

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Communist world is staging a strong campaign to win friends and customers at the Indian industries fair, largest ever held in South Asia.

On hand with impressive exhibits are Russia, Red China, East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Hungary. The exhibits range in size from Hungary's 8,000 square feet to 58,000 for Red China. All are attracting big crowds, with the Indians particularly curious to see what their Chinese neighbors are doing.

There are also displays from the United States, West Germany, Britain, Austria and the Netherlands, and smaller stalls from several other non-Communist countries.

Together the Red exhibits far outweigh those from the Western world, even counting the 100,000 square foot American pavilion.

RED PUBLICITY

In the field of publicity the Reds have had it all their own. The official fair guide carries almost 100 pages of advertisements from Communist states and less than half a dozen from Western governments. Other Red ads appear in buses and in newspapers.

Trade delegations from the Red countries are busy holding news conferences and seeing Indian government officers. From these meetings emerge daily news stories giving the impression the Reds are India's main commercial contacts.

MORE TRADE

Actually, all but a fraction of India's foreign trade is with the United States and Britain. However, Communist countries are getting an increasing share, and the picture may change further when India starts placing orders for its multibillion dollar, second five year plan.

The Communists also are trying to sell their ideology. Each Red pavilion has statues or giant portraits of various Communist leaders. Slogans about peaceful coexistence cover the walls. Every exhibit is showing as much in the way of consumer goods as industrial items—as if to answer Western criticism that Communism ignores the consumer.

Most Western pavilions show mainly what the nations can sell India in the way of industrial and agricultural equipment. A U. S. atomic energy exhibition and the West German pavilion, probably the fair's best organized attempt at selling, help the West hold its own. Crowds fill the American exhibit amphitheater nightly to see the production of TV programs on a closed circuit operated by the Radio Corp. of America.

Traffic Rules Change Asked

Citizen requests for changes in several traffic regulations were presented to City Manager Henry A. Yancey yesterday afternoon.

Suggestion was made by Councilman Steve W. Dellinger that the truck route be changed from West Blvd. to Gold-Argonne St.

He also suggested that the parking ban on Cliffwood Pl. between Dowd Rd. and West Blvd. be lifted on one side.

At the moment there is no parking on either side of this section of the street during peak hours.

Councilman Everett Wilkinson said a request had come to him for elimination of parking on one side of Beatty's Ford Rd. near and beyond Johnson C. Smith University.

He also asked that the state highway commission be prodded into "doing something about" the shoulders on Tuckaseegee Rd.

Mr. Yancey promised investigation of all these requests.

WEATHER

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
WEATHER BUREAU
CHARLOTTE, N. C.
(CHARLOTTE MUNICIPTL AIRPORT)
Nov. 24, 1955

SOUTH CAROLINA: Considerable cloudiness and slightly cooler today and tonight; Friday, cloudy and cool with occasional rain.

NORTH CAROLINA: Diminishing cloudiness and cooler today; mostly fair and colder tonight; low 28 to 35 in mountains, 32 to 39 Piedmont and 36 to 43 coastal plain; Friday, partly cloudy and cool.

Moonrise today 1:41 p.m.; moonset today 1:28 a.m.

Table of temperatures for the 24 hours ending at 8:30 a.m. today:

9:30 a.m.	53	9:30 p.m.	63
10:30 a.m.	56	10:30 p.m.	62
11:30 a.m.	59	11:30 p.m.	61
12:30 p.m.	61	12:30 a.m.	60
1:30 p.m.	59	1:30 a.m.	60
2:30 p.m.	59	2:30 a.m.	60
3:30 p.m.	60	3:30 a.m.	59
4:30 p.m.	60	4:30 a.m.	58
5:30 p.m.	62	5:30 a.m.	56
6:30 p.m.	63	6:30 a.m.	56
7:30 p.m.	62	7:30 a.m.	54
8:30 p.m.	62	8:30 a.m.	54

RELATIVE HUMIDITY
7:30 a.m. 98 per cent.
WIND
7:30 a.m. NNE-2.
SEA LEVEL PRESSURE
7:30 a.m. 30.19 inches.

The Charlotte News

Vol. 67, No. 277

Published every evening except Sunday by The Charlotte News Publishing Co. Inc. at 126 S. Church St., Charlotte 1, N. C.

Thomas L. Robinson, President and Publisher.

B. S. Griffith, Vice President and General Manager.

1 Week	$ .30
1 Month	1.30
3 Months	3.90
6 Months	7.80
1 Year	15.60

All carriers, dealers and distributors are independent contractors of The Charlotte News Publishing Co. Checks for advance subscription payments for more than one month should be made payable to The Charlotte News as agent for carrier. Collections of subscriptions at other than published rates is not authorized.

Second class privileges authorized at Charlotte, N. C.

Baghdad Pact Links Defense

By ALLAN JACKS

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Ancient, fabled Baghdad embarked today on a new role as a headquarters in the round-the-world defense chain against Red aggression.

Leaders of the four other Baghdad Pact nations headed homeward from Iraq's host capital after completing a blueprint for the new organization which from headquarters here will oversee their military, political and economic cooperation.

Besides Iraq, the alliance includes Turkey, Pakistan, Iran and Britain. The United States already has begun "military and political liaison" with the group, sending Ambassador W. J. Gallman and Adm. John H. Cassady to the inaugural meeting as observers.

DEFENSE CHAIN

Launched originally by Turkey and Iraq, the defense chain along the Soviet Union's South Asian frontier links up with NATO through the membership of Britain and Turkey in that Western lineup, and with Southeast Asia's seats via Pakistan and Britain.

Underlining the five nations' hopes of enlarging their group in the Middle East, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan juggled his homeward itinerary to visit Lebanese President Camille Chamoun in Beirut. Neutralist Arab opposition led by Egypt and Saudi Arabia so far has kept all members of the Arab League except Iraq out of the pro-Western group.

COTTON

NEW YORK — (AP) —Cotton futures were irregular yesterday and closed 20 cents a bale higher to $1.25 lower than the previous close. The market was fairly active during the morning with buying partly influenced by strength in nearby December. This delivery attained a new high for the current move. Gains which had extended to 75 cents a bale later were reduced. New crop months were reactionary. Final prices were: December 34.25, up 4; March, 33.38, off 4, and May, 32.83, off 7.

Citizens Aid Smoke Battle

Continued from Front Page

had long been interested in smoke elimination, expressed the opinion that it would be very uneconomical for the city to train a man and then let him go to another city.

In the absence of Mayor Van Every and Mayor Pro Tem, James S. Smith, Councilman Albea was chosen to preside.

He was tapped for the post on suggestion of Councilman Herbert H. Baxter, who said, "He's dean of our number and he's the one who should preside."

Council members agreed and at the public session Mr. Albea wielded the gavel in true parlimentary fashion.

EFIRDS

DON'T WAIT!

Don't wait until you and the family are worn out shopping . . . come in to our studio now and have your Christmas gift photographs taken before your rush and our rush begins—so we can give you the careful, personal service we want to give.

No appointment needed

Photograph Studio

EFIRDS

Third Floor

special this week

2 big 8x10 photographs $5.95

regularly $12.00

JOHNSTON'S DRAPERY SHOP

CLEARANCE

DOORS OPEN AT 9

10% To 30% OFF!

DEPARTMENT-WIDE SALE! BIG STOCK!

HUNDREDS OF ITEMS . . . PILLOWS . . . SLIPCOVERS . . . DRAPES . . . BEDSPREADS . . . VENETIAN BLINDS . . . CLOTHES HAMPERS . . . BLANKETS

FULLY LINED DRAW DRAPES
• Big Selection of Colors and Designs
• All Perfect
$8.88

CHAIR or SOFA SLIPCOVERS
• A Shocking Clearance
• No Phone Orders
$6.95

EXTRA WIDE DACRON CURTAINS
• Half Price
• 120 Inches Across
• 90 Inch Length
$5.99

FOAM RUBBER BED PILLOWS
• Sleeping Luxury At A Give Away Price Tomorrow
$2.50

48 CHENILLE SPREADS
• Lots of Colors
• Near Half Price
$3.99

ALL METAL VENETIAN BLINDS
• All Perfects
• All Widths
$2.99

JOHNSTON'S FURNITURE CO.
120 W. TRADE STREET

BUY CHRISTMAS! GIFTS NOW!

HOLLAND WATCHES
ALL MOVING PARTS GUARANTEED FOR LIFE! AGAINST BREAKAGE

FROM $29.95

$1.00 A WEEK

Friedman's JEWELERS
224 N. TRYON ST.

After-Thanksgiving Sale! SAVE 30!

9x12 All Wool AXMINSTER RUGS

HERE'S HOW THIS SALE IS POSSIBLE!

For 6 months, we've bargained with this famous manufacturer (we promised not to mention the name) trying to bring the Greatest Rug Sale of the year to Charlotte. Just when it looked like we had a deal, the price of wool went up BUT when we offered to take 400 RUGS they gave in at OUR price.

PRICE SHOULD BE $79.95

$49.95

FACTORY CLOSEOUT

. . . GREATEST PRICE BREAK IN RUGS THIS YEAR!
. . . WE CAN NOT REPEAT THIS SALE!

We've been fighting since last May to bring you this shocking offer — The factory said NO a dozen times. We PLEADED, CRIED, BEGGED — and finally offered to take 400 Rugs if we could get the price we wanted. HERE IT IS! Yes, deeply tufted Axminster Rugs of ALL WOOL for LESS THAN $50!

JUST $2 DOWN!

$50 OFF!

1955 Fully Automatic Bendix Washers

REG. PRICE IS $229.95 COMPARE!

• FINAL CLEARANCE AT THIS REDUCED PRICE.
• ALL BRAND NEW

Here's a Fat $50 Price Cut that should cause a riot in Charlotte tomorrow! Regular price on these Fully Automatic washers is $229.95. The complete stock will be cleared out tomorrow at $179.95. DON'T BELIEVE IT? JUST SEE! A great opportunity for canny shoppers.

$179.95 EASY TERMS

NO TRADE NEEDED

1956 Bendix Semi-Automatics (This Sale Only) $159.95

DON'T DELAY!

OPEN 'TIL 9 P. M. TOMORROW FRIDAY NITE!

Johnston's FURNITURE

120 WEST TRADE STREET

The Charlotte Observer
For and about WOMEN
PAGE 1 THURSDAY, NOV. 24, 1955 SECTION B

Bubbling Princesses Arrive Wide-Eyed For Carrousel

'SO GLAD TO SEE YOU! Queen Ada Katherine (left) tells Princess Carolyn Carter.

CHET WHELCHEL shows the Celanese plant to Princesses Iris Hunsucker, Albemarle, Vivian Feemster, Gastonia, and Donna Newton, Hickory.

By ANSLEY KETCHIN
Observer Staff Writer

"He-e-e-e-y! I'm so glad to see you!"

Squealing happily, Carrousel Queen Ada Katherine Brigman and Princess Ann Carter of Wadesboro grab each other in the lobby of the Hotel Charlotte.

Princess Ann was Wadesboro's representative last year, and they have memories to recal. As they stand talking as the arriving princesses swirl around them with assorted parents, aunts, sisters and friends.

Committee members, chaperones and hotel personnel manage to stay calm. A steady line of newcomers moves to the chaperones registration desk, on to register in the hotel, get keys, into the elevator and upstairs to their rooms.

Few know each other on arrival but it only takes a few seconds to feel like old friends.

"Are you excited?" demands one wide-eyed little blonde princess. "I'm scareder than anything else," an equally pretty brunette replies, "Aren't you?" "Yeah!"

★ ★ ★

'I'm Real Excited . . . Sorta' Scared!'

BETWEEN 1:45 and 2:15 p. m., 38 of the 39 princesses, Miss America and Misses North and South Carolina are assigned rooms and gotten into them. . . somehow. One princess is missing but will be here soon.

"If you'll go right on up, everything will be fine," a member of the committee assures an anxious princess' mother. . ."That's right, Room 510. . ."

"Did you see her, did you see her. . .that was Miss America!" A thrilled princess asks a companion. "Yeah. Isn't this exciting?"

And at the same time, up in the rooms, more confusion turns into sense. A calm mother says, "Now, just sit down and get your breath. Comb your hair. No, don't bother with your clothes, I'll see about them, You've got to be downstairs at 2:25, you know."

"This rain has just ruined my hair," wails a short-haired brownette with natural waves," it's kinking too much."

"I wish it was too MUCH curl I had to worry about," retorts another grinning, as she frantically pushes waves back into long blond hair.

★ ★ ★

'Where Do We Go?' 'Ask Somebody!'

"WHAT TIME is it?" "It's 2:20. We've got to go!" "Well, where do we go?" "Somebody said the ballroom." "But where is that?" "I don't know, but if we get to the lobby somebody'll tell us."

So back to the elevators, the whole group troops.

"Fix my banner, will you please. It slipped?" "I'll try. But wait 'til we get out of the elevator. I haven't got room to pin."

At 2:30 p.m. everybody's in the ballroom, lined up for a group shot. Then, Statesville's princess rushes back up for a posed picture in her room. "You just do what they tell you. I'll see about your clothes," her aunt tells her. "But hurry. The bus won't wait."

But the bus does wait, and a grinning driver sees the last one in, en route to Queens College for a tea.

Things are quiet in the lobby. Mrs. H. Lee Thacker has a minute to talk. She's been heading the list of chaperones every since there's been a Carrousel. None of it disturbs her. She's calm and steady as excited people swirl. She doesn't hurry. She just keeps things moving.

She didn't get out to Queens or on the tour. "I've been," she explained, "every year. This year, some of the others can go and enjoy it and see about some things here." Of the girls, she asks, "Aren't they sweet? I enjoy them so much." And the girls feel it. They don't hesitate to ask her help, nor do their mothers. She's wherever she's needed without apparent strain.

★ ★ ★

Time For Tea At Queens

THEN IT'S the tea at Queens which turns into lots of fun because they have it down in Diana's Den, the soda shop.

At the end of half an hour of sitting, they're ready to move back to the bus and head for Celanese Corp. where Chet Whelchel tells them about the building.

"But it's time to go back to the bus for a ride through the Myers Park residential area with its beautiful homes and churches.

Then it's time to go back to the hotel. The mayor's dinner starts at 6. Then comes the ball.

"Is your boy friend go' get here?" an excited princess asks a new found friend. "Yeah. He's coming up. Isn't that super?' "I wonder if the rain spotted my dress?" "It's taffeta." "Mine's net. It'll just wilt."

But the dresses don't wilt. Everybody looks beautiful and still feels scared.

And then comes the ball. These are high school seniors and they've been to dances before—but not like this. The Coliseum is positively "fabulous". The dance gives most of them a "weak feeling in my middle" but they "wouldn't have missed it for anything."

Back in hotel rooms talking it over, everybody is happy, but the comments are almost inaudible — more squeals than words. "I'm 'way too excited to sleep. Aren't you?"

But just the same, it doesn't take long for the yawns to become contagious, the crowds to fade to their own rooms, and roommates to get quieter and quieter as they talk until the first big day of the 1955 Carrousel ends in a sighed and mumbled, "G'night", "Nigh' ".

ALL 39 PRINCESSES smile for the camera before their tour of Charlotte.

QUEENS COLLEGE president Edwin R. Walker chats with Bunny Schipman of Florence, S. C., during the Queens' tea.

UNPACKING at the hotel are (from left) Carolyn Carter of Wadesboro, Nancy Christenbury of Charlotte and Lou Baucom of Monroe.

'IT'S BEEN A GRAND DAY!' Bobby Morrison of Statesville says.

(Staff Photos—Kelly)

TIME OUT at the Mayor's dinner is taken by Mrs. Thacker to chat with Iris Hunsucker (left) of Albemarle and Carene Eide of Camden.

Friday Opera Goers Will Include Visitors From All Over State

By SUSAN SUMMERVILLE
Observer Society Writer

Taking a well-deserved rest from their strenuous schedule, members of the Charles Wagner Opera Company who will present "La Boheme" Friday night are spending the Thanksgiving holiday in Charlotte.

It seems that the audience Friday night will contain almost as many out-of-towners as Charlotteans, which is added proof of the cultural importance of the new auditorium. George W. Brown Jr. will be here from Hickory, and Mrs. Rachel Hamilton and Mrs. W. H. Lain will make the short trip from Wadesboro. P. A. Diehl plans to come all the way from Wake Forest. Several parties are planned for both Charlotteans and out-of-town people that night.

A North Carolinian, Harry Garland of Linville, is singing the role of Schaunard. Planning to be here for his performance are Don M. Roberts of Boone and Miss Ruth E. Jones, both friends of the talented Tar Heel.

* * *

Leaving Sunday for a railroad meeting at the Greenbrier in White Sulphur Springs was Arthur G. Daughtrey of Roswell avenue. Mrs. Daughtrey accompanied him as far as Richmond, where she spent a few days before going to Cleveland, Ohio, for a short visit with friends before returning to Charlotte.

* * *

People In The News

A Major Visitor

Major and Mrs. William W. Bindeman and their young son, Bindy, were the guests last weekend of the Major's sister and mother, Mrs. Frank J. Benner and Mrs. Bierrie Stacy Bindeman. An Army surgeon, Maj. Bindeman has recently been transferred to Ft. Jackson.

* * *

The V. M. Fairchilds are holiday hosts to Mike Guiot. Mike, a student at The Citadel, hails from Puerto Rico.

* * *

Holiday guests of Miss Ann Sanger, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Sanger of Providence road, are Miss Grayson Carter of Charleston, S. C., and Miss Penny Pamplin of Greenville, S. C.

* * *

Arriving today to spend Thanksgiving in Charlotte are Mrs. Carl W. Bell Sr. of Raleigh and her sister, Mrs. Hattie C. Hill of Kinston. They are the guests of Mrs. Bell's son, Carl W. Bell Jr., and his family.

* * *

Gridiron Enthusiasts

In Roanoke, Va., today are Mr. and Mrs. N. Hardin Massie, who left Charlotte on Wednesday. After the VPI-VMI football game, they will go to Philadelphia for the Army-Navy game, and then plan to spend the rest of the weekend in Alexandria as the guests of Col. and Mrs. T. B. McCoy.

* * *

In Jacksonville, Fla., for the Thanksgiving holiday are Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Redding Jr. They are visiting his mother. Their son and daughter, Mary Monica and Alfred, who are students at the University of Miami, will also spend the holidays with Mrs. Redding.

* * *

Here from Chapel Hill for the long holiday weekend are Mr. and Mrs. Amos Sumner Bumgardner Jr. She is the former Miss Gene Williams Dudley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dudley of Hampton avenue.

* * *

Kilroys Are Here And There

Twins James and David Kilroy arrived Tuesday from Georgetown Preparatory School in Garrett Park, Md., to spend Thanksgiving with their mother, Mrs. James J. Kilroy on Colville road.

Their sister, Miss Virginia Kilroy attends Trinity College in Washington, D. C., and is spending her holiday in New York with Miss Mary Gilmer, a Woman's College student, and Miss Linda Chappell, a student at Salem. Miss Gilmer is the granddaughter of Mrs. T. T. Gilmer of Fenton place.

* * *

In Macon, Ga., for Thanksgiving are Mrs. S. A. Oscar and her sister, Mrs. J. V. Caldwell, of Columbia, S. C. They are visiting their brother, R. R. Berry, and Mrs. Berry.

* * *

Here for the holidays is Brown Matthews, who is staying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Matthews. He is a student at Southern Tech, the division of Georgia Tech at Chamblee, Ga.

* * *

Arriving tomorrow from Columbia are Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer Julian, who will spend the weekend with the Lloyd P. Julians at their home here.

* * *

Taking a breather from their studies at Oak Ridge Military Institute are Al Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Harris of Sardis lane, Tommy Bost, son of Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Bost of Queens road west, and David Farrley, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Farrley of Picardy place. The three boys are spending Thanksgiving here with their parents.

* * *

A Flying Trip

Arriving by plane today from Charleston, S. C., are Mr. and Mrs. James W. Wilkinson. They flew up to spend a few days with Mrs. Wilkinson's sisters, Mrs. J. H. Marion and Mrs. J. H. Johnston, and her niece, Miss Leila Johnston.

* * *

Spending Thanksgiving with the Jasper Hunts on Roswell avenue is Miss Ellen Hume Jervey of Charleston, S. C.

* * *

Oberlin College freshman Miss Lillian Springs Foote is spending Thanksgiving with a classmate, Miss Peggy Hull, at her home in Ann Arbor, Mich. Lillian is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Foote. Their son, Bob, and Dick Giersch came home yesterday from Chapel Hill to spend the holiday with their families.

Mrs. Hunter

Joyce Hoover, James Clark Are Married

LENOIR — Miss Joyce Corpening Hoover and James Postal Clark were married in Littlejohn Methodist Church Sunday at 4:30 p. m.

The Rev. Lonnie Templeton, assisted by the Rev. James S. Bellamy, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Clark of Lenoir. He had Howard Benfield of Lenoir as best man. Albert Hoover, brother of the bride, and Bobby Lingle of Lenoir were ushers.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland J. Hoover, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of tulle over satin made with fitted bodice, scoop neckline and full skirt. Her illusion veil was attached to a lace Juliet cap appliqued with satin flowers and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

MATRON OF HONOR

Mrs. C. R. Davis of Burlington, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Brent Kincaid and Mrs. Howard Benfield of Lenoir were her other attendants.

Theresa Davis was flower girl.

Following the reception, the couple received in the church vestibule.

Mrs. Clark is a graduate of Gamewell High School in Lenoir and Evans-Carolina Business College in Charlotte.

Mr. Clark is a Hudson High School graduate and is attending Lenoir Rhyne College in Hickory.

The couple went on a wedding trip to Florida.

Dr. Mike J. Palmer
OPTOMETRISTS
Eyes Examined
Glasses Fitted PALMERS'
401 No. Church St. ED 2-7783

Barbara Beck Weds Roy LeGrande Hunter

Miss Barbara Louise Beck and Roy LeGrande Hunter Jr. were married in First Christian Church Wednesday night. The Rev. Paul C. Duncan officiated at the 8 p. m. ceremony.

Daughter of Ray Enoch Beck and the late Mrs. Beck of Charlotte, the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her gown was made from Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin, fashioned with a lace-fitted basque, long tapered sleeves, and a portrait neckline. The bouffant skirt extended into a chapel train and her tiered fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a lace cap sprinkled with seed pearls.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and valley lilies.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Fred L. Kreeger Jr. of Winston-Salem, cousin of the bride. Maid of honor was Miss Nancy Suttle of Charlotte, cousin of the bridegroom.

Bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Heffner of Charlotte and Mrs. Shore Neal of Greensboro, aunt of the bride. Jean Hunter of Mint Hill, cousin of the bridegroom and Patricia Beck of Charlotte, sister of the bride, were junior bridesmaids.

BEST MAN

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy LeGrande Hunter of Charlotte, was attended by his uncle, Charles Hunter, as best man.

Ushers were Wilfred Little Jr. of Chapel Hill; Elberon Conder, Lester Todd Jr., and A. Chalmers Hope Jr., cousin of the bridegroom, all of Charlotte, and Fred L. Kreeger Jr. of Winston-Salem, cousin of the bride.

There was no reception due to illness in the bridegroom's family.

Mrs. Hunter is a graduate of Central High School and Kings Business College and is now employed by Don Allen Chevrolet Co.

The bridegroom is also a graduate of Central High School and attended North Carolina State College, where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is now associated with Roseland Floral Co.

After a wedding trip to Florida the couple will be at home at 1823 Jameston Dr., Charlotte.

Mrs. Clark

Kodaks Cameras Photographic Supplies
Van Ness
215 N. Tryon St.

After Thanksgiving
MILLINERY SALE
ONE GROUP
• VELOURS • VELVETS • FELTS
$3 & $5
Values to 18.50
ONE GROUP
VELVETS
AND VELOURS
Values to 22.50
$6.79
TATE-BROWN CO.
THE LABEL OF DISTINCTION
2nd Floor of Feminine Fashion

AFTER - THANKSGIVING
CLEARANCE SALE REDUCTIONS
1/4 to 1/2 OFF
Selected group of DRESSES . SUITS . COATS
COCKTAIL AND EVENING GOWNS
BLOUSES . SKIRTS . SPORTSWEAR
ACCESSORIES . GIFT ITEMS
All Sales Final . . . Doors Open At 9:00 A.M.
SPECIAL
Cashmere Sweaters ENTIRE STOCK 1/4 OFF
Orginally 17.95 to 29.95
Reynolds
114-A W. 5th

after-thanksgiving SALE
HUNDREDS OF TOWNLEY COATS ON SALE
Townley UNTRIMMED COATS
Townley in Stroock's Fleece orig. 69.95 $48
Townley Better Coats orig. 89.95-99.95 $78
Townley Cashmeres orig. 129.95-135. $98
Save more, get more! The TOWNLEY coat you've longed for, sculptured in only the best woolens. Sizes 6-20, 7-15.
NEVER HAVE YOU SEEN SUCH BUYS
IN Townley SUITS
Townley Suits orig. 49.95-69.95 ------ $38
Townley Suits orig. 59.95-79.95 ------ $48
Townley Three - Piece Wardrobe Suits in Imported Tweeds orig. 79.95 .. $54
Townley Fur - Trimmed Suits sale price $49
BETTER DRESSES . . .
• • originally 39.95-49.95 ---------- $28
• • originally 49.95-59.95 ---------- $38
• • originally 59.95-69.95 ---------- $48
DRESSES orig. 19.95 - 35.00 ---------- $12
• SPORTSWEAR •
Skirts orig. 7.95 - 10.95 . . . . . 5.90
Blouses orig. 5.95 - 7.95 . . . . . 3.90
Sweaters orig. 7.95 - 8.95 . . . . . 5.90
Knit Suits orig. 39.95 . . . . . 22.90
On Charge Purchases Made Now
PAY 1/3 IN DEC. | 1/3 IN JAN. | 1/3 IN FEB. or Use Our Convenient Lay-A-Way Plan
TATE-BROWN CO.
THE LABEL OF DISTINCTION
2nd Floor of Feminine Fashion

The Charlotte Observer
For and about WOMEN
PAGE 1 FRIDAY, NOV. 25, 1955 SECTION B

It's A Big Day For 39 Happy Princesses!

Sisters Are Home For The Holidays With Two Guests

By SUSAN SUMMERVILLE

Arriving Wednesday night by plane were Misses Ann and Frances McDonald, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Sam McDonald. The sisters, who are students at the Shipley School in Shipley, Mass., have two guests, Misses Sherrod King of Florence, Ala., and Betsy Dalton of Rosemont, Pa. Betsy will be with the McDonalds in their new house on Colville road until her parents, the Harry Daltons, arrive to spend the holiday in their Charlotte home.

People In The News

★ ★ ★

Also arriving Wednesday for Thanksgiving with her parents was Miss Judy Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Walker. Judy attends Westminster Choir College in Princeton, N. J.

★ ★ ★

Home this week to visit his parents is Harry C. Wolff III. A junior at Georgia Tech, Harry is majoring in architecture.

★ ★ ★

Visitors From Tennessee

Here from Rogersville, Tenn., are Dr. and Mrs. C. S. McLaughlin Jr. and their two young children, Scotty and Susie. They are the Thanksgiving guests of his mother, Mrs. C. S. McLaughlin, on N. Poplar street. Mrs. McLaughlin Jr.'s mother, Mrs. T. U. Willingham of Dyersburg, Tenn., will also be Mrs. McLaughlin's guest for the holidays.

★ ★ ★

Ensign and Mrs. Nigel MacEwan spent Thanksgiving day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rush Dickson, and left this morning to return to their home in Athens, Ga. They plan to be back in Charlotte for a week during the Christmas holidays, and will also visit his family in Lumberton.

★ ★ ★

Holiday guests of the A. William Archers at their home on Somerset drive are Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Strait and Sgt. Ted Cummings of Columbia, S. C.

★ ★ ★

Visiting relatives and friends in Charlotte and Paw Creek this week are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dalton of Decatur, Ga. She is the former Miss Sara Sullivan.

★ ★ ★

Off Wednesday for Thanksgiving in New York were the Richard M. Salisburys of Bucknell avenue.

★ ★ ★

On vacation from St. Mary's Jr. College in Raleigh is Miss Nancy Graham, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Graham, at their Cherokee road home.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Cruciani are spending the Thanksgiving holiday here with her parents, Mr and Mrs. William T. Overton on Louise avenue. The Crucianis live in Chapel Hill now, where he is studying law at the University of North Carolina.

★ ★ ★

Home For Thanksgiving

Home from Chapel Hill, where he recently pledged Kappa Sig, is Henry Henkel Rhyne of Mt. Holly. He'll be here for the holidays with his father, Henry Rhyne, and his grandmother, Mrs. Alice Rhyne.

★ ★ ★

Away for the holiday are Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bowen Jr. and daughter Elizabeth. The Bowens are in Spartanburg visiting Mrs. Bowen's brother, Robert Olney, and Mrs. Olney. Mrs. Alfred Olney, who has been visiting her son and daughter-in-law in Spartanburg, will return to Charlotte with the Bowens.

★ ★ ★

After a visit here, Mrs. Bruce Tinch and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Tinch, have returned to their home in San Diego. They were the guests of the Carl C. Tinches on Sheffield drive.

★ ★ ★

Sailing Wednesday from Wilmington for a ten-day cruise to Jamaica was Mrs. Frank H. Cothran of Queens road.

★ ★ ★

Home for Thanksgiving after a trip to Bermuda are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Willard and their children, Nancy, Charles and Lydia, of Sterling road.

★ ★ ★

Luncheon Honors Doris McGary

Entertaining today at the Charlotte City Club are Mrs. W. Church Jr. and Mrs. Charles B. Culp of Wilson, who are honoring Miss Doris McGary at a luncheon. Miss McGary will be married Nov. 26 to James Trabue Taylor of Elizabethtown, Ky.

A color scheme of yellow and white will be carried out in the place cards and a floral centerpiece. The bride-elect will present her attendants with honor gifts at the luncheon.

The guests will include families and close friends of the engaged couple and guests from out of town.

This evening after the wedding rehearsal, the Barringer Hotel will be the scene of a dinner party honoring Miss McGary and Mr. Taylor. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. R. J. Van Horne of Elizabethtown, Ky., is hostess. 27 are invited.

WE THANK THEE was the prayer of Princess Nancy Smith of Clover, S. C., and Bill Patton of Charlotte, who dated Princess Nancy Estridge of Lancaster, S. C.

CARROUSEL QUEEN Ada Katherine Brigman makes some last minute repairs before attending the service.

IT WAS A THRILL for Princesses Vivian Feemster of Gastonia, Lunette Anderson of Chester and Jane Spratt of York to meet Gov. Luther Hodges after church services Thursday. They found Dr. Warner Hall, pastor of Covenant Church, "so nice" and "just loved" his church. The Governor read his Thanksgiving Proclamation during the morning service. (Staff photos —Sturkey)

AT THANKSGIVING service in Covenant Presbyterian Church John Kuykendall of Davidson College and Charlotte shares the hymn book with his date, Princess Donna Newton of Hickory.

PRINCESS JANE SPRATT of York, S. C., checks an erring stocking seam with Princess Lunette Anderson of Chester, S. C., as an extremely presentable prop. They're en route to the Governor's luncheon.

'It's Great To Be A Princess'

By ANSLEY KETCHIN
Observer Staff Writer

It's great to be a princess of the Charlotte Carrousel. But it'll be great to go home again when it's over.

The 39 high school beauties representing their cities here for the 1955 Carrousel had a WONDERFUL time. After a full day Wednesday, they got an average of three hours sleep.

Up again for breakfast at 8:30 and church an hour later, they were fighting yawns.

At Covenant Church, the visitors found everything thrilling. The church was "beau-u-u-tiful!" Gov. Luther Hodges himself read the Thanksgiving proclamation, which was "thrilling".

The recurrent excitement wiped out the last droop from the sleepy eyes.

Getting dressed had its worries, of course. Make-up didn't want to go on smoothly when applied with nervous fingers. Hair insisted on turning the wrong way. Zippers caught. Stockings ran. Jackets completely disappeared. But everybody made it, almost on the dot.

At bedtime, with a deep sigh as a preface, one sleepy princess declared, "I can't wait to get home and tell everybody ALL about it!"

'I Don't See Anyone I Know— I Just See Lots Of People!'

By CAROL MARIE MYERS
Observer Staff Writer

"When can I be a Princess?," a wide-eyed little girl asks her mother as one of the Carrousel Princesses in the big parade goes by.

She waves once more at the lovely young lady in the formal and smiles to herself. Little girls always wave at princesses. They're all sure they'll be one someday and want to be waved at, too.

How does it feel to really be a parade-riding princess? "It's so much fun," smiles Iris Hunsucker, Albemarle's Princess. "It makes me feel important."

"But I don't see anyone I know," she added dispairingly, "I just see PEOPLE!"

★ ★ ★

'Before It Started, I Was Nervous!'

BEFORE THE Carrousel parade started, things were pretty tense. "Once we got going and I found out how much fun it was, it was all right," Iris said. "But before then, I was pretty nervous."

"Hand me my purse — I want to comb my hair," she kept saying again and again to boy friend-driver Cread McManus. Or, "How does my dress look?"

Cread took the whole thing pretty calmly, though. "You'd better hold those roses up high," he remarked, "the senior class paid for them, you know."

And as chief inspector he said, "And leave your hair alone — it looks good now — you'll mess it up."

"I feel kind of caged in with all these people around," 17-year-old Mis Albemarle said as the parade began.

★ ★ ★

They Got Cold But 'It Was Fun!'

MOST OF the formal-clad princesses wore fur wraps around their shoulder and blankets tucked around their legs. They still got cold, though. But as Iris says, "What difference does it make? It's so much fun!"

"I never did see my parents," she said, "But they must be somewhere."

Spectators wore their best parade smiles for the passing of the princesses and everybody waved. Even a mouse-sized little-boy-lost raised one hand in greeting, firmly clutching a policeman's hand with the other.

Here and there, cheering sections yelled in union, "Iris!" or home town folks called out "Albemarle!" as a greeting to the princess.

★ ★ ★

Little Girls Sighed 'Isn't She Pretty!'

LITTLE GIRLS sighed, "Isn't she pretty?" and one old timer caught Iris' eye to say, "You're beter looking than Miss America."

After the grand tour was over, the dark-haired beauty's comment was, "Oh, my face is sore from smiling so much. But I really liked it—it was too short."

Boy friend Cread had only a warning, "Just don't get too conceited now."

AT LUNCHEON, where Gov. Hodges is their host, are Princesses Carolyn Mullis of Harding High, Sally Anne Greene of Myers Park, Miss Charlotte who is Ruth Reynolds, and—back to the camera—Iris Hunsucker of Albemarle.

CLUB CALENDAR

Salem College Alumnae Association of Charlotte will have an informal party for prospective students at the home of Mrs. T. C. Guerrant, 2209 Malvern Rd., from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Eighth graders of Novelteen Dance Club will dance from from 8 until 10 p.m. in the Woman's Club. Fleet Green and his orchestra will play.

★ ★ ★

Raedan Book Club will meet at 3:30 p.m. with Mrs. Henry M. Heath, 2410 Selwyn Ave.

Clubwoman Goes Into Politics

LATTA, S. C. — Members of Latta Business and Professional Women's Club recently voted to work toward the election of their president, Mrs. J. A. McCreight, to Latta City Council.

Mrs. McCreight is the first woman in Latta's history to offer for an elective municipal position.

She is also president of Latta Music Club and Twentieth Century Book Club. A Converse College alumna, she did graduate study in the School of Social Work at the University of South Carolina.

She operates a retail florist business in Latta.

3-B-8

ENGAGEMENTS ACCEPTED - * With Script:

SPEAKER - HONORED GUEST - SPOT ANNOUNCEMENTS RECORDED

Folder #	1957 Jan	3		Ed Sullivan Show - Television Awards presentation
	Jan	7	*	Eddie Cantor Show - Cantor's 65th Birthday radio congratulations
	Jan	22		Mutual Admiration Society - Luncheon guest
	Feb	6		British Information Services - Guest at luncheon for Sir Harold Caccia
	Mar	26		Friars Testimonial Dinner for Perry Como - Guest
	Apr	2		The Advertising Council Inc. - Luncheon panel
	Apr	4	*	International Harvester - Closed circuit telecast with Company executives
	Apr	13		World Trade Fair, New York - Honorary Committee
	Apr	13		American Jewish Committee 50th Anniversary Observance - Commentary
	Apr	19		Temple Beth-El, Providence - Festival Forum participant
	Apr	30		Lafayette Fellowship Foundation - Luncheon Guest
Noteworthy	May	5	*	Brandeis University - Albert Einstein Award - separate folder In accepting the Albert Einstein Award from Brandeis University, Murrow proposed that better broadcasting be induced by men at the top of the large corporations who supported financially the networks, and that academic freedom be pursued by scholars wherever it may lead them.
	May	29		Boys Club of New York Benefit, Wykagyl Country Club - Benefit Golf Tournament
	July	12	*	Civil Defense Alert - Spot announcement
	Sept	-	*	New York Heart Assoc. - Spot announcement
	Oct	14		Freedom House Award to Arkansas Gazette - Remarks
	Oct	15	*	Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges - Guest of Honor and Speaker, Annual scholarship event
	Nov	11	*	New York League for Association for the Help of Retarded Children - Dais Guest, Presentation to Henry B. Luce and "Life" Magazine

MURROW COLLECTION - MURROW ROOM

ENGAGEMENTS ACCEPTED - * With Script: 1957

SPEAKER - HONORED GUEST - SPOT ANNOUNCEMENTS RECORDED

Folder # 1957 Nov 13 Admiral Kirkpatrick, P.I.O. of Navy - Luncheon host

Nov 18 * Advertising Council - Spot announcement on Asian Flu

Nov 22 Seagram & Sons Symposium on "The Next Hundred Years" - Interviewing Panel

Dec 2 Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Meyer, Hosts - Dinner for Neil McElroy

Dec 6 National Symphony Orchestra, Carnegie Hall - Sponsor

Dec 11 "This is New York" radio program - Interview with Jim McKay

Dec 12 Gen. James A. Van Fleet's Christmas Party - Launching of the Korea Society

Dec 28 Perry Como Show - Look Award presentation to Perry Como

Eng Last
3-13-8

YOUNG & RUBICAM, INC.

Advertising

NEW YORK · CHICAGO · DETROIT · SAN FRANCISCO · LOS ANGELES · HOLLYWOOD · MONTREAL · TORONTO · MEXICO CITY · LONDON

NEW YORK 17 · 285 Madison Avenue

February 11, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS Television
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Just so we have a letter on hand confirming our understanding regarding the International Harvester closed circuit, the following are the pertinent items of information:

Air Date: April 4, 1957

Place of Origination: A television studio in Chicago, Illinois

Air Time: 12:30-1:30 Central Standard Time

Although we would like to have you meet the International Harvester executives at an earlier date, realising your time is limited, it is planned that you meet with the executives in Chicago the morning of Wednesday, April 3 (exact location to be determined later.) This would would be prior to an afternoon dry rehearsal session at the studio. The following schedule is tentative pending booking of a definite studio. (Space in Chicago is scarce.)

Wednesday, April 3

Scenery setup 10-12 am
Lighting 11-12 am
Dry rehearsal 2-4 pm

Thursday, April 4

Camera set up 7-8 am
Camera rehearsal 8-9:30 am
Break 9:30-10:30 am
Dress 10:30-11:30 am
Break, notes and test pattern 11:30-12:30 am
Air 12:30-1:30

NOTE: All this is Central Standard Time

Mr. Edward R. Murrow February 11, 1957

The recorded invitation copy will reach you shortly for your approval. The tape should be in the hands of Columbia Records (who are making the pressings) by February 18. I will make arrangements for a recording studio if you so desire.

As to the monetary aspects, it is our understanding that the fee will be $7500 plus expenses, a portion of the fee to be in farm equipment. Under separate cover I am forwarding to you catalogs of International Harvester farm equipment. When you have determined the type of equipment you would like, I will arrange for an International Harvester representative to contact you for the actual order.

It is also understood that one of your producers will be in Chicago for the telecast, and that we will cover his expenses. If you would like us to arrange hotel reservations, we would be happy to do so.

The rough script for the show is now in the process of being assembled and will be in your hands in the near future.

If there is anyway that we can be of further assistance, please call upon us.

Very truly yours,

David Z. Berman
Producer, Director
Radio-Television Department

/jd

Ed:

Some matters of business -

1. We checked into the possibility of putting Pt o P on tape as you proposed. There is none available for and no equipment exists at this time for editing the tape even if available.

2. As for the "hot kine" you mentioned, we find that it's the same quality as we now have in our own kines.

3. Bob Weitman called to ask if you'd consider doing a portion of the Gleason show on Mar. 16th which will have Kate Smith subbing. Weitman has in mind your doing a P to P type thing with her in the studio, where you chat, ask her about the pictures on the wall and these set up a series of flashbacks in her career. He says if you won't go for a P to P gimmick, would you consider doing a brief spot with her at the opening of the show - along the lines of your Eddie Cantor bit. He'd like an answer before this weekend.

4. Attached is copy from Y & R which must be taped today for International Harvester.

5. Rebe has a set of Harvester catalogs. Dana says when you've decided what you want let him know and they'll send a Harvester man up to see you.

6. You'll note from the Y & R letter attached, the closed circuit schedule. While it's proposed you go to Chi Wed. morning & meet with the monkeys you're to interview, Dave Berman said this was not essential, as long as you're in Chi in time for the rehearsal which begins 8 am Thurs. Matter of fact Berman says it might be less painful for you if you didn't go to Chi. till late Wed. but it's up to you. In any event, by next week Berman will have profiles on the guys you're interviewing & all the preliminary questions & answers.

7. Bill Wilson(Y&R) is bringing up Bill Maxwell who's in charge of Int. Harvester Consumer Relations Div. at 4 on Friday. From what we can gather, Maxwell is going to ask you to do a brief film.

8. As of this writing, Schier has not been able to get to talk to anyone.

ja

International Harvester Eng Pas

Taped 2/22

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER

CLOSED CIRCUIT INVITATION RECORD

Mr. Murrow: This is Edward R. Murrow. Fifty years ago, International Harvester Company built the first International Truck. Recently you received a special invitation from Mr. John L. McCaffrey, Chairman of the Board, and other officials of the company, asking you and your wife to attend the special announcement meeting of the new Golden Anniversary International trucks this April 4th.

A special feature of the meetings will be a nation-wide closed circuit television program. During this telecast, I will have the pleasure of interviewing Harvester's top officials. They will cover many phases of their current plans for the truck division, and the big opportunities those plans hold for you and your family. I'm sure what they have to say will not only be good news to you but full of excitement too. When you watch me visit with these men, you will find they have important things to say that will directly affect you and your business. In addition, I understand that as part of the big meeting you will also have an opportunity to carefully inspect the big new line of Anniversary trucks.

On the reverse side of this record, you will find important information regarding your meeting in your district, and if you haven't done so, please return your acceptance right away.

Now I am going to let you in on a secret. A lot of International dealers are going to be the winners of special prizes at these meetings on April 4th. Don't miss the big day. I will be with you then. This is Edward R. Murrow. Goodbye and good luck.

Eng Pact

April 16, 1957

Dear Bill:

I really enjoyed the time I spent with your colleagues. I heard from my professional spies around the country who saw the effort and the reaction was favorable, although they had some interesting comments in case we should undertake a similar effort in the future.

As ever yours,

Mr. William O. Maxwell
Manager
Consumer Relations Department
International Harvester Company
180 North Michigan Avenue
Chicago 1, Illinois

rh

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER COMPANY
180 NORTH MICHIGAN AVENUE • CHICAGO 1, ILLINOIS

Air Mail

CONSUMER RELATIONS DEPARTMENT

April 5, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

That was certainly potent medicine you prescribed for the men who run this business as you doctored them into the performance yesterday.

The returns are in now from across the country and, of course, Harvester men couldn't help being enthusiastic about the job. Expressions from unbiased outsiders, however, carry more weight with me:

> "Congratulations brilliant show every phase of production and reception handled extremely well regards -- Charles B. Pearson Closed Circuit Telecasting System Inc."

There are lots more like it, but we'll save them for your memory book.

Our personal thanks to you for being such a grand companion.

Enclosed is the price sheet on your new farm equipment and we are proceeding at once to arrange for its delivery to Glen Arden Farm.

Under separate cover will come specifications and prices on the four-wheel drive Travelall which will not be produced for several weeks. Just let us know when you are ready for delivery of this unit. Best regards.

Cordially yours,

W. O. Maxwell
Manager

msh

Transmit

Eng. Pass

YOUNG & RUBICAM, INC.

Advertising

NEW YORK · CHICAGO · DETROIT · SAN FRANCISCO · LOS ANGELES · HOLLYWOOD · MONTREAL · TORONTO

MEXICO CITY · LONDON · SAN JUAN

NEW YORK 17 · 285 Madison Avenue

March 29, 1957

Mr. John Aarons
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear John:

I am enclosing some personal background information on Mr. McCaffrey, chairman of the board at International Harvester.

Yours truly,

Dave

Dave Berman

DB:jd

Mr. John L. McCaffrey has received the following honorary degrees:

Doctor of Commercial Science - from College of Holy Cross
Worcester, Massachusetts, June 8, 1949.

Name of the individual making presentation not available.

Doctor of Laws from Northeastern University, Boston, Massachusetts Presented in June of 1954 by President Carl S. Ell of Northeastern University.

Doctor of Laws from De Paul University, Chicago, Illinois.
Presented in June, 1956, by the Very Revefend Comerford J. O'Malley of De Paul University.

In May, 1956, the French government presented Mr. McCaffrey with its Legion of Honor.

Eng Past

MARCH 26, 1957

MR. W. O. MAXWELL
MANAGER
INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER COMPANY
180 NORTH MICHIGAN AVENUE
CHICAGO 1, ILLINOIS

THANKS FOR YOUR LETTER OF MARCH 22nd. EVERYTHING SATISFACTORY ON MY PART. MR. AARON WOULD LIKE TO LEAVE CHICAGO WITH ME IF POSSIBLE ON FLIGHT 222. MR. BLISS WOULD LIKE TO LEAVE CHICAGO SOMETIME IN THE MORNING OF APRIL 4th AT ABOUT TEN AM. THANK YOU.

EDWARD R. MURROW

414-710-43

Eng Dept

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER COMPANY

180 NORTH MICHIGAN AVENUE • CHICAGO 1, ILLINOIS

Air Mail

CONSUMER RELATIONS DEPARTMENT

March 22, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Following up our phone conversation yesterday, we are now able to assure you of transportation on American Airlines Flight 222, leaving Midway at 2:00 p.m., April 4, arriving at La Guardia at 5:45 p.m., EST.

Following completion of the telecast at 1:30 p.m. at the Civic Opera Building, your helicopter will take off from the roof of the Merchandise Mart at approximately 1:45 p.m. and will land adjacent to the American DC-6 at Midway. American will be advised of this and will provide all cooperation. We have your ticket on Flight 222.

~~We have obtained space for Messrs. Bliss and Aaron on American Flight 296, departing from Midway at 3:00 p.m., arriving at La Guardia at 6:45 p.m., April 4. If, for any reason, these arrangements are not entirely satisfactory, please advise.~~

In our first meeting we mentioned briefly that a follow-up at our sales meeting to the closed-circuit presentation is a color motion picture covering advertising and sales promotion of the Anniversary Line of trucks. This is completed now and, since it ties closely to the television program, we are asking Mr. Walton's office at Young & Rubicam, New York, to send a print of this 22-minute film to your office. We believe it will be of assistance to your people when the television script is up for review the first of next week.

Best regards.

Cordially,

W. O. Maxwell

W. O. Maxwell
Manager

msh

Emp Pat

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER COMPANY

180 NORTH MICHIGAN AVENUE • CHICAGO 1, ILLINOIS

CONSUMER RELATIONS DEPARTMENT

March 20, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

It was a pleasure to have a visit with you again last week. We have made the necessary arrangements to pick you and Mr. Bliss up at the Butler Aviation Depot, National Airport, Washington, at 9:00 a.m., Wednesday, April 3, for flight to Chicago. The plane will be one of our DC-3's, and the captain will be Raoul Castro. In all probability, both Bill Wilson and I will be aboard.

We are making reservations for you on a commercial flight, Chicago to La Guardia, Thursday afternoon, April 4, to arrive at La Guardia by 6:00 p.m. We are including Messrs. Aaron and Bliss.

The script for the telecast is nearing completion, and we will have it in your hands, together with the background material on the six Harvester executives, by March 26.

Attached to this letter is the list of the 52 locations in which our sales meetings will be held. You will note that four of these locations are starred, indicating a delayed kinescope version of the telecast scheduled for April 9.

Under separate cover, we are sending you several recent copies of "International Trail," our truck magazine going to fleet owners, which will give you further background on this part of our business. We are also canvassing the possibility of providing you with data on recent outstanding sales stories to which you might refer in talking with Mr. Buzard, Manager of Sales.

We sincerely appreciate your fine cooperation on this project and will look forward to working out your farm equipment requirements when you are in Chicago. Best regards.

Cordially yours,

W. O. Maxwell

W. O. Maxwell
Manager

msh

CT-16-R. PRINTED IN UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

DISTRICT OFFICES HANDLING MOTOR TRUCKS

CENTRAL REGION
Chicago, Ill.
Detroit, Mich.
Fort Wayne, Ind.
Indianapolis, Ind.
Milwaukee, Wis.
Springfield, Ill.
Total
EASTERN REGION
Albany, N. Y.
Boston, Mass.
New York, N. Y.
Philadelphia, Pa.
Total
EAST—CENTRAL REGION
Baltimore, Md.
Buffalo, N. Y.
Cleveland, Ohio
~~Columbus, Ohio~~
Harrisburg, Pa.
Pittsburgh, Pa.
Total
NORTHWEST REGION
* Aberdeen, S. Dak.
* Billings, Mont.
Davenport, Iowa
Des Moines, Iowa
Fargo, N. Dak.
* Grand Forks, N. Dak.
~~Great Falls, Mont.~~
Mason City, Iowa
Minneapolis, Minn.
* Minot, N. Dak.
Omaha, Nebr.
Sioux City, Iowa
Sioux Falls, S. Dak.
Total

SOUTHERN REGION
Atlanta, Ga.
Birmingham, Ala.
Charlotte, N. C.
Cincinnati, Ohio
Jacksonville, Fla.
Louisville, Ky.
Memphis, Tenn.
Nashville, Tenn.
New Orleans, La.
Richmond, Va.
Total
SOUTHWEST REGION
Dallas, Tex.
Houston, Tex.
Kansas City, Mo.
Little Rock, Ark.
Lubbock, Tex.
St. Louis, Mo.
San Antonio, Tex.
~~Shreveport, La.~~
Tulsa, Okla.
Wichita, Kans.
Total
WESTERN REGION
Denver, Colo.
Los Angeles, Calif.
Oakland, Calif.
Portland, Oreg.
Salt Lake City, Utah
~~Seattle, Wash.~~
Spokane, Wash.
Total
GRAND TOTAL

Eng Part

Ed –

FYI –

apparently they want you to rehearse on wed of

Jo

YOUNG & RUBICAM, INC.

Advertising

NEW YORK · CHICAGO · DETROIT · SAN FRANCISCO · LOS ANGELES · HOLLYWOOD · MONTREAL · TORONTO · MEXICO CITY · SAN JUAN · LONDON

NEW YORK 17 · 285 Madison Avenue

March 18, 1957

Mr. John Aarons
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear John:

This is to confirm our telephone conversation of about a week ago in regard to Mr. Murrow's transportation to Chicago for the closed circuit show. It is felt that it would be safer and more convenient from a time factor for him to travel from Washington to Chicago via commercial airlines on April 3. If you will notify me of his estimated time of arrival in Chicago, International Harvester is planning to have a limosine meet him at the airport.

Hotel reservations have been made at the Ambassador East for Mr. Murrow and either you or Mr. Zousmer.

Attached is a rehearsal schedule for the show. You will note that I am hoping for a dry run-thru with Mr. Murrow on the third so that I can bring him up to date on the results of the afternoon rehearsal with the International Harvester crew.

I should have a complete script (other than word changes, of course) in your hands by the end of the week and hope to have a chance to run through the mechanics with Mr. Murrow.

Thanks for your cooperation.

Sincerely

Dave Berman

Dave Berman

DB:jd

Eng Part

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER COMPANY

180 NORTH MICHIGAN AVENUE • CHICAGO 1, ILLINOIS

CONSUMER RELATIONS DEPARTMENT

March 6, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

It was a pleasure to get acquainted with you last month, and we certainly appreciate the time you took out of a busy Friday afternoon to visit with Bill Wilson and me, and then make the little recording that is going, this month, to all of our motor truck dealers across America.

Work on our coming closed circuit television program is progressing rapidly now, and we expect to be in New York next Thursday and Friday, March 14 and 15. We would like very much to have another short visit with you to cover a few more of the arrangements in connection with your important part in the program.

We will appreciate it if you can indicate a convenient time on either of those days, and we will confirm it with your office next Wednesday, March 13.

Best regards.

Cordially yours,

W. O. Maxwell

W. O. Maxwell
Manager

will see msh

3pm
Thurs. Mar 14

Eng Rest

YOUNG & RUBICAM, INC.

Advertising

NEW YORK · CHICAGO · DETROIT · SAN FRANCISCO · LOS ANGELES · HOLLYWOOD · MONTREAL · TORONTO · MEXICO CITY · LONDON

NEW YORK 17 · 285 Madison Avenue

February 5, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I want to tell you how delighted the International Harvester people are to know that you can be with them on April 4. They are very pleased and wanted me to assure you that they would do everything possible to make your trip a pleasant one.

A private plane will be put at your disposal for the trip. Also, special hotel accommodations will be made for you, and I believe you will find them most satisfactory.

We will be in touch with John and Jesse in the meantime to take care of all necessary arrangements. As I understand it, this will include some prior meeting with the International Harvester officials who will be present with you during the closed circuit. As we mentioned the other day, it would also be very helpful for you to record the brief word of invitation to the sales meeting that will go forward in small platter form to the salesmen.

While I will be available to help in any way that I can, the main brunt of technical arrangements will fall upon Dave Berman whom you met with me the other day. He will take care of all usual matters such as forwarding to you a brief letter outlining the agreed terms.

All of us look forward to an outstanding closed circuit meeting. We are truly enthusiastic about your being with us.

Sincerely yours,

Richard Dana

Richard Dana

RD/hm

YOUNG & RUBICAM, INC.
Advertising

NEW YORK · CHICAGO · DETROIT · SAN FRANCISCO · HOLLYWOOD · MONTREAL · TORONTO · MEXICO CITY · LONDON

NEW YORK 17 · 285 Madison Avenue

January 29, 1957

Mr. John Aaron
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Aaron:

Enclosed is the outline that Mr. Dana spoke to you about over the phone today.

Sincerely,

Helen Marr

Helen Marr
Secretary to Richard Dana

noon
- Thurs. 1/31

Eng Cart

MR. DAVID BERMAN
SHERMAN HOTEL
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

FOLLOWING ARE CORRECTIONS YOU DISCUSSED WITH JOHN AARON.

REBECCA HOLDER
SECRETARY TO MR. MURROW

414-710-43

Eng Fact

"STATISTICS - INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER CLOSED CIRCUIT TELECAST

REHEARSAL DATE: Dry - April 3, 1957. FAX, April 4, 1957

AIR DATE: April 4, 1957

AIR TIME: Noon - 1:00 p.m. EST 1:00 - 2:00 p.m. CST

ORIGINATION: Chicago, Illinois. TV studio

OUTLETS: 48 cities. Show will be held at local hotels in conjunction with luncheon. (Before or after, depending on time zone)

AUDIENCE: Franchised International Harvester dealers and salesmen; International Harvester salesmen; Factory and home office personnel.

OBJECTIVES: The Closed Circuit portion represents only one part of the over-all sales meeting. The show has been planned to accomplish three points: first, to tell the dealers that IH is a vibrant organization and growing for the future, second, to act as an introduction to the new A-Line trucks, and third, to inaugurate the Golden Anniversary of International Harvester in the motor truck industry.

In the balance of the meeting and aside from Closed Circuit, the details of the A-Line would be handled by the district manager at each outlet. These details would include technical particulars by the use of the slide film, the advertising and promotion with the use of special film, and THE LIVE SHOWING OF THE NEW A-LINE at local dealer outlets.

EXECUTIVES TO BE INTERVIEWED:

John L. McCaffrey	Chairman of the Board
Peter V. Moulder	President
William C. Schumacher	Vice President in charge of the Motor Truck Division
Ralph M. Buzzard	Sales Manager for the Motor Truck Division
W. D. Reese	Manager of Engineering for the Motor Truck Division
Harry E. Gottberg	Manager of Manufacturing for the Motor Truck Division

Bill Maxwell - D. M. 7 20 ef/
Bill Wilson - Y&R Chicago 7 20 / T /

333 - 7 - 0
hi!
Publicam

EXHIBIT B

ROUGH DRAFT #3 January 28, 1957

For

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER CLOSED CIRCUIT TELECAST

VIDEO	AUDIO

SECTION 1

Medium shot of Mr. Murrow in front of a rear Screen Projection of Motion Picture of North Michigan Avenue, in Chicago with I. H. Building in background. (Looks like window unit.)	Mr. Murrow: Good morning wherever you are. You are looking down North Michigan Boulevard in Chicago - the building in the foreground is the home office of the International Harvester Company. This year, the company is celebrating a Golden Anniversary - 50 years in the business of building fine trucks. In the next forty minutes, we will endeavor to present to you a profile of this big organization of which you, its dealers, are an integral part . . . Recently, I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. McCaffrey, Chairman of the Board of the International Harvester Company, and I asked him . . .

. . . Mr. Murrow's questions would bring out the following:

1. What the truck business was like 50 years ago.

2. What Mr. McCaffrey's activities were in the business at that time.

3. How the business has changed over the past half century . . . bringing in the story of the growing importance of dealer franchise.

4. The fact that the International Harvester truck franchise is a great business asset . . . the fact that many dealers are leaders in their community . . . some dealer franchises have been passed down to three generations.

5. The future is bright and why, followed by the suggestion of an interview with Mr. P. V. Moulder, President.

SECTION 2

Mr. Murrow enters Mr. Moulder's area, we do not see Mr. Moulder until he begins answering Mr. Murrow's questions.	Mr. Murrow (after thanking Mr. McCaffrey): I next had the pleasure of meeting the president of your company, Mr. Moulder. I asked him . . .

VIDEO AUDIO

. . . Mr. Murrow's questions would bring out the following:

1. Mr. Moulder's background at International Harvester.

2. International Harvester's present position in truck industry . . . . . using quotes from Automotive News.

3. Further specifics as to position in regard to individual gross weight classifications.

4. This success is due in a great measure to the wonderful job the dealer organization has done.

SECTION 3

Mr. Murrow leaves Mr. Moulder's area and enters Mr. Schumacher's area. We do not see Mr. Schumacher until he answers Mr. Murrow. Mr. Schumacher is perusing a chart that shows the potential growth of the trucking industry for the next 10 years.

Mr. Murrow: I next stopped by to see Mr. Schumacher, Vice President in charge of the Motor Truck Division . . . to ask about the future. . .

. . . Mr. Murrow's questions would bring out the following:

1. The information contained in the chart covering the next ten years . . . amplified by specific items, such as the congressional bill authorizing Highway expansion, Bureau of Statistics' charts showing population growth and tendencies. Clippings from trade papers . . . all pointing out the potential market growth.

2. What International Harvester is going to do with this ever growing need for trucks . . . . . This would be done by an introduction to Mr. Gottberg, with the use of a 3-D production line mock-up and an explanation of the unique production line set-up at Springfield and with a teaser on the A-line.

3. Would bring out the "all truck built" story as well as continuing engineering research . . . . This would be accomplished by an introduction to Mr. Reese, who would use a test, perhaps the exhaust story, to demonstrate the point.

4. That no matter how well and how many trucks are built, the final factor in success is sales.

SECTION 4

Mr. Murrow leaves Mr. Schumacher's area; enters Mr. Buzard's area. Comes up to office door marked - Ralph M. Buzard, Sales Manager, Motor Truck Division.

Mr. Murrow: On the sixth floor of the Harvester building, I found Mr. Buzard and asked . . .

VIDEO	AUDIO

. . . Mr. Murrow's questions bring out the following points:

1. The "intelligence system" set-up that enables the home office to keep a weekly record of the sales of each dealer . . .This is done in a humorous vein - with limits - by use of an actor representing a statistical clerk, who repeatedly interrupts with flash messages!

2. Teaser about the New "A" line.

3. Other specifics Mr. Buzard would like to make . . . Which leads into! ---

SECTION 5

Messrs. Buzard and Murrow cross to an area where we find Messrs. McCaffrey, Moulder, Schumacher, Reese and Gottberg surrounding a table on which is a large birthday cake.	Mr. Buzard: Now, Ed, if you will come with me, we would like to have you join us in celebrating our 50th Anniversary and present the first look at the great new A-Line Gentlemen:

At this point, the projectionist in each of the cities involved will start showing the color film that will show the Jubilee Model approaching from a great distance and ultimately filling the entire screen. The audio will be appropriate music and sound.

Returning to Closed Circuit.

Mr. Buzard steps forward from the group.	Mr. Buzard: Gentlemen: in each city, you will shortly see the complete line in person, and I know you'll be just as excited and as enthusiastic as we are. And now before we go, we want to thank Mr. Murrow for being with us to celebrate this great occasion.
Cut to Mr. Murrow in foreground. I.H. Logo spotlighted in back.	Mr. Murrow makes appropriate closing remarks.

Eng Post

LOOK

COWLES MAGAZINES INC. Look Building, 488 Madison Ave., New York 22, N. Y., MURRAY HILL 8-0300

S. O. SHAPIRO, Vice President

January 3, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Person-to-Person
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

Many thanks for taking time out to appear on the Ed Sullivan Show Sunday.

Your cooperation helped make this one of our most successful Television Awards presentations, and is genuinely appreciated by all of us at Look.

With warm regards.

Sincerely,

SOS:RB

RECEIVED
1957 JAN -7 PM 9:24
C.B.S. TRAFFIC DEPT. N.Y.

20 TVC NY 1/7/57

MR. EDWARD R. MURROW

DEAR ED..

HERE IS THE SPOT AS IT APPEARS IN THE SCRIPT. "GIRL.. WE TAKE YOU NOW TO NEW YORK WITH ED MURROW. AND AWAY WE GO. MURROW.. GOOD EVENING. THIS IS ED MURROW IN NEW YORK CITY. RIGHT NOW IN HOLLYWOOD SHOW BUSINESS FRIENDS OF EDDIE CANTOR ARE HELPING HIM CELEBRATE HIS BIRTHDAY. EDDIE IS SIXTY-FIVE. FOR ALMOST FIFTY OF THESE YEARS HE HAS ENTERTAINED NOT ONLY THE AMERICAN PUBLIC, BUT PEOPLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE GLOBE . HE HAS CHAMPIONED EVERY WORTHWHILE CAUSE, RAISING SEVERAL HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS. HIS FRIENDS, IN AND OUT OF THE ENTERTAINMENT WORLD WISH HIM WELL .HAPPY BIRTHDAY , EDDIE CANTOR." THESE NEED NOT BE THE EXACT WORDS. PLEASE FEEL FREE TO ALTER THEM ANYWAY TO SUIT YOURSELF ONLY DEEP IT UNDER ONE MINUTE. PLEASE HAVE YOUR SECRETARY WIRE ME ANY CHANGES YOU MAY MAKE TO 9360 MONTE LEON LANE, BEVERLY HILLS. ALSO LET US KNOW WHEN WE DAN SPEAK TO YOU ON THE PHONE SO MY PRODUCER CAN CHECK LAST MINUTE DETAILS. THE SPOT WILL BE DONE FROM NEW YORK.

REGARDS,

EDDIE CANTOR

Eng Past

JANUARY 10, 1957

MR. EDDIE CANTOR
9360 MONTE LEON LANE
BEVERLY HILLS
CALIFORNIA

WILL USE YOUR SUGGESTED COPY. MAY MAKE SLIGHT CHANGE. TIME I WILL USE OVER-ALL WILL BE FORTY-FIVE SECONDS. WILL BE AT PLAZA 1-2345 TOMORROW AFTERNOON (FRIDAY) IF YOUR PRODUCER WANTS TO CALL.

ED MURROW

414-710-43

Eng Part

JACKIE GLEASON ENTERPRISES, INC.

Producers of Television Entertainment

870 SEVENTH AVENUE, NEW YORK 19, N. Y. · JUDSON 2-4900

January 21, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

Just a note to express our pleasure in your appearance on the Eddie Cantor show.

The rating was wonderful and reflected that the audience appreciated it too.

Again, sincere thanks and the express wish to work with you again real soon.

Sincerely,

Jack

Jack Philbin
Executive Producer

JP:mal

Eng. Post

MUTUAL ADMIRATION SOCIETY

450 Seventh Avenue - Suite 4300

New York 1, New York

LUNCHEON MEMBERS

Ralph A. Brooks
Joseph F. Carlino
Harry B. Helmsley
William H. Kalis
Robert Kopple
James S. Lanigan
Charles F. Preusse

CHICKERING 4-0224

December 9, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I am delighted that you have been able to confirm our luncheon arrangements for January 22nd.

Needless to say, we shall be most happy to spend this luncheon with you. As you may know, this date occurs during the opening session of the State Legislature. Joseph Carlino who is the Majority Leader of the State Assembly and one of our club members, has nevertheless told us that he will drive down from Albany so as to be present to meet you at lunch. It is also possible that either Bob Wagner or Adlai Stevenson or both may be present since we make it a practice to invite honored guests whenever we think that our current guest would enjoy their presence.

Looking forward to seeing you on the 22nd, and to remind you of the time and place -- the New York University Club -- 123 West 43rd Street - the Board Room at 12:30 P.M.

Cordially yours,

Robert Kopple

RK:s

December 5, 1957

Dear Mr. Kopple:

Mr. Murrow asked me to tell you that he will be happy to join you at your January 22nd luncheon.

Sincerely yours,

Florence Crissan,
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

Mr. Robert Kopple
Mutual Admiration Society
450 Seventh Avenue
Suite 4300
New York 1, New York

fc

MUTUAL ADMIRATION SOCIETY

450 Seventh Avenue - Suite 4300

New York 1, New York

LUNCHEON MEMBERS

Ralph A. Brooks
Joseph F. Carlino
Harry B. Helmsley
William H. Kalis
Robert Kopple
James S. Lanigan
Charles F. Preusse

CHICKERING 4-0224

November 27, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Adlai Stevenson was disappointed at not meeting you at our luncheon on November 13th. Needless to say, we too were very sorry that circumstances made it impossible for you to attend.

Although our next luncheon is set for December 19th, Mrs. Crissan advises me that she thinks you may be out of the country and rather than involve you in further confusion, I would like to suggest that you try to arrange to attend our January luncheon which will be held on Wednesday, January 22nd, at the New York University Club, 123 West 43rd Street, in the Board Room.

If this date is convenient for you, I would appreciate your confirming this so that I may notify our seven luncheon members of your acceptance.

With kindest personal regards.

Sincerely yours,

Robert Kopple

RK:s

Eng Past
February 6

Telephone:
CIRCLE 6-5100

Cable:
DIGESTION, NEW YORK

Reference for reply

BRITISH INFORMATION SERVICES
30 ROCKEFELLER PLAZA
NEW YORK 20, N.Y.

9 January 1957

My dear Ed:

We are giving a small off-the-record luncheon for Sir Harold Caccia, our new Ambassador to Washington, on Wednesday, February 6th, in the President's Room in the Harvard Club, 27 West 44th Street, at 12:30 p.m. I do hope you are free and can come.

Will you be so kind as to ask your secretary to call Miss Cordigan at CIrcle 6-5100 and let me know if we are to have the pleasure of your company?

Yours sincerely,

Bill

C.B. Ormerod

Mr. Edward R. Murrow,
Columbia Broadcasting System,
485 Madison Avenue,
New York, N.Y.

/ec

Yes

JOE E. LEWIS
Chairman

BUDDY HOWE
Executive Chairman

CARL TIMIN
Co-Ordinator

Honorary Committee

GOODMAN ACE
HARRY ADLER
MEL ALLEN
HARRY ANGER
DANIEL G. ARNSTEIN
PAUL ASH
MITCHELL AYRES
DEE BELLINE
JACK BENNY
MILTON BERLE
JOEY BISHOP
MILTON BLACKSTONE
RAY BLOCH
JACK J. BREGMAN
LEW BROWN
DR. RALPH J. BUNCHE
GEORGE N. BURNS
JAY BURTON
RED BUTTONS
IRVING CAESAR
JACK CANNON
JOSEPH R. CARLTON
PHIL CHARIG
MYRON COHEN
BING CROSBY
PAUL CUNNINGHAM
ELLIOT A. DAITZ
LOUIS DA PRON
BENNY DAVIS
SAMMY DAVIS, JR.
MEYER DAVIS
HARRY DELF
NAT DUNN
EDDIE ELKORT
JAMES A. FARLEY
BENNY FIELDS
ROBERT FINKEL
EDDIE FISHER
FRANK M. FOLSOM
EMIL FRIEDLANDER
BERT FROHMAN
DICK GABBE
ALAN GALE
FRANK GALLOP
HAROLD M. GOLDBLATT
LEONARD H. GOLDENSON
HARRY E. GOULD
IRVING GRAY
EUGENE GREENHUT
PHIL GREENWALD
PAUL GROSSINGER
BUDDY HACKETT
OSCAR HAMMERSTEIN II
OTTO HARBACH
GOV. AVERILL HARRIMAN
HELEN HAYES
RAY HENDERSON
GEORGE A. HOFFMAN
LOU HOLTZ
SEN. IRVING M. IVES
GEORGE JESSEL
ERIC JOHNSTON
L. W. KANAGA
JACKIE KANNON
JACK KATZ
AL KELLY
ALAN KING
ROBERT E. KINTNER
ABE LASTFOGEL
SEN. HERBERT H. LEHMAN
JACK E. LEONARD JERRY LESTER
SAM LEVENSON
DAVE LEVINE
TED LEWIS
BEN MARDEN
JULIUS MARKS
GROUCHO MARX
THOMAS A. McAVITY
DR. S. L. MEYLACKSON
EDWARD R. MURROW
GEN. EMMETT O'DONNELL, JR.
WILLIAM S. PALEY
JAMES C. PETRILLO
JULES PODELL
CHARLES RAPP
THOMAS G. ROCKWELL
RICHARD RODGERS
EMANUEL SACKS
GEN. DAVID SARNOFF
ROBERT W. SARNOFF
LOUIS A. SCHENFIELD
DICK SHAWN
TOOTS SHOR
CHARLES H. SILVER
PHIL SILVERS
MENASHA SKULNICK
DR. GEORGE H. SOLOMON
HON. ABE STARK
HARVEY STONE
SEN. STUART SYMINGTON
MICHAEL TODD
SOPHIE TUCKER
BURTON B. TURKUS
ROCCO VOCCO
MAYOR ROBERT F. WAGNER
LOU WALTERS
IRVING WEISNER
ROBERT M. WEITMAN
DAVID WERBLIN

Friars TESTIMONIAL DINNER

in honor of Perry Como

WALDORF - ASTORIA TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 26th

March 18, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
C. B. S.
485 Madison Ave
New York City

Dear Mr. Murrow:

As our guest and a member of the dais for the Perry Como Dinner, we would greatly appreciate your arriving at the West Foyer ~~and~~ adjoining the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria at 6:45 P. M., Tuesday, March 26th.

Black tie

With every best wish.

Sincerely,

Carl Timin

CARL L. TIMIN
Co-Ordinator

1687

CLT/wg

Please Make Checks payable to the FRIARS CLUB—123 West 56th Street, New York 19, N. Y.

Eng. Post

March 26, 1957

January 25, 1957

Dear Joe:

This is merely a note to let you know that I would be honored to sit on the dais at the Testimonial Dinner for Perry Como. I must warn you that I will not be there until a little after 8:00 pm due to my 7:45 pm radio program.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Joe E. Lewis
Friars Club
123 West 56 Street
New York 19, New York

March 26

JOE E. LEWIS
Chairman

BUDDY HOWE
Executive Chairman

CARL TIMIN
Co-Ordinator

Honorary Committee

GOODMAN ACE
HARRY ADLER
MEL ALLEN
HARRY ANGER
DANIEL G. ARNSTEIN
PAUL ASH
MITCHELL AYRES
DEE BELLINE
JACK BENNY
MILTON BERLE
JOEY BISHOP
MILTON BLACKSTONE
RAY BLOCH
JACK J. BREGMAN
LEW BROWN
DR. RALPH J. BUNCHE
GEORGE N. BURNS
JAY BURTON
RED BUTTONS
IRVING CAESAR
JACK CANNON
JOSEPH R. CARLTON
PHIL CHARIG
MYRON COHEN
BING CROSBY
PAUL CUNNINGHAM
ELLIOT A. DAITZ
LOUIS DA PRON
BENNY DAVIS
SAMMY DAVIS, JR.
MEYER DAVIS
HARRY DELF
NAT DUNN
EDDIE ELKORT
JAMES A. FARLEY
BENNY FIELDS
ROBERT FINKEL
EDDIE FISHER
FRANK M. FOLSOM
BERT FROHMAN
DICK GABBE
ALAN GALE
FRANK GALLOP
HAROLD M. GOLDBLATT
LEONARD H. GOLDENSON
HARRY E. GOULD
IRVING GRAY
EUGENE GREENHUT
PAUL GROSSINGER
BUDDY HACKETT
OSCAR HAMMERSTEIN II
OTTO HARBACH
GOV. AVERILL HARRIMAN
HELEN HAYES
RAY HENDERSON
GEORGE A. HOFFMAN
LOU HOLTZ
SEN. IRVING M. IVES
GEORGE JESSEL
ERIC JOHNSTON
L. W. KANAGA
JACKIE KANNON
JACK KATZ
AL KELLY
ALAN KING
ROBERT E. KINTNER
MILTON W. KRASNY
ABE LASTFOGEL
SEN. HERBERT H. LEHMAN
JACK E. LEONARD
SAM LEVENSON
DAVE LEVINE
TED LEWIS
BEN MARDEN
JULIUS MARKS
TOM MARTIN
GROUCHO MARX
THOMAS A. McAVITY
DR. S. L. MEYLACKSON
EDWARD R. MURROW
GEN. EMMETT O'DONNELL, JR.
WILLIAM S. PALEY
JAMES C. PETRILLO
JULES PODELL
CHARLES RAPP
THOMAS G. ROCKWELL
RICHARD RODGERS
EMANUEL SACKS
GEN. DAVID SARNOFF
ROBERT W. SARNOFF
LOUIS A. SCHENFIELD
DICK SHAWN
TOOTS SHOR
CHARLES H. SILVER
PHIL SILVERS
SPYROS P. SKOURAS
MENASHA SKULNICK
HARRY SOBOL
DR. GEORGE H. SOLOMON
HON. ABE STARK
SEN. STUART SYMINGTON
MICHAEL TODD
SOPHIE TUCKER
BURTON B. TURKUS
ROCCO VOCCO
MAYOR ROBERT F. WAGNER
LOU WALTERS
ARTHUR C. WEEMS
IRVING WEISNER
ROBERT M. WEITMAN
DAVID WERBLIN
AL WOLLMAN

Friars TESTIMONIAL DINNER

in honor of Perry Como

WALDORF - ASTORIA TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 26th

January 14, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
C. B. S.
485 Madison Ave
New York City

Dear Ed:

The Friars this year are honoring Perry Como with a Testimonial Dinner at the Waldorf Astoria, Tuesday evening, March 26th at 7:00 P. M.

As you know these dinners have not only been delightful affairs with the attendant wide publicity and television coverage, but also erve the purpose of helping the Friars do much of their charity and welfare work.

We would deem it a great honor to have your presence on the dais to make this occasion the most memorable and thrilling evening in the annals of Friar history.

Please write us of your acceptance.

With kindest regards.

Sincerely,

Joe E

JOE E. LEWIS
Chairman

JEL/wg will go will be late

Please Make Checks payable to the FRIARS CLUB—123 West 56th Street, New York 19, N. Y.

STerling

Emphasis

THE ADVERTISING COUNCIL INC.

NEW YORK•WASHINGTON•CHICAGO•HOLLYWOOD

1200 EIGHTEENTH STREET, N. W. WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

THEODORE S. REPPLIER
PRESIDENT

February 26, 1957

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Philip Graham has told me the good news that you have agreed to appear on the luncheon panel with Mark Childs, Scotty Reston and Phil on Tuesday, April 2nd.

The luncheon will be in the Main Ballroom of the Mayflower Hotel. If you will make yourself known at the door around 12:30, we will put you in touch with Phil and the other members of the panel.

So that you can see the nature of the affair, enclosed is a program covering last year's conference. This year's meeting will be of similar caliber.

With many thanks,

Cordially,

T. S. Repplier

TSR/afb
enc: 1

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

cc: Philip L. Graham
Allan Wilson

The Twelfth Washington Conference

The Advertising Council

April 3, 1956

MORNING SESSION

District of Columbia Red Cross Building
Nine o'clock

HONORABLE GABRIEL HAUGE
Administrative Assistant to the President Presiding

MR. JAMES M. LAMBIE, JR.
Special Assistant in the White House Office
Introducing Honorable Gabriel Hauge

HONORABLE JOHN FOSTER DULLES
Secretary of State

HONORABLE REUBEN B. ROBERTSON, JR.
Deputy Secretary of Defense

with

HONORABLE WILBUR M. BRUCKER
Secretary of the Army

HONORABLE CHARLES S. THOMAS
Secretary of the Navy

HONORABLE DONALD A. QUARLES
Secretary of the Air Force

HONORABLE THEODORE C. STREIBERT
Director, United States Information Agency

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

Luncheon

Main Ballroom, Mayflower Hotel
Noon

Mr. Louis N. Brockway
Chairman, The Advertising Council Presiding

Honorable Sherman Adams
The Assistant to the President

Mr. F. G. Gurley
President, The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway System

Afternoon Session

Williamsburg Room, Mayflower Hotel
Two o'clock

Honorable George M. Humphrey
Secretary of the Treasury

with

Mr. Fred F. Florence
President, Republic National Bank, Dallas

Mr. Theodore V. Houser
Chairman of the Board, Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Mr. John L. McCaffrey
President, International Harvester Company

Mr. Charles G. Mortimer
President, General Foods Corporation

Mr. Charles M. White
President, Republic Steel Corporation

Panel

Honorable Joseph M. Dodge
Special Assistant to the President

Honorable Clarence Francis
Special Consultant to the President

Honorable Meyer Kestnbaum
Special Assistant to the President

Fred E. Adams, C
Bromwell Ault
W. K. Bailey, Th
William R. Bake
William Balders
Harold S. Barne
James A. Barnet
Colonel Thoma
M. J. Baum, Hic
S. Bruce Black, pany
Joseph L. Block,
H. H. Bloom, Ma
Harold Boesche glas Corporation
Robert W. Bogg
Fred Bohen, Mer
Nelson Bond, Mc
Elon G. Borto America
Frederick Bowes
Frank Braucher
George P. Brett
Louis N. Brockw
Harry A. Bullis,
Dr. Ralph J. Bu
Ellsworth Bun Cross
William H. Burk
Leo Burnett, Le
Carl Byoir, Carl
Champ Carry, Pa
William G. Cha Company
Walker L. Cisle
Mrs. Raymond C
Evans Clark, Th
John S. Colema Company
Charles W. Coli the West
Fairfax M. Cone
Felix W. Coste,
Gardner Cowles
Harry L. Dalton
David R. Daniel,
E. A. Darr, R. J.
Richard E. Deem

Members of the Conference

DAMS, G. M. Basford Company
L AULT, Interchemical Corporation
LEY, The Warner & Swasey Company
R. BAKER, JR., Benton & Bowles, Inc.
BALDERSTON, Philco Corporation
BARNES, Bureau of Advertising, ANPA
BARNETT, Lever Brothers Company
THOMAS H. BARTON, Lion Oil Company
M, Hickey-Freeman Company
BLACK, Liberty Mutual Insurance Com-

BLOCK, Inland Steel Company
OM, Massey-Harris-Ferguson, Inc.
OESCHENSTEIN, Owens-Corning Fiber- poration
. BOGGS, Linde Air Products Company
EN, Meredith Publishing Company
OND, McGraw-Hill Publishing Company
BORTON, Advertising Federation of

BOWES, JR., Pitney-Bowes, Inc.
AUCHER, Magazine Advertising Bureau
BRETT, JR., The Macmillan Company
BROCKWAY, Young & Rubicam, Inc.
BULLIS, General Mills, Inc.
H J. BUNCHE, United Nations
H BUNKER, American National Red

H. BURKHART, Lever Brothers Company
ETT, Leo Burnett Company, Inc.
R, Carl Byoir & Associates
ARRY, Pullman Incorporated
G. CHANDLER, Scripps-Howard Supply
y
. CISLER, The Detroit Edison Company
IOND CLAPPER
ARK, The New York Times
COLEMAN, Burroughs Adding Machine
y
V. COLLIER, Advertising Association of

. CONE, Foote, Cone & Belding
COSTE, The Coca-Cola Company
COWLES, Cowles Magazines, Inc.
DALTON, American Viscose Corporation
DANIEL, The Hartford Times
R, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company
. DEEMS, Hearst Magazines

HAYES DEVER, Capital Airlines
ARTHUR O. DIETZ, Commercial Investment Trust, Inc.
BEN R. DONALDSON, Ford Motor Company
JAMES C. DONNELL II, The Ohio Oil Company
J. E. DREW, Lever Brothers Company
EDWIN W. EBEL, General Foods Corporation
BYRON K. ELLIOTT, John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company
FRED J. EMMERICH, Allied Chemical & Dye Corporation
PHILIP J. EVEREST, Transportation Displays, Inc.
HAROLD E. FELLOWS, National Association of Radio & Television Broadcasters
BENNETT H. FISHLER, Herald News & Sunday News of Ridgewood, New Jersey
KERBY H. FISK, The Washington Post Company
CLIFFORD L. FITZGERALD, Dancer-Fitzgerald-Sample, Inc.
EDMUND FITZGERALD, The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company
PHILIP A. FLEGER, Duquesne Light Company
HENRY C. FLEISHER, AFL-CIO
FRED F. FLORENCE, Republic National Bank of Dallas
F. M. FLYNN, The New York News
FRANK M. FOLSOM, Radio Corporation of America
CLYDE T. FOSTER, Standard Oil Company (Ohio)
A. F. FRANZ, The Colorado Fuel & Iron Corporation
EDWIN S. FRIENDLY, Westchester County Publishers, Inc.
G. KEITH FUNSTON, New York Stock Exchange
CLARK R. GAMBLE, Brown Shoe Company, Inc.
FREDERIC R. GAMBLE, American Association of Advertising Agencies
EDWARD G. GERBIC, Johnson & Johnson
PHILIP L. GRAHAM, The Washington Post & Times Herald
ROBERT M. GRAY, Esso Standard Oil Company
JOSEPH A. GRAZIER, American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corporation
JOSEPH G. GRISWOLD, JR., The Widdicomb Furniture Company
ROBERT R. GROS, Pacific Gas and Electric Company
F. G. GURLEY, The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway System

R. P. Gwinn, Sunbeam Corporation
Helen Hall, Henry Street Settlement
Robert M. Hanes, Wachovia Bank & Trust Company
Charles B. Harding, Smith, Barney & Company
Ralph W. Hardy, Columbia Broadcasting System
Thomas J. Hargrave, Eastman Kodak Company
Marion Harper, Jr., McCann-Erickson, Inc.
E. Roland Harriman, American National Red Cross
William A. Hart, Advertising Research Foundation
Andrew Heiskell, Life Magazine
William A. Hewitt, Deere & Company
John W. Hill, Hill & Knowlton, Inc.
Eugene Holman, Standard Oil Company (New Jersey)
Stanley C. Hope, Esso Standard Oil Company
Theodore V. Houser, Sears, Roebuck & Company
Buell W. Hudson, The Woonsocket Call
H. E. Humphreys, Jr., United States Rubber Company
Roy A. Hunt, Aluminum Company of America
Roy T. Hurley, Curtiss-Wright Corporation
Robert S. Ingersoll, Borg-Warner Corporation
Lee R. Jackson, The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company
P. M. Jarvis, Swift & Company
B. Brewster Jennings, Socony Mobil Oil Company
F. G. Jewett, American Can Company
Delbert Johnson, Continental Can Company
W. Alton Jones, Cities Service Company
Dwight P. Joyce, The Glidden Company
F. R. Kappel, Western Electric Company, Inc.
Joseph Katz, The Joseph Katz Company
John Kemp, Advertising Association of the West
Robert E. Kintner, American Broadcasting Company
Hayden B. Kline, Industrial Rayon Corporation
Edgar Kobak
Arthur W. Kohler, The Curtis Publishing Company
Major General Charles T. Lanham, Colt's Patent Firearms Manufacturing Company
Chester J. LaRoche, C. J. LaRoche & Company, Inc.
R. Newton Laughlin, Continental Baking Company
Elmer L. Lindseth, The Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company
George Link, Jr., McKercher & Link
Henry G. Little, Campbell-Ewald Company
John A. Logan, National Association of Food Chains
A. C. Long, The Texas Company
Donald B. Lourie, The Quaker Oats Company
Joe Lowe, Joe Lowe Corporation
George P Ludlam, The Advertising Council, Inc.
A. E. Lyon, Railway Labor Executives Association
George P. MacNichol, Jr., Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company
Stanley Marcus, Neiman-Marcus Company
Harley B. Markham, Markham Advertising Company
J. A. Martino, National Lead Company
Robert R. Mathews, American Express Company
Thomas B. McCabe, Scott Paper Company
John L. McCaffrey, International Harvester Company
Dean James E. McCarthy, Outdoor Advertising Foundation
Neil McElroy, The Procter & Gamble Company
Max McGraw, McGraw Electric Company
Allyn B. McIntire, Pepperell Manufacturing Company
Eugene Meyer, The Washington Post and Times Herald
Don G. Mitchell, Sylvania Electric Products, Inc.
J. S. Mitchell, Standard Brands, Inc.
Warner R. Moore, Outdoor Advertising, Inc.
Paul W. Morency, The Travelers Broadcasting Service Corporation
Howard J. Morgens, The Procter & Gamble Company
Charles G. Mortimer, General Foods Corporation
W. Frederic Mosel, The Advertising Council, Inc.
C. Hamilton Moses, Arkansas Power & Light Company
William B. Murphy, Campbell Soup Company
Dean William I. Myers, Cornell University
Quigg Newton, The Ford Foundation
Thomas S. Nichols, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation
Wesley I. Nunn, Standard Oil Company (Indiana)
Harry O'Mealia, Jr., O'Mealia Outdoor Advertising Corporation
L. E. Osborne, Westinghouse Electric Corporation
Frank Pace, Jr., General Dynamics Corporation

Stuart Peabody
L. E. Phenner, ucts Corporati
W. B. Potter, Ea
K. C. Pratt, K. C
Frank O. Prior,
Henry Oliver R tion
Ralph T. Reed,
Clarence J. Re poration
Theodore S. Rep Inc.
Stanley Resor,
William Reydel
William S. Rich Company
Burr L. Robbins Company
William E. Robi
T. J. Ross, Ivy Lee
H. T. Rowe, Inter poration
F. Bourne Ruth
E. Weldon Sch Company
Victor O. Schwa
General Frank gram & Sons
Weber W. Sebal
Mark Seelen, Ou
Warner S. Shell
Leslie R. Shope, Society of the U.
Leopold D. Silber
John E. Smith, P
Paul C. Smith, C pany
W. Cordes Snyde
J. P. Spang, Jr., T
Kenneth A. Spen pany
M. J. Spiegel, Spie
Philip Sporn, Am Corporation
Myles Standish, S
Frank Stanton,
P. A. Staples, Hers
Dr. John R. Steel
John C. Sterling,
Albert R. Stevens

ABODY, The Borden Company
NNER, International Cellucotton Prod- rporation
TER, Eastman Kodak Company
T, K. C. Pratt, Inc.
PRIOR, Standard Oil Company (Indiana)
IVER REA, Oliver Iron & Steel Corpora-

REED, American Express Company
J. REESE, Continental Motors Cor-

S. REPPLIER, The Advertising Council,

RESOR, J. Walter Thompson Company
REYDEL, Cunningham & Walsh, Inc.
S. RICHARDSON, The B. F. Goodrich
y OBBINS, General Outdoor Advertising
y
. ROBINSON, The Coca-Cola Company
Ivy Lee and T. J. Ross
E, International Business Machines Cor-

RUTHRAUFF, Ruthrauff & Ryan, Inc.
N SCHUMACHER, American Optical
y
SCHWAB, Schwab & Beatty, Inc.
FRANK R. SCHWENGEL, Joseph E. Sea- Sons
SEBALD, Armco Steel Corporation
EN, Outdoor Advertising, Inc.
. SHELLY, N. W. Ayer & Son, Inc.
SHOPE, The Equitable Life Assurance
f the U. S.
. SILBERSTEIN, Penn-Texas Corporation
MITH, Parents' Magazine
MITH, Crowell-Collier Publishing Com-

SNYDER, JR., Blaw-Knox Company
, JR., The Gillette Company
A. SPENCER, Spencer Chemical Com-

EL, Spiegel, Inc.
RN, American Gas & Electric Service
ion
NDISH, Standish-Barnes Company
NTON, Columbia Broadcasting System
ES, Hershey Chocolate Corporation
R. STEELMAN
TERLING, This Week Magazine
STEVENS, American Tobacco Company

DONALD W. STEWART, The Texas Company
CHARLES J. STILWELL, The Warner & Swasey Company
W. C. STOLK, American Can Company
ROGER W. STRAUS, American Smelting & Refining Company
G. GORDON STRONG, The Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc.
HENDERSON SUPPLEE, JR., The Atlantic Refining Company
S. A. SWENSRUD, Gulf Oil Corporation
C. A. TATUM, JR., The Dallas Power & Light Company
E. J. THOMAS, The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company
HAROLD B. THOMAS
NILES TRAMMELL, Biscayne Television Corporation
LEONARD TRESTER, General Outdoor Advertising Company
J. L. VAN VOLKENBURG, CBS Television
HARRY F. VICKERS, Sperry Rand Corporation
EDWARD C. VON TRESS, The Curtis Publishing Company
HOWARD R. WALTON, Hiram Walker & Sons, Inc.
H. M. WARREN, National Carbon Company
SYLVESTER L. WEAVER, JR., National Broadcasting Company
SIDNEY J. WEINBERG, Goldman, Sachs & Company
W. G. WEISBROD, E. I. duPont de Nemours & Company, Inc.
WILLIAM G. WERNER, The Procter & Gamble Company
PAUL B. WEST, Association of National Advertisers
C. M. WHITE, Republic Steel Corporation
FRANK K. WHITE, McCann-Erickson Corporation (International)
CHARLES A. WIGHT, Freeport Sulphur Company
OLIVER G. WILLITS, Campbell Soup Company
ALLAN M. WILSON, The Advertising Council, Inc.
CHARLES E. WILSON, W. R. Grace & Company
DR. ROBERT E. WILSON, Standard Oil Company (Indiana)
ALBERT E. WINGER, Crowell-Collier Publishing Company
CHRIS J. WITTING, Westinghouse Electric Corporation
CARL I. WOOD, Thomas J. Lipton, Inc.
DR. HENRY M. WRISTON, American Assembly
THOMAS H. YOUNG, United States Rubber Company
HARRY W. ZINSMASTER, Zinsmaster Bread Company

THE ADVERTISING COUNCIL

FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

STerlin

Eng Pass

THE ADVERTISING COUNCIL INC.
NEW YORK • WASHINGTON • CHICAGO • HOLLYWOOD
1200 EIGHTEENTH STREET, N. W. WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

THEODORE S. REPPLIER
PRESIDENT

April 5, 1957

Dear Mr. Murrow:

This is just to tell you how very much we appreciated your appearance at our luncheon last Tuesday at the Mayflower Hotel.

We were naturally very proud indeed of our all-star panel, and your evaluation of the Arab-Israeli situation is going to be quoted all over the United States. Your characterization of Colonel Nasser as a plausible "gambling man" is one that I venture to say is going to stick in a lot of minds.

With great appreciation,

Sincerely,

T. S. Repplier

TSR/els

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

RECEIVED
MAR 29 PM 6:11
C.B.S. TRAFFIC DEPT. N.Y.

Eng fact

17

R41 WU 556P

V

WU033 PD

RB WASHINGTON DC MAR 29 353PME

EDWARD R MURROW, COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM

PHILIP GRAHAM WILL MEET WITH THE MEMBERS OF THE PANEL TUESDAY AT TWELVE NOON IN THE CABINET ROOM MAYFLOWER HOTEL

T S REPPLIER PRESIDENT THE ADVERTISING COUNCIL INC

54P..

Eng Past

MARCH 19, 1957

MR. T. S. REPPLIER
PRESIDENT
THE ADVERTISING COUNCIL
1200 EIGHTEENTH STREET, N.W.
WASHINGTON, D.C.

MOST REGRETFUL BUT CANNOT MAKE IT ON APRIL 1st

MUST BE IN NEW YORK THAT DATE.

EDWARD R. MURROW

414-710-43

STerling 3-9153

THE ADVERTISING COUNCIL INC.

NEW YORK•WASHINGTON•CHICAGO•HOLLYWOOD

1200 EIGHTEENTH STREET, N. W. WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

THEODORE S. REPPLIER
PRESIDENT

March 11, 1957

Can't do it.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

If by any chance your plans call for you to be in Washington on April 1, the day before our luncheon panel discussion, we would be delighted to have you attend a pre-conference dinner as an honor guest.

you arrive Wash. 11:30 am on Apr. 1

The dinner is being held in the Presidential Room of the Statler Hotel at 7 p.m. and the honor guests will assemble in the Continental Room at 6:30 p.m.

Hope you can come, but in any event we shall look forward with anticipation to seeing you on April 2.

Cordially,

T. S. Repplier

TSR/els

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

A non-profit organization, representing all phases of advertising, dedicated to the uses of advertising in the public service.

Eng Post

The Washington Post
AND Times Herald
1515 L STREET, N.W. WASHINGTON 5, D.C. REPUBLIC 7-1234

PHILIP L. GRAHAM
PUBLISHER

February 25, 1957

Dear Ed:

Thanks for your wire.

Our group for the Advertising Council luncheon on April 2nd includes: Scotty Reston, Mark Childs, E. Murrow, P. Graham (Lippmann changed plans; leaves for Europe March 31st).

You will be hearing from Theodore Repplier, President of the Advertising Council, about the precise time and location of the luncheon.

Many thanks for doing this.

If by any chance you can stay down a few hours I shall be glad to have a more extended conference with you at Burning Tree.

Sincerely,

Phil

Philip L. Graham

Mr. Edward R. Murrow,
Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.,
485 Madison Avenue,
New York 22, New York.

FEBRUARY 12, 1957

Eng Post

MR. PHILIP GRAHAM
WASHINGTON POST
WASHINGTON, D.C.

THANKS FOR YOUR CORDIAL WIRE STOP IF SCOTTY RESTON AND WALTER LIPPMANN AGREEABLE WILL GLADLY APPEAR AT LUNCHEON TUESDAY APRIL 2. REGARDS.

ED MURROW

414-43
fc

17

RECEIVED
1958 FEB -8 PM 6:47
C.B.S. TRAFFIC DEPT. N.Y.

WU044 LONG PD

FAX WASHINGTON DC FEB 8 511PME

EDWARD R MURROW COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM

EVERY YEAR SINCE 1946 THE ADVERTISING COUNCIL HAS HAD A WASHINGTON CONFERENCE SPONSORED BY THE WHITE HOUSE TO HEAR TALKS BY THE PRESENXXXXX BY THE PRESIDENT AND CABINET AND OTHER LUMINARIES. THE COUNCIL IS THE BEST PUBLIC SERVICE THING IN AMERICA IN MY HUMBLE VIEW. THIS YEAR THEY HOPE SCOTTY RESTON WALTER LIPPMANN, AND YOU WILL AGREE TO APPEAR AT LUNCHEON TUESDAY APRIL 2ND WITH THE BRILLIANT AND HANDSOME UNDERSIGNED FELLOW AS MODERATOR TO GUIDE YOU IN SHEDDING LIGHT AND UNDERSTANDING I HOPE YOU CAN DO IT FOR FRED FRIENDLY,S SAKE IF NOT YOUR OWN AS AUDIENCE WILL BE LAVISHLY IMPORTANT

PHIL GRAHAM.

611P...

CLASS OF SERVICE
This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION
TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1220 (R 11-54)

SYMBOLS
DL=Day Letter
NL=Night Letter
LT=International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

April 13

LLD001 NL PD=NEW YORK NY 14=
:EDWARD R MURROW, COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM= MAR 14 PM 11 21
DLR AFTER 10AM=485 MADISON AVE NYK=

CORDIALLY INVITE YOU TO JOIN HONORARY COMMITTEE SPONSORING PREVIEW OPENING OF U. S. WORLD TRADE FAIR AT NEW YORK COLISEUM APRIL 13. PREVIEW TO BE PRECEDED BY DINNER AT WALDORF-ASTORIA HONORING AMBASSADORS OF 43 NATIONS PARTICIPATING IN FAIR. ALL PROCEEDS TO GO TO MARCH OF DIMES.

9 WE PLAN ONLY MEETING OF COMMITTEE FOR 5 P.M. MARCH 21 AT WALDORF-ASTORIA. HOPE YOU WILL JOIN AND, IF POSSIBLE, ATTEND MEETING. PLEASE LET ME KNOW AT SUITE 1533, 9 ROCKEFELLER PLAZA, NEW YORK 20 (COLUMBUS 5-7460)=

:JUAN T TRIPPE CHAIRMAN HONORARY COMMITTEE=.

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

Eng fact

MARCH 20, 1957

MR. JUAN T. TRIPPE
SUITE 1533
9 ROCKEFELLER PLAZA, NEW YORK

DELIGHTED TO JOIN HONORARY COMMITTEE SPONSORING PREVIEW OPENING OF U.S. WORLD TRADE FAIR AT NEW YORK COLISEUM APRIL 13 BUT REGRET AM UNABLE ATTEND COMMITTEE MEETING MARCH 21ST. REGARDS.

EDWARD R. MURROW

414-43
fc

Eng Part

JACOB BLAUSTEIN

AMERICAN BUILDING
BALTIMORE 3, MD.

April 16, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting Co.
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N.Y.

Dear Ed:

I have just reread the letter I hurriedly got off to you yesterday from New York - - and it does not quite express all I meant to convey.

Very briefly, you were simply grand - - and it was really swell of you to participate.

With warm regards,

Sincerely,

Jacob

Eng Part

THE AMERICAN JEWISH COMMITTEE

386 FOURTH AVENUE, NEW YORK 16, N. Y. Cable Address, "WISHCOM, NEW YORK"

Telephone MURRAY HILL 5-0181

IRVING M. ENGEL, President
SIMON H. RIFKIND, Chairman, Executive Board
RALPH E. SAMUEL, Chairman, Administrative Board
FRED LAZARUS, Jr., Chairman, National Advisory Council
MAURICE GLINERT, Treasurer
ARTHUR D. LEIDESDORF, Associate Treasurer
JULIUS S. LOEWENTHAL, Secretary
JOHN SLAWSON, Executive Vice-President

JACOB BLAUSTEIN, Honorary President
JOSEPH M. PROSKAUER, Honorary President
HERBERT H. LEHMAN, Honorary Vice-President
SAMUEL D. LEIDESDORF, Honorary Vice-President
HORACE STERN, Honorary Vice-President
JAMES H. BECKER, Chicago, Vice-President
MAX H. BLOCK, Seattle, Vice-President
LOUIS CAPLAN, Pittsburgh, Vice-President

HERBERT B. EHRMANN, Boston, Vice-President
WALTER S. HILBORN, Los Angeles, Vice-President
LESLIE L. JACOBS, Dallas, Vice-President
MILTON W. KING, Washington, D.C., Vice-President
SOL SATINSKY, Philadelphia, Vice-President
MRS. CAROLINE K. SIMON, New York, Vice-President
JESSE H. STEINHART, San Francisco, Vice- President
ALAN M. STROOCK, New York, Vice-President

April 15, 1957

Dear Mr. Murrow:

My first thought upon returning to the office this morning after our Half Century Observance was to express my appreciation for your commentary.

It is almost superfluous to say that your statement was of profound interest to us. I have heard again and again from our members how much they appreciated your remarks. I believe that you could tell from the applause that you have won a special place in all our hearts.

If you enjoyed the evening half as much as we did in having you there, I am more than gratified.

Sincerely,

Jacob Blaustein

Jacob Blaustein
Honorary President

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting Co.
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

JB:hg

Eng Past

THE AMERICAN JEWISH COMMITTEE

386 FOURTH AVENUE, NEW YORK 16, N. Y. Cable Address, "WISHCOM, NEW YORK"

Telephone MURRAY HILL 5-0181

IRVING M. ENGEL, President
SIMON H. RIFKIND, Chairman, Executive Board
RALPH E. SAMUEL, Chairman, Administrative Board
FRED LAZARUS, Jr., Chairman, National Advisory Council
MAURICE GLINERT, Treasurer
ARTHUR D. LEIDESDORF, Associate Treasurer
JULIUS S. LOEWENTHAL, Secretary
JOHN SLAWSON, Executive Vice-President

JACOB BLAUSTEIN, Honorary President
JOSEPH M. PROSKAUER, Honorary President
HERBERT H. LEHMAN, Honorary Vice-President
SAMUEL D. LEIDESDORF, Honorary Vice-President
HORACE STERN, Honorary Vice-President
JAMES H. BECKER, Chicago, Vice-President
MAX H. BLOCK, Seattle, Vice-President
LOUIS CAPLAN, Pittsburgh, Vice-President

HERBERT B. EHRMANN, Boston, Vice-President
WALTER S. HILBORN, Los Angeles, Vice-President
LESLIE L. JACOBS, Dallas, Vice-President
MILTON W. KING, Washington, D.C., Vice-President
SOL SATINSKY, Philadelphia, Vice-President
MRS. CAROLINE K. SIMON, New York, Vice-President
JESSE H. STEINHART, San Francisco, Vice- President
ALAN M. STROOCK, New York, Vice-President

February 27, 1957

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I am delighted to learn from Jacob Blaustein and Joseph Katz that you have kindly consented to take part in our Fiftieth Anniversary Observance, Saturday, April 13th, at the Waldorf.

Like all of my colleagues at the Committee, I am a devoted fan of yours and therefore I am so glad that you will again favor us. I recall your magnificent presentation to our 1954 Annual Meeting in which you reviewed the human rights gains of 1953 and showed excerpts of your Radulovich, Korea, and other TV reports. I remember too your brilliant narration to another AJC Annual Meeting in January, 1952 of a dramatic program by Morton Wishingrad, entitled "To The Living Generation".

Your participation in our program, Saturday, April 13, assures an appropriately exciting climax to a Four-Day Observance devoted to the hopes and hazards that surround the pursuit of equality at home and abroad.

I have asked Fred Robin, who has been developing the Observance program with Jacob Blaustein, to visit with you at your early convenience to discuss the details of the Saturday evening program. He will call your office in the next day or two for an appointment.

Jacob joins me in extending to you our warmest appreciation.

Sincerely,

Irving M. Engel

Irving M. Engel
President

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

IME:hg

Emily Post

CONGREGATION OF THE SONS OF ISRAEL AND DAVID

TEMPLE BETH-EL

SEVENTY ORCHARD AVENUE PROVIDENCE 6, RHODE ISLAND

William G. Braude, Ph. D., D. D., Rabbi
Selig Salkowitz, M. H. L., Asst. Rabbi

Bertram L. Bernhardt, President

April 19, 1957

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The Congregation Sons of Israel and David is most appreciative of your participation in the Festival Forum which took place here at Purim.

We consider it an honor that one as busy as you with the cause of human liberty and rights took time to come to us.

Thank you again.

Sincerely,

Bertram L. Bernhardt
Bertram L. Bernhardt per PMB.
President

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS Broadcasting Company
485 Madison Avenue
New York City, New York

Eng Post

LAFAYETTE FELLOWSHIP FOUNDATION, INC.

78 EAST 56TH STREET, NEW YORK 22, N. Y. PLAZA 3-5164

April 8, 1957

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

Honorary Co-Chairmen
President DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER
United States of America

President RENE COTY
Republic of France

Chairman
ELLIOTT H. LEE

Vice-Chairman
JAMES A. FARLEY

President
BENJAMIN H. NAMM

Treasurer & Chairman
Finance Committee
PHILIP CORTNEY

Secretary
VADA HORSCH
2 East 48th Street, N. Y. C.

Education & Fellowship Committee
Chairman
ROBERT M. STROZIER

Campaign Committee
Chairman
GEORGE W. BALL
Vice-Chairmen
THOMAS E. PARADINE
MRS. HENRY M. WRISTON

MRS. JULIUS OCHS ADLER
DAVID K. E. BRUCE
JOHN D. CONNORS
ARTHUR H. DEAN
BENJAMIN FINE
L. ARNOLD FRYE
SYLVAN GOTSHAL
JOSEPH M. HARTFIELD
FREDERICK E. HASLER
LOUIS JOHNSON
MESSMORE KENDALL
OGDEN R. REID
MRS. GEORGE A. SLOAN
WALTER BEDELL SMITH
ORVILLE TAYLOR
HERMAN B. WELLS
DONALD R. WILSON

Executive Director
PAUL FRANKLIN

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Both on my behalf and that of the other directors and officers of the Lafayette Fellowship Foundation, I write to invite you to attend a luncheon on Tuesday, April 30th, at the Waldorf, at which President Herbert Hoover will speak.

Events of recent months have shown more and more the importance of developing increased understanding and cordial relations with other nations of the free world.

In line with this thought, the luncheon will afford an opportunity for some informal discussion of Franco-American cultural and business relations and of the Foundation's work toward the enhancement of friendship and good-will with France by bringing talented French students to the United States for their graduate studies. These are the future leaders of France, a nation where intellectuals have always had a great impact in shaping policies, both in domestic and foreign affairs.

As you perhaps know, both President Eisenhower and President Coty of France are Honorary Co-Chairmen of the Foundation.

The luncheon will be a small affair, concluding at two o'clock or shortly thereafter, and we think it would interest you. We will meet in the Jansen Suite of the Hotel at 12:30 P.M. There will, of course, be no solicitation of funds.

Greatly hoping for word that you can be with us, and with kindest regards,

Very sincerely,

Arthur H. Dean

Arthur H. Dean

AHD:k

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

NATIONAL CITIZENS COMMITTEE

S. C. ALLYN
President, The National Cash Register Co.

CHESTER I. BARNARD

COL. SIDNEY H. BINGHAM

DR. HORACE MANN BOND
President, Lincoln University

HENRY P. BRISTOL
Chairman, Bristol-Myers Co.

COL. ROGER E. BRUNSCHWIG
Brunschwig & Fils

HARRY A. BULLIS
Chairman, General Mills, Inc.

THOMAS D. CABOT
President, Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc.

ERWIN D. CANHAM
Editor, Christian Science Monitor

MARGARET CLAPP
President, Wellesley College

JOHN S. COLEMAN
President, Burroughs Corporation

GARDNER COWLES
President, Cowles Magazines, Inc.

DONALD W. DOUGLAS
Chairman, Douglas Aircraft Company, Inc.

ALLEN W. DULLES
Director, Central Intelligence Agency

LEON FALK, JR.

DEAN VIRGINIA C. GILDERSLEEVE

BERNARD F. GIMBEL
Chairman, Gimbel Brothers, Inc.

GENERAL LESLIE R. GROVES
Remington Rand, Inc.

THOMAS J. HARGRAVE
Chairman, Eastman Kodak Company

HAROLD H. HELM
President, Chemical Bank & Trust Co.

PAUL G. HOFFMAN

DEVEREUX C. JOSEPHS
Chairman, New York Life Insurance Co.

MEYER KESTNBAUM
President, Hart Schaffner & Marx

MILTON C. LIGHTNER
President, Singer Manufacturing Co.

WALTER LIPPMAN

RALPH LOWELL
President, Boston Safe Deposit & Trust

FOWLER MCCORMICK

STANLEY MARCUS
President, Neiman-Marcus Co.

HON. DELESSEPS S. MORRISON
Mayor, New Orleans, La.

EDWARD R. MURROW

CHARLES G. NICHOLS
President, G. M. McKelvey Company

MOREHEAD PATTERSON
Chairman, American Machine & Foundry Co.

CARL H. PFORZHEIMER, JR.

MRS. R. I. C. PROUT
President, General Federation of Women's Clubs

ELMO ROPER

PAUL J. SACHS

MISS DOROTHY SHAVER
President, Lord & Taylor

JAMES T. SHOTWELL

JOSEPH P. SPANG, JR.
President, Gillette Company

ADMIRAL LEWIS STRAUSS
Chairman, U. S. Atomic Energy Commission

EDWARD STREETER

WAYNE C. TAYLOR

REGINALD TOWNSEND

JUAN T. TRIPPE
President, Pan-American World Airways System

THORNTON WILDER

May 29

April 30, 1957

2:00 P.M., E.S.T.

Yes!

Dear Ed:

Would you like to play golf with me May 29 at Wykagyl in New Rochelle?

It is the annual fund raising affair which Frank Shields and Roland Harriman run to raise money for the Boys Clubs of New York and it wouldbe tremendously helpful if we could have the prestige of your name and presence to attract a much greater gate.

If you don't wish to play, would you serve as one of the official scorers? The main idea, Ed, is to have you there in the flesh.

Your loving nephew,

Ed Sullivan

(hdc)

P.S. Mr. Sullivan left for Chicago 5 minutes after he dictated this.

7

Mr. Elmer L. Ward takes pleasure in inviting you to participate in The Pro-Celebrity Tournament in connection with
The Palm Beach Golf Championship
for the benefit of
THE BOYS' CLUB OF NEW YORK
THE BOYS' CLUB OF NEW ROCHELLE
THE NEW ROCHELLE HOSPITAL on Wednesday, May 29th, 1957 at the Wykagyl Country Club
New Rochelle, N. Y.

R. S. V. P.

J. Pa

I accept your kind invitation to play in the Pro-Celebrity Tournament
in connection with
The Palm Beach Golf Championship
May 29th, 1957

My Official Handicap is_____

Name of Club

_____ _____

KASTOR FARRELL CHESLEY & CLIFFORD, INC.
Advertising
400 MADISON AVENUE • NEW YORK 17, NEW YORK

June 28, 1957

Mr. John Aaron
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Johnnie:

Thanks a million. Here are the two spots.

For your information, the reason that we are identifying the announcers this time is that it will not be on CONELRAD.

Cordially,

Lloyd G. Whitebrook
Senior Vice President

LGW:jfh

Attachment

BY HAND

PL 1-1400

Civil Defense Alert
Eng. Pool

KASTOR FARRELL CHESLEY & CLIFFORD, INC.

Advertising

400 MADISON AVENUE • NEW YORK 17, NEW YORK

Ed — Will you do? Dick sent tape
Dan
6/28

June 27, 1957

Mr. John Aaron
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Johnnie:

Confirming my telephone call, there will be a national Civil Defense alert on July 12th. You will recall that last year when we had one at a similar time, Ed Murrow, John Daly, Kenneth Banghart and Walter Winchell each did about a three-minute bit and the Governors of the adjoining states were also participants.

This year there will be no CONEIRAD test and there will only be a five-minute voluntary program on radio; however, we plan to do the same thing except that Gabriel Heatter will substitute for Winchell and the only public official will be Governor Harriman.

What we would like would be to have Ed tape a one-minute bit for use on this program and a one-minute announcement that will be run earlier in the week to alert the public to the fact that the test will take place.

As soon as you can give me a nod, I will rush some suggested scripts to you and when you have the tapes, we will pick them up.

Kindest regards,

Lloyd

Lloyd G. Whitebrook
Senior Vice President

LGW:jfh

BY HAND

FORM 4A 5M 11-51

Radio continuity for _____

from RADIO DEPARTMENT

KASTOR, FARRELL, CHESLEY & CLIFFORD, INC.

DATE	PROGRAM	STATION

SIMULATED ALERT

This is Edward R. Murrow.

This is a simulated alert. Its purpose is to give you a practical demonstration of what a Civil Defense alert would be, if the actual emergency ever arose. To repeat, this is a simulated. . . not actual . . . alert, and no cause for alarm.

Civil Defense authorities have found that periodic tests of this nature serve an essential purpose in familiarizing our people with the signals and procedures of an emergency alert and a possible take-cover. Only through education of this type, can we be sure that if our nation is ever attacked, the civilian population will know exactly what to do, without delay and without panic.

Certain major conditions of a real alert are being met in this exercise. For one -- the general public and most Civil Defense officials were given no advance knowledge of the precise time of this alert. For another -- many of the steps and procedures which would be placed in operation in case of an actual emergency are being followed.

Thank you for your cooperation. Remember, Civil Defense is everybody's business. The more perfect our Civil Defense, the more lives will be saved if we are ever attacked.

FORM 4A 5M 11-51

Radio continuity for _____

from RADIO DEPARTMENT

KASTOR, FARRELL, CHESLEY & CLIFFORD, INC.

DATE | PROGRAM | STATION

ADVANCE WARNING

This is Edward R. Murrow.

This week)
Tomorrow) (Announce all three with pauses and we will cut them in as appropriate.) Today)

There will be a Civil Defense test exercise. You will hear the warbling sound of the siren and that will be your signal to take cover immediately. I repeat. . . the warbling sound of the signal means to take cover immediately.

This would mean that there has been no time for the usual alert. Remember, of course, that this will be a test exercise and no cause for alarm.

Remember, Civil Defense is everybody's business.

The more perfect our Civil Defense -- the more lives that will be saved if ever we are attacked.

MUrray Hill 7-1600

NEW YORK HEART ASSOCIATION, INC.
AND HEART FUND
485 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK 17, N. Y.

CARL WHITMORE
Chairman of the Board

DR. A. WILBUR DURYEE
President

DR. JERE W. LORD, JR.
First Vice President

DR. J. HAMILTON CRAWFORD
Vice President

MRS. PRESTON DAVIE
Vice President

DR. WILLIAM GOLDRING
Vice President

WILLIAM C. LANGLEY
Vice President

LAWRENCE C. MARSHALL
Treasurer

DR. CHARLES A. R. CONNOR
Secretary

DONALD G. PRICE
Executive Director

DR. D. F. MILAM
Medical Director

GEORGE HINGERS
Assistant Treasurer

August 27, 1957
[September]

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

As part of the Heart Fund's 1958 fund raising campaign, the New York Heart Association is producing a 45-second film trailer to be shown in about three hundred theaters in the New York area.

We would deem it a great favor and a service to the cause of heart research if you would consent to do the voice commentary for our film.

If you can see your way clear to help us, we can schedule the recording of the commentary at any time convenient to you during the first two weeks of September. I will give you a call at CBS on Tuesday or Wednesday and hope it will be possible for you to give me a favorable reply.

With thanks in advance, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Alfred G. Freeman

Alfred G. Freeman
Radio and Television

AGF:dt

AN AFFILIATE OF THE AMERICAN HEART ASSOCIATION

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

JANET S. BALDWIN, M.D.
ADOLPH R. BERGER, M.D.
KATHARINE DODGE BROWNELL, M.D.
J. SCOTT BUTTERWORTH, M.D.
HERBERT CHASIS, M.D.
EDWARD P. CHILDS, M.D.
CHARLES A. R. CONNOR, M.D.
J. HAMILTON CRAWFORD, M.D.
ARTHUR C. DeGRAFF, M.D.
CLARENCE E. de la CHAPELLE, M.D.
FRANCIS R. DIEUAIDE, M.D.
A. WILBUR DURYEE, M.D.
LUDWIG W. EICHNA, M.D.
HENRY FEARON, M.D.
M. IRENE FERBER, M.D.
HARRY GOLD, M.D.
WILLIAM GOLDRING, M.D.
GEORGE H. HUMPHREYS, II, M.D.
JOHN H. KEATING, M.D.
CHARLES E. KOSSMANN, M.D.
ROBERT L. LEVY, M.D.
JERE W. LORD, JR., M.D.
E. HUGH LUCKEY, M.D.
ARTHUR M. MASTER, M.D.
EDWIN P. MAYNARD, JR., M.D.
MARSH McCALL, M.D.
BERNARD S. OPPENHEIMER, M.D.
HAROLD E. B. PARDEE, M.D.
GEORGE A. PERERA, M.D.
NORMAN PLUMMER, M.D.
CHARLES A. POINDEXTER, M.D.
DANIEL PORTE, M.D.
GERALD H. PRATT, M.D.
LEO PRICE, M.D.
DICKINSON W. RICHARDS, JR., M.D.
MILTON B. ROSENBLUTH, M.D.
IRVING R. ROTH, M.D.
WILSON G. SMILLIE, M.D.
J. MURRAY STEELE, M.D.
HAROLD J. STEWART, M.D.
ARTHUR S. W. TOUROFF, M.D.
HARRY E. UNGERLEIDER, M.D.
ROBERT F. WATSON, M.D.
GEORGE WHEATLEY, M.D.
CHARLES H. WHEELER, M.D.
MAY G. WILSON, M.D.
IRVING S. WRIGHT, M.D.

HULBERT S. ALDRICH
CARL J. AUSTRIAN ARTHUR BAER
RICHARD E. BERLIN
MRS. CHARLES A. BERNS
MRS. CHARLES A. BLACKWELL
EDWIN FOSTER BLAIR
JOHN T. CAHILL
ROBERT M. CATHARINE
FRANCIS T. CHRISTY
MAX A. COHEN
JOHN A. COLEMAN
ROBERT H. CRAFT
HOWARD S. CULLMAN
JOHN P. CUNNINGHAM
CHARLES G. CUSHING
MRS. PRESTON DAVIE
HON. THOMAS E. DEWEY
ALBERT DORNE
JAMES A. FARLEY
FRANK M. FOLSOM
JOSEPH GIMMA
LOUIS HOLLANDER
RUSSELL H. HUGHES
MAXWELL A. KRIENDLER
WILLIAM C. LANGLEY
LAWRENCE C. MARSHALL
DAVID H. MARX
PAUL MONTGOMERY
RAY D. MURPHY
LUCIEN E. OLIVER
ROSS REID
HENRY ROSE
MRS. JACOB J. ROSENBLUM
MRS. WALTER T. SHIRLEY
MRS. LYON SLATER
ED SULLIVAN
WALTER C. TEAGLE
HOMER A. VILAS
LOWELL P. WEICKER
CARL WHITMORE
MRS. HARRY A. WOODRUFF
WILLIAM ZECKENDORF

Eng. Part.

AMERICAN HEART ASSOCIATION RECORDING:

This is Edw[redacted]R. Murrow with a ~~timely~~ message from your Heart Association. Most people with heart disease can work and lead useful lives. Many heart patients who are not working, could become self-supporting if placed in suitable jobs. Rehabilitation is one of the important goals of your Heart Association in its effort to help all hearts. If you have a heart condition, consult your doctor to learn your work capacity. And ask your Heart Association for information about services that may be available in your community, to help you get back to work.

~~Upcoming~~
Eng. Post

October 9, 1957

Dear Averell:

Thanks.

I would be delighted to join you on Monday, October 14 at five o'clock.

As ever yours,

The Honorable Averell Harriman
Governor of New York
Executive Chamber
Albany, New York

fc

16 E.8/
BU 8888

STATE OF NEW YORK
EXECUTIVE CHAMBER ALBANY

AVERELL HARRIMAN
GOVERNOR

October 3, 1957

Dear Ed:

I am giving a small reception for George Meany, who is serving as a United States delegate to the 12th session of the United Nations General Assembly, at my home in New York City on Monday, October the fourteenth, at five o'clock.

I hope you will be able to join us; I'm looking forward to seeing you. Please let me know if you can come.

With warm regards.

Sincerely,

Averell

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

October 15

Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges

BARNARD WELLESLEY BRYN MAWR RADCLIFFE
SMITH MOUNT HOLYOKE VASSAR

August 6,1957

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Our Committee is deeply honored that you have agreed to accept its invitation to be guest of honor and speaker at our annual scholarship project this fall. We do appreciate that should a world crisis develop, you might not be able to come.

Since you may no longer have my letter of January 7th last, explaining the purposes and aims of the Committee, I am enclosing a brochure about our organization. It is also understood that you will receive an honorarium of five hundred dollars and your travelling expenses will be paid. Accomodations will also be arranged during your stay here.

The basic program planned for Tuesday, October 15, 1957 would consist of a dinner for approximately 350 people at 6:30 p.m. and your speech to an audience of 2990 people at 8:30 p.m.--both to be held at the new Henry and Edsel Ford Memorial Auditorium.

I would appreciate it very much if your staff could send me biographical data and photographs as soon as possible for our program and press releases. Would you also please let me know when you decide on the title of your address?

We hope that Mrs. Murrow will be able to accompany you as our guest and I am taking the liberty of enclosing two personal notes to her in this letter as I do not know your home address.

The enthusiasm engendered in our Committee members at the prospect of your visit is only a small reflection of a widespread public interest. We are very grateful to you--your presence under the sponsorship of the seven colleges will enhance immeasurably their prestige in the community and provide an event of unusual civic importance. Thank you again, Mr. Murrow, for taking time from a busy schedule to be with us.

Sincerely,

Phyllis E. McLaughlin

Phyllis E. McLaughlin (Mrs. W.C.)
Chairman

1031 Bishop Road
Grosse Pointe, 30
Michigan

P. S.

If you are interested in the suggestion in my letter of June 26th last concerning a "Person to Person " program shortly before the project date, we should be very happy to help in any way we can.

P.E.McL.

CBS RADIO

A Division of Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.

485 MADISON AVENUE, NEW YORK 22, NEW YORK · PLAZA 1-2345

JAMES M. SEWARD

Executive Vice President

July 29, 1957

Dear Ed:

I'm returning your file on the Detroit Seven Eastern Women's Colleges. As I told you during our telephone conversation, Dr. Stanton had written me on July 22nd as follows:

> "Mrs. McLaughlin and Mrs. Gossett are still very eager to have Mr. Murrow address the Detroit meeting in October. They understand his reluctance to make a definite commitment now. However, they would be grateful for an affirmative answer now, with the understanding that he could bow out if some important news story made it impossible for him to keep the date.
>
> In view of the over-all situation, will you put this up to Mr. Murrow if you can reach him in the next several days by telephone.
>
> I am not urging Mr. Murrow to accept this date, but I do think we ought to help get it cleaned up one way or the other in the light of the other complications in Detroit."

After I told Dr. Stanton of your willingness to accept on the basis he had outlined, he wrote me again on July 24th as follows:

> "I have told Mr. Moore of your success with Mr. Murrow. Obviously, he is delighted.
>
> So that there could be no misunderstanding about the terms of Mr. Murrow's acceptance, I read to Mr. Moore the first paragraph of my memorandum of July 22."

The program will take place in the Henry and Edsel Ford auditorium on Tuesday evening, October 15th.

Sincerely yours,

Jim

Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges

BARNARD WELLESLEY BRYN MAWR RADCLIFFE
SMITH MOUNT HOLYOKE VASSAR

June 26, 1957

not interested

Dear Mr. Murrow:

At a meeting with Mr. Charles F. Moore, jr. yesterday, he suggested that since I will be in New York from July 4th through July 30th, I should try to arrange a meeting with you during that time.

Our committee has drawn up preliminary plans for publicising our fall project and it has been suggested that a "Person to Person" program involving prominent Detroiters might be appropriate shortly before our project date. If you are interested, we could try to arrange for the appearnace of Mr. and Mrs. Eero Saarinen (Aline Bernstein Saarinen is a Vassar graduate), the architect Minoru Yamasaki, or Mr. George Walker, chief stylist for Ford Motor Company.

I hope that it will be possible for us to get together and look forward to meeting you at that time.

Sincerely,

Phyllis E. McLaughlin

Phyllis E. McLaughlin (Mrs. W.C.)
Chairman

1031 Bishop Road
Grosse Pointe, 30, Mich.
Tel: Tuxedo 2-2076

July 4th-30th
30 Davenport Ave.
New Rochelle, New York
New Rochelle 3-7722

Eng. Flan.

January 22, 1957

Dear Bill:

Many thanks for your letter of January 8th.

It certainly would seem that the message passed along by Charley Moore got confused enroute.

However, I have written Mrs. McLaughlin explaining why it is impossible for me to make a definite commitment so far ahead of time. My work requires me to be free to travel abroad frequently at very short notice, so I've just had to decide not to commit myself to any speaking engagements.

Let me know when next you are in New York.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Sydney W. Morrell
Ford Motor Company
The American Road
Dearborn, Michigan

fc

January 22, 1957

Dear Mrs. McLaughlin:

Thank you for your gracious letter of January 7th.

I feel that the message you received from Charley Moore must have become somewhat confused enroute. What I said was, that I would be happy to receive the invitation and that I hoped it might be possible for me to accept. However, I added that it is quite impossible for me to make a definite commitment so far ahead of time.

As you may know, my work as a reporter requires me to be free to travel abroad frequently at very short notice and I am therefore regretfully unable to commit myself to any other public appearances.

I regret that this is the case, but I am sure you will understand.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. W.C. McLaughlin
1031 Bishop Road
Grosse Pointe, 30
Michigan

fc

Ford Motor Company

SYDNEY W. MORRELL
GENERAL PUBLIC RELATIONS MANAGER

THE AMERICAN ROAD
DEARBORN, MICHIGAN

January 8, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
c/o Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Ed:

I notice by the enclosed that the Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges are really pinning a great deal upon your being able to attend although when I came back from New York I was careful to tell Charley Moore that you would be happy to receive an invitation and would plan to attend if you were in this country. I guess the message must have gotten somewhat confused in reaching them. However I do hope you will be able to make this engagement and I am sure you will find it worthwhile.

That was a fascinating series of questions and answers at the Overseas Press Club the other day but I am afraid that nothing the Administration has done has convinced me that Messrs. Eisenhower and Dulles have anything more than a rather thin facade to offer. It is amazing how many people -- even here in the so-called "isolationist" Middle West -- are becoming really seriously troubled about the lack of policy displayed by Washington.

I hope to be in New York soon -- before the end of the month -- in which event I have a couple of rather interesting items I would like to relay to you in person.

Best,

Bill

Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges

BARNARD WELLESLEY BRYN MAWR RADCLIFFE
SMITH MOUNT HOLYOKE VASSAR

1031 Bishop Road
Grosse Pointe, 30
Michigan

January 7, 1957

Dear Mr. Murrow:

It was a very great pleasure to hear from Mr. Charles F. Moore, jr. that you are coming to Detroit this fall to be guest of honor and speaker at the annual program of the Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges.

The main purpose of this program is to raise scholarship funds to enable girls from the Michigan area to attend our eastern colleges, but we also endeavor each year to provide the Detroit community with a program of more than usual civic significance.

The enclosed brochure and program from last year's project when the Honorable Henry Cabot Lodge was our speaker, will give you some idea of the work of our committee. I am also enclosing some descriptive literature about the Henry and Edsel Ford auditorium which has been reserved by our organization for Tuesday evening, October 15, 1957.

Our committee is able to offer you a five hundred dollar ($500.00) honorarium and your travelling expenses will be paid. We shall also make arrangements for accomodations during your stay here.

We would be very happy if Mrs. Murrow could accompany you and be our guest--I know the Mount Holyoke alumnae would be especially delighted.

We are all aware of the tremendous pressure on your time and deeply appreciate your coming. We look forward to meeting you in the fall.

Sincerely,

Phyllis E. McLaughlin

Phyllis E. McLaughlin (Mrs.W.C.)
Chairman-The Seven Colleges Committee

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
c/o Mr. Charles F. Moore, jr.
The Ford Motor Company
Dearborn, Michigan

DETROIT

PERFUME AND PRAISE - M.I.T. - DELICATESSEN - PROSPECT OF QUESTIONS

SINCE 1945 OUR FOREIGN POLICY UNDERGONE UNPRECEDENTED REVOLUTION

CONSENT CREATED BY EVENTS -- WE UNDERESTIMATED EXTENT MATERIAL

MORAL DAMAGE DURING WAR -- WE HAD EXPANDING ECONOMY, MINOR HARDSHIPS, COMPLETE SECURITY, VICARIOUS EXCITEMENT.

WE TREATED FORMER ENEMIES AND ALLIES WITH UNPRECEDENTED CONSIDERATION

AND GENEROSITY -- IN FEBRUARY 1947 PRESIDENT INFORMED ~~US~~ Britain UNABLE

CONTINUE MILITARY AND ECONOMIC AID TO GREECE AND TURKEY --

TRUMAN DOCTRINE PROCLAIMED MARCH 12 --

JUNE 5 MARSHALL PLAN ANNOUNCED AT HARVARD --

UNDOUBTEDLY SAVED WESTERN EUROPE FROM COLLAPSE AND COMMUNISM.

WHAT WE HAVE DONE:

SAVED WESTERN EUROPE - KOREA --

STRAINED RELATIONS WITH ALLIES OVER SUEZ -- Lack of Faith

FAILED TO APPRECIATE IMPORTANCE NEUTRALITY - PARTICULARLY INDIA --

FAILED TO RECOGNIZE RED CHINA OR PERMIT REPORTERS -- Why afraid.

STARTED TO DUPLICATE BRITISH MISTAKES IN MIDDLE EAST --

FALLEN BEHIND IN SCIENTIFIC RACE --

DEMONSTRATED THAT WEST HAS NO POLICY FOR REVOLT IN SATELLITES --

AND WE HAVE BEEN COMFORTABLE --

WE PROPOSED AERIAL INSPECTION - THE RUSSIANS REJECTED --

WE DECLINED PROVIDE ARMS FOR ISRAEL--

DULLES SAID TANKS CANNOT CROSS DESERTS - ALSO CLAIMED NEUTRALITY

"EXCEPTION UNDER EXCEPTIONAL CIRCUMSTANCES" IS AN IMMORAL AND SHORT-SIGHTED CONCEPTION...

WE REFUSED TO NEGOTIATE WITH RED CHINA --

IN JULY 1956 WE WITHDREW OFFER TO HELP EGYPT BUILD ASWAN DAM.

NASSER SEIZED THE CANAL.

OCTOBER 22 - HUNGARIAN REVOLT BEGAN -- No Policy -

OCTOBER 29 - ISRAEL MOVED FOR SUEZ -- Why?

DISARMAMENT TALKS - INTERCONTINENTAL BALLISTIC MISSILES.

SPUTNIK

IN FEBURARY 1948 COMMUNIST COUP IN CZECHOSLOVAKIA --

MAY 1948 INDEPENDENT STATE OF ISRAEL PROCLAIMED --

JUNE 1948 VANDENBURG RESOLUTION DECLARED INTENTION TO BREAK WITH TRADITION OF NO FOREIGN ENTANGLEMENTS.

BERLIN AIRLIFT BEGAN IN JULY --

APRIL 1949 NORTH ATLANTIC TREATY SIGNED IN WASHINGTON WHICH COMPLETED COMMITMENT TO FREE WORLD --

JUNE 1950 NORTH KOREAN COMMUNISTS INVADED KOREA --

TRUMAN IMPLIED A-BOMB MIGHT BE USED IN KOREA --

ATLEE RUSHED OVER TO DISSUADE HIM --

MARCH 1952 STALIN DIED -- CHURCHILL PROPOSED SUMMIT CONFERENCE - GENEVA

THAT SUMMER RUSSIANS EXPLODED FIRST H-BOMB --

BEGINNING OF 1954 DULLES ANNOUNCED POLICY MASSIVE RETALIATION --

WE EXPLODED FIRST H-BOMB IN THE MARSHALLS --

WAR IN INDO-CHINA. NIXON ADVOCATES SENDING U.S. TROOPS THERE.

WE DECIDE AID TITO --

EGYPT ANNOUNCED ACCEPTANCE SOVIET ARMS --

WHAT REMAINS TO BE DONE:

RECOGNIZE DIFFICULTIES OF RUNNING A COALITION --

APPRECIATE IMPORTANCE AFRICA - ASIA --

UNDERSTAND COMPETITION BETWEEN CHINA AND INDIA --

DISPEL ILLUSION ABOUT RUSSIAN ACCOMPLISHMENTS --

ACHIEVE A POLICY FOR THE MIDDLE EAST -- Have None Now

FIND A CURE FOR OUR SCHIZOPHRENIA THAT OUR ALLIES AND DEPENDENT TERRITORIES -- Germany.

RECOGNIZE IMPORTANCE OF EDUCATION --

NO NATION EVER ~~DEMANDED ANYTHING~~ GREAT THAT DID NOT ~~CLAIM DEFENSE OF IT.~~ have gratuitous demanded —

Costello — Kamchatka —

Eng. Post

October 10, 1957

Dear Mrs. McLaughlin:

Thank you for your very kind letter of October 5. It is kind of you to invite Mr. Bliss to the dinner, but unfortunately, he will be unable to attend.

We shall appreciate having a car meet us at Willow Run, and my secretary will either wire or telephone you on Monday to let you know the flight number and time of arrival. I certainly would appreciate your husband's company on the drive from WJR to the dinner.

I shall be glad to answer questions from the audience. Incidentally, would you please let me know how long I am expected to speak. I rather prefer to devote more time to questions than to the actual speaking.

I am touched by your charmingly unbusiness-like method of sending me a blank check. I shall fill it in after the trip has been completed.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. Phyllis E. McLaughlin
The Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges
1031 Bishop Road
Grosse Pointe 30, Michigan

mcc

(Copy of speech in Speech Folder)

TRANSLATION

The Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges:

1031 Bishop Rd.
Grosse Pointe, 30
Michigan.

October 5, 1957.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The old college portable has given up under the weight of seven colleges - hence the longhand! Thank you for your nice letter of Sept. 27th. A room has been reserved for Mr. Bliss at the Statler Hotel close to your suite. We hope Mr. Bliss will be able to come to the dinner and lecture as the Committee's guest, and have arranged a place at the head table for him.

The dinner has been postponed till 7.30 p.m. - dress is informal. Last year Ambassador Lodge and the professor who introduced him did wear "black tie", but they were the only gentlemen to do so. Please do as you prefer in this regard.

You will have a lady "introducer". She is Dr. Alice Crathera, professor of English at Wayne University, a Mount Holyoke alumna, and one of Detroit's distinguished citizens.

We appreciate your consideration for us in regard to meeting you at the airport; however it can easily be arranged to have a car and chauffeur there for your convenience. It is thirty-five miles from Willow Run to Detroit! If you could have someone 'phone or telegraph me just prior to your departure from New York, we should be happy to take care of this for you. The car could also be at your disposal to and from the radio station. My husband would be very pleased to accompany you from Station WJR to the dinner, if that would be of help to you.

One more item! Will you permit questions from the audience after your address? We would have the ushers pass out paper and pencils XXX so they would be written.

I am enclosing the courtesy card from the Statler Hotel; also a check for your and Mr. Bliss' expenses. Since I do not know what the exact amount will be, will you please fill it in? Both hotel accomodations will be taken care of directly by the Committee.

I can only repeat how deeply we appreciate the time you are giving us.

Sincerely,

Phyllis E. McLaughlin.

The Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges

1031 Bishop Rd.
Grosse Pointe, 30
Michigan

October 5, 1957

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The old college portable has given way under the weight of seven colleges — hence the longhand! Thank you for your nice letter of Sept. 27th — a room has been reserved for Mr. Bliss at the Statler Hotel close to your suite. We hope Mr. Bliss will be able to come to the dinner and lecture as the Committee's guest and have arranged a place at the head table for him.

The dinner has been postponed till 7:30 p.m. — dress is informal. Last year Ambassador Lodge and the professor who introduced him did wear "black tie", but they were the only gentlemen to do so. Please do as you prefer in this regard.

You will have a lady "introducer". She is Dr. Alice Crathern, professor of English at Wayne University, a Mount Holyoke alumna, and one of Detroit's distinguished citizens.

We appreciate your consideration for us in regard to meeting you at the airport; however it can easily be arranged to have a car and chauffeur there for your convenience. It is thirty-five miles from Willow Run to Detroit! If you could have someone 'phone or telegraph me just prior to your departure from New York, we should be happy to take care of this for you. The car could also be at your disposal to and from the radio station. My husband would be very pleased to accompany you from Station WJR to the dinner, if that would be of help to you.

One more item! Will you permit questions from the audience after your address? We would have the usher pass out paper and pencils so they would be written.

I am enclosing the courtesy card from the State Dept; also a check for your and Mr. Bliss' expenses. Since I do not know what the exact amount will be, will you please fill it in? Both hotel accomodations will be taken care of directly by the Committee.

I can only repeat how deeply we appreciate the time you are giving us.

Sincerely,

Phyllis E. McLaughlin
(Mrs. W. C.)

[Succ. (2)]

Telephone:
Tuxedo 2-2076

[redacted] K 74-978 No. 393

October 7 1957

PAY TO THE ORDER OF Edward R. Murrow $

DOLLARS

SEVEN COLLEGE COMMITTEE

7

by Athena C. Grafow

Insured against fraudulent alteration
RITE-TODD BANKERS SUPPLY

September 27, 1957

Dear Mrs. McLaughlin:

Many thanks for your cordial letter of September 20. Since I shall be busy all day on October 15th preparing and writing my daily news program, I regret that it will be impossible to make the luncheon and other afternoon engagements you suggest. Also, since I shall not be able to tell until practically the last moment at what time I shall arrive in Detroit, I think it would be better for you not to plan on meeting me at the airport. I shall drive straight to the Statler Hotel and you can contact me either there or in the news room at our local station (WJR). My broadcast will be at 6:45 p.m., local time so I fear I cannot arrive at the dinner until about 7:30 p.m. Would you kindly let me know whether it is a black-tie affair?

I shall be accompanied by my assistant, Ed Bliss, and I wonder whether your secretary would be good enough to make a reservation for him at the Statler Hotel?

I look forward to seeing you on October 15th.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. Phyllis McLaughlin
Chairman
Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges
1031 Bishop Road
Grosse Pointe 30, Michigan

mcc

Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges

BARNARD WELLESLEY BRYN MAWR RADCLIFFE
SMITH MOUNT HOLYOKE VASSAR

1031 Bishop Road
Grosse Pointe, 30, Mich.
September 20, 1957

Dear Mr. Murrow;

Thank you very much for your letter of August 25th. The Committee is delighted that you are able to accept its invitation but only sorry that Mrs. Murrow will be unable to come with you. We do appreciate very deeply the gracious donation of your time --the honorarium will be specifically set aside in the scholarship fund for this year.

We shall, of course, meet you at the airport--will you advise us of the time of your arrival? Mr. Moore has suggested that you might like to have lunch at the Ford Motor Company. The various news media are anxious to interview you--would you like us to arrange a meeting with the press at approximately four p. m. ? We have accomodations for you at the Statler Hotel and the meeting could be held there.

A small group (twelve to sixteen people) would like to entertain you at approximately five-thirty p. m. if you would enjoy relaxing over a cocktail at that time.

The only fixed items on the schedule are the dinner at six-thirty p.m. and your address at eight-thirty p.m.; any other plans will be made completely at your convenience. If you would just prefer to have several hours of peace and quiet before the evening's events, that can be arranged too.

Sincerely,

Phyllis E. McLaughlin

Phyllis E. McLaughlin (Mrs. W. C.)
Chairman

Upcoming

August 25, 1957

Dear Mrs. McLaughlin:

I have just returned from vacation to find your letter of August 6th. I hope you will forgive the delay in replying.

I am looking forward to my visit on October 15th, but regret to say that Mrs. Murrow will be unable to join me.

About the honorarium, I have long had a policy not to accept speaking engagements and therefore will not accept a fee. Perhaps you might suggest a scholarship.

I am enclosing the biographical data and the pictures as you requested.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. W.C. McLaughlin
1031 Bishop Road
Grosse Pointe, 30, Michigan

fc

(Dictated but not signed by Mr. Murrow)

reflections on Am. Foreign Policy

BARNARD

MOUNT HOLYOKE

SMITH

WELLESLEY

VASSAR

RADCLIFFE

BRYN MAWR

WHO?

THE DETROIT COMMITTEE FOR SEVEN EASTERN WOMEN'S COLLEGES—representing alumnae of Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Vassar, and Wellesley colleges.

WHY?

1. To promote the ideals and purposes of liberal arts colleges and to provide information about the seven women's colleges.

2. To provide scholarships to send Michigan girls to these colleges.

HOW?

By joint fund-raising projects.

Detroit alumnae of Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe, Wellesley Colleges have long cooperated on matters of mutual interest. As fa they arranged social gatherings at which common interests were discus

In that year, also, the Presidents of the Seven Colleges made their first joir
American public for support of liberal arts education for women. Simult Committee of Seven Colleges" was organized in the East which sought to rais funds. Local alumnae groups in Detroit supported this Committee b educational standards of the Colleges and their need for financial suppor

In those first years of cooperative action, each of the seven college alu maintained its own fund raising projects. It was only logical, however, that th ultimately pool their resources for a common project which offered of increasing the amount of money raised.

In 1938, Detroit welcomed its first Seven College joint fund-raising project fo performance of "You Can't Take It With You" also made Detroit t the first time that a theater in this City was sold out for a benefit perform that time the Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges sponsored several theater benefits, children's matinees, and lectures by nati variety of subjects. Since 1946 it has also sponsored, as part of its progra annual College Information Day at the Women's City Club of Detro Michigan communities are invited. There, members of the alumnae clu information about each of the Colleges and the opportunities

More than $40,000 has been raised through the Committee's provide scholarships for approximately 100 Michigan girls. The success of the reflects the continuing loyal support of the alumnae groups, and the ap Detroit community for the civic and educational role which the Com

adcliffe, Smith, Vassar, and st. As far back as 1927
e discussed.

first joint appeal to the . Simultaneously, an "Alumnae nt to raise endowment mittee by publicizing the l support from private sources.

ege alumnae groups in Detroit that they should offered the prospect oject for scholarships. The Detroit theatrical history; it was performance. Since Colleges has successfully s by nationally known figures on a s program, an of Detroit to which girls from 65 nae clubs provide tunities it offers.

mittee's projects to ss of the Committee's program d the appreciation of the the Committee has assumed.

The Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges is an autonomous, self-perpetuating organization. The Presidents of the Local alumnae clubs and their ticket chairmen form the nucleus of its membership, together with the following officers who are elected or appointed from the combined alumnae groups: A General Chairman, two Vice-chairmen, Secretary, Treasurer, College Information Chairman, General Ticket Chairman, Publicity Chairman, and Patroness Chairman.

1956-1957 Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges

OFFICERS

GENERAL CHAIRMAN
Mrs. David H. Lynn, Barnard

VICE-CHAIRMAN
Mrs. John S. Hammond, Wellesley

VICE-CHAIRMAN
Mrs. Wilfrid C. McLaughlin, Vassar

SECRETARY
Mrs. William R. Eyler, Radcliffe

TREASURER
Mrs. John Controulis, Vassar

PUBLICITY CHAIRMAN
Mrs. James W. Lee II, Smith

COLLEGE INFORMATION CHAIRMAN
Mrs. H. Paul Sloan, Jr., Mt. Holyoke

GENERAL TICKET CHAIRMAN
Mrs. Phillips VanDusen, Smith

PROGRAM CHAIRMAN
Mrs. Herbert Bartlett, Wellesley

CLUB PRESIDENTS

Mrs. William T. Gossett, Barnard

Mrs. E. Osborne Coates, Jr., Bryn Mawr

Mrs. Kenneth McCoy, Mt. Holyoke

Mrs. John C. Finegan, Radcliffe

Mrs. W. Brace Krag, Smith

Miss Hilary Whitaker, Vassar

Mrs. Orvil R. Aronson, Wellesley

Mrs. E. Steven Bauer, Smith, Birmingham Club

Miss Jeanne B. Lloyd, Wellesley, Birmingham Club

CLUB TICKET CHAIRMEN

Mrs. Louis B. Heavenrich, Barnard

Mrs. Robert W. Chambers, Bryn Mawr

Mrs. Leonard L. Winter, Mt. Holyoke

Mrs. Leonard J. Grabow, Radcliffe

Mrs. George S. Ritchie, Smith

Mrs. Richard Mittenthal, Vassar

Miss Louise Owen, Wellesley

Mrs. George N. Hilfinger, Smith, Birmingham Club

Mrs. Robert B. Knight, Wellesley, Birmingham Club

Mrs. Harold Paul Sloan, Jr.

43 Cambridge Boulevard, Pleasant Ridge, Michigan

August 5, 1957

Dear Mrs. Murrow,

We in the Mount Holyoke Club of Detroit are delighted at the prospect of your husband's speaking for our Seven College Committee on Tuesday, October 15th. We are eagerly hopeful that you will be able to accompany him on this visit to Detroit. It would be perfectly wonderful for us to have you both here. This would be our dream come true.

If you are able to be here and can arrange any spare time, we should like very much to have a luncheon or tea or cocktail party in your honor so that some of the Mount Holyoke alumnae in this area may have the privilege of a special visit with you.

Mrs. Harold Paul Sloan, Jr.

43 Cambridge Boulevard, Pleasant Ridge, Michigan

We are all looking forward with eager anticipation to seeing you and your husband on October 15th. You will try to come with him, won't you?

Very sincerely yours,
Dorothy M. Sloan

Eng. Post

NEW YORK LEAGUE FOR A. H. R. C. INC.

Association for the Help of Retarded Children

116 EAST 27th STREET
NEW YORK 16, N. Y.

7

November 1st, 1957

Honorary Chairman
MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

Honorary Past President
MRS. BARNETT ROBINSON

President
MRS. LOUIS SILBERBERG

Vice-Presidents
MRS. HARRY BENGELSDORF
MRS. BENJAMIN R. EPSTEIN
MRS. JEROME LEVY
MRS. EMANUEL MANGEL
MRS. A. W. SCHEFFRES

Recording Secretary
MRS. ARTHUR STREIM

Corresponding Secretaries
MRS. EMIL FISCHL
MRS. ARTHUR STERN

Treasurer
MRS. HARRY GOMETZ

Financial Secretary
MRS. HARRY MERNOFF

Board Members
MRS. JULIAN BANNER
MRS. J. S. BECKER
MRS. HERMAN BOBER
MRS. HENRY FRIED
MRS. ISIDOR GOLDBERG
MRS. SAM GOOLD
MRS. ARTHUR R. HERSKE
MRS. JACQUES KREISLER
MRS. BERNARD METZGER
MRS. LEONARD MOSES
MRS. HARRY M. PIMSTEIN
MRS. SOL ROSENBLATT
MRS. SOL SCHNEIDERMAN
MRS. SIDNEY SCHWARTZ
MRS. LEON SHAPIRO
MRS. SIDNEY SHAPIRO
MRS. ABE SHURR
MRS. M. S. WEINMAN
MRS. MILTON ZAIDENBERG

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Ave.
New York 22, New York

Attention Miss F. Crissan

Dear Miss Crissan,

Pertaining to our telephone conversation, I am enclosing herewith the format of the Time schedule, and the honored guests to be seated on the dais, for our luncheon on November 11th, 1957.

Should there be any further questions, please do not hesitate to call on me.

Thank you.

Cordially yours,

Mary A. Shapiro

Chairman of Program

Mrs. Sidney J. Shapiro
730 Fort Washington Ave.
New York 40, New York

LOrraine 8-5044

Contributions to the New York League for A. H. R. C. Inc. are tax deductible.

NEW YORK LEAGUE FOR A. H. R. C. INC.

Association for the Help of Retarded Children

116 EAST 27th STREET
NEW YORK 16, N. Y.

Honorary Chairman
MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

Honorary Past President
MRS. BARNETT ROBINSON

President
MRS. LOUIS SILBERBERG

Vice-Presidents
MRS. HARRY BENGELSDORF
MRS. BENJAMIN R. EPSTEIN
MRS. JEROME LEVY
MRS. EMANUEL MANGEL
MRS. A. W. SCHEFFRES

Recording Secretary
MRS. ARTHUR STREIM

Corresponding Secretaries
MRS. EMIL FISCHL
MRS. ARTHUR STERN

Treasurer
MRS. HARRY GOMETZ

Financial Secretary
MRS. HARRY MERNOFF

Board Members
MRS. JULIAN BANNER
MRS. J. S. BECKER
MRS. HERMAN BOBER
MRS. HENRY FRIED
MRS. ISIDOR GOLDBERG
MRS. SAM GOOLD
MRS. ARTHUR R. HERSKE
MRS. JACQUES KREISLER
MRS. BERNARD METZGER
MRS. LEONARD MOSES
MRS. HARRY M. PIMSTEIN
MRS. SOL ROSENBLATT
MRS. SOL SCHNEIDERMAN
MRS. SIDNEY SCHWARTZ
MRS. LEON SHAPIRO
MRS. SIDNEY SHAPIRO
MRS. ABE SHURR
MRS. M. S. WEINMAN
MRS. MILTON ZAIDENBERG

LUNCHEON NOVEMBER 11th, 1957

Waldorf-Astoria Hotel

FORMAT

Pre-luncheon cocktails Crane Suite (4th Floor)	12	Noon
Luncheon doors open	12.30
Mrs. Scheffres-Announce singing of Star-Spangled Banner and invocation	12.40
Luncheon	1.00
After clearing tables of main course, before dessert, Mrs. Schwartz introduce Miss Ilka Chase	1.45
Raffle Pitch--Miss Chase	1.50
Dessert served during raffle sale [redacted], Mrs. Schwartz introduce Tex McCrary	2.15
Mr. McCrary--Welcome speech and introduction of Dais guests	2.20
Mr. McCrary introduce President-Mrs. Silberberg	2.23
Mr. McCrary introduce Ed. Murrow	2.29
Mr. Henry R. Luce	2.35
Mr. McCrary announce Fashion Show and introduce Dorothy Kilgallen	2.40
Fashion Show	2.45

Respectfully submitted,

Mary A Shapiro
Program Chairman

Mrs. Sidney J. Shapiro
730 Fort Washington Ave.
New York 40, N.Y.

LOrraine 8-5044

Contributions to the New York League for A. H. R. C. Inc. are tax deductible.

New York League for Assoc for Help of Retarded Children
November 11, 1957

PRESENTED TO

MR. HENRY R. LUCE

BY THE NEW YORK LEAGUE FOR A.H.R.C.

ASSOCIATION FOR THE HELP OF RETARDED CHILDREN

IN RECOGNITION FOR THE OUTSTANDING "LIFE" MAGAZINE ARTICLES WHICH HAVE AROUSED NATIONAL INTEREST IN THE PROBLEM OF MENTAL RETARDATION.

New York League for A.H.R.C.

Nov 11, 1957

Eng. Post.

STILL SLIGHTLY AMBULANT CORPSE - CONGRATULATIONS, NOT SO MUCH TO YOU AS TO PHOTOGRAPHERS WHOSE SKILL AND SENSITIVE PERCEPTION PRODUCED PICTURES THAT COMBINED CLARITY AND COMPASSION, AND REPORTERS WHO WROTE SIMPLY BUT WHO USED WORDS THAT HAVE NOT LOST THEIR CUTTING EDGE.

THIS SERIES ILLUMINATED A DARK CORNER IN OUR NATIONAL ETHICS - PRICKED A CONSCIENCE THAT HAD BECOME CALLOUSED - AND PROVIDED A REASONED AND REASONABLE MEASURE OF HOPE - MUST IN SOME MEASURE HAVE CHANGED CLIMATE OF OPINION - WAS EFFORT ALTOGETHER IN PUBLIC INTEREST

RECENTLY RE-READ ENTIRE SERIES DEALING WITH MENTAL HEALTH AND RETARDED CHILDREN - STILL NECESSARY TO READ - THE LATE HEYWOOD BROUN - THE PLAQUE.

NEW YORK LEAGUE FOR A. H. R. C. INC.

Association for the Help of Retarded Children

116 EAST 27th STREET
NEW YORK 16, N. Y.

Honorary Chairman
MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

Honorary Past President
MRS. BARNETT ROBINSON

President
MRS. LOUIS SILBERBERG

Vice-Presidents
MRS. HARRY BENGELSDORF
MRS. BENJAMIN R. EPSTEIN
MRS. JEROME LEVY
MRS. EMANUEL MANGEL
MRS. A. W. SCHEFFRES

Recording Secretary
MRS. ARTHUR STREIM

Corresponding Secretaries
MRS. EMIL FISCHL
MRS. ARTHUR STERN

Treasurer
MRS. HARRY GOMETZ

Financial Secretary
MRS. HARRY MERNOFF

Board Members
MRS. JULIAN BANNER
MRS. J. S. BECKER
MRS. HERMAN BOBER
MRS. HENRY FRIED
MRS. ISIDOR GOLDBERG
MRS. SAM GOOLD
MRS. ARTHUR R. HERSKE
MRS. JACQUES KREISLER
MRS. BERNARD METZGER
MRS. LEONARD MOSES
MRS. HARRY M. PIMSTEIN
MRS. SOL ROSENBLATT
MRS. SOL SCHNEIDERMAN
MRS. SIDNEY SCHWARTZ
MRS. LEON SHAPIRO
MRS. SIDNEY SHAPIRO
MRS. ABE SHURR
MRS. M. S. WEINMAN
MRS. MILTON ZAIDENBERG

November 4th, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Ave.
New York New York

Atten Miss Crissan

Dear Mr. Murrow,

Attached herewith you will find a REVISED format for our luncheon on November 11th, at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

We have given you four minutes to makethe presentation to Mr. Henry R. Luce. Y ou can have an extra minute if you desire.

Looking forward tomeeting you, I am

Cordially yours,

Maya Shapiro

Program Chairman

Mrs. Sidney J. Shapiro
730 Fort Washington Ave.
New York 40, New York

Contributions to the New York League for A. H. R. C. Inc. are tax deductible.

Mr. Ed. R. Murrow

NEW YORK LEAGUE FOR A. H. R. C. INC.
Association for the Help of Retarded ChildRen

LUNCHEON WALDORF ASTORIA HOTEL

November 11th, 1957

Cocktails--Crane Suite-4th Floor		12 Noon
Public luncheon doors open		12.30
Entrance Dais Guests		12.45
Mrs. Scheffres announce National Anthem and Invocation		12.46 12.49
Luncheon begins		1.00
First Course		1.05
Main dish and clearing of tables of same		1.30
Mrs. Schwartz introduce Ilka Chase		1.31
Ilka Chase	2 minutes	1.33
Showing of Chinchilla coat		1.34
Raffle sale and serving of dessert		1.56
Mrs. Schwartz introduce McCrary		1.57
Tex McCrary-Welcome speech and introduction of Dais guests and finally President Mrs. Silberberg	(8 minutes	2.05
Mrs. Silberberg	(2 minutes	2.07
McCrary introduce Mr Murrow		2.08
Mr. Ed R. Murrow	(4 minutes	2.12
Mr. Henry R. Luce	(3 minutes	2.15
McCrary announce Fashion Shoow and introduce Dorothy Kilgallen		2.16
Fashion Show		2.20

Respectfully submitted

Mrs. Sidney J. Shapiro Program Chairman
730 Ft. Washington Ave. N.Y. 40

SEATING OF DAIS GUESTS

LUNCHEON Association for the Help Of Retarded Children
Waldorf-Astoria Hotel----November 11th, 1957

11. Miss Dorothy Kilgallen - Television personality, fashion commentator
10. Roxanne - Designer of fashion show clothes
9. Mr. Samuel Winston - whose clothes are being shown
8. Miss Eleanor Lambert - fashion coordinator
7. Mrs. Leonard Moses - chairman of reception - member of board
6. Miss Dorothy Sarnoff - singer
5. Mrs. Mary Shapiro - chairman of program - member of board
4. Mr. Charles Silver - President of Board of Education of N.Y.C.
3. Miss Ilka Chase
2. Mr. Tex McCrary
1. Mrs. A.U. (Link) Scheffres - co-chairman of luncheon and board member

(Lectern)

1. Mrs. Louis Silberberg - president of the New York League for AHRC and one of its founders
2. Mr. Henry R. Luce
3. Mrs. Sidney Schwartz - co-chairman of luncheon - member of board
4. Mr. Edward R. Murrow
5. Mrs. Barnett Robinson - Honorary ~~First~~ President of New York League for AHRC
6. Mr. Jerome Fheingold - executive director of AHRC
7. Miss Maya Pines) author)
8. Cornell Capa) photographer) Life Magazine staff members responsible for articles
9. Mr. Max Dubrow - Director of Workshop
10. Mrs. Berenice Rogers - Commissioner of Housing of New York City
11. Mr. Bernard M. Fineson - president of Association for the help of Retarded Children.

NEW YORK LEAGUE FOR A. H. R. C. INC.

Association for the Help of Retarded Children

116 EAST 27th STREET
NEW YORK 16, N. Y.

Honorary Chairman
MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

Honorary Past President
MRS. BARNETT ROBINSON

President
MRS. LOUIS SILBERBERG

Vice-Presidents
MRS. HARRY BENGELSDORF
MRS. BENJAMIN R. EPSTEIN
MRS. JEROME LEVY
MRS. EMANUEL MANGEL
MRS. A. W. SCHEFFRES

Recording Secretary
MRS. ARTHUR STREIM

Corresponding Secretaries
MRS. EMIL FISCHL
MRS. ARTHUR STERN

Treasurer
MRS. HARRY GOMETZ

Financial Secretary
MRS. HARRY MERNOFF

Board Members
MRS. JULIAN BANNER
MRS. J. S. BECKER
MRS. HERMAN BOBER
MRS. HENRY FRIED
MRS. ISIDOR GOLDBERG
MRS. SAM GOOLD
MRS. ARTHUR R. HERSKE
MRS. JACQUES KREISLER
MRS. BERNARD METZGER
MRS. LEONARD MOSES
MRS. HARRY M. PIMSTEIN
MRS. SOL ROSENBLATT
MRS. SOL SCHNEIDERMAN
MRS. SIDNEY SCHWARTZ
MRS. LEON SHAPIRO
MRS. SIDNEY SHAPIRO
MRS. ABE SHURR
MRS. M. S. WEINMAN
MRS. MILTON ZAIDENBERG

October 25, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 20, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

On behalf of the New York League for A.H.R.C. Inc., you are cordially invited for cocktails preceding our luncheon on Monday, November 11, in the Crane Suite, Room 4U of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel at 12 o'clock noon.

Looking forward with pleasure to greeting you then, I am,

Most sincerely,

Patti Moses

Chairman of Reception

Mrs. Leonard Moses
91 Central Park West
New York 23, New York

Contributions to the New York League for A. H. R. C. Inc. are tax deductible.

Hold

NEW YORK LEAGUE FOR A. H. R. C. INC.

Association for the Help of Retarded Children

116 EAST 27th STREET
NEW YORK 16, N. Y.

Honorary Chairman
MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

Honorary Past President
MRS. BARNETT ROBINSON

President
MRS. LOUIS SILBERBERG

Vice-Presidents
MRS. HARRY BENGELSDORF
MRS. BENJAMIN R. EPSTEIN
MRS. JEROME LEVY
MRS. EMANUEL MANGEL
MRS. A. W. SCHEFFRES

Recording Secretary
MRS. ARTHUR STREIM

Corresponding Secretaries
MRS. EMIL FISCHL
MRS. ARTHUR STERN

Treasurer
MRS. HARRY GOMETZ

Financial Secretary
MRS. HARRY MERNOFF

Board Members
MRS. JULIAN BANNER
MRS. J. S. BECKER
MRS. HERMAN BOBER
MRS. HENRY FRIED
MRS. ISIDOR GOLDBERG
MRS. SAM GOOLD
MRS. ARTHUR R. HERSKE
MRS. JACQUES KREISLER
MRS. BERNARD METZGER
MRS. LEONARD MOSES
MRS. HARRY M. PIMSTEIN
MRS. SOL ROSENBLATT
MRS. SOL SCHNEIDERMAN
MRS. SIDNEY SCHWARTZ
MRS. LEON SHAPIRO
MRS. SIDNEY SHAPIRO
MRS. ABE SHURR
MRS. M. S. WEINMAN
MRS. MILTON ZAIDENBERG

October 24th, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Ave.
New York 22, New York

7241

Dear Mr. Murrow,

Following up our letter of October 5th, with reference to the luncheon on November 11th at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel honoring Mr. Henry Luce, you will find below the text of the citation which you are to present:--

PRESENTED TO

MR. HENRY R. LUCE

BY THE NEW YORK LEAGUE FOR A.H.R.C

Association for the Help of Retarded Children

-IN-

RECOGNITION FOR THE OUTSTANDING "LIFE" MAGAZINE ARTICLES WHICH HAVE AROUSED NATIONAL INTEREST IN THE PROBLEM OF MENTAL RETARDATION.

I am looking forward with great pleasure to meeting you.

Cordially yours,

Mary A Shapiro
(Program Chairman

Mrs. Sidney J. Shapiro
730 Fort Washington Ave.
New York 40, New York
LO 8- 5044

Contributions to the New York League for A. H. R. C. Inc. are tax deductible.

NEW YORK LEAGUE FOR A. H. R. C. INC.

Association for the Help of Retarded Children

116 EAST 27th STREET
NEW YORK 16, N. Y.

Honorary Chairman
MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

Honorary Past President
MRS. BARNETT ROBINSON

President
MRS. LOUIS SILBERBERG

Vice-Presidents
MRS. HARRY BENGELSDORF
MRS. BENJAMIN R. EPSTEIN
MRS. JEROME LEVY
MRS. EMANUEL MANGEL
MRS. A. W. SCHEFFRES

Recording Secretary
MRS. ARTHUR STREIM

Corresponding Secretaries
MRS. EMIL FISCHL
MRS. ARTHUR STERN

Treasurer
MRS. HARRY GOMETZ

Financial Secretary
MRS. HARRY MERNOFF

Board Members
MRS. JULIAN BANNER
MRS. J. S. BECKER
MRS. HERMAN BOBER
MRS. HENRY FRIED
MRS. ISIDOR GOLDBERG
MRS. SAM GOOLD
MRS. ARTHUR R. HERSKE
MRS. JACQUES KREISLER
MRS. BERNARD METZGER
MRS. LEONARD MOSES
MRS. HARRY M. PIMSTEIN
MRS. SOL ROSENBLATT
MRS. SOL SCHNEIDERMAN
MRS. SIDNEY SCHWARTZ
MRS. LEON SHAPIRO
MRS. SIDNEY SHAPIRO
MRS. ABE SHURR
MRS. M. S. WEINMAN
MRS. MILTON ZAIDENBERG

October 5th, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Ave.
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow,

We are grateful to you for accepting our invitation to present a citation to Mr. Henry R. Luce on November 11th, 1957 at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

In the very near future we shall send you a text of the Award. Should there be any further questions, be free to call upon me at any time.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Mary A. Shapiro

Mrs. Sidney J. Shapiro
730 Ft. Washington Ave.
New York 40, New York

Contributions to the New York League for A. H. R. C. Inc. are tax deductible.

Upcoming

October 4, 1957

Dear Mrs. Shapiro:

Thank you for your letter of September 23rd.

This is just a note to tell you that I shall be delighted to present a citation to Mr. Henry Luce, and am looking forward to attending the luncheon on November 11th.

Would you be kind enough to send me the text of the citation.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. Sidney J. Shapiro
730 Fort Washington Avenue
New York 40, New York

fc

(Dictated but not signed by Mr. Murrow)

NEW YORK LEAGUE FOR A. H. R. C. INC.

Association for the Help of Retarded Children

116 EAST 27th STREET
NEW YORK 16, N. Y.

Honorary Chairman
MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

Honorary Past President
MRS. BARNETT ROBINSON

President
MRS. LOUIS SILBERBERG

Vice-Presidents
MRS. HARRY BENGELSDORF
MRS. BENJAMIN R. EPSTEIN
MRS. JEROME LEVY
MRS. EMANUEL MANGEL
MRS. A. W. SCHEFFRES

Recording Secretary
MRS. ARTHUR STREIM

Corresponding Secretaries
MRS. EMIL FISCHL
MRS. ARTHUR STERN

Treasurer
MRS. HARRY GOMETZ

Financial Secretary
MRS. HARRY MERNOFF

Board Members
MRS. JULIAN BANNER
MRS. J. S. BECKER
MRS. HERMAN BOBER
MRS. HENRY FRIED
MRS. ISIDOR GOLDBERG
MRS. SAM GOOLD
MRS. ARTHUR R. HERSKE
MRS. JACQUES KREISLER
MRS. BERNARD METZGER
MRS. LEONARD MOSES
MRS. HARRY M. PIMSTEIN
MRS. SOL ROSENBLATT
MRS. SOL SCHNEIDERMAN
MRS. SIDNEY SCHWARTZ
MRS. LEON SHAPIRO
MRS. SIDNEY SHAPIRO
MRS. ABE SHURR
MRS. M. S. WEINMAN
MRS. MILTON ZAIDENBERG

September 23rd, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New Y ork

Dear Mr. Murrow,

We refer to your letter of June 28th, wherein you suggest we write you again in the fall.

To refresh the above letter, we had asked you at that time if you would be available on November 11th, 1957, to present a citation to Mr. Henry R. Luce, at a luncheon for the above organization in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. The award is being made to Mr. Luce for the publication of a series of essays in "LIFE" magazine on retarded children.

I sincerely hope that your schedule will permit your being with us. May I also say at this time, that only about one and one-half hours would be the extent of your time required.

We would be most grateful if you would accept.

Thanking you in advance, I remain

Cordially,

Mary A Shapiro

Mrs. Sidney J. Shapiro
730 Fort Washington Ave.
New York 40, New York

Lo 8-5044

Contributions to the New York League for A. H. R. C. Inc. are tax deductible.

Shapiro

June 28, 1957

Dear Mrs. Shapiro:

Many thanks for your letter inviting me to be present when Mr. Henry R. Luce receives his citation.

However, I cannot commit myself so far in advance. Please write me again in the fall. Thank you again.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Sidney J. Shapiro
730 Fort Washington Avenue
New York 40, New York

mcc

NEW YORK LEAGUE FOR A. H. R. C. INC.

Association for the Help of Retarded Children

116 EAST 27th STREET
NEW YORK 16, N. Y.

Honorary Chairman
MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

Honorary Past President
MRS. BARNETT ROBINSON

President
MRS. LOUIS SILBERBERG

Vice-Presidents
MRS. HARRY BENGELSDORF
MRS. BENJAMIN R. EPSTEIN
MRS. JEROME LEVY
MRS. EMANUEL MANGEL
MRS. A. W. SCHEFFRES

Recording Secretary
MRS. ARTHUR STREIM

Corresponding Secretaries
MRS. EMIL FISCHL
MRS. ARTHUR STERN

Treasurer
MRS. HARRY GOMETZ

Financial Secretary
MRS. HARRY MERNOFF

Board Members
MRS. JULIAN BANNER
MRS. J. S. BECKER
MRS. HERMAN BOBER
MRS. HENRY FRIED
MRS. ISIDOR GOLDBERG
MRS. SAM GOOLD
MRS. ARTHUR R. HERSKE
MRS. JACQUES KREISLER
MRS. BERNARD METZGER
MRS. LEONARD MOSES
MRS. HARRY M. PIMSTEIN
MRS. SOL ROSENBLATT
MRS. SOL SCHNEIDERMAN
MRS. SIDNEY SCHWARTZ
MRS. LEON SHAPIRO
MRS. SIDNEY SHAPIRO
MRS. ABE SHURR
MRS. M. S. WEINMAN
MRS. MILTON ZAIDENBERG

June 18th, 1957

I am in Vacation

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Ave.
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow,

Mr. Henry R. Luce is to be the recipient of a citation by the above organization on November 11th, 1957, at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel at 12.30 P.M.

This award is being made to Mr. Luce for his awareness of our cause. "LIFE" magazine published a series of essays some months ago on the plight of retarded children, thereby helping us to obtain desperately needed funds.

This is the second such award made by AHRC, the first being to Mrs. Pearl Buck, and presented to her last year by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt in the presence of 1200 women.

Would it be possible for you to be with us on November 11th to make the presentation to Mr. Luce. Both Mr. Luce and you were the unanimous choices of our committee after careful consideration.

We sincerely hope that you are free and available on that date.

May I hear from you? Thank you.

Sincerely yours,

Mary A Shapiro

Mrs. Sidney J. Shapiro
730 Fort Washington Ave.
New York 40, New York

Contributions to the New York League for A. H. R. C. Inc. are tax deductible.

~~ufc.~~
Eng Post
November 1

November 1, 1957

Dear Commander Trahan:

This is just to confirm that we will lunch on November 13th with Admiral Kirkpatrick at the Century Club, 7 West 43rd Street, on November 13th at 1:00.

Sincerely yours,

Commander Paul Trahan
The Pentagon
Radio and Television Division
Department of Public Information
Washington, D.C.

fc

cc: Fred Friendly

COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM

Office Communication

to: Larry Lesueur

from: Ed Murrow

November 1, 1957

Admiral Kirkpatrick, the new P.I.O. for the Navy is coming to town November 13 and I am arranging a small luncheon at the Century Club, 7 West 43rd at 1:00 on that day. Hope you can join us.

fc

E.R.M.

COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM

Office Communication

to: Jesse Zousmer

from: Ed Murrow

November 1, 1957

Admiral Kirkpatrick, the new P.I.O. for the Navy is coming to town November 13 and I am arranging a small luncheon at the Century Club, 7 West 43rd at 1:00 on that day. Hope you can join us.

fc

E.R.M.

COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM

Office Communication

to: Irving Gitlin

from: Ed Murrow

November 1, 1957

Admiral Kirkpatrick, the new P.I.O. for the Navy is coming to town November 13 and I am arranging a small luncheon at the Century Club, 7 West 43rd at 1:00 on that day. Hope you can join us.

fc

E.R.M.

COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM

Office Communication to: John Day

from: Ed Murrow

November 1, 1957

Admiral Kirkpatrick, the new P.I.O. for the Navy is coming to town November 13 and I am arranging a small luncheon at the Century Club, 7 West 43rd at 1:00 on that day. Hope you can join us.

fc

E.R.M.

COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM

Office Communication

to: Sig Mickelson

from: Ed Murrow

November 1, 1957

Admiral Kirkpatrick, the new P.I.O. for the Navy is coming to town November 13 and I am arranging a small luncheon at the Century Club, 7 West 43rd at 1:00 on that day. Hope you can join us.

fc

E.R.M.

Refs. done
Org EXT
folder

YOUNG & RUBICAM, INC.

Advertising

NEW YORK · CHICAGO · DETROIT · SAN FRANCISCO · LOS ANGELES · HOLLYWOOD · MONTREAL · TORONTO · MEXICO CITY · SAN JUAN · LONDON

ROBERT P. MOUNTAIN
Vice President and Director of Radio-Television

NEW YORK 17 · 285 Madison Avenue

November 18, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:
We want you to know how very much we appreciate your having made the recent film on Asian flu. It has been shown to representatives of the Advertising Council, and they are truly enthusiastic about the fine result.

All parties concerned realize the special efforts you made to appear at the studio, even though you yourself were still in the throes of influenza. This is really "going the extra mile" to render a public service.

You should soon be seeing the film, as it will be shown over major television stations throughout the country. We are positive that it will be of great help in combating the inroads of Asian flu.

Sincerely,

Bob

RPM:js

T.R. by done
mr.

File

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE
WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

IN REPLYING, ADDRESS THE PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE

REFER TO:

February 6, 1958

Dear Mr. Murrow:

As the reports come in on the Asian influenza vaccination program, I am increasingly impressed with the role played by the communications industry in stimulating prompt public understanding and action.

Your contribution to this cause was especially outstanding and I want to thank you for it. The television announcements which you made for the Advertising Council have been widely used, and I am sure that they have had great influence in persuading people to get vaccinated.

This was an important public service and is one of the factors that has helped to minimize the effect of the Asian influenza epidemic in this country.

With warmest thanks and appreciation, I am,

Sincerely yours,

S E Burney

Surgeon General

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

T. Readings done by Mr. M.

FINAL REVISE

THE AD COUNCIL
ASIAN FLU VACCINE FILM SHOT
ONE MINUTE
TCPO: 2000 JOB NO: 5781

VIDEO	AUDIO
OPEN ON FULL SCREEN SHOT OF THE WORDS: "THE FACTS ABOUT ASIAN FLU."	ANNOUNCER: (V.O.) Here is Edward R. Murrow with the facts about Asian Flu...
DISSOLVE TO MURROW IN ARM CHAIR.	MURROW: Asian Flu is a new, highly contagious type of influenza. Its death rate is low, but its great danger lies in the fact that essential community service can be disrupted by an epidemic. Asian Flu is caused by a virus. It is spread through the air by the sneezing or coughing of an infected person. The United States Public Health Service and the American Medical Association have urged communities to be prepared. A new vaccine has been developed. It is the only known preventative for Asian Flu. It is given to adults in one shot and is effective for most people. It provides immunity in ten to fourteen days. It is safe and reactions, should they occur, are mild. Individuals known to be sensitive to eggs should not take the vaccine. Supplies of the vaccine are being distributed. Keep in touch with your doctor to find out when he will have the vaccine.* Take your flu shot as soon as possible.

Flu

YOUNG & RUBICAM, INC.

Advertising

NEW YORK · CHICAGO · DETROIT · SAN FRANCISCO · LOS ANGELES · HOLLYWOOD · MONTREAL · TORONTO

LONDON · MEXICO CITY · FRANKFURT · SAN JUAN · CARACAS

NEW YORK 17 · 285 Madison Avenue

Warner
Conrad Gorman

October 16, 1957

Mr. John Aaron
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Ave.
New York City

Dear John:

Here is the proposed storyboard for the Asian Flu announcement.

Presumably this could be revised somewhat to suit Ed's desire if he felt able to do it.

Thank you for taking the matter up with him.

Dick
Richard Dana

THE FACTS ABOUT ASIAN FLU

ANNOUNCER: (V.O.) Here is Edward R. Murrow, with the facts about Asian Flu...

MURROW: Asian Flu is a new, highly infectious type of influenza. Its death rate is low,

The United States Public Health Service believes there is a distinct probability that this country may suffer an epidemic this year.

For this reason, a new vaccine has been developed. It is the only known preventative for Asian Flu. It is 70 per cent effective.

Young & Rub

but its great danger lies in the fact that an entire city could be disrupted by an epidemic.

Asian Flu is caused by a virus. It can be spread through the air by the sneezing or coughing of an infected person.

It is given, to adults, in one shot and provides immunity in ten days. It is safe and reactions to the vaccine are rare. Individuals known to be sensitive to eggs should not take the vaccine.

Your community will receive their supply of the vaccine shortly. As soon as they do, you will be notified. Then call your doctor or local health authorities for further information.

icam, Inc.

CLIENT: THE AD COUNCIL		PAGE #: 1
PRODUCT: ASIAN FLU VACCINE	SHOW:	FILM #
PREP. ORDER # TCPO: 2000	JOB: 5281	COLOR	B.W.
PRODUCTION # TCPO:	TIME: 1:00	DATE
ARTIST: JS Hawkey	APPRVD.	STAT

Eng Pers
ATPC
November 22

A. A. SCHECHTER ASSOCIATES
580 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK 36, N.Y.
JUdson 6-2420

October 29, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

Here is a copy of the invitation for "The Next Hundred Years." Would you please give me any names and addresses of people that you would want invited to the luncheon.

Cordially,

AAS:by Enclosure:

A. A. SCHECHTER ASSOCIATES
580 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK 36, N. Y.
JUdson 6-2420

October 8, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Ed:

Just a reminder for your calendar that "The Next Hundred Years" symposium will take place on Friday, November 22, at 12 Noon in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf.

Bill Laurence of the Times and I will of course give you more details later on.

When you get a chance, let me know where things are to be sent and to whom.

Cordially,

AAS:pg

1857 1957

ON THE OCCASION OF ITS CENTENNIAL

Joseph E. Seagram & Sons, Inc.

request the honor of your presence

for luncheon and

A Symposium

on

"The Next Hundred Years"

in the

Grand Ballroom

Waldorf-Astoria

New York City

Friday, November 22, 1957

12 Noon to 3:30 P. M.

R. S. V. P.

Card enclosed

"The Next Hundred Years"

Gazing into the future and inquiring into the shape of things to come requires not only scientific data, but imagination. It is our hope that this symposium, to which these great scientists have so graciously given their time, will provide some guidance as to how we and our children, and the great industries and institutions of our nation, can help create a better world.

SYMPOSIUM PARTICIPANTS

Dr. James Bonner

"FOOD FOR THE FUTURE"

Professor of Biology at the California Institute of Technology, acclaimed for his work to elucidate the biochemistry of plants, their vital life processes and their growth. From such knowledge will come more abundant and more nutritious food for the world's increasing populations within the coming century.

Dr. Harrison Brown

"HARNESSING NEW FORCES THROUGH EARTH'S RESOURCES"

Professor of Geochemistry at the California Institute of Technology. Brilliant young chemist who employed fragments of meteorites from outer space as probes for the deep interior of the earth. With two of his colleagues at "Caltech," he fashioned a crystal ball for gazing into man's future for the next century.

Dr. Clifford C. Furnas

"NEW WORLDS BY CHEMISTRY"

Chancellor, University of Buffalo; chemist, educator, author and important contributor to our national defense. Widely known for his clear vision of the promise of science for the future.

Dr. Hermann J. Muller

"CONTROL OF HUMAN HEREDITY"

Distinguished Service Professor at the University of Indiana. The world's leading geneticist who won the Nobel Prize in Medicine and Physiology for his epoch-making discovery that X-rays and related forms of radiation produce profound changes in the hereditary endowment of all things living.

Dr. Albert Szent-Gyorgyi

"SOLVING THE MYSTERY OF LIFE"

Director of the Institute for Muscle Research, Woods Hole, Massachusetts. The world's outstanding authority on the mechanism of energy production in living systems; winner of the Nobel Prize in Medicine and Physiology for his pioneer studies on the processes of biological combustion that activate the fires of life.

Dr. Wernher von Braun

"SPACE AND INTERPLANETARY TRAVEL"

Director, Development Operations Division of Army Ballistic Missile Agency at Huntsville, Alabama, creator of the V-2 long-range rocket and the world's foremost designer of long-range rockets and space ships.

Dr. John Weir

"TAPPING THE RESERVOIRS OF HUMAN NATURE"

Associate Professor of Psychology at California Institute of Technology. His major interests have been the identification and encouragement of scientific talent, the psychology of creative thinking and the application of psychological principles to industrial organization.

PROGRAM

"The Next Hundred Years"

Dr. Detlev W. Bronk

CHAIRMAN

One of the nation's outstanding scientists is President of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, President of the National Academy of Science and Chairman of the National Science Board, National Science Foundation. He is a former President of Johns Hopkins University and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

William L. Laurence

MODERATOR

Science Editor, New York Times; twice winner of the Pulitzer Prize; chosen by the United States Government as the only official reporter on the atom bomb, its test in New Mexico and its use over Japan.

INTERVIEWING PANEL

Edward R. Murrow

Distinguished CBS commentator. He is a four-time winner of the George Foster Peabody Award and honored by the Overseas Press Club with Five Awards.

John Daly

Eminent ABC commentator; winner of the George Foster Peabody Award and the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences Award for his news commentaries.

Chet Huntley

Famed NBC news analyst whose reportorial skill has earned him several major broadcasting honors including two George Foster Peabody Awards.

← Program continued inside folder

A. A. SCHECHTER ASSOCIATES
580 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK 36, N. Y.
JUDSON 6-2420

November 18, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

Dear Ed:

Confirming my telephone call last Friday, the Thursday night Seagram symposium dinner has been cancelled.

Instead, the full group will meet with Bill Laurence at 9:30 a.m. on Friday in the Carpenter Suite of the Waldorf for breakfast and rehearsal.

Kindest regards.

Sincerely,

Abe

aas/pg

A. A. SCHECHTER ASSOCIATES
580 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK 36, N.Y.
JUDSON 6-2420

Yes - Will do

November 5th, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

Bill Laurence and the scientific panel for "The Next Hundred Years" are going to have a private dinner Thursday, November 21st at the Pillement Suite, fourth floor, at the Waldorf. Bill Laurence would like very much if you could come to it after your show and stay as little or as long as you want to.

This will give you a chance to formulate some of the questions and for you to meet the various scientists.

Bill Laurence also suggested that you might think in terms of questions for all the panelists and not for just Von Braun which seems to be the big news right now.

Please let me know if you can be with us Thursday evening.

Sincerely,

Abe

AAS:by

Eliz. Pan

November 1, 1957

Dear Abe:

Your invitation seems to me to be done in your usual excellent taste.

If a contribution is to be made, it is to be made to Mount Holyoke College in Janet's name.

The assorted liquid (nothing but the best) can be sent to Glen Arden Farm, Pawling, New York.

Sincerely,

Mr. Abe Schechter
A.A. Schechter Associates
580 Fifth Avenue
New York 36, New York

fc

Upc.

November 7, 1957

Dear Mr. Schechter:

Mr. Murrow asked me to tell you that he will be happy to attend the dinner on Thursday, Nov. 21 at the Waldorf.

As you know, his radio show is at 7:45, and he will be there as soon after 8:00 as possible.

Sincerely yours,

Florence Crissan,
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

Mr. A.A. Schechter
580 Fifth Avenue
New York 36, New York

From the Desk of DATE November 20, 1957

Morris L. Ernst Eve. Post

To Mr. Edward R. Murrow:

Just a reminder -- Monday, November 25th, shortly after 8 p.m., at No. 2 - 5th Avenue, dinner with Alfred Stanford.

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
580 Park Avenue
New York, N. Y.

307 BAR PRESS INC., 54 LAFAYETTE ST., NEW YORK 13 — WA. 5-3432-3.

1624 CRESCENT PLACE, N. W.
WASHINGTON 9, D. C.

November 12, 1957

December 2

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

I am very happy that you and Janet can come to dinner on December 2nd, as there will be several people besides Neil McElroy whom you will be glad to see and who will be glad to see you.

I have not changed the dinner invitation hour, which is eight o'clock, because you can get down from WTOP in ten minutes; or if you can do it over the telephone, you can do it right here in the house. In any case, I hope Janet will come at eight as she will not know the people as well as you do, and it will give her a chance to meet everybody before we go into dinner.

I do hope, Ed, that you will have a few minutes either in the afternoon of the 2nd or early the next morning to have a quick look at the Freer Gallery of Oriental Art. Don't think I will be too disappointed if you turn down the idea. I just threw it out because sending a broadcast on this Gallery in foreign languages to Japan and India, etc. would, I think, appeal to the C.I.A. if not to the State Department.

Anyway, here's looking forward very much to seeing you again.

Yours always,

Agnes

(Mrs. Eugene Meyer)

This is to remind you that

Mr. & Mrs. Eugene Meyer expects you for dinner on Monday, December second at eight o'clock

1624 Crescent Place

Black tie

NOVEMBER 7

Eng. Post

AGNES E. MEYER
1624 CRESCENT PLACE, N.W.
WASHINGTON 9, D.C.

~~XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX~~ JANET AND I DELIGHTED TO JOIN YOU FOR DINNER

ON DECEMBER 2ND. REGARDS.

ED MURROW

514-43
fc

RECEIVED
1957 NOV -7 PM 2:55
C.B.S. TELETYPE ROOM N.Y.

WU025 DL PD

WASHINGTON DC NOV 7 205PME

EDWARD R MURROW

COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM

I HOPE YOU AND YOUR WIFE CAN COME TO AN INTERESTING AND CONSTRUCTIVE SMALL DINNER WHICH I AM GIVING FOR THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE AND MRS MCELROY ON MONDAY DECEMBER 2ND AT 8 OCLOCK HERE AT THE HOUSE HOPE YOU COULD DO REGULAR BROADCAST DOWN HERE AND COME AS SOON THEREAFTER AS POSSIBLE LOVE

AGNES E MEYER

2 8

252P...

NOVEMBER 19, 1957

MRS. AGNES MEYER
1624 CRESCENT PLACE N.W.
WASHINGTON, D.C.

THANKS KINDLY. WHATEVER YOU DO IS FIRST-RATE BUT I AM A POOR GUEST AS MANY HOTEL KEEPERS WILL TESTIFY. LOVE.

ED MURROW

514-43
fc

RECEIVED
1957 NOV 15 PM 6:12
C.B.S. TELETYPE ROOM N.Y.

WU031 DL PD AR

WASHINGTON DC NOV 15 354PME

EDWARD R MURROW

COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM

I HAVE JUST HAD AN INSPIRATION WE HAVE PLENTY OF ROOMS AND I AM A FIRST RATE HOTEL KEEPER HOW ABOUT STAYING HERE WITH US ON DECEMBER SECOND REGARDS

AGNES E MEYER

531P..

Meyer, Agnes

1624 CRESCENT PLACE, N. W.
WASHINGTON 9, D. C.

November 20, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

Yes, it is a black tie party. But if that's too much work for you plus the broadcast, everybody will understand. In fact, they probably won't notice the difference.

I am sorry you think you are worse as a guest than I am good as a housekeeper. If it will make any difference, let me assure you that in my hotel everybody is allowed to wake up when they please and have breakfast served in their room. How's that?

Yours sincerely,

Agnes

(Mrs. Eugene Meyer)

RAY HENLE
1625 K STREET, N. W.
WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

Eng. Post
Did Murrow just sponsor

November 6, 1957

Dear Ed:

My thanks to you and Mrs. Murrow for your sponsorship of the National Symphony Orchestra's concert in Carnegie Hall on December 6.

Be assured that all this entails is the use of your names as sponsors and nothing more will be asked of you.

I appreciate this very much, Ed.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Ray

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York City 22

Henle, Ray

October 31, 1957

Dear Ray:

I have your letter of October 24th and write now to tell you that Mrs. Murrow and I will be glad to have our names used as sponsors of the National Symphony Orchestra's concert to be held in Carnegie Hall, Friday evening, December 6th.

With all good wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Ray Henle
1625 K Street, N.W.
Washington 6, D. C.

mcc

RAY HENLE
1625 K STREET, N. W.
WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

October 24, 1957

Dear Ed:

I write this in my capacity as a member of the Board of Directors of the National Symphony Orchestra which in the past you have assisted generously.

We are hopeful that you will permit us to use your name and Mrs. Murrow's as sponsors of the National Symphony Orchestra's concert to be held in Carnegie Hall, Friday evening, December 6.

I believe it will be a notable occasion. Howard Mitchell will conduct, and the guest soloist will be the gifted singer, Leontyne Price. She will sing La Montaine's Songs of the Rose of Sharon. This in itself should make the evening one to remember.

Our orchestra last played in Carnegie Hall two years ago. The New York critics were enthusiastic. We feel we have made much progress since then. This year only two orchestras in the entire country will have a longer season than we.

We are asking a number of prominent persons in New York to act as sponsors, and I do hope that you and Mrs. Murrow will permit us to include your names.

With all good wishes,

Sincerely,

Ray

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York City

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION
TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1220 (R 11-54)

SYMBOLS
DL=Day Letter
NL=Night Letter
LT=International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

N15D210 8R NL PD

EZ NEWYORK NY DEC 9 1957

EDWARD R MURROW, CBS

485 MADISON AVE NYK

I HOPE YOU CAN MEET WITH ME AND OTHER OLD FRIENDS OF OUR KOREAN DAYS AT A CHRISTMAS PARTY I AM GIVING IN SUITE 30-A, WALDORF ASTORIA TOWERS, FROM FIVE TO SEVEN PM, THURSDAY DECEMBER TWELFTH, NINETEEN FIFTY SEVEN, IN HONOR OF THE LAUNCHING OF THE KOREA SOCIETY INC ON THAT DAY. RSVP OXFORD 5-2353

GENERAL JAMES A VAN FLEET

900P

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

Eng Post

CBS RADIO

Office Communication

to: Edward R. Murrow

from: Ruth Alben

December 11, 1957

We would be most interested in having you as a guest on our "This is New York" radio program. The program is now heard nightly from 9:30 to 10:30 with Jim McKay, and consists of news, reviews and informal interviews with distinguished guests. We could tape a ten minute informal interview any time at your convenience. We would like to discuss with you the upcoming "See It Now" program with Miss Anderson. I do hope that you will be able to find a few moments to record this interview.

I have contacted your secretary and I shall look forward to hearing from her.

Cordially,

Ruth Alben

Ruth Alben

693

Eng. Pers
ATPC

LOOK

COWLES MAGAZINES INC. Look Building, 488 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N. Y., MURRAY HILL 8-0300

S. O. SHAPIRO, Vice President

December 31, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

Thanks so much for taking time out from your busy schedule to appear on the Perry Como Show last Saturday night.

Your participation helped make this our most successful Awards presentation, and is sincerely appreciated by all of us at Look.

With best wishes for the New Year.

Sincerely,

SOS:RB

SIN

Eng. Pat.

LOOK

COWLES MAGAZINES INC. Look Building, 488 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N. Y., MURRAY HILL 8-0300

S. O. SHAPIRO, Vice President

December 17, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

Here are a few details concerning your probable appearance on the Perry Como Show December 28th.

The show is telecast in the Ziegfield Theater, 6th Avenue at 54th Street, and begins at 8:00 PM. Dress for the show is informal. If at all possible, the Como people would appreciate your presence at the Ziegfield Theater at 5:20 PM on the 28th. If you are unable to attend the rehearsal, they would appreciate your arriving at the theater by 7:30, in order that you may be filled in on the program details.

I am looking forward to seeing you on the 28th.

With best regards.

Sincerely,

Bob

SOS:RB

PS - "See It Now" is featured on page 74 of the enclosed advance copy of our next issue, out December 23rd.

upcoming

December 6, 1957

Dear Shap:

Many thanks for your cordial letter of November 19th giving me the welcome news that "See It Now" has again won Look's Annual Television Award for the Best Public Affairs Series of the year.

I will do my best to turn up on the Perry Como Show of Saturday, December 28th in order to receive the award, but since that it is the day before our big television and radio round-up with the foreign correspondents, I may have a little difficulty getting away.

With best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. S. O. Shapiro,
Vice President
Look Magazine
488 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

gw

Correspondence?

December 12, 1957

Dear Mr. Myers:

I was very pleased to again receive the "Look" Award, and I hope to attend the Awards Buffet at the Terrace Room of the Plaza Hotel on December 28th following the Perry Como show.

As you probably know, this is the day before our big Year-End Round-Up with the foreign correspondents, and I may find it a little difficult to get away.

With all good wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Vernon C. Myers
Look
488 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

mcc

LOOK

COWLES MAGAZINES INC. Look Building, 488 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N. Y., MURRAY HILL 8-0300

VERNON C. MYERS, Publisher

December 2, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

You may have already received the good news, but may I take this opportunity to congratulate you formally on behalf of Look Magazine. "See It Now" has won Look's Annual Television Award for the Best Public Affairs Series of 1957. This honor was voted in balloting among television critics and editors of leading newspapers across the country.

The winners of Look's Television Awards will be presented with their award plaques on the Perry Como Show of Saturday, December 28th.

We would like to have you as our guest at Look's Traditional Television Awards Buffet, which will be held following the Como program. The party will be at the Terrace Room of the Plaza Hotel, 5th Avenue at 59th Street.

I'd greatly appreciate an R.S.V.P. from you. Please let us know also if you care to bring a guest. I look forward to meeting you personally at the party.

With warm regards and all good wishes.

Sincerely,

Vernon C. Myers

Vernon C. Myers

VCM:hr

LOOK

COWLES MAGAZINES INC. Look Building, 488 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N. Y., MURRAY HILL 8-0300

S. O. SHAPIRO, Vice President

November 19, 1957

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

I'm pleased to be able to tell you that "See It Now" has again won Look's Annual Television Award for the Best Public Affairs Series of the year.

This honor, as you may know, was voted by television editors and critics of the nation's newspapers, and will be announced in the January 7, 1958 issue of Look, on sale December 24th.

Look's Television Awards will be presented this year on the Perry Como Show of Saturday, December 28th. We were indeed delighted that you appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show last year to receive your award and hope that you will be able to do the same on the Como show on December 28th.

I'd be grateful, Ed, if you would drop me a note letting me know whether you will appear on the Como show. Needless to say, we'd be honored if you could make it.

With best regards.

Sincerely,

SOS:RB

EIGHTH ANNUAL

LOOK TV AWARDS

BEST CHILDREN'S SERIES

Disneyland, ABC-TV. (For the series that most effectively presented material appealing to children.) Disney's magic method of simplifying difficult scientific subjects has great appeal for both children and adults.

In a fast-changing video world, America's critics and columnists still prefer many old favorites

NEITHER A COWBOY HERO nor his show is to be found among the winners in LOOK's eighth annual TV awards. The adult Western is dominating the country's television fare. But in designating the personalities and programs with the highest degree of excellence in network television, American newspaper critics and columnists have leaned toward established favorites. They made their choice from shows televised between November 1, 1956, and October 31, 1957. Programs sold locally by syndicators were not eligible. The participating judges first were asked to make three nominations in each of the 16 categories. The top three winners in each category were then listed in alphabetical order on the final ballot, and the writers voted again. In both instances, the accounting firm of Ernst & Ernst tabulated the results. In the opinion of the men and women whose livelihood depends on keeping abreast of the medium, these winners represent the best to be seen in commercial TV.

BEST MUSICAL SHOW

The Edsel Show, CBS-TV. (For the best individual show that illustrated superiority in production and direction, including spectaculars, operas, tributes, ballets and musical plays.) The Sinatra-Clooney-Crosby team was an attraction that rated high with the critics as well as the public.

BEST MUSICAL SERIES

The Perry Como Show, NBC-TV. (For the musical series that best demonstrated variety, originality and excellence.) Como's easy ways and the show's consistently smooth production earned his program twice as many votes as its closest competitors from writers specializing in TV.

continued

Produced by GEORGE EELLS

BEST DRAMATIC SERIES (hour or more)

Playhouse 90, CBS-TV. (For the series that most consistently presented plays of high merit—original or adapted—including excellence in production, acting and direction.) Such teleplays as The Comedian, in which Mickey Rooney reasserted his claim to stardom, have made Playhouse 90 one of TV's resounding hits.

BEST DRAMATIC SERIES (half hour)

Alfred Hitchcock Presents, CBS-TV. (For the half-hour drama series that most consistently presented plays of high merit.) Alfred Hitchcock's exploitation of macabre little shockers once again paid off. The series easily outpointed Hitchcock's competition from other dramatic programs, including Western shows.

BEST DRAMATIC SHOW

Green Pastures, NBC-TV. (For the single most stimulating, interesting and original dramatic play in the hour or hour-and-a-half categories.) On The Hallmark Playhouse, this Pulitzer Prize play about a Negro preacher's version of the Bible was imaginatively handled by director George Schaefer and a superlative cast, including William Warfield and Eddie (Rochester) Anderson (above). Critics want the play shown again.

continued

BEST PUBLIC AFFAIRS SERIES

See It Now, CBS-TV. (For the special or continuing series that made the most significant contribution to public understanding of important issues.) Edward R. Murrow and his associate Fred Friendly lent stature to television with their report on The Puerto Ricans: Americans on the Move (above), as well as The Secret Life of Danny Kaye and The Billion Dollar Mail Case.

BEST COMEDY SERIES (straight)

The Jack Benny Program, CBS-TV. (For superior humor and originality in the presentation of straight comedy in a continuing series.) Whether he's working with Bob Hope, as at the left, or with a bit player, Benny's comic genius is apparent every time.

BEST COMEDY SERIES (situation)

The Phil Silvers Show, CBS-TV. (For superior humor and originality in the presentation of situation comedy in a continuing series.) Phil Silvers and his obstreperous associates, like Maurice Gosfield (above), milk big laughs from life in the U. S. Army.

BEST VARIETY SERIES

The Steve Allen Show, NBC-TV. (For the variety series that presented the most interesting and entertaining shows.) Allen's programs are tops in personalized vaudeville.

BEST EDUCATIONAL SERIES

Omnibus, ABC-TV and NBC-TV. (For the most intelligent presentation of educational material to TV audiences.) The program blends education and entertainment. Example: It told Lizzie Borden's story with ballet, drama (left) and legal comment by Joseph N. Welch (above).

BEST NOVELTY SERIES

Tonight, NBC-TV. (For the most original approach to television entertainment in a continuing series.) Comedian-emcee Jack Paar's witty exchanges with Dody Goodman (above), Elsa Maxwell, José Melis and his other program regulars make his late-night show consistently entertaining.

continued

BEST QUIZ OR PANEL SERIES

I've Got a Secret, CBS-TV. (For the most entertaining and interesting quiz or panel series — excluding series devoted to discussions of public affairs.) Garry Moore's entertaining panel show, which concentrates on gimmicks and games, continues to draw enthusiastic response. I've Got a Secret demonstrates the superior staying power of shows offering simple entertainment over the big-loot competitors that threatened to displace them in popularity.

BEST RELIGIOUS SERIES

Life Is Worth Living, ABC-TV. (For outstanding achievement in the treatment of spiritual or inspirational themes.) Bishop Fulton J. Sheen has not telecast on a regular basis since early in 1957, but his religiously oriented talks still stood out as the best of the year, in the view of the critics.

BEST SPORTS SERIES

The World Series, NBC-TV. (For the most informative sports analysis or effective on-the-spot coverage.) The seven-game series took this category in a breeze. Outstanding were close-up views of pitcher Lew Burdette in his three victories over the Yanks.

BEST SPECIAL PROGRAM

The World Series, NBC-TV. (For the most interesting and best special program or special TV coverage appearing on a one-time or occasional basis.) Excellent camera work effectively covered the series between the Braves and Yanks for 80,000,000 fans.

END

3-B-9

MURROW COLLECTION - MURROW ROOM

ENGAGEMENTS ACCEPTED - * With Script 1958-1960

SPEAKER - HONORED GUEST - SPOT ANNOUNCEMENTS RECORDED

Folder # 1958 Mar 19 Buttenwiesers' Party for the Rodgers and Hammersteins - Opening of South Pacific

Mar 31 "An Evening with Marian Anderson" - Honorary Committee National Urban League

Apr 17 Army Pictorial Center - Narrator U.S. Army Television Series "The Big Picture"

May 13 National Conference of Christians and Jews - Speaker at Dinner in honor of Lewis Gruber, sponsored by the Tobacco and Allied Industries

May 19 * American Heart Association - Educational spot announcement

May 21 Honorable Mayor Wagner Dinner - Discussion on Trade and Travel Fair for U.S. - African relations

June 3 Person-to-Person United Jewish Appeal - Associate Chairman with Nelson Rockefeller

June 23 New School for Social Research - Luncheon speaker

Sept 21 Independence Hall, Philadelphia - Narrator for "Liberty Bell"

Oct 14 Averell Harriman, Governor of New York - Guest Reception for George Meany

Noteworthy - Oct 15 * Radio Television News Directors Association Convention - "Chicago Speech" - separate folder
This famous and controversial speech attacked problems of bringing quality programs to Television and criticized TV management on TV's declining quality.

Oct 22 * Human Rights Award - "Joint Defense Appeal" Speech

Oct 22 Freedom House Award - Presentation to Hon. Harold Medina
Nov 17 Brain Trust Dining Club - Dinner at House of Lords, London
Nov 25 International Rescue Committee 25th Anniversary Dinner - Sponsor, honoring Sir Winston Churchill by presenting him with the Admiral Byrd Award in absentia.

Dec 11 Mr. and Mrs. Singh, Hosts - Dinner for India's Ambassador Mahoned Ali Chagla

1959 Mar 25 American Foundation for the Blind - Spot announcement

Apr 2 * "Informational Conversation" - With Chancellor Adenauer in Germany

ENGAGEMENTS ACCEPTED - * With Script:

SPEAKER - HONORED GUEST - SPOT ANNOUNCEMENTS RECORDED

Folder # 1959 May 4 * Tribute to Gruber - Speech, no correspondence

May 21 Sara Lawrence College - Toastmaster at Testimonial Dinner for Harold Taylor on his retirement

June 4 * The Buckley School - Graduation Speech

Noteworthy - Oct 19 * The British Association Granada Lectures, "Communication in the Modern World," 1959: Science and Communications by Sir Edward Appleton, FRS; Television and Politics by Edward R. Murrow; and Dons or Crooners? Some Problems in the Popularization of Science by Sir Eric Asby
He described the development and importance of television as a basis for judgment about politicans and issues by the viewer. Murrow regarded the "Granada Speech" as one of the most important in his career.

Separate folder.

* * * * * * * *

1960 Jan 26 Hunter College Convocation for Pres. George N. Shuster - Sponsor

June 26 Governors' Conference, Montana-filmed interviews/governors

Oct 11 Mrs. Golda Meir, The Minister for Foreign Affairs and Chairman of the Delegation of Israel Reception - 15th Session of the General Assembly

* * * * * * * * *

1961 - 1963 See FILE #7, DRAWER C, UNITED STATES INFORMATION AGENCY - SPEECHES PARTS I & II - Transcripts

upcoming

February 27, 1958

Dear Mr. & Mrs. Buttenwieser:

Many thanks for your invitation to your party in honor of Dorothy and Dick Rodgers and Dorothy and Oscar Hammerstein on Wednesday, March 19th.

Mrs. Murrow and I accept and look forward to being there.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. & Mrs. Ben Buttenwieser
17 East 73rd Street
New York, New York

mmc

In honor of Dorothy and Dick Rodgers
and Dorothy and Oscar Hammerstein

date Wednesday March 19th time after the opening of movie "South Pacific" place 17 East 73rd Street
Helen and Ben Bettenmiesser

R.S.V.P.

You're invited...

CLASS OF SERVICE
This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION
TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1220 (R 11-54)

SYMBOLS
DL = Day Letter
NL = Night Letter
LT = International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

N9D265 4L NL PD

Eng Pass

BZ NEWYORK NY MAR 7 1958

EDWARD R MURROW, COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM
485 MADISON AVE NYK

WE ARE PLEASED TO INVITE YOU TO THE WORLD PREMIERE OF "SOUTH PACIFIC" WEDNESDAY EVENING, MARCH 19, 1958, AT THE CRITERION THEATRE IN TIMES SQUARE, NEW YORK CITY. WE ARE PROUD OF THIS PRESENTATION, FILMED AND RECORDED IN THE TODD-AO PROCESS. WE LOOK FORWARD TO YOUR COMING AND SHARING WITH US THE ENJOYMENT OF WHAT WE HOPE WILL BE AN IMPORTANT EVENING IN THE HISTORY OF SCREEN ENTERTAINMENT. PLEASE TELEPHONE MISS LILLIAN LEFF MURRAY HILL 8-3640 THAT YOU WILL BE ABLE TO ATTEND. CORDIALLY

RICHARD RODGERS
OSCAR HAMMERTSTEIN II

1155P

8:30
11:45
Tickets
Sinatra
580

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

Eng. Post
March 31

April 23, 1958

Dear Mrs. Jacobs:

Many many thanks for your gracious note of April 19th.

I am glad that the National Urban League's evening with Marian Anderson had such gratifying results. I found the occasion both a privilege and a pleasure.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. Sophia Yarnall Jacobs
11 East 73 Street
New York, New York

mcc

SOPHIA YARNALL JACOBS
11 EAST 73RD STREET
NEW YORK, NEW YORK

April 19, 1958

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I am sure you will be happy to learn that the accounts are finally in and that the National Urban League netted more than $10,000 from the wonderful evening with you and Marian Anderson.

Your generous share in making the occasion a success contributed enormously to the whole feeling of distinction. Your introduction of Miss Anderson was so simple yet so eloquent that it set just the right note for her speech.

On behalf of the League I am sure you will receive a number of grateful letters but I cannot fail to add my own personal note of deep appreciation for your share in the warm glow we all had from the evening.

Sincerely yours,

Sophia Yarnall Jacobs

Eng Post

ROBERT W. DOWLING

March 5, 1958

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I want to thank you for joining the Honorary Committee sponsoring "An Evening With Marian Anderson" at Carnegie Hall on March 31st, and to tell you how sorry I am that you were unable to be with us at our meeting yesterday. The enthusiasm shown by those who were there can't help but result in a very successful benefit for the National Urban League.

Because of the already heavy demand for tickets and because Carnegie Hall accommodates only 2700 patrons, I am enclosing a reservation blank so that you can get your own order in while some of the good seats remain. I should also like to pass on to you the suggestion made at the meeting that each one of us on the Committee undertake to sell at least ten tickets in any one of the price categories in addition to our own reservations. If you think you can help us in this way, I shall be happy to send you any additional reservation forms you may need. As you know, Committee Headquarters is at Suite 1533, 9 Rockefeller Plaza, New York 20, N. Y. (Columbus 5-7460).

Again my thanks for your cooperation. I will be looking forward to seeing you at the theatre on March 31st.

Sincerely,

Robert W. Dowling

Robert W. Dowling
Chairman, Honorary Committee

RWD/ps
Enc.

Mrs. Sophia Yarnall Jacobs
President

Theodore W. Kheel
Board Chairman

Dr. William H. Kilpatrick
Honorary President

Hon. Robert J. Mangum
Vice-President

Dr. Gardner C. Taylor
Vice-President

Mrs. Malcolm Crusius
Secretary

Richard Brennan
Treasurer

Joseph E. Davis
Associate Treasurer

Bernard Reswick
General Counsel

Edward S. Lewis
Executive Director

Eng Post.

for equal opportunity

urban league of greater new york

MANHATTAN · BRONX · BROOKLYN · QUEENS

Central Office: 202 West 136th STREET · NEW YORK 30, N. Y. · AUdubon 6-8000

a1 PC

April 23, 1958

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

You were magnificent, as usual, in connection with the recent event which we held for Marian Anderson at Carnegie Hall.

Ever since those stormy london days of the war and the calm "This Is London", I have been one of your fans. Each time I hear you I am reminded not only of those unforgettable broadcasts from London, but also of "Years of Crisis" and, of course, of the many "See It Now" programs.

Our thanks, again, for your splendid contribution to the success of this event and for your support of the ideals which the League strives to achieve.

Sincerely yours,

Edward S. Lewis
Executive Director

ESL:wm

CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE URBAN LEAGUE ARE INCOME TAX DEDUCTIBLE

Affiliated with NATIONAL URBAN LEAGUE • Member WELFARE AND HEALTH COUNCIL OF NEW YORK CITY • Participant GREATER NEW YORK FUND

BOARD OF DIRECTORS: Mrs. Catherine Alexander, Mrs. Edith Alexander, Arthur G. Altschul, Dr. C. Asapansa-Johnson, William H. Baldwin, Samuel J. Battle, Glover Beardsley, Aaron Bonoff, Richard Brennan, Irving Brodsky, Charles Buchanan, Dr. Lucien M. Brown, Daniel L. Burrows, Mrs. Malcolm Crusius, Joseph E. Davis, Lloyd E. Dickens, Dr. Dan Dodson, Robert W. Dowling, Hon. James Felt, Hon. Lawrence Gerosa, Hon. Walter H. Gladwin, Harold Goldberg, Hugo R. Heydorn, John Heyman, Walter Hirshon, Jack B. Hornsby, Morris Iushewitz, Mrs. Sophia Yarnall Jacobs, Miss Clara A. Kaiser, Elias Karmon, Theodore W. Kheel, Dr. William H. Kilpatrick, Whitman Knapp, Miss Loula D. Lasker, Dr. John H. Lathrop, Mrs. Horace Manges, Hon. Robert J. Mangum, Joseph Monserrat, Dean James A. Pike, Bernard Reswick, Mrs. Leona G. Russell, Carl Ruff, Richard C. Sachs, William Sachs, Orville H. Schell, Jr., Chester W. Schmidt, David A. Schulte, Hon. Eugene G. Schulz, Mrs. Wolfgang Schwabacher, Rabbi Charles E. Shulman, Hon. Charles H. Silver, Louis Simon, Mrs. Henry G. Staubach, Hope R. Stevens, Dr. Gardner C. Taylor, Maceo A. Thomas, Paul Tishman, Mandel R. Weiss, Hon. Ruth Whitehead Whaley, Rev. Joshua O. Williams.

Leg. Post.

NATIONAL URBAN LEAGUE, Inc.

FOR EQUAL ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY

14 EAST FORTY-EIGHTH STREET, NEW YORK 17, N. Y. – PLAZA 1-0300

THEODORE W. KHEEL, President
JOSEPH J. MORROW, Senior Vice-President
LESTER B. GRANGER, Executive Director
LOUIS J. GLICKMAN, Vice-President
LOUIS E. MARTIN, Vice-President
THOMAS G. YOUNG, Vice-President
MOLLIE MOON, Secretary
BURNS W. ROPER, Treasurer

April 22, 1958

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

More than three weeks after the Marian Anderson Night at Carnegie Hall our friends and your admirers who were present are still talking about the inspiration provided by the program, and your graciousness in becoming an essential part of it.

I want you to know that the officers of the Urban League will always be grateful to you for your contribution -- the film itself, your presence at Carnegie Hall and the spirit that you imparted to the occasion.

I hope that you got up the next morning with the same good feeling that we had.

Sincerely yours,

Lester B. Granger

Lester B. Granger
Executive Director

LBG/n

BOARD OF TRUSTEES: Regina M. Andrews – Seymour Berkson – George O. Butler – Lisle C. Carter, Jr. – May E. Chinn – Ray E. Clarke – Robert W. Dowling Mrs. F. B. Farquharson – Lloyd K. Garrison – Louis J. Glickman – Sylvan Gotshal – Mrs. Walter A. Hirsch – Mrs. Walter Hirshon – Frank S. Horne Sophia Yarnall Jacobs – Theodore W. Kheel – H. B. Law – Louis E. Martin – Ralph L. Mason – Howard H. McNeill – Loren Miller – Mollie Moon Joseph J. Morrow – Cecil Newman – William H. Oliver – Ira DeA. Reid – Frederick W. Richmond – Winthrop Rockefeller – Burns W. Roper – Mrs. Samuel I. Rosenman – Louis Simon – John I Snyder, Jr. – Asa T. Spaulding – Henry Steeger – Roger L. Stevens – John S. Stillman – J. Waties Waring – Boyd L. Wilson Benjamin Wood – Richardson Wood– P. Bernard Young, Jr. – Thomas G. Young – Charles S. Zimmerman.

Affiliated with National Social Welfare Assembly, National Conference on Social Welfare.

Ervin, R. G.

ARMY PICTORIAL CENTER
35-11 THIRTY-FIFTH AVENUE
LONG ISLAND CITY 1, NEW YORK

IN REPLY REFER TO:

April 17, 1958

Mr Edward R. Murrow
CBS Television
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr Murrow:

I should like to express my personal appreciation for your time and effort in connection with the narration for our U.S. Army television series, "THE BIG PICTURE".

The members of our production staff feel that this film, enhanced by your narration, will prove to be a superior production and will afford the public a comprehensive pictorial digest of NATO and its importance to Western unity.

Working with you was indeed a pleasure and an ocassion that I hope might some day be repeated. If ever this installation or office can be of service to you, please feel free to contact us. We are always anxious and ready to accomodate requests made of our film library and related areas.

May I also extend best wishes on your recent award for news reporting and I shall await, with interest, your forthcoming studies on France and West Germany.

Cordially,

Robert G. Ervin

ROBERT G. ERVIN
PRODUCER, THE BIG PICTURE

Eng Post

GRAMERCY 7-9170

AMERICAN HEART ASSOCIATION, INC.

~~[illegible]~~
60 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N.Y.
MUrray Hill 2 - 6560

OFFICERS

BRUCE BARTON
Chairman of the Board

ROBERT W. WILKINS, M.D.
President

FRANCIS L. CHAMBERLAIN, M.D.
President-elect

GEORGE E. BURCH, M.D.
A. CARLTON ERNSTENE, M.D.
IRVING B. HEXTER
KENNETH G. KOHLSTAEDT, M.D.
LOUIS E. MARTIN, M.D.
FRANK L. MECHEM
OGLESBY PAUL, M.D.
LOUIS E. VIKO, M.D.
SYLVESTER L. WEAVER, JR.
Vice Presidents

BERKELEY D. JOHNSON
Treasurer

JOHN D. BRUNDAGE
Secretary

ROME A. BETTS
Executive Director

1448

May 15, 1958

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

At the present time the American Heart Association is preparing a series of educational spots for national distribution.

Part of this series is being voiced by commentators of national repute. I am taking the liberty of enclosing one thirty-second spot in the hope that you will be kind enough to record this important message for us.

On behalf of the American Heart Association and its affiliates and chapters throughout the United States, I want to thank you for your continued interest and kind cooperation.

Sincerely yours,

Don Sheldon

Don Sheldon
Radio-TV Department

ds:sg

Done sent 5/20 to T.C.

AMERICAN HEART ASSOCIATION
EDUCATIONAL TRANSCRIPTION RADIO ANNOUNCEMENT

EDWARD R. MURROW
(REHABILITATION)
30 Seconds (2)

This is Edward R. Murrow with a timely message from your Heart Association. Most people with heart disease can work and lead useful lives. Many heart patients who are not working could become self-supporting if placed in suitable jobs. Rehabilitation is one of the important goals of your Heart Association in its effort to help all hearts. If you have a heart condition, consult your doctor to learn your work capacity. And ask your Heart Association for information about services that may be available in your community to help you get back to work.

Eng. Past.

May 16, 1958

Dear Mayor Wagner:

Many thanks for your kind invitation to dinner at Gracie Mansion on May 21st.

I shall be delighted to attend and hope you will not mind the fact that I have to arrive somewhat late due to my evening radio broadcast which does not get off the air until 8:00 p.m. I shall be with you as soon as possible thereafter.

Sincerely yours,

The Honorable Robert F. Wagner
Mayor of the City of New York, City Hall
New York, New York

mcc

CITY OF NEW YORK
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR
NEW YORK 7, N.Y.

May 8, 1958

R.C. Yes, come late

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting Company
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Will you have dinner with me at Gracie Mansion, 88th Street and East End Avenue, on May 21st, when I would like to talk with you and a number of others about a proposed Trade and Travel Fair to develop better relations between the United States and Africa? I am sure I do not have to tell you how vital this could be.

We hope to bring together, for discussion only, men and women with economic, political and other interests in Africa. Much of the preliminary thinking about this project has already been done by a committee which includes Admiral George S. Wauchope, of Farrell Lines, Inc., Father Francis M. Philben, C.S.Sp. of Duquesne University, and the Reverend Emory Ross.

I do trust you will be able to be with us.

Sincerely,

Robert F. Wagner

Robert F. Wagner
Mayor
City of New York

6:30 p.m. - Cocktails
7:30 p.m. - Dinner
Dress - Black Tie - R. S. V. P.

COPY FOR: Edward R. Murrow
CBS
485 Madison Ave.
N.Y., N.Y.

Eng. Post

NOTES ON THE AFRICAN TRADE AND TRAVEL FAIR DINNER

BEING GIVEN BY THE

HONORABLE ROBERT F. WAGNER

1 GRACIE MANSION

MAY 21, 1958

FROM: LLOYD G. WHITEBROOK
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT
KASTOR FARRELL CHESLEY & CLIFFORD
400 MADISON AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY 17, NEW YORK

The purpose of our dinner is to acquaint about 60 American Industrialists who have economic interests in Africa with the potential benefits of The African Trade and Travel Fair, which in 1960 will tour approximately fifty principle cities throughout the United States. The Fair will be shown in fifty large department stores which will handle the entire promotion in each community. The purpose of using this medium will be to attract large numbers of people who normally would not be caught dead in a museum. Many Department Store Executives have told us in this way we can expect to reach around 60 million people. Department stores do some of the best promotion in the country.

Products to be displayed will include examples of raw materials; the finished products (including handicraft, art, etc.) and other potentials and the cultures of all Africa sub-Sahara, with the exception of the Union of South Africa. We have already discussed this proposal with all the African Governments involved and without exception they have promised their complete cooperation.

Preliminary work for this has been proceeding for about a year. Some of the principle participants have been The Foreign Trade Personnel of the Federal Government and the State Governments of New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, Duquesne University and various foreign trade associations. We have also consulted with the office of the Vice President of the United States and the State Department. In accordance with their permission we can say that they "have been appraised and are interested".

The purpose of the evening is to obtain a working committee of industrialists who will guide and support the Fair. Mayor Wagner will open with a brief background on why he is interested (it will have its grand premier in New York and stimulates commerce and industry, and so forth).

He will be followed by Mr. Arnaud de Borgrave, Senior News Editor, Newsweek, who will give a fifteen minute current picture of Africa, based on his recent 15,000 mile trip there. (It is the featured piece in Newsweek, May 12). You will follow Mr. de Borgrave and we would like to suggest that you talk about the potentials of this "Window to Africa" which will be shown throughout the United States, (and how this medium could give so many Americans a chance to learn something about this continent, which is so important to our country.)

After you, Mr.W. Clifford Shields, Vice President, Farrel Lines, will speak on industries'faith in Africa (Incidentally, Farrel Lines have voluntarily pledged to pay the entire transportation costs of shipping the various African Government exhibits from Africa to the United States). Mr.Shields will be followed by a representative of The John Wanamaker Company of Philadelphia, who will specifically speak about what department stores can do. I will then give a presentation on behalf of the proposed fair and review the mechanics. (Attached you will find a brochure on The Fair.) Then comes the Reverend Francis M. Philben, C.S.Sp., a former African Missionary and Director of the Institute of African Affairs at Duquesne University, who will further discuss the necessity of the American people (on a "peoples to peoples" basis), representing the various aspects of the American scene -- Industrial, academic institutions, Missionary groups and Governmental representatives — working together through the medium of a structure like the African Trade and Travel Fair, to extend the hand of American friendship to the African peoples.

The Mayor will then wind up with a request that most of the people present join with him to serve on a committee to develop The African Trade and Travel Fair.

Africa TRADE and TRAVEL FAIR

THIS FAIR WILL DISPLAY

THE BEST OF AFRICA

IN ITS ARTS

Expressive statuettes and masks, humorous, tragic, sometimes terrifying, often superbly graceful in design and workmanship ... in these, the African artist found fullest expression for his genius. Many examples of this art, old and modern, some of them priceless museum pieces, will be shown.

IN ITS CRAFTS

Carpets, woven materials, jewelry, pottery, and tools ... the African's skill and his sense of design have made his work something to be treasured as well as used. Many of these examples of his craft will be available for purchase on the spot.

IN ITS CULTURE

The folklore of Africa, its music and dances, are deeply rooted in the past ... in age-old religions and civilizations. Exciting, rich in meaning, as varied as its people, many of Africa's cultural traditions will be depicted in motion pictures, live performances, and exhibits.

THESE COUNTRIES WILL BE REPR

FRENCH WEST AFRICA
...3rd largest producer of coffee; source of iron ore, diamonds, cocoa, woods, rubber, bananas, groundnuts, palm kernels and oil; projected Kondouri project represents $550 million investment in aluminum development

GAMBIA
...palm kernels, groundnuts, hides and skins, beeswax

SIERRA LEONE
...diamonds, iron and chrome ores, coffee, ginger, palm kernels and oil

LIBERIA
...rubber, iron ore and palm kernels

GHANA
...cocoa, gold, diamonds, manganese; Volta hydroelectric project in planning stage

NIGERIA (British Cameroons)
...columbite, cotton, tin, rubber, timber, groundnuts

FRENCH EQUATORIAL AFRICA
...plywood, cotton, diamonds, palm kernels, tropical woods; oil recently discovered; manganese mines under investigation; Kouilou hydroelectric scheme in planning stage

BELGIAN CONGO & RUANDA URUNDI
...uranium, copper, diamonds, cobalt, tin, cotton, coffee; Katanga hydroelectric project now under construction; Inga hydroelectric project is planned

FRENCH CAMEROONS
...tropical woods, coffee, bananas, cocoa, cotton, gold

ANGOLA
...diamonds, coffee; site of first discovery and commercial production of petroleum south of Sahara -- present output is 3000 barrels a day, expected capacity of new refinery is a million tons per year

REPRESENTED AT THE

Africa TRADE and TRAVEL FAIR

SUDAN
...cotton, gum arabic; mineral deposits under exploration

ETHIOPIA
...agricultural and pastoral products; planned Coka hydroelectric project will enlarge power supply

SOMALILAND
...agricultural products; mineral and petroleum explorations under way

BRITISH EAST AFRICA
(Kenya, Tanganyika, Uganda)
...sisal, tea, cotton, pyrethrum, soda, ash, gold, diamonds; Owen Falls hydroelectric project now in operation--with expansion planned

MOZAMBIQUE
...cotton, copra, sugar, cashews, sisal; known to be rich in minerals; Chicamba hydroelectric project under way

FEDERATION OF RHODESIA AND NYASALAND
...copper, grains, tobacco, gold, asbestos; known to be rich in minerals; Kariba hydroelectric project under construction--expected capacity: 1,200,000 kilowatts

THE FAIR WILL ALSO FEATURE

Opportunities for Sales and Investment

Surveys of natural resources for development; good industrial sites convenient to power sources, transportation and potential labor supply; promising markets for expansion of sales and trade ... The latest and most complete information, maps, and exhibits on these factors vital to development of industry and commerce will be available.

Opportunities for Travel

African scenery, African climate, African communities offer varied settings to suit the fancy of any traveler: towering snow-capped mountains; wide-horizoned savannahs; deserts; tropical forests; sunny beaches; cities, old and modern, villages and pastoral settlements. There are wonderful sights to see and photograph, good fishing, big game hunting, comfortable accommodations for the tourist in Africa ... and steamships, airlines, roads and railroads have brought much of the country within his reach.

THE FAIR WILL BE LAUNCHED WITH A

GRAND PREMIERE

IN NEW YORK

FOLLOWED BY A TOUR OF

50 MAJOR U. S. CITIES

A leading department store in each city will provide free space for the exhibits. Interest will be built up by advance publicity. Appearances and statements by local, national and African personages will make local and national news.

REACHING A POTENTIAL AUDIENCE OF 60,000,000

PEOPLE IN MAJOR TRADING AREAS

SPECIAL "AFRICAN NATIONS" NIGHTS

WILL BE HELD FOR THE OPENING IN EVERY CITY

A different African nation will be spotlighted in every city, with one of the nation's well-known leaders on hand to open the show, attend social functions connected with it, and, in general, to lend prestige and create additional publicity for the Fair. Lectures, programs, and movies on the nation will be presented.

SPECIAL EVENTS

WILL BE PLANNED FOR EACH CITY:

T-V, RADIO, THE PRESS

...will carry programs and feature stories on Africa's economic and political development, its art, its cultures, its peoples. Interviews with visiting African officials will be reported, telecast, and broadcast.

SCHOOLS AND UNIVERSITIES

...will cooperate in arranging programs to inform local citizens on many aspects of African life and history. Students will attend movies and lectures by African officials in assemblies and classes. School exhibits may be prepared and contributed to the Fair.

CIVIC GROUPS

...will participate in arranging programs on Africa and entertaining African officials. African experts will be invited to speak at meetings, and movies will be shown.

STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

...Senators, governors, and mayors will officiate at Fair events and offer hospitality to African officials. Interviews will be arranged and televised. Local officials and visiting Africans will compare administrative and other problems.

THE FAIR

WILL BE FINANCED

AND PROMOTED ON A

BROAD BASE

BY THESE GROUPS:

- AFRICAN GOVERNMENTS
- INDUSTRY
- TRANSPORTATION COMPANIES
- DEPARTMENT STORES

. . . with the cooperation of foundations and universities

WHO WILL RUN THE SHOW?

Overall policy will be set and executed by top representatives of—

- INDUSTRY
- RETAIL TRADE
- UNIVERSITIES
- FOUNDATIONS

PLUS

- GOVERNMENT ADVISORS
- RELIGIOUS GROUPS
- PUBLIC RELATIONS

THE FAIR WILL PROMOTE

BETTER UNDERSTANDING

BETWEEN U. S. AND AFRICA

It will strengthen historical ties of trust and friendship

The efforts of individual Americans, many of them missionaries, to provide education and medical care for the people of Africa ... our participation in international treaties on self-determination and human rights for all people ... our policies relating to African nations (we helped to found Liberia and were first to recognize the Congo Free State, for example) ... our role in the education of some of Africa's present leaders ...

THESE ARE SOME OF THE BONDS THAT HAVE BROUGHT THE PEOPLES AND GOVERNMENTS OF AFRICA AND U. S. CLOSER TOGETHER.

THE POLITICAL STAKE IN AFRICA

Vice President Nixon

"There is no doubt that Africa is a major target of the international Communist movement because of the continent's resources and its 200,000,000."

KWAME NKRUMAH: Prime Minister of Ghana

"It has been the policy of (my country) to permit the repatriation of non-sterling funds invested in this country since 1950, and the Government does not envisage any limitation on the present freedom to transfer without restriction profits arising from non-resident capital investment, or to repatriate foreign capital invested in Ghana. It is hoped that this policy will encourage new investment and reinvestment of profits."

Julius C. Holmes: Special Assistant to Secretary of State

"The present African leaders are moderate and friendly to the West, but continued cooperation will depend principally on what the West does in enabling them to meet the legitimate and mounting aspirations of their people."

Soviet Press April 11th issue of Red Star

"The brutal aspect of U.S. imperialism, which is trying to spread its paw over all of Africa, is hidden under the guise of anti-colonialism. U.S. capital has already occupied firm positions in various regions of Africa. The greedy hands of U.S. monopolists are reaching for the Sahara oil."

THE FINANCIAL STAKE IN AFRICA

WORLD BANK LOANS

TO SUB-SAHARAN AFRICA

COUNTRY	NUMBER OF LOANS	AMOUNT
Belgian Congo	2	$ 80,000,000
East Africa	1	24,000,000
Ethiopia	4	23,500,000
French West Africa	1	7,091,567
Nigeria	1	28,000,000
Rhodesias and Nyasaland	3	122,000,000
Ruanda Urundi	1	4,800,000
TOTAL	13	$289,391,567

Adapted from Loans at Work, March, 1958, Report of International Bank for Reconstruction and Development

ESTABLISHMENT OF THESE NEW U. S. CONSULATES IN SUB-SAHARAN AFRICA ARE ASSETS TO PRIVATE INVESTMENT:

Consideration being given to opening consulates in: Mombasa, Kenya Colony; Freetown, Sierra Leone; and Kano or Kaduna in Nigeria.

TO SUM UP

THE AFRICA TRADE AND TRAVEL FAIR

WILL . . .

. . . BE A WINDOW TO AFRICA

FOR MORE THAN

60,000,000 AMERICANS

. . . STIMULATE TRADE, INVESTMENT,

AND TRAVEL,

IN AFRICA

ROOM 5600
30 ROCKEFELLER PLAZA
NEW YORK 20, N. Y.

April 15, 1958

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Thank you for your kind letter of the eleventh and your willingness to serve with me as Associate Chairman of the Person-to-Person effort of the United Jewish Appeal. Your participation in this all important project not only means a great deal to me personally but also will go a long way toward assuring its success.

I shall continue to keep you informed as our plans develop and in the meantime with again many thanks and best wishes,

Sincerely,

Nelson A. Rockefeller

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Eng. P.

EDWARD R. MURROW
485 MADISON AVENUE
NEW YORK 22, N.Y.

April 11, 1958

Dear Mr. Rockefeller:

Thank you for your letter of March 26th. I shall be delighted to join you as an Associate Chairman of the Person-to-Person United Jewish Appeal.

I hope it will be possible for me to attend the breakfast meeting on May 22 to launch the Person-to-Person drive, but there is a possibility that I may have to be out of the country at that time. I shall have to let you know definitely later on.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Nelson A. Rockefeller
30 Rockefeller Plaza
New York, New York

mcc

98 / F41 / 9

30 Rockefeller Plaza
New York 20, N.Y.

Room 5600

March 20, 1956

ci 73>02.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The work of the United Jewish Appeal in saving the lives of uprooted and persecuted people and helping them make a fresh start in the United States, Israel and other free lands is of tremendous importance to everyone. I therefore feel deeply honored to serve for the period from May twenty-second to June twenty-sixth as chairman of the Person-to-Person effort of the United Jewish Appeal. It would be most gratifying to me personally, as well as in my capacity as chairman, if I could count on you to serve with me for this same period as an Associate Chairman of this special aspect of the campaign.

The Person-to-Person effort will consist of a series of Tuesday and Thursday telephone solicitation sessions, starting Thursday, May twenty-second and continuing through June twenty-sixth. Businessmen and community leaders will come to these meetings to make calls for the campaign to people they know. I am sure that if you were to sign a letter of invitation to such a group for one of the Tuesday or Thursday dates and be at U.J.A. headquarters yourself for a short period to greet those who attend, the response will be very encouraging. The U.J.A. headquarters will provide you with a list of names of the business and community leaders for your approval. This is all you will be asked to do.

Of course, I would be delighted if you also find it possible to attend the breakfast meeting on May twenty-second to launch the Person-to-Person drive and the one on June twenty-sixth concluding the program.

I do hope you will find it possible to join in this effort.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Nelson A. Rockefeller

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Ed working Tues or Thurs in June

THE NEW SCHOOL FOR SOCIAL RESEARCH
66 WEST TWELFTH STREET
NEW YORK 11, N. Y.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

OREGON 5-2700

June 6, 1958

Dear Ed:

I am delighted to hear that you were good enough to accept Alvin's invitation and will be an honored speaker at our luncheon on Monday, June 23rd, here at the New School. Thanks to the generosity of friends the honor can be implemented by a fee of $500, which I am particularly happy to offer because you have done so much for so little (if anything) for the New School on many previous occasions.

I am sending you here attached copy of the invitation which will be used by several of our Trustees, primarily Elinor Gimbel, Mark Millard and Ralph Walker, who is Chairman of our Board. There will be no fund-raising at the luncheon but it will serve to make the usual approaches for contributions before and after.

If it is agreeable to you, I thought Scotty Reston could be the first speaker. He does not know the New School and can hardly relate political events to problems of education in general, adult education in particular, and specifically to what the New School tries to accomplish. Without wanting to cramp your style (which I could not do anyway) I thought you might do us the favor to link up at the end of your remarks the significance of what is or is not being done in education to the current scene. You will notice that in the letter of invitation such a link is already provided.

I am looking forward with great anticipation to welcoming you on June 23rd.

With kind regards,

Cordially,

Hans

Hans Simons
President

HS:LYF
Enc.

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York City 22

Eng. Part

June 12, 1958

Dear Hans:

Somehow I will join you on the 23rd and do my best.

As I told Alvin, there is to be no question of a fee. The $500 you will please put in the President's discretionary fund.

I will look forward to seeing you.

As ever yours,

Dr. Hans Simons, President
The New School for Social Research
66 West Twelfth Street
New York 11, New York

fe

DRAFT

Dear

As a Trustee of the New School I take particular pleasure in inviting you to a luncheon on Monday, June 23rd at 12:15 P.M. at the New School, 66 West 12 Street, on the seventh floor.

EDWARD R. MURROW, the Columbia Broadcasting System's world-famous news analyst, and JAMES RESTON, the New York Times" outstanding columnist, will talk about recent events abroad and their impact here. What happened has not only political significance but raises fundamental problems of civic response to public needs.

As a contemporary of this world crisis which these two experts will evaluate, the New School has its problems which we want to discuss briefly against this background, hoping to elicit your good advice and personal cooperation.

My co-Trustees join me in extending this invitation. We hope very much to see you.

Sincerely,

~~Thornburgh, Donald W~~

T. R.

September 10, 1958

Dear Mr. Thornburgh:

We are sending you herewith, the Liberty Bell piece recorded by Mr. Murrow. The two pieces were recorded at the same time, but one might prove to be better quality than the other. According to our timing, the piece runs 4 minutes 15 seconds.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Donald W. Thornburgh
WCAU
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

gw
encl

type done.

T.R. done by ERM

WCAU
PHILADELPHIA

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT
DONALD W. THORNBURGH

September 5, 1958

Dear Ed:

Here is a very easy extracurricular job that I am very hopeful you will see fit to accept.

As you may know, we have worked very closely with the National Park Service in regard to the creation of the new Mall and the general emphasis on Independence Hall and the Liberty Bell, America's symbol of freedom.

One thing seems to be surprisingly lacking at Independence Hall. There is no history or story of the Liberty Bell, which has been housed in the Hall since 1852, told to the one and one-half million visitors that come there every year.

We have succeeded in interesting the National Park Service in installing a recording device that we would furnish which would play a two and one-half to three minute narration on that for which the Liberty Bell stands. This recording would respond to the touch of a button pressed by each succeeding group of tourists.

There seemed to be no voice in America more suitable for making this brief recording than yours. I felt it would be the kind of thing that you would like to do and which would be good for you to do.

We would like to have the narration, if at all possible, by Sunday, September 21st, when there is a particular ceremony being held at Independence Hall. If this timing is impossible, we still would like to have you do it for a later presentation.

The book that I am enclosing, prepared by our Promotion Department, gives additional information for your use. The script can be used as is or put in your own words, whichever you desire.

Yours most sincerely,

Don Thornburgh

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N.Y.

WCAU

SPEAKING FOR FREEDOM

"Proclaim Liberty Throughout all the Land unto all the Inhabitants Thereof" ...
Leviticus xxv, 10 as inscribed on the Liberty Bell.

Every month visitors from each state and U.S. territory plus visitors from 30 to 40 foreign countries come to Philadelphia's Independence Hall to pay homage to the symbol of American Liberty ... The Liberty Bell.

Last year alone more than one and one-half million people visited this historic shrine while figures show that visitation increases steadily each and every year.

Old people, youngsters, scholars, laymen, atheletes, the infirmed, historians, poets, the wealthy, the poor ... people of all colors, people of all religious faiths reverently file past the Liberty Bell touching it, kissing it, thanking it emersed in an atmosphere of incredible awe and wonder mysteriously evoked by the bell.

The Liberty Bell in all its magnitude needs a tongue to verbally speak to the people. Someone must read its words to the millions of people who are freedom-conscious. There are no people more freedom-conscious than those who stand in sight of the Liberty Bell. We propose that Edward R. Murrow speak to the disciples of American Liberty. That he tell the people through the medium of a recorded three minute talk the full meaning of the Liberty Bell to the hundreds of thousans of travelers who visit the Bell annually.

By the simple device of pushing a button as they stood in front of the Bell, they would hear the voice of one of television's best known personalities recite the story of the reverend symbol of American Freedom.

There is no more suitable voice to speak for the Liberty Bell than that of Edward R. Murrow. His is a voice known and respected by twentieth century Americans. His background in public service is meritorious. He has brought many events of historical significance into millions of American homes. His is the voice of the communications ... a voice so dependent on freedom, so thoroughly understanding of its importance. He has worked on fields of battle where Americans have sacrificed their blood and their lives to maintain freedom.

The material for such a script has been proposed by the National Park Service. Naturally, they would be willing to have Mr. Murrow put it in his own words if he so desires.

The mechanism known as the "message repeater" would undergo careful selection for its all round efficiency by WCAU-TV and CBS engineers. They would also be responsible for its installation and the proper positioning of speakers to insure utmost quality in the reproduction of Mr. Murrow's voice.

WCAU-TV engineers and technicians would service and maintain it at all times.

WCAU-TV and CBS make the presentation to the National Park Service on Sunday, September 21, with appropriate ceremonies at Independence Hall.

FREEDOM HOUSE

WILLKIE MEMORIAL BUILDING
20 WEST 40 STREET, NEW YORK 18, N. Y.
LONGACRE 5-3344

August 28, 1958

October

COPY FOR THE ATTENTION OF MR. EDWARD R. MURROW

The Hon. Harold R. Medina
U. S. Court of Appeals
U. S. Courthouse
Foley Square
New York 7, New York

Dear Judge Medina:

I received a message from your secretary indicating that you are likely to return to Westhampton on September 22nd for a few days before leaving on another trip which will bring you back to New York on October 6th. I hope that we may receive an advance copy of the text of your presentation address by the 9th or 10th of October, so that it may be duplicated for distribution to the press.

If I receive no information to the contrary, I will assume that the material mailed to you previously, in addition to the enclosed copy of the report on the Freedom House conference on race relations at Arden House earlier this year, will provide the necessary background information for your address.

If I can be of any further help, I will be glad to come to Westhampton at your convenience the week of September 22nd, or arrange for a luncheon meeting in New York, and will appreciate a call from your secretary at that time.

Cordially yours,

George Field
Executive Secretary

GF:rm

Dear Ed: The Judge evidently has what he wants from us and the original notion that we talk things over in advance may not be necessary.
George

393

EXCERPT FROM "WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA"

1956-1957

Page 1749

MEDINA, HAROLD R. judge, author; b. Brooklyn, N.Y., Feb. 16, 1888; s. Joaquin A. and Elizabeth (Fash) M.: A.B., Princeton Univ., 1909 (highest honors in French); LL.B., Columbia, 1912 (Ordronneaux Prize); LL.D. (honorary), St. Johns, 1947; Columbia, 1950, Dartmouth, 1950, Williams College, 1950, Bates College, 1950, Princeton, 1951, Northeastern, 1951, Denver, 1951, Syracuse, 1952, Chattanooga, 1952; L.H.D., N.Y. Med. Coll., 1950, Lafayette Coll., 1950; m. Ethel Forde Hillyer, June 6, 1911; children--Harold Raymond, Standish Forde. Admitted to N.Y. bar, 1912; asso. with firm Davies, Auerbach & Cornell, 1912-18; sr. mem. firm Medina & Sherpick, 1918-47; lecturer in law, Columbia, 1915-17, asso. in law, 1917-25, asso. prof. of law, 1925-40; v.p. and dir. J. A. Medina Co.; judge, U.S. District Court, Southern Dist. of N.Y., by apptmt. of Pres. Truman, 1947-51, U.S. circuit judge Ct. of Appeals for 2d Circuit since 1951; presided, N.Y.City, over trial of 11 Communists charged with conspiracy to teach and advocate overthrow of the U.S. govt. by force and violence, Jan-Oct. 1949. Chmn. Legal Advisory Bd., 141, N.Y., 1917-18. Trustee Good Samaritan Hosp. and Dispensary, life trustee Teachers College, Columbia University. Fellow Am. Acad. of Arts and Science. Member American Bar Assn.(chmn. sect. of judicial adm., 1951-52); Assn. of Bar of City of N.Y. (v.p. 1947-48, chmn. exec. comm. 1944-45), N.Y. County Lawyers Assn. (director 1924-27, 1933-39), N.Y.State Bar Assn.; an organizer, dir. War Committee Bar of City of New York, American Judicature Society (dir.), Columbia Law Sch. Alumni Assn. (pres. 1935-38; recipient of medal for conspicuous service, 1933), S.R., N.Y. Law Soc., Alumni Fedn. Columbia U. (dir. 1926-29, 1931-33), Phi Beta Kappa. Awards and medals Freedom Foundation, Holland Soc., N.Y. Bd. of Trade, Nat. Inst. of Social Sci., Eleanor Van Rensselaer Medal by Nat. Soc. of Colonial Dames, Vets. Fgn. Wars, Brooklyn Coll., Nat. Soc. New England Women, S.A.R., and others; chosen Man of the Year by Asso. Press newspaper editors, 1949. Chmn. adv. council modern language department (Romance section) Princeton; gave course of lectures in N.Y.C. in preparation for N.Y. State bar exam., 1913-42. Dem. Epis. Clubs: University, Princeton U., Lawyers (president 1942-48), Columbia U., Grolier, Westhampton Country, Century, Church. Editor: Medina's Bostwick's Lawyers Manual, 1934. Author: Pleading and Practice under New Civil Practice Act, 1922; Cases on Fed. Jurisdiction and Procedure, 1925; Cases on N.Y. Pleading and Practice, 1928; Selected New York Practice Statutes, 1928; Cases and Materials on Jurisdiction of Courts, 1931; Medina's N.Y. Civil Practice Manual, 1932; Digest of N.Y. Statute Law, 1941; Summary of New York Pleading Practice and Evidence, 1941; Medina, Carr and Finn, N.Y. Civil Practice Manual, 1936-42. Contbr. to legal reviews. Home: 14 E. 75th St., New York, N.Y.; and Westhampton, L.I., N.Y. Address: U.S. Court House, Foley Square, N.Y.C.

HUMAN RIGHTS AWARD: JOINT DEFENSE APPEAL: OCTOBER 22, 1958.

(Mr M has award)

Madison Avenue, as you are aware, is located in that city of steam, scurry and scamper, where the citizenry acquire ulcers, in the process of going somewhere at great haste, to do something that is wholly unimportant. A strange land, where people are so much concerned with the urgent, that they never get around to the important.

We may possibly agree at the outset that if we on this minor planet are being observed from the moon, the observer must be all-seeing, old, filled with wisdom and discernment; which means that he must agree with my prejudices.

When he views the earth people he must note one obvious fact - the overwhelming majority of them are either black or brown. But the white people do not seem to be aware of this fact; do not realise that they are outnumbered; fail to comprehend that unless they find a method of living and dealing with the colored people in justice, equality and dignity, they are doomed. When the moon watcher sees stones thrown at a colored man in the southern part of our small bit of the planet, he might reflect that the man should have gone to Latin America, because there the throwing of stones at an American citizen would have resulted in the movement of troops and warships.

Being ageless, the man in the moon will of course remember the time when nations fought their wars over the nature of the Deity; then over pieces of real estate. He would of course remember the carnage of two World Wars - the two efforts at international organization that followed them, and failed. He would recall that tiny pinpoint of light he saw over Hiroshima in 1945, and he would be aware that humans have now devised a method of destroying humanity, and that great nations are feverishly preparing for another war. He might well ask: Do these people learn nothing? Does no wisdom result from suffering? Is mutual suicide inevitable? He would remember the time when the individual had only a musket, a plough and a hoe. It didn't very much matter what he did with them. It might affect the well-being of his immediate family, or his neighbors, but it wouldn't influence society as a whole. Now there is sufficient power in a few hands to terminate our brief history, and the choice may well be between co-existence and no existence at all.

When the man in the moon looks at the United States he will see great wealth, comfort, a generous and capacious land, rich in material things, but worried - a country which in the last ten years has pursued a policy toward friend and former foe that has been unprecedented and unsordid. And yet that nation is in the process of being isolated. It is losing the leadership of the free world. No nation in history has ever been great unless greatness has been demanded of it by its leaders. We are reluctant, indeed often refuse, to face unpleasant facts. The Russian advances in education have been no secret, were indeed fully reported over the last six years, but were not accepted nor appreciated until illuminated by the Sputniks. We are now refusing to admit, or to be properly concerned about Russian economic penetration throughout the world. We will spend billions on super-highways, but not on schools. The man in the moon may look forward to the time when this country will be a spider web of super-highways with fuel injection, chromium-plated automobiles bumper-to-bumper, driven by half-educated people. And when they reach home they can turn on the television set, which during the peak viewing hours carefully protects them from the world of ideas and the conflicts that surround them. If these instruments of mass communication are to be anything other than an opiate they must strengthen and affirm the values that are the essence of our civilization. It is not enough to sell goods, to entertain the greatest numbers. There also must be full appreciation of our historic heritage, wise understanding of our institutions and traditions, familiarity with our classics and literature and the arts, and persistent attention to our ethical principles. We have great wealth, but this nation is more than an economic plot. As Professor Einstein once said: "It would be a sad situation if the bag was better than the meat wrapped in it."

I think the man in the moon might have concluded that we are in danger of becoming a nation of conformists. There is a tendency to confuse dissent with disloyalty. And certainly, being an educated man, he would be familiar with the words of Milton, who said: "If the waters of truth flow not in a perpetual progression, they sicken into a muddy pool of conformity and tradition." And he would know the truth that Lord Acton wrote in 1877: "There are in our day many educated men who think it right to persecute." There are indeed many men in our day who so believe.

We are unlikely to be a sane and civilized society until "opinions and assertions about general and particular matters of knowledge will not involve dangers or serious disadvantages for him who expresses them."

If we become a static society we lose one of the basic functions of democracy, the freedom to change. It is a truism that democracy is a means of dealing with the human imperfections of society. It recognizes that no form of government is perfect, no administration can be faultless, no legal system beyond improvement, no economic order as good as it might be. Where there is imperfection there must be change. And to produce change, unless it is imposed by tyranny, there must be difference of opinion, there must be opposition, there must be pioneer thinking, there must be freedom to criticize, there must be the unremitting conflict and testing of ideas. This undoubtedly involves a great deal of confusion. But the liveliness of a democracy can be measured by the activity of the minds of its citizens. Security and serenity in a democracy are not at all the same thing. They may even be opposites. Those who think that since we are in a cold war we are committed to conformity may not realize that they are asking to make democracy dormant, and that a dormant democracy is really on the way to becoming a tyranny. If our democracy is kept dormant for as long as the cold war continues, the end will be a world in which two tyrannies confront each other. The test of military power between them may not have been risked, but the ideological struggle will be over, the free world will have ceased to be free.

So one of our troubles is knowing how to appraise and measure the emergency. I yield to no one in my desire to root out subversion. But I insist on a broad definition for subversion. I call subversion anything that subverts our political order, whether it be giving active aid to an enemy or curtailing the freedom of the democracy to deal with its own imperfections. We must know that democracy cannot be kept alive by putting it to sleep. We have to be just as much engrossed with promoting its vigor and liveliness as its military security. One freedom that does not make sense, even in a cold war, is the freedom to reduce freedom. And I am not thinking of the inherent necessity for restraints if freedom is to thrive. Obviously, freedom that is not responsible is mere wilfulness, and it is not what I am talking about. But when freedom takes it upon itself to reduce itself permanently, or for as long as a cold war lasts, it is in the initial stages of self-destruction.

There is a false formula for personal security being peddled in our market place. It is this, although not so labelled: Don't join anything; don't associate: don't write; don't take a chance on being wrong; don't espouse unpopular causes; button your lip and drift with the tide; seek the ease and luxury of complete equanimity by refusing to make up your minds about issues that wiser heads will one day decide. This product if it be bought by enough people leads to paralysis.

We must, I think, for our very lives remember that freedom will reside and flourish here in this generous and capacious land, or it will survive nowhere on this minor planet. Our strength in this continuing conflict with the forces of evil, lies not alone in bombs and planes and physical courage. We must have stable ground upon which to stand and fight, if fight we must. Nations have been known to destroy their freedom while preparing to defend it. We are the head of a grand alliance of freedom-loving people. They have joined with us because they believe it to be in their own self-interest, and because we are strong.

But there is another reason for their joining their fate with ours. We are free, and whatever we do to limit or foreshorten that freedom will reduce by that much our reservoir of good will abroad. There is no such thing as a Voice of America. That voice is made up of Senators, and Admirals, and Clergymen, the Supreme Court, the price of wheat on the big board in Chicago, trade policies, race relations. There is no longer such a thing as a purely domestic news story; each is part of the voice of this country abroad. And if that collective voice tells the story of reduced freedom, of a tyranny of silence, of a fear of change, then within measurable time we shall find ourselves a great powerful continental island off the coast of Kamchatka, with the rest of the world either united against us or indifferent to our fate. Our example, our demonstration of freedom in action may be more powerful than our dollars, more persuasive than the threat of our bombs. We must continue to provide ourselves and our allies with that most dangerous and explosive force known to mankind - knowledge. And no man and no group may be permitted to chart in advance the course of the books to be followed in pursuit of that knowledge.

We live in a time of fear and prejudice and freedom is hard-pressed both at home and abroad. But freedom will survive and flourish unless it be destroyed by the consent of the free.

I say consent, for acquiescence or silence is a form of consent. I believe there has been more acquiescence than is healthy, because too many people have mistakenly thought it was necessary to be undemocratic to deal with the emergency. They have thought there wasn't time to be both safe and free. No more fateful mistake can be made. For in the cold war there is no safety whatever unless we remain free. Democracy is our one chance of survival. For if we emerge from the long crisis undevastated by total war but no longer free, we have but chosen the cheapest and least heroic way to give tyranny the victory.

Three stories which may illustrate the degree and depth of the dilemma that confronts us.

1) Churchill's lecture tour.

2) Israeli riflemen at Sharm el Sheik.

3) Sergeant in Korea.

4) Rickover at Shippingport.

Eng Prot

FREEDOM HOUSE

WILLKIE MEMORIAL BUILDING
20 WEST 40 STREET, NEW YORK 18, N. Y.
LONGACRE 5-3344

Board of Trustees

WHITNEY NORTH SEYMOUR
Chairman of the Board

HERBERT BAYARD SWOPE
Chairman, Exec. Committee

HARRY D. GIDEONSE
President

RALPH J. BUNCHE
LEO CHERNE
GEORGE B. FORD
Vice-Presidents

REX STOUT
Treasurer

MRS. HENRY GALE
Assistant Treasurer

GEORGE FIELD
Executive Secretary

Herbert Agar
Ulric Bell
Lyman Bryson
Cass Canfield
Harry J. Carman
Norman Cousins
Christopher T. Emmet
Thomas K. Finletter
Arthur J. Goldsmith
Nathaniel L. Goldstein
Samuel Goldwyn
Harold K. Guinzburg
Helen Hayes
Henry W. Hobson
Mrs. Andrew Jackson
Jacob K. Javits
J. M. Kaplan
Maxwell A. Kriendler
Goodhue Livingston Jr.
Francis Pickens Miller
Edgar Ansel Mowrer
Allan Nevins
James A. Pike
Whitelaw Reid
Elizabeth M. Riley
Francis E. Rivers
Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt
Elmo Roper
George N. Shuster
Mrs. Caroline K. Simon
Nathaniel Singer
Spyros P. Skouras
Louis Stulberg
Channing H. Tobias
J. Waties Waring
W. W. Waymack
Robert M. Weitman
William L. White
Roy Wilkins

September 25, 1958

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Ed:

As this is your busy season, I want to be sure any loose ends are cleared up with regard to your participation at our Anniversary Dinner. As you know, we are presenting the Freedom Award to the Arkansas Gazette on Tuesday, October 14th, and you are expected to go directly to the dais in the Starlight Roof immediately following your evening broadcast. I assume you will get there at about 8:15 P.M., which will give you about forty minutes to get some food before the start of the program.

As mentioned previously, Whitney North Seymour will preside, and Mike Cowles will open with a few brief remarks about the nature of the award and its past recipients.

The chairman will next introduce you as a previous recipient of the Award, and you will have approximately five minutes for anything you want to say. The thought was that you would react to the selection of the Arkansas Gazette this year, the significance of that choice, the importance of a free and independent press in a democracy, and a word of welcome to the roster of those who have received this award. You will then proceed to introduce the "distinguished jurist," Harold R. Medina, who will make the presentation speech. I am attaching the brief biography which appears in "Who's Who" for your guidance.

Judge Medina will then proceed to make the presentation to the publisher and editors of the Arkansas Gazette, and finally the chairman will introduce Harry Ashmore for the closing address.

You will remember that a dinner jacket is preferred for those who are at the dais, although if that should be difficult for you, your customary blue will be okay.

If I do not hear to the contrary, I will assume that there are no loose ends and we will expect your arrival at the dais while the dinner is in progress.

With kindest regards.

Yours,

George

George Field

GF:rm
Enc.

Eng - Past

October 30, 1958

Dear Hugh:

I was honored to participate in the presentation of the Freedom Award at the Waldorf and felt that my small contribution was altogether inadequate. My present task would be easier if I felt that, even in the remote future, the instruments with which I work would ever display the courage and integrity that you and your boys have demonstrated.

Thanks for sharing with me your enclosures, particularly the one from your high school English teacher.

Again, my hearty congratulations, and don't fail to let us know when you will be in New York again.

As ever yours,

ERM:skh

Mr. Hugh Patterson, Jr.
Arkansas Gazette
Little Rock, Arkansas

Arkansas Gazette.
LITTLE ROCK
ARKANSAS

OFFICE OF THE PUBLISHER

October 27, 1958

Dear Ed:

I want to express the deepest appreciation for your role in the presentation of the Freedom Award on that memorable evening for us in New York. We appreciate your friendship and interest, and above all, your understanding of the problem which has, and continues to confront us. You know, of course, how this recognition serves to strengthen us as an institution, while also strengthening all institutions and persons who would try to follow a responsible course in this bitter controversy.

May I share two enclosures with you privately: the first, an exchange of letters with Roy Larsen for your information; the second, a letter from my high school senior English teacher who now heads the English department at Henderson State Teachers College. It is comforting to be not without honor to such a person at home.

My wife, Louise, was so pleased to meet you and Mrs. Murrow, and we were so glad to have the further visit with you at Ashmore's hotel quarters.

With warm regards,

Sincerely,

Hugh B. Patterson, Jr.

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

October 22, 1958

Dear Roy:

I was interested in reading the suggestion of James Heermance of your office for a solution to the integration problem.

This plan might have some appeal to a segment of Southern whites. And you must know that any generally acceptable solution to the problem in the South which would pass the tests of the Courts would be welcome to us. Thus the questions I will raise are directed to the points of acceptability, meeting the Court precedent, and practicability.

First, as to acceptability, I am convinced the suggested plan would not have deterred Governor Faubus from following the course of action he took. That is to say, the political factor throughout the South is the problem, far more than the substantive problem of racial overlap which the South actually faced - or faces. Faubus could have fanned the same flame of prejudice with the involvement of elementary school-aged children as with those whom Mr. Heermance assumes to be reaching the age of puberty at the high school level. (He must have read of the precocity of Southern girls.) And the arbitrary break-off following the eighth grade level does not take into account the varied chronological age levels of the boys in eighth grade. It would be assumed generally that at the outset at least, the Negro boys at that grade level would tend to run older, assuming the same level of work was being accomplished.

Second, as to meeting the Court precedent, I think it might be assumed that the NAACP would argue that the segregation of the races by sex would imply inferiority of the Negro race. Even though in private preparatory schools, the separation of the sexes is the rule, the above suggested argument might be difficult to counter unless the public school system in question had a prior established record of separation of the sexes based on the assumption that better academic work is accomplished during those ages without the distractions of the presence of the opposite sex. Apparently, however, there is a good body of opinion that the Courts would uphold a plan involving separation by sex.

Then third, as to the practical, there is of course the problem of physical plant and size of administrative school unit. How would such a plan be worked out in Moultrie, Georgia, or Wabbaseka, Arkansas? Where two schools going through twelve grades are now involved, with one generally quite inferior to the other, you would then have three.

Just as I was writing this, I had a visit with Nathaniel Griswold, an old friend of mine who is the Arkansas director of the Council on Human Relations, and tried the suggestion on him. He agreed that the proposal has merit as a point of departure for negotiations, but further concurred with my view that other steps involving leadership of the first magnitude must first take place to break the current impasse.

It has been my considered opinion that the Little Rock situation, having come to its advanced point, and it is still the symbol to be reckoned with, would have to get worse before it gets better. As would have undoubtedly been the case with McCarthyism, Faubusism would not vanish with the premature removal of Faubus from the scene. Faubus and Faubusism must come down together, because there are currently others who have learned the black magic and are ready to step into his place. Only now are there beginning to appear some signs of economic erosion in Little Rock and Arkansas, and as yet the power structure has not been hit in the treasury. These currently intimidated interests, many of whom I am convinced recognize the impending economic threats implicit in a continuation of the deterioration of the public school system and the continued dictatorship of Faubus, fear reprisals which could come from the State if they showed their heads individually. The observation has been made that they are standing by just as Germany's businessmen stood by while Hitler came to power.

I'm sure this pattern can repeat itself throughout the South, perhaps not quite to the same degree in some states where there are limits to the Governors' succession of terms in office. Faubus, in the third term on which he will embark in January, will have control of every regulatory commission in the State, and that involves highways, utilities, banking and insurance, intrastate regulation of rails and other transportation, communications, in fact all intrastate regulation of business. Thus far the principal interests involved have either tried to hide, or take the short range view for immediate gain. Certainly up to this point the industrial expansion of the area has come to a halt, but as yet no significant process of economic loss has resulted.

October 22, 1958

I have said before that the suggested plan might serve as a point for negotiation. First, however, there must be a move which would pave the way for negotiations. I noted the enclosed clipping this morning suggesting a White House conference on bigotry. It certainly seems that Eisenhower could call a White House conference for the consideration of the whole question of civil rights and liberties, bringing in the Justice Department and the Department of Health, Welfare and Education, with the participants including state Governors and Attorneys General as well as the members of the National Congress from the Southern states - plus leading representatives of industry and perhaps the clergy. Through committees it might work down to manageable size for serious study and negotiations.

First there has got to be a change in the atmosphere. The basic moral right of the Negro for fundamental civil rights must be accepted. The Negro must be accepted as a human being. No magic formula is going to resolve this problem. The Citizens Councils continue to apply the trite phrase "you can't get just a little bit pregnant" to the school integration question.

When we have been critical of the President, it has been for the lack of the moral leadership which he has been in position to exercise. This question in the South should not have been permitted to deteriorate to the extreme point it has reached, with the Chief Executive remaining aloof from the substance of the problem, and appearing to want to remove himself completely from the problem.

There is no single answer, I am sure. The Southern people of good will have not had a rallying point, they have had no national leadership, and her own political leadership has defaulted. It is the education of the older generation that has failed us, or is it courage? Much of the hard work in the rebuilding process must come from within the South, but if this is to be one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all, leadership must come from the highest place.

Sincerely,

Hugh B. Patterson, Jr.

HBP:mmm

Mr. Roy E. Larson
Time Incorporated
Rockefeller Center
New York 20, New York

TIME INCORPORATED

TIME & LIFE BUILDING
ROCKEFELLER CENTER
NEW YORK 20

PRESIDENT'S OFFICE

October 17, 1958

Dear Hugh:

Many people in the North are trying to be helpful in working out ideas that might be acceptable to reasonable people in the South for a start on a solution to the biggest problem in the U. S.

One of these is a young man in our office who has just sent me the enclosures and has asked if I would be good enough to try his idea out on a few friends of mine in the South.

If nothing more this is for your information as to the kind of thinking that is going on here, or rather to document the fact that some thinking is going on. I would be most appreciative to get your comment on Jim Heermance's suggestion.

Sincerely,

Roy E. Larsen

Mr. Hugh B. Patterson, Jr.
The Arkansas Gazette
Little Rock, Arkansas

COPY

JAMES HERRMANCE

202 Coligni Avenue
New Rochelle, N. Y.
October 10, 1958

Honorable LeRoy Collins
Governor
State of Florida
Tallahassee, Fla.

Dear Governor Collins:

It was with a sense of respect and hope that I read your statement as published in the attached clipping from the 10/7/58 New York Times -- which cites your request for "new ideas" on how to help solve the painful problem of schools for all American children.

No idea, I suspect, is really new; but often mankind has advanced by the joining together of two old ideas that become "new" in that sense.

Such is the suggestion that I respectfully submit below -- a suggestion that takes into full account two outstanding social and scholastic factors.

The first factor is the fear of sexual familiarity that "mixing" white and colored adolescents might encourage. Whether groundless or not, the fact that such fears do exist is a fact in itself -- which must be reckoned with.

The second factor is the current probability that Negro children of grammar or high school age, for whatever cause, are often scholastically inferior to white children in their own age group -- which only depresses scholastic standards when the two groups merge.

The following two-stage suggestion takes the above factors into full consideration -- and neutralizes them. Both stages are necessary to each other, I submit.

Stage #1. Schools that are now segregated are to remain segregated -- except for the kindergarten and first grade. These two classes of children are to stay desegregated as the children scholastically advance together -- up to the 8th Grade only. That is, up to the age of puberty.

Stage #2. Then the students are once more segregated, but this time according to sex, and never again according to color.

(This separation by sex at high school is standard procedure in most Roman Catholic parochial schools; so, you see, Governor, this is not new at all).

What have we solved by this two-stage program?

... We have shown ourselves to be law-abiding, because Stage #1 is, without the slightest doubt, a move forward -- an honest, unevasive expression of "deliberate speed." And that is ALL that the Supreme Court is requesting.

... We have helped erase the highly emotional fear of "sexual familiarity."

... We have not depressed scholastic standards, because the bright students of both races will progress together, and the slow students will find their own common level.

Your consideration of this two-stage program should, of course, include its political advantages. Because I have, as I assume you have, faith in the decency of the majority of families, I believe there are hundreds of thousands who would be -- or who would become -- a living, active part of what this great nation of ours stands for in their hearts ... and in the eyes of a whole world looking on.

What people need, North and South, is a resolving of their fears; continuing public education for their children -- and leadership such as yours.

It's about time that domestic leadership on behalf of the whole nation should come out of the South.

Sincerely,

/s/ James Hoermance

JH/wn

HENDERSON STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE
Arkadelphia, Arkansas

October 15, 1958

Dear Hugh:

Not so many things nowadays have the power to thrill me, but tonight when I read the text of Judge Medina's address, I was deeply stirred.

I have been so proud of you, Hugh of the GAZETTE, of Harry Ashmore and of Mr. Heiskell through this whole sorry mess. It is so good to hear a loud and clear voice raised on the side of reason and principle; I have felt it almost as a personal defense against evil.

A number of times in my life--and my memory goes back a long way now--I have seen Arkansans repudiate demagogues and demagoguery at the polls, when I had considered the cause already lost. Each time my faith was restored in the ultimate sanity and wholesomeness of Arkansas voters, as contrasted with neighboring states which embraced Huey Long, the Fergusons, Bilbo, and the like. But I have always had a strong suspicion that it was not so much the native intelligence of the people as it was the GAZETTE'S influence each time that weighted us on the side of sanity. So it has saddened me to see that leadership rejected by so many; it has pointed up for me the extremity of our present danger, of how near we are to a complete collapse of democracy. Sometimes I think that experiment is almost over! It gave me great comfort, however, to read (was it in the Saturday Review?) that once before a politician had inflamed the people and screamed "Unfair" when challenged by the GAZETTE-- a now-forgotten "local demagogue by the name of Jeff Davis." It is good to remember that when Orval has sunk into the obscurity of years, along with Huey Long and the rest, the GAZETTE will still be as influential as ever--that it has a kind of immortality.

Many times recently I have wanted to write you this letter or a similar one (I am developing arthritis in my fingers and find it difficult to write at all.) I wanted to tell you how much I appreciated your fight for increased funds for schools; Faubus may take the credit, but most people know who led the fight. Time and again I have wanted to thank Mr. Ashmore for his editorials on national as well as state issues. I have wanted to let you know, for whatever it was worth, that I admired your courage (collectively as well as individuals) in this fight, and I have wanted to congratulate you on the Pulitzer awards and the honor you have brought to a state that seemed completely mired in dishonor.

One sentence in Medina's speech particularly moved me, Hugh. It was "They were brought up right." I am aware that he meant that you were in the best journalistic tradition, but I know--and I think he may also have meant--that you were brought up right in the old-fashioned sense; that is why you were also in the best journalistic tradition. You (the three of you, I am sure) were brought up with a knowledge of and respect for the eternal truths.

And this is the other reason I should have written you--to express my sorrow and sympathy at your mother's death. When I read of it in the paper, I could only think of these lines from Emily Dickinson:

"That such have died enables us
The tranquiller to die;
That such have lived, certificate
For immortality."

Sincerely,

/s/ Nannie May Roney

FREEDOM HOUSE

WILLKIE MEMORIAL BUILDING
20 WEST 40 STREET, NEW YORK 18, N. Y.
LONGACRE 5-3344

Board of Trustees

WHITNEY NORTH SEYMOUR
Chairman of the Board

HERBERT BAYARD SWOPE
Chairman, Exec. Committee

HARRY D. GIDEONSE
President

RALPH J. BUNCHE
LEO CHERNE
GEORGE B. FORD
Vice-Presidents

REX STOUT
Treasurer

MRS. HENRY GALE
Assistant Treasurer

GEORGE FIELD
Executive Secretary

Herbert Agar
Ulric Bell
Lyman Bryson
Cass Canfield
Harry J. Carman
Norman Cousins
Christopher T. Emmet
Thomas K. Finletter
Arthur J. Goldsmith
Nathaniel L. Goldstein
Samuel Goldwyn
Harold K. Guinzburg
Helen Hayes
Henry W. Hobson
Mrs. Andrew Jackson
Jacob K. Javits
J. M. Kaplan
Maxwell A. Kriendler
Goodhue Livingston Jr.
Francis Pickens Miller
Edgar Ansel Mowrer
Allan Nevins
James A. Pike
Whitelaw Reid
Elizabeth M. Riley
Francis E. Rivers
Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt
Elmo Roper
George N. Shuster
Mrs. Caroline K. Simon
Nathaniel Singer
Spyros P. Skouras
Louis Stulberg
Channing H. Tobias
J. Waties Waring
W. W. Waymack
Robert M. Weitman
William L. White
Roy Wilkins

August 26, 1958

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Ed:

I thought you might be interested in Mr. Patterson's reaction to our program arrangements for the Freedom Award presentation, and I am enclosing a copy of his letter.

Soon after Labor Day I will telephone your office about a convenient date for a luncheon meeting with Judge Medina, who is interested in consulting with us about his program role. This will afford us an opportunity to check with one another on what ground each will cover, during his participation in our dinner program.

With kindest regards.

Cordially yours,

George

George Field

GF:rm
Enc.

C O P Y

Arkansas Gazette
Little Rock
Arkansas

Office of the Publisher

August 23, 1958

Mr. George Field
Executive Secretary
Freedom House
20 West 40th Street
New York 18, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Field:

The distinguished group of Americans who have responded to your invitation to serve on the National Committee for the presentation of the 1958 Freedom Award do indeed make up a formidable list. I trust you and they appreciate how deeply honored we feel.

The program arrangements you have outlined seem to us most appropriate and complimentary. I recall that Judge Medina spoke at last year's convention of the Arkansas Bar Association, after which I heard nothing but the highest praise of him from my friends of the legal profession throughout the state. His recent identity with that substantial and state wide group makes him a singularly happy choice for the principal presentation address.

Following Judge Medina's address, I think it only fitting that Mr. Heiskell should give the brief response called for in your program outline. He will respond with acute brevity, if he runs true to his usual form.

I will advise Harry Ashmore that he will be expected to make the closing address of the evening, taking about fifteen minutes.

To be honored under such circumstances and sponsorship, with Mr. Seymour presiding, and with our fellow respected newsmen Gardner Cowles and former Freedom Award recipient Edward R. Murrow presenting our credentials, - and to follow in the train of those persons and causes heretofore so recognized by Freedom House, - is also to be humbled and challenged anew.

Sincerely yours,

Hugh B. Patterson, Jr.
Publisher

HBP:mnm

FREEDOM HOUSE

WILLKIE MEMORIAL BUILDING
20 WEST 40 STREET, NEW YORK 18, N. Y.
LONGACRE 5-3344

Board of Trustees

WHITNEY NORTH SEYMOUR
Chairman of the Board

HERBERT BAYARD SWOPE
Chairman, Exec. Committee

HARRY D. GIDEONSE
President

RALPH J. BUNCHE
LEO CHERNE
GEORGE B. FORD
Vice-Presidents

REX STOUT
Treasurer

MRS. HENRY GALE
Assistant Treasurer

GEORGE FIELD
Executive Secretary

Herbert Agar
Ulric Bell
Lyman Bryson
Cass Canfield
Harry J. Carman
Norman Cousins
Christopher T. Emmet
Thomas K. Finletter
Arthur J. Goldsmith
Nathaniel L. Goldstein
Samuel Goldwyn
Harold K. Guinzburg
Helen Hayes
Henry W. Hobson
Mrs. Andrew Jackson
Jacob K. Javits
J. M. Kaplan
Maxwell A. Kriendler
Goodhue Livingston Jr.
Francis Pickens Miller
Edgar Ansel Mowrer
Allan Nevins
James A. Pike
Whitelaw Reid
Elizabeth M. Riley
Francis E. Rivers
Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt
Elmo Roper
George N. Shuster
Mrs. Caroline K. Simon
Nathaniel Singer
Spyros P. Skouras
Louis Stulberg
Channing H. Tobias
J. Waties Waring
W. W. Waymack
Robert M. Weitman
William L. White
Roy Wilkins

August 4, 1958

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Ed:

In your absence from the city, I had occasion to confer with Mike Cowles about the nature of our program on October 14th, when we will present the Freedom Award to the ARKANSAS GAZETTE.

We have set up a National Committee of distinguished Americans for this presentation, with you and Mike as co-chairmen. He will briefly open the program by relating the past history of our annual Award presentation. We would like you to say a few informal words of welcome to the ARKANSAS GAZETTE to the roster of winners of this Award, which was presented to you in 1954. You will then proceed with a brief introduction of Judge Harold Medina, who will make the presentation speech.

There is loads of time between now and the dinner on October 14th, and I assume if there are any questions about the program you will be in touch with me.

I look forward to our meeting again on the anniversary occasion.

With kindest regards.

Cordially yours,

George Field

GF:rm

TENTATIVE AGENDA FOR ANNIVERSARY DINNER

6:30 P.M. Guests of Honor Reception.

7:30 P.M. Proceed to dais for dinner.

9:00 P.M. Whitney North Seymour, presiding.

a. National Anthem;

b. Audience will be asked to rise in tribute to Herbert Bayard Swope while Martin Gabel reads poem in his memory.

9:05 P.M. Mr. Seymour, introductory remarks for Freedom House.

9:10 P.M. Mr. Seymour to introduce Mr. Gardner Cowles for a 5-minute keynote on the Award to the GAZETTE.

9:17 P.M. Mr. Seymour to introduce Mr. Edward R. Murrow. As a previous recipient, Mr. Murrow will welcome the selection of the ARKANSAS GAZETTE and introduce Judge Medina for the presentation speech.

9:22 P.M. Presentation speech.

9:35 P.M. Mr. Heisnell and Mr. Patterson will rise to receive the plaque and one of them will make a brief acknowledgment.

9:40 P.M. Mr. Seymour to introduce Mr. Harry S. Ashmore for the closing address.

9:55 P.M. Mr. Seymour to introduce the guests on the dais.

Closing vocal selection by guest artist.

July 18, 1958

Mr. Ten Eyck Lansing
Robert L. Bliss & Company, Inc.
60, East 42nd Street
New York 17, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Lansing:

Thank you very much for sending Mr. Murrow the brochure concerning the award to be given the Arkansas Gazette. As soon as Mr. Murrow returns from vacation, I shall give it to him to read.

Very truly yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

skh

Public Relations Counsel

ROBERT L. BLISS & COMPANY, INC.

60 EAST 42ND STREET · NEW YORK 17, N.Y.

YUKON 6-7440 · CABLE ADDRESS: ROBLISSPUB

July 17, 1958

Dear Ed Murrow:

George Field of Freedom House has suggested that, as co-chairman of the committee on the award to THE ARKANSAS GAZETTE, you should have one of the attached brochures.

We have sent you one in the normal course of events but, in case it got lost in the shuffle, here is another.

By the time you get back from vacation, the shooting in Arkansas will no doubt be over for the summer season. Right now the crossfire is heavily on Faubus, with Harry dumping in the heavy stuff at dawn every morning. With two weeks to go, there is, at least, high hope that Orval's hide may yet be nailed to the front door of Central High, a consummation devoutly to be wished.

Sincerely,

Ted Lansing

Ten Eyck Lansing

tel/j enc

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

THE Arkansas Gazette IS HONORED AND GRATIFIED BY THE DISTINGUISHED SUPPORT IT RECEIVES IN ITS DEFENSE OF LAW AND ORDER DURING THE SCHOOL-INTEGRATION CRISIS WHICH EXISTS AT LITTLE ROCK.

IN THE GRAVEST CONSTITUTIONAL DISPUTE THIS NATION HAS FACED SINCE 1860 THE Arkansas Gazette WILL CONTINUE TO DEFEND OBEDIENCE TO LAW AND ADHERENCE TO TRUTH.

Arkansas Gazette.

J. N. HEISKELL
Editor and President

HARRY S. ASHMORE
Executive Editor

HUGH B. PATTERSON, JR.
Publisher

THE PULITZER PRIZE FOR DISINTERESTED AND MERITORIOUS PUBLIC SERVICE RENDERED BY A UNITED STATES NEWSPAPER . . .

"Awarded to The Arkansas Gazette of Little Rock, Arkansas, for demonstrating the highest qualities of civic leadership, journalistic responsibility and moral courage in the face of mounting public tension during the school integration crisis of 1957. The newspaper's fearless and completely objective news coverage, plus its reasoned and moderate policy, did much to restore calmness and order to an overwrought community, reflecting great credit on its editors and its management."

THE PULITZER PRIZE FOR DISTINGUISHED EDITORIAL WRITING IN A UNITED STATES NEWSPAPER . . .

"Awarded to Harry S. Ashmore, executive editor of The Arkansas Gazette, for the forcefulness, dispassionate analysis and clarity of his editorials on the school integration conflict in Little Rock."

CITATION TO J. N. HEISKELL . . .

. . . the first Columbia Journalism Award for singular journalistic performance in the public interest, in recognition of your dedication to vigorous, complete, literate journalism; your adherence to the ideal of the newspaper and its editor as the conscience of the community; and your courage in placing the principles of law and the dignity of man above all other considerations.

ON SEPTEMBER 4, 1957, Governor Faubus of Arkansas used his State National Guard to prevent execution of the order of a Federal Court.

Not since the Civil War had any State of the Union defied the Federal Government with troops.

Originally, the dispute only involved admission of nine Negro children to a 2000-student white high school at Little Rock, in line with Federal court decisions.

But when armed troopers of the Arkansas National Guard denied admission to the nine children, the Little Rock dispute was laid in the lap of the Nation.

"The issue is no longer segregation vs. integration," said Harry S. Ashmore, executive editor of The Arkansas Gazette, in one of the first of many editorials he wrote as the Little Rock crisis developed. "The question has now become the supremacy of the United States in all matters of law."

In the turbulent months that followed, The Arkansas Gazette stood firmly by the principle that the law of the land must be obeyed, however distasteful it may be to some.

It stands on that principle today, as it has done many times during the 139 years which have made The Arkansas Gazette the oldest newspaper west of the Mississippi.

On May 5, 1958, The Arkansas Gazette was accorded the unprecedented double honor of two Pulitzer Prizes in Journalism for the same story: the crisis of law and order at Little Rock.

On May 29, J. N. Heiskell, actively editor and president of The Gazette for the past 56 years, was given an unprecedented special award for distinguished service by the Columbia School of Journalism.

The Arkansas Gazette takes pride in recording here those citations, together with a handful of the hundreds of gratifying editorials these awards occasioned in the U. S. Press.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

Arkansas Gazette Sets Pulitzer Prize Record

The Arkansas Gazette and its editor, Harry Ashmore, have scored an unprecedented honor in the annual Pulitzer Prize awards, announced Monday afternoon.

The Gazette received the gold medal for meritorious public service for "demonstrating the highest qualities of civic leadership, journalistic responsibility and moral courage in the face of mounting public tension during the school integration crisis in Little Rock in 1957."

Ashmore won the editorial award for his editorials during and since that crisis.

As far as available records show, never before has one newspaper won both awards. There will be almost unanimous agreement with the award among the nation's newspapers. The Gazette's president, the revered veteran J. H. Heiskell; publisher Hugh B. Patterson Jr., editor Ashmore and the staff met the emergency, as the Pulitzer board said, with the highest qualities of leadership and responsibility.

The Atlanta Constitution, itself a former winner of a Pulitzer gold medal for meritorious service, joins in sincere congratulations to the Gazette, its publisher, president, editor and staff.

THE MILWAUKEE JOURNAL

Honor Integrity and Courage

A clear, strong voice called out in Arkansas—during last fall's Little Rock school integration crisis—for reason, moderation and obedience to law. It was that of the Arkansas Gazette of Little Rock and its executive editor, Harry S. Ashmore.

This was not the easy course. It meant defiance of the mob milling around Little Rock high school. It meant open challenge of the strong sentiment against school integration in Arkansas. It meant open conflict with a popular governor, Orval Faubus. It meant an organized boycott and threats of violence.

It called for integrity, courage and a firm dedication to the highest principles of the American press.

For its magnificent efforts, the Arkansas Gazette and Ashmore have now been awarded the top honors in journalism—Pulitzer prizes. It is the first time since 1918 that a newspaper has captured the public service award while one of its editors was winning the editorial writing prize for the same news event.

The Arkansas Gazette and Harry Ashmore last Sept. 4 challenged every Arkansan: "We are going to have to decide what kind of people we are—whether we obey the law only when we approve of it, or whether we obey it no matter how distasteful we may find it."

The Gazette and Ashmore richly deserve their Pulitzer prizes.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

The Pulitzer Prizes for 1957

As Little Rock provided one of the most memorable of news centers in the United States last year, so did the Arkansas Gazette, which is published in Little Rock, provide an outstanding example of journalistic courage and level-headedness at the scene of prejudice carried to the point of violence. For that courage the Gazette and its staff have now been awarded two of the leading Pulitzer Prizes in journalism.

The newspaper itself, and this means the over-all management as well as the staff, receives the gold medal for "meritorious public service by a newspaper." The citation summarizes well the Arkansas Gazette's achievement in "demonstrating the highest qualities of civic leadership, journalistic responsibility and moral courage in the face of mounting tension during the school integration crisis."

The award for "meritorious public service" is underscored by granting the prize for editorial writing to Harry S. Ashmore, whose many editorials on the Little Rock developments reflected fairness, devotion to law and determination to see that sanity prevailed.

This is the second year in a row in which the editorial writing prize has been awarded to a Southern editor who stood up to local pressure at a tense and dangerous time. Last year the recipient was Buford Boone, for an editorial, "What a Price for Peace" in the Tuscaloosa (Ala.) News, against mob action over entry of a Negro student at the University of Alabama.

The judges recognize in effect the work of many reporters and correspondents at Little Rock in choosing for the award "for distinguished reporting of national affairs" the Associated Press's Sept. 23 account of violence at Central High School, as written by Relman Morin. This award is shared by another crack newsman, Clark Mollenhoff of the Cowles newspapers in Des Moines and Minneapolis, for his "persistent inquiry into labor racketeering."

The San Francisco News

The Brave Take Risks, And This Editor Did

This year's Pulitzer awards serve admirably to illustrate the functions, as well as the risks, of vigorous, honest journalism.

The newspaper that won the prize, The Arkansas Gazette of Little Rock, lost thousands of subscribers while doing it. The editor who won, Harry S. Ashmore of The Gazette, was threatened and denounced in his town for the policy he took on law enforcement and school integration.

TO THOSE who consider a newspaper simply a business institution, the stormy and distinguished course followed by The Gazette may be a little hard to understand.

Intending no slight upon the achievement of newspaper or editor, but merely in an effort to explain, we suggest that they rose to no special heights for the special occasion of trouble in their town. The special occasion simply allowed them to apply the professional ability and integrity which newspapermen expect of newspapers in time of trial. The Gazette called them the way its editor saw them and took the consequences, good or bad.

SOMETHING similar it seems to us, applies to the other prize winners, among whom we are proud to include a Scripps-Howard man, Bill Beall of The Washington Daily News, honored for his heart-warming picture of a small boy and a policeman. You saw it in this paper.

Reporters won awards for telling about tornadoes, urban problems, mobs and racketeers. In each case life about us was presented as it is, not necessarily as anyone thinks it should be. In each case opportunity or challenge came. These newspapermen handled it competently and honestly.

ALL HAVE one thing in common with the editor of The Arkansas Gazette—they are strictly professionals. And to the jobs which won them their awards they merely applied the competence and sense of dedication which they bring to the office every day.

They were performing their alloted portion of the task assigned to our free press, with all the risks and rewards that implies. As members of the same profession, we take pride in the excellence of the work which these awards have recognized.

THE SUN

BALTIMORE

Arkansas Bible

This year's Pulitzer prizes in journalism were well distributed among veteran and younger reporters and newspapers large and small with the most interesting choice that of the Arkansas Gazette for an unprecedented double honor. In recognition of its handling of the Little Rock school-integration crisis, the newspaper was cited for meritorious public service; and its executive editor, Harry S. Ashmore, for distinguished editorial writing.

The awards were well earned. In its 139 years of publication the Gazette has seen and recorded many things; it has prospered; it has won the nickname of "Arkansas Bible." Outside its region and outside the profession, however, it was not widely known until last year. Then, with the nation's attention focused on Little Rock, its test came. On September 4, the Gazette said editorially: "Somehow, some day, every Arkansan is going to have to be counted," thus choosing that day for its own counting—on the side of law, and orderly process.

To take that stand at that time required courage, moral and physical, and fiscal also. That any other stand was possible for a responsible newspaper seems not to have occurred to J. N. Heiskell, the 85-year-old president and editor, to Hugh B. Patterson, Jr., the publisher, or to Mr. Ashmore. The paper did not favor school integration. It had supported all legal efforts to maintain the social patterns of segregation. But it drew the line, boldly and clearly, at unlawfulness, and has held its ground through vehement criticism and attempted boycott. In doing so it has enhanced not only its own prestige but that of the entire American press as well.

CHICAGO DAILY NEWS

THE EDITOR'S NOTEBOOK

Tribute to 'Ned' Heiskell, A Publisher with Courage

Men and Issues:

A TRIBUTE TO COURAGE:

There was universal approval among newspapermen when trustees of Columbia University awarded the famed Pulitzer gold medal for public service to the Arkansas Gazette of Little Rock.

Equally deserved, in their estimation, was the recognition given to Harry S. Ashmore, executive editor of the Gazette, for his brilliant series of editorials on the Little Rock integration crisis.

But my personal award for courage goes to the Gazette's 85-year-old owner and editor, John N. Heiskell.

For it was "Ned" Heiskell, a small, soft-spoken man with the look of a benign country parson, who guided the Gazette through the most trying days in the history of his newspaper.

UNTIL GOV. ORVAL FAUBUS precipitated the Little Rock tragedy, Ned Heiskell was one of the best beloved men in his community. His newspaper had long been affectionately called "the old lady on Third street."

But when the Gazette opposed Gov. Faubus' use of troops to defy a federal court order, the newspaper was roundly castigated by ardent segregationists and members of the community taking a different view.

It did not matter that the Gazette, although urging better opportunities and advancement for Negroes, had never advocated integration.

The newspaper's sin, in the eyes of an unreasoning public, was its challenge of Gov. Faubus' action and its vigorous denunciation of mob violence.

Advertisers began to "punish" the Gazette and the newspaper lost an estimated 10 per cent of its circulation. Nevertheless, "Old Ned" never wavered in his belief that "a newspaper is not a property but a community institution which grieves and rejoices with the people it serves. The supreme concern of the newspaper should be truth—in which we will find our enduring kingdom."

Publisher Accepts His Share of 'Blame'

WHEN THE GAZETTE first took its strong stand, some people were not disposed to blame Heiskell for the newspaper's editorial position.

"OLD NED"

It was rumored that Heiskell, whose quiet approach to any problem was something of a legend, had given up control of the newspaper to Publisher Hugh Patterson Jr., and Executive Editor Ashmore.

But "Old Ned" soon disposed of this mistaken view. "Except for one day's absence," said Heiskell, "I read every editorial the Gazette published before it was printed."

When asked by the Associated Press if he underwrote the tenor of Ashmore's biting editorials, Heiskell smiled and replied: "Harry is a bold man. My editorials would have been more restrained but they would have stood for the same thing."

NED HEISKELL is a courageous man. I once heard him, with gentle effectiveness, reprove a President of the United States.

As the Gazette's owner, Heiskell had the most to lose by standing for law and order in an emotionally inflamed community which wanted neither.

But at an age when most men have long since gone to their reward, Ned Heiskell, while lamenting the loss of business and circulation and feeling the wrath of his former friends, said simply that he would be ever faithful to his convictions.

His managing editor, A. R. Nelson, told the Associated Press that Heiskell "has more guts than any man I know."

In a day when newspaper owners often rate advertising volume and circulation gains well above courage and integrity, what better tribute could be paid to any newspaperman?

Ned, for saying "we have suffered severely but if confronted with the same situation, we would not alter our stand," the profession salutes you!

JOHN S. KNIGHT.

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

"First the blade, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear"

Pulitzer Prizes, 1958

News and editorial treatment of the Little Rock desegregation crisis drew down three of this year's Pulitzer prizes in journalism. Two were won by the same newspaper, the Arkansas Gazette. When Governor Faubus used the state's military forces to carry out the will of elements who threatened violence, the Gazette, long an advocate of the gradual desegregation which had succeeded so well in Arkansas, found itself on the spot.

It stood firmly, although hard hit by a boycott. Its behavior has earned an award for meritorious public service, the citation declaring that it showed "the highest qualities of civic leadership, journalistic responsibility, and moral courage." Editor Harry S. Ashmore also wins the prize for editorial writing. And the third Little Rock prize goes to Relman Morin of the Associated Press for his reporting.

Possibly the other most notable feature of this year's awards is that for the best novel to James Agee's "Death in the Family." Well above much current fiction in originality and decency, this book emphasized the values of family affection.

Controversy always swirls around the Pulitzer prizes. But there will be very wide approval for the standards set this year in these awards and several others deservedly recognizing courage and quality.

THE KANSAS CITY STAR.

THE ARKANSAS GAZETTE IN A TEST OF COURAGE.

IN an excellent list of Pulitzer prize winners the Arkansas Gazette stands out with the unusual achievement of two major prizes, one for the paper and the other for its executive editor, Harry S. Ashmore. We congratulate both the Gazette and its executive editor for well deserved recognition.

Long before the name of Little Rock made headlines around the world the Arkansas Gazette supported the school board's very moderate plan for gradual desegregation at the high school level. This was a common sense approach that was given a good chance to succeed. It recognized both a Southern city's inherited resistance to desegregation and the facts of life as they stood after the Supreme court decision.

Except for the politically-slanted interference of Arkansas's Governor Faubus the moderate view would almost certainly have succeeded. But the governor did interfere. Human passions and resentment were stirred to make the unhappy world story. Then it was that the Arkansas Gazette rose to the highest test, a test of courage.

The Gazette's president and editor, J. N. Heiskell, and Ashmore are men of the highest principles and the courage to back them. The normally moderate Little Rock became a mob scene. All the unreasoning resentments were turned against the Gazette.

The newspaper leadership stood firm for a rule of reason when few people were willing to look at reason. It stood for law and order and there was no compromise It was a splendid demonstration of the highest sense of a newspaper's responsibility to its community and to its own integrity.

The Charlotte Observer

Newspaper in Little Rock Wins Two Pulitzer Prizes

By HARRISON E. SALISBURY

Three of the 1958 Pulitzer prizes in journalism were awarded yesterday for coverage of last autumn's school integration crisis in Little Rock, Ark. Two of the three prizes were won by the same newspaper, The Arkansas Gazette, an unusual honor designed to record the high esteem felt by the awards committee for the excellence of this Little Rock paper's achievement.

The third prize was awarded to Relman Morin, an Associated Press reporter, for his coverage of integration violence in Little Rock.

The double award to The Arkansas Gazette was made for its public service and editorial coverage of the explosive Little Rock integration crisis.

The newspaper was cited for "demonstrating the highest qualities of civic leadership, journalistic responsibility and moral courage."

"The newspaper's fearless and completely objective news coverage, plus its reasoned and moderate policy, did much to restore calmness and order to an overwrought community," the citation said.

Mr. Ashmore, executive editor of The Arkansas Gazette, was cited "for the forcefulness, dispassionate analysis and clarity of his editorials" on the integration situation.

A check of Pulitzer Prize annals disclosed that The Arkansas Gazette was the first newspaper to win the public service prize and the editorial prize for its work on the same news story.

PULITZER, 1958

In the distinguished list of Pulitzer awards, the ones for "meritorious public service" to The Arkansas Gazette and for editorial writing to its editor, Harry S. Ashmore, deserve special attention.

In the integration crisis in Little Rock last fall, The Gazette consistently demonstrated in both its news and editorial columns the finest principles of American journalism. As the Pulitzer citation noted, The Gazette showed "the highest qualities of civic leadership, journalistic responsibility and moral courage" in the face of an attempt at mob rule stimulated by the highest authority in the state. This fine Little Rock daily, representing the forces of law and order and moderation in the South, has gained additional respect and admiration from the newspaper community and the nation, in whose esteem it already stood high.

The New York Times.

The Pulitzers

During the school integration crisis in Little Rock last fall, the 138-year-old Arkansas Gazette said in an editorial supporting enforcement of desegregation:

> Somehow, some time every Arkansan is going to have to be counted. We are going to have to decide what kind of people we are—whether we obey the law only when we approve of it, or whether we obey it no matter how distasteful we may find it.

Segregationist extremists declared a boycott of the paper, causing a small circulation drop. But last week The Gazette became the first newspaper to win two Pulitzer Prizes for its work on the same news story. One went to the paper for meritorious public service in its news coverage, the other to its executive editor, Harry S. Ashmore, for his editorials on the situation.

The New York Times.

Arkansas Daily Gets 2 Pulitzer Awards

Gazette Finds Readers Return After Segregationist Boycott

Prize-Winning Paper Also Reports That Ads Are Steady Despite Its Fight for 'Law and Order' in School Clash

By PETER KIHSS

The Arkansas Gazette, fighting against segregationist boycott efforts, reported yesterday that it was recovering from some early circulation losses—and that its advertisers had stood by it.

The Little Rock morning newspaper carried off the 1958 Pulitzer Prize for meritorious public service yesterday for its news and editorials in the school integration crisis there. Its executive editor, Harry S. Ashmore, won the prize for editorial writing.

Hugh B. Patterson Jr., publisher, said in Little Rock that circulation was off about 10 per cent from last September. The worst loss caused by mid-December—11,000 customers. But March saw a pick-up of 1,000, and the present daily circulation is about 88,000, Sunday 98,000.

The evening Arkansas Democrat, which has been relatively aloof in the arguments, has gained about 6,000 reader in the period, and now leads slightly in the Sunday field Mr. Patterson said in a telephone interview.

Says Boycott Failed

"I don't think there has been any effective boycott on advertisers at all," Mr. Patterson added. "All local advertisers have continued the same percentage with us."

National advertising has dropped some, he said, but he believed this reflected the national recession. He said he believed that some local advertisers, who might not have wished to speak up individually, were expressing support of the paper by staying with it.

Fifteen hundred advertisers received anonymous letters last December. The letters, believed to have been inspired by White Citizens Councils, announced "a massive crusade" against stores advertising in The Gazette.

The Gazette reprinted the letter on its front page. In an editorial it said it had "consistently supported every legal effort to maintain the social patterns of segregation," but contended that the issue was "law and order." It vowed resistance to "terror, coercion and boycott."

The newspaper had taken basically the same position since the United States Supreme Court's first schood desegregation decision, May 31, 1954. It opposed the use of National Guardsmen by Gov. Orval E. Faubus last Sept. 2 to block nine Negroes from attending Central High School. It supported President Eisenhower's counter-use of Federal troops.

"Somehow, some time, every Arkansan is going to have to be counted," The Gazette wrote Sept. 4. "We are going to have to decide what kind of people we are—whether we obey the law only when we approve of it, or whether we obey it no matter how distasteful we may find it."

The Gazette says it is the oldest United States newspaper west of the Mississippi River. It was founded Nov. 20, 1819, at the then territorial capital of Arkansas Post, and moved with the government to Little Rock Dec. 29, 1821. During Federal occupation of thestate in the Civil War, the paper was closed from 1863 to 1865.

Bought by Heiskells

In 1902 it was bought by the Heiskell family, including J. N. Heiskell, still the editor. He was 85 years old Nov. 2. The Heiskells sternly separated the business office from any influence on editorial policy and printed state-wide news that made the paper the "Arkansas Bible."

A description of the paper in "James Street's South," by James Street Jr., a former Gazette reporter, said in 1955:

"Her tenets have made her one of the most successful journals in the world and yet her tenets are simple: What is best for humanity as the Gazette sees it, an honest profit is not evil; change is not always progress but never fear change, and lay not a greedy hand, sir, on the fair breast of Arkansas, point not a dirty finger.

"Her purse is fat enough to be envied and yet a wasted penny shocks her into anguish, for she is a string-saver and a button-keeper. In an age of journalese and slang, she prefers the King's English, and is one of the nation's most literate voices speaking for one of our most illiterate states."

The Charlotte Observer

For Courage at Little Rock

Last fall Little Rock, Arkansas, was a battleground and, in spite of the physical violence disgracing the effort to integrate a high school there, the battle was fought in the minds of Americans everywhere, as much as in the streets of the city.

As another school term nears its end, the Pulitzer Prize Committee reminds us of Little Rock, and of the facts that the issues there have not been resolved, and the conflict still goes on.

For the first time in its history, the Pulitzer Committee awarded three journalistic prizes for one story—Little Rock. The Arkansas Gazette, published in Little Rock, was cited for its "journalistic responsibility and moral courage." Its editor, Harry Ashmore, was honored for "the dispassionate analysis and clarity" of his editorials. Relman Morin, of the Associated Press, received a prize for his coverage of the mob violence in Little Rock.

What did the paper and these men do? When the lines were drawn, they stood for the rule of law—the law flouted by Governor Orval Faubus. The newspaper, published where racial segregation is a way of life imbedded in tradition, defied threats to print the news and its view that the law must be obeyed even when we don't like it. Morin told the whole story of the mob attempts to block integration in all its color and drama, a feat only those who have been engulfed in a mob gone wild can fully appreciate.

Other newspapers, other reporters and editors, can feel a share in the honor justly conferred upon these three. For there were many others, in many parts of the country, who expressed their convictions on this issue with courage when it might have been easier to do otherwise.

In the end, this question of integration must and will be settled. It will take time, and patience, and courage like that shown by the Pulitzer winners. It will come sooner if extremists on both sides recognize the real meaning of these awards—the laws must be observed or our society will be fatally weakened.

TAMPA MORNING TRIBUNE

Stout Hearts And Circulation

In the newspaper trade, it has been a foregone conclusion for some months that one of the Pulitzer prizes for 1957 would go to the Arkansas Gazette in Little Rock. The concluders were wrong in one respect: The Gazette got not one prize, but two. One for public service went to the newspaper; one for editorial writing went to Executive Editor Harry S. Ashmore.

We don't think many in the profession will dispute the judges' decisions.

The Gazette was faced with a situation which separates the stout hearts from the weak knees in the newspaper trade. On its doorstep was a flaming local controversy combining the ugly elements of racial feeling, mob violence, and a direct conflict of state and federal authority.

The easy way would have been to deplore the whole mess in terms calculated to make nobody mad; or to go along with Governor Faubus and the extremists. Instead, the Gazette took a positive stand for law and order, which meant that it insisted the federal court decree admitting nine Negro children to Little Rock High School should be obeyed.

For this it was denounced publicly by Faubus and his supporters and boycotted by some advertisers and subscribers. It suffered financially. But, said 85-year-old President J. N. Heiskell, if he had to do it all over again he would take the same stand.

In the long run, we suspect the Gazette will find a greater reward than its Pulitzer medals. For even those who may violently disagree respect a newspaper that has the courage of its convictions. The history of journalism shows that stout hearts and strong circulation go together.

THE DAYTON DAILY NEWS

Merited Prizes

The Pulitzer prize awards this year have drawn attention, above all else, to a display of competent, courageous, socially responsible journalism.

The awards particularly worth talking about are those to the Arkansas Gazette, for meritorious public service, and to its editor, Harry S. Ashmore, for distinguished editorial writing.

In a sense it is a double award to Ashmore himself, who is responsible for managing the Gazette's news coverage as well as its editorial policy.

The Gazette is a daily newspaper in Little Rock, capital of Arkansas and scene of the tempestuous events surrounding the attempt at gradual integration of the city's school system. Around the newspaper, which has been a voice for controlled, constructive liberalism in all matters, swirled the maelstrom. The Gazette met the test magnificently.

It covered the news fearlessly, completely, and without bias. It stated its editorial views forthrightly but without hysteria. It was a special pleader for no point of view but it was an irreducible fortress of dignity, decency and public order.

Harry Ashmore and the Gazette deserve not only the praise of the Pulitzer committee but also the gratitude of the country.

The Washington Post

The Pulitzer Prizes

In the face of widespread extremism incited by Governor Faubus, the fearless and forthright record of the Arkansas Gazette in the Little Rock segregation crisis richly merited Pulitzer Prize recognition. The Gazette's president, J. N. Heiskell, refused to bow to intimidation in fulfilling the newspaper's duty to report accurately and comment in accordance with its principles. Its executive editor, Harry S. Ashmore, properly won additional recognition for his incisive editorials in that trying situation. Among the other Pulitzer award winners it is a pleasure to congratulate four Washingtonians—George Beveridge of the Evening Star for local reporting, William C. Beall of the Daily News for photography, Clark Mollenhoff of the Cowles publications for national reporting, and Walter Lippmann, whose columns were accorded a special citation. We salute these exemplars of journalism for their accomplishments.

The Courier-Journal

Pulitzer Awards for 1957

BIG EVENTS often cast dark shadows over the news. There was little of cheer about the story of the school integration struggle in Little Rock last fall, with its complex problem of Federal-state relations, its burden of politics, and its overloaded emotional content.

There is a kind of good news flowing from the Little Rock episode, however, in the Pulitzer Prizes just announced. It is highly unusual for one paper to be recognized in two Pulitzer categories at once. That double honor has gone to The Arkansas Gazette and to its editor, HARRY ASHMORE.

Here is just recognition for two different kinds of journalistic excellence: the courage of the paper's owners in hewing to the line of conviction against threats of boycott and retaliation from inflamed elements in the community; and the character and skill of an editor who could constantly appeal to his readers' reason rather than to their emotions.

Little Rock figures, too, in the spot news award to RELMAN MORIN of The Associated Press. This veteran newsman covered an assignment one morning outside Central High School, reported what he saw from a glass-walled telephone booth, and wrote the whole story in the white heat of haste. This is journalistic writing of a high order.

. . . did much to restore calmness and order . . .

San Francisco Chronicle

This World Today

Of Moral Courage And Newspapers

By Royce Brier

THE REWARDS for supporting a free society under law are not as a rule monetary, and they are sometimes slow in arriving.

But this is true of moral courage in general, which is a value much superior to physical courage. It is a superior value because it is harder to achieve by human beings, and so rarer in human beings than physical courage.

Let us take the case of the Arkansas Gazette, Harry Ashmore, executive editor.

Last year the Gazette and Ashmore had a choice to make. Negroes were to be integrated in Central High School in Little Rock under a decision of the United States Supreme Court, and an order of the United States District Court.

Editor Ashmore

Perhaps a majority of the white citizens of Little Rock were opposed to integration on principle, but the case in question was not clear-cut. Some opposed integration in principle, but reluctantly upheld the law as enunciated by the District Court. Others considered the law invalid, and opposed its application. Thousands didn't care about the law, and were willing to fight it out at Central High.

IT IS FAIRLY CERTAIN a majority of Little Rock, the countryside and indeed the whole South were opposed to this experiment in law.

Ashmore and the Gazette could have gone along with this majority. It would be money in the pocket. It would have meant good feeling and peaceful human relations with old friends, and with people who count.

Ashmore and the Gazette chose not to go along. They chose the principle that the law was above people, and that without a rule of law, there were no organized people wielded into a community, but chaos.

So the Gazette carried editorials admonishing its readers to submit to law, opposing the violence in the streets about the school which marked the experiment. Day after day, while the rioting went on, the Gazette stuck to its guns. It insisted that no settlement of the community's ordeal was possible unless that settlement was under a rule of law.

THE QUESTION was not primarily whether the Gazette was right or wrong in the circumstances existing (though the writer thinks the Gazette was right). The question was that the Gazette thought it was right and had the courage to say so, though a probable majority of its readers and of all townspeople thought it was wrong.

So the Gazette is now the American newspaper of last year. It received the Pulitzer Prize for "demonstrating the highest qualities of civic leadership, journalistic responsibility and moral courage in the face of mounting public tension during the school integration crisis."

Ashmore got an award for the "forcefulness, dispassionate analysis and clarity of his editorials."

All we have as men derives from the moral courage of some men over the ages. When we no longer have moral courage, we are no longer men, and our race will die out.

The Evening Star

WASHINGTON 4, D. C.

Pulitzer Winners

The impact of the Little Rock story is fully reflected in the 1958 Pulitzer awards for journalism.

Three of the awards were directly related to the newspaper treatment of the surging violence which accompanied the integration of Little Rock's Central High School. The Arkansas Gazette, which ignored threats and boycotts to handle the story with courage and distinction, won a richly deserved award for meritorious public service. Its executive editor, Harry Ashmore, won the editorial prize for his dispassionate yet forthright editorial treatment of the problem which the rioting posed for his community. And Relman (Pat) Morin of the Associated Press took one of the two prizes given for national reporting—his winning effort being an eyewitness account of the rioting last September 23. These are choices which will enjoy the wholehearted indorsement of the newspaper fraternity.

The Philadelphia Inquirer

Talent, Courage Win Awards

It was almost a sure bet that the Little Rock story would figure in the 1957 Pulitzer awards.

Customarily, Pulitzer prizes for journalism are linked with major news stories that produce big headlines across the whole nation. Certainly, Little Rock U. S. A. was the No. 1 domestic story of the year.

But it was unprecedented for one newspaper to win two Pulitzers for the same story as the Arkansas Gazette did. The newspaper won the public service award for its coverage of Little Rock's school disturbances; its executive editor, Harry S. Ashmore, won the prize for editorial writing.

The two awards are a deserved tribute for the Gazette, for Ashmore, and for J. N. Heiskell, the courtly, ramrod-straight, 85-year-old president and editor of the newspaper.

Mr. Heiskell, still alert and active, is a man of courage and fierce independence. The Gazette's hard-hitting, exhaustive coverage of the school crisis, and its vigorous but calm editorial opposition to the actions of Gov. Orval Faubus, cost the newspaper both advertising and circulation revenue. But he stood solidly behind his talented young executive editor in what he believed to be a battle for a sound principle, i.e., respect for law and order and obedience to federal court rulings.

Ashmore, a native of Greenville, S. C., former editor of The Charlotte News, and author of two major books, The Negro and the Schools and Epitaph For Dixie, has been unfairly labeled an integrationist by those who disagree with his editorial position. To the contrary, his position on the school desegregation question is quite moderate and realistic. He is, unquestionably, one of the ablest writers the southern region has produced in this generation.

A third Pulitzer award went to Relman (Pat) Morin for his moving story of mob violence outside Little Rock's Central High School last September 23. Morin's account will long stand as a classic example of vivid, dramatic description of the actions of human beings whose twisted emotions drove them to inhuman frenzy.

CHICAGO DAILY NEWS

Pulitzer Prizes

OUR congratulations go to the Arkansas Gazette and its executive editor, Harry Ashmore. The newspaper received the Pulitzer prize yesterday for meritorious public service, and Mr. Ashmore received the Pulitzer prize for editorial writing.

This Little Rock newspaper and its editor gave the nation a great demonstration of patriotism and courage last year at the height of the school troubles incited by Gov. Faubus.

They stood steadfastly for observance of the law in a state capital where the governor was determined to subvert it. The position they took was easy enough for newspapers to assume in Northern localities where there has been no legal segregation in the public schools for generations, or where there has never been any compulsory separation of the races in the schoolroom at any time. It was not easy in Little Rock.

The Little Rock Beat

The Detroit Free Press

For Journalistic Devotion to Duty

PROBABLY NO Pulitzer Prize winner has received congratulations more enthusiastically given than those being bestowed on the Arkansas Gazette at Little Rock.

For its coverage of the Little Rock Central High School story the Gazette received the award for meritorious public service. It's executive editor, Harry S. Ashmore, was given the editorial writing prize for his treatment of the same subject.

The twin bestowals recognized fearless, objective coverage of Little Rock's school segregation crisis and its violence, together with display of a moderate, calming attitude in an "overwrought community."

In its performance, the Gazette symbolized American journalism at its most courageous and constructive best. But while men of reason everywhere appreciate and applaud such a performance, it is anything but a universally popular one on a scene invested with emotionalism run rampant.

Fighting the good fight, no hero is immune to scars. For its bravery and honest and reasoned words the Gazette received them—in the form of canceled subscriptions and some displeased advertisers. It knew it would happen. With full awareness of what would come, journalistic responsibility was put ahead of the cash register.

The good newspaper always does it that way, and because the Gazette did it we would like to add a congratulation. It goes to John N. Heiskell, the paper's president. It was his property that stood to take the loss and Heiskell didn't hesitate to tell his editors to risk it as the price of being right—of doing an outstanding meritorious public service and what they could to calm overwrought Little Rock.

We wouldn't want his role to go unnoticed, both for his own sake and for that of the many other publishers who would do no less if the same circumstance befell them.

But above all things
Truth beareth away the victory

July 8, 1958

Mr. George Field
Freedom House
Willkie Memorial Building
20 West 40 Street
New York 18, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Field:

Thank you for your letter of July 7 to Mr. Murrow, concerning the award to be given to the Arkansas Gazette.

As I told your secretary this morning, Mr. Murrow is at present on vacation, so that we are unable to give you a definite answer as yet. We expect to see him very briefly some time next week, and hope we will be able to let you know if he can attend the dinner at that time.

Very truly yours,

Secretary to Mr. Murrow

skh

FREEDOM HOUSE

WILLKIE MEMORIAL BUILDING
20 WEST 40 STREET, NEW YORK 18, N. Y.
LONGACRE 5-3344

Board of Trustees

WHITNEY NORTH SEYMOUR
Chairman of the Board

HERBERT BAYARD SWOPE
Chairman, Exec. Committee

HARRY D. GIDEONSE
President

RALPH J. BUNCHE
LEO CHERNE
GEORGE B. FORD
Vice-Presidents

REX STOUT
Treasurer

MRS. HENRY GALE
Assistant Treasurer

GEORGE FIELD
Executive Secretary

Herbert Agar
Ulric Bell
Lyman Bryson
Cass Canfield
Harry J. Carman
Norman Cousins
Christopher T. Emmet
Thomas K. Finletter
Arthur J. Goldsmith
Nathaniel L. Goldstein
Samuel Goldwyn
Harold K. Guinzburg
Helen Hayes
Henry W. Hobson
Mrs. Andrew Jackson
Jacob K. Javits
J. M. Kaplan
Maxwell A. Kriendler
Goodhue Livingston Jr.
Francis Pickens Miller
Edgar Ansel Mowrer
Allan Nevins
James A. Pike
Whitelaw Reid
Elizabeth M. Riley
Francis E. Rivers
Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt
Elmo Roper
George N. Shuster
Mrs. Caroline K. Simon
Nathaniel Singer
Spyros P. Skouras
Louis Stulberg
Channing H. Tobias
J. Waties Waring
W. W. Waymack
Robert M. Weitman
William L. White
Roy Wilkins

July 7, 1958

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
C.B.S.
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

At a recent meeting of our board, it was decided to present the Freedom Award for 1958 to the ARKANSAS GAZETTE. We are thus departing from our customary practice of singling out an individual for this Award, but the presentation will honor the three men responsible for the newspaper's policies: John N. Heiskell, editor and president; Hugh B. Patterson, Jr., publisher; and Harry S. Ashmore, executive editor.

We will at the same time commemorate the 17th anniversary of Freedom House at our annual dinner, to be held in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Tuesday evening, October 14th.

From your past participation you are fully aware of the character of this Award and its previous recipients, so I will not review these details. You are also aware that the ARKANSAS GAZETTE bore the brunt of the struggle for law and order in opposition to Governor Faubus throughout the crisis in Little Rock, and has been subjected to a smear and boycott campaign by the extremists.

We would like you, as a previous recipient of this Award, and Gardner Cowles, as a publisher who is aware of the service rendered by the ARKANSAS GAZETTE, to serve as co-chairmen for this year's presentation. The actual program procedure can be worked out at a later date after we have completed the program for this occasion.

In the meantime, it would be most helpful for us to know whether you can be with us at the dinner and if you will agree to serve as co-chairman.

With kindest regards.

Cordially yours,

L B 1730 7/7
8.45 7/7/69

George

GF:rm

George Field

P.S. There will be no fund raising connected with this event.

Mc Cullough, D

October 2, 1958

Dear Donald:

What, for heaven's sake, is happening? Are we now dining at the House of Lords in lounge suits? I deplore this departure from the old tradition and deplore even more the fact that there is no chance of my joining you on November 17.

I am coming over late in March to do a television piece with Field Marshal Montgomery and will hope to see you then.

As ever yours,

Mr. Donald McCullough
16 de Vere Cottages
London W. 8

BRAINS TRUST DINING CLUB

The President requests the pleasure of the company of

EDWARD R.MURROW ESQ.,

at a dinner
to be held in the House of ~~Commons~~ Lords on Monday, 17th November, 1958

7.0 for 7.30 p.m.
Lounge Suits

TICKETS 30/-
Please send cheque to DONALD McCULLOUGH,
16 DE VERE COTTAGES, W.8.
Secretary: MONARCH 6092

Upcoming.
"Chicago Speech"

August 20, 1958

Dear Bill:

I have just written to Bill Small confirming that I will be at the RTNDA Convention on October 15.

A copy of my letter to him is attached.

I look forward to the occasion and shall much enjoy seeing you again. With best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. William G. Garry
News Director
WBBM-TV
630 North McClurg Court
Chicago 11, Illinois

mcc

Radio Television News Directors Association

PRESIDENT
Jack E. Krueger, WTMJ, WTMJ-TV, Milwaukee

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS
Ted Koop, CBS News, Washington, D. C.

TREASURER
F. O. Carver, Jr., WSJS, Winston-Salem, N.C.

VICE-PRESIDENT FOR PROGRAM
Bill Small, WHAS, WHAS-TV, Louisville, Kentucky

VICE-PRESIDENT FOR RADIO
John Maters, WILS, Lansing, Michigan

VICE-PRESIDENT FOR TELEVISION
Ralph Renick, WTVJ, Miami, Florida

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY, Rob Downey, WKAR, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan

May 21, 1958

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Ed:

After the last Board meeting of the RTNDA, Bill Garry of WBBM asked me to write you a brief note in reply to your letter of April 22nd since I am in charge of convention arrangements (Bill heads the local committee). We would be delighted to have you speak the evening of Wednesday, October 15th and would look forward to those words "which would outrage all of our employers".

Your letter states that you want to know how much time you can have before making such a commitment, since at this time you don't know where you will be on October 15th. I believe that we can wait all the way until the second week in September without the "embarrassment or inconvenience" you mentioned. Beyond that date, the problem of hotel arrangements and other things would be complicated.

We all hope that you can find it in your schedule to join us October 15th for we would be delighted to have you on our program.

With best personal regards,

Bill Small

William Small
Director of News
WHAS AM-TV

WS/ph

CC - Mr. William G. Garry

DIRECTORS

Bill Monroe, WDSU-TV, New Orleans, La.
Hugh Bremner, CFPL, London, Ontario
Nick Basso, WSAZ, Huntington, W. Va.
Dick Cheverton, WOOD, WOOD-TV, Grand Rapids, Mich.
Charles Shaw, WCAU, Philadelphia, Pa.
Bruce B. Palmer, KWTV, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma
Jim McGaffin, WOW, WOW-TV, Omaha, Nebraska
Jack Morris, KTUL-TV, Tulsa, Okla.
Julian Goodman, NBC, Washington

REGIONAL VICE-PRESIDENTS

James Bennett, KLZ, Denver, Colorado
William Gerry, WBBM, Chicago, Illinois
Donald Johnston, CHML, Hamilton, Ontario
Harry McKenna, WEAN, Providence, Rhode Island
Steven Warren, WMC, Memphis, Tennessee

1958 International Convention, Chicago, Illinois, October 15-18, Sheraton Blackstone Hotel

Pending

April 22, 1958

Dear Bill:

I would love to try my hand at a piece for the News Directors Association on October 15th.

Somebody ought to make a speech on one of those occasions which would outrage all of our employers. The only trouble is I don't know where the hell I will be on October 15th and I long ago acquired the habit of not making a commitment when I am not sure I can honor it.

What is your deadline? Hos long can you wait for an answer without embarrassment or inconvenience?

As ever yours,

Mr. William G. Garry
News Director
WBBM-TV
630 North McClurg Court
Chicago 11, Illinois

fc

WBBM-TV

630 NORTH McCLURG COURT · CHICAGO 11, ILLINOIS · WHITEHALL 4-6000

Key Station in Chicago for the CBS Television Network

April 11, 1958

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Ed:

A straight lead is the quickest way into a hard news story, and this is our story.

The Radio-Television News Directors Association would like you to address the 1958 international convention at the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel in Chicago on Wednesday evening, October 15th.

A poll of members attending the last convention in Miami Beach disclosed that there is no one in broadcast news for whom they have greater respect nor to whom they would rather listen. In fact, there was not a close second.

If you should find it possible to accept this invitation, the choice of subject would be yours. Like yourself, the officers and directors of RTNDA have as their goals raising the sights and standards of broadcast news everywhere.

May we hear from you at your earliest convenience? With kindest personal regards.

Sincerely,

Bill Garry

Chairman, Convention
Arrangements, RTNDA

William G. Garry
News Director
CBS-Chicago

EDWARD R. MURROW: RADIO AND TELEVISION NEWS DIRECTORS CONVENTION

CHICAGO, OCTOBER 15, 1958.

This just might do nobody any good. At the end of this discourse a few people may accuse this reporter of fouling his own comfortable nest; and your organization may be accused of having given hospitality to heretical and even dangerous thoughts.

But the elaborate structure of networks, advertising agencies and sponsors will not be shaken or altered. It is my desire if not my duty to try to talk to you journeymen with some candor about what is happening to radio and television in this generous and capacious land.

I have no technical advice or counsel to offer those of you who labor in this vineyard that produces words and pictures. You will forgive me for not telling you that the instruments with which you work are miraculous; that your responsibility is unprecedented; or that your aspirations are frequently frustrated. It is not necessary to remind you of the fact that your voice is amplified to the degree where it reaches from one end of the country to the other does not confer upon you greater wisdom or understanding than you possessed when your voice reached only from one end of the bar to the other. All of these things you know.

You should also know at the outset that, in the manner of witnesses before Congressional Committees, I appear here voluntarily - by invitation - that I am an employee of the Columbia Broadcasting System - that I am neither an officer nor a director of that Corporation - and that these remarks are of a "do-it-yourself" nature. If what I have to say is responsible, then I alone am responsible for the saying of it. Seeking neither approbation from my employers, nor new sponsors, nor acclaim from the critics of radio and television, I cannot well be disappointed. Believing that potentially the commercial system of broadcasting as practised in this country is the best and freest yet devised, I have decided to express my concern about what I believe to be happening to radio and television. These instruments have been good to me beyond my due. There exists in my mind no reasonable grounds for personal complaint. I have no feud, either with my employers, any sponsors, or with the professional critics of radio and television. But I am seized with an abiding fear regarding what these two instruments are doing to our society, our culture and our heritage.

Our history will be what we make it. And if there are any historians about fifty or a hundred years from now, and there should be preserved the kinescopes for one week of all three networks, they will find recorded in black and white, or color, evidence of decadence, escapism and insulation from the realities of the world in which we live. I invite your attention to the television schedules of all networks between the hours of eight and eleven p. m. Eastern Time. Here you will find only fleeting and spasmodic reference to the fact that this nation is in mortal danger. There are, it is true, occasional informative programs presented in that intellectual ghetto on Sunday afternoons. But during the daily peak viewing periods, television in the main insulates us from the realities of the world in which we live. If this state of affairs continues, we may alter an advertising slogan to read: "Look Now, Pay Later". For surely we shall pay for using the most powerful instrument of communication to insulate the citizenry from the hard and demanding realities which must be faced if we are to survive. I mean the word - survive, literally. If there were to be a competition in indifference, or perhaps in insulation from reality, then Nero and his fiddle, Chamberlain and his umbrella, could not find a place on an early-afternoon sustaining show. If Hollywood were to run out of Indians, the program schedules would be mangled beyond all recognition. Then, some courageous soul with a small budget might be able to do a documentary telling what, in fact, we have done - and are still doing - to the Indians in this country. But that would be unpleasant. And we must at all costs shield the sensitive citizens from anything that is unpleasant.

I am entirely persuaded that the American public is more reasonable, restrained and more mature than most of our industry's program planners believe. Their fear of controversy is not warranted by the evidence. I have reason to know, as do many of you, that when the evidence on a controversial subject is fairly and calmly presented, the public recognizes it for what it is - an effort to illuminate rather than to agitate.

Several years ago, when we undertook to do a program on Egypt and Israel, well-meaning, experienced and intelligent friends shook their heads and said: "This you cannot do - you will be handed your head - it is an emotion-packed controversy, and there is no room for reason in it." We did the program. Zionists, anti-Zionists, the friends of the Middle East, Egyptian and Isreali officials said, with a faint note of surprise: "It was a fair count. The information was there. We have no complaints."

Our experience was similar with two half-hour programs dealing with cigarette smoking and lung cancer. Both the medical profession and the tobacco industry co-operated in a rather wary fashion. But in the end of the day they were both reasonably content. The subject of radio-active fall-out and the banning of nuclear tests was and is highly controversial. But according to what little evidence there is, viewers were prepared to listen to both sides with reason and restraint. This is not said to claim any special or unusual competence in the presentation of controversial subjects, but rather to indicate that timidity in these areas is not warranted - by the evidence.

Recently, network spokesmen have been disposed to complain that the professional critics of television have been "rather beastly". There have been hints that somehow competition for the advertising dollar has caused the critics of print to gang up on television and radio. This reporter has no desire to defend the critics. They have space in which to do that on their own behalf. But it remains a fact that the newspapers and magazines are the only instruments of mass communication which remain free from sustained and regular critical comment.

If the network spokesmen are so anguished about what appears in print, let them come forth and engage in a little sustained and regular comment regarding newspapers and magazines. It is an ancient and sad fact that most people in network television, and radio, have an exaggerated regard for what appears in print. And there has been cases where executives have refused to make even private comment on a program for which they were responsible, until they had read the reviews in print. This is hardly an exhibition of confidence.

The oldest excuse of the networks for their timidity is their youth. Their spokesmen say: We are young; we have not developed the traditions, nor acquired the experience of the older media." If they but knew it, they are building those traditions, creating those precedents every day. Each time they yield to a voice from Washington or any political pressure, each time they eliminate something that might offend some section of the community, they are creating their own body of precedent and tradition. They are, in fact, not content to be "half safe".

Nowhere is this better illustrated than by the fact that the Chairman of the Federal Communications Commission publicly prods broadcasters to engage in their legal right to editorialize. Of course, to undertake an editorial policy, overt and clearly labelled, and obviously unsponsored, requires a station or a network to be responsible. M ost stations today probably do not have the manpower to assume this responsibility, but the manpower could be recruited. Editorials would not be profitable; if they had a cutting edge they might even offend. It is much easier, much less troublesome to use the money-making machine of television and radio merely as a conduit through which to channel anything that is not libelous, obscene or defamatory. In that way one has the illusion of power without responsibility.

So far as radio - that most satisfying and rewarding instrument - is concerned, the diagnosis of its difficulties is rather easy. And obviously I speak only of news and information. In order to progress it need only go backward.

To the time when singing commercials were not allowed on news reports, when there was no middle commercial in a fifteen-minute news report; when radio was rather proud, alert and fast. I recently asked a network official; Why this great rash of five-minute news reports (including three commercials) on week ends? He replied: "Because that seems to be the only thing we can sell."

In this kind of complex and confusing world, you can't tell very much about the why of the news in broadcast where only three minutes is available for news. The only man who could do that was Elmer Davis, and his kind aren't about any more. If radio news is to be regarded as a commodity, only acceptable when saleable, then I don't care what you call it - I say it isn't news.

My memory also goes back to the time when the fear of a slight reduction in business did not result in an immediate cutback in bodies in the News and Public Affairs Department, at a time when network profits had just reached an all time high. We would allagree, I think, that whether on a station or a network, the stapling machine is a poor substitute for a newsroom tyepewriter.

One of the minor tragedies of television news and information is that the networks will not even defend their vital interests. When my employer, C.B.S., through a combination of enterprise and good luck, did an interview with Nikita Khrushchev, the President uttered a few ill-chosen, uninformed words on the subject, and the network practically apologized. This produced a rarity. Many newspapers defended the C.B. S. right to produce the program and commended it for initiative. But the other networks remained silent.

Likewise, when John Foster Dulles, by personal decree, banned American journalists from going to Communist China, and subsequently offered contradictory explanations. For his fiat the networks entered only a mild protest. Then they apparently forgot the unpleasantness. Can it be that this national industry is content to serve the public interest only with the trickle of news that comes out of Hong Kong?

to leave its viewers in ignorance of the cataclysmic changes that are occuring in a nation of six hundred million people? I have no illusions about the difficulties of reporting from a dictatorship; but our British and French allies have been better served - in their public interest - with some very useful information from their reporters in Communist China.

One of the basic troubles with radio and television news is that both instruments have grown up as an incompatible combination of show business, advertising and news. Each of the three is a rather bizarre and demanding profession. And when you get all three under one roof, the dust never settles. The top management of the networks, with a few notable exceptions, has been trained in advertising, research, sales or show business. But by the nature of the corporate structure, they also make the final and crucial decisions having to do with news and public affairs. Frequently they have neither the time nor the competence to do this. It is not easy for the same small group of men to decide whether to buy a new station for millions of dollars, build a new building, alter the rate card, buy a new Western, sell a soap opera, decide what defensive line to take in connection with the flatest Congressional inquiry, how much money to spend on promoting a new program, what additions or deletions should be made in the existing covey or clutch of vice presidents, and at the same time - frequently on the same long day, to give mature, thoughtful consideration to the manifold problems that confront those who are charged with the responsibility for news and public affairs.

Sometimes there is a clash between the public interest and the corporate interest. A telephone call, or a letter from the proper quarter in Washington is treated rather more seriously than a communication from an irate but not politically potent viewer. It is tempting enough to give away a little air time for frequently irresponsible and unwarranted utterances, in an effort to temper the wind of criticism.

Upon occasion, economics and editorial judgement are in conflict. And there is no law which says that dollars will be defeated by duty. Not so long ago the President of the United States delivered a television address to the nation. He was discoursing on the possibility or probability of war between this nation and the Soviet Union and Communist China - a reasonably compelling subject. Two networks - CBS and NBC - delayed that broadcast for an hour and fifteen minutes. If this decision was dictated by anything other than financial reasons, the networks didn't deign to explain those reasons. That hour and fifteen minute delay, by the way, is about twice the time required for an ICBM to travel from the Soviet Union to major targets in the United States. It is difficult to believe that this decision was made by men who love, respect and understand news.

So far I have been dealing largely with the deficit side of the ledger, and the items could be expanded. But I have said, and I believe, that potentially, we have in this country a free enterprise system of radio and television which is superior to any other. But to achieve its promise, it must be both free and enterprising. There is no suggestion here that networks or individual stations should operate as philanthropies. But I can find nothing in the Bill of Rights or the Communications Act which says that they must increase their net profits each year, lest the republic collapse. I do not suggest that news and information should be subsidized by foundations or private subscriptions. I am aware that the networks have expanded, and are expanding very considerable sums of money on public affairs programs from which they cannot hope to receive any financial reward. I have had the privilege at CBS of presiding over a considerable number of such programs. I testify, and am able to stand here and say that I have never had a program turned down by my superiors because of the money it would cost.

But we all know that you cannot reach the potential maximum audience in marginal time, with a sustaining program. This is so because so many stations on the network - any network - will decline to carry it. Every licensee who applies for a grant to operate in the public interest, convenience and necessity, makes certain promises as to what he will do in terms of program content. Many recipients of licenses have, in blunt language, welshed on those promises. The money-making machine somehow blunts their memories. The only remedy for this is closer inspection and punitive action by the F.C.C. But in the view of many this would come perilously close to supervision of program content by a Federal agency.

So it seems that we cannot rely on philanthropic support or Foundation subsidies, we cannot follow the "sustaining route," the networks cannot pay all the freight, and the F.C.C. cannot or will not discipline those who abuse the facilities that belong to the public.

What, then, is the answer? Do we merely stay in our comfortable nests, concluding that the obligation of these instruments has been discharged when we work at the job of informing the public for a minimum of time? Or do we believe that the preservation of the republic is a seven-day-a-week job, demanding more awareness, better skills, and more perseverance than we have yet contemplated.

I am frightened by the imbalance, the constant striving to reach the largest possible audience for everything; by the absence of a sustained study of the state of the nation. Heywood Broun once said; "No body politic is healthy until it begins to itch." I would like television to produce some itching pills rather than this endless outpouring of tranquilizers. It can be done. Maybe it won't be, but it could. Let us not shoot the wrong piano player. Do not be deluded into believing that the titular heads of the networks control what appears on their networks. They all have better taste. All are responsible to stockholders, and in my experience all are honorable men. But they must schedule what they can sell in the public market. And this brings us to the nub of the question.

In one sense it rather revolves around the phrase heard frequently along Madison Avenue: "The Corporate Image." I am not precisely sure what this phrase means, but I would imagine that it reflects a desire on the part of the corporations who pay the advertising bills, to have the public imagine, or believe, that they are not merely bodies with no souls, panting in pursuit of elusive dollars. They would like us to believe that they can distinguish between the public good and the private or corporate gain. So the question is this: Are the big corporations who pay the freight for radio and television programs wise to use that time exclusively for the sale of goods and services? Is it in their own interest and that of the stockholders so to do? The sponsor of an hour's television program is not buying merely the six minutes devoted to his commercial message. He is determining, within broad limits, the sum total of the impact of the entire hour. If he always, invariably, reaches for the largest possible audience then this process of insulation, of escape from reality, will continue to be massively financed, and its apologists will continue to make winsome speeches about giving the public what it wants, or "letting the public decide."

I refuse to believe that the presidents and chairmen of the boards of these big corporations want their "corporate image" to consist exclusively of a solemn voice in an echo chamber, or a pretty girl opening the door of a refrigerator, or a horse that talks. They want something better, and on occasion some of them have demonstrated it. But most of the men whose legal and moral responsibility it is to spend the stockholders' money for advertising, are removed from the realities of the mass media by five, six, or a dozen contraceptive layers of vice presidents, public relations counsel and advertising agencies. Their business is to sell goods, and the competition is pretty tough.

But this nation is now in competition with malignant forces of evil who are using every instrument at their command to empty the minds of their subjects, and fill those minds with slogans, determination, and faith in the future. If we go on as we are, we are protecting the mind of the American public from any real contact with the menacing world that squeezes in upon us. We are engaged in a great experiment to discover whether a free public opinion can devise and direct methods of managing the affairs of the nation. We may fail. But we are handicapping ourselves needlessly.

Let us have a little competition. Not only in selling soap, cigarettes and automobiles, but in informing a troubled, apprehensive but receptive public. Why should not each of the twenty or thirty big corporations which dominate radio and television, decide that they will give up one or two of their regularly scheduled programs each year, turn the time over to the networks, and say in effect: "This is a tiny tithe, just a little bit of our profits. On this particular night we aren't going to try to sell cigarettes or automobiles; this is merely a gesture to indicate our belief in the importance of ideas." The networks should, and I think would, pay for the cost of producing the program. The advertiser, the sponsor, would get name credit, but would have nothing to do with the content of the program. Would this blemish the corporate image? Would the stockholders object? I think not. For if the premise upon which our pluralistic society rests - which as I understand it is, that if the people are given sufficient undiluted information, they will then somehow, even after long, sober second thoughts reach the right decision. If that premise is wrong, then not only the corporate image but the corporations are done for.

There used to be an old phrase in this country, employed when someone talked too much. It was: "Go hire a hall." Under this proposal the sponsor would have hired the hall; he has bought the time; the local station operator, no matter how indifferent, is going to carry the program - he has to. Then it's up to the netowrks to fill the hall. I am not here talking about editorializing, but about straightaway exposition as direct, unadorned and impartial, as fallible human beings can make it. Just once in a while let us exalt the importance of ideas and information. Let us dream to the extent of saying that on a given Sunday night the time normally occupied by Ed Sullivan is given over to a clinical survey of the state of American education, and a week or two later the time normally used by Steve Allen is devoted to a thorough-going study of American policy in the Middle East. Would the corporate image of their respective sponsors be damaged? Would the stockholders rise up in their wrath and complain? Would anything happen other than that a few million people would have received a little illumination on subjects that may well determine the future of this country, and therefore the future of the corporations? This method would also provide real competition between the networks as to which could outdo the others in the palatable presentation of information. It would provide an outlet for the young men of skill, and there are some even of dedication, who would like to do something other than devise methods of insulating while selling.

There may be other and simpler methods of utilizing these instruments of radio and television in the interests of a free society. But I know of none that could be so easily accomplished inside the framework of the existing commercial system. I don't know how you would measure the success or failure of a given program. And it would be hard to prove the magnitude of the benefit accruing to the corporation which gave up one night of a variety or quiz show in order that the network might marshal its skills to do a thorough-going job on the present status of NATO, or plans for controlling nuclear tests. But I would reckon that the president, and indeed the majority of shareholders of the corporation who sponsored such a venture would feel just a little bit better about the corporation and the country.

It may be that the present system, with no modifications and no experiments can survive. Perhaps the money-making machine has some kind of built-in perpetual motion, but I do not think so. To a very considerable extent the media of mass communications in a given country reflects the political, economic and social climate in which it flourishes. That is the reason ours differs from the British and French, or the Russian and Chinese. We are currently wealthy, fat, comfortable and complacent. We have currently a built-in allergy to unpleasant or disturbing information. Our mass media reflect this. But unless we get up off our fat surpluses and recognize that television in the main is being used to distract, delude, amuse and insulate us, then television and those who finance it, those who look at it and those who work at it, may see a totally different picture too late.

I do not advocate that we turn television into a twenty-seven-inch wailing wall, where long-hairs constantly moan about the state of our culture and our defense. But I would just like to see it reflect occasionally - the hard, unyielding realities of the world in which we live. I would like to see it done inside the existing framework, and I would like to see the doing of it redound to the credit of those who finance and program it. Measure the results by Neilsen, Trendex or Silex - it doesn't matter, the main thing is to try. The responsibility can be easily placed, in spite of all the mouthings about giving the public what it wants. It rests on big business, and on big television, and it rests at the top. Responsibility is not something that can be assigned or delegated. And it promises its own reward: good business and good television.

Perhaps no one will do anything about it. I have ventured to outline it against a background of criticism that may have been too harsh, only because I could think of nothing better.

Someone once said,- I think it was Max Eastman - that: "That publisher serves his advertiser best who best serves his readers." I cannot believe that radio and television, or the corporations that finance the programs, are serving well or truly their viewers or listeners, or themselves.

I began by saying that our history will be what we make it. If we go on as we are, then history will take its revenge, and retribution will not limp in catching up with us.

We are to a large extent an imitative society. If one or two or three corporations would undertake to devote just a small fraction of their advertising appropriation along the lines that I have suggested, the procedure would grow by contagion, the economic burden would be bearable, and there might ensue a most exciting adventure - exposure to ideas, and the bringing of reality into the homes of the nation.

To those who say: People wouldn't look, they wouldn't be interested, they'm too complacent, indifferent and insulated - I can only reply: There is, in one reporter's opinion, considerable evidence against that contention. But even if they are right, what have they got to lose? Because if they are right, and this instrument is good for nothing but to entertain, amuse and insulate, then the tube is flickering now and we will soon see that the whole struggle is lost.

This instrument can teach, it can illuminate; yes, and it can even inspire. But it can do so only to the extent that humans are determined to use it to those ends. Otherwise it is merely wires and lights in a box. There is a great and perhaps decisive battle to be fought against ignorance, intolerance and indifference. This weapon of television could be useful.

Stonewall Jackson, who knew something about the use of weapons, is reported to have said: "When war comes, you must draw the sword and throw away the scabbard." The trouble with television is that it is rusting in the scabbard - during a battle for survival.

Eng. Past.

MR. AND MRS. J. J. SINGH
232 EAST 61ST STREET
NEW YORK 21, N. Y.

December 8, 1958

Tell him I'll be late

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
C.B.S.
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Ed:

Just a line to say that my wife and I are delighted that you and Mrs. Murrow will join us for an Indian buffet dinner in honor of India's new Ambassador, His Excellency Mahomed Ali C. Chagla.

We will expect you at 7:30 P.M. (black tie), on Thursday, December 11, at our house, at the above address.

Looking forward to seeing you both,

Sincerely yours,

J. J. Singh

AMERICAN FOUNDATION FOR THE BLIND, Inc.
15 WEST 16TH STREET • NEW YORK 11, N. Y. • WATKINS 4-0420
CABLE ADDRESS: FOUNDATION, NEW YORK

HON. DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, Honorary President

*M. ROBERT BARNETT
Executive Director

*HELEN A. KELLER, L.H.D., LL.D.
Counselor, Bureau of National and International Relations

March 25, 1959

Mr. Ed Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting Company
485 Madison Ave.
New York, N.Y.

Dear Ed Murrow:

The tape which you did for us has arrived, and it is wonderful, of course.

Sometimes words are just words, as you know, but somehow when you speak them -- they begin to live.

And I want to make a few words of my own live, too. I need not repeat it, but it's true: You've done a grand thing for America's 350,000. blind people.

Who knows, after this record is finished we may even send you one -- for such use as you may wish to make of it -- perhaps to go into the archives.

Again our thanks, Ed. We are grateful to you.

And GOOD LUCK -- for whatever plans you make.

Sincerely,

Gregor Ziemer
Director of Public Education

GZ:md

* Blind
 Deceased

Please see reverse side

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

JAMES S. ADAMS
New York, N. Y.

*COL. E. A. BAKER, M.C., O.B.E.
Managing Director, Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Toronto, Ontario, Canada

KATHARINE CORNELL
New York, N. Y.

*DR. FRANCIS J. CUMMINGS
Executive Secretary, The Delaware Commission for the Blind, Wilmington, Del.

DR. GABRIEL FARRELL
Director Emeritus, Perkins School for the Blind, Watertown, Mass.

DR. IRA V. HISCOCK
President, National Society Prevention of Blindness, New York, N. Y.

*WINTHROP K. HOWE, JR.
Ex-Member, New York State Commission for the Blind, New York, N. Y.

HOWARD M. LIECHTY
Vice President, Matilda Ziegler Publishing Company for the Blind, Inc., Monsey, N. Y.

GEORGE MacDONALD
New York, N. Y.

GARFIELD D. MERNER
San Francisco, Calif.

*GEORGE F. MEYER
Executive Director, New Jersey Commission for the Blind, Newark, N. J.

M. C. MIGEL
Ex-Chairman, New York State Commission for the Blind, New York, N. Y.

RICHARD H. MIGEL
New York, N. Y.

J. P. MORGAN, II
New York, N. Y.

JANSEN NOYES, JR.
New York, N. Y.

D. W. OVERBEAY
President, American Association of Instructors of the Blind, Vinton, Iowa

EBER L. PALMER
Superintendent, New York State School for the Blind, Batavia, N. Y.

STEPHEN L. PORTER
White Plains, N. Y.

ROBERT M. PROUTY
Massachusetts Association for Promoting the Interests of the Adult Blind, Boston, Mass.

*PETER J. SALMON
Executive Director, Industrial Home for the Blind, Brooklyn, N. Y.

EUSTACE SELIGMAN
New York, N. Y.

BYRON M. SMITH
Executive Director, Minneapolis Society for the Blind, Inc., Minneapolis, Minn.

H. A. WOOD
President, American Association of Workers for the Blind, Raleigh, N. C.

HELEN ZIEGLER
President, Matilda Ziegler Publishing Company for the Blind, Inc., Monsey, N. Y.

* Blind
 Deceased

CBS NEWS Bonn Bureau
Koblenzer Strasse 270, Bonn Phone: 2 59 11

Ernest Leiser

April 3, 1959

Dear Ed,

Here's the transcript of the Adenauer conversation, as made by the German stenographer who was there. Unfortunately, they did not transcribe Weber's English translation and I didn't feel I could ask the Presseamt to make a translation for us. I'm sure you'll have no trouble getting it turned into English, and I didn't want to hold off sending it to you.

So far as I can tell, there's only one omission. That's when Adenauer, in answer to your question about whether the British position m ade him uneasy, replied, "The British make me uneasy in general". However, he came back to that point later and made it much stronger, so I assume the stenographer just didn't catch it.

I'm even more intrigued, on reading the text, by the Chancellor's references to what Khrushchev said to him about "asking help" from Bonn; and I still am not sure why he m ade such a point of this. Anyhow, it was something new and different from the old codger.

I'm most glad you came and hope, indeed, you will be able to come here with more time in summer or fall.

B est to you and tell Eddie Bliss I enjoyed reading about his Yale escapades of the 30s; didn't know he was such a rogue.

Cheers,

Ernie

WILLIAM S. PALEY

Murrow:

Thanks.

It's most interesting. I'm amazed he was so open. I feel better informed.

Bill.

Adenauer

Manuscript

Off the Record

Informational Conversation

Federal Chancellor Dr. Adenauer--Mr. Murrow, Mr. Leiter,

Thursday, April 2, 1959, 11:30 AM

Palais Schaumburg

Mr. Murrow:

Mr. Chancellor, do you consider the possibility of a war because of Berlin as a serious danger?

The Chancellor:

I do not believe that Khrushchev wants war, because of two reasons. He knows very well that, if there should be a hot war, Russia, along with other countries, will disappear. Secondly: He wants to swallow Europe by way of a world economic ~~pack~~ might and to overtake the United States by a "cold" route. Therefore, I believe that there will be no such war because of the Berlin question.

If you are interested, may I talk to you generally about my views concerning the Russian plans; based on this background one may alone judge accurately, I believe. Mr. Krushchev, in my opinion, has two motives, two aims. By himself, he has the same position as Stalin: Prime Minister, Party Chief; but he does not have Stalin's standing (prestige). Stalin was the revolutionary, the Marshal during the war. He is regarded in Soviet Russia as one of the winners of the war, while Khrushchev has risen to his current position from within the party organization. Therefore, he seeks to be put on the same level as Stalin in the eyes of the Soviet Russian population. That is why he wants a summit conference. Stalin had the summit conference. Khrushchev up to now has not had one, a fact which for him is very important ~~reason from an~~ for interior political ~~point~~ reasons. Secondly, he wants to achieve world domination of Communism under Soviet Russian leadership, not through a hot war.

In October 1955 I was in Moscow for six days and every day I had discussions for several hours with Bulganin, Khruschchev and other gentlemen, but also with Bulganin and especially with Khruschev alone. He was quite open toward me and asked for our help. He asked for German help, because Soviet Russia's tasks were tremendously difficult. Three tasks he named: one, to raise the living standard of the Russian population; two, to rearm like the United States; thirdly, to fend off Red China. For this, he asked our help. There was no mention of war in these discussions. He also said: Whether you are in NATO or not--we would have preferred that you did not join NATO--but it does not matter to me. There was only the topic of economic questions, of economic aid.

Mr. Murrow:

If I understood correctly, do you believe that it is one of the main aims of Soviet policy to break up the Western alliance, but without war?

Answer:

I ~~just wanted to say~~ was coming to that. Khruschchev said that the only two adversaries Soviet Russia had are the United States and Red China. I am quite frank with you and I rely on you to keep this strictly confidentially. I also want to tell you what he told me about Red China. He said: They suck us dry like leeches. Imagine, please, more than 600 million human beings, each year 12 million added, where shall it end? And he added: These are people who live on a handful of rice. Therefore, he said: Help us!

Also during this conference I convinced myself completely that this man really believes that the way of life and economics, which he calls capitalistic, will perish, for he also said: You will disappear from earth with you economic ways, and our way of life and economics will dominate the earth.

If he wants to dominate the earth, then he does not want to dominate an earth devoid of people, and therefore he does not want the hot, nuclear war. His sole aim is to conduct economics. Now I come back to where I started out. He has Stalin's position, but not Stalin's power and prestige, and therefore he wants to achieve, what Stalin did for Russia during the war--elevate it to a world power--in the area of ecomomics.

I believe that he is serious about his seven-year plan. Of course the figures are exaggerated, but the nucleus is an earnest will to increase Russia's economic power as much as he possibly can. If he should succeed in dominating Western Europe not through a devastating war, then the Soviet Russian economy would be far, far superior to the American economy, and then it would be within his power to hurt seriously the American economy at its sensitive points, and from this, the United States would have to draw political conclusions. Just what political conclusions, no one, in my opinion, can foresee now.

Since the establishment of NATO, Soviet Russia has not progressed a single step into the West. This period is now over. Now he is attempting, since he is in this position--for reasons which I just developed--to expand into Western Europe via Berlin and the Federal Republic.

Mr. Murrow:

May I ask a question in connection with Berlin? May I again refer to what you said before, namely Russia's attempts to break the Western Alliance? Some time ago, I was in England and there gained the impression that the British attitude concerning Berlin is much more flexible than that prevailing in Germany. May I ask whether this does not disquiet you?

Answer:

Perhaps we can now say a word concerning this; I will be finished in a few sentences.-

If Khruschchev should succeed in incorporating Berlin into the DDR (Eastern Germany), to make the Federal Republic communist by way of a confederation, then Western Europe would be finished. We are the dam here, we Germans, the dam against Communism. The Communists are a very strong party in Italy, and in France, despite of DeGaulle, whom I admire very much--they are also a strong party. If we were communistic, Western Europe would be finished. It would come into the communist, the Russian maelstrom. A destroyed Western Europe is of no interest to Khrushchev; a working Western Europe is of great interest to him. Alone in the six nations of the European economic union live 164 million industrious people. Those he would gain power over. The export potential along of the six nations of the Common Market is roughly as large as the entire export potential of the United States. If he could succeed only in getting these six countries--via Germany--into his economic suction, then, together with her own economic power, Soviet Russia would be the first economic power in the world. She is then superior to the United States, and you should also consider that a dictator can treat people quite differently than a democracy. Then, Soviet Russia can prepare a catastrophy for the United States in the economic field, and her position toward Red China will be quite different from what it was, because then he will have 164 million people more and a quite different eceonomic power at his disposal.

Mr. Murrow, if you put yourself into Khruschchev's position--and that one has to attempt to do in order to see what he wants--and if you are then convinced that Communism, under Russian leadership, shall dominate the earth, then it would be sheer stupidity to start a hot war; then he would attempt by means which I just outlined, by way of a Cold War, the undermining of the Western European peoples, to become the paramount economic power in the world within a relatively few years. I do not know whether you know the speech which Khrushchev delivered in Leipzig on March 7, in which he said--he speaks as a Communist--:"The national boundaries will become indistinct for the Communist"--then, I believe, my thoughts will become easily understandable.

Before I come back to the question of Berlin, I would like to say a word about England. I am very unhappy about Great Britain, really unhappy. I want to talk to you frankly. The current English government sees everything from the point of view of upcoming elections. In that, it is indescribeably shortsighted so that I am quite shocked. What is the result of the English behavior? For one, the socalled flexibility; then, this lightly-armed zone in Middle Europe, which is complete nonsense from a military point of view. After all, we will never attack Poland or Hungary or Czechoslovakia, and certainly not Soviet Russia. If we should want to attack Poland or Hungary or Czechoslovakia, and Russia would come to their aid, we would be lost. Also, should we attack Soviet Russia, we would be lost. European security can not under any circumstances be separated from security in the world.

And what do we have now? If the West is not united and offers a firm front, we are lost vis-a-vis Soviet Russia. But Great Britain is about to evoke the greatest doubts in the unity and firmness of the West. And that is the worst that could happen. For one, no one on our side would trust the other, and secondly, Khrushchev, the Russian, says: The West is already falling apart! But now Berlin! The Western Allies are in Berlin, and they have the right to be there. They have the right to free access, also the right of free access by the civilian population from the West, based on agreements made before the Allied victory, based on the taking over of complete governmental power in Germany, and based on the Paris Treaty of 1949, which terminated the airlift episode. There I can only tell you what John Foster Dulles told me when he was in Bonn: If we Americans should relinquish such a right on Khruschchev's demand, then we would lose face not only in the West but also in the East, then we would be a second power.

Mr. Murrow:

Mr. Chancellor, occasionally there have been proposals--some coming from Washington, some from London--that the United Nations should be present in Berlin. What do you think about that?

Answer:

This thought has occupied my mind already months ago. During the Foreign Ministers Conference which just took place, there was little leaning toward it--I just received the telegram--little leaning apparently because one does not feel sure of a majority in the UN. Actually, I want to tell you, it wouldn't be so bad if the matter would finally be brought before the United Nations, provided one has a majority. But the United States is the foremost power of the Free World--we others are nothing comparatively--England is nothing, we are nothing, France is nothing, Italy is nothing. Only together with the United States do we amount to anything--the United States must not lose face, for God's sake. That would hit us all, that would hit the entire free world.

Mr. Leiser:

Mr. Chancellor, if we consider political realities as their are, that the British are facing an election, that Khruschchev does not want war, if you wanted to prophesize under these conditions or imagine how the entire matter of Berlin will end, what would your thoughts be?

Answer:

There I want to ask a counter-question. Now we have English elections, next year the American elections--if we always would have to consider elections, then the next thing will be that all of us will find ourselves at the North Pole, but no longer in our countries! In 1961 we will be having elections, then in 1964 you have again Presidential elections. And so it goes ad infinitum. One has to make clear to the British that their own interests demand a different policy. I cannot imagine that the laurels, which Macmillan is now wearing, will whither away very soon. Naturally, one has to negotiate Berlin now, but if one shows a banner in advance reading, "I am flexible," then it is better not to negotiate at all!

Mr. Leiser:

Mr. Chancellor, perhaps I may formulate my question a little more precisely. If we assume that the British could be persuaded into a more reasonable attitude, that during a summit conference there will be satisfactory unity on the part of the Western nations, what would you consider as the possible, but also satisfactory solution or result of this conference which would solve not only the Berlin question, but also the other questions connected with it; for example, the proposals that were made concerning confederation, in other words: what possibilities do you see to get out of this crisis?

Answer:

You have asked many questions. I will attempt to answer them. The fact of a summit conference is for Krushchev of the utmost importance from the point of view of interior politics, and I do not see why one should make him a present of it. I think that Eisenhower was right in saying: If the conference of foreign ministers shows that a summit conference would be fruitful, then Yes. Why don't you wait to see whether or not, during this foreign ministers conference, Khrushchev is not prepared to settle the Berlin matter in exchange for a summit conference! You just wait! But the West cannot run fast enough to make offers, offers to Khrushchev. Our Social Democrats, for instance now, a folly without equal--Ollenhauer goes to Khrushchev alone, doesn't speak a word of Russian, doesn't even take along his own interpreter. He does not even know what they really said. Then, Schmid and Erler go there. They return, actually knocked out (impressed) by Khruschchev, and a week later they make a program for re-unification, through which, I guarantee, we would have Communism in all of Germany within three or four years. I do not understand the whole thing: Khruschchev gets everything he wants, only through his bluff. Let us, for a change, do some bluffing, and I repeat: Let us sell him that Summit conference dearly. That is what I told Macmillan. For the fact that a summit conference is coming up, he must pay, he must make some concessions in advance for a change. Because it is quite an achievement to sit down with the Soviet at a summit conference after all that happened. And then I would drag out the summit conference as long as possible, with long intervals in between, for Khrushchev needs peace as much as we do. We always forget that, he needs it too. You see, Stalin went to a summit conference, and then nobody went, and now Khrushchev comes to a summit conference. I emphasize again: for that he will have to pay. In my opinion, these summit conferences should lead into negotiations for the general controlled disarmament of nuclear and conventional weapons. If that is not achieved, then the whole thing is in vain, then the tension remains as it is now. If, through a heavenly miracle, Germany should be reunited, tension in the world between the Soviet Union and the USA would be exactly what it is now. What I regret so much, gentlemen, is that in all the countries the questions are looked on in an isolated way, forgetting meanwhile that the several questions are all interlocked and that no single question can be solved without solving the main question, namely that the tension will disappear through disarmement.

Mr. Murrow:

Do you have any hope that something genuine and ~~serious~~ concrete will result from a summit conference?

Answer:

Khrushchev also want a lessening of tensions. He needs it. He is bound to his Seven-Year Plan, he has to raise Soviet Russia economically, he is afraid of Red China, and he still has no quiet ~~XXXXXXXXXXXXXX~~ inside his own country. Stalin simply removed people. He (Khrushchev) cannot do this any longer. Bulganin, Molotov, Malenkov and others still are living. Khruschchev also wants peace, if at all possible. I do not believe that he could use a war, and therefore I think that one has to arrive at disarmament.

I would like to tell you something else confidentially, gentlemen: Recently I was in Paris and there I heard the following from a very reliable source: The Polish Acting Foreign Secretary came from Moscow and he said that the Russians were quite amazed over the West's reaction over the Berlin matter. Not a single soul would dream of starting a war over Berlin. Therefore, they themselves were shocked by the echo in the free world. I only wish the free world would cause such reactions more often.

Mr. Murrow:

Would it perhaps be possible, Mr. Chancellor, to sum up your point of view thus: The West is just now engaged in entering into negotiations, and does so under pressure, under a certain amount of threat; but it (the West) does not recognize that this is a fact?

Answer:

I would like to insert, that the greatest asset of the West is its unity, but does not recognize that either.

Mr. Murrow:

Mr. Chancellor, we may not have exhausted all of our questions, but I fear that we have exhausted your patience. I wish to apologize that I do not speak German and could not converse with you in German. However, I believe that, based in our conversation and based on the openness with which you spoke to us, I will be in a position to speak--in English--a little better, a little more intelligently.

Answer:

I thank you very much for what you said. I understand a little English, but do not speak it well. I have tried to talk to you openly about my thoughts and deliberations in the interest of world peace. I know the great influence America has, the great influence you have in America, and I would be very pleased if our conversation at least has contributed a little toward the establishment of sensible order in the world.

Manuskript

Vertraulich

Off the record

J. Personal

Informationsgespräch

Bundeskanzler Dr. Adenauer - Mr. Murrow, Mr. Leiser, CBS

Donnerstag, 2. April 1959, 11.30 Uhr

Palais Schaumburg

Mr. Murrow:

Herr Bundeskanzler, sehen Sie die Möglichkeit eines Krieges wegen Berlin als eine ernsthafte Gefahr an?

Bundeskanzler:

Ich glaube nicht, daß Chruschtschow Krieg will, und zwar aus zwei Gründen. Er weiß ganz genau, daß, wenn es einen heißen Krieg gibt, Rußland ebenso wie andere Länder verschwinden wird. Zweitens: Er will auf dem Wege über eine Weltwirtschaftsmacht Europa schlucken und die Vereinigten Staaten auf kaltem Wege überrunden. Deswegen glaube ich, daß es wegen der Berlin-Frage nicht zu einem solchen Kriege kommen wird.

Wenn es Sie interessiert, darf ich Ihnen einmal meine Ansichten über die russischen Pläne überhaupt sagen; auf diesem Hintergrund kann man allein, glaube ich, richtig urteilen. Herr Chruschtschow hat nach meiner Meinung zwei Beweggründe, zwei Ziele. Er hat an sich dieselbe Stellung wie Stalin: Ministerpräsident, Parteichef; aber er hat nicht das Ansehen Stalins. Stalin war der Revolutionär, der Marschall im Krieg; er wird in Sowjetrußland als einer der Gewinner des Krieges betrachtet, während Chruschtschow innerhalb der Parteiorganisation zu seiner jetzigen Stellung aufgestiegen ist. Er geht also darauf aus, Stalin im Ansehen der sowjetrussischen Bevölkerung gleichgestellt zu werden. Deswegen will er eine Gipfelkonferenz. Stalin hatte die Gipfelkonferenz.

Chruschtschow hatte bisher keine bekommen, das ist für ihn ein sehr wichtiger innenpolitischer Grund. Zweitens will er die Weltherrschaft des Kommunismus unter sowjetrussischer Führung nicht durch einen heissen Krieg erreichen.

Ich war im Oktober 1955 sechs Tage in Moskau und habe jeden Tag mehrere Stunden Diskussionen mit Bulganin, Chruschtschow und anderen Herren gehabt, aber auch mit Bulganin und namentlich mit Chruschtschow allein. Er war mir gegenüber sehr offen und bat um unsere Hilfe. Er bat um die deutsche Hilfe, weil die Aufgaben Sowjetrusslands ungeheuer schwer wären. Drei Aufgaben nannte er: einmal, den Lebensstandard der russischen Bevölkerung zu heben, zweitens, Aufrüsten wie die Vereinigten Staaten, drittens, sich Rotchinas zu erwehren. Dazu erbat er unsere Hilfe. Bei diesen Gesprächen war von Krieg keine Rede. Er sagte auch: Ob Sie in NATO sind oder nicht - wir hätten lieber gesehen, Sie wären nicht in NATO gegangen - aber es ist mir gleichgültig. Nur von wirtschaftlichen Fragen, von wirtschaftlicher Hilfe war die Rede.

Mr. Murrow:
Wenn ich richtig verstanden habe, glauben Sie, dass es eines der Hauptziele der sowjetischen Politik ist, die westliche Allianz zu zerbrechen, aber ohne Krieg ?

Antwort:
Das wollte ich gerade sagen. Chruschtschow sagte, die beiden einzigen Gegner, die Sowjetrussland habe, seien die Vereinigten Staaten und Rotchina. Ich bin vollkommen offen mit Ihnen und verlasse mich auch darauf, dass Sie das streng vertraulich halten. Ich will Ihnen auch sagen, was er mir über Rotchina gesagt hat. Er sagte: Die saugen uns aus wie Blutegel; stellen Sie sich doch bitte vor, über 600 Millionen Menschen, jedes Jahr 12 Millionen dazu, was soll daraus einmal werden ? Und er sagte auch: Das sind Leute, die von einer Hand voll Reis leben. Deswegen sagte er: Helfen Sie uns!
Auch bei dieser Unterredung bin ich vollständig davon überzeugt worden, dass der Mann wirklich glaubt, dass die Lebens-und Wirtschaftsform, die er kapitalistisch nennt, zugrunde gehen wird; denn er sagte auch: Sie werden mit Ihrer Wirtschaftsform von der Erde verschwinden, und unsere Lebens- und Wirtschaftsform wird die Erde beherrschen.

Wenn er aber die Erde beherrschen will, dann will er keine menschenleere Erde beherrschen, und deswegen will er nicht den heissen, nuklearen Krieg. Wirtschaft treiben ist sein ein und alles. Nun komme ich zurück auf das, wovon ich ausging. Er hat die Position Stalins, aber nicht die Macht und das Ansehen Stalins, und er will also das, was Stalin im Kriege für Russland getan hat - es zu einer Weltmacht erhoben -, auf dem Gebiete der Wirtschaft erreichen.

Ich glaube, dass es ihm mit seinem Siebenjahresplan ernst ist. Natürlich sind die Ziffern übertrieben, aber der Kern ist ein ernster Wille, die Wirtschaftsmacht Russlands möglichst so zu steigern, wie er es kann. Wenn es ihm gelingt, Westeuropa nicht durch einen zerstörenden Krieg in seine Hand zu bekommen, dann würde die sowjetrussische Wirtschaft der amerikanischen Wirtschaft weit, weit überlegen sein, und dann hätte er es in der Hand, durch Dumping und alle möglichen Dinge die amerikanische Wirtschaft an ihren empfindlichen Punkten schwer zu verletzen, und daraus würde Amerika politische Folgen ziehen müssen. Welche politischen Folgerungen, das kann kein Mensch nach meiner Meinung jetzt überschauen.

Seit Gründung der NATO ist Sowjetrussland nach Westen keinen Schritt weitergekommen. Diese Periode ist jetzt zuende. Er macht jetzt, nachdem er diese Position hat - aus den Gründen, die ich eben entwickelt habe-, den Versuch, über Berlin und die Bundesrepublik weiter nach Westeuropa zu gelangen.

Mr. Murrow:

Darf ich im Zusammenhang mit Berlin eine Frage stellen? Darf ich nochmals an das anknüpfen, was Sie vorhin sagten, nämlich an die Versuche der Russen, die westliche Allianz zu sprengen. Ich bin vor einiger Zeit in England gewesen und hatte dort den Eindruck, dass die englische Haltung hinsichtlich Berlin sehr viel flexibler als in Deutschland ist. Ich frage, ob Sie das nicht beunruhigt?

Antwort:
Vielleicht können wir gleich einmal darüber ein Wort besonders sprechen; ich bin in ein paar Sätzen fertig. -

Wenn es also Chruschtschow gelänge, Berlin in die DDR hineinzubekommen, die Bundesrepublik im Wege einer Konföderation kommunistisch zu machen, wäre Westeuropa erledigt. Wir sind der Damm hier, wir Deutschen, der Damm gegenüber dem Kommunismus. Die Kommunisten sind in Italien eine sehr starke Partei, und sie sind in Frankreich trotz de Gaulle, den ich sehr schätze, auch eine starke Partei. Wenn wir kommunistisch wären , wäre Westeuropa erledigt. Es käme in den kommunistischen, den russischen Sog hinein. Ein zerstörtes Westeuropa hat für Chruschtschow kein Interesse; ein arbeitendes Westeuropa hat großes Interesse für ihn. Allein in den sechs Ländern der Europäischen Wirtschaftsgemeinschaft wohnen 164 Millionen fleißiger, arbeitsamer Menschen. Die würde er in die Hand bekommen. Das Ausfuhrpotential allein der sechs Länder des Gemeinsamen Marktes ist ungefähr so groß wie das ganze Ausfuhrpotential der Vereinigten Staaten. Wenn es ihm nur gelingen würde, über Deutschland die diese sechs Länder in seinem wirtschaftlichen Sog zu bekommen, dann ist, zusammen mit seiner eigenen wirtschaftlichen Macht, Sowjetrußland die erste Wirtschaftsmacht der Welt. Es ist dann den Vereinigten Staaten überlegen, wobei Sie noch bedenken müssen, daß ein Diktator ganz anders mit den Menschen verfahren kann als eine Demokratie. Dann kann Sowjetrußland den Vereinigten Staaten auf wirtschaftlichem Gebiet eine Katastrophe bereiten, und seine Position gegenüber Rotchina ist eine ganz andere als bisher, weil er dann 164 Millionen Menschen mehr und eine ganz andere wirtschaftliche Macht in der Hand hat.

Mr. Murrow, wenn Sie sich in die Lage Chruschtschows versetzen - das muß man doch versuchen zu tun, um zu sehen, was er will -, und wenn Sie dann überzeugt sind, daß der Kommunimus unter russischer Führung die Welt beherrschen soll, dann wäre es doch eine kapitale Dummheit, einen heißen Krieg anzufangen; dann würde er doch versuchen, auf dem Wege, wie ich ihn eben gekennzeichnet habe, auf dem Wege des Kalten Krieges, der Unterminierung der westeuropäischen Völker im Verlaufe von relativ wenigen Ja hren die massgebende Wirtschaftsmacht der Welt zu werden.

Ich weiss nicht, ob Sie die Rede kennen, die Chruschtschow am 7. März in Leipzig gehalten hat, in der er sagte - er spricht als Kommunist -: "Die nationalen Grenzen werden sich verwischen für den Kommunisten" -, dann werden Ihnen meine Gedankengänge, glaube ich, erst recht verständlich.

Ehe ich auf Berlin zurückkomme, möchte ich ein Wort zu England sagen. Ich bin sehr unglücklich über Grossbritannien, wirklich unglücklich. Ich möchte ganz offen zu Ihnen sprechen. Die jetzige englische Regierung sieht alles unter dem Gesichtspunkt ihrer nächsten Wahlen und ist dabei so unbeschreiblich kurzsichtig, dass ich geradezu erschüttert bin. Was ist der Erfolg des englischen Verhaltens ? Einmal die sogenannte Flexibilität, dann diese leichter bewaffnete Zone in Mitteleuropa, was ein heller Blödsinn vom militärischen Standpunkt aus ist. Wir werden doch niemals Polen oder Ungarn oder die Tschechoslowakei, und sicher nicht Sowjetrussland angreifen. Wenn wir Polen oder Ungarn oder die Tschechoslowakei angreifen wollten, käme Russland denen doch zu Hilfe, wären wir doch verloren; auch wenn wir Russland angreifen, wären wir verloren. Die europäische Sicherheit lässt sich von der Sicherheit in der Welt überhaupt nicht trennen.

Und was haben wir nun jetzt ? Wenn der Westen nicht einig und geschlossen ist, sind wir verloren gegenüber Sowjetrussland. Aber Grossbritannien ist drauf und dran, die grössten Zweifel in die Einigkeit und Geschlossenheit des Westens hervorzurufen. Und das ist das Schlimmste, was geschehen kann. Denn einmal traut dann bei uns keiner mehr dem anderen, und zweitens: Chruschtschow, der Russe, sagt: Der Westen fällt schon auseinander !

Und nun Berlin! Die Westalliierten sind in Berlin, und sie haben das Recht da zu sein. Sie haben das Recht auf freien Zugang, auch das Recht auf den freien Zugang der zivilen Bevölkerung von Westen her, auf Grund von Absprachen vor dem Sieg der Alliierten, auf Grund der Übernahme der gesamten Regierungsgewalt in Deutschland und auf Grund des Pariser Abkommens von 1949, durch das die Luftbrückenepisode abgeschlossen wurde. Da kann ich Ihnen nur das sagen, was mir John Foster Dulles gesagt hat, als er in Bonn war: Wenn wir Amerikaner auf Verlangen Chruschtschows auf ein solches Recht verzichten, dann verlieren wir unser Gesicht nicht nur im Westen, sondern auch im Osten, dann sind wir die zweite Macht geworden.

Mr. Murrow:
Herr Bundeskanzler, es wurden gelegentlich Vorschläge gemacht, die aus Washington kamen, zum Teil aus London kamen, daß die Vereinten Nationen in Berlin anwesend sein sollten. Was halten Sie davon?

Antwort:
Mit dem Gedanken habe ich mich schon vor Monaten auch beschäftigt. Auf der Außenministerkonferenz, die jetzt gewesen ist, hat man wenig Neigung dazu gehabt - ich habe eben das Telegramm bekommen - wenig Neigung anscheinend, weil man sich der Mehrheit in der UNO nicht sicher fühlt. An sich, muß ich Ihnen sagen, wäre es gar nicht so schlimm, wenn man die Sache schließlich vor die Vereinten Nationen brächte, vorausgesetzt, daß man eine Mehrheit hat. Aber die Vereinigten Staaten sind ja nun doch die Vormacht der freien Welt, wir anderen sind doch alle nichts dagegen - England ist nichts, wir sind nichts, Frankreich ist nichts, Italien ist nichts, nur zusammen mit den Vereinigten Staaten sind wir etwas -, die Vereinigten Staaten dürfen um Gottes Willen nicht ihr Gesicht verlieren; das trifft uns alle, das trifft die ganze freie Welt.

Mr. Leiser:
Herr Bundeskanzler, wenn wir nun einmal die politischen Realitäten berücksichtigen, wie sie sind: daß die Engländer die Wahl vor der Tür stehen haben, dass Chruschtschow keinen Krieg möchte, wenn Sie unter diesen Bedingungen prophezeien oder sich vorstellen sollten, wie die ganze Berliner Sache zuende geht, woran denken Sie?

Antwort:
Da möchte ich eine Gegenfrage stellen. Jetzt haben wir die englischen Wahlen, nächstes Jahr die amerikanischen Wahlen - also, wenn man immer auf die Wahlen Rücksicht nimmt, dann sitzen wir nächstens alle miteinander auf dem Nordpol, aber nicht mehr in unseren Ländern. Im Jahre 1961 haben wir Wahlen, dann kommt im Ja hre 1964 wieder bei Ihnen die Präsidentenwahl. So geht das ad infinitum weiter. Man muss den Briten klarmachen, dass ihr eigenes Interesse [redacted] eine andere Politik verlangt. Ich kann mir nicht vorstellen, dass der Lorbeerkranz, den Macmillan jetzt trägt, nicht sehr bald verwelkt ist. Natürlich, man muss über Berlin jetzt verhandeln; aber wenn man vorher schon eine Fahne zeigt, auf der steht "ich bin flexibel", dann verhandelt man besser gar nicht!

Mr. Leiser:
Herr Bundeskanzler, vielleicht darf ich meine Frage etwas genauer formulieren. Gehen wir davon aus, dass die Engländer zu einer vernünftigeren Haltung bewegt werden können, dass auch auf einer Gipfelkonferenz eine zufriedenstellende Einheit auf Seiten der westlichen Länder besteht, was würden Sie dann als die mögliche, aber auch befriedigende Lösung oder ein Ergebnis dieser Konferenz ansehen, das nicht nur die Berlin-Frage, sondern auch die anderen damit zusammenhängenden Fragen lösen würde, beispielsweise auch die Vorschläge, die gemacht worden sind über Konföderation - mit anderen Worten: welche Möglichkeiten sehen Sie, um aus dieser Krise wieder herauszukommen?

Antwort:
Sie haben viele Fragen gestellt; ich will versuchen, sie zu beantworten. Die Tatsache einer Gipfelkonferenz ist für Chruschtschow innenpolitisch von der denkbar grössten Bedeutung, und ich sehe nicht ein, warum sie ihm das so hinschenken sollen.

Ich finde, daß Eisenhower ganz richtig gesagt hat: wenn die Außenministerkonferenz zeigt, daß eine Gipfelkonferenz Zweck hat, dann Ja. Warten Sie doch mal ab auf dieser Außenministerkonferenz, ob Chruschtschow nicht für eine Gipfelkonferenz bereit ist, die Berliner Sache zu arrangieren. Warten Sie das doch mal ab! Aber der Westen kann ja gar nicht schnell genug laufend dem Chruschtschow etwas anbieten, anbieten - unsere Sozialdemokraten z.B. jetzt, eine Torheit sondergleichen: Ollenhauer geht allein zu Chruschtschow, versteht kein Wort Russisch, nimmt nicht mal einen eigenen Dolmetscher mit; er weiß ja gar nicht, was die da wirklich gesagt haben. Dann gehen Schmid und Erler hin. Sie kommen zurück, wirklich k.o. geschlagen von Chruschtschow, und nach 8 Tagen machen sie ~~denen~~ dann ein Programm für die Wiedervereinigung, durch das wir unter Garantie in drei bis vier Jahren den Kommunismus in ganz Deutschland haben. Ich verstehe das überhaupt nicht: der Chruschtschow erreicht alles, was er will, nur durch seinen Bluff. Lassen Sie uns doch auch mal bluffen, und ich wiederhole: Verkaufen Sie ihm die Gipfelkonferenz sehr teuer. Das habe ich auch Macmillan gesagt. Für die Tatsache, daß eine Gipfelkonferenz kommt, muß er bezahlen, muß er auch mal eine Vorleistung geben. Denn es ist eine große Leistung nach allem, was gewesen ist, sich mit den Sowjets zu einer Gipfelkonferenz zusammenzusetzen. Und dann würde ich die Gipfelkonferenz möglichst lange ausdehnen, mit großen Pausen dazwischen, denn Chruschtschow hat den Frieden genauso nötig wie wir alle. Das vergessen wir immer, er hat ihn auch nötig. Sehen Sie, Stalin war auf einer Gipfelkonferenz und dann keiner mehr, und jetzt kommt Chruschtschow zu einer Gipfelkonferenz. Ich betone nochmals: dafür soll er bezahlen. Nach meiner Meinung müßten diese Gipfelkonferenzen einmünden in Verhandlungen über die allgemeine kontrollierte Abrüstung der nuklearen und konventionellen Waffen. Wenn das nicht kommt, hat alles keinen Zweck, dann bleibt die Spannung genau so wie sie jetzt ist. Wenn durch ein Wunder des Himmels Deutschland wiedervereinigt wäre, wäre die Spannung in der Welt zwischen der Sowjetunion und der USA genauso wie jetzt auch. Was ich so bedaure, meine Herren, ist, dass man in allen Ländern die Fragen isoliert sieht und darüber vergisst, dass die einzelnen Fragen alle miteinander zusammenhängen und keine Einzelfrage gelöst werden kann, ohne dass die Hauptfrage gelöst wird, dass nämlich die Spannung verschwindet durch die Abrüstung.

Mr. Murrow:
Haben Sie irgendeine Hoffnung, dass irgendetwas Echtes und Ernstes geleistet wird auf einer Gipfelkonferenz?

Antwort:
Chruschtschow will auch eine Entspannung haben. Er braucht sie. Er hängt an seinem Siebenjahresplan, er muss Sowjetrussland wirtschaftlich in die Höhe bringen, er hat Angst vor Rotchina und er hat im Innern des Landes auch noch keine Ruhe. Stalin hat die Leute einfach alle beseitigt; das kann er (Chruschtschow) jetzt nicht mehr. Bulganin, Molotow, Malenkow und andere leben weiter. Chruschtschow will auch, wenn irgend möglich, Frieden haben. Ich glaube nicht, dass er Krieg gebrauchen kann, und deswegen meine ich, man müsste zu der Abrüstung kommen.

Ich darf Ihnen noch eins ganz vertraulich sagen, meine Herren. Ich bin unlängst in Paris gewesen und hörte dort aus einer sehr zuverlässigen Quelle folgendes: Der stellvertretende polnische Aussenminister kam aus Moskau, und er hat gesagt, dass die Russen ganz erstaunt darüber gewesen wären, dass man die Berlin-Sache im Westen so aufgenommen habe; es denke doch kein Mensch daran, wegen Berlin einen Krieg anzufangen. Also: die sind selbst erschrocken über das Echo in der freien Welt. Ich wünsche nur, die freie Welt hätte öfter solche festen Reaktionen.

Mr. Murrow:
Könnte man Ihren Standpunkt, Herr Bundeskanzler, vielleicht so zusammenfassen: Der Westen ist jetzt gerade dabei, in Verhandlungen einzutreten, und zwar unter Nötigung, unter einer gewissen Drohung; er erkennt aber nicht, dass das so ist ?

Antwort:
Ich möchte noch hinzusetzen, dass das grösste Aktivum des Westens seine Einheit ist; das sieht er auch nicht.

Mr. Murrow:
Herr Bundeskanzler, wir haben zwar nicht unsere Fragen erschöpft; ich befürchte aber, wir haben Ihre Geduld erschöpft. Ich entschuldige mich dafür, dass ich nicht Deutsch spreche und mich nicht auf Deutsch unterhalten konnte; ich glaube aber, aufgrund unserer Unterhaltung und aufgrund der Freimütigkeit, mit der Sie zu uns gesprochen haben, werde ich in der Lage sein, auf Englisch etwas besser, etwas vernünftiger sprechen zu können.

Antwort:
Ich danke sehr für das, was Sie gesagt haben. Ich verstehe etwas Englisch, kann aber nicht so Englisch sprechen. Ich habe versucht, Ihnen in aller Offenheit meine Gedanken und Überlegungen zu sagen im Interesse des Friedens der Welt. Ich weiss, welch grossen Einfluss Amerika hat, welch grossen Einfluss Sie in Amerika haben, und ich würde mich sehr freuen, wenn unsere Unterhaltung wenigstens etwas dazu beigetragen hätte, dass man wieder zu einer vernünftigen Ordnung in der Welt kommt.

~~Jo~~ Eng. Post

MUrray Hill 8-7530

THE NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF CHRISTIANS AND JEWS, Inc.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

May 13, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Thanks ever so much for your kindness in appearing as a speaker at our recent dinner in honor of Lewis Gruber sponsored by the Tobacco and Allied Industries on behalf of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

The dinner was an eminently successful affair. We deeply appreciate the sacrifice you made in order to participate and we are grateful for the part you contributed in helping us to write our success story.

Your kind of friendliness -- even on the 15 per cent basis that you mentioned -- is a precious asset of the National Conference.

Sincerely,

Lewis Webster Jones

Lewis Webster Jones

LWJ:am

BUILDING FOR BROTHERHOOD

43 WEST 57TH STREET • NEW YORK 19, N. Y.

Tribute to Gruber Speech May 1959 notes GRUBER

Speech Folder

" - at what point then is the approach of danger to be expected?

"I answer, if it ever reaches us, it must spring up amongst us. It cannot come from abroad. If destruction be our lot, we must ourselves be its author and finisher.

"As a nation of free men, we must live through all time, or die by suicide."

- Lincoln

Gumber Speech Note.

Jew in North Carolina, talking about "vertical integration" -

An actor saying: "I hope we are not remembered as a people who love only long cars" -

The president-elect of the American Bar Association who dared to defend the Bill of Rights -

William Hart Benton contending that modern artists are entertainers rather than creative artists - the inventors of various kinds of entertaining gadgets -

James Byrnes quoting Tolstoy that the sole meaning of life is to serve humanity -

Sarah Gibson Blanding, president of Vassar, demanding improvement in our secondary schools, particularly mathematics, English and languages -

Dr. Howard Rusk, in quoting a little blind boy at his Institute who said: "I have heard so much about integration. What is it all about? I have never seen colour. What is colour? I guess I am lucky I have never seen colour, because maybe it puts prejudice in your heart, and I am better off." -

Former Supreme Court Justice Harold Burton, quoting Lincoln: "As I would not be a slave, so I would not be a master." - adding that the totalitarian does not want to be a slave but he is perfectly willing to be master to somebody else. -

Roger Williams, the pianist: "Intolerance to me is like just playing on the white keys, because, for the sort of music that I believe in and love, I have got to play on all the keys." -

Robert Goheen, of Princeton, contending that it would be a grave mistake if we were to allow the Russian educational experience to dictate the curricula in our schools and colleges. -

Actor Paul Newman saying: "We live in what I call an age of conformity, where you have to travel with the herd or be branded a rebel." -

Yousuf Karsh, telling of Einstein's reply when asked what would happen if both sides decided to use the atom bomb: "Alas, we would no longer be able to listen to the music of Mozart." -

CBS TELEVISION

Office Communication

to: E. R. Murrow

from: Jesse Zousmer

May 4, 1959

Here are the better excerpts from this year's PERSON TO PERSON shows for the Gruber speech.

JZ

kt

(Possible lead)

RED SMITH story about YOGI BERRA when Charlie Dressen was coaching Yankees:

"Dressen told Yogi: 'When you go up there to the plate, keep thinking when you're hitting. Be aware of the situation. Don't x just stand up there swinging.' So Yogi went up and swung three times, struck out, came back to the bench, threw his bat away and said: "How do you they expect a guy to think when he's hitting?"

ACTOR TONY RANDALL:

"I'm concerned with the American theater. I'm more concerned with the state of American culture. Culture is all that people leave behind. A man once said to me that the culture of the American people is the Bessemer steel converter. I hope that's not true. The Russians seem to be ahead of us in technology now. Because of that the Government is putting a lot into the scientific training of people. I'm all for that. But that only trains half a man--his mind. Art trains a man's heart. I think it's high time that the government subsidizes art. I hope we are not remembered as a people who love only long cars."

HUNTINGTON HARTFORD, asked if the consierable Hartford family fortune had given him the means and time to engage in many activities..."Have things always been easy for you?"

"I'm afraid I was terribly shy when I was young. And I knew I was coming into a great deal of money and I didn't know what to do about it and I couldn't ignore it. When I got older I realized you shouldn't be a slave to your money; that if you could control your wealth rather than let your wealth control you, then you will know how to handle it."

(For possible end piece)

GEORGE JESSEL

Reminded ERM quote over his special clocks showing time all around world. From Milton's Paradise Lost: "With thee conversing, I forget all time."

JESSEL also told of attending Jimmy Walker's 50th birthday. "A lot of judges talked and talked for hours and hours. Finally, it came my turn. And I got up and said: 'Regarding the birthday of the great mayor of New York, I hope he lives as long as those speeches.'"

WHITNEY NORTH SEYMOUR, the President-Elect of the American Bar Association, explained the origin of Law Day this way:

"It seemed to those who established Law Day, that the contrast between the May Day celebrated by the Communists, and the celebration of a rule of law would make a point for our people and for the world. Law Day emphasizes some things about our system and the contrast with the Communist system. First, that ours is a government of laws and not of men, which means there's no room for the exercise of arbitrary power under our system. Then it's our belief in the doctrine of equal justice under law, the motto which is on the Supreme Court building in Washington. This means, of course, that the poor and the rich get equal justice in our courts -- the thing which the lawyers are trying to see to by their encouragement of Legal Aid. All these things relate also to the Bill of Rights and the great freedoms which it guarantees; Freedom of Speech and Press and of Religion and their correlatives; the right to hear and the right to read. And when we think of what's happened in Hungary and what has just happened in Tibet, the contrast between the Communist May Day and our May Day becomes clear."

Violinist ISAAC STERN on work:

"Speaking of work, Mr. Murrow, you never cease working. You know, work is only a part of an approach toward your art, and the more you learn, the more you learn how much more there is you can do -- no matter how far you've gone."

On the International Exchange of artists:

"I think that many people might not realize that a symphony orchestra, a ballet, or an artist playing the violin or singing can be of great importance in what is a very powerful and dangerous field of politics. Yet there is a communication, a willingness to listen on both sides and we can speak in ways that cannot be subverted by words. Even more important, I think the very essence of the idea of exchange is the ability of artists from one side and the other to visit each other in great groups --- to see what life is like --- and perhaps to get over some of the perhaps deliberate misconceptions which we are perhaps both accustomed to a bit."

On musical education:

"We have to get more qualified people and better paid and trained people for the job -- to begin the idea that music is not an acquired culture, not something that you learn instead of something else, and not a sissy part of living, but an active part of our natural life. That which we love and cherish. I would like to see more understanding of that in this country."

THOMAS HART BENTON, when asked why he returned to Kansas City after living in New York, said:

"I was a little bit fed up with the constant quarreling and bickering and the aesthetic atmosphere of New York in which, as an artist, I was forced to live. So my return was a flight from such idiocies."

On the American Art scene:

"I really think the artist has all of this century tended to run away from any kind of meaning. He's also running away from the training which would have made it possible for him to communicate meanings.

"I think the trouble lies with the concept of Art for entertainment sake -- inventions and entertainment. The great artists, that is the highly publicized artists of this day, all of them practically, are entertainers rather than creative artists. They are inventors of various kinds of entertaining gadgets. That's quite a different thing from creating a form in which people can find meanings to make life a little more valuable. It's all right to be entertaining. I like vaudeville stuff myself, but I cannot take modern art very seriously."

JIMMY CANNON told Audrey Meadows what he likes most about writing sports:

"This is a time when people gather in multitudes to do harm to one another. They are there to burn people in effigy, to stone embassies, even gathered in kinds of political lynchings overseas that I read about in the Middle East. In these times I have a rare job. I'm with people who are gathered in places for glad reasons. And another thing about sports, I think it is better than the theater. This drama that I see is genuine. Of course, I'm in the toy department and these people are toy people, but they're never toy people when you see a pitcher pitching for his livelihood with a sore arm; or you see a fighter taking a licking so that he can make a living at his trade. And somehow I'm touched by it."

GOVERNOR JAMES BYRNES, explaining his views that the art of legislating is the art of intelligent compromise, was asked how does one decide where to start compromising and where to end:

"I know of no hard and fast rules. The fact is that in all the relations of life it is necessary to compromise at times. I think that if we would agree there could be no worthwhile legislation without compromise. And I think that if husbands and wives did not make concessions we would have more divorces and less happiness."

Can you compromise with the Russians?

"Oh, yes. The Russians will compromise with you, but when you look at what you get out of the compromise you find that you get nothing but experience. Any promises made in the compromise will be violated by the Soviets.... negotiating with the Russians is something out of this world."

If you could, would you lead your life of public service all over again?

"I have tried to encourage young men to devote their time and their energies to public service. I really believe that Tolstoy was right when he said that the sole meaning of life is to serve humanity."

Operatic star ELEANOR STEBER:

"I believe in making a human contact with the people on the other side of the world....to give them a feeling that you really want to learn to know about them at the same time that they are learning to know about you."

BUDD SHULBERG, explaining his little "disappointment" with the net result of his "On The Waterfront":

"I had hoped -- I think we should always hope too much. You know I don't think it is a bad thing to hope too much. I had hoped that the picture would do a little more than it did to effect the waterfront, and I feel that the waterfront is not as improved or as changed as I would like to see it. Many of the conditions that we show in the picture and in my book are still prevailing."

Asked what he considers the best training ground for young writers, Shulberg said:

"I wish I could say that I have found one. I don't think that there is one. Some people have come out of newspaper work but I don't think that there's any one way. I think it's mostly just living and looking and watching and trying to tell the truth as best you can. I believe in tryint to do what you want to do. In many cases the people will be there -- sometimes, of course, they're not there, but I think you just have to keep trying."

SARAH GIBSON BLANDING, President of Vassar:

"We are living in an age of anxiety and I think that young people are reflecting this anxiety. They certainly are marrying much younger and having more children. This means that when they get to be 30, 35, 40, their children will be in school, and we are rather interested that the patterns of womens' lives may be changing. We think it's important, for example, for women to have something to do of a professional sort when their children have grown up."

Asked about the "greatest weakness" in our educational system:

"I think I agree with Dr. Conant that we need to improve our secondary school system very greatly. We find that students come to college without sufficient mathematics; not knowing as much as they ought to know about English. Of course, we like them to have a good foreign language and I think we need very much to think in terms of the improvement of our secondary education along with the improvement of our college education. I think the real key to improve education in this country today is to raise the level of expectancy. I'm just as sure as anything that as we expect young people to do better work they will do ~~it~~ the better work."

DR. HOWARD RUSK, reminded that he has frequently remarked that health and medicine constitute a common world language, said:

"Ehrlich said it fifty years ago when he said, 'Medicine has never known an international boundary.' Our knowledge of microorganisms came from Holland, bacteriology from England, immunology with smallpox vaccination from England, Penicillin from England, sulfonamides from Germany, Cortizone from the United States, Insulin from Canada, and anesthesia from our own country and now after four hundred years of lying dormant, rewalfia from India, that is our best weapon against high blood pressure and certain types of mental disease; it is truly international.

Dr. Rusk recalled President Sygman Rhee telling him in 1954:

"Peace, Peace! I am sick of the world 'peace' - I want to hear more about justice. If you have justice then peace will come".

Dr. Rusk also told of - "...a little blind boy at the Institute who recently summed up one of our main problems when he said, 'you know, I have heard so much about integration. What is it all about? I have never seen color. What is color? I guess I am luck I have never seen color because maybe it puts prejudices in your heart and I am better off.'"

DR. HOWARD RUSK (Cont'd)

Rusk again -

"It is a great privilege to work with disabled people, because they have such a great, great depth of spirit. And I believe what the old British philosopher said some four hundred years ago; 'If every man would mend a man, then all the world would be mended.' I think when you mend men maybe you build one little brick in world understanding that hopefully may let us live together in peace one day."

HARRY GOLDEN

"I came to North Carolina as a member of two minorities: a Yankee and a Jew. I came as a Jew in the most Gentile section of our country, but there's no problem. Here I have met some of the kindest people in the world, but it's something more than that. I think it's a matter of participation. I am interested in the welfare of the city and the community and the state. I'm interested in their joys and their welfare and their sorrows and in their great problems. This is what interests me.

"After the Surpeme Court's decision on segregation, I offered as a solution --- the Vertical Plan. You know, in the South there is no vertical segregation. The Negro walks completely free in supermarkets and he pays his bills at the windows with everybody else. It's only when he starts sitting down that there is a little bit of trouble. So I suggested that we just take the chairs out of the schoolhouses and let all the kids stand up at these old-fashioned book-keeping desks. That would solve the problem. Of course, they didn't do it, but at least they laughed."

Asked what he feels is the major problem confronting us today:

"I think the major problem is that we have made a cult of comfort. It goes back to my mother who couldn't read or write. She could barely read the prayers out of a prayer book and she constantly told us - "It's bad when things are too good". Well, for a long time we indulged her. We thought it was old-world folklore or superstition. But when I began to inquire I discovered, for example, an old Hindu philosopher's poem said: 'Comfort comes into your house as a guest, stays as the host, and eventually bememes your master.'"

Actor GENE RAYMOND explaining that he has a mobilization day assignment with the Strategic Air Command:

"I must serve forty days a year on the ground and fly a minimum of one hundred hours. That takes up considerable time, but I feel quite strongly about it. You know a long time ago George Washington said, 'The citizen who enjoys a free government owes his services to the protection of it.' I believe in that statement and I believe in the Air Force missions."

Supreme Court JUSTICE HAROLD H. BURTON

"Lincoln once defined democracy this way: 'As I would not be a slave, so I would not be a master. This expresses my idea of democracy. Whatever differs from this is the extent of the difference in no democracy.'

Justice Burton said:

"That is the simplest and best definition of democracy and the complete answer to the totalitarian. The totalitarian doesn't want to be a slave, but he's perfectly willing to be the master of somebody else."

Justice Burton recommending a public service career for young people:

"I not only recommend it, but I think it's essential for the continuation of our great experiment in self-government. If this coming generation doesn't take an interest in this it and doesn't take a hold in it, the whole thing will collapse within our own time."

Actor VINCENT PRICE on art:

"I have a self-appointed mission to try to tell the American people that art belongs to everybody, not just a special few. And particularly I want to try to tell the American people that they should be enormously proud of their own American heritage, because American art is the most exciting thing in the world today. We don't have to look to France any more for great art"

(SEE BENTON ON ART)

Pianist ROGER WILLIAMS, asked to comment on Rock and Roll music:
m

"I think it may help a lot of teenagers get a little steam off of their minds. I like all kinds of music and I think everyone should be tolerant of all types of music, just as I think that everyone should be tolerant of all types of people, no matter their race or religion. You know, intollerance to me is like just playing on the white keys, because for the sort of music that I believe in and love, I've got to play on all the keys."

Labor Columnist VICTOR REISEL, asked about the need for new labor legislation:

"Sure there is a need for legislation. We can always use more laws, but what I don't understand is why in the local communities, the law enforcement agencies, the district attorneys, don't crack down. You don't need a new law to crack down on arson. You don't need a new law to crack down on mayhem, on bettings, or extortions. Why isn't there this law and order throughout the United States. Why must most of the effective work be done by J. Edgar Hoover, the F.B.I., the Justice Department and Federal Grand Juries."

DR.-ROBERT F. GOHEEN of Princeton

"I am convinced that it would be a really grave mistake if we would allow the Russian educational experience to dictate the curricula in our schools and colleges. After all, there's a great abyss between the Marxist Soviet view of life and our own democratic view of life. And the educational systems which will well serve the two different views have to be different. Ours must be much more flexible, much more complex than the Russian system....I'm also concerned about the fuzziness in the popular thinking about the role of basic science in our society. This fuzziness is a view which equates military hardware and gadgets and gimmickry with basic science."

On defining a liberal education:

"The first thing to emphasize is that traditionally a liberal education is education in the sciences equally as in the arts and in the social studies. The most important thing about a liberal education is that is is designed to liberate -- that is, to quicken the mind and to extend the horizons of understanding beyond the limits simply of any particular vocation or talent or trade -- to give us a wider, thoughtful confidence."

On the need of teachers:

"The thing which is probably closest to my heart and interest is the great shortage of really competent teachers and scholars which we have in our country today. There's an urgent need in our society to upgrade the economic status of the teaching profession. Since the second world war we have allowed the economic position of faculties to decline

DR. ROBERT F. GOHEEN (Cont'd)

"badly, at a time when virtually every other walk of life in our country was on the upgrade in its economic earnings. This has resulted in a loss of young people who should be in the teaching profession today. If we are going to make the profession attractive so it can draw in the better talent that we need, we must radically improve faculty salaries."

Columnist ABIGAIL VAN BUREN:

"Giving, I think, is the key word for real happiness, because if you aren't giving you aren't living."

ACTOR PAUL NEWMAN, asked if he is called a rebel in Hollywood: "We live in what I call an age of conformity where you have to travel with the herd or be branded a rebel. I am trying desperately to be an individual....The rebel always has to say no to everything that society asks, just as the conformist always has to say yes. It seems as though in our society we try to go through life making as few enemies as possible and causing as little friction as possible which makes Jack a pretty dull boy."

(SEE INEZ ROBB)

INEZ ROBB

"I think freedom is indivisible, and I hate conformity anyway. I hate the organization man. I loved the rugged individualist who made this country what it was and who should continue to make it what it should be. I believe that man should exercise the great diversity that God gave him, and that he should be free to develop that diversity to the very best of his ability."

YOUSUF KARSH, asked why he is attached to Canada:

"I was born in Armenia. I'm now a proud Canadain citizen. In my youth I was subjected to tyranny and oppression. In Canada I found the sunshine of freedom. As a boy I was brought up in the kindly home of my Uncle Nettash. I went to school and on the first day of school I saw a group of my fellow pupils playing marbles. I had none. They gave me a generous handful to keep. They were determined from the very first day I should not feel half as strange as I felt myself. That fixed the pattern of my loyalty to and my love for Canada."

Karsh told of an over-zealous reporter who approached Professor Einstein and said, "'Now we have the hydrogen bomb. Supposing we decided to use it upon each other. What then?' Einstein replied with the innocence of a child: 'Alas, we would no longer be able to listen to the music of Mozart.'"

A dinner honoring HAROLD TAYLOR retiring president of Sarah Lawrence College

'THE LIBERAL SPIRIT IN AMERICAN LIFE'

Waldorf Astoria grand ballroom

May 21, 1959... 7:00 p.m./dress optional

$12.50 per person

SPEAKERS: ARCHIBALD MacLEISH

ROBERT OPPENHEIMER

Mrs. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

HAROLD TAYLOR

chairman: EDWARD R. MURROW sponsoring committee:

Sarah Gibson Blanding
Catherine Drinker Bowen
Ralph J. Bunche
Norman Cousins
Charles P. Curtis, Jr.
Agnes De Mille
Lloyd K. Garrison
Martha Graham
Mrs. Anne Hobler
Roy E. Larsen
Mrs. Eugene Meyer
Mitch Miller
Mrs. Ogden Reid
Curt H. Reisinger
Walter Rothschild
Ralph E. Samuel
Mrs. Harold E. Talbott
Harrison Tweed

sponsors:

Arthur S. Adams
Ernest Angell
Bernhard Auer
Jacques Barzun
Mrs. F. Kenneth Beirn
Edward L. Bernays
Charles G. Bolte
Marcel Breuer
Courtney C. Brown
Dyke Brown
Arthur Bunker
Edwin Sharp Burdell
Frederick H. Burkhardt
Harry J. Carman
Turner Catledge
Charles Woolsey Cole
Henry Steele Commager
Robert Coughlan
Mr. & Mrs. Louis G. Cowan
Max Delson
John de Menil
Theodore A. Distler
Charles Dollard
Alvin C. Eurich
Frank Fackenthal
Clarence Faust
Abraham Feinberg
W. H. Ferry
Mrs. Marshall Field
John Fischer
Harry Emerson Fosdick
Fred Friendly
Frederick Frost, Jr.
G. Keith Funston
Buell Gallagher
Maxwell Geismar
Walter Gellhorn
Brendan Gill
Mrs. Louis S. Gimbel, Jr.
Jack Goldfarb
Frank Graham
Harry J. Green
Sidonie Matsner Gruenberg
Irving B. Harris
Fred M. Hechinger
Richard W. Heffner
Geoffrey Hellman
Lillian Hellman
Sara Straus Hess
David M. Heyman
Wilder Hobson
Kenneth Holland
Quincy Howe
Robert Hutchins
Stanley M. Isaacs
Sophia Yarnall Jacobs
Alvin Johnson
Philip Johnson
Leonard Kandell
Frank E. Karelsen
Mr. & Mrs. Frank M. Katz
Barnaby C. Keeney
Francis Keppel
William H. Kilpatrick
Jean Kintner
Clyde Kluckhohn
Arthur Kober
Otto F. Kraushaar
Mary B. Ladd
Mrs. Anne Langman
Charles B. Lauren
Ruddick C. Lawrence
William V. Lawrence
Herbert H. Lehman
Robert D. Leigh
Max Lerner
David E. Lilienthal
Goodhue Livingston, Jr.
R. McAllister Lloyd
Pare Lorentz
James A. Lyles
Henry Noble MacCracken
Robert MacIver
Patrick Murphy Malin
Mrs. Stanley Martineau
Mark A. McCloskey
Robert J. McCracken
Robert W. McEwen
Carey McWilliams
Alexander Meiklejohn
Thomas C. Mendenhall
Mr. & Mrs. Arthur Miller
Henry Allen Moe
Frank C. Montero
John W. Nason
Lester W. Nelson
Carroll V. Newsom
Allan Nevins
James M. Nicely
Wade H. Nichols
William B. Nichols
Mrs. Blancke Noyes
Rosemary Park
Thomas Clark Pollock
Jacob S. Potofsky
Max Otto
Esther Raushenbush
Whitelaw Reid
Walter P. Reuther
David Riesman
Nelson A. Rockefeller
Elmo Roper
Marvin Rosenberg
Beardsley Ruml
Howard A. Rusk
Mr. & Mrs. Robert Saudek
Mrs. Melvin Schifter
A. W. Schmidt
William Schuman
Milton J. E. Senn
Dr. & Mrs. E. Sheckman
Ernest J. Simmons
Hans Simons
G. Kerry Smith
Courtney Smith
John V. Spachner
Stephen Spender
Mark Starr
William E. Stevenson
Ordway Tead
James Warburg
Constance Warren
Roy Wilkins
Mr. & Mrs. Richard Zeisler

List Incomplete

May 21 1959 Eng Post.

Schedule for May 21 Dinner
Waldorf Astoria

6:00 P.M. Cocktails for guests of honor in Jansen Suite

7:00 P.M. Dinner starts

Dais (in center)

Archibald MacLeish
Robert Oppenheimer
Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt
Lloyd K. Garrison
Harold Taylor
Edward R. Murrow

Others invited as dais guests:

Sarah Gibson Blanding
Catherine Drinker Bowen
Ralph J. Bunche
Agnes de Mille
Martha Graham
Roy E. Larsen
Mrs. Eugene Meyer
Mrs. Harold E. Talbott
Alexander Meiklejohn
Robert Hutchins
Harrison Tweed
Muriel Taylor

7:45 P.M. Lloyd Garrison will break into dinner and introduce dais guests

8:30 P.M. Lloyd Garrison to make introductory remarks on significance of occasion, what Harold Taylor has meant to Sarah Lawrence and American education, why we have come together.

Lloyd Garrison then introduces Edward Murrow who will make a few remarks, possibly about theme of evening, and then introduce speakers.

8:45 P.M. Archibald MacLeish

9:00 P.M. Murrow introduces Robert Oppenheimer

9:15 P.M. Murrow introduces the Sarah Lawrence Chorus and Mr. recites The Gift Outright, the Chorus sings it. Student reads citation to Harold Taylor

9:30 P.M. Murrow introduces Mrs. Roosevelt - who speaks for 10 to 15 minutes ending with introduction of Harold Taylor

9:45 P.M. Harold Taylor speaks for 10 minutes

9:55 P.M. Edward Murrow closes dinner

Schedule for May 21 Dinner
Waldorf Asteria

6:15 p.m. Cocktails for guests of honor in room adjoining the Grand Ballroom at the Waldorf

7:00 p.m. Dinner starts

Dais: (in center)

Archibald MacLeish
Robert Oppenheimer
Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt
Lloyd Garrison
Harold Taylor
Edward R. Murrow

others invited as dais guests:

Sarah Gibson Blanding	Roy E. Larsen
Catherine Drinker Bowen	Alexander Meiklejohn
Ralph J. Bunche	Mrs. Eugene Meyer
Agnes de Mille	Mrs. Harold E. Talbott
Martha Graham	Muriel Taylor
Robert Hutchins	Harrison Tweed

7:45 p.m. Lloyd Garrison will break into dinner and introduce dais guests

8:30 p.m. Lloyd Garrison to make introductory remarks on significance of occasion, what Harold Taylor has meant to Sarah Lawrence and American education, why we have come together.

Lloyd Garrison then introduces Edward Murrow who will make a few remarks, possibly about theme of evening, and then introduce speakers -

8:45 p.m. Archibald MacLeish

9:00 p.m. Murrow introduces Robert Oppenheimer

9:15 p.m. Murrow introduces the Sarah Lawrence Chorus and Robert Frost. Mr. Frost recites The Gift Outright, the Chorus sings it. Student reads citation to Harold Taylor.

9:30 p.m. Murrow introduces Mrs. Roosevelt - who speaks for 10 to 15 minutes ending with introduction of Harold Taylor

9:45 p.m. Harold Taylor speaks for 10 minutes

9:55 p.m. Edward Murrow closes dinner

Excerpts from recent articles and speeches by Harold Taylor

"Creative thinking and imagination in politics and social issues, coupled with a will to act on ideas in which one believes, will change societies and whole civilizations. The radicals and the heretics are those to whom we owe the greatest social debt. Without them the social order becomes either rigid or flabby.

"In societies as in the individual, creativity needs at its base a drive, a moral, aesthetic and intellectual energy which will not rest content with the forms of life, art or social order which presently exist. In education, as in society and the individual, the way to evoke that energy is to give freedom, encouragement and help to the individual, to create in him a sense of self confidence, to trust him, to cherish him, and to give him that sense of expectancy for the excitement of the unforseen which is the necessary condition of the creative act."
("The Idea of Creativity", Educational Leadership, October 1956)

"It is true that each generation has its own truth, its particular reality, its private world, and its own way of looking at life. If educators and parents are to help the young, and if education is to be effective, it must begin with an understanding of these truths. We need to listen to the young as we listen to music, sympathetically, expectantly, appreciating the individual sounds and recognizing the total intention of the music.

"Let us keep our educational system diverse and flexible, ready to adapt itself to humanity's needs, not merely to the demands of a competitive society. Let us remember that the measure of a man, like the measure of a civilization, lies in the way each responds to the demand for imaginative thinking in the solution of human problems and in the enrichment of human life."
(Address to Child Study Association of America, Annual Conference, March 24, 1958)

"The real challenge to this country is not from the propaganda battle which the Soviets seem to be winning, nor even from the science and missiles race which has absorbed the country's attention. The real challenge lies deep in American culture - how can we give to our young people, our scientists, our artists, our writers, our intellectuals, our teachers the support they need to carry out their mission. The outcry for more science drowns out the pleas for more art, more philosophy, more depth in our education, more depth in our culture."
(Address at Dance Magazine Awards ceremony, January 27, 1958)

"Liberalism is, therefore, a positive term. The liberal approach is one which meets a new situation with an open and positive attitude. When a problem is met, the true liberal accepts it as something to be solved, not merely as a set of conditions to be deplored.

"The essence of the modern movement in Western culture is the idea of creative experience and its liberating effects on the individual. The modern movement is, in fact, a fundamental shift in attitude toward life itself. It refuses to accept the conventional forms in which life is presented to us and looks for fresh ways of interpreting facts, for new forms of art, of architecture, of scientific discovery, of literature, and of society. It refuses to accept the fatalism of the classical philosophy, with its note of reconciliation to things as they exist, its warning to mankind that everything which is done has already been done before and that everything will soon pass away. It believes in the reality of novelty and discovery - in progress toward goals which we remake as we go along.

(more)

"The characteristic of the liberal mind is its spontaneity, its independence, and its freedom to explore and to find. The person who is afraid to speak, afraid to express his true thoughts, or is so lacking in self-confidence that he lets himself go where his thoughts lead him, has an inhibiting effect on others, since he usually seeks the security of the group and wants to protect himself by the agreement of others. This again is the pathology of liberalism, which, if allowed to exist without therapy, will develop into a case of galloping togetherness."
("Liberalism and the Liberal Arts," Heyward Keniston Lecture for 1958, reprinted in the Michigan Alumnus Quarterly Review, February 28, 1959)

"It is necessary to give up wanting to be liked, and wanting to have everything smooth and easy. It is necessary to discover what truths are really true and really valuable, and to discover this by oneself. No one can make these discoveries except by individual effort, and life in the college of liberal arts must be organized in such a way that the student is continually thrust into situations from which he must extricate himself by his own efforts.

"Freshness, spontaneity, joy, responsiveness, passion, commitment - these are the positive words which mark off the areas where learning and living happen. The freshness and spontaneity must come from within the lives and minds of the teachers and the students, and the great teacher is one who is a master in the art of starting fresh things moving, of evoking response, of putting things in new relations which have not been seen before, of creating the sense of importance.
(Cooper Foundation Lecture, Swarthmore College, February 9, 1958)

"In our teaching we have been pressing for attention to cultural and aesthetic values rather than allowing the values to be seen, enjoyed and savored by ourselves and our students. We must let the poem speak for itself, in its own purity and enchantment, without our eternal explanations and analysis. Let the music be played and listened to, without explanation, with no set of instructions on how to listen, what to look for. Let the idea generate its own response in the minds of our listeners, let them see for themselves that the idea itself is passionately held by the man who proposes it.

"It is to tackle the thing which matters most to oneself, in a frank and fearless spirit, being true to oneself, and refusing to be deflected from that central enterprise either by the attractions of material success or by the disapproval of the public. This is a philosophy of risk, a philosophy of experiment and of true individualism. The independent man must not be alarmed at where his independence will take him. If it takes him to conservatism, he should accept himself as a conservative and not become an anxious liberal. If he should then become a radical, then that is what he should be and not a cynical conservative."
("The Intellectual in Action," address to American Humanities Seminar, sponsored by the President's Committee on Scientists and Engineers and the University of Massachusetts, at the University of Massachusetts, July 15, 1958)

Schedule for May 21 Dinner
Waldorf-Astoria

6:00 p.m. Cocktails for guests of honor in Jansen Suite

7:00 p.m. Dinner starts

Dais (in center)

Archibald MacLeish
Robert Oppenheimer
Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt
Lloyd Garrison
Harold Taylor
Edward R. Murrow

others invited as dais guests:

Sarah Gibson Blanding
Catherine Drinker Bowen
Ralph J. Bunche
Agnes de Mille
Martha Graham
Roy E. Larsen
Mrs. Eugene Meyer
Alexander Meiklejohn
Robert Hutchins
Harrison Tweed
Mrs. Harold E. Talbott
Muriel Taylor

7:45 p.m. Lloyd Garrison will break into dinner and introduce dais guests

8:30 p.m. Lloyd Garrison to make introductory remarks on significance of occasion, what Harold Taylor has meant to Sarah Lawrence and American education, why we have come together.

Lloyd Garrison then introduces Edward Murrow who will make a few remarks, possibly about theme of evening, and then introduce speakers.

8:45 p.m. Archibald MacLeish

9:00 p.m. Murrow introduces Robert Oppenheimer

9:15 p.m. Murrow introduces the Sarah Lawrence Chorus and Robert Frost. Mr. Frost recites The Gift Outright, the Chorus sings it. Student reads citation to Harold Taylor.

9:30 p.m. Murrow introduces Mrs. Roosevelt - who speaks for 10 to 15 minutes ending with introduction of Harold Taylor

9:45 p.m. Harold Taylor speaks for 10 minutes

9:55 p.m. Edward Murrow closes dinner.

SARAH LAWRENCE COLLEGE
BRONXVILLE, NEW YORK
TELEPHONE: DEERFIELD 7-0700

FOR RELEASE

HAROLD TAYLOR

Harold Taylor, 44, is regarded as one of the most provocative and original thinkers in the field of modern American education. He first came to national prominence in 1945 with his appointment at the age of thirty to the presidency of Sarah Lawrence College and he has been known widely since then as an articulate spokesman for liberal education. As a former teacher of philosophy at the University of Wisconsin and during his fourteen years as head of Sarah Lawrence College, where many of the unconventional ideas with which he has been associated have been put into practice, Dr. Taylor has been a controversial figure on issues ranging from the reform of the liberal arts curriculum to the problems of segregation and academic freedom.

On assuming the presidency of Sarah Lawrence, Dr. Taylor stated that he would "try to work as a member of your faculty who is given certain additional responsibilities" and has emphasized in his writing and speaking, as well as in his presidential capacity, that colleges and universities must rely upon scholars and teachers for educational leadership.

In his article "Education: For What and for Whom?" in School and Society, February 4, 1956, Dr. Taylor wrote:

> Freedom as an ideal is infectious, and those who assert the freedom of the mind, those with the courage not only to dissent, but to state a positive conviction about views held on the basis of evidence, infect others with an incorruptible attitude. . . . As teachers we have a duty to say what we think, to teach what we believe, and to run the intellectual and social risk of the free man. Without the excitement of engaging ourselves in this risk, our lives as thinkers, teachers, and citizens become barren, and the lives of our students remain untouched by the fire of creative thought and independent action. Our mission is to set the new generation thinking. We must teach the young how to break new ground. To do so, we must have faith in our own mission; we must face up to the reality of our own time and rise to the defense of the free mind no matter when or where it is attacked.

Philosophy was, and is, Dr. Taylor's primary interest and he numbers among those who have influenced him most David Hume, Alfred North Whitehead, William James and John Dewey. He considers education to be philosophy in action. In the later years of John Dewey's life, Dr. Taylor was closely associated with him as a personal friend and companion. Alexander Meiklejohn, former president of Amherst and philosopher, is another of Dr. Taylor's associates in philosophy, as Max Otto, formerly of the University of Wisconsin, and Scottish philosopher John Macmurray, with whom he studied at the University of London.

Dr. Taylor's work at the University of Toronto, where he took both his B.A. and M.A. degrees, was in the field of philosophy and English literature and where he received the Moss Scholarship for graduate work for being the "best all-round" student in the university's graduating class. Dr. Taylor received the Ph.D. degree from the University of London, with a thesis on 18th century philosophy and literature entitled The Concept of Reason. In 1939, he went to the University of Wisconsin as a research fellow and instructor in philosophy and later became a regular member of the philosophy faculty. He remained at Wisconsin until 1945 when he accepted the presidency of Sarah Lawrence College.

Among his contributions to the field of philosophy are articles on David Hume, Alfred North Whitehead, the history of ideas, social thought, esthetics and education.*

---

* "Hume's Answer to Whitehead," The Journal of Philosophy, July 1941
"Death, Terror and Aesthetics," University Review (Kansas City) November 1941
"Hume's Theory of Imagination," University of Toronto Quarterly, January 1943
"Further Reflections on the History of Ideas," The Journal of Philosophy, July 1943

(selected articles)

Dr. Taylor's ideas on education have reached a wide audience through his writings and public appearances, including those on radio and television. Whether expressing these ideas to 17,000 teachers at a convention, in articles published in philosophy journals, or talks to students and faculty at Vassar, Yale, Dartmouth, Michigan, Amherst, California, Antioch, Chicago or Columbia, Dr. Taylor emphasizes his deep faith in students. In an address to the National Student Association in 1956, Dr. Taylor stated:

> "The student at his best has a purity of motive which is the mark of his true function. He wants to know the truth, to know what is good, not merely for his own or for other peoples' advantage, but in order to achieve his maturity as a student. He is granted the priceless advantage of looking openly at the world to discover its secrets. He is given the rare privilege of withholding his assent to the claims the world makes for its own particular brand of truth, and he can decide what he thinks on the basis of the evidence, not on the basis of pressure, because this is in fact what it means to be a student, and what the world asks the student to be. For a little time before he begins a life which will gradually involve him in more and more commitment to tasks and duties which are not central to the concern with truth and ideals, the student lives in a world of discovery and of possibility where nothing is yet completely settled, where everything, including the achievement of greatness, is still actively possible."

It was Dr. Taylor's expression of confidence in the ability of college students to take responsibility for their own education that led the National Student Association to look to him for guidance in their work since 1945.

During the post-war period, the Sarah Lawrence faculty, along with that of other colleges, came under the attack of the American Legion and two committees of Congress investigating alleged ties of faculty members with the Communist party. The vigorous and courageous stand taken by Dr. Taylor against the right of these investigators to question the political beliefs of the Sarah Lawrence faculty won national attention and approval. Referring to the national role played by Dr. Taylor in the defense of academic freedom, Lloyd K. Garrison, chairman of the Sarah Lawrence Board of Trustees, said, in his letter reluctantly accepting Dr. Taylor's resignation, "You have raised high the banner of academic freedom . . . . For this the country, and the educational world in particular, owes you a great debt of gratitude." A teacher in St. Louis told an audience of educators, "We are all freer people because of him."

Dr. Taylor's writings have appeared in the Journal of Philosophy, Philosophy and Phenomenological Research, Journal of Higher Education, Antioch Review, Harvard Educational Review, the American Scholar and School and Society, as well as in numerous popular magazines and newspapers. He is the author of On Education and Freedom and editor and contributor to another volume containing chapters by members of the Sarah Lawrence faculty, Essays in Teaching.

His interest in labor education led Dr. Taylor to help in founding and working on a committee to send scholars from the labor movement in America to study at Ruskin College in England. Dr. Taylor has been active on numerous other committees and has fought to eliminate discrimination and segregation in schools and colleges. He has been vice chairman, with Alvin Johnson, chairman, of the New York State Committee on Discrimination in Education, the group most responsible for supporting the legislation passed by New York State in the Fair Education Practices Act.

Dr. Taylor has long maintained a deep interest in the arts and it was due to his efforts, in collaboration with the trustees and alumnae, that the College erected a three-quarter million dollar Arts Center on its Bronxville, New York, campus in 1952 to further experimental work in dance, music and theatre.

Under his leadership, Sarah Lawrence College also has instituted a new program of Graduate Studies, and a broad community program that includes chamber music concerts, lecture series, evening courses taught by Sarah Lawrence faculty members, and dance and music classes for children.

Dr. Taylor's vigorous belief in liberalism and liberal education is defined in Essays in Teaching:

> Liberalism measures human values by the quality of the individual experience available to those who are free and furnishes an ideal toward which we can help the younger generation to move. . . . The central aim of liberalism . . . is to increase the scope of the creative intelligence. In order to make this possible it is necessary to form a society of human beings whose condition of freedom lies in the fact that cooperative effort is essential to the government of themselves. If this can be accomplished in whatever small way within a college or within a larger society, it can serve to demonstrate a kind of life freed from ignorance, fear, prejudice, and oppression, and open to a wealth of new possibilities for further experience. The idea that this is a better kind of life than other kinds has been taught by humanists and sustained by civilization.

Some escerpts from On Education and Freedom:

> The task of the college is to teach the student how to select from the enormous body of knowledge the most important things for his own life and the life of his time.

> To be successful in teaching the arts, the teacher must have some effect upon the student's emotional life, his personal attitudes, and upon his capacity to respond freshly to new experiences.

> The liberal arts exist to be enjoyed and to give a new dimension to the lives of those who know them and practice them.
>
> Freedom defined in a personal sense consists in an attitude to oneself and to authority. It rests on the conviction that each person has the right to make up his own mind about the truth of an idea on the basis of the best evidence he can find, and that he must retain the right to choose his own ideas and his own course of action.

Dr. Taylor is married to the former Grace Muriel Thorne, of London, England, and has two daughters, Mary 16 and Jennifer 11. While at the University of Toronto, Dr. Taylor was a member of the football and basketball teams. Later he was coach of the tennis team at the University of Wisconsin, and still plays tennis occasionally. Sailing and skiing are other favorite sports.

Eng Post

For: Mr. Lloyd K. Garrison

From: Doris Riker

Schedule for reading of "The Gift Outright" and singing by the Sarah Lawrence chorus. For the information of Edward R. Murrow.

Following Robert Oppenheimer's talk the Sarah Lawrence chorus is to sing Robert Frost's "The Gift Outright," the music composed for the May 21st dinner by Meyer Kupferman, and dedicated to Harold Taylor. Robert Frost had hoped to be present to read his poem before the chorus sings it but unfortunately had prior commitments at the Library of Congress and could not leave Washington. A copy of his telegram is attached. Lloyd Garrison has asked Archibald MacLeish to act in Robert Frost's place by reading Mr. Frost's poem before the chorus sings it. The members of the chorus will be seated at tables on the main floor of the Ballroom and will leave their seats to come to the stage behind the dais immediately following the close of Robert Oppenheimer's speech.

After the applause for Mr. Oppenheimer dies down, Mr. Murrow will announce that Meyer Kupferman of the Sarah Lawrence faculty has composed a choral setting for Robert Frost's "The Gift Outright" in honor of Harold Taylor for the dinner and dedicated to him. Robert Frost had hoped to be present to read his poem but since he was detained in Washington has sent a telegram instead. Mr. Murrow will read the telegram and announce that Archibald MacLeish has agreed to read the poem in place of Robert Frost. At this point Mr. Murrow will pause while the members of the chorus, who will have collected at either end of the stage, will walk to the chorus stand behind the dais and arrange themselves for the singing. Mr. MacLeish will wait until the chorus is ready to sing, and upon notice by Harold Aks, the chorus conductor, will read the poem. Following the reading, Harold Aks will begin the singing.

Schedule for reading of "The Gift Outright" and singing by the Sarah Lawrence chorus. For the information of Edward R. Murrow.

Following the singing, Mr. Murrow will announce that a group of Harold Taylor's friends, members of the Board of Trustees, parents, alumnae and others have put together a fund in his honor, to be used to carry out the expansion of the College and to carry forward the ideals of education for which he stands. Part of the new campus will bear Harold Taylor's name. The total in the Fund to date is $_____(amount to be supplied Thursday evening) and the gift is announced at this point in the proceedings as a tribute to the guest of honor.

Mr. Murrow will then announce that the President of the Sarah Lawrence Student Council, Miss Shirley Bauer, has a statement to read. Miss Bauer will have left her seat in the Ballroom at the close of the singing and will be standing at the end of the dais ready to speak when Mr. Murrow announces her.

Following Miss Bauer's statement, Mr. Murrow will introduce Eleanor Roosevelt who will speak for ten to fifteen minutes and then introduce Harold Taylor.

Hubball, James

May 19, 1959

Dear Jim:

Thanks for your gracious letter of May 8. I shall not exceed fifteen minutes - indeed, I am already so filled with terror that I may not be able to rise from my seat!

As ever yours,

ERM:skh

Mr. James M. Hubball
The Buckley School
120 East 74th Street
New York 21, N.Y.

THE BUCKLEY SCHOOL
120 EAST 74TH STREET
NEW YORK 21, N. Y.

May 8th, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

This is simply to put down in writing a more formal expression of the great pleasure I tried to convey to you the other night at your willingness to be our speaker on June 4th. I do hope you know how sincerely everyone wanted you and how pleased they were when I was able to tell them of your acceptance.

At the risk of seeming to be completely unhelpful, I would like to leave the duration and the topic entirely up to you. I am positive you can't talk too long because your audience will be extremely interested and your own sense of timing - as I have seen it operate in the past - will prevent this. I would think somewhere around fifteen minutes would be about right. Please don't worry about the time as there will be no clock in control and we can feel quite relaxed about whether your speech is a little longer or a little shorter. I really try quite hard to keep this occasion as informal as the situation will permit, trying to remember that the boys are eighth graders and are just graduating from elementary school.

In the thought that it might be of some use, I am enclosing a copy of last year's program.

Ora and I thoroughly enjoyed our evening with you.

With kindest regards, I am

Very sincerely,

Jim

James M. Hubball
Headmaster

upc

May 5, 1959

Mr. James M. Hubball
Headmaster
The Buckley School
120 East 74th Street
New York 21, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Hubball:

Somehow, I will try to talk to the boys a bit on June 4. Please tell me duration and also what I should talk about.

Sincerely yours,

ERM:skh

THE BUCKLEY SCHOOL
120 EAST 74TH STREET
NEW YORK 21, N. Y.

May 1st, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
580 Park Avenue
New York 21, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Your life on Monday evening may be further complicated by the possibility of having to see the Hubballs and I think it is only fair play to give you a little advance warning.

I have been waiting until what I thought was the beginning of the end of the most hectic period of your busy year in the hope that this would be the most favorable time to ask you to be our speaker on June 4th when Casey graduates from Buckley. Various members of the Faculty and other interested people have been afraid that I was waiting too long and I mention this only to indicate how very much all of us hope you will be the speaker on that occasion. As you know, we have had the tradition for a great many years of having a father and your acting in this capacity when Casey went from the Junior to the Senior Department three years ago makes us all the more eager in our hope that you will accept at the time of his final graduation.

Please know that I really do have some understanding of how terribly involved and busy your life is and that there must be times when you feel you simply cannot take on another commitment. If this is the case at this time, we shall certainly understand, but I also cannot fail to report that we all most genuinely hope you will feel you can accept.

With kindest regards and with thanks for all you have previously done for Buckley School, I am

Very sincerely,

James M. Hubball

James M. Hubball
Headmaster

f. Speech Folder

E.R.M.. BUCKLEY GRADUATION: June 4, 1959.

Mr. Hubbell, members of the faculty, parents and young gentlemen of the graduating class. I address you as gentlemen hopefully - hoping that you know the definition of the word - for a gentleman is distinguished by how he treats those who can be of no possible service to him.

So here you are, eight years, and several thousand dollars of your parents' money, after entering Buckley. You are about to depart, and I am to send you on your way with words of wisdom and inspiration, which you will promptly forget.

Sought counsel of Hubbell as to length and subject matter - no help. Asked son to undertake research - his report was: "The fellows would like you to keep it short, because they want to get out of there". Shall keep it short, so you won't have so much to forget.

Feel like father of New England farm boy - load of hay.

Been wondering what you'll take with you from Buckley - mostly travelling light - cannot use record here as crutch or shield - no one will ask to see your record - can't lean on past performances or shield yourself from future mistakes - your physical fitness and mental alertness is all your teachers have to show for eight years of work - hope you have grace and courtesy come back and say your thanks occasionally.

Have prepared brief but eloquent advice on subject of girls, but decided.....No! - you might forget.

Hope you'll ask questions - everything but religion - "vibration"

Watch your language and your weight.

Read around your text books.

Now for concentrated advice: "There are nine requisites for contented living: health enough to make work a pleasure; wealth enough to support your needs; strength to battle with difficulties and overcome them; grace enough to confess your sins and forsake them; patience enough to toil until some good is accomplished; charity enough to see some good in your neighbor; love enough to move you to be useful and helpful to others; faith enough to make real the things of God; hope enough to remove all anxious fears concerning the future." All those things are possible, and the lucky and the diligent may accomplish two or three of them.

Was poet knew how to build a climax - final phrase most important - "Hope enough to remove all anxious fears concerning the future" - See no fear in your faces, but detect certain signs of impatience. May you remain without fear and retain your impatience with long speeches.

The Board of Higher Education of the City of New York
and
The Faculties of Hunter College request the honour of your presence at the Academic Convocation on the occasion of the retirement of George Nauman Shuster as President of Hunter College on Tuesday, the twenty-sixth of January
One thousand, nine hundred and sixty at half after four o'clock in the Assembly Hall of Hunter College
New York

R.S.V.P. by January 20, 1960
card enclosed

Hunter College

yes and sent

HUNTER COLLEGE
OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK
695 PARK AVENUE
NEW YORK 21, N.Y.

vpc.

Yes!

April 3, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

This year marks the twentieth anniversary of George N. Shuster's association with Hunter College, an association that has given the College inspiring and fruitful leadership. To our regret, the President has announced his firm intention to retire from the College at the end of the year so that he may use the years ahead for writing and public service.

We plan to honor Dr. Shuster in such a manner that all the alumni and students of the College as well as other friends of the President may participate. Our plans have crystallized into a threefold tribute:

1. An oil painting of President Shuster to be hung as a cherished possession of the College.

2. The publication of a volume containing a selection of his writings on education.

3. A gift to the George N. Shuster Faculty Fellowship Fund, a much needed project designed to support faculty research. This Fund was initiated a few years ago; it has recently been augmented by a substantial gift from James and Evelyn Picker, which has made possible the initial operation of the Fund; its further endowment is considered by the President of central importance to the vitality of the College.

Because Dr. Shuster's services to the College and the Community have been so distinguished we wish to assemble a list of sponsors of comparable distinction. We hope you will permit us to use your name as an individual sponsor of this tribute to the President. Organizational sponsorship will be provided by every division and department of the College Community, including the various faculties, the student body, the administrative staff, the Alumni Association, and the Association of Neighbors and Friends of Hunter College.

A card is enclosed for your reply. May we hear from you by April 20?

Yours sincerely,

Ethel G. Berl

Ethel G. Berl
Executive Secretary
For the Planning Committee:

John J. Meng (Co-Chairman)
Dean of Administration

Mina Rees (Co-Chairman)
Dean of Faculty

Jewell H. Bushey, Chairman
Executive Committee of the Faculty

E. Adelaide Hahn, President Alumni Association

Edward Davison, Director
School of General Studies

Ruth G. Weintraub, Director Graduate Studies in Arts and Sciences

Gustave G. Rosenberg (Honorary Chairman)
Chairman, Board of Higher Education

Governors Co

GOVERNORS SUGGESTED FOR PROJECT OF EDWARD R. MURROW

EAST

Governor J. Caleb Boggs, Delaware (R) Chairman of the Governors' Conference
Governor Foster Furcolo, Massachusetts (D)
Governor Robert B. Meyner, New Jersey (D)
Governor Abraham A. Ribicoff, Connecticut (D)
Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller, New York (R)

MIDWEST

Governor Michael V. DiSalle, Ohio (D)
Governor George Docking, Kansas (D)
Governor Orville L. Freeman, Minnesota (D)
Governor William G. Stratton, Illinois (R) Past Chairman of the Governors' Co
Governor G. Mennen Williams, Michigan (D)

SOUTH

Governor LeRoy Collins, Florida (D) Immediate Past Chairman of the Governors' Conf
Governor Price Daniel, Texas (D)
Governor Orval E. Faubus, Arkansas (D)
Governor Luther H. Hodges, North Carolina (D)
Governor Ernest F. Hollings, South Carolina (D)
Governor Cecil H. Underwood, West Virginia (R)

WEST

Governor Edmund G. Brown, California (D)
Governor George D. Clyde, Utah (R)
GovernorWilliam A. Egan, Alaska (D)
Governor Mark O. Hatfield, Oregon (R)
Governor Robert E. Smylie, Idaho (R)
~~Governor William F. Quinn, Hawaii (R)~~
Governor Steve McNichols, Colorado (D)

CBS NEWS

Office Communication

to: Mr. Murrow

from: Sheila Hogg

TRAVEL ARRANGEMENTS June 23, 1960

NEW YORK	June 24	11 a.m. takeoff La Guardia. Flight AA 301 to Chicago. Marty Barnett will meet you in Chicago at Midway Airport.
CHICAGO	June 24	3 p.m. Standard Time (i.e. 4 p.m. local daylight time) Special Governors' Conference Train. You are in Car G-10 Bedroom A. Marty Barnett, Lawrence Gianneschi, Harry Elatkin will also be on the train. Train arrives East Glacier 3 p.m. MT Saturday, June 25. Cars will be meeting the train.
GLACIER PARK,	June 25-30	You are staying at the Swiftcurrent Motel, a mile from Many Glacier Hotel, conference headquarters. Messrs. Beck, Barnett, Elatkin and Gianneschi will be at the Park Motel, a few miles away. Mr. Brevard Crihfield, as well as the governors, will be at Many Glacier Hotel, and many of the governors' aides will be at Swiftcurrent. You are making your own arrangements for departure from Montana.
SAN FRANCISCO	June 30	We will reserve a suite for you at the St. Francis Hotel for June 30.
LOS ANGELES	July 1	Your suite at the Chateau Marmont will be available from July 1.
	July 6	Miss Campbell and Mr. Bliss will arrive on TWA Flight 1.

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY

TRAFFIC DEPARTMENT

FRENCH, ASSISTANT GENERAL PASSENGER AGENT
HM,—HUGH L. GIBSON, DISTRICT PASSENGER AGENTS
EMORE, ASSISTANT GENERAL AGENT
—J. N. SUPPLE, CITY PASSENGER AGENTS

80 East Madison
Telephone WEbster 9-2944
CHICAGO 2, ILLINOIS

20 June 1960
D-15-G

GOVERNORS CONFERENCE
Glacier Park * June 26--29, 1960

Miss Kay Campbell
485 Madison Avenue
NEW YORK 22, New York

Dear Miss Campbell:

We very much appreciated your letter of June 15 with remittance and send you herewith one way railway ticket and single bedroom for Mr. Murrow on the Governors Special from Chicago Union Station 3 PM June 24 to Glacier.

You will note from copy of letter attached that we have forwarded round trip tickets to Mr. Martin Barnett, who has been in touch with us regarding the handling of equipment, which will be taken care of.

Very truly yours,

Graham W. French

Assistant General Passenger Agent

EDW/ark

Route of the World Famous Empire Builder

VOLUME 3 NUMBER 7 GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY JULY-AUGUST, 1960

Great Northern Employes Advised of Unification Proposal

• • •

EMPLOYES MAY PURCHASE GN STOCK THROUGH PAYROLL DEDUCTION PLAN

Great Northern employes who desire to share in the ownership of the railway soon may acquire the company's stock through payroll deductions.

To assist employes who wish to acquire GN shares, the company will deduct from their paychecks for the second half of each month specified amounts of $10 or more, and in multiples of $5.

When a minimum of $40 has been accumulated, the allotment will be transmitted to the brokerage firm of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith. The broker will use this money to purchase shares or parts of shares of the GN for the employe, charging the standard commission fee.

The GN is making no recommendation to its employes as to participation in the plan. Participation will be entirely voluntary, and a risk is involved because stock prices are subject to changes.

The company is doing no more than performing the service of making the regular deduction and transmitting this money to the broker for those employes who participate.

Additional information and participation forms soon will be available through department heads and division superintendents.

Rail Vets Set Meet

The 15th annual reunion of the Military Railway Service Veterans will be held Sept. 23-25 in Hotel Texas, Fort Worth, Texas.

A varied program has been planned for the group which is composed of service veterans who carried guns, ammunition and equipment to the fronts during World War II and the Korean conflict.

WHEELS OF PROGRESS

Random Notes

Major Wilfred C. Hageman of the U.S. Air Force Reserve, known more generally to Great Northern employes as the railway's general agent, freight department, Spokane, Wash., recently completed his first tour of duty for training with the headquarters of the Central Traffic Region, Military Traffic Management Agency, St. Louis, Mo.

Major Hageman

Major Hageman, a mobilization designee, is being trained to augment his qualifications in line with his assignment as assistant to the regional director in the event of mobilization, the Air Force reports.

* * *

Bert F. Kirkpatrick, stenographer in the freight department of the GN in Kansas City, Mo., was one of five winners of one-year scholarships to the University of Kansis City's transportation courses, offered by the Traffic Club of Kansas City, Incorporated.

To Great Northern Personnel:

A plan to unify and operate as a single integrated system the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and Spokane, Portland & Seattle railways was announced on July 16.

The announcement is of understandable importance and interest to our employes, and recalls my letter to Great Northern personnel on February 2, 1956, about the beginning of a study toward possible unification. At that time I said, in part:

"There are many reasons for considering such a proposal at this time. We are confronted with a very keen competitive situation, with other forms of transport attracting business away from the railroads by providing better service, or cheaper overall rates, or both.

"It is highly important that railway service be of the very best and produced at the lowest possible cost. Unification may bring about a considerable improvement in service. Time saved in yard operations by eliminating interchange delays presents one possibility along this line.

Savings Forecast

"Furthermore, if the work of each employe is confined to essential, constructive work, the total cost of doing business should be less.

"The study will also concern standardization of equipment, and possible reduction in inventory of parts, materials, etc. . . In addition, there seems to be a strong possibility that a unified system would provide better distribution of rolling stock, and a subsequent improvement of service to our shippers. It may be possible to provide the same amount of transportation with less equipment, thereby reducing investment in cars, motive power, etc."

Great Northern's directors and management share the conviction that the unification proposal is sound, and would be eminently in the public interest through creation and development of a dynamic new transport system. And we believe that

(Please turn to page three)

Go Great Northern GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY Great For Travel

60

Governors, Newsmen On Governors' Conference Train

The comforts of traveling via Great Northern were experienced by 10 governors, more than 50 top news media personalities, government officials and members of their families on the 18-car "Governors Conference Special" train.

The group entrained at Chicago for Glacier National Park shortly before the start of the political conventions.

The special train made its 1,527-mile run June 24 and 25 to the park in the Montana Rockies—site of the 1960 Governors' Conference. And compliments about services of GN employes still are being received in St. Paul.

Operating as a section of the GN's renowned Empire Builder, the special consisted of 12 Pullman sleepers, two dining cars and two observation-lounge cars, including an Empire Builder "Great Dome."

The train ran over the Burlington Lines between Chicago and St. Paul.

Among the 190 passengers were Governors John Patterson of Alabama; Peter C. Coleman, American Samoa; Harold W. Handley, Indiana; William G. Stratton, Illinois; George Docking, Kansas; Foster Furcolo, Massachusetts; James T. Blair, Jr., Missouri; Christopher Del Sesto, Rhode Island; Buford Ellington, Tennessee, and John D. Merwin, Virgin Islands.

Among newsmen were Edward R. Murrow of the Columbia Broadcasting System; Richard Harkness of the National Broadcasting Company; Lawrence E. Spivak of "Meet the Press," W. H. Lawrence of the New York Times; columnists Doris Fleeson and Marquis Childs; Allen Drury of the Reader's Digest; Harold Lavine, Newsweek Magazine; John Steele of Time and Life Magazines, and Richard Wilson of the Cowles Publications.

Many of the governors, newsmen and other personalities were accompanied by their families.

The newsmen were part of the largest press corps ever to attend a Governors' Conference.

The Great Northern received a tremendous amount of publicity and goodwill as a result of the train. Facilities offered were the best, and train personnel were cooperative and typically efficient.

Result of the good service was additional rail ticket sales by GN agents at Glacier National Park to many delegates who originally intended to fly to the Democratic convention in Los Angeles.

Many of the conferees and 178 newsmen enjoyed the facilities and beauty of the park.

While in conference, delegates discussed state problems including education, federal-state regulations, highways and problems of the aging.

The press media filed more than a half-million words from the park—many of the stories making Page 1 news across the nation.

Helping make the conference a success was the clear, crisp weather and activities, such as the outdoor barbecue, fishing, boating, hiking and dancing.

Great Northern personnel who participated in the special train and busied themselves in the park during the conference deserve commendation of a job well done.

They Helped Make The News

Gov. & Mrs. John Patterson
Alabama

Gov. Peter C. Coleman & Newsman
American Samoa

Gov. Furcolo, left, & Gov. Del Sesto
Massachusetts & Rhode Island

They Reported It To You

Richard Harkness NBC

Lawrence E. Spivak
"Meet The Press"

Richard Wilson
Cowles Publications

Edward R. Murrow
CBS

Indian Chiefs Meet Tennessee Miss

BLOND ANN ELLINGTON, daughter of Gov. Buford Ellington of Tennessee, was a favorite photographic target at East Glacier station, Glacier National Park, Montana, upon arrival of the Governors' Special train. She is shown with two of the welcoming committee, Blackfoot Indians from the nearby Blackfoot Indian Reservation.

Trainside at Havre, Montana

A SHORT PAUSE at Havre, Mont., was enjoyed by train passengers who were greeted by Montana newsmen. From the left are Gov. Harold W. Handley, Indiana; Gov. Christopher Del Sesto, Rhode Island; John M. Budd, president of Great Northern; Gov. William G. Stratton and Mrs. Stratton of Illinois, and Mrs. Del Sesto.

UNIFICATION

(Continued from page one)

the Interstate Commerce Commission will approve the plan.

Approval by Great Northern and Northern Pacific shareholders, and the Interstate Commerce Commission is required before the plan announced a few days ago could be put into operation. Some time would elapse before unification of the four lines could be affected, and it is estimated that an additional five years would be required to complete all contemplated changes.

The effect of the plan on present jobs was a very important consideration in the long, careful study of the proposal. The managements of Great Northern and Northern Pacific are confident that unification would not substantially affect present employes.

Because the plan anticipates that integration would require several years, it is believed that natural service separations and retirements would result in minimum displacement of employes. In addition, Federal statutes and labor agreements protect employes adversely affected by consolidations.

Great Northern personnel will receive further information on unification developments as they affect our employes.

John M. Budd
President

July 25, 1960

MAY RETIREMENT BENEFITS HIT NEW MONTHLY HIGH

The Railroad Retirement Board reported that May retirement and survivor benefit payments under the Railroad Retirement Act reached $80,400,000 — the highest monthly amount paid to date.

The record which was a $900,000 increase over April, surpassed the previous high of $79,600,000 paid in March.

Retired employes and their wives received $61,300,000, or 76 per cent of the May total, and survivors of deceased employes received the remainder.

About 11,400 retirement and survivor benefits were awarded in May, bringing the total number of awards since the system began to 2 million.

Rocky's Rooters Are Sportsminded GN Clubbers

Fishermen, archery enthusiasts, bowlers and bridge fanciers are among members of one of the most aggressive and busiest employe clubs in St. Paul—Great Northern's Rocky's Rooters.

From its humble beginnings in 1958, the ever-growing club today boasts 1,035 members and lists more than 15 club activities.

These include archery, art, bridge, basketball, men and women's bowling and golf leagues, spring and fall dances, fishing contest, gun club, annual picnic, to mention a few.

To keep this vast program on an even keel and sustain interest in activities, officers and board members are elected each year.

Current officers are Bernard Ranweiler, president; Rod Peltier, vice president; Bill Selby, treasurer; and Valerie Carlson, secretary.

Board members are Rod Peltier, Valerie Carlson, Phil Smith, Dick Molitor, Sharonlee Marstad, Theo Bonner, Paul Gordenier, Bill Selby, Henry Bender, Mike Knodle, Regina Weibel, Eleanor Arcand and Ken Korngable.

When enough interest is shown in a particular activity, the board and officers study the potentialities, and if approved, allocate money for the activity from funds collected from yearly dues and other income.

A current project of Rocky's Rooters is the establishment of a club parking lot within blocks of GN headquarters in St. Paul.

Constructed on GN property leased from the railway, the lot has been graded and is in service to members who agreed to pay a $12-yearly parking fee to defray improvement costs. Club officers are studying the possibility of laying a hard surfacing in the future.

The club also hopes to again publish a club newspaper. If formerly published Rocky's Review which carried club news.

Great Northern Vets Unit Elects Officers

F. C. Spencer of Minneapolis has been reelected president of the Veterans' Association of the Great Northern Railway at the group's 48th annual convention held in the Olympic hotel in Seattle.

Mr. Spencer

Other elected officers were F. J. O'Neill, St. Paul, vice president, and Jacob H. Marthaler, St. Paul, secretary and treasurer.

Elected directors were J. C. Sullivan and J. H. Marthaler of St. Paul, and W. J. O'Connor of Grand Forks, N.D.

Paul G. Pagel of St. Paul was elected a director to fill the unexpired term of Thomas J. Greene, who died at St. Paul on June 9, 1960.

Mr. Marthaler

Mr. O'Neill

H. N. Hansen of Minneapolis, who was not a candidate for reelection, was elected an honorary director.

William F. Stoll of Pennington, Minn., A. M. Harvey of Seattle, and W. E. Brown of St. Paul also are directors of the association.

A 23-car special train left St. Paul for Seattle bearing many of the 1,076 veterans who attended the convention which was held June 11-12.

News of GN Veterans

Employes who have retired since the June, 1960, issue of Talking It Over are:

Axel W. Nelson, section foreman, Page, N.D.; Albert B. Joseph, section foreman, Fargo, N.D.; Edward Henningfield, engineer, St. Paul; John F. Smith, engineer, Morris, Minn.; Stillman A. Reed, conductor, Willmar, Minn.; Palmer Jackson, lounge car attendant, St. Paul; George E. O'Hara, brakeman, Superior, Wis.; Michael H. Kearney, roundhouse foreman, Kelly Lake, Minn.; Edward J. Griffith, machinist, Minot, N.D.; James H. Knight, Jr., conductor, Whitefish, Mont.; Samuel P. Kaluza, carman, Havre, Mont.; Allan P. Gradin, yard clerk, Havre, Mont.; Stanley D. Durst, engineer, Whitefish, Mont.; George C. Shelley, conductor, Willmar, Minn.; William J. Grove, agent, Merrill, Ore.; Thomas A. Redshaw, machine operator, Burlington, Wash.; Thomas J. O'Brien, crane operator, Spokane, Wash.; John L. Irwin, engineer, Klamath Falls, Ore.; Ralph M. Bates, engineer, Great Falls, Mont.; Iner J. Benson, conductor, Spokane; Ernest P. Bergstrom, buildings and bridges foreman, St. Cloud, Minn.; Harold H. Steen, agent, Litchfield, Minn.; Fred E. Sundvik, signalman, Everett, Wash.; Glen H. Norton, switchman, Minneapolis.

George M. Houlehan, brakeman, Kelly Lake, Minn.; Gilbert R. Conroy, claims adjuster, St. Paul; Arthur G. Suess, freight checker, St. Paul; Joseph R. Haufek, wire chief, St. Paul; Ray L. Quinn, laborer, Wenatchee, Wash.; Mark C. Haywood, interline clerk, St. Paul; Frank P. Hartman, engineer, St. Cloud, Minn.; Felix L. Cobb, district passenger and freight agent, Cleveland, Ohio; Henry J. Tessier, carman, St. Paul; Leo C. Cassel, feeder-Somer Lumber, Somers, Mont.; Ross Goodwin, conductor, Whitefish, Mont.; Otto W. Schulz, section laborer, Brookston, Minn.; Charles S. DeVoe, general foreman, Somers, Mont.; George M. Fish, district claim agent, Spokane; Clarence C. Culverwell, conductor, Spokane; Morris V. Ambrose, carman, Hillyard, Wash.; George E. Leese, electrician foreman, Superior, Wis.; Thoraff M. Ruud, signal maintainer, Delano, Minn.; Charles J. Weber, switchman, Minneapolis.

Bernard Smith, carman, Seattle; Herbert F. Cochrane, conductor, Aberdeen, S.D.; George R. McPherson, locomotive engineer, Seattle; Adam J. Rutkowski, agent, Blanchard, N.D.; Harry Popow, roundhouse laborer, Minot, N.D.; Nick Librande, engineer, Minot, N.D.; Arthur R. O'Hearn, engineer, Minot, N.D.; Adolph C. Anderson, car accountant, Superior, Wis.; Harry E. Johnson, buildings and bridges foreman, Willmar, Minn.; Edmund J. Hall, blacksmith welder, St. Cloud, Minn.; Walter Bledsoe, waiter, St. Paul.

Others are Albert Loew, engineer, Kettle Falls, Wash.; Morton W. Elliott, cashier, Sandpoint Idaho; Alexander W. Lawrence, wire chief, St. Paul; Walter J. Barke, trainmaster, Spokane; Ole Lunde, agent-telegrapher Galchutt, N.D.; Thomas Furlong, carman, Havre; John McGillis, section laborer, East Glacier, Mont.; Barney A. Kipka, section laborer, Foley, Minn.; John G. Burleigh, carpenter, Whitefish, Mont.; Harold Gustafson, carman, Superior Wis.; Oscar Benson, oiler-brasser, Superior, Wis.; Pleasant G. Breeden, club car attendant, St. Paul; Marcus T. Handy, signal maintainer, Larimore, N.D.; Bryan W. Sperry, engineer, Willmar, Minn.; Harold M. Ibach, conductor, Garretson, S. D.; Walter A. Russell, agent, St. Bonifacius, Minn.; Fred A. Gallagher, material handler, St. Paul; Jerome Coffey, section laborer, Niobe, N.D.; Andrew Muir, bill clerk, Minot, N. D.; Oscar A. Peterson, switchman, St. Paul; Thomas W. Pettit, carman, Sioux City, Iowa; Louis J. Koglin, shipping foreman, St. Cloud, Minn.; John H. Grauel, engineer, St. Paul; Christie E. Farley, dining car steward, St. Paul; John W. McDowell, machinist helper, Spokane; Albert I. Barwick, custodian, Ray, N.D.; Joseph I. Crook, engineer, Spokane; Arnold F. Frey, carman, Havre, Mont.; William A. Martin, buildings and bridges carpenter, Whitefish, Mont.

Others are Francis N. Mays, engineer, Havre, Mont.; Charles S. Patton, yardmaster, Whitefish, Mont.; Harold W. Paul, crew caller, Great Falls, Mont.; Logan J. Pershall, machinist helper, Spokane; Henry E. Coleman, assistant master mechanic, Superior, Wis.; Russell L. Smith, engineer, St. Paul, and Jesse B. Steele, federal inspector, Spokane.

Deceased veterans reported to us since the June issue of Talking It Over are:

Axel A. Bjorklund, conductor, Hopkins, Minn.; Martin A. Brown, secretary to chairman of the board, St. Paul; Thomas J. Greene, ore dock superintendent, Superior, Wis.; Everett M. Haugen, agent-telegrapher, Comstock, Minn.; Louis H. Kermott, physician and surgeon, Minot, N.D.; William H. Lissaman, train dispatcher, Minot, N.D.; Frank B. Maynard, locomotive engineer, Monterey Park, Calif.; Salvatore Mazzuca, carman, Havre, Mont.; William J. O'Toole, train baggageman, St. Paul; LeRoy W. Roleff, machinist helper, Minneapolis; Warren S. Tanguy, agent-telegrapher, Ferndale, Wash., and Orvil R. Wright, conductor, Havre, Mont.

C. A. Pearson Speaks To GN Employes At On-Line Dinners

A program of closer employe-management relations has been instituted by the Great Northern Railway.

On May 24 at Superior, Wis., 426 employes were guests of the Great Northern at a banquet addressed by C. A. Pearson, vice president-personnel.

It was followed by a banquet in St. Cloud, Minn., on May 25, attended by 391 persons; Willmar, Minn., May 26, 291 persons; Havre, Mont., June 7, 276; Great Falls, Mont., June 8, 308; Whitefish, Mont., June 9, 209; Seattle, Wash., June 13, 354; Klamath Falls, Ore., June 15, 87; Spokane, Wash., June 17, 380; Grand Forks, N.D., June 21, 236; Fargo, N.D., June 22, 190; Minot, N.D., June 23, 305, and Sioux City, Iowa, June 28, 170 persons in attendance.

During the entire banquet schedule, 3,624 persons attended illustrating the sincere interest employes have in the future of their company.

Purpose of the meetings was to open a new channel of communications between employes and management.

Vice President Pearson has been presenting an illustrated talk that covers three areas: What the Great Northern means to employes and to management; the question of productivity, and employment and unemployment and the factors that affect our jobs.

2 Employe Publications Help Tell GN Story

Our attention has been called to two Great Northern employe publications that have been doing an important job of helping disseminate news of fellow employes.

They are The Cascadian which has the theme, "Where rails meet the sails of the Western seas," and The Great Northern Kid which boasts it is "Just a young Goat."

The Cascadian is in its second volume and is published in Seattle. The Great Northern Kid, in its first year of publication, hails from Whitefish, Mont.

Editorial staffers on The Cascadian are C. G. Reeder, editor; W. L. Solga, Spike Harvey and George Switter, assistant editors; Margaret Brady, typesetter; Florence Beaudin, circulation manager; George Biner, route manager, Eleanor Barck, censor and critic, and Joe Torres, artist. (Eleanor's job sounds the most interesting!)

The Great Northern Kid staff consists of D. W. Porter, editor-in-chief; V. Broughton, editor; Betty Joy and Evelyn Carlson, assistant editors; M. Haagenstad, typist; Edna Bugg, circulation manager; E. Shevenko, mimeograph operator, and R. McClelland, artist.

PRO 1500

Gov. Conf
Travel

June 15, 1960

Dear Marty:

The attached exchange of correspondence between Mr. French and this office is self-explanatory. I thought it best to leave the arrangements for your return to Chicago to you, since you will know better than I when you will be ready to leave.

I have asked Mr. French to send the tickets for you and your boys direct to you. We are sending some baggage tags which you may find useful. As you will see you have reservations at the Park Motel.

Best of luck.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Martin Barnett
6506 So. Sacramento
Chicago 29, Illinois

KC:gw
encl

Gov. Conf
(Travel)

June 15, 1960

Dear Mr. French:

Many thanks for your letter of June 10th to Mr. Murrow advising him of the arrangements made for his party aboard the Governors Conference Special Train departing from the Chicago Union Station 3 P.M. June 24th to Glacier Park.

We enclose herewith our check for $503.09 to pay for Mr. Murrow's one way ticket Chicago to Glacier, three round trip tickets, one single bedroom, and three duplex roomettes. Will you please send Mr. Murrow's one way ticket and the single bedroom coupon to him here in New York, and we would appreciate it if you could send the rest of the tickets to Mr. Martin Barnett, 6506 So. Sacramento, Chicago 29, Illinois.

Mr. Murrow will go to San Francisco after the Conference is over, and I am making arrangements for him to fly out of Great Falls. I am advising Mr. Barnett of the train facilities back to Chicago and will leave it to him to make his own arrangements.

Many thanks for all the help you have given us.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Graham M. French
Assistant General Passenger Agent
Great Northern Railway, Traffic Department
80 East Madison
Chicago 2, Illinois

KC:gw
encl
cc: Martin Barnett

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY

TRAFFIC DEPARTMENT

GRAHAM M. FRENCH, ASSISTANT GENERAL PASSENGER AGENT
R. F. SCHWEHM,—HUGH L. GIBSON, DISTRICT PASSENGER AGENTS
E. D. WHITTEMORE, ASSISTANT GENERAL AGENT
R. J. BUSTER,—J. N. SUPPLE, CITY PASSENGER AGENTS

80 East Madison
Telephone WEbster 9-2944
CHICAGO 2, ILLINOIS

10 June 1960
D-15-G

GOVERNORS CONFERENCE
Glacier Park * June 26--29, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM
485 Madison Avenue
NEW YORK, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

We thank you very much for your reservation request for the Governors Conference Special Train departing from the Chicago Union Station 3 PM June 24 to Glacier Park. We have just put on an extra Pullman car and the last that the consist will permit, so that we can assign for your party Single Bedroom A and Duplex Roomettes 4, 7, and 8, Car G-10.

There is no Special Train returning but we are adding extra equipment to our regular streamlined trains, which are as follows:

EMPIRE BUILDER from Cut Bank each morning 9:25 AM, arriving Chicago next afternoon 2 PM. There will be motor transportation available in the Park to take you to Cut Bank, which is about 40 Miles east of the Park.
WESTERN STAR from East Glacier every afternoon 4:49 PM arriving Chicago next night 10:20 PM.

The largest number of eastbound attendants are returning on the EMPIRE BUILDER from Cut Bank June 30, and we can probably take care of your group on that date if we have quick response from you.

The cost of a one way ticket Chicago to Glacier, per person, is $62.78; a single bedroom $37.02; and each duplex $21.40.

If you desire round trip tickets the cost per ticket will then be $113.03--we would quote the Pullman fares from Cut Bank or East Glacier when we confirm these reservations if you so request. You may remit to this office for tickets and space desired and we will send tickets by return mail.

Very truly yours,

Graham M. French

Assistant General Passenger Agent

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY

Route of the World Famous Empire Builder

Gov J Caleb Boggs

August 17, 1960

Governor J. Caleb Boggs
State Capitol
Dover, Delaware

Dear Governor Boggs:

I write belatedly to thank you for your gracious cooperation during the interview we filmed at Glacier National Park. I would have written earlier, but was somewhat occupied with the political conventions. We have not yet started editing the film but shall advise you when it is ready to be presented. Again, thank you for taking the time to answer my questions.

Sincerely yours,

ERM:ell

WU008 PD

DOVER DEL JUN 21 100P EDT

RECEIVED
1960 JUN 21 PM 2.29
C B S TELETYPE ROOM N.Y.

EDWARD R MURROW CBS NEWS

RETEL PARTICIPATION IN DISCUSSION DURING GOVERNORS CONFERENCE HAPPY TO COOPERATE

J CALEB BOGGS GOVERNOR OF DELAWARE

221P..

Gov. Edmund Brown

August 17, 1960

Governor Edmund G. Brown
State Capitol
Sacramento, California

Dear Governor Brown:

I write belatedly to thank you for your gracious cooperation during the interview we filmed at Glacier National Park. I would have written earlier, but was somewhat occupied with the political conventions. We have not yet started editing the film but shall advise you when it is ready to be presented. Again, thank you for taking the time to answer my questions.

Sincerely yours,

ERM:ell

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION

TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

SF-1201 (4-60)

1960 JUN 17 PM 10-06

SYMBOLS

DL = Day Letter

NL = Night Letter

LC = International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is LOCAL TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is LOCAL TIME at point of destination

NY759 OB652

O SXB436 NL PD FAX SACRAMENTO CALIF 17

EDWARD R MURROW CBS NEWS

485 MADISON AVE NYK

GOVERNOR BROWN WILL BE GLAD TO WORK OUT A 15-MINUTE APPEARANCE WITH YOU DURING THE GOVERNOR'S CONFERENCE. PLEASE ARRANGE FURTHER DETAILS WITH ME.

HALE CHAMPION, PRESS SECRETARY TO GOVERNOR EDMUND G. BROWN

Gov. Collins

RECEIVED
1960 JUN 20 PM 8:24
C B S TELETYPE ROOM N.Y.

WU016 PD

FAX TALLAHASSEE FLO JUNE 20

444P EST

EDWARD R MURROW

CBS NEWS

REURTEL JUNE 16 GLAD TO PARTICIPATE IN INTERVIEW

AT GOVERNORS CONFERENCE REGARDS

LEROY COLLINS GOVERNOR

16

753P..

Gov. Michael Di Sal

THE STATE OF OHIO
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR STATE HOUSE, COLUMBUS

MICHAEL V. DISALLE
GOVERNOR

June 17, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS News
485 Madison Avenue
New York City, New York

Dear Ed:

It will be a pleasure to see you at the Governors' Conference. I will be happy to do anything possible to cooperate with your program.

Looking forward to seeing you there, I am

Sincerely,

MICHAEL V. DI SALLE
Governor

MVD:nd

Gov. George Docking

August 17, 1960

Governor George Docking
State Capitol
Topeka, Kansas

Dear Governor Docking:

I write belatedly to thank you for your gracious cooperation during the interview we filmed at Glacier National Park. I would have written earlier, but was somewhat occupied with the political conventions. We have not yet started editing the film but shall advise you when it is ready to be presented. Again, thank you for taking the time to answer my questions.

Sincerely yours,

ERM:ell

Gov. Docking

RECEIVED

1960 JUN 17 PM 2:54

TELETYPE ROOM N.Y.

WU009 PD

TOPEKA KANS JUN 17 1025ACST

EDWARD R MURROW CBS NEWS

GOV DOCKING WILL BE ~~XXXX~~ HAPPY TO BE INTERVIEWED AT GOVERNORS CONFERENCE. IF YOU WILL HAVE ONE OF YOUR STAFF U CONTACT ME AT MANY GLACIERS HOTEL I WILL WORK OUT DETAILS REGARDS

GENE SULLIVAN EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

242P..

ACK FOR 9 GA

Gov. Wm A. Egan

WILLIAM A. EGAN
GOVERNOR

STATE OF ALASKA
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
JUNEAU

August 24, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

It was kind of you to write as you did on August 17th, and please be assured it was a pleasure to participate in the interview filmed at Glacier National Park.

With best regards, I am

Sincerely,

William A. Egan

William A. Egan
Governor

CLASS OF SERVICE
This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION
TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS
DL=Day Letter
NL=Night Letter
LT=International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

1960 JUN 18 PM 4 28

NA087 NL PD=JUNEA ALASKA 17

=EDWARD R MURROW=

:RADIO NOD 49EAST 52 ST=

:COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM NEWS 485 MADISON AVE=

WILL BE PLEASED TO PARTICPATE IN TV PROGRAM AS OUTLINED YOUR TELEGRAM OF SIXTEENTH=

:WILLIAM A EAGAN GOVDRNOR OF ALASKA=

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

Gov. Orval Faubus

STATE OF ARKANSAS
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
LITTLE ROCK

ORVAL E. FAUBUS
GOVERNOR

June 23, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS News
485 Madison Avenue
New York City, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

This acknowledges your telegram of June 17th in which you request some fifteen minutes for an interview on state governmental problems during the Governors' Conference in Montana.

I am sure that I can find the time to talk with you, and, if so, I will be glad to do so.

Most sincerely,

Orval E. Faubus

Orval E. Faubus
Governor

OEF:dlh

Ark cabled JKM.

June 27, 1960

Governors' Conferenc

EDWARD R. MURROW
SWIFTCURRENT MOTEL GLACIER NATIONAL PARK
MONTANA

FAUBUS AGREES PARTICIPATE STOP INFORMATIVELY YOU INVITED MICKELSON DINNER FOR CBS WESTINGHOUSE ET AL JULY 9 REGARDS

SHEILA HOGG

514-70

Gov. Mark Hatfield

August 17, 1960

Governor Mark O. Hatfield
State Capitol
Salem, Oregon

Dear Governor Hatfield:

I write belatedly to thank you for your gracious cooperation during the interview we filmed at Glacier National Park. I would have written earlier, but was somewhat occupied with the political conventions. We have not yet started editing the film but shall advise you when it is ready to be presented. Again, thank you for taking the time to answer my questions.

Sincerely yours,

ERM:skh

MARK O. HATFIELD
GOVERNOR

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
STATE CAPITOL
SALEM

July 5, 1960

Dear Mr. Murrow:

It was most gratifying to spend a few minutes with you in Glacier and I shall look forward to the fall "Special Project" program with the various Governors.

Best wishes to you and your fine staff.

Sincerely,

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS News
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION

TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

SF-1201 (4-60)

SYMBOLS

DL = Day Letter

NL = Night Letter

LT = International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is LOCAL TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is LOCAL TIME at point of destination

1960 JUN 17 PM 9 22

NM522 PRA413

PR SMA212 NL PD FAX SALEM ORG 17

EDWARD R MURROW, CBS NEWS

485 MADISON AVE NYK

DELIGHTED TO JOIN YOU BEFORE CAMERA IN GLACIER AS PER YOUR WIRE. GLAD YOU ARE GETTING OPPORTUNITY TO GET BACK INTO THE NORTHWEST. WILL AWAIT FURTHER DETAILS. REGARDS AND THANKS

MARK O HATFIELD GOVERNOR OF OREGON.

Gov Luther Hodges

August 17, 1960

Governor Luther H. Hodges
State Capitol
Raleigh, North Carolina

Dear Governor Hodges:

I write belatedly to thank you for your gracious cooperation during the interview we filmed at Glacier National Park. I would have written earlier, but was somewhat occupied with the political conventions. We have not yet started editing the film but shall advise you when it is ready to be presented. Again, thank you for taking the time to answer my questions.

Sincerely yours,

KRM:ell

Gov. Luther Hodges

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT RALEIGH

LUTHER H. HODGES
GOVERNOR

July 28, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

This is to express my appreciation for your courtesy and thoughtfulness in connection with our interview at Glacier Park, Montana.

Sincerely yours,

Luther Hodges

LHH:lg

R2-3WU 110PTHX

WU006 PD

FAX RALEIGH NCAR JUN 17 1135A EST

EDWARD R MURROW CBS NEWS

RETEL WILL BE HONORED TO HAVE CONFERENCE WITH YOU ABOUT OUR STATE REGARDS

LUTHER H HODGES GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA

110P..

RECEIVED
1960 JUN 17 PM 1:16
C B S TELETYPE ROOM N.Y.

Gov. Abraham Ribicoff

ABRAHAM RIBICOFF
GOVERNOR

STATE OF CONNECTICUT
EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS HARTFORD

August 24, 1960

Dear Ed:

Thanks for your generous letter. I thoroughly enjoyed the interview at Glacier National Park.

Warm personal regards.

Sincerely,

Abe

Governor

R:aml

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York, 22, New York

Gov. Abraham Ribicoff

August 17, 1960

Governor Abraham A. Ribicoff
State Capitol
Hartford, Connecticut

Dear Governor Ribicoff:

I write belatedly to thank you for your gracious cooperation during the interview we filmed at Glacier National Park. I would have written earlier, but was somewhat occupied with the political conventions. We have not yet started editing the film but shall advise you when it is ready to be presented. Again, thank you for taking the time to answer my questions.

Sincerely yours,

EKM:ell

TAKE 2 PLS

WU007 PD
FAX HARTFORD CONN JUN 17 1220P EDT
EDWARD R MURROW CBS NEW

WILL BE PLEASED TO PARTICIPATE IN YOUR PROGRAM RE STATE PROBLEM
ABE RIBICOFF GOVERNOR
154P..

RECEIVED
1960 JUN 17 PM 2 00
C B S TELETYPE ROOM N.Y.

Gov. Rockefeller

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS

DL = Day Letter

NL = Night Letter

LT = International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

NA137 SY BNA464 PD=BINGHAMTON NY 21 847P EDT=

EDWARD R MURROW=

CARE SECURITY GUARD CBS NEWS 485 MADISON AVE NYK=

GOV ROCKEFELLER HAS ASKED ME TO TELL YOU HE WILL BE PLEASED TO DO 15 MINUTES WITH YOU AT GOVERNORS CONFERENCE= CALL ME AT JUDSON 27030 THURSDAY AFTERNOON TO WORK OUT DETAILS=

ROBERT L MCMANUS PRESS SECTY=

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

Gov. Wm Stratton
f

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

SPRINGFIELD

WILLIAM G. STRATTON
GOVERNOR

July 14, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS
New York City, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Because I realized you were busy in Los Angeles--and I enjoyed, as usual, watching and listening to your comments--I have delayed writing to thank you for the courteous and constructive interview at Glacier. Working with you was a pleasant experience.

Will you please extend to Mr. Beck and others on your staff my appreciation for their attention and interest.

With warm personal regards.

Sincerely,

William G. Stratton
Governor of Illinois

WGS:db

WU006 PD

BX SPRINGFIELD ILL JUN 20 929A CDT

EDWARD R MURROW CBS NEWS

RECEIVED
1960 JUN 20 PM 2:29
C B S TELETYPE ROOM N.Y.

WILL BE HAPPY TO PARTICIPATE IN YOUR PROGRAM DURING GOVERNORS CONFERENCE

WILLIAM G STRATTON GOVERNOR OF ILLINOIS

216P

..

Gov. Cecil Underwood

CECIL H. UNDERWOOD

GOVERNOR

STATE OF WEST VIRGINIA
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
CHARLESTON 5

August 25, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Thank you for your very kind letter of the seventeenth. It was a pleasure, indeed, to join you for an interview at Glacier National Park. I feel you are doing a great service by focusing attention on what the states can do to implement our national purpose.

Very sincerely,

CECIL H. UNDERWOOD
GOVERNOR

CHU/mjf

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION
TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

SF-1201 (4-60)

SYMBOLS

DL = Day Letter

NL = Night Letter

LT = International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is LOCAL TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is LOCAL TIME at point of destination

1960 JUN 17 AM 11 57

RG-NEW YORK

RGA031 CTD044

CT CNA140 PD FAX CHARLESTON K CO WVIR 17 1019 AEST

EDWARD R MORROW

CBS 485 MADISON AVE NYK

SHALL BE DEIGHTED TO DISCUSS WEST VIRGINIA WITH YOU AR THE GOVERNORS CONFERENCE

CEIL H UNDERWOOD GOVERNOR.

Egan, Wm. A.

July 6, 1960

Dear Governor Egan:

Mr. Murrow accepts with pleasure your kind invitation to attend a cocktail party on Tuesday, July 12th from 8 to 9 P.M. at the Biltmore Hotel.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Governor William A. Egan
The Alaska Delegation Hotel Biltmore
515 S. Olive Street
Los Angeles, California

Stein, Jules

July 6, 1960

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Stein:

Mr. Murrow accepts with pleasure your kind invitation to attend a cocktail party on Saturday, July 9th between 6 and 9 o'clock.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. and Mrs. Jules Stein
Box 30
Beverly Hills, California

Golda Meir 1960

Mrs. Golda Meir
The Minister for Foreign Affairs
and
Chairman of the Delegation of Israel to the Fifteenth Session of the General Assembly requests the pleasure of the company of

Mr. & Mrs. E. Murrow

at a reception
on Tuesday, the eleventh of October six-thirty to eight thirty p.m.
in the Crystal Ballroom Suite
The Park Lane, 299 Park Avenue

R.S.V.P.
Tr 9-6975

Yes'

Jun 4 1962

"TELLING AMERICA'S STORY TO THE WORLD"

U.S. INFORMATION AGENCY

WASHINGTON 25 D.C.

Office of Public Information
DUdley 3-2747 or 3-2743

Release No. 35

For Release 7:30 PM Sunday

Text of Commencement Address
by Edward R. Murrow Director, U.S. Information Agency at Washington State University Pullman, Washington

Mr. President, Honored Guests, Faculty and Students of Washington State University, Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am home again. Washington state was the site of my youth. Washington State was the site of my education. It seems in retrospect almost as long ago as it was in fact that I sat in those same chairs where now you sit and regarded a commencement occasion.

I am, Sir, indeed grateful for those encomiums of praise in your "Distinguished Alumnus Award." "Alumnus" you are compelled to acknowledge, for I hold the University degree. "Distinguished" is a more moot appellation. Reasonable minds might differ, as in the advice I recall from Homer's Iliad: "Praise from a friend, or censure from a foe, are lost on hearers that our merits know." The eminent words of the President of the Board of Regents are undoubtedly an illustration of those other words in the Notebooks of Samuel Butler. "Life is the art of drawing sufficient conclusions from insufficient premises."

I am grateful for your welcoming me back to Washington State. Those were happy years spent here. A man is a product of his education, his work, his travel, his reading, all his experience. But first among these mentioned is education. It was here that I found the contagious spark that is curiosity, the ravenous excitement that devours ideas, the emanating wisdom that hopefully opens the pathway of logic bypassing fancy and leading to fact.

I trust that as students you have less levity of spirit than that woeful student who regarded as gospel the nostrum of knowledge from Butler, "A hen is only an egg's way of making another egg." Butler, I am told, was wont to finish off audiences that regarded his remarks with sober and serious mien with his parting sally: "How holy people look when they are sea sick."

I departed these portals some bears little resemblance to the world of my return. In the interim the extremity of man's excesses have washed high on the sands of time. We are not, I think, handmaidens to but an incompetent Providence. But it would take only the greatest act of faith to believe that what humans have done in these decades has all been done in the name of humankind. "We live," commented William Dean Howells, "but a world has passed away, with the years that perished to make us men."

We are engaged in great confrontation with an implacable foe. It is both the refuge and the frustration of the academician to observe that the ultimate decision will be made upon the playing field of politics. Politics has often been called a game. But it was Bertrand de Jouvenel who pointed out the essential distinction. In a game man is free to play or not as he chooses. No such option is open to this generation of Americans.

If men play, they are free to limit their stakes. No such limitation is ours today. The old parties of the Weimar Republic never agreed to stake all their liberties and the lives of European Jews on a game of chance with Hitler. But this, in fact, was the stake they lost.

More disturbing still, it is not even necessary to know what is at stake. The rules of the game are simple: Play we must. And if we lose, only then in the goodness of time will be know what stake we have lost. Our game is in deadly earnest, for the stakes in our game of nationhood are indeed life as we live it.

If this world were tranquil our composure could be comforting. But tranquility has been now banished from the counsels of our calculations. Though this land is but 180 years young, we live still amid a revolutionary age.

We do not live alone. Around this globe, across these continents there are others who at long last have turned their battered countenance to the windward side of history. This, in large measure, is partly our own doing. In Henry Steele Commager's happy words, we are the oldest of the new nations. Ours was the first of the great world revolutions. It was no stroke of chance that a rioter arrested in front of a U.S. Information Agency library in Africa responded to questions with the phrase: "The tree of liberty must be refreshed from time to time with the blood of patriots and tyrants." He was quoting a U.S. book in continual circulation by an author named Thomas Jefferson.

Our revolutionary age has multiplied; there are not one but many revolutions: the political revolution of new nations, the economic revolution of new wants, the biological revolution of exploding populations, the scientific revolution of new knowledge.

The path of the future lies shrouded in the dynamic of change.

(more)

Though no man of rational wit would dare predict, it seems reasonable to conclude that that change and that future may be even more significant. And I suggest in all seriousness that anyone who believes that the future will be easier than the past is mad.

The chronicle of modern times has been the dominance of the North European nations. Even in this country we like to think that recent history has been moulded in our image. If that be the burden of your reflection, then savor well the poverty of your recollection.

America's day of one land among the many is ebbing. New centers of power arise from old ashes in Asia. By century's end China and India will be industrialized, and China's population will be close to one billion souls. Europe in its infant clothes of new born unity will in short time grow to the restiveness of rebellious adolescence. And who among us could doubt that regional unity will in its day come to Latin America and Africa?

The Atlantic civilization has not lost its focus, but the light of civilization will no longer be focused on the Atlantic. History is changing from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and to the Indian Ocean as well.

This is not the beginning of the American century. Nor is it the beginning of anyone else's century, certainly not the Communists'. And if there are other actors advancing onto the stage of life, it behooves us to acknowledge the reality that America will not be alone at center stage, and that modesty is never in ill grace.

It would also be unreal of us not to acknowledge that great advantage in these circumstances lies with the Communists. Revolution is predicated upon change. When the ordered society is in a state of change, the marketplace of ferment gives premium to the wares of Communism's deceit and hypocrisy. But let us not misread these events.

Communism did not invent the world's revolutions. Every one of them -- political, economic, biological, and scientific -- had their origins in our way of life. Wittingly or not, the West launched them all. It is Communism that takes advantage of the momentum we generated. They exploit the momentum with anti-imperialist jargon and proclaim their false brotherhood of Communist man. The debasement of their people, the fallacy of their promises, the abandonment of their principles, the humiliation of their leaders -- all this bears witness to the falsity of their creed. But it is to our everlasting shame that in the years since World War II we have given them by default the initiative that was our birth right.

There is irony in the belief that the struggle in this bi-polar world polarizes around the twin poles of "capitalism" and "Communism." The capitalism of Karl Marx is as dated here as the feudalism of the Czars is dated there. Marxist ideology suggests that there exists outside the Communist orbit a static and basic condition. They call it capitalism, and they assume that since the lifetime of Marx in the last century it has undergone no change. Anyone who has seen the world around us would acknowledge how false this is.

(more)

Our society today is the society of the middle way. It is the mixed society. We have proven to our peers that it is possible for the state to evolve social security and economic growth without banishing political and civil freedom. Far from being unstable and doomed as Marx predicted, our society has shown that the society functions best which functions on a basis of personal liberty and social concern.

And it happens elsewhere as well. There is today not one social and economic system outside the Communist orbit. There are near as many systems as there are countries. And some of them in their democratic economics are even closer to the ideals which Marx conceived as the good society than they are to the laissez faire capitalism of Marx's day.

Capitalism in its traditional sense exists in only one place today. It exists in Communist orthodoxy, in the minds and the mouthings of the Communist idealogue who spares his own belief the test of relevance to reality. Aware of it or not, the world has passed these poor souls by and left them whirling in violent backcurrents quite detached from the mainstream of real life.

But economic jargon all but obscures the main issue. The disagreement between Moscow and the West is not really a disagreement over which form of social system is most productive. It is rather a disagreement about what is most important in the first place in the lives of peoples. It is not capitalism versus Communism. It is at base the right of man to make his own choice free of the strictures of the state, and not the right of the state to pre-determine those choices for him. It is freedom versus coercion.

It has always been the privilege of this land to regard its future as sustained by the belief of optimism. We have always regarded our future as indestructible, compatible, malleable, even benign in the portent of its hope. But the agent forces of history no longer circumscribe us in so complacement a comfort. If one thing is certain it is that the consolation of our past will be sorely called to task, that forces are abroad today totally unlike anything that has gone before, and that if our yesterdays were sheltered our tomorrows will stand naked to our challenge.

I do not belittle that optimism. But I do suggest that our optimism has on occasion misled us.

It has, I suggest, given us a false degree of confidence as to how free we have been to mould history. When our success in history has coincided with the movement of history, it has led us to believe that history is the product of our own effort. It has not made realists of us when history runs not with, but counter to, our designs. It has made it not a sign of wisdom but a suspicion of weakness to think of what is impossible.

(more)

Optimism has done one thing further. It has given us an oversimplified idea of what is history. The forces that we have harnessed, placed in another environment, might give a totally different outcome. Our optimism conceives of technical progress as only enlarging productive powers. What, then, of technology having social repercussions quite different from productivity alone? Our optimism conceives of political hope as leading naturally to popular democracy, as it did in the cradle of our own country. What, then of politics in lands where the conditions of western democracy have never existed? Our optimism conceives of economic advance as an end and goal in itself, as it was in our grandfather's century of insufficiency. What, then, of the new problems of organization and values that come with the growth of abundance?

Optimism is not to be abandoned. But it is perhaps wisdom that it be tempered. This century has seen extraordinary attempts to reshape the running forces of history. Some men by force of will and wills of force have even imposed their will on history. But the toll for humanity has been near catastrophic.

Invariably, too, those changes successfully inaugurated have usually been in accord with the drift and direction of world history. I know of no successful revolution against the forces of technology and against popular political aspirations. No revolution has been able to preach anti-industrialism, the inequality of classes, or the ideas of classical and outdated capitalism. Even Mahatma Ghandi -- he who so disliked advancing technology and had the adoration of his people -- could not keep India closed to advancing modern technology. Those nations who have insisted on resisting the tide are noted best today for their stagnation. They have had no subsequent history that has been of world import.

The fact that history runs too deeply to be turned aside does not mean that our future is pre-determined. But it does mean our future will be moulded with scant comfort to those who shun challenge. To what ultimate end historic forces will carry us none can know. Who among us can gainsay what will be the final impact of science and technology, the end effect of egalitarian political ideals, the concluding results of collectivism, the outcome of social conscience. We only know that these influences are firmly mounted in the saddle of history. Short of the profoundest change in the character of civilization, or an incalculable redirection of events, these will dominate the environment that will be our future.

"The scene changes," said Vannevar Bush, "but the aspirations of men of good will persist." You are those future men of good will. The dilemmas and difficulties that my colleagues and I ponder in Washington will set the pattern of the problems that you in your day will confront.

(more)

If you are dissatisfied with the world your elders have moulded and regard the mess of porridge we leave as unpalatable, be not too harsh in your judgment of us. Marcus Connelly has a play, "The Green Pastures," in which the angel Gabriel turns to the character of God and says, "How about cleanin' up de whole mess of 'em and sta'tin all over ag'in wid some new kind of animal?" And God replies: "An' admit I'm licked?"

Ours is a land and a people built for great challenge. Those who regard their future with misgiving are the ones willing to give little to their future. And history will deal harshly with those who confront challenge with complancy.

But the legacy that we elders pass on will not be bereft of truths. This generation will have shown that heroes are not all daad. We will have shown that courage lives on. We will have restored the belief that faith and loyalty can lift common men to greatness.

And upon this you, the youth, will build. And you will build it well for you will have no other choice. We are all, in the phrase of Rabelais, going now to seek our great perhaps.

* * * * * * * *

VOA

Advertising Federation of America
Atlanta, Georgia
19 June 1963

My listed subject is "The Voice of America." I may stray from that, for, as you may know, the Voice of America is the radio arm of the U. S. Information Agency. It is therefore only one of some half dozen different media we use to communicate America's story to the world.

The U. S. Information Agency is in the communications business. We seek to tell others something about the kind of men who inhabit America. Our purpose is to associate this people and this government with the hopes and aspirations of other peoples. To do this we put to hopeful good effect every instrument of modern communication known to man.

We broadcast radio -- the Voice of America -- 789 hours every week in 36 languages daily. For special events coverage, such as the orbiting of Gordon Cooper, we broadcast in up to 62 languages. Every week, for use on overseas domestic stations translated into their native languages, our posts place locally 14,000 hours of taped broadcasting. We do not pay for this time.

We make moving pictures. Six hundred million people a month see USIA films produced in 52 languages.

We produce television, placing over 500 programs every year in 61 countries.

We are in the press business. We send a wireless news file transmitting 10,000 words daily to over 100 world posts. We print newspapers and magazines -- 66 magazines and 20 newspapers in 25 languages. We have a world-wide photo service, last year placing a million and a half pictures in newspapers around the world. We print pamphlets and cartoon strips -- over a million pamphlets last year, and five cartoon strips published in 87 countries -- including one that is the most widely read printed feature in the world.

We produce travelling exhibits, some 300 of them in continual use around the globe.

We publish books - five million of them last year, many of them in foreign translations, but not near enough.

We run libraries and binational centers -- 182 libraries in 88 countries and 159 binational centers, with approximately 30 million people visiting them each year.

We teach English, having instructed over a million persons since 1953. We are teaching English in classrooms to nearly one quarter million people this year. English lessons by television reach millions more.

In conjunction with the Department of State, we administer the education and cultural exchange program -- helping some 5,000 students, leaders and teachers every year to experience our country for themselves.

We work in private cooperation with U.S. business firms, with hundreds of separate concerns sending material to their thousands of representatives working abroad.

And this is all done by some 1,500 Americans and 7,000 foreign nationals working overseas, backed up by 2,500 Americans in this country, with our Agency budget last year of $131.6 million.

Our client is, of course, in advertising terms, the United States of America. More particularly, it is the government of the United States acting in behalf of the people of this land. Our client demands, and we owe him, only our very best.

We are on the ground in 104 different countries. Some of these countries are directly opposed, in varying degrees, one to the other: India and Pakistan, Israel and the Arab States, the Congo and South Africa, yet we must operate in them all.

The message we convey to them is not a simple one. Ours is a land of the multiple ideology. Democracy is not simple but complex. We allow, even encourage, dissent. Variety is our hallmark. We have made it a national credo not to have one belief, one rationale, one guide, one dogma. We have made a veritable dogma of having no dogma.

Thus it is that our Agency has been the recipient of great volumes of advice. The political scientist, the professor, the student, the researcher, the sociologist, the psychologist, the anthropologist, the newspaperman, the broadcaster, the businessman, the sales manager, the manufacturer, the diplomat, the advertiser, the public relations man, the missionary, the writer -- they all say they have answers for our business of propaganda. And, in truth, some do have some of the answer. But the very variety of source and suggestion is enough to suggest that no one person has a monopoly on the how of understanding the United States.

As a people, we prefer it this way. We would suspicion any man who suggests he has a monopoly on what to be or how to think or what to say. When someone comes forth to assert such, the American experience puts the lie to his assertion.

Our concern is with the idea and the ideal. We cannot gauge our success by sales. No profit and loss statement sums up our operations at the end of each year. No cash register rings when a man changes his mind, no totals are rung up on people impressed with an idea. There is no market listing of the rise or fall in the going rate of belief in an ideal. Often, one's best work may be merely to introduce doubt into minds already firmly committed. There are no tallies to total or sums to surmise when you've finished a day of explaining disarmament or discussing with the disenchanted the hope of an Alliance for Progress.

In short, gentlemen, our job is far different from selling a product to a single mass market. We are not selling America abroad. America is not for sale. Sloganeering and boasting of cars and washing machines is a product of the past. How much food and how many refrigerators we have in America is hardly a persuasive message to men who have no food either to refrigerate or to eat.

As you know, ours is an independent agency reporting directly to the President and receiving its budget through Congressional appropriations. We have no constituency, our work begins at the water's edge, our results are frequently intangible, we generally receive domestic publicity when we make a mistake. Our budget can be cut with political impunity, for no trade union, no arms manufacturer, no lobby ~~with~~ will bring pressure to bear upon Congress on our behalf.

To do our job we require people and money.

We do not know how much the communist world spends for propaganda and information. USIA has tried to estimate the size of the Soviet propaganda effort world-wide, but has found it impossible to strike a reliable estimate. But a study published by the Internal Security Subcommittee of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary in 1960 estimated, and I quote: "The various forms of communist propaganda throughout the world involve a personnel of about 500,000 and an annual expenditure of approximately $2,000,000,000..."

I quote further: "It can be said that Moscow (with slight aid from Peking) spends $2 a year per free man to be subjugated. To grasp the magnitude of this figure expressing the scope of the political war

Moscow wages against us, we should remark that an American Senate Committee has estimated the sums allocated by the United States to world propaganda at one and a quarter cents per person per year. If the budgets of all other free countries are added the total hardly comes to two cents.

"On this point the Soviet effort is roughly 100 times as great as that of all the rest of the world." End of quotation.

Yesterday we received the verdict on the U. S. Information Agency from the House of Representatives. We had asked for a total appropriation for Fiscal 1964 of $157.9 million. We were given $142.7 million, $15 million less than we had requested.

The House Appropriations Committee report stated, "No additional positions have been allowed except for the Voice of America..." That means a personnel ceiling -- a freeze.

We were allowed $110,000 to cover all representation and contact work by our officers in 239 posts in 104 countries. That breaks down to $75 per man per year. Not infrequently some of that money is used to entertain visiting Congressmen who later deny requests for money for entertainment. For the Agency's use in Washington, we are allowed $500 a year to entertain foreign cabinet ministers, prominent journalists, and the heads of visiting delegations.

Another figure may illustrate the point. The Russians attempt to jam the broadcasts of the free world. Were we to maintain and operate a jamming system equivalent to theirs, it would cost us $150,000,000 a year. The budget of the Voice of America is $23 million.

Let me share with you what we may have to face eliminating. Latin America and Africa are our two prime areas of concern.

In Latin America we asked for $10,747,000 to cover our operations in 23 countries. The United States, in concert with the other American republics, seeks in Latin America a social revolution across the span of an entire continent within the time of a few years without resort to violence. In all the noble deeds of man best chronicled by history there are no examples of success on so comparable a scale.

The modest commitment of my Agency's resources to this effort may have to be pared. We had plans for more films to show the failures of communism, to relate the Castro experience as part of a world-wide pattern of failure.

We planned films in addition to those already done to illumine the concept of the Alliance for Progress, films that would emphasize the self-help of Latins and the need for participation not just by governments alone but by people as well. But we shall probably not have enough dollars to tell the story to the extent we consider adequate and necessary.

We had plans to open branch posts this year. We have opened nine in the past two years. Their purpose is to move more of our operation to the people outside the capital cities, to tell our story to the people in the lonely bayous as well as those on the crowded beaches. This we may have to defer.

We have pioneered a new concept of reaching critically important groups: labor information officers and student affairs specialists. They live with workers and students, learning their thoughts and their problems, and then trying to relate what is good in America to what is needed in these countries. They have established contact, they have gained the confidence of these people, and now they need the material to support their efforts: new books, new printed matter, new films, new television, new ideas. Supplying them the back-up they need is now in question.

Or take Africa. We are staffing today 56 posts in 33 countries. Five years ago we were in only 16 countries.

Our role in Africa is complicated by that "nationhood explosion," by great distances, infinite variety, and constant challenges of climate and culture. We have the burden of explaining America's race problem to an African continent acutely aware that our Negro citizens are of African origin. We are pressed to explain that we are not racist, that quite to the contrary the government and majority of this country support the Negro movement to progress. But we must explain as well the difficulties of moving fast, the limits of the law in a land that respects law. The phenomenon of social change has to be explored in considerable depth by all the means at our disposal.

There is considerable belief that we are a country of extreme conservatism, that we cannot accommodate social change, that we have no consideration for the development of the rest of the world, that we have never grown beyond what is essentially a 19th century society.

The increase we had requested in Africa was only $1.8 million. What had we planned to do with it?

We must reach the African setting forth U.S. policy in terms the African can understand and appreciate. We had hoped to set up a regional printing center to produce material covering African-U.S. exchanges of people, AID economic assistance programs, setting forth aspects of U.S. history and institutions relevant to Africa, pointing out common elements of our heritage.

We had hopes of a series of documentary films on how the United States is aiding Africa in the formidable task of educating a continent of people who see education as their springboard into the 20th century. We would have filmed AID construction for the University and colleges in Ethiopia, or the vocational training school in Guinea, or films on Food for Peace programs, where the U.S. has averted famine and provided jobs. This, too, is an aspect of the United States concern worth telling to the Africans.

We wanted as well to open information centers in five new areas of Africa. What the magic of space is to this country, the magic of education is to Africa. We want to reach the moon; they want to reach their own minds. These new centers would have provided books and libraries and equipment to tell the story of the United States to Africa's leaders of tomorrow being trained today. Two of these would have been in Nigeria where the U.S. investment of interest is great and two others would have been in the Congo, a country still living in the shadow of its own crisis.

Or take the Far East. Our Agency there is deeply involved in the psychological struggle that will determine Asia's future for good or ill. We have committed ourselves and our energies to assist people to understand the alternatives and to make the decisions that will point to freedom. Further, there is a shooting war in Vietnam where our country has committed high stakes of national interest.

USIA is literally in the front lines there. We have mobile information teams, accompanied by a doctor, which circulate the countryside visiting villages, gathering the leaders and assembling the people, discussing and treating their needs both medical and psychological, seeking to tie the country together and rousing interest in their own self-betterment. We are in the strategic hamlets with newspapers and pamphlets and films and radios, with guidance and instruction and advice for a sorely tried people. We use helicopters for access, not buying them ourselves but going piggyback in those of other agencies whenever the need is great enough.

At Hong Kong we have a Center gathering information from the Chinese communist mainland and disseminating that information for world-wide use. From there we feed material back for the Voice of America to broadcast to the mainland; we feed material for our wireless file to convey to the 104 countries of USIA operation around the world; we produce Chinese language radio programs for placement in South Asia and run a Chinese book translation program for one of the key political audiences in Southeast Asia, the millions of overseas Chinese who live in other countries of the area.

Or regard some of the particular media we use. Television grows enormously. Last year close to two new television transmitters came on the air somewhere in the world every single day -- Saturdays and Sundays included. The appetite of overseas transmitters for product is voracious. They make no charge for time. They get no payment for carrying our programs. To gain similar access to such a burgeoning communication instrument, the Russians would pay -- how many millions would you guess? USIA gets the air time free. But we may not be able to make our best efforts to use it.

Our Television Service last year spent $3.9 million. To meet the expansion of world TV, we asked to add $3 million more, and to add new personnel to meet the new demand. But instead we received an unsympathetic response and a personnel ceiling for the Agency at its present level.

This means that two new studio facilities being constructed to replace our primitive facilities would not be staffed properly. Additional production over 1963 would be curtailed.

A regional TV production center in Mexico City would be out.

The most popular TV series this Agency has ever done, "Let's Learn English" and "Let's Speak English," would be cut to one-half its planned production.

Our ability to do timely and high quality video-taped and filmed programs on major issues and themes -- such as the President's two recent speeches on peace and integration -- would be reduced by three-fourths.

Acquisitions from commercial networks and cooperative programs with private and educational producers would be less than one-third that proposed for 1964.

Successful current programs would have to continue at the current level despite requests that would permit an increase of both quality and quantity; Japanese television, for example, has requested that our "Washington Report" be produced every week instead of the present every two week schedule. They will probably have to be refused.

Additional programs for Africa, the Near East, and East Europe, where output is now low, would likely not come to fruition.

Or take our Press Service. Our Arabic magazine for the Middle East, Al Hayat, could not go to production every month as we had proposed; it may have to stay a bi-monthly. Or consider America Illustrated, our Russian and Polish language magazine. Russians have been seen in block-long lines at kiosks to buy the magazine in the dead of winter. The Russians tightly control the number of copies they permit us to sell, but our agreement with them may permit us nearly to double our print run. The increases we requested would have covered the cost of doing this.

This Agency has spearheaded the intelligent use of the motion picture in the national interest to a degree unprecedented in the United States with the possible exception of World War II. This development has taken place in the last year. Its success is evidenced by the response from overseas as well as by the favorable appraisal of the effort by the press, officials in government, and members of the Congress.

Now that USIA has put the government in the position of having the operating potential to make use of American film-making resources, it is indeed a setback to receive a vote of no confidence from the House of Representatives. On last year's limited production budget, we produced examples of what might be done in various fields with motion pictures. In Fiscal Year 1964 we had expected to have funds available to put America's most talented film-makers to work on themes of priority importance. The necessary funds included an increase in per-picture costs and an increase in the number of pictures.

We intended to treat such issues as America's racial challenge in a series of films which would explain to the world this most basic of American problems. We wanted to do 30 films on subjects such as Disarmament and the need for a Test Ban, Progress through Freedom on the U.S. social scene, the results of communism. The budget cuts may slice this plan in half.

Of great significance is our book program -- significant because, in a world awakening to the revolution of education, books and the access to knowledge will guide the minds of those new literates who will dream great dreams. The communists are aware of this. Last year they published 40,000,000 volumes in non-bloc languages. They caused to be published around the world another 100 million. USIA last year published five million. This year we asked for funds to publish some three million more, particularly in Spanish and Portuguese for Latin America where we have managed to build a modest momentum. The House appropriation could hold us at our present level. And our modest goal was for 8 million next year against their 140 million this year.

Of course, all these things I mention -- and they are but a partial list -- will not have to be eliminated. But all have varying degrees of urgency, and the restrictive judgment of the House of Representatives forces us to painful choices in which some national interest must be compromised and some precious national opportunities cannot be seized.

Most people in this country never know of our Agency unless it gets into trouble. Learn of us now, because we're in trouble now.

We had asked for a budget increase that we thought we could spend effectively and efficiently. We want only the tools of our trade.

We shall try to restore the cuts in the Senate.

Either the House of Representatives believes in the potency of ideas and the importance of information or it does not. On the record, it does not so believe. It is the function of the Congress to decide these matters. It is the duty of those concerned with this global struggle, however, to utter warnings as to the consequences that may be expected to flow from a policy which denies the United States the opportunity to compete on equal terms. Money alone won't do it -- the propaganda of the deed is more important than the propaganda of the word. But we must be heard and we must be read, particularly by those in the emerging nations who are examining old ideas and new allegiances. If we fail, history will take its revenge.

The United States Information Agency is not a perfect instrument, but it is maturing and its product is improving. It is the government agency charged with the responsibility of exporting ideas and information. More money will not guarantee success, but insufficient money will threaten failure.

We are being out-spent, out-published, and out-broadcast.

We are a first-rate power. We must speak with a first-rate voice abroad.

* * * * * * * *

Academic Freedom Subcomm.
Eng. Dec.

March 1, 1955

Dear Miss Fischer:

Many thanks for your letter of February 21st inviting me to be your guest speaker at a dinner.

I regret very much that I cannot accept since the pressure of my radio and television schedule this season makes it impossible for me to undertake any extra-curricular activities whatsoever.

Thank you again for the invitation.

Sincerely yours,

Miss Eleanor Fischer, Chairman
Academic Freedom Subcommission
National Academic Freedom Commission
Cornell University
Ithaca, New York

fc

invitation

U. S. N. S. A.

National Academic Freedom Commission

WILLARD STRAIGHT HALL CORNELL UNIVERSITY ITHACA, N. Y.

February 21, 1955

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The week of April 18 - 24 has been declared National Academic Freedom Week by the United States National Student Association. Observances are to be held by all member schools across the nation. Cornell University, though forced by scheduling difficulties to postpone its program to the week of April 24, is planning what we hope will be an enlightening and interesting series of lectures and discussions centered around the basic problems faced by educational institutions as a result of present-day attacks upon academic freedom. Since the National Academic Freedom Subcommission is situated at Cornell, we realize that our own "Week" will serve as an example to other schools throughout the country, and are diligently working to insure its success.

The effectiveness of the program, however, depends to a great extent upon the caliber of its leadership. For this reason, we are taking the liberty of asking you to attend a dinner, which will be held on Sunday evening, April 24th, at 7:00 p.m., as our guest speaker. We would consider it an honor if you would accept, for your experience and interest would contribute to the success not only of the dinner, but of the entire week.

Of course we realize that you are very busy, but we feel that the importance of the occasion warrants this invitation. We, as students, have long been accused of apathy towards problems of this nature even though they directly affect us as members of the academic community. This accusation has more than a semblance of truth. And, when apathy is coupled with that other cancer of a democratic society - ignorance - you encounter a situation which no nation relying upon the wisdom and understanding of its young people, can long permit to exist. In proclaiming National Academic Freedom Week, the NSA seeks to awaken interest in, and increase knowledge of the nature of academic freedom, the better to protect it, and with it, the entire democratic heritage of which Americans so proudly boast. This is our objective, and we earnestly hope that, with your aid, it will be met.

Since we are in the process of planning and the "Week" is not far off, we would appreciate a prompt reply.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely yours,
Eleanor Fischer

Eleanor Fischer, Chairman
Academic Freedom Subcommission

American Jewish Council
Eng file

March 1, 1955

Dear Mr. Schatz:

Many thanks for your letter of February 21.

I wish it were possible for me to be the guest speaker at the celebration of the 300th Anniversary of Jewish Life in America, but very much regret my inability to do so.

April 19th falls on a Tuesday, and as you know, that is a SEE IT NOW day.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Julius Schatz
American Jewish Congress
15 East 84th Street
New York 28, New York

fc

American Jewish Congress

ISRAEL GOLDSTEIN President

SHAD POLIER Chairman Executive Committee

MAX A. KOPSTEIN Chairman Administrative Committee

THELMA RICHMAN Secretary

BENJAMIN S. KALNICK Treasurer

Vice-Presidents:
HENRY C. BERLIN Boston
MORTON M. BERMAN Chicago
PHILIP S. BERNSTEIN Rochester
HAROLD B. COHEN New York
NATHAN L. EDELSTEIN Philadelphia
HORACE M. KALLEN New York
JUSTINE WISE POLIER New York
I. H. PRINZMETAL Los Angeles
JAMES N. ROSENBERG New York
ISIDOR TEITELBAUM New York

DAVID W. PETEGORSKY, Executive Director
ISAAC TOUBIN, Associate Director

STEPHEN WISE CONGRESS HOUSE, 15 EAST 84th STREET • NEW YORK 28, N. Y. • TRAFALGAR 9-4500

February 21, 1955

nice Regrets

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York City

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I know that I have written and referred invitations to you in the past which you were good enough to consider but were regretfully unable to accept.

At this time I have the very pleasant task of inviting you for a different and special occasion. The Philadelphia Women's Division is one of our largest and most active affiliates, headed by Mrs. Fanny Goldstein, a sister-in-law of Dr. Israel Goldstein.

They are devoting the luncheon on April 19th to a commemoration of the 300th Anniversary of Jewish Life in America and to a remembrance of the tenth year observance of the release of the inmates of concentration camps by the Allied armies.

This is almost a sacred event and they have informed me that they would like to have no one else but yourself as the guest speaker on such a momentous occasion.

I do hope and pray that you will find it possible to make it. Please let me know as soon as you can. Thank you. With warmest regards,

Sincerely yours,

Julius Schatz

Julius Schatz, Director Community Service Bureau

JS/fj

Chicago Council on Foreign Eng Relations

DECEMBER 11, 1953

MR. CARTER L. DAVIDSON
THE CHICAGO COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS
116 SOUTH MICHIGAN AVENUE
CHICAGO 3, ILLINOIS

PLEASE FORGIVE DELAY IN ANSWERING YOUR VERY KIND LETTER AND INVITATION OF NOVEMBER 17th. HAD BEEN HOPING VERY MUCH THAT I COULD FIND SOME WAY OF ATTENDING THE BANQUET BUT MY TELEVISION AND RADIO COMMITMENTS THIS SEASON ARE DEPRIVING ME OF MANY PLEASANT OCCASIONS INCLUDING YOUR BANQUET.

ED MURROW

1-43

DECEMBER 11, 1953

MISS JUDITH WALLER
NATIONAL BROADCASTING COMPANY MERCHANDISE MART
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

HAVE HAD MOST REGRETFULLY TO DECLINE CARTER DAVIDSON'S KIND INVITATION TO BANQUET BEING GIVEN BY CHICAGO COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS. HAD DELAYED WRITING HIM BECAUSE WAS HOPING I COULD FREE MYSELF FROM OTHER COMMITMENTS AND BE PRESENT ON THIS PLEASANT OCCASION. I AM DEEPLY SORRY THAT THINGS DIDN'T WORK OUT THAT WAY. REGARDS

ED MURROW

1-43

...RVICE
...s a full-rate ...am or Cable-...n unless its de-...red character is in-...ated by a suitable ...bol above or pre-...ing the address.

WESTERN UNION

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1220

1953 DEC 2 PM 8 46

= (15) =

SYMBOLS
DL=Day Letter
NL=Night Letter
LT=Int'l Letter Telegram
VLT=Int'l Victory Ltr.

...iling time shown in the date line on telegrams and day letters is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

NA660 DL PD=WUX NEWYORK NY 2 752P ME=

EDWARD MURROW=
580 PARK AVE=

1953 DEC 2 PM 9 03

=NO NOVEMBER 17, CARTER DAVIDSON, DIRECTOR OF COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS, WROTE ADVISING YOU THAT THE COUNCIL WAS AWARDING YOU ITS FIRST CITATION FOR THE OUTSTANDING JOB YOU HAVE DONE TOWARDS WORLD UNDERSTANDING, AND ASKING IF YOU COULD COME TO CHICAGO FOR A DINNER TENTATIVELY SET FOR FEBRUARY 27, THOUGH THIS COULD BE CHANGED IF ANOTHER TIME WOULD BE MORE AGREEABLE TO YOU. WE WANT YOU VERY MUCH INDEED AND I, AS A MEMBER OF THE BOARD, WOULD LIKE TO ADD A SPECIAL PLEA THAT YOU GIVE THIS REAL CONSIDERATION. REGARDS=

JUDITH WALLER NBC CHICAGO=

17 27

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

a non-partisan, non-profit organization founded in 1922, to provide public understanding of the United States' role in world affairs

THE CHICAGO COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS

116 SOUTH MICHIGAN AVENUE
CHICAGO 3, ILLINOIS
RAndolph 6-3860

officers
Melvin Brorby, president
John Nuveen
Mrs. John Root
R. Sargent Shriver, Jr. vice presidents
Richard H. Templeton treasurer
Carter L. Davidson executive director

advisory council
Graham Aldis
Laird Bell
Richard Bentley
Walter T. Fisher
Clay Judson
Walter Lichtenstein
George Richardson
Adlai E. Stevenson
Frederic Woodward

board of directors
Laurance H. Armour, Jr.
Charles A. Bane
William McC. Blair, Jr.
George W. Blossom, III
Rev. Edward V. Cardinal
Kenneth Colegrove
Robert Cossum
Mrs.G. Corson Ellis
Max Epstein
Marshall Field, Jr.
Stanley M. Freehling
Daggett Harvey
Lawrence Howe, Jr.
James P. Hume
John H. Johnson
Walter Johnson
Meyer Kestnbaum
Mrs. Milton J. Krensky
Mrs. Earl Kribben
John T. Landreth
John O. Levinson
Brunson MacChesney
Edward D. McDougal, Jr.
Stephen A. Mitchell
Manley S. Mumford
George W. Overton
Albert Pick, Jr.
E. W. Puttkammer
Mrs. Kay Ratto
Daniel Catton Rich
Mrs. Charles P. Schwartz
Gordon Smith
Mrs. Thomas S. Tyler
Clifton M. Utley
Judith Waller
Mrs. H. Stanley Wanzer
Mrs. J. Harris Ward Hubert Will Jack Williamson
Edward Foss Wilson
Mrs. Milton J. Winogrond
Frank H. Woods, Jr.
Louise Leonard Wright

November 17, 1953

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
580 Park Avenue
New York 21, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

It is my privilege to inform you that the Board of Directors of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations has voted you "Man of the Year" in the communications world. You will receive the first "World Understanding Award" to be issued by the Council. Your selection for this award was made because of your contribution to world understanding generally, and specifically for your broadcast on Berlin. This award will be presented to you at a banquet to be given by the Council on Friday, February 19.

We will, of course, be delighted if you will be present in person to receive it and to address the banquet. Two other awards will be made at the same time to recognize the television and radio programs originating in Chicago which have contributed most to an understanding of America's role in world affairs.

I am enclosing a new list of Council officers, directors and sponsors for your information.

Please let me know as soon as possible whether you will be able to be in Chicago February 19. We will, of course, defray any expenses you incur on the trip. May I add my personal congratulations both for this award and for the continued excellence of your programs.

Sincerely,

Carter L. Davidson

Carter L. Davidson
Director

CHIEF CM

CLD/cc

~~"8th Floor"~~

I'LL DO WHATEVER YOU SAY BUT I'D JUST AS LEAVE NO BE COMMITTED

Crusade for Freedom

Eng Dec

September 19, 1952

Dear Mr. Wilson:

I write in response to your invitation under date of September 12.

The plight of those behind the Iron Curtain is a matter of continuing concern to me. Many of my friends are there; nevertheless, I am obliged to decline your invitation.

I am persuaded that individual, unplanned, uncoordinated "messages of hope for the day of eventual liberation" are likely to do more harm than good. I do not believe that we as a people or as a government have plans or policies calculated to achieve liberation, and in the absence of such plans or policies I, as an individual, would prefer to keep silent lest the raising even of my small voice raise false hopes in the heart of one of my friends behind the Iron Curtain. I am aware that many of my friends among the exiled groups in this country and many sincere American citizens do not share my view. I respect their sincerity and their motives but must continue to doubt the effectiveness of their methods.

Sincerely yours,

/s/ E.R.Murrow

Mr. Charles E. Wilson
Crusade for Freedom, Inc.
29 West 57th Street
New York 19, New York

dm

cc: Fred Friendly

Crusade for Freedom, INC.

NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS, 29 WEST 57th STREET, NEW YORK 19, N. Y. PLAZA 3-5201

HENRY FORD II, Chairman

September 12, 1952

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

On next Sunday, September 21st, the Crusade for Freedom will inaugurate an important part of its 1952 campaign. This program will enable the American people to record their personal messages of hope and encouragement to those peoples now suffering under Communist domination. We earnestly request your personal participation along with other leaders in the communications industry.

The pilot recording booth will be set up in the lobby of the Park Sheraton Hotel in New York. Sunday, the 21st, between 4 and 8 p.m., will be devoted to recording the messages of representative exile leaders of the nations now under Communist domination, prominent members of all religious faiths, national, state and city leaders, and representatives of the American press, radio, television and motion pictures. The recorded messages will be broadcast over Radio Free Europe, Radio Free Asia and the Voice of America.

I urge you, as a leader in the field of communications and as an individual deeply concerned about the cause of world freedom, to join with this representative group of American and exile leaders in recording your personal definition of freedom as a message of hope for the day of eventual liberation. This message should be brief, for the spirit of sympathy and friendship of the American people for those now enslaved by Kremlin-controlled masters is the vital message of the program.

This program will continue throughout the week of September 21st from 4 to 8 p.m. each day, ending on Friday, September 26th. Each day will be devoted to recording the freedom messages of representatives of major groups in this country. If you cannot attend the inaugural ceremonies on the 21st, I sincerely hope you will record your message during the week. Should it be impossible for you to be present on any of these days, we ask you to send your representative, so that your message may be included with the many others which will reach those now cut off from the free world by the "iron curtains" of Eastern Europe and Asia.

We hope this program will be the forerunner of similar ones to be conducted throughout the country during the 1952 Crusade for Freedom campaign. Your participation is vital to the success of this undertaking. May I ask you to write me here at the Crusade office so that we may count on your support?

Sincerely,

Charles E. Wilson
National Campaign Chairman

Crusade for Freedom Fact Sheet

In September, 1952, the Crusade for Freedom entered its third year as a force in the fight against Communism. Its major objective, to enlist the aid of the American people in a successful fight for freedom, remains unchanged.

On July 4, 1952, Radio Free Europe first went on the air with a single low-power transmitter in Germany. This was a significant experiment to find out if a privately operated radio network could play an important and unique role in psychological warfare. It was soon proved that such a weapon could do much. As a result, two months later the Crusade for Freedom was inaugurated to obtain the popular support which would allow Radio Free Europe to expand its operations.

The Crusade has collected almost $3,500,000. Over 25,000,000 Americans have pledged their faith in the purposes of the Crusade and Radio Free Europe. Almost equally important, the Crusade has helped to make Americans aware of the true menace of world Communism.

With the support given by Americans inspired by the Crusade for Freedom, Radio Free Europe has grown from its original small station to a powerful network of 13 transmitters, broadcasting 1086 hours a week to six satellite nations behind the Iron Curtain. RFE's operation has been hard-hitting and effective, relying on the truth to oppose Communist lies. Its news sources provide it with information which the Communists try to suppress; its programs offer to the peoples behind the Iron Curtain continuing proof of the enormous gap between Red promises and actions.

The effectiveness of this approach has been powerfully demonstrated. Soviet propagandists must give an increasing amount of time toward trying to counteract the damning facts given by Radio Free Europe. Official Red government protests have been made against RFE. There are numerous reports of Communist informers and secret police whose effectiveness was lost when they were exposed by RFE.

In September 1951 Radio Free Asia went on the air to carry the fight against Communism across the Pacific. This new operation has received aid from the Crusade for Freedom and is already an important weapon in fighting Communism in the Far East.

In August 1951 the Crusade for Freedom added another weapon of psychological warfare when it launched 13,000 balloons carrying 12,000,000 leaflets across the Iron Curtain. This Winds of Freedom operation was successful beyond the most optimistic hopes and provides a special weapon to supplement Radio Free Europe.

On November 11th, under the National Chairmanship of Henry Ford, II, and with the campaign leadership of Charles E. Wilson, the Crusade for Freedom will open its 1952 campaign to obtain once again the support of the American people in its fight against Communism.

Delta Council

Eng Dec

8 10

MAY 12, 1952

HON. FRANK E.SMITH
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON, D.C.

MOST GRATEFUL YOUR LETTER MAY 1 AND SINCERELY REGRET THAT I AM UNABLE ACCEPT YOUR GRACIOUS INVITATION TO ATTEND DELTA COUNCIL MEETING IN MISSISSIPPI ON MAY 15. UNFORTUNATELY FOR ME, MY SUNDAY TV PROGRAM REQUIRES ME TO BE IN NEW YORK THURSDAY THRU SUNDAY. THANK YOU FOR ASKING ME.

E.R.MURROW

1-43-7

SMITH SISSIPPI

COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC WORKS

SUBCOMMITTEES ON: FLOOD CONTROL ROADS

Congress of the United States
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.

May 1, 1952

Re.

Mr. Edwin R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

On May 15 the Delta Council will hold its annual meeting at Cleveland, Mississippi. The principal speakers at the meeting will be Mr. William Faulkner and Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina.

With the exception of his acceptance speech upon receiving the Nobel Prize, this is Mr. Faulkner's first public address. Governor Byrnes' speech will be his first since the announcement by President Truman that he would not be a candidate for re-election.

Most of the membership of the Delta Council is included in the district which I have the honor to represent in Congress. On behalf of the Council, I would like to invite you to attend our May 15 meeting. The principal speeches will be at the afternoon session beginning at 2 P. M. Airline connections from the East to Memphis make it possible to go to Cleveland and return in less than 24 hours.

At the 1947 Council meeting then Under Secretary Acheson made the speech which was the "trial balloon" announcement of the Marshall Plan. Our speakers in 1951 were Dr. Benjamin Cohen of the U. N., and Governor Val Peterson of Nebraska. Other recent speakers have included Senator Harry F. Byrd, Secretaries of Agriculture Anderson and Brannan, Thurman Arnold, Gov. Sam Jones of Louisiana, David Cohn and John Duncan Miller.

The annual Council meeting attracts a large audience, and I believe you will be impressed by the broad public interest of the membership. I hope it will be possible for you to be present.

Cordially,

Frank Smith

Frank E. Smith, M. C.

FES:fml

Eng Dec
Harriman, W. Averell

October 26, 1953

Dear Averell:

Many thanks for your kind invitation to attend a dinner you are giving for Mr. Ghulam Mohammed on Friday, November 13th at eight o'clock. I am so sorry I shall not be able to come, for this will surely be a very enjoyable gathering; but Friday is the night for my new television show, PERSON TO PERSON, which goes on at 10:30 pm. I tell you this not by way of advertisement but just to explain why it is that having left the radio studio at 8:00 pm and being expected in the television studio for rehearsal I cannot come to your dinner.

Best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. W. Averell Harriman
16 East 81 Street
New York 28, New York

rh

W. AVERELL HARRIMAN
16 EAST EIGHTY-FIRST STREET
NEW YORK 28, N.Y.

K.C.
Reg.
for P to P. personal EM

October 20, 1953

Dear Ed:

I am giving a small dinner for Mr. Ghulam Mohammed, Governor General of Pakistan, at my house on Friday, the thirteenth of November, at eight o'clock.

The evening will be most informal. I have known Mr. Mohammed well for a number of years, particularly when he was Minister of Finance and Economics, and I have found he enjoys an intimate exchange of views.

I hope very much that you will be able to join us.

Sincerely,

Averell

Mr. Edward V. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

McCrary, Tex - NBC
Eng Dec.

MARCH 22, 1954

TEX MCCRARY
NBC, NEW YORK

THANKS VERY MUCH. I AM IN WASHINGTON FOR THE NEXT TWO WEEKS AND THIS BUSINESS OF FIVE RADIO SHOWS AND TWO XXXXX HALF HOUR TELEVISION PROGRAMS PLUS THE CURRENT RUMPUS JUST PLAIN LEAVES ME NO TIME TO TAKE ON ANYTHING ADDITIONAL. I SAY YOU MY BEST THATS FOR THE INVITATION AND THE KIND WORDS. REGARDS

ED MURROW
1-43-7

WU020 PD

NEWYORK NY MAR 19 1152AME

EDWARD R MURROW,CBS

WE WOULD LIKE TO INTERVIEW YOU FOR OUR RADIO
X PROGRAM AS QUICKLY AS MIGHT BE CONVENIENT FOR YOU WE WOULD OF COURSE LIKE ALSO TO INTERVIEW
YOU ON THE AFTERNOON TV PROGRAM BJUXXX BUT REALIZE THAT THIS MIGHT BE DIFFICULT FOR YOU IT MIGHT INTEREST
YOU THOUGH TO WATCH YOUNG BUCKLEY ON OUR TV PROGRAM
TUESDAY AFTERNOON FROM 2 TO 3, WHEN A JURY OF COLLEGE EDITORS WILL BE THERE TO QUIZ HIM EVEN THOUGH YOU WILL PROBABLY GET A PURPLE HEART WITH MUD CLUSTERS FOR YOUR ROLE IN THIS CONTROVERSY
FROM THOSE OF US WHO WORK FOR THE NEUTRAL BROADCASTING COMPANY YOU GET A CONGRESSIONAL MEDAL OF HONOR

TEX MCCRARY

1219P..

RECEIVED
1954 MAR 19 PM 12:35
C.B.S. TRAFFIC DEPT. N.Y.

RECEIVED
1954 MAR 19 PM 12:35
C.B.S. TRAFFIC DEPT. N.Y.

MEMORANDUM

MR. MERRILL C. MEIGS
326 WEST MADISON STREET
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS
ANDOVER 3-1234

1500 NORTH LAKE SHORE DRIVE
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS
SUPERIOR 7-1077

National Council of Christian and Jews dinner – November 29th

The WALDORF-ASTORIA
NEW YORK

Correspondence
Meigs, Merrill C.

November 1, 1955

Dear Mr. Meigs:

I have this morning had a conversation with Gordon Howard who told me of your gracious invitation to talk to the National Council of Christians and Jews on November 29th. For many years I have been familiar with the work of the organization and am an admirer of its aims and objectives. Unfortunately, I have no alternative but to decline your invitation with sincere regret. I am obligated to prepare and produce a ninety-minute television program on November 27th, and in addition I am committed to five quarter-hours of radio each week plus a half-hour of television. This literally leaves me no time to prepare or deliver speeches of any kind.

I am grateful for the invitation and truly sorry that I cannot accept.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Merrill C. Meigs
326 West Madison Street
Chicago, Illinois

rh
cc: Mr. Gordon Howard

Penn. Federation of Women's Clubs
Eng Dec

March 22, 1954

Dear Don:

Thank you for your letter. I am sorry but the only thing we can possibly tell Mrs. Lodholz is that my present schedule of five radio and two television shows each week makes it impossible for me to undertake any speaking engagments whatsoever.

As you know I shall be in Philadelphia on Wednesday and shall be at the Fellowship Council, but this is one of the very rare exceptions to a rule I had to make for myself at the beginning of the current season not to attend any public functions.

Best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Donald W. Thornburgh
President
Station WCAU Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

rh

WCAU
PHILADELPHIA

PRESIDENT
ORNBURGH

March 15, 1954

Dear Ed:

Mrs. Edward Lodholz has been very aggressive in calling us and writing us regarding the possibility of your speaking at the fifty-seventh annual convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Womens Clubs on Monday, May 17, 1954.

She tells us that the convention will be attended by about thirteen hundred delegates from all parts of Pennsylvania, representing 860 clubs with a total membership of 83,000 women. They would like to have you be the principal speaker at their dinner Monday evening or, if a dinner engagement is not possible for you, to speak at the afternoon session.

They mention an honorarium of $250. They felt that since the theme of their convention is "Our American Heritage" that what you might want to say would be most appropriate to the occasion.

Naturally, we would be very happy to have you here for such an occasion and would appreciate your reply so that I can relay the word to Mrs. Lodholz.

Yours most sincerely,

Don

My signature is necessitated by Mr. Thornburgh's departure from the city after dictating this letter. Mary Chance

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Saturday Review

Eng Dec.

MAY 7, 1952

MR. RAYMOND WALTERS, JR.
THE SATURDAY REVIEW
25 WEST ~~XXXXXXXXXXX~~ 45TH STREET
NEW YORK

IT IS ENORMOUSLY FLATTERING TO BE ASKED TO CONTRIBUTE TO THE SATURDAY REVIEW ON ANY SUBJECT BUT I AM FORCED TO DECLINE YOUR INVITATION. COMBINED RADIO AND TELEVISION COMMITMENTS CAUSE ME TO WORK SEVEN-DAY WEEK AND TO UNDERTAKE WHAT YOU SUGGEST WOULD MEAN A SLOPPY JOB THAT WOULD SATISFY NEITHER OF US. PLEASE EXPRESS MY DEEP APPRECIATION AND REGRETS TO PROFESSOR SEARS. REGARDS

EDWARD R. MURROW

1-43-7

The Saturday Review
of LITERATURE
25 West 45th Street, New York 19, N. Y.

May 6, 1952

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow,

I am writing at the request of Paul B. Sears of Yale University who is editing the Saturday Review's Tenth Annual University Press Issue to be published on June 14.

One of the chief features of the issue will be a section appraising the contributions which university presses have made to the general lay public (as distinct from scholarly specialists). We are asking some half dozen men, distinguished in such fields as journalism, music and the fine arts, history, science, etc., to write briefly and informally about the university press publications thay have found useful in their vocations and avocations. If they feel that the university presses have not made the most of their opportunities to serve the public, considering their ready access to the talent available in university communities, we hope that they will say as much; for along with commendation, where it is deserved, we hope that critical comment will also be offered, where it is deserved. Because of recent developments in the economics of book publishing, trade houses are no longer in a position to issue many types of deserving books; we hope that the participants in our panel will feel inclined to suggest types of publishing in their respective fields which university presses (which are, by and large, not in business to make money) could usefully undertake.

On behalf of Dr. Sears and the editors of the Saturday Review I extend you a cordial invitation to participate in this discussion, writing on the field of contemporary affairs. We can use up to 1000 words and would need copy by May 22.

Lest the project appear formidable, let me offer some reassurances. We are not interested in an exhaustive analysis of the subject or a systematic evaluation of university publications in your field. Thus it should not be necessary for you to do any great amount of research. We are interested primarily in hearing about a few of the books and general ideas that instantly spring to your mind when the subject of university presses is raised. But to refresh your memory, if you like I will send you a comprehensive list of publications of the university presses in your field over the past several years.

Will you be good enough to let me know by Western Union collect whether you will undertake the assignment? We all very much hope that your answer will be in the affirmative. And let me know if I can help you in any way in the preparation of your piece!

Sincerely,

RW/zd

Raymond Walters, Jr.

Raymond Walters, Jr.

P.S. - Dr. Sears is particularly anxious to have you in the symposium. He says you are the only commentator who comes into his house who makes any sense! R.W.

Sunbury Rotary Club -

April 30, 1954

Dear Mr. Roberts:

Your letter of March 23rd was passed along to me by Mr. E. F. Kalkhof, Manager of the Advertising Department of the American Oil Company. I had hoped very much that I might figure out a way to do as you ask and make an appearance in Sunbury. I can see from your letter I would thus be helping a worthy cause and this is something I always like to do whenever possible. However, I have, as you know, a very heavy schedule of five radio and two television programs each week and the production and presentation of these take practically all my available time. I have, therefore, had to decide, most reluctantly, that I cannot undertake any speaking engagements other than those to which I commited myself at the beginning of this season.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. T. LaVerne Roberts
Sunbury Daily Item
Sunbury, Pennsylvania

rh

Eng Dec

April 30, 1954

Dear "K":

Please forgive the delay in replying to your letter of March 29th. I had been hoping to figure out some way of making an appearance in Sunbury as requested by Mr. T. LaVerne Roberts of the Sunbury Daily Item. However, it seems that far from easing up as the season progresses, my schedule actually becomes heavier; so I am sorry to say that I have no course but to decline Mr. Roberts' request. I am enclosing for your information a copy of my reply to him.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. E. F. Kalkhof, Manager
Advertising Department
American Oil Company
American Building
Baltimore 3, Maryland

rh

AMOCO

AMERICAN OIL COMPANY

GENERAL OFFICES
AMERICAN BUILDING, BALTIMORE 3, MD.

March 29, 1954

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Ed:

Attached is letter received from Mr. T. LaVerne Roberts of the SUNBURY DAILY ITEM; also copy of our reply.

Will you be good enough to answer Mr. Roberts directly and send us a copy of your reply.

Sincerely,

E. F. Kalkhof

E. F. KALKHOF

EFK:fk

March 29, 1954

Mr. T. LaVerne Roberts
SUNBURY DAILY ITEM
Sunbury, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Roberts:

Your letter of March 23rd to Mr. E. F. Kauffner has been forwarded to our attention, and we, in turn, are sending it on to Mr. Harvey.

We appreciate your expressions of good will, and we wish every success to your worthwhile project.

You realize, I am sure, the heavy schedule Mr. Harvey carries and the many demands on his time. He will be the one who will have to decide whether or not his schedule will permit his appearance in Sunbury.

Thank you for your letter.

Sincerely yours,

E. F. KALBHOF, Manager
Advertising Department

EFK:fk

B. A. BECK
GENERAL MANAGER

LEWIS DEWART
BUSINESS MANAGER

Sunbury Daily Item

PUBLISHERS — PRINTERS

SUNBURY, PENNA.

MARCH 23, 1954.

MR. E.F. KUEFFNER
DISTRICT MANAGER
AMERICAN OIL COMPANY
NORTH FRONT STREET
SUNBURY, PA.

DEAR MR. KUEFFNER:

I HAVE BEEN ASKED BY THE FUND FOR CHARITABLE PURPOSES COMMITTEE OF THE SUNBURY ROTARY CLUB TO INQUIRE THROUGH YOU IF IT WOULD BE POSSIBLE FOR THE AMERICAN OIL COMPANY TO INTERCEDE TO ARRANGE FOR AN APPEARANCE IN SUNBURY OF ITS NOTABLE NEWS COMMENTATOR, EDWARD R. MURROW.

EACH YEAR ROTARY BRINGS TO SUNBURY SOMEONE PROMINENT IN PUBLIC AFFAIRS FOR A TWO-FOLD PURPOSE: (1) TO GIVE THE PEOPLE AN INFORMATIVE ON-THE-SPOT REPORT OF THE NATIONAL PICTURE AND (2) TO BENEFIT SOME LOCAL CHARITY.

THIS YEAR WE ARE HOPEFUL OF ACQUIRING THROUGH AMERICAN OIL'S AWARENESS OF THE IMPORTANCE OF SUCH AN EVENT, THE PERSON WE CONSIDER THE TOP MAN IN HIS FIELD AND WE HAVE NO DOUBT THAT IF THIS IS POSSIBLE AN AUDIENCE OF PERHAPS 1,000 WILL GATHER TO HEAR HIM.

LAST YEAR PAUL HARVEY DREW 750 AT A SIMILAR ROTARY-SPONSORED PROGRAM AND WE ARE CONFIDENT THE MURROW NAME WILL ACCOUNT FOR AT LEAST 250 MORE. THE LEGION HALL WILL COMFORTABLY ACCOMMODATE 1,000, AND MORE IN A PINCH.

OUR PROMOTION FOR THESE ENGAGEMENTS IS NOT CONFINED TO SUNBURY ALONE. THROUGH THE COOPERATION OF FELLOW ROTARY CLUBS, AND WITH NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING AND PUBLICITY, WE CARRY ON A COMPREHENSIVE CAMPAIGN FOR A PERIOD OF SEVERAL WEEKS BEFORE THE APPEARANCE IN A WIDE AREA EXTENDING TO WILLIAMSPORT, SHAMOKIN, MT. CARMEL, BLOOMSBURG, BERWICK, DANVILLE, MILTON, WATSONTOWN, LEWISBURG, MIFFLINBURG, SELINSGROVE, MIDDLEBURG AND INTERVENING POINTS. THIS MEANS THAT THE SPEAKER HAS AN AUDIENCE COVERING QUITE A LARGE AREA OF CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA. AND THE RESPONSE HAS BEEN OUTSTANDING.

WE CHARGE AN ADMISSION PRICE AND, AFTER EXPENSES, EVERY CENT GOES TO CHARITY. IN THIS INSTANCE IT WOULD BE DONATED TO THE SUNBURY PUBLIC LIBRARY WHICH IS IN DIRE FINAN-

B. A. BECK
GENERAL MANAGER

LEWIS DEWART
BUSINESS MANAGER

Sunbury Daily Item

PUBLISHERS — PRINTERS

SUNBURY, PENNA.

No. 2 - DEAR MR. KUEFFNER:

CIAL DISTRESS AND IS SORELY IN NEED OF ASSISTANCE TO RESTORE A FULL PROGRAM OF SERVICE. SO YOU CAN SEE THE CAUSE IS A WORTHY ONE.

I AM AWARE THAT MR. MURROW HAS A BROADCAST EACH EVENING FOR YOU OVER THE CBS NETWORK. FORTUNATELY, WE HAVE THE FACILITIES FOR HIM TO AIR HIS PROGRAM WHILE IN SUNBURY. RADIO STATION WKOK HERE IS A CBS AFFILIATE AND THE MANAGEMENT INFORMS ME WOULD BE HONORED TO HAVE THE MURROW BROADCAST ORIGINATE HERE IF HE WILL COME TO SUNBURY. HARVEY, TED MALONE AND OTHERS HAVE BEEN ON NATION-WIDE NETWORKS FROM HERE IN THE PAST.

WOULD YOU BE KIND ENOUGH TO INQUIRE THROUGH AMERICAN OIL IF MR. MURROW MIGHT BE AVAILABLE, AND IF SO ON WHAT DATE AND WHAT FEE WOULD BE INVOLVED? WE WOULD BE ANXIOUS TO PRESENT HIM AS SOON AS POSSIBLE WITH, OF COURSE, AMPLE TIME TO PREPARE THE PUBLIC. I AM AWARE THAT HE HAS A TUESDAY NIGHT TELEVISION PROGRAM, SO THAT A WEDNESDAY OR A THURSDAY PROBABLY WOULD BE BEST.

IF MR. MURROW'S BUSY SCHEDULE STILL PERMITS HIM TIME TO WRITE AND HE HAS A RECENT BOOK, I MIGHT VOLUNTEER THE INFORMATION THAT 400 COPIES OF A HARVEY BOOK WERE PURCHASED VOLUNTARILY AT THE DOOR BY PATRONS WHEN HE APPEARED HERE, AND THERE COULD BE A DUPLICATION OF THIS IN THE CASE OF MR. MURROW. THIS, MAY I ADD, ALSO IS A PRETTY GOOD INDICATION OF THE CALIBRE OF THE AUDIENCE WE DRAW.

ANY ASSISTANCE THAT YOU CAN GIVE US, MR. KUEFFNER, WILL BE APPRECIATED, AND YOU CAN BE CERTAIN THE CLUB WILL BE INDEBTED TO THE AMERICAN OIL COMPANY.

SINCERELY YOURS,

T. LaVerne Roberts

T. LAVERNE ROBERTS
CITY EDITOR.

Variety

Emily Dow

December 19, 1951

Dear Abel:

It's God's truth that I don't know enough about TV reporting to write a piece on it. It is also true that I am working an eight-day week. Quite seriously, in six months or a year I may learn enough about this medium to commit something to print on the subject. But right now I find that half the time I don't know what I'm doing, and the other half the thing doesn't come out the way I expected it to - and I would be reluctant to confess that in print. In addition to that, I don't like the medium but still don't think I should confess that in public lest I foul my own control room.

Thanks for asking me.

As ever yours,

Mr. Abel Green
Variety
154 West 46th Street
New York 19, New York

VARIETY

154 WEST 46TH ST., NEW YORK 19, N. Y.

Dec. 11, 1951

13

Dear Ed:

How about doing a piece on the new TV reporting, as on your Sunday show, as an Anniversary Number story, without making it, of course, too pointedly a commercial, if you know what I mean.

Incidentally, it's now one of my personal "musts".

All best,

Abel

Abel Green, Editor

LES KRAMER
% The Lambs
130 W. 44th St., N.Y.C.

Memo to: JOE LAURIE, JR. & ABEL GREEN

From: LES KRAMER

Subject: "SHOW BIZ" ***

* * * *

I got a book the other day - "Show Biz" is its name -
With all the dope on theatre folk who had a claim to fame.
It's written by one Abel Green and little Joseph Laurie,
Whose talents were combined to make a fascinating story.
There's "inside" on producers, actors, managers and such,
The big shots of the Big Time and a lot who weren't much.
The research was enormous, and the presentation fine.
(They mentioned every goddam name in show business but mine!)

I read about performers in the days of long ago,
And learned a lot about the business that I was glad to know.
I heard the tales of shows and shows, of sleepers, hits and flops,
Of people who were louses and of others who were tops.
There's plenty on the Shuberts and what Broadway thought of them,
And the ups & downs of Zanuck, Warner, Fox and M-G-M,
And the story of who inked a pact and who refused to sign.
(But the sonsabitches mentioned everybody's name but mine!)

Yes, I read that book - "Show Biz" - and I'm putting it aside.
The authors did a job that they can point to now with pride.
They have cataloged "VARIETY" and all its feuds and tiffs;
They have toasted the successes and they've roasted all the stiffs;
They have bracketed the phonies and they've pedestaled the great
With the figures and percentages and how they split the gate.
They have never pulled their punches and they laid it on the line.
(But the dirty bastards mentioned everybody's name but mine!)

###########

 Trust this takes us off the hook. Have had occasion to tell quite a few people that we wrote it with a let-the-chips-fall, etc. apporach. Once we got "catalog"-conscious it probably would have hurt the end result. Fact that both Joe's June and Abel's Grace suddenly pointed out that they, too, were "included out" supports the premise that there was total unawareness of logrolling, "must" name-including, and the like. Fact is, however, that among the 200,000 words on the cutting-room floor there are obviously lots of other worthy names that warranted inclusion in this chronicle.

A.G.

Academy of Am. Poets

THE ACADEMY OF AMERICAN POETS

THE ACADEMY OF AMERICAN POETS · 25th YEAR · 1934 · 1959

890 PARK AVENUE NEW YORK 21, N. Y.

Sept. 29, 1959

cd

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
580 Park Avenue
New York 21.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The Twenty-fifth Anniversary Dinner of The Academy of American Poets ~~in the Ballroom of~~ the Hotel Waldorf Astoria on Wednesday evening, ~~November~~ 4, 1959, promises to be one of the most distinguished and interesting Dinners ever held in New York City.

You will note on the enclosed invitation that Mrs. Eisenhower is Honorary Chairman and that the Secretary of the Treausry will be a major speaker.

It would give the Officers and Directors of The Academy great pleasure to have you and Mrs. Murrow attend as Honor Guests - you of course to be seated on the dais.

We would much appreciate a reply at your earliest convenience to the above or to Yukon 8-6783.

Very sincerely yours,

Marie Bullock

Mrs. Hugh Bullock
President

MGB:1
Encl.

We are so pleased to hear that you are having Robert Frost on "Small World" -

Adams, Lane W.

September 23, 1959

Dear Sirs:

Thank you for your kind invitation to attend a cocktail party on October 13th in honor of Mr. Lane W. Adams.

I regret that Mr. Murrow will not be able to attend since he is out of the country and does not plan to return to the States for several months.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

American Cancer Society
521 West 57th Street
New York 19, New York

To meet

Lane W. Adams

Executive Vice President of the American Cancer Society

Mrs. Albert D. Lasker

and

The Honorable Walter J. Kohler

request the pleasure of your company
for cocktails

on Tuesday, the thirteenth of October five-thirty to seven o'clock

29 Beekman Place
New York City

R. S. V. P.
American Cancer Society
521 West 57th Street
New York 19, N. Y.

Am. Cancer Societ

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY, INC.

521 WEST 57th STREET, NEW YORK 19, N. Y. · PLAZA 7-2700

HONORARY LIFE MEMBERS
FRANK E. ADAIR, M.D.
JAMES S. ADAMS
GUY AUD., M.D.
ELMER H. BOBST
GEN. WILLIAM J. DONOVAN
ERIC A. JOHNSTON
MRS. R. E. MOSIMAN
C. C. NESSELRODE, M.D.
MRS. ANNA M. ROSENBERG
ALFRED P. SLOAN, JR.
JAMES V. STUART
EDWIN B. WILSON, PH.D.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS
LANE W. ADAMS (UTAH)
GEORGE C. ADIE, M.D. (N. Y.)
J. P. BERGER, M.D. (KAN.)
JOHN S. BOUSLOG, M.D. (COLO.)
C. BERNARD BRACK, M.D. (MD.)
G. V. BRINDLEY, M.D. (TEXAS)
HARRY A. BRINKMAN (ILL.)
JAMES M. BRITTAIN (PA.)
ENOCH CALLAWAY, M.D. (GA.)
WILLIAM H. CANTWELL (DEL.)
THOMAS CARLILE, M.D. (WASH.)
JOHN CLINE, M.D. (CALIF.)
L. T. COGGESHALL, M.D. (ILL.)
WARREN H. COLE, M.D. (ILL.)
JAMES E. CONLEY, M.D. (WIS.)
MURRAY M. COPELAND, M.D. (D.C.)
RUTHERFORD L. ELLIS (GA.)
RALPH H. ERICHSEN (MO.)
FRANK W. FOOTE, JR., M.D. (N. Y.)
H. FLEMING FULLER, M.D. (N. C.)
MRS. W. PARMER FULLER, JR. (CALIF.)
MRS. POWELL GLASS (VA.)
MRS. ROGER GOODAN (CALIF.)
JOHN R. HELLER, M.D. (MD.)
MRS. MILDRED R. HERMANN (ALASKA)
CHARLES D. HILLES, JR. (N. Y.)
DONALD E. JOHNSON (MICH.)
STUART H. KEAY (N. H.)
CALVIN T. KLOPP, M.D. (D.C.)
WALTER J. KOHLER (WIS.)
MRS. ALBERT D. LASKER (N. Y.)
GLENN H. LEAK, M.D. (N. Y.)
WILLIAM B. LEWIS (N. Y.)
CHARLES C. LUND, M.D. (MASS.)
IAN MACDONALD, M.D. (CALIF.)
HARRY MCENERNY, JR. (LA.)
JUDGE FRANK MCNAMEE (NEV.)
LESLIE A. MILLER (WYO.)
HARRY M. NELSON, M.D. (MICH.)
ALTON OCHSNER, M.D. (LA.)
MRS. E. LEE OZBIRN (OKLA.)
WILLARD H. PARSONS, M.D. (MISS.)
EUGENE P. PENDERGRASS, M.D. (PA.)
MRS. JOHN T. PIRIE, JR. (ILL.)
ALFRED M. POPMA, M.D. (IDAHO)
MRS. HAROLD PRINCE (NEBR.)
MONROE J. RATHBONE (N. Y.)
IRA DEA. REID, PH.D. (PA.)
J. ELLIOTT SCARBOROUGH, M.D. (GA.)
WENDELL G. SCOTT, M.D. (MO.)
S. F. SINGER, M.D. (IOWA)
F. C. SOWELL (TENN.)
WENDELL M. STANLEY, PH.D. (CALIF.)
CHESTER A. STAYTON, M.D. (IND.)
ERNEST L. STEBBINS, M.D. (MD.)
FRANK L. TAYLOR (N. Y.)
HOWARD C. TAYLOR, JR., M.D. (N. Y.)
MRS. D. N. THOMAS (W. VA.)
OSSIP J. WALINSKY (N. Y.)
TRAVIS T. WALLACE (TEXAS)
CHARLES H. WALTERS (CONN.)
GEORGE W. WATERMAN, M.D. (R. I.)
JUDGE HENRY G. WENZEL, JR. (N. Y.)
GRANVILLE WHITTLESEY, JR. (N. Y.)
FRANCIS J. WILCOX (WIS.)
NORBERT F. WINTER (MINN.)
DAVID A. WOOD, M.D. (CALIF.)
WILLIAM O. WUESTER, M.D. (N. J.)

October 30, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Pawling, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Will you join Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in our 1960 Cancer Crusade? We would require - and I promise this - no more than one hour of your time, for the filming of some brief television announcements. Any hour of any day this week or next (weeks of November 2 and 9) that would most suit your convenience will be fine with us.

We have in mind for you three scripts, in two of which - a 60-second TV spot and an accompanying presentation reel for showing to TV station Program Managers - you would speak lines alternating with eleven other personalities, including Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Tallulah Bankhead, and Mr. Maurice Evans. The third script is a 60-second educational TV spot which you would read in its entirety.

What we are trying to do, Mr. Murrow, between us all, is save the lives of some 75,000 Americans who otherwise, through mere lack of knowledge, may die of cancer next year.

All filming is being done in a studio here at Society headquarters. We will have a make-up lady available for your use and will have all of your lines printed on cue-cards.

Will you please let me know at your earliest convenience whether you will find it possible to help us? One hour, I promise, and all of us here will be most grateful.

Yours truly,

Clarence Fischer, jr.

Clarence Fischer, jr.

Am. Cancer Soc

American Cancer Society, Inc.

cordially invites you

to attend its

Annual Dinner

Thursday, October twenty-ninth

at seven-thirty o'clock

Grand Ballroom, The Biltmore

New York City

Guest Speaker

Mefford R. Runyon

Executive Vice President of the Society 1949-1959

R. S. V. P. ~~Subscription, $5.00~~

American Jewish Com
Eng. de

August 20, 1959

Mr. Lee Ruwitch
WTVJ Inc.
316 North Miami Avenue
Miami, Fla.

Dear Mr. Ruwitch:

As Mr. Murrow has already begun his year of sabbatical leave, I am answering your letter of August 17 to him. It is most kind of you to invite him the American Jewish Committee meeting in November and I am sure that when I tell him of your invitation he will be very sorry about having to decline it. He is leaving the country next Tuesday and expects to return only in July 1960, travelling to different parts of the world in the interim. He will therefore be unable to join you in Miami.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

WTVJ INC. 316 NORTH MIAMI AVENUE MIAMI, FLORIDA

CHANNEL 4 MIAMI

FRANKLIN 4-6262

FLORIDA'S FIRST TELEVISION STATION

August 17th of WTVJ'S ELEVENTH YEAR
1949 - 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
c/o CBS Television
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

On Sunday, November 22, 1959, our American Jewish Committee will hold its annual meeting at the Everglades Hotel in Miami. About 350 leaders in industry and commerce will attend the workshop which has been given the theme, "Youth in the Space Age".

You have reflected a similar theme on several occasions, and certainly the problems of American youth have been well considered in your research and personal thinking. With this in mind, surely I am well advised in suggesting that a man of your political stature be the headline speaker at the banquet that will terminate the day's activities.

The American Jewish Committee is dedicated to the premise "that all men are created equal". The members of AJC strive to preserve civil liberties through their combined efforts, reaching into all fields that have propelled them to leadership under our democratic system.

Again, speaking for the entire roster of the American Jewish Committee, I extend a most sincere invitation to you in helping us further the ideals that have made our country great.

Sincerely,

Lee Ruwitch

LEE RUWITCH
Executive Vice President and General Manager

LR/jsa

CBS

Americans for Democratic Action

THE HONORABLE HERBERT H. LEHMAN

SENATOR HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

CO-CHAIRMEN 1960 NATIONAL COMMITTEE FOR ROOSEVELT DAY

AND

DORE SCHARY
DINNER CHAIRMAN

MRS. MARSHALL FIELD
DINNER CO-CHAIRMAN

CORDIALLY INVITE YOU TO BE A SPONSOR OF THE

ROOSEVELT DAY DINNER

OF

AMERICANS FOR DEMOCRATIC ACTION

THE DINNER, 12TH OF A SERIES OF DISTINGUISHED ANNUAL EVENTS, WILL BE HELD AT THE ASTOR HOTEL,
THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 1960

WILL YOU PLEASE INDICATE YOUR ACCEPTANCE ON THE ENCLOSED CARD AND NOTE THE DATE.

422

April in Paris Ball

April in Paris Ball

ed

MR. BERNARD F. GIMBEL
Treasurer

MRS. WINSTON F. C. GUEST
General Chairman

MR. C. C. PHILIPPE
Secretary

September 12, 1959

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The American French Foundation which gives every year the "April in Paris" Ball will sponsor together with the Order of Lafayette a special presentation of "Carmen" with Miss Rise Stevens on Sunday, December 6, 1959 at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Following the Opera, a Champagne Supper Dance will be given and within a few days you will receive a formal invitation.

The proceeds will go to the American and French charitable and cultural beneficiaries of both organizations, and I am writing to invite you to serve on the Men's Committee.

Thanking you in advance for your interest and kind and generous support, and looking forward to the pleasure of hearing from you, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Cee Cee Guest

Mrs. Winston F.C. Guest

WG.rs

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
580 Park Avenue
New York-New York

~~XXXXXXXXXXXXXX~~ 33 East 48th St-N.Y.-N.Y.

ELdorado 5-5725

July 29, 1959.

Dear Mr. Baker:

Thank you for your letter of July 13th. I regret that I cannot accept your gracious invitation to take the Chair on October 5th at what promises to be a most interesting debate. I doubt that I shall be in London by that date, and even if I am I do not feel competent to Chair a meeting attended by persons of such great distinction.

Thank you for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. R.B.H. Baker
J. Walter Thompson Company Ltd.,
40 Berkeley Square, London, W.1.

R Baker

J. WALTER THOMPSON COMPANY LIMITED

D. M. SAUNDERS (Chairman), W. HINKS (Managing Director), G. BUTLER, J. C. RODGERS, A. P. MITCHELL-INNES,
A. L. SINCLAIR, H. A. PANIGUIAN, M. T. D. PATMORE, J. D. FIELDWALKER, P. de PETERSON, G. N. BASSETT

40 BERKELEY SQUARE, LONDON, W.I

TELEPHONE: MAYFAIR 9496 TELEGRAMS: THOMERTWAL, LONDON

Public Relations Department

13th July, 1959.

Mr. Edward Murrow,
580, Park Avenue,
New York City,
U.S.A.

Dear Mr. Murrow,

Bertrand Russell has written an important book which is, in brief, a history of the philosophies of the West under the title of "Wisdom of the West" which is to be published this autumn. I am acting on behalf of the British publishers, Macdonalds, Ltd.

It is our intention to stage a public debate in London on 5th October at 11.30 a.m. at which Lord Russell will discuss the meaning and importance of these contributions to mankind's stock of philosophical experience in company with people such as Professor Bronowski, Toynbee, Rebecca West and the like. Would you take the chair?

I have sounded out the American Embassy here and asked whether the American Ambassador would be prepared to attend as a spectator and receive a presentation copy for the U.S.I.S. Library in London, and it is also my intention to try to get the Russian Ambassador to attend. Ideally it would also be most desirable if Mr. Adlai Stevenson could be present, but at this stage I have no means of knowing what his movements might be at that time.

The participants in the debate are not, at this stage, all settled but the foregoing is to give you an indication of the lines on which the affair is to be conducted. I think one might reasonably suppose that some stimulating and witty talk will result from such a debate which might well appeal to an American as well as a British television audience. I shall of course be getting in touch with the B.B.C., but I should, in any case, be most grateful for the benefit of your advice as to likely American participants who might be in Britain on 5th October and completely overjoyed if you would consent to take the Chair. Would you let me know fairly soon?

Yours sincerely,

R.B.H. Baker

R.B.H. Baker.

Jack Benny
Tribute Dinner

December 9, 1959

Dear Mr. Skouras:

Thank you for your gracious letter of December 3rd inviting Mr. Murrow to be an Honored Guest at the Tribute Dinner to Jack Benny on February 24, 1960.

I regret that since Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and will be traveling abroad for most of the next six months, it will not be possible for him to accept. Thank you for asking him.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Spyros P. Skouras
Tribute Dinner to Jack Benny
The New March of Dimes
Suite 1533
9 Rockefeller Plaza
New York 20, New York

Tribute Dinner TO JACK BENNY

In Recognition of Devoted Service to Humanitarian Causes

Benefit of

THE New MARCH OF DIMES

December 3, 1959

Chairman, Honorary Committee
SPYROS P. SKOURAS

Co-Chairmen, Dinner Committee
LEONARD H. GOLDENSON
JOSEPH R. VOGEL
JACK L. WARNER

Toastmaster
RICHARD C. PATTERSON, JR.

Committee Headquarters
SUITE 1533
9 ROCKEFELLER PLAZA
NEW YORK 20, N. Y.
COLUMBUS 5-7460

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I am happy to announce that Jack Benny has been selected to receive the 1959 Humanitarian Award of the March of Dimes, which is given every year to an individual in the entertainment world who has rendered dedicated services to the welfare of others.

We plan to present this Citation at a Dinner in his honor in the Grand Ballroom of the Astor Hotel, on February 24th, 1960.

Leonard H. Goldenson, Joseph R. Vogel, and Jack L. Warner join me in cordially inviting you to attend the Dinner as an Honored Guest and sit on our dais. As previous recipients of this coveted award, we plan to make this Dinner even more distinguished and delightful than those in the past.

Your presence will undoubtedly help us make this event a great success for the March of Dimes and a worthy Tribute to our Guest of Honor.

I look forward to your early acceptance.

Sincerely,

Spyros P. Skouras

Spyros P. Skouras

Eng. dept
Beth Israel Congregation
Omaha, Nebraska

August 20, 1959

Mr. John Rosenblatt
Executive Office
City of Omaha
Nebraska

Dear Mr. Rosenblatt:

I am answering your gracious letter of August 17 because Mr. Murrow has already started his year of sabbatical leave and is about to leave the country on his travels.

It is most kind of you and the Beth Israel Congregation to wish to present to Mr. Murrow the Humanitarian Award for 1960. He is deeply honoured by your gesture. However, he will be out of the country from September until the following July, so that he will unfortunately be unable to attend the banquet on March 6.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

CITY OF OMAHA
EXECUTIVE OFFICE
JOHN ROSENBLATT, MAYOR

August 17, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
% Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I am writing to you in a dual capacity - as Mayor of the City of Omaha and as a member of the Humanitarian Award Committee of the Beth Israel Synagogue of Omaha.

The Beth Israel Congregation here, the foremost organization of its type in the Midwest, has been making an annual Humanitarian Award for several years - ever since it has occupied its beautiful new edifice, one of the finest Synagogue buildings in the country.

Beth Israel has been making this Award as a gesture of recognition for outstanding achievement in the fields of education, science, public service, medicine and humanities, aiming by this occasion to build greater brotherhood and better understanding among all people.

Last year, Eddie Cantor came to Omaha to receive the Beth Israel Humanitarian Award. He was cited particularly for his origination and development of the March of Dimes Campaign, which was instrumental in providing the funds for the perfection of the Salk polio vaccine, and for his great work in behalf of the State of Israel.

In 1957, our former President of the United States, the Honorable Harry S. Truman, journeyed to Omaha and received our Award.

Other recipients have been outstanding individuals in their respective fields; Morris Jacobs, an Omahan, nationally known advertising executive and renowned leader in education; Dr. R. G. Gustavson, former Chancellor of the University of Nebraska and presently Executive Director and President of Resources for the Future, Inc.; George Jessel, indefatigable worker for all causes; and others.

In the name of the Beth Israel Humanitarian Award Committee, and as Mayor of Omaha, it gives me great pleasure, Mr. Murrow, to notify you that you have been voted this Award for 1960.

Tentatively, our plans call for the Award Banquet to be held on Sunday evening, March 6, 1960. However, our plans as to date are very flexible. In addition to the Award, beautifully hand-sketched on parchment, a check for $1,000.00 will be presented to you for your favorite charity.

I wish to assure you that no endorsements or any movement or enterprise is involved with this Award. All we desire is your personal presence in the acceptance of the Citation.

The presentation of the Humanitarian Award is merely an activity of an 80-year-old organization of top standing in our area, desiring to carry on annually a fine public service program.

It will be an honor for the citizens of Omaha and the members of the Beth Israel and for our entire Midwest to have you visit us as the recipient of this annual Humanitarian Award.

After you have read this letter and considered its contents, we would like to discuss it with you. Dan Gordman, President of Beth Israel and Maurice Katzman, Chairman of the Selection Committee will phone you on Monday, August 24. With your permission, we shall place an appointment call.

May I be the first to congatulate you, and I shall be looking forward to offering my congratulations in person, in Omaha.

Sincerely yours,

John Rosenblatt

JOHN ROSENBLATT

Mayor

Britannia Ball

September 23, 1959

Dear Lady Douglas-Hamilton:

Your gracious letter of September 11th was received at this office shortly after Mr. and Mrs. Murrow had sailed for Europe for several months of extensive travel.

I regret therefore that it is not possible for me to give permission to use their name as honorary sponsors for The Britannia Ball in their absence.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Lady Malcolm Douglas-Hamilton
The Britannia Ball Committee
107 East 63rd Street, Suite 1-A
New York 21, New York

Honoring the Cultures of the British Commonwealth of Natio

The Britannia Ball

GRAND BALLROOM — HOTEL PLAZA
WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 4th, 1959

Suite 1A • 107 East 63rd Street, New York 21, N.Y. Telephone • TE 8

The Earl Mountbatten of Burma
Honorary World Chairman

Lady Malcolm Douglas-Hamilton
Chairman

September 11, 1959

Dear Ed and Janet:

The Britannia Ball, to be held at the Hotel Plaza on November 4th, 1959, will honour the cultures of the United Kingdom and the British Commonwealth of Nations.

The Earl Mountbatten of Burma is Honorary World Chairman of this significant occasion. The beneficiary is the International Cultural Center for Youth, now being erected in Jerusalem to provide the youth of Israel - and visiting youth - with an understanding and appreciation of the cultures of the Free World, and to build in them a responsibility and kinship to the cause of freedom. In the past two years the cultures of France and Italy have been similarly honoured at Gala Balls in New York.

This year, Lord Mountbatten and I are helping to make The Britannia Ball the distinguished occasion it deserves and bids fair to be. It gives me great pleasure, therefore, to invite you to serve as a member of the Honorary Sponsor Committee for The Britannia Ball - a Committee headed by the Prime Ministers of the Commonwealth countries, and many American Governors, Senators and Congressmen.

As practically all of the Ball tickets have been sold, our invitation is addressed to you simply as one who would wish to do honour to the great tradition of British culture and not in connection with the sale of tickets.

Most sincerely yours,

Natalie Douglas-Hamilton

The Lady Malcolm Douglas-Hamilton C.B.E.

For the Benefit of THE INTERNATIONAL CULTURAL CENTER FOR YOUTH IN JERUSAL

Spyros P. Skouras
Honorary Chairman

Mrs. Murray Silverstone
Chairman

Camp Fire Girls

November 3, 1959

Dear Mrs. Schuler:

Thank you for your gracious letter of October 26th inviting Mr. Murrow to participate as a member of the Golden Jubilee Sponsoring Committee of the Camp Fire Girls.

I regret that since Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and will be traveling abroad for most of the next ten months, it will not be possible for him to accept. Thank you for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mrs. Patrice Munsel Schuler, Chairman
Golden Jubilee Sponsoring Committee
16 East 48th Street
New York 17, New York

■ MRS. PATRICE MUNSEL SCHULER, Chairman ■ MISS JEAN DALRYMPLE, Co-Chairman ■

October 26, 1959

Dear Ed,

As a former Camp Fire Girl I have been invited to serve as chairman of the organization's Golden Jubilee Sponsoring Committee. Because of your interest in community affairs and the problems of our times (one of the most important being our future citizens !), I immediately thought of you as an ideal person to share in the work of this committee.

The aim of the Golden Jubilee Sponsoring Committee is to expand the public's knowledge of Camp Fire Girls and its program for girls seven to eighteen years of age. This in turn will help expand the opportunities for more girls to belong, through the aid of additional volunteers who will learn of the organization through our committee's efforts. The jubilee celebration will be observed from November 1960 through March 1961, but, of course, we shall start our preparations in the near future.

Camp Fire Girls themselves are already well along in their long-range conservation project which they have adopted as a thank-you to the nation for fifty years of support and interest. I hope that you will help them by your participation as a member of the Golden Jubilee Sponsoring Committee.

I look forward eagerly to the opportunity of working with you in this important endeavor.

Sincerely yours,

Patrice

Patrice Munsel Schuler

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Pawling
New York

Telephone PLaza 5-0842

GOLDEN JUBILEE SPONSORING COMMITTEE • 16 EAST 48TH STREET • NEW YORK 17, N. Y.

Caribbean Assembly

October 8, 1959

Dear Mr. Wriston:

Your kind letter of October 1st was received at this office after Mr. Murrow had departed for Europe to begin a year's leave of absence.

I regret to tell you that as his plans stand now, it will not be possible for him to be in Puerto Rico on March 1-4 to participate in The Caribbean Assembly on the United States and Latin America.

Sincerely yours,

Secretary

Mr. Henry M. Wriston, President
The American Assembly
Columbia University
New York, New York

The Caribbean Assembly

on

THE UNITED STATES AND LATIN AMERICA

October 1, 1959

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The University of Puerto Rico and The American Assembly of Columbia University are jointly sponsoring "The Caribbean Assembly on the United States and Latin America" which will be held in San Juan, Puerto Rico, March 1 - 4, 1960, and we are inviting you to attend.

The Assembly's national meeting on this topic will be held in New York at Arden House this fall. The regional meeting scheduled in Puerto Rico is the Assembly's first international conference. There will be about sixty participants from different professions and occupations, and with varying points of view; thirty will be Latin Americans and thirty North Americans. A special background book will be provided ahead of time.

Under Secretary of State Douglas Dillon will give the opening address. A prominent Latin American will speak another night.

For three days the participants will engage in a series of round table discussions on diplomatic, political, economic and cultural relations between the countries of Latin America and the United States. On the fourth and final day they will meet in plenary session to consider a draft of findings and recommendations which, after modification, will be issued to the press for dissemination in North and Latin America.

The conference activities will be held at La Concha Hotel in San Juan, and as a guest of the University of Puerto Rico you will be accommodated either at La Concha or at one of the leading resort hotels nearby. Wives are welcome, but at the participants' own expense.

UNIVERSIDAD DE PUERTO RICO
RÍO PIEDRAS

THE AMERICAN ASSEMBLY
COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

Emphasis at the Assembly will be on the free exchange of ideas. We will therefore avoid the rather cumbersome procedure of bilingual discussions with simultaneous translations. Of the three discussion groups, two will speak English and one Spanish. Each group will have an equal number of North and Latin Americans irrespective of the language designated for that group. In this connection, it would be helpful indeed, should you accept this invitation, to indicate your competence in conversational Spanish. Will you please direct your reply -- as soon as possible -- to Dr. Wriston at The American Assembly.

Discussions of this vital topic could prove a valuable service, and we do hope you can join us in Puerto Rico next March. Additional details will be sent to you after we receive word of your acceptance.

Sincerely yours,

Jaime Benitez
Chancellor
University of Puerto Rico

Henry M. Wriston
President
The American Assembly

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Christian Herter
Secy of State

ASSOCIATION OF RADIO-TELEVISION NEWS ANALYSTS

24 EAST 39TH ST., NEW YORK 16, N. Y.

OXFORD 7-5300

OFFICERS 1959

PRESIDENT
ROBERT TROUT

VICE PRESIDENT
JOHN MacVANE

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
H. V. KALTENBORN
QUINCY HOWE
CHET HUNTLEY
LEON PEARSON

SECRETARY
BLAIR CLARK

TREASURER
CESAR SAERCHINGER

MEMBERSHIP

NEW YORK
MORGAN BEATTY
NED CALMER
HENRY CASSIDY
W. W. CHAPLIN
BLAIR CLARK
WALTER CRONKITE
JOHN DALY
GEO. FIELDING ELIOT
JAMES FLEMING
DON GODDARD
JOHN GUNTHER
WILSON HALL
THOMAS J. HAMILTON
WILLIAM HILLMAN
CHARLES HODGES
RICHARD C. HOTTELET
QUINCY HOWE
CHET HUNTLEY
ALLAN JACKSON
H. V. KALTENBORN
ROLF KALTENBORN
LARRY LESUEUR
JOHN MacVANE
MERRILL MUELLER
EDWARD R. MURROW
LEON PEARSON
VICTOR RIESEL
CESAR SAERCHINGER
WILLARD SHADEL
WILLIAM L. SHIRER
LELAND STOWE
RAYMOND SWING
LOWELL THOMAS
DALLAS TOWNSEND
ROBERT TROUT
JOHN W. VANDERCOOK
LINTON WELLS
GREGOR ZIEMER

WASHINGTON
MARTIN AGRONSKY
H. R. BAUKHAGE
WILLIAM COSTELLO
WILLIAM DOWNS
BILL HENRY
AUSTIN KIPLINGER
EDWARD MORGAN
JOHN SECONDARI
ERIC SEVAREID
HOWARD K. SMITH
ALBERT WARNER

CHICAGO
CLIFTON UTLEY

LOS ANGELES
ELMER PETERSON
WILLIAM WINTER

OVERSEAS
CECIL BROWN
WINSTON BURDETT
CHARLES COLLINGWOOD
GEORGE THOMAS FOLSTER
JOSEPH C. HARSCH
DAVID SCHOENBRUN

Monday, November 16, 1959

Business meeting of ARTNA at the Williams Club, 12:30 PM, Monday, November 16, 1959.

Our lunch guest will be the Secretary of State, Christian Herter, As nearly as the President can remember, this is the first time that ARTNA has had a Secretary of State as a guest at the lunch table in our New York headquarters.

The State Department would like to know which members will attend this lunch to meet the Secretary of State. If you have not already given your acceptance to Miss Pam Victor, please telephone her as quickly as possible at PLaza 1-2345, Ext. 7609, to tell her whether you will come.

Collins, Norman

Radio and Television Executives Society, Inc.

cordially invites you to attend a reception and luncheon

in honor of

NORMAN COLLINS, Deputy Chairman Associated Television Limited, London

at twelve o'clock sharp and to be a guest at the head table

November 11, 1959

Hotel Roosevelt Grand Ballroom
45th Street and Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

PL87458

R.S.V.P. - RTES
515 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

Colston Leigh, Inc
E. R.

August 28, 1959

Dear Mr. Leigh:

Mr. Murrow received your letter just prior to his departure for Europe. As he expects to be out of the country for most of the next ten months, there is unfortunately no chance of his undertaking any lectures.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. W Colston Leigh
W. Colston Leigh, Inc.
521 Fifth Avenue
New York 17, New York

gw

W. COLSTON LEIGH, INC. NEW YORK • CHICAGO • SAN FRANCISCO

THE LEIGH BUREAU OF LECTURES AND ENTERTAINMENTS

W. COLSTON LEIGH
PRESIDENT

521 FIFTH AVENUE • NEW YORK 17, N. Y.
MURRAY HILL 2-6623 • CABLE COLLEIGH

August 5, 1959

N.C.
no chance

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Pawling
New York

Dear Ed:

You told me to write to you when you were no longer at CBS to see how you might feel about undertaking some lecture dates this fall or winter. Is there anything that we might discuss seriously at this time? If you are going to be in town anytime soon I'd like to see you; and if it would be moreconvenient for you if I drove up to Pawling, I could do that too.

I'd like to hear from you about this - and hope you're enjoying your new-found leisure.

Best regards,

Sincerely yours,
Bill
President

Community Service Soc.

The Family Fund Committee and the Board of Trustees of the Community Service Society cordially invite you to attend a

2d

Reception launching the 1959 CSS Family Fund Campaign

Guest Speaker: Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller

Wednesday, September 30, 1959, 4:30 to 6:00 p.m.
Grand Ballroom Suite - The Biltmore - Madison Avenue at 43rd Street

R.S.V.P.

Cocktails may be purchased

Cornell Univ.
ISNAC.

December 17, 1959

Dear Mr. Steinberg:

Thank you for your gracious letter inviting Mr. Murrow to speak at Cornell during February or March of 1960.

I regret that since Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and will be traveling abroad for most of the next six months, it will not be possible for him to accept. Thank you again for asking him.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Michael Steinberg ISNAC
Day Hall
Cornell University
Ithaca, New York

ISNAC
Day Hall
Cornell University
Ithaca, New York

Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting Company
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow,

The ISNAC committee of Cornell's student government is planning a series of lectures designed to stimulate student interest in current affairs. At the present time, the communications media are the subject of much heated discussion and debate. In the light of this discussion, we would find it extremely rewarding to have you speak at Cornell. We are particularly interested in the general topic of freedom of speech and expression in radio and television, specifically as to what restrictions there are on this freedom, the reasons for these restrictions, and the value to American Democracy of more freedom in this area.

If it is at all possible for you to speak at Cornell, we would appreciate your sending us tentative dates for your appearance. February or March would be most desirable. Upon hearing from you we will be able to make more definite arrangements. We sincerely hope that you will find time to speak at Cornell.

Very truly yours,
Michael Steinberg
Michael Steinberg

Council on Foreign Relations

December 16, 1959

Dear Sirs:

Thank you for your recent note inviting Mr. and Mrs. Murrow to tea and cocktails on Tuesday, December 22nd.

I regret that it will not be possible for them to attend since they are traveling in Europe.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

The Council on Foreign Relations
The Harold Pratt House
58 East 68th Street
New York, New York

THE COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS
at this Christmas Season

cordially invites Council members and their wives for tea and cocktails

The Harold Pratt House
58 East Sixty-eighth Street

Tuesday, December Twenty-second
5.00 to 7.00 P.M.

R.S.V.P.

Edinburg Press Club

December 17, 1959

Dear Mr. McIntyre:

Thank you for your gracious letter of December 11th inviting Mr. Murrow to be the Chief Guest at the Edinburgh Press Club's 1960 annual dinner.

I regret very much that I must decline on his behalf, since he plans to be in other parts of the world during the early months of next year. Thank you for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. E. McIntyre, Chairman
Edinburgh Press Club
19 Rutland Street
Edinburgh 1, Scotland

Edinburgh Press Club

TELEPHONES FOU 2800
FOU 4169

19 Rutland Street,
Edinburgh, 1

11th Decr., 1959.

Mr Edward R. Murrow,
Columbia Broadcasting System,
485, Madison Avenue,
New York, N.Y., U.S.A.

Dear Mr Murrow,

I write as chairman of Edinburgh Press Club to ask if there is any possibility of your honouring us as our Chief Guest at the Club's 1960 annual dinner. We cherish the hope that this might be possible, should you be planning a trip to Britain early next year.

We are proud of our distinguished list of former chief guests which includes leaders of British journalism, politics and the law. The dinner has established itself as an outstanding event in Scotland's social calendar, and is attended by the majority of Scottish editors and by well-known civic dignataries.

Last year we were privileged to have as our chief guest Mr John Hay Whitney, American Ambassador to Britain, and my committee are unanimous in the conviction that we could do no better than invite on the next occasion another distinguished American like yourself.

The duty we would ask you to perform would be to propose the principal toast - "Edinburgh Press Club." But the speech we would leave to you. Its content could be as controversial as you might care to make it.

The date we can also fix to suit your convenience. Any Saturday evening in late January, February, March, or even April, would do, should you intend being in this country around that time and be able to make the trip to Edinburgh. All we would ask is about six weeks notice to arrange a suitable hotel and other speakers.

If you find it at all possible to accept our invitation, you can rely on us to make all other plans for your visit, and we feel confident we can assure you of a memorable welcome.

Yours sincerely,

E. McIntyre

Chairman.

Eisenhower Exchange Fellowships

August 5, 1959

Mr. Thomas B. McCabe
Scott Paper Company
Chester, Pa.

Dear Mr. McCabe:

As Mr. Murrow is away at present, I am writing to acknowledge your letter of August 3 to him. As his plans stand at the moment, I regret that he will be unable to attend the 6th Annual Meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Eisenhower Exchange Fellowships in September. He is leaving the country late this month and does not expect to return until July of 1960.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

SCOTT PAPER COMPANY
CHESTER, PENNSYLVANIA

THOMAS B. McCABE
PRESIDENT

August 3, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

It is a pleasure to invite you to attend the 6th Annual Meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Eisenhower Exchange Fellowships in Philadelphia on September 14, 1959.

The meeting will be followed by a reception and dinner at which you will meet most of this year's Fellows. Our guest of honor and speaker will be your co-Trustee, Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson.

The Annual Meeting will convene at 4:30 o'clock at the Fellowships' headquarters at 256 South 16th Street, Philadelphia. Cocktails will be served at 6, followed by dinner at 7.

I am writing considerably in advance of the event in the hope that you may find it possible to fit this significant meeting into your schedule. It would be a great help in making our arrangements to have your early reply.

With kindest regards.

Sincerely yours,

Tom

Episcopal City Mission Soc.

The Right Reverend Horace W. B. Donegan, D. D.

The Bishop of New York and President of

The New York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society

cordially invites

Mrs. Edward R. Murrow

to accept Charter Membership in the Woman's Council

of the

Episcopal City Mission Society and to be the guest of the Society at an Inaugural Seminar and Luncheon which he will address in

The Persian Room of the Plaza Hotel

Fifth Avenue and Fifty-ninth Street on Friday, November 13, 1959

R. S. V. P.
Mrs. Thomas F. Victor
Chairman
Woman's Council
21 East 90th Street
New York 28, N. Y.

Program

10:30 A.M. - Terrace Room, Coffee

11:00 A.M. - Terrace Room, Ministry of the Society

1:00 P.M. - Persian Room, Luncheon

Finland
Counsul General

The Consul General of Finland and Mrs. H. Hannikainen request the pleasure of the company of
Mr. Edward R. Murrow
for Cocktails
at The Consulate General of Finland on Wednesday, Oct. 28 at 5-7 o'clock
from

R. S. V. P.
200 E. 42nd Street
New York 17, N. Y.
Tel. Murray Hill 7-1766

Joint Auspices Finlandia Foundation of New York
in honor of Kim Dong

Foreign Policy Assoc

FOREIGN POLICY ASSOCIATION

INCORPORATED

345 East 46th Street, New York 17, N. Y. OXford 7-2432

December 7, 1959

Board of Directors

EUSTACE SELIGMAN
Chairman of the Board

BROOKS EMENY
President Emeritus

JOHN W. NASON
President

MRS. ALBERT M. GREENFIELD
Vice Chairman

WALTER H. WHEELER, JR.
Vice Chairman

EMILE E. SOUBRY
Chairman of the Executive Committee

MRS. JOHN FRENCH
Secretary

GERALD F. BEAL
Treasurer

JERVIS J. BABB
WILLIAM H. BALDWIN
C. WALLER BARRETT
N. A. BOGDAN
ROBERT R. BOWIE
BENJAMIN J. BUTTENWIESER
MRS. ANDREW GALBRAITH CAREY
JOHN F. CHAPMAN
EDWIN F. CHINLUND
JAMES B. CONANT
CHARLES W. ENGELHARD
ROSWELL L. GILPATRIC
DAVID L. GUYER
JOHN B. INGLIS
B. BREWSTER JENNINGS
MRS. W. HOUSTON KENYON, JR.
HARRY W. KNIGHT
HENRY R. LABOUISSE, JR.
THEODORE L. LENZEN
HAROLD F. LINDER
ALBERT A. LIST
WILLIAM A. LYDGATE
FRANK R. MILLIKEN
H. HARVEY PIKE
JOHN RICHARDSON, JR.
JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, 3RD
HENRY SIEGBERT
JOHN L. SIMPSON
JACKSON E. SPEARS
MISS ANNA LORD STRAUSS

Mrs. Edward R. Murrow
580 Park Avenue
New York 21, New York

Dear Mrs. Murrow:

Knowing of your interest in the work of the Foreign Policy Association, Eleanor Clark French and I, as co-chairmen of the Women's Fund Raising Committee, would like very much to have your help with a limited but important assignment. As you know, the 41-year-old, non-partisan Foreign Policy Association is the major private educational agency today attempting to reach the entire American public on the critical foreign policy issues. The Association urgently needs increased financial support to carry on its work.

We would like to have you join us in soliciting two or three fund raising prospects by bringing them to what promises to be an exciting FPA luncheon on January 7 at the Waldorf. Chet Huntley will be moderator, and the panel of ten foreign correspondents will include Joseph C. Harsch, Cecil Brown, and Irving R. Levine who is now accompanying the third annual FPA luncheon for the NBC foreign correspondents, provides an excellent opportunity to introduce prospective contributors to our work.

The Foreign Policy Association is organizing a women's committee for the first time, and it would mean a great deal to us to have your help. In order to select two or three names from our list, we are gathering for tea, Thursday afternoon, December 17, at four o'clock, at my home, 876 Park Avenue. At that time, John W. Nason, President of the FPA, will report to us on their remarkable educational effort which is now reaching into more than 500 communities in 43 states.

I hope we may hear that you will join us in this endeavor.

Sincerely,

Frances H Haight

Mrs. Eric H. Haight
Co-Chairman, Women's Committee

FFH mkg

P. S. Enclosed is a card for your response.

Foreign Press Assoc

THE SIXTH

International Press Ball

OF THE

FOREIGN PRESS ASSOCIATION

ARTHUR K. WATSON
Dinner Chairman

BERNARD MUSNIK
General Chairman

MRS. ORVIL E. DRYFOOS
Chairman of the Ball

GEORGES F. TILCÉ,
President of the Association

C. C. PHILIPPE
Secretary

October 26, 1959

Dear Mrs. Murrow:

The Foreign Press Association represents all the New York Correspondents of the major newspapers and radio and television networks abroad, and these foreign countries depend to a very great extent on their correspondent interpretations of the news to know and understand us.

Once a year this Association gives a Dinner Dance, the proceeds of which will be divided this year between the United Nations Childrens Fund and the Community Service Society of New York.

Having accepted the responsibility of the general chairmanship of this affair, I am writing on behalf of the Foreign Press Association to ask if you will be a member of the Committee for this Benefit, which will be given on Monday, December 21 next, at the Hotel Astor.

We believe it is important to make these correspondents feel at home here at least once a year, and as the success of the evening will play an important part in strengthening the ties between the United States and the rest of the World, I would very much appreciate your acceptance.

Looking forward to the pleasure of hearing from you, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Marian S. Dryfoos

Mrs. Orvil E. Dryfoos
Chairman of the Ball

33 EAST 48TH STREET, NEW YORK, NEW YORK • PLAZA 3-5400

Free Milk Fund for Babies

MRS. WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST

November 23, 1959

Dear Mrs. Murrow:

It is with genuine pleasure that I invite you to lend your name to an Honorary Committee which will sponsor the annual Opera Benefit of the Free Milk Fund for Babies, Inc. at the Metropolitan Opera House on Thursday, February 18th, 1960. The opera will be "Aida" with Antonietta Stella, Carlo Bergonzi and Giulietta Simionato, who will be making her first Metropolitan appearance in this opera.

I assure you that there will be no obligation involved in your joining our Committee, and since we are anxious to get an early start toward making this delightful event a success, I have enclosed a return postcard to facilitate your reply.

May I look forward to hearing that you will join us?

Sincerely,

Millicent Hearst

Mrs. William Randolph Hearst

P.S. We will have an only meeting of the Committee at 4:30 P.M. on Thursday, December 10th, in the Devon Room of The Drake Hotel. At that time we will discuss plans for the event, and we would appreciate the benefit of your advice and counsel; cocktails will be served.

Am. Friends

American Friends of the Middle East, Inc.

cordially invites you to an OPEN HOUSE
Wednesday, December 30, 1959
4:00 p.m. - 7:00 p.m.
225 East 46th Street, Suite 7-C

Members of the Communications media are invited to drop by, to or from work, for a "bracer and a little physical sustenance with which to face the New Year!"

R.S.V.P.
MU 8-0486

Your Host: Bill Cline
Eastern Area Director
A.F.M.E.

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Ave.
New York, N. Y.

AFME
225 EAST 46th STREET
SUITE 7C
NEW YORK 17, N. Y.

Fulton, James

RECEIVED
1959 SEP 22 PM 8:46
C B S TELETYPE ROOM N.Y.

ed

WU050 RX PD

RG NEW YORK NY SEP 22 NFT

MR & MRS EDWARD R MURROW

PLEASE JOIN US AT SUPPER IN HONOR OF OUR FRIEND CONG.
JAMES G FULTON, U.S. DELEGATE TO THE U.N. ASSEMBLY,
SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26TH AT 8½00 PM, BLACK TIE, 911
PARK AVENUE RSVP PLAZA 9-5400

MARION AND JACK JAVITS

26 8½00 PM 911 9-5400

739P..

Galerie Internationale

TELEPHONE: UNIVERSITY 1-7877

CABLE ADDRESS: "CRISTKOM"

Ans

GALERIE INTERNATIONALE

1095 MADISON AVENUE

NEW YORK 28, N. Y.

December 6, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Enclosed please find leaflet on our opening show entitled, "Gems of Expressionism", which is being extended to December 27th.

We would be very pleased indeed to have you visit our new gallery and see our show. May we please hear from you?

Sincerely yours,

GALERIE INTERNATIONALE

Edward C. Califano

Edward C. Califano
Director

ECC/ec
Encl.

Ghana Nat'l Founders Day
Wy Lee

FREEDOM AND JUSTICE

On the occasion of the celebration of Ghana National Founder's Day
The Minister of Foreign Affairs,
Hon. Ako Adjei, M.P.
Chairman of the Delegation of Ghana requests the pleasure of your company
at a Reception
on Monday, September 21st 1959
at six-thirty o'clock at the United Nations Delegates' Dining Room

R.S.V.P.
Murray Hill 2-1635

Guinée
UN. Délégation

A l'occasion de la Fete Nationale

Le Chef de la Delegation de Guinee

a la 14 session des Nations Unies

Vous Prie

de lui faire l'honneur d'assister

a la Reception Qu'il Offrira

le 2 Octobre de 18h a 20h

au Restaurant des Delegues (Sallon Ouest)

R.S.V.P. Bu 8-1773

2 d

Hadassah

December 30, 1959

Dear Mrs. Itzkow:

Thank you for your gracious letter of December 12th inviting Mr. Murrow to speak at the Annual Donor Program of the Albany Chapter of Hadassah next May.

I regret that since Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and will be traveling abroad for most of the next eight months, it will not be possible for him to accept. Thank you again for asking him.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mrs. Philip Itzkow
119 Eileen Street
Albany, New York

119 Eileen St.
Albany, N.Y.
Dec. 12, 1959

Edward R. Murrow
CBS-TV News Bureau
N.Y., N.Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow,

I am writing to you on behalf of the Albany Chapter of Hadassah. We are interested in securing your services as our "Main Speaker" for our annual Donor Program. This will be held May 10, 1960, Tuesday Evening, at Temple Israel in Albany. This is our most important event of the year. This is our big drive for the

A very happy, healthy and merry Christmas to you and your family.
And, a Happy New Year!

Hadi
and this to ya neces

I ca
the warm your a awaite

Mrs. Philip
Vice-Pres. -

adassah Medical Organization
d Medical Services in Israel.

If you are available at is time, kindly advise as your fee and expenses cessary for this engagement.
can't begin to tell you of admiration our Hadassah omen have for you and ur work.

We shall be eagerly aiting your reply.

Sincerely,
Rosalind Itzkow

hilip Itzkow
s. - Program - Albany Chapter - Hadassah

47

Hebrew University
Eng

American Friends of the Hebrew University, Inc.

9 East 89th Street • New York 28, N. Y. • ATwater 9-5200

DANIEL G. ROSS
President

PHILIP M. KLUTZNICK
Chairman of the Board

SYLVAN GOTSHAL
Assoc. Chairman of the Board

JUSTICE FELIX FRANKFURTER
MRS. FELIX M. WARBURG
DR. ISRAEL S. WECHSLER
Honorary Presidents

VICTOR M. CARTER
LEO GUZIK
SAMUEL H. LANDY
PHILIP W. LOWN
JAMES MARSHALL
LEONARD RATNER
DR. LEO G. RIGLER
CHARLES J. ROSENBLOOM
NATHAN SCHWARTZ
BENJAMIN H. SWIG
IRVING WARSHAW
PHILIP G. WHITMAN
Vice Presidents

ABRAHAM SHAMOS
Secretary

BENJAMIN P. GOLDMAN
Assistant Secretary

JOSEPH M. MAZER
Treasurer

SUNDEL DONIGER
Assistant Treasurer

PROF. OSCAR I. JANOWSKY
Chairman, Academic Council

PROF. JOSEPH KAPLAN
Assoc. Chairman, Academic Council

HON. HERBERT H. LEHMAN
Chairman, National Council

MRS. LOUIS S. GIMBEL, JR.
Chairman, Women's Division

MRS. JULIUS FLIGELMAN
Assoc. Chairman, Women's Division

DR. FREDERICK R. LACHMAN
Executive Vice President

August 25th, 1959

Dear Member:

The Annual Membership Meeting of the American Friends of the Hebrew University will take place on September 17th, 1959, at 4:00 P.M., at University House, 9 East 89th Street, New York City.

The Vice President of the Hebrew University, Professor Aryeh Dvoretzky, and the Executive Vice Chairman of the University's Board of Governors, Mr. Bernard Cherrick, will address the meeting and report on the most recent developments at the Hebrew University.

In addition, the Annual Report of the Association will be submitted and elections will be held for the presidency as well as for the Board of Directors. Pursuant to the provisions of the By-Laws of the American Friends, voting may take place by proxy.

We trust it will be possible for you to attend this meeting. Please advise us on the enclosed card that you will be present. In any event, please sign and return the enclosed proxy.

Sincerely yours,

Abraham Shamos

Abraham Shamos
Secretary.

AS:RB

Enclosure

reply card

Institute of Human Relations

THE AMERICAN JEWISH COMMITTEE

Cordially Invites You to A Conference on

MASS COMMUNICATION AND INTERGROUP RELATIONS

To Mark the Dedication of

The Institute of Human Relations
165 East 56 Street
New York City

Thursday, January 21, 1960

R.S.V.P.

AFTERNOON SESSION

2:30 P.M. - 5:30 P.M.

CHAIRMAN

Paul F. Lazarsfeld

Professor of Sociology, Columbia University

FINDINGS OF SOCIAL RESEARCH

The Study of the Influence of the Mass Media on Public Opinion

Arnold M. Rose

Professor of Sociology, University of Minnesota

The Variability and Variables in Communication Effects

Percy H. Tannenbaum

Director, Mass Communication Research Center
University of Wisconsin

Mass Communication and Community Relations

Morris Janowitz

Professor of Sociology, University of Michigan

Discussion

Cocktails

ROLE O

D

Refreshments

EVENING SESSION

8:15 P.M. - 10:45 P.M.

CHAIRMAN

C. D. Jackson

Vice-President, Time, Inc.

OLE OF THE MASS MEDIA: PROBLEMS AND OPPORTUNITIES

Paul F. Lazarsfeld

Edward W. Barrett

Dean, Graduate School of Journalism, Columbia University

Eric Johnston

President, Motion Picture Association of America, Inc.

Donald H. McGannon

President, Westinghouse Broadcasting Company, Inc.

Discussion

shments

DEDICATION OF THE INSTITUTE OF HUMAN RELATIONS . . .

The American Jewish Committee has created the Institute of Human Relations as a center for research and study, a meeting place for students, scholars, opinion molders, religious and civic leaders—for all men of wisdom and good will who are concerned with "man's understanding of his fellow man."

To launch the Institute on its mission, the week of January 18, 1960, will be devoted to a series of conferences among persons of attainment in the social sciences, in religion, education, mass communication and civic affairs. They will consider how knowledge in their respective fields can best contribute to the strengthening of intergroup relations. From these deliberations the Institute will derive its guidelines for the immediate future.

GENTLEMEN:

I will attend the Conference on Mass Communication and Intergroup Relations on January 21, 1960.

Please send ticket for (check one or both):

☐ Afternoon Session
☐ Evening Session

Name Edward R. Murrow

Address _____

ADMISSION BY TICKET ONLY

Institute of World Affairs
Eng dinner

THE INSTITUTE OF WORLD AFFAIRS

requests the pleasure of your company

at dinner

celebrating the

THIRTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY of the founding of the Institute

Tuesday, October 20th, 1959

at 7:30 o'clock

Reception 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock

Starlight Roof
The Waldorf Astoria
New York

Speaker

HONORABLE ROBERT D. MURPHY
Under Secretary of State for Political Affairs

RD

Presiding

MR. ARTHUR K. WATSON
President of World Trade Corporation of International Business Machines

INSTITUTE OF WORLD AFFAIRS

For 35 years, the Institute of World Affairs has been training outstanding university students from throughout the world for leadership in their own communities and countries. Today, nearly 1,400 Institute graduates from 79 countries of the Free World are interpreting to their own people the moral and spiritual ideals on which American government is based and are helping to promote better world understanding and ultimate Peace.

The Institute of World Affairs was founded in 1924 at Geneva, Switzerland by Mr. and Mrs. Alexander M. Hadden. Then known as the Students International Union, its seminars during July and August were called the Institute of World Affairs. Dr. Salvador de Madariaga, world renowned as a statesman, scholar, diplomat, philosopher and journalist, was its director for six years, and Sir Norman Angell, winner of the Nobel Peace Prize in 1933, for nine years.

After war came to Europe, the work was transferred to the United States in 1940 and incorporated as Institute of World Affairs. Since that time, annual seminars have been conducted at Twin Lakes in Salisbury, Connecticut. Directors of the Institute's seminars in the United States have included Dr. William Y. Elliott, Professor of Government at Harvard University, and Dr. Arthur Smithies, Professor of Political Economy at Harvard.

In addition to the annual seminars, the Institute has for several years conducted year-round orientation courses for displaced university students from Eastern Europe. In 1957 the Institute served as host to 30 Hungarian refugee students, instructing them in English and enabling them to experience the American way of life.

The Institute of World Affairs is supported by endowments and contributions from organizations and individuals interested in helping promote world understanding toward ultimately achieving world peace.

This year 41 students representing 21 countries are participating in a seminar devoted to "The Search for Peace in a World of Tension". Commissions on Economic, Ideological and Political problems, pertaining to underdeveloped countries have been organized. Guest lecturers have included Dr. A. G. Hill, Professor, Physics Department, M.I.T.; Dr. William R. Emerson, Professor of History, Yale University; Colonel Arnold Whitridge, Professor of History in the Arts and Letters Department, Yale University; Professor John P. Dawson, Harvard Law School; Professor Don Price, Dean of the Graduate School of Public Administration, Harvard University; General William H. Wilbur, U. S. Army, Retired, and Colonel George A. Lincoln, U. S. Military Academy, West Point.

INSTITUTE OF WORLD
527 Madison Avenue, Nev

OFFICERS AND D

Mrs. Alexander M. Had
Hon. Edward R. Finch,
Mrs. Dana C. Backus, V
Edmund S. Hawley, Vic
Mrs. Francis T. P. Plim
Joseph A. Bucher, Treas

Mrs. D. Nelson Adams
Mrs. Frederick R. Bauer
Mrs. Harry Payne Bingham, Jr.
Mme. Draper Boncompagni
Carter M. Braxton
Charles C. Collingwood
Mrs. Robert De Witt
Dr. William Y. Elliott
Mrs. Diane R. Eristavi
Mrs. Walter S. Fischer
Mrs. L. Henry Fradkin
Francis A. Kettaneh

INTERNATIONAL

Sir Norman Angell
Mrs. M. Corbett Ashby
Hon. Philip Noel Baker
Dr. James P. Baxter, III
Dr. Salvador de Madariaga
Dr. Bruno de Peverelli
Mrs. J. Borden Harriman
Dr. W. Ernest Hocking
H. E. Dr. Hu Shih
Mrs. Herbert A. May

ADVISORY BO

Meade Brunet, Vice-President
Radio Corporation of America

P. C. Foote, President
Cutler-Hammer International, C. A.

Major General Leland S. Hobbs, Vice-President, Colonial Trust Company

Richard A. Hutchinson, Vice-President
Studebaker-Packard Corporation

James McCosh Magie, Financier

WORLD AFFAIRS, INC.
nue, New York 22, N. Y.

AND DIRECTORS

M. Hadden, President
. Finch, Vice-President
ackus, Vice-President
vley, Vice-President
P. Plimpton, Secretary
er, Treasurer

Dr. J. Martin Klotsche
Dr. Hans Kohn
Mrs. William S. Ladd
Mrs. Richard P. Loftus
Dr. Dwayne Orton
Mrs. James C. Penney
Mrs. William J. Ronan
Howard A. Scholle
Mrs. Thomas J. Watson
Mrs. Clark Williams
Mrs. Edmund LeRoy Wilson
Dr. J. W. Wunsch

IONAL COUNCIL

Dr. Jay F. W. Pearson
Sir S. Radhakrishnan
Very Rev. Sturgis L. Riddle
Dr. Charles Seymour
Dr. James T. Shotwell
Hokan B. Steffanson
Mrs. Donald B. Tresidder
Dr. R. B. von Klein Smid
Dr. Benjamin F. Wright
H. E. James D. Zellerbach

ORY BOARD

Charles B. Meech, Vice-President
Minneapolis-Honeywell
Regulator Company

Henry A. J. Ralph, Vice-President
The Bank of America

William J. W. Reid, Vice-President
Otis Elevator Company

A. Lightfoot Walker, President
Rheem Manufacturing Company

Intercounty Savings + Loan

August 25, 1959

Dear Miss Evans:

Your kind letter of August 21st has reached me just prior to my departure for Europe. I expect to be out of the country for most of the next ten months and therefore must regretfully decline your invitation to participate in "An American Roundtable" on September 16, 1959.

Sincerely yours,

Miss Peggy Evans
Director of Public Relations
Intercounty Savings and Loan Association
8623 Germantown Avenue
Philadelphia 18, Pennsylvania

gw

CHestnut Hill 7-6911

Intercounty Savings and Loan Association 8623 Germantown Avenue, Philadelphia 18, Pa.

August 21, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Intercounty Savings and Loan Association, with four offices in the Philadelphia area, is sponsoring a unique public service program entitled "An American Roundtable", September 16, 1959, 7-10 p.m. The program is designed to provide an opportunity for local business leaders in the metropolitan Philadelphia area to meet and talk with national leaders in informal roundtable discussions.

Specifically, we are inviting 100 nationally recognized leaders in various fields. Locally, 500 Philadelphia area business leaders are expected to be guests. The local businessmen will indicate with whom of the national leaders they would like to meet and talk.

The program will begin with all the national leaders on the stage. They will be introduced by a well-known television news commentator. At one end of the stage will be a panel of newspaper, television and radio reporters. A half-hour press conference will be conducted in front of the audience between the reporters and national leaders, with the television news commentator acting as moderator.

Following the press conference, the national leaders will be assigned to individual discussion groups among the audience. It is suggested that the national leaders speak informally for 10 or 15 minutes in their individual groups and then submit to questions from the local business leaders.

We will be honored if you will participate as one of the national leaders.

Our "American Roundtable" program is being conducted in connection with a week-long celebration marking the opening of Intercounty's new main office building at Bethlehem Pike and Germantown Avenue in the Chestnut Hill section of Philadelphia. This historic location is the highest point in Philadelphia County. The "American Roundtable", however, will be in the Water Tower Recreation Center, Hartwell avenue and Ardleigh street, Philadelphia. May we have your reply as soon as possible?

Very truly yours

P. Evans

Miss Peggy Evans
Director of Public Relations

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK SYSTEM

FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN INSURANCE CORPORATION INSURED

Iowa State Univ.

August 12, 1959

Mr. Robert C. Means
305 East First Street
Villisca, Iowa

Dear Mr. Means:

As Mr. Murrow is away, I am answering your letter to him of August 9 on his behalf. I much regret that he will be unable to participate in your Leadership Day ceremonies. He is leaving next week for a year's travel abroad and does not expect to return to this country until July 1960.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

August 9, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Each year in April, Cardinal Key, highest men's honorary on the Iowa State University campus, sponsors "Leadership Day," a day set aside on the year s schedule to recognize male students for outstanding achievement in leadership, scholarship, character, and service. It is a custom to invite as a speaker for this day a man who has demonstrated these qualities and can present his ideas in these areas to an audience. For this reason, we are interested in having you as our speaker for next year.

The date is not definite and could probably be arranged to fit into your schedule. A Tuesday or Thursday during the early or middle part of April (1960) would be preferred. Would it be possible for you to speak here at such a date.

The two events at which we should like to have you speak are a convocation open to all men in the morning and a banquet in the evening for men who have been nominated by their residences for membership in Cardinal Key.

If your reply is affirmative, could you indicate an approximate fee, as we, of course, have limits on our expenditures. I am looking forward to hearing from you and hope that you will be able to be with us in April.

Sincerely,

Robert C. Means

Robert C. Means
Chairman, 1960 Leadership Day
305 East First Street
Villisca, Iowa

Mr John

Mr. John

Emperor of Fashion commands the presence of.....

Mr Murrow

to attend the Press Preview Opening of his "Second Empire Collection" of Hats, Couture, Furs and Boutique Accessories for Spring and Summer, 1960. Mr. John will personally present this collection, at his fabulous new palace of top-to-toe custom fashion, on Thursday, January 7th, at 10:30 A.M.

Twenty Four West Fifty Seventh Street
New York City 19, N.Y. Plaza 7-1966

Please Present This Card Guests are Registered
R.S.V.P. Will Not Be Admitted Without Hats

Joint Veterans Council

December 30, 1959

Dear Mr. Shields:

Thank you for your gracious letter of December 22nd inviting Mr. Murrow to address the Joint Veterans Council at their 9th Annual Brotherhood Breakfast on February 22nd.

I regret that since Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and will be traveling abroad for most of the next six months, it will not be possible for him to accept. Thank you again for asking him.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Henry R. Shields, Secretary
Joint Council War Veterans
Room 2
Borough Hall
Brooklyn 2, New York

Joint Council War Veterans Organization of Kings County

Headquarters
Room 2 Borough Hall, Brooklyn 2, N. Y.

UNITED SPANISH WAR VETERANS

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS OF THE U. S.

AMERICAN LEGION

DISABLED AMERICAN VETERANS

JEWISH WAR VETERANS

CATHOLIC WAR VETERANS

ARMY AND NAVY UNION, U.S.A.

December 22, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The Joint Veterans Council, comprising the American Legion, Disabled American Veterans, Catholic War Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Jewish War Veterans, are holding their 9th Annual Brotherhood Breakfast on Washington's Birthday, Monday, February 22, 1960, at 10 A.M. at the Hotel St. George in Brooklyn.

As Secretary of the Joint Council, I wish to extend an invitation to you to be a guest speaker at this important event. Each year we have had a complete sellout at this function and I feel that the message which you will have for us that day will be most welcome by all.

Previous speakers who honored us with their presence were former Governor of New York State Averell Harriman, Senator Jacob K. Javits, Senator Irving M. Ives, and others.

Since time is short, I would greatly appreciate it if you would let me know by return mail if we can count on your being with us that morning.

Respectfully yours,

Henry R. Shields
per N.H.

Henry R. Shields, Secretary
Joint Council War Veterans

HRS:NH

Karsh, Yousuf

William R. Mc Culley
President of Thomas Nelson & Sons cordially invites you to a reception for Yousuf and Madame Karsh on the occasion of the publication of "Portraits of Greatness"

5 to 7 p.m.
Friday, December 4
The Canadian Club
18th Floor
Waldorf Astoria Hotel

R.S.V.P.

PL 3-0065

KFYO Radio
Lubbock, Texas

August 11, 1959

Mr. Gordon Thompson
KFYO Radio
914 Avenue J
Lubbock, Texas

Dear Mr. Thompson:

As Mr. Murrow has already departed on his year's sabbatical leave, I am answering your kind letter of August 7 on his behalf. I much regret to tell you that he will not be available to do any speaking next year, as he expects to be abroad all of that time. Thank you so much for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

790 KC KFYO Radio CBS
5000 WATTS DAY PLAINS RADIO BROADCASTING COMPANY 1000 WATTS
Affiliated with Avalanche-Journal Publishing
Phone POrter 5-5567 . . . 914 Ave. J
LUBBOCK, TEXAS

August 7, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The Rotary Club of Lubbock will be the host to 43 Rotary Clubs in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico, for the 35th annual Intercity Rotary meeting in February 1960. This meeting is attended by 500 to 800 civic leaders and first class citizens of this Southwest area.

For the annual Intercity meeting we strive to have an outstanding speaker. Such speakers as H. Roe Bartle, Mayor of Kansas City, the Governor of Texas and New Mexico, Herb Taylor, the President of Rotary International, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson and Congressman George Mahon have addressed our meetings in the past. We would consider it an honor and a privilege to have you, Mr. Murrow, as our next Intercity speaker. The date can be flexible, any time in January, February or March of next year.

We realize that you have a busy schedule but hope you can arrange to come to this part of Texas. If you feel like this can be arranged, please let me know and we will make arrangements necessary for your travel expenses, honorarium, etc.

May I hear from you soon.

Cordially,

Gordon Thompson

Gordon Thompson
Manager KFYO Radio
Chairman 1959-60
Rotary Intercity Meetin

GT/fn

King College
e R

August 18, 1959

Mr. Jack E. Snider
King College
Bristol, Tennessee

Dear Mr. Snider:

It is most kind of you to invite Mr. Murrow to visit King College campus in November. Unfortunately, Mr. Murrow is at present on a year's sabbatical leave during which he intends to travel abroad extendively, and he will be out of the country for most of the coming year. Thank you in any case for inviting him.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

KING COLLEGE

BRISTOL, TENNESSEE

OFFICE OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

August 13, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
Columbia Broadcasting System
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

To widen the experience of both our faculty and students, King College is planning to bring a group of distinguished visitors to the campus November 9-11, to lecture and to be available for formal and informal conversations with professors and students.

We are wondering if you would be available at that time for such a visit. If so, what would be your honorarium?

King College is a small college in the Appalachian highlands of East Tennessee, affiliated with the Presbyterian Church. The curriculum is strongly liberal-arts rather than technical. Our students are drawn from most of the southern states, and a large proportion of our graduates go on for advanced study.

Sincerely yours,

Jack Snider

Jack E. Snider
Director of Public Relations

Lawrenceville School

THE LAWRENCEVILLE SCHOOL
LAWRENCEVILLE, NEW JERSEY

THE HEAD MASTER

October 24, 1959

Dear Miss Wachsner:

Thank you for your letter of October 22nd. We are disappointed that Mr. Murrow will not be able to join us during this 150th Celebration year. I hope that you will convey to Mr. Murrow our regrets as well as our good wishes for a fine year's leave of absence abroad.

Sincerely,

Bruce McClellan

Bruce McClellan

Miss Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary to Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

October 22, 1959

Dear Mr. McClellan:

Your kind letter of October 16th was received at this office after Mr. Murrow had departed for Europe to begin a year's leave of absence.

I regret that since he will be out of the country for most of the next ten months, it will not be possible for him to speak at the Lawrenceville School. Thank you for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Bruce McClellan
The Head Master
The Lawrenceville School
Lawrenceville, New Jersey

THE LAWRENCEVILLE SCHOOL
LAWRENCEVILLE, NEW JERSEY

THE HEAD MASTER

October 16, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
580 Park Avenue, Apt. 10D
New York 21, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

This year Lawrenceville is celebrating its 150th Anniversary. As part of the program we are inviting "Visitors on the Anniversary" to speak to the student body.

The celebration committee invites you to join us as a speaker sometime during this very special year. We would hope that you could plan to arrive in the late afternoon for tea with seniors and then, after dinner with members of the faculty, address the entire school at eight o'clock. Following the major address we would have a reception for members of the faculty at our home. The honorarium is $500.00.

I have tentatively reserved the dates of December 9th and March 2nd, but our schedule is flexible and we would probably be able to arrange your appearance for any date convenient to you. In general we prefer Wednesdays simply because most of our boys have more latitude on Wednesday to adjust their studies.

I very much hope that you will be able to join us in our 150th Anniversary Celebration.

Sincerely,

Bruce McClellan

Bruce McClellan

Enc.

150th Anniversary

THE LAWRENCEVILLE SCHOOL

1810 · 1960

GENERAL ANNOUNCEMENT

A Service of Thanksgiving
on Parents Day
Saturday, October 24, 1959

✧

A Series of Departmental Conferences on the theme:
"The Impact of Advanced Standing in School and College" Reporting to The Administrators Conference of The College Entrance Examination Board at Lawrenceville
June, 1960

✧

A Program of "Visitors on the Anniversary"

✧

Celebration Days for Alumni Friday and Saturday
May 20 and 21, 1960

✧

A Service of Dedication
on Parents Day
Saturday, October 22, 1960

THE LAWRENCEVILLE SCHOOL

begins its one hundred and fiftieth year with thanksgiving for blessings bestowed upon it and with the fervent desire that it may continue to play a distinguished role in American education.
To celebrate this sesquicentennial the trustees, faculty, and students are joining in a year-long program which is planned to mark the occasion appropriately for all the members of the Lawrenceville family.

It is our hope that this year will confirm our academic leadership, will renew the strong bonds between alumni and the school,
and will bring closer together at a time of celebration parents and friends who have been such valued members of our larger community.

May we all find in this very special year a new dedication to the ideals and the future of Lawrenceville.

Bruce McClellan

HEAD MASTER

Edwin A. Lavino '05

PRESIDENT, THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

EDWIN M. LAVINO, L'05, PRESIDENT

THATCHER M. BROWN, JR., L'26

EDMUND N. CARPENTER, II, L'39

KARL W. CORBY, L'39

SIDNEY W. DAVIDSON, L'12

ROBERT DECHERT, L'12

BURTON H. ETHERINGTON, JR., L'29

ROBERT S. GERSTELL, L'13

FREDERICK S. GILBERT, L'30

E. HARRIS HARBISON, L'24

W. BARTLES HAWKE, L'17

JOHN N. IRWIN, II, L'33

ALLAN P. KIRBY, L'13

WILLIAM C. MATTHEWS, L'38

BRUCE MC CLELLAN, HEAD MASTER

CLINT W. MURCHISON, JR., L'41

JANSEN NOYES, L'05

THOMAS RYDER RUDEL, L'25

CHARLES J. WEISER, JR., L'21

Lennen + Newell

December 16, 1959

Dear Mr. Begley:

Thank you for your letter of December 10th, which was received here in Mr. Murrow's absence. As you know, Mr. Murrow is on a year's sabbatical and will not be returning to the States for several months.

I regret to have to tell you that Mr. Murrow has made it a firm policy not to participate in advertisements or film commercials and as you can understand, he cannot make any exceptions to this rule. Thank you for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Martin Begley
Casting Director
Lennen & Newell, Inc.
380 Madison Avenue
New York 17, New York

LENNEN & NEWELL, INC.
ADVERTISING
380 MADISON AVENUE, NEW YORK 17, N. Y.

SAN FRANCISCO OFFICE
235 MONTGOMERY STREET

BEVERLY HILLS OFFICE
308 NORTH RODEO DRIVE

December 10, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow,

Whereas you are so identified as a smoker during your interview shows and I was informed that your cigarette is Old Gold straights, I am writing to ask if you would be interested in doing some spot film commercials for Old Gold. I assure you that the copy would be dignified and have nothing to do with "tars and nicotine." There would be no more than five or six exposures a week in about 31 markets covering approximately 70% of the country.

If you are interested would you advise as to your fee and when you plan on returning to the states. I realize that you are on an extensive tour and may possibly remain abroad for some time. In that case we probably could arrange to send a producer to Europe to do the filming when it would fit into your schedule.

Hoping to receive an early reply, I am

Sincerely yours,
LENNEN & NEWELL, INC.
Martin Begley
Martin Begley
Casting Director

MB/LdiR

Levick, Irving

August 24, 1959

Dear Mrs. Levick:

Your kind letter of August 20th has reached me just prior to my departure for Europe. I expect to be out of the country for most of the next ten months and therefore must regretfully decline your invitation to address the meeting of the United Jewish Appeal on April 6, 1960.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. Irving Levick
227 Nottingham Terrace
Buffalo 16, New York

gw

IRVING LEVICK
227 NOTTINGHAM TERRACE
BUFFALO 16, NEW YORK

NC
yes

August 20, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
c/o Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Ave.
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

We would like to know if you will be available this year for any speaking engagements.

If so, would you be free on April 6, 1960 for a city-wide women's United Jewish Appeal luncheon meeting?

For the past years, there has been a great desire in this committee to have you in person, and I would appreciate a reply from you.

Sincerely,

Mildred Levick

Mildred Levick
(Mrs. Irving Levick)

ML/gm

Lippman, Walter Ing

September 14, 1959

Dear Mrs. Lippmann:

Many thanks for your kind invitation to attend a party to be given for your husband on September 23rd. Unfortunately, it arrived shortly after Mr. Murrow had left for Europe and as he will not be back in the States for several months it will not be possible for him to attend.

Sincerely yours,

Secretary

Mrs. Walter Lippmann
3525 Woodley Road
Washington, D. C.

MRS. WALTER LIPPMANN

3525 WOODLEY ROAD

For Walter's 70th Birthday
Wednesday, September 23
Cocktails
5:30 - 7:30 Eve
dec ans.

RSVP
Regrets Only

Em 2-3526

Mayer, Dr Frederick
E D

NO

Honoring
Dr. Frederick Mayer

Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Alison request the pleasure of your company at a Cocktail Party on Thursday, the twenty-seventh of August from six until eight o'clock in the evening
Sun Lounge
Beverly Hills Hotel
Beverly Hills, California

Please respond
1119 North Clark Street
Hollywood 46, California
Telephone OLympic 2-5778

Meir, Golda

Mrs. Golda Meir
The Minister for Foreign Affairs
and
Chairman of the Delegation of Israel to the Fourteenth Session of the General Assembly requests the pleasure of the company of

Mr. & Mrs. Edward R. Murrow

at a reception
on Tuesday, the twenty-ninth of September six-thirty to eight-thirty p.m.
in the Crystal Ballroom
The Park Lane, 299 Park Avenue

R.S.V.P.
TR 9-3410

Montreal
Hadassah

October 20, 1959

MONTREAL HADASSAH

REGRET MURROW NOT ACCEPTING SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS SINCE HE IS SPENDING YEAR'S LEAVE OF ABSENCE ABROAD

MURROW'S SECRETARY

MONTREAL HADASSAH

REGRET MORROW NOT ACCEPTING SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS SINCE HE IS SPENDING YEAR,S LEAVE OF ABSENCE ABROAD

MURROW,S SECRETARY

RECEIVED
1959 OCT 20 PM 1:33
C B S TELETYPE ROOM N.Y.

WU013 86/85 DL

QS MONTREAL QUE OCT 20 1152A

EDWARD R MURROW

CARE COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM

MONTREAL HADASSAH IS LAUNCHING ITS YOUTH ALIYAH CAMPAIGN WHICH IS THE RESCUE AND REHABILITATION OF CHILDREN IN ISRAEL STOP YOUR SPEAKING AT LUNCHEON FOR FIFTEEN HUNDRED WOMEN WOULD INSURE SUCCESS OF CAMPAIGN STOP DATES COULD BE JANUARY EIGHTEENTH NINETEENTH TWENTIETH OR TWENTY-FIFTH TO SUIT YOU STOP BECAUSE JETS MAKE MONTREAL ONLY EIGHTY MINUTES FROM NEW YORK AND BECAUSE WE HAVE TRIED FOR YEARS TO CONTACT YOU WE ARE HOPING YOU CAN ACCEPT THIS SPEAKING ENGAGEMENT STOP WE WOULD APPRECIATE YOUR AGENT REPLYING BY COLLECT TELEGRAM

MONTREAL HADASSAH

1239P..

Music Research Fnd

MUSIC RESEARCH FOUNDATION, INC.

A non-profit non-partisan organization mobilizing music in the service of mankind.

DR. BRUNO WALTER
Honorary Chairman

FRANCES PAPERTE
Founder-President

CHARLOTTE WILLKIE PIHL
Vice President

DR. FRANCIS KNIGHT BALLAINE
Vice Presidents

ERIC JOHNSTON
Consultant

HORACE A. TEASS
Secretary

THOMAS G. DUNNE
Treasurer

Board of Directors

Chairman
Horace A. Teass
Francis Knight Ballaine, Ph.D.
William M. Brennan
Graham Claytor
Jean Dickenson
George Hammond
John P. Ohl
Frances Paperte
Rise Stevens
W. A. W. Stewart, Jr.
Lawrence Tibbett

Research Committee

Honorary Chairman
Paul H. Hoch, M.D.
Medical Director
Ralph C. Williams, M.D., USPHS (Ret.)
Research Advisors
Dr. Herman S. Alpert
Dr. Ralph S. Banay
Alexander Capurso, Ph.D.
Raymond B. Cattell, Ph.D.
Dr. William Cooper
Dr. V. T. DeVault
Dr. Solomon Garb
Joseph O. Loretan, Ph.D.
Dr. Walter Modell
Zygmunt A. Piotrowski, Ph.D.
Carroll C. Pratt, Ph.D.
C. Chester Stock, Ph.D.
Dr. Arthur M. Sutherland
Dr. Franz E. Winkler

Advisory Council

Leonard Bernstein
Robert J. Calder, Jr.
Richmond L. Cardinell
Bing Crosby
Paul Cunningham
Chris J. de Prospo, Ph.D.
Howard Dietz
Dr. Louis I. Dublin
Frank Forest
John F. Gardner, Ph.D.
Dr. Carlos M. Giro
James A. Hall, Ed.D.
Carl Haverlin
Curtis R. Henderson
Elliot Hoffman
Sen. W. S. Hults
Jay Jackson
Nick Kenny
Thomas F. Madigan
Grace Naismith
Leo Perlis
Halsey Raines
Edna Rossum
Samuel Rubin
George N. Shuster, Ph.D.
Sigmund Spaeth
Philip Sporn
Cesare Sturani
A. M. Sullivan
Haskell C. Titchell
Mrs. Fred M. Vinson
Fred Waring

Music Committee

Hon. Chairman
Yehudi Menuhin
Rose Bampton
John Brownlee
Burl Ives
Marjorie Lawrence
Estelle Liebling
Patrice Munsel
Rise Stevens
Gladys Swarthout

EXECUTIVE OFFICES
654 MADISON AVENUE
NEW YORK 21, N. Y.
TEMPLETON 8-6852

Sept. 18, 1959

Mr. Edward H. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting Company
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

True or False, plase, Mr. Murrow:

Music can help heal the sick.____

Music can help make people work better.____

Music can reduce juvenile delinquency.____
Music can help Man find spiritual assurance.____
Music -- as the universal language -- can help bring World Peace.____

It is hard, isn't it, to write an unqualified "T" or "F" in those blanks?

For 15 years Music Research Foundation has conducted studies in this field - primarily in music's potential as a definite factor in therapy. It started in 1944 at Walter Reed General Hospital, spurred by wartime needs, and turned up such a wealth of encouraging evidence that unsolicited bequests and the personal generosity of a few public spirited individuals have supported its various projects in the years since.

The Foundation directors feel the time has come to enroll the leaders of the music industry in an expanded effort to discover -- and give the widest possible useful distribution to -- the true, scientifically documented potentialities of music.

On October 1, 1959 from 2 to 5 p.m. at the New York Academy of Sciences, 2 East 63rd Street, New York 21, N. Y., we shall have a meeting of industry leaders to develop plans for our enlarged program. We invite you to meet with us then. The sole purpose of this meeting is to inform the members of the music industry of our plans and objectives and to obtain their advice on implementing these plans. We hope you will be present.

Sincerely,

Rise Stevens

Rise Stevens
Member of the Board

RS:as enc

ADDRESS OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE
WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
WASHINGTON

July 18, 1958

My dear Mr. Ambassador:

Miss Frances Paperte, founder and president of the Music Research Foundation, Inc., and Mrs. Meyer Berger, of the New York Times, will soon be arriving in Bonn on their way to Copenhagen to attend the Third International Conference of the International Society for Music Education, which will begin in Copenhagen, Denmark, on July 31, 1958. You will probably receive other communications regarding their visit there.

I cannot recommend Miss Paperte and her work too highly. This is an excellent foundation, and Miss Paperte's work in this field has been most outstanding.

Any special assistance or courtesies you may be able to extend to Miss Paperte and her group to help further their prestige and accomplishments in Copenhagen will be considered a personal favor and much appreciated.

With my warmest best wishes, I am very

Sincerely yours,

V. T. DeVault, M. D.
Medical Director of the Foreign Service and Department of State

The Honorable
David K. E. Bruce
American Ambassador
American Embassy Bonn, Germany

ed

MUSIC RESEARCH FOUNDATION, INC.

Invites you to attend a meeting on Thursday, October 1, 1959

2 to 5 p.m.

NEW YORK ACADEMY OF SCIENCES
2 East 63rd Street, New York to meet some of the professional musicians and distinguished doctors who have aided in the development of the objectives of Music Research Foundation.

Other eminent persons in the allied fields of music, medicine and industry will be present.

Dr. Paul H. Hoch, Commissioner of Mental Hygiene for the State of New York, will outline the practical need for expanded research into Music's Role in Therapy. As you know, this is one of the principal areas that MRF has explored over the past 15 years. Burl Ives will relate in his own inimitable way, his experience in this field.

All of us who have shared in the Foundation's work feel this meeting may open the door to the practical utilization of the full power of music. So we are sure you will wish to be with us if it is at all possible.

R.S.V.P.

THERE IS A REASONABLE CHANCE THAT IN OUR LIFETIME MANY PRESCRIPTIONS WILL LOOK THIS WAY...

The knowledge that music can affect us profoundly is as universal as music itself. To test the therapeutic values of music is the primary purpose of

MUSIC RESEARCH FOUNDATION, INC.

654 MADISON AVENUE, NEW YORK 21, NEW YORK

TEMPLETON 8-6852

Music

Affects sleep and acts upon the sub-conscious

Stimulates and reduces appetite

Strengthens the muscular co-ordination of the crippled

Relaxes tensions and soothes mental patients

Influences social behavior

Affects heart beat and respiration

Hastens post-operative recovery

What our beloved Honorary Chairman, Dr. Bruno Walter, wrote to his friend Maestro Arturo Toscanini just before the latter's death:

> "Of course, we musicians know that it is primarily the concern of physicians to develop a scientific method of utilizing the healing potential of music. But you will agree, I am sure, that we musicians have a special responsibility to inform the public of the power of music to serve mankind."

About fifteen years ago when war's violence shattered a frightening number of minds and bodies, a group of dedicated volunteers in military hospitals found that music, one of the oldest mediums of human expression, was a two-sided instrument. It could gently open minds locked in bitter darkness. It could excite and reawaken minds that seemed hopelessly dulled or depressed.

Unhappy incidents showed that different conditions called for different kinds of music; that there would have to be careful clinical control as there is before a new drug is released from the laboratory. The Music Research Foundation was organized to promote scientific studies that might fashion music into a predictable instrument like medicine. Reputable and earnest musicians, physicians and psychiatrists were enlisted. Unselfish men and women volunteers contributed time and gave generously of their income that the studies might go forward. More recently, because there seemed promise in the idea, the Foundation started to look into the possibilities of using music as an outlet for the youthful hysteria manifested in so-called juvenile delinquency.

The Foundation's Executive Committee of Research Advisors keeps careful supervision of the humane studies undertaken through MRF sponsorship. Board members act only on pure and honest motive for the benefit of Mankind. The Foundation is a non-profit, non-partisan body. Its efforts have won commendation in high places.

By Meyer Berger
New York Times

OFFICERS AND BOARD OF DIRECTORS

DR. BRUNO WALTER
Honorary Chairman

FRANCES PAPERTE
Founder-President

CHARLOTTE WILLKIE PIHL
Vice President

DR. FRANCIS KNIGHT BALLAINE
Vice President

ERIC JOHNSTON
Consultant

CHARLES E. WILSON
Consultant

HORACE A. TEASS
Secretary

THOMAS G. DUNNE
Treasurer

Research Committee

Chairman
Ralph C. Williams, M.D., USPHS (Ret.)

Research Advisors
Dr. Herman S. Alpert
Ralph S. Banay, M.D.
Alexander Capurso, Ph.D.
Raymond B. Cattell, Ph.D.
Dr. William Cooper
Dr. Solomon Garb
Louise M. Heim, Ph.D.
Joseph O. Loretan, Ph.D.
Dr. Walter Modell
Zygmunt A. Piotrowski, Ph.D.
Carroll C. Pratt, Ph.D.
C. Chester Stock, Ph.D.
Dr. Hans Strauss
Dr. Arthur M. Sutherland
Dr. S. D. Vestermark, U.S.P.H.S.
Dr. Franz E. Winkler

Advisory Council

Leonard Bernstein
Robert J. Calder, Jr.
Richmond L. Cardinell
Graham Claytor
Bing Crosby
Paul Cunningham
Howard Dietz
Dr. Louis I. Dublin
Frank Forest
John F. Gardner, Ph.D.
Carlos M. Giro
James A. Hall, Ed.D.
Carl Haverlin
Curtis R. Henderson
Nick Kenny
Grace Naismith
Leo Perlis
Halsey Raines
Samuel Rubin
Leroy Shield
George N. Shuster, Ph.D.
Sigmund Spaeth
Philip Sporn
A. M. Sullivan
Haskell C. Titchell
Mrs. Fred M. Vinson
Fred Waring

Board of Directors

Chairman
Francis Knight Ballaine, Ph.D.

Jean Dickenson
Ernest M. Frost
John P. Ohl
Arthur Judson
Frances Paperte
Rise Stevens
W. A. W. Stewart, Jr.
Horace A. Teass
Lawrence Tibbett

Music Committee

Hon. Chairman
Yehudi Menuhin

Rose Bampton
John Brownlee
Burl Ives
Marjorie Lawrence
Estelle Liebling
Patrice Munsel
Rise Stevens
Gladys Swarthout

YOU CAN HELP!

Up to the present, man's progress in the material world has outdistanced his efforts to improve human behavior. As a member of Music Research Foundation, you can help put music to work in further scientific research to inspire crippled children to learn to walk more quickly . . . penetrate the beclouded minds of mental patients . . . stimulate the depressed . . . soothe the over-excited . . . help in the adjustment of maladjusted personalities.

Active Membership	.....	$ 10
Sustaining "	.....	$ 50
Donor "	.....	$ 100
Life "	.....	$1000

NAACP

November 20, 1959

Dear Dr. Cox:

Thank you for your gracious letter of November 16th inviting Mr. Murrow to be the guest speaker at the 5th Annual Fight for Freedom Dinner of the Detroit Branch NAACP next April.

I regret that since Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and will be traveling abroad for most of the next eight months, it will not be possible for him to accept. Thank you for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Dr. Wendell Cox
Chairman, 1960 Freedom Fund Dinner
Nat'l Association for the Advancement of Colored People 606 East Vernor Highway
Detroit 1, Michigan

DETROIT BRANCH

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE

606 EAST VERNOR HIGHWAY • DETROIT 1, MICHIGAN • WOodward 2-6262

November 16, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
c/o Columbia Broadcasting Co.
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

We are in the midst of making preparations for the 5th Annual Fight for Freedom Dinner of the Detroit Branch NAACP. The Freedom Dinner, which is one of the two major fund-raising efforts of the Branch, is a $100 per couple affair which in the past has attracted annually about eight hundred distinguished Detroit citizens representing every segment of the community. Speakers who have addressed the Dinner in the past are Judge William H. Hastie, Dr. Mordecai Johnson, Walter P. Reuther and Thurgood Marshall.

The Dinner Committee has carefully considered you as a possible guest speaker for the 1960 Dinner. We are anxious to know, therefore, whether or not you would be available as a principal speaker for the Dinner which will be held on Sunday, April 24, 1960 and under what terms and conditions would you accept such an engagement.

The Committee is hopeful that you can give this matter your careful attention within the next few days in order that we may complete arrangements for the program. May we hear from you at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely yours,

Wendell Cox, D.D.S.
Chairman, 1960 Freedom Fund Dinner.

OFFICERS

Edward M. Turner
President

Rev. James E. Wadsworth, Jr.
1st Vice-President

Ernest Shell
2nd Vice-President

Damon J. Keith
3rd Vice-President

Moses K. Fritz
Treasurer

Mrs. Mamie L. Thompson
Treasurer Emeritus

Dr. C. Bruce Lee
Secretary

Arthur L. Johnson
Executive Secretary

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Hon. Victor J. Baum
Willie L. Baxter
Mrs. Geraldine Bledsoe
H. Franklin Brown
Mrs. Agnes Bryant
Dr. DeWitt T. Burton
Joseph A. Craigen
Rev. Henry Hitt Crane
Mrs. Irene Graves
Forrest Green
Mrs. Hattie Green
Dr. Alfred M. Kelly
Mrs. LaClaire Knox
Mrs. Beatrice Lapsley
Samuel Lipson
Dr. James J. McClendon
Bruce Miller
Dr. Ralston S. Mitchell
William H. Oliver
Hon. William T. Patrick, Jr.
Mrs. Beatrice Preston
Rev. Hubert N. Robinson
Mrs. Inez Rountree
Luther Simmons
Samuel J. Simmons
Theodore Smith
Dr. Lionel F. Swan
John Talley
Dr. Alf E. Thomas, Jr.
Dr. W. A. Thompson
Leon M. Wallace
Mrs. Beatrice Wesson
Eugene Wilson

HONORARY MEMBERS

Bishop George W. Baber
Mrs. Golda Krolik
Mrs. Fannie Pope
Mrs. Helene Wilson

November 25, 1959

Dear Mr. Pickett:

Thank you for your gracious letter of November 20th inviting Mr. Murrow to become a sponsor of the NCSNP.

As you may know, Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and is spending this time traveling abroad.

I regret that it is not possible for me to accept your invitation on his behalf.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Clarence Pickett
National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, Inc.
17 East 45th Street, Room 401
New York 17, New York

NCSNP

NATIONAL COMMITTEE FOR A SANE NUCLEAR POLICY, INC.
17 EAST 45th STREET, ROOM 401 NEW YORK 17, NEW YORK OXford 7-2265

CO-CHAIRMEN:
Norman Cousins
Clarence Pickett
TREASURER:
Clarence H. Low
COMPTROLLER:
Lawrence S. Mayers, Jr.
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE:
Edmund Berkeley
Dr. Robert Bone
Peter Charlton
Rev. Henry Hitt Crane
Gertrude Cuneo
Clark M. Eichelberger
Eugene Exman
Robert Gilmore
Sanford Gottlieb
Rev. Donald Harrington
Dr. Homer A. Jack
Dr. Walter Lear
Lenore G. Marshall
Orlie Pell
Norman Thomas
Dr. Hugh C. Wolfe

November 20, 1959

Dear Mr. Murrow:

During the past year and a half, as you know, Norman Cousins and I have been working closely with the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy. The Committee has taken the lead in conducting a broad public education and political action program on the moral and scientific problems of nuclear war, weapons testing and fallout. Through full-page "Statements for Americans" and through the activities of the local committees, NCSNP has already become an important and respected force in American life.

Because of the success we have had, and because of the urgency and importance of the task, we have decided to formalize the Committee to the extent of forming a group of Sponsors for NCSNP that would be broadly representative and would indicate the scope of the concern that exists in America over these problems.

The Sponsors of NCSNP will assure the representative nature of the organization. Their endorsement will assist greatly in successfully carrying out its program. Sponsors will be invited to attend all meetings of the Executive Board if convenient for them. They will be kept informed about the work of NCSNP and receive periodic reports. The organization will make no policy changes without consultation. The day-to-day work of the Committee will continue to be done by the Executive Board on which Norman Cousins and I sit as Co-Chairmen. Policy control of the organization lies in the Executive Board. The local committees are chartered by the Executive Board and abide by the Board's decisions.

Knowing your strong interest in the problems which concern NCSNP, we should like to include your name among our sponsors. I hope you will consent. A list of those already accepting sponsorship is attached.

Sincerely,

Clarence Pickett

Clarence Pickett

The Purpose and Program of the NATIONAL COMMITTEE FOR A SANE NUCLEAR POLICY INC.

"A boldly conceived and executed policy" . . .

NATIONAL COMMITTEE FOR A SANE NUCLEAR POLICY, INC.

Co-Chairmen: Norman Cousins
Clarence Pickett

Comptroller: Lawrence S. Mayers, Jr.

Treasurer: Clarence H. Low

Executive Committee:

Edmund C. Berkeley,
NCSNP, Boston
Dr. Robert Bone,
NCSNP, New Haven
Peter Charlton,
NCSNP, Los Angeles
Norman Cousins, Editor,
The Saturday Review
The Rev. Henry Hitt Crane,
Detroit
Gertrude Cuneo,
NCSNP, Kansas City
Clark M. Eichelberger, Director
American Association for the United Nations
Eugene Exman, Vice President,
Harper Brothers
Robert Gilmore,
New York City Secretary,
American Friends Service Committee
Sanford Gottlieb,
NCSNP, Washington, D.C.
Rev. Donald Harrington, Minister,
Community Church, New York
Dr. Homer A. Jack, Minister,
Evanston, Illinois
Dr. Walter Lear,
NCSNP, New York
Clarence H. Low, Retired
Lenore G. Marshall,
Author of "Other Knowledge"
Lawrence S. Mayers, Jr.,
New York City
Orlie Pell, President,
U. S. Section, Women's International League
Clarence Pickett, Executive Secretary Emeritus,
American Friends Service Committee
Norman Thomas, Chairman,
Post War World Council
Dr. Hugh C. Wolfe, Chairman,
Department of Physics, Cooper Union

Staff: Donald Keys
Helen Robinette

Office: 202 E. 44th Street,
New York 17, New York
OXford 7-2265

. . . "To lead mankind awa

The inadequacy of the present response by national governments to international problems and the recognized ability of these governments to wage nuclear war which could end in mutual annihilation, prompted the formation of the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy.

The purpose of the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, Inc. is to develop public support for a boldly conceived and executed policy which will lead mankind away from nuclear war and toward world peace with justice. To this end we propose:

1. Immediate cessation of nuclear tests by all countries, including our own, through an inspected United Nations agreement.
2. International control of missiles and outer-space satellites through the United Nations.
3. International control over the stockpiling and production of nuclear weapons through the United Nations.
4. The support and reinforcement of the United Nations as an instrument of effective world law.

ON NUCLEAR TESTING

On most points relating to nuclear testing, there is no disagreement among scientists or military experts.

There is complete agreement for example, about the fact that nuclear explosives release quantities of radioactive materials into the atmosphere and that one of these materials is the deadly radioactive strontium.

There is complete agreement on the fact that radioactive strontium falls to earth and that no one can predict exactly how much will fall out within a given time, or where it will fall out. It can be carried thousands of miles from the site of the explosion. It can retain its killing power in the atmosphere for many years.

There is complete agreement about the fact that when radioactive strontium falls to earth, it settles like rain. Human beings who drink water or eat food contaminated by radioactive strontium are exposed to its dangers. Children who drink milk from cows grazing on contaminated land are exposed to the dangers of radioactive strontium and are far more susceptible than adults.

There is complete agreement about the fact that radioactive strontium can cause leukemia, cancer and bone diseases.

There is only disagreement over the amount of radioactive strontium a human being can tolerate without serious effect. It is important to note that as research continues on this question, smaller and smaller amounts of strontium-90 are found to be deleterious.

There is complete agreement that radioactive strontium has already been found over the United States, and over a large area of the world. Samples of milk from various parts of the country have revealed substantial quantities of radioactive strontium.

IF TESTS CONTINUE . . .

Opponents of testing call attention to the fact that the quantity of radioactive strontium in the atmosphere has risen prodigiously as the result of nuclear testing. They point out, too, that in addition to the United States, the Soviet Union and Great Britian, other countries are capable of making and testing nuclear explosives. Unless an effective halt to testing is brought about soon, the human race can look forward to increased testing by many nations, resulting in hazardous increases in the amount of radioactivity in the atmosphere.

Even the proponents of testing admit that when other nations start nuclear testing, a potentially dangerous situation will have been created.

The United Nations report on radiation, concurred in by fifteen countries including our own, points out the dangers of continued testing, and lists expected numbers of casualties from tests already held, indicating that fallout will continue to rain on the earth for ten years after testing stops.

What would happen if the United States takes advice from those who urged continued testing? If they should be proved wrong concerning the safety factor of radiation from fallout there would be no way to repair the error. There would be no way to wash the sky of the vast quantities of radioactive materials that had resulted from the explosions. We would have condemned large numbers of people both here and abroad to leukemia, cancer and genetic damage.

The most important argument against testing, however, rests on moral grounds.

Neither the United States, the Soviet Union, nor Great Britain has the moral right to poison the air or contaminate the land that belongs to other peoples. These countries have the right to take whatever risks they wish in the pursuit of their own security, but no country has the right to seek security at the expense of another.

WHAT ABOUT RUSSIA?

The Soviet Union has been able to score important propaganda victories throughout the world, especially in Asia and Africa, by posing as the champion of world peace.

We believe the United States has the obligation to take the initiative in this field before it is too late.

Would the United States suffer any military disadvantage if tests should be discontinued?

Destruction beyond a certain point is meaningless. We already possess the power for absolute destruction. We already have as many bombs as are required to wreak total havoc on any nation or combination of nations.

And we have the small "tactical" weapons too. As for the development of the "clean" bomb it is now generally regarded as unlikely in the extreme. We now know that 100% hydrogen bombs, if they could be constructed, and probably they cannot, would produce quantities of radioactive carbon-14 which in the long run may be even more dangerous than strontium-90.

In any event, this Committee sees no security for the United States in a course that jeopardizes the health of our own people and alienates us from the majority of the world's peoples.

There is another important argument in favor of cessation of nuclear testing:

Apart from the question of danger from fallout, the cessation of testing provides a workable place to begin on the larger question of arms control. For the main problem is to prevent a nuclear war, and to end the arms race that almost inevitably will lead to war.

Since no nation could test without risking discovery, a ban on nuclear testing, monitored by a reliable system of inspection such as has been recommended and agreed upon by scientists of East and West, represents a strategic entry into the entire field of arms control.

ON MISSILES

The Committee recognizes the dangers of a world in which intercontinental ballistic missiles are poised underground, widely dispersed, virtually uninspectible and ready for immediate launching. Nuclear death for all the world will then be only minutes away, the dangers of war by accident will assume nightmare proportions, and the establishment of effective international control will be an inconceivably difficult task.

To forestall the day of total danger the conquest of space must be dedicated to peaceful purposes only, through a United Nations agreement, and placed under an IGY-type program.

The inspection system for nuclear tests must then be expanded to monitor missile firings as well. Measures for the dismantling of missile emplacements and for the expansion of arms control into other areas must be explored.

GENESIS OF THIS COMMITTEE

For several years responsible scientists had attempted to alert the world to the existence of a hazardous situation resulting from nuclear explosions. Quite apart from the fallout threat, they were aware of the prodigious increase in the power of the new explosives. They knew that unless these explosives and the means to deliver them could be brought under control, their very existence would add to the tensions that might lead to nuclear war. They knew too, that a ban on testing was perhaps the best place to begin on the larger problem of armaments control and reduction, for the means to monitor such tests were relatively simple.

Many important appeals have been made to the world on the subject of nuclear testing.

One was from Pope Pius XII who called for an international agreement to put an end to nuclear explosions, for the renunciation of atomic weapons and for effective air and ground observation to insure arms control compliance.

Another came from Dr. Albert Schweitzer, the world-famed theologian, philosopher, doctor and humanitarian.

He said that mankind was committing a "folly in thoughtlessness" by permitting the tests to continue. Dr. Schweitzer issued a challenge to people from all walks of life to interest themselves in these questions and to create a mandate for wise action.

It was in response to such a challenge that the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, Inc. came into being. Included in the group were churchmen, scientists, businessmen, labor representatives, authors, editors and public figures.

The group decided to form an informal national committee for the purpose of putting important information before the American people and stimulating debate on the issues of our time.

It was felt that the group should do everything possible to support and strengthen existing organizations working to bring about increased understanding of problems related to atomic energy in particular and foreign policy in general.

HOW THIS CAN BE DONE

I. The National Committee works at three levels:

1. Top level: to reach leaders in industry, labor, religion, civic organizations and government.
2. Community level: (a) to stimulate and provide a focus for concerted local efforts to affect national policy on nuclear tests, missiles and satellites; (b) to encourage people to work within existing organizations on these matters.

3. Public Information: to distribute select material already published, but not yet accorded a full hearing; to prepare and publish new information of importance; to conduct a mass educational campaign in the nation's newspapers and other media.

II. You, In Your Town, In Your Organization can help too:

1. Send for copies of this pamphlet and other current literature. (Single copies free). Distribute this in your school, church, club, place of work. Send it with a personal note to leading radio and television commentators, to religious and organizational leaders, to your neighbors.
2. Find local sponsors for an ad in your newspaper.
3. Write letters to the President, to your Senators and your Congressmen (or talk to them while they are at home), the editor of your newspaper.
4. Seek out and work with others who believe as you do.
5. Contribute and ask others to contribute toward the work of the National Committee. Send all contributions to "Sane Nuclear Policy", Box 1705, New York 17, New York.

Sane Nuclear Policy, Inc.
Box 1705, New York 17, N. Y.

Please send me:

.....copies of this pamphlet

.....other information

.....news of the Committee's latest newspaper ad or other project.

I am enclosing a contribution of $..... to help further your work.

Name .....

Address .....

W H O W E A R E

SPONSORS

STEVE ALLEN, "The Steve Allen Show", Co-chairman, "Hollywood for SANE"

PROF. GORDON W. ALLPORT, psychologist

HARRY BELAFONTE, singer, actor

RAY BRADBURY, science fiction writer

HENRY S. CANBY, writer

DR. WILLIAM DAVIDON, physicist, Argonne National Laboratory

JULES FEIFFER, cartoonist, author

HAROLD E. FEY, editor, The Christian Century

DR. HARRY EMERSON FOSDICK, Minister Emeritus, The Riverside Church

DR. ERICH FROMM, psychologist, author

PATRICK E. GORMAN, International Secretary-Treasurer, Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, AFL-CIO

DR. WALTER GROPIUS, architect, author

GEN. HUGH B. HESTER, Brigadier General, U.S. Army (retired)

HALLOCK HOFFMAN, Fund for the Republic

WALT KELLY, cartoonist

DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING, Minister, Baptist Church, Montgomery, Ala.

RABBI EDWARD E. KLEIN, Stephen Wise Free Synagogue, New York

O.A. KNIGHT, President, Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers, AFL-CIO

DR. M. STANLEY LIVINGSTON, Director, Cambridge Electron Accelerator, Harvard University

PROF. A. H. MASLOW, psychologist, author

DR. SEYMOUR MELMAN, industrial management expert, author, Inspection for Disarmament

C. WRIGHT MILLS, sociologist, author

LEWIS MUMFORD, author, city planner

DR. WILLIAM F. NEUMAN, Professor of Radiation Biology

RICHARD NEUTRA, architect, author

EARL D. OSBORN, Insiitue for International Order

DR. LINUS PAULING, Chairman, Division of Chemistry, Caltech

DR. CHARLES C. PRICE, Director, Laboratory of Chemistry, University of Pennsylvania

DAVID RIESMAN, Prpfessor of Sociology, author, The Lonely Crowd

ROBERT RYAN, motion picture actor, Co-chairman, "Hollywood for SANE"

DR. JACK SCHUBERT, Physicist, Argonne National Laboratory

DR. RALPH SOCKMAN, Minister, Christ Church, New York City

DR. PITIRIM A. SOROKIN, Professor Emeritus of Sociology

DR. EDWARD J. SPARLING, President, Roosevelt University

DR. HAROLD TAYLOR, Former President, Sarah Lawrence College.

DEAN HOWARD THURMAN, Marsh Chapel, Boston University

LOUIS UNTERMEYER, author, editor

DR. MAURICE B. VISSCHER, University of Minnesota Medical School, Minnesota Atomic Development Problems Committee

JERRY VOORHIS, Executive Director, The Cooperative League of the USA

BISHOP HAZEN G. WERNER, Resident Bishop, Ohio Area, Methodist Church

HONORARY SPONSORS

Brock Chisholm, Canada

Lord Russell, United Kingdom

Max Born, Germany

Lord Boyd Orr, United Kingdom

C. Rajagopalachari, India

Canon L. John Collins, United Kingdom

CO-CHAIRMEN: Norman Cousins, Editor, The Saturday Review

Clarence Pickett, Executive Secretary Emeritus, American Friends Service Committee

BOARD (NATIONAL MEMBERS)

Clark M. Eichelberger, Director, American Association for the United Nations

Eugene Exman, Vice President, Harper & Bros.

Robert Gilmore, New York City Secretary, American Friends Service Committee

Rev. Donald Harrington, Minister, Community Church, New York

Rabbi Isidor B. Hoffman, Religious Counsellor, Columbia University

Councilman Stanley M. Isaacs, New York City

Dr. Homer A. Jack, Assistant Director, American Committee on Africa

Clarence H. Low, retired

Lenore G. Marshall, author of The Hill Is Level

Lawrence S. Mayers, Jr., New York City

Stewart Meacham, Director of International Programs, American Friends Service Committe

Orlie Pell, President, U.S. Section, Women's International League for Peace and Freedo

Norman Thomas, Chairman, Post War World Council

Dr. Hugh C. Wolfe, Chairman, Department of Physics, Cooper Union

And we are the thousands of individuals in and out of local committees across the nation who are working for sanity in world affairs.

National Farmers Union

October 14, 1959

Dear Mr. Gilfillan:

Thank you for your letter of October 7th which was received at this office after Mr. Murrow had departed for Europe to begin a year's leave of absence.

I regret that since he will be out of the country for most of the next ten months, it will not be possible for him to speak at the annual convention of the National Farmers Union.

Sincerely yours,

Secretary

Mr. R. S. Gilfillan, President
Farmers Union Herald
St. Paul, Minnesota

Farmers Union Press Association

October 7, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The Farmers Union Press Association is a group of editors and public relations people (all from the newspaper, TV and radio fields) who work for the National Farmers Union, the State Farmers Union organizations, and the large Farmers Union regional cooperatives.

For the last two or three years the Association has presented a person high in the newspaper, TV, or radio fields at the annual convention of the National Farmers Union.

We would like very much to know whether you would be available for such a meeting, and if so who your agent is, or in case you have no agent upon what terms you would be willing to speak. We assign no subject, letting the speaker choose whichever subject he wishes.

The convention will be held in the middle of March 1960 in Denver, Colorado.

Sincerely yours,

R.S. Gilfillan

R.S. Gilfillan
President

RSG:dwh

R. S. GILFILLAN, President
Farmers Union Herald
St. Paul, Minnesota

A. L. HELLEBUST, Vice President
Kansas Union Farmer
Topeka, Kansas

ARTHUR T. THOMPSON, Secretary-Treasurer
Farmers Union Washington Newsletter
Washington, D. C.

Nat'l Manpower Resources

EDWARD GOTTLIEB & ASSOCIATES LTD.
NEW YORK WASHINGTON, D.C. MONTREAL PARIS
640 FIFTH AVENUE · NEW YORK 19, N.Y.
CABLE ADDRESS: EDGOTTLIEB JUDSON 2-7540

November 12, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I thought you might be interested in having a staff member attend the National Manpower Council's conference on "Public Policy and Manpower Resources" at Arden House in Harriman, New York on November 15-20.

During this period some 80 distinguished leaders will discuss governmental policies and actions which influence the development and utilization of the nation's manpower resources.

Particular attention will be given to future manpower needs and resources in the vital areas of science, education and health. Governmental employment practices will also come under the scrutiny of the conferees. I am attaching the agenda as well as a list of those attending the conference.

If you would like to send a staff member up to Arden House, we can handle the transportation. Our car will leave New York at 5:00 P.M. for the evening sessions, so that your reporter will have an opportunity to join the participants at dinner before the meetings. For the "Findings" session on Friday morning, our car will leave at 7:30 A.M.

Cordially,

Elmer M. Borsuk, Director
Radio-Television Department

EMB:PB

NATIONAL MANPOWER COUNCIL
ARDEN HOUSE CONFERENCE

on

"Public Policies and Manpower Resources"
November 15-20, 1959

SCHEDULE OF GENERAL SESSIONS

-oOo-

Sunday, November 15

8:30 p.m.: First General Session - SCIENCE, GOVERNMENT AND MANPOWER

Chairman: John A. Krout, Vice President, Columbia University
Member, National Manpower Council
Speaker: Alan T. Waterman, Director, National Science Foundation

Monday, November 16

8:15 p.m.: Second General Session - PUBLIC POLICIES FOR EDUCATION

Chairman: Alonzo G. Moron, Educational Consultant
Member, National Manpower Council
Speaker: Alvin C. Eurich, Vice President,
The Fund for the Advance of Education

Tuesday, November 17

8:15 p.m.: Third General Session - Findings of the Working Groups

Wednesday, November 18

8:15 p.m.: Fourth General Session - PUBLIC POLICIES AND PUBLIC PERSONNEL

Chairman: Erwin D. Canham, Editor-in-Chief, The Christian Science Monitor
Chairman, National Manpower Council
Speakers: Frank Bane, Chairman, The Surgeon General's Consultant
Group on Medical Education
Milton Katz, Director, International Legal Studies,
Harvard University Law School
Wallace S. Sayre, Professor of Public Administration,
Columbia University

Thursday, November 19

9:30 a.m.: Fifth General Session - Findings of the Working Groups

8:15 p.m.: Sixth General Session - Findings of the Working Groups

Friday, November 20

9:30 a.m.: Concluding General Session - FINDINGS OF THE CONFERENCE

Chairman: Henry David, Executive Director
National Manpower Council

-oOo-

NATIONAL MANPOWER COUNCIL
ARDEN HOUSE CONFERENCE

on

"Public Policies and Manpower Resources"
November 15-20, 1959

PARTICIPANTS - PRELIMINARY LIST

Professor Albert Abrahamson
Department of Economics
Bowdoin College
Brunswick, Maine

Alexander J. Allen
Director of Special Projects
National Urban League, Inc.
14 East 48th Street,
New York 17, New York

Dr. Odin Anderson
Research Director
Health Information Foundation
420 Lexington Avenue
New York City, N. Y.

Dr. James Z. Appel, Member
Board of Trustees
American Medical Association
535 N. Dearborn
Chicago, Illinois

Mr. Frank Bane
Chairman, The Surgeon General's Consultant Group on Medical Education
Washington, D. C.

Mr. Donald Bridgman
Consultant
National Science Foundation
1951 Constitution Avenue
Washington 25, D. C.

Mr. Newell Brown
Assistant Secretary of Labor
U. S. Department of Labor
Washington 25, D. C.

Dr. John E. Burchard
Dean
School of Humanities and Social Studies
Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Cambridge, Massachusetts

Dr. M. M. Chambers
Visiting Professor of Education
The University of Michigan
Ann Arbor, Michigan

Mr. James Charlesworth
President
The American Academy of Political and Social Science
3937 Chestnut Street
Philadelphia 4, Pennsylvania

Dr. Francis S. Chase
Dean
The University of Chicago
The Graduate School of Education
Chicago 37, Illinois

Miss Ethlyn Christensen
Director
Leadership Services
National Board, YWCA
600 Lexington Avenue
New York 22, New York

Eli Cohen
Executive Secretary
National Committee on Employment of Youth
419 Fourth Avenue
New York 16, New York

Dr. Philip H. Coombs
The Fund for the Advancement of Education
477 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dr. William H. Cornog
Superintendent
New Trier Township High School
Winnetka, Illinois

Dr. John J. Corson, Director
McKinsey and Company, Inc.
Cafritz Building
1625 Eye Street, N. W.
Washington 6, D. C.

Mr. Wilbur Daniels
Assistant to the President
International Ladies' Garment Workers Union
1710 Broadway
New York 19,
New York

Dr. Ward Darley
Executive Director
Association of American Medical Colleges
2530 Ridge Avenue
Evanston, Illinois

Dr. Bowen C. Dees
Assistant Director for Scientific Personnel and Education
National Science Foundation
Washington 25, D. C.

Harold Enarson
Executive Director
Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education
University of Colorado
Boulder, Colorado

J. Warren Hitt
Deputy Commissioner of Education
Texas Education Agency
Austin, Texas

Mr. Richard Eells, Consultant
Public Policy Research
General Electric Company
570 Lexington Avenue
New York 22, New York

Mr. Libert Ehrman
Vice President
Survey & Research Corporation
1010 Vermont Avenue, N.W.
Washington 5, D. C.

Mrs. Katherine Ellickson
Assistant Director
Department of Social Security
American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations
815 - 16th Street, N.W.,
Washington 6, D. C.

Dr. Alvin C. Eurich
Vice President
The Fund for the Advancement of Education
477 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Professor Frances Lomas Feldman
University of Southern California
School of Social Work University Park
Los Angeles 7, California

Mr. Ralph C. M. Flynt Assistant Commissioner for Legislative and Program Development Department of Health, Education and Welfare
Office of Education
Washington 25, D. C.

Dr. Roger A. Freeman
Vice President
The Institute for Social Science Research
917 - 15th Street, N.W.,
Washington 5, D. C.

Dr. Buell Gallagher
President, The City College
137 Street and Convent Avenue
New York City, New York

Mr. Edmund J. Gleazer, Jr.
Executive Director
American Association of Junior Colleges
1785 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W.
Washington 6, D. C.

Mr. Cecil E. Goode
Executive Director
National Civil Service League
315 Fifth Avenue
New York 16, New York

Reverend Cameron P. Hall
Executive Director
National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.
Department of the Church and Economic Life
297 Fourth Avenue
New York 10, New York

Professor Seymour E. Harris
Department of Economics
Harvard University
Cambridge 38, Massachusetts

Mr. Edward D. Hollander
National Director
Americans for Democratic Action
1341 Connecticut Avenue, N. W.
Washington 6, D. C.

Dr. William Janses
1165 Park Avenue
New York 28, New York

Glenn S. Jensen
Executive Director
Adult Education Association of the USA
743 North Wabash Avenue
Chicago, Illinois

George M. Johnson
Howard University
Washington, D. C.

Mr. Reuben Johnson
Coordinator
National Farmers Union
Legislative Services
1404 New York Avenue, N.W.
Room 700
Washington 5, D. C.

Dr. Lewis Webster Jones National Conference of Christians and Jews
43 West 57th Street
New York 19, New York

Professor Milton Katz
Harvard University Law School
Cambridge 38, Massachusetts

Arthur Kemp, M.D.
Economic Research Department
American Medical Association
535 N. Dearborn
Chicago, Illinois

Dr. Francis Keppel
Dean
Harvard University
Graduate School of Education
Lawrence Hall, Kirkland Street
Cambridge 38, Massachusetts

Dr. Charles V. Kidd, Chief
Office of Research Planning
Department of Health, Education & Welfare
Public Health Service
Bethesda 14, Maryland

Dr. Jacob Koomen, Jr.
Assistant Director
Division of Epidemiology
North Carolina State Board of Health
Raleigh, North Carolina

Mr. P. B. Lewis
Manager, Personnel Division
E. I. DuPont Nemours & Company
Wilmington 98, Delaware

Mr. Edwin J. Lukas
The American Jewish Committee
Institute of Human Relations
165 East 56 Street
New York 22, New York

Walter D. Fackler
Asst. Director of Economic Research
Chamber of Commerce of the United States
1615 H Street, N.W.
Washington 6, D. C.

Dr. Rufus E. Miles, Jr.
Director of Administration Department of Health, Education and Welfare
Washington 25, D. C.

Miss Ruth Moore
880 Lake Shore Drive
Chicago 11, Illinois

Mr. Gerry E. Morse
Vice President
Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co.
Minneapolis, Minnesota

Mr. Donald O'Connell
The Ford Foundation
477 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dr. John A. Perkins
President
University of Delaware
Newark, Delaware

Mrs. F. H. Petro
16 South Stacy Avenue
Miles City, Montana

Professor I. I. Rabi
Columbia University
New York 27, New York

Dr. Matthew Radom
Employee Relations Dept., Standard Oil Co.
30 Rockefeller Plaza
New York 20, New York

Dr. Mathew Ross
Medical Director
American Psychiatric Association
1700 - 18th Street, N.W.,
Washington, D. C.

Mr. Thomas B. Ross
Chicago Sun-Times Office
National Press Building
Washington, D. C.

Professor Wallace S. Sayre
Public Administration
Columbia University
New York 27, New York

Albert Shanker
American Federation of Teachers
100 LaSalle Street
New York, New York

Professor Lloyd M. Short Ford Hall
University of Minnesota
Minneapolis 14, Minnesota

Mr. Rocco C. Siciliano
Special Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dr. Nathan Sinai
School of Public Health University of Michigan
Ann Arbor, Michigan

Dr. G. Kerry Smith
Executive Secretary
Association for Higher Education
National Education Association
1201 - 16th Street, N.W.
Washington, D. C.

Professor Herman M. Somers
Haverford College
Haverford, Pennsylvania

Mr. Elmer B. Staats
Deputy Director
U. S. Bureau of the Budget
Washington 25, D. C.

Mr. O. Glenn Stahl, Director
Bureau of Programs and Standards
U. S. Civil Service Commission
Washington 25, D. C

Joseph Strobel
Assistant Commissioner of Education
The State Education Department
University of the State of New York
Albany 1, New York

Margaret Thomas
Manpower Development Staff
Office of the Assistant Secretary
U. S. Department of Labor
Washington 25, D. C.

Dr. M. H. Trytten, Director
Office of Scientific Personnel
National Academy of Sciences
National Research Council
2101 Constitution Avenue
Washington 25, D. C.

Dr. Rexford G. Tugwell Greenbelt
Maryland

William S. Twichell
County Superintendent of School
County of Essex
Department of Education
Newark, New Jersey

The Reverend A. Dudley Ward
General Secretary
Board of Social and Economic Relations
The Methodist Church
740 Rush Street
Chicago 11, Illinois

Mr. James E. Webb, Chairman
Commission on Municipal Manpower
The American Municipal Association
1612 K Street, N. W.
Washington, D. C.

Dr. Alan T. Waterman, Director
National Science Foundation
Washington, D. C.

Dr. Elmer D. West, Director
Office of Statistical Information
American Council on Education
1785 Massachusetts Avenue
Washington 6, D. C.

Dana P. Whitmer
School District of the City of Pontiac
40 Patterson Street
Pontiac, Michigan

Mr. Dael Wolfle, Executive Officer
American Association for the Advancement of Science
1515 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W.
Washington 5, D. C.

Professor Edwin Young
Department of Economics
The University of Wisconsin
Madison 6, Wisconsin

Arnold Zander
International President
American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees 815 Mt. Vernon Place, N.W.
Washington, D. C.

-OoOo-

THE NATIONAL MANPOWER COUNCIL

Established at Columbia University in 1951 under a grant from the Ford Foundation to study significant manpower problems and to contribute to the more effective development and utilization of the nation's most precious resource —its people.

THE NATIONAL MANPOWER COUNCIL

Its sixteen members are drawn from industry, labor, education, and public service. They are:

Chairman

ERWIN D. CANHAM
Editor-in-Chief, The Christian Science Monitor,
Boston, Massachusetts

Deputy Chairman

JOHN A. KROUT
Vice President, Columbia University,
New York, New York

DR. LEO BARTEMEIER
Medical Director, The Seton Psychiatric Institute,
Baltimore, Maryland

LEE A. DUBRIDGE
President, California Institute of Technology,
Pasadena, California

A. J. HAYES
President, International Association of Machinists,
Washington, D. C.

MARGARET HICKEY
Editor, Public Affairs Department, Ladies' Home Journal,
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

ROBERT M. MACIVER
Lieber Professor Emeritus of Political Philosophy and Sociology, Columbia University, New York, New York

ALONZO G. MORÓN
President, Hampton Institute, Hampton, Virginia

WILBUR C. MUNNECKE
Vice President, Field Enterprises, Chicago, Illinois

FRANK W. PIERCE
Former Director, Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, New York, New York

JACOB S. POTOFSKY
President, Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, New York, New York

ROLAND R. RENNE
President, Montana State College, Bozeman, Montana

SARA E. SOUTHALL
Personnel Management Consultant, Santa Fe, New Mexico

CHARLES P. TAFT
Headley and Taft, Cincinnati, Ohio

ROBERT W. WOODRUFF
Chairman, Finance Committee and Director, The Coca-Cola Company, Atlanta, Georgia

HON. JAMES D. ZELLERBACH
United States Ambassador to Italy, Rome, Italy

THE STAFF

The National Manpower Council Staff, whose offices are in the Low Memorial Library of Columbia University, is headed by

Executive Director

HENRY DAVID

Director of Staff Studies

ELI GINZBERG

Associate Director

BRYNA BALL

THE COUNCIL'S PUBLICATIONS

The National Manpower Council publishes the results of its studies, each of which centers on the quality of the nation's manpower—that is, on the training, skills, capacities, and creativeness of the American people.

In each of these volumes there is a Statement by the Council, which presents its major findings and recommendations, and chapters by the Council staff. To date, the following volumes of Council studies have appeared:

STUDENT DEFERMENT AND NATIONAL MANPOWER POLICY. 1952. (out of print)

A POLICY FOR SCIENTIFIC AND PROFESSIONAL MANPOWER. 1953.

A POLICY FOR SKILLED MANPOWER. 1954.

WOMANPOWER. 1957.

The Council also publishes the proceedings of its national conferences which are based on its studies and held at Arden House, the Harriman Campus of Columbia University. To date, the following volumes of proceedings have appeared.

PROCEEDINGS OF A CONFERENCE ON THE UTILIZATION OF SCIENTIFIC AND PROFESSIONAL MANPOWER. 1954. (out of print)

IMPROVING THE WORK SKILLS OF THE NATION. 1955.

WORK IN THE LIVES OF MARRIED WOMEN. 1958.

The Columbia University Press is the publisher for the National Manpower Council.

WORK IN THE LIVES OF MARRIED WOMEN

Seeking to explore further some of the social, economic, psychological, and cultural implications of the revolution in women's employment, the National Manpower Council brought together at a five-day conference over eighty participants from government, industry, labor, education, social welfare, child care, civic organizations, and the churches. Four major themes engaged their attention: the Education, Training and Guidance of Women for Reentry into the Labor Force; the Utilization of Womanpower; the Income Earned by Married Women; and Working Mothers and the Development of Children.

The volume reporting this conference, Work in the Lives of Married Women, deals with the following and other significant questions: Why do married women work? What happens to the income they earn? Does a mother's absence from the home because she is employed jeopardize the healthy development of her children or contribute to juvenile delinquency? Do older women make good workers?

Work in the Lives of Married Women contains the addresses delivered at the conference by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell; Katherine Brownell Oettinger, Chief of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare; and Erwin D. Canham, Editor-in-Chief of The Christian Science Monitor and Chairman of the National Manpower Council; five study papers, "The Children of Working Mothers: A Psychiatrist's View," by Leo Bartemeier, M.D., "Supplementary Income Earned by Married Women," by Frances Lomas Feldman, "Utilizing 'Older' Women Workers," by Howard S. Kaltenborn, "Education for Reentry into the Labor Force," by Esther Lloyd-Jones, and "Effects Upon Children of Their Mothers' Outside Employment," by Eleanor E. Maccoby; reports of the conference discussions; and a summary of conference findings by Henry David.

"The prepared papers and summaries of the discussions provide a comprehensive and readable statement of current knowledge and opinion on the questions under study."—American Sociological Review

"This book probes some very important problems which should be carefully considered by anyone responsible for hiring labor. The discussion sections . . . are particularly revealing."—Personnel Journal

220 pages. Cloth $4.75

WOMANPOWER

Since 1890, the number of working women has increased from 4 million to 22 million. Since 1940, the growth of the female labor force has been especially rapid. Today, nearly 30 percent of all the married women in this country hold jobs. More than half of the employed women are married, and almost half of them are more than forty years old. The touchstones of the "revolution" in women's employment are the kinds of work women now do, the kinds of women employed, and their reasons for working. The Council deals with these developments from the viewpoint of the country's total manpower resources and recommends ways of insuring the more effective development and utilization of womanpower.

Twelve chapters by the Council staff cover:

The New Concern with Manpower
Women in the Labor Force Today
Women in Business and Industry: an Employer Appraisal
Trends in the Employment of Women
The Impact of World War II on Women's Employment
The Secondary Education of Girls
Post-High School Education and Training
The Labor Market Behavior of Women
Shortages of Highly Trained Personnel
Women in the Armed Services
Work in the Lives of Women
Public Policy Issues

"Womanpower, by the National Manpower Council, provides a better understanding of women's important role in our economic life. The book presents vividly the nation's present and future need for the skills and talents of women workers. I believe it is a significant contribution which will do much to enlighten all of us on the great economic potential of American women."—James P. Mitchell, Secretary of Labor

"This is a book which will be read time and time again with profit by all who have an interest in the changes in women's employment and in women's maximum success and adjustment to it . . . this many-faceted study is valuable to all students of manpower problems. The work is almost encyclopedic in its coverage. . . ."—Science

371 pages. Cloth $5.00

IMPROVING THE WORK SKILLS OF THE NATION

This volume reports on the conference attended by sixty-nine representatives from industry, labor, education, the armed services, and government. Following up on A Policy for Skilled Manpower, they considered how the secondary schools, industry, and the community can contribute to the improvement of the nation's work skills. Chapters reporting their discussions illuminate the complex interrelationships involved in the development of skill.

The volume contains in addition the following addresses and papers: "The Problem of Skill Development," by Eli Ginzberg and Henry David; "The Investment in Manpower," by Courtney C. Brown; "Our Secondary Schools and National Manpower Needs," by Clarence Faust; "Vocational Guidance and the Skills of the Work Force," by George B. Baldwin; "Industry's Training Effort in Improving the Work Skills of the Nation," by Karl R. Kunze; "Conservation of Technical Manpower in the Armed Services: A Problem in the Management of Skills," by Edmond H. Leavey, Major General, USA (Ret.); "The Government Stake in Skilled Manpower," by the Honorable James P. Mitchell; "The Community and Secondary Education," by O. H. Roberts, Jr.; "The Placement Function in an Industrial Society: The Unexplored Core of the Manpower Problem," by John J. Corson.

"The conferees performed a valuable service by calling attention to matters that should be considered by persons developing training programs or conducting research studies in this field."—Industrial and Labor Relations Review

"The styles are as varied as the writers, the plot is as simple as civilization's survival, and the literary excellence pops out in much of the writing, which has clarity, punch, and challenge."—The Christian Science Monitor

203 pages. Cloth $3.50, Paper $2.25

A POLICY FOR SKILLED MANPOWER

The American economy, based on a complex and constantly evolving technology, requires ever more and better technical and skilled personnel. This volume provides the first comprehensive evaluation of the critical role played by the nation's nine million skilled workers and technicians, and suggests means for better developing and using its manpower resources in this field.

The Council's Statement recommends ways of strengthening the contribution made by secondary education to the acquisition of skills; developing a more effective program for vocational guidance; providing more equal opportunities for all individuals to acquire skills; improving the facilities and methods used to train skilled and technical personnel; and increasing knowledge about our manpower resources.

Chapters by the Council staff deal with:

Skill and Economic Development
Trends in Skilled and Technical Manpower
Education and Training of Workers: An Employer Appraisal
The Armed Forces and Skilled Manpower
Secondary Education and Preparation for Work
Issues in Vocational Education
Types of Vocational Schooling
How Workers Become Skilled Opportunities, Incentives, and the Acquisition of Skill
Vocational Guidance and Counseling
Public Policies and Skilled Manpower

"The book deals with issues and practices in secondary education with a firmness and fairness that are bound to command the respect of the professionals."—Teachers College Record

"The recommendations resulting from the studies deserve careful consideration by leaders in business and industry, and in labor, education and government."—U.S. Quarterly Book Review

". . . a sound and important contribution to the problem of preserving and increasing the manpower resources of the United States. This report is doubly important in that it touches upon fields of education hitherto sadly neglected by our educational institutions."—Technical Education News

299 pages. Cloth $4.50

PROCEEDINGS OF A CONFERENCE ON THE UTILIZATION OF SCIENTIFIC AND PROFESSIONAL MANPOWER

Sixty-six experts from all parts of the United States met at Arden House to consider ways of making more effective use of scientific and professional personnel. Engineering, medicine, and teaching were the three professional fields upon which the conference centered its attention. These fields are marked by distinctive, if not unique, utilization problems, and the effective use of the personnel in each of them is of critical importance to the nation's well-being.

This volume presents accounts of the authoritative discussions on engineering, medical, and teaching personnel; reports of the discussions of the conference as a whole; and a constructive interpretation of its findings. It makes available the following papers specially prepared for the conference: "Issues in the Utilization of Scientific Manpower," by James D. Zellerbach; "An Economist's View of the Manpower Concept," by Kenneth E. Boulding; "Manpower Utilization from the Point of View of Top Administration," by Frank Pace, Jr.; "Technicians and the Utilization of Professional Manpower," by Seymour L. Wolfbein; "Some Thoughts on the Utilization of Engineers," by George M. Maverick; "Problems and Potentialities of Using Paramedical Personnel to Insure the Most Effective Utilization of Medical Personnel," by Marcus D. Kogel, M.D.; and "More Effective Utilization of Teachers," by Henry Chauncey.

"The report is recommended for the interest of the controversial issues raised for discussion as well as for the practicality of its suggestions and findings."—Science

"Among the significant publications which are emerging from time to time in the field of manpower this volume will undoubtedly find an important place."—American Journal of Physics

"This should be of value to persons in any field, and the six 'major approaches' [to effective utilization] can well form the basis for a sound approach to manpower problems in any field."—The Scientific Monthly

197 pages. Cloth $3.50

A POLICY FOR SCIENTIFIC AND PROFESSIONAL MANPOWER

Recent scientific developments, projected defense requirements, and continuing personnel shortages in certain fields have served to focus the nation's attention on the relatively small but crucial segment of the labor force engaged in scientific and professional work. This volume is a comprehensive evaluation of the role of these five million persons in the economy and of the problems encountered in meeting current and future demands for highly trained personnel.

In its Statement the Council offers recommendations for developing more reliable knowledge about our human resources; for strengthening institutions that educate and train scientists and professionals; for maintaining a continuous flow of students into institutions of higher education; for expanding the opportunities for capable young people to secure advanced training; and for utilizing more effectively the available supply of scientific and professional manpower.

Chapters by the Council staff cover:

The Growth of the Professions
Training and Occupational Distribution
The Potential for Higher Education
Research and Development
The Armed Forces and Highly Trained Manpower
The Nature of Manpower Shortages
The Engineering Profession
Physicists Teachers
Physicians
Manpower Policies in a Democratic Society

"Although this report is considered by its authors 'to be exploratory rather than definitive,' it is by all odds the most adequate of available sources of data and ideas concerning the intellectual resources of America and their present and potential utilization."—American Scientist

"The book is valuable for the solid research which it reports but is perhaps even more valuable for its success in bringing into focus so many aspects of the manpower problems in science and the professions during fast-changing times."—American Journal of Physics

"Altogether, the book is an able and concise presentation of the most significant problems regarding scientific and specialized personnel."—Monthly Labor Review

263 pages. Cloth $4.50

STUDENT DEFERMENT AND NATIONAL MANPOWER POLICY

The Council's first study examined the student deferment program of the Selective Service System. Together with the Statement and recommendations by the Council, this volume presented essential information on the program, analyzed the military manpower pool and the method of selecting students for deferment, and dealt with deferment for skilled and specialized personnel. It also appraised student deferment policy in the light of democratic values.

The Council's Statements from each of its studies are also published separately. Copies of these Statements reprinted from A POLICY FOR SCIENTIFIC AND PROFESSIONAL MANPOWER, A POLICY FOR SKILLED MANPOWER, and WOMANPOWER, are available upon request from the National Manpower Council.

FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS

Government and Manpower, a study of key manpower problems of government in America and of the impact of public policies on the development and utilization of the nation's manpower, will be published in 1959. The proceedings of the Arden House conference based on this study will appear early in 1960.

The Council's study of The Waste of Manpower will be concerned with the nature and extent of manpower waste, the groups most subject to underdevelopment and underutilization, and the kinds of remedial action available.

It will be followed by the Council's final publication, Manpower Policies for a Democratic Society.

NATIONAL MANPOWER COUNCIL

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

NEW YORK 27, N.Y.

Telephone: MOnument 6-2234

Nebraska State Ed. Assoc

December 9, 1959

Dear Mr. Lynch:

Thank you for your gracious letter of December 4th inviting Mr. Murrow to speak at the 1960 conventions of the Nebraska State Education Association next October.

Mr. Murrow has been in Europe on a year's leave of absence since June and will be returning to the States in June of next year. I regret that until that time, he will not be making any commitments regarding speaking engagements. Thank you for asking him.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. John E. Lynch
Executive Secretary
Nebraska State Education Association
605 South 14th Street
Lincoln 8, Nebraska

JOSEPHINE C. GROSVENOR . . . Aurora
PRESIDENT

PAUL MORRIS . . . Kearney
VICE-PRESIDENT

Nebraska State Education Association

OFFICIAL PUBLICATION
Nebraska Education News

JOHN E. LYNCH
Executive Secretary

605 South 14th Street
LINCOLN 8, NEBRASKA
PHONE 2-1055

December 4, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

We are in the process of contracting speakers for the 1960 general sessions of the district conventions of the Nebraska State Education Association. The conventions will be held in six Nebraska cities on Thursday and Friday, October 27 and 28, 1960.

You have been selected by our convention managers as a first choice for their program. I wish to extend a most cordial invitation to you to appear as one of the headline speakers at our 1960 conventions.

Would you be available to speak to Nebraska teachers on either or both of these dates in 1960? If so, what would your fee be for one appearance, and also for two appearances--either on the same day or on successive days?

Should your schedule for 1960 not permit consideration of the Nebraska convention dates, would you be available for appearances on October 26 and 27 in 1961?

An early reply to this inquiry would be sincerely appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

John E. Lynch

John E. Lynch
Executive Secretary

JEL:ds

NY Shakespeare Festival

November 25, 1959

Dear Miss Hayes:

Thank you for your gracious letter of November 16th asking Mr. Murrow to join the Advisory Committee of the New York Shakespeare Festival.

As you may know, Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and is spending this time traveling abroad.

I regret that it is not possible for me to accept your invitation on his behalf.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Miss Helen Hayes
New York Shakespeare Festival
Advisory Committee Headquarters
Suite 1533
9 Rockefeller Plaza
New York 20, New York

HELEN HAYES

November 16, 1959

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Among the shining lights on our cultural skyline, the New York Shakespeare Festival is one of which we can all be justly proud. With many others, I have given my assistance during the past three critical years to sustain this important institution, which has achieved such a significant place in the community.

Now that the City Planning Commission has approved a proposal for the construction of a $250,000 permanent Shakespeare amphitheatre in Central Park to house the Festival productions, I am forming an Advisory Committee of distinguished New Yorkers to help bring the project to its well-deserved fruition and to seek ways and means of ensuring the Festival a permanent place in the City's cultural life.

With my assurance that there will be no onerous duties, may I look forward to your acceptance at your earliest convenience, as we are desirous of completing the formation of the Advisory Committee.

Sincerely,

Helen Hayes

Helen Hayes

P.S. Please reply to me at Committee Headquarters, Suite 1533, 9 Rockefeller Plaza, New York 20, New York (COlumbus 5-7460).

N.Y. Teachers Guild on file

August 20, 1959

Dear Mr. Cogen:

Many thanks for your kind letter of August 4th. I sincerely appreciate the honor the New York Teachers Guild had planned to do me in bestowing upon me the 1960 John Dewey award, and sincerely regret that it will not be possible for me to appear at the Annual Spring Conference on Saturday, March 5, 1960 in order to accept it. As you may know, I am now embarking on a year's leave of absence and my present plans call for me to be out of the country for the next eight months or so.

Please convey my thanks and regrets to all concerned.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Charles Cogen, President
The New York Teachers Guild
2 East 23rd Street
New York 10, New York

gw

The New York TEACHERS GUILD

LOCAL 2 · AMERICAN FEDERATION OF TEACHERS, AFL-CIO

Affiliated with New York State Federation of Labor, Central Trades and Labor Council, Empire State Federation of Teachers

2 East 23rd Street
New York 10, N. Y.
GR 7-6281-2-3

Charles Cogen
President

Harriet M. Winburn
Benjamin Mazen
Israel Kugler
Martin Lobenthal
Rebecca C. Simonson
Vice-Presidents

Theresa A. Cohen
Treasurer

Jane Troy
Assistant Treasurer

Alice F. Marsh
Secretary

Dorothy E. Postley
Assistant Secretary

Arthur Blumin
Legislative Representative

John P. Hagan
Jack Mandel
Herman Passkow
Asst. Legis. Representatives

EXECUTIVE BOARD
Sidney Altman
George Axtelle
Simon Beagle
Mary R. Brady
Goldie Colodny
Ruth R. Edelstein
Clara N. Gluck
August Gold
Charles Haskel
Louis Heitner
Vincent P. Kassenbrock
Jules Kolodny
Nina Leichter
Myron Lieberman
Ray Maggin
Reuben W. Mitchell
Minnie Obermeier
Richard Parrish
Milton Pincus
Catherine Sheridan
Bernard H. Silver
S. Fanny Simon
David Slavin
John Stamm
Eli Straus
Ely Trachtenberg
David M. Wittes

David Selden
Special Representative

Sylvia Glickstein
Office Manager

August 4, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Each year the Guild gives its John Dewey award to a person who has made a significant contribution toward "Democracy In Education - Education for Democracy". Dr. Dewey was a charter member of the Guild.

The past recipients of the John Dewey awards have been Professors John L. Childs and George Counts, Senator Herbert Lehman, the labor leaders, Walter Reuther and George Meany, the lawyer, Thurgood Marshall, and the educator and religious leader, Father George B. Ford.

The Guild would be honored if you were to accept the 1960 John Dewey award.

This award is conferred at our Annual Spring Conference, to be held in 1960 at a Luncheon at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel on Saturday, March 5th.

We will be grateful if you would let us know, at your earliest convenience, if you will accept this award and be with us on this date.

Sincerely yours,

Nina Leichter

Nina Leichter, Chairman
Spring Conference Committee

Charles Cogen

Charles Cogen
President

oeiu:153

Chairmen of Functional Chapters

Bur. Child Guidance: Ruth R. Edelstein; Community College: Israel Kugler; Dietitians: May Thoman; School Clerks: Goldie Colodny; Stevenson School: Irving Miller; Fashion Institute: Paul A. Berger

October 28, 1959

Dear Mr. Norman:

Many thanks for your recent letter and most enticing advertisements which were received here after Mr. Murrow had left for Europe to begin several months of extensive travel.

I regret to have to tell you that it will not be possible for Mr. Murrow to do as you ask. He has made it a firm policy not to permit his name and photograph to be featured in any advertisements and as you can understand, he cannot make exceptions.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Norman B. Norman, President
Norman, Craig & Kummel Inc.
488 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

NORMAN, CRAIG & KUMMEL Inc.
Advertising

488 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.
PLaza 1-0900

October 20, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
580 Park Avenue
New York, New York

We hope that we are writing to you early enough to find at least part of your January 1960 uncommitted. We would again like to inquire, on behalf of our client, the Jamaica Tourist Board, whether you would accept an invitation to come to Jamaica in January for a two week "holiday-for-two".

The facts are these:

The Tourist Board will fly you to Jamaica from the United States and back again. While in Jamaica, you will be the guest of the Board.

During a brief morning while you are in Jamaica, we will take some painless pictures of you. We will use the most inspired of the photographs, together with a carefully written message, in an elegant, dignified advertisement to attract more people to Jamaica. We enclose some samples of advertisements which have already run, for you to look at. We assure you that you will be photographed only in a pose which you feel is natural to you, and characteristic of you.

Your transportation to and from the Island, together with two weeks' hotel accommodations and meals will be taken care of by the Tourist Board. In addition, the Board wishes to put a car at your disposal whenever you wish for trips here and there about our lovely island.

If your schedule permits adjustment, will you join us in Jamaica? Please ask someone to write me and tell me the two weeks in January which would be most convenient for you. We will then be in a position to finalize our advertising plan and to extend an invitation on behalf of the Tourist Board.

Sincerely,

Norman B. Norman

Norman B. Norman
President

me

come to Jamaica— it's no place like home

The Jamaica Military Band is about to strike up "Mango Walk". No less than the N. Y. Philharmonic's maestro Leonard Bernstein is guest clarinetist. Just about everybody turns up in Jamaica. The place is a walking who's who. No wonder. The island throbs with "see" and "do". Explore. Dance. Dream. Golf. Fish. Relax and enjoy it, or don't relax and love it. One minor annoyance will mar your trip—pique that you hadn't discovered Jamaica earlier. Jamaica has spent 4½ centuries (since Columbus discovered it) in dress rehearsal for your visit. The performance commences the moment you arrive. So arrive.

Flautist! Tsk! Tsk!

Where else would they let me play the flute?

I've rarely enjoyed a performance so much!

Leonard Bernstein

JAMAICA IN THE WEST INDIES • Jamaica Tourist Board • New York • Chicago • Miami • Toronto, Canada • Kingston, Jamaica, W.I. • SEE ANY TRAVEL AGENT

8 international airlines serve Jamaica. Also, regular sailings from New York, Miami and New Orleans.

come to Jamaica—it's no place like home

People who have scoured the planet—who have the wherewithal to hie off to Bali or Tahiti—return to Jamaica. One day in this unspoiled never-never land will spoil you (the golden weather alone could do it). The island quivers with contrasts, seethes with surprises. Something always seems to be happening, even when you're sitting on your terrace in the crystal cool of a morning, convinced that the world is your papaya. Jamaica is scented with jasmine, splashed with moonlight, and tied together with the beat of calypso drums—the place to do everything, anything, or nothing.

but I'm still fond of the South Pacific

EVER-EVER

Jamaica's the place for an exultant Halliday! Mary Martin Halliday

come to Jamaica—

JAMAICA IN THE WEST INDIES Jamaica Tourist Board • New York • Chicago • Miami • Toronto, Canada • Kingston, Jamaica, W. I. SEE YOUR TRAVEL AGENT • it's not far from home

come to Jamaica — it's no place like home

Think of the most beautiful place you've yet seen in the world. Jamaica is more so, outrageously so. Jamaica's the place to get away with it and/or get away from it. An enthused international "Who's Who" flocks here to do as it pleases. The sun shines all the time. In Jamaica you can find perfect peace. Yet the island pulses with theatrical contrasts between new and old, civilized and primitive. If you hanker to see the world, better do that first. Because once here, Jamaica will bewitch you — and may become all of the world you'll ever care to see.

not a word

never at night

peace, peace, perfect peace... and one's loved ones far away

Jamaica, for me, is the loveliest island in the world — Noël Coward

come to Jamaica—
it's not far from home

JAMAICA IN THE WEST INDIES. Jamaica Tourist Board • New York • Chicago • Miami • Toronto, Canada • Kingston, Jamaica, W. I. SEE YOUR TRAVEL AGENT

North Car. Council of Churches
eng. dec

August 20, 1959

The Rev. W.W. Finlator
The Pullen Memorial Baptist Church
Hillsboro Street at Cox Avenue
Raleigh, N.C.

Dear Mr. Finlator:

I am replying to your kind letter of August 13 to Mr. Murrow, as he has already begun his year's leave of absence . It is most gratious of you and the Anniversary Committee to invite Mr. Murrow to speak at the twenty-fifth anniversary celebrations in May of 1961. I very much regret that it is impossible for Mr. Murrow to commit himself this far in advance. He does not yet know what his broadcasting commitments for 1961 will be, and these must have first priority over any other arrangements.

Thank you so much for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

THE PULLEN MEMORIAL BAPTIST CHURC

CHURCH OFFICE
TELEPHONE TE 2-2324

W. W. FINLATOR
MINISTER

HILLSBORO STREET AT COX AVENUE
RALEIGH, N. C.

August 13, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
The Columbia Broadcasting System
Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

On May 1 and 2, 1961, the North Carolina Council of Churches is celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary in Greensboro, N. C. The Council of Churches is composed of most of the major Protestant communions of both races in our state and has been led through a quarter of a century by distinguished laymen and clergymen. We look forward to the anniversary of the Council in the same city where it was formed.

The Anniversary Committee, of which I am chairman, has agreed to invite to the celebration North Carolina church and lay leaders throughout the nation. We are extending invitations to such gentlemen as Dr. Frank Graham of the United Nations, Dr. Liston Pope, Dean of the Yale Divinity School, Dr. Billy Graham, the Evangelist, and others to be our speakers. The committee is particularly anxious to have you, a former resident of our State, to be on this program.

Please let me invite you this far in advance and express my personal hope that you can accept. If you find it possible to crowd us into your schedule I shall correspond with you later on about the assignment and the subject.

With every good wish, I am

Sincerely,

W. W. Finlator

W. W. Finlator

F/bw

Northwestern Univ.

December 9, 1959

Dear Mr. Hunter:

Thank you for your gracious letter of December 4th inviting Mr. Murrow to participate in a Symposium in Broadcasting and Public Opinion in late June of next year.

I regret that since Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and will be traveling abroad for most of the next eight months, it will not be possible for him to accept. Thank you for asking him.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Charles F. Hunter, Chairman
Department of Radio, Television and Film
Northwestern University
Evanston, Illinois

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY
EVANSTON, ILLINOIS

December 4, 1959

THE SCHOOL OF SPEECH

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

During the summer session of 1960 the School of Speech, Northwestern University, is offering a special Symposium in Broadcasting and Public Opinion. With the aid of guest lecturers, the Symposium will examine many facets of broadcasting and their influence on public opinion. We are inviting some of the most distinguished men in the field to participate.

With the Republican National Convention in Chicago during July, we will have an opportunity to observe an area of political broadcasting close at hand.

By now, I am sure you recognize this as an invitation for you to appear as a guest sometime during the summer. We would like you to examine the topic, "Broadcasting's First Responsibility -- The News". We shall leave it to the discretion of each guest as to whether he wishes to make a formal presentation or to use the question - answer procedure.

We have tentatively assigned either 1:30 p.m., Tuesday, June 28, or Thursday, June 30, whichever is most convenient to you. The Symposium will carry graduate credit and will therefore attract a sizable number of teachers of broadcasting as well as undergraduate majors in the field.

As you perhaps know, educational budgets are notoriously meager, and we are able to offer an honorarium of only $100.00. We know this is embarrassingly small, but we are hoping that you might have occasion to be in Chicago, or through the Chicago area, during the summer, and this could be a small part of your activity. May I say we are quite flexible in regard to dates.

I wish I could be persuasive enough to tell you what an excellent contribution you could make toward a better understanding of the problems of broadcasting news and special events. Your appearance will have a far-reaching effect in view of the nature of your audience.

We shall be most grateful for whatever immediate attention you can give this invitation.

Sincerely yours,

Charles F. Hunter

Charles F. Hunter, Chairman
Department of Radio, Television and Film

Oxford Union Society
ed

August 20, 1959

Dear Mr. Trattner:

Many thanks for your kind letter of July 29th. I regret that I must decline your gracious invitation to speak to the Oxford Union Society sometime during the next Michaelmas Term. Although present plans call for me to be in England during the month of October, my time there is already fully assigned.

Please be assured that I am honored to have received your invitation and am sincerely sorry that it is impossible for me to accept.

Very truly yours,

Mr. Joseph Trattner, President
The Oxford Union Society
Oxford England

gw

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Telephone OXFORD 2053

July 29, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
c/o Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow,

I am writing to extend to you a most cordial invitation from the Oxford Union Society. We should be very pleased if you could speak to the Society on any subject of your choice sometime next Michaelmas Term. We shall have debates on October 15th and on each of the next six Thursdays, and would of course, welcome you to any one which you find convenient.

The Oxford Union as you probably know is among the world's foremost debating societies. It numbers six Prime Ministers, five Archbishops of Canterbury, and a good portion of modern British statesmen among its ex-officers. The Society has recently been addressed by Earl Attlee, M. Pierre Mendes-France, and Mr. Hugh Gaitskell. Other speakers for next Autumn include: Prime Minister Harold Macmillan (who is a former Librarian i.e. Vice-President of this Society) and M. Jacques Soustelle of France. We would expect an audience of some 1200 for your appearance and with your permission, would seek to make a recording of the debate for subsequent broadcast.

We should be most honored if you could accept our invitation as you are held in the highest esteem in this country. You are particularly well-regarded by both students and faculty of the University of Oxford.

I personally would be especially pleased if you could visit the Union Society. As an American I have long been an admirer of yours and I am most happy to be able to extend you this invitation. Should you be in London at some time during the next few weeks I shall be very pleased to discuss the matter with you in person. I very much hope that we shall be able this Autumn to offer you the hospitality of Oxford; and I look forward to hearing from you at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely yours,
Joseph Trattner
President.

JT/rbo

Oxford Univ. Am. Assoc

October 14, 1959

Dear Mr. Nye:

Your kind letter of October 4th unfortunately was received after Mr. Murrow had departed for England.

I regret that it will not be possible for Mr. Murrow to address the Oxford American Association since his time in England is limited and is already fully assigned. Thank you for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Secretary

Mr. Joseph S. Nye, President
Oxford University American Association
Exeter College
Oxford, England

OXFORD UNIVERSITY AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
OXFORD, ENGLAND

4 October, 1959

Dear Mr. Murrow,

It has come to my attention that you will be coming to England soon. We would very much appreciate it if you would find time to address the Oxford American Association. We are a largely informal group of Americans studying at Oxford. Though a great deal of preparation is unnecessary to address us, I think you will find it a stimulating group.

We leave a choice of subject to our speaker. Often the greater part of the meeting is "question and answer". We generally have a small dinner with the committee beforehand.

We are quite flexible on dates, preferring only a weekday night between the third week of October and the first week of December.

I would appreciate an early reply so that I can work out our schedule. Thank you.

Sincerely,

J. S. Nye

Joseph S. Nye, Pres.
Exeter College
Oxford, England

Pandit, Her Excellency
Mme Vijaya Lakshmi

September 23, 1959

Dear Sir:

Thank you for your kind invitation to attend an address by Her Excellency Mme Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit on October 5th .

I regret that Mr. Murrow will not be able to attend since he is out of the country and does not plan to return to the States for several months.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Secretary of the University
Columbia University
101 Low Memorial Library
New York, New York

Mrs. Dorothy Harmon
and
Mr. Robert Davis Parker
request the pleasure of your company
at a reception in honor of H.E. Mme. Vijaylakshmi Pandit on Monday, October fifth at Ten P.M. o'clock

RSVP
YU6-7110

Mr. Robert D. Parker
29 Bulkman Place

The President of Columbia University with the cooperation of The Education and Research Committee for a Free World
of
The Lasker Foundation
requests the pleasure of your company to hear an address by

Her Excellency Mme Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit
High Commissioner of India to the United Kingdom

Monday, October 5, 1959
at eight-fifteen in the evening

The Rotunda, Low Memorial Library
Columbia University

PLEASE REPLY TO SECRETARY OF THE UNIVERSITY

101 LOW MEMORIAL LIBRARY

Phi Alpha Delta
Leg Dec

August 25, 1959

Dear Mr. McKesson:

Your kind letter of August 15th has reached me just prior to my departure for Europe. I expect to be out of the country for most of the next ten months and therefore must regretfully decline your invitation to address the Ross chapter of Phi Alpha Delta.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Charles B. McKesson
3817 Cloverdale Avenue
Los Angeles 8, California

gw

PHI ALPHA DELTA
LEGAL FRATERNITY
ROSS CHAPTER
UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA
LOS ANGELES 7, CALIFORNIA

15 August 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Pawling, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow;

This is an invitation to address a local chapter of Phi Alpha Delta legal fraternity. It might seem strange that we should invite someone from outside the legal profession, but we feel that too many neophyte lawyers become isolated from the world around them while they are in law school. Without a broad background of experience, and living what is in effect a very narrow life, these students are then lacking a proper perspective from which to plan their own futures. Ross Chapter, in conjunction with the faculty of the University of Southern California Law School, each year sponsors a luncheon program at which prominent figures from all walks of life address the membership of the chapter, other members of the law school student body, faculty members, and representative alumni. These speakers present their views on matters of topical interest: sometimes on subjects of especial interest to the legal profession, sometimes on subjects of more general concern. We feel that because of your diversified background and obvious interest in the future of the world, you would bring to these future lawyers many thoughts which would stimulate them to become better citizens and leaders and which would help to fill the void previously mentioned.

We have read that you are to visit your mother in Washington this summer before leaving for Europe. Should you be planning to come south, that is to Los Angeles, before your departure we should be most honored to have you consider the possibility of addressing us. Our first meeting this year is scheduled for September 30th, and we plan to meet every other Wednesday thereafter. Our first meeting is traditionally our biggest, and it would be even bigger if we could announce that you were to be the speaker. If one of our other dates would be more convenient, however, we would be delighted to have you consider our invitation as open for such a later date.

We shall be looking forward to hearing from you, and we hope that your schedule will permit what could only be a most informative and stimulating experience for us.

Sincerely,

Charles B. McKesson

Charles B. McKesson

3817 Cloverdale Avenue
Los Angeles 8, California

Sir Pierson and Lady Dixon

December 8, 1959

Dear Sir Pierson and Lady Dixon:

Your kind invitation addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Murrow inviting them to attend an evening supper party on Wednesday, December 23rd, was received at this office in their absence. I regret very much that they will not be able to accept, since they are traveling in Europe.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Sir Pierson and Lady Dixon
4 East 66th Street
New York 21, New York

Sir Pierson and Lady Dixon

request the pleasure of the company of

Mr and Mrs Edward R. Murrow

at an Evening Party on Wednesday December 23rd at 9.30 p.m. o'clock

Supper 10.30 p.m.

4 East 66th Street
New York 21

R.S.V.P.
Black Tie

Planned Parenthood

October 20, 1959

Dear Mrs. Richter:

Thank you for your recent invitation to attend a tea sponsored by the Planned Parenthood League of Dutchess County on October 29th which was received at this office.

Since Mr. and Mrs. Murrow are presently in Europe, I regret that they will not be able to accept.

Sincerely yours,

Secretary

Mrs. Harry Richter
Willow Lane
Staatsburg, New York

Silver Tea
Twenty-fifth Anniversary Planned Parenthood League of Dutchess County at the home of
Mrs. Robert Lansing Smith
Cedar Avenue
Poughkeepsie, New York
Thursday, October the twenty-ninth
Three to five o'clock

R. s. v. p.
Mrs. Harry Richter
Willow Lane
Staatsburg, New York

Guests welcome to bring a friend

Red Path Bureau

November 17, 1959

THE RED PATH BUREAU
CHICAGO ILLINOIS

REGRET MURROW NOT ACCEPTING SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS SINCE HE IS SPENDING YEAR'S LEAVE OF ABSENCE ABROAD

MURROW'S SECRETARY

THE RED PATH BUREAU

CHICAGO ILL

REGRET MURROW NOT ACCEPTING SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS SINCE HE IS SPENDING YEAR,S LEAVE OF ABSENCE ABROADD

MURROW,S SECRETARY

CRCTN LEAVE OUT THE LAST D IN ABROAD

RECEIVED
1959 NOV 16 PM 4:36
C B S TELETYPE ROOM N.Y.

WU016 DL PD AR

CHICAGO ILL NOV 26 220PMC

EDWARD P MURROW, CBS

CHICAGO DENTAL SOCIETY WOULD BE HONORED IN HAVING YOU AS THEIR BANQUET SPEAKER MONDAY EVENING FEBRUARY EIGHT, 1960 PERIOD EXPECT A THOUSAND IN ATTENDANCE PERIOD PLEASE ADVISE COLLECT AVAILABILITY AND FEE DESIRED

THE RED PATH BUREAU

430P..

Research Institute of Am.

December 17, 1959

Dear Mr. Cherne:

Thank you for your gracious letter of December 14th inviting Mr. Murrow to be an honored guest at The Research Institute's Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Dinner on April 27, 1960.

I regret that since Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and will be traveling abroad for most of the next six months, it will not be possible for him to accept. However, if there should be a change in his plans and he will be in the country on that date, we shall certainly contact you. Again, thank you for asking him.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Leo Cherne, Executive Director
The Research Institute of America, Inc.
589 Fifth Avenue
New York 17, New York

NEW YORK WASHINGTON

The Research Institute of America, Inc.

Carl Hovgard, Pres. Leo Cherne, Exec. Dir. Joseph D. Ardleigh, Exec. Vice Pres.

589 Fifth Avenue, New York 17, N.Y.

December 14, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System, Incorporated
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Ed:

We are enclosing a list of those individuals who will be included in Allan Nevins' "Living History of the Critical Years: 1935-1960". Because the depth and the courage of your radio reports from wartime London helped millions of Americans understand more clearly the values of freedom and because of the exceptional analytic journalism of your public affairs television programs, you have been named as one of the key individuals who have helped shape that history.

The presentation will be made at The Research Institute's Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Dinner in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria, Wednesday evening, April 27, 1960, to which you are invited as an honored guest. On that occasion we will commemorate the past 25 exciting years of our country's history and honor those like you who helped to shape America's destiny during this past quarter century.

It is appropriate for the Institute to emphasize this living history -- rather than its own growth -- because the heart of our work during these years has been to analyse for the business community the great crises, conflicts, growth, challenges and agony of our country.

More than 3000 of the nation's leading businessmen, labor leaders, educators, press and communication executives will be with us in the Ballroom; and a national television and radio audience will be tuned in to the event. CBS Television has already indicated its interest in covering this occasion with a special live TV broadcast from the banquet hall. A similar strong interest has been expressed to us by Time-LIFE.

The program of the evening will be a presentation of the honored guests on the unusually dramatic dais. All of them have one thing in common: their decisions, their actions, their lives, their particular role in a specific event, conflict, period or crisis of these 25 years helped shape the course of events.

The flow of the history of our Republic is best seen in the sequence of great issues, stirring controversies and differences which are the steps on the ladder of growth of a free society. We are, of course, aware that some of those who will be honored on this occasion have been in occasional opposition to each other on isolated matters. But since it is our purpose to celebrate history and pay tribute to the American society, we will emphasize the healthy rather than the tensely emotional aspects of these controversies.

Each dais guest will be identified with the particular affirmative contribution he has made to our history and to our country. The text which will be used in introducing you and in highlighting your contribution to America's growth will be submitted to you for comment and suggestion.

We enclose a list of those persons who like you, have been invited as guests of honor on this occasion. We deeply hope that you will advise us of your acceptance of this invitation for the evening of April 27, 1960.

With warm personal wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Leo

Leo Cherne
Executive Director

LC/meb
Enclosure

"Living History of the Critical Years: 1935 - 1960"

The Honorable Dean G. Acheson
The Honorable Sherman Adams
The Honorable Bernard M. Baruch
The Honorable Eugene R. Black
General Omar N. Bradley
The Honorable Ralph J. Bunche
The Honorable Harry F. Byrd
General Lucius Clay
The Honorable James B. Conant
Mr. Harlow H. Curtice
The Honorable Thomas E. Dewey
General James H. Doolittle
General William H. Draper, Jr.
The Honorable Allen W. Dulles
President Dwight D. Eisenhower
The Honorable James A. Farley
Mr. William Faulkner
Mr. Henry Ford, II
Justice Felix Frankfurter
Mr. Robert Frost
The Honorable J. W. Fulbright
Mr. G. Keith Funston
Dr. George H. Gallup
General Alfred M. Gruenther
The Honorable W. Averell Harriman
Mr. Ernest Hemingway
The Honorable Leon Henderson
General Lewis B. Hershey
The Honorable Christian A. Herter
The Honorable Paul G. Hoffman
The Honorable J. Edgar Hoover
President Herbert Hoover
The Honorable George M. Humphrey
Mr. H. V. Kaltenborn
The Honorable Estes Kefauver
The Honorable John F. Kennedy
The Honorable William F. Knowland
The Honorable Alfred M. Landon
General Curtis E. LeMay
Mr. John L. Lewis
The Honorable David Lilienthal
Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh
Mr. Walter Lippmann
The Honorable Henry Cabot Lodge
The Honorable Clare Boothe Luce
General Douglas MacArthur

The Honorable John J. McCloy
The Honorable Neil H. McElroy
Mr. George Meany
The Honorable James P. Mitchell
The Honorable Henry Morgenthau, Jr.
Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Admiral Chester W. Nimitz
The Honorable Richard M. Nixon
Professor J. Robert Oppenheimer
The Honorable Frank Pace, Jr.
The Honorable William S. Paley
The Honorable Clarence B. Randall
Mr. Walter P. Reuther
Mr. Edward V. Rickenbacker
Admiral Hyman G. Rickover
General Matthew B. Ridgway
The Honorable Nelson A. Rockefeller
Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt
Mr. Beardsley Ruml
Dr. Jonas E. Salk
Mr. Carl Sandburg
General David Sarnoff
Mr. Alfred P. Sloan, Jr.
General Walter Bedell Smith
General Carl Spaatz
The Honorable Harold Stassen
The Honorable Adlai E. Stevenson
The Honorable Lewis L. Strauss
The Honorable Stuart Symington
Dr. Edward Teller
Mr. Norman Thomas
Mr. Juan T. Trippe
President Harry Truman
General Nathan F. Twining
General James A. Van Fleet
Dr. Wernher Von Braun
The Honorable Henry A. Wallace
The Honorable Earl Warren
Mr. Thomas J. Watson, Jr.
Mr. Joseph N. Welch
The Honorable Charles E. Wilson
The Honorable Charles E. Wilson
General Robert E. Wood

Ruth Richards Rosen Press.

October 16, 1959

Dear Miss Rosen:

Thank you for your cordial letter of October 9th which was received here after Mr. Murrow had left the country to begin a year's leave of absence.

I regret that there is no possibility of his undertaking any writing during the course of his sabbatical since he plans to spend the time reading, listening, and learning. I am sorry to have to say no on his behalf.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Miss Ruth C. Rosen, Vice President
Richards Rosen Press, Inc.
13 East 22nd Street
New York 10, New York

RICHARDS ROSEN PRESS
INCORPORATED
thirteen east twenty-second street, new york 10, n.y. · spring 7-301

October 9, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Pilgrim Hill
Pawling, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Nearly 12 years ago, your inspiring address at my graduation from Smith has been responsible for my special interest in your career in television.

We are publishing a new series of books entitled CAREERS IN DEPTH. Each book is a definitive study of a career, aimed at helping the high school senior and college student in the selection of a career.

We would like to discuss the possibility of having you write a book about CAREERS IN TELEVISION along the lines indicated on the attached outline.

Please give this your careful consideration and let me hear from you at your earliest convenience.

I look forward to your reply.

Sincerely yours,
Ruth C. Rosen
Ruth C. Rosen, Vice-President
RICHARDS ROSEN PRESS, INC.

RCR/of

CAREERS IN DEPTH

1. Attitudes necessary for this career
2. Educational background needed
3. Satisfactions of this work
4. Job opportunities in field beside obvious ones
5. Opportunity for advancement
6. Geographic location. Can you set up shop anywhere?
7. Can you set up your own business in field?
8. Financial rewards
9. Kind of people in field
10. Leads into other fields
11. Type of person it requires:
    - Organization man
    - Extrovert
    - Self-starter
    - Individualist
    - Originator
12. Different areas within field:
    - Inside man
    - Production
    - Sales
    - Art
    - Writer
13. Check list of qualities and attitudes desirable in this field
14. Source of securing jobs:
    - Agencies
    - Schools
15. Sample resume and what should be stressed
16. How to send out a resume and to whom
17. Health factor, stress and strain, pressure, bad hours
18. Miscellaneous hints about particular idiosyncracies of field
19. Sprinkling of real names as case histories
20. Job-finding techniques
21. Self-evaluation test

D.C. Ricker, Jr.

September 9, 1959

Mr. I.C. Ricker, Jr.
34 South Avenue
Wappingers Falls, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Ricker:

I apologize for the delay in replying to your letter of August 28 to Mr. Murrow. I have only just returned from my vacation.

As you know, Mr. Murrow is in Scandinavia at present. As his plans stand at the moment, he will not be returning to this country for several months, so that I regret it will not be possible for you to present his LOOK article to him personally.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

CURTIS CIRCULATION COMPANY

INDEPENDENCE SQUARE, PHILADELPHIA 5, PENNSYLVANIA

34 South Ave.
Wappingers Falls, New York
August 28, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
C. B. S.
485 Madison Ave.
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

We would like to present you with a leather bound copy of LOOK magazine, featuring the article about you.

We understand that you are going to return to Glen Arden Farm for a week-end in September. We would appreciate a few minutes of your time, at your convenience, to personally present the book to you.

We hope to have the opportunity of meeting you next month.

Yours truly,

I. C. Ricker, Jr.

I. C. Ricker, Jr.
Branch Manager

ICR/hlp

Rivelis, Dr.

March 30, 1959

Dr. A. Rivelis
The Hospital for Special Surgery
535 East 70th Street
New York 21, N.Y.

Dear Dr. Rivelis:

I trust that this will be forwarded to you. I am writing to apologize for the delay in replying to your letter of recent date in which you asked for an appointment to see Mr. Murrow. Unfortunately, we have been inundated with mail since the announcement of his sabbatical leave and, by the time your letter reached me, Mr. Murrow had left for Europe where he is at present. Again, I am sorry we were unable to send you a reply before you left New York.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

The Hospital for Special Surgery
535 East 70th Street
New York 21, New York

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York City

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I am an Argentinian doctor and have been training at the Cornell Medical Center since 1955. During the last three years I had the privilege of touring a great part of the world in relation to my profession as a guest lecturer.

I spent almost a year (1958-59) in Western Europe, Yugoslavia, the Middle and Far East. Also in 1956 I toured 20 nations of Latin America for a period of 6 months.

Besides my medical activities I met the people of the countries which I visited, talked their language when possible, learnt about their culture, customs and aspirations. Soon I noticed the similarity of thinking of the people of the 54 countries I had visited and it was very interesting to discover almost identical reactions to basic human and international affairs.

I decided to go further and to explore the possibilities of the creation of an organization that would use that common thinking for the benefit of humanity. This organization is different from all those existing today (non-governmental). It will promote a mass and world wide human and cultural exchange including all components of the human society.

I have discussed this project with qualified persons of 35 countries (Europe-America-Asia) and they stimulated me with their approval and support to continue in my efforts. In New York, among other, I have been in touch with Mrs. E. Roosevelt and Dr. H. Rusk. Since you are one of the persons more respected in the United States and knowing your work and sincere interest on international understanding, I thought I would tell you my ideas and get your valuable opinion. I would appreciate very much the honor of an appointment (at your convenience) before the 26th of March. I am leaving on that day to my country home

Best wishes to you.

Sincerely,

A Rivelis

A. Rivelis

Rockefeller Institute

THE DEDICATION OF

THE ALFRED E. COHN LIBRARY

OF

THE ROCKEFELLER INSTITUTE

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Caspary Auditorium 3 pm, December 3, 1959

INTRODUCTI

SPEAKE

T

CTION DETLEV W. BRONK, President, The Rockefeller Institute and MELVILLE H. CANE, ESQ., Executor, Estate of Alfred E. Cohn

AKERS DR. HENRY A. MURRAY
Professor of Psychology, Harvard University

PEYTON ROUS
Member Emeritus, The Rockefeller Institute

THE HONORABLE FELIX FRANKFURTER
Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States

TEA The Alfred E. Cohn Library
Abby Aldrich Rockefeller Hall

RSVP

THE ROCKEFELLER INSTITUTE

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

NEW YORK 21, NEW YORK

LEHIGH 5-9000

EXTENSION 500 AND 501

Roosevelt, Eleanor
C 17-80

MRS. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT
202 FIFTY-SIXTH STREET WEST
NEW YORK 19, N. Y.

November 14, 1959

Dear Mr. Murrow,

I would like to invite you to take part with me on one of a monthly series of hour long television programs on international affairs I am doing for the educational television network.

This "Prospects of Mankind" series is produced by WGBH-TV in cooperation with Brandeis University for the National Educational Television and Radio Center.

It occurred to me that you might be in this country for your annual CBS year's end roundup. Therefore I would like to have you join me at Brandeis on Sunday, January third. Senator Kennedy will also be on this program, and we are inviting Jean Monnet. The discussion will cover the general subject of Western Europe.

These programs are recorded on videotape and are made available to the forty-four educational stations throughout the country and Channel 5 in New York. We hope that they may do something to stimulate interest and encourage understanding here in this country concerning matters which may determine our destiny.

With all best wishes and the hope that I shall see you soon.

Sincerely,

Eleanor Roosevelt

Roosevelt, Eleanor
E. d

September 16, 1959

Dear Governor Stevenson:

Thank you for your gracious letter of September 8th which was received shortly after Mr. Murrow's departure for Europe.

Mr. Murrow plans to be out of the country for the next ten months, and so unfortunately, it will not be possible for him to join the National Sponsors Committee of a dinner in tribute to Eleanor Roosevelt to be held on December 7th.

Sincerely yours,

Secretary

Governor Adlai E. Stevenson
135 South LaSalle Street
Chicago 3, Illinois

DEAR GOVERNOR STEVENSON,

I AM PLEASED TO JOIN YOU AS A MEMBER OF THE NATIONAL SPONSORS COMMITTEE OF THE DINNER IN TRIBUTE TO MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT TO BE TENDERED BY THE ADVISORY COUNCIL OF THE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE ON MONDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 7, 1959 IN THE GRAND BALLROOM OF THE WALDORF-ASTORIA IN NEW YORK CITY.

NAME

ADDRESS CITY

ADLAI E. STEVENSON
135 So. LaSalle Street
Chicago

September 8, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Ave.
New York 22, N. Y.

Dear Ed:

It is my privilege to extend a most cordial invitation to you to join the National Sponsors Committee of a dinner in tribute to Eleanor Roosevelt, to be tendered by the Advisory Council of the Democratic National Committee, on Monday evening, December 7, 1959, in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria, New York City. I am delighted to advise you that President Truman has agreed to act as Honorary Chairman of the Dinner.

We are fortunate to have as one of the leaders of the Democratic Party so great and gracious a lady who, because of her infinite wisdom and sympathy, symbolizes our cherished freedom to the peoples of the world. This occasion, upon which we honor a long and distinguished career both on the national and international scene, provides a timely opportunity to emphasize those principles which have always given the program of our party its greatest strength.

May I have the favor of an early reply?

Sincerely,

Adlai E. Stevenson

Chairman

Rotary Internat'l

August 11, 1959

Mr. John T. Bregger
Rotary International
318 College Avenue
Clemson, South Carolina

Dear Mr. Bregger:

In reply to your kind letter of August 5 to Mr. Murrow, I regret to tell you that he has already left New York City and will shortly be leaving the country. He plans to travel abroad all of next year until his return to CBS in July 1960, and will therefore not be available to speak at your District Rotary Conference. Thank you so much for asking him. I am sorry I must decline on his behalf.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

ROTARY INTERNATIONAL

Service Above Self - He Profits Most Who Serves Best

JOHN T. BREGGER, GOVERNOR DISTRICT 775 • 318 COLLEGE AVE. • CLEMSON, SOUTH CAROLINA

August 5, 1959.

Mr. Ed Morrow,
% Col. Broadcasting Co.,
New York City.

Dear Mr. Morrow:

While no one in the world needs a complete vacation more than you do, I am wondering whether you would consider an urgent request for a speaking engagement at a District Rotary Conference in the South. The date would be March 10, the occasion our annual banquet at the now famous Clemson House

It would be hard to identify myself without mentioning Washington State College which I served as Extension Horticulturist for three years. Since then I have been almost everywhere, but like our mutually-admired Carl Sandburg, I like the South well enough to retire here.

I hope your reaction will be favorable to this sincere request, and that it will be possible for you to accept. And since Carl Sandburg lives less than a two hours' drive from here, you would be able to visit him too.

Most respectfully,

John T. Bregger

John T. Bregger
Governor, District 775.

OCONEE COUNTY'S

Outstanding TOURIST ATTRACTIONS

Salem to Whitewater Falls

Highest Cascade in Eastern America

Attractions & Directions on How to Get There Inside

Compliments of Oconee Planning & Development Board

OCONEE COUNTY PLANNING & DEVELOPMENT BOARD

Walhalla, South Carolina

"FORT HILL" Home of Vice-President John C. Calhoun. Here Thomas G. Clemson (son-in-law) on the 6th day of November, 1886, willed $80,000 and homestead to establish Clemson A&M College. Located at Clemson College on highway 123, U.S. Highway 76 from Atlanta, Georgia to Greenville.

CLEMSON HOUSE: This modern hostelry is recognized as one of the finest hotels in the southeast. Beautiful setting—fine food.

SALEM'S ANNUAL FALL RODEO: Beautiful location; two days of thrilling events. Parade and other entertainments FREE. In the heart of Salem on Hwy. No. 288.

LAKE JEMIKI: Two lakes, cottages, grade A cafe, recreation hall, fishing, boating, swimming, water skiing, camping facilities and hiking. Island honeymoon cottage. —From Walhalla Hwy. No. 28 North. —Left at Jemiki sign. Beautiful surroundings.

STUMP HOUSE MOUNTAIN TUNNEL: Started in 1856, abandoned work in 1859. Clemson College made Blue Mold Cheese here successfully for first time in America. Take Highway No. 28 North from Walhalla, six miles to sign on right. One-half mile to the right and North to the tunnel.

ISSAQUEENA FALLS: Named for Indian Maid Cateechee (Cherokee) who warned the white settlers long before Paul Revere made his midnight ride to Mass. (Same as to Tunnel) Hwy. No. 28 North from Walhalla.

HORSESHOE ROBINSON HOME: American Revolutionary hero. Highway 76 from Westminster toward Long Creek. Sign Chauga Heights, turn left on county road. 1½ miles. Old house with cedar tree and date on chimney.

OCONEE STATE PARK: 23 acre lake, 20 cabins, bass fishing, boating, swimming, picnic shelters, recreational hall and cafe serving three meals a day. Ten miles North of Walhalla on highway No. 107.

WHITEWATER FALLS: The highest cascade in Eastern America. Ten miles North of Salem, S.C. See map on front of folder.

JOCASSEE VALLEY: "The Switzerland of South Carolina", was so named in 1826. Locale of Camp Jocassee for girls. Established in 1922. From Walhalla take highway No. 183 four miles to No. 288. Seven miles from Salem.

OLD STONE CHURCH: 1797, completed 1802. Grave of General Andrew Pickens. From Clemson College one-half mile South on Highway No. 76, turn right one-half mile.

FISH HATCHERY: In the National Forest, Highway No. 28 North from Walhalla. Turn right on Route No. 107. One of the largest trout hatcheries in the country, it has an annual capacity of over a million trout, which are used to re-stock mountain streams. Beautiful scenery—magnificent forest—nice picnic area.

CLEMSON COLLEGE, which is recognized as one of the best in the South in the field of Agriculture and Engineering, has one of the largest textile schools in America. Also a school in ceramics. Located in Oconee County on U.S. Highway 76 and 123.

OLD INDIAN TRADING POST AND FORT: At Oconee Station. From Walhalla take No. 183 four miles North; turn left on No. 271 to Picket Post, then turn left approximately 4 miles.

MOUNTAIN LAKE FISHING & BOATING CLUB LAKE: Highway 28 about 8 miles North of Walhalla. Turn right on Highway 107. Turn right at Lord's Tourist Court.

TAMASSEE DAR: Industrial—an excellent school for mountain boys and girls in beautiful setting with splendid physical plant. From Walhalla take No. 183 four miles, turn left on No. 271, 8 miles. The school on main highway.

HIGH FALLS: From Walhalla take No. 183—8 miles to Powell's store. Take left turn on an un-named highway four miles to High Falls on Little River.

LAKE CHEOHEE: Beautiful Mountain lake. Boating, fishing, Highway No. 183—turn left on DAR road—left on Cheohee Valley road. Road well marked. Boating, swimming, lots for summer homes.

MT. REST LAKES on Highway No. 28. Turn left ½-mile North of Mountain Rest. Boating, fishing, cottages and lots for summer homes. Beautiful mountain setting.

CRYSTAL LAKE: Eight and one-half miles North of Walhalla on No. 28. Turn left at sign. Road well marked. Boating, fishing, swimming, and lots for summer homes. Beautiful surroundings.

EARLIEST RECORDED VISITORS: De Soto in 1539. Probable location of Spanish Fort of San Juan in 1566. William Bartain, the botanist visited Oconee in 1776. Michaux in 1788. Daniel Boone gave Boone Creek its name.

SHORTEST ROUTE TO CHEROKEE RESERVATION AND GREAT SMOKIES from Florida. —Route No. 107.

GATEWAY TO HIGHLANDS: On U. S. No. 28.

All the charm of the South in a college campus setting . . . air conditioned . . . excellent cuisine . . . friendly service

the view from Clemson

Travel, if you will, the wide, wide world, and rarely will you fin breathtaking sight that's yours from Clemson House. Here the camera scans, as you will, the endless miles of the Blue Ridge m and gorgeous South Carolina countryside. It is an unforgettable experience, yet is only part of the charm of a stay here. Come and see for yourself all there is to see.

n House

ou find the the dge mountains ettable

e.

Encircled by the grandeur of this kind of beauty, Clemson House is a modern hotel of 130 rooms, including two bridal suites and a luxurious penthouse . . . Television is available in the lounge or in your room . . . Spacious parking areas are just outside the entrances . . . Colorful banquets are a specialty of the house.

The Sabre Room is one of the more talked about dining rooms in all the South, for its enchanting decor and for its food.

food!

the wonderful, wonderful food that makes Clemson House famous!

Immortalized in the Clemson House Cook Book (yes, you can buy one) is the 474-page menu from which is drawn the magic viands for one of the noblest dining rooms in America. The Sunday evening "conga lines" at the Smorgesbord tables is a Clemson House tradition that attracts diners from throughout the South.

Your Clemson House room with its large picture window is a relaxing touch of beauty, spaciousness and comfort.

Deep comfort and gracious surroundings, inside and out, are as natural to your Clemson House living room as to your own home.

To Clemson Memorial Stadium come many of America's finest football teams to meet the growling Tigers of Clemson.

Atop Clemson House is a lovely penthouse for your very special occasions — a complete home tuned to luxury living.

every ser

C°

◀ Well appointed display, meeting and banquet rooms are perfectly suited for groups ranging from a cozy dozen to ample facilities for 500 people.

The great columned East Porch a vast regal plaza where you feel every inch a king or queen

Airports at Greenville and Anderson are only 32 and 18 miles away respectively a great service to conventioneers onventions

Conventions, great and small, from far and near have found Clemson House ideal in service, setting, facilities—the one place for the accomplishment of the convention's purpose and the pleasure, comfort and enjoyment of the conventioneers and their wives.

Bridge groups frequent the great lobby, where setting design offers privacy in a spacious area.

The Purple Room—one of many special dining rooms to permit conventions of several divisions to conduct meetings simultaneously.

Convention registration facilities are provided by efficient, friendly Clemson House staffers.

Many conventioneers project their own slides or movies in the well designed convention areas.

Within sight of Clemson House is the familiar Clemson Tower—a charming unintrusive touch of college life.

At once spacious and home-like is the beautifully appointed South Lobby where you may read, write, enjoy TV, relax in quiet comfort.

Enjoy a pleasant hour of clock golf just off the spacious South Porch nine intriguing holes to sharpen your putting skill.

There's an atmosphere about the way Clemson House blends with the college campus, about its architectural character, its luxurious spaciousness, its gentle hospitality that no visitor can ever quite describe — or forget.

Clemson House

All the charm of the South in a college campus setting . . . air conditioned . . . excellent cuisine . . . friendly service

Fort Hill, the gracious southern manor of famed 19th century statesman John C. Calhoun, is now open to visitors.

Overlooking the Clemson College campus, Clemson House provides immediate parking for more than 100 cars

The famed Clemson Tiger, gracing a pool of water lilies, is a stainless steel sculpture of the college mascot.

Within sight of Clemson House is the familiar Clemson Tower—a charming unintrusive touch of college life.

At once spacious and home-like is the beautifully appointed South Lobby where you may read, write, enjoy TV, relax in quiet comfort.

Enjoy a pleasant hour of clock golf just off the spacious South Porch nine intriguing holes to sharpen your putting skill.

There's an atmosphere about the way Clemson House blends with the college campus, about its architectural character, its luxurious spaciousness, its gentle hospitality that no visitor can ever quite describe — or forget.

Royal Soc. Knights of Carrousel

September 25, 1959

Dear Mr. Whitney:

Thank you for your kind invitation to attend the annual Coronation Ball on November 25th.

I regret that it will not be possible for Mr. and Mrs. Murrow to accept as they are currently traveling in Europe and do not plan to return to the States for several months.

Sincerely yours,

Secretary

Mr. A. Grant Whitney, President
Royal Society of the Knights of Carrousel
P.O. Box 1599
Charlotte, North Carolina

September 16, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Duke Murrow:

The Court of the Royal Society of the Knights of Carrousel will once again convene on Wednesday evening, November 25th, at 8:00 P.M. for its annual Coronation Ball and the bestowal of the Distinguished Service Award to outstanding citizens as is performed each year. Last year General Mark Clark, President of the Citadel, Charleston, South Carolina, and Senator B. Everett Jordan of North Carolina were dubbed Dukes.

As you are one of the most distinguished members of the Society, we sincerely hope that you and Mrs. Murrow will plan to be present for this forthcoming Ball. The Coronation will again be held in the Charlotte Coliseum and we certainly hope that we may be graced with your presence.

If I may make any hotel reservations or any other arrangements for you, please do not hesitate to let me know.

Once again, I do hope that we will have the honor of having you with us.

Sincerely,

A. Grant Whitney
President

ecp

Post Office Box 1599 Charlotte, North Carolina

Sales Executives Club

TV GUIDE TRIANGLE PUBLICATIONS, INC. • Television Publications Division

JAMES T. QUIRK
Publisher

Radnor
Pennsylvania
Phone: MUrray 8-7400

September 1, 1959

Answ.

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Pauling
New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Permit me to add my invitation to that of Phil Kelly, President of the Sales Executives Club, to be TV GUIDE's guest at the "Television '59-'60" luncheon on September 22.

Guest speakers at the event will be Mr. Oliver Treyz, President of ABC-TV; Mr. James Aubrey, Vice President of CBS-TV; and Mr. Walter Scott, Vice President of NBC-TV. Entertainment will be provided by celebrities from each network.

Joining the Sales Executives Club via live closed-circuit television will be members of sales and advertising clubs in Chicago, Philadelphia, and Cleveland.

A 12 Noon reception for the speakers and guests will take place in the mezzanine of the Grand Ballroom of the Roosevelt Hotel.

Your presence at the head table will contribute much to the success of this industry event. I would appreciate it if you would convey your acceptance to Harry R. White, Executive Director, Sales Executives Club, 19th Floor, Hotel Roosevelt, New York 17, New York, MUrray Hill 9-5117, by September 8.

Cordially,

James T. Quirk

JTQ:b

Sales Executives Club

SEC

RMS.

The President of

THE SALES EXECUTIVES CLUB

OF NEW YORK

Cordially invites

Edward R. Murrow

To be an Honor Guest at the Head Table at a TV Guide Preview Luncheon Meeting

at

Hotel Roosevelt - Grand Ball Room

on

Tuesday, September 22, 1959

At which the Speakers will be

Oliver Treyz, President, ABC TV Network
James T. Aubrey, Executive Vice-President, CBS TV Network
Walter D. Scott, Executive Vice-President, NBC TV Network
James T. Quirk, Publisher, TV Guide

R.S.V.P.

Please communicate acceptance to the Executive Secretary - Hotel Roosevelt
NewYork 17, N.Y. MU 9-5117

Honor Guests are not called upon to speak except by advance arrangement. However, an introduction of each guest is made by the Chairman at which time the Guest is asked to rise.

Reception for Speaker and Guests at 12:00

Salvation Army
Eng Dec

August 26, 1959

Dear Sir:

Thank you very much for your kind invitation to attend a luncheon and premiere showing of the film, A TEXAS STORY, on Wednesday, August 26th. Unfortunately, Mr. Murrow is out of the country and therefore cannot accept.

Sincerely yours,

Lt. Colonel Ernest Pickering
Divisional Commander
The Salvation Army
500 North Ervay Street
Dallas, Texas

gw

WILFRED KITCHING GENERAL

WILLIAM DAVIDSON TERRITORIAL COMMANDER

The Salvation Army

POST OFFICE BOX 76
AUSTIN, TEXAS

BUCK HOOD
PUBLIC RELATIONS COUNSELLOR

August 19, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Pawling, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

You are cordially invited to attend a luncheon and premiere showing of the film, A TEXAS STORY, on Wednesday, August 26 at 12-noon in The Texas Room of The Baker Hotel in Dallas. The event will honor Commissioner William J. Dray, Chief of Staff of The Salvation Army, London.

The film portrays highlights of the recent visit to Texas of General and Mrs. Wilfred Kitching, International Commanders of The Salvation Army, with headquarters in London.

A mutual friend, Mr. John Henry Faulk, figured prominently in arranging for the film. He gave unselfishly a full measure of his time and great talent as director and narrator of A TEXAS STORY. According to officials of the Salvation Army, the film will serve a great need in providing inspiration and encouragement for officers, men, and women of The Army at its activities throughout the world.

We hope most earnestly that you can be with us in Dallas.

With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely,

Buck Hood

Buck Hood

BH:dp

Please address reply to:

Lt.-Colonel Ernest Pickering
Divisional Commander
The Salvation Army
500 North Ervay Street
Dallas, Texas

Schary, Dore

CLASS OF SERVICE
This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION
TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS
DL=Day Letter
NL=Night Letter
LT=International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

PA 173

P NNY879 NNZ36 NL PD AR=NEW YORK NY 13= 1950 OCT 13 PM 9 30

MR AND MRS EDWARD R MURROW,CBS=
485 MADISON AVE NYCITY=

WE CORDIALLY INVITE YOU AND ONE GUEST TO BE WITH US AT THE OPENING NIGHT PERFORMANCE OF OUR NEW PLAY "THE HIGHEST TREE" AT THE LONGACRE THEATRE 220 WEST 48 STREET NEW YORK CITY ON WEDNESDAY EVENING NOVEMBER 4TH AT 7:45PM RSVP MISS KELLY AT THE THEATRE GUILD 27 WEST 53 STREET NEW YORK 19 COLUMBUS 56170 SINCERELY=

THE THEATRE GUILD AND DORE SCHARY=

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

Schary, Dore

Eng dec

MOSS HART

September 14, 1959

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Dore Schary, in recognition of his outstanding contributions to the American theatre, has been voted this year's recipient of the Annual Award of the Mary MacArthur Memorial Fund.

The tribute will take the form of a dinner at The Waldorf-Astoria on Sunday evening, October 18th. I have the honor, as Dinner Chairman, to invite you to join an Honorary Committee which is being formed, with my assurance that no onerous duties or obligations will be involved.

This Citation, which was presented to Clare Boothe Luce in 1957 and Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne in 1958, is being awarded to our Guest of Honor for his dramatic participation in the battle for a healthy world and for his skills in focusing attention upon this humanitarian goal. As you know, the Mary MacArthur Memorial Respiratory Unit was established in 1950 to perpetuate the name of the young actress daughter of Helen Hayes and the late Charles MacArthur.

I look forward eagerly to hearing from you as soon as possible, as we are anxious to complete formation of our distinguished committee and plan a truly delightful evening in honor of Mr. Schary.

Sincerely,

Moss Hart

Moss Hart

P.S. Please reply to me at Committee Headquarters, Suite 1533, 9 Rockefeller Plaza, New York 20, N.Y. COlumbus 5-7460.

Albert Schweitzer Ed Fndt

November 10, 1959

Dear Mr. Phillips:

Thank you for your gracious letter of November 6th inviting Mr. Murrow to participate in the plans for Albert Schweitzer's 85th birthday celebration.

I regret that since Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and will be traveling abroad for most of the next six months, it will not be possible for him to accept. Thank you for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Herbert M. Phillips, President
Albert Schweitzer Education Foundation
55 East Washington Street
Chicago 2, Illinois

BOARD OF DIRECTORS
President
Herbert M. Phillips (Chicago)
Vice-President
Louis W. Norris
(President of MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Illinois)
Secretary
Robert E. Coburn (Chicago)
Treasurer
James S. Pennington, Jr. (Chicago)

COUNSELLORS
Adams, James Luther (Harvard Divinity School, Cambridge, Mass.)
Andreas, Dr. Doktor Bengt
(Malmo, Sweden)
Bach, Marcus
Author, lecturer
(Iowa City, Iowa)
Barham, Miss Elsie (Dunedin, New Zealand)
Binder, Dr. Theodor
(Amazonian Albert Schweitzer Hospital, Pucallpa, Peru)
Bitzer, Albert H.
(Kenilworth, Illinois)
Bixler, J. S.
(President of Colby College, Waterville, Me.)
Booth, Edwin Prince
(Boston University School of Theology)
Boozer, Mrs. Jack
(Atlanta, Ga.)
Bradley, Rev. Preston
(Pastor, People's Church, Chicago)
Brumbaugh, A. J.
(Washington, D.C.)
Brundage, Percival
(Washington, D.C.)
Burl, Fritz
(Minister of the Cathedral, Basel, Switzerland and Professor of Dogmatics, University of Basel)
Casparis, Hans
(President, Albert Schweitzer College, Churwalden, Switzerland)
Chakravarty, Amiya
(Boston University School of Theology)
Cheatham, Mr. and Mrs. Julian
(Portland, Oregon)
Clark, Mrs. Charles S.
(President, Conference of Club Presidents, Chicago)
Colwell, Ernest Cadman
(President, American Association of Theological Schools, Claremont, Calif.)
Cousins, Norman
(Editor, Saturday Review, New York)
Diehl, Mrs. Harry L. (Chicago)
Ellerbrock, Lee
(President, Fellows for Schweitzer, Sierra Madre, California)
Ewing, Upton
(Architect, sculptor, Coral Gables, Florida)
Exman, Eugene
(Harper & Bros., New York City)
Franck, Dr. Frederick S.
(Artist, author, New York City)
Jahn, Gunnar
(Chairman, Nobel Peace Prize Committee, Oslo, Norway)
Jenney, Rev. Ray Freeman
(Pastor Emeritus, Bryn Mawr Community Church, Chicago)
Joy, Charles R.,
(Schweitzer Anthology Editor Newton Highlands, Mass.)
Kring, Rev. Walter Donald (Minister, The Unitarian Church of All Souls, New York)
Littlefair, Rev. Duncan
(Minister, Fountain Street Church, Grand Rapids, Mich.)
McGregor, Robert G. (Washington, D.C.)
Mays, Benjamin E.
(President of Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga.)
Mettler, Emil
(York Mansions Restaurant, London, England)
Monsen, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon L.
(Barrington, Ill.)
Newth, John D.
(A. & C. Black, Publishers, London, England)
Nies-Berger, Edouard
(Organist, First Congregational Church, Los Angeles)
Peterson, Peter G.
(V. Pres. Bell & Howell Co. Kenilworth, Ill.)
Rhee, Dr. Timothy
(Seoul, Korea)
Roback, A. A. (Cambridge, Mass.)
Rogers, Mrs. Miriam
(Chairman, Friends of Albert Schweitzer, Brookline, Mass.)
Russ, Kenneth (Lake Forest College, Lake Forest, Illinois)
Schilpp, Paul
(President, American Philosophical Assn., Glenview, Ill.)
Schweitzer, Mr. and Mrs. William E.
(Kenilworth, Illinois)
Seaver, The Very Reverend George
(Dean of the Church of Ireland, Kilkenny, Ireland)
Steere, Douglas V.
(Haverford College, Haverford, Pa.)
Stevenson, Gov. Adlai E. (Chicago)
Takahashi, Dr. Isao
(Sakamoto, Miyagiken, Japan)
Tau, Max
(Literary consultant, Oslo, Norway)
Wessell, Richard C.
(Editor, Des Plaines Journal, Des Plaines, Ill.)
Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Foss
(Washington, D.C.)

ALBERT SCHWEITZER EDUCATION FOUNDATION

55 East Washington Street • Chicago 2, Illinois • RAndolph 6-3140

November 6, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS Television
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Albert Schweitzer's 85th birthday is January 14, 1960. The function of our foundation is to acquaint the public with the ideas and writings of Dr. Schweitzer. For this reason we are most hopeful that not only will significant tributes be paid him in his role of humanitarian, as has been the case on his previous birthdays, but that his magnificent contribution to philosophy, ethics, Christian history and education will be included this year.

A birthday party appears to be one way in which the many facets of Dr. Schweitzer's thinking can be exposed. Among his friends are the most articulate people in the country. They can be found in politics (Stevenson, Rockefeller); in religion (Tillich, George Seaver); science (Oppenheimer, Werner Heisenberg); social science (Sorokin); communications (Melvin Arnold of Harper's; Norman Cousins); other world figures (Arnold Toynbee, Lord Russell); and world-renowned musicians, artists and sculptors.

If it would be possible for you to interview a number of them individually or collectively, the material you could elicit would be earthmoving. To do justice to the prodigious range of Dr. Schweitzer's thinking, I would think that the more people we could gather, the greater opportunity we would have to reflect his genius.

-more-

CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE ALBERT SCHWEITZER EDUCATION FOUNDATION ARE TAX DEDUCTIBLE

I count most of the above people as my personal friends and have presented two birthday observances in the past with a grand array of talent participating. If I can be helpful to you in exploring opportunities for a fitting program, I will be delighted to give my assistance for whatever it is worth.

If you find your schedule precludes any activity of this nature, would you be kind enough to give us the benefit of your thoughts on how we can bring this dream to fruition.

Sincerely,

Herbert M Phillips

Herbert M. Phillips

Dinah Shore

November 3, 1959

Dear Mr. Lewis:

Thank you for your gracious letter of October 29th inviting Mr. Murrow to be a member of the Honorary Committee of the coming event in honor of Dinah Shore.

I regret that Mr. Murrow will not be able to accept since he will be traveling abroad for most of the next ten months and in his absence, I do not have permission to lend his name. Thank you for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Joe E. Lewis, Abbot
Friars Club
57 East 55th Street
New York 22, New York

FRIARS CLUB

57 S 5 STREET W O 2 N. Y Telephone Plaza 72

Officers
JOE E. LEWIS
Abbot
MILTON BERLE
Abbot Emeritus
HARRY DELF
Dean
PHIL SILVERS Prior
DR. S. L. MEYLACKSON
Treasurer
RED BUTTONS
Secretary
JACK BENNY Proctor
TED LEWIS
Herald
JACK E. LEONARD Historian
JACK CANNON
Public Relations
CARL L. TIMIN
Executive Director

Governors
JACK BARRY
RAY BLOCH
JACK J. BREGMAN
JACK CANNON
PHIL CHARIG
NAT DUNN
EDDIE ELKORT
DICK GABBE
GEORGE A. HOFFMAN
BUDDY HOWE
ALAN KING
WILLIAM B. MANN
DR. MILTON REDER
LOUIS A. SCHENFIELD
DR. GEORGE H. SOLOMON
BURTON B. TURKUS

Advisory Committee
MEL ALLEN
DANIEL G. ARNSTEIN
JOEY BISHOP
MYRON COHEN
BING CROSBY
ALAN GALE
HARRY HERSHFIELD
OSCAR KATZ RAYMOND KATZ
SAM LEVENSON
ROBERT MERRILL
LOUIS P. RANDELL JULE STYNE
DAVID SUSSKIND
ROCCO VOCCO

October 29, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Ave.
New York, N.Y.

Dear Ed:

The Friars are honoring Dinah Shore as "The Woman of the Year" at the Waldorf early in April.

We have assembled the outstanding names in Show Business, Industry and the Arts for our Honorary Committee, and we will deem it a privilege and honor to have your name also on this Honorary Committee.

Please inform us as soon as possible as to your disposition.

The proceeds of this affair will go to the Friars Relief Fund for indigent members of the theatrical profession, as well as to Dinah's favorite charity, The Manie Sack's Foundation for Leukemia.

With kindest regards, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

Joe

JOE E. LEWIS Abbot

JEL:wk

PRAE OMNIA FRATERNITAS · FRIARS CLUB ·

Smith Political Assoc

October 14, 1959

Dear Miss Lee:

Your kind letter of October 9th was received at this office after Mr. Murrow had departed for Europe to begin a year's leave of absence.

I regret that since he will be out of the country for most of the next ten months, it will not be possible for him to address the Smith Political Organization in January. Thank you for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Miss Linda Lee, President
Smith Political Organization
Comstock House
Smith College
Northampton, Massachusetts

SMITH POLITICAL ORGANIZATION

SMITH COLLEGE

NORTHAMPTON, MASSACHUSETTS

October 9, 1959

Dear Mr. Murrow,

In preparation for the 1960 Presidential Election, our organization is presenting a series of lectures and discussions on the parties themselves, the potential candidates and the elements of a political campaign. One of the areas we are interested in exploring is the role of mass media, particularly radio and television, in determining the outcome of an election.

We have read with interest your address concerning the role of television in the presentation of news and public affairs, reprinted in the Reporter and would be interested in your views on the role of television in politics. On behalf of our organization and the Smith student body, I would like to extend an invitation for you to address us on Monday evening, January 11,1960.

Naturally the specific nature of your remarks would be entirely up to you and perhaps there would be an opportunity for questions and discussion at a reception to follow your talk. The lecture would be open to the whole college and would probably include representatives of other colleges in this area.

Our organization is prepared to pay either your expenses in coming to Northampton or a $100 lecture fee, whichever you prefer.

I sincerely hope that you will be able to come as I know that you could do a great deal to increase our understanding and awareness in this area.

Sincerely,

Linda Lee

Linda Lee, President

Comstock House
Smith College
Northampton, Mass.

Suburbia Today

November 24, 1959

Dear Mr. Heyn:

Thank you for your cordial letter of November 16th which was received in Mr. Murrow's absence. As you may know, Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and is traveling abroad.

I regret to tell you that there is no possibility of his undertaking any writing during the course of his sabbatical since he plans to spend the time reading, listening, and learning. I am sorry to have to say no on his behalf.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Ernest V. Heyn
Editor-in-Chief
Suburbia Today
60 East 56th Street
New York 22, New York

November 16, 1959

The Smart
Colorgravure Magazine of Newspapers in Selected Suburban Communities

Suburbia
Today

Ernest V. Heyn
Editor-in-Chief

60 East 56th Street
New York 22, New York

PLaza 2-9880

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Pawling, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Is there a chance that you could find time to do a short piece for SUBURBIA TODAY? This new Sunday supplement magazine appears in 189 carefully selected newspapers of suburban communities and has a circulation of over 1,250,000.

My idea is this: "Is Television Ruining Your Family Life?" This has nothing to do with the demoralizing effects of rigged quiz shows, although that might be mentioned. What I have in mind is the complete change in family habits and customs which we weak-minded citizens allow television to cause. We no longer have dinner around the family table but on little tables in front of the monster. Many children cannot be pried away from television (although mine long since tired of the novelty). We stay up later than we should and we are constantly lulled into a kind of soddenness by the repetitious and uninspiring westerns and mysteries.

Our tempers are shortened by disputes as to which show to see and many families have had to get an extra television set to be sure to keep peace. In short, many of us have allowed this new entertainment medium to corrupt, weary, and change us. The few educational phases are praiseworthy, but generally they cannot stay on the air very long because no sponsor will support them.

It will be a great thing for the magazine if you can find time to put this into approximately 1000 words. (If you want to write less or more, it is fine with me.)

Our rates are not overwhelming. We would pay $500.00 for this contribution.

Here's hoping that you can find time to dash this off. I have an idea you would write it from the hears.

Sincerely,

Ernest V. Heyn

EVH/rv

Temple Beth Israel

November 3, 1959

Dear Mrs. Sondheimer:

Thank you for your telegram of November 2nd inviting Mr. Murrow to speak at Temple Beth Israel.

As you probably know, Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence, and since he expects to be out of the country for the next ten months, I regret that it will not be possible for him to accept. Thank you for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mrs. Martin Sondheimer
2046 West High Street
Lima, Ohio

CLASS OF SERVICE
This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION
TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201

SYMBOLS
DL=Day Letter
NL=Night Letter
LT=International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination

CTA412

CT LMA194 NL PD=LIMA OHIO 2=

1959 NOV 2 PM 3 09

:EDWARD R MURROW, CBS=
MADISON AVE NYK=

:SISTERHOOD OF TEMPLE BETH ISREAL LIMA OHIO INVITES EDWARD R MURROW ANYTIME AFTER HIS RETURN FROM ENGLAND,
AS ANNUAL SPEAKER BEFORE APPROXIMATELY 1500 PEOPLE.
MRS ELEANOR ROOSEVELT APPEARED LAST YEAR FOR US.
PLEASE ADVISE AVILABLE DATES IN 1960 AND FEE=
MRS MARTIN SONDHEIMER 2046 WEST HIGH ST
LIMA OHIO.

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

Temple Univ
Eng dec

September 15, 1959

Dear Mr. Doty:

Thank you for your recent invitation to attend the Seventy-fifth Anniversary Founder's Dinner on Saturday, November 14th, which was received shortly after Mr. Murrow had sailed for Europe.

Unfortunately, he will not be returning to the States for several months and without his permission, it is not possible to agree to his name being used as a sponsor.

I am sorry.

Sincerely yours,

Secretary

Mr. Ethan Allen Doty
Seventy-fifth Anniversary Founder's Dinner
Temple University
Bellevue-Stratford Hotel
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

TEMPLE UNIVERSITY

Seventy-fifth Anniversary Founder's Dinner

Saturday, November 14th, 1959

Bellevue-Stratford Hotel

Philadelphia, Pa.

September 11, 1959

Dr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Dr. Murrow:

One of the most outstanding events of the year will be the Seventy-fifth Anniversary Founder's Dinner at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel, Saturday, November 14th.

This will be the beginning, by the Alumni, of the Seventy-fifth Anniversary Celebration of Temple University.

We would like very much to ask you, as an honorary alumnus, for permission to use your name on our list of sponsors for this dinner. As a sponsor, your only duty will be to try to attend the dinner.

While we hope very much we will have you with us on November 14th, we understand that circumstances may prevent your attending, but we will appreciate the evidence of interest shown by your permitting us to use your name as a sponsor.

We hope to hear from you at your early convenience.

Most cordially,

E. A. Doty

Ethan Allen Doty

T. L. Reimel

Theodore L. Reimel
Co-Chairmen

EAD/TLR/sgm

Thomas, Norman

A dinner honoring NORMAN THOMAS on the occasion of his 75th birthday

"A WORLD WITHOUT WAR"

Waldorf Astoria Starlight Room

November 18, 1959 . . . Reception 6:30 p.m.

Dinner 7:30 p.m. / $10.00 per person

chairman

GREETINGS

ADDRESS

rman: NORMAN COUSINS

TINGS: FRANK P. GRAHAM

A. PHILIP RANDOLPH

MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

RESS: NORMAN THOMAS

6:30 p.m. . . . Reception

An opportunity to greet Norman Thomas personally

7:30 p.m. . . . Dinner

8:45 p.m. . . . Greetings

9:30 p.m. . . . Address

co-chairmen:

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt
Norman Cousins

sponsors:

Sadie T. M. Alexander
Dewey Anderson
Ernest Angell
Luigi Antonini
Thurman Arnold
Max Ascoli
Clarence Ayres
Emily Green Balch
Cyrus LeRoy Baldridge
Mr. & Mrs. Roger N. Baldwin
Katrina McCormick Barnes
Murray Baron
Irving Barshop
Alan Barth
Jacques Barzun
Helen Marston Beardsley
Daniel Bell
Saul Bellow
Thomas Hart Benton
Adolf A. Berle, Jr.
Francis Biddle
Sarah Gibson Blanding
Charles G. Bolte
Charles F. Boss
Chester Bowles
Julian P. Boyd
Dorothy Dunbar Bromley
Van Wyck Brooks
Harrison Brown
Ralph J. Bunche
John P. Burke
Joseph Buttinger
James R. Caldwell
Henry Seidel Canby
James B. Carey
Lucy P. Carner
Elmer A. Carter
Clifford P. Case
Everett Case
David F. Cavers
Emanuel Celler
Allan Knight Chalmers
Ruth Chalmers
Stuart Chase
Leo Cherne
Grenville Clark
Joseph S. Clark
Dumont Clarke
Rufus E. Clement
Benjamin V. Cohen
Henry Steele Commager
Albert Sprague Coolidge
George S. Counts
Gardner Cowles
Louise Crane
Mrs. W. Murray Crane
Frank R. Crosswaith
John B. Danby
Dorothy Day
S. A. DeWitt
J. Frank Dobie
Harold W. Dodds
Judah Drob
David Dubinsky
Evelyn Dubrow
Rt. Rev. Angus Dun
Kermit Eby
Clark M. Eichelberger
Thomas H. Eliot
Mr. & Mrs. Lee Elmore
Irving M. Engel
Bernard J. Englander
Morris L. Ernst
Mark Ethridge
James A. Farley
James T. Farrell
John F. Finerty
Thomas K. Finletter
John Fischer
Louis Fischer
Victor Fischer
H. William Fitelson
Harry Fleischman
Ralph E. Flanders
James Lawrence Fly
Harry Emerson Fosdick
Raymond B. Fosdick
Anna Caples Frank Walter Frank
Mr. & Mrs. H. A. Freeman
Irving C. Freese
Samuel H. Friedman
Erich Fromm
Ralph F. Fuchs

John Kenneth Galbraith
Marvin H. Gewirtz
Harry D. Gideonse
Virginia C. Gildersleeve
Harry Golden
John Douglas Gordon
Samuel A. Goudsmit
Mr. & Mrs. Chester A. Graham
Frank P. Graham
Frances Grant
Ernest A. Gross
Ernest Gruening
Louis M. Hacker
Cameron P. Hall
Oscar Hammerstein, II
J. B. S. Hardman
Donald Harrington
Brooks Hays
August Heckscher
Francis Heisler
Philip A. Heller
Ammon Hennacy
Mr. & Mrs. John Herling
Elinore M. Herrick
Mr. & Mrs. Sidney Hertzberg
Hugh B. Hester
Harold K. Hochschild
Isidor B. Hoffman
Paul G. Hoffman
Arthur N. Holcombe
John Haynes Holmes
Sidney Hook
Darlington Hoopes
Prynce Hopkins
Frank S. Horne
Mildred McAfee Horton
George M. Houser
Mark DeW. Howe
Quincy Howe
Palmer Hoyt
B. W. Huebsch
Hubert H. Humphrey
Fannie Hurst
Robert M. Hutchins
Stanley M. Isaacs
Morris Iushewitz
Elmore Jackson
John K. Jessup
Mordecai W. Johnson
Gilbert Jonas
John Paul Jones
H. V. Kaltenborn
J. M. Kaplan
George F. Kennan
Victoria Kent
Dorothy Kenyon
James Kerney, Jr.
William H. Kilpatrick
Martin Luther King, Jr.
Benjamin H. Kizer
Edward E. Klein
Mr. & Mrs. M. C. Krueger
Harry W. Laidler
William Langer
John A. Lapp
Ralph E. Lapp
Bruno Lasker
Herbert H. Lehman
Paul L. Lehmann
Max Lerner
Aaron Levenstein
S. M. Levitas
Walter Lippmann
James Lipsig
Curtis D. MacDougall
John A. MacKay
Archibald MacLeish
E. B. MacNaughton
Patrick Murphy Malin
Margaret Bradford Malone
James Marshall
Lenore G. Marshall
Thurgood Marshall
Mike M. Masaoka
Robert E. Mathews
Emil Mazey
Roy J. McCorkel
Jasper McLevy
Alexander Meiklejohn
Harry C. Meserve
Abraham Miller
Edward O. Miller
Meyer Miller
Max F. Millikan
Isaiah M. Minkoff
N. M. Minkoff
H. L. Mitchell
Vanni B. Montana
Agnes M. Morley
Wayne Morse
Norbert Muhlen
Herbert J. Muller
Lewis Mumford
Emanuel Muravchik
A. J. Muste
Robin Myers
Tracy D. Mygatt
Djab Naminow
Louis Nelson
Richard L. Neuberger
Allan Nevins
Reinhold Niebuhr
M. S. Novik
Emanuel Nowogrudsky
Mildred Scott Olmsted
Culbert L. Olson
Harold L. Oram
John B. Orr, Jr.
Earl D. Osborn
Charles Osgood
Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam
Rt. Rev. Edward L. Parsons
Jacob Pat
Linus Pauling
Nathaniel Peffer
Orlie A. H. Pell Don Peretz
Virgilia Peterson
Clarence E. Pickett
Rt. Rev. James A. Pike
Josephine W. Pomerance
David de Sola Pool
Charles O. Porter
Charles C. Price
Carl Rachlin
A. Philip Randolph
Joseph L. Rauh, Jr.
Robert H. Reno
Victor G. Reuther
Walter P. Reuther
Harold Riegelman
Robert Rindl
James H. Robinson
Sam Romer
Vera Rony
Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt
Emory Ross
Morris H. Rubin
Raymond S. Rubinow
Mr. & Mrs. John Nevin Sayre
Theodore Schapiro
Emanuel Scherer
Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr.
Joseph Schlossberg
Adelaide Schulkind
Bernard Seaman
Clarence Senior
Whitney North Seymour
James T. Shotwell
George Silver
S. Fanny Simon
Upton Sinclair
Herman Singer
Stephen Siteman
Tom Slick
Lillian E. Smith
Louis B. Sohn
George Soll
Jerome H. Spingarn
Robert Gordon Sproul
Mark Starr
Will Stern
Adlai E. Stevenson
Mr. & Mrs. Alexander Stewart
Michael Straight
Irwin Suall
Arthur Hays Sulzberger
Eric P. Swenson
Arthur L. Swift
John M. Swomley, Jr.
Robert L. Tesdell
Trevor Thomas
Channing H. Tobias
Edward C. Tolman
Frank N. Trager
Madeleine Trimmer
Lena Tulchin
Arthur R. Upgren
Harold C. Urey
Peter Viereck
Sacha Volman
Jerry Voorhis
James P. Warburg
J. Waties Waring
Mr. & Mrs. Rowland Watts
W. W. Waymack
James A. Wechsler
Stanley A. Weigel
Morton White
William L. White
Roy Wilkins
Pearl L. Willen
Aubrey W. Williams
Edward Bennett Williams
E. Raymond Wilson
Morton Wishengrad
Frances Witherspoon
Mr. & Mrs. Herman Wolf
Alice Dodge Wolfson
John M. Work
Marion A. Wright
Louis Yagoda
Benjamin E. Youngdahl
Frank P. Zeidler
Charles S. Zimmerman
Jacob T. Zukerman
William Zukerman

List Incomplete

OLIN MATHIESON CHEMICAL CORPORATION
460 PARK AVENUE
NEW YORK 22, NEW YORK

Touré, Sékou

MU8-0500

STANLEY de J. OSBORNE
PRESIDENT

October 5, 1959

ed

Dear Ed:

As you know, His Excellency Sékou Touré, President of the Republic of Guinea, is coming at President Eisenhower's invitation on his first visit to the United States in late October and early November.

I am giving a small luncheon for him at the Jansen Suite of the Waldorf-Astoria at twelve-thirty on Friday, November sixth, and it would give me great pleasure if you would join me in welcoming him to the United States.

This date will be at the end of President Touré's trip, after he has met with President Eisenhower and made a cross-country tour.

The luncheon should be over by two-fifteen, and I very much hope you can join us. Would you please let me know as soon as possible whether you can come.

Sincerely,

Stanley

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

OK

Tsiranana and Houphouet-Boigny

RECEIVED
1959 NOV 10 PM 6:57
CBS TELETYPE ROOM N.Y.

WUA025 PD AR

NEW YORK NY NOV 10 NFT

ED MURROW
CBS

485-17

IT WOULD GIVE ME GREAT PLEASURE IF YOU COULD ATTEND A RECEPTION GIVEN IN HONOR OF MR. PHILIBERT TSIRANANA PRESIDENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF MADAGASCAR AND OF MR. FELIX HOUPHOUET-BOIGNY PREMIER OF THE REPUBLIC OF THE IVORY COAST ON MONDAY NOVEMBER SIXTEEN FROM FIVE TO SEVEN P.M. AT THE FRENCH EMBASSY PRESS & INFORMATION DIVISION 972 FIFTH AVENUE RSVP REGENT 7-9700 EXT. 836 SINCERELY

ROGER VAURS DIRECTOR FRENCH EMBASSY NEW YORK

656P..

Union Society
c/o
Cambridge, England

September 11, 1959

Dear Mr. Walsh:

Many thanks for your kind letter of September 1st. I regret that I must decline your gracious invitation to speak at a Union debate this autumn. Although present plans call for me to be in England during the month of October, my time there is already fully assigned.

Please be assured that I am honored to have received your invitation and am sincerely sorry that it is impossible for me to accept.

Very truly yours,

Mr. Brian Walsh
The Union Society
Cambridge England

gw

TELEPHONE 3876.

The Union Society.
Cambridge.

1st.September, 1959.

Dear Mr.Murrow,

May I invite you to speak at a Union debate this autumn, sometime in October or November ?

I realise that - for you particularly - time must be at a premium, but it had occured to me that the prospect of an Autumn General Election in Britain might possibly be tempting you to cross the Atlantic in the near future. Consequently I would very much like to persuade you to come and speak at the Union. I feel sure that you will enjoy the experience of a Union debate - and I need hardly say that your visit would excite tremendous interest and enthusiasm throughout the University.

At present the following topics are"in the air". France in general (with Algiers)- I hope that M. Jacques Soustelle will accept an invitation to speak. British and U.S. policy in the Middle East - here I am hoping for either Mrs. Meir or General Dayan. Moreover there is an outside chance of a visit from Fidel Castro - though this may have diminished somewhat in the light of recent events. We still await confirmation.

On the other hand, should you prefer some special topic of your own - this could easily be arranged.

I do hope that you will be able to accept this invitation, I am certain that you will greatly enjoy visiting Cambridge - and I know that we shall be delighted to have you here as our guest.

Yours sincerely,

Brian Walsh.

President.

Edward R. Murrow, Esq.,
485, Madison Avenue,
New York,
U.S.A.

United Cerebral Palsy

October 8, 1959

Dear Sirs:

Thank you for your kind invitation to attend the Gala Humanitarian Award Dinner on November 3rd, which was received in Mr. Murrow's absence.

I regret that it will not be possible for Mr. and Mrs. Murrow to attend since they are traveling in Europe and do not plan to return to the States for several months.

Sincerely yours,

Secretary

United Cerebral Palsy of New York City, Inc.
70 Fifth Avenue
New York 11, New York

The Award Committee,

Mr. Stanley C. Hope, Chairman

cordially invites you to a Gala Dinner Dance at which

Mesdames William C. Langley,

Albert D. Lasker,

and Mr. Roger S. Firestone will receive the

United Cerebral Palsy

Humanitarian Award

Humanitarian Award Committee

Stanley C. Hope
Chairman

Mrs. Paul Ames
Mrs. Clyde Newhouse
Co-Chairmen

Mrs. Seymour Berkson
Gordon S. Braislin
Alexander Calder
Mr. & Mrs. Harvey D. Carter
Mr. & Mrs. Igor Cassini
Mrs. Thomas L. J. Corcoran
Mr. & Mrs. L. Jarvis Cushing, Jr.
Miss Jessica Daves
Mr. & Mrs. George F. Dembow
Fred J. Emmerich
Mr. & Mrs. William Clay Ford
Mr. & Mrs. Leonard H. Goldenson
Hon. & Mrs. Nathaniel L. Goldstein
Mr. & Mrs. Jack Goddard
Mr. & Mrs. Charles M. Grace
Mr. & Mrs. Peter Grimm
Mr. & Mrs. Jack Hausman
Mr. & Mrs. Leo Hausman
Mrs. William R. Hearst, Jr.
Mrs. Lytle Hull
Hon. Benjamin A. Javits
John L. Loeb
Mr. & Mrs. Charles E. McCarthy
Mr. & Mrs. John Reagan McCrary
Mr. & Mrs. Joseph A. Martino
Thomas A. Morgan
Hon. Robert Moses
Mr. & Mrs. Ray D. Murphy
Mr. & Mrs. Gilbert H. Perkins
William G. Rabe
Mr. & Mrs. Charles Revson
John L. Riegel, Sr.
Joseph P. Ripley
Mr. & Mrs. Louis J. Robbins
Mr. & Mrs. Robert I. Rogin
Mr. & Mrs. Paul N. Sault
Lynde Selden
Mrs. Viola Shiffman
Mr. & Mrs. H. Donald Sills
Robert B. Smallwood
Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson
Mr. & Mrs. Donald Stralem
Edmund E. Thomas
Mr. & Mrs. Lowell Thomas
Mr. & Mrs. Clyde E. Weed
Mrs. Eleanor Searle Whitney
Mr. & Mrs. Charles F. Willis, Jr.
Mr. & Mrs. Ellis Wilner
Jack Zimmerman
(partial listing)

US Dept of Commerce

November 24, 1959

Dear Mr. Lyford:

Thank you for your very cordial letter of November 18th which Mr. Friendly has referred over to me for a reply. As you may know, Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence, and at the present time he is traveling in Europe.

I regret to have to tell you that there is no possibility of his undertaking any new commitments during the course of his sabbatical year, since he plans to spend most of this time, listening, reading, and learning.

I am sorry to have to say no on his behalf.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Harry B. Lyford
Chief, Public Information
U. S. Department of Commerce
Office of the Secretary
Washington 25, D. C.

Daly

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY
WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

Office of INTERNATIONAL TRADE FAIRS

November 18, 1959

Mr. Fred Friendly
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York City

Dear Mr. Friendly:

Back in 1955, you may recall, you and I had telephone conversations, and visits in your office, regarding the Refugee Relief Program. And Edward R. Murrow lifted Department of State gloom by winding up a Dan Shore-interview-with-Scott McLeod by making a persuasive plea for sponsors of refugees!

My calls on you during that period, and your helpful suggestions, are pleasant memories.

Now I am Public Information Chief for the Office of International Trade Fairs, and again circumstances direct me to you.

My Director, Walter S. Shafer, formerly Vice President of Armour & Company, Chicago, has had Mr. Murrow in mind for narrator of an official film of the Department of Commerce. Our project this year is a 27½ minute color film, telling the story of United States Exhibits in seven or eight overseas locations.

Our first and shorter film was narrated by John Daly; the second by Dave Garroway. Both gave their services to this Agency.

Mr. Shafer is hopeful that Mr. Murrow may be available and willing to assist the Trade Fairs program similarly. But, in view of his adjusted schedule in the world of television, I felt it wise to consult with you with regard to possibilities.

Movietone News is producing the film for us. Its appeal is directed to American industry, the cooperation of which makes possible this Government-Industry program. But it is also a film of interest to all America. Since prints will be in both color, and black and white, it will be available gratis for TV use, and for business and civic groups. The enclosed booklet indicates the international values of the United States Exhibit program.

Thank you for past and current cooperation.

Sincerely yours,

Harry B. Lyford

Harry B. Lyford
Chief, Public Information

Attachment

U S National Student Assoc

December 30, 1959

Dear Mr. Hoffman:

Thank you for your gracious letter of December 18th inviting Mr. Murrow to address the National Student Congress next August.

I regret that since Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and will be traveling abroad for most of the next eight months, it will not be possible for him to accept. Thank you again for asking him.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Donald A. Hoffman, President
United States National Student Association
3457 Chestnut Street
Philadelphia 4, Pennsylvania

UNITED STATES NATIONAL STUDENT ASSOCIATION

3457 CHESTNUT STREET • PHILADELPHIA 4, PA. • BAring 2-1106 • CABLE, NATSTUD - PHILADELPHIA, PA.

December 18, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
c/o Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

On behalf of the United States National Student Association I would like to invite you to address our Thirteenth National Student Congress between the dates of August 22 and September 1, 1960 at the time of your convenience.

As you know, the annual National Student Congress is the policy making body of the United States National Student Association, a confederation of about 400 American colleges and universities representing over one million students. This year we anticipate that over one thousand delegates from some 300 colleges will be participating in the various workshops and legislative sessions.

The Congress offers the most effective single potential for the development of a unified student viewpoint and program directed to meet the needs and challenges of present and future educational problems. The Congress also offers a highly concentrated educational experience to the individual delegates. It is expected that they return to their campuses well prepared to be more responsible student leaders in their intellectual and co-curricular pursuits. The Association believes that students, engaged in the vocation of learning, can be a vital resource assisting in the solution of complex problems facing higher education today.

But first students must become aware, aware of and then concerned with, what they are, what they are doing, what is happening to them, where they are going. And this is a challenge of concern that students must think through. Our feeling is that this gathering of students would present you with an excellent opportunity to articulate what you believe are the greatest concerns that should be occupying the minds and stimulating to action these outstanding student leaders.

We would be honored if you would deliver an address to a fully assembled Congress plenary session. We sincerely hope that you will be in a position to respond favorably to our invitation if at all possible.

Enclosed for your information is a brochure from the Twelfth National Student Congress and a Summary Report and Codification of NSA policy.

Sincerely,

Donald A. Hoffman

DONALD A. HOFFMAN, President

at

ASSOCIATED WITH: American Council on Education • International Student Conference • U. S. Commission for UNESCO • World University Service • Council on Student Travel • Young Adult Council • Nat'l Citizens Committe for UN Day • Nat'l Scholarship Service & Fund for Negro Students

OFFICERS

President
DONALD A. HOFFMAN
University of Wisconsin

Administrative Assistant to the President
ANGIE THOMAS
University of Wisconsin

International Affairs Vice President
ISABEL S. MARCUS
Barnard College

National Affairs Vice President
CURTIS B. GANS
University of North Carolin

Program Vice President
B. JAMES KWEDER
Allegheny College

Program Vice President
RICHARD A. RETTIG University of Washington

Public Relations Director
FLORENCE M. CASEY
Hunter College

•

NATIONAL ADVISORS

Wallace M. Alston
President
Agnes Scott College

Ralph J. Bunche
Under-Secretary
United Nations

John Ciardi
Professor at Rutgers

John Cogley
Staff Administrator
The Fund for the Republic

Christine Y. Conaway
Dean of Women
Ohio State University

James M. Dabbs
President
Southern Regional Council, Inc.

Rev. T. M. Hesburgh, C.S.C
President
University of Notre Dame

Russell Kirk
Editor
Modern Age

Robert H. Shaffer
Dean of Students
Indiana University

George N. Shuster
President
Hunter College

Harold E. Stassen

Howard E. Wilson
Dean of the School of Education
University of California at Los Angeles

O. Meredith Wilson
President
University of Oregon

•

Chairman
National Advisory Board
CHARLES W. McCRACKE
Dean of Student Personnel Services
Trenton State College

Chairman
Financial Advisory Board
RUTH GERI HAGY

USNSA

July 29, 1959.

Dear Miss Kehr:

Thank you for your cordial note of July 13th.

I regret that it will not be possible for me to visit the National Student Congress of the U.S.N.S.A. in August. If I have an opportunity I will certainly look in at their headquarters in Europe.

Sincerely your,

Miss Marguerite Kehr
1423 Allison St., N.W.
Washington 11, D.C.

Univ. of Colorado.
Dept of Anthro.

December 16, 1959

Dear Professor Greenway:

Thank you for your gracious letter of December 9th inviting Mr. Murrow to speak at the University of Colorado during the 1960 summer session.

I regret that since Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and will be traveling abroad for most of the next eight months, it will not be possible for him to accept. Thank you for asking him.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Professor John Greenway
Department of Anthropology
University of Colorado
Boulder, Colorado

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

BOULDER, COLORADO

DEPARTMENT OF ANTHROPOLOGY

9 December 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York
New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Each year we invite outstanding persons in America's intellectual life to be our Summer Lecturers. Last year, for example, we had several of the world's leading authorities in various academic disciplines, including three Nobel Prize winners or nominees.

This coming summer's theme is "Where Are We Going?" Our Committee unanimously asked that I tender an invitation to you to come to our campus and speak on this subject in regard to the television and radio developments likely to occur in the United States in the near or distant future.

We are not able to compensate our speakers commensurately with their position and abilities; we hope that they, like us academic persons, are able to delude themselves about the psychic income of doing work of this sort. We can, however, pay more than Jack Paar does for a single appearance; specifically, we can offer you airline fare round trip from New York, provide you with food and room while on campus, and pay you an "honorarium" of $600. For this we ask a formal lecture to a general audience, of about one hour's length. We hope in every case that our speakers can spend several days on our campus, submitting themselves to brain-picking by a selected group of pickers, and that they will allow their speech to be published in the university periodical, The Colorado Quarterly. However, these last are desiderata, and we do not insist upon them.

The summer session runs from June 22 to August 12; we hope that we can have all the lectures on Wednesdays, though this, too, is only a desideratum.

Can you come? In either case, I should appreciate hearing from you soon.

Sincerely yours,

John Greenway
Asst. Prof. Anthropology Coordinator of the Summer Lecture Series

Univ of Illinois

October 2, 1959

Dear Mr. Moberg:

Your kind letter of September 25th was received at this office shortly after Mr. Murrow had departed for Europe to begin a year's leave of absence.

I regret that since he will be out of the country for most of the next ten months, it will not be possible for him to participate as a keynote speaker at the Annual Human Relations Conference.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Verne Moberg
The Edward Chauncy Baldwin Human Relations Committee
The University of Illinois
503 East John Street
Champaign, Illinois

THE EDWARD CHAUNCEY BALDWIN HUMAN RELATIONS COMMITTEE AT THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

503 EAST JOHN STREET
CHAMPAIGN, ILLINOIS

September 25, 1959

Harold Rosenberg
General Chairman
Samuel Bradshaw
Secretary
Roger Gauen
Treasurer
Rubin Cohn
Faculty Advisor

Sponsoring Organizations

Channing-Murray	Student Senate
Friends	Univ. Baha'i
Hillel	Univ. Baptist
I. F. C.	W. G. S.
McKinley	Pan Hellenic
M. I. A.	Wesley
M. R. H. A.	Y. M. C. A.
Seabury	Y. W. C. A.

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Ave.
New York 22, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The Baldwin Committee on Human Relations at the University of Illinois is planning its Seventh Annual Human Relations Conference for the 1959-60 academic year.

The Conference is set up by interested student representatives from University of Illinois housing, social, and religious groups to promote greater understanding in fields of human relations. The Sixth Annual Conference dealt with "America's Responsibility to the World Community." In past years some of our distinguished speakers have been Dr. Ralph Bunche, Senator Paul Douglas, G. Bromley Oxnam, Roy Wilkins and Thurgood Marshall.

This year the Committee will sponsor a series of programs throughout the school term featuring top national speakers and, for workshop sessions, outstanding University faculty. Our programs are flexible as regards speaking dates and topics, which should center on human relations problems from sociological, political or philosophical stands. We would like to know whether you are available to participate as a keynote speaker at the Conference. We are quite aware of your busy schedule and are willing to select the program date to suit your convenience. May we please hear from you at the earliest possible date so that we may set up a definite schedule.

Thank you for your consideration.

Respectfully,

Verne Moberg

Verne Moberg
Chairman

VM/jb

Univ. of Minnesota
Eng Ser

July 31, 1959

Dear John:

Many thanks for your cordial note of July 11th. This is merely a note to tell you that I have most regretfully had to decline President Morrill's kind invitation to do the Gideon Seymour Memorial Lecture.

Present plans call for me to be out of the country for most of the coming year, during which time I will try to learn rather than talk.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. John Cowles
The Star and Tribune
Minneapolis, Minnesota

JOHN COWLES
THE STAR AND TRIBUNE
MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

July 11, 1959

Dear Ed:

President Morrill of the University of Minnesota has sent me a carbon of his letter of July 10 inviting you to give the address in the Gideon Seymour Memorial Lecture series at the University during this coming academic year. I simply want to add my personal invitation to his and say that I hope very much that you will be able to do it.

If you can come out here, I think you will be speaking to a large and influential audience. While the subject of your address would be entirely up to you, I would hope that you would discuss the problems and responsibilities of all the mass communication agencies, and the imperative importance of wider public information and awareness in regard to the critical national and international problems confronting us.

If you can come, and if you select a date when I can be in Minneapolis, I would be happy to have you stay at our house with me, and if you speak on a Sunday afternoon (which experience has convinced us is the preferred day and time), I would like to have a small cocktail party for you at my house following the lecture. I, of course, do not know what your travel plans or other commitments may be. If you were free then, I would think either Sunday, November 8 or 15 or 22 or 29 would probably prove an excellent date.

With warm regards, I am

Sincerely,

John

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Un. of Texas

August 12, 1959

Professor T. Russell Woolley
Department of Speech
The University of Texas
Austin 12, Texas

Dear Professor Woolley:

Your delightful letter of August 6 arrived here yesterday, and I am truly sorry to tell you that it arrived too late for Mr. Murrow himself to see it. He is in the throes of last-minute preparations before he leaves for Europe at the end of next week and I do not expect to see him in the office again before he leaves.

From the above, you will know that there will not be time for him to accept any engagements, however attractive, before his departure. As his arrangements stand at the moment, he does not expect to return to this country until July, 1960, when he will at once be involved in the various political conventions.

Thank you so much for asking Mr. Murrow to speak in the Great Issues Series.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS

AUSTIN 12, TEXAS

DEPARTMENT OF SPEECH

August 6, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

A committee selected me to persuade you to speak in the Great Issues Series at The University of Texas sometime this year, perhaps before you leave for Europe. They trusted their cause to a puny penman, but this is my purpose--to help them succeed if I can. My argument that the $500.00 honorarium wouldn't alter any plans you had already made, was understood by them. They realized that you planned to take a slow crossing in late summer and place Casey in school in Switzerland (Look, August 18, 1959, p. 22.). They know that you are thinking not of work this coming year, but of travel and of taking time for reflection. They believed, when I suggested the reality, that you have many requests of this nature and surely could not fulfill them all if you tried. They agree that it is presumptuous of me having slight acquaintance with you to use that fact to urge you to come, altho they did realize I had been specially interested in your work and had written about your scripts, and so they were willing to try anything that chance association being the best they had. In short, my reluctance to serve them was a mirroring of some imagined obstacles you might see.

All that we here at The University of Texas can offer is a token in money and then, of course, a live audience from a student body of about 18,000 young people. You would come before them as one in a parade of distinguished educators, labor leaders, scientists and politicians. You would be a most welcome intellect who could challenge them on one of a number of current questions not necessarily related to broadcasting, but conceivably on such a topic as you had last fall for the N. A. R. T. B.

I hope you'll consider this request, and there being any hope of an agreement let us correspond further on the matter. We are in dead earnest about wanting to hear you.

Congratulations on your decision to take time out from broadcasting. May you have every wish for the year fulfilled and return to the air refreshed for further effort.

Sincerely yours,

T. Russell Woolley

T. Russell Woolley
Assistant Professor

TRW:rh

Un. of Wisconsin

THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN
MADISON 6

SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM

15 October 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Perhaps you have already heard from the Wisconsin Student Association regarding their wish to have you appear in a symposium of talks on "The World and Our Generation." I believe they have in mind for you the date of Monday, February 15, 1960. The specific topic for you would be, "The Management of the Press and the Manipulation of the Individual."

I hope very much that you can make it and I believe that you would enjoy the assignment. The University's Student Association each year gets up a first-rate series of lectures which this year requires your help.

Sincerely yours,

Ralph O. Nafziger

Ralph O. Nafziger
Director

ron/bgs

October 8, 1959

Dear Miss Lee:

This is in response to Miss Olsen's kind letter of October 1st which was received at this office after Mr. Murrow had departed for Europe to begin a year's leave of absence.

I regret that since he will be out of the country for most of the next eight months, it will not be possible for him to participate in the University of Wisconsin Student Symposium in February.

Sincerely yours,

Secretary

Miss Ann Lee, Chairman
University of Wisconsin Symposium
307 Memorial Union
Madison 6, Wisconsin

cc: C.A. Elvehjem

THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN
MADISON 6, WISCONSIN

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

October 1, 1959

Dear Mr. Murrow,

I wish to call to your attention the enclosed letter, inviting your participation in a new and important venture of our students.

We hope that this program, originated, supported, and carried out by our Student Government, will be a most worthwhile program for the entire University. It has the support of this administration and I want to add my personal wish that you give the invitation your consideration.

Sincerely yours,

C. A. Elvehjem

C. A. Elvehjem

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS, 485 Madison Ave.
New York 17, New York

WISCONSIN STUDENT ASSOCIATION
307 MEMORIAL UNION
MADISON 6 - WISCONSIN

October 1, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 17, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Representatives of the Wisconsin Student Association of the University of Wisconsin are currently planning a symposium dealing with critical issues to be faced in the coming decade by the current college generation. The primary objective of this program is to create greater student awareness concerning issues of national and international importance. Our further aim is to arouse community and state interest in the problems discussed.

The management of the press and its effect on the individual, as well as public opinion, is one of the most important of these problems. We thus feel that the role of the press in the formation of public opinion should be discussed by those men most active and qualified in the field of journalism. That is why, Mr. Murrow, we would greatly appreciate your participation in the University of Wisconsin Student Symposium.

Besides communications, the Symposium is being organized to emphasize these key areas: foreign relations, education, religion, science, labor-management, and American values. The Symposium is to take place on this campus during the week of February 13th through 17th. We wish you to serve as a major speaker on Monday afternoon, February 15, 1960. We certainly hope that you would be willing to appear on a panel with several other journalists, for we feel that such a panel is fundamental to the fulfillment of our objectives.

We sincerely hope that you will find it possible to participate in a project which we feel to be a highly significant one on the University of Wisconsin campus. We have been able to acquire some monetary support for this program and are therefore prepared to offer a reasonable honorarium plus any expenses incurred.

If you find it possible to fit this program into your busy schedule, please inform us at your earliest convenience, supplying us with necessary information regarding estimated expenses. We should also like to have you propose a title for your presentation. Further details will be discussed in future correspondence.

We sincerely hope that you will give this your careful consideration and that you find it possible to join us next February.

Yours very truly,

Ann Olsen

ANN OLSEN
President
WISCONSIN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

Please address correspondence to:
Ann Lee, Chairman
University of Wisconsin Symposium
307 Memorial Union
Madison 6, Wisconsin

AO/pk

Vance Agency

December 30, 1959

Dear Miss Wolf:

Thank you for your letter of December 22nd which was received here in Mr. Murrow's absence. Mr. Murrow is on a year's sabbatical and will not be returning to the States for several months.

I regret to have to tell you that Mr. Murrow has made it a firm policy not to participate in any type of advertising, and as you can understand, he cannot make exceptions to this rule. Thank you for asking him.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Miss Helen Wolf, Casting Director
Vance Agency
131 So. Wabash Avenue
Chicago 3, Illinois

Talent for Television, Motion Pictures, Recordings & Modeling

VANCE MODEL AND TALENT AGENCY

ED HARRELL, DIRECTOR

131 SO. WABASH AVENUE
CHICAGO 3, ILLINOIS
PHONE FINANCIAL 6-5430

December 22, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Morrow
Columbia Broadcasting Company
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Morrow:

A Chicago film studio has requested us to contact you in regard to doing a recording for them. The recording is for an insurance company. The record would be sent to various agents in the field and used instead of a letter. The recording time would run from 2 to 3 hours. They wish to cut this recording either the week of January 4th or the week of January 11th.

What would your rate be if this recording is cut in New York? If cut in Chicago? Transportation included of course. Your name would be used.

Your reply as soon as possible will be appreciated.

Sincerely,

Helen Wolf

HELEN WOLF
Casting Director

HW:aa

RECEIVED
1959 OCT -1 PM 4:33
C B S TELETYPE ROOM N.Y.

Wald, Jerry

WU012 DL PD

WUX NEWYORK NY OCT 1 NFT

ED MURROW CBS

WE ARE HAPPY TO INVITE YOU TO A COCKTAIL PARTY IN HONOR OF JERRY WALD AND A PREVIEW OF SCENES FROM HIS LATEST 20TH CENTURY-FOX PRODUCTIONS

"BELOVED INFIDEL" STARRING GREGORY PECK, DEBORAH KERR AND "STORY ONE PAGE ONE" STARRING RITA HAYWORTH AND ANTHONY FRANCIOSA. THE EVENT WILL TAKE PLACE ON OCTOBER 7TH AT 530 PM AT THE 20TH CENTURY-FOX LITTLE THEATRE 444 WEST 56 ST WE HOPE YOU CAN ATTEND AND WOULD APPRECIATE A CALL TO MISS DORIS LAVELLE CO 5-3320 EXT 166 FOR RESERVATIONS REGARDS

MARTIN MICHEL

323P

7 530 20 444 56 5-3320 166 ALSO 20..

Washington Bankers Assoc

October 14, 1959

Dear Mr. Smock:

This is in response to Mr. Dietzen's kind letter of October 7th which was received here after Mr. Murrow had departed for Europe to begin his year's leave of absence.

I regret that since it is quite likely that Mr. Murrow will still be out of the country next June, it will not be possible for him to address the members of the Washington Bankers Association at their annual banquet. Thank you for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Robert B. Smock
Assistant Vice President
Peoples National Bank of Washington
Seattle, Washington

WASHINGTON BANKERS ASSOCIATION

OFFICERS AND MEMBERS
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

PRESIDENT—J. H. DIETZEN, YAKIMA
VICE PRESIDENT, NATIONAL BANK OF WASHINGTON

VICE PRESIDENT—C. E. JENKS, SEATTLE
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK OF WASHINGTON

TREASURER—A. E. SAUNDERS, TACOMA
EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT, PUGET SOUND NATIONAL BANK

IMMEDIATE PAST PRESIDENT—M. F. HASTINGS, FERNDALE
PRESIDENT, FIRST NATIONAL BANK

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY—C. R. LEE, SEATTLE
711 SECOND AVENUE

GENERAL COUNSEL—HOWE, DAVIS, RIESE & JONES
977 DEXTER HORTON BUILDING, SEATTLE

1959-1960

711 SECOND AVENUE

SEATTLE 4, WASHINGTON

MEMBERS
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

B. C. GRANGAARD, SEATTLE
VICE PRESIDENT, SEATTLE-FIRST NATIONAL BANK

DONALD L. KIRKBRIDE, SPOKANE
VICE PRESIDENT, WASHINGTON TRUST BANK

JACK K. McPHERSON, WILBUR
PRESIDENT, STATE BANK OF WILBUR

R. M. MILLS, SEATTLE
VICE PRESIDENT, NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE

CHARLES F. BAKER, WALLA WALLA
VICE PRESIDENT, BAKER-BOYER NATIONAL BANK

LOUIS H. GOLLER, WINSLOW
PRESIDENT, BAINBRIDGE ISLAND BANK

October 7, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
c/o C.B.S. Network
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

As President of the Washington Bankers Association, it is a pleasure to extend to you an invitation to be the principal speaker at the annual banquet of our state convention in Spokane, Tuesday, June 21, 1960.

Robert B. Smock, Assistant Vice President, Peoples National Bank of Washington, Seattle, is Chairman of the Speakers Committee and will work with you on the details as to subject, time, date, publicity, etc. We fully appreciate the distance you will travel and would welcome a frank expression on your part of any financial consideration necessary to complete the trip. Will you be kind enough to forward your reply to Mr. Smock?

You will be interested to know that this will be the 64th annual convention of this group which customarily draws over 400 delegates and wives. Attending will be representatives from all the Washington banks, our banking friends from neighboring states and bankers from the major financial centers of the country.

We hope the attraction of a "homecoming event" for one of the most outstanding journalists in America will be a temptation hard to resist.

Permit me to express in advance the appreciation of the Washington Bankers Association for your favorable consideration of this invitation.

Sincerely,

J. H. Dietzen
President

JHD vg

Henry Watterson National Shrine

September 23, 1959

Dear Mrs. Bush:

Thank you for your gracious letter which has just been received at this office.

Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and sailed for Europe several weeks ago. He is not expected to return to the States for some time and so unfortunately will not be able to participate in the advisory committee of the Henry Watterson National Shrine.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mrs. Alexander Bush, Secretary
Henry Watterson National Shrine, Inc.
Mansfield Park
P.O. Box 7
Jeffersontown, Kentucky

HENRY WATTERSON NATIONAL SHRINE, Inc.

MANSFIELD PARK
P. O. BOX 7
JEFFERSONTOWN, KENTUCKY

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

•

MRS. ALEXANDER BUSH
Louisville, Kentucky

COLONEL GEORGE M. CHINN
Harrodsburg, Kentucky

MRS. JANE HOWELL FLEMING
Louisville, Kentucky

JUDGE ARTHUR T. ILER
Central City, Kentucky

DR. NIEL PLUMMER University of Kentucky

DR. ORBA TRAYLOR
Frankfort, Kentucky

DR. JOSEPH FRAZIER WALL
Grinnell College, Iowa

PUBLIC RELATIONS
by:
JA-CARE, INC.
P. O. Box 7
Jeffersontown, Ky.
Cable JACARE
Home Office, Louisville, Ky.

September 8, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Pawling, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

As you have probably noted in recent articles, a non-profit foundation has been formed to operate a national shrine at the Henry Watterson estate. In addition to perpetuating the name of America's most famous editor, it will be a shrine to journalism.

The first floor of the 28 room house will be devoted to Watterson's works and to art treasures given him by the crowned heads of Europe and other great men of his day. The other two floors will contain, among other things, an authentic restoration of a printing shop of a century ago. They will also house many works of art already offered by various foreign press clubs. This will also be the home of Jounralism's Hall of Fame.

This movement has the active support of the Press Associations of all the States. At a recent meeting in Georgia these associations joined in whole hearted support of the shrine and named a committee to find ways and means of helping to make it a success.

Among the members of the advisory committee are Arthur Krock, who worked under Watterson as a youth; John S. Knight, publisher; Dr. Sara Blanding, President of Vassar College; Ed Schergens, President of the National Editorial Association; Mrs. Joseph Farrington, publisher of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin; Ralph McGill, Atlanta Constitution; Fulton Lewis, Jr.; John T. Day, News Director of C. B.S.; William B. Arthur, Editor of LOOK; Senators Thruston Morton and John Sherman Cooper; Jonathan Daniels of the News and Observer; Harry Golden, Carolina Israelite; John H. Hoagland, Christian Science Monitor; Palmer Hoyt, Denver Post; Admiral Gene Markey; A. B. Guthrie; Admiral William Marshall; Lee Miller, President American Bankers Association; Ambassador Carlos Romulo; and many, many others.

We would like very much for you to become a member of this advisory committee. Your only obligation would be your moral support and your constructive criticism.

May we hear from you at your earliest convenience?

Sincerely,

Elizabeth Bush

Mrs. Alexander Bush, Secretary

EB:j

West Point Forum

October 16, 1959

Dear Mr. Schatzman:

Your kind letter of October 10th was received at this office after Mr. Murrow had departed for Europe to begin a year's leave of absence.

I regret that since he will be out of the country for most of the next ten months, it will not be possible for him to participate in the Forum Speaker Program in April. Thank you for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Thomas F. Schatzman Jr.
Company A-1
Cadet-in-Charge
Forum Speaker Program
Debate Council and Forum
United States Military Academy
West Point, New York

DEBATE COUNCIL AND FORUM
UNITED STATES MILITARY ACADEMY
WEST POINT, NEW YORK

October 10, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow,

During the academic year 1959-60 the West Point Forum will present a series of Sunday evening lectures for the benefit of the Corps of Cadets, Staff, Faculty, and Post Personnel.

I would like to extend to you an invitation to address this group as part of our program. Would 10 April 1960 be convenient, or if this date is not acceptable 3 April 1960? The choice of topic would be left entirely to your discretion as we know that a speaker of your caliber could not fail to enhance the intellectual curiosity of the Corps of Cadets. Your address would be scheduled for 6:45 p.m., and as a possible aid I would like to recommend that a 40 minute presentation followed by a 20 minute question period would be most effective.

Travel expenses of 7 cents a mile and 15 dollars a day plus transportation to and from New York City are all we are able to furnish as the Forum is a student organization.

Many Cadets are well acquainted with your programs and would welcome a chance to hear you in person. I Sincerely hope that your schedule will enable you to address us. If I may be of assistance in answering any questions you may have about our program, please do not hesitate to let me know.

Very truly yours,

Thomas F. Schatzman Jr.

Thomas F. Schatzman Jr.
Company A-1
Cadet-in-Charge
Forum Speaker Program

Eleventh Student Conference on United States Affairs, December 2–5, 1959

Fourteenth Annual National Debate Tournament, April 20–23, 1960

Westinghouse Broadcasting

August 12, 1959

Mr. Chet Collier
Westinghouse Broadcasting Company Inc.
Chanin Building
122 East 42nd Street
New York 17, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Collier:

Although you will have heard from David Aldrich that Mr. Murrow cannot participate, even on videotape, in the Conference on Public Service Programming, I just wanted to acknowledge your letter to him of August 7 and to repeat his regrets that he is unable to take part. Unfortunately this last week before he goes abroad is crammed with last-minute commitments at CBS as well as personal arrangements of one kind and another.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

Westinghouse Broadcasting Company, Inc.

Chanin Building • 122 East 42nd Street • New York 17, N. Y. • MUrray Hill 7-0808

August 7, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS-TV
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I am writing to you at the suggestion of Vincent Sheean, Westinghouse Broadcasting Company's Far Eastern correspondent. He suggested I write you about this before he left for Asia. My request is, I believe, a simple one and yet one that could bring about a great deal of good in the broadcast media. Dave Aldrich of our staff has talked with your secretary about this.

This year, the Westinghouse Broadcasting Company is holding its third annual Conference on Public Service Programming at Stanford University in Palo Alto, California. Attending this Conference will be four hundred of the nation's leading broadcasters. Network and local stations from all fifty States will be represented. In addition, leading members of the press will be in attendance.

This Conference will be three days of seminar sessions in which different areas of public service programming will be discussed such as news, education, editorialization, religious programming, children's programming, cultural programming, etc. In these seminar sessions, the broadcasters discuss and try to work out new and better approaches to these all-important programming matters.

The last session of the Conference is one on editorialization. At this session we will have presented examples of how different stations throughout the country do editorials. The purpose of the session is to encourage more stations to editorialize in a bolder fashion. I know that you are in sympathy with this sort of thing. For the final wrap-up of the editorial session, which is also the wrap-up of the three day Conference, I would like to present you on videotape to those in attendance. I would like very much to have you exhort the broadcasters to editorialize in a courageous fashion, to remind them that there has been a necessity through all time for men to speak out, and today, more than ever, men must do this. This should be emotional and inspirational in nature, and I can think of no better qualified person than yourself.

I know that your schedule, because of your impending trip to Europe, is very heavy. But I believe that we could do this in one half-hour on videotape in a New York studio. But more important, I know that if you were to contribute your views on the necessity for editorializing to the four hundred broadcasters assembled, that the effect could be a most important one upon the broadcasting industry. We need someone of your stature to give inspiration to people who are for the most part hesitant to step out into this most important area of broadcasting.

Our staff will be at your disposal in order to make this as simple as possible for you. I most anxiously await an affirmative reply from you.

Sincerely,

Chet Collier

Chet Collier
Executive Producer

Wiltwyck School for Boys

ed

THE WILTWYCK SCHOOL for BOYS, inc.

107 WEST 43rd STREET
NEW YORK 36, N. Y.
● JU 2·0636·0637

September 23, 1959

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Murrow
580 Park Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Murrow:

Mrs. Marshall Field is joining me as Co-Chairman of an art show called "Exhibition 1959" at the E. and A. Silberman Galleries which will have its Gala Preview on Monday evening, November 2, for the benefit of the Wiltwyck School for Boys. I know you will agree with me that the School is a most worthy cause and a vitally necessary community resource.

The Exhibition will consist of important examples of modern masters, such as Picasso, Matisse, Leger, Gris, Redon, Degas, Monet and others. It will be opened to the public on November 3rd and close on November 21st.

I am writing to ask whether we may have the pleasure of including you among our Patrons. Others will be Mr. and Mrs. David Rockefeller, Mrs. Albert D. Lasker, Mr. Theodore Rousseau, Miss Katherine Cornell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Hickox, etc.

Since the material for the catalogue must go to the printer within the next few days, and since we must have your consent in order to list your name as a Patron, an early reply will be deeply appreciated.

All proceeds derived from the Exhibition will go directly to Wiltwyck School, including the funds obtained from the sale of the illustrated catalogues.

I look forward to your response.

Sincerely yours,

Eleanor Roosevelt

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt

P.S. Tickets to the Preview will be printed shortly, and it will be our pleasure to send you a pair of complimentary tickets.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

PRESIDENT:
JUDGE SYLVIA JAFFIN LIESE

VICE PRESIDENT:
JUDGE JANE M. BOLIN

SECRETARY:
SHELDON OLIENSIS

TREASURER:
DANIEL S. GILLMOR

MRS. KENNETH BEIRN
DR. VIOLA W. BERNARD
HARRY BRANDT
MRS. JOSHUA BINION CAHN
JOSHUA BINION CAHN
GEORGE E. COHRON
JUDGE HUBERT T. DELANY
MRS. GEORGE R. DOCKERY
DR. LOUIS J. GILBERT
MISS ESTHER M. HILTON
GEORGE M. JAFFIN
ALLEN T. KLOTS
MRS. JOSEPH P. LASH
MRS. ALFRED M. LINDAU
MYER D. MERMIN
MRS. LAWRENCE A. MEYERS
JUDGE JUSTINE WISE POLIER
MRS. ROBERT H. PREISKEL
MRS. MORDECAI ROCHLIN
MRS. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT
ALEXANDER E. SALZMAN
CARL M. SPERO
MRS. JULIA GREEN STURGES
JUDGE PHILLIP B. THURSTON
MRS. LOUIS S. WEISS
MRS. CHARLOTTE WINSOR
JAMES M. WOLF

ADVISORY BOARD

REV. SHELTON HALE BISHOP
MRS. CHARLES H. DURHAM
MRS. MARSHALL FIELD
BISHOP CHARLES K. GILBERT
HON. STANLEY M. ISAACS
MORRIS IUSHEVITZ
JOHN H. JOHNSON, DD
CATHERINE D. LEALTAD, MD
AUSTIN MacCORMICK
O. CLAY MAXWELL, DD
BENJAMIN C. ROBESON, DD
ROBERT W. SEARLE, DD
CHANNING H. TOBIAS, DD
ALFRED GWYNNE VANDERBILT

ADMINISTRATION OFFICE:
271 West 125th Street, New York City 27

SCHOOL LOCATION:
Esopus, New York

Youngstein, Max E

October 22, 1959

Dear Mr. Nizer:

Thank you for your letter of October 15th inviting Mr. Murrow to be a member of the honorary committee for the evening in support of Health for Peace which will honor Max E. Youngstein at the Hotel Biltmore on December 14, 1959.

As you probably know Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence, and since he expects to be out of the country for the next ten months, I regret that it will not be possible for him to accept. Thank you for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Louis Nizer
1501 Broadway
New York 36, New York

Dear Mr. Nizer:

I shall be happy to serve and have you use my name as a member of the honorary committee for this notable evening in support of Health for Peace which will honor MAX E. YOUNGSTEIN at the Hotel Biltmore in New York City on December 14, 1959.

(signature) _____

(address) _____

_____

MEMBERS OF THE FIRM

LOUIS NIZER
LOUIS PHILLIPS
ROBERT S. BENJAMIN
ARTHUR B. KRIM
CHARLES BALLON
WALTER S. BECK
SEYMOUR M. PEYSER
JEROME EDWARDS
LEON ALEXANDROFF
EUGENE M. KLINE
PAUL MARTINSON GERALD MEYER
SEWARD I. BENJAMIN
MORTIMER B. WOLF
SIMON ROSE
JEROME P. PHILLIPS
SEYMOUR SHAINSWIT
JEROME J. WALLNER
JACOB M. USADI
GERALD F. PHILLIPS

PHILLIPS, NIZER, BENJAMIN, KRIM & BALLON
1501 BROADWAY
NEW YORK 36, N. Y.
ATTORNEYS

TELEPHONE
WISCONSIN 7-7600

CABLE ADDRESS
PHILLNIZER

ASSOCIATES

FRANK P. GREENBERG
BERNARD ROTHMAN
JULIUS S. CHASE
HERBERT T. SCHOTTENFELD
SIDNEY SHEMEL
JON M. KAUFMAN
HERBERT N. BOBROW
PAUL SAWYER
HAROLD FRIEDMAN
BARBARA G. HERING
ALBERT F. SMITH
MERTON L. ALEXANDER
HAZEL B. MACK
RAOUL H. GERSTEN
NEIL A. POLLIO
MARVIN H. KUCKER
JOHN A. KILLORAN, JR.

October 15, 1959

My dear Ed:

I cordially invite you to join a committee of selected executives under whose auspices a distinguished evening will take place on December 14th, 1959 at the Hotel Biltmore in New York City.

Though I have made it a rule not to act as chairman of public events of this character, I have made this occasion an exception because of its unusual purpose.

This dinner will present distinguished scientists and public figures of national and international preeminence who will bespeak the importance of a concentrated program to fight the leading diseases of our day. It will also give support to the Health for Peace legislation now before the Congress which would set up an international fund for scientific progress against disease.

This event will do honor to MAX E. YOUNGSTEIN, a founder of the Children's Asthma Research Institute, who has provided vital leadership in that pioneer scientific area.

We have already been assured of the presence at the dinner and the cooperation of notable scientists and other distinguished figures in American life.

Please sign the enclosed card of acceptance as a member of this honorary committee. I am sure you will derive great satisfaction from having your name attached to so noble a cause.

Sincerely yours,

Louis Nizer

Louis Nizer

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting Co.
485 Madison Ave.
New York, New York

In honour of the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs of the FPR of Yugoslavia
H. E. Koča Popović

The Permanent Representative of the Federal Peoples Republic of Yugoslavia to the United Nations and Madame Dobrivoje Vidić

request the pleasure of the company of

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. R. Murrow

at Reception

on Monday, 28 September 1959

at 6,30 o'clock

854 Fifth Avenue

R. S. V. P.

TR 9-8700

On the occasion of the Day of the Republic

Yugoslavia Republic of

The Permanent Representative of the Federal Peoples Republic of Yugoslavia to the United Nations and Madame Dobrivoje Vidić request the pleasure of the company of

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. R. Murrow

at Reception

on Monday, 30 November

at 6-8 o'clock

R. S. V. P.
TR 9-8700

854 Fifth Avenue

Adult Ed. Council of Greater Denver

July 11, 1960

Rabbi Manuel Laderman
Adult Education Council of Denver
Denver Public Library
Denver 3, Colorado

Dear Rabbi Laderman:

Thank you for your and Mrs. Harrington's letter of June 28 to Mr. Murrow which unfortunately arrived after his departure for the West Coast to cover the Democratic Convention and has been forwarded to me here.

I very much regret that Mr. Murrow has had to establish a blanket ruling against accepting speaking engagements, however attractive they may be, due to the pressure and uncertainty of his commitments at CBS. Thank you so much for asking him to make a speech at your luncheon on October 17 and it is a matter of great regret that he cannot join you.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

ADULT EDUCATION COUNCIL OF DENVER

DENVER PUBLIC LIBRARY • DENVER 3, COLORADO

AMherst 6-0851, Ext. 260

June 28, 1960

Requests

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Rumblewood
Quaker Hill
Pauling, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

This letter comes with the hope that you may be considering a visit to Denver in the near future, for according to Connie White, you are long overdue!

The Adult Education Council here in Denver will be playing host in October to the annual conference of the National Association of Public School Adult Educators and the Adult Education Association of the U.S.A. Our local organization will close the convention with a luncheon on October 17 at the new Denver Hilton. We estimate an audience of approximately 750. We shall use this occasion to present an "Outstanding Citizen" award to Dr. Malcolm G. Wyer, Librarian Emeritus of the Denver Public Library, who founded the Adult Education Council here thirty years ago. We would feel most honored to have you as our guest speaker at this luncheon.

We are enclosing a recent brochure explaining the purpose and services of our local council which is made up of educational groups and volunteer organizations. As such we operate on a non-profit basis. It is therefore impossible for us to offer an appropriate fee. We can, however, cover all traveling expenses you might incur.

Because we feel your presence would add greatly to the importance and significance of the entire conference, we hope you will find this a pleasureable reason for a visit to Denver. May we hear from you at your earliest convenience?

Sincerely,

Manuel Laderman

Rabbi Manuel Laderman, President

Mrs. Martin J. Harrington

Mrs. Martin J. Harrington, Chairman
Public Relations

RML:MJH:mp
Enclosures

African Research Fndt
~~Mary Reisner~~
Eng dec

October 10, 1960

Dear Miss Reisner:

Many thanks for your recent invitation to hear Dr. Rees's remarks regarding East Africa on October 11th. Regretfully, I won't be able to come, but I will pass this information along.

Sincerely yours,

Miss Mary Reisner, Adm. Asst.
African Research Foundation, Inc.
1050 Park Avenue
New York 28, New York

ERM:gw

AFRICAN RESEARCH FOUNDATION, INC.
1050 PARK AVENUE
NEW YORK 28, NEW YORK

TELEPHONE TRAFALGAR 6-8125

Oct. 3, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS News
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

As I am aware from my years spent with the CBS News Washington Bureau, these weeks are offering more news from 47th and 1st Streets, and Park Avenue, than an incredulous public can digest, much less reminding us that an election is imminent, that Wall Street is in trouble, or that disaster approaches in Laos, -- all the tasks of the reporter on the world scene.

However, if I could divert your attention for just a moment, I'd like to expand on the attached notice of a news conference to be given by our president Dr. Thomas D. Rees. He has just returned from a five-week visit to East Africa, where he worked with our Foundation projects, and went into the 'bush' with Dr. Michael Wood for a tour of the outlying dispensaries. In addition, Dr. Rees has had interviews and meetings with most of the outstanding political figures in East Africa.

We know you'd enjoy hearing Dr. Rees's remarks, -- however, if you don't have the time on October 11th, perhaps you could pass this information along to someone on your staff whom you think might be interested.

Sincerely,

Mary Reisner

Mary Reisner
Adm. Asst.

Enc. mr

P.S. Could you notify this office if you can come,
M. R

FROM: The African Research Foundation
1050 Park Avenue
New York 28, New York
TRafalgar 6-8125

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

U.S. SURGEON TO DISCUSS

EAST AFRICAN SCENE

Dr. Thomas D. Rees, President of the African Research Foundation, will return to New York after a five- week stay in East Africa. During that time, Dr. Rees surveyed the Foundation projects and visited many "bush" hospitals in the company of Dr. Michael Wood, the Foundation Director and resident of Kenya for the past thirteen years. He reports that the Nairobi cancer chemotherapy project, which has been renewed for a two-year period, is definitely demonstrating valuable results.

Dr. Rees also had an opportunity to observe the political scene in East Africa, augmented by personal interviews with Julius K. Nyerere and other important African leaders. He reports that Tom Mboya's opposition, the KADU party, seems to be gaining strength through a coalition of many tribes.

Dr. Rees will meet members of the press at the Foundation office, 1050 Park Avenue, at 5 p.m., Tuesday, October 11.

#

August, 1960

FACT SHEET

AFRICAN RESEARCH FOUNDATION

A non-profit tax-exempt organization, incorporated under the Laws of New York State, May, 1957

BASIC PURPOSE: The African Research Foundation hopes to help meet the 'unmet needs' in medicine -- including care, research and education, -- of the people of the continent of Africa.

The Foundation's interests are both scientific and humanitarian for the benefit of all races. Through its activities, it hopes specifically to provide modern scientific, medical and technical facilities in Africa and to advance the sum total of scientific knowledge and medical research generally.

CURRENT AFRICAN PROJECTS: 1) The ARF cooperates with Sloan Kettering Institute for Cancer Research in a chemotherapy program.

2) The ARF is building a new Research Center on the site of the Aga Khan Hospital in Nairobi, containing approximately 100 beds, laboratory facilities, and a cobalt therapy unit.

3) The ARF has sent Dr. Ralph Bowen from the Mayo Clinic as the first in a proposed series of visiting specialists to East Africa. The visiting specialists will be aided by a Mobile Clinic containing laboratory equipment and emergency operating facilities, plus its own generator, and a twin-engine airplane to transport patients and doctors.

4) Dr. Bowen, along with Dr. A. Michael Wood, the Executive Director in East Africa, have begun a reconstructive surgery clinic and service based from Nairobi, but available to all of East Africa.

5) Plans are underway to begin an extensive public health survey to be followed up by a public health education program in East Africa, possibly in conjunction with a similar project in West Africa.

6) The ARF constantly works toward the exchange of students, graduates, research workers, and specialists, between Africa and the West.

FINANCIAL STATUS: The African Research Foundation currently has about $600,000 available for construction, $250,000 for research, and other funds (property), about $100,000.

(more)

OFFICERS

Honorary Chairman:	His Highness the Aga Khan
President:	Dr. Thomas D. Rees
Executive Director:	James L. Monroe
Vice President:	Leo-Arthur Kelmenson
Asst. Executive Director:	William N. Collison
Secretary-Treasurer:	Ronald J. Moss
Asst. Sec. Treasurer:	Phyllis Sheridan

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Jacqueline Cochran
Dr. Leon Dostert
Brig. General Don Flickinger
William N. Collison
Leo-Arthur Kelmenson
Thomas G. Lanphier, Jr.
Dr. Randolph Lovelace, II
Dr. Brandon Macomber
Dr. Frederick Patterson
Rev. James Robinson
Dr. Emory Ross
Malin Sorsbie
Harvey Picker
Francis Drake
His Highness the Aga Khan
Richard Colhoun
Anthony D. Marshall
Eugene W. Kettering
Sir Miles Clifford
Arthur Godfrey
Peter Buttenweiser

CONSULTANTS TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Dr. Herbert Conway
Dr. Daniel J. Feldman
Sir Harold Gillies
Dr. James Harries
Dr. Wendell L. Hughes
Dr. B.H. Kean
Dr. Ross A. McFarland
Edward R. Murrow
Dr. Mungai Njoroge
Dr. Don M. Rees
Dr. Samuel Rosen
Dr. A.T.G.Thomas
T.F. Walkowicz
Dr. Paul Dudley White
Sir William Wiseman
Dr. Jane C. Wright
Dr. Frank Gerbode
Dr. Howard Rusk
Dr. Ralph Soto-Hall
Dr. John Converse
Dr. Robert Sullivan

AFRICAN RESEARCH FOUNDATION, U.K.

Sir Miles Clifford, Chairman
Ronald J. Moss
Dr. Christopher Wood
Ambrose Appelbe
Baroness Ravensdale
Dr. Thomas D. Rees

AFRICAN RESEARCH FOUNDATION, E. AFRICA

Dr. A. Michael Wood, Exec. Dir.
Lord Twining, Chairman Jack Block
Malin Sorsbie
Dr. E.C. Grattan
Dr. D.H. Mackay
G.R.A.M. Johnston
Dr. A.H. Guest
Sir Eboo Pirbhai

Allen, George V
ed

January 19, 1961

Dear Spyros:

Very many thanks for your cordial invitation to be your guest at a luncheon in honor of our mutual good friend, George V. Allen on January 25th.

I wish very much that I could join you but unfortunately, I must be in Birmingham on that date to work on one of my programs.

I am sincerely sorry to have to miss so pleasant an occasion. Please extend my regrets also to George Allen.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Spyros Skouras, President
20th Century Fox
444 West 56th Street
New York, New York

ERM:gw

SPYROS P. SKOURAS
PRESIDENT

444 WEST 56TH ST.
NEW YORK

January 12, 1961

Dear Ed:

It gives me great pleasure to invite you to be my guest at a luncheon in honor of our good friend George V. Allen, on Wednesday, January 25th, at the Metropolitan Club, 1 East 60th Street, New York City.

As we all know, during a long and distinguished career, Mr. Allen has rendered great services to our country. During the critical post-war years he served with distinction as our Ambassador in Teheran, Iran; Belgrade, Yugoslavia; New Delhi, India, and later became Under Secretary of State for Near Eastern, South Asian and African Affairs.

From that post he was sent to represent our country as Ambassador in Athens, Greece, during the difficult period of the Cyprus problem. Finally, he was appointed by President Eisenhower Director of the United States Information Agency, where he rendered brilliant services and from where he resigned recently to accept his present post with the Tobacco Institute Inc., of Washington, D. C.

I know that you will want to join with all his friends in paying tribute to Mr. Allen and I look forward to the pleasure of having you with us on January 25th.

With kindest regards,

Sincerely,

Spyros

SPS:lv

Alpha Kappa Psi
Eng file

August 18, 1960

Mr. Robert E. Holmes, Jr.
Alpha Kappa Psi
Seton Hall University
South Orange, New Jersey

Dear Mr. Holmes:

Thank you for your gracious invitation to speak at the Soaring Sixties Convocation on October 10.

Unfortunately, due to the pressure and uncertainty of my CBS commitments, I have had to make a blanket rule against accepting speaking engagements however attractive they may be.

Sincerely yours,

EL

Alpha Kappa Psi

Gamma Pi Chapter

SETON HALL UNIVERSITY
SOUTH ORANGE, N. J.

458 Forest Avenue
Lyndhurst, New Jersey
August 12, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
% C. B. S.
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

You are invited to be a guest speaker at the Soaring Sixties Convocation to be held on Monday evening, October 10th, at Seton Hall University, South Orange, New Jersey. Please accept this as an invitation from Alpha Kappa Psi Fraternity to address the undergraduate student body of Seton Hall.

Alpha Kappa Psi is a national business fraternity, having professional programs and goals. As a part of the professional program of the Gamma Pi Chapter, our members are planning the Soaring Sixties Convocation. Prominent men from various positions of key importance are being invited to present their non-partisan opinions of the developments which will take place in this nation during this next decade. Therefore, as one of the most prominent men in the fields of news analysis and communications, we extend to you a most cordial invitation to be among our guests for the evening.

If you will notify me of your decision regarding our request, I shall send you further specific details. Certainly, your presence would be warmly welcomed.

Very truly yours,

Robert E. Holmes Jr.

Robert E. Holmes Jr.

org dec
Am. Assoc of Univ. Women

July 11, 1960

Mrs. David H.R. Pain
3665 Fenelon
San Diego 6, California

Dear Mrs. Pain:

As Mr. Murrow is in Los Angeles at present, covering the Democratic Convention and will go straight from there to Chicago for the Republican Convention, I am taking the liberty of answering your gracious letter to him of June 27.

Unfortunately, Mr. Murrow has had to establish a blanket ruling against accepting speaking engagements, however attractive they may be, due to the pressure and uncertainty of his commitments at CBS. He seldom knows from week to week what will be required of him here and, this being so, he avoids making other plans in fairness to all concerned.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

American Association of University Women
San Diego Branch
208 WEST JUNIPER STREET X TELEPHONE BEUMONT 4-9718
SAN DIEGO 1, CALIFORNIA

June 27, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
c/o Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The San Diego Branch of the American Association of University Women invites you to participate in our Fabulous Speakers Series to be initiated this Fall, 1960.

The college graduate whether he is living in New York City, Timbuktu, or San Diego must continue to absorb new information and ideas ...or he is not fulfilling his commencement creed.

World leaders, such as yourself, can do more than entertain and inform an educated group. In addition to this you can stimulate to action (whether the action is further reading and research of a problem or writing a postcard to a congressman). Your tremendous integrity, forthrightness of purpose, wealth of experience, and dynamic personality are a few of the basic reasons we consider you qualified for this undertaking.

It has long been the pattern of A.A.U.W. throughout the entire nation to provide speakers who are masters in their particular field of endeavor. This year the San Diego Branch is augmenting its regular monthly programs, which are limited to members and their guests, to include a lecture series of nationally prominent leaders who will be presented to the community of San Diego.

As program chairman of our Branch, I would be thrilled to be able to list your name among the coming attractions of the Fabulous Speakers. If you would consent to take part in the Series, we would accomplish these things: 1. You would enjoy a few hours or days in our charming, warm, bay city; 2. We of A.A.U.W. would be stimulated by your vital presentation of significant information; 3. We of A.A.U.W. would be doing a service to our community to bring to San Diego a lecturer of your caliber; 4. The Association's fellowship and international grant funds for women college graduates (both in the United States and throughout the world) and our Branch building fund would be greatly increased by the proceeds from the profit on the sale of tickets; and 5. We would be able to pay you a respectable lecture (not TV) fee for your services.

It is our honest opinion that your presence would insure the success of the series. The topic is your choice. A resume of world events plus challenging editorial comment would be our hope. Any week-day evening from September 15 through the end of October would be available if you would consider such an engagement. Please evaluate this request and answer as soon as possible by telephone...person-to-person, collect, Mrs. David H. R. Pain, AC 2-4837; or wire, 3665 Fenelon, San Diego 6, California. If you are interested in the opportunity to aid us in our avowed goal of "continuing education" for the "educated," please tell me your choice of date and the fee you would expect.

Please know that your appearance in San Diego this Fall would be the highlight in the lives of thousands of admirers. We are most anxious to provide a memorable experience in your life in our city of the sun, California's first city, "heaven on earth."

Sincerely,

Helen L. Pain

Helen L. Pain (Mrs. David H. R.)
3665 Fenelon
San Diego 6, California
AC 2-4837

Am. Australian Assoc,

April 27, 1960

Dear Mr. Heymanson:

Thank you for your gracious letter of April 22nd inviting Mr. Murrow to attend a luncheon for Viscount Casey to be held in the University Club on May 4th.

I regret very much that Mr. Murrow will not be able to accept, since he is traveling on the West Coast and will not be returning to New York until June.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Randal Heymanson
Executive Vice President
American Australian Association
2 Wall Street
New York 5, New York

AMERICAN AUSTRALIAN ASSOCIATION

2 WALL STREET • NEW YORK 5, N. Y. • BEekman 3-7038

OFFICERS

President
FLOYD G. BLAIR
Harriman, Ripley & Co., Inc.

Vice-Presidents
RANDAL HEYMANSON
Australian Newspaper Service

MYRON M. COWEN
Former U.S. Ambassador to Australia

Secretary-Treasurer
PETER ST. GERMAIN
Morgan, Stanley & Co.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

E. J. BRADLEY
Matson Navigation Co.

SIDNEY G. BUTLER
J. P. Morgan & Co., Inc.

EARL DAUM
General Motors Overseas Operations

ALBERT DEANE
Paramount International Films, Inc.

JAMES A. FARLEY
Coca Cola Export Corp.

S. O. FISHER
International Harvester Export. Co.

S. H. KUHN
California Texas Oil Company

W. J. LAMNECK
Chase Manhattan Bank of N. Y.

ROGER LEWIS
Pan American World Airways System

AMOS J. PEASLEE
Former U.S. Ambassador to Australia

JOSHUA B. POWERS
Joshua B. Powers, Inc.

E. E. ROBBINS
C. Tennant, Sons & Co., of New York

SIDNEY E. SWEET
C. Tennant, Sons & Co., of New York

R. WORTH VAUGHAN
American Smelting & Refining Co.

HARVEY WILLIAMS
Philco International Corp.

RAY WORSSAM
Standard-Vacuum Oil Company

JOHN M. YOUNG
Morgan, Stanley & Co.

April 22, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
c/o Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The Directors of the American Australian Association are giving a very small private luncheon for Viscount Casey, retiring Australian Foreign Minister, in the University Club on Wednesday, May 4, at 12:30 p.m. They would greatly appreciate your company on this occasion.

Yours sincerely,

Randal Heymanson

Randal Heymanson
Executive Vice President

RH:mr

Am. Astronautical Eng Dev Soc.

September 20, 1960

Dear Mr. Roach:

Please pardon the delay in responding to your letter of August 16th which Miss Campbell directed to my attention.

Fred Friendly and I have discussed your proposal at some length and wish very much that it were possible for us to cover the Seventh Annual Meeting of the American Astronautical Society in the way that you suggest. Unfortunately, our commitments for that period are such that we shall not be able to cover the event.

Please accept our sincere apologies.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. James W. Roach
General Chairman
Seventh Annual Meeting of American Astronautical Society
Box 1401
Grand Prairie, Texas

mcc

7th ANNUAL MEETING

AMERICAN ASTRONAUTICAL SOCIETY

DALLAS, TEXAS

JANUARY 16-18, 1961
SHERATON-DALLAS HOTEL

V.C. - sorry - can't come it.

J.J.! I can't see it Van you?

CONCUR 77 430

PLEASE ADDRESS REPLY TO:
Box 1401
Grand Prairie, Texas

16 August 1960

GENERAL CHAIRMAN
J. W. Roach
Vought Astronautics

TECHNICAL SESSIONS
A. I. Sibila
Vought Astronautics

REGISTRATION
John Kroeger
Bell Helicopter

ARRANGEMENTS
Joe Zaza
Texas Instruments

PUBLICITY
Richard Shearin
Vought Astronautics

AWARDS
Maj Gen W. W. Dick, Jr
Army Research

LADIES PROGRAM
Robert Hoch
Minneapolis-Honeywell

PUBLICATIONS
Steve Feldman
Intercontinental Mfg.

EXHIBITION MANAGEMENT
F. G. McGavock Associates
Pasadena, California

Miss Kay Campbell
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Miss Campbell:

During our telephone conversation of 16 August 1960, I was able to only briefly sketch the plans for the American Astronautical Society Meeting to be held in January 1961 at Dallas. It is the Seventh Annual Meeting of the Society and is dedicated to the advancement of the Astronautical Sciences primarily through the media of communications among members of the Astronautics Community and the General Public.

To give you a better background, both of the Society and of the Meeting, certain enclosures are forwarded with this letter. The two magazines give a picture of the Society and its aims while the Request for Papers, General Planning Document, Exhibit Information and Hotel Brochure detail most of our plans for the 7th Annual Meeting.

The goal of our Meeting is an integrated program of technical sessions, major speakers and limited exhibitions all pointed toward defining the plans for and problems of a National Space Program. While the NASA has released a tentative and rather broad program, it is our belief that continuous review and appraisal is necessary to insure a Program of maximum benefit both to our Country and to the World. In keeping with our desire for excellence, the technical sessions are chaired by men nationally recognized in their field. Response to the Request for Papers and the Request for Exhibitions has been excellent.

To round out the program, an equally good program of luncheon, panel and banquet speakers must be realized. Our plan is a progressing series of speakers each of whom build to the panel or forum scheduled for Tuesday, the 17th of January. The luncheon on Monday would feature Dr. James Van Allen of Iowa State with his views on "The Scientific Community's Space Program" while Tuesday's luncheon would feature Maj. Gen. Schreiver expressing the "Military's Program for Space." NASA's program has been published and is the starting point for the forum so Dr. von Braun has not been scheduled for a pre forum address. To finalize the panel, we are considering a member from Industry such as Mr. Allen of Boeing or Mr. Gross of Lockheed. The panel members are being contacted as we are contacting Mr. Murrow for panel moderator.

It is our belief that this program of technical sessions and speakers can be of vital interest both to the scientist-engineer and to the layman. Such a communications opportunity satisfies the objectives of the Society. From the standpoint of CBS and Mr. Murrow, it would appear that this forum is an excellent follow-on to the Series presented by CBS during the past year. Since one of the overriding issues highlighted in the "Missile Gap" and its companion presentation was the lack of a clearly defined space Plan, a forum discussing and amplifying the current NASA Plan seems a logical follow-on piece in the Series. Naturally the forum itself would be inappropriate for direct TV presentation but a properly edited video tape plus color additions in the form of actual launches and recoveries could make a fine special features telecast at a later date.

We offer these plans for your comment and sincerely hope that you will see in the program the excellent opportunities for communications to the Nation that we believe possible.

Sincerely,

James W. Roach

James W. Roach
General Chairman

JWR/pm

Enclosures

EXHIBIT INFORMATION

ANNUAL MEETING

AMERICAN ASTRONAUTICAL SOCIETY

DALLAS, TEXAS

January 16-18, 1961 / Sheraton-Dallas Hotel

THE AMERICAN ASTRONAUTICAL SOCIETY ANNOUNCES

That a limited EXHIBITION, featuring new developments, demonstrations of scientific approaches, and examples of systems concepts, as pertinent to the objectives of the Society, will be held in conjunction with the Annual Meeting.

THE EXHIBITION space is limited to thirty booths, adjacent to the Technical Meeting rooms. Presentation content should be relevant to the theme of the meeting, "New scientific discoveries, theories, and techniques in the field of astronautics."

• ASTRODYNAMICS • COSMOLOGY • BIO-ASTRONAUTICS • LUNAR AND PLANETARY EXPLORATION • SOLAR SYSTEM PHYSICS • GEOPHYSICAL EXPLORATION • SPACE SYSTEMS APPLICATIONS • SPACE COMMUNICATIONS • NAVIGATION AND GUIDANCE

THE SOCIETY — American Astronautical Society, founded in 1953, is a national scientific organization dedicated to the advancement of the astronautical sciences. The aims of the Society are to encourage scientific research in all fields related to astronautics and to propagate knowledge of current advances.

ATTENDANCE is expected to be 800-1000 scientists, engineers, space program managers and educators. They will represent scientific laboratories, government agencies, research centers, industrial research and engineering groups, astronomical observatories, and university research facilities, both domestic and foreign.

BOOTH RENTAL

10' x 10' is $350.00.

Other spaces as shown on plan.

EXHIBITOR'S CALENDAR

JANUARY 15, 1961	9:00 A.M. — Installation of exhibits
JANUARY 16	11:00 A.M. — Press Preview of exhibits.
JANUARY 16	12 NOON to 9:00 P.M. — Exhibits open.
JANUARY 17	10:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. — Exhibits open.
JANUARY 18	10:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. — Exhibits open.
JANUARY 19	12 NOON — Deadline for removal of exhibits.

RESERVATIONS for booth space should be returned promptly. Multiple booth reservations are welcome.

THE COMPLETED APPLICATION and contract for exhibit space form, accompanied by a check or draft in the minimum amount of 50% of the total booth rental, should be returned to F. G. McGAVOCK ASSOCIATES.

SPACE ALLOCATION will be announced on October 15, and preference given in the order that applications are received by the Exhibition Manager.

7th ANNUAL MEETING

AMERICAN ASTRONAUTICAL SOCIETY

DALLAS, TEXAS

JANUARY 16-18, 1961
SHERATON-DALLAS HOTEL

Address all correspondence concerning exhibits to:

F. G. McGAVOCK ASSOCIATES / 3820 EAST COLORADO BOULEVARD / PASADENA, CALIFORNIA

AMERICAN ASTRONAUTICAL SOCIETY

7th ANNUAL MEETING

GENERAL PLANNING DOCUMENT

Encl 1 General Schedule
Encl 2 Preliminary Agenda
Encl 3 Committees and Chairmen
Encl 4 Session Topics and Session Chairmen
Encl 5 Space Assignment and Hotel Layout
Encl 6 Convention Budget-Expenses & Income
Encl 7 Committee Action Check List

Technical Sessions Pages 1 thru 3
General Program Pages 4
Registration Pages 5 thru 7
Ladies Program Page 8- 10
Publicity Page 8 and 9
Publications Pages 11 thru 13
Banquet and Luncheon Page 14
Awards Pages 15 and 16
Arrangements Pages 17 and sub

Encl 1

GENERAL SCHEDULE

7th ANNUAL MEETING

AAS

2 May	Establishment of Sessions Topics, Meeting Theme
3 May	1st Meeting - Annual Meeting Chairmen
15 May	Acceptances of Technical Session Chairmen
7 June	2nd Meeting - Annual Meeting Chairmen
7 July	Call for Papers
1 Aug	Receipt of Paper Abstracts
2 Aug	3rd Meeting - Annual Meeting Chairmen
4 Aug	Call for Exhibitors
4 Aug to 15 Oct	Receipt of Exhibitors Contracts
15 Aug	Advance Publicity to Sections, Av. Week, etc.
15 Aug	First Mailing of General Publicity
1 Sept	Final Meeting Format; Speakers and Alternates Selected
6 Sept	4th Meeting - Annual Meeting Chairmen
1 Oct	All Papers Received for Consideration
1 Oct - 1 Nov	Speakers Secured
1 Nov	Final Decisions of Accepted Papers; Authors Notified
7 Nov	Final Programs, Tickets, Registrations Forms, Preprint Order Forms, Hotel Reservation Forms to Printing
18 Nov	Final Programs Mailed
1 Jan	Preprints of Papers Available
5 Jan	Manpower and Instructions Lined Up
6 Jan	Closing Data - Advanced Registration
9 Jan	Registration Signs, Badges, Tech Session Signs Available
16-18 Jan	7th Annual Meeting

Preliminary Agenda
American Astronautical Society
7th Annual Meeting

Sunday 15th	4:00-8:00 p.m.	Registration	Hotel Monitor
	5:30-7:30	Pre-meeting Reception	Travis Room
	7:30	AAS Board Meeting	Brazos Room
	7:30-10:00	Rendezvous	Travis Room

* * * *

Monday 16th	7:30-8:30 a.m.	Author's Breakfast	Vaquero Room
	8:00-5:00	Registration	Hotel Monitor
	8:00-5:30	Rendezvous	Travis Room
	8:30-9:15	Call to Order	Republic of Texas Suite
	9:30-12:00	Technical Session No. 1 Solar System Physics - Dr. D. F. Singer University of Maryland	Austin Room
	9:30-12:00	Technical Session No. 2 Space Communications Mr. Henri Busignies IT & T	Houston Room
	11:00-12:00	Press Session - Exhibit Hall	Ballroom, Lobby, and Foyer
	12:00-6:00	Exhibition	Ballroom, Lobby, and Foyer
	12:30-2:00	Luncheon	North Ballroom
	2:30-5:00	Technical Session No. 3 Re-Entry and Recovery Mr. H. Julian Allen NASA Ames	Houston Room
	2:30-5:00	Technical Session No. 4 Bioastronautics Brig. Gen. D. Flinkinger ARDC Headquarters	Austin Room
	5:30-10:00	Rendezvous (Cocktails 5:30-7:30)	Travis Room
	6:00-9:00	Student Night - Exhibitions General Public	Ballroom, Lobby, and Foyer
	7:30-	General Membership Meeting	Houston and Austin Rooms

* * * *

Tuesday 17th	7:30-8:30 a.m.	Author's Breakfast	Vaquero Room
	8:00-5:00	Registration	Hotel Monitor
	8:00-5:30	Rendezvous	Travis Room
	9:00-11:30	Technical Session No. 5 Astrodynamics Dr. Samual Herrick University of California	Houston Room
	9:00-11:30	Technical Session No. 6 Geophysical Exploration Dr. Homer Newell NASA Headquarters	Austin Room
	10:00-5:00	Exhibition	Ballroom, Lobby, and Foyer
	12:30-2:00	Luncheon	North Ballroom
	2:30-5:00	Technical Session No. 7 Space System Application Mr. Geo. Stover Boeing Airplane Company	Houston and Austin Rooms
	5:30-10:00	Rendezvous (Cocktails 5:30-7:30)	Travis Room
	8:00	Panel Discussion	Republic of Texas Suite

* * * *

Wednesday 18th	7:30-8:30	Author's Breakfast	Vaquero Room
	8:00-5:00	Registration	Hotel Monitor
	8:00-5:30	Rendezvous	Travis Room
	9:00-11:30	Technical Session No. 8 Navigation and Guidance Dr. C. S. Draper M.I.T.	Houston Room
	9:00-11:30	Technical Session No. 9 Cosmology Dr. Otto Struve Nat'l Radio Astronomy Observatory	Austin Room
	10:00-5:00	Exhibition	Ballroom, Lobby, and Foyer
	12:30-2:00	Luncheon	North Ballroom
	2:30-5:00	Technical Session No. 10 Planetary Exploration Dr. Thomas Gold Cornell University	Houston Room

2:30-5:00	Technical Session No. 11 Socio-Political Aspects Dr. Donald Michael Brookings Institute	Austin Room
6:30-7:30	Banquet Reception	Republic of Texas Suite
7:30	Banquet	North and South Ballrooms

7th ANNUAL AAS MEETING

COMMITTEES AND CHAIRMEN

Technical Sessions — A. I. Sibila — Vought Astronautics Dallas, Texas AN2-3211 Ext. 2120

Responsible for selection of technical session topics and session Chairmen. Responsible for soliciting papers, receiving and distributing papers for review and acceptance to the sessions chairman. Responsible for notification of paper acceptance or rejection or later use at another session. Responsible for securing at least 200 preprints from each accepted author, and for forwarding preprints to distributing agency in Baltimore. Responsible for assuring quality of paper and for quality of paper's presentation. Responsible for author's instruction forms design.

Arrangements — Joe Zasa — Texas Instruments, Dallas, Texas FL7-5411 Ext. 398

Responsible for the arrangements of hotel session rooms, exhibit space, projection equipment, public address systems, hotel accomodations, transportation as necessary, Press Room, luncheon and banquet menus and table arrangement. Tape recorders for luncheon and banquet. Photographer.

Program — J. W. Roach — Vought Astronautics, Dallas, Texas AN2-3211 Ext. 3332

Responsible for the coordination of the overall program and for the functioning of each committee.

Ladies Program

Responsible for providing an interesting program to attract the ladies not interested in attending the technical sessions of the meeting. Responsible for arranging and executing the ladies program

Luncheon and Banquet J. W. Roach

Responsible for securing top speakers for both the luncheons and banquet.

Responsible for arranging for sponsorship of the receptions.

Responsible for table seating for both speakers and registrants.

Awards Maj Gen W. W. Dick Army Ordnance, Pentagon
LI5-6700 Ext. 52362

Responsible for selection of the awards winners and for their appearance at the banquet. Responsible for the awards presentation and for the proper awards presentor.

Exhibits F. G. McGavock Associates 3320 East Colorado Blvd.
Pasadena, California Sy3-4671

Responsible for soliciting exhibits from the local or area industry, military and educational activities. Responsible for space assignment, booth utilities, exhibit quality, exhibit scheduling, exhibit setup and dismantling, exhibit packing materials storage during show.

Registration John Kroeger - Bell Helicopter, Hurst, Texas
AT4-3434 Ext. 341

Responsible for the registration, payment and processing of all attendees to the technical sessions, luncheon, banquet and ladies program. Responsible for design of necessary forms, name tags, reply cards, Hotel registration forms, etc.

Publicity Dick Shearin - Vought Astronautics, Dallas, Texas
AN2-3211 Ext. 681

Responsible for all publicity on the session, including press kits, press room arrangements for manning, speakers biographical data, TV coverage of important sessions or the banquet, interviews of VIP attending, Biographical data on award winners and Fellows.

Publications Steve Feldman - Intercontinental, Dallas, TA-7-1690

Responsible for the publication of all forms, programs, name tags, etc. including taking rough drafts from other chairmen and having the artwork and printing accomplished on schedule.

AMERICAN ASTRONAUTICAL SOCIETY

January 1961 Meeting Session Topics

1.	Astrodynamics Dr. Samuel Herrick University of California	Stellar and planetary motions; orbital mechanics; trajectory analysis; magneto-plasmodynamic applications to stellar physics.
2.	Cosmology Dr. Otto Struve National Radio Astronomy Observatory	Nature and principles of the universe; radio astronomy; stellar and galactic theory or phenomena; deep space composition.
3.	Solar System Physics Dr. S. F. Singer University of Maryland	Composition of space and bodies in solar system; radiation; solar phenomena; planetary atmospheres.
4.	Geophysical Exploration Dr. Homer E. Newell NASA Headquarters	Measurement of earth parameters by satellites and probes; reconnaissance and meteorological applications; IGY results.
5.	Lunar and Planetary Exploration Dr. Thomas Gold Cornell University	Lunar and planetary probes; soft landings; manned exploration; parameters to be measured; methods of measuring; payloads; astronomical observation results.
6.	Space Systems Applications Mr. Geo. H. Stoner Boeing Airplane Company	Vehicle design concepts; systems integration; logistics; costs; programs; military missions.
7.	Space Communications Mr. Henri Busignies IT&T Corporation	Deep space communications; planetary atmosphere re-entry communications; data storage and transmission; communication data processing.
8.	Navigation and Guidance Dr. C. S. Draper Massachusetts Institute of Technology	Lunar and planetary landing guidance; sensing and attitude stabilization; space navigation aids.
9.	Bio-Astronautics Brig. Gen. Don Flickinger, USAF Air Research and Development Command, USAF	Physiological and psychological aspects of manned space operations; ecological systems; operator performance analysis; crew protection and escape; simulation.
10.	Re-entry and Recovery Mr. H. Julian Allen NASA - Ames Research Center	Re-entry dynamics; orbital and hyper-orbital speeds; configurations; hypersonics; aerodynamic heating; recovery analyses, systems, and devices.
11.	Social and Political Aspects Dr. Donald N. Michael Brookings Institution	Educational, economic, political, and sociological factors of space operations; space law.

Space Assignment
American Astronautical Society
7th Annual Meeting

7th Annual Meeting Headquarters	Prairie Room
Ladies Hospitality Suite	Pioneer Room
Press Room	Gas Light Room
Exhibit Area	Ballroom, Lobby, and Foyer
Registration	Hotel Monitor
AAS Booth	Hotel Monitor
Message Center	Ballroom Lobby
Rendezvous Area	Travis Room
Preprint Sales	Hotel Monitor
Chairmen Breakfasts	Vaquero Room
Luncheon	North Ballroom
Banquet	North and South Ballrooms
Session Room 1	Austin Room
Session Room 2	Houston Room

HOTEL LAYOUT

SECOND FLOOR

← OLIVE STREET →

Used by AAS

Ballroom Foyer
62 x 78'
North Ballroom
608 for banquet
869 for meetings
South Ballroom
429 for banquet
612 for meetings
Travis Room
214 for meetings
Austin Room
240 for meetings

Houston Room
390 for meetings
Prairie Room
40 for meetings
Vaquero Room
70 for banquet

Pioneer Room
85 for meetings
Gas Light Room
60 for meetings

THIRD FLOOR

Am. Cancer Society

September 28, 1960

Dear Mr. Adams:

Very many thanks for your kind invitation to attend the American Cancer Society's Annual Dinner on Thursday, October 27th at the Hotel Biltmore.

As much as I would like to be able to accept, I am afraid that I cannot. I have already made a commitment for that evening which I cannot cancel. I am sorry.

Thank you again for inviting me.

Sincerely,

Mr. Lane W. Adams
American Cancer Society, Inc.
521 West 57th Street
New York 19, New York

American Cancer Society, Inc.

cordially invites you

to attend its

Annual Dinner

Thursday, October twenty-seventh

at seven-thirty o'clock

Grand Ballroom, The Biltmore

New York City

Guest Speaker

Arthur Godfrey

The Distinguished Star of Radio and Television

R. S. V. P. ~~Subscription, $5.00~~

Lane W. Adams

Executive Vice President

American Cancer Society, Inc.

521 W. 57 St., N.Y. 19, N.Y. PLaza 7-2700

Am. Initiative for Disarmament

August 30, 1960

Dear Miss Carroll:

Many thanks for your cordial letter of August 25th. I greatly appreciate your invitation to speak at your disarmament meeting and very much regret that I cannot accept. My radio and television commitments for the next few months are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake to make any speeches no matter how tempting the occasion.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Miss Darleen Carroll, Secretary
American Initiative for Disarmament
642-A Sixth Avenue
San Francisco 18, California

ERM:gw

American Initiative for Disarmament
642-A Sixth Avenue
San Francisco 18, California

August 25, 1960

Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting Station
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

American Initiative for Disarmament, the organization which staged the enormously successful "San Francisco Little Summit Conference", with a rally in which over 3,000 people participated and at which William Davidon, Linus Pauling and Bert Bigelow spoke, has recently received what we consider to be an important and exciting letter.

This letter, from the Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy and the Friends Committee on National Legislation has been sent to a number of other organizations concerned with the question of survival, including the American Friends Service Committee, Americans for Democratic Action, Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, the National Association of Social Workers, the Brethren Service Commission, and the United World Federalists.

It is proposed that the above organizations and other like minded groups cooperate in the holding of simultaneous nationwide meetings directed at the elections, the theme of which will be "Security through World Disarmament".

We believe that the program, outlined below, will capture the public imagination, will affect the elections, and will be an important contribution to the education of the American people--who must play a decisive part in the bringing about of world disarmament.

We plan to present a carefully prepared analysis of the statements and actions of Richard Nixon and John Kennedy in the light of the 10-point "1960 Campaign for Disarmament" program. The analysis will be prepared in Washington, on the basis of the latest available materials, by the staffs of participating organizations. A debate between local or state candidates or representatives of both parties on the subject of disarmament is planned.

Our meeting will need the services of an accomplished speaker, who, because of his own position on disarmament will compel the attention of the public to his words on the necessity of world disarmament and the enormous possibilities for mankinds development, in a world free from war and from fear of war.

We believe that you, because of your widely known and respected work in this field, are well qualified to speak at our disarmament meeting.

May we have your reply as to whether you will be able to participate in this effort? It is urgent that you reply as soon as possible in order for us to give our meeting it's proper publicity.

Very truly yours,
Darleen Carroll
Darleen Carroll, Secretary
American Initiative for Disarmament

Am. Marketing Asso

September 2, 1960

Dear Mr. McEachern:

Many thanks for your cordial letter of August 29th.

I regret very much that I am unable to speak at your 8th Annual Seminar, but my radio and television commitments for the next several months are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake to make any speeches no matter how tempting the occasion.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. J. E. McEachern
Co-Chairman, 8th Annual Seminar
American Marketing Association
Baker Advertising Agency
670 Bayview Avenue
Toronto 17, Ontario

ERM:gw

Toronto AMA Chapter

AMERICAN MARKETING ASSOCIATION

An Association for the Advancement of Science in Marketing

Reply to: Baker Advertising Agency, 670 Bayview Ave., Toronto 17, Ont.

August 29, 1960.

Mr. Edward R. Murrow,
Columbia Broadcasting System,
485 Madison Avenue,
New York, N.Y.,
U.S.A.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

On January 6th, 1961, the American Marketing Association, Toronto Branch, will hold its 8th Annual "Marketing for "Management" Seminar.

The theme of the one day session will be "Understanding Today's Consumer - The Key to Effective Marketing Communication".

The morning of the Seminar will be devoted to consumer buying behaviour and the afternoon to aural, print and symbolic means of reaching the consumer as applied to the consumer's buying behaviour.

We would like very much to have you as a speaker and have given a tentative title to your address, should you be so gracious as to accept, "The Marketing Concept - New Political Weapon".

We would be most happy if you could see your way clear to accepting our invitation and will be glad to furnish you full details of the complete day and a more complete background of the overall concept of the day's Seminar.

Would you be good enough to let us know of your acceptance at your earliest opportunity.

Sincerely,

J. E. McEachern

J.E. McEachern,
Co-Chairman, 8th Annual Seminar,
American Marketing Association, Toronto Chapter.

/m

Eng. Dec.
Am. Whig-Cliosophic
Soc.

September 21, 1960

Dear Mr. Shackelford:

Thank you for your nice letter of September 14th.

It is most kind of you to invite me to speak before the Society and Princeton Community either in September or October. I do appreciate your gracious invitation. However, I am sorry to have to say I have no choice but to decline.

My pressures of my radio and television schedules are such that I have had to decide not to accept any speaking engagements at all, no matter how tempting they may be. I am sorry but am sure you understand the situation.

Again, thank you for asking me.

Sincerely,

Mr. Mark W. Shackelford
American Whig-Cliosophic Society
Princeton University
Princeton, New Jersey

WHIG 1769 AMERICAN WHIG-CLIOSOPHIC SOCIETY CLIO 1765

THE OLDEST COLLEGE POLITICAL AND DEBATING SOCIETY IN THE WORLD

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

September 14, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

no

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Throughout the existence of the American Whig-Cliosophic Society as a service organization on the Princeton campus, it has endeavored to further a political awareness and a knowledge of public affairs throughout the undergraduate body. It is with this in mind that we extend to you a most cordial invitation to speak before the Society and the Princeton community.

We would hope that you might speak on some topic related to the responsibility of the political commentator to his audience. Or perhaps you might speak about your recent trip throughout the world and the impressions of the American image abroad. We know that we would benefit from your wide travels, varied and many aquaintences, and your broad experience on these or any other topics.

Realizing that your schedule is a full one, especially in this election year, we would leave the date open to your choice, saying only that late September or October would be the very best time, and that a weeknight rather than a weekend is preferable. However, if the date should, of necessity, be at some other time, it would be fine with us, and we could assure you of a responsive, interested audience. Also, we might suggest that, if you prefer, some type of discussion with Princeton professors before an audience could be arranged rather than a speech.

Although we are a student organization, we are in a position to offer you an honorarium of two hundred dollars, in addition to paying for any travel expenses. Also, a car would be at your disposal to meet you at Newark Airport or the Princeton Junction Railroad Station.

Hopefully, we shall await your reply, assuring you that your experience at Princeton would be as rewarding for us as it would be for you.

Sincerely,

Mark W. Shackelford

Mark W. Shackelford, for Tod Pontius, President

Am. Women in Radio + TV
Eng file

August 18, 1960

Miss Lisa Gentry
Publications Committee
Television Bureau of Advertising
1 Rockefeller Plaza
New York, N.Y.

Dear Miss Gentry:

Thank you for your letter of August 17 to Mr. Murrow, who is away from New York just at present. I am sorry to tell you that it is doubtful whether he will be able to be one of your guest editors at least for the next few months. He has a great many commitments already and has decided against doing anything extra for the time being.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

American Women in Radio and Television, Inc.

75 EAST 55th STREET, NEW YORK 22, N. Y.

TELEPHONE
ELDORADO 5-7281

President
ESTHER VAN WAGONER TUFTY
Tufty News Bureau; NBC
Washington, D. C.

President-Elect
MONTEZ TJADEN
KWTV
Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

Secretary-Treasurer
ELIZABETH BAIN
United Artists Associated, Inc.
New York City

Vice-Presidents
MARTHA BOHLSEN
Tidy House Products Company
Omaha, Nebraska

GLORIA BREMKAMP
Public Relations Counsel
Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

GLORIA CHANDLER
King Broadcasting Co.
Seattle, Washington

MARGARET MARY KEARNEY
WCAU WCAU-TV
Philadelphia, Pa.

RUTH TALLEY
WLAC-TV
Nashville, Tennessee

Directors-at-Large
MARION ANNENBERG
Public Relations Counsel
New Orleans, La.

LUCILE BUSH
Johnson's Wax
Racine, Wisc.

MURIEL FOX
Carl Byoir & Assoc.
New York City

HELEN JENSEN
Western Beet Sugar Prod., Inc.
San Francisco, Calif.

MARY PEARL (WJOY WDEV)
Food Div., Heublein, Inc.
Burlington, Vt.

Executive Secretary
MARGO ANDERSON
75 East 55th St.
New York City

August 17, 1960

Mr. Ed Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

AWRT, as you may know, is largely made up of women who are active in television and radio broadcasting. A good many of our members have local programs with large and loyal followings.

"News & Views", our monthly publication, runs guest editorials from prominent people in or connected with our industry, in which these people are asked to express perhaps critical, but also helpful opinions or views regarding the role our members can fill in broadcasting.

Your very active and intelligent role in broadcasting has made you one of our selections as a possible guest editor. We would like very much to have your suggestions and/or criticisms of the local woman broadcaster.

This is AWRT's Tenth Anniversary, and we are attempting to stress our members' responsibility in world problems -- the election, the turbulent world situation, and the need for the average American to be more cognizant of his own place in that world.

A photograph of you and a brief expression (in rough form) of any suggestions you might have are all that would be required. We fully realize that you are a very busy man, and your taking time out to fill our request, if you find you can, will be much appreciated.

We would like to hear from you for our September issue, so would you be good enough to let us know as soon as possible whether you will be our guest editor for September?

Most sincerely,

Lisa Gentry

Chairman, Publications Committee
Television Bureau of Advertising
1 Rockefeller Plaza (PL 7-9420)

LG/bd

Anti-Defamation League
e

December 30, 1960

Dear Mr. Schultz:

Thank you for your gracious letter of December 20th inviting me to be your guest at the Anti-Defamation League Dinner on January 11th.

I regret very much that I shall not be able to join you due to a prior engagement. Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Henry Edward Schultz, National Chairman
Anti-Defamation League
515 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

ERM:gw

ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE

Of B'nai B'rith

515 MADISON AVENUE, NEW YORK 22, N. Y., PLaza 1-1800

NATIONAL COMMISSION
HENRY EDWARD SCHULTZ
Chairman
MEIER STEINBRINK
Honorary Chairman
BARNEY BALABAN
A. G. BALLENGER
PHILIP M. KLUTZNICK
HERBERT H. LEHMAN
LEON LOWENSTEIN
WILLIAM SACHS
BENJAMIN SAMUELS
DORE SCHARY
MELVIN H. SCHLESINGER JESSE STEINHART
Honorary Vice-Chairmen
ABE GOLDSTEIN
HAROLD LACHMAN
DAVID A. ROSE
Vice-Chairmen
BENJAMIN GREENBERG
Treasurer
HERBERT LEVY
Secretary
BENJAMIN R. EPSTEIN
National Director
PAUL H. SAMPLINER
Chairman, Executive Committee
JOSEPH COHEN
Vice-Chairman, Executive Committee
LABEL A. KATZ
President, B'nai B'rith
MAURICE BISGYER
Executive Vice-President, B'nai B'rith
DAVID ARENSTEIN
ROBERT L. ARONSON
HARRY GRAHAM BALTER
JACK Y. BERMAN
SAMUEL DALSIMER
SAMUEL FENDEL
HERMAN FINEBERG
EDWARD GOLDBERGER
DAVID GOLDFINE
LESTER GUTTERMAN
SAMUEL J. HALPREN
JOSEPH KAPLAN
SIDNEY J. KARBEL
LAWRENCE S. KATZ
IRVING R. KAUFMAN
MOE KUDLER
MRS. ARTHUR G. LAUFMAN
RICHARD M. LEDERER, JR.
IRVING LOUIS
CHARLES M. METZNER
EDWARD MILLER
ALAN R. MORSE
BERNARD NATH
LIONEL NATHAN MAYER NEWFIELD
NORMAN NEWHOUSE
LAWRENCE PEIREZ
JEFFERSON E. PEYSER BERNARD ROMAN
EDWARD ROSENBLUM
MAURICE A. ROSENTHAL
BURNETT ROTH
HAROLD S. RUBENSTEIN
ALFRED SALLINGER
MRS. LEONARD SIMS
MRS. CHARLES SOLOVICH
NELSON F. STAMLER
MORRIS L. STRAUCH
MRS. HARRY STRAUSS
SAMUEL TARSHIS
LENORE D. UNDERWOOD
MRS. HYMAN C. WEISMAN
LAWRENCE WILLIAMS
MRS. ALBERT A. WOLDMAN

LIFE MEMBERS
DAVID A. COLEMAN
MAURICE N. DANNENBAUM
HENRY EPSTEIN
DAVID H. LITTER
MAX J. SCHNEIDER
LOUIS ZARA

STAFF DIRECTORS
NATHAN C. BELTH
Public Relations
OSCAR COHEN
Program
ALEXANDER F. MILLER Community Service
J. HAROLD SAKS Administration
LESTER J. WALDMAN Organization Planning
•
ARNOLD FORSTER
General Counsel

December 20, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I extend to you a most cordial invitation to attend, as our guest, a dinner on Wednesday evening, January 11, 1961, at the Savoy Hilton Hotel in New York, at which time the Anti-Defamation League will open the sessions of its 47th Annual Meeting.

On that occasion, the annual Jacob Alson Lecture, which will be the main address, will keynote our meetings and will be delivered by Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota. We would be honored to have you with us as our guest on that evening. Dress will be informal.

I do hope you can attend, and I would appreciate hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Henry E. Schultz

Henry Edward Schultz
National Chairman

HES:dw

Aspen Instit. for Humanistic Studies

December 6, 1960

Dear Mr. Craig:

I must apologize for the delay in answering your letter of November 17th. I have been engaged in a bout with pneumonia for the past weeks and have just returned to the office recently.

I am sorry not to be able to accept your gracious invitation to take part in the American Leaders Program next summer. Please do not regard this as any lack of appreciation on my part. The fact is that developments both here and abroad determine to large extent where I shall be at any given time and it is therefore not possible for me to make plans so far in advance.

Thank you for asking me again.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Robert W. Craig, Executive Secretary
Aspen Institute for Humanistic Studies
Aspen, Colorado

ERM:gw

Aspen Institute for Humanistic Studies

November 17, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Ave.
New York 22, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I am pleased to extend to you once more an invitation to take part in one of the sessions of the Aspen Institute's American Leaders' Program.

We would very much like to have you attend one of the summer sessions, the dates of which are June 25 - July 8, July 9 - 22, July 23 - August 5, August 6 - 19, August 20 - September 2, and September 3 - 16.

The invitation includes room and board and transportation to and from Aspen.*

As a resource participant your duties are not specific save to contribute to the proceedings those ideas which occur in the light of the assigned readings .

Readings for 1961 are currently being prepared but the general range will concern such facets as the scientific and technological revolutions, the development of communist thought and power, and the challenges to American leadership occasioned by such developments in the recent and historic past.

I hope you will find it possible to accept this invitation and that agreeable dates can be arranged.

Sincerely,

Robert W. Craig

Robert W. Craig
Executive Secretary

RWC:hh
*The invitation includes Mrs. Murrow, of course.

July 11, 1960

Mr. Ralph D. Casey
2732 West River Road
Minneapolis 6, Minn.

Dear Mr. Casey,

I am so sorry there was such a long delay in sending Mr. Murrow's answer to Professor Goodwin concerning the dinner on September 1. Mr. Murrow is just getting back into harness after his sabbatical and has been rarely in the office to deal with his correspondence. In fact, the reason I am writing to you instead of Mr. Murrow is that he is away at the Democratic Convention.

You will be glad to know that a reply was sent to Professor Goodwin last week. However, I regret that, due to various CBS commitments, it had to be a refusal.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

Org dec
Assoc for Education in Journalism

July 7, 1960

Professor Eugene Goodwin
Director, School of Journalism
Carnegie Building
The Pennsylvania State University University Park, Pa.

Dear Professor Goodwin:

Mr. Murrow has asked me to apologize to you for the delay in replying to your kind invitation of June 7 to speak to the annual convention of the Association for Education in Journalism. Since his return to this country he has rarely been in New York to attend to his correspondence and, even now, I must write to you in his place, as he is in Los Angeles for the Democratic Convention.

Mr. Murrow very much regrets that he cannot accept your invitation to speak. He has unfortunately had to establish a blanket ruling against accepting speaking engagements, however attractive they may be, due to the pressure and uncertainty of his CBS commitments. Now that CBS REPORTS has been expanded, there is a good chance that he will be doing a certain amount of travelling, so that in fairness to everyone concerned, he does not feel he can commit himself to anything else.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA
COLLEGE OF SCIENCE, LITERATURE, AND THE ARTS
MINNEAPOLIS 14

SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM

27 June 1960

Home address:

2732 West River Road
Minneapolis 6, Minn.

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N.Y.

The annual convention program committee of the Association on Education for Journalism, as well as the host school of journalism at Pennsylvania State University, have paid me the honor of believing I had some influence with you. I wrote you some time ago putting in my oar on behalf of both the AEJ and Eugene Goodwin, director of Penn State's School of Journalism, urging you to accept an invitation to become the head-line speaker on September 1 (evening dinner) of the AEJ.

Gene Goodwin tells me he followed up my nudge with a cordial invitation to you to accept.

But he has not heard from you, Ed, in response to the invitation. Both he and the AEJ program committee ask me to write you once again. Since I still hold membership in the AEJ, even though a retired member of the Minnesota journalism faculty, I do urge you to make every effort to accept. You'll have an audience of 500 or so journalism school faculty persons at the Sept. 1 banquet. You can give them the Murrow gospel. They want it.

But it would be fine if you could acknowledge Gene Goodwin's letter of invitation. The poor chap has to know your answer. He wants you as a topside exponent of honest and courageous journalism -- one of the best.

If you can persuade your secretary to enclose a carbon of your letter to Goodwin, would you be kind enough to mail it to me?

And if you accept, my own prestige with the AEJ brethern will jump a good many degrees.

Yours cordially

Ralph

Ralph D. Casey

Columbia University
in the City of New York
NEW YORK 27, N. Y.
GRADUATE SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM
OFFICE OF THE DEAN

June 14, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
C.B.S.
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

When I saw you the other day, I didn't have a chance to mention Eugene Goodwin's request to you to talk at the Journalism Educators' Convention on September 1.

I think it would be worthwhile, and I hope you will do it.

Cordially,

Edward W. Barrett

EWB:ms

cc: Professor Eugene Goodwin

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE UNIVERSITY

UNIVERSITY PARK • PENNSYLVANIA

School of Journalism
Carnegie Building

June 7, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York City, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

By this time you should have received a letter or two from Ralph Casey urging you to speak on September 1 to the annual convention of the Association for Education in Journalism. As program chairman for that convention, scheduled to be held here at Penn State, I want to add my urging to his.

I know you are a busy man and September 1 may be a bad date for you, but I think this is a group worth talking to. The association is made up of journalism teachers and administrators from big and small colleges and universities all over the country. Included among them, of course, are the teachers of broadcast journalism.

The spot we would like you to accept on the convention program is that of speaker at our closing banquet on Thursday evening, September 1. The convention opens on August 29 and closes just before lunch on September 2. Incidentally, Frank Stanton addressed the closing banquet of our 1959 convention last August at the University of Oregon.

Although Penn State is located in a somewhat isolated section of Central Pennsylvania, we are only two hours from New York by Allegheny Airlines and five hours by Pennsylvania Railroad. I could send you complete travel information.

The association has very little in the way of a budget for this convention and would be able to do no more than pay your expenses. However, I could offer you a $250 honorarium from the University, fully realizing that such an amount is far below the fee that you normally expect for such an assignment. I am hoping that you will regard as extra compensation an opportunity to influence the education of tomorrow's journalists.

You would do us great honor, Mr. Murrow, by agreeing to appear on our program. I look forward to your reply.

Sincerely,

Eugene Goodwin

Eugene Goodwin
Director

Augustana College

January 13, 1960

Dear President Stavig:

Thank you for your gracious letter of January 5th inviting Mr. Murrow to speak at Augustana College on Thursday, October 6th.

As you may know, Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and is traveling abroad. He will not be returning to the States for several months and until his fall broadcasting schedule has been set up, I regret that it will not be possible for him to accept any engagements.

Thank you again for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

President Lawrence M. Stavig
Augustana College
Sioux Falls, South Dakota

Augustana College
SIOUX FALLS, SOUTH DAKOTA

LAWRENCE M. STAVIG
PRESIDENT

January 5, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Ave.
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Is there the possibility that we might arrange to bring you to Sioux Falls, South Dakota, for an address the evening of Thursday, October 6, 1960?

Augustana College, on behalf of which I write this letter, will be 100 years of age in October 1960. A full year of special events is in process of preparation by the committee in charge with the responsibility for arranging a suitable Centennial service. This will include a special address at the convocation, special observances at the time of Homecoming in October, special emphasis at Commencement time both in 1960 and 1961, and three special gatherings arranged by the divisions of the faculty during the school year.

The address which we would like you to make would be the opening event of the Augustana Viking Days. This is a combined college and community event which brings a great number of people to the community. Our purpose in inviting you is to bring to the local community as a special service to both community and college and to the countryside round about a person of international reputation. It would be our hope that out of this gathering there may come a better understanding of contemporary events. We would leave the choice of subject entirely with you.

There may be particular interest in the fact that Art Larsen, who appeared with Senator Mundt on your Sunday afternoon hour a few weeks ago, is a graduate of Augustana College. A good many of his friends and also friends of Senator Mundt, as well as those interested in your program, listened with real appreciation to the messages of that occasion.

You may be also interested in the fact that Sig Mickelson of the CBS staff is also a graduate of this college.

I would appreciate hearing from you concerning your availability and would also appreciate it if you would let me know your customary fee in connection with this sort of event.

Very sincerely yours,

Lawrence M. Stavig

L. M. Stavig

LMS:vb

Auschwitz-Buna

February 11, 1960

Dear Mr. Michel:

Thank you for your gracious letter of February 5th inviting Mr. Murrow to attend the Auschwitz Memorial Dinner to be held on Sunday, March 20th.

I regret very much that Mr. Murrow will not be able to accept since he is traveling abroad and will not be returning to the States for several months. Thank you again for asking him.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Ernest W. Michel, Chairman
Auschwitz Memorial Dinner
Auschwitz-Buna Memorial Scholarship Fund
Post Office Box 728
New York 8, New York

AUSCHWITZ-BUNA MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Established In Memory Of And Dedicated To The Jewish Victims Of The Auschwitz-Buna Concentration Camp

POST OFFICE BOX 728, NEW YORK 8, N. Y.

Chairman
NORBERT WOLLHEIM

Co-Chairmen
ERNEST W. MICHEL
HASKEL TYDOR

Secretary
SIMON GUTTER

Treasurer
LEO WEISSMAN

Committee
FRED BAUER
LEO BRENNER
FRED DIAMANT
ISIDOR EISENBERG
WILLIAM ELLENBERG
SIEGMUND FREUND
HARRY GOODRICH
PAUL GRUENWALD
SIEGFRIED HALBREICH
SIMON KEMPLER
ALBERT KIMMELSTIEL
DAVID KRISTAL
JOHN E. MAREK
DAVID MARIN
LUTZ MEYER
SAMUEL MOSCHKOWITZ
ABRAHAM PRINS
MARKUS SAFIRSTEIN
FRED SARNE
MAX SPIRA
KLAUS STERN
DR. MOSES ZLOTLOW

February 5, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

We, survivors of the Auschwitz-Buna concentration camp, residing in the United States, extend to you a most sincere invitation to attend the Auschwitz Memorial Dinner to be held on Sunday, March 20th, at the Concourse Plaza Hotel, Grand Concourse and 161st Street, Bronx, New York, at 7:00 P.M.

Former Senator Herbert H. Lehman and Senator Jacob K. Javits are serving as Honorary Co-Chairmen for this Dinner.

One of the major highlights of this, the first meeting ever held by survivors of the Nazi concentration camps, will be the establishment of the Auschwitz-Buna Memorial Scholarship Fund. This Fund is dedicated to the sacred memory of those who lost their lives in the Auschwitz extermination camp and will be used to further the education of the children of victims of Auschwitz-Buna. Former camp inmates throughout the world are actively participating in the creation of this Fund.

On this occasion we also will present to the Government of the United States a special Scroll, expressing the gratitude of the close to 2,000 Auschwitz survivors, now residing in this country, for having been instrumental in our rescue and rehabilitation.

To you, whose contribution to many humanitarian efforts has meant so much to millions the world over and whose interest in our cause has been especially meaningful, we extend this personal invitation. We hope that you may find it possible to be with us on that date.

Very sincerely yours,

Ernest W. Michel, Chairman
Auschwitz Memorial Dinner

Norbert Wollheim, Chairman
Auschwitz-Buna Memorial Scholarship Fund

Barker, Robert
e d

August 30, 1960

Dear Mr. Barker:

Many thanks for your cordial letter of August 26th. I very much regret that I cannot write an article for your editorial service, but my radio and television commitments for the next few months are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake any extra-curricular activities.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Robert H. Barker
11 East Superior
Chicago 11, Illinois

ERM:gw

robert barker co.

11 E. Superior Chicago 11, Ill. SU 7-7636
~~33 W. La Salle Chicago 2, Illinois Franklin 6-9267~~

August 26, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

We are certain it will be of special interest to you to learn that a recently conducted survey reveals that the weekly newspapers of the United States are completely lacking feature services such as those which supply metropolitan dailies with much of their copy. On the hand, the weeklies are often more in need of such a service because of more limted capital and national representation.

In order to fill this need, our editorial service is offering a 1,000 word article submitted by outstanding individuals to our subscribers.

Due to your national stature and public record, it is our feeling that an article from you could be valuable both to our weeklies and to you in reaching this audience. The topic you would be writing on is open to your discretion.

Among the recent contributors are Senators John F. Kennedy and Karl Mundt; Architect, Mies van der Rohe; Art Linkletter; Mrs. Spencer Tracy; and Governor G. Mennan Williams.

We would send payment to you or you might prefer to name a favorite charity to receive the check as many of your colleagues have done.

Please let us know if you are interested in helping us with this service.

Yours truly,

Robert H. Barker

Robert H. Barker

Bellflower Teachers Assoc

July 28, 1960

Mr. Frank R. Wynne
Public Affairs Committee
Bellflower Teachers Association
Bellflower, California

Dear Mr. Wynne:

It is most kind of your Committee to ask Mr. Murrow to speak at your annual dinner on November 7.

Unfortunately, Mr. Murrow has had to make a blanket ruling against accepting speaking engagements, however attractive they may be, due to the pressure and uncertainty of his CBS commitments. With his new series, CBS REPORTS, he may well be doing a great deal of travelling and can therefore not commit himself to anything beyond his CBS duties.

Thank you so much for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

BELLFLOWER TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

BELLFLOWER, CALIFORNIA

Affiliated with:
CALIFORNIA TEACHERS ASSOCIATION
and
NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
C.B.S. News Director
C.B.S. Studio
Hollywood, California

Dear Mr. Murrow:

May I inquire if you could consider availing yourself to our District as guest speaker at our annual Public Affairs dinner to be held on November 7th?

Well knowing your extremely busy schedule, we would indeed consider it an honor if you could arrange to be with us for this occasion. The event is the high spot on our B.T.A. calendar, and needless to say your distinguished presence would make it an evening to long remember.

The service factor would have to predominate, Sir, since remuneration in keeping with your standards would, unfortunately, not be within the purview of our budget. As Public Affairs Committee representative, am authorized to offer a $50-$75 honorarium.

Will look forward to hearing if you will be able to be with us.

Sincerely,

Frank R. Wynne

Frank R. Wynne
Public Affairs Committee
Bellflower Teachers Association

Beverly Hills Chapter
Hadassah

December 1, 1960

Dear Mrs. Weiner:

Many thanks for your letter of November 22nd.

I greatly appreciate your invitation to speak at your Youth Aliyah Luncheon on March 8, 1961 and very much regret that I cannot accept. My radio and television commitments for the next months are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake to make any speeches no matter how tempting the occasion.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. Morton D. Weiner
307 So. Bentley Avenue
Los Angeles 49, California

ERM:gw

November 22, 1960

Dear Mr. Murrow,

As program Vice-President for the Beverly Hills Chapter of Hadassah, I am writing to inquire as to your availability for a speaking engagement with us on March 8, 1961.

Our meeting will be in the form of a Youth Aliyah Luncheon at the International Room of the Beverly Hilton Hotel, and, we anticipate a minimum of 1,000 women to attend.

We know that your presence would insure an even greater success than we anticipate that day, and, as a result, children in many forei communities will be great benefited thru our Youth program.

We shall anxiously hearing from you and that you will be availa to be with us on March there is any additional information you need, we be most happy to comply

Very sincerely y
Mrs Morton d
307 So. Bent
Los Angeles, C

foreign greatly ouch Elijah

ely await d do hope ulable ch 8. If inal ere shall ly.

y yours,
n D. Weiner Bentley Ave.
les, 49 Calif.

Beth Tzedec Congr.
e d

December 14, 1960

Dear Dr. Rosenberg:

Many thanks for your gracious letter of December 6th.

I greatly appreciate your invitation to participate in your "Institute of Ethics" and very much regret that I cannot accept. My radio and television commitments for the coming year are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake any extracurricular activities no matter how tempting the occasion.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Dr. Stuart E. Rosenberg
Beth Tzedec Congregation
1700 Bathurst Street
Toronto, Canada

ERM:gw

DR. STUART E. ROSENBERG

RABBI
BETH TZEDEC CONGREGATION
1700 BATHURST STREET
TORONTO, CANADA

December 6th, 1960.

My dear Mr. Murrow,

Beth Tzedec Congregation, the largest Jewish Congregation in Canada, in co-operation with the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, is undertaking to conduct a series of Seminars and Lectures in the form of an "Institute of Ethics". As part of this Series, we are interested in convening a group of Ontario's journalists, writers, radio and television people to participate with us in a discussion of "The Moral Dilemmas in the Shaping of Public Opinion".

I am writing to you in the hope that we may succeed in having you be our guest on that occasion. I am thinking of the following possible dates: Wednesday, February 22nd, or Wednesday, April 12th. Thus far, Dr. Brock Chisholm, former Director-General of the World Health Organization, and I expect the Right Hon. Vincent Massey, who have agreed to participate on other dates as part of this Series.

The format will be as follows: On the morning of the date selected, people of the communications industry would be invited to participate in a Seminary to be led by people from among their own ranks. We would hope that you could be present, not to present a talk, but to lend your distinguished presence to the gathering. At noon, we would join together at a Luncheon at which time we would hope that you might speak to this gathering of specialists on "The Moral Dilemmas in the Shaping of Public Opinion". In the evening, a public Lecture would take place at 9:00 p.m., which I have reason to believe would attract many hundreds of people to hear you on this subject - but in terms which are more relevant to the members of the general public.

I appreciate very well the many demands that are made upon your time, but I deign to hope that, because of your personal interest in the ethical problems of our society, you may be agreeable to set aside this one day for us, here in Toronto.

The impact you have made in Canada is a significan

one, and I know that many in the communications field, would be most anxious to hear your views in this area.

As a Fellow of the Herbert Lehman Institute of Ethics of the Seminary, I am particularly hopeful of establishing, here in Canada, an Annual Forum at my Synagogue, for the discussion of the ethical problems of our time. It is my hope that through this Institute here, co-sponsored with the Seminary of New York, we shall be able to bring men of profound and of great public stature, projecting them to a broad audience, thus making a contribution to the elevation of our communities.

If you are agreeable to participating, and find that the dates that I have suggested are in conflict with other undertakings, I would be pleased to have your suggestion as to when you might be available.

In the hope of hearing from you soon, I am,

Sincerely yours,

S E Rosenberg

Stuart E. Rosenberg

P.S. If it is impossible for you to participate for the full day, we may be able to arrange for your participation only on the basis of the evening Lecture.

Mr. Edward R. Murrow,
Columbia Broadcasting System,
485 Maddison Avenue,
New York City.

Better Business Bure

January 4, 1960

Dear Mr. Mannon:

Thank you for your gracious letter of December 24th inviting Mr. Murrow to address the Annual Meeting of the Better Business Bureau in February.

I regret that since Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and will be traveling abroad for most of the next six months, it will not be possible for him to accept. Thank you for asking him again.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. L. W. Mannon, Secretary-Manager
Better Business Bureau
205 West Market Street
Lima, Ohio

L. W. MANNON - SECRETARY - MANAGER

TELEPHONE CA 3-7010

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU

First Lima Building
205 WEST MARKET STREET, LIMA, OHIO

December 24, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Ave.
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Since 1951, we have been writing you each year. I am beginning to have a feeling that I know you personally even though we have never met.

The reason for our writing to you is that we have always had a desire to have you speak at one of our Annual Meetings.

Our next Annual Meeting is tentatively scheduled for Wednesday, February 10, 1960, however, the date is not rigid and can be changed to meet the convenience of yourself if it would be possible for you to come to Lima.

We have an average attendance of about 400 persons at these Annual Meetings, representing the top-executives of industry, banking, retailing, professional men, and practically all phases of business and industry.

Again, we extend to you another sincere invitation to be the speaker at our next Annual Meeting.

We would like to hear from you telling us if it would be possible for you to be with us on the 10th of February, or on some other date in February, and what your fee would be.

Sincerely yours,

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU, INC.

L. W. Mannon,
Secretary-Manager

LWM/eb

Billingsley Sherman

MR. SHERMAN BILLINGSLEY

TAKES PLEASURE IN HONORING

Edward R. Murrow

WHOSE BIOGRAPHY APPEARS IN THE NEW

CELEBRITY REGISTER

EARL BLACKWELL, Publisher CLEVELAND AMORY, Editor-in-Chief

ON ITS PUBLICATION EVE

SUNDAY, DECEMBER THIRTEENTH

At the STORK CLUB

R. S. V. P.
3 EAST 53RD STREET
PLAZA 3-1940

7 TO 9 O'CLOCK

Blanch, Lesley
Eng Dec

September 27, 1960

Carlton House
680 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Sirs:

This is just to let you know that Mr. Murrow shall not be able to accept your kind invitation and attend the meeting with Lesley Branch on Friday, October 7th.

Mr. Murrow wants to thank you for the invitation and apologizes for not being able to accept.

Sincerely,

Mary Cecchini
Secretary

The Viking Press

invites you to meet

no

Lesley Blanch

author of The Sabres of Paradise

at Carlton House, 680 Madison Avenue from five to seven-thirty, Friday, October seventh

R.S.V.P. Plaza 5-4330

Eng dies
B'nai B'rith Empire Lodge

June 28, 1960

Mr. David Bronstein
410 Glenayr Road
Toronto, Ontario
Canada

Dear Mr. Bronstein:

As Mr. Murrow is at present at the Governors' Conference in Montana and will go from there to the political conventions, I am writing in reply to your letter to him of June 14.

Mr. Murrow has unfortunately had to make a general ruling against accepting speaking engagements, however attractive they may be, in view of the pressure and uncertainty of his commitments for CBS. Thank you so much for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

DAVID BRONSTEIN
410 GLENAYR ROAD
TORONTO, CANADA
NEW ADDRESS - 2500 BATHURST STREET

June 20th, 1960.

Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Ave.
New York, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

Further to our letter of June 14th, 1960 it has come to my attention that we inadvertently omitted to mention that the date of the meeting is to be Saturday, December 3rd, 1960.

I wish to tender my personal apologies for this oversight.

Yours very truly,

R. Joseph

/rj

Secretary for David Bronstein

DAVID BRONSTEIN
410 GLENAYR ROAD
TORONTO, CANADA
NEW ADDRESS - 2500 BATHURST STREET

June 14th, 1960.

Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Ave.
New York, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

I am particularly pleased to advise you that the joint executives of the Primrose Club and Empire Lodge, B'nai B'rith have this year decided to invite you as their guest speaker at their annual meeting.

This is an annual affair that is in its fourth year. The speakers who addressed this meeting in the past three years are:

1. Dr. C. H. Best, M.D., D.S.c., L.L.D., F.R.S., the co-discoveror with Dr. Banting of insulin.
2. Mr. James S. Duncan, C.M.G., L.L.D., Canada's leading industrialist. Mr. Duncan was the former head of the Massey-Harris Company. He now heads the Ontario Hydro Commission which is a multi-million dollar operation.
3. Mr. John Bassett. Mr. Bassett is the leading Canadian publisher who at an early age has established himself as an outstanding leader.

The occasion will mark the opening of the new building that the Primrose Club is now erecting. This Club will be one of the most magnificent structures of its kind on this Continent. Its membership is comprised of the leading citizens in Toronto.

Insofar as B'nai B'rith is concerned, you are undoubtedly aware of the fact that it represents a membership of over 400,000 throughout the world,

Cont'd.

DAVID BRONSTEIN
410 GLENAYR ROAD
TORONTO, CANADA
NEW ADDRESS - 2500 BATHURST STREET

supporting many philanthropic endeavours.

Our budget provides for a $2500.00 honorarium which includes expenses.

Our activities would include a luncheon, to be followed by the evening meeting. A national television hook up would be arranged to carry your evening talk, in addition to an official welcome by the City of Toronto.

I would appreciate an early reply.

Yours very truly,

D. Bronstein

DB/rj

Brandeis Univ. C

September 20, 1960

Dear Dr. Sachar:

Many thanks for your cordial letter of August 26.

I wish very much that I could join you as suggested at the annual Friends of Brandeis Affair in Boston on Sunday evening, December 4th, but unfortunately I cannot do so. I have already promised to do something in San Francisco on that date provided my radio and television schedule does not make it necessary for me to be out of the country at that time.

Very many thanks for asking me. I am sorry I cannot do it. With all good wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Dr. A. L. Sachar
Brandeis University
Waltham 54, Massachusetts

mec

BRANDEIS UNIVERSITY
WALTHAM 54, MASSACHUSETTS

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

August 26, 1960

Dear Ed:

Since our last conference, when you were brilliantly imaginative on a program of Communications Arts for the University, we have been refining suggested projects for research, and very soon we shall be ready to submit what, I feel, will be a major contribution to the field. We had hoped to involve you in several of the institutes where our resource people mulled over with us the ideas that had been suggested. But, of course, you were abroad a great deal of the time or else drawn into the vortex of so many other activities. I am hopeful that, soon after the opening of the new school year, a mutually convenient time may be found when I can meet with you to submit the results of all of this pooled thinking.

But I am writing immediately on another matter. The annual Friends of Brandeis Affair in Boston is scheduled for Sunday evening, December 4. Our previous affairs have been addressed by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, Eleanor Roosevelt, Dr. Selman Waksman, Edward Weeks, and others. We would be honored if you could find the time in your busy routine to come to us on an evening which represents a climax for the year's activity. It is a purely social evening with no fund raising implications and parallels on the public relations plane what we attempt to do on the academic side at Commencement. I do hope that the evening is free and that we may count upon one of our newest and most esteemed honorary alumni.

With every good wish,

Cordially yours,

A. L. Sachar

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

ALS/c

British Exhibition

The Organisers

of the Hunting and Fishing Lodge

at the British Exhibition

NO

request the pleasure of the company of

Mr. Edward R. Murrow

for

Stirrup Cup

at the United Nations Room,

Coliseum Building, Columbus Circle, New York

on Friday the 10th of June, 1960

at 6 p.m.

R.S.V.P. to:
Baron A. Konopka
Hotel Berkshire, Madison Avenue, at 52nd Street, New York, 22

Drinks from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.
Please bring your invitation card with you

British Info. Service
Reg dec.

British Information Services,
45, Rockefeller Plaza,
New York 20, N.Y.

Regrets

September 27, 1960

Dear Mr. Murrow,

We are giving a B.I.S. luncheon on Thursday, October 13th for General Lord Ismay and shall be very glad if you can join us on that occasion.

Luncheon will be at 12.30 p.m. (for 12.45) in the President's Room at the Harvard Club.

Perhaps you would kindly telephone your reply to CI6-5100 extension 32.

Yours sincerely,

Robert Cecil

R. Cecil
Director-General

Mr. Edward R. Murrow,
Columbia Broadcasting System,
485 Madison Avenue,
New York, N.Y.

Brookings Institution
Eng Sec

September 20, 1960

Dear Mr. David:

Please pardon the delay in answering your cordial letter.

I regret very much that it is impossible for me to undertake the proposed lecture on "Mass Media Activities and Influence," scheduled for Thursday, January 12, 1961. My radio and television schedule is such that I have had to decide not to undertake speaking engagements during the current season.

Please accept my sincere regrets.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Paul T. David
The Brookings Institution
1775 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W.
Washington 6, D. C.

mcc

The Brookings Institution

1775 MASSACHUSETTS AVENUE, N.W.

Washington 6, D. C.

ROBERT D. CALKINS
PRESIDENT

ROBERT W. HARTLEY
VICE PRESIDENT

GOVERNMENTAL STUDIES
GEORGE A. GRAHAM
DIRECTOR
CHARLES L. CLAPP
MILTON C. CUMMINGS, JR.
PAUL T. DAVID
JAMESON W. DOIG
LUTHER H. EVANS
LAURIN L. HENRY
M. KENT JENNINGS
F. P. KILPATRICK
JOSEPH E. McLEAN
DEAN E. MANN
LIONEL V. MURPHY
FRANCES M. SHATTUCK

August 18, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

K.C. no

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The Brookings Institution is planning a lecture series-symposium next winter that we expect will yield a book for publication under the title, The Political Changes of 1960-61. It is our hope that you might be willing to take on the proposed lecture on "Mass Media Activities and Influence," as they affect the political outcomes of the present year. This particular lecture is tentatively scheduled for 8:30 P.M., Thursday, January 12, 1961, but some adjustment of the date might be possible.

Enclosed is a statement that outlines the plan for the lecture series and the book. The lecture on the mass media is intended partly as a brief review of pertinent events and developments in the media, but even more as an attempt to interpret and assess the activities and influence of the media as they participate in the political action of the present year.

We would prefer someone from the industry for this lecture if we could find someone who was willing and able to be appropriately critical of industry performance, while also dealing comprehensively with other aspects of the subject. You would, of course, bring very unusual qualifications to the task; and it is because of your own unique relationship to the subject matter that we have had some hope that you might find this assignment challenging.

The Institution would expect to pay an honorarium of $750, and would like to see an initial draft of the manuscript about a month in advance of the lecture date, which would mean by mid-December in this case. The lecture should be approximately an hour in length, and we would contemplate a manuscript in the range of 8,000 to 10,000 words, for publication in a format similar to The Changing Environment of International Relations, The Brookings Lectures, 1955, by Grayson Kirk et al.

If you should have any questions about the nature of the series or the lecture, please telephone me collect here at HUdson 3-8919. We are seeking to make firm arrangements for the series as rapidly as we can, and would therefore appreciate it greatly if you will let us know as soon as possible whether you can accept this invitation. Your help would be much appreciated indeed.

Sincerely yours,

Paul T. David

Paul T. David

Enclosure

June 15, 1960

THE POLITICAL CHANGES OF 1960-61

The plan for a book to be published by
The Brookings Institution

The domestic political events of 1960 and early 1961, ending with the first session of the next Congress, will be of interest to all students of government and politics because of the significant institutional developments in progress and because of the importance of impending decisions.

The rhythms of the American political system involve some degree of change in the parties, the party system, and the government in every presidential election year. Only rarely is the change as slight as it was in 1956. In the events leading up to and following the 1960 election, changes will be of consequence no matter how the election goes. A new Republican administration would be different from the present one whether or not Republican strength in Congress is increased. If the Democratic party wins the Presidency and retains majorities in both houses of Congress, still greater changes may be anticipated.

Any time of major political change involves a complex series of phenomena that acquire their full meaning only after there has been an opportunity to interpret them collectively in historical perspective. But the passing of time also obscures something of reality and skews the historians' account in the direction of oversimplification. In any event we cannot wait for historical interpretations of the political changes of a self-governing democracy. Contemporary judgments are inescapable, and something can be done through immediate analysis of events to make them more nearly valid.

Fortunately there is a systematic historical analysis, on which to build, in the series of Brookings studies now being published: Paul T. David, Ralph M. Goldman, and Richard C. Bain, The Politics of National Party Conventions; Charles A. H. Thomson and Frances M. Shattuck, The 1956 Presidential Campaign; Richard C. Bain, Decisions and Voting Records of National Party Conventions; Stanley Kelley, Jr., Political Campaigning: Creating an Informed Electorate; Laurin L. Henry, Transferring the Presidency. Ralph M. Goldman's study of opposition party leadership, scheduled for 1961, will also be a part of this series.

It is possible to use, and also add to, this substantial base in examining the political events of 1960-61. The book here proposed, of which several chapters would also be given initially as lectures, would do just that in an area of the utmost concern for the future of this country and of the world. The lectures will permit important developments to be flagged almost immediately, and as revised and supplemented by the additional chapters, the symposium will present a concise but reasonably comprehensive treatment to be put before the public by the time the second session of the incoming Congress convenes. The proposed chapter list follows; it is contemplated that nos. 1, 3, 5, 6, 7, 10 and 11, which are starred in the list, will probably be given as lectures.

Subjects

1. Selecting the Candidates*

In-party, out-party contrasts in the emergence of potential presidential and vice-presidential candidates; pre-convention campaigns and the role of the primaries; action at the conventions; the obligations and commitments with which the nominees took up their campaigns; the characteristics of the nominees; their preparation for the Presidency.

2. The National Conventions

Innovations in organization and procedure; the convention officers and their roles; the extent and character of organized committee work; effectiveness in performing the various convention functions; contributions of the conventions to the success of the nominees and of the parties.

3. The Party Compaigns*

The campaign posture produced in each party by the choice of nominees and other convention action; the presidential campaign organizations; relations with congressional and state campaigns; the major strategic decisions; the shape of the critical issues as they emerged; the functions performed by the campaigns and their effectiveness; the long-term consequences of the campaigns.

4. Financing the Parties and Campaigns*

The known facts about expenditures; their effects, if any, on the outcome of the election; innovations in fund-raising and their success; the roles of organized business and organized labor in financing the campaigns; the effects on party cohesion and effectiveness; the obligations incurred by winners and losers in financing the campaigns of 1960.

5. Mass Media Activities and Influence*

Mass media influences on the emergence and standing of the potential candidates; coverage of the conventions and the campaigns; major events in media use; fairness in reporting and apparent partisanship; influence on the nominating and electoral outcomes.

6. Analyzing the Elections Returns*

The outcomes of the 1960 elections for President, Congress, and the state governments; the size and distribution of the majorities; the factors presumably most important in the outcome; changes in the character and composition of each party's electoral support; apparent relationships to long-term shifts in electoral strength; the prospective consequences for the elections of 1962 and for the behavior of the government.

7. The Effects Abroad*

Reactions abroad by the press, public, and officialdom to the conventions, nominees, and campaign issues; maneuvering to take advantage of American weakness during a campaign period; the world impact of the election outcome.

8. The 87th Congress

Changes in the composition of the 87th Congress by comparison with the 86th; changes among the elective and seniority leaders of the new Congress; changes, if any, in rules, organization, and procedure; electoral outcomes and environmental changes that may tend to produce further change in the patterns of congressional behavior; the political orientation of the 87th Congress.

9. Leadership Problems in the Opposition Party

The leadership structure of the defeated party at the time of the election; reorganization of leadership after the election; the functions and status of the defeated candidate as titular leader; relationships between the leaders of the presidential and congressional wings of the party; action to accept or reject the Democratic Advisory Council of 1957-60 as a model; the initial outlook for out-party functioning during the first term of the new administration.

10. The New Administration*

Genetic origins of the new administration in the President's earlier associations and in his nominating and election campaign organizations; relationships with the outgoing administration between election and inauguration; Cabinet recruitment and preparations for the takeover; relations with the party in Congress; the extent and character of factional accommodation in composing the new administration; its programmatic commitments and leadership orientation.

11. The Problems of Political Change*

A concluding review of the ground covered in the whole series, partly to summarize and emphasize the highlights, even more in an attempt to interpret the experience as a whole in terms of its meaning for the future of the parties, the party system, and the government.

Buck, Pearl

OSCAR HAMMERSTEIN, 2ND

March 18, 1960

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Last May I was honored by a Dinner and Music Festival held on behalf of Welcome House. That evening is one of my most pleasant memories, and served to further the wonderful work of adoption which Welcome House does with such distinction.

It seems to me most fitting that its founder, Miss Pearl S. Buck, should receive recognition for the extraordinary work she has done for children and for international good will in building Welcome House to its present unique place among child adoption agencies.

Therefore, we are planning another gala evening, and I hope you will join me in sponsoring a Dinner in honor of Miss Buck to be held at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia on May 5th.

Mrs. Albert M. Greenfield has graciously agreed to serve as Chairman of this Dinner. Michael Ellis and my son, William Hammerstein, are arranging the evening's program which will be a delightful one. It is my hope that we may include you among our distinguished sponsors.

Sincerely,

Oscar Hammerstein

Oscar Hammerstein II

Dear Mr. Hammerstein:

Here is my name exactly as I wish to have it listed among the sponsors of the Dinner and Music Festival Honoring Pearl S. Buck in behalf of Welcome House, May 5, 1960 at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel.

Name _____

(Note: Formal Announcement listing Sponsors will go to the printer on April 1. Please respond promptly.)

Canadian Broadcast. Corp.

CANADIAN BROADCASTING CORPORATION

354 Jarvis Street
Toronto, Ontario

December 8, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
c/o CBS News
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York
U. S. A.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

This letter is to invite you to take part in a survey of world developments during 1960 which the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation is planning to broadcast on its national radio network towards the end of the year.

We are inviting distinguished citizens of many countries to offer their assessments of the year 1960, and of the important events and trends of that year. These contributions will take the form of fairly short reflective talks on each area, and it is our ardent hope that you will agree to contribute the item on the United States.

We are particularly interested in hearing your views on how the United States fared during 1960, both domestically and internationally. Did it emerge from 1960 in a stronger position than it entered the year, and what were the developments that affected its world position? On the domestic scene the big item, of course, was the election and its implications, and we would appreciate your thoughts about this.

I am reluctant to be more specific because what we want is a fairly personal essay, and too much direction might limit your own inclinations.

The duration of the talk should be about ten minutes, and the tape and script should reach me by December 20. For this we can pay a modest fee.

I do hope that you will be interested in this opportunity to speak directly to a Canadian audience, and that you will be able to accept our invitation. Please phone me collect in Toronto at WAlnut 5-3311 as soon as you can to let me know your decision.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours very truly,

Gordon Cullingham

Gordon Cullingham
Program Organizer
Public Affairs

Done 12/8/60

GC/am K.C.

V.R. Sorry can't do it — too many year end shows here — Will you call?

Capital Univ
Columbus, Ohio

January 21, 1960

Dear President Yochum:

Thank you for your gracious letter of January 15th inviting Mr. Murrow to deliver the commencement address at Capital University on June 6, 1960.

I regret that since Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and will be traveling abroad for most of the next six months, it will not be possible for him to accept. Thank you again for asking him.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

President H. L. Yochum
Capital University
Columbus 9, Ohio

Capital University

AN EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTION OF THE AMERICAN LUTHERAN CHURCH

COLUMBUS 9, OHIO
BELMONT 5-8611

January 15, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
C/o The Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York City

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The Senior Class of Capital University has selected you as its choice for the Commencement speaker on June 6, 1960. The Faculty has approved this selection at a recent meeting. We hope that you can find some way to fit this date into your schedule, unless you are out of the country at that time.

It has been our tradition at Capital to give the Senior Class the privilege of selecting the speaker for our University Commencement. As you might expect, these young people select persons who have demonstrated in their respective careers the qualities which they recognize as worthy of emulation. You might consider this a "Person to Person" talk to the more than two hundred young men and women who will be graduated at Capital University. No doubt your appreciation of what this service can mean to these young people on this significant occasion will be sufficient motivation to accept this invitation if your calendar permits. Our honorarium of $200 should cover your travel expenses and we will take care of any local hospitality you may desire.

Our procession forms at 9:30 a.m., the platform participants wearing academic regalia. Following the Commencement itself is our Luncheon for distinguished guests. You could plan on leaving at about two o'clock.

Capital is a typical liberal arts college, located in Bexley, a suburb of Columbus. Its church affiliation is Lutheran. Its present enrollment is approximately 1300. It was given a Charter by the Legislature of the State of Ohio in 1850 "....for the promotion of religion, learning and morality."

Among our recent Commencement speakers are: Dr. Flemming, Senator Lausche, Congressman Judd, Congressman Vorys, Cedric Foster. Approximately 2800 persons are in the audience on this occasion to give attentive hearing to the featured speaker.

May we hear from you at your earliest convenience? If you find it possible to be with us we will then forward further details.

Cordially yours in His service,

H. L. Yochum

H. L. Yochum, President.

HLY*alf

Carnegie Endowment for Internatl Peace

THE PRESIDENT AND TRUSTEES OF THE

CARNEGIE ENDOWMENT FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACE

HAVE THE HONOR TO INVITE

Mr. Edward R. Murrow

TO ATTEND AN ADDRESS BY

HIS EXCELLENCY, DR. ALBERTO LLERAS CAMARGO

PRESIDENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF COLOMBIA

ON

"THE AMERICAS AND THE SEARCH FOR PEACE"

TO BE FOLLOWED BY A RECEPTION

MONDAY, APRIL 11, 1960, 5:00 P.M.

IN THE CARNEGIE ENDOWMENT INTERNATIONAL CENTER

R.S.V.P.
OXFORD 7-3131

345 EAST 46TH STREET,
NEW YORK CITY

Catholic Actors Guild
Ent

September 20, 1960

Dear Mr. Philippe:

Thank you for your cordial letter.

I regret that I must decline your kind invitation to join your committee. My radio and television schedule is such that it leaves me no time to participate in committee work, no matter how infrequent the demands may be.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. C. C. Philippe
Hotel Commodore
Lexington Avenue & 42 Street
New York 17, New York

mcc

TELEPHONE: MURRAY HILL 6-6000

HOTEL Commodore
42ND STREET AT LEXINGTON AVENUE · NEW YORK 17, N.Y.

A ZECKENDORF HOTEL

C. C. PHILIPPE
EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

Mr

My dear Ed

I have undertaken to help our friends, Walter Kiernan and Pegeen Fitzgerald, with a Benefit Dinner Dance for the Catholic Actors Guild of America on Sunday, October 16 next.

What with the Protestant Actors Guild, the Jewish Theatrical Guild, The Lambs, and The Friars, the poor Catholic Actors get rather short shrift, and they are badly in need of funds.

This year a special award will be given in memory of the late Oscar Hammerstein, 2nd, and they will also honor Irene Dunne and the late Jack Kelly, and we would very much like to have you serve on the Committee and make up a table or two with your friends.

His Eminence, Francis Cardinal Spellman, is serving as Special Chairman of this affair, and we can promise you a very pleasant evening and very few speeches.

Looking forward to the pleasure of hearing from you, I am, with best personal regards

Yours

C. C. Philippe

P:pk

P.S. Tickets are $50 each and are fully tax deductible.

P.P.S. Sophie Tucker, Irving Berlin, and William Gaxton will also receive awards.

Carrie Chapman Catt Memorial Fund

December 8, 1960

Dear Mrs. Lee:

Many thanks for your letter of December 2nd and for your gracious words.

I greatly appreciate your kind invitation to participate in the conference being held by the Carrie Chapman Catt Memorial Fund on January 17th and very much regret that I cannot accept. The fact is that my radio and television commitments for the next months are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake any extracurricular activities no matter how tempting they may be.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. John Glessner Lee, President
Carrie Chapman Catt Memorial Fund, Inc.
1026 Seventeenth Street, N. W.
Washington 6, D. C.

ERM:gw

CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT MEMORIAL FUND, INC.

A Research and Educational Fund created by The League of Women Voters of The United States

1026 SEVENTEENTH STREET, N. W. • WASHINGTON 6, D. C. • NAtional 8-0460

December 2, 1960

DIRECTORS

MRS. JOHN GLESSNER LEE
President

MRS. ROBERT F. LEONARD
1st Vice-President

MRS. MAURICE S. GOODMAN
2nd Vice-President

MRS. WALTER E. NEALE
Secretary

MRS. DONALD F. BISHOP
Treasurer

MR. ALBERT E. ARENT
MRS. WILLARD BARBER
DR. DONALD C. BLAISDELL
MRS. EDWARD M. BOYNE
MRS. JOHN P. CUNNINGHAM
MRS. JOHN GILLIN
MRS. DANIEL E. KOSHLAND
MRS. LUIGI PETRULLO
MRS. DURWARD V. SANDIFER
MRS. EARLE V. SIMRELL

MEMBERS

MR. FRANK ALTSCHUL
MRS. WERNER J. BLANCHARD
MRS. EDWARD M. BOYNE
MRS. JOHN D. BRISCOE
MRS. JOHN A. CAMPBELL
MRS. EMIL T. CHANLETT
MRS. LeMON CLARK
MRS. A. J. FOY CROSS
MRS. EARLE R. CUMMINGS
MRS. JOHN P. CUNNINGHAM
MRS. HAROLD D. DYKE
MRS. GEORGE GELLHORN
MRS. MAURICE S. GOODMAN
MISS FLORENCE HARRISON
MRS. PAUL HOLMER
MRS. DONALD HUTCHINSON
MRS. MARC A. LAW
MRS. JOHN GLESSNER LEE
MRS. MOSES H. LURIE
MRS. BURNETT MAHON
MRS. RUSTIN McINTOSH
MRS. ALLAN C. G. MITCHELL
MRS. CHARLES V. MORRIS
MR. JOHN B. OAKES
MRS. LUIGI PETRULLO
MRS. ROBERT J. PHILLIPS
MRS. CARL S. SHOUP
DR. GEORGE SHUSTER
MRS. EARLE V. SIMRELL
MRS. DeWITT STETTEN
MRS. VERNON STONEMAN
MISS ANNA LORD STRAUSS
MRS. ROBERT J. STUART
MISS BARBARA STUHLER
MRS. C. SMITH TOMS
MRS. ALEXANDER A. TREUHAFT
MRS. ARTHUR E. WHITTEMORE
MISS ALDA WILSON
MRS. WILLIAM H. WOOD
DR. QUINCY WRIGHT

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 17, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

It is ever so nice to know that you are back at CBS and we are likely to see and hear more of you than we did last year when we caught a fleeting glimpse only on Sunday afternoons. In fact we have the temerity to hope not only that we will see you on television but perhaps in person.

On January 17, 1961 at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco the Carrie Chapman Catt Memorial Fund will hold the second of two conferences devoted to the role of the United Nations in promoting peace through world economic development. Although this is the general theme of the conference our main emphasis will be on communications: how to get somewhat beyond the committed and the semi-committed in our communities and how to deepen the interest and increase the effectiveness of those people in the community who are already concerned.

We believe from reading your speeches on the subject that you could not only give us a realistic picture of the role of the mass media and the desirability for interpretive coverage of the news of the United Nations even during those periods when none of the leading actors on the international scene choose the United Nations for their stage, but you could also play up the communicator's need for someone to whom to communicate. We are well aware that the mass media cannot talk or write or even show pictures into a vacuum. It seems to us that you do better than almost anyone else in arousing interest where none seems to have been before but that all media are benefited by having someone help plow the fields of public opinion which radio, television, newspapers and magazines can then help to sow.

NEW YORK OFFICE: 5225 SYCAMORE AVENUE, NEW YORK 71 • KI 9-6566

Contributions to the Fund are Deductible for Income Tax Purposes

We believe that you would be the very best person we could possibly ask to make this connection - this partnership - between interested individuals and groups on the one hand and the mass media on the other very clear. This we would like to have you do to open our conference in a presentation of about half an hour.

Later in the day's program we would like to have you participate again, but before I explain the second thing we would like to have you do, let me sketch in the total program as well as give you a little background about the conference, and the Carrie Chapman Catt Memorial Fund which is sponsor. As you may know the CCCMF is a Research and Educational Fund created by the League of Women Voters. The conference in San Francisco is being made possible by a grant received from the Institute for International Order to the CCCMF and is designed as a send-off for a nation-wide project in building greater individual and community understanding of the United Nations. The San Francisco Conference will be attended by leaders of local and state Leagues from Oregon, Washington, Colorado, Utah, Alaska, Hawaii, and Northern California. The conference will be announced and open to public and press and we expect about 300 people to attend.

To get back to the program for the conference: first, we would like to have your presentation as outlined above. This would be followed by the showing of two films which are being prepared especially for this project by the United Nations television section in cooperation with the National Educational Television and Radio Center. These two films will have been tried out both on television and elsewhere before the conferences so in addition to their showing we will have a discussion of the way in which they will be used in various communities by the people who have already used them.

Then either at lunch or early in the afternoon we will have a topnotch speaker on the subject of the United Nations and World Economic Development. The speech will do two things: provide information, inspiration and motivation for those who are at the conference and serve as the focus for discussion by a panel of communications experts and a minister on how each of them would take the ideas put forth in the speech and handle them in their particular medium.

We hope you will be willing to participate in this panel as well as deliver the kick-off presentation for us.

This sounds as if we are asking a great deal of you, which, indeed we are. Having followed your career for years we believe that this kind of assignment is tailor made to your considerable talents and that you will not only be able to start it off on the right foot but make a solid contribution to the ideas which the conference delegates will take back to their home communities and put to work. We are asking you to do this as a public service, but we will of course pay your expenses. We hope you will be able to be with us.

Sincerely,

Percy Maxum Lee
by mg

Mrs. John Glessner Lee
President

Chagla, Ambas. of India

सत्यमेव जयते

The Ambassador of India and Mrs. Chagla

request the honour of the company of

Mr. and Mrs. Murrow

at a reception

on Wednesday, the sixth of July

at 6.30 - 8.30 o'clock

R.S.V.P.
Social Secretary

2700 Macomb Street

Chinese Ambassador

The Chinese Ambassador

requests the pleasure of the company of

Mr. Murrow

at lunch on Thursday, November the tenth at half past twelve o'clock

R.S.V.P.
2311 Massachusetts Avenue

Chinese Embassy
3225 Woodley Road, N.W.

Chrysler Corp.

CHRYSLER CORPORATION

Detroit 31, Michigan

December 2, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

NO

Dear Mr. Murrow,

Coming soon.....

Probably not the first...nor the last...Christmas party of the year, but certainly, (he said modestly) the best! The only Christmas decorations around will be the red of our budget after the party and the green of some of the faces of our guests. It's not that we don't like Santa Claus and jingle bells. But we don't want anything to detract from the vital reason for the party--namely: An opportunity for you to relax and visit with your friends in the radio, television and newsreel game (and of course with some of the forward-looking gang from Chrysler Corporation.)

THE DATE - Tuesday, December 13, 1960

THE TIME - 5 P. M. to 9 P. M.

THE PLACE - Library*, Biltmore Hotel, New York City

For goodness sake, mark the date now. And come early!

Best regards,

Howard Back

Howard Back, Manager
Motion Picture, Radio & TV Service

HB:fn

*This is probably the only Library in New York where you can't find a book. But you can find such things as scotch and soda, gin and tonic, and a light evening buffet.

Chrysler Corp.
Eng Dec

October 5, 1960

Dear Mr. Back:

Many thanks for your kind letter of September 29th inviting me to your Radio-Television News Directors Association cocktail party on Friday, October 7th at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel in Montreal.

Unfortunately, due to a previous commitment for that date, I shall not be able to accept.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely,

Mr. Howard Back
Chrysler Corporation
Detroit 31, Michigan

CHRYSLER CORPORATION

Detroit 31, Michigan

September 29, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow,

If you'll be in Montreal next week for the annual convention of the Radio-Television News Directors Association, I hope you'll reserve the early part of the evening of Friday, October 7th.

At that time Chrysler Corporation will once again play host to broadcast newsmen from the United States and Canada for cocktails, dinner and a bit of entertainment.

The place is the Grand Salon of the Queen Elizabeth Hotel in Montreal. The time.....6:30 p.m. I hope you'll be able to visit with us then.

Best regards,

Howard Back

Howard Back, Manager
Motion Picture, Radio & TV Service

HB:fn

City Club

March 30, 1960

Dear Mr. Klein:

Thank you for your gracious letter of March 22nd inviting Mr. Murrow to attend the 1960 City Club Anvil Revue on Saturday evening, April 23rd.

I regret very much that it will not be possible for Mr. Murrow to accept, since he is traveling abroad and is not expected to return to the States until June or July.

Thank you again for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Howard B. Klein, President
The City Club
712 Vincent Avenue
Cleveland 14, Ohio

THE CITY CLUB

712 VINCENT AVENUE • CLEVELAND 14, OHIO • TELEPHONE MAin 1-0082

OFFICERS
Howard B. Klein, President
Allen Y. King, Vice President
Don H. Ebright, Treasurer
Wm. E. Sanborn, Secretary

DIRECTORS
George H. Barber
Wright Bryan
Richard H. Cutting
Wm. R. Daley
Don H. Ebright
Dr. S. O. Freedlander
Allen Y. King
Howard B. Klein
Julian Krawcheck
Andrew Pangrace
Robert H. Rawson
Malcolm B. Vilas

March 22, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York City, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Subject: The 1960 City Club Anvil Revue
47th Edition
Time: Saturday Evening, April 23, 1960
8:15 P.M.
Place: The Hanna Theater, Playhouse Square
Cleveland, Ohio
Object: Your presence as one of our Special Guests

Yes, it's Anvil Revue time at the City Club and, in the spirit of established tradition, again we are inviting those citizens whose accomplishments and talents have kept them in the public eye. From those who have had the privilege of hearing Ben Sapp and his worthy aides pierce camouflage with their microscopic words and songs of priceless parodies, we know you cannot afford to miss this treat.

The happenings of the past year and the portent of the presidential election are vital reasons for your appearance, plus the fact, of course, that you yourself will be colorfully portrayed.

We extend to you our most cordial invitation to attend this annual Revue as our Special Guest. May we have the pleasure of your company?

Sincerely

Howard B Klein

President

A CITADEL OF FREE SPEECH

Clinton, Tennessee

September 16, 1960

Dear Messrs. Brown and Gamble:

Many thanks for your cordial invitation to the Appreciation Dinner at the Clinton High School Cafeteria on Saturday, September 24th at 7 o'clock.

I regret that it will not be possible for me to attend due to a prior engagement.

Sincerely yours,

Clinton, Tennessee
September 9, 1960

Gentlemen:

The Clinton story needs no introduction to either of you but the news that the new Clinton High School building was put into operation with the beginning of the present term may not as yet have reached your ears; so, it is with pride and appreciation that the enclosed invitation is extended to you. Our principal speaker for the occasion will be Drew Pearson.

While we are aware of how busy your schedule may be, we do indeed hope that you will be able to be with us.

Sincerely yours,

Edwin Brown
President Clinton High School PTA

R M. Gamble
President Clinton Council of Civic Clubs

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Mr. Fred W. Friendly
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue - Room 1703
New York, N. Y.

FYI Regrets

The Clinton High School PTA

and

The Clinton Council of Civic Clubs

cordially invite you to an Appreciation Dinner

at the

Clinton High School Cafeteria

Saturday, September 24, 1960

at 7 o'clock

R. S. V. P.

Coleman - McLaughlin
C. L.

August 29, 1960

Dear Miss McLaughlin:

Mr. Murrow was in the office very briefly at the end of last week and asked me to send you his reply to your cordial letter of August 16th.

Mr. Murrow very much regrets that he is unable to make the recording described in your letter, but his radio and television commitments for the next few months are such that he has had to decide to devote himself to that side of his work and not undertake any extracurricular activities.

Thank you for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

Miss Jo Ann McLaughlin
Coleman-McLaughlin Artists Bureau
Penthouse - 1002 Walnut
Kansas City 6, Missouri

Coleman - McLaughlin Artists Bureau

August 16, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
c/o CBS News
485 Madison Ave.
New York City 22, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

One of our historical Kansas towns has a park Memorial to Horace Greeley and the old stage-coach days that is becoming a tourist attraction.

They would like to use a recording of the historical story with your voice.

Would you be interested in making such a recording, if we sent you the script?

Will appreciate hearing from you about this, and, also, how much you would charge to make the recording, if interested.

Look forward to hearing from you.

Best wishes,

Jo Ann McLaughlin

Jo Ann McLaughlin
Penthouse - 1002 Walnut
Kansas City 6, Missouri

JAM:nlh

1002 Walnut — Kansas City 6, Mo. — Victor 2-5196

Earl Coleman Personalized Entertainment Service Jo Ann McLaughlin

CLASS OF SERVICE
This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION
TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

SF-1201 (4-60)

SYMBOLS
DL = Day Letter
NL = Night Letter
LT = International Letter Telegram

Coleman Val

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is LOCAL TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is LOCAL TIME at point of destination

1960 OCT 19 PM 2 40

Eng dec

ARA265 AR-NF156
PD BZ NEW·YORK·NY 19 1122A EDT
ED MURRO
580 PARK AVE NYK
YOU AREMOST CORDIALLY INVITED TO ATTEND THE PREMIER OF JOH WAYNE'S THE ALAMO AT THE RIVOLI THEATRE WEDNESDAY EVENING OCTOBER 26TH AT 8:30PM AS A GUEST OF UNITED ARTISTS.THE PREMIER IS IN HONOR OF DR.TOM DOOLEY FOUNDER OF MEDICO.PLEASE R. S. V. P. BEST REGARDS
VAL COLEMAN UNITED ARTISTS CORP CI 5-6000.

NO

College of the Pacific
ed

December 14, 1960

Dear Mr. Wheatley:

Many thanks for your gracious letter of December 5th.

I greatly appreciate your invitation to speak at the College of the Pacific in March and very much regret that I cannot accept. My radio and television commitments for the coming year are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake any extracurricular activities no matter how tempting the occasion.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Horace Wheatley, Chairman
College YMCA-YWCA
Anderson Y Center
College of the Pacific
Stockton 4, California

ERM:gw

COLLEGE YMCA-YWCA
ANDERSON Y CENTER
COLLEGE OF THE PACIFIC

STOCKTON 4, CALIFORNIA HOward 2-7314

MEMBER OF REGIONAL AND NATIONAL STUDENT YMCA AND YWCA COUNCILS — PARTICIPANT IN STOCKTON UNITED CRUSADE

Richard Stichler
STUDENT CABINET PRESIDENT

DR. HAROLD S. JACOBY
PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD

Norman F. Gustaveson
EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

December 5, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

We are writing on behalf of the 'Leaders of America' Committee of the College of the Pacific's student YM-YWCA. It is our hope that you will consider an invitation to be this year's speaker. The tentative dates are March 6-10, 1961.

The purpose of our program is to introduce men of prominence in their field of work to the college community, so as to stimulate thought and concern for world problems. The philosophy of this program embodies the feeling that the academic institution is a market place of free thought. We would appreciate your contributions to this exchange of ideas.

In very brief outline, the format of the 'Leaders' program will be two or three major talks on the present state of world affairs. The rest of the program will concentrate on informal small group discussions where students can confront important issues and ideas of our day as they are expressed in the lives and thought of outstanding Americans.

However, we realize that this letter is all too brief an explanation of this program. If it is possible for you to consider the invitation, perhaps we could call you soon, and at that time further details of the invitation may be explained.

Sincerely,

Steven Wishny

Horace Wheatley
Chairman

Steve Wishny
Sec'y for the Committee

hh

Columbia U. Alumni Assoc. of Israel

December 23, 1960

Dear Miss Schleifer:

Many thanks for your recent letter.

I greatly appreciate your kind invitation to address the distinguished friends and members of the Columbia University Alumni in the City of New York and very much regret that I cannot accept. The fact is that my radio and television commitments for the next months are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake to make any speeches no matter how tempting the occasion.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Miss Ida Schleifer
Columbia University Alumni Association of Israel
40, H'Shoftim Street
Tel Aviv, Israel

ERM:gw

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF ISRAEL

40, H'SHOFTIM STREET, TEL-AVIV, ISRAEL, TELEPHONE: 25895

HONORARY COMMITTEE:
DEAN, JACK ARBOLINO
DR. RALPH J. BUNCHE
ARTHUR W. BROWN
CONGRESSMAN EMANUEL CELLER
JUSTICE, WILLIAM O. DOUGLAS
DR. GEORGE W. HIBBIT
EMIL K. ELLIS
PROF. ABRAHAM KAPLAN
PROF. JOSEPH KAPLAN
H. E. EDWARD R. LAWSON
DEAN, CLIFFORD L. LORD
DR. MAX NUSSBAUM
DR. MILICENT MAC'INTOSH
MILAN ROVEN
PROF. ERNEST G. OSBORNE
EDWARD R. MURROW
MRS. OGDEN REID
ISRAEL ROGOSIN

COMMITTEE
IDA SCHLEIFER, FOUNDER AND PRESIDENT
DR. MICHAEL ALROY, VICE PRESIDENT
DRORA ZISKIND, SECRETARY
JEROME REICHSTEIN, TREASURER
TMIMA BAR-ILAN, CORESP. SECRETARY
REUBEN GOLDSTEIN, RECORD. SECRETARY

Dec. 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System Inc.
Exec. Office, 485 Madison Ave.,
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow,

Mrs. Rebecca Zieff, the President of Wizo made all preparations, together with the Association and myself, to tender a Reception, in your behalf, in Tel Mount, Ziff Estate, Israel.

Mrs. Z. said that she will not "run", after you... But I did come to New York, from Israel, after travel & lecture in Africa...

Will you please compensate us and adress the distinguished friends and members of Columbia University Alumni, in the City of New York. Please inform. Early January will be prefered.

Wishing you pleasant Hollydays, and Happy New Year

Shalom
Ida Schleifer

P. S. No Excuse would be accepted!..

N Y School of Social Work
Columbia Univ

THE ADVISORY COUNCIL AND FACULTY

of

THE NEW YORK SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK
COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

request the pleasure of your company

at the Induction of

DEAN P. FREDERICK DELLIQUADRI

on

FOUNDERS DAY, 1960
Tuesday, April Nineteenth

at

Four Thirty O'Clock

at

THE CHURCH OF THE HEAVENLY REST
Fifth Avenue at Ninetieth Street

R.S.V.P.

P. Frederick DelliQuadri

On February first, 1960, Mr. P. Frederick DelliQuadri became Dean of The New York School of Social Work, Columbia University. Mr. DelliQuadri assumes this responsibility after many years of distinguished service as an administrator in the field of Public Child Welfare. Since 1950 he has been the Director of the Division for Children and Youth of the Wisconsin State Department of Public Welfare. During this period he held a lectureship in the Medical School and the School of Social Work in the University of Wisconsin.

He is recognized as an outstanding authority in the field of child welfare and serves as a member of several national and international committees dealing with governmental policy related to welfare services for children and youth.

Program

Presiding: Dr. Grayson K
President of the Universi

Invocation: Dr. John M. K
Chaplain of the Universi

Greetings: The Honorable Hunting
Chairman, Advisory Council, The New York

Her Excellency, Mrs. Agda Permanent Representative of to the United Nations

Address: The Honorable Arthur
Secretary of the Department of Health, Edu

Response: Dean P. Frederick D

Invitation to Reception: Mrs. Harol
Chairman of the Committee on Ar

Reception in the Faculty Lou
The New York School of Social

m

AYSON KIRK University

M. KRUMM
University

UNTINGTON GILCHRIST
ew York School of Social Work

Agda Rössel
tive of Sweden Nations

ARTHUR S. FLEMMING
lth, Education and Welfare

RICK DELLIQUADRI

HAROLD T. WHITE
e on Arrangements

ulty Lounge of Social Work

The Advisory Council

The New York School of Social Work

The Honorable Huntington Gilchrist, Chairman

Mrs. Louis A. Abramson
Archie E. Albright
Mrs. Leonard H. Bernheim
Mrs. George E. Brewer, Jr.
Winslow Carlton
Richard W. Condon
Mrs. Paul Cushman
Lester D. Egbert
The Honorable Walter S. Gifford
Richard G. Gould
Lester B. Granger
Mrs. Morris Hadley
Mrs. Frederick M. Heimendinger
Miss Jane M. Hoey
Robert Louis Hoguet
Marion E. Kenworthy, M. D.
Carl M. Loeb, Jr.
Louis M. Loeb
V. Theodore Low
Robert M. Morgenthau
Robert H. Mulreany
Jerome A. Newman
Bayard F. Pope
Herbert H. Rummel
Ralph E. Samuel
Frederick Sheffield
George E. Warren
Mrs. Harold T. White

EX OFFICIO

The Honorable James R. Dumpson
The Honorable Raymond W. Houston

COMMITTEE ON ARRANGEMENTS

Mrs. Harold T. White, Chairman

Professor Virginia S. Bellsmith
Mrs. George E. Brewer, Jr.
Mrs. Paul Cushman
Professor Samuel Finestone
Robert Louis Hoguet
Professor Clara A. Kaiser
Marion E. Kenworthy, M. D.

Columbia Un. Sch. Journalism
Org Ale

Columbia University
in the City of New York

NEW YORK 27, N.Y.
GRADUATE SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM
OFFICE OF THE DEAN

NO

September 29, 1960

Dear Ed:

It gives me great pleasure to invite you to attend the annual Maria Moors Cabot Awards dinner and ceremonies which are being held on Thursday, November 10.

The Cabot Prizes, awarded annually to outstanding journalists who have contributed to inter-American friendship and solidarity, will be announced on Monday, November 7.

Cocktails, dinner* and the Convocation will be held this year in the Rotunda of Low Memorial Library. Cocktails will be served at 6:00 p.m. followed by dinner at 7:00. Your promptness is kindly requested. The Convocation and awarding of the Prizes will follow the dinner.

Our guests will be extended parking privileges on College Walk (116 Street between Broadway and Amsterdam Avenue) and on West 116 Street between Amsterdam Avenue and Morningside Drive.

A reply card is enclosed for your convenience. We look forward to welcoming you and Mrs. Murrow.

Cordially,

Ed

Edward W. Barrett

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Enclosure

*Black tie

Above sounds stuffy but the affair isn't bad.

Maria Moore Cabot awards
Eng file

Columbia University in the City of New York

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM
OFFICE OF THE DEAN

August 26, 1960

Dear Ed:

The Maria Moors Cabot Awards Dinner and Convocation will be held this year on Thursday evening, November 10.

We sincerely hope that this evening is an open date on your calendar and that we may have the pleasure of welcoming you and Mrs. Murrow.

Further details will follow.

Cordially,

Edward W. Barrett

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Columbia Univ.
School of Journalism

September 21, 1960

Dear Sir:

Many thanks for your recent invitation to attend your reception for the Class of 1961 on Wednesday, September 28, 1960.

Unfortunately, I shall not be able to accept as I have a previous engagement on that date. I am sorry.

Thank you again for inviting me.

Sincerely,

Dean's Office
Columbia University
Room 501
Journalism Building
New York, New York

THE DEAN AND FACULTY

OF THE GRADUATE SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM

OF COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

REQUEST THE PLEASURE OF YOUR COMPANY

AT A

RECEPTION FOR THE CLASS OF 1961

ON WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1960

4:00 - 6:00 P.M.

JOURNALISM BUILDING

R.S.V.P. ROOM 501, JOURNALISM BUILDING

Columbia Univ.
School of Journalism

May 11, 1960

Dear Dean Barrett:

Thank you so much for your recent invitation to attend a reception in honor of the Graduating Class on Wednesday afternoon, June 1st.

I regret that it will not be possible for Mr. and Mrs. Murrow to accept, since they are not planning to return to New York before the beginning of July.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Dean Edward W. Barrett
Columbia School of Journalism
Columbia University
New York, New York

THE DEAN OF THE GRADUATE SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM AND MRS. EDWARD W. BARRETT
REQUEST THE PLEASURE OF YOUR COMPANY
AT A RECEPTION IN HONOR OF THE GRADUATING CLASS
ON WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON THE FIRST OF JUNE
ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED AND SIXTY
AMERICAN PRESS INSTITUTE CONFERENCE ROOM
THE JOURNALISM BUILDING
FOLLOWING THE COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES
4:00 to 6:00 P.M.

THIS INVITATION DOES NOT ADMIT TO THE COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Com. for Effective Use of the Internat'l Court

September 20, 1960

Dear Mr. Dechert:

Thank you for your cordial letter of September 2.

I regret that I must decline your kind invitation to join your committee. My radio and television schedule is such that it leaves me no time to participate in committee work, no matter how infrequent the demands may be.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Robert Dechert
Chairman
Committee for Effective Use of the International Court
36 West 44th Street
New York 36, New York

mcc

COMMITTEE FOR EFFECTIVE USE OF THE INTERNATIONAL COURT

By Repealing The Self-Judging Reservation

36 West 44th Street—New York 36, N. Y.

Sponsors

DILLON ANDERSON
Houston, Texas

DOUGLAS ARANT
Birmingham, Ala.

EUGENE D. BENNETT
San Francisco, Calif.

DAVID K. E. BRUCE
New Windsor, Md.

JOHN G. BUCHANAN
Pittsburgh, Pa.

BEN M. CHERRINGTON
Denver, Colo.

JAMES B. CONANT
New York, N. Y.

THOMAS K. FINLETTER
New York, N. Y.

JEFFERSON B. FORDHAM
Philadelphia, Pa.

ERWIN N. GRISWOLD
Cambridge, Mass.

ALFRED M. GRUENTHER
Washington, D. C.

MRS. ELIZABETH B. HEFFELFINGER
Wayzata, Minn.

ARTHUR N. HOLCOMBE
Duxbury, Mass.

EDWARD C. KING
Boulder, Colo.

GRAYSON L. KIRK
New York, N. Y.

BENJAMIN H. KIZER
Spokane, Wash.

JACOB M. LASHLY
St. Louis, Mo.

HENRY R. LUCE
New York, N. Y.

WILLIAM L. MARBURY
Baltimore, Md.

JOHN J. MCCLOY
New York, N. Y.

MRS. MILLICENT C. MCINTOSH
New York, N. Y.

ROBERT D. MURPHY
Corning, N. Y.

HOWARD C. PETERSEN
Philadelphia, Pa.

GEORGE N. SHUSTER
Stamford, Conn.

JOSEPH M. SNEE, S. J.
Washington, D. C.

CHARLES A. SPRAGUE
Salem, Oregon

HARRISON TWEED
New York, N. Y.

ARTHUR K. WATSON
New York, N. Y.

W. W. WAYMACK
Adel, Iowa

BETHUEL M. WEBSTER
New York, N. Y.

JOSEPH N. WELCH
Harwichport, Mass.

HENRY M. WRISTON
New York, N. Y.

LEARNED HAND
Honorary Chairman

ROBERT DECHERT
Chairman

WILLIAM T. GOSSETT
Treasurer

H. DAWSON MARTIN
Asst. Treasurer

TERENCE H. BENBOW
Secretary

September 2, 1960

K.C. No.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

This Committee was organized to support the efforts of many Americans to remedy the situation of our country under the Connally Reservation, adopted in 1946 in our adherence to the Court of International Justice.

The issue, of course, is whether at this time we, as leaders of the free world, will emphasize our reliance upon law rather than force in settlement of international disputes. The enclosed Statement sets this forth more fully.

May we include you as one of the Committee's distinguished sponsors? We shall only call upon you for advice and, perhaps, for help in specific situations. The importance to the nation of this question will be emphasized by the release of names of persons like you as believing that our "self-judging" reservation ought to be eliminated.

Whenever you can, we hope you will join our informal steering group at meetings in New York City. The issue will be much debated in forthcoming months. You may be interested in having more reprints of the enclosed article by William Hard in the June "Reader's Digest".

Most sincerely,

Robert Dechert

ROBERT DECHERT, Chairman
16th fl. 3 Penn Center Plaza
Philadelphia 2, Pa.

RD:eps
encls.

COMMITTEE FOR EFFECTIVE USE OF THE INTERNATIONAL COURT

By Repealing The Self-Judging Reservation

36 West 44th Street—New York 36, N. Y.

Sponsors

Dillon Anderson
Houston, Texas

Douglas Arant
Birmingham, Ala.

Eugene D. Bennett
San Francisco, Cal.

David K. E. Bruce
New Windsor, Md.

John G. Buchanan
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Ben M. Cherrington
Denver, Col.

James B. Conant
New York, N. Y.

Thomas K. Finletter
New York, N. Y.

Jefferson B. Fordham
Philadelphia, Pa.

Erwin N. Griswold
Cambridge, Mass.

Alfred M. Gruenther
Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Heffelfinger
Wayzata, Minn.

Arthur N. Holcombe
Duxbury, Mass.

Edward C. King
Boulder, Col.

Grayson L. Kirk
New York, N. Y.

Benjamin H. Kizer
Spokane, Wash.

Jacob M. Lashly
St. Louis, Mo.

Henry R. Luce
New York, N. Y.

William L. Marbury
Baltimore, Md.

John J. McCloy
New York, N. Y.

Mrs. Millicent C. McIntosh
New York, N. Y.

Robert D. Murphy
Corning, N. Y.

Howard C. Petersen
Philadelphia, Pa.

George N. Shuster
Stamford, Ct.

Joseph M. Snee, S. J.
Washington, D. C.

Charles A. Sprague
Salem, Oregon

Harrison Tweed
New York, N. Y.

Arthur K. Watson
New York, N. Y.

W. W. Waymack
Adel, Iowa

Bethuel M. Webster
New York, N. Y.

Joseph N. Welch
Harwichport, Mass.

Henry M. Wriston
New York, N. Y.

LEARNED HAND
Honorary Chairman

ROBERT DECHERT
Chairman

WILLIAM T. GOSSETT
Treasurer

H. DAWSON MARTIN
Asst. Treasurer

TERENCE H. BENBOW
Secretary

Statement of Position

At the very time the United States is trying to win and hold the respect of uncommitted nations outside the Iron Curtain, it is continuing its recorded distrust of the International Court of Justice. At the very time the United States is trying to foster the rule of law among nations as the ultimate substitute for the rule of force, it is continuing its "self-judging" limitation on its adherence to the Court. Our Committee believes this limitation should be repealed.

The Basic Terms of Adherence. Our country's adherence to the Court was pursuant to a 1946 Senate resolution. The resolution repeated the provisions of the Statute creating the Court (part of the United Nations Charter) under which any country may accept the Court's jurisdiction as compulsory in disputes meeting these requirements: the dispute must be with another state accepting the same obligation, it must be a legal dispute, and it must concern either the interpretation of a treaty, or a question of international law, or the existence of any fact which would constitute a breach of an international obligation, or the reparation to be made for such breach.

In addition the Senate resolution, as introduced and unanimously approved by the Foreign Relations Committee, provided that the adherence should not apply to disputes on matters essentially within the domestic jurisdiction of the United States. This principle is implicit in the nature of international law and in the text of the Court Statute, and was already expressed in the United Nations Charter. It is just as important to other nations as to the United States. Its restatement in the resolution may have been unnecessary, but of itself would not have impaired our adherence to the Court in any way.

The "Self-Judging" Reservation. During the debate on the Senate floor, however, this provision was amended by adding eight final words, so that, as filed, our adherence to the Court did not apply to disputes with regard to matters which are essentially within the domestic jurisdiction of the United States of America "as determined by the United States of America." In other words, for deciding whether a matter is essentially within the domestic jurisdiction of the United States (and thus outside the jurisdiction of the Court), the United States substituted itself for the Court. By adding this "self-judging" reservation the United States reserved the power to prevent the Court from passing on the matter, and thus reserved to itself a complete veto as to what cases could be brought against it.

The Boomerang. The existence of a self-judging reservation in the adherence of any plaintiff country creates a like right for the defendant country (even though the defendant's own adherence contained none), because of the Statute's requirement that adhering nations accept the same obligation. Thus when France (which had a self-judging reservation) sued

(over)

Norway (which did not), the Court held that Norway could deny jurisdiction simply by announcing that in Norway's opinion the dispute was within Norway's domestic jurisdiction. Two years later (1959) France withdrew its self-judging reservation.

This boomerang effect of the self-judging reservation is probably its most serious aspect from the viewpoint of immediate economics. Thus foreign countries, despite their adherence without a similar reservation, can prevent the Court's passing on the validity of their taking of United States citizens' property or on the adequacy of any compensation proffered. The United States and the citizens it protects, who have a larger stake in foreign investment than any other country, can thus be deprived of their day in an international court.

Our Companions in Distrust. After the United States filed its adherence to the Court with a self-judging reservation, seven other countries adopted such self-judging reservations. France and India later dropped theirs, leaving such reservations now in effect by Mexico, Liberia, Union of South Africa, Pakistan, the Sudan and the United States. Including these, 38 nations have now accepted the Court's compulsory jurisdiction.

The Court is well constituted to earn respect. It has 15 judges, each elected for nine years, with five elected every three years. No two can be nationals of the same state. They are nominated by members of the Permanent Court of Arbitration, and elected by the United Nations General Assembly and Security Council (without any veto power). The Court has conducted itself conservatively, and given no indication of a desire to extend its jurisdiction. We may terminate our adherence to the Court by six months' notice.

Speaking of the Court in his State of the Union message of January 8, 1960, President Eisenhower said: "There is pending before the Senate a resolution which would repeal our present self-judging reservation. I support that resolution and urge its prompt passage." The Senate Foreign Relations Committee held hearings on this resolution (S. Res. 94), but deferred action.

Little to Lose. This Committee believes that the United States should withdraw its self-judging reservation, at once. The Court's compulsory jurisdiction would still not include disputes on matters essentially within our domestic jurisdiction, but the determination of whether a dispute involved such matters would be by the Court. Assuming that the United States would exercise the self-judging reservation only in good faith and not as an excuse to avoid defeat, our only risk in withdrawing the reservation would be that the Court in some future dispute would decide that the matter was not essentially within our domestic jurisdiction when we considered that it was. Based on the structure, history and prospects of the Court, this Committee believes that any harm to the United States from the acceptance of such a risk is most unlikely.

Much to Gain. The gains to the United States, however, from withdrawing the self-judging reservation, would be substantial and in the long run could be tremendous. With the reservation still on file, giving our country a veto power to prevent a decision of the Court, other countries are not prepared to assume that we will exercise the veto only in good faith. From their point of view our support for the Court is little better than that of the Iron Curtain countries, none of which has filed any adherence. We have put ourselves in the posture either of expecting to break our international obligations, or of being afraid to defend our conduct in court. We have prevented ourselves from showing the world the stark contrast between bona fide support of the Court, and the Iron Curtain countries' rejection of it.

If we Americans wish the governments of other countries to follow our lead in the arduous search for a way to the rule of law among nations, we must renounce the self-judging reservation. We must strike from the rolls our recorded distrust, and become a true adherent of the International Court of Justice.

A Reader's Digest
REPRINT

THE UNITED STATES IS IMPEDING WORLD LAW!

We believe in the "rule of law." Yet, one short phrase added by the Senate to a recent treaty effectively prevents this country from leading the world toward that goal

By William Hard

I WRITE THIS frankly to advocate the repeal of six words in a treaty of the United States having to do with the operations of the International Court of Justice of the United Nations. The six words are: "As determined by the United States."

In advocating their repeal I tread in august footsteps. President Eisenhower wants them repealed. So does Vice President Nixon. So does Secretary of State Herter. So does Attorney General Rogers. So does the American Bar Association under the leadership of one of its most eminent ex-presidents, Charles S. Rhyne of Washington, D. C.

But there is vehement opposition. It includes distinguished men like Frank Holman, another ex-president of the American Bar Association, Clarence Manion, ex-dean of the law school of Notre Dame University, and Raymond Moley, columnist for Newsweek.

Some extreme opponents to the repeal of the six words even say that President Eisenhower and all the other leading advocates are engaged in a "sinister plot" against the Constitution and against the independence of the United States. It is a fierce fight. Let us see how it began.

In 1946 the U. S. Senate was considering the acceptance by the United States of the "compulsory jurisdiction" of the International Court of Justice. Some 40 countries have accepted that jurisdiction. They agree to submit all their international-law disputes with other countries to the Court if those other countries have similarly agreed to do so. The United States is one of them. But with a catch!

The catch is in the word "jurisdiction." The United Nations is forbidden by its Charter to intervene in matters within the domestic jurisdiction of its members. So, consequently, is its legal organ, the International Court of Justice. Therefore, to hammer the nail completely down, the resolution before the Senate in 1946 specifically warned the Court to keep its hands off disputes "with regard to matters which are essentially within the domestic jurisdiction of the United States." The Senate Foreign Relations Committee thought that this act of caution was enough.

Senator Tom Connally of Texas did not agree. On August 1 of 1946 he took the floor and made a motion. It was overwhelmingly adopted. To the resolution before the Senate then were added the six words "as determined by the United States." This Connally reservation is called by its opponents "our American self-judging reservation."

What were its practical international consequences? The Connally reservation was adopted, in varying words, by eight other countries. One of them was France. Let us see what happened to France as a result.

France went to the International Court of Justice with a case against Norway. The Norwegian government and certain Norwegian banks had borrowed large sums of money from investors in France. When the French government undertook to press the claims of those investors against Norway, the Court pointed out that France, in declaring its acceptance of the Court's "compulsory jurisdiction," had excluded disputes within French domestic jurisdiction "as determined by the government of the French Republic."

"Well," said the Court, in effect, "if France can make such a reservation, Norway may now reciprocally make a similar reservation. Accordingly there is no case before the Court." So France was left holding the bag for its aggrieved investors.

The International Court of Justice does not seek political compromises. It seeks law. There are 15 judges, each serving for nine years. Nominations for judgeships are made by the "national groups" in the Permanent Court of Arbitration (established in 1889) at The Hague in the Netherlands. These national groups, including one from the United States, send their nominations to the United Nations in New York, which acts upon them through majority votes. A vigilant effort is made to spread the judgeships among the principal legal systems of the world. This effort, to date, has been very successful.

The present judges include one from the United States, four from Latin America, four from Western Europe, one from the Arab world, one from South Asia, one from Australia, one from Nationalist China, two from Communist countries (the Soviet Union and Poland). Certainly a wide spread.

No one has yet been able to show that international politics enter into any decisions of the Court. On that point a case worth reciting is the case of Britain against Iran.

Iran had shaken the whole world, including the United Nations, by expropriating the properties of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. Britain went to the Court, seeking redress. Thereupon Iran gave some international legal education to Britain—and incidentally to the United States—by claiming that the matter was entirely within its own domestic jurisdiction. The Court sustained Iran, dismissed Britain's case. On the Court there was a British judge, Sir Arnold McNair. Did he denounce the Court? He did not. He voted on the side of Iran. That's being a judge.

The record of the Court clearly indicates that it deserves international moral confidence in its field —the field of law. But some of its American friends grossly exaggerate what it can do in the world. They say such things as: "The world no longer has a choice between force and law. If civilization is to survive, it must choose law."

This sounds as if the Court could reach out and impose its decrees on every international problem in the world. Such talk naturally scares a lot of American patriots half to death. I assure them that the Court deals only with problems of an international legal character.

Consider the following questions: Should the United States recognize Communist China? Should the United States increase its loans and grants to India? How many refugees from oppression should the United States welcome to its shores? How many yards of British woolen goods should the United States admit to its domestic market?

There is not a shred of international law on any of these and similar questions unless and until the United States voluntarily makes them international questions by signing treaties about them.

But the Court can promote and confirm world peace in many large ways. There are scores of contentious treaty disputes in the world it could deal with. One involves the United States and Switzerland. Under an old treaty Swiss citizens resident in the United States are exempt from military conscription here. The Swiss government claims—with much alleged proof—that we nevertheless are today conscripting Swiss citizens into our armed forces. Swiss governmental officials express the view that it would be of no avail to take their claim to the International Court of Justice because the United States, upon arriving there, would simply say, under the Connally reservation, that the matter was solely a domestic matter, "as determined by the United States."

I inquire: Is the United States an honorable nation? I profoundly believe it is. Therefore, I think that we should earnestly request the Swiss government to take us to the International Court of Justice, there to plead our cause without benefit of any Connally-reservation subterfuge.

In maintaining our Connally reservation, we are now rather lonely. France, after losing its case against Norway, repealed its "Connally reservation." Similar reservations have also been repealed by Britain and by India. According to Secretary of State Herter there are now only six countries which, having gone through the form of accepting the Court's "compulsory jurisdiction," have nullified their acceptance by reservations. These countries are: the United States, Mexico, Liberia, the Sudan, the Union of South Africa, Pakistan.

But who can tell? Treaties are multiplying. Many countries, influenced by the example of the United States, might adopt "Connally reservations," if they find that compliance with those treaties begins to be inconvenient.

Every treaty is international law between and among the countries signing it. Our treaty of 1903 with Panama, for instance, giving us sovereignty over the Panama Canal Zone, is international law between Panama and the United States. We should not, by our example, give Panama any justification for suddenly declaring the Panama Canal Zone question a question within Panama's domestic jurisdiction "as determined by Panama."

It is to our interest, as well as to our honor as a law-respecting people, to support the sanctity of treaties and to uphold their binding force upon all signatories, including ourselves.

Vice President Nixon has pointed out the constantly expanding network of treaties regarding American investment and American trade in foreign countries. Those treaties need protection, the most authoritative protection possible. Mr. Nixon has thereupon wisely proposed that the United States and every country with which it makes any such treaty should pledge themselves jointly to take the interpretation of that treaty to the International Court of Justice for final and binding judgment.

We can start toward that end by adopting the current U.S. Senate Resolution 94. It leaves our 1946 acceptance of the International Court of Justice completely intact in all its terms about "domestic jurisdiction" but eliminates simply the "self-judging" six words.

Resolution 94 was introduced by Senator Humphrey of Minnesota, who is a determined Democrat, but it is earnestly supported by the present Republican Administration. Its passage requires a two-thirds majority. Much public support will be necessary to get that two thirds. It is not a partisan matter. Write your Senators, Democratic or Republican.

If the resolution is passed, we shall then, and only then, be in a position to address some cogent remarks to that apparently total disbeliever in world law, the Soviet Union.

On October 7, 1952, a U. S. military airplane was shot down by Soviet gunfire in the vicinity of northern Japan. We summoned the Soviet Union to the International Court of Justice and demanded damages. We claimed that our plane was flying legitimately over Japanese territory. The Soviet Union claimed that it was flying unlawfully over Soviet territory. But the Court did not proceed to public hearings in which the contestants could face each other. Why? Because the Soviet Union flatly refused to accept the Court's jurisdiction. We got no verdict and no damages.

Yet it was difficult for us, I think, to complain. The Soviet Union, in asserting that the incident took place over its own territory, was in effect asserting that the matter was within its own domestic jurisdiction—"as determined by itself." Under reversed circumstances might not we have been tempted to assert that the matter was within our own domestic jurisdiction—"as determined by the United States"?

The Soviet Union, nevertheless, is farther away from accepting the reign of law than we are. As a member of the United Nations, it is a party to the statute of the International Court of Justice and is eligible to have—and does have—a Soviet jurist on the bench of the Court. But it has never accepted the Court's compulsory jurisdiction even under such limitation as our Connally reservation.

At Geneva, Switzerland, five anti-Communist countries (headed by the United States) have been confronting five Communist countries (headed by the Soviet Union) in a great debate. The anti-Communist countries have presented a plan leading toward "total, permanent" disarmament. At the end of their plan they make a couple of obscure allusions to "international law." I venture a humble suggestion.

Let us put "international law" at the very beginning of our plan. Let us give "international law" a primary place in the negotiations at Geneva, and then let us say to the Soviet Union: "This treaty, if signed and put into operation, will be the most momentous treaty in the history of the world. It will inaugurate a new era for mankind. And it will be international law among all the countries that sign it. This has been the recognized rule ever since there have been treaties in existence.

"Now: Inevitably, when this treaty has gone into practice, there will be complaints of violations. Human nature remains imperfect and quarrelsome. What to do with these complaints? We shall have sworn not to settle them by force. The only alternative is to settle them by law.

"So: Will you and the countries allied with you pledge yourselves to let all such charges and accusations go to the International Court of Justice? Will you pledge yourselves to accept its decisions? You declaim against war. Will you accept peace? In the interpretation of this treaty will you accept law? If not, then all your oratory about the enactment of this treaty and about the observance of it is a web of elaborate mockery."

Such, I think, should be our language to the Soviet Union at Geneva. But we should remember the old legal maxim that he who seeks redress in a court should go there with h matter have a diction of Just on ma justice own ju questi disarm own d termin contin spect f cannot ward Senato

Reprinted from the June 1960 issue of Th
Copyright 1960 by The Reader's Digest Association, Inc. Pl with his hands clean. Ours, in this matter, are considerably soiled. We have accepted the "compulsory jurisdiction" of the International Court of Justice with a reservation which, on many occasions, could impede justice. We have made ourselves our own judge as to whether or not the questions bound to arise under any disarmament treaty are within our own domestic jurisdiction—"as determined by the United States." I continue to contend (with deep respect for Senator Connally) that we cannot effectively lead the world toward world law until we repeal the Senator's six words.

issue of The Reader's Digest n, Inc. Pleasantville, N. Y. Printed in U. S. A.

Community Service Soc.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE COMMUNITY SERVICE SOCIETY cordially invites you to attend a

"HATS OFF" RECEPTION

in honor of CSS Family Fund Campaign volunteers

Thursday, February 4th, 1960, 4:45 - 5:45 P.M.

The Pinnacle Club - Socony Mobil Building
150 East 42nd Street

R.S.V.P.

Congregation Am Echo

January 19, 1960

Dear Mrs. Winston:

Thank you for your gracious letter of January 12th inviting Mr. Murrow to speak in Waukegan this coming fall.

As you may know, Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and is traveling abroad. He will not be returning to the States for several months, and until his fall broadcasting schedule has been set up, I regret that it will not be possible for him to accept any engagements.

Thank you again for asking him.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mrs Burton Winston
910 Atlantic
Waukegan, Illinois

Women's Auxiliary of Congregation Am Echod
330 North Sheridan Road
Waukegan, Illinois

January 12, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York City, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Our Auxiliary is sponsoring The Am Echod Forum for the Seventh year in 1960-1961. This is not only a Temple program, but has become a Community project due to the outstanding personalities we have had in the past; namely Eleanor Roosevelt, Vincent Price, Harry Golden, Bennett Cerf, and many more. We would be honored to have you speak in Waukegan this coming season.

We would be most interested in the fall months of October-November, 1960 or March-April, 1961. We would appreciate hearing from you as soon as possible as to your fee and dates which are convenient to you.

Please address your replies to the undersigned at the address listed below. Thank you very much for your courtesy.

Very truly yours,

Mrs. Burton Winston

Mrs. Burton Winston
910 Atlantic
Waukegan, Illinois

Conn. Milk Producers

May 4, 1960

Dear Mr. Blakely:

Thank you for your gracious letter of April 22nd inviting Mr. Murrow to speak before the Connecticut Milk Producers Association in March, 1961.

As you may know, Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and is traveling abroad. He will not be returning to New York for some time, and until his fall broadcasting schedule has been set up, I regret that it will not be possible for him to accept any engagements.

Thank you again for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Ted Blakely, Director Field Service
Connecticut Milk Producers Association
990 Wethersfield Avenue
Hartford 14, Connecticut

Connecticut Milk Producers Association
990 Wethersfield Avenue, Hartford 14, Connecticut

April 22,1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
C. B. S. Television Network
New York, New York.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Being a member of our Association, I am very sure you are familiar with its operation, and, I hope, pleased to be marketing your milk through it.

In accordance with our by-laws, we hold an annual meeting each year on the second Tuesday in March. The morning session is devoted entirely to the business of the Association, with reports to the membership from the president, treasurer and manager. The evening session is a banquet to entertain the buyers of our milk, state officials, University personnel and friends. We usually have a speaker for the banquet session, on any topic of interest (not necessarily the milk business).

It may be very presumptious of me, but I am sure the entire membership (1700), management, and all concerned, would be pleased and honored if you would consider being our speaker next year. I fully realize you have a very busy schedule; however, I thought if given a year's notice, you might be able to assure making our meeting an even bigger success.

The Association, of course, would be pleased to pay the expenses involved, such as travel and hotel expenses. Being a true cooperative, we do have a limited budget. Here in Connecticut, our annual meeting is looked upon as the highlight of the year in agriculture. We had about 850 present at this year's evening session.

I hope you will consider my invitation, and favor me with a reply.

Most respectfully,

Ted Blakely.

Ted Blakely, Director Field Service

tb;ac

The Cooper Union

THE COOPER UNION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF SCIENCE AND ART

cordially invites you to attend the one-hundredth anniversary celebration of Abraham Lincoln's "Right Makes Might" address given in the Great Hall of The Cooper Union on the evening of February 27, 1860, to be held at 8:45 p.m., February 27, 1960

in the Great Hall

Astor Place at Fourth Avenue and Eighth Street, New York City

R.S.V.P. Dress Informal

The program will include

Unveiling of a new portrait of Al

JOHN C. JOHANSEN, artist

Music of the Civil War Period

THE CALDWELL SINGERS

Lincoln's "Cooper Union Address"

A DRAMATIC READING

Address:

THE HON. EVERETT M. DI
United States Senator from Illinc

nclude

it of Abraham Lincoln artist

riod

NGERS

Address"

NG

M. DIRKSEN

rom Illinois

Eng Dept
NO

COUGAR CLUB LUNCHEON

DATE: Wednesday, September 28, 1960
TIME: 12:00 O'clock Noon
PLACE: Roundup Room, Desert Hotel

A G E N D A

1. Showing of the WSU-Denver game movies.
2. Drawing for the trip to Phoenix with the team for the Arizona State game.
3. Amplified phone hook-up with Jim Sutherland.
4. Dave Holmes, North Central coach, will be with us to chat about his football team.

See you Wednesday!

Jerry Camp, President

Council for Financial Aid

MURRAY HILL 2-3410

COUNCIL FOR FINANCIAL AID TO EDUCATION, INC.

SIX EAST FORTY-FIFTH STREET · NEW YORK 17, N.Y.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

IRVING S. OLDS
CHAIRMAN, BOARD OF DIRECTORS
NEW YORK, N. Y.

FRANK W. ABRAMS
CHAIRMAN, EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
NEW YORK, N. Y.

FRANK H. SPARKS
PRESIDENT
NEW YORK, N. Y.

COURTNEY C. BROWN
TREASURER
NEW YORK, N. Y.

NORMAN P. AUBURN
AKRON, OHIO

LAIRD BELL
CHICAGO, ILL.

JAMES B. BLACK
SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF.

HARRY A. BULLIS
MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

EVERETT CASE
HAMILTON, N. Y.

WALKER L. CISLER
DETROIT, MICH.

MARGARET CLAPP
WELLESLEY, MASS.

WILSON COMPTON
WASHINGTON, D. C.

ARTHUR G. COONS
LOS ANGELES, CALIF.

MARSHALL B. DALTON
BOSTON, MASS.

W. PATRICK DONNELLY, S.J.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

WALTER D. FULLER
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

G. KEITH FUNSTON
NEW YORK, N. Y.

A. CRAWFORD GREENE
SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF.

HARLAN H. HATCHER
ANN ARBOR, MICH.

DAVID D. HENRY URBANA, ILL.

THOMAS W. MARTIN
BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

WALTER P. PAEPCKE
CHICAGO, ILL.

HENNING W. PRENTIS, JR.
LANCASTER, PA.

GWILYM A. PRICE
PITTSBURGH, PA.

ALFRED P. SLOAN, JR.
NEW YORK, N. Y.

FRANK STANTON
NEW YORK, N. Y.

WILLIAM E. STEVENSON
OBERLIN, OHIO

DE WITT WALLACE
PLEASANTVILLE, NEW YORK

ROBERT E. WILSON
CHICAGO, ILL.

ROBERT W. WOODRUFF
ATLANTA, GA.

LAURA BARRETT
SECRETARY AND ASSISTANT TREASURER

ELDREDGE M. HILLER
VICE PRESIDENT -
PUBLIC INFORMATION

KENNETH G. PATRICK
VICE PRESIDENT - CORPORATE RELATIONS

JOHN A. POLLARD
VICE PRESIDENT - RESEARCH

FRANCIS C. PRAY
VICE PRESIDENT -
COLLEGE RELATIONS

HIGHER EDUCATION KEEP IT BRIGHT

February 11, 1960

Dear Mr. Murrow:

You are cordially invited to attend a special showing of a new 17-minute 16 mm animated film, in color, which we are just releasing. It will be shown promptly at 4:10 p.m. in the Biltmore Suite, Room 133 of the Biltmore Hotel, New York, on Friday, February 26 (south elevators). You are invited to stay for the brief reception and refreshments immediately following the showing.

As you will note from the enclosed release, the film has been prepared as a public service of the Council for Financial Aid to Education to assist colleges and universities in the vital task of cultivating the public toward obtaining more widespread support for their essential programs. We hope you or your representative will attend, and we look forward to seeing you.

Sincerely,

Eldredge Hiller
Vice President
Public Information

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Council on For. Rel.
Log dec

COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS, INC.

THE HAROLD PRATT HOUSE 58 EAST 68TH STREET
NEW YORK 21, N. Y.

Regrets

To meet

His Excellency Mongi Slim
Permanent Representative of Tunisia at the United Nations

THE COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS

requests the pleasure of your presence at an afternoon meeting at

The Harold Pratt House
58 East Sixty-eighth Street

Thursday afternoon, October Twenty-seventh at five-fifteen o'clock

Mr. Eli Whitney Debevoise

Presiding

Subject of Discussion:
ISSUES IN THE CONGO CRISIS.

Please mail the enclosed card if you plan to attend.

Tea will be served at 5:15 o'clock

The meeting will be off-the-record

Council on For. R
E

COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS, INC.
THE HAROLD PRATT HOUSE 58 EAST 68TH STREET
NEW YORK 21, N. Y.
CABLE ADDRESS: FORAFFAIRS, NEW YORK

September 14, 1960

NOTICE TO MEMBERS

The annual general meeting of the Council on Foreign Relations will be held at 3:00 P.M. on Thursday, October 13, 1960, at 58 East 68th Street, New York, for the election of Directors of the class of 1963.

The following gentlemen have been nominated for Directors by the Nominating Committee:

Elliott V. Bell
Allen W. Dulles
William C. Foster
R. C. Leffingwell
Walter H. Mallory
John J. McCloy
Philip D. Reed

A formal proxy is enclosed. In case you approve of this slate, it is requested that you fill in and return to me this proxy with the understanding that I shall cast your vote for the election of the above nominees.

Very truly yours,

George S. Franklin, Jr.

George S. Franklin, Jr.
Executive Director

Enclosure

Sent proxy

eng dec
County of Los Angeles

July 20, 1960

Mr. Hunt Lewis
County of Los Angeles Commission on Human Relations
1851 South Westmoreland Avenue
Los Angeles 6, California

Dear Mr. Lewis:

Your gracious letter of July 5 to Mr. Murrow has arrived during his absence from New York. He is at present in Chicago for the Republican Convention.

Unfortunately, Mr. Murrow has had to establish a blanket rule against accepting speaking engagements, however attractive they may be, due to the pressure and uncertainty of his CBS commitments. Thank you so much for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES
COMMISSION ON HUMAN RELATIONS
1851 SOUTH WESTMORELAND AVENUE
LOS ANGELES 6
RICHMOND 8-6561, EXT. 210

*HUNT LEWIS
CHAIRMAN

*MRS. EDMOND M. LAZARD
HONORARY CHAIRMAN

VICE CHAIRMEN
*DR. VADA SOMERVILLE
*FRANK F. CHUMAN

SECRETARY
*STANLEY LARSON

REV. WILLIAM J. BARRY
JOE G. CASTILLO
LOUIS V. COLE
FRANK T. COTTER
HENRY W. DAVIS
EGBERT HAYES
*DR. IRENE T. HEINEMAN
*MRS. JOYCE JACOUBOWSKY
MRS. HIDEO KODANI
THOMAS J. MCDERMOTT
FELIX ONTIVEROS
MRS. GLADYS L. POTTER
*LEON SHAPIRO
CLAYTON R. SMITH
MRS. GJERTRUD SMITH
MRS. A. KENNETH SPENCER
MRS. MEYER PRICE STERN
REV. DANIEL L. TOWLER
DR. FORREST WEIR
*RABBI ALFRED WOLF

*EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

JOHN A. BUGGS
EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

July 5, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Ave.
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

In your broadcasts you have made it very clear that you understand the preeminent importance to America today of the problems of intergroup relations, not only as they concern the internal affairs of our nation, but particularly as they affect our position in the eyes of the world. For sixteen years, both as a Committee, and for the last two years as an official Commission of County government, the Los Angeles County Commission on Human Relations has been working with this problem in what we consider the most mixed and cosmopolitan urban complex of our nation.

It is for this and other reasons that we should like to extend to you our invitation to deliver the main address at our Sixteenth Annual Meeting. If you are to be in Los Angeles at any time from mid-September to mid-October we would feel highly honored to have you with us. In the past the meeting has been held as a breakfast at 8:30 a.m., but we would be happy to change this to a dinner meeting on any date during this period at your convenience.

We would expect an audience of between five hundred and one thousand of the civic leaders of the entire community, particularly those who have been most active in this field. They would be thrilled, I know, to hear your thoughts on the crucial importance of the problems of human relations. We consider you one of the best-informed and most authoritative experts in this field.

We cannot provide funds for an occasion of this kind, not even, unfortunately, for travel or expenses, but we hope that a trip to our area may be in your schedule at that time of the year. If you could find it possible to accept this invitation, we feel it would give tremendous impetus to a most important work.

Thank you very much for your consideration of this matter.

Sincerely,

Hunt Lewis

Hunt Lewis
Chairman

HL.ld

Cusack, Mary A

February 2, 1960

Dear Miss Cusack:

Thank you for your gracious letter of January 27th, which was received here in Mr. Murrow's absence.

As you may know, Mr. Murrow is on a year's sabbatical. He has been traveling abroad and will not be returning to the States for several months. I am sorry to disappoint you.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Miss Mary Ann Cusack
Department of English
Michigan State University Oakland Rochester, Michigan

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY OAKLAND

Rochester, Michigan

January 27, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Thank you again for your advice and participation in my doctoral dissertation, "Editorializing in Broadcasting." Your valuable time and expert knowledge of the subject which you shared with me on May 1, 1959, was greatly appreciated.

This is a request for an interview to be used as part of a research project, aided by an MSUO faculty grant, consisting of thirteen half-hour documentary radio programs and a series of articles analyzing the current attitudes of key men in the nation toward an ethic for broadcasting. I believe your attitude is essential in presenting a complete picture.

At the present a few network executives and advertising account men have the job of determining what a hundred million Americans will see every night in their homes. But the Federal Communications Commission has been charged with policing an industry earmarked "public interest" and involving billions of dollars. Why then were rigged TV quizzes, payola, and FTC investigations of false advertising the rule last year? Who will determine an ethic for broadcast programming in 1960? The FCC claims to have no authority over the networks. The advertising agencies claim to have no responsibility. The network executives claim to have no opportunity. The public claims to have no voice. If the answer to this dilemma in radio and TV ethics could be found, if the present sickness in such a sensitive area in our American communications system could be analyzed, an answer to society's deeper ills might be discovered. This promises to be one of the biggest issues of public morality of the year.

Men who have consented to take part in this present venture are John C. Doerfer, Chairman of the FCC; Robert Lishman, Chief Counsel of the House Legislative Oversight Subcommittee; Representative Oren Harris, Chairman of the Subcommittee; Sol Taishoff, President, Broadcasting Publications Incorporated; Dr. Walter B. Emery, former counsel for the FCC; and Roscoe Drummond.

I plan to be in New York the week of February 8 and would like an appointment with you anytime between February 8 and 10 to record the interview which will be part of the broadcast phase of this project. May I hear from you at your earliest convenience in order to plan a schedule since I respect the importance of your time?

Very truly,

Mary Ann Cusack

Mary Ann Cusack fal Department of English
1

Dallas Jr. C of C
Eng Lee

December 20, 1960

Dear Mr. Salter:

Thank you for your cordial letter of December 13th.

I regret that I will not be able to accept your kind invitation to speak at your luncheon on January 4th. The fact is that a ~~conflict~~ previous commitment in my schedule which calls for me to be in London from January 3rd through January 7th will keep me from attending and participating in the CBS panel discussion in Dallas.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Clyde Salter
General Chairman of Public Affairs
Dallas Junior Chamber of Commerce
300 Fidelity Union Tower
Dallas 1, Texas

ERM:gw

JAYCEES

DALLAS JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
300 FIDELITY UNION TOWER • DALLAS 1, TEXAS
RIverside 7-0077

C. RUSSELL SMITH, JR. President Smith Ice Cream Co.
WAYNE GALLAGHER President Pro-Tem Southern Union Gas
W. CONWAY THETFORD 2nd Vice President Mosher Steel Co.
PIERCE M. ALLMAN 3rd Vice President WFAA Radio
JOE W. TEAGUE Secretary Dallas Power & Light
MARION L. BROCKETTE Treasurer Arthur Young & Co.
CHESTER G. HASCHKE State Director Dallas Power & Light

December 13, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Each year during the month of January, the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce chapters sponsor a "buy your poll tax" campaign to encourage the public to purchase poll taxes in order to be eligible to vote in all elections of that year. January 4 is the kick-off of our campaign and we would like to extend to you the invitation to speak on the importance of voting at our noon luncheon on that date if you plan to be in our city after your participation in the panel discussion on world affairs January 3.

I realize that you have a very busy schedule and would appreciate your consideration of accepting this invitation, as it would be a rewarding experience on our part and would give you the opportunity of meeting and talking with the young men of this area.

Yours truly,

Clyde Salter

Clyde Salter
General Chairman of Public Affairs

DIRECTORS 1960-1961
RICHARD D. BORGAARD So. Pacific Transport Co.
DAVID BURGHER United Fidelity Life
DON W. CARROLL The State Life Ins. Co.
ROGER DEERING Provident Mutual Life
JIM L. DEPEW Linz Bros.
ROBERT B. DOWNING Attorney
THOMAS A. GILLREATH First National Bank
JACK B. HALL, JR. Southland Life Insurance Co.
W. JERRY HOLMES Lone Star Cement Corporation
SHANNON M. MURCHISON Collins Radio Co.
DON M. MURDOCH American Title Co.
TOM MURPHY Delhi-Taylor Oil Co.
ROSS RAMSAY E. O. Oglesby, Jr. Architect
GRADY ROY Hanna Paint Mfg. Co.
JERRY ZUCKER Resistoflex Corp.
MATT BUTSCHEK Ex Officio S.W. Bell Tele. Co.
HAROLD PARNELL National Director Chrysler Corp.
RUBY PRICE Office Secretary

~~Bo~~ Eng dec
Dartmouth College

June 28, 1960

Professor Hugh Morrison
1 Weatherby Road
Hanover, N.H.

Dear Professor Morrison:

Mr. Murrow is at the Governors' Conference at present, and will go straight from there to the political conventions. I do not expect him back in New York before August at the earliest and I am therefore answering you in his stead.

I am sorry to tell you that Mr. Murrow has had to make a general ruling against accepting speaking engagements, even when they are as attractive as the one you mention. His program CBS REPORTS will take a great deal more of his time during the coming year and will involve a certain amount of travelling. The pressure and uncertainty of his schedule will make it impossible for him to undertake any other commitments. I am afraid that this time you will have to "seek another".

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE
Great Issues Course
HANOVER • NEW HAMPSHIRE

June 20, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Twice before Dartmouth has invited you to participate in its Great Issues course, and it has been impossible for you to accept. We realize acutely how extraordinarily busy you will be next fall, but we live in hope that perhaps a third invitation may bring us luck!

We can offer you little but an educational ideal that we believe in. The honorarium is nominal, the size of the audience minuscule compared to that you usually reach. Yet, in recent years, the idea of the course has appealed to many persons of distinction who have contributed to our efforts, people such as Clement Attlee, Aneurin Bevan, Chester Bowles, Ralph Bunche, Hugh Gaitskell, Christian Herter, George Kennan, Charles Malik, Pierre Mendes-France, Richard Nixon, Nelson Rockefeller, Barbara Ward, and Sir John Wolfenden, to name only a few.

When the Great Issues course was inaugurated in 1947 by President John Dickey it was a new educational venture in this country; by now it has been followed by a dozen other institutions in this country and Canada. It is required of the whole senior class at Dartmouth - some 650 men. Something of its purpose and method is described in the enclosed leaflets.

The course involves lectures by distinguished visitors to the campus each Monday evening throughout the college year, and, ordinarily, a free-for-all question-period on Tuesday morning. In rare instances, when a speaker is unable to remain in Hanover overnight, we schedule a question-period immediately after the Monday evening lecture.

The program this fall centers on "great issues of the American election" - such matters as defense policy, economic policy, the farm problem, civil liberties, foreign aid, etc. The committee in charge of the course hopes very much that in the week after the election, that is on Monday, November 14, it might be possible for you to analyze the significance of the election, as you see it, - something that might be called "The Meaning of the Election" or some similar title.

The customary honorarium is, as I indicated, nominal: $250, though I could easily raise the ante to twice that if it made the slightest difference to you, and would be delighted to do so. Perhaps more persuasive might be the College's delight to invite both you and Mrs. Murrow to come up for a long weekend of rest in a small and quiet New England town; we should be happy to pay all expenses. And we should do our best to make your visit a pleasant one. I am sure that John and Chris Dickey would love to see you, as would Mrs. Morrison and myself.

If I may conclude by a personal note, you have been a part of our household, like many others. When my two daughters grew up it was quite a blow to us to discover that the whole generation between the wars, and even War II itself, had no emotional meaning to them whatever. They were studying it in school, but it was just names and facts. Until we got the "I Can Hear It Now" records. That brought history alive, and they began to share the emotional shattering that all of us had experienced - and it brought us closer together, as much as any two generations can be. Now they are grown up, and there are three grandchildren, but whenever they come for a visit, they excavate the old records which seem to mean as much to them as they do to me. That is education: that is the life I lead - to try to teach my young men not only the myriad facts but something of the intensity of human beings living those facts. I suspect that you did not make those records without emotional expenditure, nor that anything you do is without feeling. For this, a few million of us owe you much.

I hope you can come. But if you can't, I shall readily understand. I shall await, sir, your answer to Matthew XI 3 : "Art thou he that cometh, or seek we another?"

More than sincerely,

Hugh Morrison

Prof. Hugh Morrison, Director
1 Weatherby Road
Hanover, N.H.

A FEW PERTINENT FACTS CONCERNING—

THE GREAT ISSUES COURSE AT DARTMOUTH COLLEGE

HANOVER — NEW HAMPSHIRE

1. ORIGIN - John Sloan Dickey proposed the idea of the Great Issues Course soon after his inauguration as President of Dartmouth College. The idea was accepted by the faculty in the Fall of 1946 and the course was offered for the first time in the academic year, 1947-48.

2. STUDENT ENROLLMENT - Great Issues, usually referred to as "G. I.", is a required course for all members of the Senior Class -- a group averaging between 600 and 650 men. It must be taken throughout the academic year.

3. PURPOSE - Briefly stated the purpose of the course is threefold: to provide a common intellectual experience for all men in their last year of college; to bridge the gap between formal classroom instruction and adult education; and to encourage in seniors a heightened public-mindedness.

4. GENERAL PROCEDURE - The course meets twice each week. On Monday evening a lecture is given by a guest speaker from the outside. This speaker stays over in Hanover for a question and discussion period on Tuesday morning.

5. READING ASSIGNMENTS - The chief assignment in the course is the daily reading throughout the school year of the New York Times. Additional reading assignments are made from time to time in books or current issues of periodicals.

6. PROJECTS - Each student is required to submit two special projects during the academic year. The first, and most important is a personal journal in which the student records his reactions to the lectures and readings in the course and is encouraged to develop his own ideas. The other project is a comparative study and evaluation of a wide variety of magazines and journals of opinion which are made available to students in the Public Affairs Laboratory.

7. PUBLIC AFFAIRS LABOR
as the P. A. L., the Charl Affairs Laboratory on the east wing of Baker Librar course. Here are a wide periodicals and other pert changing exhibits pertaini the course. Here much o jects is done and students or confer with members o

8. ADMINISTRATION - The by a Steering Committee ship drawn from all three mouth faculty -- Social Sc and Humanities. One mer acts as full-time director assisted by two full-time

9. EXPERIMENTAL NATUR garded as experimental in mittee feels free to vary p projects and types of exan sions of the course -- Ma
lems, International Probl Values for the Individual - main constant.

WHAT IS A GREAT ISSUE? W agreed in any particular case sidered we are agreed that a g moral core as well as historic for the present and a projectio

* * * * * * * *

Visiting lecturers in Great Iss
the most part men and women particular topics from the vant tical experience. Speakers ha the ranks of journalists, busin ers, college presidents, politi governors and members of Co faculties. The list has include

LABORATORY - Known locally
Charles Ransom Miller Public on the lower floor of the south-
Library is the workshop of the wide selection of newspapers, r pertinent literature, and rtaining to topics dealt with in uch of the work on G. I. prodents come frequently to read
bers of the staff.

The course is administered ittee with rotating member-three divisions of the Dartcial Sciences, Natural Sciences
e member of the committee rector for a one-year term time instructors.

ATURE - The course is rental in nature and the Com-vary procedures, topics, f examinations. Major divi-
-- Mass Media, National Prob-Problems, the Arts, and dual -- have tended to re-

E? We are not always case but broadly con-at a great issue has a storical depth, meaning jection into the future.

* * * *

at Issues have been for omen able to speak upon e vantage point of pracrs have been drawn from businessmen, labor lead-political figures such as of Congress, and college
cluded educators such as President Conant, political figures such as Richard Nixon, Dean Acheson, and Norman Thomas, businessmen such as Nelson Rockefeller and Clarence Randall, editors such as Orvil Dryfoos, Erwin D. Canham, William Haley, and Lester Markel, visitors from other countries such as Barbara Ward, Hugh Gaitskell, Aneurin Bevan, V.K. Krishna Menon, scientists such as Lloyd V. Berkner, Harold C. Urey and Ralph E. Lapp, and poets and philosophers such as Robert Frost, Archibald MacLeish, Reinhold Niebuhr, and Irwin Edman.

A complete list of speakers of the course (1947-1959) is available to those who may be interested. Also available to those particularly interested in the course as a pedagogical experiment are copies of lecture schedules and titles of subjects treated, and outlines of projects assigned to students.

GREAT ISSUES
SPEAKERS —

A LIST OF SPEAKERS WHO HAVE ADDRESSED THE GREAT ISSUES COURSE 1947-1959

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE

HANOVER - NEW HAMPSHIRE

VISITING SPEAKERS

DEAN ACHESON
SHERMAN ADAMS
HERBERT AGAR
GEORGE D. AIKEN
GEORGE V. ALLEN
GORDON W. ALLPORT
STANLEY ANDREWS
EARL ATLEE

HARRY W. BAEHR
STEPHEN K. BAILEY
CHESTER I. BARNARD
JOSEPH BARNES
ALAN BARTH
HUGH H. BENNETT
ERIC BENTLEY
LLOYD V. BERKNER
ADOLF A. BERLE
ANEURIN BEVAN
JONATHAN B. BINGHAM
JOHN D. BLACK
AMOS N. BLANDIN
ROY BLOUGH
GEORGE BOAS
CHESTER BOWLES
SPRUILLE BRADEN
DAVID J. BRADLEY STYLES BRIDGES CRANE BRINTON
BERNARD BRODIE
DENNIS W. BROGAN
COURTNEY C. BROWN
LYMAN BRYSON
WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY
RALPH J. BUNCHE
McGEORGE BUNDY
ROBERT BURTON
VICTOR L. BUTTERFIELD

EDWIN D. CANHAM
HADLEY CANTRIL
AL CAPP
OMER CARMICHAEL
RICHARD B. CARPENTER
HODDING CARTER
JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
FRANCOIS CHARLES-ROUX SERGE CHERMAYEFF
MARQUIS CHILDS
JOHN McLANE CLARK
EVERETT R. CLINCHY
ALFRED COBBAN
HENRY STEELE COMMAGER
JAMES B. CONANT
EDWARD U. CONDON
ANDREW W. CORDIER
NORRIS COTTON
GEORGE S. COUNTS
GEOFFREY CROWTHER

E. CLIFTON DANIEL
A. POWELL DAVIES
SAVILLE R. DAVIS
VERA M. DEAN
THOMAS J. DEEGAN
RAPHAEL DEMOS
RALPH De TOLEDANO
JOHN DIEBOLD

IRVING DILLIARD
PHILIP J. DONNELLY
WILLIAM O. DOUGLAS
ORVIL E. DRYFOOS

RICHARD G. EBERHART
IRWIN EDMAN
HERBERT D. ELLISTON

ABRAHAM FELLER
THOMAS K. FINLETTER
JAMES B. FISK
RALPH E. FLANDERS
HENRY C. FLEISHER
CEDRIC FOSTER
CHARLES FRANKEL
GEORGE FREEDLEY
ROBERT FROST
ERICH FROMM
JAMES W. FULBRIGHT

HUGH GAITSKELL
JOHN K. GALBRAITH
GEORGE E. GARDNER
ROSAMOND GILDER
CLINTON S. GOLDEN WILLIAM GOMBERG JACK GOULD
LESTER R. GRANGER
WILLIAM J. GREDE
THEODORE M. GREENE
CRAWFORD H. GREENEWALT
ALAN GREGG
ERWIN N. GRISWOLD

PENNINGTON HAILE
WILLIAM HALEY
LOUIS J. HALLE
OSCAR HANDLIN
GEORGE HARRAR
SEYMOUR HARRIS
BARTLETT H. HAYES
ROBERT L. HEILBRONER
ELINORE HERRICK
CHRISTIAN A. HERTER
ABRAHAM J. HESCHEL
SIDNEY HOOK
HARRY N. HOWARD
PALMER HOYT
DONALD J. HUGHES
H. STUART HUGHES
J. C. HUREWITZ

PHILIP E. JACOB
PHILIP JESSUP
ELDON L. JOHNSON
GERALD W. JOHNSON
JOSEPH E. JOHNSON
PHILIP JOHNSON
WILBUR K. JORDAN

WALDEMAR B. KAEMPFFERT
MICHAEL KARPOVICH
WALT KELLY
GEORGE F. KENNAN
FRANCIS KEPPEL
LEON H. KEYSERLING
JAMES J. KILPATRICK

EDWARD C. KIRKLAND
HIMY B. KIRSHEN
HENRY A. KISSINGER
HANS KOHN
V.K. KRISHNA MENON
FERDINAND KUHN

RALPH E. LAPP
ROY E. LARSON
OWEN LATTIMORE
MAX LERNER
HARRY T. LEVIN
GODDARD LIEBERSON
DAVID LILIENTHAL
ROBERT S. LYND

ROBERT M. MacIVER
ARCHIBALD MacLEISH
MARK A. McCLOSKEY
JOHN J. McCLOY
JAMES McCORMACK
EARL J. McGRATH
CAREY McWILLIAMS
FRITZ MACHLUP
CHARLES H. MALIK
PATRICK M. MALIN
HENRY MARGENAU
LESTER MARKEL
HERBERT MARKS
THURGOOD MARSHALL
PAUL MARTIN
EDWARD S. MASON
ROLLO MAY
JOOST A. M. MEERLOO
ALEXANDER MEIKLEJOHN
ROBERT K. MERTON
AGNES E. MEYER
CORD MEYER, JR.
JOHN DUNCAN MILLER
C. WRIGHT MILLS
J. IRWIN MILLER
A. S. MIKE MONRONEY
M. F. ASHLEY MONTAGU
GEORGE A. MORGAN
HANS J. MORGENTHAU
ROBERT MORRIS
PHILIP E. MOSELY
LEWIS MUMFORD
JOHN MURRAY

ALFRED C. NEAL
H. RICHARD NIEBUHR
REINHOLD NIEBUHR
PAUL NITZE
RICHARD M. NIXON
THOMAS L. NORTON

JUSTIN O'BRIEN
LELAND OLDS FAIRFIELD OSBORN
FREDERICK OSBORN
G. BROMLEY OXNAM

VIJAYA LAKSHMI PANDIT
LESTER B. PEARSON
ISADOR PICKMAN
JAMES A. PIKE
WILLIAM PROXMIRE

CLARENCE B. RANDALL
JEROME L. RAPPAPORT
EDWIN O. REISCHAUER
JAMES B. RESTON
VICTOR REUTHER

HEDI
IVOR
EMI
NELS CLIN
EUG
BEA DEA
STAN

HAR
LEV
PAU
LEO
FAY
COR
MEY
ART
DAN
HAR
JOH
VIN
PAU GIL DAV
BEN
GEO CHA ERN SUM
T. V.
WAL
MIL
GUY ART
JOH

CHA HAR
HEN
LEW NOR VIR WIL
PAU
AUS
LIO CHR
RAL

HAR

JAC
WER KUR
END

JAM BAR
EDW
RAL
LEO
LLE WIL
LAU
GER
JAM
ROY
W. W GOR
LOU

EUG

HEDLEY H. RHYS
IVOR A. RICHARDS
EMIL RIEVE
NELSON ROCKEFELLER
CLINTON ROSSITER
EUGENE V. ROSTOW
BEARDSLEY RUML
DEAN RUSK
STANLEY H. RUTTENBERG

HARRISON E. SALISBURY
LEVERETT SALTONSTALL
PAUL A. SAMUELSON
LEON SAUL
FAYEZ A. SAYEGH
CORNELIUS T. SCANLON
MEYER SCHAPIRO
ARTHUR SCHLESINGER, JR.
DANIEL SCHWARTZ
HARRY SCHWARTZ
JOHN SCOTT
VINCENT J. SCULLY, JR.
PAUL B. SEARS
GILBERT SELDES
DAVID J. SELIGSON
BEN SHAHN
GEORGE N. SHUSTER
CHARLES A. SIEPMANN
ERNEST J. SIMMONS
SUMNER SLICHTER
T. V. SMITH
WALTER T. STACE
MILTON D. STEWART
GUY SUITS
ARTHUR E. SUTHERLAND
JOHN M. SWOMLEY

CHARLES P. TAFT
HAROLD TAYLOR
HENRY J. TAYLOR
LEWIS V. THOMAS
NORMAN THOMAS
VIRGIL THOMSON
WILLARD THORP
PAUL TILLICH
AUSTIN J. TOBIN
LIONEL TRILLING
CHRISTOPHER TUNNARD
RALPH E. TURNER

HAROLD C. UREY

JACOB VINER
WERNER von HOLLEBEN
KURT von SCHUSCHNIGG
ENDERS M. VOORHEES

JAMES P. WARBURG
BARBARA WARD
EDWARD A. WEEKS
RALPH WHELAN
LEONARD D. WHITE
LLEWELLYN B. WHITE
WILLIAM S. WHITE
LAURENCE F. WHITTEMORE
GERHARD WIEBE
JAMES RUSSELL WIGGINS
ROY WILKINS
W. WILLARD WIRTZ
GORDON WRIGHT
LOUIS C. WYMAN

EUGENE M. ZUCKERT

SPEAKERS FROM THE DARTMOUTH FACULTY

JOHN C. ADAMS
CHAUNCEY N. ALLEN

JAMES C. BABCOCK
WILLIAM W. BALLARD
IRVING E. BENDER
FRED BERTHOLD
THOMAS BRADEN
WAYNE G. BROEHL
HAROLD R. BRUCE

ALBERT S. CARLSON
ROBERT K. CARR
WILLIAM A. CARTER WING-TSIT CHAN
MICHAEL CHOUKAS
JAMES F. CUSICK

CLYDE E. DANKERT
ROBERT E. DEWEY
JOHN S. DICKEY
HENRY L. DUNCOMBE

H. WENTWORTH ELDREDGE

JOHN W. FINCH
F. CUDWORTH FLINT
ALLEN R. FOLEY
ROY P. FORSTER
ALBERT W. FREY

HERBERT GARFINKEL
JOHN G. GAZLEY
FRANCIS W. GRAMLICH
ROBERT GUTMAN

ALBERT H. HASTORF
WILLIAM E. HOCKING

ARTHUR E. JENSEN

JOHN G. KEMENY
WILLIAM P. KIMBALL
BRUCE W. KNIGHT

ALEXANDER K. LAING
CHURCHILL P. LATHROP
MARTIN L. LINDAHL

ALLAN H. MACDONALD
JOSEPH D. McDONALD
DAYTON D. McKEAN
MAURICE MANDELBAUM
DANIEL MARX
JOHN W. MASLAND, JR.
JOHN F. MECK
FRANCIS E. MERRILL STEARNS MORSE

ROYAL C. NEMIAH

HERLUF V. OLSEN

ARTEMUS PACKARD

LAURENCE I. RADWAY
ROBERT E. RIEGEL
KENNETH A. ROBINSON
ROBIN ROBINSON

GEORGE W. SCHOENHUT
EARL R. SIKES
H. GORDON SKILLING
RICHARD W. STERLING
FREDERICK W. STERNFELD
LEWIS D. STILWELL
CHARLES L. STONE
JAMES A. SYKES

GEORGE F. THERIAULT
ANDREW G. TRUXAL

ARTHUR R. UPGREN

DIMITRI VON MOHRENSCHILDT

RICHARD E. WAGNER
J. EDGAR WALTERS
PHILLIP E. WHEELWRIGHT
HENRY B. WILLIAMS
ARTHUR M. WILSON
JOHN H. WOLFENDEN

Dixon, Sir Pierso

February 11, 1960

Dear Sirs:

Thank you for your recent invitation to attend a cocktail party in honor of Sir Pierson Dixon on February 23rd.

I regret that Mr. Murrow will be unable to accept since he is in Europe.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

British Book Centre
122 East 55th Street
New York 22, New York

THE BRITISH BOOK CENTRE

requests the pleasure of your company to meet

SIR PIERSON DIXON

at a cocktail party for the publication of his book

FAREWELL CATULLUS

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 23RD, 1960

6:00-8:00 in the evening

RSVP: BRITISH BOOK CENTRE ,122 East 55th Street, N.Y.C. 22

Enoch Pratt Free Library
Eng dict

August 23, 1960

Dear Mr. Castagna:

Many thanks for your cordial letter of July 25th, which has only just reached me due to my absence from the city. I greatly appreciate your invitation to be guest speaker at your program on Sunday afternoon, January 8, 1961, and very much regret that I cannot accept. My radio and television commitments for the next few months are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake to make any speeches no matter how tempting the occasion.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Edwin Castagna, Director
Enoch Pratt Free Library
400 Cathedral Street
Baltimore 1, Maryland

ERM:gw
cc: Mr. Ewell K. Jett
Mr. Carl Ward

CBS TELEVISION NETWORK

Office Communication

to: MR. MURROW

from: Mr. Ward

August 5, 1960

I have been out of town, and found the attached correspondence on my return.

I am sure WMAR-TV and the BALTIMORE SUN would go all out in publicizing your appearance there (if you found it convenient to go).

CSW

Attach.

EKJ:mk

Sincerely

E. K. Jett
Vice President

ENOCH PRATT FREE LIBRARY

400 CATHEDRAL STREET
BALTIMORE 1, MARYLAND

July 25, 1960

Mr. Edward M. Murrow
Vice-President and Director of Public Affairs
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Kindness of Mr. Ewell K. Jett, WMAR-TV

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Early in 1886, by direction of its founder - Enoch Pratt, a Baltimore merchant and philanthropist - this Library was opened "to all citizens regardless of property or color." Now regarded as one of the world's leading public libraries, the Pratt is preparing to observe its 75th anniversary.

The theme is to be "Expanding Knowledge, Freedom, Understanding - the Library's Continuing Concern." Knowing of your great interest and unceasing efforts to promote better understanding among peoples, we cordially invite you to be our guest speaker at the opening program Sunday afternoon, January 8, 1961, at 3 o'clock or any other time of your choice. A talk to the theme, of about 45 minutes, with perhaps 15 minutes for questions from the floor afterward, would seem to be in order.

Your fine television work and writings are much admired in Baltimore, as elsewhere. We would be proud and honored to have you start off our year-long commemorative activities, slated to include special institutes, exhibits, lectures and other events.

Our Board of Trustees has authorized a fee for your address. We would be glad to hear what you consider suitable. The occasion will be well publicized on a statewide basis in advance, with national press coverage for your remarks.

To give you some idea of this Library and its purposes and services, I am enclosing a few of our recent publications and a short magazine article. I hope we hear from you soon and affirmatively.

Sincerely yours,

Edwin Castagna

Edwin Castagna
Director

EC:fh
enclosures

From PAGEANT Magazine
June, 1952

You Can't Beat Baltimore's Library

BY MICHAEL BAKALAR

It is recognized as one of the best in the world. If your community wants to improve its library service, it would do well to take a look at the Enoch Pratt ■ SHOULDERING Baltimore's busiest shopping streets, the Pratt bustles with all the efficiency and service of a prosperous department store. It regularly changes the colorful eye-catching displays in its 12 large store-front windows. And thousands of Baltimoreans daily stream through its convenient street-level doors. But the Pratt never rings to the sound of cash register bells, for of course, it's not a department store; it's a free public library.

But what a library!

Only a handful of our 7,500 public libraries are "magnificent institutions," reports the director of a recent 2½-year nationwide study. And outstanding among this handful is the Enoch Pratt Free Library of Baltimore. When I asked library authorities—such, for instance, as the American Library Association, the Library Public Relations Council and Editor Marie D. Loizeaux, of the Wilson Library Bulletin—for a list of the country's top libraries, the Pratt was invariably the first or among the first they mentioned.

This amazing institution offers Baltimoreans not only books, but musical and non-musical records, musical scores, magazines, maps, educational films, slides, film strips and mounted pictures—all free, on their library cards.

It offers, too, one of the fullest schedules of lectures, forums, movies, exhibits, record concerts and discussion groups anywhere. And what's more, these are frequently standing-room-only affairs.

The library runs two bookmobiles to outlying districts and maintains more than 100 book stations in fire houses, police stations, churches, factories and schools.

It receives all government publications and subscribes to more than 2,000 magazines and 100 newspapers. It has a "shut-in service" for the bed-ridden—microfilmed books projected on the wall or ceiling, and a special collection of books for children who are confined to home.

And, to underline its extraordinary character, the Pratt is probably the only public library in the world where a user can take a literal as well as metaphorical gander at the universe. In a glass-enclosed observatory atop the roof, open for public use on certain clear nights, are two small but effective telescopes—belonging to the Maryland Academy of Sciences—peering out into space.

The library building itself, unexpectedly handsome amid Baltimore's gray drabness, is a three-story white limestone structure of neo-classical design. But it's also utilitarian. "I want a building that a mother can roll her baby buggy into, right off the street,
Wheeler, 1926 to present bu

Once a moreans Hall to h events, sci cine, nutri formal Ed the second room, the authors, c on poetry, story and

In the m groups, gui talk over th lyze the me Heritage. T are in const

street," insisted Dr. Joseph L. heeler, the Pratt's director from 26 to 1945, and father of the sent building. And he got it.

Once a week, at noon, Baltireans crowd into the Central ll to hear lectures on current nts, science, psychology, medie, nutrition. In the quietly inmal Edgar Allen Poe Room on second floor, a peaceful reading m, the public may hear noted hors, critics and teachers talk poetry, the novel, essay, short y and drama.

n the meeting rooms, discussion ups, guided by trained leaders, over the Great Books or ana- the meaning of the American ritage. The meeting rooms also in constant use by civic organizations, clubs and other groups such as the Parent-Teachers Associations.

In addition to its classical discs, the Pratt owns one of the largest collections of non-musical records. These are shelved in the various departments according to subject, just like books. When the mood strikes them, Baltimoreans can hear John Barrymore or Laurence Olivier in "Hamlet"; Thomas Mitchell in "Death of a Salesman"; Charles Laughton reciting the "Gettysburg Address" or CBS's reconstruction of the Battle itself. Or they can hear MacArthur reminding Congress that "old soldiers never die," or hear Roosevelt in his "rendezvous with destiny" speech, or any of more than 2,000 records and wire and tape recordings of famous Broadway productions, notable speeches, poetry and stories. If a drama group is producing a play, the library can even supply records of appropriate sound effects—rain, traffic, a baby crying. Anyone interested in learning foreign languages, including Siamese, Malay, Hebrew, Chinese and Hindustani, need only borrow some of the library's linguaphone records.

The Pratt had its physical beginnings back in 1881. A crotchety but well-heeled old ironware merchant with no particular love for books, Enoch Pratt, started a gang of men digging a mysterious foundation downtown on Mulberry Street. No one knew what it was for. And old Enoch, a transplanted Yankee from Massachusetts, felt no urge to let the public in on his secret. The building was well underway—without the usual cornerstone ceremonies, invocations or oratory—before the secret became obvious. When Enoch Pratt was ready to throw open the doors in 1886, he had spent $2,000,000 for land, furnishings and about 28,000 books for the Romanesque building.

Today, this magnificent library owns more than 1,000,000 books and —along with its records and films —8,000 slides, 28,000 maps and 200,000 pictures of persons, places and things from primitive times down to the present. Its book-circulation figure of 3,000,000 a year, or better than three per capita, ranks sixth among the nation's large-city libraries. So does its per capita expenditure. In a city of 1,000,000, it spends $1,500,000 a year to keep itself and its 26 branches up to snuff.

The Pratt's staff, headed by one of the country's foremost librarians, Amy Winslow, is considered one of the ablest. And the Pratt itself, a much-sought-after post, takes its pick of library-school graduates throughout the country. An excellent in-service training program, top salaries in the field and top working conditions, combine to produce top efficiency.

Most communities put a halo around their public libraries and let it go at that. Baltimore is different. Baltimoreans love their library with a passion. A few years ago they demonstrated it.

The library, which needed to renovate itself and expand some of its branches, was plagued by a fairly common ailment: lack of wherewithal. A tax-supported institution, it asked the city fathers for a $1,500,000 loan. The city turned thumbs down on the request.

But no one reckoned with the fighting spirit of the library and its friends. Constituting themselves a General Staff—Emerson Greenaway, then director, Amy Winslow, his assistant, and others of the library staff planned and directed strategy. For weeks before the election when the loan was to be voted upon, Baltimore was a propaganda battlefield.

Angry letters flooded the newspapers demanding support for the loan. Civic leaders, professional groups, labor unions and other organizations rallied 'round. Neighborhood newspapers, industrial and church papers devoted precious space to the library's cause. An advertising company donated thousands of posters reading: "Baltimore Needs Better Book-and-Information Service. Vote Yes for the Library Loan." Leaflets were placed in trolley cars and buses. A printing press proprietor printed 100,000 handbills, book marks and display cards, and inserted leaflets in his bills and mailing pieces. The Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, churches and other groups pitched in to address envelopes and distribute literature. Even five-and six-year-old kids were mobilized. Two of them were given sandwich boards to wear and, accompanied by their mothers, they paraded through the crowded downtown streets on the Saturday just before election. The library itself used the radio and its own display windows to te

When the smoke l
the loan was in by a h

One of the Pratt's m characteristics has n with library service the only public institu more that doesn't p segregation. "My lib Enoch Pratt, "shall b and poor without race or color, who, w accredited, can take if they will handle t and return them." T
the library's policy ev

"Our main job," sa
low, a tall, slender, man with light-blue encourage through bo materials, new ideas,
new vistas into the la thinking, and new of the problems of li

"Our resemblance
ment store is no ac
Coplan, head of the Publicity Departmen
"We plan it that w important things to cation, constructive formation—and natu
the most modern reta techniques to put ove

If a public library to pay off in a comme
Pratt undoubtedly Macy's—or the Gin library world.

SHOULDA WALKED

■ Bill Richards, one of my press agent friends, came fr to New York recently on a business trip. "How did you
"Why, I flew," he said. "That's great," I chided, "here yo press agent and you travel by airplane."

"Yeah, I know," Bill retorted, "but I had to wait fi airport."

ows to telling effect.
smoke had subsided,
in by a huge majority.
Pratt's most important
s has nothing to do service as such: It's lic institution in Baltioesn't practice racial
"My library," wrote
"shall be for all, rich ithout distinction of
, who, when properly
an take out the books nandle them carefully hem." This has been policy ever since.
job," says Miss Winsslender, energetic wo-ght-blue eyes, "is to rough books and other v ideas, new solutions, to the larger areas of l new understanding ms of life."
nblance to a departs no accident," Kate
l of the Exhibits and epartment, told me.
that way. We have ings to sell—self-edu-ructive recreation, in-nd naturally we use ern retailing publicity put over our wares."
library could be made a commercial way, the otedly would be the he Gimbel's—of the
■■

---

came from Los Angeles did you come?" I asked.
"here you are a railroad

wait five hours at the

—Julie Oshins

ENOCH PRATT FREE LIBRARY
CATHEDRAL STREET, BALTIMORE

Four to seven thousand persons a day use this central building; an equal number use the 24 branches. They borrow ~~three~~ four million books a year.

POST CARD

PLACE

STAMP

HERE

Alternate Saturdays

5:00 — 5:30 P. M.

THE WALTERS ART GALLERY,
THE ENOCH PRATT FREE LIBRARY and STATION WMAR-TV CHANNEL 2 present

MAN THE MAKER

MAN THE MAKER

January 2 — PEDIGREES FOR ART

Miss Dorothy Miner, distinguished medievalist, will supply answers to some of the questions most frequently asked by those seeking to identify works of art.

suggested reading:
"The Concise Encyclopaedia of Antiques" by The Connoisseur
"Art and History" by W. G. Constable
"Three Essays in Method" by Bernhard Berenson

January 16 — ARTISTS IN REBELLION

A discussion of the artist as a rebel against the standards of his day, from Romantics to Beatniks

suggested reading:
"The Romantic Agony" by Mario Praz
"The Holy Barbarians" by Lawrence Lipton
"The History of Impressionism" by John Rewald

January 30 — A PAINTER'S HAND

A noted Baltimore artist, Amalie Rothschild, will show and discuss her own work in a program designed to illustrate how a contemporary painter thinks and paints.

suggested reading:
"The Natural Way to Draw" by Kimon Nicolaides
"Great Draughtsmen from Pisanello to Picasso" by Jakob Rosenberg
"Art since 1945" (Text by Marcel Brion and others)

February 13 — POPES AS PATRONS

How the development of painting, sculpture and architecture was advanced by the great Popes of the Renaissance, patrons of the arts

suggested reading:
"The Civilization of the Renaissance in Italy" by Jacob Burckhardt
"Rome" by Martin Hürlimann
"Classic Art; an Introduction to the Italian Renaissance" by Heinrich Wölfflin

February 27 — WORD AND IMAGE

Readings from the poetry of Goethe and Blake with pictorial interpretations by some of the world's most famous book illustrators

suggested reading:
"Poetical Works" by William Blake
"The Art of William Blake" by Anthony Blunt
"Faust" by Goethe
Editions illustrated by Eugene Delacroix, Friedrich Retzsch, Rockwell Kent and others

March 12 — FANTASY AND NIGHTMARE

An excursion into the supernatural, the demonic and the macabre, which have fascinated artists and writers from the earliest days

suggested reading:
"Bruegel" by Robert L. Delevoy
"Tracks in the Snow" by Ruthven Todd
"Saturn; an Essay on Goya" by André Malraux

s)

March 26

FACE OF THE CITY

Leading city planners and architects will debate the question, "Is Modern Civic Architecture Too Barren?"

suggested reading:
"The Golden City" by H. H. Reed
"Architecture U. S. A." by Ian McCallum
"The Living City" by Frank Lloyd Wright

April 9

OUR LADY OF CHARTRES

The story of the greatest of all French cathedrals will be told in this program for the Easter season.

suggested reading:
"Mont-Saint-Michel and Chartres" by Henry Adams
"Life in Medieval France" by Joan Evans
"The Sculptural Programs of Chartres Cathedral" by Adolf Katzenellenbogen

April 23

ST. PETERSBURG — CITY OF TSARS

The rich resources of the Gallery will provide curious and beautiful material for a presentation of St. Petersburg two centuries before the revolution.

suggested reading:
"Peter the Great" by Constantin de Grunwald
"The Art and Architecture of Russia" by G. H. Hamilton
"Peter Carl Fabergé, Goldsmith and Jeweller to the Russian Imperial Court" by H. C. Bainbridge

January 1960

H. L. Mencken

"I was a larva of the comfortable and complacent bourgeoisie, . . . encapsulated in affection, and kept fat, saucy and contented. Thus I got through my nonage without acquiring an inferiority complex, . . ." So Mencken introduces a long, loud and loquacious life.

Henry Louis Mencken was born on September 12, 1880, of German-American stock. His paternal grandfather had settled, as a cigar maker, in the German section of Baltimore in 1848, and his father eventually started his own tobacco firm which did a comfortable business and provided a comfortable income. When Henry, the eldest of three boys and a girl, was three the family moved to 1524 Hollins St., a neighborhood which in the eighties was still almost rural. Mencken continued to live there all his life in spite of allurements to move to New York, which he termed "a third-rate Babylon", preferring to remain in and of "the immense protein factory of Chesapeake Bay". As a boy, Mencken attended F. Knapp's Institute, and later the Polytechnic. Mencken's own account of his life, up to his twelfth year, in Happy Days is a delightful account of bourgeois boyhood and Baltimore in the 1880's.

By precedent destined for the tobacco business, by temperament Mencken was destined for the business of ideas. He had "blooded" his first book in 1888. His next experience with print, Huckleberry Finn, he called "probably the most stupendous event of my whole life" and adds that "thus launched upon the career of a bookworm, I presently began to reach out right and left for more fodder. When the Enoch Pratt Free Library opened a branch in Hollins Street, . . . I was still a shade too young to be excited, but I had a card before I was nine, . . . I began to inhabit a world that was two-thirds letterpress and only one-third trees, fields, streets and people." During his highschool days Mencken claimed to be "one of the most assiduous customers that the Enoch Pratt Free Library in Baltimore has had in its whole history".

Christmas, 1888, introduced Mencken to a boy's press and gave him his first smell of printer's ink at the tender age of eight. It was this gift that gave birth to the famous signature, H. L. Mencken. In the process of learning to use the set all the lower case r's were smashed and Mencken was forced to reduce his first name to H. He states that "other presents came and went, but there was never another that fetched and floored me like Dorman's Baltimore No. 10 Self-Inker Printing Press".

And so it was beautiful letters, not pungent cigars, that marked and made his life. After leaving school Mencken went dutifully to work for his father; but he was scribbling in private, and on the Monday following his father's death, January 13, 1899, he presented himself in the city room of the old Baltimore Morning Herald. After turning up every night for a month he was sent off to cover a rural suburb. From that night Mencken was a newspaperman.

In his Newspaper Days, Mencken writes, "a newspaper reporter, in those remote days, had a grand and gaudy time of it, . . . it was the maddest, gladdest, damndest, existence ever enjoyed by mortal youth." He abandoned books for life itself, "at large in a wicked seaport of half a million people, with a front seat at every public show, as free of the night as of the day, and getting earfuls and eyefuls of instruction in a hundred giddy arcana."

Mencken gained a reputation in the trade as a boy wonder, for he was industrious and fertile and learned all there was to learn about a newspaper in a few years. He advanced with alarming rapidity, becoming city editor and two years later managing editor of the Herald. In 1906 when the Herald ceased to exist Mencken went to the Sunpapers as Sunday editor, became an editorial writer, and in 1911 started his column, the Free Lance, in the Evening Sun. He began another series of weekly articles in 1919 and was associated with the Sunpapers, except for one short break, until 1948.

At sixty-two Mencken had spent forty-three years as a newspaperman, forty as a writer of books, twenty-five as a reviewer, and twenty as a magazine editor. "I edited both newspapers and magazines, some of them successes and some of them not, and got a close, confidential view of the manner in which opinion is formulated and merchanted on this earth. . . . Like any other man I have had my disasters and my miseries, and like any other author I have suffered from recurrent depressions and despairs, but taking one year with another I have had a fine time of it in this vale of sorrow, and no call to envy any man."

Mencken suffered a cerebral thrombosis in 1948, from which he never fully recovered, and died on January 29, 1956.

Mencken immortalized and deflated the twenties

Unless one was young, adult, and literate when he was in his hey day it is difficult to realize the impact Mencken had on his times. He was a critic of ideas and at large in a smug world with the "old-time journalist's concept of himself as a free spirit and darling of the gods, licensed by his high merits to ride and deride the visible universe". An iconoclast with an invective style, he became the terror, first of Baltimore, then of the Republic. He was the vanguard of the revolt that demolished the delusions of an era; but Mencken, having no malice and much insight, never became a mere shrill fanatic. His thesis was the "aristocrat", the first-rate man speaking his mind, as opposed to the "booboisie", the man with no mind. It was the passing scene to which he devoted himself primarily and, although he was a master craftsman of journalism, much of his writing, so timely in its day, has little subject interest for the present reader. However, Mencken was more than a destructive critic of the shams of his day, he was an acute and constructive critic of literary merit and he recognized, encouraged, and

H. L. MENCKEN
by Nikol Schattenstein
1927
Presented to the library by The Friends of Mencken, a group of Baltimoreans organized to perpetuate his memory.

publicized some of the best talent of the Twenties.

The breadlines, Roosevelt, and the New Deal were Mencken's Waterloo; and recognizing and admitting this he abandoned the role of gadfly and turned to a study of the language. It is possible that The American Language will provide his strongest claim to immortality. This work was among the first to recognize that language as distinct and having its own merits. It is not only a work of intensive, extensive, and admirable scholarship, it is writing of sustained excellence.

In his sixties Mencken amused himself with recollections of days past and the task of putting them into Happy Days, Newspaper Days, and Heathen Days, certainly among the best informal autobiographies in the language.

Alistair Cooke, in his fine preface to The Vintage Mencken, a gathering of some of the best Menckeniana, says of him, "he was . . . a humorist by instinct and a superb craftsman by temperament . . ., (with) . . . a style flexible, fancy-free, ribald, and always beautifully lucid: a native product unlike any other style in the language".

Mencken's contributions to print ran into millions of words.

His first published volume was Ventures into Verse which he, in his forties, referred to as "my early volume of dreadful verse". Mencken wrote book reviews for twelve different publications and was literary critic of The Smart Set from 1908 until 1914 when he became co-editor with Nathan. He wrote articles for twenty or more publications, notably the Baltimore Sunpapers, The Smart Set, and the American Mercury, which he founded in 1924 and edited until its death in 1933. His best known newspaper writing was his column, the Free Lance, which ran in the Evening Sun from 1911 to 1915, and the Monday articles, a weekly series of signed articles, which appeared on the editorial page in the same paper, from 1919 to 1941.

Of his books—he wrote thirty—Mencken remarked that most of them had an accidental origin and that scarcely one was deliberately planned. Mencken's works have been popular with the reader and the collector; most of them have appeared in several editions in this country and in England, and several have been translated into foreign languages. Mencken's best seller has been, and remains, The American Language; but his own favorite book was A Treatise on the Gods.

Of the many books and articles about Mencken two of the best biographical-critical studies are: The Irreverent Mr. Mencken, by Edgar Kemler, 1948, and Disturber of the Peace, by William Manchester, 1950.

A list of Mencken's works: books, contributions to books, pamphlets, and newspaper and magazine articles would be too long for inclusion here. Kemler includes a complete chronology in his Appendix. Two books by Mencken posthumously published in 1956 are A Minority Report, written in 1948, and A Carnival of Buncombe, selected political articles.

The H. L. Mencken Room and Collection

More than ten years ago Mr. Mencken expressed his intention of giving to the Pratt Library a considerable proportion of his books and papers. The collection now includes: Mencken's typescripts, his newspaper and magazine articles, all of his published works, family documents and memorabilia, a large collection of presentation books, letters from prominent Marylanders, the research materials used in the preparation of The American Language, and Mencken's personal clipping books.

Several years ago plans were begun for a special room on the third floor of the Central Library to house the collection in a manner suitable to its importance and value. A large room, air-conditioned and artificially lighted, was chosen, and attractively furnished and decorated. The well known portrait of Mencken by Nikol Schattenstein hangs on the east wall and on the west wall are photographs of Mencken by A. Aubrey Bodine and Jack Engeman, Baltimore artist-photographers.

The room was dedicated at an evening meeting on April 17, 1956, with more than 700 attending to hear the tributes by Alistair Cooke and Hamilton Owens, long-time editor of the Sunpapers and associate of Mencken. By the terms of the bequest the room and collection are open only to authors and scholars doing advanced research. Once a year, on Mr. Mencken's birthday, the room is open to visitors. Copies of Mr. Mencken's works and critical and biographical materials about him are available to the public in the Library's regular collection.

The Mencken materials are the property of the Library, but copyright on all Mr. Mencken's writings is controlled by his various publishers or by his brother, Mr. August Mencken.

In addition to the gift of this superb collection, Mencken, in his will, indicated his faith in, and affection for, the Pratt Library by a further generous bequest, whch provides for his residuary estate to pass eventually to the two Baltimore institutions in which he had a particular interest, three-fourths of the estate to go to this library and one-fourth to the Johns Hopkins Hospital.

There are important collections of Menckeniana in other libraries: notably Dartmouth, Harvard, Princeton and Yale Universities; the Goucher College Library which owns the Sarah Hardt Mencken Collection; and the New York Public Library which will house Mencken's vast literary correspondence.

ENOCH PRATT FREE LIBRARY

This leaflet was prepared by Jane Wilhelm

Literature Department

1956

AN INSTITUTE

BOOKS AND IDEAS IN AN AGE OF ANXIETY

ENOCH PRATT FREE LIBRARY

Financed from The Humphrey Moore Fund

BOOKS AND IDEAS

AN INSTITUTE PRESENTED B

CENTRAL HALL OF THE LIBRARY, 400

Six of America's distinguished authors and thinkers exp

January 17

Presiding: Robert W. Williams
Trustee, Enoch Pratt Free Library

Introduction by Louis Azrael
Columnist, the Baltimore News-Post and Sunday American

Speaker: ALISTAIR COOKE
Author, journalist, moderator of "Omnibus"
"THE AMERICAN STYLE: AN INTRODUCTION"

January 24

Presiding: Robert W. Thon, Jr.
Trustee, Enoch Pratt Free Library

Introduction by Mark S. Watson
Military correspondent, the Baltimore Sun

Speaker: W. L. WHITE
Author, editor of the Emporia Gazette, roving editor of Reader's Digest
"AMERICA'S CHANGING CREEDS: SOCIAL, POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC"

January 31

Presiding: C. Keating Bowie
Trustee, Enoch Pratt Free Library

Introduction by the Very Rev. Vincent F. Beatty, S. J.
President, Loyola College

Speaker: LOREN EISELEY
Author and anthropologist, Provost of the University of Pennsylvania
"HUMANISM IN AN AGE OF SCIENCE"

Admission Free

S IN AN AGE OF ANXIETY

D BY THE ENOCH PRATT FREE LIBRARY

400 CATHEDRAL STREET, SUNDAYS AT 3:30 P. M. s explore vital problems in their own fields of writing and experience

February 7

Presiding: Henry C. Evans
Trustee, Enoch Pratt Free Library

Introduction by N. B. Fagin
Associate Professor of English and Drama (retired)
Johns Hopkins University

Speaker: HAROLD CLURMAN
Author, director, producer, drama critic of the Nation
"THE OUTLOOK FOR AMERICAN THEATER"

February 14

Presiding: John T. King, III
Trustee, Enoch Pratt Free Library

Introduction by Gerald W. Johnson
Historian, biographer, journalist

Speaker: MARCHETTE CHUTE
Biographer, critic, illustrator
"HISTORY, BIOGRAPHY AND THE THINKING READER"

February 21

Presiding: Paul P. Swett, Jr.
Trustee, Enoch Pratt Free Library

Introduction by Elliott Coleman
Director of the Writing Seminars
Johns Hopkins University

Speaker: MAXWELL GEISMAR
Author, critic, historian of the American novel
"NEW DIRECTIONS IN AMERICAN FICTION"

Financed from The Humphrey Moore Fund

TO STIMULATE FURTHER READING AND THINKING

a special reading guide, with works by the speakers and other significant books related to the theme of each meeting, is available for distribution at the Central Library and all branches.

SEE THE SPECIAL EXHIBITS of books in the reading list and many others related to the theme of the Institute, on display January 11 through February 29 at the Central Library and all branches. All books may be borrowed.

ENOCH PRATT FREE LIBRARY
Baltimore, Maryland
January 1960

You are cordially invited to the Annual Christmas Gathering at the American Stock Exchange on Tuesday, December 13, 1960 from 3:30 o'clock through 8:00 o'clock PM in the Board of Governors Room on the 13th floor of the Exchange building.

JOHN J. SHEEHAN / VICE PRESIDENT

Am. Assoc. for U.N.

The

American Association for the United Nations

cordially invites

Edward R. Murrow

to a Reception to meet the Delegates to the

Second Biennial Convention, AAUN

5:30 O'CLOCK SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1960

Madison Room, Hotel Roosevelt, New York City

RSVP enclosed card

Am Fndt for Overseas Blind

The President and Board of Directors
of the American Foundation for Overseas Blind
request the pleasure of your company on the birthday of Miss Helen Keller
Monday, June 27th, 1960, at two-thirty o'clock to witness the first presentation of the Helen Keller International Award for Outstanding Service to the Blind
to
Col. Edwin A. Baker, M.C., O.B.E.
Managing Director, Canadian National Institute for the Blind;
President, World Council for the Welfare of the Blind.

Little Palace Ballroom, Gotham Hotel
5th Avenue and 55th Street

R.S.V.P.
WA 4-0420

22 West 17th Street
New York 11, N. Y.

Eng Dec
Federation of Jewish Philanthropies

September 7, 1960

Dear Mr. Felt:

Please pardon the delay in answering your letter of August 16th. I have been much out of the office during the past few weeks.

I am much flattered that the Federation Board of Trustees of Jewish Philanthropies had planned to confer its Special Award upon me this year, and it is with the deepest regret that I must tell you that it is impossible for me to make a personal appearance to accept this Award. Please do not regard this as any lack of appreciation on my part. The fact is that I have finally had to decide whether to devote my time and energies to my work in radio and television or to accept invitations to speak at many pleasant occasions.

Again my thanks, and please convey my sincere regrets to the Board of Trustees.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Irving Mitchell Felt
Campaign Chairman
Federation of Jewish Philanthropies
410 Park Avenue
New York, New York

ERM:gw

IRVING MITCHELL FELT

410 PARK AVENUE
NEW YORK

August 16, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

It is with some hesitation that I write to you to suggest that the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies deserves your attention this year. It may seem presumptuous to tell a busy man like yourself that he is in honor bound, so to speak, to give Federation a break and speak at one of its most vital dinners on behalf of its twenty-million dollar drive to support its hospitals and social welfare agencies. But there you have it.

Federation needs Ed Murrow. The more than three quarters of a million people who are helped every year -- the sick, the aged, the troubled youth -- all the manifold human problems that are Federation's responsibility -- all this emboldens me to write to you and say:

"Ed Murrow, you know of our great hospitals, summer camps for children and adults, old age homes, family welfare bureaus, Y's and community centers, child care and guidance agencies ...

"Ed Murrow, you have been associated with Federation campaigns of the past and have promised to give us your attention, along with your many overseas philanthropic interests ...

"Ed Murrow, though you have been one of our nation's busiest men in the field which you have distinguished through your remarkable ability, you have found time to speak for J. D. A. and other vital philanthropies ...

"Ed Murrow, the needs of the Greater New York community, the less spectacular but nonetheless heartbreaking human problems of our own people here at home, those whose lives break down -- the sick, the troubled younger generation, the increasing problem of the aged, broken families, etc., all the more subtle but very pervasive tragedy that is part and parcel of life and the problems of living here at home -- all this needs your attention."

See over

At this time, it gives me pleasure to tell you that the Federation Board of Trustees has decided to make its Special Award this year to you, an award given last year to the noted physician and rehabilitationist, Dr. Howard A. Rusk. The dates of October 20th and 27th have been set aside for you to receive this award and speak at the meeting at which it will be presented.

Would you be kind enough to let us know which date will be most convenient for you? This award is presented by Federation annually to a man who has been truly outstanding in the fields of social service or communication, one who has brought great good to countless numbers of people.

This year, Ed Murrow, you're it. I hope you will accept this Award in the spirit in which it is offered.

Sincerely,

Irving Mitchell Feet

Campaign Chairman
Federation of Jewish Philanthropies

IMF:pb/k

To meet Mr Frank E. Figgures, C.M.G., Secretary-General, United Kingdom Delegation European Free Trade Association.

Figgures, Frank

Her Britannic Majesty's Consul-General and Mrs A.M. Williams request the honour of the company of
Mr Edward R. Murrow
at Cocktails on Monday
November 14th at 5.30 to 7.30 pm.

R.S.V.P.

1, Beekman Place.

MU2-6820 ext 132.

Fort Wayne Urban League

October 18, 1960

Dear Mr. Wilkerson:

Many thanks for your letter of October 11th and for your kind words. I greatly appreciate your invitation to address the 40th anniversary meeting of The Fort Wayne Urban League in February, 1961 and very much regret that I cannot accept. Please do not regard this as any lack of appreciation on my part. The fact is that my radio and television commitments for the next months are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake any speeches no matter how tempting the occasion.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Robert E. Wilkerson
Executive Secretary
The Fort Wayne Urban League, Inc.
436 East Doublas Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana

ERM:gw

THE FORT WAYNE URBAN LEAGUE, INC.

AN INTERRACIAL SOCIAL SERVICE AGENCY
436 EAST DOUGLAS AVENUE—FORT WAYNE, INDIANA—ANTHONY 7196

REVEREND GEORGE B. WOOD
President

JOHN E. HOFFMAN, JR.
First Vice President

DONNELLY P. MCDONALD, JR.
Second Vice President

ROBERT E. WILKERSON
Executive Secretary

MRS. SAMUEL P. JONES
Secretary

ARNOLD E. KOENEMAN
Treasurer

DR. JOHN W. MEISTER
President Emeritus

October 11, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The first time I heard your name it was while sitting in the observation car of an over-night limited train on the Milwaukee Road, in Minneapolis, bound for Chicago. It was Christmas week, and on that particular evening in December 1941 or 42, you were reporting the news from London. You described how London was being bombed so vividly until your name remained with me since. Of course, subsequently, I never miss an opportunity to hear you on television or radio.

While driving home from church late in July of this year, I believe, I casually turned on my car radio and at that moment you were describing conditions relating to the significance of the new African Nations in international affairs. Words cannot describe here my impression of your great reservoir of knowledge on both domestic and international affairs.

I carried my idea to my Board of Directors. That idea was to extend you an invitation to deliver our 40th anniversary address in February 1961. I am not setting up any particular day. If you honor us by accepting this invitation, any day in February or March would be one to which we could plan. This is a dinner meeting and would be held in one of our local hotels or the Chamber of Commerce Building.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:—Mrs. Mary E. Payne, John E. Hoffman, Jr., Stanley R. Nelson, Reverend George B. Wood, David Cunningham, Mrs. Samuel Thornton, Allen C. Sheldon, Donnelly P. McDonald, Jr., Dr. Donald R. Royer, Reverend Daniel Piel, Mrs. Edwin A. Gibson, Dr. Dayton L. Musselman, William F. Bir, Dr. Caesar L. Marshall, Roy Newer, Robert E. Patterson, Arnold E. Koeneman, Dr. Roland B. Wilson, James L. Hall, Mrs. Corrine Brooks, Donald H. Walker, Miss Susanne Noble, R. H. Sauer, Mrs. Chester M. Leopold, Mrs. Samuel P. Jones, Mrs. Noble F. Schlatter, Rev. John Dixie, Jr.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES:—Edgar H. Kilbourne, Chairman; Ernest T. Smith, Vice President; Clyde E. Flowers, Treasurer; John D. Shoaff, Secretary; Clarence L. Schust; Preston A. Lyons, Sr.; William B. F. Hall.

Member Agency of the United Chest Council, Inc. and Nationel Conference of Social Work
Affiliated with National Urban League
(CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE FORT WAYNE URBAN LEAGUE ARE DEDUCTIBLE FOR INCOME TAX PURPOSES.)

I would appreciate it if you would drop me a note advising whether or not you accept our invitation.

Sincerely,

THE FORT WAYNE URBAN LEAGUE, INC.

Robert E. Wilkerson

Robert E. Wilkerson
Executive Secretary

REW/bb

Freedom Fortni

June 15, 1960

Mr. John P. MacMeeken
Chickering & Gregory
111 Sutter Street
San Francisco 4, California

Dear Mr. MacMeeken:

Mr. Murrow has asked me to answer your recent letter to him, as he is away from New York at present.

It is most gracious of your committee to consider him as the keynote speaker of your Freedom Fortnight next February. However, he has had to make a general rule against accepting speaking engagements, however attractive they may be, in view of his heavy commitments at CBS. In this particular case, although his schedule is not definitely set so far in advance, he must hold himself available for his CBS programs. Thank you so much for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

ht

LAW OFFICES OF CHICKERING & GREGORY
ONE ELEVEN SUTTER STREET
SAN FRANCISCO 4

ALLEN L. CHICKERING (1901-1958)
WALTER C. FOX, JR.
DONALD M. GREGORY
VINCENT I. COMPAGNO
FREDERICK M. FISK
ALLEN L. CHICKERING, JR.
W. BURLEIGH PATTEE
SHERMAN CHICKERING
JOHN PHILIP COGHLAN

CODE ADDRESS
"CHICGREG"

TELEPHONE
GARFIELD 1-3430

June 10, 1960

AIR MAIL

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

A group of Berkeley citizens have organized a project called "Freedom Is Our Business," which throughout the year attempts to stimulate interest in our schools and civic groups in the meaning and responsibility of freedom. By proclamation, the period from February 11 to February 22 is observed as Freedom Fortnight in Berkeley and we endeavor to present to our community a first-class speaker those vision and experience qualifies him to speak meaningfully on the responsibilities and challenges of American citizenship today. Last year Mr. Arthur Larson was our keynote speaker.

In planning for our Freedom Fortnight in February, 1961, our committee concluded that you would be an admirable keynote speaker were you available. Accordingly, the purpose of my letter to you at this time is to inquire whether it would be possible to have you speak in Berkeley on some evening between February 11 and February 22, and what your charge for addressing us would be.

I am sure that you are well acquainted with many of those who sponsor Freedom Fortnight, including President Kerr of the University of California, Robert G. Sproul, the president emeritas, General Dean, Admiral Nimitz, and others.

I hope that your schedule will allow you to consider joining us in February. I shall look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely yours,

John P. MacMeeken

JOHN P. MACMEEKEN

JPM:LEM

Eng. Dec
Freedom House
Bookshelf Com.

September 9, 1960

Dear Mr. Gideonse:

Thank you for your recent letter.

Unfortunately, the situation is still the same as far as my not being able to attend the conference.

It was nice of you to send me a copy of your plans.

Thank you again.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Harry D. Gideonse
Freedom House Bookshelf Committee
Willkie Memorial Building
20 West 40th Street
New York 18, New York

mcc

Eng Dec

Freedom House Bookshelf Committee

LAckawanna 4-6700

Willkie Memorial Building
20 West 40th Street, New York 18, N. Y.

Archibald MacLeish
Chairman

Rex Stout
Treasurer

Gordon Allport
S. N. Behrman
William Benton
Sarah G. Blanding
Chester Bowles
Van Wyck Brooks
Cass Canfield
Erwin D. Canham
Truman Capote
Bennett Cerf
Leo Cherne
Henry Steele Commager
Arthur H. Compton
James B. Conant
Albert Sprague Coolidge
Aaron Copland
Norman Cousins
John Dos Passos
William O. Douglas
Roscoe Drummond
Foster Rhea Dulles
Ralph Ellison
Clifton Fadiman
Erich Fromm
Robert Frost
Buell G. Gallagher
Erwin N. Griswold
Oscar Handlin
John A. Hannah
Charles W. Hendel
Granville Hicks
Sidney Hook
Phillip C. Jessup
Howard Mumford Jones
Elia Kazan
Grayson L. Kirk
Otto Klineberg
Oliver LaFarge
William L. Langer
Harold D. Lasswell
Max Lerner
Jacques Lipchitz
Dumas Malone
Jacques Maritain
James Michener
Ashley Montagu
Samuel Eliot Morison
Hermann J. Muller
Edward R. Murrow
Allan Nevins
Saul K. Padover
Walter Piston
Katherine Anne Porter
Whitelaw Reid
Elmer Rice
Paul Joseph Sachs
Arthur Schlesinger, Sr.
Arthur Schlesinger, Jr.
Ben Shahn
Irwin Shaw
George N. Shuster
Upton Sinclair
Pitirim Sorokin
Harold Taylor
James Thurber
Robert Penn Warren
E. B. White
Thornton Wilder
William Carlos Williams
(partial listing)

September 8, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

In the event that a last minute change in your crowded schedule might enable you to attend the Freedom House Bookshelf Committee conference, I thought you would like to know how our plans are progressing.

Committee members who will be participating in the conference include Justice William O. Douglas, Dr. James B. Conant, Mr. James Michener, Mr. John Dos Passos, Dr. Ashley Montagu, Mr. Robert Penn Warren, Dr. Charles Hendel, Mr. Rex Stout, and Mr. Leo Cherne.

The one-day meeting will take place at the Plaza Hotel in New York City. There will be a morning session starting at 10 o'clock and then luncheon, followed by an afternoon session. Background papers will be sent to participants about October 1st.

I hope that if your plans permit you will join us.

Sincerely yours,

Harry D. Gideonse

Harry D. Gideonse
President

P.S. The date is October 15th.

Freedom House Officers: Harry J. Carman, Chairman; Harry D. Gideonse, President; George Field, Executive Secretary

YALE UNIVERSITY DEPARTMENT OF PHILOSOPHY
NEW HAVEN, CONNECTICUT

Mr. Archibald MacLeish
Freedom House Bookshelf Committee
20 West 40th Street
New York 18, N.Y.

Dear Mr. MacLeish:

After dispatching the card accepting your invitation to join with you as a member of the Freedom House Bookshelf Committee I am here sending you some thoughts I have had about the selection of the important books to be made available for readers in foreign lands. Some months ago in sending my small subscription for the Bookshelf I mentioned additional books that should be considered, endorsing all at present on the list. I want now to say something about the principle of the selection. Perhaps something like what I shall say may be included in the general appeal for support.

What makes "America" count in the minds of thoughtful men who live in other places and with a very different historical background is what I should call our practical liberty. The ideas of liberty, law, democracy are associated with institutions through which the nation's life has been regulated and directed. The appreciation of this may be vague, and it is so in fact, even here at home. Yet somehow peoples in other continents have recognised that our "freedom" was not simply a theme of abstract philosophical discourse along with justice and good, not anchored on to some particular condition of man where it has pertinence and where it means some sort of action towards its realisation. Nor is freedom a subject for mere oratory, like the promises of party campaigns about which everyone is cynical. By the way, "promises" reminds me of a very different thing and an effective piece of your own during the last big war, "America was Promises." No, in spite of our necessary use of our economic power as a weapon for defense along with military, the men and women of foreign nations still see something more real and valid than talk in our professions of freedom and democracy. This is, indeed, our real strength. We have made liberty with law a working principle in our institutions. The Constitution is the first impressive record of it, but its adoption and effective use is just one event in the whole long course of British and American history for centuries, and we should, in my opinion supply foreign peoples with more of that record. For it is one where men of ideas, vision and good will managed in spite of conflicting interests and personal self-interest to work together and establish the procedures of law by which they would conduct their relations with each other. They set up a republic and gave it a form of government that enabled a nation to grow large and to extend not only its boundaries but also "the blessings of liberty." This is "practical" freedom. It cannot be had without such statesmen, such examples, as we can happily exhibit. Nor can it endure without a whole nation's taking part with some understanding of the responsibilities of constitutional democracy. The tendency today with the leadership in lands that crave independence of control is that it thrives on sheer nationalism and yields democracy without law. There is very little difference between that in so-called democratic countries and dictatorship. Now if we really want to show what America is and how we have established ourselves successfully (leaving aside our natural resources) we should make available to other peoples the record of our history in this particular, i.e., those documents which were created in the time of trouble and discontent with government, the documents which rallied many men to an idea and a program and then those "declarations and resolves" which emerged and which did not end there as "steam let off" to cool away to thin air but became the working principles for a government and a great civilization. The study of this working towards common principles by men who were subject to private interest as any ever are and who were strong in their sense of property, a struggle through dissent to consent, always keeping the way open for dissenting opinion -- this shows the way of achievement of a true democratic freedom. It is a hard way. It calls for discipline and for restraint. But once the practice is established it is a precedent that snowballs. And we need today a snowballing of this kind of thing in lieu of that of authoritarian dictatorship which is taking place at a great rate on every continent.

What I am getting at is this -- the best principle of selection is of those documents which record the reasonings, the struggles and the grounds for resolution that have made us what we have become. When I happened to take over a course in early American Philosophy several years ago, I determined to introduce American boys to the foundations of our civilization that way -- by documents. The U.S. government had a publication all ready, but largely unnoticed, a large tome edited by Tansill entitled The Formation of the Union of American States, House Document 398, 69th Congress, first session, published 1927. It began with the Declarations and Resolves of the First Continental Congress and presented all the records of meetings here and there wherever the action was picked up, on into the Federal Convention and the Ratifications and the Amendments all to date. And there we studied the debates, saw the occasion when, as Franklin said at the end, one had to wonder whether the sun in the picture behind General Washington's chair was a setting or a rising sun. Out of it all came agreement "so far forth" as William James used to say of "truth" in his pragmatism. That it did not settle everything was obvious as we went on to read (in another publication) the Court decisions of Marshall, the Alien and Sedition Acts, and so on to Calhoun and his desperate effort, and the Civil War with its fundamental question whether the American system could endure. Always documents, recording some measure of settlement, but always revealing unsettled issues for the generation to come to cope with.

With that text, that volume on the formation of the Union, we used both Adams' and Jefferson's Political Writings which are in your present Bookshelf list, and in addition the Political Writings of J. C. Calhoun. Besides, the little book edited by Friedrich and McCloskey, From the Declaration of Independence, etc., and the Selections from the Federalist Papers edited by Ralph Gabriel. All these books were available in excellent editions of the Liberal Arts Press with Introductions by fine scholars. In addition we used Lincoln's speech, "A House Divided Against Itself," and his Inaugural Addresses. That comprised the lot of records for the "foundations" and something towards the first crisis. In their reading and discussion of these books the students found their study something of a revelation of American thought and practice and they were much excited by it and clamored for another further course carrying on beyond the period.

After two years of this program we had exhausted all of the edition of The Formation of the Union of the Government Printing Office. The books of the next printing cost $9.00, whereas previously we had paid only $6.50. This made it prohibitive for the students. At this juncture, appreciative of the scholarship and intelligence of the editing done by the Liberal Arts Press, I approached Mr. Oskar Piest of the Press with the proposal that they reprint the work. This was done, taking about two years to finish. We now have for $1.75 The Federal Convention and the Formation of the Union edited by Winton Solberg, who wrote the Introduction and who included a few more documents to make the record complete, omitting only some mere repetitions in the original debate. This work is thus available in a cheap edition. It is this book that I principally recommended earlier in sending my subscription to the Freedom House Book Shelf Fund, and I repeat the recommendation now.

But there is to be a Committee to recommend and approve. Now here I take the liberty of making a suggestion in the light of further experience with this kind of thing. It is not only nations with utterly different and foreign histories that do not know this great literature of our constitutional democracy and practical freedom, but our very closest spiritual kin. For several years past our President, Whitney Griswold, has been concerned and talked about the problem of instruction in American History in English schools and universities, and he discussed the matter with scholars in Britain who were likewise struck by the inadequacy of the fare provided. In consequence of his various preliminary discussions a meeting was held at Yale on October 4-9, of this year, attended by Mr. H. G. Nicholas of New College and Mr. MacCallum, master of Pembroke College (and editor of Mill's Essay on Liberty and Representative Government in Blackwell's Texts), and by Mr. David Potter (chairman), and by Messrs. John Blum, Edward Morgan, and Archibald Foord, all of History, and myself representing Philosophy. We reached a conclusion which can only be applied by the British members of our group and implemented by some means of support from sources outside our two universities. I cannot say more here than that we met to discuss the problem of establishing communication between the British and ourselves on this matter of American History, conceived thus largely as a history of ideas and institutions as well as of events. But the point I would make in this story is that the actual conference was of immense value in enlightening us as to what is already done and what is needed, and what documents and other sources might be of best avail.

A conclusion emerges from this long letter, somewhat against my will: That personal exchange of views is more fruitful than anything done by letter, for in a conversation one suggestion kindles another, and often a collateral theme, and vastly more can be accomplished. Moreover, a principle for the selection of books should be established. We must follow, I believe, the good practice which I assign as the basis for "practical liberty," the truth of which I first learned in Princeton from the very lips of Woodrow Wilson himself, that free and full discussion is a prior condition for a viable result in government and in life. Well, it means that your Bookshelf Committee ought to meet, not for us to hear the repetition of the contents of your invitation, not for statements of reasons for our undertaking, but first to decide on the grounds of selection, by discussing the significance for America and the possible value for foreign peoples of the documents or books we would send them. After being clear about the grounds for a selection we could go over the particular books that will especially "fill the bill."

I do suggest this with some qualms and unwillingness. It means another meeting, and I have "got out from under" many lingering responsibilities in my profession in order to enjoy being Emeritus and to prepare myself for a large assignment to give Gifford Lectures at Glasgow in the session 1961-2. But the political exigencies of the times require of every man whatever he can do to sustain a civilised order of existence -- and so I am ready to serve on such a committee and to meet if summoned.

With many apologies for the long screed, I am

Yours very sincerely,

Charles W. Hendel,
Professor of Moral Philosophy and Metaphysics, Emeritus.

Eng file

August 10, 1960

Mr. George N. Shuster
Freedom House Bookshelf Committee
Willkie Memorial Building
20 West 40th Street
New York 18, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Shuster:

I much regret that I shall not be able to attend the conference of the Freedom House Bookshelf Committee on October 15 as, according to present arrangements, I shall not be in New York that day.

Sincerely yours,

ERM:skh

July 20, 1960

Mr. George N. Shuster
Freedom House Bookshelf Committee
Willkie Memorial Building
20 West 40th Street
New York 18, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Shuster:

Your letter of July 11 to Mr. Murrow has arrived during his absence in Chicago for the Republican Convention. As I do not expect him to return to New York until the beginning of August, I regret that his answer to your invitation to join the conference on October 15 will probably have to be delayed until then.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

Freedom House Bookshelf Committee

LAckawanna 4-6700

Willkie Memorial Building
20 West 40th Street, New York 18, N. Y.

Archibald MacLeish
Chairman

Rex Stout
Treasurer

Gordon Allport
S. N. Behrman
William Benton
Sarah G. Blanding
Chester Bowles
Van Wyck Brooks
Cass Canfield
Erwin D. Canham
Truman Capote
Bennett Cerf
Leo Cherne
Henry Steele Commager
Arthur H. Compton
James B. Conant
Albert Sprague Coolidge
Aaron Copland
Norman Cousins
John Dos Passos
William O. Douglas
Roscoe Drummond
Foster Rhea Dulles
Ralph Ellison
Clifton Fadiman
Erich Fromm
Robert Frost
Buell G. Gallagher
Erwin N. Griswold
Oscar Handlin
John A. Hannah
Charles W. Hendel
Granville Hicks
Sidney Hook
Phillip C. Jessup
Howard Mumford Jones
Elia Kazan
Grayson L. Kirk
Otto Klineberg
Oliver LaFarge
William L. Langer
Harold D. Lasswell
Max Lerner
Jacques Lipchitz
Dumas Malone
Jacques Maritain
James Michener
Ashley Montagu
Samuel Eliot Morison
Hermann J. Muller
Edward R. Murrow
Allan Nevins
Saul K. Padover
Walter Piston
Katherine Anne Porter
Whitelaw Reid
Elmer Rice
Paul Joseph Sachs
Arthur Schlesinger, Sr.
Arthur Schlesinger, Jr.
Ben Shahn
Irwin Shaw
George N. Shuster
Upton Sinclair
Pitirim Sorokin
Harold Taylor
James Thurber
Robert Penn Warren
E. B. White
Thornton Wilder
William Carlos Williams
(partial listing)

July 11, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow,

Since the inception of the Freedom House Bookshelf Committee ten months ago, over 3,000 government officials, labor leaders, social workers, teachers, students and intellectuals in more than seventy countries throughout Asia, Africa and Latin America have received our Bookshelf. Replies from recipients confirm our own observations that our program is a vitally necessary one.

For example, an official of the Mauritius Co-operative Union writes that he was discussing with a co-worker

> "...the spate of literature we are now receiving from Czechoslovakia and East Germany, which appears to be the result of some deliberate policy towards dependent territories and uncommitted countries in general. It occurred to us that there was no concerted move in the West to counteract such massive and well-organized propaganda. Half an hour later your parcel (of books) was delivered to me!"
>
> I have no doubt that our members will derive a lot of benefit after reading these books which give such a wide interpretation of American democracy. The political future of Mauritius is now taking shape ... and it seems there never was a more appropriate moment for the study of the questions raised in these pages."

In view of the upheavals so rapidly taking place in these crucial areas of the world, I believe that an evaluation and reassessment of our program is now of the utmost importance. Communist emphasis on non-military tactics brings a greater need for the instructional and educational value of books for the new leadership groups in helping them to build democratic societies. In line with these rapid changes we of the Bookshelf Committee must re-examine our

Freedom House Officers: Harry J. Carman, Chairman; Harry D. Gideonse, President; George Field, Executive Secretary

Freedom House Bookshelf Committee

LAckawanna 4-6700

Willkie Memorial Building
20 West 40th Street, New York 18, N. Y.

Archibald MacLeish
Chairman

Rex Stout
Treasurer

Gordon Allport
S. N. Behrman
William Benton
Sarah G. Blanding
Chester Bowles
Van Wyck Brooks
Cass Canfield
Erwin D. Canham
Truman Capote
Bennett Cerf
Leo Cherne
Henry Steele Commager
Arthur H. Compton
James B. Conant
Albert Sprague Coolidge
Aaron Copland
Norman Cousins
John Dos Passos
William O. Douglas
Roscoe Drummond
Foster Rhea Dulles
Ralph Ellison
Clifton Fadiman
Erich Fromm
Robert Frost
Buell G. Gallagher
Erwin N. Griswold
Oscar Handlin
John A. Hannah
Charles W. Hendel
Granville Hicks
Sidney Hook
Phillip C. Jessup
Howard Mumford Jones
Elia Kazan
Grayson L. Kirk
Otto Klineberg
Oliver LaFarge
William L. Langer
Harold D. Lasswell
Max Lerner
Jacques Lipchitz
Dumas Malone
Jacques Maritain
James Michener
Ashley Montagu
Samuel Eliot Morison
Hermann J. Muller
Edward R. Murrow
Allan Nevins
Saul K. Padover
Walter Piston
Katherine Anne Porter
Whitelaw Reid
Elmer Rice
Paul Joseph Sachs
Arthur Schlesinger, Sr.
Arthur Schlesinger, Jr.
Ben Shahn
Irwin Shaw
George N. Shuster
Upton Sinclair
Pitirim Sorokin
Harold Taylor
James Thurber
Robert Penn Warren
E. B. White
Thornton Wilder
William Carlos Williams
(partial listing)

criteria for choosing such books. We must determine which American writings are most analogous to the problems of the recently established countries, and which books are most helpful to the individuals attempting to build for the future of these countries.

Professor Charles W. Hendel of Yale, a member of our Committee, has suggested that a one-day round table conference of the Freedom House Bookshelf Committee could greatly assist in answering these questions. Accordingly, we have chosen Saturday, October 15th as a date most likely to be convenient for the majority of the Committee. I hope that you will let me know as soon as possible if you will be able to attend. The conference will be held at a hotel in New York City.

The conference will be concerned specifically with our program objectives, criteria for selecting the books, and, hopefully, specific titles. It is our intention to prepare a series of background papers on various facets of the problem. These papers will be sent to the participants sufficiently in advance for them to attend the conference with a common store of information on the subject.

I look forward to receiving your response as soon as convenient. And, of course, your comments and recommendations are most welcome.

Sincerely yours,

George N. Shuster

George N. Shuster

Freedom House Officers: Harry J. Carman, Chairman; Harry D. Gideonse, President; George Field, Executive Secretary

Anna Freud Fndt

THE ANNA FREUD FOUNDATION

requests the pleasure of the presence of

Mr. + Mrs. Edward R. Murrow

at a reception in honor of

ANNA FREUD, LL. D.,

who will present a paper
at the home of

Mrs. Albert D. Lasker
29 Beekman Place
New York, New York

Wednesday, September 21, 1960
at eight-thirty o'clock

R.S.V.P.
300 Central Park West - 8G
New York 24, New York

No Solicitation of Funds

Friends of the Philharmonic

April 7, 1960

Dear Sirs:

Thank you for your recent note inviting Mr. and Mrs. Murrow to attend a Gala Musicale and Reception at the Museum on Wednesday, April 27th.

I regret very much that the Murrows will not be able to accept, since they are traveling abroad and will not be returning to the States for several months.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

The Friends of the Philharmonic
113 West 57th Street
New York 19, New York

The Friends of the Philharmonic

request the pleasure of

Mr. & Mrs. Edward Morrow's company at a Gala Musicale and Reception at the Metropolitan Museum of Art

Grace Rainey Rogers Auditorium

Wednesday evening, April 27th, at 8:45 o'clock

R. S. V. P.
113 West 57th Street
New York 19, New York

Black Tie
This invitation admits two

A special privilege of the Friends

Sen. Fulbright

CLASS OF SERVICE
This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION
TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

SF-1201 (4-60)

SYMBOLS
DL = Day Letter
NL = Night Letter
LT = International Letter Telegram

E

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is LOCAL TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is LOCAL TIME at point of destination

Eng dec

NG003 SYA425

1960 OCT 14 AM 1 24

SY SIA666

NL PD SI NEW YORK NY 13

MR & MRS EDW R MURROW
580 PARK AVE NYK

WE HOPE WE MAY HAVE THE HONOR OF YOUR PARTICIPATION IN AN URGENT MEETING WITH SENATORS WILLIAM FULBRIGHT AND MIKE MONRONEY. THEY WILL DISCUSS SOME CLOSE SENATE CAMPAIGNS AND WHAT IT WOULD MEAN TO THE PARTY AND THE COUNTRY FOR US TO ASSIST IN ELECTING THE RIGHT MEN IN THIS TIME OF GREAT INTERNATIONAL CRISIS.

WE SHALL MEET AT FIVE PM ON THURSDAY OCTOBER 20 AT THE HOME OF W. AVERELL HARRIMAN, 16 EAST 81 STREET. RSVP TO MRS. SHERWOOD ANDERSON AT LA 4-7976

WM BENTON MARY LASKER ROGER STEVEN

NO

Gaslite Club

the GASLITE club of dallas, inc.

located on sherry lane in preston center business office emerson 8-6438

8220 westchester dallas 25, texas

March 11, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

It is a great honor to extend to you a cordial invitation to attend our spectacular Gaslite Press Party.

Our guests will include the nation's leading press reporters and columnists, such as Walter Cronkite, Dorothy Kilgallen and others.

We sincerely hope you can attend this once in a lifetime occasion. Please present the enclosed card at the door.

Your hosts,

THE GASLITE CLUB of DALLAS

Paul A. Holm

Paul A. Holm
President

Gaslite Press Party
This Invitation will entitle
2 members of the press to attend
THE GASLITE CLUB
6135 Sherry Lane
Dallas, Texas
Monday, March 21, 6:30 to 11:00 p.m.

General Motors Corp
Ing dec

GENERAL MOTORS CORPORATION
1775 BROADWAY
NEW YORK 19, N. Y.

FREDERIC G. DONNER
CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

October 10, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

vs in Florida

Dear Mr. Murrow:

An invitational Preview of the 1961 GM Motorama will be held in the Waldorf-Astoria Ballroom on Wednesday, November 2, from 3:30 to 7:00 p.m. John F. Gordon, President, joins me in extending you a cordial invitation to attend.

The occasion is planned to give our friends the opportunity to inspect our 1961 cars and other exhibits and to see our stage show prior to the public showing from Thursday, November 3, through wednesday, November 9.

I do hope you can be with us and that we will have the privilege and pleasure of greeting you personally. I will appreciate your returning the enclosed card so that we may know whether to send tickets to admit you and your personal guest.

Very truly yours,

Frederic G. Donner

Enc.

RSVP, Yea, but Quietly, SVP

Gramercy 7-4860

Breathe not a single word about this event, nay, not even to your intimates.

Greater North Dakota Assoc

March 1, 1960

Dear Mr. Boler:

Thank you for your gracious letter of February 26th inviting Mr. Murrow to visit North Dakota and to speak at the annual meeting of the Greater North Dakota Association next April.

I regret very much that it will not be possible for Mr. Murrow to accept, since he is traveling abroad and will not be returning to the States for several months. Thank you again for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. John W. Boler, President
North Dakota Broadcasting Co., Inc.
4000 West Main Avenue
Fargo, North Dakota

North Dakota Broadcasting Co., Inc.

GENERAL OFFICES: 4000 WEST MAIN AVENUE

FARGO, NORTH DAKOTA

February 26, 1960

JOHN W. BOLER
PRESIDENT

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

You, I am sure, will not remember me. I called on you at your office at CBS in New York many, many years ago and extended an invitation to you to visit North Dakota. You agreed to seriously consider the proposal, and then the Korean War broke out and you were unable to give us any further consideration.

I know that you are on Sabbatical Leave from CBS, and no doubt are traveling around the world. If you were to be in the United States the latter part of April and would agree to see some of the homeland which you have not seen yet, North Dakota in particular, we would like to have you visit us. (April 25, 1960)

We would like you to speak at the annual meeting of the Greater North Dakota Association, ~~which is our~~ State Chamber of Commerce. We are in the position to pay a fee for your services, and I would appreciate it if you would advise me at your convenience if you can give our request your consideration.

Sincerely

John W Boler

John W. Boler, President
North Dakota Broadcasting Co., Inc.

JWB/jr

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION

TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

1201 (4-60)

SYMBOLS

DL = Day Letter

NL = Night Letter

LT = International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is LOCAL TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is LOCAL TIME at point of destination

Harriman, Averell

N1460D139 4L NL PD AR NEWYORK NY SEP 20 1960

EDWARD R MURROW

AR 580 PARK AVE NYK

I WOULD BE HONORED TO HAVE YOU JOIN ME AT A PRIVATE COCKTAIL RECEPTION FOR CHESTER BOWLES, WALDORF-ASTORIA EMPIRE ROOM, TUESDAY SEPTEMBER TWENTY-SEVENTH, 3 TO 5 P.M. MR. BOWLES, SENATOR KENNEDY'S ADVISOR, WILL MAKE MAJOR FOREIGN ADDRESS. R.S.V.P. TO ME OR CALL MURRAY HILL 9-7127-8.

AVERELL HARRIMAN
HOTEL BILTMORE SUITE 234
NEW YORK CITY

1015P

Called.

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

Eng dec

June 28, 1960

Governor W. Averell Harriman
16 East 81st Street
New York 28, N.Y.

Dear Governor Harriman:

As Mr. Murrow is at present in Montana, I am taking the liberty of answering your gracious invitation to him in connection with your and Senator Benton's reception for Senator Fulbright and the Honorable Sidney McMath.

Mr. Murrow will be going straight from Montana to Los Angeles in order to do some pre-convention work, so that he will unfortunately not be able to attend your reception on July 6.

Yours very truly,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

W. AVERELL HARRIMAN
16 EAST EIGHTY-FIRST STREET
NEW YORK 28, NEW YORK

June 27, 1960

Dear ~~Mr. and Mrs.~~ Ed Murrow:

Senator Benton and I invite you to a reception on July 6, from 5:00 to 7:00 P.M., for Senator William Fulbright and the Honorable Sidney McMath, Former Governor of Arkansas, at my home in New York, 16 East 81st Street.

We hope very much you will be able to attend. We look forward to greeting you.

Sincerely,

Averell Harriman

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting Company
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

R.S.V.P. Governor Harriman, at the above address or Senator Benton at OXford 7-1750 (Kay Hart, Sec'y.)

The Honorable and Mrs Averell Harriman
Mrs Franklin D. Roosevelt
Mr. Roger Stevens
request the pleasure of your company

at The Hon. Mrs Harriman's

16 E. 81st ST

on June 7th

NO

R.S.V.P after 5 - 7 o'clock
16 E. 81st ST To meet Mrs Maurice Neuberger
YU 8-1618 and to hear about her Campaign media

Harvard-Radcliffe Liberal Union
Eng dec

August 10, 1960

Mr. David A. May
Harvard-Radcliffe Liberal Union
52 Dunster Street
Cambridge 38, Mass.

Dear Mr. May:

I am sorry to tell you that, although Mr. Murrow is most honoured by your invitation to him to participate in your Fall Forum, he will be unable to do so for the reasons I mentioned in my letter of July 28.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

July 28, 1960

Mr. David A. May
Harvard-Radcliffe Liberal Union
52 Dunster Street
Cambridge 38, Mass.

Dear Mr. May:

Thank you for your letter to Mr. Murrow of July 23, which I am answering as he is still in Chicago for the Republican Convention.

Mr. Murrow has had to make a blanket ruling against accepting speaking engagements, due to the uncertainty and pressure of his commitments at CBS. I rather doubt that he will be able to make an exception in the case of your Fall Forum, particularly as the Presidential election will be imminent at that time. I expect him to return to New York next week and will confirm this with him, but I am afraid that, if you do not hear from me again within the next two weeks, you will have to consider this letter a most regretful refusal on his part. Thank you so much for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

HARVARD-RADCLIFFE LIBERAL UNION

52 DUNSTER STREET CAMBRIDGE 38, MASS.

July 23, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Colombia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow,

The Liberal Union would like to invite you to participate in a panel discussion at Harvard on Wednesday, November 2 as part of our Fall Forum 1960, entitled The Federal Government in the Sixties. The topic for the panel will be "Should federal law further regulate mass communications media in national elections?"

The discussion is planned to be ninety minutes in length, and will be followed by a question period.

We are also inviting at this time Robert Sarnoff, David Susskind, Oren Harris, and for moderator Erwin Canham. We hope that "both sides" of the question will be brought out in the discussion, so that the members of the audience will have a sound basis for reaching their own conclusions.

We hope to publish, nationally if possible, the proceedings of our Forum, and it will reach a large Harvard audience we believe. We think it would provide a good opportunity to expound effectively and influencially your opinions.

We provide transportation expenses or arrange hotel accomodations if you request. If we can help in other ways, we will be most happy to do so.

We would appreciate a reply soon, and we sincerely hope that you will be with us in November.

Yours very truly,

David A. May

David A. May
Chairman, Fall Forum Committee
Harvard-Radcliffe Liberal Union

Enclosures:

In conformity with our usual policy of sponsoring series of programs to stir up interest in, and to encourage action upon important political and governmental problems of our time, the Harvard-Radcliffe Liberal Union is proud to present this year a Fall Forum on the subject:

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT IN THE SIXTIES.

The forum--lasting over a month--will consist of six stimulating programs on successive Wednesday nights in October and November, each dealing with one aspect of what the Federal Government's policy in the sixties should be.

Three of these programs will be composed of two half-hour speeches which we hope will present opposed views. Three will be panel discussions. Both types will be followed by a questioning period if time permits.

We hope to have in Cambridge for our Forum men who are intimately familiar with both the theoretical and practical aspects of each problem and who are also known as good speakers. A publication containing speeches and discussions is planned.

Dates and Topics

I. Wednesday, October 5
How should federal law help achieve a balance between the needs of business, labor, and the consumer? Panel

II. Wednesday, October 12
Should the present rate of economic growth in the United States be accelerated? Panel

III. Wednesday, October 19
How should the organization of the "Office of the President" be improved? Speakers

IV. Wednesday, October 26
What should the Federal Government do to improve the quality of public high schools? Speakers

V. Wednesday, November 2
Should federal law further regulate mass communications media in national elections? Panel

VI. Wednesday, November 9
Are civil liberties likely to be diminished by increased governmental activities in the sixties? Speakers.

Harvard-Radcliffe Liberal Union

Statement of Purpose and Activities

The Harvard-Radcliffe Liberal Union is the oldest political organization on campus. Our goals are best summed up by the words "Information and Action".

We believe that good government and the benefits which flow therefrom are best promoted by a free and uninhibited exchange of ideas. We therefore seek to accelerate this exchange, and to encourage members of the Harvard communtity, either actively or passively to take part.

We believe that action should follow information; that it is the responsibility and duty of the well informed to attempt to influence the formulation and execution of governmental policy and to change society about them. Therefore we seek to stimulate political action and pressure, and to encourage members of the Harvard communtity to take an active role in politics.

Information

To encourage interest in political ideas we undertake a threefold program. First, we sponsor series of speeches in which experts present conflicting views on important political matters of the times. When possible, our speakers are invited to take part in informal meetings with groups of students. Second, we publish a paper in which opinions and arguments of students, faculty, and certain persons of national fame or expertise are set in opposition. Finally, we encourage study of issues by the individual, either by himself or in groups which we help organize.

Action

When, after study, three fourths of a meeting agrees that a proposal deserves our support, the Liberal Union acts to apply pressure on various organized groups, including the government on the local, state, and national levels. Testifying, letter writing, publishing reports, and picketing are methods we have used in the past. We encourage, in addition, that students become members of partisan political clubs, and of other organizations on campus

Hawaii Employers Council Ing

September 12, 1960

Dear Mr. Maxwell:

Many thanks for your letter of September 8th.

I greatly appreciate your invitation to speak at your annual meeting on December 9th and very much regret that I cannot accept. My radio and television commitments for the next few months are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake to make any speeches no matter how tempting the occasion.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Philip P. Maxwell
Hawaii Employers Council
1139 Kapiolani Boulevard
Honolulu 14, Hawaii

CABLE ADDRESS HAWEMPLCO

HAWAII EMPLOYERS COUNCIL

1139 KAPIOLANI BLVD. HONOLULU 14, HAWAII PHONE 59-971

September 8, 1960

E.D.

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The people of Hawaii have long been interested in your television and radio broadcasts, particularly in view of their international flavor. As you are probably aware, since the advent of statehood Hawaii has become a center of international interest and a rostrum which immediately draws attention at home and abroad.

For the past few years, it has been Council policy to bring to Hawaii for its annual meeting a speaker of national or international reputation. For instance, our speaker last year was Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona, and the previous year it was Dr. Lillian Gilbreth, an internationally recognized authority on scientific management. Last year, our entire annual meeting program was televised over the local CBS outlet, which also happens to be a member of the Employers Council.

We would be most pleased and flattered if you would find it possible to be our guest speaker for this year's annual meeting. This meeting is scheduled for December 9 at noon; however, the date could be adjusted to suit your convenience. Approximately four to five hundred leaders of our member companies are in attendance.

The Council is a non-profit association of more than 270 local employers, who employ over one-third of the private, civilian labor force in Hawaii.

In view of the significance of the coming election and of its impact on both national and international policy, we know that you will have a message that will be of vital interest to our business community, and indeed to the entire nation.

If such an engagement seems attractive and can be fitted into your schedule, please let us know so that we may plan accordingly. We would, of course, be happy to take care of your expenses.

Sincerely yours,

Philip P. Maxwell

Philip P. Maxwell
President

PPM:kn
Encl.

Health Education &
Venereal Disease Council

February 8, 1960

Dear Mrs. Bigelow:

Thank you for your gracious letter of February 4th inviting Mr. Murrow to speak at your Annual Meeting sometime between February and June.

I regret that we can find no record of an earlier letter, which had it been received here, certainly would have been answered promptly.

I am sorry to have to tell you that Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and has been traveling abroad for the past few months. He will not be returning to the States for several months more, and therefore, it will not be possible for him to accept your kind invitation. Thank you again for asking him.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mrs. Lowell Bigelow
Chairman, Program Committee
Health, Education and Venereal Disease Council
5617 Hollywood Blvd.
Hollywood 28, California

HEALTH EDUCATION and VENEREAL DISEASE COUNCIL

5617 Hollywood Blvd. • Hollywood 28, California • HOllywood 5-4822

February 4, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York City, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

On January 4, 1960, we sent you a letter asking that you speak at the Annual Meeting of our agency in the spring of this year. In our desire to have you with us we indicated that we would plan this function to suit your convenience any time between February and June 1960.

Normally, this program is held in April of each year. Our committee has been instructed to plan for an April meeting again in the unhappy event that you cannot highlight our meeting.

No news is often good news. Should this apply here, we hesitate to jeopardize our position with a letter such as this. However, these things require a certain amount of advance planning.

We would appreciate hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Mary Bigelow

Mrs. Lowell Bigelow,
Chairman, Program Committee.

HL/b

Hebrew Univ of Jerusalem

SPONSORS

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Adler
Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bellamy
Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Brizell
Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Cantor
Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Clark
Mr. and Mrs. Nat Cole
Ambassador and Mrs. Michael Comay
Mrs. Louis S. Gimbel, Jr.
Mr. and Mrs. Barry Gray
Hon. and Mrs. Averell W. Harriman
Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Jr.
Mr. and Mrs. Vladimir Horowitz
Mrs. Henry Ittleson
Hon. and Mrs. Barnett Janner
Sen. and Mrs. Jacob K. Javits
Sen. and Mrs. John F. Kennedy
Mr. and Mrs. Philip M. Klutznick
Hon. and Mrs. Herbert H. Lehman
Mr. and Mrs. Philip Liebmann
Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Linder
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Mazer
Dr. and Mrs. Oskar K. Rabinowicz
Mrs. Ogden Reid
Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller
Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt
Mr. and Mrs. Daniel G. Ross
Mayor and Mrs. Robert Wagner
Lord and Lady Russell of Liverpool
Mr. and Mrs. Abraham F. Wechsler
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weinstein to attend the Second Annual

MEDITERRANEAN MASQUERADE BALL

"A NIGHT IN TURKEY"

presented by

THE JUNIOR COMMITTEE

of

AMERICAN FRIENDS OF HEBREW UNIVERSITY OF JERUSALEM

Starlight Roof — Waldorf Astoria Hotel

Saturday • October 29th, 1960

Emil Coleman Orchestra

Dinner 8:30 P.M. till . . .

Mediterranean Costume or Black Tie
Costume Prizes

Twenty-five Dollars Per Person
No solicitation of funds

WOMEN'S DIVISION

AMERICAN FRIENDS OF HEBREW UNIVERSITY

Mrs. Louis S. Gimbel, Jr.
President

Mrs. Abraham F. Wechsler
New York State President

Mrs. Anne Peshkin, National Executive Director

JUNIOR COMMITTEE

Mrs. Peter R. Rosenblatt
New York State Chairman

Mrs. Robert Wechsler
New York City Chairman

Mrs. Amos Kaminski
Associate Chairman

Mrs. Herbert Berkowitz
Secretary

Mrs. Martin Flug
Arrangements Secretary

CO-CHAIRMEN OF THE BALL

Mrs. Sidney M. Cohen

Miss Barbara Schwartz

Mrs. Jacob B. Freedman
Mrs. Frank Knobel
Journal Chairmen

Mrs. Marvin Asnes
Mrs. Robert Goodman
Reservations Chairmen

Mrs. Daniel Jones
Decorations Chairman

Mrs. Don Rivkin
Mrs. Michael Loeb Program Chairmen

Mrs. Irving W. Ballan
Mrs. Benjamin Berman
Mrs. Max Birnbach
Miss Gertrude Cahane
Mrs. Adda Canasta
Mrs. Lawrence Carmer
Miss Betty Jane Dawson
Miss Lynn Diamond
Miss Susan Diamond
Mrs. Anthony Donn
Mrs. Alan J. Freedman
Mrs. Richard Gabriel
Mrs. Bernard Gitlow
Mrs. Arie Goldstein
Miss Doris Goldstein
Mrs. Joshua Greenberg
Miss Sonia Horowitz
Miss Ruth H. Joseph
Mrs. Thomas P. Kiernan
Mrs. William Kloner
Mrs. Bernard Kravitz
Mrs. Bennim Krygier
Mrs. Lawrence C. Leeds, Jr.
Mrs. Robert Leeds, Jr.
Mrs. Theodore Levinson
Mrs. Arthur Liman
Miss Mimi Loewengart
Mrs. Jules Lubell
Mrs. Robert Magnus
Miss Emily Malino
Mrs. Morton Maneker
Miss Marsha Mittleman
Mrs. Herbert Neuman
Mrs. Stuart Paley
Miss Eve Pollack
Mrs. Stephen Putziger
Miss Laurel Rapoport
Mrs. Amram Rasiel
Mrs. Donald Ross
Mrs. Gerald Rubin
Mrs. Arthur Sainer
Miss Charlotte Schlessinger
Miss Judith Sherman
Mrs. Barry Singer
Mrs. Martin P. Smith
Mrs. Philip Springer
Mrs. Richard Trent
Mrs. Stephen A. Weiner

Sidney Hillman Fndt

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED

TO BE A GUEST OF

THE SIDNEY HILLMAN FOUNDATION

AT THE PRESENTATION OF THE

TENTH ANNUAL SERIES OF

PRIZE AWARDS

FOR 1959

TUESDAY, APRIL 26

RECEPTION AND LUNCHEON

12 NOON

GOLD ROOM, THE SAVOY HILTON

(Crystal Suite entrance, 58th Street)

NEW YORK, N. Y.

R.S.V.P.
Card enclosed

SIDNEY HILLMAN PRIZE AWARD WINNERS

1958

JOHN KENNETH GALBRAITH, for his book, The Affluent Society.

HARVEY SWADOS, for his article, "Myth of the Powerful Worker" in The Nation.

HARRY L. and GRETCHEN BILLINGS, for their editorials on civil liberties and public welfare in The People's Voice (Helena, Montana) (Weekly journalism).

RALPH MCGILL, for his editorial columns defending the public school system in The Atlanta Constitution (Daily journalism).

IRVING GITLIN for his supervision of CBS Unit One, particularly the programs, "Who Killed Michael Farmer" and "P.O.W. — A Study in Survival."

THE SIDNEY HILLMAN FOUNDAT

PRIZE AWARDS

The Prize Awards of the Sidney Hillm dation were initiated in 1950 as part of and extensive program designed to pro ideals of public service to the commun ished by Sidney Hillman and all labor bring these ideals closer to realization. I ten years, the Foundation has made al for scholarships, for medical research, demic research, and for numerous lectu as well as for the prize awards and annual award for meritorious public se

Submissions for the $500 prize awa dealt with such topics as trade union ment, race relations, civil liberties, welfare and world understanding. Entr include newspaper and magazine article (fiction and non-fiction), and drama, picture, radio and television scripts th been professionally produced.

Entries in all fields may be submitted author or by anyone associated with it cation or production.

The judges for the 1959 prize awards, responsible for the final decisions, ar
Gallagher, president of City College; Lev nett, former book critic of the New York Tribune; and William L. Shirer, auth commentator.

UNDATION

y Hillman Foun-part of a varied to promote the ommunity cher-ll labor, and to ation. In its first nade allocations search, for aca-
s lecture series,
ds and for the blic service.

ze awards have union developerties, scientific
g. Entries may articles, books drama, motion ripts that have bmitted by the

with its publi-

awards, who are ons, are Buell ge; Lewis Gan-
w York Herald
er, author and 1887 1946

THE SIDNEY HILLMAN FOUNDATION

"We want a better America, an America that will give its citizens, first of all, a higher and higher standard of living so that no child will cry for food in the midst of plenty. We want to have an America where the inventions of science will be at the disposal of every American family, not merely for the few who can afford them. An America that will have no sense of insecurity and which will make it possible for all groups, regardless of race, creed or color to live in friendship, to be real neighbors; an America that will carry its great mission of helping other countries to help themselves."

SIDNEY HILLMAN, 1946

426

Hoffman, Paul

PAUL G. HOFFMAN

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Small World
CBS-TV
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

For the past year, as Managing Director of the United Nations Special Fund, I have been viewing the problem of economic development from a new vantage point. I have reached certain conclusions as to why progress has been so slow in the low-income countries, and as to what should be done in the crucial decade ahead to achieve better results. These ideas have been incorporated in a pamphlet being published by the Albert and Mary Lasker Foundation.

It has been suggested that I hold a PRESS CONFERENCE in connection with the forthcoming publication of my pamphlet.

I cordially invite you to this PRESS CONFERENCE at the Sheraton-Carlton Hotel (Crystal Room) 923 - 16th Street, N.W., Washington 6, D.C. on THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 18, at NOON SHARP, to be followed immediately by a BUFFET LUNCHEON.

At the Conference you will receive, in advance of its general distribution, a copy of this pamphlet titled, "ONE HUNDRED COUNTRIES - ONE AND A QUARTER BILLION PEOPLE: How To Speed Their Economic Growth -- And Ours -- In the 1960's."

Please fill in and return the enclosed card to Miss Ruth R. Maier, who will be at the hotel, so that she may make suitable arrangements.

Sincerely yours,

Paul G. Hoffman

Paul G. Hoffman

Hoving, Walter

September 21, 1960

Dear Mr. Hoving:

Many thanks for your cordial letter of September 12 inviting me to your small luncheon commemorating your new book, THE DISTRIBUTION REVOLUTION.

Unfortunately, I shall not be able to accept your gracious invitation, as I will be out of town on Monday, September 26th. I am sorry.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely,

Mr. Walter Hoving
Tiffany and Company
Fifth Avenue & 57th Street
New York 22, New York

mcc

no
C M 21 Sa

TIFFANY & CO.
FIFTH AVENUE & 57TH STREET
NEW YORK 22
TELEPHONE. PLAZA 5-8000

WALTER HOVING
CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

September 12th, 1960

Dear Mr. Morrow:

I am giving birth to a book that will come out at the end of this month, called "The Distribution Revolution".

So, to commemorate the occasion and minimize the birth pains I am giving a small luncheon at the St. Regis on Monday, September twenty-sixth at twelve-thirty.

There will be no long speeches. Just a free book, a free lunch (good I hope), and you'll be through at one forty-five.

I hope you can come.

Sincerely,

Walter Hoving

Mr. Edward R. Murrow,
C.B.S.,
485 Madison Avenue,
New York, N.Y.

Eug Dec

September 8, 1960

Dear Mr. Hoving:

Many thanks for your kind invitation to attend your small gathering at Tiffany's to meet Baroness Bethsabée de Rothschild and to preview the exhibition of hand-blown glass on Tuesday, September 13.

Unfortunately, I shall not be able to accept since I have already made another engagement.

Again, thank you for asking me.

Sincerely,

Mr. Walter Hoving
Tiffany and Company
Fifth Avenue & 57th Street
New York, New York

TIFFANY & CO.
FIFTH AVENUE & 57TH STREET
NEW YORK 22
TELEPHONE. PLAZA 5-8000

WALTER HOVING
CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

September 7, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
C B S
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

On Tuesday, September 13th, from four-thirty to five-thirty, I am having a small gathering at Tiffany's to meet Baroness Bethsabée de Rothschild, and to preview the exhibition of hand-blown glass objects, made for Tiffany's in Israel, under the Baroness' sponsorship and guidance, by Ariel Bar-Tal, a coming young Israeli artist.

These collectors' pieces reminiscent of ancient Palestinian and Roman glass will be shown to the public from September 14th to October 6th. They represent the first one man show of Israel craftsmanship in America.

I hope you will be able to join us on Tuesday, to meet the Baroness and to view these interesting glass objects.

Sincerely,

Walter Hoving

Walter Hoving

Human Relations Conf.

June 2, 1960

Mr. Everett G. Miller
Methodist Board of Education
516 N. Charles Street
Baltimore 1, Md.

Dear Mr. Miller:

It is most gracious of you to invite me to address the Human Relations Conference in Washington next October. However, I much regret that, due to the heavy commitments of my schedule next autumn, I have had to make it a general rule to decline speaking engagements, however attractive they may be.

Yours very truly,

The Baltimore Conference of The Methodist Church

HUMAN RELATIONS CONFERENCE

Washington, D.C. October 31 - November 1 Shoreham Hotel

Methodist Board of Education
516 N. Charles Street
Baltimore 1, Maryland
May 26, 1960

N. ELLSWORTH BUNCE
General Chairman
5910 Northwood Drive
Baltimore 12, Maryland

HARRY W. SCHUH
Treasurer

DR. A. MERRITT DIETTERICH
Program Coordinator

DR. HASKELL M. MILLER
Training Coordinator

EVERETT G. MILLER
General Sessions Chairman

DR. ROBERT POWELL
Small Groups Chairman

STANLEY F. KNOCK, JR.
Exhibits Chairman

MARION S. MICHAEL Conference Manager

A. ODELL OSTEEN
Local Arrangements Chairman

THOMAS O'CONNOR
Publicity Chairman

THOMAS B. EHLERS
Registrar

DR. EDGAR W. BECKETT
Hospitality Chairman

Inter-Board Planning Committee

DR. ALBERT P. SHIRKEY
Board of Evangelism

DR. E. CRANSTON RIGGIN
Board of Missions

DR. F. REID ISAAC, JR.
Board of Child Care

W. CARROLL BEATTY
Board of Lay Activities

E. LEON DAGE
Town and Country Commission

MRS. WILLIAM J. APSLEY
Women's Society of Christian Service

DR. A. MERRITT DIETTERICH
Board of Education

STANLEY F. KNOCK, JR.
TRAFCO

A. ODELL OSTEEN
Board of Christian Social Relations

DONALD E. LEWIS
Board of Hospitals and Homes

District Superintendents

DR. CLARENCE L. FOSSETT
DR. ORRIS G. ROBINSON
DR. PAUL F. WARNER
DR. DANIEL W. JUSTICE
DR. EDGAR W. BECKETT
DR. ROBERT H. PARKER

Dr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Dr. Murrow:

The Methodist people of the Washington Area are planning a Human Relations Conference which will be held at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D. C., on October 31 - November 1, 1960.

The people of the Methodist Church in this area are mindful of the special responsibility they have because the Nation's Capitol is within our borders. We are also becoming increasingly mindful of the influence we can exert upon the ten million Methodist people throughout the nation if we can act with intelligence and relevance.

Our first responsibility, however, is to make the two hundred thousand members of the five hundred and fifty-six Methodist Churches of our local Conference mindful of our opportunities and responsibility.

Our purpose would be greatly enhanced if you would consent to deliver an address on the subject of contemporary needs to the five hundred selected delegates, and to the local and national press which will be invited to cover the Conference.

Other speakers will be Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, President of the National Council of Churches; Dr. Liston Pope, Author and Professor of Christian Social Ethics; Dr. Haskell Miller, Author and Professor of Sociology; Dr. Lowell B. Hazzard, Author and Professor of Old Testatment.

Because of a limited budget, we are unable to extend a large honorarium; however, we will do our best.

Will your schedule permit you to deliver such an address on Monday, October 31. The banquet would be served at 6:30 p.m.; your address would be scheduled for 8:00 p.m. . It is our hope that you will be able to share with us.

Sincerely,

Everett G. Miller

Everett G. Miller

EGM:sls

To Serve the Present Age

Iceland, Ambas. 7

The Ambassador of Iceland
requests the pleasure of the company of

Mr. Edward R. Murrow

at a reception and dinner marking the role of Iceland's commercial relations in the Western Hemisphere on Wednesday, February 3rd 1960
at six-thirty o'clock
Sert Room and Terrace Court, The Waldorf-Astoria
New York

R.S.V.P.
Social Secretary
Embassy of Iceland
1906 23rd Street N.W., Washington 8, D.C.

New York:
Oxford 7-1395
Dress Optional

Immaculate Conception Seminary

March 14, 1960

Dear Sir:

Thank you for your gracious letter of March 8th inviting Mr. Murrow to deliver a lecture at the Immaculate Conception Seminary next January.

As you may know, Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and is traveling abroad. He will not be returning to the States for several months, and until his fall broadcasting schedule has been set up, I regret that it will not be possible for him to accept any engagements.

Thank you again for asking him.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

The Reverend Arnold Blaes, O.S.B.
Immaculate Conception Seminary
Conception, Missouri

Announcing a Lecture Series
on Contemporary Man
His Origins
His World
His Problems

Presented by:

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION SEMINARY

Sponsored by:

INTERESTED AND GENEROUS COMPANIES AND INDIVIDUALS

A PRIEST'S WORK is instructing and saving men. Hence a priest must understand men. He must understand their problems and their trials. He must know the social, cultural, political, and economic currents shaping today's world, moulding today's men. To fulfill his obligations a priest must be a man with men. He must be a contemporary man.

The work of a seminary is training priests. Hence a seminary must take care that the student entrusted to it becomes a man of today able to cope with the world in which he will live and work.

Pope Pius XII in his encyclical, Menti Nostrae, called upon seminary officials to recognize that "Whoever sets before himself his own sanctification and that of others must be equipped with solid learning that comprises not only Theology but also the results of modern science and discovery." The Pope urged further that seminarians be "kept in contact with the events of the day, which apart from furnishing them with the necessary material for forming and expressing a good judgment, can provide material for discussions thus helping them to make decisions and to reach balanced conclusions."

A seminary cannot train a priest who is a contemporary man through classroom work alone. A seminary must bring the priest of tomorrow into dynamic contact with men of today. A seminary must provide means whereby the seminarian can meet contemporary men who are experts in science, politics, medicine, art, sociology, education, finance, and culture. A seminary must permit the seminarian to hear about the problems of today's world from the lips of contemporary specialists themselves.

In order better to accomplish the exalted task of moulding a holy and well informed priest, Immaculate Conception Seminary has inaugurated a series of lectures entitled: Contemporary Man—His Origins, His World, His Problems. Once a month the seminary invites some outstanding personage to deliver a formal lecture to the seminarians, mix freely with them, and discuss informally with them his special field of endeavor and its impact on contemporary man.

In this way Immaculate Conception Seminary hopes to obviate the fear expressed by Pius XII in Menti Nostrae that the priest, not well educated in the ways and the problems of the twentieth century, on leaving the seminary "feel himself disorientated—a thing that would not only be harmful to his soul but also injure the efficacy of his work."

Lec

SEPTEMBER

Topi

OCTOBER

Topi

NOVEMBER

Topic

DECEMBER:

Topics:

Lecture Series 1958-'59

EMBER: REV. JOSEPH MOODY
Congers, New York
Author and lecturer on sociology and history.

Topic: Social conditions of Contemporary France.

TOBER: HON. STUART SYMINGTON
Washington, D. C.
Democratic Senator from State of Missouri.

Topic: Atoms for Peace: The Statesman's View.

EMBER: BASIL CLANCY
Dublin, Ireland
Editor of leading Irish periodical, "Hibernia."

Topic: The Legion of Mary in Ireland and Europe.

EMBER: SR. MAGDALEN MARY, I.H.M.
SR. MARY CORITA, I.H.M.
Los Angeles, Calif.

Topics: Mosaic Making for the non-Professional.
Painting for the non-Professional.

Art Orientation for Catholic Family Life.

Lecture Series

(Continued)

JANUARY: BROTHER CLAUDE STOCK, F.S.C.
Illinois Institute of Technology Government Atomic Research Scientist.

Topic: Atoms for Peace: The Scientist's View.

FEBRUARY: DIETRICH VON HILDEBRAND
Fordham University
Professor and Author.

Topic: To be announced.

MARCH: REV. GERALD PHELAN
Toronto, Ont.
Professor and Author.

Topic: To be announced.

APRIL: JERALD BRAUER
Chicago University
Theological Department
Professor and Author.

Topic: The Theology of Paul Tillich.

MAY: To be announced.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION SEMINARY
Conception, Missouri

Office of the Prefect

March 8, 1960

Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Please find enclosed a brochure explaining our Contemporary Man Lecture Series at Immaculate Conception Seminary, Conception, Missouri.

We are arranging our lecture schedule for the 1960-1961 school year. Would it be possible for you to do us the great honor of participating in this program and delivering a lecture here sometime, let us say, in the month of January? Perhaps you could take as your general topic: The Cultural and Moral Forces of Television.

Immaculate Conception Seminary has a faculty and student body of around 350. The students are all candidates for the Catholic Priesthood and after ordination will be engaged in active ministry in twenty-five different dioceses all the way from Patterson, New Jersey, to Sacramento, California.

The favor we ask is momentous, but, I humbly suggest, that the returns in terms of effects accomplished will also be momentous. Our visiting lecturers do much to form our seminarians into more perceptive leaders. They make a contribution which we faculty members are quite unable to make.

If the time or the topic I have suggested is not acceptable to you, perhaps you can suggest a more convenient time or more agreeable topic. We will do all we can to arrange our program to make your participation possible.

We will expect to cover all your costs of transportation. We can also offer you a stipend which, although admittedly not an adequate recompense for a lecture from you, will at least do something towards offsetting the expenses involved in time lost.

We have adequate guest facilities right here at the seminary. You would be a welcome guest here for as long a time as you might wish to remain.

Sincerely yours,

Arnold Blaes

Rev. Arnold Blaes, O.S.B.

Indiana State College
Eng dec

October 18, 1960

Dear President Pratt:

Thank you for your cordial letter of October 13th. I greatly appreciate your invitation to address the Commencement exercises at Indiana State College on January 15, 1961 and very much regret that I cannot accept. Please do not regard this as any lack of appreciation on my part. The fact is that my radio and television commitments for the next few months are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake any speeches no matter how tempting the occasion.

Thank you for asking me again.

Sincerely yours,

President Willis E. Pratt
Indiana State College
Indiana, Pennsylvania

ERM:gw

INDIANA STATE COLLEGE
INDIANA, PENNSYLVANIA

THE PRESIDENT

October 13, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

A year ago, I wrote to you and invited you to address the Commencement exercises at the Indiana State College. At that time you were in Europe and were unable to attend.

We should like to extend another invitation to you to address the Commencement exercises on Sunday, January 15, 1961, at 2:00 p.m.

The Indiana State College is the largest state college in Pennsylvania, having an enrollment of 3,125 students.

For expenses and honorarium our budet allows an amount of $750. While I am aware of the fact that the amount offered is inadequate, the opportunity to address 500 future teachers might interest you in coming to our campus.

We will be highly honored to receive an affirmative reply to our invitation.

With kindest personal regards.

Very sincerely yours,

Willis E. Pratt

Willis E. Pratt
President

Indianapolis Motor Speedway Corp.

March 31, 1960

Dear Mr. Hulman:

Thank you for your gracious letter of March 26th inviting Mr. Murrow to attend the Indianapolis Speedway's Press-TV-Radio party at the Waldorf Astoria on Sunday, April 10th.

I regret very much that it will not be possible for Mr. Murrow to accept your invitation, since he is traveling abroad and will not be returning to the States for several months.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Anton Hulman, Jr.
Indianapolis Motor Speedway Corporation
Speedway, Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS MOTOR SPEEDWAY CORPORATION

MAINTAINING THE GREATEST RACE COURSE IN THE WORLD

SPEEDWAY, INDIANA

March 26, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Ed:

Because of your continued interest in the success of our annual 500 Mile Race, we hope you can be with us for the Speedway's traditional Press-TV-Radio party in the Louis XVI Suite of the Waldorf on Sunday, April 10.

Cocktails will be served at six o'clock and dinner at seven-thirty. During the cocktail hour the finest "500" race film ever produced will be screened in an adjoining room for your entertainment.

In order to guide us in final preparations for the party, please let us know whether or not we can expect you.

Cordially,

Tony

Anton Hulman, Jr.

I. I. E.

INSTITUTE OF INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION
1 EAST 67th STREET, NEW YORK 21, N. Y. • LEHIGH 5-3400 • CABLE ADDRESS "INTERED"
REGIONAL OFFICES: CHICAGO, DENVER, HOUSTON, SAN FRANCISCO, WASHINGTON, D.C.

September 23, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Ed:

Mr. Albert G. Sims, IIE Vice-President for Operations, has just returned from visiting five East African nations. Mr. Sims was a member of the advisory committee to the Kennedy Foundation on the African-American Student Foundation Airlift. He had conversations with Tom Mboya, Secretary, Kenya African National Union, Nairobi, Julius Kiano, Member, Legislative Council, Government of Kenya, and other leaders in these countries.

We are inviting a small group to hear a report by Mr. Sims on the Kenya Airlift Program as well as other significant educational developments in Africa. I hope you will be able to join this group at the Institute on Thursday, September 29, from 4:00 - 5:00 p.m. Cocktails will be served after the meeting.

Would you please call my office to let me know whether you can attend?

Sincerely yours,

Kenneth Holland
President

Institute of Internat
Education

July 1, 1959

Dear Ken:

Many thanks for your letter of June 18. I cannot, at this point, say definitely whether I shall be able to participate in the Institute's Fourth National Conference to be held in San Francisco, November 30 to December 3, 1960, but will certainly do my best to be with you on those dates. I will also remember to keep my eyes open for Asian national leaders or educators who might be suitable representatives at the Conference.

Thank you for your good wishes. I shall look forward to seeing you when I return from my trip.

With best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Kenneth Holland
Institute of International Education
1 East 67th Street
New York 21, New York

mc

INSTITUTE OF INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION
1 EAST 67th STREET, NEW YORK 21, N. Y. • LEHIGH 5-3400 • CABLE ADDRESS "INTERED"
REGIONAL OFFICES: CHICAGO, DENVER, HOUSTON, SAN FRANCISCO, WASHINGTON, D.C.

June 18, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Ed:

You will recall that at our recent luncheon we discussed the Institute's plans for the Fourth National Conference on Exchange of Persons to be held in San Francisco, November 30 - December 3, 1960. This is a brief reminder of some of the things I hope you'll do for us in connection with these plans. First and foremost, I hope you will hold these dates yourself so that we may look forward to your chairing a plenary session panel discussion similar to the first-rate panel you chaired in Washington. Second, I hope that as you travel throughout Asia you will investigate the possibility of getting several top-ranking Asian national leaders or educators to participate in the Conference. Let me know who you think would be particularly good and who, on the basis of your contacts with them, might be interested in attending. We will take the necessary steps to follow up.

I am confident we can find funds to finance one or more Asian leaders of real stature. I assume that if a head of state comes, however, such private financing would be inappropriate.

Best wishes for a good trip. I look forward to hearing from you and to talking with you when you get back.

Sincerely yours,

Ken

Kenneth Holland
President

Institute of Internat'l Education

The Editors of Glamour Magazine
with Remington Rand
and Scripto, Incorporated
request the pleasure of your company at a Cotillion
in honour of the Ten Best Dressed College Girls in America
for the benefit of
The Institute of International Education on Thursday, the ninth of June at ten o'clock
The Astor
Grand Ballroom

R.s.v.p.
$20 Contribution
(tax deductible)

Black Tie
Dancing

Internat'l Relations Council

May 26, 1960

Mr. Ernest L. Eliel
International Relations Council, Inc.
17305 Parker Avenue
South Bend 15, Indiana

Dear Mr. Eliel:

I have just returned to New York and find your gracious invitation of May 17 to speak to the South Bend-Mishawaka International Relations Council.

I much regret that I have had to make it a general rule not to accept speaking engagements, however attractive they may be, due to the pressure of my broadcasting commitments. Thank you very much for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

ERM:skh

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS COUNCIL, INC.

~~2412 SOUTH TWYCKENHAM DRIVE ✓ SOUTH BEND 14, IND. ✓ PH. AT 7-8332~~

17305 Parker Avenue - South Bend 15, Ind. - PH. CE 2-5653

May 17, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Vice-President
Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

As program chairman of the South Bend - Mishawaka International Relations Council I would like to inquire whether, following your recent travels, you would like to speak to our group on a topic of your choice.

We are not a large community, but our Council, despite its financial handicaps, has managed to engage such speakers as Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Mr. Ralph Bunche, Mr. Norman Cousins, Mr. Chester Bowles and a number of other well-known personalities. We feel that we need one or two top speakers to draw attention to our program and enlist the membership which we need to do our job of public education in the area of world affairs.

Our membership in recent years has been between 500 and 700. Meetings are held at 8 p.m. on a weekday in the O'Laughlin Auditorium of St. Mary's College. South Bend has good direct air-connections with New York.

If you are willing to take a little time out of your busy schedule to visit a typical Midwestern city and let us know something about your thinking on world affairs, could you please let me know what your honorarium would be and when you could come. So far, the months of January through April 1961 are still open.

Very truly yours,

Ernest L. Eliel

Ernest L. Eliel
Program Chairman

Department of Chemistry
University of Notre Dame
Notre Dame, Indiana

ELE:jeb

Internat'l Science Fndt

August 10, 1960

Mr. Ch. de Guigne
International Science Foundation
World Trade Center
Ferry Building
San Francisco, California

Dear Mr. de Guigne:

In reply to your letter of July 5, I much regret that I shall be unable to accept your gracious invitation to join you at the Brainpower Forum in October. The pressure and uncertainty of my commitments at CBS make it impossible for me to make other arrangements, particularly when they involve travelling away from New York.

Very truly yours,

ERM:skh

INTERNATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

WORLD TRADE CENTER
FERRY BUILDING, SAN FRANCISCO

July 5, 1960

TELEPHONES:...YUKON 2-9726
DOUGLAS 2-0701, DAVENPORT 2-5245

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
540 Park Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

At the suggestion of a group of our members, headed by representatives of Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, U.S. Army Ordnance Missile Command, Hughes Aircraft Company and a number of the universities cooperating in graduate study programs for personnel employed by these interests, the International Science Foundation is sponsoring another in its series of Brainpower Forum conferences at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School, October 3-5, 1960.

We hope that you will be able to join us in Monterey. Conference programs and information on registration and accommodations will be mailed to you in the near future. I am attaching some mimeographed material of a preliminary nature which will provide program information in the interim.

Conference participation, including representatives of industry, government, and education, will be limited to 100 so we would appreciate hearing from you at your earliest convenience. Unfortunately, we are not able to permit those invited to name alternates.

Sincerely yours,

Ch. de Guigne
Chairman, Board of Governors

Enc

INTERNATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION
WORLD TRADE CENTER • SAN FRANCISCO 11 • CALIFORNIA • YUKON 2-9726

INTERNATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION BRAINPOWER FORUM CONFERENCE

October 3-5, 1960

U.S. NAVAL POSTGRADUATE SCHOOL - MONTEREY

Suggested Purpose:

To determine the roles of industry, government, and the university, both individually and on a cooperative basis, in sponsoring graduate study programs to further the development and increase the productivity of scientists and engineers.

Objectives of the conference:

1. To define the areas of industrial scientific activity which require graduate study as a foundation for optimum creativity.

2. To identify the management philosophy, motives, and policy which stimulate support of graduate study for employees.

3. To examine the ability of industry, government, and the university to meet the need for outstanding, scientifically oriented employees.

4. To determine what must be done to overcome obstacles in the way of filling our national scientific manpower needs through graduate study programs and to do this without impairing the university's own need to maintain the academic environment vital to stimulating basic research and producing talented teachers.

INTERNATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION BRAINPOWER FORUM CONFERENCE

October 3-5, 1960

U.S. NAVAL POSTGRADUATE SCHOOL - MONTEREY

Suggested Areas of Concern

I. Need for industry-sponsored graduate education (background)

   a. Principles involved
   b. Industry's motives
   c. Attitude of top management
   d. Advantages to stockholder and customer

II. Policy

   a. Method of selecting participants
   b. Administration of program
      1. Supervising authority for program in industry
      2. Responsibilities of program manager
   c. Utilization of graduates
   d. Protection of company investment

III. Operation of program

   a. Selection and placement of participants
   b. Remuneration of participants
   c. Professional development of participants, job assignments and productivity
   d. Research opportunities for thesis
   e. Post-program recognition for student
   f. Financing research
   g. Patent rights

IV. Role of university

   a. Resistance to part-time graduate study
   b. Support of added costs for staff, equipment, and facilities
   c. Performance standards
   d. Use of graduate study programs in recruitment
   e. Time limit on degrees

V. Role of government

INTERNATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION
WORLD TRADE CENTER • SAN FRANCISCO 11 • CALIFORNIA • YUKON 2-9726

BRAINPOWER FORUM CONFERENCE SERIES
U.S. NAVAL POSTGRADUATE SCHOOL, MONTEREY, CALIFORNIA

"HIGHER EDUCATION FOR INDUSTRIAL EMPLOYEES"

PROPOSED PROGRAM

Monday, October 3, 1960

5:00 p.m. Registration - Oak Room, Mark Thomas' Inn

6:30 p.m. Dinner - Terrace Room, Mark Thomas' Inn

Toastmaster: Jas. S. Thompson, Secretary
International Science Foundation

Speaker: _____

8:30 p.m. Opening Session - King Auditorium
U.S. Naval Postgraduate School

Presiding: Christian de Guigne
Chairman, Board of Governors
International Science Foundation

Welcome: Rear Admiral E. E. Yeomans, USN
Commandant, U.S. Naval Postgraduate School

"The Development of Scientific Manpower through Graduate Study Programs Sponsored by Government"

Speaker: _____

Tuesday, October 4, 1960

9:00 a.m. Morning Session - Spanagle Hall
U.S. Naval Postgraduate School

Presiding: Christian de Guigne
Chairman, Board of Governors
International Science Foundation

9:10 a.m.	Summary of Previous International Science Foundation Brainpower Forum Conferences Rear Admiral Earl E. Stone, USN, retired.
9:30 a.m.	Report on Successful Higher Educational Programs Sponsored by Industry and Government Speaker: _____
10:00 a.m.	Industry View of Corporate Support of Higher Education for Employees Speaker: _____
10:30 a.m.	Coffee
10:45 a.m.	Government View of Federal Support of Higher Education for Employees Speaker: _____
11:15 a.m.	University View of Corporate or Federal Support of Higher Education for Employees Speaker: _____
12:15 p.m.	Luncheon - Terrace Room, Mark Thomas' Inn Presiding: John Stauffer, Governor International Science Foundation "What Should Top Management's Policy be Regarding Support of Higher Education for Employees?" Speaker: _____
1:30 p.m.	Group Sessions on Industry- or Government-Sponsored Graduate Study Programs Presiding: Vernon Pick, Governor International Science Foundation (Four sessions run concurrently on each topic with objective of identifying two most significant issues for each topic. Audience to be distributed equally among sessions.)

TOPIC I: Basic Needs, Philosophy and Motives

Moderator: _____

Panel: (1) Industry: _____

_____

_____

(2) University: _____

_____

_____

(3) Government: _____

_____

_____

(4) Student: _____

TOPIC II: Organization, Administration and Operation

Moderator: _____

Panel: (1) Industry: _____

_____

_____

(2) University: _____

_____

_____

(3) Government: _____

_____

_____

(4) Student: _____

TOPIC III: University, Professor and Student Aspects

Moderator: _____

Panel: (1) Industry: _____

_____

_____

(2) University: _____

_____

_____

(3) Government: _____

_____

_____

(4) Student: _____

TOPIC IV: Economics and Evaluation

Moderator: _____

Panel: (1) Industry: _____

_____

_____

(2) University: _____

_____

_____

(3) Government: _____

_____

_____

(4) Student: _____

4:00 p.m. Summaries of group sessions.

(Four moderators will compare conclusions and determine the two most significant issues raised for each topic. Each moderator will present a five-minute summary.)

6:30 p.m. Dinner - Terrace Room, Mark Thomas' Inn

Toastmaster: Richard S. Rheem, Governor
International Science Foundation

"Philosophy of Graduate Education"

Speaker: _____

Wednesday, October 5, 1960

9:00 a.m. Spanagel Hall
U.S. Naval Postgraduate School

Presiding: Christian de Guigne
Chairman, Board of Governors
International Science Foundation

Panel Discussion:

"How Can the Problems of Industry- and Government-Sponsored Higher Education for Employees be Resolved?"

Moderator: _____

Panel: _____

_____

_____

(Thirty-minute discussion of the most significant issue evoked for each topic during the Tuesday afternoon panel discussions)

I. Need, Philosophy and Motives

II. Organization, Administration and Operation

III. University, Teacher and Student Aspects

IV. Economics and Evaluation

11:00 a.m. Conference Summary and Evaluation:

_____

11:30 a.m.	Report of Recommendations Committee: Admiral Raymond A. Spruance, USN, retired. Governor, International Science Foundation
11:45 a.m.	Closing Remarks: Christian de Guigne Chairman, Board of Governors International Science Foundation

INTERNATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

"Those who are interested in science speak an international language understood everywhere—the language of knowledge. Scientists of all countries are friends because in their daily work, in trying to advance knowledge, they realize more than any other group the extent to which their achievements depend on work that is going on in other parts of the world. And they know that every step forward is a step that has been possible through combined human effort. At the basis of all scientific work there has been a truly international spirit."

—Alexander von Muralt

INTERNATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

BOARD OF GOVERNORS

Chairman
CHRISTIAN DE GUIGNE
Chairman of the Board, Stauffer Chemical Company

PAUL C. AEBERSOLD
U. S. Atomic Energy Commission

JOHN R. ALISON
Vice-President, Northrop Aircraft, Inc.

CAPTAIN RICHARD B. BLACK
Office of Naval Research

ROBERT L. CHAMPION
President, International Science Foundation

J. HOWARD EDGERTON
President, California Federal Savings

JOHN H. FREDERICK University of Maryland

ROBERT T. KIMBERLIN
Vice-President, Crown Zellerbach Corporation

B. E. LAUER
University of Colorado

ROBERT C. MILLER
Director, California Academy of Sciences

DON M. MUCHMORE
Director, The California Museum of Science and Industry

VERNON PICK Director, Pick Laboratories

EDWIN RANDLE
Romano-Randle Properties

RICHARD S. RHEEM
Director, Rheem Manufacturing Company

ADMIRAL RAYMOND A. SPRUANCE, USN (ret.)

JOHN STAUFFER
Senior Vice-President, Stauffer Chemical Company

D. B. STEINMAN
Consulting Civil Engineer

MORRIS A. STEWART
Dean of the Graduate Division, University of California

J. F. SULLIVAN, JR.
Executive Committee, Crocker-Anglo National Bank

GEORGE C. TENNEY
President, McGraw-Hill Company of California

JOS. S. THOMPSON
Honorary Chairman, Federal Pacific Electric Company

ROBERT E. VIVIAN
Dean Emeritus, University of Southern California

OFFICERS

President
ROBERT L. CHAMPION

Vice-Presidents
ROBERT C. MILLER
DON C. MUCHMORE

Secretary
JOS. S. THOMPSON

Treasurer
MORRIS A. STEWART

"The clearing house as an institution for exchanging checks is a familiar one to business people. But in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park is located another kind of clearing house. Instead of exchanging checks, this clearing house was established for the purpose of exchanging ideas . . . between scientists and engineers throughout the world. Situated in the California Academy of Sciences, the International Science Foundation is doing a job for all of us in the free world."

Station KNBC, San Francisco, The Bright Side of Bay Area Business

"The International Science Foundation is the break-through in the bewildering complexity of organizations which has confounded scientists and engineers from overseas when visiting the United States."

New Zealand Science Review, July-August, 1957

"As a corporate member of the International Science Foundation, the Bank of California has been pleased with the results of the Foundation's programs to strengthen the scientific resources of the San Francisco Bay Area. We feel that the most outstanding contribution yet made by the Foundation to the scientific development of the area is the publication of its handbook. This handbook is helpful to new business and industries which are looking to this area for future expansion."

George Greenwood, Vice-President,
The Bank of California

"The Society for Visiting Scientists came into existence during the Second World War, when numbers of scientists from occupied and other Allied countries were living in Britain. It was our hope at that time that this foundation would be followed, after the war, by the setting up of other similar societies, particularly on the Continent of Europe. As yet this hope has remained unfulfilled, as far as Europe is concerned, and so it was with the keenest pleasure that we heard of the foundation of your Center, the first similar—may I say sister—society outside the United Kingdom. We hope that this will prove to be a happy augury; may the existence of our two societies inspire the foundation of similar centers, both inside and outside the English-speaking world."

A. Lang Brown, Joint Honorary Secretary,
The Society for Visiting Scientists, Ltd.

INTERNATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

OBJECTIVES

In 1953, with the assistance of the California Academy of Sciences and the endorsement of the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council, the Cooperative Research Foundation established an experimental international science center in Golden Gate Park which initiated projects designed to aid in the development of our own scientific resources and those of our colleagues overseas. The center became a focal point for engineers and scientists visiting the Bay Area and developed activities which have given local professional personnel increased opportunities for exchanging ideas with scientists from other countries.

In 1954, when the work of the experimental San Francisco Bay Area International Science Center had begun to receive the recognition of organizations in other parts of the United States and abroad, it was proposed that a new foundation be organized for the purpose of sponsoring not only the operation of the San Francisco Center but also for undertaking the establishment and operation of similar centers in other metropolitan areas. In order to provide an effective method for stimulating the development of the scientific resources of these areas, it was recommended that the new foundation's corporate and membership structure be carefully tailored to integrate the cooperative efforts of academies of science, research councils, scientific and engineering societies, colleges and universities, government agencies, museums, foundations, research institutes, industrial laboratories, banks, corporations, associations, and individuals. Accordingly, a group of members of the Cooperative Research Foundation established the International Science Foundation as a non-profit corporation with national headquarters in San Francisco.

The program of the International Science Foundation depends upon three types of activity for its effectiveness:

1. Establishment and operation of science centers in metropolitan areas capable of supporting their programs. It is expected that, as additional centers are established, they will begin operating in temporary quarters and, like the San Francisco Center, they will at first function as clearing-houses to aid visiting scientists and engineers in exchanging ideas and developing professional cooperation with their colleagues in local sections of scientific societies and in local industrial laboratories, universities, research institutes, and other organizations. Each center will develop a program to meet local needs. ISF's ultimate objective is to have each center housed in its own buildings, providing facilities which may be used by ISF members and especially by engineering and scientific societies for offices, meetings, and other activities. These centers will also furnish housing and other accommodations for scientists.

2. Strengthening the mechanism of exchange between all scientists and engineers. The International Science Foundation believes that emphasis should be placed on improving the quality of scientific and engineering manpower and on increasing the productivity of our existing manpower resources. Visiting engineers and scientists bring new ideas into laboratories and stimulate our research staffs. ISF promotes world trade in ideas through its center programs, through travel grants, exchange of publications and information, and by special projects such as the publication of handbooks of the scientific resources of the areas served by ISF centers.

3. Development of cooperative projects between members of the Foundation. The team research projects that are now being developed are projects in which each ISF member provides personnel and a portion of the required funds or material for the work. The International Science Foundation also plans to work with its participating members on the organization of international symposia.

The program of the International Science Foundation takes on new importance in view of the recent cold war developments which are ushering in an era of world-wide, open competition between democratic and communist systems. The Foundation depends upon corporate support for its effectiveness and, in turn, gives American business and industrial interests an opportunity to make direct contact with ISF member institutions in other countries and participate in cooperative projects which are mutually beneficial. ISF's corporate members are in a strategic position to demonstrate some of the advantages of our free enterprise system to scientists representing these overseas scientific groups when they are visiting the U. S.

INTERNATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

MEMBERSHIP

CORPORATE BENEFACTOR

Stauffer Chemical Company

CORPORATE MEMBERS

Aerojet-General Corporation
Altos Enterprises, Inc.
American Trust Company
Bank of America, N. T. & S. A.
The Bank of California, N. A.
Bechtel Corporation
John S. Bolles
Broadview Research Corporation
California Pacific Title Insurance Company Champion International Corporation Chemical Process Company
Chrysler Missile Division
City Title Insurance Company
Crocker-Anglo National Bank
Cutter Laboratories
D'Arrigo Bros. Co. of California
Federal Pacific Electric Company
The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company
First Western Bank and Trust Company
The Fluor Corporation, Ltd.
J. A. Folger & Company
General Electric Company
Hewlett-Packard Company
Hitchcock & Chamberlain, Ltd.
Howe, Neilson & Prentice Huggins Laboratories, Inc.
Hughes Aircraft Company
International Business Machines Corporation
Johnson & Mape Construction Company
Kaiser Companies
Lenkurt Electric Company
Levi Strauss & Co.
Lockheed Aircraft Corporation
Lower Peninsula Properties
MacKay & Somps Management Associates
Matson Navigation Company
McGraw-Hill Publishing Company
North American Aviation, Inc.
Northrop Corporation
Pacific Gas and Electric Company
Pacific Scientific Company
The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company
Rheem Manufacturing Company
Romano-Randle Properties
Schlage Lock Company
Standard Oil Company of California
Sunnyvale Standard
Tidewater Oil Company
Trojan Construction Co.
United ElectroDynamics, Inc.
United States Lines Company
United States Steel Corporation
Utah Construction Company
Varian Associates
Wells Fargo Bank

INSTITUTIONAL MEMBER

Palo Alto Medical Research Foundation

ORGANIZATIONAL MEMBER

Manufacturing Chemists' Association, Inc.

PARTICIPATING MEMBERS

Accademia Nazionale dei Lincei
Canadian Universities Foundation
Central National Council for Applied Scientific Research in the Netherlands
Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique (France)
The Chemical Institute of Canada
Consejo Superior de Investigaciones Cientificas
Consiglio Nazionale delle Ricerche
Council of Scientific and Industrial Research of India
The Danish Academy of Technical Sciences
Finnish Academy of Science and Letters
Fonds National de la Recherche Scientifique (Belgium)
Fonds National Suisse de la Recherche Scientifique
Instituto de Investigaciones y Ensayes de Materiales (Chile)
Instituto Nacional de la Investigacion Cientifica (Mexico)
Instituto Nacional de Pesquisas da Amazonia
Japan Trade Center
National Research Council of Canada
National Research Council of the Philippines
Netherlands Organization for Pure Research
Norske Videnskaps-Akademi i Oslo
Osterreichische Akademie der Wissenschaften
Pakistan Council of Scientific and Industrial Research
Royal Danish Academy of Sciences and Letters
Royal Netherlands Academy of Sciences and Letters
Royal Society of Edinburgh
The Royal Society of New Zealand
Science Society of Thailand
Society for Visiting Scientists, Ltd.
South African Council for Scientific and Industrial Research

California State Polytechnic College
Claremont Men's College
Long Beach State College
Loyola University of Los Angeles
Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies
Monterey Peninsula College
Occidental College
George Pepperdine College
Pomona College
The Rice Institute
San Francisco State College
San Jose State College
Scripps College
Stanford University University of California
University of Redlands
University of San Francisco
University of Southern California
Whittier College

American Association on Emeriti
American Dental Association
American Geographical Society
American Institute of Chemical Engineers, Northern California Section
American Institute of Electrical Engineers
American Meteorological Society
American Neurological Association
American Physiological Society
American Society for Testing Materials
American Society of Agronomy
American Society of Animal Production
American Society of Civil Engineers
American Society of Heating and Air Conditioning Engineers, Southern California Chapter
American Veterinary Medical Association
Beaudette Foundation for Biological Research
Botanical Society of America
California Academy of Medicine
California Horticultural Society
California Museum of Science and Industry
Colorado-Wyoming Academy of Science
Frontiers Foundation for Education and Research
Georgia Academy of Science

Illinois State Museum
Illuminating Engineering Society, Golden Gate Section
The Mathematical Association of America
Society for the Study of Development and Growth Society of American Military Engineers,
San Francisco Post
Soil Science Society of America
Structural Engineers Association of Northern California
Strybing Arboretum Society
Western Electronic Manufacturers' Association
Wildlife Society

Barker Bros.
Campbell-Ewald Company
Chevrolet Division, General Motors Corporation
Commodore Aviation Crown Zellerbach Foundation
Ford Motor Company
Friden, Inc.
The Gray Line, Inc.
National Association of Manufacturers Particle
Pick Enterprises

Air Research and Development Command
Army Language School
U. S. Army Ordnance Missile Command
U. S. Naval Postgraduate School
U. S. Naval Radiological Defense Laboratory

Anaheim Chamber of Commerce
Berkeley Chamber of Commerce
Burbank Chamber of Commerce
El Segundo Chamber of Commerce
Long Beach Chamber of Commerce
Marin County Development Foundation
Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce
Napa Chamber of Commerce
New England Council for Economic Development
Oakland Chamber of Commerce
Pomona Chamber of Commerce
Redwod City Chamber of Commerce
Richmond Chamber of Commerce
The San Francisco Bay Area Council
San Francisco Chamber of Commerce
San Jose Chamber of Commerce
Santa Barbara Chamber of Commerce
Santa Monica Chamber of Commerce
Sunnyvale Chamber of Commerce
Torrance Chamber of Commerce
Vallejo Chamber of Commerce
World Trade Center

Headquarters Office
World Trade Center, San Francisco
YUkon 2-9726

San Francisco Bay Area International Science Center
California Academy of Sciences, Golden Gate Park,
San Francisco

Southern California International Science Center
California Museum of Science and Industry, Exposition Park,
Los Angeles

International Univ in America
E D

September 12, 1960

Dear Mr. Kilpatrick:

Many thanks for your letter of September 8.

I greatly appreciate your cordial invitation to become a member of your Committee and very much regret that I cannot accept. The fact is, my radio and television schedules are so very heavy that I have no free time at all in which to take on extra-curricular activities. I am sorry but am sure you understand.

Again, thank you for asking me.

Sincerely,

Mr. William H. Kilpatrick
Committee for the Promotion of
An International University in America, Inc.
106 Morningside Drive
New York 27, New York

COMMITTEE FOR THE PROMOTION OF
AN INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY IN AMERICA, INC.

106 Morningside Drive, Apt. 84 • New York 27, N. Y.

OFFICERS

WILLIAM H. KILPATRICK
Chairman

GEORGE GENG
Secretary

CHI-PAO CHENG
Acting Treasurer

MARTIN A. BURROUGHS
Attorney

MEMBERS (to date)

GEORGE E. AXTELLE
FREDERICK BURKHARDT
MARTIN A. BURROUGHS
E. CLAYTON CALHOUN
CHI-PAO CHENG
BETTIS A. GARSIDE
GEORGE GENG
WILBUR C. HALLENBECK
MOSES HSU
MAHER KAMEL
WILLIAM H. KILPATRICK
MRS. MARION KILPATRICK
EDWARD L. LAI
HARRY W. LAIDLER
HENRY SMITH LEIPER
CLARENCE LINTON
EARL J. MCGRATH
THEODORE F. ROMIG
MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT
WILLIAM LONSDALE TAYLER
CHARLES J. TURCK
HERRICK B. YOUNG
N. Z. ZIA

MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE

WILLIAM H. KILPATRICK
Chairman

MATTA AKRAWI*
FREDERICK BURKHARDT
R. H. EDWIN ESPY*
HARRY W. LAIDLER
WILLIAM LONSDALE TAYLER
CHARLES J. TURCK

*Consultants to
The Committee

September 8, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

On behalf of the Committee for the Promotion of an International University in America, I am extending to you our cordial invitation to become a member of this Committee.

As you will see from the enclosed statement, the aim of the enterprise is to promote international understanding and cooperation through international study and living in an international community. It should be noted that the proposed institution is to be a specialized type of university, with many features not present in existing institutions. We have no intention of creating a duplicate of existing institutions.

A further statement of the proposal is embodied in a larger paper which answers questions many would like to ask. Copies of the first printing of this larger statement unfortunately are exhausted and a second printing is being prepared. Should you wish to have a copy, it will be sent to you on request when it is available.

Meanwhile we hope you will find the proposal so challenging that you will decide to join us in promoting this great endeavor.

I am enclosing a form for your reply. Kindly check and return it to us at your early convenience.

Sincerely yours,

William H. Kilpatrick

William H. Kilpatrick
Chairman

WHK/h
Encl. 2

P.S. A weekend Study Conference of a limited number of members and consultants is to be held October 1st and 2nd at Wainwright House in Rye, N.Y., to discuss various aspects of the enterprise. A few places are still available for the Conference. If you accept our invitation to join the Committee and will let us know that you are interested in attending the October Conference, we will send you further details regarding it.

AN INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY IN AMERICA

As the world becomes smaller, peoples and nations are more and more interdependent, and human destinies more and more interrelated. With powerful rockets and missiles, carrying nuclear warheads, ready to fly at any moment, one cannot but feel that self-destruction of mankind is by no means an impossibility. Human beings everywhere, therefore, cry for peace and dream of brotherhood. In order to save mankind from self-destruction and to maintain world peace as well as realize international brotherhood, we must make ONE WORLD our aim, our creed, our prayer, and our life!

An International University in America aims at training well-selected young potential leaders of the world "FOR WORLD SERVICE TOWARD WORLD PEACE AND INTERNATIONAL BROTHERHOOD THROUGH INTERNATIONAL UNDERSTANDING, INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION, AND INTERNATIONAL LIVING IN AN INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY." It offers an opportunity by which like-minded people around the world can undertake the fascinating adventure leading to a new way of life in this space age. What unique features would make this university so distinct and imperative that extraordinary efforts must be made for its realization? Following are some that have been proposed:

First of all, a highly specialized offering of international studies - elementary as well as advanced, but all on graduate level - of the various cultures of the world and the problems they face; it might be built around colleges of European, American, Asian, and African studies; but international problems, world meanings, and needs arising from our common interrelatedness would be stressed. Second, provision may be offered for international activities, all year around regular and systematic, through which students can gain first-hand experience and become familiar with various cultures. Third, international faculties, with outstanding authorities from various countries as their members. Fourth, a student body made up of able, mature and promising young men and women from every corner of the earth. Fifth, an international Board of Trustees chosen from the most respected leaders of this age. Sixth, an international campus with buildings and grounds so designed and constructed as to constitute a world in miniature, reflecting the major cultures of the world. Seventh, the experience in international living made possible by an international community of faculty and students.

Because of the many advantages possessed by the city of New York, the university might be located near that cosmopolitan city (though no such decision has yet been made as to location). Area centers could be established on the five major continents; quite possibly each would have a subsidiary system (undergraduate liberal arts college and lower schools); the one on the American continent might be attached to the university proper and located on the same campus.

It is obvious that there are many most difficult problems involved. The Committee is fully aware of their presence and it believes, nevertheless, that there are solutions to them. In order to tackle the problems and make this ideal a reality, the Committee calls for outstanding leaders of the world to unite and stand together working for the realization of this goal.

Address: Dr. William H. Kilpatrick, Chairman
Committee for the Promotion of an International University in America
106 Morningside Drive, Apt. 84, New York 27, New York

Dr. William H. Kilpatrick, Chairman
Committee for the Promotion of an International University in America
106 Morningside Drive, Apartment 84
New York 27, New York

(If your answer is "YES", please check the following:)

_____ (1) I am glad to accept your invitation and to serve as a member of your Committee. Please send me a copy of your full proposal and other related materials.

_____ (2) I am interested in attending the Weekend Study Conference on October 1st and 2nd at Rye, New York, if there is a place for me. Please send me more information about it.

_____ (3) I shall be unable to attend the Weekend Study Conference, but I would like to have the information about it. Please send me materials.

(If your answer is "NO", please check the following:)

_____ (1) I am unable to accept your invitation before I know more about the project. Please send me a copy of your full proposal and other related materials.

_____ (2) I am unable to accept your invitation, but I would like to see a copy of your full proposal. Please send it to me when it is available.

_____ (3) I am unable to accept your invitation, but I would like very much to be kept informed of your future developments. You may keep me on your mailing list.

Signed by: -

(Name)_____

(Address)_____

_____

Date:_____, 196___.

COMMENTS: (If you have any comments, please share them with us in the following space or on a separate sheet of paper.)

Israel Philharmonic Orchestra

October 14, 1960

Dear Mr. Rubin:

Thank you for your recent letter giving Mr. Murrow the opportunity to attend the Premiere performance of the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra on October 16th.

I regret very much that Mr. Murrow will be unable to accept since he is out of the country and will not be returning until the 18th or 19th.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

Mr. Samuel Rubin
Faberge Town House
5 West 54th Street
New York 19, New York

Fabergé Town House · 5 west 54 street · new york 19, n.y.

OCTOBER
4 1960

Dear Mr. Murrow:

For the first time in ten years, the world-famous Israel Philharmonic Orchestra will tour the United States and Canada. A gala Premiere performance at the Metropolitan Opera House on Sunday evening, October 16th, will launch this significant event in the cultural exchange program of the America-Israel Cultural Foundation.

This tour has been made possible through the generosity of our mutual good friend, Jack Kaplan, who through the J.M. Kaplan Fund is helping to bring the Orchestra to the United States.

As a tribute to him, a Gala Supper Ball honoring Mr. and Mrs. Kaplan will take place in the Grand Ballroom of the Astor Hotel immediately following the Premiere Concert.

I thought that you would want to attend this memorable performance and Supper Ball.

There is enclosed, information about the various categories of tickets. Please send me your reservations soon indicating your choice of tickets on the enclosed card.

With appreciation and kind regards.

Sincerely,

Samuel Rubin

SR/ma

Reprinted from:

The New York Times.

ADOLPH S. OCHS, Publisher 1896-1935

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY

ARTHUR HAYS SULZBERGER
Publisher—Chairman of the Board

ORVIL E. DRYFOOS, President AMORY H. BRADFORD, Vice President
HARDING F. BANCROFT, Secretary FRANCIS A. COX, Treasurer

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1960.

Diplomacy With Music

When the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra comes to the Metropolitan Opera House on Sunday night, Oct. 16, it will be an evening with two-fold significance. This will be the opener of its second American tour and also the beginning of the orchestra's twenty-fifth anniversary year.

The current American tour will begin with a concert dedicated to the United Nations. This is appropriate, for the Israel Philharmonic is made up of leading musicians from many nations. Over the years it has become renowned for its fine music, so much so that it was designated "Israel's best ambassador abroad" by the late United States Ambassador to Israel, Monnett B. Davis.

When it was first formed, Arturo Toscanini headed the group. With later years came such men as the late Dr. Serge Koussevitsky, Leonard Bernstein, Josef Krips, Charles Munch and Eugene Ormandy. They have all conducted triumphantly. The principal conductor for the forthcoming seven-week tour will be Carlo Maria Guilini, who will be assisted by his associate conductor, Dr. Josef Krips, and Gary Bertini, a young Israel conductor. The current tour will take the orchestra to five nations where it will play fifty concerts. We are glad to welcome the Israel Philharmonic to our shores.

a great newspaper hails a great concert

The American tour of the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra is under the auspices of the America-Israel Cultural Foundation in cooperation with the J. M. Kaplan Fund, Inc. and managed by S. Hurok.

AMERICA-ISRAEL CULTURAL FOUNDATION • 2 West 45 Street, New York 36, N. Y.

Tel Aviv, 32 Allenby Road · Los Angeles, 511 North La Cienega · Chicago, 100 West Monroe Street · Philadelphia, 628 Widener Building

PREMIERE PERFORMANCE

of the

ISRAEL PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA

Metropolitan Opera House and the

SUPPER BALL

DEDICATED TO THE UNITED NATIONS

Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Astor

Sunday Evening, October 16, 1960

for the

AMERICA-ISRAEL

CULTURAL FOUNDATION

2 West 45 Street, New York 36, N. Y.

OXford 7-4030

PRICE SCHEDULE

CONCERT METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE 8 P.M.	Supper Ball Grand Ballroom, Hotel Astor 11 P.M.

Concert and Supper Ball

Patron Boxes	$2,000
Donor Boxes	1,500
Subscriber Boxes (all boxes seat eight)	1,000
Orchestra (each)	100

Concert (with Supper Ball Optional)

Orchestra (each)	50
Grand Tier (each)	50
Guild Boxes (each) Row A	50
Club Boxes (each) Row A	50

(Purchasers of $50 seats may make Supper Ball reservations at additional $25 per couvert.)

Concert Only

Guild Boxes (each) Rows B-D	25
Club Boxes (each) Rows B-D	25
Dress Circle (Front Rows)	25

PLEASE DETACH AND RETURN

RESERVATION CARD

Please make the following reservations for the Premiere Concert of the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra on Sunday evening, October 16th. (Tickets at $100 or over include couvert for the Supper Ball.)

Quantity	Description of Seats	Price	Total

NAME.....

ADDRESS.....

Make all checks payable to

AMERICA-ISRAEL CULTURAL FOUNDATION

2 West 45 Street, New York 36, N. Y.

OXford 7-4030

(Entire Cost of Tickets Is Tax Deductible)

ISRAEL'S "BEST AMBASSADOR ABROAD"

Described by a former United States Ambassador to Israel as the young State's "best ambassador abroad," the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra is one of the world's great musical organizations. Its New York premiere, launching a seven week, coast to coast tour of the United States, Canada and Mexico, is thus a musical event of outstanding significance. It is also the highlight of the America-Israel Cultural Foundation's continuing program of cultural exchange between the two countries.

Joint Defense Appeal
Eug Dec

September 27, 1960

Dear Mr. Tisch:

Many thanks for your kind invitation to attend your Joint Defense Appeal's seventh annual Award dinner on Tuesday evening, October 11th at the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria.

I regret very much to have to tell you that I shall not be able to accept due to a previous commitment. Please do not regard this as a lack of enthusiasm on my part. I am sorry.

Thank you again for inviting me.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Laurence A. Tisch
Loew's Theatres, Inc.
Broadway at 45th Street
New York 36, New York

C

LOEW'S THEATRES, INC.

EXECUTIVE OFFICES
LOEW BUILDING
BROADWAY AT 45TH STREET
NEW YORK
36

LAURENCE A. TISCH
CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

September 21st, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
C.B.S.
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

NO

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I am priviledged to invite you, as a former recipient of Joint Defense Appeal's Human Rights Award, to attend the seventh annual Award dinner on Tuesday evening, October 11th, at the Hotel Waldorf=Astoria in New York City.

This year the award will be presented to John J. McCloy, former High Commissioner For Germany and one of our nation's most distinguished civic and business leaders.

As a former recipient of the Human Rights Award you are regarded as a symbol and a spokesman for the finest traditions in American life and your presence on the dais, as our honored guest, would stimulate our audience to a greater understanding of this cause which is devoted to the aims and aspirations which have motivated your public and private life.

My associates in the American Jewish Committee and the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith join me in the earnest hope that you will honor us with your company on October 11th. May I hear from you at your earliest convenience?

Sincerely,

Laurence A. Tisch

Laurence A. Tisch
JDA Dinner Chairman

LAT:lb

Journal of the Screen Producers Guild
Eng Dec

November 7, 1960

Dear Mr. Greenspan:

Many thanks for your letter of November 3rd.

I appreciate your invitation to contribute a piece to a special issue of The Journal of the Screen Producers Guild devoted to The Image of the American Film Abroad and very much regret that I cannot do it. The fact is that my radio and television commitments for the next months are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake any extra-curricular activities no matter how tempting they may be.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Lou Greenspan, Editor
The Journal of the Screen Producers Guild
226 S. Beverly Drive
Beverly Hills, California

ERM:gw

The Journal of the Screen Producers Guild
226 S. BEVERLY DRIVE • BEVERLY HILLS, CALIFORNIA
CRESTVIEW 5-5381

LOU GREENSPAN
Editor

November 3, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The Journal of the Screen Producers Guild, widely circulated both in the U.S. and abroad, is planning a special issue on the controversial subject of The Image of the American Film Abroad. We would be privileged to print a piece from you on this subject if you would like to do it.

It occurred to me that in light of your well-known interest in the image of America abroad you certainly would have some well-defined comment on why we do or do not appear in a proper light to others - and in what way the American film projects this image.

I would appreciate hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Lou Greenspan

Lou Greenspan
Editor

LG:ar

Prince Aly Khan

On the occasion of Pakistan Day

The Prince Aly Khan

Permanent Representative of Pakistan to the United Nations requests the honour of your company

at a Reception

on Wednesday, the twenty-third of March

One thousand, nine hundred and sixty

at Pakistan House from six to eight o'clock

R. S. V. P.
Pakistan House
8 East 65th Street
New York 21
Trafalgar 9-8600

Please bring this card with you

Eng. Dec
King College

July 20, 1960

Mr. Jack E. Snider
Director of Public Relations
King College
Bristol, Tennessee

Dear Mr. Snider:

Your gracious letter of July 15 to Mr. Murrow has arrived here during his absence in Chicago for the Republican Convention.

Unfortunately, Mr. Murrow has had to establish a blanket rule against accepting any speaking engagements, due to the pressure and uncertainty of his CBS commitments. Thank you so much for asking him to join you in October, but the elections will be imminent at that time and he will be involved in various special programs in that connection.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

KING COLLEGE

BRISTOL, TENNESSEE

OFFICE OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

July 15, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
Columbia Broadcasting System
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

To widen the experience of both our faculty and students, King College is planning to bring a group of distinguished visitors to the campus October 24-26, 1960, to lecture and to be available for formal and informal conversations with professors and students.

We are wondering if you would be available at that time for such a visit. If so, what would be your honorarium?

King College is a small college in the Appalachian highlands of East Tennessee, affiliated with the Presbyterian Church. Its curriculum is strongly liberal-arts rather than technical. Its students are drawn from most of the southern states, and a large proportion of its graduates go on for advanced study.

We feel that your fresh viewpoint would bring an inspiration to those who teach and to those who learn in our college.

Yours sincerely,

Jack Snider

Jack E. Snider
Director of Public Relations

JES:bwj

Eug. Dec.
King Features Syndicate

October 6, 1960

Dear Mr. McLearn:

Many thanks for your kind letter of September 29th inviting me to be your guest at the Banshees luncheon on November 17 at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

I very much regret that I shall not be able to accept since I do expect to be out of town on that date.

Thanks again for asking me.

Sincerely,

Mr. Frank C. McLearn
King Features Syndicate
235 East 45th Street
New York 17, New York

235 EAST 45TH STREET
NEW YORK 17, N.Y.

TEL. MURRAY HILL 2-5600
CABLE ADDRESS: KINGSYN NEW YORK

OFFICE OF THE GENERAL MANAGER

September 29, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

On Thursday, November 17th, the Banshees, a luncheon club of New York men engaged in the newspaper, magazine, book, radio and television fields, will present its fourteenth annual award, "The Silver Lady," to Milton Caniff, creator of "Steve Canyon" and one of the truly great cartoonists of our time. The presentation will be made at a luncheon in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel on the above date at 12:15 p.m. "Bugs" Baer, perennial Master of Ceremonies of the Banshees, will preside at the luncheon, and the entertainment will be a selection of top acts by Broadway talent.

The events of Milt Caniff's distinguished career are too numerous to recount in detail here. From "Terry and the Pirates", his first great strip, and "Male Call", the cartoon that served as a morale booster to U.S. forces the world over during World War II, to his present and inimitable "Steve Canyon", Milt's story has been one of consistent and deserved success. In the words of "Newsweek", he is "unexcelled in his line as an artist and story-smith". Today the "Steve Canyon" daily strip and Sunday page are published in more than 650 newspapers.

Milt is a past president of the National Cartoonists Society and a member of President Eisenhower's People-to-People Committee. The award of "The Silver Lady" will cap a long list of honors that have come to Milt over the years, including the U.S. Air Force Exceptional Service Award, the highest honor that can be given a civilian.

In addition to "The Silver Lady" award, the Banshees plan to present Milt with an album of testimonial letters from a selected list of his admirers throughout the country. We would be pleased to have you contribute a letter to this album.

The Banshees Committee--Arthur "Bugs" Baer, J. D. Gortatowsky, Bob Considine, Bradley Kelly, Joe Willicombe and I--also invite you to be our guest at the luncheon. May I hear from you?

Sincerely,

Frank C. McLearn

Frank C. McLearn

P.S. The luncheon is stag.

Kiwanis Club -

January 6, 1960

Dear Dr. Abruzzi:

Thank you for your gracious letter of December 23rd inviting Mr. Murrow to attend a meeting of the assembled Kiwanis Clubs of Dutchess County some time in late February or early March.

I regret very much that it will not be possible for Mr. Murrow to accept, since he is traveling in Europe and will not be returning to the States for several months. Thank you again for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Wm. Abruzzi, M. D.
President
Kiwanis Club of Wappingers Falls
91 East Main Street
Wappingers Falls, New York

KIWANIS CLUB OF WAPPINGERS FALLS

OFFICERS

PRESIDENT WILLIAM A. ABRUZZI, M. D.
AX 7-3110

VICE-PRES. LEONARD A. HALL
AX 7-8024

SECRETARY FRANK S. ROBERTS, JR.
AX 7-2610

TREASURER FREDERICK D. McDONALD
AX 7-3994

WAPPINGERS FALLS, NEW YORK

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT
91 EAST MAIN STREET
WAPPINGERS FALLS, N. Y.

DIRECTORS

REV. H. HOWARD BLACK
JAMES C. FORRESTER
GEORGE HAYDEN
DR. BART NATOLI
JAMES R. SULLIVAN
WALTER N. UFFELMAN
ARTHUR WEINBERG

December 23, 1959

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Quaker Hill
Pawling, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I have the pleasure and honor to bring to your attention a very important affair which will be taking place some time late in February or early in March, times and dates to be forthcoming. Miss Pearl Buck will speak before the assembled Kiwanis Clubs of Dutchess County on the problem of adoption in New York State. Appearing at this time will be Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, the Governor of New York State Kiwanis Joseph R. Bennett, Past Governor of New York State Kiwanis Dr. Fred R. Melone, and Governor-Elect Charles B. Wall.

This matter so urgently affects the residents of New York State with thousands of children in institutions and the many thousands of would-be parents who are unable to have their own children, that I felt you, being practically a neighbor, would be interested in this problem. We would be honored to have you present at this meeting. I wonder if at this time you would be so kind as to acquaint me with your feelings on this subject and on this meeting, and if you are disposed to attend if it is possible. I will let you know the final time, date and place far in advance so that you can plan accordingly.

Thanking you for your consideration, I remain

Sincerely,

Wm Abruzzi, MD

Wm. Abruzzi, M.D.
President

wa:mc

Ed
Ladies Home Journal

August 29, 1960

Dear Miss McFarland:

Many thanks for your cordial letter of July 15th, which has only just reached me due to my absence from the city. I very much regret that I cannot answer the questions you ask as my radio and television commitments for the next few months are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake any extracurricular activities.

I am sorry to disappoint you.

Sincerely yours,

Miss Elizabeth McFarland
Contributing Editor
Ladies' Home Journal
1270 Avenue of the Americas
New York 20, New York

KHM:gw

Ladies' Home
FROM THE OFFICES OF THE JOURNAL
EDITORIAL WORKSHOP
1270 AVENUE OF THE AMERICAS
NEW YORK 20, N.Y.
PLAZA 7-1020

Bruce Gould
Beatrice Blackmar Gould
Editors

July 15, 1960

Mr. Ed Murrow
580 Park Ave.
New York, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

We need help, and in the immemorial way of women we are turning to men for it - the right men, naturally.

Our problem is this: Ladies' Home Journal readers, to a woman, are interested in attractive men and curious about them. Facts, that's what our readers want. Absorbing information. So we decided to get together a group of revealing questions under the general title,

WHAT WOMEN DON'T KNOW ABOUT MEN and ask you to tell us all about yourself. Here are the questions:

What qualities or characteristics of women, in general, do you find most annoying?

What small things do women do, what habits which many of them have do you find especially unattractive?

Is there any current fashion (dress, hairdo or way of applying cosmetics) which you dislike?

Do you admire physical beauty more than personality and brains in a woman?

When you think of the word "feminine", what qualities come into your mind?

Do you think that the assumption many women make that "all men are really just little boys" is true?

Do you think that the way for a woman to win any argument with a man is to first give him a meal of his favorite food?

What is the best way to win an argument - or settle a quarrel - with a woman?

If there was one piece of advice which you could give to ALL women, what would it be?

Would you be willing to drop me a note to help out? Or would you talk to Peter Briggs or myself if we should give you a call?

Please don't be bothered by the thought that all of our questions seem to be about your relationship to "us". We know men live a life apart from women; we just can't bear to think about it.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth McFarland

Elizabeth McFarland
Contributing Editor

Laubach, Dr Frank

February 16, 1960

Dear Mrs. Lamar:

I have your letter of February 11th inviting Mr. Murrow to attend a dinner in honor of Dr. Frank Laubach on April 25th.

A copy of my reply to your previous letter of January 20th is enclosed. I regret this delay, but presume that my letter was lost enroute.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mrs. Hamilton Kerr Lamar
341 Park Avenue
New York 22, New York

MRS. HAMILTON KERR LAMAR

341 PARK AVENUE, NEW YORK 22, N. Y.

Edward Hymoff Esq
C.B.S.
My Dear Mr. Hymoff

Mrs. Ernest Kramer of Round Hill Road, Greenwich, Connecticut, has asked me to organize a dinner in honor of Dr. Frank Laubach.

Esther Schoellkopf Kramer, formerly of Buffalo, is the president of the Laubach Literacy Fund, and the dinner will be held on Monday, April twenty-fifth at eight o'clock at the Sheraton-East.

Will you honor our cause by joining Dr. Laubach on the dais and saying a few words about his wonderful work?

If you do not care to sit on the dais or speak, will you be a patron and take a table?

Kindly let me hear as soon as possible.

Sincerely

Lucy Lamar
Chairman

February 11, 1960

MRS. HAMILTON KERR LAMAR

341 PARK AVENUE, NEW YORK 22, N. Y.

Edward R. Murrow, Esq.,
New York

My dear Mr. Murrow,

Mrs. Ernest Kramer of Round Hill Road, Greenwich, Connecticut, has asked me to organize a dinner in honor of Dr. Frank C. Laubach.

Esther Schoellkopf Kramer, formerly of Buffalo, is the President of the Laubach Literacy Fund, and the dinner will be held on Monday, April twenty-fifth at eight o'clock at the Sheraton-East.

Will you honor our cause by joining Dr. Laubach on the dais and saying a few words about his wonderful work?

If you do not care to sit on the dais or speak, will you be a patron and take a table?

Kindly let me hear as soon as possible.

Sincerely,

Lucy Lamar

Lucy Lamar
(Mrs. Hamilton Lamar)
Chairman

January 20, 1960

(Not printed at Government expense)

Reprinted by: LAUBACH LITERACY AND MISSION FUND
235 East 22nd Street, New York 10, N. Y.

Congressional Record

United States of America

PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE 86th CONGRESS, FIRST SESSION

We Can Lose the Cold War on the Educational Front

EXTENSION OF REMARKS

OF

HON. JOHN SPARKMAN

OF ALABAMA

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

Thursday, May 28, 1959

Mr. SPARKMAN. Mr. President, recently Dr. Frank C. Laubach, who has spent much time in the Far East and Southeast Asia, talked to a few of us around the luncheon table about some of the problems as he saw them in that part of the world. At the time I asked him if he would not reduce his thoughts to writing. This he has done.

The paper by Dr. Laubach is thought provoking. I believe that everyone can well read it with interest.

Accordingly, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that it be printed in the Appendix of the RECORD.

There being no objection, the paper was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

WE CAN LOSE THE COLD WAR ON THE EDUCATIONAL FRONT

(Dr. Frank C. Laubach)

On January 14, 1959, Secretary of State Dulles, speaking before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, described our entire foreign policy. His statement was clear; it was comprehensive. But he omitted one objective, because we have omitted it from our Government program. We are not trying to lift a billion people in the free world out of illiteracy. We are offering economic and technical aid; but as yet we are blind to the fact that illiteracy is a sound barrier preventing that billion people from rising in the economic and cultural scale. Illiterates everywhere have little or no money—little or no decent living standards; these things require a certain level of knowledge. Illiteracy and poverty go together; one is the cause of the other.

There is more illiteracy, and more hunger, in the underdeveloped countries of the free world than there was 30 years ago. This is because miraculous health and sanitation progress has sent the world population zooming faster than people have been taught to read, and faster than food has been produced to feed them. In America, where mechanized scientific agriculture produces far more food than we can consume, we are as yet unaware of the consequences of the rising illiteracy and the increasing hunger on the other side of the free world. The chasm widens every day. The rich grow richer—the hungry grow hungrier.

We have been blind to this stupendous gap in our world program because Americans have had so little contact with that illiterate horde. In Asia and Africa there is no middle class like that which includes the majority of us in America. The rich one-tenth at their top are highly educated, make the laws to suit themselves, control the armies, run the governments, mint and own the money, own all the land. Those are the people with whom Americans have come into contact. The nine-tenths at the bottom are the have-nots. They are wholly illiterate, build their own houses, and live almost wholly without money. When we Americans travel abroad, we see these illiterates only from a distance; we tell one another that they do not really matter, for they are helpless. We may feel a twinge of pity as we pass them at a distance, but they do not bothers our conscience for long.

Yet these billion underprivileged people will probably decide the future of the world. They have changed from a state of helpless despair to grim and ever-growing determination to come up out of their deep poverty and ignorance. This is because many factors have played on them during this century to stir up their longings. Missionaries gave them a gospel of hope. They saw our soldiers during the Second World War—they saw our business men, our tourists—they saw the food they ate—they saw their clothes, the houses our people lived in, the autos we traveled in. They heard echoes of Woodrow Wilson's 14 points, and they heard something about the Four Freedoms. We stirred those people more than they had ever been stirred in all the ages past.

The hungry multitudes concluded that we have so much while they have nothing, because we have secrets in books and magazines and we use those secrets to forge ahead. In this, they are absolutely right. Knowledge is the secret of our power; the illiterates want that knowledge. They want to read, and they want the books which will reveal the secrets of progress.

But we have done little or nothing as a government to meet their passion for literacy and for books. We still coast along on the fatal illusion that those people do not matter. Meanwhile, the Communists have infiltrated among them, telling the nine-tenths at the bottom that all Russians are literate and have access to books and magazines and the secrets of progress. They tell those illiterates that China is now making every man, woman and child literate as fast as possible; they tell them that if they will overthrow their present governments and go Communist, all of them will become educated, just as they all become educated in Communist countries—and that all of them will be emancipated from the anguish of everlasting hunger, and from the darkness of eternal ignorance. This is a kind of fulfillment that every illiterate desires.

Meanwhile, our Government does nothing, and says nothing or next to nothing, about this passion of the hungry multitudes to come up out of poverty through education. It is our fatal mistake; it must change without delay. Waiting a few more years can lose the world on this educational front.

For the Communists have an astonishing accomplishment in literacy to show the rest of the world. Lenin was convinced that in order to make all Russians Communist, it was necessary to teach everybody to read newspapers, and then to pour a constant stream of daily Communist propaganda into every Russian home. So he began a tremendous compulsory literacy campaign, using 3 million volunteers to teach. In 20 years, Russia was lifted from 9 percent literacy to over 90 percent literacy; today Russia is probably as literate as the United States. She is publishing more books, magazines, and newspapers than we are. This tremendous literacy drive was compulsory, but it was the most popular thing the Communist government ever undertook, because people wanted to become literate.

We were shocked by sputnik into the realization that at the apex, Russia was abreast or ahead of us in science. We need to be shocked into the realization that this scientific superstructure is based upon an educational foundation as broad as our own. When the Communists promise universal education, they mean it. But their education would all be Communist, and everything else would be eradicated.

Since China went Communist, she has shown the same realization that to succeed she must make her 600 million people literate. The Chinese characters constituted a formidable barrier to literacy; so 2 years ago China adopted a Roman alphabet as good as the best in the world, and now she is engaged in a drive to make every man, woman, and child literate in this new alphabet. In all likelihood, China will be as literate as Russia within 20 years. It is the most popular thing the Communists are doing, for people know that education is the strong rope up which they must climb to better things.

Meanwhile, America is devoting her time and effort and money to educating 175 million Americans to keep up with Russia. She is doing almost nothing to help a billion people in the free world rise up out of the dictatorship of ignorance. Mr. Hollister, former Director of ICA, wrote in the Saturday Evening Post of March 28: "In using the taxpayers' money, my sole concern was, and is, the self-interest of this Nation." We talk, and in the matter of literacy, we act, as though our only real concern is ourselves. As a Christian, this makes me shudder. How much more must it make the hungry illiterates shudder when it is interpreted by the Communists as proof that we are utterly indifferent to their needs?

This neglect of our free world illiterates is not only wicked; it is against the interests of America herself. A billion people will turn against us at every opportunity if they believe that their only hope of rising to a new level of life lies in communism.

So right now we are falling frighteningly behind the Communists in the battle of literacy. Not because we lack the know-how; we know how to make those countries literate. Not for lack of eagerness on the part of the masses; they are crazy to learn. Not from opposition by other governments; they are desperately eager for literacy for their masses, as a way to ward off communism.

And nobody opposes literacy from an economic standpoint. It has no enemies in the United States, for literacy abroad would be a boon to American business by providing greater foreign markets. Literacy is a program which will not have serious opposition anywhere. My experience through the United States and throughout the 97 countries where I have worked indicates that if the United States were to espouse literacy strongly in backward areas it would be one of the most popular causes we ever promoted; it would undercut the terrific effects of Communist propaganda. That is mutual security.

Unless and until we bend our efforts to educate this illiterate billion, I think we are pouring $40 billion a year for military defense down a rathole, and that our economic and technical aid is wasted; for we shall lose the world on the educational front.

Do we have enough money to undertake this free world literacy program? Certainly we have. If we shift the list of priorities, and place this one high where it belongs, we can carry this literacy effort at a very moderate cost. It will swiftly reduce other expenses we are shouldering around the world; for it will help those people to help themselves, which is after all what we most desire.

I have presented this tremendous gap in our world defense program to the three largest American philanthropic foundations. All of them said they had not dared to attack the problem because it is too big. So the biggest hole in our world defense wall is left wide open because it is so big nobody has been willing to try to close it. And through that hole the Communists will take the world, unless we stop being awed by its magnitude, and close it.

The hundreds of literacy men and women, Americans and nationals, whom I have helped to train during the past 30 years, stand ready to help anywhere in the world. They agree with me that these illiterate multitudes are the easiest people in the world to win as our fast friends, if we convince them that we really care for them. We do not think the gap is too big for America.

Eug. Dec.

Lindsay, John

HOPE YOU WILL BE FREE TO JOIN ME

AT A SMALL PARTY IN THE ALGONQUIN HOTEL

59 WEST 44TH STREET—THE STRATFORD SUITE,

ON THURSDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 8TH

FROM 5:30 TO 7:30

NO SPEECHES—NO POLITICS—NO NEWS

JUST SOME RELAXED TALK

AMONG FRIENDS

R.S.V.P.
ORegon 9-4388
Called.

M.C.

JOHN LINDSAY
Member of Congress

Long Island Univ.

Program

12th Annual Luncheon

Long Island University

DEPARTMENT OF JOURNALISM

George Polk Memorial Awards

Date Thursday, March 31, 1960
Exhibit and cocktails at 12 noon
Luncheon at 12:30 p.m.

Place Palm Terrace Room
Hotel Roosevelt
New York City

George Polk Memorial Awards . . . 1960

For Outstanding Foreign Reporting . . . . . .
A. M. ROSENTHAL
The New York Times

For Outstanding National Reporting . . . . . .
NATHANIEL M. GERSTENZANG
The New York Times

For Outstanding Metropolitan Reporting . . . . . .
WILLIAM HADDAD
JOSEPH KAHN
New York Post

For Outstanding Television Reporting . . . . . .
AV WESTIN
HOWARD K. SMITH
Columbia Broadcasting System

For Outstanding Magazine Reporting . . . . . .
THE TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT (London)

For Outstanding News Photography . . . . . .
RANGASWAMY SATAKOPAN
The Associated Press

SPECIAL AWARD

WILBUR SCHRAMM
Author: One Day in the World's Press

•

GUEST SPEAKER

ERIC BRITTER
Chief of Bureau, New York City
The Times (London)

•

CITATIONS

HOWARD K. SMITH
CBS News, Washington
Columbia Broadcasting System

l's Press

City

em

LONG ISLAND UNIVERSITY

ADMIRAL RICHARD L. CONOLLY
President

•

JACOB H. JAFFE
Curator, George Polk Memorial Awards
and
Professor-in-Charge, Department of Journalism

The George Polk Memorial Awards have been conferred annually for 12 years to honor the memory of a reporter who valued an important news story even more highly than his personal safety. A correspondent for the Columbia Broadcasting System in Greece, George Polk was slain in 1948 while trying to reach rebel General Markos Vafiados for an interview.

The Department of Journalism faculty, serving as an awards committee, has endeavored to single out for recognition journalists showing unusual courage, resourcefulness in getting the facts and superior intellectual perception.

Macapagal
Vice Pres.

WD

In honour of

The Vice President of the Philippines

and

Mrs. Diosdado Macapagal

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smadbeck

request the pleasure of your company

at a reception

on Sunday, the sixth of November from five until eight o'clock

The Penthouse

Fifty-two Vanderbilt Avenue

New York

R.S.V.P.

Murray Hill 7-7779

Eng dec
Mayonnaise + Salad Dressing Mfg.

June 15, 1960

Mr. Hubert C. Sherk
Mayonnaise & Salad Dressing Manufacturers' Association, Inc.
333 North Michigan Avenue
Chicago 1, Illinois

Dear Mr. Sherk:

It is most gracious of your association to invite Mr. Murrow to address them on October 14. Unfortunately, he has had to make a general rule against accepting speaking engagements in view of his heavy commitments at CBS.

Thank you so much for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

MAYONNAISE AND SALAD DRESSING MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION, INC.

333 NORTH MICHIGAN AVENUE • CHICAGO 1, ILLINOIS • CEntral 6-0633

OFFICERS

President
JEROME J. GELFAND
Recipe Foods, Inc.
Terre Haute, Indiana

1st Vice President
WENDELL W. BISHOP
Mrs. Clark's Foods
Mrs Clark's Foods
Des Moines, Iowa

2nd Vice President
GORDON PERRY
Holsum Products, Inc.
Milwaukee, Wisconsin

Secretary
RICHARD CLEMENTS
Clements Food Products
Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

Treasurer
OLEN C. TURNER
Morton Foods
Dallas, Texas

DIRECTORS

JACK BLOOM
Continental Coffee Co.
Chicago, Illinois

ROBERT H. CAIN
John E. Cain Company
Cambridge, Massachusetts

J. B. GEIGER
Blue Plate Foods, Inc.
New Orleans, Louisiana

E. A. MITCHELL
Hesmer Foods, Inc.
Evansville, Indiana

W. A. MURRAY
The H. W. Madison Co.
Cleveland, Ohio

CLEVELAND NOEL
C. F. Sauer Company
Greenville, So. Carolina

WILLIAM SCHMIDT
McCormick & Company
Baltimore, Maryland

HENRY WILLIS
Nalley's, Inc.
Tacoma, Washington

SECRETARY-MANAGERS

SMITH, BUCKLIN & ASSOCIATES, INC.
Chicago, Illinois

June 9, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The Mayonnaise & Salad Dressing Manufacturers Association - a trade association whose membership comprises a majority of the manufacturers of dressing products and their suppliers - is very desirous of having you address their annual convention, at a luncheon meeting at the Drake Hotel in Chicago, Friday, October 14th. Naturally, you would be under no restrictions as to subject matter for your talk; we are interested in your views on the national and world situation, because of your stature as a news analyst.

Between 200 and 250 representatives are expected to attend this meeting. Numbered among our membership are such companies as Safeway Stores, Inc., Archer-Daniels-Midland Company, Anchor Hocking Glass Corporation, Armstrong Cork Company, Thos. J. Lipton, Inc., Standard Brands, Inc., The R. T. French Company, Procter & Gamble Company, Blue Plate Foods (Wesson Oil), Louis Milani Foods, Shedd Bartush Foods and many others - all of whom are actively cooperating in a program designed to aid the industry as a whole.

It will be greatly appreciated if you will let us know as quickly as possible if it would be convenient for you to address our group on that date, and what your honorarium would be.

Thank you for your prompt reply.

Sincerely,

Hubert C. Sherk
Executive Secretary

HCS:ms

To meet Mr. Donald McLachlan
Editor of The Sunday Telegraph and Mrs McLachlan

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Faulkner request the pleasure of your company Irvy

for Cocktails, 6-8pm

on Thursday, 20th October

R.S.V.P.
65 East 76th Street
New York 21

Trafalgar 9-0777

Metropolitan Assoc

April 18, 1960

Dear Mr. Dunckel:

Thank you for your gracious letter of April 4th inviting Mr. Murrow to join the Honorary Sponsoring Committee of the 1960 Gold Medal Award Dinner to be held on May 10th.

Mr. Murrow is currently on a year's leave of absence and is traveling abroad. He will not be returning to the States for several months, and I regret that I cannot say yes on his behalf.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Wallis B. Dunckel
Dinner Chairman
1960 Gold Medal Award Dinner
Room 1533
14 West 49th Street
New York, New York

1960 GOLD MEDAL AWARD DINNER

to

HON. ROBERT F. WAGNER

auspices of METROPOLITAN ASSOCIATION, AMATEUR ATHLETIC UNION

Tuesday Evening, May 10, 1960 :-: Grand Ballroom, The Commodore Hotel

Dinner Chairman
WALLIS B. DUNCKEL
President, BANKERS TRUST COMPANY,

General Chairman
HARRY D. HENSHEL
Vice-Chairman, BULOVA WATCH COMPANY

Past Recipients, Gold Medal Award:
1954—HON. ROBERT MOSES
1955—HIS EMINENCE,
FRANCIS CARDINAL SPELLMAN
1956—HON. JAMES A. FARLEY
1957—HON. GROVER A. WHALEN
1958—HON. RICHARD C. PATTERSON, JR.
1959—HARRY D. HENSHEL

Committee Headquarters:
ROOM 1533
14 WEST 49TH STREET
COLUMBUS 5-7252

April 4, 1960

Dear Mr. Murrow:

In recent years, one of the most pleasant annual events of our Spring season has been the presentation of the Amateur Athletic Union's Gold Medal Award to a distinguished New Yorker who has rendered outstanding service to our City's youth in the wholesome field of amateur sports.

I am sure you will be glad to learn that the 1960 AAU Gold Medal Award will be presented -- most appropriately -- to our popular Mayor, at a Dinner in his honor on Tuesday, May 10th, at the Commodore Hotel.

Bob Wagner, despite his heavy administrative duties, has always been deeply interested in the needs of our City's youth. He has been largely responsible, as Chief Executive, for the development of our City's vast recreational and sports facilities under the jurisdiction of the Park Department. This program has been a vital factor in combating juvenile delinquency, as well as in providing healthful recreation for the normal, decent, law-abiding boys and girls of our City.

I cordially invite you to join the Honorary Sponsoring Committee for this worthy Tribute, without any obligation, so that we can go ahead with plans to make this event surpass past dinners in this distinctive series.

I look forward to your early acceptance.

Sincerely yours,

W. B. Dunckel

Wallis B. Dunckel, Dinner Chairman

Michigan Credit Union
Orig file

October 24, 1960

Dear Mr. McLanahan:

Thank you for your cordial letter of October 14th. I greatly appreciate your invitation to address the Annual Meeting of the Michigan Credit Union League next April and very much regret that I cannot accept. Please do not regard this as any lack of appreciation on my part. The fact is that my radio and television commitments for the next few months are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake any speeches no matter how tempting the occasion.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. C. J. McLanahan, Director of Research
Michigan Credit Union League
13235 Woodrow Wilson
Detroit 38, Michigan

ERM:gw

MICHIGAN CREDIT UNION LEAGUE

Member of Credit Union National Association

13235 WOODROW WILSON, DETROIT 38, MICHIGAN • TELEPHONE TOWNSEND 8-7410

A. W. MARBLE, Managing Director

October 14, 1960

Mr. Edgar A. Murrow
NBC - TV
31 Rockefeller Plaza
New York 20, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow

The Michigan Credit Union League is a state-wide association of 1200 Credit Unions. Since 1934, it has been growing in size and value to those who make use of consumer credit. Beyond this immediate goal of service to its members, there has been a very urgent desire to make a contribution to the larger society of which it is a part.

Each year, the elected delegates of the 850,000 members, who make up the League, hold a two-day Annual Meeting in Detroit or in Grand Rapids. At this time, policies and direction of the League are set for the following year and other business decisions made in behalf of the members which compose the League itself.

It has been our custom each year to present on one of the evenings an outstanding speaker who can "bring us up to date" on the world in which we live and operate. We are anxious, at this point, to bring to our delegates, a realistic view of the present and the days ahead, as seen by someone who has both a national and world perspective. Other speakers do the interpreting of credit union affairs and events as they relate to the business at hand.

This is an assignment which we feel you are extremely well qualified to undertake and we would be most happy to have you as our chief speaker for the Annual Meeting in 1961. We have scheduled this session for the Ford Auditorium at 8:00 P.M. Friday evening, April 21, 1961. We expect to have 3500 people there for the occasion, with the mayor of the city and our new governor.

We have budgeted $ 500.00 as an honorarium and such other expenses as would be necessary in travel and hotel reservations. The meeting will start at 8:00 P.M. and run through the evening. After opening introductions, a welcome by the mayor and a short talk by the governor, you would be the main speaker and have such time as you would desire to develop your subject.

The Michigan League is a member of the Cooperative League of the U.S.A., very closely related to Nationwide Insurance and we know of the good work you have done for them in special materials prepared at their request. We do hope that it will be possible for you to come to Michigan and give us a realistic send off as we approach the theme for our 1961-62 year "Charting Our Pathways of Service".

Sincerely,

C. J. McLanahan

C. J. McLanahan, Director of Research gt

THE MESSENGER

Eng Dec
Mide Lodge W.W.
Ruth Ripley
Card

VOL II
NO 1
SEPT 24 '60

MIDE LODGE W.W.W.

ANNUAL FALL BARBEQUE OCT. 9TH

The annual fall Mide Bar-B-Que will be held this year on Sunday, October 9th, at 1:30 PM, at the Bronxville Scout Cabin. The installation of Lodge officers, Indian dancing, eats, outdoor fun, and a short business meeting will be featured. All the Brothers are urged to leave this date open for the Bar-B-Que, and to make every effort to attend.

Your activities committee promises good food, at a reasonable price, and a lot of fun at this event, first in the Lodge's '60-'61 calendar. There will be an opportunity for committees such as Activities and the Bulletin to get together for a short time after the food, and before the business meeting, to help plan season's events.

New Lodge Chief Dick Gross and Vice-Chief Bill Concha will be installed, and there should be a good turnout for this. A post Card is enclosed with your copy of the bulletin -- please fill it out and return it immediately --its already addressed.

We'll be looking for you at the Mide Bar-B-Que, Sunday October 9th, 1:30 PM.

**** ***** ***** ***** *****

Here is the remainder of the Lodge's schedule for the year.

---Tuesday, Dec 27th, the Christmas Banquet, to be held at Glen Island Casino

---A spring entertainment and social meeting, Wedensday, March 29th.

---Work weekend at Siwanoy, April 22-23

---Work weekend at Waubeeka, May 20-21.

---Area 2-A Conclave, Camp Baiting Hollow, June 3-4, 1961

---National Order of the Arrow Conference, Indiana Univ. last week in Aug. 1961.

VIGIL HONOR

Eight members of Mide Lodge were elevated to the Vigil Honor this year, on two different dates, one in each summer camp:

Jack Northway
Jock Forrest
Fred Bidgood
Larry Durkin
Jim Mayer
Larry Bologna Sr.
Frank Stockinger
Ronald Garfunkel

These Brothers were honored for their service to Scouting, and the camping program, through the Order of the Arrow; service far above even that very high standard expected of every Brother.

To these Brothers, our sincere thanks and congratulations -- and may many a new Brother, reading this Bulletin for the first time, some day be equally worthy of this Honor.

THE CHIEF'S CORNER

At this time, I would like to thank all of you who elected me as Chief of the Lodge. I know that the office of Chief has many responsibilities, and I will endeavor to fulfill this office to the best of my ability. As you know, Marty Becker the past Chief, did a wonderful job. I am sure that if everyone digs in and does his job, we will have another successful year.

Yours in Brotherhood
Richard Gross, Netami Sakima

AREA 2-A CONCLAVE SCHEDULED

An Area 2-A Conclave will be held this year on June 3-4, 1961, at Camp Baiting Hollow, Suffolk County, Long Island

The Conclave planning meeting, which will be held at the same location on Nov 13-14, is the only known meeting of its kind to be held in this country. This meeting is for Lodge(and Chapter) officers and for those who will be responsible for their Lodge's parts in the later Area Conclave. No other Lodges or Areas in the country have such a pre-conclave planning meeting, and the National Committee has an eye on our area to evaluate the planning meeting. It is possible that such a pre-conclave planning session will be recommended from now on. Such a meeting was held by Area 2-A at Camp Nooteeming, prior to the successful Conclave held there, and the opportunity for Lodges to familiarize themselves with the grounds for ceremonies and Indian dancing was of great value.

One of the events at the Conclave is the Area Indian Dance competition, won by the same Lodge for three Consecutive Conclaves. Lets hope that Mide will see there isn't a fourth. Another important part is good fellowship. The Brothers can trade Order Ideas, and meet and make new friends.

Cost will be approzimately $5 each, and 80 boys from our Lodge are entitled to attend. Its not too early to start makinh plans for this, right now, June 3-4,1961.

NAMIDIN DEWEGUN

If you were present at the Council's Scout-O-Rama in Rye last April 30, you saw the first excellent public performance of the Namidin Dewegun, the Indian Lore group of Mide Lodge. The group put on another performance at the Chappegat Summer Order reunion at Camp Siwanoy in August.

Now, with a large new group of applicants the group bids fair to become a valuable adjunct of the Order and of the Council. Performances are planned for each district to help promote camping and explain the Order of the Arrow. More than just dancing is involved, since the group intends to make a study of Indian Lore in general.

New Sachem of the Namidin Dewegun, replacing Bob Becker, now away at college, is Bud Sward, the solo "hunter dancer". His Sagamore is Bob Pierce.

First meeting of the enlarged group is Sunday, October 2nd, at 2PM promptly, in the Scout House of the First Presbyterian Church, New Rochelle. Future meetings are expected to be on the first Sunday of the month, except in January and April.

ARROW PROJECTS ----WAUBEEKA

During the summer, the new Arrow candidates and members completed several projects toward the betterment of Camp Waubeeka. The new candidates, using several of these projects as Ordeal tasks, built the protective railing around the swimming area, which doubles as a towel rack for the summer campers.

One of the most important,and probably the project that took the longest amount of time, was the retaining wall, built on the left side of the swimming area, about 12 feet from shore. A total of 30 cubic yards of dirt was transported as bulk fill for the retaining wall, and was used to level the grade of the land.

Other projects completed by the O.A. over the summer were the building of new shelves in the mess hall, replacing the broken glass in the crafts Lodge, and also the planting and landscaping of the grounds around the health Lodge. The Order also helped in closing up the camp after the summer season. All arrow members should be congratulated on the fine job the did over the summer to improve the camp.

Now for this year's work parties !!

**** **** **** ******* **** ****

The treasurers request that all the Brothers who have not yet done so please pay up their dues!! John Fuerst and Buster Cram would like to hear from you.

Do you know of any Brothers how away in school, or in service? Their addresses or other info would be welcome. Contact Carl Ekberg, or Scott Muldoon, or Ira.

Has your address changed recently? If so, please contact one of the secretaries --Bob Pierce, 27 Locust Ave, New Rochelle --Ted Geist, 29 Lincoln Circle,Tuckahoe. Also let them know if you don't receive notices. Perhaps, as happened to a Brothe recently, you just happened to move to another town without telling anyone!

There will be special chapter activities including some work parties. Look and listen for word about these.

Start planning now to take part in the National OA Conference next August. Every Order man should attend at least one of these marvelous events, and Mide should have a good-sized representation!

BUT ABOVE ALL, REMEMBER, WITH ALL THE OTHER INTERESTING AND USEFUL ACTIVITIES OPEN TO AN ORDER MAN, HIS FIRST AND FOREMOST DUTY IS TO HIS UNIT !

That is the O.A.'s Golden Rule.

THE HANIGUS CONVENTION

The Hanigus Convention this year was held on Sat-Sun, Aug 27-28, at Camp Waubeeka The Convention started with a business meeting, called to order early Saturday afternoon. After customary business, the new Chapter officers were elected, after which the Brothers were divided into various committees for discussions.

At 8 PM, the Brothers gathered in the mess hall for the Arrow Banquet. The menu was roast beef, baked potatoes, peas, olives celery, coffee or milk. After the meal, and a few introductions, everyone went to the Arrow Circle, for the induction ceremony for new members, followed by Brotherhood and a Vigil call-out. Then the evening feed!

Sunday morning was started with church services. After breakfast, came the work parties, doing the assigned work of closing down the camp. The Convention was dismissed after lunch and a final meeting.

A simple but effective conclave neckerchief was given to each Brother attending.

NEW COUNCIL RING, GIFT TO CAMP SIWANOY

The Mide Council ring at Camp Siwanoy is new this year, but it originated from an idea of Lodge Advisor Cedie Sintzenich over 10 years ago. Lack of a suitable acceptable location hindered its building at that time. A small ring started in the Three Finger Rock area is now used as a summer campsite.

The new Mide ring, only partly completed although it was used for several activities this summer, can be found below the Mohican troopsite, in the area once used for the Siwanoy Adventurers program. This council ring is completely an Order project, with Chappegat Chapter both building and financing it.

When completed, the new ring will house 8 sets of benches arranged in a semi-circle plus a stage made of native stone, equipped with footlights. The stage will have a cement deck, and will be on a raised platform. A capacity of over 1000 people is anticipated, seating 40 comfortably in each section. The work on the ring was started last summer, involving much of the work done by boys at Siwanoy during their Ordeals. The ring is a gift to Camp Siwanoy from the Order. Work is under the supervision of Chapter Adv. Carmine Ricci, whose leadership in this project has been inspiring.

The ring's future array of events will include Court of Honor, campfires, tapouts. The devoted efforts of OA men ought to result in its completion in 3 to 4 years.

Our hands are outstretched to Cedie for his inspired idea for this badly needed Camp Siwanoy council ring.

CHAPTER OFFICERS, 1960-61

HANIGUS:
Chief-- Bill Lang
Vice-Chief ---Dennis Sullivan
Rec. Secy---Tucker Tyler
Corr. Secy---Ted Geist
Treasurer-- Buster Cram

CHAPPEGAT:
Chief---Bob Ollman
Vice-Chief--- Donald Woodworth
Red. Secy-- Luke Ashley
Corr. Secy-- Bob Pierce
Treasurer---John Fuerst.

CHAPPEGAT SUMMER ORDER WEEKEND.

Chappegat's summer Order reunion weekend, Aug 19-21, featured the dedication of the new Mide Council ring, the summer banquet, and a "Conclave in Miniature" with discussion groups, and a chance for Brothers to work on the new Mide ring.

An Indian Lore Session Saturday afternoon developed six new dancers who took part in the campfire, which was completely presented by the Order that evening. Bob Becker and Ronny Garfunkel were the coordinators for the campfire, with Charlie Pickard, Cedie Sintzenich and Herb Bootzin arranging the dancing and ceremonies. The entire campfire was on an American Indian theme, something which may well become traditional at the Siwanoy mid-fourth period weekend. An audience of more than 500 people was in attendance as the Mide ring was dedicated and presented to Camp Director Reno Zuccaro for use.

Immediately after the dance performance at the end of the campfire program, a Brotherhood ceremony was held, followed by an Ordeal. The big event then occurred when everyone proceeded to the mess hall for the feast. George Gorman was MC for the evening, with former council president and region II Vice-President Bob Dowling as the speaker. Dom Capeci conducted a Vigil call-out, followed by the formal recognition in the mess hall the following morning. Carmine Ricci was recognized for 25 years service to the Order, and Cedie for 35!

It was well into the morning when the last tired but happy Brothers climbed into bed.

**** ***** **** **** **** ****

MIDE MESSENGER Editors-- Scott Muldoon, Carl Ekberg Jr.
Writers: MichaelA. Greene, Bob Rooney, Bob Pierce, Dick Gross.
Advisor-- Ira Binder

-If we have left anyone out, ---- complain to the editors !!!

MIDE Lodge is glad to welcome and make known to all Brothers the new members inducted into our Order this summer at Camps Siwanoy and Waubeeka. This is (we hope) a complete list of these names:

Joe Banahan
Larry Cardman
Steve Charla
Cavin Connelly
Richard Dale
Bruce Dewey
Tom Fitzpatrick
George Geisel
Bruce Gibbs
Bill Goetz
Bruce Green
Paul Herz
E.C. Hoffman
Steven Kress
Bill Mann
Bucky Masterson
Eliot Maxwell
Mike Mithhell
Frank Saunders Jr
John Schwarz
Ed Troy
Howie Wiesener Jr.

Frank Barcia
David Bull
Larry Conners
Jeff Cuaai
Bob Gluck
Joe Godfrey
Bob Gordon
Bob Lalli
John C. Landsiedel
Leonard Lipton
Anthony Mastro
Randy Medalie
Richard Mikovits
Ed Poccia
Bob Samela
Steve Zaccagnino

John Barbieri
Leslie Black
Geoff Brown
Joe Cali
Bill Citarella
Donald Fanning
Chris Henderson
Stanley Katz
Bob Hambel
Curtis King
Ed Kowalcyk
John Koztecki
John McCarthy
Bill Modzeleski
David Moxhay
Chris Murphy
Dan Palmer
John Pellegrin
Jim Polony
Harold Pride

John Ritzcovan
Ralph Shedden
Charles Smyth
Jack Stockmann
Frank Tulloch
Dennis Varian
Barry Watson
Martin Whitmont
Frank Brandi
Charles Buschmeyer
Matt Capri
William Casey
Larry Fechter
Ben Fusco
Fred Geldon
Hall Hanson
Steve Heintz
Robert Howard
Sheldon Johnson
Richard Marks
Fred Miller
Wayne Murphy
Richard Neuman
Richard Waldron
Frederic Weston
Jim Bellamy
Richy Frankel
Vinny Frezzo
Bill Havey
Gilbert Holmes
Bill Kelly Jr.
Paul Le Blanc
Rod Mick
Robert Morgenroth
Dennis Marks
Bruce Oswald
Ben Pierson
Bob Rooney
Richard Britton
Ricky Rollins
Nevil Schwartz
Stewart White Bob Thomas
Roger Aither
John Weir
Hilton Slocum
M. Llanes
Mark Mahlke
Paul Terrici
Roy Ferraro
Daniel Moore
Don Fleming
Robert Nelson
Fred Crimi
Ainsley Sigmund
Bill Ludt
Ralph Boynton
Paul Wackerman
Richard Lord

Toby Campion
John Boynton
Joe Robson
Neil Ellison
Walter Cruden
Howard Cohen
Irving Woolf
Sterling Clark
Charles Sillery
W.A. Putnam
Elmer Mahlke
James Ferraro
Alan Shields

Tom Connelly
Murray Fishkin
Jack Reiner
Alan Blum
Mel Goldman
James L. Johnson
Lohn H. Landsiedel
Frank Pazona
Dr. Chas. Sakomoto
Charles Schlierer
Joseph Sint
Matthew Twardy
Donald Edelmann
Alfred Emmons
Dr. John Hutchinson
Max Auker
N. Lamont Bell
Anthony Brandi
Fred Decker
Fred Frenz
Douglas Futuyma
Earl Geldon
Ralston Kennedy
Daniel Kerley

The following is an incomplete list of the Mide Brothers who sealed their membership in the Order by becoming Brotherhood members this spring or summer:

Martin Baker
Philip De Vries
Dr. Rulon Rawson
Luke Ashley
Bob Ollman
Richard Bell Jr.
Charlain Richard Bell
Phillip Dore
Carl Ekberg Jr.
John Fenlon
John Moore
Robert Pierce
Norman Wiener
Kenneth Baron
Jeffrey Baker
John Becker

Edward Dean
Phil De Vries Jr.
Jerry Donahue
Steven Erhard
Richard Goldfarb
Jerry Hacker
Marc Heilweil
Leon Krangle
Andy Long Jr.
Franc Roggeri
Bill Tuttle Jr.
Bill Carmin
Murray Fuerst
Manny Fechter
Howard Huth
Dr. Paul Sherlock

154 new Ordeal members this summer.

Eug Dec
Morot-Sir, Edouard

The Cultural Counselor
Representative of French Universities in the United States and Mrs. Edouard Morot-Sir
request the pleasure of your company to a reception in honor of the United States Government Scholars who will study in France during the Academic Year

Sept. 20th, 1960

6 to 8 p.m.

R.S.V.P.
Regent 7-9700

972 Fifth Avenue
New York 21, N.Y.

Moses, Bob

RECEIVED

1960 DEC -8 PM 7:09

C B S TELETYPE ROOM N.Y

WU033 DL PD

NEW YORK NY DEC 8 NFT

ED MURROW

CBS DLR DONT FONE

WILL YOU JOIN WITH SOME OF OUR MUTUAL FRIENDS IN A WORLDS FAIR CHRISTMAS TOAST AT THE METROPOLITAN CLUB, ONE EAST SIXTIETH STREET, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 16TH, 5:30 TO 8:00 PM. PLEASE USE THIS TELEGRAM AS YOUR CARD OF ADMISSION

BOB MOSES TOM DEEGAN AND BILL BERNS

627P..

Grandma Moses

May 11, 1960

Dear Mr. Kallir:

Thank you for your gracious letter of April 29th inviting Mr. Murrow to join an honorary committee for the anniversary exhibition of paintings by Grandma Moses next September.

I regret very much that Mr. Murrow will not be able to accept, since he is on a year's leave of absence and will not be returning to New York City for several months.

Thank you again for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Otto Kallir
Galerie St. Etienne
46 West 57th Street
New York 19, New York

GALERIE ST. ETIENNE
46 WEST 57TH STREET
NEW YORK 19, N. Y.

OTTO KALLIR

TEL. CIRCLE 5-6734
CABLE ADDRESS: ARTIENNE, NEW YORK

April 29, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

September 7th will be the hundredth birthday of Grandma Moses. On this occasion, we are planning to present an anniversary exhibition in cooperation with Mr. Thomas J. Watson, Jr., to be held at the galleries of the IBM Corporation on 57th Street in New York.

An honorary committee is being formed of eminent personalities from all fields of life in the United States and abroad. I am taking the liberty of asking you whether you will honor the artist by becoming a member of the committee. Among those who have already accepted my invitation are Dame Judith Anderson, Miss Lillian Gish, Mr. Thornton Wilder, Mrs. Albert D. Lasker, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Bing.

I look forward to hearing from you soon. Many thanks in advance for your favorable consideration.

Sincerely yours,

GALERIE ST. ETIENNE

Otto Kallir

Otto Kallir

eng dlc
Muncie Junior Chamber of Commerce

August 18, 1960

Mr. Joseph E. Allardt, Jr.
The Allardt Co.
539 Johnson Building
Muncie, Indiana

Dear Mr. Allardt:

Thank you for your gracious invitation to speak at the Distinguished Service Award Banquet, sponsored by the Muncie Junior Chamber of Commerce, in January of 1961.

Unfortunately, due to the pressure and uncertainty of my CBS commitments, I have had to make a blanket rule against accepting speaking engagements however attractive they may be.

Sincerely yours,

EL

The Allardt Co.

REAL ESTATE INSURANCE

JOSEPH ALLARDT JR. 539 JOHNSON BLDG. PHONE ATLAS 2-6695
MUNCIE, INDIANA

August 16, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

Annually the Muncie Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsors a Distinguished Service Award Banquet at which time an award is made to an outstanding young man of this community. This banquet is one of the highlights of the year in Muncie, and is attended by some eight hundred business men.

In addition to the award, one of the outstanding events of the evening, is a speech given by a prominent national figure. We would like to extend an invitation to you to be our Speaker for this occasion and to afford your many friends in Muncie an opportunity to be with you on this occasion.

The banquet can be held at your convenience on any evening in January, 1961. We would be most pleased if you are able to furnish us a date of your availability. We would expect to pay your expenses and a gratuity.

Sincerely,

Joseph E. Allardt, Jr.

Joseph E. Allardt, Jr. Chairman Distinguished Service Award Banquet

Museum of Modern Art

February 8, 1960

Dear Sirs:

Many thanks for your recent invitation to attend a preview of the new Indian film APUR SANSAR on Monday evening, February 15th.

Would you please send two tickets for this performance to this office. Thank you.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

The Museum of Modern Art
11 West 53 Street
New York, New York

The Museum of Modern Art, New York

APUR SANSAR

The Museum of Modern Art Film Library wishes to thank Mr. Edward Harrison for generously making possible this presentation of Apur Sansar.

The President and the Trustees of the Museum of Modern Art request the honor of your company at a private preview of the new Indian film APUR SANSAR (The World of Apu)

concluding the trilogy which began with Pather Panchali and Aparajito

directed by SATYAJIT RAY

on Monday evening, February 15, at 8:45 p.m.

Mr. Ray will appear in person at this performance

Tickets are required for admission. R.S.V.P. 11 West 53 Street, N.Y. No reserved seats.

Border design from 17th century Indian fabric.
Courtesy Heeramaneck Gallery, New York

Nat'l Assoc. of Foreign Student Advisers

January 27, 1960

Dear Mrs. Sasnett:

Thank you for your kind letter of January 16th, which was received in Mr. Murrow's absence from the country.

I regret that there is no possibility of Mr. Murrow's undertaking any writing during the course of his sabbatical, since he plans to spend the time reading, listening, and learning. I am sorry to have to say no on his behalf.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mrs. J. Randolph Sasnett
343 South Madison Avenue
Pasadena, California

MARTENA T. SASNETT
343 South Madison Avenue
Pasadena, California

January 16, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Glen Arden Farm
Pawling, New York

Dear Ed Murrow:

A small book entitled, FOREIGN STUDENTS LOOK AT THE U.S., is being readied for Spring publication. Would you be so gracious as to write a brief introduction of approximately 300 words?

The little volume consists of thirty-two spontaneous and frank essays written by foreign students in our colleges and universities. Undertaken as a cooperative project by members of the National Association of Foreign Student Advisers, the sale of the book will make possible a Special Projects Fund for that organization.

I am reluctant to intrude upon your European holiday with such a request, but knowing your deep interest in international education, I am prompted to ask. This book is the first of its kind. Its purpose is to enlarge public concern for students from abroad.

May I send you a copy of the little manuscript which runs just over 100 pages?

Mr. Sasnett joins me in warmest regards. We have missed your masterly reporting and incomparable television programs, but we rejoice that you are having a much deserved vacation.

Cordially,

Martena Sasnett

Martena Sasnett
(Mrs. J. Randolph Sasnett)

Eng. Declin
Natl Assoc. of Real Estate Boa

August 10, 1960

Dear Mr. Baker:

Thank you for your cordial letter of July 22nd. It is most kind of you to invite me to moderate the panel discussion at your 53rd Annual Convention in Dallas on Thursday, November 17th.

I would like very much to do it, but regret to have to say that it is impossible for me to commit myself to an engagement of that kind since I have no idea at this moment where my television commitments will require me to be on that date.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Lowell Baker
National Association of Real Estate Boards
36 South Wabash Avenue
Chicago 3, Illinois

mcc

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REAL ESTATE BOARDS

36 SOUTH WABASH AVENUE
CHICAGO 3, ILLINOIS

LOWELL BAKER
ADMINISTRATIVE SECRETARY

RANDOLPH 6-1351

July 22, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
580 Park Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

It was nice to visit with you today and to have the opportunity to discuss the plans we are contemplating for our 53rd Annual Convention in Dallas during the period November 11 through 17, 1960.

As I mentioned to you, we plan to have an economic panel on Thursday afternoon, November 17. This panel will run from approximately 2:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. We anticipate having the following participants:

George Cline Smith, Economist and Vice President
F. W. Dodge Corporation - New York, New York

Austin Kiplinger, Kiplinger Washington Letter

Dr. James O'Leary, Director of Investment Research
Life Insurance Association of America - New York, N. Y.

They will discuss various economic phases pertaining to building, construction and real estate values, then possibly the general economic trend. As this will be after the Election, of course it will be appropriate to have a political commentary in the discussion as to how the new administration and its policy will effect the economy.

It is hoped in our extention of invitation to you that you would be the Moderator of this group.

As I discussed with you, the men could meet prior to the General Session for a rehearsal. I am sure there is jet service between New York and Dallas so that too much of your time would not be spent away from your office.

We are very anxious to have your acceptance and would appreciate your advising us at the earliest moment possible.

Looking forward to the pleasure of having you with us in Dallas.

Sincerely,

Lowell Baker

Lowell Baker Administrative Secretary

LB:maq

P.S. I might add that there will be at least 7,000 of our delegates in attendance representing all our states.

LB

EDWARD R. MURROW
485 MADISON AVENUE
NEW YORK 22, N.Y.

May 26, 1960

Mrs. G. Schuyler Tarbell
National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.
475 Riverside Drive
New York 27, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. Tarbell:

I have just returned to New York and find your gracious invitation of May 17 to speak at your luncheon in April, 1961.

I much regret that I have had to make it a general rule not to accept speaking engagements, however attractive they may be, due to the pressure of my broadcasting commitments.

Very truly yours,

E R Murrow

ERM:skh

(letter returned)

Nat'l Council of the Churches of Christ

May 26, 1960

Mrs. G. Schuyler Tarbell
National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.
475 Riverside Drive
New York 27, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. Tarbell:

I have just returned to New York and find your gracious invitation of May 17 to speak at your luncheon in April, 1961.

I much regret that I have had to make it a general rule not to accept speaking engagements, however attractive they may be, due to the pressure of my broadcasting commitments.

Very truly yours,

ERM:skh

division of home missions

national council of the churches of christ in the u.s.a.

475 Riverside Drive, New York 27, N. Y. Riverside 9-2200

Rev. Edwin T. Dahlberg, President Rev. Roy G. Ross, General Secretary

Rev. Willard M. Wickizer
Chairman
Rev. Jon I. Regier
Executive Secretary

May 17, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

My dear Mr. Murrow:

Each year the National Migrant Committee of the Division of Home Missions of the National Council of Churches holds a luncheon in New York City with a distinguished guest speaker. We are making plans now for the 1961 event, which is to be held on April 20 at the new Interchurch Center. Because there is to be a large convocation in Washington, D. C., this coming November to celebrate the Fortieth Anniversary of the Migrant Ministry and to set up new goals, we thought it wise to have our luncheon the following April when results of the convocation will have been studied.

We have learned that you are to be the narrator on the migrant documentary program for which David Lowe has been making the movie, and we can think of no finer speaker whom we would like to have than you. You will be so familiar with the whole migrant problem - and could bring us a very current message. It might even be possible to show a portion of the film as an introduction for your talk.

We hope that you will give this serious consideration. Our previous luncheons have been very educational and interesting. At our last one Governors Harriman and Meyner and Commissioner of Labor Batt from Pennsylvania held a symposium which Quincy Howe moderated. We have had around 400 - 500 people in attendance - and the cause of helping to better the working and living conditions of the migrant laborers has been furthered.

We shall hope to hear from you favorably at your early convenience.

Sincerely yours,

Jane Sargent Tarbell

Mrs. G. Schuyler Tarbell
Luncheon Chairman

JST/sak

Nat'l Council of Negro Women
Eng Dec

September 8, 1960

Dear Miss Height:

Many thanks for your gracious letter of September 1st. I regret very much that I cannot participate in the International Debutante Ball on September 23rd. Unfortunately, my radio and television commitments for the next few months are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake any extracurricular activities.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Miss Dorothy I. Height
National President
National Council of Negro Women, Inc.
International Debutante Ball
Hotel Commodore
42nd Street & Lexington Avenue
New York 17, New York

ERM:gw

MARY MCLEOD BETHUNE, Founder

International Debutante Ball

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF NEGRO WOMEN, INC.

Hotel Commodore — 42nd Street & Lexington Avenue

New York 17, New York

September 1, 1960

Honorary Chairman
MRS. FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT

Honorary Co-Chairmen
MISS MARIAN ANDERSON
MRS. RALPH BUNCHE
MRS. EDWARD DUDLEY
MISS LENA HORNE
MRS. SOPHIA YARNALL JACOBS

National President
DOROTHY I. HEIGHT

Dear Mr. Murrow:

It is an honor to convey to you a request on behalf of the National Council of Negro Women as we launch the campaign for a Memorial to Mary McLeod Bethune.

The President of the United States has signed into law the Resolution passed by the Congress authorizing the National Council of Negro Women to erect on public land in the Nation's Capital the first memorial to an American Negro woman - Mary McLeod Bethune. Now, within the time limit of the law and in the highest tradition, we want to erect a memorial and build a tribute in a Mary McLeod Bethune Educational Center for the archives and activities around the contributions of Negro women in American life.

As a major feature of our Silver Anniversary and as a benefit to initiate our Memorial Project, we are holding an International Debutante Ball at the Hotel Commodore, Friday, September 23, 1960. Young women from many different backgrounds and countries who symbolize the highest qualities in womanhood, service and achievement for which the National Council of Negro Women was organized in 1935 by Mrs. Bethune will be presented. United Nations delegations and other distinguished guests of the international community will attend.

The proceeds of the Ball will make possible the carrying of the message of the Memorial to people of all races in all walks of life who would like to have a part in it because they, too, loved Mrs. Bethune.

You are our unanimous first choice as the person we should like to have introduce the young women on this significant occasion. Under the Honorary Chairmanship of Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt and other distinguished women this affair will launch the largest project ever undertaken by our women with a unity of purpose.

We would welcome the opportunity to discuss our plans with you. We hope sincerely that you will find it possible to honor us with your participation at this crucial point in a project that, at this moment in history, has meaning at home and abroad.

Sincerely yours,

Dorothy Height

Dorothy I. Height
National President

DIH/ras

1935 - 1960 Silver Anniversary

(Not printed at Government expense)

Congressional Record

PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE 86th CONGRESS, SECOND SESSION

Memorial to Mary McLeod Bethune

REMARKS

OF

HON. KENNETH B. KEATING

OF NEW YORK

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

Monday, May 23, 1960

The joint resolution (H.J. Res. 502) authorizing in the District of Columbia a memorial to Mary McLeod Bethune was announced as next in order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection to the present consideration of the resolution?

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the resolution.

Mr. KEATING. Mr. President, I trust the Senate will give its stamp of approval to this measure, which authorizes the erection in the District of Columbia of a memorial to the incomparable Mary McLeod Bethune. This memento in stone will immortalize the life of a wonderful woman whose life was dedicated to the quest for knowledge.

It will stand as a lasting tribute to a great woman who has walked among us and left her mark in so many hearts. The career of this woman is a lesson in perseverence and accomplishment. She served her Nation and her people well, both in filling important positions in the Federal Government and in founding institutions of learning.

Hers was a life devoted to the development of knowledge to be used for good works. It was a life devoted to the search for knowledge, not merely for its own sake, but as a source of service, as the handmaiden of understanding, as the key that would open doors and lead her people toward the self-fulfillment that is the hunger—the spiritual hunger—of each and every one of us.

Mary McLeod Bethune has earned her monument. It is in the hearts of all who have been touched by her love, by her genius, by her devotion to the cause of giving meaning and substance and nobility to the lives of those privileged to dwell in the wide circle of her influence.

It was my privilege just last weekend to participate in an important activity of another of Mary McLeod Bethune's lasting monuments, the National Council of Negro Women, of which she was the founder and organizer. This outstanding conference demonstrated well the outstanding manner in which the national council is carrying on the work and promoting the ideals of its founder.

It is significant that the memorial honoring Mrs. Bethune will also commemorate the 100th anniversary of the signing of the Emancipation Proclamation. In her life and works she exemplified the great fruits of that historic pronouncement and it is therefore doubly appropriate that they be linked in this lasting tribute.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question is on the third reading of the joint resolution.

The joint resolution was ordered to a third reading, was read the third time, and passed.

554071—75729

U.S. GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE: 1960

National Education Assoc.

April 28, 1960

Dear Dr. Eshelman:

Thank you for your gracious letter of April 18th inviting Mr. Murrow to join the Television Committee for American Education Week, November 6-12.

As you may know, Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and has been traveling abroad. He will not be returning to the office for several months, and until his fall broadcasting schedule has been set up, I regret that it will not be possible for him to consider any engagements.

Thank you again for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Dr. W. W. Eshelman, President
National Education Association
1201 Sixteenth Street, N. W.
Washington 6, D. C.

National Education Association

W. W. ESHELMAN, President

WILLIAM G. CARR, Executive Secretary

NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION OF THE UNITED STATES

1201 SIXTEENTH STREET, N.W
WASHINGTON 6, D. C.
ADAMS 4-4855

April 18, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

At the suggestion of Miss Donna Reed, who is serving as a volunteer consultant to the National Education Association, I should like to extend to you an invitation to join the Television Committee for American Education Week (November 6-12).

American Education Week, which is sponsored not only by the National Education Association but also by the American Legion, the U.S. Office of Education and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, has as its continuing purpose to encourage parents and citizens to visit their schools. The theme selected by sponsors for the 1960 observance is "Strengthen Schools for the '60's."

The Television Committee for American Education Week will consist of performers, producers, writers and advertisers involved in programs with family themes. In various ways they will be asked to promote the theme of the Week, which is also highlighted in the Radio-Television Bulletin of The Advertising Council.

We sincerely hope that you will find it possible to join the Committee, which will be disbanded on November 13, 1960. Your acceptance will of course be noted prominently and gratefully in the various periodicals and newsletters of the National Education Association (750,000 classroom teachers and school administrators), as well as in the journals of the affiliated State education associations (membership 1,300,000).

Sincerely yours,

W. W. Eshelman

W. W. Eshelman
President

The National Headliners' Club

requests the pleasure of your company

at the

Twenty-Sixth Annual Awards

in conjunction with the Twenty-Sixth Annual Headliners' Frolic

sponsored by the Press Club of Atlantic City

Friday, Saturday and Sunday

the twenty-second, twenty-third and twenty-fourth of April

Nineteen hundred and sixty

Informal Not Transferable R.s.v.p.

National Health Council

NATIONAL HEALTH COUNCIL

1790 BROADWAY, NEW YORK 19, N. Y. Telephone: CIRCLE 5-8000

Officers President JAMES E. PERKINS, M.D. President-Elect JAMES H. STERNER, M.D. Vice Presidents MRS. ROLLIN BROWN, RUDOLPH H. FRIEDRICH, D.D.S., MRS. PAUL E. RAUSCHENBACH Secretary BERWYN F. MATTISON, M.D. Treasurer MALCOLM HECHT Assistant Treasurer HERBERT I. WOOD

Active Members
American Academy of General Practice
American Academy of Pediatrics
American Association of Industrial Nurses
American Association of Medical Record Librarians
American College of Preventive Medicine
American Dental Association
American Diabetes Association
American Dietetic Association
American Hearing Society
American Heart Association
American Hospital Association
American Medical Association
American National Red Cross
American Nurses' Association
American Nursing Home Association
American Occupational Therapy Association
American Osteopathic Association
American Pharmaceutical Association
American Physical Therapy Association
American Psychiatric Association
American Public Health Association
American Social Health Association
American Society of Medical Technologists
American Veterinary Medical Association
Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation
Association for the Aid of Crippled Children
Association of American Medical Colleges
Association of Schools of Public Health
Association of State and Territorial Health Officers
Blue Cross Association
Conference for Health Council Work
Maternity Center Association
Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America
National Association for Mental Health
National Association for Retarded Children
National Association of Sanitarians
National Association of Social Workers
National Council on Alcoholism
National Foundation
National Kidney Disease Foundation
National League for Nursing
National Medical Association
National Multiple Sclerosis Society
National Rehabilitation Association
National Safety Council
National Society for Crippled Children and Adults
National Society for Medical Research
National Society for the Prevention of Blindness
National Tuberculosis Association
Planned Parenthood Federation of America
Society of Public Health Educators
United Cerebral Palsy Associations

Advisory Members
Bureau of Public Assistance, Social Security Administration
United States Children's Bureau
United States Department of Agriculture, Federal Extension Service
United States Office of Education
United States Office of Vocational Rehabilitation
United States Public Health Service
Veterans Administration, Department of Medicine and Surgery

Associate Members
American Eugenics Society
American Home Economics Association
General Federation of Women's Clubs
Goodwill Industries of America
International Association of Lions Clubs
National Dairy Council
National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs

Sustaining Members
Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States
Metropolitan Life Insurance Company
Chas. Pfizer & Co.
Smith Kline & French Laboratories
Winthrop Laboratories

Executive Director
PHILIP E. RYAN

December 20, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow

On behalf of Dr. Perkins I acknowledge your note of December 14.

I know that I speak for him, and for the members of the 1961 Forum Committee in expressing our regret that you are unable to accept the invitation to be the dinner speaker at the 1961 National Health Forum.

We can appreciate the many demands that are being made on your time, and understand why you cannot accept this further commitment.

Thank you for the consideration which you have given to our request.

Sincerely,

Philip E. Ryan
Executive Director

PER/nr

e d

December 14, 1960

Dear Dr. Perkins:

Many thanks for your gracious letter of December 8th.

I greatly appreciate your invitation to be the dinner speaker at the 1961 National Health Forum in March and very much regret that I cannot accept. My radio and television commitments for the coming year are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not make any speeches no matter how tempting the ocdasion.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

James E. Perkins, M.D., President
National Health Council
1790 Broadway
New York 19, New York

ERM:gw

NATIONAL HEALTH COUNCIL

1790 BROADWAY, NEW YORK 19, N. Y. Telephone: CIRCLE 5-8000

Officers President JAMES E. PERKINS, M.D. President-Elect JAMES H. STERNER, M.D. Vice Presidents MRS. ROLLIN BROWN, RUDOLPH H. FRIEDRICH, D.D.S., MRS. PAUL E. RAUSCHENBACH Secretary BERWYN F. MATTISON, M.D. Treasurer MALCOLM HECHT Assistant Treasurer HERBERT I. WOOD

Active Members

American Academy of General Practice
American Academy of Pediatrics
American Association of Industrial Nurses
American Association of Medical Record Librarians
American College of Preventive Medicine
American Dental Association
American Diabetes Association
American Dietetic Association
American Hearing Society
American Heart Association
American Hospital Association
American Medical Association
American National Red Cross
American Nurses' Association
American Nursing Home Association
American Occupational Therapy Association
American Osteopathic Association
American Pharmaceutical Association
American Physical Therapy Association
American Psychiatric Association
American Public Health Association
American Social Health Association
American Society of Medical Technologists
American Veterinary Medical Association
Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation
Association for the Aid of Crippled Children
Association of American Medical Colleges
Association of Schools of Public Health
Association of State and Territorial Health Officers
Blue Cross Association
Conference for Health Council Work
Maternity Center Association
Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America
National Association for Mental Health
National Association for Retarded Children
National Association of Sanitarians
National Association of Social Workers
National Council on Alcoholism
National Foundation
National Kidney Disease Foundation
National League for Nursing
National Medical Association
National Multiple Sclerosis Society
National Rehabilitation Association
National Safety Council
National Society for Crippled Children and Adults
National Society for Medical Research
National Society for the Prevention of Blindness
National Tuberculosis Association
Planned Parenthood Federation of America
Society of Public Health Educators
United Cerebral Palsy Associations

Advisory Members

Bureau of Public Assistance, Social Security Administration
United States Children's Bureau
United States Department of Agriculture, Federal Extension Service
United States Office of Education
United States Office of Vocational Rehabilitation
United States Public Health Service
Veterans Administration, Department of Medicine and Surgery

Associate Members

American Eugenics Society
American Home Economics Association
General Federation of Women's Clubs
Goodwill Industries of America
International Association of Lions Clubs
National Dairy Council
National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs

Sustaining Members

Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States
Metropolitan Life Insurance Company
Chas. Pfizer & Co.
Smith Kline & French Laboratories
Winthrop Laboratories

Executive Director PHILIP E. RYAN

December 8, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow

When we asked Dr. Leona Baumgartner how to seek your acceptance of this invitation she said, "With a man like Ed Murrow, you go direct." So we go direct, and, in passing, note that Dr. Baumgartner agrees with us that you are the ideal person to do the job we have in mind.

The National Health Council annually convenes a National Health Forum to direct public and professional attention to a selected important national health problem requiring analysis, examination of what is being done about it, and identification of what further might be done. Our next Forum, in March 1961, at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York City, is on the subject of "Better Communication for Better Health." It is described in more detail in the enclosed Fact Sheet.

The officers of the Council and the Forum Committee are in agreement that they want you to be the dinner speaker at the 1961 Forum. This will be on Wednesday evening, March 15. We know that with your demonstrated appreciation of the use of radio and television in contributing to the solution of social problems (most recent example, your migratory labor program), you will have significant and stimulating things to say to the group of selected leaders assembled in the 1961 Forum. Through the Forum publications, what you say will, of course, be reaching an even broader audience of people who need to make better use of modern communications to advance the cause of health. You will be making a real contribution to that cause in accepting this invitation.

If you have any questions, either I or Philip Ryan, the Council's executive director, will be pleased to answer them.

Sincerely

James E. Perkins

James E. Perkins, M.D.
President

Enclosure

FACT SHEET August 1960

1961 NATIONAL HEALTH FORUM

March 13-16, 1961

Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York City

TOPIC: "Better Communication for Better Health"

WHY THIS TOPIC: In health discussions these themes recur: "Our basic problem is communication"—"We must narrow the gap between what we know and what we apply"—"This new information should reach those who can use it"—"Facts alone are not enough; we need motivation"—"Increased specialization is good, but it creates barriers to communication"—"Yes, but we talk only to ourselves"—"There must be better ways to tell this story"—"We can't keep up with the literature."

Health shares these problems with other fields but health communication improvement is urgent and possible because

— expanding research is providing new knowledge — public interest in health problems and services is increasing — new techniques and devices for more rapid and effective communication are being found, but there is a lag in using them for health improvement — health problems are more complex than ever before, solutions require cooperation of educators, social scientists, business men, labor leaders, and a host of public, voluntary, professional and civic organizations — more effective use of existing and expanding knowledge is imperative for the well-being and security of our society

WHAT THE FORUM WILL DO: As planned by the Forum Committee (see other side) the Forum will analyze problems of health communication, evaluate what is being done, review the promises of newer communication methods and techniques, direct public and professional attention to the need for better health communication and identify action potentials.

Several pre-Forum workshops will be held to analyze various aspects of the problem, e.g., communication among scientists and between scientists and practitioners; communication among health organizations, communication with the public. The workshops will provide a basis for more effective discussion in the Forum itself.

Aspects of the problem which will receive Forum attention include:

— What communication research and experience can contribute to better health communication.
— Motivation for action based on fact rather than fad.
— Teaching communication skills in the schools for the health professions.
— Health communication in the schools.
— Cooperative approach to better health communication.
— Experiments in use of new methods and techniques.

Publication of selected papers, action ideas, and an over-all report will enable the Forum to reach a broader audience.

PARTICIPATION: Participation in the Forum is by invitation. Approximately 500 leaders from various fields will constitute the Forum, including representation from the health professions and voluntary and governmental health agencies, as well as educators, social scientists, health researchers, and experts in communication.

From suggestions received from many different sources, invitations will be extended to selected individuals.

Participants will pay a registration fee of $10, covering Forum materials, attendance at all sessions (except meal functions) and subsequent reports. They are expected to meet their own travel and living expenses.

(Please turn over)

THE NATIONAL HEALTH FORUMS: The National Health Council, established in 1921, enables its more than 70 member agencies to work together in the common cause of health improvement. The annual National Health Forum, sponsored by the Council, is a conference ground for all elements of the health movement with the participation of other related interests. The Forum focuses public and professional attention on a selected national health problem or important national health development; it offers a well-planned setting where health leaders can come together to discuss among themselves, and with others, the nature of the problem or development and what might be done about it. It provides a means for — pooling and exchange of information and experience — reporting new developments to a broader audience

— identifying action potentials

The Forum does not adopt formal recommendations or resolutions.

The 1961 National Health Forum on "Better Communication for Better Health" is the ninth in a series.

Past Forums include:

1953 "The Health Needs of the Nation"
1954 "Staffing America's Health Services"
1955 "Forecasting America's Health"
1956 "Action Today, Tomorrow, Together on Chronic Illness"
1957 "Steps for Today Toward Better Mental Health"
1958 "Urban Sprawl and Health"
1959 "Health of People Who Work—Challenges of Occupational Health"
1960 "Positive Health of Older People"

1961 FORUM COMMITTEE: Responsibility for developing and conducting the 1961 National Health Forum rests with a committee appointed by the National Health Council consisting of:

GRANVILLE W. LARIMORE, M.D., (Chairman) Deputy Commissioner of Health, New York State Department of Health

WALTER G. BARLOW, Executive Vice President, Opinion Research Corporation, Princeton

W. W. BAUER, M.D., Director, Department of Health Education, American Medical Association

GEORGE BUGBEE, President, Health Information Foundation, New York City

JOSEPH W. COFFMAN, President, Tecnifax Corporation, Holyoke, Mass.

HOWARD ENNES, Director, Bureau of Public Health, Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States

RUTH B. FREEMAN, ED.D., (ex officio)

IAGO GALDSTON, M.D., New York Academy of Medicine

BRUNO GEBHARD, M.D., Director, Cleveland Health Museum

HORACE H. HUGHES, Maternity Center Association, New York City

GEORGE JAMES, M.D., First Deputy Commissioner, New York City Health Department

DALLAS JOHNSON, PR Associates, Washington, D. C.

WALTER MURPHY, Public Relations Counsel, National Tuberculosis Association

RICHARD H. ORR, M.D., Executive Director, Institute for Advancement of Medical Communication, New York City

WILLIAM R. PATTERSON, D.D.S., Texarkana, Arkansas-Texas

JAMES E. PERKINS, M.D., (ex officio)

MARCUS ROSENBLUM, Executive Editor, Public Health Reports, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

MATHEW ROSS, M.D., Medical Director, American Psychiatric Association

MARION W. SHEAHAN, R.N., Associate General Director, National League for Nursing

JAMES H. STERNER, M.D., (ex officio)

EUGENE J. TAYLOR, The New York Times

EARL UBELL, The New York Herald Tribune

JAMES M. VICARY, Marketing and Opinion Research, New York City

JOHN F. WHITE, President, National Educational Television and Radio Center, New York

DONALD YOUNG, PH.D., Director, Russell Sage Foundation, New York City

MARJORIE A. C. YOUNG, PH.D., Assistant Professor of Health Education, School of Public Health, Harvard University

RICHARD H. YOUNG, M.D., Dean, Northwestern University Medical School, Evanston, Illinois

Natl Institute on Crim
ed eg

December 1, 1960

Dear Mr. Gernert:

Many thanks for your letter of November 28th and for your gracious comments regarding "Harvest of Shame."

I greatly appreciate your invitation to moderate a special program at your meeting next May and very much regret that I cannot accept. My radio and television commitments for the coming year are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake any extracurricular activities no matter how tempting the occasion.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Paul J. Gernert, Program Chairman
8th National Institute on Crime and Delinquency
P. O. Box 66
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

ERM:gw

8th National Institute on Crime and Delinquency

1790 BROADWAY, NEW YORK 19, N. Y.

SPONSORS | NATIONAL COUNCIL ON CRIME AND DELINQUENCY
MIDDLE ATLANTIC STATES CONFERENCE OF CORRECTION
NEW JERSEY PROBATION ASSOCIATION

The Ambassador, Atlantic City, New Jersey May 21-24, 1961

IN REPLY REFER TO:

P. O. Box 66
Harrisburg, Pa.
November 28, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
News Commentator
Columbia Broadcasting Co.
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

I had the extreme pleasure of listening to you on the "Harvest of Shame" program. Immediately, you impressed me as being the gentleman we are looking for to moderate a special program at the 8th National Institute on Crime and Delinquency, to be held in Atlantic City, New Jersey, May 21 to 24, 1961, inclusive.

The Institute is sponsored by non-profit organizations, such as, the National Council on Crime and Delinquency, the Middle Atlantic States Conference of Correction, the New Jersey Probation Association, and the National Training School Association.

This affair for Wednesday morning, May 24th, would be of a panel nature. We would like you to moderate this program. On the panel with you would be a nationally known correctional representative, a noted judge, a state legislator, a writer, and a business man. The subject will be, "Community and Corrections--Look at Each Other."

May we respectfully solicit your services for that date, and for the purpose herein stated. Kindly advise at an early date if you are available and will accept, and, too, what the cost of your services would be.

The field of parole, probation, and corrections is one that has not as yet gained full recognition and public acceptance. In these days of trial and costly institutional programs it is high time that we take a better approach to those who have fallen away from our social standards.

I would appreciate if you would accept. We must look to men of National fame such as you possess to help us in putting across to the public the profession in which we are engaged.

Sincerely yours,

Paul J. Gernert

Paul J. Gernert, Program Chairman
8th National Institute on Crime and Delinquency

PJG:dk

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF TRAINING SCHOOLS AND JUVENILE AGENCIES WILL HOLD ITS ANNUAL CONFERENCE AT THE SAME TIME AND SAME PLACE AS THE NICD: SEE THE NICD PROGRAM FOR ITS MEETINGS.

National Multiple Sclerosis Society

May 10, 1960

Dear Miss Bergen:

Thank you for your letter of May 2nd, which unfortunately was received here in Mr. Murrow's absence.

As you may know, Mr. Murrow is presently on a year's sabbatical. He will not be returning to the office for several months and therefore, I regret that he will not be able to be of assistance to the MS HOPE CHEST campaign this year.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Miss Polly Bergen, Chairman
Women's Activities Committee
1960 MS Hope Chest
National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue
New York 10, New York

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y.
ORegon 4-4100

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower
Honorary MS Hope Chest Chairman

Shirley Temple
MS Hope Chest Chairman

Polly Bergen, Chairman
Women's Activities

Pat Boone, Chairman
Teens Against MS

Chris Schenkel, Chairman
Good Sports for MS

Guy Lombardo, Chairman
Musicians for MS

Murray Kaufman, Chairman
Disc Jockeys for MS

NATIONAL COMMITTEE OF SPONSORS

Donald G. Anderson, M.D.
General Milton Baker
Hon. Charles E. Bennett
Gilbert W. Chapman
Bing Crosby
Arthur Fiedler
Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick
Harold J. Gallagher
Hon. Earl J. Glade
Hugh C. Gruwell
Hon. Hubert H. Humphrey, Jr.
Hon. Irving M. Ives
John B. Kelly, Jr.
Mrs. Albert D. Lasker
Ralph Lowell
Eugene Ormandy
Cole Porter
Hon. Ivy Baker Priest
Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt
Patrice Munsel Schuler
Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill
Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver
Mrs. Alfred N. Steele
(Joan Crawford)
Mrs. Richard Storrs
Hon. Dan Thornton
Hon. Robert F. Wagner
John R. Wanamaker
General Albert C. Wedemeyer

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

William C. Breed, Jr., N. Y.
Chairman
Ralph C. Glock, Conn.
President
Francis L. Whitmarsh, N. Y.
W. Thacher Longstreth, Pa.
L. Palmer Brown, III, Tenn.
Ralph I. Straus, N. Y.
Charles W. V. Meares, N. Y.
Ott L. Voigt, D.D.S., Texas
John M. Lovejoy, Conn.
Donald Vail, N. Y.
Sylvia Lawry, N. Y.

John E. Baker, Jr., III.
Joseph W. Barker, N. Y.
Clyde I. Barrows, Me.
Edward L. Bernays, N. Y.
Mrs. Charles A. Black, Calif.
(Shirley Temple)
Mrs. Frederic E. Camp, Me.
John D. Carney, N. Y.
Mrs. Irwin Cohn, Mass.
Mrs. Michael Cudahy, Ill.
Mrs. Charles C. Cunningham, Conn.
Wilfred B. Doner, Mich.
Otto C. Frohnknecht, N. Y.
Chloe Gifford, D. C.
Lester Ginsburg, N. Y.
William V. Herbert, N. Y.
Joseph J. Karpeles, D.D.S., Calif.
Hon. Herschel Lashkowitz, N. D.
Brig. Gen. W. L. Lee, USAF (Ret.), Texas
Harry G. Liese, N. Y.
David L. Luke, III, N. Y.
John F. Milliken, III.
Raymond Moley, N. Y.
Roy W. Moore, Conn.
William Pollock, Pa.
J. Lenox Porter, N. Y.
Hon. Charles Root, Minn.
Robert W. Sarnoff, N. Y.
Louis P. Smith, Mass.
Sidney L. Smith, N. Y.
Raymond L. Taylor, N. J.
Vice Adm. H. R. Thurber, USN (Ret.), D. C.
Herbert L. Vander Mey, Mich.
Charles M. Walton, Jr., N. Y.
Robert R. Williams, N. Y.
Irving Witty, N. Y.
Jabez H. Wood, N. Y.
F. F. Yonkman, M.D., N. J.

May 2, 1960

Mr. Ed Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

I am working with the National Multiple Sclerosis Society as Chairman of the Women's Activities Committee to help make the 1960 MS HOPE CHEST a smashing success.

I would deeply appreciate your help during our campaign which takes place from Mother's Day, May 8, through Father's Day, June 19.

As a prominent personality, you have a loyal following, and I am sure that if you recommend supporting the MS HOPE CHEST, many of your followers will do so.

You will find enclosed a set of announcements prepared for our 1960 MS HOPE CHEST campaign. If you want any additional material or would like to have a representative of the National MS Society appear on your program, please get in touch with Mr. Gil Braun, Director of Radio and TV, at the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, and he will make the necessary arrangements.

The MS HOPE CHEST is approved by the Advertising Council.

Thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

Polly Bergen

Polly Bergen, Chairman
Women's Activities Committee

RADIO MATERIAL

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

SPOT ANNOUNCEMENTS

(10 seconds)

(SKLER-O-SIS)

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., ORegon 4-4100

(1) Hundreds of thousands of Americans between the ages of 20 and 40 know that "Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits." Help conquer MS. Give to the MS HOPE CHEST today.

(2) Help in the fight to conquer multiple sclerosis...the greatest cause of chronic disability among young adults. Support research to find its cause and cure. Please give to the MS HOPE CHEST.

(3) "Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits" because young mothers and fathers are victims of chronic, crippling MS. Give to the MS HOPE CHEST...or send your contribution to: MS, in care of your local postmaster.

(4) Say "yes" to the MS HOPE CHEST and help conquer multiple sclerosis. Hundreds of thousands of young Americans are victims of this crippling disease. Please give to the MS HOPE CHEST today.

(5) Multiple Sclerosis is a chronic, disabling disease. Join in the fight to find its cause and cure. Give to the MS HOPE CHEST... or send your contribution to...MS, in care of your local postmaster.

ADVERTISING COUNCIL APPROVED: Our current program is included in the Radio-TV Bulletin of The Advertising Council. It is our clear understanding with the Council that the assistance we are requesting is not intended to displace any Regular Council allocation, but is sought as an additional contribution of time over and above your normal schedule of participation in the Radio or Television Allocation Plan.

RADIO MATERIAL

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

SPOT ANNOUNCEMENTS

(10 seconds)

(SKLER-O-SIS)

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., ORegon 4-4100

(6) MS HOPE CHEST funds support research to find the cause and cure of chronic, crippling multiple sclerosis. Please say "yes" to the MS HOPE CHEST...and give as generously as you can.

(7) Nearly 2,000,000 people are directly affected by multiple sclerosis and related disease. "Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits." Help solve this medical mystery. Give to the MS HOPE CHEST.

(8) When multiple sclerosis pushes its way into a home, it usually comes to stay. That's why "Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits." Do your part to fight MS. Help fill the MS HOPE CHEST. Thank you.

(9) Scientific research is the way to solve the mystery of chronic, crippling multiple sclerosis. This research is supported by the MS HOPE CHEST. Please give as much as you can to the MS HOPE CHEST.

(10) Chronic, crippling multiple sclerosis strikes mainly at young adults in the 20-to-40 age group. Many of its hundreds of thousands of victims are parents of young children. Help them. Give to the MS HOPE CHEST.

ADVERTISING COUNCIL APPROVED: Our current program is included in the Radio-TV Bulletin of The Advertising Council. It is our clear understanding with the Council that the assistance we are requesting is not intended to displace any Regular Council allocation, but is sought as an additional contribution of time over and above your normal schedule of participation in the Radio or Television Allocation Plan.

RADIO MATERIAL

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

SPOT ANNOUNCEMENTS

(10 seconds)

(SKLER-O-SIS)

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., ORegon 4-4100

(11) MS - that means multiple sclerosis...a chronic, crippling disease. MS HOPE CHEST - that means you can help fight it. Give to the MS HOPE CHEST or send your contribution to...MS, in care of your local postmaster.

(12) Are you helping to fill the MS HOPE CHEST? What you give will mean a lot to the hundreds of thousands of young Americans who are victims of this disabling disease. Please say "yes" to the MS HOPE CHEST.

ADVERTISING COUNCIL APPROVED: Our current program is included in the Radio-TV Bulletin of The Advertising Council. It is our clear understanding with the Council that the assistance we are requesting is not intended to displace any Regular Council allocation, but is sought as an additional contribution of time over and above your normal schedule of participation in the Radio or Television Allocation Plan.

RADIO MATERIAL

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

SPOT ANNOUNCEMENTS

(20-30 seconds)

(SKLER-O-SIS)

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., ORegon 4-4100

(1) Now is the time to say "yes" to the MS HOPE CHEST. Join the fight to conquer chronic, crippling multiple sclerosis, a disease of the central nervous system. Remember...MS hits hardest at young adults in the 20-to-40 age group, and that's why..."Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits." Support research to find the cause and cure of MS. Please give to the MS HOPE CHEST.

(2) Today...multiple sclerosis is truly a medical mystery. Neither the cause nor cure of this chronic, crippling disease of the central nervous system is known. But what of tomorrow? Medical and scientific research will come up with the answers that can give hope to hundreds of thousands of MS victims. What can be done depends on you...on how much you give to the MS HOPE CHEST. Give as generously as you can to the MS HOPE CHEST nearest you...or send your contribution to... MS, in care of your local postmaster. Thank you.

(3) "Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits." That sentence tells much of the MS story because this chronic, crippling disease of the central nervous system strikes hardest at young adults. Children suffer when their parents are victims of MS. Help in the fight to find the cause and cure of multiple sclerosis. Say "yes" to the MS HOPE CHEST today...and please give generously.

ADVERTISING COUNCIL APPROVED: Our current program is included in the Radio-TV Bulletin of The Advertising Council. It is our clear understanding with the Council that the assistance we are requesting is not intended to displace any Regular Council allocation, but is sought as an additional contribution of time over and above your normal schedule of participation in the Radio or Television Allocation Plan.

RADIO MATERIAL

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

SPOT ANNOUNCEMENTS

(20-30 seconds)

(SKLER-O-SIS)

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., ORegon 4-4100

(4) The National Multiple Sclerosis Society is the only nation-wide voluntary organization dedicated to work for MS. Since its founding in 1946, it has been a steadily growing force in promoting research into the causes, alleviation and control of multiple sclerosis. You can help in this important fight by contributing to the MS HOPE CHEST. Remember..."Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits." Please give to the MS HOPE CHEST...and do it today. Thank you.

(5) When you see the MS HOPE CHEST...let it serve as a reminder..."Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits." It is through MS HOPE CHEST funds that medical and scientific research is being carried out to find the cause and cure of chronic, crippling multiple sclerosis. MS has claimed hundreds of thousands of victims...so please give as generously as you can to the MS HOPE CHEST. Do it today. Thank you.

ADVERTISING COUNCIL APPROVED: Our current program is included in the Radio-TV Bulletin of The Advertising Council. It is our clear understanding with the Council that the assistance we are requesting is not intended to displace any Regular Council allocation, but is sought as an additional contribution of time over and above your normal schedule of participation in the Radio or Television Allocation Plan.

RADIO MATERIAL

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

SPOT ANNOUNCEMENTS

(20-30 seconds)

(SKLER-O-SIS)

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., ORegon 4-4100

(6) Multiple sclerosis strikes people from all walks of life...and it usually strikes them when they're young. MS is crippling and disabling...and when it comes, it comes to stay. Hardest hit are parents of young children. They know that "Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits." You can help by contributing to the MS HOPE CHEST. Don't put it off...do it today.

(7) The home is the very heart of American life...but MS families know that "Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits." Through the MS HOPE CHEST, the search for the cause and cure of chronic, crippling multiple sclerosis will go forward. Please give what you can to help. Contribute to the MS HOPE CHEST today.

ADVERTISING COUNCIL APPROVED: Our current program is included in the Radio-TV Bulletin of The Advertising Council. It is our clear understanding with the Council that the assistance we are requesting is not intended to displace any Regular Council allocation, but is sought as an additional contribution of time over and above your normal schedule of participation in the Radio or Television Allocation Plan.

RADIO MATERIAL

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

SPOT ANNOUNCEMENT

(1-minute)

(SKLER-O-SIS)

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., ORegon 4-4100

SPECIAL FOR MOTHER'S DAY

For the past 47 years, Mother's Day has been celebrated as a national holiday dedicated to the mothers of the land. It is a day set aside by family members to take mom out to enjoy a fine dinner or share a special outing. But there are many mothers who cannot be honored in this way. They are the victims of multiple sclerosis who are disabled and confined to a wheelchair by chronic, crippling MS. The cause of this mysterious disease of the central nervous system is not known...and there is no known cure. The greatest hope for more than 500,000 patients with multiple sclerosis and related crippling diseases lies in the scientific research that is supported through the MS HOPE CHEST. MS victims and their families know the harsh truth of the statement, "Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits." You can make this a special day, not only for MS mothers...but for all multiple sclerosis victims...by giving to the MS HOPE CHEST. If it is more convenient, you may mail your contribution. Just address it to: MS, in care of your local postmaster. Thank you.

ADVERTISING COUNCIL APPROVED: Our current program is included in the Radio-TV Bulletin of The Advertising Council. It is our clear understanding with the Council that the assistance we are requesting is not intended to displace any Regular Council allocation, but is sought as an additional contribution of time over and above your normal schedule of participation in the Radio or Television Allocation Plan.

RADIO MATERIAL

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

SPOT ANNOUNCEMENT

(1-minute)

(SKLER-O-SIS)

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., ORegon 4-4100

Do you know what engineers mean when they use the term "fudge factor"? They're referring to the extra strength they add to a bridge to allow for any accidental deficit in construction. They want to make certain the job is done right. The National Multiple Sclerosis Society feels the same way about fighting MS. They want to make sure everything possible is being done to conquer this chronic, disabling disease of the central nervous system. They know that the hope of finding the cause and cure of multiple sclerosis lies in medical and scientific research - and that is why they are bearing down hard in that direction. Because MS strikes mainly at young adults in the most productive period of their lives, their families know that..."Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits." You can help in the fight to conquer multiple sclerosis by contributing to the MS HOPE CHEST. Why not add a little "fudge factor" to your contribution - by making it as large as you can - just to make sure that the fight against MS will be an all-out fight? Please give to the MS HOPE CHEST today...or mail your contribution to: MS, in care of your local postmaster. Thank you.

ADVERTISING COUNCIL APPROVED: Our current program is included in the Radio-TV Bulletin of The Advertising Council. It is our clear understanding with the Council that the assistance we are requesting is not intended to displace any Regular Council allocation, but is sought as an additional contribution of time over and above your normal schedule of participation in the Radio or Television Allocation Plan.

RADIO MATERIAL

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

SPOT ANNOUNCEMENT

(1-minute)

(SKLER-O-SIS)

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., ORegon 4-4100

Who are the victims of multiple sclerosis? The answer is...young adults in the 20-to-40 age group. BUT...MS patients themselves are not the only victims! When chronic, crippling multiple sclerosis pushes its way into a home, it places heavy burdens on every member of the family. Because MS usually comes to stay, children are often forced to shoulder responsibilities beyond their years when MS strikes a parent. If the victim is a mother, she may not be able to care for her children. When MS places a father in a wheelchair, the family often loses its breadwinner. Millions of people are directly affected by multiple sclerosis and related diseases! Because MS strikes people from all walks of life, making no exceptions of occupational, economic or racial group...it is truly a nation-wide problem. The National Multiple Sclerosis Society is doing all it can to solve the mystery of MS. Through its MS HOPE CHEST, scientific and medical research is being conducted to find the cause and cure of this baffling disease of the central nervous system. You can help in this important fight by contributing to the MS HOPE CHEST nearest you...or send your contribution to: MS, in care of your local postmaster. Remember... "Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits."

ADVERTISING COUNCIL APPROVED: Our current program is included in the Radio-TV Bulletin of The Advertising Council. It is our clear understanding with the Council that the assistance we are requesting is not intended to displace any Regular Council allocation, but is sought as an additional contribution of time over and above your normal schedule of participation in the Radio or Television Allocation Plan.

RADIO MATERIAL

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

SPOT ANNOUNCEMENT

(1-minute)

(SKLER-O-SIS)

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., ORegon 4-4100

Multiple sclerosis is not a private affair. Hundreds of thousands of our people have been stricken with this chronic, crippling disease of the central nervous system that hits hardest at men and women in the 20-to-40 age group. Its victims are often parents of young children...homemakers and breadwinners. That's why..."Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits." The entire family suffers untold hardships when MS strikes one of its members. Financial and emotional problems follow in its wake because multiple sclerosis often disables...and when it comes, it comes to stay. It is a dread disease because its cause and cure are not known. But something is being done about MS. Through the MS HOPE CHEST, medical and scientific research is being supported, and this research must continue until the mystery of multiple sclerosis is solved. Conscious of the needs of MS patients...please be conscientious in your giving. Contribute to the MS HOPE CHEST today...or send your contribution to... MS, in care of your local postmaster. Thank you.

ADVERTISING COUNCIL APPROVED: Our current program is included in the Radio-TV Bulletin of The Advertising Council. It is our clear understanding with the Council that the assistance we are requesting is not intended to displace any Regular Council allocation, but is sought as an additional contribution of time over and above your normal schedule of participation in the Radio or Television Allocation Plan.

RADIO MATERIAL

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

SPOT ANNOUNCEMENT

(1-minute)

(SKLER-O-SIS)

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., ORegon 4-4100

The first home that man ever knew was the campfire. In the circle of its warmth and light, the primitive family found its first comfort. Down through the centuries, the physical dimensions of the home have changed, but it is still the same entity, and what hurts one member of a family touches all. That is why "Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits." The reason is easy to understand. Multiple sclerosis is a chronic, crippling disease of the central nervous system that usually disables. Because it strikes mainly at men and women in the 20-to-40 age group, it hits hard at homes where there are young children. MS places heavy burdens on the children of such a family because a parent in a wheelchair cannot function fully as a homemaker or breadwinner putting the responsibility on the young. These MS families number in the hundreds of thousands, but they speak with one voice: "Find the cause and cure for multiple sclerosis." That is what the MS HOPE CHEST is trying to do. Won't you help? Please give to the MS HOPE CHEST...or send your contribution to: MS, in care of your local postmaster. Thank you.

ADVERTISING COUNCIL APPROVED: Our current program is included in the Radio-TV Bulletin of The Advertising Council. It is our clear understanding with the Council that the assistance we are requesting is not intended to displace any Regular Council allocation, but is sought as an additional contribution of time over and above your normal schedule of participation in the Radio or Television Allocation Plan.

RADIO MATERIAL

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

SPOT ANNOUNCEMENT

(1-minute)

(SKLER-O-SIS)

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., ORegon 4-4100

Aristotle said, "Hope is the dream of a waking man." Perhaps most of us would give a more practical definition because we think of hope as a strong support to cling to in time of trouble. But the victims of multiple sclerosis would embrace both definitions. For these MS victims are afflicted with a disease of the central nervous system for which no cause or cure is known. They pin their hopes on medical and scientific research that has solved so many medical mysteries in the past. Through funds supplied by you to the MS HOPE CHEST, they believe that the answer to the riddle of MS will be found in the laboratory. Most of the hundreds of thousands of MS victims are young adults in the 20-to-40 age group. When a progressive, disabling disease strikes down a man or woman in that age group, it places heavy burdens on everyone in the family. Normal family life is disrupted. That is why these victims say, "Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits." You can help conquer multiple sclerosis by giving to the MS HOPE CHEST. Please do it today. Give to the MS HOPE CHEST nearest you...or mail your contribution to: MS, in care of your local postmaster. Thank you.

ADVERTISING COUNCIL APPROVED: Our current program is included in the Radio-TV Bulletin of The Advertising Council. It is our clear understanding with the Council that the assistance we are requesting is not intended to displace any Regular Council allocation, but is sought as an additional contribution of time over and above your normal schedule of participation in the Radio or Television Allocation Plan.

RADIO MATERIAL

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

SPOT ANNOUNCEMENT

(1-minute)

(SKLER-O-SIS)

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., ORegon 4-4100

Have you said "yes" to the MS HOPE CHEST? Hundreds of thousands of young Americans between the ages of 20 and 40 hope that you have. These victims of chronic, crippling multiple sclerosis want you to know that they are counting on the MS HOPE CHEST to support medical and scientific research to find the cause and cure of this mysterious, disabling disease of the central nervous system. Many of these MS patients are severly handicapped...but because so many of them are parents of young children, they try desperately to carry on. Just imagine how difficult it is for the victims of multiple sclerosis to try to perform their duties as homemakers and bread-winners while in a wheelchair. They need help because "Home is where the hurt is...when MS hits." Hope lies in research...the means is through the MS HOPE CHEST...the contributions must come from you. Won't you give all the help you can by contributing to the MS HOPE CHEST today? There's one near you...but if it's more convenient, you may send your contribution. Just address it to: MS, in care of your local postmaster. Thank you.

ADVERTISING COUNCIL APPROVED: Our current program is included in the Radio-TV Bulletin of The Advertising Council. It is our clear understanding with the Council that the assistance we are requesting is not intended to displace any Regular Council allocation, but is sought as an additional contribution of time over and above your normal schedule of participation in the Radio or Television Allocation Plan.

RADIO MATERIAL

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

SPOT ANNOUNCEMENT

(1-minute)

(SKLER-O-SIS)

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., ORegon 4-4100

MS...what does it stand for?...what does it mean? MS stands for multiple sclerosis...multiple sclerosis means many scars. It is a mysterious disease of the central nervous system...chronic, crippling, disabling...and its cause and cure are still unknown. It can strike anyone...anywhere...but it hits hardest at young adults in the 20-to-40 age group. Its victims number in the hundreds of thousands...many in wheelchairs, seriously disabled. The impact of this disease on the home and community is tragic. Everyone agrees that something must be done about multiple sclerosis...and, of course, something is being done about it. Through the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, medical and scientific research is being conducted to solve the mystery of MS. This important work is financed by funds voluntarily contributed to the MS HOPE CHEST. When you give to the MS HOPE CHEST, please remember that..."Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits."...and give as generously as you can. If you prefer, mail your contribution to: MS, in care of your local postmaster. Thank you.

ADVERTISING COUNCIL APPROVED: Our current program is included in the Radio-TV Bulletin of The Advertising Council. It is our clear understanding with the Council that the assistance we are requesting is not intended to displace any Regular Council allocation, but is sought as an additional contribution of time over and above your normal schedule of participation in the Radio or Television Allocation Plan.

RADIO MATERIAL

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

SPOT ANNOUNCEMENT

(1-minute)

(SKLER-O-SIS)

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., ORegon 4-4100

This is the season to give to the MS HOPE CHEST. And this is the reason for giving: Multiple sclerosis numbers its victims in the hundreds of thousands...and is the greatest cause of chronic disability among young adults. "Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits" because every member of the MS family shares in the hardships of this chronic, crippling disease of the central nervous system. Children suffer when their father is stricken with MS and their mother is forced to become the family breadwinner. Multiple sclerosis puts a strain on every family it strikes because it often puts its victim in a wheelchair...and when it comes, it comes to stay. The hope of conquering this baffling disease lies in the medical and scientific research that is being conducted to find its cause and cure. The MS HOPE CHEST supports this research...and that is why it is so important to support the MS HOPE CHEST. Please give all you can to help. Contribute to the MS HOPE CHEST nearest you...or send your contribution to: MS, in care of your local postmaster. Thank you.

ADVERTISING COUNCIL APPROVED: Our current program is included in the Radio-TV Bulletin of The Advertising Council. It is our clear understanding with the Council that the assistance we are requesting is not intended to displace any Regular Council allocation, but is sought as an additional contribution of time over and above your normal schedule of participation in the Radio or Television Allocation Plan.

RADIO MATERIAL

1960 MS HOPE CHEST

SPOT ANNOUNCEMENT

(1-minute)

(SKLER-O-SIS)

National Multiple Sclerosis Society
257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., ORegon 4-4100

Home...that is a word that has a special meaning for everyone. It is the abiding place of the affections. That is why when one member of a family is afflicted, all are affected. That is why "Home is where the hurt is...when multiple sclerosis hits." MS stands for multiple sclerosis, a chronic, crippling disease of the central nervous system that is the greatest cause of disability among young Americans. Once MS strikes, it usually stays for life - and that spells hardship for the entire family. The cause and cure of multiple sclerosis are not yet known, but a worldwide research effort against MS is now under way, seeking the cause and control of this disease. This is the work that is supported by the MS HOPE CHEST. The dollars you contribute to the MS HOPE CHEST give encouragement and hope to those afflicted and those affected by MS. Please give as generously as you can to the MS HOPE CHEST. Do it today. Drop your contribution in the MS HOPE CHEST...or send it to: MS, in care of your local postmaster. Thank you.

ADVERTISING COUNCIL APPROVED: Our current program is included in the Radio-TV Bulletin of The Advertising Council. It is our clear understanding with the Council that the assistance we are requesting is not intended to displace any Regular Council allocation, but is sought as an additional contribution of time over and above your normal schedule of participation in the Radio or Television Allocation Plan.

Natl Paper + Twine
Eng dec

August 12, 1960

ROBERT L. BEDA
NATIONAL PAPER AND TWINE
1240 EAST 55 STREET
CLEVELAND OHIO

VERY MUCH REGRET I AM UNABLE TO ACCEPT YOUR GRACIOUS INVITATION TO SPEAK AT PAPER AND PACKAGING TRADE SHOW DUE TO PRIOR COMMITMENTS IN NEW YORK

EDWARD R. MURROW

514-70

CLASS OF SERVICE
This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION
TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

SF-1201 (4-60)

SYMBOLS
DL = Day Letter
NL = Night Letter
LT = International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is LOCAL TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is LOCAL TIME at point of destination

NT341 BED311
DE CLB370 LONG NL PD CLEVELAND OHIO 11 1960 AUG 11 PM 5 57
EDW R MURROW, COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM
CBS NYK
WOULD IT BE AT ALL POSSIBLE FOR YOU TO ADDRESS A MEETING OF 1,000 MANUFACTURERES BUSINESS AND CIVIC LEADERS OF NORTHERN OHIO SEPTEMBER 13 OR 14 HOTEL CARTER CLEVELAND OHIO. THE MEETING IS PART OF A TRADE SHOW FOR THE PAPER AND PACKAGING INDUSTRY. THE NATIONAL FIRMS FROM ALL OVER THE COUNTRY WILL BE PRESENT SUCH AS CROWN-ZELLERBACH, OLIN-MATHIESON, KIMBERLY CLARK, GENERAL ELECTRIC. SUBJECT MATTER WILL BE YOUR CHOICE AND ALL ARRANGEMENTS AT YOUR CONVENIENCE. WE REALIZEYOUR HEAVY SCHEDULED BUT YOUR PRESENCE WOULD BE A COMPLIMENT
TO THE TRADE AND THE PEOPLE OF CLEVELAND. THE SHOW IS PRESENTED BY NATIONAL PAPER AND TWINE. RESPECTFULLY
ROBT L BEDA FOR NATIONAL PAPER AND TWINE 1240 EAST 55 STREET

END 7

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a fast message unless its deferred character is indicated by the proper symbol.

WESTERN UNION

TELEGRAM

W. P. MARSHALL, PRESIDENT

SF-1201 (4-60)

SYMBOLS

DL = Day Letter

NL = Night Letter

LT = International Letter Telegram

The filing time shown in the date line on domestic telegrams is LOCAL TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is LOCAL TIME at point of destination

MT 341 DeD 31
DE CL13 370/2

H

CLEVELAND 3 OHIO.

1960 AUG 11 PM 5 57

I

Nat'l Soc. for Crippled Children and Adults

February 8, 1960

Dear Mr. Foss:

Thank you for your gracious letter of January 29th inviting Mr. Murrow to serve as a National Sponsor of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

I regret very much that since Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and will be traveling abroad for several months more before returning to the States, he will not be able to accept.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Joseph J. Foss, President
National Society for Crippled Children and Adults
2023 West Ogden Avenue
Chicago 12, Illinois

NATIONAL SOCIETY FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN AND ADULTS

2023 WEST OGDEN AVENUE • CHICAGO 12, ILLINOIS • CHesapeake 3-8400

DEAN W. ROBERTS, M. D., Executive Director

OFFICERS

President
The Honorable Joseph J. Foss
Sioux Falls, South Dakota

President Emeritus
William T. Sanger, Ph.D.
Richmond, Virginia

Past President
John J. Lee, Ph.D.
Detroit, Michigan

Vice-Presidents
Malcolm Hecht
Baltimore, Maryland

Jay Phillips
Minneapolis, Minnesota

Mrs. James M. Skinner, Jr.
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Treasurer
E. O. Griffenhagen
Chicago, Illinois

MEMBERS OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Mrs. David L. Black
Daytona Beach, Florida

J. P. W. Brown
Chattanooga, Tennessee

T. A. Mangelsdorf
New York, New York

Carl A. Morring, Jr.
Huntsville, Alabama

William T. Sanger, Ph.D.
Richmond, Virginia

Mrs. Edgar T. Sloan
Hartford, Connecticut

Herman R. Sutherland
Kansas City, Missouri

Reginald L. Vaughan
San Francisco, California

A. L. M. Wiggins
Hartsville, South Carolina

Secretary
Miss Daisy Byler
Chicago, Illinois

January 29, 1960

Mr. Ed Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

On behalf of the officers and trustees of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, it is my privilege to invite you to serve as a National Sponsor of our nationwide work for the crippled during the year 1960.

Your acceptance involves a willingness on your part to join with other prominent Americans in publicly identifying yourself with the Easter Seal Society as one who believes in and stands for its objectives as carried out by its nationwide family of societies for crippled children.

If you are willing to make a public statement for press or appear on television or radio on behalf of the Society, we will be grateful. We would use such a statement during our 1960 Easter Seal Appeal to the public which will take place beginning March 17 through April 17. We will make public announcements of our list of National Sponsors in our own publications and in releases to the press.

The National Society for Crippled Children and Adults is accredited by the National Information Bureau and included in its "Givers' Guide," and is approved by the Advertising Council. A list of trustees as well as those who served as National Sponsors last year are included in the copy of our 1959 Annual Report, "Search," which is enclosed with this.

We sincerely hope that you will wish to serve America's crippled children and adults as a National Sponsor of our Society. May we ask for your reply by March 1?

Sincerely,

Joe Foss

Joseph J. Foss
President

JJF:ma
Enclosure

8th World Congress, International Society for Welfare of Cripples
Annual Convention — National Society for Crippled Children & Adults, Inc.
New York City Waldorf-Astoria Aug. 28 — Sept. 2, 1960

1959 ANNUAL REPORT

THE NATIONAL SOCIETY FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN AND ADULTS, INC.

The Easter Seal Society

FOREWORD

JOHN J. LEE, Ph.D.

If anything is sacred, the human body is sacred.
—Walt Whitman

In their search for better ways of carrying out their purpose of helping the crippled, the national, state, and local societies for crippled children and adults are motivated by the belief that the human body, no matter how scarred or poorly formed, is sacred—that the human being housed within that body has a mission to fulfill. Our responsibility as fellow human beings is to make fulfillment possible.

To carry out that responsibility and to achieve their purpose, the societies provide many kinds of services which affect the crippled person himself, his community, and his role in it.

They continue to search for greater knowledge and understanding and for greater skill in their work, looking for solutions to the problems of the crippled in research; in developments in medicine, education and the therapies; in business and industry; in the home and parents, and in the strength and support of the public. The search will go on as long as there are crippled children and adults who need help.

As the president of a national voluntary organization reflects upon the past year's activity of that organization and the progress which is being made, there come naturally to mind thoughts of its history, philosophy, and structure. In the almost four decades since our founding in 1921, the society has carried on with the singleness of purpose which was the distinguishing characteristic of its founder, Edgar F. "Daddy" Allen. That purpose was and is to draw the crippled and their needs into the light of public attention and to bring about the services which can help them. In serving this purpose, the society has been an expression of the American conscience and our tradition of doing the things which need to be done to solve a demonstrated problem.

Starting with the Ohio Society, which was founded in 1919 and led the way to the establishment two years later of the national organization, the Easter Seal Society, stimulated by state and national effort joined with that of local leadership, has grown from community to community until it spans the continent. Today we are essentially a federation of state and local agencies—nearly 1,700 in number—a composite of citizen groups dedicated to helping the crippled. Our concept of service is broad, and communities develop their programs in accordance with local need, within the framework of a concern for all the needs of the crippled and for the many different kinds of crippling conditions.

Local societies are banded together in state societies, whose programs are geared to statewide needs in care and treatment, education, and community organization. State societies in turn are members of the national organization whose role involves leadership and consultation, the establishment of standards, and meeting nationwide needs in education and research. Together, the local, state and national societies have exerted a tremendous force on behalf of the crippled over the years.

Since our founding, many things have changed. Extensive government programs have been inaugurated and have advanced. Other voluntary agencies with a concern for the problem of the crippled or a segment of it have flourished. Programs must adjust to each other in the light of these changes. Our society was founded in the belief that it requires all of the resources, public and private, which can be mustered to achieve our objective for the crippled. Today, with the development of greatly expanded resources which can be brought to bear on the problem, we believe that the importance of cooperation among those resources is increasingly urgently needed. The society is committed to the policy and practice of working with others to determine the needs and of collaborating when that is the best way to meet those needs.

With this philosophy, organization, and program, the society has accomplished much and has demonstrated the effectiveness of the role which can be played by a voluntary organization, committed to no single activity but so flexible that it can do whatever needs to be done.

We have indeed made progress during the years. Some of it is told in the pages of this 1959 report, SEARCH. More lies ahead—a challenge to us to press forward even more diligently.

John J. Lee
President

To the child, to those in their mature years, experienced Easter Seal services are available nationwide.

The Easter Seal societies are flexible and their programs are adapted to need and to the community. Their services reach out in many directions and take many forms. Treatment and rehabilitation of the crippled, their education, employment, and recreation, receive the major emphasis. These are called "direct" services. Easter Seal societies own and operate 600 substantial facilities, services, and projects, and support 78 others. Many of these expanded, and new facilities were constructed during the past year. These major programs, with hundreds of others, less extensive but nonetheless meeting real needs, last year directly served 227,007 crippled persons, of whom 195,534 were children.

Direct services are supplemented and strengthened by services for parents, by programs of recruitment, training, and education of professional personnel, by public education, and research.

All of these comprise the programs of the local, state, and national societies on which we report in SEARCH.

Treatment and Rehabilitation

Danny was eight years old before he learned to sit down in a chair like other boys and girls; eight years old before he could go to school with the other children in the neighborhood. Why? Because Danny was born without legs. He had other problems, too, including a left elbow with almost no motion. So, for Danny there was no crawling, no exploring of his world to help him grow physically and intellectually—nothing but four walls seen from flat on his back unless an adult carried him about. Danny's parents were poor and had other children so they could not afford specialized care or expensive treatment. Nevertheless, today at age 10, Danny is on his feet and walking, going to school, and taking part in many of the other normal activities of boys his age. All this came about because of the rehabilitation services of an Easter Seal center.

The center's medical consultants, therapists, social service workers, and nursery school teacher watched Danny's development from infancy so when he came to the center they were ready to give him his first legs. By the time Danny was three and a half, he had progressed to his third pair of legs. Today, after years of help from the center's consultants and staff Danny is virtually independent. Like other boys, he goes to public school in his neighborhood all by himself, learning how to spell and divide and multiply, how to get along with other children. He is ready for tomorrow and a responsible part in the busy world about him.

Danny stands as the symbol of the crippled children and adults who have benefited from Speech disorders represent an important segment of Easter Seal services. All treatment is prescribed and administered by medical and professional personnel, can be carried on in a variety of situations.

Occupational therapy makes play of learning activities of daily living.

The skilled hands of a physical therapist check muscular progress during treatment program.

the treatment services of the Easter Seal Society. The majority of our current resources are channeled into providing for professional staff, for equipment, and for the operation of facilities where such treatment is given.

Treatment, by which we mean the application of scientific knowledge to disease, or to the residual effects of disease or injury, in order to achieve the maximum restoration of capacity in a crippled person, is the basic element in the Easter Seal program. Treatment can be carried out in a variety of situations. It always involves medical and other professional personnel.

Treatment services of the Easter Seal societies are provided to those in need regardless of race, color, or creed, and are available to those who can benefit from them, regardless of the particular diagnostic condition for which the treatment is indicated. The following breakdown of persons served last year by kind of crippling condition illustrates the scope of program:

Diagnostic Group	Percent of Total Served
Arthritis	1.8
Cerebral Palsy	13.4
Multiple Sclerosis	0.8
Muscular Dystrophy	1.0
Poliomyelitis	5.9
Other Orthopedic	21.2
Speech Disorders	13.8
Other Conditions	15.2
Preventive Programs	27.0

Treatment Centers

One of the first needs of a crippled child or adult, after medical diagnosis and care, is frequently that for therapy on prescription and under medical direction. Filling this need for crippled children of a community often sparks the development of an Easter Seal treatment center. Physicians, parents, and other interested members of the community may get the center started with Easter Seal support, sometimes on a very small scale, perhaps in the basement of a church or other contributed space. A single professional staff member in the person of a therapist is employed to perform under the direction of doctors, one of the essential tasks of training patients to walk, to talk, and to care for themselves.

With the availability of the service, it is sought by greater numbers of children and adults. More patients are referred by their physicians. The need has been shown. The community has become conscious of what can be done, and supports the work more generously. Staff is expanded to become a team providing physical, occupational, and speech therapies, and often pre-school educational training. New quarters are purchased or built, and a full-scale treatment center is under way.

Such treatment centers constitute the largest single category among Easter Seal facilities. In addition to the kinds of services already mentioned, they may also provide diagnostic,

With contracts awarded, May 1960 should see expanded services to crippled in District of Columbia.

The new Happiness House, Easter Seal center at Sarasota, Florida. Complete services include schooling.

Dedicated early in March was the new Easter Seal Rehabilitation Center at Little Rock, Arkansas.

social, and psychological services. They draw widespread community support, not only financially, but also in terms of volunteer interest which shows itself in all kinds of assistance—from the labor union members who contribute their skills in building and renovating quarters, to the therapy aides, to the leading citizens who sit on boards and committees, to the physicians who serve as advisors and many, many others.

Often as treatment centers grow, other community agencies join in their support. On the other hand, if a center has been started under other auspices, the Easter Seal Society may channel some of its resources to that activity.

Easter Seal societies operated 189 treatment centers last year and supported 63 additional centers by grants.

In these centers, 68,153 children and adults received treatment, an increase of almost 4,000 over the previous year.

Comprehensive Rehabilitation Centers

We have learned from experience that it is unreasonable to expect the severely handicapped person to go from physician to psychologist, to treatment center, to vocational counselor, or other professional workers for the wide range of services required for his rehabilitation. Successful rehabilitation of this hard core of severely handicapped individuals requires a concentration under a single roof of a wide range of diagnostic and therapeutic equipment and personnel. Such a concentration of resources is known as a comprehensive rehabilitation center.

The process of community recognition of the need for the service may be gradual, growing out of successful experience of a treatment center and resulting in its expansion. Or, one agency or group of agencies may undertake an educational program to demonstrate the need, resulting in the initiation of a rehabilitation center as the first such service in the community. Whatever the process, the resulting facility is one which brings together in one place all the different kinds of specialized help which can be brought to bear upon the problems of a severely crippled person. A comprehensive rehabilitation center has been defined as "a facility which offers highly concentrated, intensive services in four basic areas on the basis of individual need—medical, psychological, social, and vocational."

The keystone of these services is medical evaluation. They also include most or all of the following: physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, medical social service, vocational counseling, and psychological evaluation and counseling. If the center provides beds for patients, nursing care is added. Children's rehabilitation facilities provide for pre-school education.

Danny is an example of what these services mean for a crippled child: individual care and attention to his particular condition and his potentialities; provision of artificial limbs, braces, crutches, or other special equipment, and training in their use; preparation for education, and for life with his fellows. For an adult they mean all of these services necessary, plus training for a job.

As with the smaller treatment center, the comprehensive rehabilitation facility depends heavily upon volunteer support. It is through the efforts of dynamic board members and other volunteers that funds are raised to build and equip the substantial installations required to house the services. The interest and participation of other community agencies and the public is essential to successful operation.

Easter Seal societies operate thirteen comprehensive rehabilitation centers, and support five others. The children and adults served in these centers last year totalled almost 10,000, an increase of 72.2 per cent over the previous year.

Other Approaches to Treatment

Easter Seal societies offer treatment services in many settings other than in centers. It is one of the marks of their true flexibility that they are not committed to any one type of service in a given locale. These other approaches are designed to fit special community or statewide needs.

In rural and sparsely populated areas mobile units provide a type of service that would otherwise be inaccessible. These units are usually station wagons specially equipped as small treatment centers with one or more therapists. They make a regularly scheduled round of small communities where the therapists hold treatment clinics and work with parents. In other instances, the physical or speech therapist may travel alone. In this case, she follows a regular itinerary, holding treatment clinics in schools, churches, or other available meeting places. She may frequently stop at remote homes to treat an individual child or help a homebound adult. Mobile units or travelling therapists usually cover a substantial section of a state, or an entire state.

Marcelle S. Montgomery, RPT, packs portable equipment, other supplies and aids, for busy trip from Portland headquarters to homes in eastern and northwestern Oregon taking therapy services to the crippled. At lower right she shows mother of crippled boy how to care for and adjust braces, and outlines home care therapy program.

The Easter Seal societies operate 39 travelling treatment programs, of which ten are statewide. Last year 8,239 persons received services through them.

While medical advances have, generally speaking, decreased the need for convalescent facilities for children who have undergone surgery or need long-term treatment, nursing, and bed care away from home, there are still some communities where this is the kind of service needed. Easter Seal societies have five such facilities. Two societies operate crippled children's hospitals, built to fill a demonstrated gap in local resources.

The case load in these seven residential facilities, including their out-patient services, increased to 5,749 from 1,800 the preceding year.

A number of our societies have found that special summer sessions provide an excellent opportunity to continue therapy begun during the school year, or to demonstrate the need and value of therapy, which can then be followed up during the rest of the year.

Forty-nine of the 50 summer therapy programs of the Easter Seal societies last year were in speech. They served 3,870 persons.

Florida's answer to Cape Canaveral need was immediate mobile therapy service. Out of this undertaking grew a permanent Easter Seal center.

Education

Every crippled child who can benefit from an education has a right to such education at all academic levels. Many crippled children can attend regular schools and classes if there are slight modifications of the physical arrangement. The societies work toward placing the child in contact with normal school experiences whenever possible. Other children need enough special attention and equipment to require special classes. Still others may make their best progress in special schools.

Whatever the extent of special services required, they are an indispensable part of the rehabilitation process. The Easter Seal societies believe that the provision of educational opportunity for the crippled is basically a responsibility of the public school system, and great advances have been made in that direction by federal, state, and local governments.

Easter Seal societies maintain nursery and pre-school classes in ten communities. These give many crippled children their first disciplined group approach to learning and their first chance to be with others.

The extent to which the problem has been met varies widely from state to state, and Easter Seal societies throughout their history have worked to bring about acceptance of special education as a public responsibility.

We have done this principally through programs interpreting the need and urging action and through demonstration by the establishment of special classes, or through assistance such as the provision of the salary for special teachers, surrendering those projects when the local board of education was able to take them over. In some areas, this kind of program still fills a need.

Some of our societies provide teachers to carry on the education of children who are homebound or hospitalized.

There is still a need for classes for pre-school age children who must have skilled teaching and guidance if they are even to go into the special education classes of the public school. Easter Seal societies maintain nursery and pre-school classes in ten communities. These classes serve children with a variety of crippled conditions, giving them their first disciplined group approach to learning and their first chance to be with others away from the protective environment of home.

Camping and Recreation

All too often the handicapped child leads a sheltered life with inadequate social contact with other children. In school his handicap may block participation in games and sports, and he may suffer rejection and abuse by thoughtless children. The personality defects that may result from the abnormal social and play life of a crippled child may later emerge as a more serious handicap than the physical crippling itself.

Outdoor camping with other crippled children has been a most effective tool for cutting apron strings, resolving hostilities, and releasing the wholesome personality which may have been obscured by fears and feelings of inadequacy. Easter Seal camps designed, equipped, and staffed in accordance with the highest standards to meet the special requirements of crippled children provide experience which is the stepping stone to a wider world, to the formation of new friendships, to independence, and to learning how to live successfully away from home and family. Johnny is a good example of what Easter Seal camps have meant for thousands.

Johnny was born a quadruple amputee—both arms ending above the elbow, one leg above the knee and the other just below. However, that was the only way in which he was different from other boys. He loved sports and the outdoors. He liked people. He was eager to be part of the normal daily activities of his family and his neighborhood. But, until Johnny went to an Easter Seal camp for a six-weeks' stay, he had no way of learning how to participate in the games and the everyday boyish fun of the youngsters on his block. At camp, Johnny had concentrated physical therapy to teach better use of his prosthetic arms and legs. Skilled instructors taught him how to swim, how to play baseball, how to use his hooks for crafts work. Johnny lost his shyness and self-consciousness almost immediately in association with other children. He became more self-confident and less dependent on others for help in little everyday jobs such as dressing himself. He went on cook-outs, studied nature, and participated eagerly in all of the camp projects. Before the end of the camp season, leadership qualities began to emerge. Johnny went home and, in the fall, to regular school. He joined a Cub Scout pack, took on a Sunday paper route. He is one of the kids.

Johnny, a quadruple amputee, gets pointers from counselor at Easter Seal camp. Johnny actively participates in many sports, earns spending money carrying papers, rates high scholastically and with friends.

Easter Seal societies last year operated 58 resident camps like the one Johnny attended, where there are rustic cabins for housing, swimming pools, staff to teach and supervise sports and crafts, and the outdoors for nature study. Activities are directed by experienced personnel, and medical and nursing care is available at all times. Some 7,398 children attended these camps for periods of from two to eight weeks each.

While the camping program is chiefly for crippled children, growing numbers of young adults are being included. Last year 1,245 went to Easter Seal resident camps. Special periods of time were designated for the adults, and activities re-oriented to their interests.

In parks and playgrounds in cities throughout the country, Easter Seal societies operated 75 day camps, which provided a program of outdoor activities during the summer daytime hours. During the year 3,610 children participated in these activities, returning to their homes at night, having benefited from at least some of the kinds of experience which the resident camps offer.

Other recreational projects are conducted year-round, including young people's clubs and drama groups, swimming programs, and a wide variety of group activities such as excursions and attendance at public events. These round out the recreational programs which provide opportunity for socialization and help to broaden horizons for the crippled child or adult.

Parents

Out on the Western desert, forty miles from the nearest town, a mother works diligently to exercise the leg muscles of a small crippled son and drills him in correct formation of vowel and consonant sounds and in the proper use of his tongue, his lips, his breath in making words. She works with calm, self-confidence because she has found not only the methods to help her child, but she and her husband have also found understanding of their misgivings and answers to many of their worries.

This has come about in the course of regular visits of an Easter Seal physical therapist and a speech therapist. When their lessons and exercises are completed, they give the mother a program of follow-through home exercises which will maintain gains until the next visit. But both parents are given something more: counseling which makes it easier for them to accept and adjust their family relationships to their crippled child and confidence in the knowledge that they are not alone.

When their child is born with a crippling condition, or becomes crippled as a result of disease or accident, parents face problems which are new to them and which are serious ones, different from those which all parents share. The first may well be that of accepting the crippled child, of meeting the shock of his birth, illness, or injury. Then comes the need to have him fit into the pattern of normal family life. Concurrently, there is the responsibility for finding the right treatment for the child, educating him, and preparing him for as full and useful a life as possible. If the child is severely handicapped, there is another problem which causes parents concern—that of providing financially for the future.

Most parents need professional help and authoritative information in meeting many of the problems of emotional and family adjustments, in day by day training for the child at home, and in making realistic plans for his future. In addition, when they can share their problems and the solutions which they have developed with other parents it is very helpful.

These problems and needs are of great concern to the Easter Seal societies, and they have created techniques and tools which can be used both by the parents themselves and by professional workers when they consult with parents. Many societies have statewide advisory committees on parent education and services. Parent study groups with planned programs of reading, discussion, and guidance have been stimulated and organized by many societies. Professional advisors and staff meet with parent groups, speak at conferences and conventions, and counsel with individual parents on aspects of their children's emotional and physical development. Therapists train mothers to follow through on treatment with exercises in the home.

A recent development is the family camp. A number of our societies set aside a weekend or longer period as a time for entire families—father, mother, the crippled child, and his brothers and sisters—to spend together at an Easter Seal camp. Children and adults alike enjoy the recreation and socialization, while the parents themselves devote several hours each day for discussion groups on mutual problems and for counseling with professional staff.

These kinds of services are supplemented by the extensive materials published by the society, and by films, film strips, and other audio-visual aids produced to facilitate parent education programs.

An important addition to the material written specifically for parents on the problems which they face is the Parent Series initiated by the National society in 1958. Pamphlets in this series published during the year include:

Toward Understanding Stuttering, by Wendell Johnson, Ph.D. of the University of Iowa —a study and guide on how parents can help their children avoid or overcome stuttering; Building an Estate for A Crippled Child, by George M. Rideout and John D. Riordan of Babson's Reports—a practical handbook on providing financially for the future of the severely handicapped child; You are Not Alone, by Lawrence J. Linck, Executive Director of the National Association for Mental Health—a sympathetic discussion of parents' problems and the people, professions, and organizations that can help them and their crippled children; Bright Promise, by Eugene T. McDonald, Ph.D., Pennsylvania State University which tells in text and pictures how child with cleft lip and palate may be helped.

Other booklets in this series are in preparation and will be ready for production in the near future. Among them are those on the home care of the cerebral palsied child, by Meyer A. Perlstein, M.D., well-known specialist in the field, and on home aids and equipment for both child and adult, by George G. Deaver, M.D., authority in physical medicine.

These activities and materials aim not only to help parents with their problems, but also to make it possible for them to assume the indispensable role which they must play in the rehabilitation of their child, fortified with knowledge and understanding that will enrich both their children's lives and their own.

Employment

Hans, 48, crippled and out of work, had tried desperately to find employment within his limited capabilities but had failed. He had become more and more worried and bitter, for Hans had a wife and two young children dependent upon him, and public assistance barely met their minimum needs. Because of his foreign background, Hans had a language barrier to surmount. Because of a crippled right leg resulting from a childhood illness, he could not use his legs or feet in a job. After a long period of months, he became morose and anti-social.

Hans' wife heard of the Easter Seal rehabilitation center and asked if he could get help there, despite the family's lack of funds. When the answer was "yes," Hans went in for an interview. He returned for psychological tests and again for exhaustive prevocational appraisal. His aptitudes, interests, and skills were evaluated; he was given the opportunity to sample various suitable jobs in the center's sheltered workshop. His eye-hand discrimination and coordination were tested and finally, he was given his choice of a number of jobs to be performed in the sheltered workshop. He went to work tempering large metal plates used for cutting blades in lawn mowers.

Finally, because of his eagerness for outside employment, the Easter Seal staff, working with a counselor assigned by the state office of Vocational Rehabilitation, found Hans a job in an industrial plant. But he failed. Too anti-social, too selfish and too demanding of his fellow-employees was the word from his employer. Back in the Easter Seal workshop, Hans was given more strenuous job preparation. He was helped to see his own part in a production line setup as one of many. After four months, Hans was believed ready for another trial in competitive industry, and is still on the job in which he was placed.

The sheltered workshop provides work and work environment to help crippled persons attain an independent, economically useful role in society.

Sheltered workshops are a major activity in the Easter Seal program to meet the needs of the adult crippled for help in securing productive employment. The crippled worker may have hurdles to surmount in finding a job. Many employers are still resistant to employment of the physically handicapped or unwilling to make adjustments in the working situation to accommodate the person on crutches or in a wheel chair. It may require skilled help for the crippled adult to determine the job or kind of job which he can perform. He may need special training in that particular job before he can compete in the business or industrial world. Or it may be necessary for him to continue work in protected environment.

Essentially the sheltered workshop is a place where work itself and all of the aspects of a work environment are used to help a crippled person reach the point where he can play some economically useful role in society. When associated with a rehabilitation center, the sheltered workshop has access to staff and services for appraisal and evaluation of the work potentialities of the crippled man or woman, as well as to techniques and equipment which enable him to select from among many kinds of operations the ones which he can perform. The workshop itself provides the situation in which the individual becomes familiar with a working environment and the requirements and expectations of a job from the points of view of production and relationships with other workers. Work is so organized as to give the individual the skills which will make him a good employee. Finally, when it is possible, the individual is assisted to find suitable employment in business or industry.

A major activity of the Easter Seal program for adult crippled is help and training toward productive employment and to assist homemakers in matching capabilities to variety of home duties.

The workshop also provides for employment for those whose handicaps make it impossible or impractical for them to work elsewhere. Work done in the workshop often is on contract from business or industry. Workers are paid in accordance with the terms of those contracts, which are secured by workshop personnel.

Easter Seal societies operate 25 sheltered workshops and support 9. These facilities served 1,583 persons during the year.

While we are training the crippled for work in industry, we are also educating employers to the valuable resources they can find in the crippled worker. Working with the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped and others, we have sought to change the attitude of employers by demonstrating that the trained and properly placed handicapped worker is an excellent employee, with a superior attendance record, and an on-the-job accident rate lower than that of other workers.

For the adult crippled whose disabilities are so severe that they cannot work outside their own homes, eight Easter Seal societies provide homebound employment programs. Trained staff go into the home, help the crippled person learn to perform jobs within his strength and ability, and secure contracts for work. This kind of program has sometimes led to the development of small businesses in the home such as a mail order service for magazine advertisers, a phone answering bureau, typing or small parts packaging, or the production of unusual handicraft items.

By providing transportation, Easter Seals bring services to a larger group of crippled persons.

Important Other Services

In the foregoing sections we have grouped together those Easter Seal activities and services which account for major expenditures of time and money. However, not infrequently the provision of some minor service may have great significance.

For example, in some communities diagnostic, treatment, and educational facilities may be available in the cities but there may be no provision for transportation from surrounding rural areas. By providing transportation, Easter Seals make the service available to a larger group of crippled persons.

In some communities there are so many different agencies serving the handicapped that both the doctor and the family may need help in locating the particular service needed. Easter Seal social workers may serve such a community well by maintaining up-to-date information on services and referring patients to the proper agency.

Many of our societies find that an equipment loan pool answers the need for many crippled persons in their communities. This service makes it possible for an individual to borrow for whatever length of time necessary any of a number of kinds of specially designed equipment, including wheel chairs and crutches. When the need is served the equipment is returned to the pool and is available for use by someone else.

Our societies maintain 134 of these equipment lending services, which were used by more than 5,000 people during the past year.

Public programs for the handicapped have developed very unevenly across the country. Some state programs have broad legislative authority and are adequately financed. Others have narrowly defined programs, restrictive regulations and inadequate funds. Sometimes it is necessary for the Easter Seal society to fill in some of the gaps in the public program. For example, some types of crippling such as cleft palate, may be excluded from the public program, or a child may have recently moved and may not meet the residence requirement, or dental service for a cerebral palsied child may not be provided, or funds for braces may have been exhausted. The needs of a crippled person are highly specific, and to that person are tremendously important. As a voluntary agency, the Easter Seal society is flexible in its use of funds and can provide or purchase those services which are necessary for rehabilitation.

Professional Personnel

Professional personnel—the key to rehabilitation—are today one of the greatest single needs of the crippled. In the face of mounting numbers of crippled children and adults in our population, shortages of physicians specializing in rehabilitation, physical, occupational, and speech therapists, and social workers continue to be critical.

For all of the agencies in the rehabilitation field, a total force of about 22,000 is estimated to be available to fill some 54,000 positions. It is obvious that thousands of crippled children and adults are going without the services they need and that they will continue to go without help until many more specialists can be trained.

To meet service needs many more professional workers in the rehabilitation field are required.

As the largest single employer of such professional persons in the voluntary agency field, we have felt the shortages keenly, despite the fact that last year our own force of professional workers increased to 2,500 from 1,750 in the fall of 1956.

To help in the nationwide effort to meet this emergency the National society works closely with other agencies, high schools and colleges, and professional groups.

Our program has three major objectives:

to provide opportunities for training; to produce educational materials to better inform and increase the effectiveness of personnel already engaged in rehabilitation work; and to recruit young people for careers in the rehabilitation field.

Easter Seal society participation in the training of professional workers involves scholarship and fellowship programs at the national, state, and local levels. Those at the national level are carried out with the support of Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Gamma Delta, and Kappa Delta Phi (national women's fraternities) and over the past ten years have made 406 awards for training of physicians in short-term specialized courses, of physical, occupational, and speech therapists in both undergraduate and graduate programs, and of counselors of the severely handicapped.

Special institutes for in-service training of professional workers are also sponsored by the Easter Seal societies. These have included two national institutes on rehabilitation, three on standards, goals, equipment, and programs for camping personnel, and many on methods and techniques for helping parents. In 1960 the society will sponsor the first Institute on Social Work in Rehabilitation in cooperation with the School of Social Service Administration of the University of Chicago. The societies support and participate in numerous summer training sessions at several colleges and universities.

Each year members of the professional staff of the Easter Seal societies visit the major institutions training therapy personnel, to provide information on careers in rehabilitation, and to recruit for the field. The National Personnel Registry and Employment Exchange is a resource for public and private agencies and institutions employing professional personnel. A quarterly bulletin lists available positions throughout the country and is widely used.

If the shortages of personnel are to be alleviated in the future, more and more young people must be reached when they are in elementary and high schools to stimulate their interest in taking up a career in rehabilitation. At the present time, Easter Seal societies cooperate with state and local health careers committees and with the Health Careers Commission of the National Health Council in their attack on the problem. The societies participate in "career days" in schools and elsewhere, provide periods of work observance and practice in Easter Seal centers, and prepare and distribute literature for teachers, counselors and young people themselves.

Through the monthly journal, REHABILITATION LITERATURE, and its other services, the Library of the National society provides a distinguished and well-recognized resource for professional personnel in the field of rehabilitation. Technical information is widely scattered in a number of journals and other publications and texts, making it difficult for a person working in the field to keep abreast of developments, and heightening the problem of lag between the development of new techniques and their being put into use in treatment and care of the crippled. The twenty-year-old library abstracting bulletin, REHABILITATION LITERATURE, was expanded to an interdisciplinary technical journal in January 1959 as one approach to keeping the professional worker informed. A typical issue includes an article of the month, book reviews, digests, abstracts, and comments, of interest and value to the professional worker and student. Contributors are accepted authorities in their respective fields, and editorial policy encourages the free expression of ideas and opinions. During the year, 1,170 books, pamphlets, and periodical references were reviewed, abstracted, or digested.

Last year the library prepared 3,200 packets of general literature on rehabilitation for workers in all parts of the world and provided some 550 special technical packets for advanced students. From its reference collection of 3,000 bound volumes, 35,000 reprints and pamphlets, and 600 periodicals, the library frequently loans materials to professional persons unable to find authoritative materials in their own communities. In addition to professional workers, the library serves volunteers, the handicapped and their families, educational institutions and libraries, and voluntary and public health and welfare agencies.

As a further contribution to professional education, the National society published two important professional monographs during the year: A Handbook on Stuttering for Professional Workers, by Oliver Bloodstein, Ph.D., and Language Disorders in Children, by Nancy S. Wood, Ph.D.

Public Education

The very existence of the Easter Seal societies is a force for the education of the public on the problems of crippling: the kinds of crippling conditions; what a crippling condition means to the person and to his family; what can be done to alleviate the effects of crippling; what the present resources for rehabilitation are and the need for increasing those resources; what rehabilitation means in human and economic terms to the individual and to society. In more personal terms, the Easter Seal societies contribute to the education of the public on responsibility for the prevention of crippling accidents; the role of the doctor, the therapist, the psychologist, the social worker and others when a member of the family is crippled, and where to find help when it is needed.

As a result of this education, not alone by the Easter Seal societies, but by many other agencies, there has been within the life span of most adults a marked, although gradual change in the attitudes of the public toward the crippled child or adult. This is most important, for it is of no avail to achieve rehabilitation if the crippled individual is not accepted by his friends and associates, by employers, and by the public in general.

Evidence of change in attitudes can be seen in the increasing amount of public and private financial support for rehabilitation services and for research, and in the growing numbers of employers who hire the physically handicapped. It can also be seen in the acceptance of public responsibility for the education of crippled children, and in the growing numbers of colleges and universities which provide for and welcome the young crippled person to their campuses.

There are many ways in which public education is accomplished. Actual services and activities bring the story forcibly to public attention. Our thousands of volunteers in their personal contacts perform a most important function in this regard. Interpretation through the media which reach large numbers of the public—the newspapers, magazines, radio, television, films—has a very definite role to play. Institutes, meetings, and conventions contribute to education of the public. All of these are part of the program of our societies.

Changes in public attitudes create a climate of receptivity for further advances. For example, for many years, those most immediately concerned have been aware that action was needed to arouse the interest of the public in the problems which the crippled have in gaining access to public buildings and using their facilities. Many such buildings, including government offices, schools, churches, museums, offices, and apartments are constructed with long flights of steps and other barriers to access by a person on crutches or in a wheel chair, and the interiors do not meet his special needs. It now appears that the time has come when there is hope for success for an all-out program to abolish such barriers.

The National society is proud to co-sponsor with the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped a program of research and education on this problem. The program will involve a study under the auspices of the American Standards Association for the purpose of devising adaptations for existing buildings and standards for those to be constructed in the future. Specifications will be drafted for stairways, entrances, interior doors, elevators, rest rooms, drinking fountains and telephone booths. When the study is completed, it is anticipated that the standards will be adopted by the American Standards Association.

Operating room at University of Iowa Medical Center during surgery in which ultra-high frequency sound waves are used in treatment of Parkinsonism. Dr. Russell Meyers, chairman of neuro-surgery at the university, collaborates with physicist William J. Fry, University of Illinois, in the new surgical technique.

Research

Alice was born with spina bifida, a condition in which a portion of the spinal cord is exposed and which causes paralysis of the lower body and legs. The opening was surgically closed when she was 2½ days old, but little hope was held out by the doctors that she would live. Even that little hope was tempered by the prediction that if Alice did survive, she would be confined to a wheel chair. However, six major operations later and after months of therapy to learn to stand and walk, Alice is very much alive and a part of her world. True, she has no feeling in her right leg and only slight sensation in the left and suffers frequent muscle contractions. But Alice is walking, with bilateral braces and crutches. She is going to school, playing and studying with other children.

Michael was born with a cleft lip and palate. In his case, too, surgeons made a remarkable repair, closing the disfiguring facial opening and the deep cleft in the roof of his mouth and palate. Still Michael's speech was unintelligible. A speech therapist has taught him how to breathe, how to form sounds despite the handicap of scar tissue. Practice goes on daily, and Michael is learning.

Mary Lynne came into the world with both hands and both legs severely affected by cerebral palsy. Her speech was later found to have been slowed by the brain damage that occurred either before or during birth. Today, heavily braced and using elbow crutches, she is in public school—absorbing knowledge like any eight-year old. With continuing physical therapy her leg and trunk muscles were developed, and she learned to walk. Occupational therapy strengthened her hands for use in such seemingly simple tasks as buttoning her coat or holding her fork. Speech therapy helped her learn to speak with confidence.

Pilot study in brace research conducted at University of California Medical Center in San Francisco. At right is Dr. Verne T. Inman, chairman, department of orthopedic surgery. At left, William Henderson, research engineer and project assistant, with Howard D. Eberhart, professor of civil engineering and one of two principal investigators, watching tests.

These are only three—all of them patients in Easter Seal centers—of millions who together pose one of the greatest mysteries confronting mankind. Why do these things happen? What are the factors that cause babies to be born with spina bifida, cerebral palsy, cleft lip and palate, congenital absence of limbs and other crippling conditions?

Answers to these and other questions—or even clues to the answers—are sought by the National society through the Easter Seal Research Foundation.

Last year the number of grants-in-aid for investigations into the prevention and treatment of physical and associated disabilities and rehabilitation made by the Foundation brought the total to 58 since its founding in 1956. The Foundation has awarded $545,086 to research scientists in many fields, at 35 universities and institutions for 43 basic and clinical research projects.

Although focused on the overall problem of crippling, the Easter Seal Research Foundation's projects fall into five broad areas of

(Please turn to page 22)

Easter Seal Research Foundation Grants

Institution and Principal Investigator	Title of Project	Status	Grants
Albany (N.Y.) Medical College Crawford J. Campbell, M.D.	A Comparative Study of Xeroadiographs and Roentgenograms in the Interpretation of Normal and Abnormal Joints	Completed	$2,113.91
American Academy for Cerebral Palsy— Brain Registry, M. A. Perlstein, M.D.	Correlation Between Clinical and Pathological Findings in Cerebral Palsy	Renewed	$3,000.00
American Academy for Cerebral Palsy— Committee on Evaluation of Treatment	Research Conference on Management in Cerebral Palsy	New	$2,500
American Academy for Cerebral Palsy— Webb E. Haymaker, M.D.	A Fellowship in Neuropathology of Cerebral Palsy at the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology	Completed	$5,000.00
American Academy for Cerebral Palsy— Research Committee, Chester A. Swinyard, M.D.	Research Institute on the Role of Kernicterus in Cerebral Palsy	Completed	$750.00
Bay State Rehabilitation Center, Springfield, Mass. Isidor W. Scherer, Ph.D.	The Prediction of Academic Achievement in Brain-Injured Children	Renewed	$7,650.00
University of California, Los Angeles Medical Center, Marshall R. Urist, M.D.	Studies on the Normal and Pathological Physiology of Bone (with special reference to Osteoporosis)	Renewed	$30,000.00
University of California, San Francisco Medical Center, Verne T. Inman, M.D.	Pilot Study in Brace Research	New	$30,000.00
University of Chicago, Department of Medicine (Section of Medical Psychology), Ward C. Halstead, Ph.D.	The Methodology for Objective Evaluation of Psychometric and Biological Intelligence of Handicapped Children, including Cerebral Palsy	New	$7,486.50
Columbia University, College of Physicians and Surgeons, C. Andrew L. Bassett, M.D.	Basic Mechanisms of Bone Formation	Renewed	$31,855.00
University of Colorado, School of Medicine, John H. Githens, M.D.	The Study of the Carrier State in Hemophilia	Renewed	$21,009.00
Eugene duPont Hospital and Rehabilitation Center, Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, Arthur J. Heather, M.D.	To Perfect the Prototype of a Hydraulically Operated Mechanical Hand	New	$9,500.00
University of Florida, College of Medicine, James G. Wilson, Ph.D.	An Embryological Study of Experimentally Produced Malformation	Completed	$13,282.00
Georgetown University Medical Center Francis M. Forster, M.D.	Study of Brain Injured Patients with Sensory Defects	Completed	$11,323.65
University of Illinois, College of Dentistry, Maury Massler, D.D.S., M.S.	Tooth Ring Analysis of Handicapped Children Growth Arrest Lines in Teeth of Handicapped Children	New	$4,140.00
University of Illinois, College of Medicine, Francis L. Lederer, M.D.	Vestibular Studies in Cerebral Palsy	Completed	$7,521.37
International Society for the Welfare of Cripples, Wallace W. Taylor, Ph.D., Isabelle W. Taylor, Ph.D.	Comparative Study of Special Education Services for Handicapped Children in Europe	Completed	$3,600.00
University of Iowa Wendell Johnson, Ph.D.	Effect of Induced Tetany on the Speech of Stutterers, Normal Non-Stutterers and Patients	Completed	$7,525.00
Massachusetts General Hospital Melvin J. Glimcher, M.D.	Bone Formation. A study of the Molecular Mechanisms Involved in Calcification	New	$15,000.00
University of Mississippi Medical Center William F. Enneking, M.D.	Histologic and Immunologic Investigation of Homogenous Bone Transplants	Renewed	$23,782.00
New York Medical College Alvin F. Coburn, M.D.	Clinical Assay of an Egg Yolk Factor in the Prevention of Rheumatic Diseases	Renewed	$25,200.00

Institution and Principal Investigator	Title of Project	Status	Grants
University of North Carolina, School of Medicine, Mary B. Arnold, M.D.	The Role of the Parathyroid Hormone in Metabolic Bone Diseases: 1. Development of a New Method for Parathyroid Hormone Assay	Renewed	$11,040.00
University of North Carolina, School of Medicine, Judson J. Van Wyck, M.D.	Metabolic Factors in the Causation of Osteoporosis	Renewed	$48,340.00
University of North Carolina, School of Medicine, T. Franklin Williams, M.D.	Studies of Phosphorus Metabolism with Particular Reference to the Renal Mechanisms of Reabsorption and Excretion of Phosphate under Various Conditions	Renewed	$13,570.00
Northern Illinois University, Department of Speech, Louis Lerea, Ph.D.	A Comparative Analysis of the Language Development of Normal and Hard of Hearing Children	New	$2,500.00
The Ohio State University, College of Medicine, William S. Smith, M.D.	Changes in the Acetabular Development. Anteversion of the Neck of the Femur, and Growth of the Femur Following Experimental Dislocation of the Hip	Renewed	$11,727.00
University of Oklahoma, School of Medicine, William N. Harsha, M.D.	A Study of Static Distracting and Oscillating Distracting Forces Applied Across the Epiphyseal Plate of Growing Long Bones	Renewed	$17,486.20
University of Pittsburgh, School of Medicine, Casimer T. Grabowski, Ph.D.	The Relationships of Embryonic Oxygen Deficiency and the Development of Congenital Malformations	Renewed	$13,550.00
Medical College of South Carolina Isabel Lockard, Ph.D.	To Determine Certain Neurovascular Relationships in Central Nervous System in Health and Disease	Renewed	$22,379.00
Southern Illinois University, Department of Design, Harold L. Cohen	Research Institute on Equipment Design	Completed	$5,000.00
Southern Regional Education Board William C. Geer, Ph.D.	A Study of the Educational Needs of Cerebral Palsied Children in Southern Region as Related to the Total Medical, Educational and Rehabilitation Program for These Children	New	$9,950.00
University of Tennessee, College of Medicine, Division of Pediatrics, James N. Etteldorf, M.D., and Harris L. Smith, M.D.	Agar Substrate for Study of Skeletal Muscle in vitro	New	$4,668.29
Vanderbilt, University, School of Medicine, Randolph Batson, M.D.	A Study of Body Temperature Responses to Environmental Changes in Normal Children and Children with Central Nervous System Lesions	New	$8,280.00
Medical College of Virginia Earnest B. Carpenter, M.D.	The Pathologic Physiology of Fracture Healing as Related to Cerebral Cortical Stimulation	New	$3,450.00
Medical College of Virginia Herbert W. Park, M.D.	Research Institute on Bracing for Children	Completed	$10,000.00
Wayne State University Mary A. Krider, Ph.D.	The Comparative Study on the Self-Concepts of Crippled and Non-Crippled Children	Completed	$3,469.65
Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education, Terry F. Lunsford	Study of Western Region's Needs and Resources in the Field of Training Teachers for Handicapped Children	Completed	$7,500.00
Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education, Phillip Sirotkin, Ph.D.	Preparation of Teachers for Handicapped Children in the Western States	Completed	$3,265.00
Western Reserve University, School of Medicine, Charles H. Herndon, M.D.	Studies in the Immunological Factors in Homogenous Bone Transplantation	Renewed	$39,115.00
University of Wisconsin, Lawrence Rarick, Ph.D., Marie L. Carns, M.D. and Ruth Glassow, M.A.	Growth and Development of Basic Motor Skills	New	$2,288.00 investigation: congenital crippling and malformation; bone and joint formation, malformation, and healing; the relationship between injury and disease; improved educational methods and appliances for the crippled; and research professorships.

As a case in point, suspicion points today to pre-natal oxygen deprivation, illnesses, emotional conditions or poor nutrition of the mother as possible reasons for malformation or crippling such as cerebral palsy present at birth. Some of the Easter Seal research projects are endeavoring to find the part these factors may play. Still others look for the causes and prevention of diseases such as rheumatic fever and hemophilia.

Basic to future methods of treatment of crippling is the knowledge of how bones are formed, how they are injured by disease or accident and the way in which healing takes place after such accidents. Hence, certain projects are studying transplantation of healthy bones to replace diseased bone; the molecular basis for bone formation; artificial stimulation of bone growth; and the role of hormones in malformation of bones and joints.

Studies of the relationship between injury and disease include those on stuttering and sensory defects, the growth and development of basic motor skills, brain structure, and the importance of body temperature in children with central nervous system damage.

While trying to gain information about crippling conditions, their causes, and possible means of prevention, we are not forgetting those who are already crippled. New kinds of appliances, such as improved artificial limbs and braces are on drawing boards; new educational methods are under study; and more effective means of vocational and physical rehabilitation are being sought.

Thus the Easter Seal society looks for progress, for solutions to problems, in the laboratory, in the hospital operating room, in the physician's office, and in the scientist's study. All are aimed at a better, fuller life for the crippled; another step toward broadening the horizon of knowledge and understanding.

William T. Sanger, Ph.D., Chancellor Emeritus at the Medical College of Virginia and President Emeritus of the National society, is chairman of the board of trustees of the Easter Seal Research Foundation. The trustees are:

Pearce Bailey, M.D. director, National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness, Bethesda, Maryland
Crawford Bost, M.D., pediatrician, San Francisco, California
Leroy T. Laase, Ph.D., Department of Speech and Dramatic Art, University of Nebraska, Lincoln
John J. Lee, Ph.D., chairman, Department of Special Education and Vocational Rehabilitation, Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan
Leonard Mayo, S. Sc.D., executive director, Association for the Aid of Crippled Children, New York, New York
Alfred R. Shands, Jr., M.D., director, Alfred I. du Pont Institute, Wilmington, Delaware
Harold D. West, Ph.D., president, Meharry Medical College, Nashville, Tennessee

William Gellman, Ph.D., is director of the Foundation.

In their nearly four decades of work for the crippled, the Easter Seal societies have each year received greater financial support for an expanding program of services. This support comes from many sources—individuals, business, industry, foundations—the small and large givers. Each of the Easter Seal societies, whether national, state, or local, recognizes and accepts the responsibility for conducting all fund raising efforts in conformity with accepted standards of ethical fund raising, for handling funds in accordance with standard accounting principles, and for reporting regularly to the public on the use of the funds so generously contributed.

Our societies' affairs are subject to annual financial scrutiny by independent public accountants. State members file with the National society annual reports of income and expenditures for their operations and those of their local affiliates. From those reports, there has been prepared the consolidated summary which is shown in the "dollar" charts. These show that income for the Easter Seal societies nationwide for the last reporting year was $16,791,850, 62 per cent of which was raised through the Easter Seal campaign. The total represents an increase of more than $2,000,000 over the previous year. Subsequent pages contain the annual audit of the National headquarters operation for the year ending August 31, 1959.

The Easter Seal campaign in 1959 again had outstanding leadership from throughout the country which gave the impetus to the drive which impelled it to success.

INCOME AND EXPENSE

All State and Territorial Societies and
The National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.

SOURCES OF INCOME
$16,791,850

HOW INCOME IS USED
$16,791,850

FINANCIAL POSITION

Balance Sheet—August 31, 1959

NATIONAL SOCIETY FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN AND ADULTS, INC.

ARTHUR ANDERSEN & CO.

120 SOUTH LA SALLE STREET
CHICAGO 3

To the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees,

The National Society for Crippled
Children and Adults, Inc.,

Chicago, Illinois:

We have examined the balance sheet of THE NATIONAL SOCIETY FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN AND ADULTS, INC. (an Ohio corporation not for profit) as of August 31, 1959, and the related statements of income and expenses, and changes in fund balances for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheet and statements of income and expenses, and changes in fund balances present fairly the financial position of The National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. as of August 31, 1959, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, and were prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Arthur Andersen & Co.

Chicago, Illinois,
October 23, 1959.

EXHIBIT 1

ASSETS

OPERATING FUND
Current assets—
Cash			$242,130
U. S. Government securities, at cost			297,323
Due from state societies			114,972
Other receivables			11,678
Inventory of 1960 Easter Seal supplies, books and pamphlets, at cost			55,684	$ 721,787
Other assets—
Advances to state societies			$ 8,000
Prepaid expenses			14,896
Fixed assets—
	Cost	Reserve for Depreciation
Land	$ 23,807	$ —
Furniture and other equipment	71,798	37,432
Building	570,227	9,484
	$665,832	$46,916	618,916	641,812
				$1,363,599
EASTER SEAL RESEARCH FOUNDATION FUND:
Cash			$172,076
U. S. Government securities, at cost			395,676
Due from state societies			45,527	613,279
Total assets				$1,976,878

LIABILITIES AND FUND BALANCES

OPERATING FUND:
Current liabilities—
Accounts payable	$ 38,354
U. S. Government grant for special study (Note 1)	2,513	$ 40,867
Fund balances
Special funds—
Henry Bascom student loan fund	$ 5,000
Scholarship and fellowship	3,509
General fund, including building fund deficit of $197,884, and $672,411 held principally for 1960 national level operations	1,314,223	1,322,732
		$1,363,599

EASTER SEAL RESEARCH FOUNDATION FUND:
Balance at beginning of period	$ 547,889
Contributions received during year	251,283
Interest income	8,282
Grants awarded	(183,393)
Expenses	(10,782)	613,279
Total liabilities and fund balance		$1,976,878

NOTE 1

During the year, an extension of the grant awarded to the Society by the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare was secured, together with additional funds of $10,571.10, which had been received as of August 31, 1959. This grant is restricted for two general purposes: (1) The development of a standard system of statistical and fiscal reports for rehabilitation centers, and (2) the preparation of a detailed study of operating costs and income of rehabilitation centers as related to the program. Under the terms of the grant, the Society is required to appropriate from its own funds an additional amount of $8,950. The project terminates on January 31, 1960. As of August 31, 1959, the unexpended amount of the grant received was $2,513.

Purchase commitments at August 31, 1959, for 1960 Easter Seals and supplies approximated $319,000.

EXHIBIT 2

STATEMENT OF INCOME AND EXPENSES FOR THE YEAR ENDED AUGUST 31, 1959

INCOME:
Receipts from state societies (8.3% of gross receipts of $10,645,133 of The Easter Seal Nationwide Fund Raising Program)		$883,546
Net sales of Easter seals and supplies	$654,034
Less—Cost of Easter seals and supplies	645,687	8,347
Magazine subscriptions and pamphlets		16,781
Donations for general purposes		16,322
Discounts and interest earned		5,894
Other income		10,910
Total income		$941,800
EXPENSES (see Exhibit 4):
Care and treatment		$191,082
Public relations		210,712
Research		40,002
Fund raising		90,178
Personnel and reporting (including national personnel registry)		102,149
Library		56,129
Comptroller's office		40,773
General administration		127,652
Field offices		71,389
Total expenses		$930,066
Excess of income over expenses		$ 11,734

EXHIBIT 3

STATEMENT OF CHANGES IN FUND BALANCES FOR THE YEAR ENDED AUGUST 31, 1959

		General Fund
		Building	Other	Total
BALANCE AUGUST 31, 1958	$1,234,950	$(62,922)	$1,295,422	$1,232,500
ADD OR (DEDUCT):
Donations received, exclusive of donations for general purposes	91,489	63,871	–	63,871
Excess of income over expenses	11,734	–	11,734	11,734
Scholarships and grants awarded	(15,441)	–	–	–
Transfers to building fund	–	7,518	(1,400)	6,118
Expenditures in connection with new building	–	(206,351)	206,351	–
BALANCE AUGUST 31, 1959	$1,322,732	$(197,884)	$1,512,107	$1,314,223

	Special Funds
	Henry Bascom Student Loan Fund	Scholarship and Fellowship Fund	Memorial and Bequest Fund	Library Fund
BALANCE AUGUST 31, 1958	$ –	$ 2,450	$ –	$ –
ADD OR (DEDUCT):
Donations received, exclusive of donations for general purposes	5,000	16,500	1,118	5,000
Excess of income over expenses	–	–	–	–
Scholarships and grants awarded	–	(15,441)	–	–
Transfers to building fund	–	–	(1,118)	(5,000)
Expenditures in connection with new building	–	–	$ –	$ –
BALANCE AUGUST 31, 1959	$5,000	$ 3,509

EXHIBIT 4

STATEMENT OF FUNCTIONAL DISTRIBUTION OF EXPENSE FOR THE YEAR ENDED AUGUST 31, 1959

	Total	Care and Treatment	Public Relations	Research	Fund Raising	Personnel and Reporting	Library	Comptroller's Office	General Administration	Field Offices
Personal services	$559,134	$130,608	$ 94,961	$20,453	$59,158	$ 78,665	$29,519	$31,885	$ 69,283	$44,602
Travel expense	55,061	21,348	2,021	–	11,912	2,988	92	754	7,787	8,159
Magazine printing and distribution	60,950	1,412	42,319	–	548	1,966	11,515	693	2,496	1
Conventions and conferences	33,061	3,045	10,516	–	3,066	417	5,118	–	10,896	3
Insurance and taxes	52,834	12,643	9,503	761	5,240	6,168	2,398	2,421	8,506	5,194
Supplies, postage and freight	47,389	8,538	17,750	–	4,076	4,431	3,018	1,960	5,799	1,817
Telephone and telegraph	17,347	3,659	2,664	–	1,867	1,975	719	747	1,762	3,954
Organizational dues and support	31,926	632	9,889	17,727	105	96	159	39	3,148	131
Depreciation of furniture and fixtures	5,932	769	1,620	–	382	589	690	427	726	729
Occupancy (including depreciation on building of $9,484)	38,704	7,231	7,973	1,061	3,348	3,864	2,124	1,543	5,072	6,488
Exhibit and promotion expense	11,811	11	9,544	–	17	–	266	–	1,973	–
Miscellaneous	15,917	1,186	1,952	–	459	990	511	304	10,204	311
	$930,066	$191,082	$210,712	$40,002	$90,178	$102,149	$56,129	$40,773	$127,652	$71,389

A Look To The Future

This report is called "SEARCH" as a way of describing the approach taken by the nationwide family of societies for crippled children and adults to the problem with which they have been concerned during a long career on the American scene. The story has been told in terms of services, activities, and programs, with, we hope, enough philosophy to make clear the factors involved in our approach.

From this review, many gains appear. The Easter Seal societies are providing more extensive rehabilitation services. Our professional work force has been augmented, although shortages still exist. The concept of total rehabilitation is gaining ground throughout the Easter Seal organization. Investigations under way in our research program are encouraging and hopefully will, within the foreseeable future, bring concrete solutions to some problems. Increased financial resources indicate greater public interest and support.

This progress is gratifying. It has its source in the thousands of volunteers who represent the foundation and strength of this voluntary agency, in the efforts of total staff, and in the cooperation and assistance of federal and state agencies and other voluntary agencies interested in various aspects of rehabilitation of the crippled.

While we take pride in the advances which have been and are being made, we are aware that there are many questions relating to continuing progress which lie in the future. These are questions not alone for the National society, but for all those interested in rehabilitation. For example, we know that rehabilitation is expensive. An informal survey of comprehensive service in Easter Seal rehabilitation centers shows that the cost per person per year ranged from $1,000 to $3,000. A research study of rehabilitation center costs in relation to program, carried out by the National society and supported by a grant from the U.S. Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, is yielding data which seems to indicate that few if any of the comprehensive rehabilitation centers in this country have yet arrived at a satisfactory basis for financing these costs. We know that the full backing and support of all community resources are necessary for such a facility to carry on successful operations. How to obtain maximum effectiveness in the operation and financing of rehabilitation services will require much further study and attention.

Another concern for the future is how best to meet the rehabilitation needs of the growing numbers of aged in our population.

How the many voluntary agencies can among themselves mesh their programs effectively for the greater benefit of the crippled and relate these programs to those of federal and state governments is a question for all concerned to explore in depth.

We look ahead with confidence to future growth and to working on these and other problems within the Easter Seal organization and with other agencies.

Dean W. Roberts, M.D.

Executive Director

Her future – brighter through Easter Seals.

NATIONAL OFFICERS and EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE 1958-1959

John J. Lee, Ph.D.
PRESIDENT
Michigan

William T. Sanger, Ph.D.
PRES. EMERITUS
Virginia

Paul Dietrich
PAST PRESIDENT
California

Malcolm Hecht
VICE PRESIDENT
Maryland

Mrs. James M. Skinner Jr.
VICE PRESIDENT
Pennsylvania

A. L. M. Wiggins
VICE PRESIDENT
South Carolina

E. O. Griffenhagen
TREASURER
Illinois

Mrs. David Black Florida

Hon. Joseph J. Foss
South Dakota

Elmer Hess, M.D.
Pennsylvania

PAST PRESIDENTS

Edgar F. Allen*	1921-1934
Paul King*	1934-1940
Colonel E. W. Palmer*	1940-1948
John J. Lee, Ph.D.	1948-1949
William H. Jaenicke	1949-1950
Gerard M. Ungaro	1950-1951
Davis E. Geiger	1951-1952
William T. Sanger, Ph.D.	1952-1953
J. Raymond Tiffany*	1953-1954
Edgar Kobak	1954-1955
Theodore H. Wegener*	1955-1957
Paul Dietrich	1957-1958

*Deceased

Carl A. Morring Jr.
Alabama

Jay Phillips
Minnesota

Mrs. Edgar T. Sloan
Connecticut

Herman R. Sutherland
Missouri

Fred A. Weibel Pennsylvania

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

1958-1959

Trustees-at-Large

Don Belding
Los Angeles, California

William C. Birthright
Indianapolis, Indiana

S. Bruce Black
Boston, Massachusetts

Elwood M. Brooks
Denver, Colorado

Thomas D'Arcy Brophy
New York, New York

Lester E. Cox
Springfield, Missouri

Ward Darley, M.D.
Evanston, Illinois

Paul Dietrich
Los Angeles, California

Mrs. Alfred I. duPont
Wilmington, Delaware

The Honorable Joseph J. Foss
Sioux Falls, South Dakota

Davis E. Geiger
Ashland, Kentucky

F. L. Graybill
Spokane, Washington

E. O. Griffenhagen
Chicago, Illinois

Elmer Hess, M.D.
Erie, Pennsylvania

Conrad N. Hilton
Beverly Hills, California

Harry Latter
New Orleans, Louisiana

John J. Lee, Ph.D.
Detroit, Michigan

Lawrence J. Linck
Hinsdale, Illinois

T. A. Mangelsdorf
New York, New York

Leonard W. Mayo, S.Sc.D.
New York, New York

Tom B. Medders
Wichita Falls, Texas

Earl Schenck Miers
Edison, New Jersey

Dr. Alonzo G. Moron
Hampton, Virginia

Jay Phillips
Minneapolis, Minnesota

The Honorable Ivy Baker Priest
Washington, D.C.

Harold Russell
Natick, Massachusetts

Mrs. James M. Skinner, Jr.
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Mrs. Bernice T. Van der Vries
Winnetka, Illinois

Mrs. Theodore H. Wegener
Boise, Idaho

Fred Weibel
Allentown, Pennsylvania

Harold D. West, Ph.D.
Nashville, Tennessee

Chauncey H. Whitner
San Leandro, California

A. L. M. Wiggins
Hartsville, South Carolina

Mrs. Louise Baker Wilson
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dr. Wallace H. Wulfeck
New York, New York

Ben D. Zevin
Cleveland, Ohio

Carl A. Morring, Jr.
Huntsville, Alabama

Mrs. Carl Morton
Spenard, Alaska

Robert Pyers
Tucson, Arizona

Booker Worthen
Little Rock, Arkansas

Reginald L. Vaughan
San Francisco, California

Kenneth K. King
Denver, Colorado

Mrs. Edgar T. Sloan
Hartford, Connecticut

Mrs. William N. Cann
Wilmington, Delaware

Mrs. John Parks
Washington, D.C.

Mrs. David L. Black
Daytona Beach, Florida

Mrs. Bruce Schaefer
Toccoa, Ga.

Walter R. Bradshaw
Honolulu, Hawaii

Oscar W. Nelson
Coeur d'Alene, Idaho

Franklin J. Kramer
Elgin, Illinois

Raphael Blessinger
Jasper, Indiana

Mrs. Jay Tone, Jr.
Des Moines, Iowa

Dr. Harold Howe
Manhattan, Kansas

Oldham Clarke
Louisville, Kentucky

State Trustees

R. D. Cloninger
Lafayette, Louisiana

James S. Coles Brunswick, Maine

Malcolm Hecht
Baltimore, Maryland

Parker Trowbridge
Worcester, Massachusetts

Mrs. Florence Van Antwerp
Benton Harbor, Michigan

Melvin Vollhaber
St. Paul, Minnesota

Ashton Barrett
Biloxi, Mississippi

Herman R. Sutherland
Kansas City, Missouri

Earle N. Genzberger
Butte, Montana

Dr. Leroy T. Laase
Lincoln, Nebraska

Lawrence A. Sims
Reno, Nevada

Mrs. Robert M. Leach
Webster Lake, New Hampshire

Abe S. Berliner
Paterson, New Jersey

Lewis M. Overton, M.D.
Albuquerque, New Mexico

Harold M. Edwards
Mt. Vernon, New York

J. Preston Wrenn
Charlotte, North Carolina

John B. Kemp
Bismarck, North Dakota

Paul V. Brown
Tiffin, Ohio

Cole D. Pittman, M.D.
Bartlesville, Oklahoma

Ernest M. Jachetta
Portland, Oregon

Bertram H. Kenyon
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

Mrs. Helen de Buxeda
Garden Hills, Puerto Rico

William H. Boardman
Providence, R.I.

Jeff B. Bates
Columbia, South Carolina

Walter H. Burke
Pierre, South Dakota

J. P. W. Brown
Chattanooga, Tennessee

H. L. McGurk
Fort Worth, Texas

Maurice Warshaw
Salt Lake City, Utah

Mrs. Edward G. Janeway
South Londonderry, Vermont

Dr. William T. Sanger
Richmond, Virginia

Mrs. John W. Epton
Spokane, Washington

Mrs. J. Paul Brawner
Morgantown, West Virginia

Clare D. Rejahl
Madison, Wisconsin

Ray F. Bower
Worland, Wyoming

Climaxing the "C.P. Forecast" session at the Dallas convention these panelists, all past presidents of the American Academy for Cerebral Palsy, were cited by the National Society for leadership provided as counselors to the Easter Seal program. Honored for their more than 10 years of service were Drs. Leslie B. Hohman, Meyer A. Perlstein, Winthrop M. Phelps and George G. Deaver.

PROFESSIONAL ADVISORY COUNCIL

Academy of Dentistry for the Handicapped Manuel M. Album, D.D.S., liaison officer
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

American Academy of Cerebral Palsy
William T. Green, M.D., liaison officer
Boston, Massachusetts

American Academy of General Practice
Mac F. Cahal, liaison officer
Kansas City, Missouri

American Academy of Neurology
Pearce Bailey, M.D., liaison officer
Bethesda, Maryland

American Academy of Opthalmology and Otolaryngology
Dean M. Lierle, M.D., liaison officer
State University of Iowa

Joint Committee on Public Care of Crippled Children of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons, American Orthopaedic Association, Orthopaedic Section, AMA
Allen F. Voshell, M.D., liaison officer
Baltimore, Maryland

American Academy of Pediatrics
Ralph H. Kunstadtler, M.D., liaison officer
Chicago, Illinois

American Congress of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation
Donald L. Rose, M.D., liaison officer
Kansas City, Kansas

American Medical Association
Edward L. Compere, M.D., liaison officer
Chicago, Illinois

George F. Lull, M.D., liaison officer
Chicago, Illinois

Edward J. McCormick, M.D., liaison officer
Toledo, Ohio

William Cruickshank, Ph.D., Syracuse, New York
Special Education

Lucille Daniels, Palo Alto, California
Physical Therapy

Ward Darley, M.D., Evanston, Illinois
Medical Administration

George G. Deaver, M.D., New York, New York
Physical Medicine

Harry F. Dietrich, M.D., Beverly Hills, California
Pediatrics

Lloyd Dunn, Ph.D., Nashville, Tennessee Psychology

Ira V. Hiscock, Ph.D., New Haven, Connecticut
Health Education

Leslie B. Hohman, M.D., Durham, North Carolina
Psychiatry

Roscoe Kandle, M.D., Staten Island, New York
Public Health

Henry H. Kessler, M.D., West Orange, New Jersey
Orthopaedics

Darrell Mase, Ph.D., Gainesville, Florida
Speech Pathology

Eugene T. McDonald, Ph.D., University Park, Pennsylvania
Speech Pathology

William C. Menninger, M.D., Topeka, Kansas
Psychiatry

Willard C. Olson, Ph.D., Ann Arbor, Michigan
Child Development

M. A. Perlstein, M.D., Chicago, Illinois
Pediatrics

Winthrop M. Phelps, M.D., Baltimore, Maryland
Orthopaedics

Miss Marion Sheahan, New York, New York Nursing

Mrs. Esther C. Spencer, Berkeley, California
Social Work

Miss Wilma West, Rochester, New York
Occupational Therapy

NATIONAL SPONSORS

Tenley Albright
Dr. Raymond B. Allen
Leonard Bernstein
Rabbi Philip S. Bernstein
Earl H. Blaik
Melvin Brorby
Charles H. Brower
Leo Burnett
Leroy E. Burney, M.D.
Dr. William G. Carr
Charles E. Claggett
Patricia Coffin
John C. Daly
Nicholson J. Eastman, M.D.
Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower
Harold E. Fellows
The Honorable John E. Fogarty
Dr. L. H. Foster
Chloe Gifford
Mrs. Bernard F. Gimbel
Otto Graham
George S. Halas
Helen Hayes
Edith Head
Dan Heilman
Dr. David D. Henry
Mrs. Marguerite Henry
Margaret A. Hickey
The Honorable Lister Hill
Celeste Holm
J. Edgar Hoover
Bob Hope
The Honorable Hubert H. Humphrey
The Honorable Walter H. Judd
Meyer Kestnbaum
John S. Knight
Edgar Kobak
The Rt. Rev. Arthur Carl Lichtenberger
Marjorie Lawrence
Art Linkletter
The Honorable Clare Boothe Luce
Edward T. McCormick
Don McNeill
Shane MacCarthy
Warren C. MacFarlane
Robert B. Mathias
Charles W. Mayo, M.D.
George Meany
Garry Moore
Paul W. Morency
The Honorable Luis Munoz-Marin
The Honorable Richard M. Nixon
Graham Patterson
The Reverend Norman Vincent Peale, D.D.
Drew Pearson
Mrs. Morton B. Phillips
(Abigail Van Buren)
Dick Powell and June Allyson
The Honorable William F. Quinn
Lawrence A. Randall
Charles S. Rhyne
Robin Roberts
Norman Rockwell
Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt
Howard A. Rusk, M.D.
Charles M. Schulz
Spyros P. Skouras
John Sloan
The Honorable Adlai E. Stevenson
The Honorable Stuart Symington
The Honorable Earl Warren
Charles B. Wilkinson, Jr.
Chris J. Witting
The Honorable James D. Zellerbach

Full year in new national headquarters was marked in October. Guests registered from all states, many nations.

NATIONAL SOCIETY FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN AND ADULTS
2023 West Ogden Avenue Chicago 12, Ill.

New York and Northeast Region
55 West 42nd St., New York 36, N.Y.

Southeast Region
c/o Medical College of Virginia, Richmond, Va.

Western Region
665 Spruce Street, Berkeley 7, Calif.

NATIONAL SOCIETY STAFF

Dean W. Roberts, M.D.
Executive Director

Jayne Shover
Associate Director and Director of Care Treatment

Daisy Byler
Corporate Secretary and Assistant to Executive Director

Catharine Bauer
Director of Public Relations

James Curran
Director of Fund Raising

Raymond L. Kahn
Director of Personnel and Reporting

Earl C. Graham
Librarian

Donald W. Ullman
Comptroller

Ronald B. Almack
Regional Representative, Southeast Region

James Campbell
Regional Representative, Western Region

Peter G. Meek
Regional Representative, Northeast Region
Director, New York Office

William T. Gellman, Ph.D.
Director and Secretary, Easter Seal Research Foundation

LEGACIES AND BEQUESTS

Legacies and bequests to crippled children continue to increase in number and amount. Persons who wish to name the National Society as a beneficiary may use the following form:

"I give and bequeath to the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., a not-for-profit corporation organized under the Laws of the State Ohio and having it principal office at 2023 West Ogden Avenue, Chicago 12, Ill., the sum of..... dollars, to be used for the general purposes of such corporation."

A similar form may be used in naming any affiliate or chapter as beneficiary, substituting the corporate name and address of the state or local Easter Seal society for that of the national organization. It is recommended, however, that individuals check with their Easter Seal society and attorney, since laws in various states differ slightly.

Funds may be bequeathed for specific program purposes. It is suggested that persons wishing information about such bequests telephone or write the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults or their local society.

DIRECTORY OF STATE SOCIETIES FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Alabama Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Secretary, W. H. Harrison, 472 South Lawrence St., Montgomery.

Alaska Crippled Children's Association—Executive Director, C. Eugene Kingsley, 225 "E" St., Anchorage.

Arizona Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Secretary, Betty Cairns, 128 North First, Phoenix.

Arkansas Association for the Crippled, Inc.—Executive Director, Mrs. Virginia Armistead, 2801 Lee, Little Rock.

California Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, Mrs. Esther Elder Smith, 251 Kearny St., San Francisco 8.

Colorado Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, Francis Steers, 925 Central Bank Building, Denver 2.

Connecticut Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Secretary, Gertrude Norcross, 740 Asylum Ave., Hartford 5.

Delaware Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, Richard Leclair, 1324 Market St., Wilmington 1.

District of Columbia Society for Crippled Children, Inc.—Administrator, Thomas Evans, 2800 13th St., N.W., Washington 9.

Florida Society for Crippled Children—State Director, Lisle Reese, 515 South Orange Ave., Orlando.

Georgia Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, Mary F. Webb, 1001 Ponce de Leon Ave. N.E., Atlanta 6.

Hawaii Chapter, National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, Mrs. L. P. McComas, 1018 Lunalilo St., Honolulu 3.

Crippled Children's Society of Idaho, Inc.—Executive Director, Bruce Lee Zumwalt, 128 South 5th St., Boise.

Illinois Association for the Crippled, Inc.—Executive Secretary, Charles H. Moody, 816 East Edwards St., Springfield.

Indiana Society for Crippled Children, Inc.—Executive Director, M. O. Jeglum, 6055 College Ave., Indianapolis 20.

Iowa Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, H. Harold Hymans, 4104 University Ave., Des Moines 11.

Kansas Society for Crippled Children—Executive Secretary, Louis A. Baker, 319 First National Bank Building, Wichita.

Kentucky Society for Crippled Children, Inc.—Executive Director, Viola M. Morey, 233 E. Broadway, Louisville 2.

Louisiana Chapter, National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, Mrs. Jacqueline T. Leonhard, 843 Carondelet St., New Orleans 12.

Pine Tree Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, Mrs. William H. Dalton, 616 High St., Bath, Maine.

Maryland Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, B. G. Eberwein, 432 Fallsway, Baltimore 2.

Bay State Society for Crippled and Handicapped, Inc.—Executive Director, Charles S. Wilson, 30 Highland St., Worcester, Massachusetts.

Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, P. G. Angove, 10601 Puritan, Detroit 38.

Minnesota Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Acting Executive Director, James Beaton, 420 East Lake St., Minneapolis 8.

Mississippi Easter Seal Society—Executive Director, J. I. Rankin, 313 Millsaps Building, Jackson.

Missouri Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, Roy A. Davidson, 1530 Big Bend Blvd., St. Louis 17.

Montana Society for Crippled Children—2705 11th Ave. North, P. O. Box 861, Billings.

Nebraska Society for Crippled Children, Inc.—Executive Secretary, S. Orson Perkins, 402 South 17th, Omaha 2.

Nevada Society for Crippled Children, Inc.—Executive Director, Robert G. Bull, 235 Chism St., Reno.

New Hampshire Society for Crippled Children and Handicapped Persons—Executive Secretary, Mrs. Frances P. Fitzgerald, 82 Elm St., Manchester.

New Jersey Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, D. M. Smith, 799 Main, Hackensack.

New Mexico Society for Crippled Children, Inc.—Executive Director, J. Hutchison, 1807 Broadway N.E., Albuquerque.

Association for Crippled Children and Adults of New York State—Executive Director, Edward A. Stiles, 239 Park Ave. South, New York 3.

North Carolina Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, Albin Pikutis, 212 East Rosemary St., Box 839, Chapel Hill.

North Dakota Society for Crippled Children and Adults—Executive Director, William E. Unti, 422 Second Ave. N.W., Jamestown.

Ohio Society for Crippled Children & Adults—Executive Director, Walter B. Underwood, 311 Kendall Pl., Columbus 5.

Oklahoma Society for Crippled Children, Inc.—Executive Secretary, H. Dick Clarke, 722 N.W. 30th St., Oklahoma City 18.

Oregon Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, James M. Torson, 1135 S.W. Yamhill, Portland 5.

Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, George E. Reimer, 1107 North Front St., Harrisburg.

Puerto Rico Chapter, National Society for Crippled Children and Adults—Executive Secretary, Mrs. Angeles R. Gandia, Ave. Eduardo Conde No. 2273, Santurce.

Rhode Island Society for Crippled Children and Adults—Executive Director, Mrs. John Langdon, 333 Grotto Ave., Providence 12.

Crippled Children Society of South Carolina, Inc.—Executive Director, Mrs. T. Jackson Lowe, 1517 Laurel St., Columbia.

South Dakota Society for Crippled Children—Executive Secretary, Miriam Dewell, 366½ South Pierre St., Pierre.

Tennessee Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, J. Hank Smith, 119 17th Ave. South, Nashville 4.

Texas Society for Crippled Children, Inc.—Executive Director, M. M. Ricker, 4429 North Central Expressway, Dallas.

Utah Society for Crippled Children and Adults—Executive Director, Lyman S. Shreeve, Box 2540, Fort Douglas Station, Salt Lake City.

Vermont Association for the Crippled, Inc.—Executive Secretary, Dorothy Smithson, 88 Park St., Rutland.

Virginia Society for Crippled Children and Adults—Executive Director, W. C. Chapman, P. O. Box 1788, Roanoke 8.

Washington Society for Crippled Children and Adults—Executive Director, W. J. Bryan Hankins, 302 Alaska Building, Seattle 4.

West Virginia Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, O. W. Hawes, 612 Virginia, Charleston.

Wisconsin Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Secretary, Kenneth L. Svee, 119 East Washington Ave., Madison 3.

Wyoming Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.—Executive Director, Miss Marge Hurst, Gottsche Rehabilitation Center, P. O. Box 1088, Thermopolis.

THE EASTER SEAL SOCIETY

NATIONAL SOCIETY FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN AND ADULTS, INC., 2023 WEST OGDEN AVENUE, CH

E, CHICAGO 12, ILLINOIS

National Youth Assoc.

May 10, 1960

Dear Mr. Sturz:

Many thanks for your letter of May 4th inviting Mr. Murrow to join a committee, which will formulate a program for a possible National Youth Foundation.

As you may know, Mr. Murrow is presently on a year's leave of absence. He has been traveling abroad and will not be returning to his office until the beginning of July. I regret therefore, that it will not be possible for him to participate in your project.

Thank you again for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Herbert Sturz
252 Fisher Place
Princeton, New Jersey

May 4, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS
485 Madison Ave.
New York 22, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

About two weeks ago I was approached by William Stuart, Director of the College Scholarship Program administered by the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N.J. Dr. Stuart had heard about the study of national purpose and of the values of young people in America that I have been conducting for Boys' Life Magazine over the past six months. Various Foundations had queried him, he said, about areas in which they might spend money and do some good. Did I have any ideas, he wondered.

Yes, one idea: a National Youth Foundation that would be primarily concerned with communicating and informing.

Toward this end we are forming a feasibility committee to decide whether we can come up with a program and a set of purposes which justify approaching a Foundation for a grant. Would you be a member of this committee? It would meet only once -- a luncheon conference the 16th of June in New York City. So far we have been fortunate enough to get Margaret Mead, Harrison E. Salisbury, Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., Dorothy Gordon and Eric F. Goldman. We are also inviting Senator Aiken, New York Police Commissioner Kennedy, Governor Meyner and General Gruenther.

We are asking the Sloan Foundation for a modest grant to cover the expenses of the participants at the June meeting.

Enclosed are two statements:

1. the shorter is a statement of purpose and possible programs.
2. the longer contains a few ideas which occured to me about youth, adults, and their relation to a National Youth Foundation.

The enclosures are intended merely as an intellectual hare to start ideas running -- something to argue against and build from.

I am sending the statements to each member of the feasibility committee with the request that he criticize the proposal. Suggestions of further purposes and programs are very much in order. I would hope to receive these ideas by the 19th or 20th of May.

This will permit time to incorporate the suggestions into a new statement and return this new statement to each member of the committee prior to the June meeting.

If the committee advises going ahead, we would then re-work the second statement in the light of ideas generated at the meeting for presentation to a Foundation in September.

Because of the tight time schedule involved, I wonder if you would let me know as soon as possible whether or not you wish to be a member of the feasibility committee.

I want to make clear, by the way, that although I am an Associate Editor of Boys' Life Magazine this idea of a National Youth Foundation is not related to the Boy Scouts of America.

Yours sincerely,

Herbert Sturz

Herbert Sturz

Encl.

252 Fisher Place
Princeton
New Jersey

PROPOSAL TO SET UP A NATIONAL YOUTH FOUNDATION

One of the vital problems facing the United States in these complex and difficult times is the search for ways to identify, develop, and nurture the talents of all our young men and women, and to strengthen the opportunities for them to grow to their full potential as individuals in a free society. Toward this end a privately supported non-profit National Youth Foundation is proposed. The Foundation would be dedicated to the proposition that youth, in its own right, has a responsible role to play in the political, economic, and social processes of American democracy.

The purposes of the National Youth Foundation as presently conceived are the following:

1. to focus attention of the American public on youth, its place in society, its problems in finding a place in society, and in helping young people find themselves.
2. to create an awareness on the part of youth of the stultifying, neutralizing forces in society that tend to becloud important national and international issues and that increase wide-spread apathy on the part of the society in general.
3. to stimulate an awareness on the part of youth of the crises in moral and ethical values on the national and international scene; the processes by which values are transmitted, formulated and reformulated; and the role youth might play in these processes.

4. to foster cooperative youth-adult activities.
5. to advise local, state and federal agencies on matters pertaining to youth.

Suggested programs might include:

1. setting up a national youth magazine which in time would be self-supporting.
2. radio and television series directed toward youth, adults, or both.
3. youth taking part in regional discussion forums.
4. lecture series.
5. special publication series -- some using comic technique.
6. film strip series.
7. central clearing house of information about various agencies and services for youth.
8. development of programs to motivate young people to aspire to higher education.

SOME IDEAS BEHIND THE PROPOSAL

It is widely recognized that there is much undiscovered ability, much wasted talent among our youth. In a time of grave and complex problems, when free peoples are struggling for survival, this waste of talent and skill becomes a matter of pressing concern. We cannot requisition the talents of youth any more than we can commandeer the services of adult citizens. We must proceed in our own way, searching for a means in keeping with our democratic institutions, which tell us that the release and utilization of this potential is as much for the fulfillment and happiness of the individual as for the purposes of the society. We must keep our sights fixed faithfully on liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

The general objective of the National Youth Foundation would be to help make young people aware of their place in a free society. We have all doubtless bumped up against the wall which certain of our young people — most particularly teen-agers — raise between themselves and the adult world. This barrier often goes beyond the normal withdrawal or the deepening of reserve needed by the adolescent to establish his independence and find his way to maturity, and leaves him feeling that he has no relation to society, but that of combating it or exploiting it. He may often view himself, not as one growing toward the adult world, as one who will inherit that world for better or for worse, but as a being apart. Those of us who have tried on occasion to penetrate that peculiar blank mask of the teen-ager -- all too often without success -- will understand the force of this isolation. It might be said that the teen-ager who wears this mask is caught between over-conformity and aimless rebellion; his conflict lessens his capacity to spread his individual wings; joy is hamstrung by hostility, and the ability to further the common good is impaired.

We cannot compel the teen-ager to take off his mask or to uncover his identity to the sunshine; we can perhaps create conditions in which he would be able and willing to do this for himself.

On the other side of the wall adults are contributing their share of bricks and mortar and working with all their might (though often quite unconsciously) to keep the barrier standing. Youngsters may mistrust adults in various ways. They may feel that adults don't practice what they preach. Some find that material things are offered as a bribe, or in place of love and attention. Or the attention may be of a negative kind, as when the child discovers that he can arouse interest only by behaving badly. It may happen that the young are unable to form a clear image of maturity because adults fail to provide that clear image.

Young people hold adults accountable -- and rightly -- for inhospitable conditions of life; that is, for unstable family relations, inadequate housing, discrimination, poor schools, and slum conditions. They also blame their elders for the kind of emotional impoverishment which may blight even the most prosperous home.

This is not to decry our young people as a whole or to give the impression that the young cannot flourish in our country. There are thousands of decent, dedicated boys and girls in all parts of the United States. What wants emphasizing is simply that democracy can better fulfill its promise; and that, indeed, it must do so in order that the well springs of creativity may flow as freely and as fully as our expanding and increasingly complicated society and our place in the world demand.

We have just had a White House Conference on Children and Youth. There have been numerous reports, surveys, and resolutions. There are youth boards, physical fitness committees, and studies. These are all to the good. A multitude of problems are uncovered, some light is shed, enthusiasm is generated, reports are made and some are published. But what comes of it all?

We still have the wall between generations. How does one go about taking it down? How does one interpret the world of youth to the adult world, and vice versa? It is said that our young people are soft, that they should toughen up. In what way should they toughen up and for what? How can a young person actively participate in the on-going processes of American democracy? What role can a young person play in solving civic problems such as air and river pollution, slum clearance, and conserving our natural resources? How can our traditions of law and justice be made meaningful to the young when all too often parents and cops are figures of repression? How can the young gain insight into the limitations and fears of the adult group -- and the other way around? What distinguishes the leader from the bully? Is a brave man always brave? Is a coward always cowardly? What do we in a free society mean by failure? By success?

The National Youth Foundation would concern itself with communicating and informing. There would be no attempt to further any political, social, or economic philosophy; there would be a concern with portraying our heritage of liberty and how it must be cared for and kept alive in succeeding generations. The importance of curiosity and dissent would be emphasized. Without a clash of ideas society becomes over-conservative and stultified and will wither.

Naval War College

January 21, 1960

Dear Admiral Ingersoll:

Thank you for your gracious letter of January 15th inviting Mr. Murrow to participate in a panel discussion to be held on April 21st.

I regret that since Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and will be traveling abroad for most of the next six months, it will not be possible for him to accept. Thank you again for asking him.

Very sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Vice Admiral S. H. Ingersoll, U.S.N.
President, Naval War College
Newport, Rhode Island

NAVAL WAR COLLEGE

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

NEWPORT, R. I.

JAN 15 1960

Dear Mr. Murrow:

During the period 21-22 April the Naval War College will conduct a public relations study utilizing panel discussions, seminars and lectures. I am inviting leading figures from newspapers, magazines, radio, television and movies to conduct a panel discussion on the afternoon of April 21, 1960, commencing at 2:00 p.m. You are most cordially invited to participate as a panel member.

This discussion has as its purpose the development of an appreciation of the importance of public relations to the military establishment and the acquisition of an understanding of the techniques of such relations. It is envisaged that the panel discussion will cover operations of mass and selective communications media, including comments on the utilization of newspapers, magazines, radio, television and motion pictures in the public relations programs of the Navy with an examination of the problems peculiar to or arising from such public relations programs.

The audience will consist of approximately four hundred members of the staff and student body of the Naval War College, primarily naval officers in the ranks of lieutenant through captain, but including a small group of officers of comparable ranks from the other services and a few representatives from other governmental agencies.

In accordance with policy, I am authorized to provide an honorarium of one hundred twenty five dollars to defray expenses incident to this service.

We would be privileged and honored if you could accept this invitation to be our guest here at the Naval War College in the spring.

Sincerely yours,

Stuart H. Ingersoll

S. H. INGERSOLL
Vice Admiral, U. S. Navy
President, Naval War College

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
285 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Navy League of the U.S.
Dec

October 21, 1960

Dear Admiral Bergen:

Thank you for your gracious letter of October 13th. I greatly appreciate your kind invitation to be a Dais Guest at your 58th Anniversary Dinner on October 27th and very much regret that I cannot accept. Unfortunately, I have a previous commitment which prevents me from attending.

Thank you again for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Rear Admiral John J. Bergen, USNR (Ret.)
General Chairman-58th Anniversary Dinner
Navy League of the United States
410 Park Avenue
New York 22, New York

ERM:gw

S.

NAVY LEAGUE OF THE UNITED STATES

NEW YORK COUNCIL

Operation Polaris

58th Anniversary Dinner

The Waldorf-Astoria October 27, 1960

RADM. JOHN J. BERGEN, USNR (RET.)
General Chairman, Dinner Committee

Address Reply to:
RADM. JOHN J. BERGEN, USNR (RET.)
General Chairman
410 Park Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

President
CAPT. ROBERT H. BARNUM, USNR

Vice Presidents
MRS. J. TRUMAN BIDWELL
CAPT. ROBERT G. BURKE, USNR
W. MAHLON DICKERSON
VADM. R. H. HILLENKOETTER, USN (RET.)

Advisory Committee
FRANCIS J. BARRY
CAPT. BERNARD M. BARUCH, JR., USNR
RADM. JOHN J. BERGEN, USNR (RET.)
ADM. JOSEPH J. CLARK, USN (RET.)
ENOS CURTIN
HON. CHARLES EDISON
FRANK P. GEHRING
STANLEY C. HOPE
WILLIAM E. HUTTON
DONALD M. MACKIE
RADM. E. J. MORAN, USNR (RET.)
CORNELIUS J. REID
CDR. WILLIAM S. STUHR, USNR

Secretary
MRS. J. WALTER BELL

Treasurer
LEWIS L. CLARKE

Judge Advocate
HON. LOUIS GOLDSTEIN

Chaplain
LT. CDR. GILBERT DARLINGTON, CHC, NYNM

Directors
HON. J. SINCLAIR ARMSTRONG
CAPT. ROBERT H. BARNUM, USNR
MRS. J. WALTER BELL
MRS. J. TRUMAN BIDWELL
LYMAN G. BLOOMINGDALE
C. WILLIAM BORCHERS
JOHN M. BUDINGER
CAPT. ROBERT G. BURKE, USNR
JOSEPH F. CALLO, JR.
LEWIS L. CLARKE
ISRAEL CUMMINGS
LT. CDR. GILBERT DARLINGTON, CHC, NYNM
GORDON C. DEWEY
W. MAHLON DICKERSON
WILLIAM G. DILLON
CDR. JAMES P. FARRELL, USNR
IRVING MITCHELL FELT
CAPT. ROYCE N. FLIPPIN, USNR
MILLARD G. GAMBLE
HON. LOUIS GOLDSTEIN
GEORGE A. HEINEMANN
VADM. R. H. HILLENKOETTER, USN (RET.)
VADM. EDWARD C. HOLDEN, JR., USNR (RET.)
COL. RALPH T. HORGAN, USMCR
DANIEL J. HOWE, JR.
G. DEWEY HYNES
GEORGE INSELMAN
ALEXANDER B. LYON, JR.
JAY-EHRET MAHONEY
RADM. WILFRED J. MCNEIL, USN (RET.)
JOHN R. MORAN
EDWIN M. OST, JR.
RADM. PAULUS P. POWELL, USN (RET.)
RADM. JOHN J. SCHIEFFELIN, USNR
KENNETH M. SPANG
RADM. ELLERY W. STONE, USNR
CDR. DAVID A. STRETCH, USNR (RET.)

October 13, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Ed:

There is enclosed herewith an invitation to the Operation Polaris - 58th Anniversary Dinner of the Navy League of the United States, New York Council, to be held in the Grand Ballroom of The Waldorf-Astoria on 27 October.

The Dinner Committee is delighted to extend to you an invitation to be a Dais Guest on that evening.

Your lady is also invited as a guest of the Dinner Committee.

Sincerely,

John J. Bergen
Rear Admiral, USNR (Ret.)
General Chairman
Dinner Committee

Navy League of the United States
(New York Council)

cordially invites you to attend

Operation Polaris
58th Anniversary Dinner

to be given in the Grand Ballroom of

The Waldorf-Astoria

on Thursday, October twenty-seventh
Nineteen hundred and sixty
Seven O'clock

Formal Dress
Uniform Optional

$20.00

R.S.V.P.
R. Adm. John J. Bergen, U.S.N.R. (Ret.)
General Chairman, Dinner Committee
410 Park Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

NAVY LEAGUE OF THE UNITED STATES
(NEW YORK COUNCIL)

Officers

President

CAPT. ROBERT H. BARNUM, USNR

Vice Presidents

MRS. J. TRUMAN BIDWELL
CAPT. ROBERT G. BURKE, USNR
W. MAHLON DICKERSON
VADM. R. H. HILLENKOETTER, USN (RET.)

Treasurer

LEWIS L. CLARKE

Secretary

MRS. J. WALTER BELL

Judge Advocate

HON. LOUIS GOLDSTEIN

Chaplain

LT. CDR. GILBERT DARLINGTON, CHC, NYNM

Directors

HON. J. SINCLAIR ARMSTRONG
CAPT. ROBERT H. BARNUM, USNR
MRS. J. WALTER BELL
MRS. J. TRUMAN BIDWELL
LYMAN G. BLOOMINGDALE
C. WILLIAM BORCHERS
JOHN M. BUDINGER
CAPT. ROBERT G. BURKE, USNR
JOSEPH F. CALLO, JR.
LEWIS L. CLARKE
ISRAEL CUMMINGS
LT. CDR. GILBERT DARLINGTON, CHC, NYNM
GORDON C. DEWEY
W. MAHLON DICKERSON
WILLIAM G. DILLON
CDR. JAMES P. FARRELL, USNR
IRVING MITCHELL FELT
CAPT. ROYCE N. FLIPPIN, USNR
MILLARD G. GAMBLE
HON. LOUIS GOLDSTEIN
GEORGE A. HEINEMANN
VADM. R. H. HILLENKOETTER, USN (RET.)
VADM. EDWARD C. HOLDEN, JR., USNR (RET.)
COL. RALPH T. HORGAN, USMCR
DANIEL J. HOWE, JR.
G. DEWEY HYNES
GEORGE INSELMAN
ALEXANDER B. LYON, JR.
JAY-EHRET MAHONEY
RADM. WILFRED J. MCNEIL, USN (RET.)
JOHN R. MORAN
EDWIN M. OST, JR.
RADM. P. P. POWELL, USN (RET.)
RADM. JOHN J. SCHIEFFELIN, USNR
KENNETH M. SPANG
RADM. ELLERY W. STONE, USNR
CDR. DAVID A. STRETCH, USNR (RET.)

Advisory Committee

FRANCIS J. BARRY
CAPT. BERNARD M. BARUCH, JR., USNR
RADM. JOHN J. BERGEN, USNR (RET.)
ADM. JOSEPH J. CLARK, USN (RET.)
ENOS CURTIN
HON. CHARLES EDISON
FRANK P. GEHRING
STANLEY C. HOPE
WILLIAM E. HUTTON
DONALD M. MACKIE
RADM. E. J. MORAN, USN (RET.)
CORNELIUS J. REID
CDR. WILLIAM S. STUHR, USNR

Operation Polaris

★ ★ ★

Guest of Honor

VICE ADMIRAL WILLIAM F. RABORN, JR., USN

Special Project Officer
Office of the Secretary of the Navy

★ ★ ★

Guest Speakers

ROBERT E. GROSS

Chairman of the Board
Lockheed Aircraft Corporation

HON. FRANK PACE, JR.

Chairman of the Board
General Dynamics Corporation

Special Guests

COMMANDING OFFICERS

Nuclear Submarines
United States Navy

Near East College Assoc.

Christmas Greetings

ANATOLIA COLLEGE

ATHENS COLLEGE

AMERICAN COLLEGE FOR GIRLS

ROBERT COLLEGE OF ISTANBUL

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY OF BEIRUT

INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE

Dear Friends:

In sending our Christmas Greetings to you who have so generously and faithfully upheld the work of the Near East Colleges, we are happy that we can bring good tidings.

One of our Presidents wrote sadly in 1914, "Will there ever be a time when we don't need money!"

Two wars and forty-six years later we have learned that in the face of demands of modern education, the dangers of a world in flux and the urgent need for enlightened leadership, we have just begun to spend. But we have learned and a sturdy beginning has been made, with the Trustees of the Colleges approaching their new opportunities and obligations with the determination of their pioneer predecessors.

In Turkey, Robert College and the American College for Girls have combined in one corporation with one Board of Trustees for greater efficiency of operation. During the past three years a reorganization of programs has been effected and faculties improved. Girls' College remains a four year secondary school and junior college and Robert will admit women to its college programs. The Master's degree is now granted in Engineering at Robert College and a new School of Business Administration and Economics was opened this year.

In Lebanon and the Middle East the rapid advancement in educational development led the American University of Beirut to undertake a re-evaluation of its future role, looking toward higher standards of undergraduate work and greater emphasis on graduate studies. While this planning is in process the University is improving its plant in preparation for future program requirements. At International College steps have been taken to establish its activities independent of the University, preparatory to the eventual move to its own campus for which plans are now being drawn. With the expansion of the University and the College this move is advantageous to both institutions.

In Greece, the new President of Athens College, Charles M. Rice, welcomed an increased American staff and the College's largest enrollment, made possible by completion of the fourth dormitory. Anatolia College celebrated opening day by laying the corner stone of a new science-administration building to house laboratories, classrooms, and a practical chemical institute to serve the Thessaloniki area. Both Anatolia and Athens Colleges have made great advances in restoring war-devastated plants and in program development.

New construction is in process at all of the Colleges. This includes the new building at Anatolia, a fifth dormitory at Athens College, an engineering and science building at Robert, faculty housing at Girls' College, preparation of the campus for International College, and four new buildings nearing completion at the American University of Beirut.

This is healthy progress but money still is needed. To secure the outstanding educators who are the heart of an educational institution we must raise salary standards. To develop talented youth we must give scholarship assistance. To maintain libraries, provide teaching aids and adequately represent American standards we must have increased funds for operations.

These are minimum requirements. The men and women who had the vision and courage to found the Near East Colleges would be the first to insist upon the expenditures required to meet the needs of 1960. They established the high academic standards which we must maintain and which will determine the future influence of the Colleges.

In 1860 the Near East was a slumbering giant that would one day be a friend or enemy. Thanks to the wisdom that created our Colleges their century of service has brought a rich harvest of friendship. May we count on your help so that they may continue to interpret to their 7,600 students ideals that can create a better world for all mankind?

In wishing you a Happy New Year we hope that it will include a visit to our new offices which now are conveniently located for out of town visitors as well as more efficient operations.

Sincerely,

Richard E. Quaintance

Richard E. Quaintance
American Director

Near East College Association, Inc.

Board of Directors

Bayard Schieffelin, President
Virginia C. Gildersleeve, Honorary Vice President
Alfred H. Hauser, Vice President
Alfred E. Tree, Treasurer

Daniel Bliss
John C. Case
John F. Chapman
R. Inslee Clark
Whitney C. Colby
Rowland H. George
Grinnell Morris
Alfred Ogden
Mrs. Walter H. Page
Charilaus G. Raphael
Lawrason Riggs
Donald G. Robbins
Mrs. Frank R. Smith
James C. Stephens
Lowell Thomas
K. P. Tsolainos

Please make checks payable to
Near East College Association, Inc.
548 Fifth Avenue, New York 36, N. Y.

Contributions are deductible for income tax purposes.

Nativity Mosaic from Daphni
Byzantine Enamel, courtesy of
The Metropolitan Museum of Art
Gift of J. Pierpont Morgan, 1917

N. J. Industrial Editors' Assoc.

April 28, 1960

Dear Mr. Gottschalk:

Thank you for your gracious letter of April 19th inviting Mr. Murrow to speak before the New Jersey Industrial Editors' Association on November 16th.

As you may know, Mr. Murrow is on a year's leave of absence and has been traveling abroad. He will not be returning to the office for several months, and until his fall broadcasting schedule has been set up, I regret that it will not be possible for him to consider any engagements.

Thank you again for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Jack A. Gottschalk
Institute Co-Chairman
New Jersey Industrial Editors' Association
Military Park Hotel
Newark, New Jersey

NEW JERSEY
INDUSTRIAL EDITORS' ASSOCIATION

MILITARY PARK HOTEL
NEWARK, N. J.

April 19, 1960

President
DAVID W. CLEMO
Daystrom, Incorporated
Weston Instruments
Division - Newark

Vice President
DAVID V. MANAHAN
New Jersey Bell
Telephone Company

Secretary
DOROTHY McSWEENEY
Howard Savings Institute

Treasurer
RICHARD SCHEIBNER
Hoffmann-LaRoche Inc.

•

COMMITTEES

Program
ROBERT KNAPP
Western Electric Company
THOMAS J. YOUNG
Linde Air Products Corp.

Membership
K. C. MORLEY
N. J. Bell Telephone Co.
GERARD VEGLIA
The Mennen Company

Projects
ARNOLD McCLOW
Singer Manufacturing Co.

Publicity
DANIEL HIGGINS
American Cyanimid Co.
PHILIP BLAZE
N. J. Taxpayers' Assoc.

Advisor
RICHARD POST
Federal Industries
A Textron Company

Institute
ROBERT KNAPP
Western Electric Co.
JACK GOTTSCHALK
Federal Industries
A Textron Company

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The New Jersey Industrial Editors' Association which is composed of house magazine editors and personnel, industrial and public relations people from New Jersey firms will hold its 16th Annual Institute in the Military Park Hotel in Newark, New Jersey on November 16th, 1960.

During the day long program we conduct workshop sessions covering various phases of the employee and public relations job. The high-light of our Institute will be the luncheon which features an address by a leader in the field of journalism.

Your background as an outstanding journalist and news analyst makes you the perfect speaker for our group.

Realizing that you have a very full schedule, I am writing at this early date with the hope that you will be in a favorable position to accept. In previous years we have heard Victor Riesel, the labor columnist and John T. Cunningham, New Jersey historian and newspaperman. Our attendance at the Institute luncheon usually numbers about 200 persons.

As I have stated previously, your experience makes you the perfect speaker for our group. I certainly hope that you will accept our invitation.

Very truly yours,

Jack A. Gottschalk
Institute Co-Chairman

JAG:lk

New York's United Labor Day Parade
Aug. Dec.

Harry Van Arsdale, Jr.

President

Morris Iushewitz

Secretary

and

Fellow Officers

request the honor of your presence

at

New York's United Labor Day Parade

of the

N. Y. C. Central Labor Council, AFL-CIO

Monday, September 5, 1960

Beginning at 10 A. M.

Reviewing Stand

New York Public Library

42nd Street and Fifth Avenue

New York City

Rec'd RSVP card.

R.S.V.P.

Eug. Dec.
Newport News Shipbuilding Co.

The Newport News Shipbuilding
and Dry Dock Company
requests the honor of your presence at the Christening of the Aircraft Carrier ENTERPRISE
at Newport News, Virginia
Saturday, September the twenty-fourth
Nineteen hundred and sixty
at ten-thirty o'clock A.M., E.S.T. and at the Luncheon at the Chamberlin Hotel
at twelve-thirty o'clock P.M., E.S.T.

Sponsor: Mrs. William B. Franke

Please reply
Newport News Shipbuilding
and Dry Dock Company
Newport News, Virginia

Ret'd RSVP Card declining inv.

INFORMATION

CHRISTENING USS ENTERPRISE

SEPTEMBER 24, 1960

CEREMONIES WILL BEGIN AT 9:45 A.M., E.S.T. IT IS SUGGESTED THAT GUESTS ARRIVE AT THE SHIPYARD NO LATER THAN 9:30 A.M., E.S.T., AND ENTER BY AUTOMOBILE EITHER THROUGH THE GATE AT 54TH STREET AND HUNTINGTON AVENUE OR THE GATE AT 37TH STREET AND WASHINGTON AVENUE.

ANY HOLDER OF A RESERVED AREA CARD (WHITE OR GREEN) WILL BE PERMITTED TO DRIVE INTO THE SHIPYARD AND PARK WITHIN A REASONABLE DISTANCE OF THE VIEWING AREA.

(OVER)

ADMITTANCE CARDS WILL BE MAILED UPON RECEIPT OF ACCEPTANCE.

UPON CONCLUSION OF THE CEREMONIES, IT IS SUGGESTED THAT GUESTS ATTENDING THE LUNCHEON AT THE CHAMBERLIN HOTEL DEPART THROUGH THE GATE ENTERED, LEAVE THE CITY OF NEWPORT NEWS BY DRIVING EAST ON 39TH STREET, ROUTE 351, AND UPON REACHING ROUTE 258, TURN RIGHT THEREON TO OLD POINT COMFORT (TOTAL DISTANCE ABOUT 10 MILES).

THE UNIFORM PRESCRIBED FOR NAVAL OFFICERS AT THE CEREMONIES WILL BE FULL DRESS WHITE.

(OVER)

Newsweek

April 8, 1960

Dear Mr. Muir:

Thank you for your gracious letter of March 31st inviting Mr. Murrow to attend Newsweek's annual cocktail party at the Waldorf-Astoria on Monday, April 25th.

I regret very much that it will not be possible for Mr. Murrow to accept your invitation, since he is traveling abroad and will not be returning to the States for several months.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Malcolm Muir
Newsweek
444 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Newsweek

NEWSWEEK BUILDING · 444 MADISON AVENUE · NEW YORK 22

MALCOLM MUIR
CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD AND EDITOR IN CHIEF

March 31, 1960

Dear Ed:

The Editors of Newsweek and I are giving our annual cocktail party at the Waldorf-Astoria on Monday, April the twenty-fifth, to welcome the newspaper editors and publishers who will be in New York to attend the National Convention of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

I sincerely hope that you and Mrs. Murrow can be with us on this occasion, as I feel sure you will enjoy meeting our newspaper guests.

We are holding our party in the Louis XVI Suite of the Waldorf from five to seven-thirty.

With kindest regards.

Cordially yours,

Malcolm

R.S.V.P.

North Car. Literary & Historical Assoc

May 25, 1960

Mr. Christopher Crittenden
The North Carolina Literary & Historical Association, Inc.
P.O.B. 1881
Raleigh, N.C.

Dear Mr. Crittenden:

I am replying to your letter of May 20 to Mr. Murrow, as he is not in New York at present.

It is most kind of you to invite him to be your main speaker next December 2. However, he has unfortunately had to make it a general rule not to accept speaking engagements, however attractive they may be, because of the pressure of his broadcasting commitments.

Yours sincerely,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

The North Carolina Literary and Historical Association, Incorporated

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY
POST OFFICE BOX 1881
Raleigh, N. C.

May 20, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

On behalf of the North Carolina Literary and Historical Association, I am writing to invite you to be our main speaker at the 60th annual meeting of this group on Friday evening, December 2, 1960.

As you may know, the Literary and Historical Association has been active in the affairs of North Carolina for a long period. It was the main force in establishing the State Department of Archives and History, the State Library, the State Art Society, and the North Carolina Society for the Preservation of Antiquities. It has sponsored many projects in the literary and historical fields and has conducted literary competitions for North Carolina authors for 47 years.

The annual meeting is held in Raleigh and is attended by about 500 people. The general theme this year is "The Fabulous Fifties of the Nineteenth Century," but it will not be necessary for you to use this if you do not wish. We know that anything you have to say will be of interest to our group and that you will have a good audience not only because you are world reknowned but also because you are one of North Carolina's favorite native sons.

We are enclosing copies of Carolina Comments which tell something of the past few years' annual meetings.

We realize this is well in advance of the meeting to be inviting you, but we also realize how very busy and how much in demand you are and we want to be sure you can come. We offer $300 for honorarium and expenses.

With cordial good wishes, I am

Yours sincerely,

Christopher Crittenden
Secretary

CC:gm enclosures

HONORARY PRESIDENT
LUTHER H. HODGES
GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA

PRESIDENT
HUGH T. LEFLER

VICE PRESIDENTS
HOLLEY MACK BELL
J. R. COVINGTON
MRS. W. GETTYS GUILLE

SECRETARY
CHRISTOPHER CRITTENDEN

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
HUGH DORTCH
MRS. R. O. EVERETT
PAUL GREEN
MRS. QUENTIN GREGORY
MRS. JOHN W. LABOUISSE
BLACKWELL ROBINSON

CAROLINA COMMENTS

VOLUME VIII JANUARY, 1960 NUMBER 5

CONFEDERATE CENTENNIAL COMMISSION

The 1959 General Assembly enacted a bill providing for a Confederate Centennial Commission to make plans for the commemorative period from 1961 to 1965. This Commission is to continue and expand the work already begun by the Association's Civil War Centennial Committee and was established largely through that Committee's efforts. Three of the members of the Commission serve ex officio: the Superintendent of Public Instruction; the Director of the Department of Conservation and Development; and the Director of the Department of Archives and History.

Other members, appointed by the Governor, are as follows: Colonel Hugh Dortch, Chairman, of Goldsboro; Mrs. E. A. Anderson of Charlotte; Judge W. H. S. Burgwyn of Woodland; Mrs. D. S. Coltrane of Raleigh; Mrs. G. W. Cover of Andrews; Mr. Burke Davis of Greensboro; Mrs. Bettie Sue Gardner of Reidsville; Mr. Robert Garvey of Winston-Salem; Dr. W. S. Jenkins of Chapel Hill; Dr. Frontis W. Johnston of Davidson; Mr. H. Fitzhugh Lee of Goldsboro; Dr. Hugh T. Lefler of Chapel Hill; Mr. James S. Lewis, Jr., of Goldsboro; Mrs. Mary Jane McCrary of Brevard; Mr. Hector MacLean of Lumberton; Judge R. Hunt Parker of Raleigh; Mr. John R. Peacock of High Point; Mr. R. F. Hoke Pollock of Southern Pines; Judge William B. Rodman, Jr., of Raleigh; Mr. Reed Sarratt of Winston-Salem; Senator James G. Stikeleather, Jr., of Asheville; Dr. Henry S. Stroupe of Winston-Salem; Mr. Glenn Tucker of Flat Rock; Dr. Robert H. Woody of Durham; and Mr. Thomas H. Wright, Jr., of Wilmington.

The first meeting of this group was held on October 28 at the Hotel Sir Walter in Raleigh. The guest speakers were Mr. Edmund Gass, representing the United States Civil War Centennial Commission, from Washington, D. C., and Mr. James Geary, representing the Virginia Civil War Centennial Commission, from Richmond, Virginia.

Mr. Gass stated that the North Carolina group was one of the most able of the 37 State commissions which have already been set up. He emphasized that the purpose of the United States Commission was to coordinate and publicize the work of the States, but that the latter were to make their own decisions and plans. He showed a movie which told what the United States Commission and the National Park Service are doing in preparation for the centennial.

Mr. Geary spoke of the plans already under way in Virginia. They received a $25,000 annual appropriation from the Virginia legislature for their first two years' operating expenses and they plan to ask their General Assembly for $1,300,000 for the next two years. Virginia is planning to emphasize scholarship among other projects and a commemorative volume of the personal papers and wartime letters of General Robert E. Lee will be published during the observance.

The members of the North Carolina Commission were asked for suggestions and a great many constructive comments were made. Within the next few weeks, the Commission is expected to request operating funds from the Governor and the Council of State, as authorized by law, and will formulate the plans necessary for commemorating the Centennial.

The Executive Committee was appointed and consists of Chairman Hugh Dortch, Secretary Christopher Crittenden, Mrs. E. A. Anderson, Mrs. D. S. Coltrane, Mr. Hector MacLean, Senator James G. Stikeleather, Jr., Dr. Henry S. Stroupe, and Mr. Thomas H. Wright, Jr.

DONORS

Below are listed those who have made loans or gifts to the Department of Archives and History during the four-month period from August 15 to December 15:

ARCHIVES

Mrs. W. Harold Williamson, Washington, D. C.
Allstate Insurance Company, Charlotte
Arlington Terrace, Inc., Rocky Mount
Mrs. Frank Lewis Baer, Washington, D. C.
Miss Cordelia Camp, Asheville
Mr. J. C. B. Ehringhaus, Jr., Raleigh
Mr. Benjamin F. L. Heron, Panama City, Florida
Mr. W. H. Jones, Chapel Hill
Miss Mildred Morgan, Raleigh
Dr. Clarence Poe, Raleigh
Mr. William H. Richardson, Raleigh
Colonel Paul A. Rockwell, Asheville
Mrs. R. J. Rose, Franklinton
Mrs. C. W. Shields, Chapel Hill
Mr. Alexander Walker, Bethesda, Maryland

HALL OF HISTORY

Mrs. James H. Anderson, Raleigh
Mr. John Lee Aycock, Evanston, Illinois
Mr. Earley W. Bridges, Greensboro
Mrs. Florence Drinker, Monte Vista
Mrs. Dorothy Andrews Jackson, Raleigh
Mrs. Thomas W. Porter, Franklin
Mrs. Mary L. Puls, Arlington, Virginia
Mrs. E. C. Rhue, Palmdale, California
Mrs. Herbert A. Rust, Greensboro
Mrs. Russell Sherrill, Raleigh
Mrs. Thomas Stamps, Raleigh
Mrs. Louis Woodward, Raleigh

CAROLINA COMMENTS

VOLUME VIII JANUARY, 1960 NUMBER 5

Published by the State Department of Archives and History, Box 1881, Raleigh, N. C.

Issued to Members of The North Carolina Literary and Historical Association, Incorporated, to Public Libraries, and to Individuals.

GRACE B. MAHLER, Editor

CAROLINA CHARTER TERCENTENARY COMMISSION

The 1959 General Assembly authorized the Carolina Charter Tercentenary Commission, to consist ex officio of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Director of the Department of Conservation and Development, and the Director of the Department of Archives and History and also 22 members to be appointed by the Governor. These have now been appointed, as follows: Mr. Francis E. Winslow of Rocky Mount, Chairman; Mr. Henry Belk of Goldsboro; Mr. Winston Broadfoot of Hillsboro; Dr. H. H. Cunningham of Elon College; Mr. Chalmers G. Davidson of Davidson; Mr. Lambert Davis of Chapel Hill; Mrs. Inglis Fletcher of Edenton; Mr. Paul Green of Chapel Hill, Mr. Grayson Harding of Edenton; Mrs. William Daniel Holmes, Jr., of Edenton; Mrs. Robert Grady Johnson of Burgaw; Mrs. Kauno A. Lehto of Wilmington; Mrs. Harry McMullan of Washington; Mr. James G. W. MacClamroch of Greensboro; Mr. Ben Dixon MacNeill of Buxton; Dr. Paul Murray of Greenville; Dr. Robert H. Spiro, Jr., of Black Mountain; Mr. Gilbert T. Stephenson of Pendleton; Mr. George M. Stephens of Asheville; Mr. David Stick of Kill Devil Hills; Mrs. J. O. Tally, Jr., of Fayetteville; and Senator J. E. Winslow of Hertford.

The Commission held its first meeting on October 15 at the Carolina Hotel in Raleigh. The guest speaker was Mr. Alonzo T. Dill of West Point, Virginia, who gave the background of the celebration of the 350th anniversary of the settlement at Jamestown, which he helped plan and conduct.

Following Mr. Dill's comments, every member of the Commission voiced his or her opinion of the purposes and projects that might be fulfilled during the commemorative period.

An executive committee was appointed by Chairman Winslow to serve with him: Mr. Henry Belk, Dr. H. H. Cunningham, Mr. Lambert Davis, Mr. David Stick, Mrs. Robert Grady Johnson, and Dr. Christopher Crittenden as Secretary.

The executive committee met in Raleigh on December 11. A budget was requested from the Governor and Council of State, from the Contingency and Emergency Fund (as authorized by law), which would cover the operating expenses and the salaries of a director and a secretary for the five-month period from February, 1960, to June, 1960. Necessary office space was also requested.

Also approved at this meeting of the executive committee was the motion that one of the main emphases of the Tercentenary Commission should be to work for a new building to house the Department of Archives and History and that this structure might properly be called the Carolina Charter Building since that document belongs to the State of North Carolina and is now on display in the Hall of History. Dr. Crittenden and Mr. Winslow were authorized to bring this unanimously supported motion to the attention of the Governor and the Council of State and the Commission on Reorganization of State Government.

Definite plans will be made within the next few months as to the conduct of the Tercentenary celebration.

(Hall of History Photo)

Participants in the 1959 annual meeting of The North Carolina Literary and Historical Association in Raleigh included the above speakers. l. to r. Dr. Robert B. House of Chapel Hill; Dr. David J. Rose of Goldsboro; Mr. Henry Belk of Goldsboro, and Mrs. Belk. Other speakers not shown are Professor Richard Walser of Raleigh who made the presidential address, and Dr. John A. Krout of New York City who made the main address.

NEW MEMBERS

At the annual meeting in Raleigh on December 4, Mr. Herbert O'Keef, Chairman of the Membership Committee, reported that the Association's membership numbered 1361. This was an increase of 311 over 1958, and is a very promising sign. We are very glad to welcome all these new members, and we are listing below the 100 who joined The North Carolina Literary and Historical Association in the period August 15 to December 15:

Miss Ruth C. Aleshire, Black Mountain
Mrs. Loraine Anderson, Wilmington
Mrs. L. Y. Ballentine, Raleigh
Mrs. H. Bascom Baucom, Monroe
Mrs. E. K. Bell, Wilmington
Mr. W. Graham Bland, Wilmington

Mrs. R. W. Borchers, Raleigh
Mrs. Graham Barden, New Bern
Mrs. Eleanor Bower, Santa Barbara, California
Mr. and Mrs. James L. Brandt, Raleigh
Mrs. Ethel Blue Britt, Southern Pines
Mrs. William G. Broadfoot, Wilmington
Mr. Leslie H. Brown, Jr., Wilmington
Dr. William M. Brown, Elon College
Miss Mary L. Cantwell, Wilmington
Mr. Ernest James Clark, Jr., Mebane
Mr. A. E. Coon, Lenoir
Mrs. Lyman A. Cotten, Chapel Hill
Mr. Jack Crane, Fayetteville
Miss Lettie Elizabeth Crouch, Mayodan
Mrs. Nancy S. C. Dawson, New York, New York
Mrs. William A. Dees, Jr., Goldsboro
Mrs. W. T. Dixon, Raleigh
Colonel Rex Dowtin, Vandenberg, California
Mrs. J. D. Edwards, Wilmington
Mrs. B. H. Ellington, Fayetteville
Miss Esther Evans, Durham
Mr. and Mrs. W. Ney Evens, Washington, D. C.
Miss Virginia C. Farinholt, Greensboro
Miss Elizabeth C. Field, Asheville
Mrs. Perry H. Gaston, Salisbury
Miss Margaret Ann Goodman, Wilmington
Mr. Jessie C. Griffin, Buies Creek
Mrs. Carl Hagar, Havelock
Miss Ann M. Hargette, Wilmington
Mrs. John W. Harrelson, Raleigh
Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Harris, Raleigh
Mr. Robert J. Harris, Jr., Raleigh
Mrs. Georgia Pearsall Hearne, Greenville
Mrs. Cecil C. Hine, Greensboro
Mrs. Julian A. Hooper, Elizabeth City
Mr. and Mrs. Nelson F. Howard, Tarboro
Mrs. A. F. Hughes, Fayetteville
Mrs. Hill McIver Hunter, Greensboro
Mrs. Benjamin R. Huske, III, Fayetteville
Miss Mildred Johnson, Wilmington
Mr. Bobby F. Jones, Chapel Hill
Mr. Robert Justice, Asheville
Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Layfield, Raleigh
Mrs. Elizabeth C. Levings, Raleigh
Mr. Horace B. Lindsay, Durham
Mrs. Nina Long, Burlington
Mr. George D. Lynch, Asheville
Mr. Crawford B. MacKethan, Fayetteville
Miss Mignon MacMillan, Red Springs
Miss Jane Manning, Raleigh
Mrs. Raymond Maxwell, Raleigh
Miss Betsy Brooks McGee, Wingate
Mr. Henry Bacon McKoy, Greenville, South Carolina
Mr. J. E. Mewborn, Snow Hill
Mrs. Vann Miller, Lexington
Miss Fannie Y. Mitchell, Durham
Mrs. Edward Mordecai, Raleigh
Mrs. R. V. Moss, Raleigh
Mrs. George Newman, Greensboro
Mrs. Margarette H. Old, Norfolk, Virginia
Mrs. Ann Lewis Orgain, Durham
Mr. David L. Palmer, Lawrence, Kansas
Mrs. Josephus Parker, Elm City
Judge and Mrs. R. Hunt Parker, Raleigh
Dr. and Mrs. George W. Paschal, Jr., Raleigh
Mrs. Worthy W. Pendergrass, Moncure
Mrs. I. M. Porter, Jr., Murphy
Miss Annie S. Ramsey, Raleigh
Miss Anne G. Robeson, Salemburg
Mrs. Terry Sanford, Fayetteville
Miss Ruth C. Saunders, Wilson
Dr. W. C. Sealy, Durham
Mrs. Charles Lee Smith, Raleigh
Mr. William D. Snider, Greensboro
Miss Helen F. Taylor, Winnabow
Miss Nettie S. Tillet, Chapel Hill
Mr. S. A. Troy, Jr., Wilmington
Mr. J. E. L. Wade, Wilmington
Mrs. Sidney Ward, Sr., Plymouth
Mr. Alex Warlick, Jr., Jacksonville
Miss Mary Cline Warren, Wilmington
Mrs. William Watson, Raleigh
Mrs. Charles F. Williams, Raleigh
Mr. John Williams, Ashland, Kentucky
Dr. T. Franklin Williams, Chapel Hill
Mrs. Arthur P. Wilson, Kinston

(Hall of History Photo)

Above are three of the recipients of awards presented at the morning session of the 1959 annual meeting. l. to r. Mr. J. A. Kellenberger and Mrs. Kellenberger, winners of the AASLH Award, Dr. Christopher Crittenden, Secretary of the Association and Dr. Frenise A. Logan, winner of the R. D. W. Connor Award.

ANNUAL MEETING

The election of new officers, the presentation of awards, and fine speeches made up the large part of the Association's annual meeting.

New officers elected to serve were as follows: President, Dr. Hugh T. Lefler of the History Department of the University of North Carolina; Vice Presidents: Mr. J. R. Covington of Jefferson Standard Broadcasting Company in Charlotte, Mr. Holley Mack Bell of the Greensboro Daily News, and Mrs. W. Gettys Guille of Salisbury; Secretary, Dr. Christopher Crittenden of Raleigh. Elected to three year terms on the Executive Committee were Mrs. John W. Labouisse of Durham, and Mrs. Quentin Gregory of Halifax.

Winners of the various awards were Mr. Burke Davis of Guilford College who won the Mayflower Award for his work, To Appomattox; Mr. Ernest Frankel of Hendersonville, who won the Sir Walter Raleigh Award for his work, Band of Brothers; Mrs. Corydon Bell of Sapphire, who won the American Association of University Women Award for her book Captain Ghost; Mrs. Olive Tilford Dargan of Asheville, who won the Roanoke-Chowan Award for her book of poems, The Spotted Hawk; Dr. Frenise A. Logan of Greensboro, who received the R. D. W. Connor Award for his article, "The Economic Status of the Town Negro in Post Reconstruction North Carolina"; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kellenberger of Greensboro, who received the American Association for State and Local History Award for the work of the Tryon Palace Commission; and R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company of Winston-Salem, which won the Corporate Citizenship Award.

(Hall of History Photo)

North Carolina's First Lady, Mrs. Luther H. Hodges, unveiling the portrait of Governor Hodges at the 1959 annual meeting in Raleigh.

PORTRAIT

Below is quoted a statement made by Dr. Christopher Crittenden, Director of the State Department of Archives and History, on the occasion of the presentation of the portrait of Governor Luther H. Hodges to the people of the State. The unveiling took place at the annual meeting of the North Carolina Literary and Historical Association on December 4.

Dr. Crittenden first summarized the act passed by the General Assembly of 1955, and then went on:

"This Act, as you will see, was passed during the administration of Governor Luther H. Hodges, and he was the first Governor whose portrait was painted under the provisions of this law.

"The Department of Archives and History, in accordance with the provisions of its basic law, authorizing it to set up advisory committees for the various purposes within its general field of operation, appointed an Advisory Committee on the Governor's Portrait, as follows: Honorable H. Cloyd Philpott of Lexington, member of the House of Representatives; Dr. Robert Lee Humber of Greenville, State Senator; Mr. George Geoghegan of Raleigh; Mrs. Elizabeth House Hughey, our State Librarian; and Mr. Charles Stanford, of our North Carolina Museum of Art. . . .

"The Committee was told at the beginning that the Governor would prefer a North Carolina artist, all things being equal, but he wanted them to have an entirely free hand in the selection of the artist, and it proceeded accordingly. It held several meetings, considering samples of portraits submitted from portrait painters in various parts of the United States. Through a process of elimination, the Committee eventually decided to employ a distinguished portrait painter of national reputation for this purpose, and he was unanimously selected. The Department of Archives and History approved this unanimous recommendation, and a contract was entered into with the artist. We have him here with us tonight, and it will be my pleasure to introduce him to you in a moment.

"We will now have the unveiling of the portrait by the First Lady of North Carolina, Mrs. Luther H. Hodges.

"I am pleased to announce that the Council of State today decided that the portrait will be placed in the Executive Mansion along with the portraits of many of our Governors."

Mrs. Hodges then unveiled the portrait and it remained on display during the rest of the evening's festivities.

The artist, Mr. Albert Murray of New York, was then introduced and he spoke a few words of appreciation for all the cooperation he had received.

CAROLINA COMMENTS

VOLUME VII NOVEMBER, 1958—JANUARY, 1959 NUMBERS 4 & 5

GOVERNOR HODGES

At the evening session of the annual meeting of The North Carolina Literary and Historical Association, Friday, December 5, Luther H. Hodges, Governor of North Carolina and the Association's Honorary President, in presenting the Corporate Citizenship Award made the following remarks:

"May I congratulate all of the groups, the Literary and Historical Association and all the other Culture Week associations and societies that have met here this week. I think it is a wonderful thing for North Carolina. It means a very great deal to our life and I would just like to say, 'More power to all of those who have been meeting this week and who meet each year in December.'

"I have found in talking to people who may be interested in either moving to North Carolina to live as individuals or moving an industry here, that they are very much interested in education and art and music and antiquities and the preservation of historic shrines—the things that are over and beyond land and water and labor and dollars—and that interest is growing, and I am proud that North Carolina is ready for that kind of corporate citizen who is concerned with these things I have mentioned.

"I have not said this before, but I hope that somewhere along the line, someone, some corporate group, or the State, will create a beautiful building. I hope that it will be in the territory toward where the Governor's Mansion is, in that block of which the State now already owns one-half, and that we will have a beautiful building that will house our Art Museum, our Department of Archives and History, our Museum of Natural History, our State Library, and that all of you people who are here this week and who have been coming here each December for years will have a place of which you will be very proud to go for your meetings. I'm sure we can do it and if anybody would like to make a contribution for the whole building we will be glad to talk about it.

"I mentioned that corporations as well as corporate officers who are interested in this State want to know what we are doing, and because of that development, that new thinking, it seems to me, Ladies and Gentlemen, that the practice that has been begun by this Association of giving a Corporate Citizenship Award is a very fine thing indeed, because if a corporate citizen can tie together the business community and the cultural and educational development of the community, then that means great things in the future for this already great State.

"It is my honor tonight in the name of the Association to make this presentation, and I should like to ask Mr. D. A. Rawley of High Point if he will come forward at this time.

"We are making this award to The High Point Enterprise of High Point, North Carolina, a newspaper. Mrs. Terry; their distinguished Editor, Mr. Holt McPherson; and others in that organization have done much to help develop one of the leading schools of journalism in America; namely the University of North Carolina School of Journalism. They have promoted in their communities good understanding. They have promoted European travel by many people so that better understanding may be had between this country and other peoples. In their own community, which is a furniture community, they have had prepared and put on by the High Point College people, a play giving the history of this great industry. They have developed and maintained racial relations of a very high order in this community of North Carolina and it gives me very great pleasure, Mr. Rawley, in behalf of the Literary and Historical Association, to present this Corporate Citizenship Award to The High Point Enterprise for distinguished service to the people of the community and of the State during the past year."

This issue of Carolina Comments incorporates two issues in one. They are Numbers 4 and 5 of Volume VII, November and January.

NEWS AND FEATURE STORIES

As is known, Culture Week this year aroused more interest and was more widely attended than ever before. One of the reasons for this was the fine publicity and coverage given to all the groups by newspapers, radio and TV organizations in the State. The news media were able to do this because advance information was supplied them with copies of speeches, pictures, and background data.

If any of your historical societies—county or local—have items of general interest it will be appreciated if you will send the stories to Box 1881, Raleigh, with accompanying photographs, and this office will in turn relay the information to the AP and UPI. Examples of stories which may be used are restorations, pageants, museum displays, and items of like nature.

CAROLINA COMMENTS

VOLUME VII NOVEMBER, 1958—JANUARY, 1959 NUMBERS 4 & 5

Published by the State Department of Archives and History, Box 1881, Raleigh, N. C.

Issued to Members of The North Carolina Literary and Historical Association, Incorporated, to Public Libraries, and to Individuals.

GRACE B. MAHLER, Editor

DONORS

Below are listed those who have made loans or gifts to the Department of Archives and History during the four-month period from August 15 to December 15.

ARCHIVES

Mr. W. F. Alexander, Harrisburg
Mr. James J. Banks, Orlando, Florida
Mrs. James Ball, Kilmarnock, Virginia
Mrs. J. Marshall Barber, Raleigh
Mr. H. L. Barrow, Raleigh
Mrs. Blanche Browder, Laurel, Maryland
Mr. Carol Cannon, Raleigh
Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Carter, Raleigh
Mr. Harold John Dane, Boca Raton, Florida
Mr. T. P. de Graffenried, Douglaston, Long Island, New York
Mr. Foster Edwards, Wilmington
Mrs. A. J. Fletcher, Tuesday Afternoon Book Club, Raleigh
Mrs. W. W. Geggie, Hampton, Virginia
Mr. Benjamin Grady, Washington, D. C.
Mrs. Ann Crittenden Griffiths, Raleigh
Mr. Marshall B. Hartsfield, Raleigh
Mrs. William Hester, Reidsville
Mr. Philip Homer, Washington, D. C.
Mrs. R. Grady Johnson, Burgaw
Colonel Gordon C. Jones, Mt. Holly, New Jersey
Mr. McDaniel Lewis, Greensboro
Mrs. Stafford Lightburne, San Antonio, Texas
Mrs. Zeno Martin, Raleigh
Mr. Louis T. Moore, Wilmington
North Carolina State Library, Raleigh
Mr. Kennon W. Parham, Raleigh
Dr. Clarence Poe, Raleigh
Office Synod of North Carolina Presbyterian Churches in the United States, Raleigh
Mrs. Elizabeth S. Reece, Winston-Salem
Colonel Paul Ayres Rockwell, Asheville
Mrs. R. J. Rose, Franklinton
Mrs. Charles G. Rummel, Kenilworth, Illinois
Mr. A. R. Smith, Lions International Club, Boone
Mrs. L. W. Southerland, Fayetteville
Mr. Charles A. Tucker, Warrenton
United Daughters of the Confederacy, D. H. Hill Chapter, Elizabeth City
Director, Division of Naval History, U. S. Department of the Navy, Washington, D. C.
Mr. Alexander McDonald Walker, Bethesda, Maryland
Mrs. Guy Withers, Washington, D. C.

HALL OF HISTORY

Mrs. Charles B. Aycock, Kinston
Mr. John L. Aycock, Evanston, Illinois
Mrs. William B. Aycock, Raleigh
Mrs. Margaret Johnson Patterson Bartlett, Greeneville, Tennessee
Mr. Earley W. Bridges, Greensboro
Miss Julia F. Coke, Raleigh
Mr. A. H. Craft, Kinston
Mr. James L. Fish, Apex
Mr. C. L. Futrell, Cary
Mr. Kirby S. Gupton, Louisburg
Mrs. L. P. McLendon, Greensboro
Mr. J. E. Mewborn, Snow Hill
Mr. Kennon W. Parham, Raleigh
Mrs. Clarence Poe, Raleigh
Miss Mabel Pugh, Raleigh

CULTURE WEEK

Culture Week, 1958, was the best attended and it attracted the most attention since the "Week" was begun in 1913 when the Folklore Society joined with The Literary and Historical Association in holding their annual meetings concurrently. Previous to that time, the Literary and Historical Association, since 1900, had held their meetings alone. The North Carolina State Art Society came into the week in 1926, The North Carolina Society for the Preservation of Antiquities in 1939, The North Carolina Symphony Society in 1945, The North Carolina Society of County Historians in 1947, the Society of Mayflower Descendants in North Carolina in 1948, The Roanoke Island Historical Association in 1951, The North Carolina Poetry Society in 1954, The Historical Book Club of North Carolina in 1955, and The North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs in 1957. From time to time other groups have also met concurrently.

Hall of History Photo

Standing before the Andrew Johnson Birthplace, located in Pullen Park, Raleigh, are from left to right: William G. Enloe, Mayor of the City of Raleigh, E. C. Daniel of Zebulon, President Harry S. Truman, and Governor Luther H. Hodges.

Each year the interest in Culture Week has been more widespread and its worth more noted. Some of the highlights which brought members and friends to Raleigh over and above interest in the speeches are the following:

The Southern premiere of Hunter Johnson's "Trio for Flute, Oboe, and Piano" was performed before the Federation of Music Clubs on Tuesday, December 2. Mr. Johnson is a native of Benson in Johnston County. He has won the Prix de Rome and twice has won Guggenheim Fellowships. His most recent award came last spring when the National Institute of Arts and Letters awarded him a grant of $1,500 for "distinguished service to American creative music." His work was well received and he, as an internationally recognized North Carolinian, was honored by the group.

The presentation of the Purchase Awards to North Carolina artists by the North Carolina Art Society is an event which annually attracts attention. There were more than 350 entries and of these some 49 were chosen to go on display at the Museum. Four painters and one sculptor won the 1958 competition. The winners were James Bumgardner of Winston-Salem, John Gordon of Greenville, Robert A. Howard of Chapel Hill, and Anne Mercer Kesler of Greensboro.

The awarding of the Cannon Cups by The North Carolina Society for the Preservation of Antiquities to those who had performed great service in the field of preservation during the year was looked forward to with great interest and the following North Carolinians were the recipients: Mr. and Mrs. William D. Campbell of Southern Pines, Mr. and Mrs. Gettys Guille of Salisbury, Governor and Mrs. Luther H. Hodges of Raleigh, James G. W. MacClamroch of Greensboro, and D. Hiden Ramsey of Asheville.

Also at the Antiquities meeting was held the first performance of "The Uncommon Man," by Jack Suberman—written in Raleigh about a Raleigh subject; produced and performed in Raleigh by Raleigh individuals—a play about Andrew Johnson, 17th President of the United States, born in Raleigh in 1808. The first act of the production played to a crowded auditorium and was very well received.

Hall of History Photo

North Carolina's First Lady, Mrs. Luther H. Hodges, and President Truman are shown receiving at the Governor's tea on December 5.

Friday, December 5, had as two of its highlights the reception for members of the various societies at the Governor's Mansion in the afternoon and the address by President Harry S. Truman (to be included in the April issue of The North Carolina Historical Review) at the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium at the evening session of the Literary and Historical Association. Both were well attended. Some 600 people were received at the Mansion by Governor and Mrs. Hodges, President and Mrs. Truman, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Daniel of Zebulon, and the heads of the twelve societies participating in Culture Week.

Hall of History Photo

Members of the various societies are shown in the main hall of the Governor's Mansion during the afternoon tea.

At the evening session more than 3,000 members and friends came to hear President Truman make an address on "The Most Mistreated of Presidents," Andrew Johnson.

Also on Friday the annual meeting of the North Carolina Folklore Society presented a program of Scottish music and dancing to a capacity crowd.

Saturday's events highlighted the awarding of the Smithwick cup for the best newspaper article on a historical subject to F. C. Salisbury of Morehead City and the Hodges Cup for the high school student writing and publishing the best article on a historical subject to David C. McLenmore of Garland. These awards were made at the meeting of the North Carolina Society of County and Local Historians.

SIR WALTER RALEIGH COMMISSION

At the Friday morning session of the Literary and Historical Association, Dr. Robert Lee Humber reported briefly for the Sir Walter Raleigh Commission. He stated that a campaign to raise funds to erect a statue to Raleigh in North Carolina's Capital City had been launched early in the present century by General Julian S. Carr of Durham; that several thousand dollars had been collected, largely the contributions of school children; that much of this sum had been lost in a bank failure during the depression of the 'thirties; that a new campaign a few years ago had raised several thousand dollars more for the purpose; and that we now have on hand a total of some $7,000. Dr. Humber reported that the Commission had recently been reactivated and had held a meeting and that plans were in the making to carry this long-delayed project through to successful fruition.

NEW OFFICERS

The election of new officers for 1959 was held at the annual business meeting of the Association. At that time Professor Richard Walser of the English Department of North Carolina State College was elected as President.

Professor Walser is the editor of four collections, North Carolina Poetry, North Carolina in the Short Story, North Carolina Drama, and The Enigma of Thomas Wolfe. He is the biographer of Inglis Fletcher and Bernice Kelly Harris and author of numerous articles and booklets on North Carolina writers and writing. He was the recipient in 1957 of a Guggenheim Fellowship.

Our new President has served in many capacities in the Association—as chairman of the Awards Committee for several years, as founder and chairman of the Committee on Unwritten Books, as a vice-president, on the Executive Committee, on the Sir Walter Raleigh Board of Award, and in other capacities. He is also active in The North Carolina Poetry Society and the Society of Mayflower Descendants in the State of North Carolina.

Other officers who were elected are:

Vice President—John Fries Blair of Winston-Salem, active member for many years in the affairs of your Association as well as in many other civic and cultural groups, publisher of the works of many North Carolina authors, one of whom, Ben Dixon MacNeill, won the Mayflower Award this year for The Hatterasman.

Vice President—Mrs. E. R. MacKethan of Fayetteville, particularly active in the work of our Association and the Cumberland County Historical Association, also in the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Mrs. MacKethan is the writer of a weekly column in The Fayetteville Observer.

Vice President—Glenn Tucker of Flat Rock, retired newspaperman and feature writer, now an orchard owner and author of several books, one of which, Tecumseh, Vision of Glory, won the 1956 Mayflower Award.

Executive Committee—Blackwell Robinson of the History Department of Woman's College in Greensboro, author of The North Carolina Guide and William R. Davie.

Executive Committee—Mrs. R. O. Everett of Durham, past president of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and active worker in the field of history throughout the State.

Secretary—Christopher Crittenden of Raleigh, Director of the Department of Archives and History and secretary-treasurer for this Association for 23 years.

1958 AWARDS

At the annual meeting of the Association seven awards were announced.

The second annual presentation of the Corporate Citizenship Award was made by Governor Hodges to The High Point Enterprise and was received by Mr. David A. Rawley, President of that company. The Association makes this award to a North Carolina business firm which is adjudged to have made the greatest contribution to cultural activities in the State during the year. The 1958 Board of Award consisted of Samuel M. Berry, Atlanta, Georgia, of the National Association of Manufacturers; Fred L. Rath, Jr., Cooperstown, New York, of the American Association for State and Local History; Lester Flesner, Washington, D. C., Chamber of Commerce of the United States; John G. Barrett, Lexington, Virginia, of the Southern Historical Association.

Other awards presented through the Association were as follows:

The R. D. W. Connor Award given for the best article on a North Carolina subject included in The North Carolina Historical Review was presented to H. H. Cunningham of Elon College. The award is made annually by The Historical Society of North Carolina and was presented by Marvin L. Skaggs of Greensboro, Secretary of that society. The award-winning article is "Edmund Burke Haywood and Raleigh's Confederate Hospitals," in the April, 1958, Review. The judges for this year's contest were Harold Parker of Duke University, James W. Patton of the University of North Carolina, and Marvin L. Skaggs of Greensboro College.

The American Association for State and Local History Award was presented by Herbert O'Keef of Raleigh to the Goldsboro Junior Tar Heels. Close to 100 students were on hand to receive the award. It was made to them for the very fine work their group has done in the field of State and local history in the past year.

The American Association of University Women Award for juvenile literature was presented to Mrs. Ina B. Forbus of Chapel Hill by Dr. Leslie Syron of Raleigh, North Carolina President of the A.A.U.W. Mrs. Forbus received the award for her book, The Secret Circle, published by Viking Press. The judges for this award are the same as those who judge the Roanoke-Chowan and Sir Walter Raleigh Awards and are as follows: Frontis W. Johnston and James Purcell of Davidson College; Mrs. Albert Lathrop and Miss Margaret H. Ligon of Asheville; and Graydon P. Eggers of Appalachian State Teachers College, Boone.

The recipient of the Roanoke-Chowan Cup for the best work of poetry by a North Carolinian in the past year was Paul Bartlett of Charlotte for his work Moods and Memories, published by Heritage House of Charlotte. Mrs. Gilbert T. Stephenson of Pendleton, one of the guiding lights in the Roanoke-Chowan Group which makes the award, presented it to Mr. Bartlett.

The Sir Walter Raleigh Award for the best work on non-fiction and presented each year by The Historical Book Club of North Carolina was handed by President Truman to Miss Betty Smith of Chapel Hill. Miss Clara Booth Byrd of Greensboro announced that Miss Smith's book, Maggie-Now, published by Harper and Brothers, was the 1958 winner.

President Truman also presented the Mayflower Cup to the writer of the best work of fiction of the year, Ben Dixon MacNeill of Cape Hatteras for his book The Hatterasman, published by John Fries Blair of Winston-Salem. Mrs. Preston B. Wilkes of Charlotte, Governor of the Society of Mayflower Descendants in the State of North Carolina, announced the award. The judges of this competition were Lodwick Hartley and Stuart Noblin of North Carolina State College, Gilbert T. Stephenson of Pendleton, Roy Parker, Jr., of Ahoskie, and D. J. Whitener of Boone.

REPORT OF CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE

At the morning session Colonel Hugh Dortch of Goldsboro, Chairman of The Civil War Centennial Committee of this Association, read a paper on the objectives and aims of his group. This committee is made up of 56 leading citizens of North Carolina and held its first meeting on October 10 in Raleigh. That meeting was very successful and it elected a slate of ten to serve on the Executive Committee. It was also at that meeting that a resolution was adopted by the Committee to be sent to the 1959 General Assembly. The resolution is as follows:

"Whereas, that War [the War between the States] was the greatest test our country ever faced, built of the heroism and endurance that were drawn from men and women of both sections by devotion to principles valued more than life itself, and the loss, the gain, and the experience itself are a common national possession, and

"Whereas, our ancestors, having fought to the limit of endurance for four years, when the fighting ended closed ranks and ever since have stood firmly together, fighting side by side, when occasion has demanded, and

"Whereas, it is just and right that the people of the State of North Carolina, remembering the valor and sacrifice of its sons, who fought and died for principles which they believed eternal, and the sons of other states who also made the supreme sacrifice for their convictions, should commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of The War between the States, and

"Whereas, a National Commission has been established to plan for and conduct appropriate programs in connection with the approaching Centennial of the many important events of the Civil War, and

"Whereas, many States of the Union have established agencies to conduct such programs, and

"Whereas, the Congress of the United States has appropriated $100,000 annually, the State of Virginia $25,000 annually, and other states have made comparable appropriations for this purpose, and

"Whereas, the State of North Carolina contributed more men to the Southern cause, and suffered heavier losses, than did any other State.

Now Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Civil War Centennial Committee of The North Carolina Literary and Historical Association:

"1. That it is fitting and proper that the State of North Carolina and its people participate fully in the proposed Civil War Centennial Programs.

"2. That the General Assembly of North Carolina is hereby respectfully requested to authorize the appointment of a state-wide commission for this purpose.

"3. That the General Assembly is respectfully requested to make an appropriation toward this end of $25,000 annually for the 1959-1961 biennium."

The Executive Committee is made up of Colonel Hugh Dortch, Chairman, Goldsboro; Mr. William R. Britt, Smithfield; Mrs. D. S. Coltrane, Raleigh; Mr. Paul Green, Chapel Hill; Dr. Robert Lee Humber, Greenville; Mrs. Ernest L. Ives, Southern Pines; Mr. Hector McLean, Lumberton; Mr. McDaniel Lewis, Greensboro; Mr. Herbert E. O'Keef, Raleigh; and Mr. J. R. Peacock, High Point.

Colonel Dortch's report at the annual meeting went on to tell some of the practical and definite ways that the Centennial can be commemorated in this State. They are: 1. By locating and preserving valuable documents. 2. By encouraging and sponsoring research and publication. 3. By developing promotion and publicity. 4. By arranging memorial observances.

He gave two of the purposes for North Carolina's participation in the observances as follows:

"1. To make our people conscious of their great and noble history, to see that they are cognizant of the heritage that is theirs.

"2. To obtain for our State its share of the tremendous tourist business that will develop in connection with these observances. We do not wish in any way to cheapen or commercialize the commemoration but it has been proved by "The Lost Colony," "Unto These Hills," and other similar performances that a high standard of drama and patriotism can be maintained while at the same time large numbers of tourists can be attracted."

Colonel Dortch's complete speech will be included in the April Review.

NEW MEMBERS

We are glad to welcome 93 new members who have joined The North Carolina Literary and Historical Association in the period from August 15 to December 15.

ANNUAL MEMBERS

Miss Nettie Grace Abernethy, Washington, D. C.
Miss Stella Anderson, West Jefferson
Mrs. Reuben D. Baughn, Mayodan
Mrs. Carl Brinkley, Lexington
Mr. Sidney D. Britt, Bladenboro
Mr. Roy M. Brown, Chapel Hill
Mr. James F. Chesnutt, Clinton
Mrs. Henry C. Cline, Hickory
Mr. Owen S. Connelly, Jr., Chapel Hill
Mrs. A. M. Cornwell, Lincolnton
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Correll, Raleigh
Miss Nancy Crockett, Lancaster, South Carolina
Dr. Richard N. Current, Greensboro
Miss Gladys Currin, Raleigh
Mr. Claude Currie, Durham
Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Daniels, Raleigh
Mr. Jan Davidson, Murphy
Miss Harriette E. Davis, Kinston
Dr. Rachel D. Davis, Kinston
Mr. and Mrs. Emery B. Denny, Raleigh
Mrs. H. J. Dockery, Wadesboro
Mrs. Harold J. Dudley, Raleigh
Mr. Aaron H. Farnell, Jacksonville
Mr. Joe Lee Frank, Jr., Ahoskie
Mrs. Roger Gant, Burlington
Mr. Willard Gatewood, Greenville
Mr. A. B. Gibson, Laurinburg
Miss Grace Evelyn Gibson, Laurinburg
Mr. Charles F. Gold, Raleigh
Mrs. L. O. Gregory, Raleigh
Mr. E. K. Hartley, Albemarle
Mr. Thomas M. Hearne, Albemarle
Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Hill, III, Brevard
Mrs. Rena Hoover, Boone
Miss Katherine Howell, Wilmington
Judge Howard H. Hubbard, Clinton
Mr. Edwin B. Hunt, Lexington
Mrs. Isaac Hurwitz, Clinton
Institute of Government, Chapel Hill
Dr. Chester F. Lay, Dallas, Texas
Mr. Tucker R. Littleton, Swansboro
Mrs. Edwin R. MacKethan, Fayetteville
Mr. Henry J. MacMillan, Wilmington
Mrs. Maude T. McCormick, McDonald
Mrs. Carl W. McMurray, Marion
Mrs. Sam McPheeters, Goldsboro
Dr. Sam McPheeters, Goldsboro
Dr. William M. Mann, Enfield
Mrs. Joseph C. Mason, Winston-Salem
Mrs. R. M. Middleton, Lexington
Mrs. J. P. Morgan, Farmville
Mrs. Fred W. Morrison, Washington, D. C.
Mr. G. Lynn Nisbet, Raleigh
Reverend and Mrs. A. C. D. Noe, Bath
Dr. and Mrs. J. W. R. Norton, Raleigh
Mr. and Mrs. Doc R. Oliver, Pine Level
Miss Geneva Paxton, Brevard
Mrs. Elbert M. Peel, Williamston
Mrs. Jefferson Penn, Reidsville
Mr. Robert Karl Peterson, Washington, D. C.
Mr. Wade H. Phillips, Lexington
Mrs. Julian C. Powell, Hertford
Mr. Guy W. Rawls and Mrs. Alber A. Rawls, Raleigh
Mrs. Marmaduke Robins, Greensboro
Mr. Conway J. Rose, Goldsboro
Miss Ida Carrie Seale, Bay Pines, Florida
Mr. Fred A. Smith, Raleigh
Major Robert L. Stallings, New Bern
Mrs. T. L. Stephens, Greensboro
Mr. R. L. Stowe, Jr., Belmont
Mrs. J. O. Tally, Jr., Fayetteville
Miss Mary P. Taylor, Wake Forest
Mr. Raymond M. Taylor, Washington
Mr. Glenn M. Tucker, Carolina Beach
Mr. E. R. Tyler, Durham
Miss Evelyn Underwood, Chapel Hill
Mr. and Mrs. Donnell Van Noppen, Morganton
Mrs. Edgar White, Oxford
Mrs. Roy L. Yelverton, Raleigh
Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Zenke, Greensboro

LIFE MEMBERS

Mrs. Elizabeth Dillard Reynolds, Winston-Salem
Mr. John Dillard Reynolds, Winston-Salem
Mr. William Neal Reynolds, II, Winston-Salem

MAYFLOWER WINNER

Mr. Ben Dixon MacNeill of Cape Hatteras was the recipient of the twenty-eighth annual Mayflower Society Cup for his work of non-fiction, The Hatterasman. This cup, which has been awarded by the Society of Mayflower Descendants in the State of North Carolina since 1931, was presented to Mr. MacNeill by President Truman. Mr. MacNeill, in accepting the cup, made the following remarks:

"Mr. President, my joy in this golden trophy is heightened by the fortune which permits me to take it from the hand of one of the foremost citizens of the world. To you, sir, to Mrs. Preston B. Wilkes, our gracious matron of letters, and to the committee of scholars whose judgement was kind to me, all thanks."

These remarks were particularly appropriate, for on October 18, 1905, the Patterson Cup, the first of the literary awards made through the North Carolina Literary and Historical Association, was presented to Mr. MacNeill's uncle, John Charles MacNeill, by President Theodore Roosevelt. The above quotation was taken from John Charles MacNeill's acceptance with the name of the lady being Mrs. Lindsay Patterson, the donor of the Patterson Cup.

CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE MEETING

Tentative plans for a conference to be held in Chapel Hill on February 28 have been announced. This conference will deal with the Civil War Centennial commemoration and will be attended by the members of the Association's Civil War Centennial Committee as well as by others from North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana.

The proposed plans call for an opening address at a luncheon by Dr. Bell I. Wiley, Head of the History Department of Emory University and a leading member of the United States Civil War Centennial Commission. There will then be a panel discussion by the group on various aspects of the proposed observances. This panel will discuss the positive steps that can be taken during the commemoration years in the fields of archives, manuscripts, and the travel industry. The meeting will continue through the afternoon.

COMMITTEE OF 1963

At the morning business session of the Association Dr. Crittenden spoke briefly of the great potentialities of the year 1963, which will mark the 300th anniversary of the granting by King Charles II of England to eight favorites of the charter for Carolina. The area, enlarged by the revised charter of 1665, Dr. Crittenden pointed out, included all the land from Virginia to and including a part of present-day Florida and from the Atlantic Ocean westward to the Pacific. This takes in all or parts of no less than 16 States of the Union, including nearly all of Texas and the southern third of California and also the northern part of Mexico. A great celebration can and ought to be held, and it is planned to ask the General Assembly at its next session to authorize a commission for this purpose.

HONORARY LIFE MEMBERS

At the luncheon session of the Literary and Historical Association on December 5, eight individuals were honored as honorary life members in the Association. The first honorary member was elected in 1907—James Bryce,—but the practice was not kept up in ensuing years. Paul Green, chairman of the honorary membership committee, announced the names of these people who have had so much to do with North Carolina's history, by writing it, by living it, and by making it.

Mrs. Jacques Busbee of Seagrove and Jugtown was present to receive a certificate in recognition of her and her husband's long years of work in keeping alive old crafts and folk arts at Jugtown, as well as collecting and preserving antiquities and books and museum pieces.

Mr. Burnham S. Colburn of Biltmore Forest was not present at the meeting, but Mr. Green commended Mr. Colburn on his work in initiating and making possible the Mayflower Cup for literature which has done much to encourage writing and publishing in this State.

Mr. D. L. Corbitt of Raleigh was present and was so honored by the group for his work as head of the Publications Division of the Department of Archives and History for a third of a century and for his work in the Association, notably his efforts in establishing several dozen local historical societies throughout the State.

Dr. J. G. deRoulhac Hamilton of Chapel Hill was not present but was honored for his more than half a century of service to the State as a teacher, author of many valuable works of history, and as founder and for many years the head of the great Southern Historical Collection at the University of North Carolina. Dr. Hamilton was President of the Association from 1919 to 1920.

Hall of History Photo

Shown above is the annual luncheon of The North Carolina Literary and Historical Association. In the foreground are Mrs. D. J. Whitener and Dr. Whitener, President of the Association in 1958.

Dr. Archibald Henderson of Chapel Hill could not be present but Mr. Green listed some of his contributions to the State as a distinguished historian, biographer, mathematician, and literrateur. Dr. Henderson was President of the Association from 1913 to 1914.

Dr. Robert Burton House of Chapel Hill was present and in accepting his certificate rendered a selection of "Old Susanna" for the group on his harmonica, one of his many accomplishments. Some of the services for which Dr. House was honored were his long record as administrator, teacher, archivist, dean, Chancellor at The University of North Carolina, author, and as former head of the State Historical Commission. Dr. House was Secretary of the Association from 1920 to 1926 and was President of the group from 1945 to 1946.

Dr. Walter Clinton Jackson of Greensboro was honored for his work as administrator, inspiring teacher and author and for his work as President of the Association from 1923 to 1924. He was not present at the luncheon.

Dr. Clarence Poe of Raleigh was not present but Mr. Green listed some of his well-known services to the State as his leadership in agricultural progress, as a pioneer and leader of many forward looking movements in the State, and for his 50 years as Editor of The Progressive Farmer. Dr. Poe also served as Secretary of the Literary and Historical Association in the years from 1903 to 1912 and as President of the group from 1914 to 1915.

Hall of History Photo

Richard Sawyer, left, historic sites specialist of the State Department of Archives and History, and Charles Brantley Aycock of Kinston discuss the silver service given the late Governor Aycock by the teachers of North Carolina. The silver service is now on exhibit in the Hall of History.

NEW DISPLAY

On display in the Hall of History is the silver service which was given to Governor Charles Brantley Aycock in 1905 by the teachers of North Carolina. Each piece of the service is inscribed with the words: "Charles Brantley Aycock, The Educational Governor. 1901-1905. From the Teachers of North Carolina," and was presented to him "as a token of the warm esteem which the teaching profession feels for the man who has done so much for the cause of education and the revival of interest in the schools' progress and development."

The service has been given to the State by Governor Aycock's children. The children and the items which they contributed are: Charles Brantley Aycock of Kinston, the coffee pot which he is holding in the picture shown to the left; Mrs. Clarence Poe of Raleigh, the tea kettle; Mrs. William B. Aycock of Raleigh (a member of the family by marriage), the teapot; Mrs. L. P. McLendon of Greensboro, the waste bowl; and John L. Aycock of Evanston, Illinois, the cream pitcher and sugar bowl.

On display in the Ante-Bellum Room of the Hall of History are the fashions of the Victorian era. Nine models are dressed in the bustles and long sweeping trains of the period and the scene is of a salon in which the accessories and styles are displayed. Shown with the dresses are the hats, shoes, jewelry, pocketbooks and gloves that were in vogue at the time.

Also exhibited in this display is a picture, artist unknown, which shows a pastoral scene done with different colors and types of moss. This picture dates also from the Victorian period.

CAROLINA COMMENTS

VOLUME VI JANUARY, 1958 NUMBER 5

Hall of History Photo

Corporate Citizenship Award. Shown, left to right, are J. R. Covington, receiving the award for Jefferson Standard Broadcasting Company; Christopher Crittenden, Secretary of the Association, and Hugh Morton, who presented the award on behalf of the Association.

FIRST AWARD RECIPIENT

J. R. Covington, vice-president of Jefferson Standard Broadcasting Company and secretary of the Jefferson Standard Foundation, accepted the first annual Corporate Citizenship Award for his company at the evening session of the Association's annual meeting.

Hugh Morton, real estate and promotion man of Wilmington and Linville, presented the award and gave a brief resume of those things which made the company superior in the judgement of the Board of Award. These included the four-year scholarships extended to two undergraduates in the radio and television fields, one at State College and one at the University; the program of contributions to worthy organizations in Charlotte and the rest of the State; the employee-employer relationship; and the over-all policy of educational and social awareness.

The judges, in choosing Jefferson Standard, pointed out that the choice was difficult since each of the eleven companies make great contributions to their community and also to the State. The choice was a hard one, and it was the consensus of the judges that North Carolina was indeed fortunate to have these corporations and firms located within its boundaries.

OFFICERS FOR NEW YEAR

The Nominating Committee presented a new slate of officers for 1958 to the business session of the annual meeting, and the following were unanimously elected:

As honorary president, Governor Luther H. Hodges of Raleigh.

As president, Dr. D. J. Whitener, a Dean of Appalachian State Teachers College at Boone.

As vice presidents—Mr. Henry Belk, Editor of the Goldsboro News-Argus; Mr. Herbert O'Keef, Editor of the Raleigh Times; Mrs. Wilma D. Stokely, author, of Asheville.

As secretary-treasurer, Dr. Christopher Crittenden, Director of the State Department of Archives and History.

As members of the executive committee—Mrs. John G. Burgwyn, author, of Jackson; Colonel Hugh Dortch, attorney at law of Goldsboro; Mr. Paul Green, author and playwright, of Chapel Hill.

Mrs. Burgwyn was elected to fill the unexpired term of Thurmond Chatham who was elected for the period 1956-1958 and whose place has been vacant since his death last spring.

Colonel Dortch will be a member of the committee for the years 1958-1960, succeeding Mrs. Lillian Parker Wallace of Meredith College.

Mr. Green will succeed Dr. William H. Cartwright of Duke University for the term 1958-1960.

NEW MEMBERS

We are glad to welcome 18 new members who have joined The North Carolina Literary and Historical Association in the period from October 15 to December 15.

James E. Bristol, Andrews
Mrs. Rufus T. Carr, Lawrence, Long Island, New York
Leonard George Corby, Winston-Salem
Mrs. Braxton Jones, Alexandria, Virginia
Robert A. Jones, Winston-Salem
Mrs. John H. Little, Pinetops
Mrs. Alex D. McLennon, Atlanta, Georgia
James F. Peacock, Benson
Robert M. Peatross, Raleigh
Charles L. Price, Greenville
St. Louis Public Library, St. Louis, Missouri
Mrs. Sarah Jane Starnes, Asheville
William Blount Stewart, Washington, D. C.
Mrs. W. F. Taylor, Goldsboro
Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Van Noppen, Boone
Mrs. Nell Wise Wechter, Greensboro
Mrs. Wesley R. Willis, Farmville

CAROLINA COMMENTS

VOLUME VI JANUARY, 1958 NUMBER 5

Published by the State Department of Archives and History, Box 1881, Raleigh, N. C.

Issued to Members of The North Carolina Literary and Historical Association, Incorporated, to Public Libraries, and to Individuals.

GRACE B. MAHLER, Editor

Hall of History Photo

Members of the staff of the Department of Archives and History who served at the annual meeting reception are left to right: Mrs. Earl T. Wilborn, Mrs. Rebecca Knight Clegg, Mrs. Fannie Memory Blackwelder, Miss Barbara Lloyd, Mrs. William Kuhn, and Miss Ann Kilby.

COOPERATION

The Literary and Historical Association was in large part responsible for the establishment in 1903 of the North Carolina Historical Commission (now the North Carolina Department of Archives and History). Now the members of the staff of Archives and History are in large part responsible for the success of the Association's share of "Culture Week." Throughout the year the two organizations are closely allied, and during the Association's annual meeting the cooperation is most in evidence.

H. G. Jones, State Archivist, was in charge of the physical arrangements for the morning meeting. W. S. Tarlton, Head of the Division of Historic Sites, was in charge of the luncheon session. Miss Barbara McKeithan of the Hall of History was responsible for arrangements at the dinner meeting. Miss Beth Crabtree of the Division of Publications was in charge of the evening session. And Mrs. Earl T. Wilborn of the Division of Publications was responsible for the reception. Their efficient planning and execution made it possible for every one of the sessions to begin on time and to end on time, making a busy day less confusing.

CAUSE FOR CELEBRATIONS

One of the resolutions passed by the North Carolina Literary and Historical Association at its annual meeting on December 6 reads as follows: "That our President be authorized and requested to appoint three special committees to plan and work for the following: (a) the celebration in 1963 of the 300th anniversary of the granting of the Carolina charter by King Charles II; (b) the celebration of the approaching Civil War centennials; (c) a new, specially designed building to house our State Department of Archives and History."

The first of these committees is expected to develop a broad program for the celebration of the tercentenary of the granting of the Carolina charter. This anniversary, it is hoped, will mark the climax of a number of historical activities in North Carolina. The year can serve as a target date in that connection. Since the area of Carolina as defined in this charter (and further extended by the new charter of 1665) included South Carolina as well as North Carolina, it is expected that that State will be invited to participate in the celebration. Also included were what is now Georgia, the northern part of Florida, and all territory westward to the "South Seas." This latter takes in all or large parts of the present states of Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, and California (as well as the northern part of Mexico). It is likely that all these States of the Union will be invited to participate.

The second committee will work in the field of the Civil War centennials. Throughout the Nation there is a great deal of interest in these approaching anniversaries, and a series of celebrations will be held over the four-year period. Since North Carolina played such a large part in this conflict, was "first at Bethel, farthest to the front at Gettysburg and Chickamauga, and last at Appomattox," gave more men to the Southern cause than did any other State and suffered the heaviest losses in manpower of any State of the Confederacy, and was the scene of a number of significant battles, there appears to be a broad area for the planning and activities of this committee.

The third committee is expected to work for a new building for the State Department of Archives and History. That Department (formerly the State Historical Commission, established in 1903) was first housed in the State Capitol. In 1914 it moved to the second floor of what is now the Library Building and in 1939 to the first floor and part of the ground floor of what is now designated as the Education Building. This edifice, designed primarily as an office building, is not suited in all ways to the special needs of the Department, and maximum services to the public can never be rendered until the Department is housed in a structure specially planned to meet its special needs. The estimated cost of such a building (excluding the necessary land) is $1,500,000.

AUTHORS OF THE YEAR

The 1957 literary awards were presented at the fifty-seventh annual meeting of the Association on December 6. Since 1905 there have been only eleven years in which no award has been made through the Literary and Historical Association. In those forty-one years, only one man has won a total of three awards for non-fiction and that man is Archibald Henderson of Chapel Hill who won the Mayflower Cup this year for his work, George Bernard Shaw: Man of the Century. Dr. Henderson had been presented the Patterson Cup in 1911 for his volume, George Bernard Shaw: His Life and Works, and in 1932 he was awarded the Mayflower Cup for his volume, Bernard Shaw: Playboy and Prophet.

Three other men have each received two awards in the non-fiction field—Clarence Poe for A Southerner in Europe and Where Half the World is Waking Up: Josephus Daniels for Our Navy at War and The Wilson Era: Years of Peace, 1910-1917; and Jonathan Daniels for A Southerner Discovers the South and The Man of Independence.

In the fiction field, Mrs. Doris Betts of Sanford won the Sir Walter Raleigh Award for her novel, Tall Houses in Winter. She has had a short story collection published in 1953 and is now working on her second novel. This award is relatively new, having been started in 1952 by the Historical Book Club of North Carolina. In the six years it has been presented, Mrs. Frances Gray Patton (twice), Ovid Pierce, Inglis Fletcher, and Paul Green have been the other recipients.

The American Association of University Women award for juvenile literature went to Mrs. Nell Wise Wechter of Greensboro for her book, Taffy of Torpedo Junction. This is the fifth annual award for juveniles and former recipients are Ruth and Latrobe Carroll (twice), Mebane Holloman Burgwyn, and Julia Montgomery Street.

For poetry, the fifth annual Roanoke-Chowan Award was made to Mrs. Dorothy Edwards Summerrow of Gastonia for her book of verse, Ten Angels Swearing. Those who have received this award before are Frank Borden Hanes, Thad Stem, and Helen Bevington.

For an article on North Carolina history published in The North Carolina Historical Review, Richard W. Griffin of Athens, Alabama, and Diffee W. Standard of Chapel Hill won the fifth annual R. D. W. Connor Award for their two-part work, "The Cotton Textile Industry in Ante-Bellum North Carolina." Hugh F. Rankin, Paul Conkin, and H. G. Jones have been awarded this honor in previous years.

VISITING FIREMEN

The visiting firemen of the New Bern Firemen's Museum were at the morning and luncheon session of the annual meeting in full force, along with representatives of the Craven County Commissioners, New Bern Historical Society, New Bern City Schools, Chamber of Commerce, Junior

Hall of History Photo

Members of the group who came to the annual meeting in Raleigh from New Bern in honor of the Firemen's Museum which received the AASLH award. Left to right are L. R. Tucker, Chairman of the Firemen's Museum Committee; Albert W. Brinson, Secretary-Treasurer; C. Walker Hodges, Jr., and John T. Pugh, Committee members; R. L. Stallings, Jr., Mayor of New Bern; and R. Clyde Smith, Committee member.

Chamber of Commerce, Merchants Association, Rotary Club, Lions Club, Professional and Business Women's Club, and Tryon Palace Commission, as well as the City Manager, the Mayor, and others. Twenty-one persons from New Bern made the trip expressly for this occasion.

The Museum was awarded the American Association for State and Local History Award for outstanding work in the field of local history.

The Chairman of the Museum Committee, L. R. Tucker, received the award for the Museum. It was presented by W. S. Powell of the University of North Carolina Library at Chapel Hill, past editor of the American Association for State and Local History History News.

NEW MUSEUM

The 54th annual observance of the first flight by the Wright Brothers at Kill Devil Hills was held on December 17. Included among the participants were Peter J. Schenk, president of the Air Force Association, Conrad L. Wirth, Director of the National Park Service, and Christopher Crittenden, Director of the State Department of Archives and History who represented Governor Luther H. Hodges. These men along with others participated in the ground-breaking ceremonies for a visitor center and flight museum in the Wright Brothers National Memorial area. This proposed visitor center and museum will cost approximately $250,000 and should be completed in two years. It will serve to introduce visitors to the history and geography of the area they will visit.

Dare County with Fort Raleigh, The Lost Colony, the Wright Memorial, Cape Hatteras National Seashore Recreational Area, and other attractions is becoming more popular every year. In the last eleven months 307,509 persons have visited Cape Hatteras. In the same period 98,209 have visited Fort Raleigh and 315,143 have come to the Wright Memorial. The center will be designed to serve these visitors who come in greater numbers every year.

Other features of the celebration were the music of the Elizabeth City High School Band, which has missed only one celebration since 1940; the East Carolina College AFROTC Team in a precision drill demonstration; an aerial tribute by United States Air Force aircraft; and a ceremony in which wreaths from the City of Dayton, Ohio, and from the State of North Carolina were placed at the base of the granite monument.

At the luncheon which followed these ceremonies, Christopher Crittenden and Conrad L. Wirth made talks on the work that is being done to preserve the history of the area.

The presentation of the General Electric Air Trophy to Captain Robert E. Sheridan, Commander of the USAF B-47 which estabilshed a flight record last May, was also made at the luncheon.

DONORS

Below are listed those who have made loans or gifts to the Department of Archives and History during the two-month period from October 15 to December 15.

ARCHIVES

James W. Atkins, Gastonia
Mrs. W. B. Beasley, Smithfield
Burton Historical Collection of the Detroit Public Library, Detroit, Michigan
J. H. Granbery, New York, New York
Guilford Battle Ground Chapter, D. A. R., Greensboro
Mrs. Hester Hope, York, South Carolina
Mrs. W. Lloyd Horne, Greensboro
H. G. Jones, Raleigh
W. K. Littleton, Badin
Buxton Midyette, Jackson
Louis T. Moore, Wilmington
Louis Poisson, Jr., Wilmington
George Powell, Jr., Macon, Georgia
Mrs. Bartlett Richards, Hinsdale, Illinois
Mrs. Bessie Hinton Silver, Raleigh
J. F. Stanback, Mt. Gilead
A. R. Yates, Bogalusa, Louisana

HALL OF HISTORY

Henry Beatty, Tomahawk
Miss Elizabeth Dortch, Raleigh
J. Virgil Henderson, Monroe
Mrs. Sidney I. Howell, Upper Montclair, New Jersey
Miss Della Mary Lewis, Raleigh
H. R. Wilkins, Spartanburg, South Carolina

North Central College

January 21, 1960

Dear Miss Higley:

Thank you for your gracious letter of January 9th inviting Mr. Murrow to deliver the commencement address at North Central College in June of 1961.

I regret that at this time it would be impossible for Mr. Murrow to make even a tentative commitment, since he is spending a year's leave of absence abroad and will not be returning to the States for several months.

Thank you again for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Miss Carolyn Higley
Sec'y, Class of '61
North Central College
Naperville, Illinois

North Central College

Naperville, Illinois

January 9, 1960

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
c/o Columbia Broadcasting System
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, New York

Dear Sir:

I am writing to you on behalf of the Junior class of North Central College, Naperville, Illinois. As next year is the college's centennial year, our class has been designated to select a commencement speaker of reknowned fame for our graduation exercises. You have been brought to the attention of the class as a possible speaker for this occasion. We would sincerely be honored if you would consider this engagement and find it possible to deliver the commencement address.

North Central is a small liberal arts college affiliated with the Evangelical United Brethren Church. It has an enrollment of approximately 900 students and our class has an enrollment of 180 members. The commencement exercises for our class are to be held on June 4, 1961.

A tentative reply would be very much appreciated. Thank you very much.

Yours truly,

Carolyn Higley

Carolyn Higley
Sec'y, class of '61

Norton Chamber of Commerce

September 9, 1960

Dear Mr. Rouse:

Thank you for your gracious letter of August 30th. Mr. Murrow was approached only a few weeks ago by the Coleman-McLaughlin Artists Bureau in Kansas City to make the recording you describe.

Unfortunately, he had to answer in the negative. His radio and television commitments for the next few months are such that he has had to decide to devote himself to that side of his work and not undertake any extracurricular activities.

Thank you again for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

Mr. W. W. Rouse, Chairman
Station 15 Committee
Norton Chamber of Commerce
The First State Bank
P.O. Box 31
Norton, Kansas

The FIRST STATE BANK

MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

W. W. ROUSE, PRESIDENT
RAYMOND R. FAREWELL, VICE-PRESIDENT & CASHIER
LYLE D. WEBB, ASS'T CASHIER
A. J. DANIELSON, ASS'T CASHIER

P. O. BOX 31

Norton, Kansas

August 30, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
c/o Columbia Broadcasting Co.
New York City, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

Your recording used by the Liberty Bell exhibit in Philadelphia impressed my wife and I and others in our group visiting there during a bank convention, and now that I am in charge of a travel attraction project in our town I want very much to obtain such a recorded commentary.

We have rebuilt Station 15, a stagecoach and wagontrain depot midway on the old Leavenworth Pikes Peak Express Company route to the Denver gold fields, and in it we feature a two room scene of the night of May 31, 1859 when Horace Greeley stopped here overnight. Greeley was accompanied by Albert Deane Richardson, a correspondent on The Tribune staff and there were passengers of an eastbound coach here, a detective returning a runaway girl to Indiana parents. The girl had been masquerading as a man, mining at Denver. A dozen costumed manikins represent these and other characters, the stationmaster and wife, stagecoach hands and a young indian woman and child.

Our story, based on Greeley and Richardson writings, is one we know you could narrate effectively. It is now briefly told on a placard at the exhibit and visitors comments are gratifying, but much prestige would be added by a well known voice such as your own telling this story. I so well remember folks at the Philadelphia exhibit whispering, "It's Ed Murrow!"

If you will undertake to cut a record or make a tape, only a minute or two long, please let us know and tell us what the cost may be, approximately.

Sincerely yours,

Bill Rouse

W. W. Rouse, Chairman
Station 15 Committee
Norton Chamber of Commerce

Oberlin College
Eng. Dec.

The Trustees of Oberlin College cordially invite you to attend a dinner honoring
President and Mrs. Robert Kenneth Carr at seven o'clock on Friday, October twenty-first Nineteen hundred and sixty at the Oberlin Inn
Oberlin, Ohio

Please reply on the enclosed card

Informal

Ret'd RSVP card - declining inv.

PROGRAM

Reception for President and Mrs. Carr

PRESIDENT ROBERT K. CARR
"Oberlin Looks Ahead"

WALTER K. BAILEY
National Campaign Chairman
"Plans and Progress"

The inauguration of Robert K. Carr as the ninth President of Oberlin College will take place on Saturday, October twenty-second.

You will receive an invitation to the Inauguration Ceremony and the Inaugural Luncheon. We hope that you will also be able to attend these functions.

ORACLE
eng dec

July 20, 1960

Mr. Maurel Hunkins
ORACLE
Ohio University
Athens, Ohio

Dear Mr. Hunkins:

Thank you for your gracious letter of July 15, which has arrived here during Mr. Murrow's absence in Chicago for the Republican Convention.

Unfortunately, Mr. Murrow has had to establish a blanket rule against accepting speaking engagements, due to the pressure and uncertainty of his CBS commitments. Thank you so much for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

Ohio Regional Association of Concert and Lecture Enterprises

ORACLE

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

July 15, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
c/o CBS
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The Ohio colleges and universities represented in the above named organization are interested in the possibility of inviting some outstanding speaker to appear in a number of our schools.

Potentially we think we can offer a series of six to twelve engagements involving very limited travel and other advantages. I have been asked to write you to determine whether we could interest you in such a proposal for the fall of 1961 or spring of 1962.

I assume you have a personal representative or agency whose answer to this letter would be quite satisfactory.

I am among the great many admirers of your programs and my own school, Ohio University, is one of the institutions most anxious to arrange for your appearance. Though the season mentioned is far ahead of us, I am sure your heavy schedule makes it necessary to plan well in advance. If it would be any advantage to speak to your representative in person, I would be glad to do so in August when I expect to be in New York City.

Sincerely yours,

Maurel Hunkins

Maurel Hunkins
President

MH:jcm

Ohio University
Athens, Ohio

Ormerod, Sir B.

Sir Berkeley Ormerod

requests the pleasure of the company of

Mr & Mrs Edward R Murrow

for Cocktails

at The Hotel Pierre (Oakwood Room)

on Monday, June 6th at 6-8 o'clock

Regrets

Hotel Pierre
New York 21

R.S.V.P.
Circle 6-5100

6

Oswego County Mun. Eng. Research

July 20, 1960

Mrs. James E. Hutchison
Oswego County Municipal Research, Inc.
753 Forest Avenue
Fulton, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. Hutchison:

Thank you for your gracious letter of July 18, which has arrived here in Mr. Murrow's absence in Chicago, where the Republican Convention will start shortly.

Unfortunately, Mr. Murrow has had to establish a blanket rule against accepting speaking engagements, however attractive they may be, because of the pressure and uncertainty of his CBS commitments. Thank you so much for asking him.

Sincerely yours,

Sheila Hogg
Secretary to Mr. Murrow

OSWEGO COUNTY MUNICIPAL RESEARCH, INC.

753 FOREST AVENUE, FULTON, NEW YORK. TELEPHONE: FULTON 2-5427

JANE W. HUTCHISON, Executive Director

July 18, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS Television
New York City,
New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

The Women's Club of the Chamber of Commerce here in Fulton, trys each year to bring to this city an outstanding speaker and personality.

The club is composed of the wives of industrialists, professional men, merchants, bankers, etc. At this meeting, (which is a dinner meeting) the husbands and other guests are invited to attend. There is always an interested and attentive group present.

This year we would like very much (if we can afford your price) to have you as our speaker. While we know your time is valuable and your schedule is crowded, we are selfish enough to want to bring the best to our small city.

The date of this meeting is Wednesday evening, November Sixteenth, 1960. The dinner is at seven P.M. and the speech will follow immediately.

Because we have to get our programs to the press we are looking forward to an early reply. Please state your fee for such a meeting. As you perhaps know, our city has a population of less than fifteen thousand and our women's club has about two hundred members.

Yours very truly,

Jane W. Hutchison

Mrs. James E. Hutchison

Overseas Press Club
Sing Der

No

35 EAST 39th STREET
NEW YORK 16, N. Y.

October 20, 1960

Dear Mr. Murrow:

It gives me pleasure to invite you to attend a dinner and press conference for Dr. Bruno Kreisky, Foreign Minister of Austria, at the Overseas Press Club, Tuesday evening, October 25.

There will be a reception at 6:30 and dinner will be served at about 7:30, after which Dr. Kreisky will speak and respond to questions.

May we look forward to having you with us Tuesday night?

With every best wish,

James H. Sheldon

James H. Sheldon
Chairman
Evening Program

Informal
RSVP
MU 6-1630 (Miss Binder)

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
CBS
485 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N. Y.

Overseas Press Club

February 16, 1960

Dear Mr. Wright:

Thank you for your gracious letter of February 11th inviting Mr. and Mrs. Murrow to attend the Overseas Press Club's Annual Awards Dinner on March 26th as guests of the Club.

I regret very much that they will not be able to accept, since they are still traveling abroad and will not be returning to the States for several months.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Mr. Ben Wright, General Chairman
Overseas Press Club of America
35 East 39th Street
New York 16, New York

OVERSEAS PRESS CLUB of AMERICA
WORLD PRESS CENTER

35 EAST 39th STREET, NEW YORK 16, N.Y. LExington 2-5242

CLARE BOOTHE LUCE
Chairman
World Press Center Committee

EDWARD R. MURROW
Co-Chairman

ROBERT CONSIDINE
Co-Chairman

COMMITTEE OF SPONSORS
Edward W. Barrett
William H. Benton
Charles H. Brower
General Lucius D. Clay
Philip Cortney
Gardner Cowles
Louis W. Fairchild
Marshall Field, Jr.
Henry Ford, II
Alberto Gainza-Paz
H. S. Geneen
Leonard H. Goldenson
W. Averell Harriman
John W. Hill
Paul G. Hoffman
Walter Hoving
John S. Knight
Roy E. Larsen
Henry R. Luce
Donald C. McGraw, Sr.
Benjamin M. McKelway
Malcolm Muir, Sr.
Samuel I. Newhouse
Frank Pace, Jr.
William S. Paley
Sylvia Porter
Mary G. Roebling
Robert W. Sarnoff
Harry Scherman
Spyros P. Skouras
Frank Stanton
Frank J. Starzel
Lowell Thomas
Juan T. Trippe
DeWitt Wallace
Thomas J. Watson, Jr.
William L. White
William Zeckendorf, Sr.

BEN WRIGHT
General Chairman

February 11, 1960

Dear Ed:

We of the Overseas Press Club cordially invite you personally and your lady to be our guests at the 21st Annual Awards Dinner at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel on Saturday evening, March 26th. Although we know you have the busiest kind of schedule, we feel certain you will find the dinner stimulating. Over the years it has come to be an affair of significance in the world of communications.

So as to facilitate the seating, will you let me know as soon as possible if we may count on you to be with us. It is a black tie affair preceded by a cocktail party. More about that later.

Your name and your influence have been a big help to the OPC in the last few months. For this we are grateful and sincerely hope you will be our guest at the Annual Awards Dinner.

Sincerely yours,

Ben

Ben Wright
General Chairman

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
Columbia Broadcasting Co.
485 Madison Avenue
New York, N.Y.

BW:AR

WORLD PRESS CENTER EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE: F. Richard Anderson, John Barkham, Ben Grauer, William P. Gray, Dickson Hartwell, Charles T. Kline, John Luter, Ralph Major, William Mapel, A. Wilfred May, Harold L. Oram, Inez C. Robb, Joseph D. Ryle, Frank Wachsmith, John Wilhelm

The President,

Officers and Members

of the

Overseas Press Club of America

request the pleasure of your company

at its

Twenty-first Annual Awards Dinner for the benefit of the World Press Center

in the

Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria

Saturday, the twenty-sixth of March

Nineteen hundred and sixty

seven-thirty o'clock

Black tie

OFFICERS

John Wilhelm, President

Vice-Presidents

Ansel E. Talbert, Ben Grauer, John Luter

Franz Weissblatt, Treasurer

Will H. Yolen, Secretary

BOARD OF GOVERNORS

Lawrence G. Blochman
Richard de Rochemont
Pauline Frederick
William L. Laurence
Larry Le Sueur
Marshall Loeb
William R. McAndrew
Dorothy L. Omansky
Joseph Wurzel
Will Oursler
Harrison E. Salisbury
Sigrid Schultz
Stanley M. Swinton

Joseph C. Peters, George A. McDonald, Leon Dennen, Henry Gellermann, Alternates

PAST PRESIDENTS

Cecil Brown
W. W. Chaplin
Robert B. Considine
John Charles Daly
William P. Gray
Burnet Hershey
Frank K. Kelley
Lucian S. Kirtland
Louis P. Lochner
Eugene Lyons
Wayne Richardson
J. Clifford Stark
Lowell J. Thomas
Thomas P. Whitney

Wythe Williams, Founder President (deceased)

CORRESPONDENTS FUND

John Barkham, President

Vice-Presidents

Clyde E. Brown, Richard de Rochemont, Bruno Shaw

Joseph Wurzel, Treasurer

Egbert White, Asst. Treasurer

Dickson Hartwell, Secretary

Emanuel Freedman, Asst. Secretary

Directors and Trustees

Edward Barrett
John Daly
R. Jules Frantz
Oliver Gramling
William P. Gray
Sanford Griffith
Mary Hornaday
Thomas Johnson
Lucian Kirtland
Larry Le Sueur
Louis P. Lochner
Patricia Lochridge
A. Wilfred May
John T. McGovern
Inez Robb
B. Mathieu Roos
Walter Rundle
Lloyd Stratton

GENER

N.
Ma Mu
Art
Do Alv
Col

William Baldwin
Anita Diamant Berke
William Albert Berns
Robert G. Black
Daniel Leo Blank
Lawrence G. Blochman
Boyan Choukanoff
Dixie Love Dean

Jac
Lu
Phi Lee
Ha
Flo
Vic
Flo
Rut

AV

John Barkham
Clyde Brown
Donald Coe
Ralph Jules Frantz
Igor Gordevitch

DA

John Denson

Matthew A. R. Bassity
Joseph Force Carter
Lawton Carver

Cha
Ber
Jac
Joh

ENERAL DINNER COMMITTEE

Chet Huntley, Chairman

N. F. Allman, Vice-Chairman

Matthew A. R. Bassity, Vice-Chairman

Murray Lewis, Vice-Chairman

Arthur G. Milton, Vice-Chairman

Dorothy L. Omansky, Vice-Chairman

Alvin H. Perlmutter, Vice-Chairman

Columbia Rossi, Vice-Chairman

Jack Frummer
Lucy Goldsmith
Philippe Halsman
Lee K. Jaffee
Harry Jiler
Florence K. Jones
Victor Lasky
Florence Laurence
Ruth Lloyd
Fice Mork
John G. Morris
Adele Gutman Nathan
Joseph C. Peters
Madeline D. Ross
Jessie Stearns
Patrick Joseph Sullivan
Ed Wergeles

AWARDS COMMITTEE

John Day, Chairman

John Foster, Consultant

Sally Sheppard, Secretary

am n
e Frantz vitch
Jesse Gorkin
Oliver Gramling
Henry Lieberman
William Payette
Sam Sharkey

DATELINE COMMITTEE

Co-Chairmen

n
Arthur G. Milton

Charles B. Crisman
Bernard W. Frazier
Jack Iams
John Luter
Gordon Manning
Ed Wergeles
Ben Zwerling

WORLD PRESS CENTER FUND DRIVE

Edward R. Murrow
Co-Chairman

Clare Booth Luce
Chairman

Robert Considine
Co-Chairman

World Press Center Committee

Committee of Sponsors

Edward W. Barrett
William H. Benton
Charles H. Brower
General Lucius D. Clay
Philip Cortney
Gardner Cowles
Louis W. Fairchild
Marshall Field, Jr.
Henry Ford, II
Alberto Gainza-Paz
H. S. Geneen
Leonard H. Goldenson
W. Averell Harriman
John W. Hill
Paul G. Hoffman
Walter Hoving
John S. Knight
Roy E. Larsen
Henry R. Luce
Donald C. McGraw, Sr.
Benjamin M. McKelway
Malcolm Muir, Sr.
Samuel I. Newhouse
Frank Pace, Jr.
William S. Paley
Sylvia Porter
Laurence Rockefeller
Mary G. Roebling
Robert W. Sarnoff
Harry Scherman
Spyros P. Skouras
Frank Stanton
Frank J. Starzel
Lowell Thomas
Juan T. Trippe
DeWitt Wallace
Thomas J. Watson, Jr.
William L. White

Every dollar contributed to the above fund will be applied toward the cost of the new world Press Center.

The Palette
e L

August 29, 1960

Dear Mr. Wright:

Many thanks for your cordial letter of August 3rd, which has only just reached me due to my absence from the city. I very much regret that I cannot write an article for THE PALETTE, but my radio and television commitments for the next few months are such that I have had to decide to devote myself to that side of my work and not undertake any extracurricular activities.

Thank you for asking me.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. G. Scott Wright, Jr., Editor
The Palette
Tobacco Road
Weston, Connecticut

KRM:gw

CONNECTICUT ARTS ASSOCIATION

THE PALETTE c/o G.SCOTT WRIGHT,JR. TOBACCO ROAD WESTON,CONN.

August 3, 1960

Mr. Edward R. Murrow
C B S
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Murrow:

This letter may be considered an imposition. It is, without question, presumptuous. For I am asking for your ideas without being able to compensate you in any way for your time and effort.

I am the editor of THE PALETTE. The fact that you are unaware of its existence should indicate to you its size and scope, hitherto. It is a magazine (another, but slighter, presumption) published by the Connecticut Arts Association three times a year. Until now, its readership has been limited to a few hundred art teachers in Connecticut. Its content has been, for the most part, provincial - of interest only to the membership of the organization. I, as editor, am quite happy in my small pond, croaking like a big frog. There is only one rub.

Art education (if not all education) in this country is in a mess. Admirals of the Navy have become experts on the education of small children. The educators have been expounding the same philosophie for so long that they have become ingrown and meaningless. Every time a Russian belches, the public demands that our entire educational system be revised. Somewhere along the line, the minds of the kids in this country have ceased to be important. This I will not accept.

With fool-like disregard for the wisdom of the angels, I am going to stick my neck out and try to do something about one aspect of the situation. As my publication is in the field of art, I am going to try to reach some of the leaders in art education with the finest and clearest thinking I can gather. I am going to try to convince some of the top minds in the country to write short articles for what will be my new magazine, and then distribute it to about five hundred of the most influential art educators in America. Of course, this is naive as Hell, but it is worth a try.

I have no money, no help, and no prestige to get the proper material. I have only gall and a dream.

CONNECTICUT ARTS ASSOCIATION

I would like to publish an article by you in THE PALETTE. The article could be between 500 and 1,000 words, but this limit is not sacrosanct. The rights to the material would be yours, and I would not edit beyond typography.

I can offer nothing in the way of compensation. I cannot even promise that the magazine will reach all those who can use it, although I will do my best. I can see no hope for prestige resulting from this writing. The only reason I can see for your considering this is the fact that we are both aware of the need for clear, intelligent thinking in the world of education. I personally am tired of watching potentially fine minds destroyed by thinkingless education.

Please forgive me for my presumption, but someone must make the attempt to make the finest thinking in the world available to those who need it most - the teachers.

Respectfully,

G. Scott Wright, jr.
Editor

Papish, Helen H

September 16, 1960

Dear Miss Papish:

Thank you for sending me your literature under the title of PEACE, which my secretary has called to my attention. I regret that due to my long absence from the office I am much behind in answering my correspondence.

I am sorry I must tell you that at this time I cannot undertake any extra-curricular activities. My radio and television commitments for the next months are such that I have had to decide to devote my energies to that side of my work.

Again, I am sorry to disappoint you.

Sincerely yours,

Miss Helen Hughes Papish
Cincinnatus R. 1, New York

ERN:gw

June 6, 1960

Dear Miss Papish:

Your pamphlets regarding PEACE were received here in Mr. Murrow's absence.

Mr. Murrow has been on a year's sabbatical and will be returning to the office shortly. I am therefore holding your pamphlets for his perusal upon his return.

Sincerely yours,

Gabrielle Wachsner
Secretary

Miss Helen Hughes Papish
Hotel Cortland Cortland, New York

registered mail

PEACE

The People's Enlightenment Assurance Co-operative Enterprise

in Operation

Here in America

A Gift to the Peoples of the World

The Ways and Means for a "Do It Ourselves Project"

with Enlightenment

HELEN
of Ithaca and Cincinnatus
U. S. A.

© 1960 HELEN OF ITHACA AND CINCINNATUS

IF as recent events now seem to indicate, this portion of God's gift to mankind is to be presented first, an inkling of what this marvelous gift comprises, will help in the evaluation and appreciation of what it means to us in these crucial times.

It can be only an inkling, so prodigious is its scope, and so breath-takingly precious in its being.

Historians have pointed out that time and time again, with each impasse in the 'March of human events' these provisions have been forthcoming, but never before, perhaps because the need is so great, has the Gift been so marvelous.

This Gift not only provides the 'ways and means' for a 'Do it Ourselves' project, it also provides the blue-prints and specifications for chartering our course.

It provides the JUSTIFICATION of OUR FAITH - an informed faith, that utilizes every scrap of information that man has been collecting down through the ages. An informed faith, that enables each one of us to recognize, that personal experience is in accord with the facts of reality and with the implications of the momentous events, both ominous and inspirational, that are transpiring before our eyes.

Someone long ago found out that 'Life is a mystery', and nowadays the folks who think about it at all, wouldn't have it otherwise. What has been overlooked, are the clues for living a happy and joyous life, that are all around us. It is with the help of the Enlightenment provided in God's Gift to mankind, that will enable us to recognize these clues and chart our course.

And it is in 'PEACE in Operation' that the ways and means are provided for the folks who are bonded together by a mutual endeavor and desire

1. To become enlightened
2. To accept the responsibilities of enlightenment
3. To learn to appreciate our Creator, our world and each other for the solutions of our economic problems; for the 'Restoration of faith in each other' and the absolute certainty of God's marvelous love.

> The kind of certainty that is based on personal experience and concrete evidence. The kind of love that so envelopes you that you are willing to make any sacrifice.

There isn't room here for a dissertation on diversified hells or to present my qualifications as guide up the 'Path of Enlightenment'. I am prepared to do both. The preparation required over sixty years and included four brinks, a black-out and three-years residence in a mental hospital. In other words, it took quite a lot of hell, to prepare me for the assured position I now hold and enables me to look forward to another forty years with joyful anticipation.

Some of us have to make the mistakes and pay the cost of sacrifice. It is through the sacrifice of some that the rest of us can exercise our God-given heritage, - the 'Freedom of choice' in a world of Infinite variation. Someone had to be sacrificed so that we could learn the necessity of the sacrifices that God asks us to make. I was the someone. I can with words explain the necessity of sacrifices, but when it's a question of God's infinite love, you'll just have to learn to grab onto your own clues. I'm too busy with mine.

ATTENTION, PLEASE! - In the foreword which was written two years ago, I gave you an inkling of what God's Gift - The Guidebook of Enlightenment - comprises.

1) The blueprints and specifications for charting our Course.

2) Recognition of clues that give insight to God's Methods. God has moved so swiftly since to get the world ready to receive His gift that an inkling no longer suffices.

To enable those of you whom God has endowed with inquisitive minds and low ERQ's (Enlightenment Resistance Quotients) to indulge in your propensities, at this time I am including

1) A structural framework of our Universe.

2) A time schedule of attempted launchings of our enterprise.

3) An interpretation of some of the events that are clues to God's methods of preparation.

Time Schedule of Attempted Launchings

In 1951 I attempted to launch the 14 page incipient project through the media of the press and the U. N.

1) I was told by the N. Y. Times, "We print all the news that's fit to print. Peace plans aren't news."

2) The N. Y. Herald Tribune, "Print a Peace Plan? Everybody's got a peace plan - a 14 page one would fill up the whole paper."

3) The U. N., "Sorry, we can't use it."

Both I and the project, figuratively speaking, were in the larva stage. As far as the Press and its clientele were concerned, I'll leave them to speak for themselves.

In 1956 in the introductory pages of PEACE which I sent to Mr. Harold E. Stassen (cf p. 9) I used the phrase COLD WAR.

In 1957 I revised the introductory pages in the second and third attempted launchings (cf p. 9) and used the phrase WARFUL PEACE.

Today, 1960, if I were again to revise the introductory pages, I would substitute the phrase SPONTANEOUSLY COMBUSTIBLE PEACE. This is a feeble attempt to describe a Super Colossal Phenomenon taking place before our eyes. Let's take a few closeups.

1) No one missed the good will bubbling up everywhere on President Eisenhower's trip.

2) But whoever would have thought of our President as a prophet, yet on his visit to Prime Minister McMillan he definitely prophesied the launching of PEACE. Don't you remember? Him saying that he wouldn't be a bit surprised if the people all over the world wanting peace so much would do something about it themselves instead of leaving it to their bungling governments (or words to that effect).

3) Now let's take a look at Premier Khrushchev. We have all been told that he is an Atheist. On the spot tape recording out in the Iowan Corn Patch, he, Premier Khrushchev, reminded us, we Christians, that bumper crops weren't just all American know-how; that God had also helped. Nor was that all. He also added God loves the Russian people too. Maybe I dreamed all this, but I was so unprepared to hear these words from Premier Khrushchev that still I have not gotten over my shock.

4) Then it was he who spoke of the "Spirit of Camp David." I know that God was with these two men.

5) Still again when he was asked to attend Church services with President Eisenhower he declined, saying, "The Russian people would be shocked." The word flabbergasted might be closer. I could be wrong but, from where I sit, it looks like I'm not the only one that God has been working on.

Are you ready, Premier Khrushchev, to align yourself along side of us as we march up the Path of Enlightenment? You know, I, personally, wouldn't be surprised if you and the Russian people were ready before we are.

When you, my fellow Americans, digest the contents of the mimeographed copy of P E A C E In Operation, Here in America, which follows, together with this small dose of data (complete details relative to launching would be too big a dose) namely, -

a. Abortive attempt I.
The original ten-page type-written copy of P E A C E in Operation, Here in America, was prepared and submitted to Mr. Harold E. Stassen, in response to a request for suggestions, printed in the February 1956 American Magazine, and prior to the 1957 Disarmament Conference.

b. Abortive attempt II.
A reminder of the contents of the copy that was in his possession was sent to Mr. Stassen prior to the Nato Conference.

Failing to get any actions through direct channels, the indirect were tried.

c. Abortive attempt III.
An outline of the subject matter of God's Gift of Enlightenment and the ways and means of operating project was sent to Mrs. Richard Nixon on December 5, 1957, requesting an interview and suggesting that the subject be called to the attention of Mr. Adlai Stevenson, who was at that time in Washington.

Neither Mr. Stassen nor Mrs. Nixon acknowledged the communications. Whether they didn't consider my efforts or the source of the subject matter worthy of acknowledgement, or just didn't consider me, doesn't really matter. The lack of consideration seems to be implicit either way. Very interesting! Still more interesting is that they had the information and, what they did with it? doesn't really matter now.

What matters IS, that because that information was withheld, so many other things happened and are going to happen that wouldn't have.

Because the contents of P E A C E In Operation provides:

1. The ways and means for *the Economic betterment of all mankind.
2. The opportunity for each and every individual to make a worthwhile contribution of effort.
3. The ennoblement of all contributors, whose contributions are commensurate with their capabilities. See Page 3 for complete list.

And when God places this documentary evidence in the hands of all the peoples of the World, they too will recognize these things.

Both the Intelligent and not so intelligent are aware of economic lacks and it's not going to put a strain on anybody's brain to grasp the fact that here is the solution to the problem.

* An estimated minimum of between 15 to 20 billion consumer dollars based on the National annual income of approximately 1/3 of a trillion dollars would have been available for investments in Peace, had our Enterprise, P E A C E , been operating.

THE PEOPLE'S ENLIGHTENMENT ASSURANCE CO-OPERATIVE ENTERPRISE

PEACE

Say, Folks! Let's quit leaving ALL the 'Peace and Good Will' business to our governments. Let's have a 'Do Some of It Ourselves' project.

Peace and Good Will are intangibles.

(1) They are not marketable commodities.
It is not a question of purchase price or sincerity of bargaining agency.
It is simply that they are so perishable that delivery cannot be guaranteed.

(2) They vanish in an atmosphere of jets and bombs.

Instead of starting with bombers and rockets, and working down through protocol and treaty, let's start with whatever faith we have; the assurance that we can get as we go along; and work together from the ground up.

Our governments are unanimous in proclaiming both the URGENCY and the DESIRE for Peace. But it is apparent that governmental recognition of need and expressions of desire have not attained Peace.

They're all to the good - but, they're not good enough.

The combined efforts of the governmental agencies, including the UN and all other functioning organizations ostensibly engaged in the promotion of 'Peace and Good Will', have culminated in an impasse.

The current blue-prints and proposed specifications promise at most

A WARFUL PEACE.

Before any of you raise the question of this terminology, let me assure you that I agree - a 'Warful Peace' just doesn't make sense, but it was the best I could do. Perhaps if we inserted a hyphen and spelled warful with two "l"'s; or, maybe what we call Peace isn't Peace at all. But, whatever it is, I am pretty sure that most of you will agree that we want to keep it until we have something better. The question that really bothers me is how many "teaspoonfuls" (quoting Mr. Khrushchev) it takes to make a warful?

Fifty years ago a Warful Peace would have been acceptable. Today it is definitely dated, if not passé. Decisions which affected the peace of the world were made by a relatively small group of men who, if they fumbled their jobs, could always rely on the armed forces to retrieve them.

Our predicament is something like Joe's, who had the seven-year itch. He'd been telling his friend all about it and Jim had said, "You got to stop scratching, Joe. Scratching only makes the itching worse. You got to get your mind on something else." Joe stopped his wriggling and scratching a moment and said, "I guess you're right about the itching and scratching, but what really bothers me is the seven years part." What I'd like to know is, if Jim had been in Joe's place would he have had the will-power to follow his own advice? I know I would not; I'd just scratch, even if I got infection.

Our problem is like Joe's. It is no mosquito bite. The itching is not just on the face of the earth; it's under the whole skin. Scratching won't help, but some of us probably will scratch just the same if we're irritated. If we can get our minds off the itching, and concentrate on stopping the irritation itself, even in just little patches, we'll feel a lot better, don't you believe. This will be the "Do Some of It Ourselves" project.

Here we are packed bumper to bumper, and fender to fender, on the super-duper highway of all times. We, the peoples of the earth, have witnessed the completion of this giant thruway to Dead End Canyon. Most of us have participated in one way or another in the construction of this terrestrial highway which brings us to the very edge of the abyss.

There is no question but that it is a monumental achievement - this modern highway jammed to capacity with the traffic.

No one anticipated the traffic
No safeguards or traffic patrols were provided
No provision for traffic in reverse

As we look at the awesome spectacle it is not hard to be convinced that most people prefer to take life's journey on the paved highway regardless of the vintage of the vehicle or the condition of the tires. Most of us are not trail blazers.

We are on the wrong road and the Russians and the Americans are at the DEAD END. The warning sign of the abyss ahead is in letters so large that all can see and in a language that all can understand.

This road which is jammed beyond capacity is composed of human beings who, for years and years, have been willing to sacrifice the lives of their fellowmen for their own material gains. Slavery, imperialism, naziism, exploitation. Human beings who had placed their faith in material things - in armored tanks and submarines, in the Maginot Line and the fleet at Pearl Harbor; and now, in nuclear weapons.

We've probably always had a Warful Peace. It used to be Peace with Duress and Dividends. We kept the peace with duress and it paid off; the duress did'nt cost so much. Today we have Peace with Duress and DEFICITS.

Here we are on our Super Duper Highway. There is no room at the dead end for maneuverability. Every jockeying for position brings us nearer to the edge. Every pressure from behind jeopardizes the ability to hold the line at the front. If we are ever to get off this highway and salvage what we have put into it, we will have to divert the traffic at the other end and back those cars one at a time until we reach that place on the "Path of Enlightenment" at which we took the wrong turn. The conversion of duress with deficits into a Peace without duress with dividends.

The need for enlightenment to attain even a reasonable facsimile of 'Peace on Earth' is obvious.

It looks like everybody could use a little.
We'll get it quicker if we work together.
We'll have more to use if we all have some to contribute.

It is for the avowed purpose of securing this enlightenment and using it that PEACE will be organized.

The People's Enlightenment Assurance Co-operative Enterprise
P E A C E

A co-operative enterprise of the people on this earth engaged in the quest of Peace and Goodwill based on the acknowledged acceptance of both the similarities and differences as manifested in taste, talents and attitudes, in race, culture, nationality, religious creed, moral credo, and political ideology.

A co-operative enterprise of the people on this earth who regard a peaceful world as a worthwhile objective, and who are willing to expend their efforts in the quest for peace and goodwill.

Each participating national division will act as an autonomous unit within its national boundaries, and in conformance with its own laws and economic structure.

It will make its own decisions as to the extent of its co-operation toward the peace objective as proposed by the PEACE co-operative plans and subject to its intent. It will be the responsibility of each division to provide the necessary facilities and where-with-all commensurate with its membership's active participation at home and abroad.

The American branch of PEACE will be a private enterprise operating under such restrictions as the government is empowered to enforce on private enterprise, enjoying the privileges of our democracy and availing itself of the advantages offered by capitalism and organized labor.

It is presumed that the divisions in the other democracies will be operated after a somewhat similar manner.

In whatever way the communistic and other non-democratic nations operate their own branches, the International character of PEACE will provide a testing ground for what constitutes enlightened government. It will afford the opportunity to each nation to put its best foot forward.

Here in America[1]. PEACE will provide work for every member who wishes to make a personal contribution toward the peace objective.

a. It will provide the facilities and the resources for its projects.
b. It will not add to the tax burdens of its members.
c. It will not need government subsidy.
d. It will however, in a very real sense, subsidize government -
   (1) To the extent that the funds used in its commitments for the promotion of peace would, if undertaken by governmental agencies, necessitate increased taxes.
   (2) To the extent that it succeeds in the intangible objectives of Peace and Goodwill, the tangible results of disarmament, etc., should follow.
e. It will afford us the opportunity to demonstrate to our fellow-members, and to the world, that the blessings of a Christian Democracy have not weakened our moral fibre.
f. It will give us the chance to show, by our willingness to make amends, that we are sorry for our past mistakes, for our laxity in the practice of our Christian and Democratic ideals.
g. And above all it will provide ways and means for the expression of our appreciation of God for His faith in us and the wonderful world He has given us.

1. Separate Publication. PEACE in Operation (Here in America)

The rights of all members, regardless of their status elsewhere, will be equal, and their position within the organization to be determined by the nature of the individual's contribution of invested effort.

Membership in P E A C E will afford each of its members the opportunity to demonstrate to the world:

1. A sincere desire for Peace Enlightenment, namely -
   (a) Insight. (b) Understanding. (c) Appreciation.
2. The recognition that Enlightenment entails a growth of responsibilities.
3. Willingness, with the help of our Creator, to co-operate with other members, both in the giving and receiving of assistance in the demonstration of our appreciation.
4. The Assurance gained, as we progress up the 'Path of Enlightenment' with the 'Restoration of faith in our Creator' and a 'Renovation of our Faith in each other.'
   (a) It is the LACK OF FAITH, both quantitatively and qualitatively THAT MAKES THE FUTURE LOOK SO DIM AND HOPELESS.

   (b) It is ENLIGHTENMENT THAT WILL FILL THE DAYS AHEAD WITH HOPES, and MAKE OUR FUTURE BRIGHT WITH THEIR FULFILLMENT.

We will be bonded together in our mutual endeavor:

1. To become enlightened.
2. To accept the responsibilities of enlightenment.
3. To learn to appreciate our Creator, our world, and each other.

In other words, the Peoples of the Earth, who are motivated by the mutual desires as expressed in these three forms of endeavor, voluntarily choose to work together in the Association of P E A C E .

What is Enlightenment to mean?

1. The gaining of INSIGHT. The cultivation of an informed awareness; a social consciousness of present-day conditions and of the problems confronting mankind. Developing a sensitivity of perception. Alertness.
2. The seeking to UNDERSTAND. A recognition that only to the extent that we act in accordance with God's plans, may we really hope to succeed in our operations.

   It means looking for the explanation that is both reasonable and sympathetic. The explanation that will furnish the key for solving the problem, that is in conformity with our Creator's methods and consistent with the facts of reality.

   With the conviction that we are trying to do, to the best of our ability, what God wishes, will give us the spirit and incentive to go ahead dauntlessly, trusting God to help us overcome the obstacles in our path.

3. The learning to APPRECIATE. The formulation of a set of standards, that will serve as a guide in evaluating our relationship to our Creator and to each other; individually and collectively. A recognition and acknowledgement of values.

As will be shown later, maturity of the individual rests upon the HAPPY adjustment of personal desires and group objectives in man's DUAL ROLE; and the attainments of both maturity and the group objective are dependent on the willingness or unwillingness to MAKE THE SACRIFICE, or TO BE SACRIFICED.

Since then, the attainment of our Peace objectives involve both the maturity and the sacrifice of so many diverse individuals and groups, the comprehension at the outset of the places that maturity and sacrifice occupy in the general scheme of Creation, will enable us to recognize the universality of the problems involved; and as a result focalize the various view-points upon the common objectives --- NECESSARY for the HAPPY adjustments.

If PEACE IS TO BE ATTAINED THE ADJUSTMENTS MUST BE HAPPY. WE WILL HAVE TO MAKE THE ADJUSTMENTS WILLINGLY AND NOT BE COERCED. HAPPY ADJUSTMENT CAN NOT BE MADE IN FEAR: THEY CAN ONLY BE MADE IN FAITH.

All of us know of what we are afraid - the coercion; the arbitrary uses of the forces of destruction, that are available to mankind, in the exercise of 'Freedom of Choice'. We do not need to dwell upon them.

We have concrete proofs in deeds for the justification of our fears.

But while justification of our fears may be some consolation for our 'lack of faith', it's not going to help us one bit in the attainment of Peace; and especially so, if we choose to succumb to our fears and submit to the Devil's terms of "unconditional surrender."

Everybody knows that it is not wise to underestimate the adversary. We also know that it can be just as bad if not worse, to overestimate, because then you lose faith in your own strength and with it the assurance that it gives.

We've lost both our faith and assurance.

What we need is restoration of faith in our Creator, in ourselves, and in each other - and the appreciation of God for His faith in us and the wonderful world He has given us.

World opinion has crystallized. The people of the world have signified their agreement that we need no more concrete proofs in deeds for the justification of our fears.

We don't need any more justification for our fears. What we need is

JUSTIFICATION FOR OUR FAITH.

For many of us, this means an informed faith, that will enable each one of us to recognize that personal experience is in accord with the facts of reality and with the implications of the momentous events, both ominous and inspirational, that are transpiring before our eyes. There are NO CONFLICTS.

1. Let's start with the resolution to give the Devil his due, but not one inch more.
2. Let's head for the 'Path of Enlightenment' by first finding out 'Just how much is due the Devil?' and second, "Just who the Devil is?'

We know that the Devils capitalize our weakness, the fears and doubts of the unknown. The Devils are informed and use their information. Why shouldn't we? If our weaknesses are the Devil's assets, then by correcting them, we can bankrupt the devils. Instead of looking at the devils, let's look at ourselves through their eyes. We might perchance find a few weak-spots worthy of our attention. Instead of the devils using us, let's start using them.

PEACE IN OPERATION

The People's Enlightenment Assurance Co-operative Enterprise.

Here in America

The Private enterprise of Personalized Service, the service to humanity that can only be given by human beings individually. The demonstration by deeds what we profess to believe. The chance to do the things we could have done but didn't.

The Participating Members of PEACE in its liaison with all the Agencies of the Nation working for Peace, in which he or she has representation will be able to consolidate their efforts.

One's efforts in church, job, union, and lodge, in grange or league, rural or urban, will be unified.
One's efforts in business, in club, civic association or home, need not be pigeon-holed into separate compartments.
Group success is dependent on individual co-operation.

The OPTIMUM of SUCCESS cannot be attained without full co-operation to the extent of individual capacity, which means Individual Effort with soul, mind and body, functioning in unity.

No matter in what capacity he will be serving at any one time, as a member of PEACE he will be making a contribution to the Peace objective.

The Individual's satisfaction in making this contribution by accepting his responsibilities plus the recognition of the group in appreciation just has to add up to something impressive.

Self-respect and the respect of one's fellow-men means STATURE.

PEACE working hand in hand with the churches and the secular organizations, the Governmental Agencies, with Industry and Labor, utilizing all the resources it can command will compound that STATURE.

You'll find no 'little men' in PEACE.

PEACE is to be a MOBILIZATION for Peace.

The role of participating members resembles to some extent their civilian role in our past mobilizations for WAR. The distribution of ration coupons with information for their use and other assigned duties connected with mobilization, were handled locally in the rural districts, small communities and neighborhoods of the cities.
There will of necessity be some dislocations which may exact personal sacrifice,- the sacrifice of the one for the good of the many.
We'll try our best to keep them to the minimum by relocation and compensation.

WAR demands sacrifice from all. It benefits no-one.
PEACE asks for Individual sacrifice. ALL BENEFIT.

IT is at this point that resemblance ends.

In the Mobilization for War the Government initiated and dictated the policy and procedure.
The Mobilization for Peace is to be founded on local initiative.
The community level will provide the broad field of opportunity.
God does not provide many World Leaders for we need only a few.

It is in the small community where we can all become acquainted, that the rest of us can make our contributions count and see that no-one's else is wasted.

It is the community where the business ability and the professional slant of the local merchant, banker or doctor can be harnessed with the community effort that will have the headstart.

It is the advantage of the personal over the impersonal.
The on the spot versus the far afield.

In the store or on the street, in the church or home, -- all day long; whatever the time or place, the work can go on.

Each community will be a testing ground, - in the recognition of obstacles and the ways of overcoming them. The successes and failures can be analyzed locally and, if the results warrant it, they will share the HOW-WE'RE DOING-IT with the rest of us.

With individual action motivated by a sincere desire for Peace, the willingness to accept responsibility and to co-operate within the limits of one's capacity, we have no way of estimating at this point, just what the concerted efforts of the group may achieve.

We believe in competition.
The striving for first place in county, state and nation will add zest to community effort and focalize the eyes of the world on a Democracy at work.

PEACE will use the resources at its command.

I. a. To equip the individual to the extent of his or her capacity for constructive participation in its undertakings.
   b. To extend the scope of opportunity with a greater selection from which to choose.
   c. To enhance the field of opportunity making the wise choice the attractive one.

II. It will employ every practical means of communication that human ingenuity can devise for the purpose
   a. Of spreading information, and
   b. Of getting acquainted.

III. It will adopt a common language such as Esperanto or Ido.
   It is to be an additional language, with no irregularities and with only one form if one form will suffice.

ONE of the GREATEST OBSTACLES to PEACE and GOOD WILL IS the LANGUAGE BARRIER.
As things are now, even if "person to person" meetings could be arranged all that most of us could do to express our Good Will would be to stand and grin at one another.

We can't all travel but we can correspond. Every friendly message will remove one stone from the barrier.
Every response will forge one link in the bonds of friendship.
The literate can help the illiterate.

The preparation to do is No. I in the program of PEACE. But let's not let the responsibilities get so heavy they'll add to the general gloom.
Not duties to be grimly endured but a chance to have fun.
Schools, newspapers, T.V. and radio will furnish the instruction. Adults and children will be the students. School, home, street, - wherever people congregate will be the class-rooms.

We'll need help in acquiring our vocabularies.
We'll appreciate it if the radio and T.V. Improvisors will exercise their talents in our behalf.

The badder the better ----- If it helps us remember.

IV. Ignorance is the second great barrier.
To become informed the second GOAL.
To learn how we can help ourselves and be of help to one another.
Getting acquainted - the get-together - the bond.

PEACE will promote HOBBIES, crafts, games, study-clubs, cooking and eating, sitting and looking, anything that people the World over enjoy doing together, - groups bonded together by mutual enjoyment in undertakings is based on the conviction that people who enjoy the same things are quite apt to enjoy one another.

Details will be given later, but now let's see HOW PEACE EXPECTS to GET the MILLIONS of DOLLARS it will need for these activities without Government subsidy and without a raise in taxes.

V. PEACE will be a non-profit PRIVATE ENTERPRISE with both common and preferred stock and its dividends the Peace and Good Will engendered from its successful operation.

The Common stocks are the Securities of Membership for Personalized Service with the voting privilege.
The Preferred stocks will provide the Investment Opportunity for the "OVER and BEYOND". The contributions that Labor, Industry and the Individual can make if they so choose.

PEACE PROPOSES to ENTER the ADVERTISING FIELD and to PROCURE PART of the MONEY for ITS PROJECTS by the DIVERSION THROUGH the CHANNELS of PEACE, the MILLIONS of DOLLARS NOW SPENT, THAT DO NOT ADVERTISE.

As a Private Enterprise in the Advertising Field it will neither take advantage of the Peace MOTIF nor will it subscribe to its exploitation by the unscrupulous.

It will be the obligation of PEACE to get ALL the information, the bad as well as the good, concerning the products it advertises and dispense it.

It will be the responsibility of the consumer to become informed and to his advantage to get the most he can for his money, both in product and Investment in PEACE.

WHETHER the PRODUCT IS SUPERIOR or INFERIOR, if the price and investment are pro rata then neither producer or consumer will be the loser.

Why will it be to the advantage of the Producer to advertise through the Channels of PEACE?

I. Because PEACE can ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEE that for every nickel SO SPENT a dollar sale WAS made. WAS is the guarantee.

II. Because PEACE can UNCONDITIONALLY guarantee that EVERY NICKEL SPENT THROUGH the CHANNELS of PEACE will not only advertise that one product but all the products and producer as well.

How can this guarantee be given?
Every participating member of PEACE is a consumer.
Every cent of the consumer's dollar spent for advertising through PEACE will provide investment opportunity in Peace. But consumer's investment does not stop with the producer's nichel.

III. Under the auspices of PEACE every producer's dollar spent-
1. In the industrial development of co-operating nations.
2. In research for better methods and new products.
3. In education and spreading information of know-how.
4. In improvement of working conditions, health, and reduction of occupational hazards.
5. In creation of new job opportunities.

Each and every one of the dollars spent to make the lot of mankind a happier one is an investment in Peace. These are all Peace objectives.

It is this information, together with the augmentation and extension of facilities of publishers and organizations engaged in consumer research that PEACE proposes to use as an investment guide for the consumer's dollars.

This is the PUBLICITY that PEACE will give in return for the Producer's nickel.

This is HOW PEACE will advertise not just one product but all the products and the producer as well.

IV. Without going into details at this point:
PEACE expects to APPROPRIATE the successful use of TRADING STAMPS (if popularity is any proof) which are now redeemable in merchandise.
1. These trading stamps are to be known as PPI's.
Personalized PEACE Investment stamps.
2. The stamps will be either packaged with the product or presented with the purchase.
3. PEACE will return to Producer the cash value of all stamps packaged with products not sold. This is GUARANTEE No. 1.

The consumer's dollars buy product and PEACE securities.
The Investor's dollars yield financial dividends and the dividends of Peace and Good Will.

Where can he get a bigger bargain? Who else can offer so much for so little?

V. What is happening to-day?
The Industries are doing all these things and are planning to do more. Are they getting the credit? Not much.

Do we take our obligations seriously, when the sponsor spends millions for our entertainment, to get the chance to tell about itself and product? Do we listen patiently? WE do not.
A lot of us get so annoyed with the interruption of the program that we actually become antagonized against the product,- and sponsor.

Suppose we let the man enjoy the program in peace. We might even let him in on the secret that the Sponsor's money came out of his pocket. It might even occur to him that when two or three high-priced entertainments are sponsored for the same hour that he has only one pair of ears with which to listen. Well, maybe he's such a good listener he can listen to all three.

What we're interested in, was the man who wouldn't listen.

Now is there a man with ears so deaf, that he won't listen when PEACE talks About Peace Investments that COST HIM NOTHING?
Perhaps you're the man who wouldn't listen to what the sponsor wanted to say
BUT
WOULDN'T YOU LIKE to MAKE an INVESTMENT in PEACE?

Can YOU afford NOT TO? CAN YOU afford to PASS up the CHANCE?

The CHANCE that OFFERS SO MUCH and COSTS you NOTHING.

HOW can YOU make the Investment? By DOING just THREE THINGS.

1. Select the PEACE Project.
2. Get the Booklet for that Project.
3. Paste in your stamps. Your Personalized PEACE Investment.

This is absolutely ALL that you HAVE to DO to MAKE THE INVESTMENT.

But the INVESTMENT WON'T BE PERSONALIZED. ONLY YOU CAN DO IT. YOU DON'T HAVE TO DO IT, but the chances are that you won't GET the BIGGEST DIVIDENDS for your P.P.I.'s.

To GET the BIGGEST DIVIDENDS you will want to SELECT the PRODUCTS which GIVE you the most in Investment.

To make the best selection when you BUY, you will need to know:

1. What the PRODUCER IS WILLING to DO that will mean HIGHER TAXES for YOU, if the GOVERNMENT DOES IT.
2. What you and he can do together that can lead to DISARMAMENT.

And now let's see HOW else we can personalize our INVESTMENT.

VI. This is the rest of the story about the Personalized PEACE Investment stamps. As we have already noted, the P.P.I.'s are to be pasted in booklets.

1. The covers of the booklets, provided by PEACE to hold the P.P.I.;s, will be in assorted colors, with each color assigned to a current Project. When one project is completed, the color will be re-assigned. This is to facilitate sorting.
2. Each member will be encouraged to invest in as many projects as his income will warrant, without impeding the steady flow of money through PEACE channels. This can be accomplished by GROUP POOLING of stamps.
3. When the booklet is filled, it will be sent to PEACE and the individual or group will receive in exchange one $5.00 Common Stock Certificate.
4. The first booklets will have white covers - these are the membership booklets entitling the Investor to a MEMBERSHIP CARD and Voting Privilege.
5. This is the opportunity for Community effort. To see that every adult who wishes membership has a completed booklet. This is the opportunity of the families or communities in the higher income levels to help those in the lower.
6. This will provide the ready cash that PEACE will need at the outset. And by the time the Projects get under way everyone will be a member and ready to invest.
7. The money will be used by PEACE to get the Enterprise started and to defray the cost of booklets and stamps.
8. Every booklet will have its own serial number and the same serial number will appear on the stock certificate given in exchange.
9. All the serial numbers for any specific project are to be printed in the big dailies, with the local papers giving both the names and numbers of investors in the residential area they serve.

This will be an integral part of the description of the Project and must be included in all follow-up articles of further developments.
The number of investors times $5.00 must balance the expenditure for PEACE PROJECT.
This is part of the Personalized Service which enables both community and individual to figure their dividends.

10. At time of distribution - the Local Headquarters will put on file the serial number and name of investor for each project. In this way they can keep check if there is a lag in booklet returns and take steps to remedy it.
11. Each booklet will contain in addition to the serial number, name, address, and places for pasting in the stamps, a page for writing a friendly message in the language of PEACE.
12. The booklets will be forwarded to the PEACE Headquarters of the PROJECT, and the recipient members at that place, wherever it may be, will be expected to reciprocate with friendly responses, snapshots, newspaper items, etc., anything concerned with the project or themselves that will be of interest.
13. These responses when received locally, will be gone over carefully and outstanding ones will be printed in the local papers, etc. This will be part of the "HOW-WE'RE-DOING-IT" competition.
14. The stock certificates issued to groups, pooling their stamps in a booklet for a project in which they individually only care to make a small investment, will be large enough to hold all the names of the investors. They will fill it in locally and display it jointly.
15. This can be used as a restraint by the group on those members of the community who have to be rescued because they undertake too much or lose interest quickly, when the booklets for new projects are distributed. The fulfillment of obligations undertaken is part of RESPONSIBILITY of membership.

HERE IS the OPPORTUNITY to GET a LITTLE ENLIGHTENMENT.
TO GET IT QUICKER IF WE ALL WORK TOGETHER.
TO HAVE MORE to USE, IF WE ALL MAKE a CONTRIBUTION.

We have learned how PEACE expects to procure some of the millions of dollars for its Projects, by entering the Advertising Field.

Let us now see HOW PEACE proposes to synchronize its advertising with its promotion of hobbies, the distribution of information, and the further procurement of funds.

VII. As an INTERNATIONAL Co-operative Enterprise, PEACE proposes to be a POSTAGE STAMP DEALER of SUBSIDIZED STAMP ISSUES of all co-operating nations.

It intends to take advantage of the unique qualities of a POSTAGE STAMP.

A. The postage stamp provides the opportunity of utilizing the human instinct of collecting things, with the special appeal to young and old. Surveys show that of all children's hobbies it takes first place.

Through the Channels of PEACE every school-child of every co-operating nation is to be provided with a stamp album, subsidized stamps to put into them, and a correlated scrap-book in which to paste the pictures and clippings, concerning the Project, which he can collect.

ATTENTION
The covers of the loose-leaved albums and scrap-books will be presented to the children by the advertisers, who wish to avail themselves of this means of advertising.

In addition to the words 'The PEACE STAMP ALBUM' and 'The PROJECTS of PEACE' on the respective covers, space will be reserved for the Donor's name. The inside of the covers will afford the Donor the space for an advertising layout.
Additional space will be afforded in the Project book for advertising of products, etc.
With the printing of each subsidized issue a sheet of paper for the mounting of the stamps will be prepared to be placed in the album.
It is to accompany certain denominations of the issue reserved for school distribution.
On the front page of the leaf there will be places for all the denominations of the issue, plus description and information concerning them. The additional space will afford room to mount other stamps of that country which the child may collect.

The reverse side will be used by all the participating agencies and industries, giving descriptions of their respective contributions to the project.
The remaining denominations of the issue are to be divided pro rata between the participants of the subsidized issue for advertising purposes.

1. The stamps can be packaged with product.
2. They can be presented to the child, accompanied by an adult, who registers at the place where product is sold.
   The child will be expected to fill in the blank spaces in his album, using his own initiative.
   This will help.

ATTENTION PLEASE.

Here is the third GUARANTEE of PEACE.

EVERY advertisement passing through THESE channels of PEACE will be PERMANENTLY PRESERVED.

1. When the child has completed the Stamp Album it will occupy a place of honor on the living-room table, to be displayed and re-displayed. Not six or seven times but hundreds; and it won't be consigned to the trash-can or the incinerator.

WHAT OTHER ADVERTISING MEDIUM CAN MAKE THIS OFFER?

Like the bees who collect the nectar and spread the pollen, the children will collect the stamps and spread the information.
And it will insure the spontaneous inoculation of adults.

B. This MEANS of DISSEMINATING INFORMATION is the SECOND UNIQUE QUALITY of the postage stamp.
   1. Every subsidized issue vital to the interests of PEACE will convey a message.
   2. On these stamps each nation will depict its ideals, hopes, achievements, contributions for the betterment of civilization, the sagas of industry, etc.
   3. The stamps with inscriptions both in the language of PEACE and the respective nation, are to be used in the teaching of art, history, geography, civics, economics, government; in the appreciation of our Creator and our world. (Stamps depicting the natural resources) and of each other (OUR projects for Peace.)

Perhaps it will be well for the reader to recall, at this point, that in the introduction of the proposition of PEACE as a STAMP DEALER in subsidized issues, the opportunities afforded advertisers was ONLY one feature.

It is a very important feature to PEACE in Operation not only because as an Enterprise in the Advertising Field, it provides the opportunity for its members for Personalized PEACE Investment, but also because the SUCCESS of INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY is VITAL to the Peace objective.

1. We need PROSPERITY and Prosperity is dependent on THRIVING INDUSTRIES.
2. We need the contributions of Industry for the betterment of mankind.
3. And last but not least, is that the facilities offered are mutually advantageous.
   a. Industry is afforded the facilities of a unique advertising medium, in the subsidizing of stamp issues.
   b. And Industry's subsidy of stamp issues for collectors will afford PEACE the facilities for its activities.
      1. For the dissemination of information.
      2. For the promotion of hobbies.
      3. For the procurement of funds.

Let us not forget that stamp collecting is a universal hobby.

1. That every nation has its collectors.
2. That these collectors motivated by their desire for Peace can simultaneously augment their collections and their contributions to PEACE through the acquisition of these subsidized issues.

In the further description of PEACE in Operation, we will make suggestions for Advertisers, but this feature will not be stressed.

Let us now return to the dissemination of information and the promotion of hobbies.

As we said at the outset, the complete subsidized issues will not be furnished the school-child. And that he is to obtain the rest, using his own initiative.

1. The time spent in securing the stamps to fill the blank spaces in the Stamp Album of the Arab boy or Indian girl with whom he corresponds via the 'Language of Peace' classes and their reciprocation will teach him that the true bonds of friendship are a two-way affair. -Giving and taking.
2. Subject matter for correspondence is afforded and mutual interest will be the stimulation.
3. International participation of school-children and adults in Postage Stamp identification and information (not confined to current issues). COMPETITIONS on sponsor's T.V. programmes through the Channels of PEACE.
4. Preceding the International Finals will be the local, state and national competitions. This sponsorship can be undertaken by the smaller manufacturers.
5. In the International competitions, the school-children will not only vie in acquiring information, but will also take a hand in spreading it.
   a. In such school projects as designing a series of stamps depicting the 'Bill of Rights', with the collaboration of the children all over the world, we will bring the children with ideas together with those who can EXECUTE them.

      The final awards in both types of competitions are to be the high denominations of a special limited subsidized issue.
      1. It won't cost the Sponsor one cent more than the present practice of giving U.S. Bonds as awards.
      2. The governments will have no obligations to meet, except the responsibility to co-operate to the extent of their capacity.
      3. The children, if they wish to sell the stamp awards, will have more money to defray college expenses.

4. The awards - the stamps of high value and the limited special issue will tend to preclude availability through ordinary sources.
5. The denominations of lower value, subsidized by the small producer will be the awards for the local, state and national competitions, with all participants receiving at least one stamp.

This should encourage universal participation and insure stimulation and sustainment of interest.

C. The third unique quality of the Postage Stamp is that:
1. As a commodity for export it is neither dependent on national resources nor population ratios.
2. Production costs are the same whatever the value of the stamp. It costs no more to produce a dollar stamp than a one-cent one.
3. The market will be guaranteed.
4. The costs of distribution nil.
5. No participating country will have an advantage, or be at a disadvantage.

PEACE as a STAMP DEALER, acting as the AGENT for adult Stamp Collectors who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity for promoting PEACE, as well as securing the stamps, will be able, with the orders placed in advance to guarantee the market.

The profits accruing from the sales to adult collectors (with only the costs of printing to be deducted) of these subsidized issues will provide a considerable source of REVENUE for the participating government beneficiary to be earmarked for the project.

Manufacturers of automobiles, etc., can up the sales of the stamps, by using them as a lure to prospective buyers to visit the sales-room, or by offering them as a bonus to car buyers.

Small producers or non-competitive merchants, who wish to use the stamps in their advertising campaigns, can arrange to conduct their sales simultaneously, pooling the outlay for the subsidized issue with each offering one or two stamps of the issue to the customer and collector.

The possibilities are unlimited and the results inestimable.

These American dollars poured into the exchequers of the participating governments can be used for the payment on imports, and their own currencies used to defray the costs of their national Projects of PEACE.

THINK WHAT THIS CAN DO FOR TRADE BALANCES.

But this is not all for those nations in which the NATIONAL STAMP COMPETITIONS ARE SUBSIDIZED by AMERICAN FIRMS, operating within their boundaries, will also Beneift from this dollar exchange.

Furthermore all Projects for PEACE in home territory, as well as abroad, will utilize these subsidized issues for dissemination of information concerning the project. Stamp Collectors throughout the world will have the opportunity of giving their support to the Project by purchasing the stamps.

Just how many will avail themselves cannot be estimated but the PROSPECTS ARE BREATHTAKING.

It's hard to believe, but

1. It's the same producers, doing the same things they had been doing and spending the same amounts for advertising.
2. It's the same consumers, buying the same things and paying for the advertising, which they had been buying and paying for.

For whom God has provided these millions and millions of dollars, without its costing anybody one cent extra. Simply for trying to do these things, as God wishes them to be done.

This is the JUSTIFICATION of our FOURTH CONCEPT.

BELIEF that effort invested in the doing of God's will yields the greatest returns in self-interest.

We know that men, money and know-how are all available.
All ready for us to take the next great step up the "Path of Enlightenment."

This is our FIRST Concept.
Belief that God with His infinite power is now operating the universe in accordance with His plan. That no matter what we choose to do, individually or in groups, whether constructive or destructive, the calendar of events will progress in orderly sequence. Individually or as nations, we may be out of step, but mankind as a whole IS DEFINITELY ON the MARCH.

In God's judgement we have become of age.
Like the earthly father, who trusts his teen-age son with a rifle or the family car, so has our HEAVENLY FATHER entrusted nations with the instruments for PEACE or WAR. Will we choose wisely? Will we prove worthy of God's trust? Enough of us will. Otherwise God would not have trusted us for He knows.

Do we need to worry about those who can't be trusted to make the wise choice?

Can we ever again be in doubt as to Whom is running this World?
What happened to Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin?
What happened to the Maginot Line and our Navy at Pearl Harbor in which we placed our trust?
And what happened to those carefully assembled Power-blocks, - those Pillars of strength so assiduously erected by the governments of opposing ideologies?

With one sweep those 'Pillars of Strength' were toppled and the 'blocks of Power' knocked helter-skelter.

This is no time for pussy-footing.

It is the TIME for FORCEFUL and DETERMINED and UNIFIED ACTION.

The HOUR of DECISION IS at HAND.

No matter where we turn, recent events clearly mark the path.

Let us show by our deeds that we put our faith in God, trusting to His judgement, and leave the fate of those who succumb to their own weakness and place reliance on brute force in the hands of our creator.

PEACE in OPERATION. The GOD-GIVEN OPPORTUNITY for THEIR PERFORMANCE.

TOKEN DISARMAMENT - PEACE MOBILIZATION versus CONTROLLED DISARMAMENT WITH INSPECTION

As long as the peoples of this world are thinking in terms of aggression or retaliation; just as long as one group fears the other; isn't it silly to even contemplate unlocking the barn door? All that would mean would be increased vigilance and more opportunity for the sneak thief or the bold marauder. And worst of all, no surcease from the dreads and fears that now beset us. So for the time being, let's content ourselves with holding the line at the Dead-end of our Super-Duper Highway; shelve the Disarmament Problem, and start at the other end of the highway.

Let's start with the sincere desire and the will to find out the relative merits of democracy and communism by having each one to voluntarily contribute some of the men, money and nuclear stockpiles, now appropriated for defense or other purposes, and use it immediately for constructive purposes in the trouble spots all over the world.

In our Peace mobilization these construction units would be trained engineers, technicians, artisans, doctors, dentists, nurses, teachers, and chaplains, released from the armed forces, with representation of all participating nations. We will have two divisions with those favoring democracy in the one, and those favoring communism in the other.

The U.N. acting as titular head in the performance of amenities, will be the liaison of coordination of activity, dealing with the joint chiefs of staff representing their respective divisions. In the evaluation of the achievement record of the U.N., I believe there will be many who will agree than an apter name would have been the Ununited Nations. This is one of the fortuitous circumstances that demonstrates our Creator's methods. We are not interested in unified action nor are we concerned with the what, the why, or the measure of the contribution of the rival division. The concern of each division is to do its best to surpass the other, with the people as beneficiaries and our Creator passing judgment. It will be the job of the U.N. staff to help each participating country make an appraisal of needs, problems, and capability of contribution. These findings will be turned over to the administrative departments of the two separate divisions respectively.

At this point, with the information in the hands of the joint chiefs of staff of each respective division, the procedure of the communist division will be their problem from there on.

With token contributions drawn from our armed forces and armaments and put into the field as an army of workers THE PEACE MOBILE - with constructive aims we will be:

1. Taking the first step in disarmament.
2. Turning the traffic on our Super-Duper Highway and thus reducing the pressure at the dead end.
3. Starting the salvaging of men, money, and materials expended in the construction of the highway, and the utilization of the technological information for peaceful purposes.
4. Giving a concrete demonstration of the sincerity of our desires.
   A. For a peaceful and happy world.
   B. And a willingness to make it such a world and last but not least,
5. We will have the thrilling prospect of actually participating in the fulfillment of Isaiah's Prophecy.
   Isaiah 2: 4 -- "And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people, and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks. Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

Methods of financing, subject to revision as projects get under way.

PEACE MOBILIZATION in two sections

Section I (International)

The PEACEMOBILES - Vanguards of freedom, justice and Sharity, to provide the blessings to all mankind that are now afforded to the few. To be financed by governments participating in token disarmament, with PEACE subsidy.

TOKEN DISARMAMENT - to provide men, money, and equipment.

Section II (National) Here in America

PEACE COMMUNES or CONSUMES -- (Choice of title in later discussions)

Ways and means outlined in ten page Modus Operandi--Here in America.

A. Anticipated Revenue

I. PEACE in Modus Operandi
   a. Preferred stock investments, gifts and contributions from individuals and groups of labor and capital.
   b. Common stock - The PPI's, the 5% advertising appropriations of industrial projects through PEACE channels, based on one-third of a trillion dollars income, an estimated $20,000,000,000
   c. PEACE as stamp dealer in Modus Operandi.
      1. Accruing sales of subsidized postage stamp issues for industrial advertising, which provides the postage stamps, stamp albums, and project books for all children, to adult collectors.

II. Revenue from invested funds for industrial expansion and use of materials, and interest on funds accumulating between projects to be loaned to participating governments on short term at long term rates to facilitate the coordination of governmental participation, industry and PEACE in a given project.
   a. Stock dividends and capital gains on investment holdings with the securities representing industrial blocks as steels, railroads, motors - and not one company. The incorporation of these investment groups will be handled by the financiers subject to federal law.
      1. This will eliminate lobbying, bribery, the cost of investigations and awarding of contracts.
      2. It will eliminate preferential treatment of any one firm, with inclusion of all firms within the block, that can meet the necessary requirements of good investment.
   b. Interest on loans to governments.
      1. Interest on loan to U.S. Government of accumulating funds for Project B - the outright purchase of the ten billion dollar agricultural surplus. This source of available funds at low interest rates on short term loans to the U.S. Government will reduce the cost of governmental debt financing and impede inflation.
      2. Interest on loans to participating foreign governments with whom arrangements have been made by industrial firms in their advertising campaigns for subsidized issues of postage stamps while the project is getting under way.

These loans will be made through the world bank or comparable organizations. The guarantee of loan payments, interest rates, and amount of loan will be subject to the arrangements of the industrial firm with the respective government in regard to the subsidized stamp issues.

B. Anticipated Expenditures

As has been stated, the PEACE offensive is to be on all fronts. Its projects will deal with the inequities of divine dispensation.

1. The displaced persons - the refugees.
2. The undernourished and no shelter - agricultural surpluses.
3. We have the laborer but no tools.
4. The need of steady income - seasonal employment.
5. More work than we can do - unemployment.
6. - - - - -, etc.

Section I (International)

PEACEMOBILES - to be financed by Token Disarmament, with PEACE subsidy.

Project A. The displaced persons - the refugees, etc.

Section II (National) Here in America - Modus Operandi

PEACE CONSUMES and COMMUNES

The old law of supply and demand is obsolete and the job is to bring it up to date. The demand today is world-wide for absolutely everything we can produce providing the costs of production are commensurate with the prices of consumption. The answer is a guaranteed market at a price the consumer can pay.

1. This means mass production at optimum capacity of (1) farm and (2) factory on a world-wide scale.
2. Distribution costs kept at a minimum.
3. Guaranteed markets with subsidization of consumer where necessary.

A, I, b. An estimated 20 billion dollars (see Anticipated Revenues).

Project B.

1. We propose to use ten billion dollars from this fund to make an outright purchase of agricultural surpluses from the government.
2. Turn this over to an international pool set up by all the participating nations.
3. The allocation of these surpluses to be handled by the Chiefs of Staff of the democratic division in the U.N.
4. Peacemobile personnel will be in charge of distribution at points of destination.
5. The price the consumer groups will pay will vary according to capacity. The over-all price average will be the pro-rata reimbursement to each respective group contribution. This will eliminate dumping and disruption of world markets.
6. Jobs will be created for the refugees and other settlers in these new developments with the erection and financing of flour mills and factories, manufacturing cereal products and cotton goods, American subsidiaries that are using the PEACE channels for advertising.

With guaranteed markets of optimum production, we can dispense with:

1. Soil Bank
2. Parities
3. Crop acreage allotments
4. A goodly percentage of the Hired-Archy.

PEACE is not concerned but its members, as taxpayers, should be with these governmental savings of billions and billions of dollars.

Perhaps it would not be amiss to suggest that some of this money be diverted to the governmental appropriations for:

1. Rural electrification and telephone service.
2. Flood control and irrigation projects.
3. Road construction, etc.

What PEACE IS concerned with is the 10 billion dollars to be paid to the government for surpluses, together with the estimated handling charges of 1 to 3 million dollars per diem. Adopting the methods of our government in its dealings with other nations in foreign aid, we reserve the right to ear-mark every cent of the 10 billion dollar expenditure.

Here are the ear-marks:

The entire sum, with the exception of the appropriation necessary to defray the cost of shipping surpluses to destination (with American railroads getting preference), is to be invested in common stocks of industries for expansion, innovations of manufactured products, shelter, restoration of the railroad systems, and an accident insurance fund.

A, II, a, b, (see Anticipated Revenues).

3 billion dollars - Railroads, minus shipping charges on land and sea.
2 billion dollars - Shelter - manufacturers of mobile homes for mobile communities, migratory labor and construction workers.
2 billion dollars - Manufacturers of farm equipment, combines, hay balers, ensilage, contour and drainage equipment.
3 billion dollars - Insurance
10 billion dollars

20 billion dollars minus 10 billion dollars equals 10 billion dollars

As was stated in Modus Operandi, PEACE will use these resources (10 billion dollars) at its command as follows:

I. To equip the individual
   a. To extend the scope of opportunity with a greater selection from which to choose.
   b. To enhance the field of opportunity, making the wise choice the attractive one.

II. Ignorance - To employ every practical means of communication that human ingenuity can devise for the purpose
   a. Of spreading information.
      This means the employment of T-V, radio, newsprint, and magazines both as advertising media and information concerning its operations and projects.

If you aren't sure our Creator is running this world, just ask yourself this question, "What if God had postponed our learning the evils in Communism until AFTER He had given us the Hydrogen Bomb?"

With God rests the decision of the nature of the experimentation, and the amount of sacrifice required to teach us or guide us on the right course.

As beneficiaries we, the American people, have basked in the laurels of these experiments to the point where some of us, at least, have permitted our patriotism to be supplanted with patronization.

Technologically, we have demonstrated the possibilities of our Democracy. Technologically we are in the vanguard, but in the development of our other potentialities, we are like the owner of a Model T car. We seem no more able to use these potentials than he can use the high octane fuels. The advanced position of the motor industry could not either have been achieved or maintained if the fuel industry and the development of highways hadn't kept apace.

There is an old axiom that the whole is the sum of the parts. Maybe its also axiomatic that the function of the whole is impaired if one member gets too far afield.

Indifference and complacence gave us immunity from isolated problems which confront the human race. If we had been overly sensitive or too upset over injustice outside our domain and for which we were not prepared to deal, we would have been incapacitated for the job at hand, and no help to the victims across the sea.

Slowly but steadily a social consciousness has been developing and is now emerging. Our Creator has prepared us for action and has provided the means for that action both at home and abroad. We no longer need the protective shell of indifference and complacency, and our Creator has shattered the shell with the impact of the horrible conditions here at home and overseas.

One look should be enough to convince us of the truth. One look at:

1. The moral lassitude concerning racial discrimination.
2. Our over-flowing prisons and mental hospitals.
3. The delinquency on our doorsteps - the slaughter on the highways.
4. The threat of inflation - over-extended credit system and unemployment.
5. Government bureaucracy and waste.
6. The broken homes and the high divorce rate.
7. The distortion of the safe-guards of freedom into protection for the pressure groups.
8. The rebellion of millions and the cries of the distressed, the victims whose sacrifice was necessary in order that the human race might learn its lessons. BUT WHOSE SACRIFICE IS BEING UNDULY PROLONGED BECAUSE OF OUR DALLYING IN THE EXERCISE OF OUR GOD-GIVEN FREEDOM OF CHOICE.
9. The solace of religion and the bulwark of faith are relegated to the background supplanted by the "DOOM OF ANNIHILATION" which is hovering above us.

Are these obstacles insurmountable? Only if we regard them as such! For it is with God's gift of Peace in Operation which provides the ways and means for the removal of these obstacles and the charting of our course, that we are left with no legitimate choice but to tackle them. They are no more formidable than the obstacles of youth. The challenges to be met, if one is to attain manhood. As a nation we have reached the "Age of Adolescence". Our loving heavenly Father, like the earthly father who trusts his teen-age son with the family car or places a rifle in his hands -- so has the Father of mankind placed the atomic bomb in our hands. It can be an instrument of destruction if used wrongly, and a blessing to all mankind if used rightly.

Mobilization for Peace

PEACE - 'The private enterprise of personalized service, the service to humanity that can only be given by human beings individually. The demonstration by deeds what we profess to believe. The chance tc do the things we could have done but didn't.' When I made these statements originally in the first Stassen communication in 1956, it just didn't occur to me that as far as the U.S.A. was concerned, we had an exclusive citizenry. The events which followed the original presentation, particularly the fiasco of the Nixon pilgrimage to South America, demonstrate that a modification of one of these statements is in order. When these proposals were made, the fact that they would be withheld from the American public would have seemed inconceivable. But, like the incidents of Little Rock, etc., conceivable or not, they happened.

Obviously, as long as the existing conditions prevail, a displaced citizenry is not in a position to function. Neither consumer nor producer could make use of the wasted billions that went down the drain. You can't demonstrate what you don't know with deeds. You can't make a decision without being given a chance to choose. We are getting a late start, but the losses incurred on the one flank can be offset with concerted action on all fronts working hand in hand with (1) our churches and the secular organizations that are ostensibly engaged in the promotion of Peace and good will, (2) the utilization of diversified services afforded by our governmental agencies including the U.N., industry, both management and organized labor, and capital investment.

A proposal to all the Peace desiring peoples throughout the world, including those of America, is now made for an all-out Peace Offensive tackling the problems created by the inequities of divine dispensation. As I have endeavored to point out, progress of the human race up the Path of Enlightenment is achieved by the surmounting of obstacles. Horrible as some of these inequities seem to be, they will persist in plaguing us until we learn our lesson and take the necessary steps to eradicate them. The problems of youth cannot be solved using the tactics of infantiles. Recognition of the UNIVERSALITY of these existing inequities should afford a salutary climate for our Peace offensive, not a conflict of interests, but an opportunity for testing out our diverse ideologies and credos. A chance to compare and appraise the relative merits of communism with the self imposed restrictions of atheism, and monotheistic democracy demonstrable in the accomplishments of those peoples who place their reliance on the omnipotence and benevolence of our Creator and willingly accept His judgment.

As has been stated, 'Each participating national division will act as an autonomous unit within its national boundaries and in conformance with its own laws and economic structure. It will make its own decisions as to the extent of its co-operation toward the Peace objective as proposed by the Peace Co-operative and subject to its intent. It will be the responsibility of each division to provide the necessary facilities and where-with-all commensurate with its memberships' active participation at home and abroad. The American branch of Peace will be a private enterprise operating under such restrictions as the government is empowered to enforce on private enterprise, enjoying the privileges of our democracy and availing itself of the advantages offered by capitalism and organized labor. It is presumed that the divisions in the other democracies will be operated after a somewhat similar manner.'

It is not to be expected with the great diversity of groups throughout the world that all wish to participate within the framework of Peace. What makes God's gift so marvelous is the fact that the success of the enterprise does not depend on the non-co-operatives nor have we any need to worry about obstructionists.

We just leave them in God's hands. The only concerns of each participating division are the decisions.

1. What they are willing to do unto others, and how.
2. How they would be willing to be done unto.
3. The placing of this information together with the units' contribution in the hands of the International Co-operative Enterprise for disbursement, converting the consumers dollars now wasted in advertising, that does not advertise, into an investment fund for Peace Projects. It will do this by channeling the billions that are confiscated in our incinerators through the channels of Peace into the stamp albums of the school children of the world and their Peace Project books. As was noted in the Modus Operandi, Peace expects also to be a stamp dealer of subsidized issues of all participating countries with the cost of subsidization to be partially borne by participating subsidiaries of industry operating in these countries. As you know, PEACE expects to enter the advertising field. As an illustration of what this will mean here in America, here are some figures. With the minimum wage of $1.00 an hour, a 40 hour week, and 4 weeks in a month = $160.00. Assuming $100.00 of the $160.00 is spent for consumers goods with the 5% dividend in Peace, 5% of $100.00 equals $5.00 minimum per wage earner per month.

65,000,000	estimated employed
5,000,000	unemployed but employable (figures include Peace Mobile to be described later.)
70,000,000

Using a conservative estimate of 66,670,000 wage earners at $5.00 per month equals $333,350,000 per month. Do you know what these figures mean? Here's what they mean. They mean that we, the American people, could by simply doing what God wants us to do, have over a billion dollars to spend on Peace Projects every three months or four billions in a year, without taking one cent out of anybody's pocket. It means that every wage-earner will have the opportunity to personally participate. The barest minimum is over four billion a year, but if we base our estimates on the gross national income of over one-third of a trillion dollars, we will have somewhere between fifteen and twenty billion dollars, and this does not include the billions of dollars accruing from the sales of subsidized stamp issues to adult collectors. Suggestions for the investments of these funds in Peace Projects will be given later.

Our Peace Mobiles will be closely integrated community work shops - organized, staffed and equipped with every facility that human ingenuity can devise to expedite the work. The problems to be investigated are the problems of human behavior.

The findings of these hand picked residents at large and their techniques will be of inestimable value in tackling many of the obstacles that now confront us here in America and elsewhere. These integrated community work shops will be composed of mature men and women selected by the participating nations as representatives, not only of diverse races, cultures, religions, etc., but also at variant stages in their respective growth patterns of youth. It is obvious that the problems of integration will be on the agenda. While the problems of segregation may not be so blatantly obvious, they none-the-less are worthy of consideration. In one way they are more deserving of attention since most of the problems of segregation are not within the finite domain, and when once understood can be disposed of by leaving them in our Creator's hands. When we examine the structural framework of our Universe, "a world of infinite variation and multiplicity of choice" - as presented in the Guide Book of Enlightenment, we find that man has been endowed with the capability of performance in dual roles. 1. Standing on his own two feet; 2. Stretching out his own two hands to clasp the hands of his neighbors.

PEACE COMMUNE AND CONSUME

A couple of years ago when I discussed our Cooperative Enterprise with a group of people I suggested that we call one section THE PEACE MOBILES and the other THE PEACE COMMUNES. Three out of four of the group were definitely opposed to the idea. They said; everybody will think it's a communist organization. I argued that that was just nonsense, and that if we are ever to get rid of our bogies it will not be by giving in to them. I didn't convince them but I didn't change my mind either. A California Congressman, when he had returned from a visit to his native birthplace of India, was asked, "What do the people of India think of us Americans?", he replied, "They just can't understand why Americans are afraid of Communists." That was before the red COMMUNES in China. Those red COMMUNES are a challenge. The word COMMUNE is a wonderful word.

1. We have the concepts of Holy Communion - Communing with God and with nature; conversing intimately with one another, also to Communicate.

2. Group participation - The farmers working together in harvesting - the ladies aid societies, and auxiliaries. The doing things together that we cannot do alone.

3. The word COMMUNITY is derived from the word COMMUNE. Italy, Belgium and France all have communes. The Communists have defiled the meaning of the words republic, democracy, comrade, commune, etc. They have defiled our churches so what are we going to do? Are we going to give up our Churches? Are we afraid? Are we a nation of cowards? Are we so spiritually bankrupt that our souls shrivel at the mere mention of a few words? Or will we recognize our PEACE COMMUNES as a God given opportunity to demonstrate to the people of India, and to the world, that the indwelling spirit in each one of us, of our national and divine heritages, is not dead? Are we going to concede victory before the battle has started? Our forefathers, with their indwelling spirit, and with God's help, laid the foundation of democracy. What have we done with it? On this foundation, on the concepts of the unalienable rights of human beings, we have erected a gigantic structure, mortgaged for posterity - a pile of cards, a stack of I.O.U.'s, not dollar deficits, but deficits of integrity, decency and human dignity. Are we spiritually bankrupt? Or will we meet the challenge in the unity of our divine heritage plus our infinite source of strength? That is the question and the answer is, "We will".

No human hand or mailed fist can destroy that indwelling spirit. All of the brain washings did not kill it in the Hungarian people, nor has it atrophied from disuse in those of us who have basked in our blessings.

America is supposed to be a Democracy. It's supposed to be a government of the people, for the people and by the people and it will be as soon as we start participating as a group. It is not a state of anarchy, nor of tyranny. We don't have to fight any revolutions to get our democracy. Our forefathers fought and got it and gave it to us.

In Russia, the people never have had a chance to take responsibility. First it was the Czars and how it is the dictators that make the decisions. Here in America we, the people, don't shoulder our responsibilities, we give them to the government and they make our decisions for us. It is a question of maturity for both of us, the assumption of individual responsibility.

I repeat, "It is a question of maturity for both the Russians and Americans", but let us not forget for one moment that while we were basking in the blessings of a benign paternalism the Russians were passing through the school of adversity.

Anyone who has graduated from the school of hard knocks knows that one either succumbs or rebels. The Russian people that are left have not succumbed. They rebelled and tore the sceptre from the hand of the Czar.

They know that what they did to him they could do today for they know that what they did once they could do again if need be.

What we've all got to remember and especially the Russian people, is that God helped them in their first revolt and will help them again, if they put their hands in His. God loves the Russian people. He gave them the Sputniks to prove that He had not forsaken them.

In the inequities of Divine dispensation God did not provide them with a Jefferson, Franklin or Madison. He gave them a Lenin and Stalin and later did away with them. Will the successors of those dictators take heed?

Does the present successor have the wisdom to recognize his opportunity? Will he avail himself of God's help and march Hand in Hand with his people up the Path of Enlightenment? Does he have the courage and wisdom or will he, like his predecessors, fall by the wayside and be trodden underfoot? It will be very interesting to watch and see.

Shall we Commune or Consume?

We are all Consumers but a whole lot of us are the victims of underconsumption resulting from the breakdown of distribution and supply.

I. Under consumption of millions:

(1) Ill fed, ill clothed, ill housed

(2) Illiteracy - not being able to read

(3) Uninformed - ignorance - able to read but not reading

II. Subcultivation of millions:

(1) The need of cultivation of our sense of humor so that when the world laughs at us we can laugh with them.

(2) The lack of understanding - To understand anything necessitates the something to understand. As long as they won't tell us that something, how can we cultivate our understanding of it?

(3) The lack of appreciation.
We need to cultivate our appreciation of one another of our world and of our Creator. With group participation with Sharity and Trust, Good Will and love will thrive.

Would you, Premier Khrushchev, care to join me, a citizen of the U.S.A. without Status Quo, in a toast to the success of what promises to be the most thrilling and joyful adventure ever undertaken by mankind? The peoples of the earth, bonded together by their mutual desires, voluntarily choose to work together in the association of P E A C E .

The People's Enlightenment Assurance Co-operative Enterprise

Bringing to the many the blessings, both material and spiritual, now enjoyed only by the few with the help of our Loving Heavenly Father.

The People's Enlightenment Assurance Co-operative Enterprise

P E A C E

is to be based on a few concepts, which should be found acceptable to a sufficient number of the people on this earth, necessary for the launching of the Enterprise.

The concepts are proffered for the consideration of all prospective members.

(1) For clarity of purpose.
(2) To establish a basis of mutuality.
(3) To focus the multiple view-point on the common objective.

The concepts are as follows:

I. We attribute the Creation and Operation of our world to a Supreme Intelligence, all-powerful, benevolent, and just.
II. We accept the testimony of millions, who from personal experience believe that direct contact with our Creator, demonstrated through the media of prayer, conscience, and in other ways, is sufficient evidence.
III. We regard death as a transition, and that one's conduct on Earth is but a preparation for what's beyond.
IV. We believe that effort invested in doing God's will yields the greatest returns in self-interest.

These concepts were selected as an indication of a frame of mind considered both receptive and conducive to the cultivation of 'Peace and Good Will'. A fertile ground, once the stones and boulders are removed, on which to start our Project.

Let all those who find these concepts incompatible with their creed or credo, rest assured that the members of PEACE will refrain from both coercion and subversion in the recruiting of its membership.

Membership is to be VOLUNTARY.

A willingness to uphold the principles; to work co-operatively.

Membership rests upon a MINIMUM of requirements. No special talents or aptitudes are needed.

Membership affords the MAXIMUM in opportunity for purposeful effort contributing to the Peace objective.

With the Plan in operation, it will be our constant endeavor to discover other mutual concepts. The more discovered, the wider and firmer the base for co-operation.

It is also recognized that in order to obtain the maximum in work-ability and intelligi-bility of the various interpretations, certain modifications and adaptations will be found desirable in the translations of the participating groups. Terminology is of no import, whether we use GOD or ALLAH; Heaven or Nirvana -- if we do not seek unanimity.

Intent rather than context is the criterion. A flexibility of interpretation that will not act as a restraint on co-operation.

The working Plan of PEACE is to be kept suggestive, not mandatory, in the belief that as the Project progresses, God will open up new vistas.

INTRODUCTION TO STRUCTURAL FRAMEWORK OF THE UNIVERSE
WITH EXCERPTS FROM GUIDEBOOK OF ENLIGHTENMENT

Let's take a good look at our world.

1. A world that is proffering infinite opportunity and is challenging us with a multitude of problems.
2. A world whose woes and tribulations are but the guideposts to our failures. The signals and sirens to warn us that we are off the path or headed in the wrong direction.
   The horrors of war, the suffering mentally and physically are God's means of arresting attention. The more arresting, the greater the urgency. The more horrible - the harder to endure, the greater the need to keep our heads and use them to seek the ways and the will to get on the right path.
3. A world whose successful solutions build the steps up the 'Path of PROGRESS.'

I. God has given us a world of INFINITE VARIATION with every snowflake, leaf, sunset and set of genes different.

No matter what we select for comparison, we will have little trouble in arriving at the conclusion that man is the varyingest variable of all.

That the individuality of man in the superstructure of variation, with its foundation a set of genes, of a complexity beyond our comprehension, unquestionably occupies a position of tremendous significance to the overall structure of creation.

The fact that the Creator went to such extremes would seem incontrovertible evidence of His regard for human personality.

What other interpretation is logical?

The findings of science substantiate the evidence. There are no duplicates in human individuality.

Man cannot invoke the infinite, much less surpass it. With the evidence at hand more convincing than we could ever hope to devise; with the introduction of these infinite manifestations into the composition of our individuality, human ingenuity is transcended.

With the high assignations in creation of this God - given attribute, the individuality of every human being, can we do better than place it first in our 'Standards of Value?'

I. The PRECIOUSNESS of INDIVIDUALITY.

To most of us, who give God credit for the creation of the world, and who will accept His judgement in the high assignation of our individuality in the scheme of things, the conclusion will seem logical that even the least one of us is of importance to God.

What is love? And why do we all need to be loved?

Isn't one of the manifestations of loving, or being loved - the being concerned with the loved one's welfare because of the happiness of the loved one is important to you? Couldn't this be one of the ways God has taken to show us that He cares -- that He loves us?

PEACE, as organized, will afford the opportunity to exchange, to consider and to utilize these various viewpoints.

Keeping constantly before us these 'Standards of Value', namely -

1. The Preciousness of Individuality,
2. The Pricelessness of the Freedom of Choice, which establish our own self-respect and exact our respect for all mankind, let us proceed.

Our world of infinite variation affords INFINITE CHOICE.

This gives us the assurance that no matter how far up the path of Enlightenment we progress there will always be new vistas.

PRICELESSNESS of FREEDOM of CHOICE - VOLITION

An individual may be deterred in the exercise of this birthright. He may yield to expediency or compromise, or he may prefer to sacrifice his life, if need be, rather than his right of choice. But however the individual may react to outside pressures, he cannot ignore the indwelling responsibility with impunity.

We are free to obey God's commandments or to disobey them. To give the credit due to our Creator or to discredit Him and take the consequences.

By conferring this power of volition, there is the awe-inspiring implication of our Creator's faith in us.

To comprehend the significance of this implication is:
1. To renew our faith in ourselves and in our fellowmen.
2. To restore our confidence in our ability to eventually achieve our goals.

In this world of infinite variation and affording infinite choice are:
1. Endless combinations of words, tones, sights and tastes.
2. Innumerable concepts:
   a. Of right and wrong: of liberty and justice.
   b. The ethical and the agnostic. The artistic, the philosophical and the scientific.
   c. The atheistic, the polytheistic and the monotheistic.
   d. The socialistic and capitalistic; the communistic and democratic.

And adding to this diversification of choice is the modified selection of each individual's reception and interpretation.

Whether the individual chooses to accept or reject, to love or to hate, to cherish or to neglect, to extol or to defame, to consecrate or desecrate, in the making of one's decision; in forming one's own opinion; by exercising one's own individuality, that opinion will be unique.

And because we have no way of knowing what individuals God will select as the instruments for transmitting His messages, the importance of this possibility must be stressed. Each and every individual should be on the alert. Every deviation from current opinion should be scrutinized, whether it be pleasant or repugnant.

Just as we found infinite variation one of the dominating factors of creation, wherever we turn we find the paradoxical quality of being alike in the unlike. SIMILARITY.

It is the inclusion of this paradoxical quality of BEING ALIKE in the UNLIKE that enables man to cope with infinite variation. It is one of the profound examples of the adaption of the infinite to the finite.

We can group and we can classify.

Each human being as created is composed of a myriad of ingredients with the proportion of amount of component varying in each individual with no individual duplication.

1. The composite manifested as individuality or Divine Heritage.
2. The complexity is of such magnitude that it is beyond human comprehension.
3. It is apparent that a human appraisement of individual worth is absurd.
   a. We not only do not know for what role God created the man, we do not know the man.
   b. We do not know ourselves.
4. It is also apparent that if God had stopped at this point in creation with infinite variation and volition, with every man different and everyone free to exercise his own freedom of choice - Chaos would have been the result.

No single individual, no matter how prodigious his memory or powers of observation, could encompass or transmit this infinite variation in a single one of its phases if this characteristic of similarity had been withheld.

The imperative nature of this attribute - the division of mankind and the universe into GROUPS - is a basic essential of our existence in this world.

Civilization DEPENDS UPON the PRESERVATION of GROUPS. Upon the preservation of family, color and race as our Creator in His wisdom has designed them.

Either we accept our Creator's judgement and respect these demarcations or be prepared to take the consequences for the folly of actions counter to that judgement.

Human concepts of time, space, climate, the universe; the animal, plant and mineral kingdoms, life, language, justice, power and love are absolutely dependent on the distinguishing characteristics of the group.

Without this grouping, there would be:

1. No hours, days, or years. No time schedules.
2. No seasons or weather.
3. No solar systems, stars or planets.
4. No governments, religions or nations.
5. No electrons, atoms or molecules.
6. No families, species or races.
7. No males or females.
8. No animate or inanimate.

Yes, everywhere we look we find the BEING ALIKE in the UNLIKE!

AND where, in all creation, is it the most striking?

I. In heredity.
   a. In the characteristics of family and race.
   b. In the continuity of the father-son relationship and in the relationship of our heavenly Father to His children, made in His image and likeness.

With all creation proclaiming the evidence, what more do we require?

STRUCTURAL FRAMEWORK OF THE UNIVERSE

I INFINITE VARIATION (cf. p.1 Int. to Str. Frwk.)

God has given us a world of INFINITE VARIATION with every snowflake, leaf, sunset and set of genes different with man the varingest variable of all.

a. With the introduction of these infinite manifestations into the composition of our individuality, human ingenuity is transcended. I challenge any of you super egoists to produce any evidence to the contrary.

b. Infinite Variation provides Infinite Choice.

c. Gives us the Assurance that no matter how far we travel up the path of enlightenment there will always be new paths to explore.

d. Gods Love? (cf. p.1 Int. to Str. Frwk.)

e. Individual endowment equips us for individual performance.

II FREEDOM OF CHOICE (cf. p.2 Int. to Str. Frwk.)

a. We can (1) accept or reject (2) love or hate (3) cherish or neglect (4) extol or defend (5) consecrate or desecrate.

b. In the making of one's decision, - in forming one's own opinion - by exercising one's own individuality, that opinion will be unique.

If God had stopped Creation at this point with infinite variation and volition with every man different and everyone free to exercise his own freedom of choice chaos would have been the result.

III GOD DIDN'T. HE INCLUDED TWO PARADOXICAL QUALITIES (cf. p.3 Int. to Str. Frwk.)

a. THE BEING ALIKE IN THE UNLIKE - SIMILARITY (cf. p.53)
This enables man to group and classify.

b. THE CONNECTION OF THE UNCONNECTED
The correlation of the unrelated. Analogy. It is with the introduction of this element in Creation that provides for the interlocking of the diverse patterns into one unified whole. All of the pieces of the jigsaw puzzle fall into place (cf. p.46)

IV PARTICIPATION IN CREATION (cf. p.55,56)

When God provided for Planned Parenthood He literally took man and his mate into partnership---power to plan and to participate in the Creation of a human being.

Furthermore, in the God-given freedom to select a mate, which limits the genetic constitution of the individual, the parents in their partnership with God actually have a very significant part in determining the attributes of their offspring.

V IT IS THE INSTINCT FOR THE PREFERENCE OF ONE'S OWN KIND (cf. p.53)

Because of man's failure to recognize this instinct of racial preference we have been totally unprepared to deal with the misguided expressions of racial prejudice, discrimination, intolerance, segregation and nationalism or patriotism. With the instinct of Preference of One's own kind as manifested in Conjugal love as distinguished from physical attractions our Creator has safeguarded the continuity of race and family. Within man's make-up there exists certain preserves - no trespass signs - a desire for privacy and one's own kind.

Common decency and common sense require a respect for them, not a trampling on them. These are the natural barriers God has placed within us to preserve heredity and race - the groups of family and culture. Peace depends as much upon the maintenance of these natural barriers as upon the demolition of the artificial barriers - the man made barriers that a misguided humanity has erected. And we have the Assurance of our Creator that we need have no fear of miscegenation.

VI MAN'S DUAL ROLE (cf. p.53,54)

Man is perfectly capable of standing on his own two feet and at one and the same time stretching out his two hands to clasp the hands of his neighbors.

A. Role I STANDING ON HIS OWN TWO FEET

He not only needs no help in the selection of his mate and the siring of his offspring but he doesn't want any. (cf. p.53)

He wants privacy, this is where we SEGREGATE. It is in this role that God has provided us with our divine heritage, the ultimate of human happiness, or paradise on earth.

(1) PRECIOUSNESS OF INDIVIDUALITY (cf. p.1 Int. to Str. Frwk.)

Human dignity Assurance of God's Concern
Man's Unique position in the Universe

(a) STANDARD OF EQUALITY

(1) To be judged not by what we did but by what we could have done with what we had to do with but didn't do.

(2) Not by what we gave but by what we could have given. (cf. Int. to Str. Frwk., p.2)

(cf. p.6) CONCEPT IV "That effort invested in doing God's will yields the greatest return in self interest." Both the exercise of judgment and responsibility depend on maturity.

(3) Sacredness of Participation in Creation. (cf. p.54)

The Blessings of Conjugal love. Planned parenthood. God denied Jesus the ecstasies of Conjugal love and the satisfaction of family life and children to preserve the Continuity pattern of The Loving Heavenly Father - The Earthly Son - The Loving Heavenly Father (cf. p.56)

The ethical standards applicable to both males and females are those which recognize the entity of the individual - mentally, spiritually and PHYSICALLY.

B. THIS IS MAN'S ROLE II (cf. p.54)

The stretching out of his own two hands to clasp the hands of his neighbors, the doing through group participation the things he cannot do alone. This is where we INTEGRATE. The standards of evaluation are to be determined by the effective assumption of responsibility demonstrated by group participation in the economic, political, cultural, ethical and religious fields of opportunity that are available.

AVAILABILITY

(1) The DISCREPANCY that exists today in the maturity growth rate of males and females is the Crux of the sociological upheaval we are witnessing today. It is this discrepancy that is responsible for the stresses and strains of matrimonial discord and broken homes.

(2) IT IS THE DISPARITY in the emergence of masculine and feminine attributes as dominating factors in their respective roles. (cf. p.53)

(a) PRIMITIVE FATHER AGE OF DEPENDENCY essential material one's of food and shelter (cf. p.46)

Primitive father provided them with physical strength or prowess, tools and weapons and violence to secure these needs.

Dominant Attribute of physical strength automatically gave male ascendancy. With the introduction of machines and improved weapons we begin to see the decline of male dominance and the emergence of female attribute stamina. (cf. p.53,54)

(b) YOUTH AGE OF REVOLT Transitional Period partially dependent and not ready yet for full assumption of obligations (cf. p.46)

